City Election To Be Held Saturday

Bids Open on Highway at Olton, Springlake

G. L. Armstrong said that he used to use the word ABOVE Earth for north of Earth, and below Earth for south of Earth, until he picked up a service boy once who was going to Houston. He began to explain to the boy he was on the wrong highway, he said, "now son you should have taken the highway below Earth." The fellow's expression changed immediately, and he said, "Is that so, well fellow where do you live?" Armstrong replied, "Oh about 8 miles above Earth," the boy said fellow "I've been high lots of times in my life, but I never tried to live that way." Armstrong now says north and south of Earth.

Hugh Preston of the Preston Cleaner says this past month he guessed was just an ordinary 30 day period. (But to him it was "a few days, but full of sorrow.") He got most of his equipment set up, and in order. Then his big boiler fell through into the septic tank. He says he's now back in shape again, ready to get down to cleaning work, and hopeful this next month will shed a little sunshine into his life.

We have been trying to interest our people in the Earth area to shop in Earth. (We are now prepared to prove it pays, even in eggs, thanks to those Earth conscious hens.) Now for our little story. A fellow was in our office this week and said he had been getting between 30 and 40 eggs a day until he bought some chicken feed in Muleshoe. His sensitive "Earth loving hens," just rebelled and he got only 3 eggs a day, but after switching back to Earth feed, those hens are back to over 30 eggs a day now. Wouldn't it be nice if all our people were as loyal to Earth as their fowl.

Got a letter from the folks at home, they said they had SOME SNOW, but guessed it was of no use to mention it. (Since it was just a common old Oklahoma snow.) We called home Tuesday and Ross's mother said, "I was going to get out and take pictures of our pretty snow and send to you, till I saw the paper, and I saw those Bigger and Better and wetter snows of Texas.

The Phil Cannons sure are working hard at being rough on themselves. First Phil turned his truck over and roughed himself up pretty bad, then last week Mrs. Cannon's oven exploded singeing her hair and eyelashes and burning her face slightly. (She explained they were about ready to pass the jinx on to someone else now.)

Milk bills were sliced in half this week in the Tommy Gattis, Ronald Cleavenger and Kenneth Parish homes. (Seems the boys got all the milk they wanted Tuesday night at the Lions Banquet.)

Don't know if they appreciate the economy of cutting down their milk bills, or whether they figured it was too much trouble to remove it from the bottles the way they used to do. (Anyway I imagine it brought back old memories to the boys.)

FAMOUS TEXANS RECIPES

Imagination Is Key To Creative Culinary Art

Maybe it's surprising that America's top sculptress is planning a cookbook. And maybe it isn't.

Certainly, imagination is an important quality, both in bringing moulding clay to life, and in cooking a gourmet's taste.

Electra Waggoner Biggs is an artist both in the studio and the kitchen. Few Texans have not caught their breath on viewing the magnificent 15-foot equestrian statue of Will Rogers and his horse, Soap Suds, which stands in front of the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum in Fort Worth. Most of them would be amazed at the culinary skill of the petite artist who is at home on the vast Waggoner ranch near Vernon, but who ranges the world collecting interesting art subjects — and recipes.

Scorning the unreal and the abstract, Mrs. Biggs has the superb talent of catching the true qualities of her subjects and translating them in her medium. Comparable is her flair for beef cookery, the herbs and spices she recommends in meat dishes, the distinguished shapes she gives ground beef, and her lack of tolerance for "substitutes." A year of preparation has already gone into her cookbook, prefaced by fifteen years of collecting interesting recipes on two continents.

To Texans, the heroic Will Rogers figure is probably Electra's best known and most loved work. It took five years to complete. From 200 photographs, many sittings and stand-in models of Rogers and Soap Suds, she created a one-foot model. This was then painstakingly enlarged to a four-foot model, and three years later cast in bronze. Only then was the final enlargement to fifteen feet made possible.

The fifteen-foot figure was cast three times; first in plaster, then in plaster, and finally in bronze.

Mrs. Biggs took up sculpture early in life, studied under Katherine Bowers in New York, Anne C. G. Sullivan in Boston, and for several summers in France. Her first bust, cast in Paris, won third prize in the Salon d'Automne. Her works have since been shown in dozens of galleries and exhibitions.

Many outstanding images bear the name of the Texas girl who, as Electra Waggoner, for years maintained her own New York studio, and worked with bronze, marble, stones, and gold. Among her portrait plaques and busts are works of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the late great football coach Knute Rockne, aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran, actress Mary Martin, actor Victor McLaglen, John Nance Garner, and the late Amon G. Carter.

The Texas Beef Council considers Mrs. Biggs' beef recipes works of art also. She encourages homemakers to "dress up" the less romantic cuts of beef, just as she glamorizes common clay. Her Sauerbraten with red cabbage and potato dumplings is a superb example of imagination in the kitchen.

SAUERBRATEN (Yield: 4-6)

- 1 pot roast, family-sized
- Onion rings
- Carrots, thinly sliced
- Bay leaves
- 1 cup vinegar
- 1 cup water
- 1 dozen ginger snaps
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar

Place beef in bowl and cover with onion rings, carrot slices and bay leaves. Pour over it a hot mixture of vinegar and water. Store in a cool place and soak for three days, turning daily. Drain. Brown over low heat; simmer in $\frac{3}{4}$ cups vinegar mixture until tender. Remove from pot. Using favorite recipe, make a thick brown gravy. Stir in ginger snaps and brown sugar.

For sweet-sour red cabbage, saute 1 sliced onion in 3 tablespoons shortening, add 1 head shredded red cabbage, salt and pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons each brown sugar and vinegar, 1 sliced apple and a cup of water and steam for $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours.

Potato dumplings are best if $\frac{1}{2}$ boiled potatoes (about 4 medium ones) are riced or grated — not mashed. To the potatoes, add 1 cup browned croutons, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 well-beaten eggs, 1 cup of flour. Form mixture into dumplings. Boil 12 minutes in salted water. Serve covered with bread crumbs browned in butter.

is searching for some crop that he might put his extra acres in. Perhaps you can use the following information in making that decision. Mr. Max Bowers of Morton harvested 12,400 pounds of combine run Indiangrass seed from 14 acres or 885 pounds per acre. He sold 11,700 pounds of it at the farm without further reconditioning. It was bought by a Nebraska seed company at 77 1/2 cents per pound. This is $9,067.50 gross from 14 acres. It cost Max approximately

TEXANS ARE KILLING MORE TEXANS

★ It's INSANE to be Unsafe!

$10.00 per acre to seed it and needs watering about three times. The weight of the residue remaining on the ground as calculated from samples was 10 tons per acre. It is estimated that there are at least 15,000 pounds of roots in the topsoil.

Indiangrass is not the only grass that these yields and prices can be obtained from. Blankwell Switchgrass, weeping lovegrass, sand bluestem and others can be used to get the same results. These are native improved grasses and can be grown dryland with smaller yields.

Norman and J. W. Enfinger 3 miles south and east of Littlefield on highway 84 in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service, County Agent, and ASC committee is planting 12 different varieties of grass with 25 different strains to be observed by farmers to get information as to which grass is best suited.

Your local Soil Conservation District has grass drills suitable for planting these grasses. The grasses should be planted in April. Seed are scarce and those farmers planning to plant contact the Soil Conservation personnel with offices in the basement of the County Courthouse at Littlefield.

Land owners cooperating with the Lamb County Soil Conservation District have requested assistance on 25 terraces and diversion systems to be constructed this spring. Thurlo Branscum of the Pleasant Valley Community and chairman of the Lamb County SCD Board of Supervisors says that it is a good start, but that there is a need for a lot more.

Diversions have been constructed on the farms of Donald Street of Springlake, Melvin Gregg and J. T. Graham of Lums Chapel, and J. W. Enfinger and James Schrigley of the Balmer Switch Community. These are all level diversions with partially closed ends. They are constructed to hold a certain area; others may be designed to pick up excess water from other farms and spread it over a field. This type of system has to be designed to fit each farm with structures built to let excess out, or after so much gets in, to let the rest by-pass. Joe F. Krizek, Agricultural Engineer for the Soil Conservation Service, designed the systems that have been installed. The terraces and some diversions were constructed on dryland farms. The other diversions were on irrigated farms and were built to protect steep slopes of a leveled field below the diversions.

Greetings

The greatest source of assurance for the future of the American way of life is our Public School System, which enables our youngsters to become familiar with the magnificent history of men and events which has made our Republic the most powerful, respected and favored country the world has ever known.

The public schools provide the tools of knowledge which will equip our young men and women to become constructive and responsible citizens in this land of freedom.

WE have a great responsibility to maintain and advance the ideals and standards which our people have come to expect of their public schools. We must keep pace with the growing needs of our schools by providing new class rooms, improved methods and by encouraging loyal, able, qualified men and women to adopt teaching as a lifetime career.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 5 - 10, 1956, as PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK in Texas, and urge every citizen to visit at least one public school during this period and to become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of our educational system.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 10th day of January, 1956.

Allen Shivers
Governor of Texas

FEB. 22 IS U. S. ARMY RESERVE DAY IN TEXAS!

YOUNG MEN WANTED

UNCLE SAM needs young men for his peacetime Army of Reservists. YOUNG MEN need what Uncle Sam has to offer.

Strong nations seldom are attacked. It is only when a nation becomes weak, when its military strength is at a low ebb . . . when its men are untrained for battle . . . that an enemy strikes. To keep peace — keep strong. For a nation to maintain military might it must have a large, well-trained Ready Reserve — well versed in the latest in military know how and equipment.

It is up to the young men of America to provide this manpower. Under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 American youth may continue in school with a minimum of interruption, while serving in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Why We Need A Ready Reserve

The Army's all-important mission is to uphold the interests of the United States, in a shooting war, in cold war, or in peace. During times of peace its major mission is to deter aggression. To successfully deter aggression its ability to fight and win must be so convincing that any potential enemy knows in advance that aggression on his part would not pay.

This ability is not measured in terms of weapons, equipment, and active forces alone. It is also based to a very great extent on the existence of a trained, fully equipped and manned Ready Reserve. One cannot over emphasize the need for a trained Reserve. We must at all times recognize that the tools of war, however vital a role they may play in any conflict, are useless without men who are trained to use them.

The very nature of global war decrees that the Army become increasingly flexible and mobile. It also decrees that a high state of preparedness exist at all times in both our active and Reserve forces. Our Army, like the age it is a part of, is constantly changing. It is forever developing new tools and new techniques, and its men must know how to use them.

No longer can we afford to spend long months after a conflict begins in preparing our Reserves for their vital role. This training must be timely and continuous. Those of us who have shared life on the battlefield know all too well that it is neither fair to the individual nor his country for a man to enter combat without adequate training.

Today — through the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 — we have a means of assuring our country of a strong, reliable, and Ready Reserve. This Act offers the youth of this country a means of discharging their military obligations without disrupting their education — an unprecedented opportunity that every young man should seize.

To the employer who cooperates in the training program, it offers, among other things a better satisfied labor force, more responsible employees, and fewer men required to be away from the job for thirty to forty-five days of annual training. To the United States it offers the assurance of a fully manned, well equipped, and adequately trained Ready Reserve.

The size of our active Army and the future of this nation rest upon the success of our Reserve program. To insure posterity the same blessings of democracy which we cherish, it is necessary that the youth of America be aware of their responsibility to their government, and meet it faithfully.

Annual Report Shows Improved Patient Care And Hospital Facilities in The State of Texas

Mr. Nathan Adams and Mr. Ed Gossett, State Co-Chairmen of the U. S. Savings Bonds Committee, stated today that Series "E" and "H" Savings Bonds sales during 1955 were the highest in the ten post war years.

A total of $192,154,377 of the Savings Bonds were purchased in Texas during the past year, as compared to $163,851,000 in 1954. Sales of Series "H" Bonds, which are current income Bonds, last year exceeded 1954 by more than 50 per cent.

Mr. Nathan Adams said, "The sales of U. S. Savings Bonds, which are the safest investment in this nation, will continue to increase through the coming year."

"We have a fine organization of volunteers and we want to thank them for the work they have done. It was their interest and efforts that made our 1955 sales record possible," Mr. Adams continued.

Mr. Ed Gossett paid tribute to newspapers, radio, television, theater, outdoor and transit advertising people over the state. "Last year the Savings Bonds program received, throughout the nation, over 50 million dollars in free advertising."

AUSTIN, Tex. — US Trust and Guaranty creditors can expect let payments about mid-fall. Liquidator J. D. Wheeler told the Senate investigating committee.

Liquidation process was set in motion when a Temple firm was appointed to collect notes owed US Automotive Service, a US Trust affiliate.

Insurance Com. Chmn. Byron Saunders would not say that Texas is "over the hill" yet with insurance problems. But he did say that companies which pass the solvency test and get licenses after May 31 "will be entitled to public confidence."

If sound management had been instituted, US Trust might have been saved as late as last fall according to a Dallas CPA who made a partial audit. Felix Einsohn said he found inadequately trained clerks handling million dollar operations. He quit his work after refusing to prepare for A. B. Shoemaker, president, a "Certified financial statement inconsistent with my evaluation of facts."

Continuing its "clean-up" drive, the Insurance Commission:

1. Granted leaves of absence to four examiners named in a suit alleging conspiracy to commit fraud, but indicated they would not be re-employed.

2. Ordered the following companies to "show cause" why their permits should not be revoked: Trans-Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Dallas; American Home Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Dallas; Texas Union County Mutual Insurance Co. of San Antonio; and Merchants National Life Insurance Co. of Denton.

3. Announced plans to cut rates for insuring crops against hail damage.

4. Reminded companies that all advertising of insurance securities must be approved by the commission before publication.

HART BACK WITH GOVERNOR

Return of Weidon Hart to his old job as Gov. Allan Shivers' first assistant is causing much speculation.

Hart has been serving as chairman of the Texas Employment Commission since 1953. Before that he was the governor's top political and public relations strategist.

His return to the Capitol is variously interpreted as (1) preparing for the battle to control the Democratic state convention; (2) preparing for new political campaigns; or (3) an aid in clearing up criticism resulting from insurance developments.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS EXCHANGE FIRE

Early skirmishes by rival leaders in the Texas Democratic party indicate a real brawl for state convention control in May.

Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin charged the Liberals are planning to bolt the convention if they don't win out. He proposed a "winner take all" agreement to avoid sending competing delegations to Chicago as in 1952.

Liberals Byron Skelton and Tom Moore Jr. countered with predictions that the "Shivers Executive Committee will control the party machinery, in particular the creation of a committee — depriving legal elected delegates of their votes."

As each faction held schools and sent out literature to bolster its strength, the sniping continued. Samples: Conservatives said Liberals were bringing in out of state union organizers; Liberals said Conservatives would use machine tactics and tricks.

AMENDMENTS LISTED

A drawing for positions on the November 6 ballot gives first place to the constitutional amendment providing for financial control to prisoners later found innocent of a crime.

Tom Reavely, Secretary of State conducted the drawing, assisted by Sibel Dickinson of the same office.

ice. Second on the ballot will be the amendment relating to re-allocation of county funds; third, an amendment broadening the University of Texas investments and the college building program; fourth, one expanding teacher retirement; fifth, a $100,000,000 veterans' land bond issue; sixth, revising the constitutional oath of office; seventh, providing waiver of jury trial in lunacy cases; and eighth, authorizing a judge to deny bail in a felony case to a person twice previously convicted of felony.

Because of a legislative error in the context of the ninth amendment, authorizing state aid to the totally disabled, it will have to be voted upon at a special election on November 13.

"RIGHT TO WORK" DECISION DUE

Texas Supreme Court reports it will make a decision soon on the validity of Texas' "right to work" law. Previously the court had set the case aside pending U. S. Supreme Court action on a similar Nebraska case.

An early decision by Texas high court might permit the issues involved to be considered by the federal tribunal before it rules on the Nebraska case.

IT'S THE LAW in TEXAS

COURTROOM DRAMA

We've all seen a great many courtroom dramas in the movies on the stage, or on television. Too many, some may say, but there's no denying the drama to be found in the courtroom.

A theater seat or a comfortable chair in front of the TV screen is the closest many of us ever get to a courtroom. It's from such a vantage point that most of our ideas come today about court procedures and how a trial is carried on.

Stage and screen trials normally present only the highlights and take many shortcuts in the interest of brevity and audience appeal. Often an attorney is pictured making objection to the questions and answers as witnesses testify. He makes these objections vehemently, pompously, or sarcastically — and often in a voice louder than necessary — according to the demands of his role, and depending upon whether he's on the side of the villain or the hero. The judge thens raps for order, and booms out, "sustained," or "overruled," and those of us in the audience usually are at a loss over why he made his decision.

In a real courtroom it's true that attorneys protest against what's being done or said, as a means of assuring a fair trial, and the judge must allow or disallow each objection.

The principals in the real courtroom are just practicing common sense when they follow the "rules of evidence" in placing facts before the judge and jury. If there's to be a fair trial and a just verdict there must be true facts.

Evidence in the courtroom may take several forms, but two are most common. Answers to questions from a witness under oath are the best-known type of evidence. Exhibits — written records, letters "the murder weapon," and other physical objects having to do with the case — are the next most common. "Depositions," or written statements from a witness who for some reason is unable to appear personally in court, are sometimes admitted as evidence in certain cases.

Perhaps you've heard: "A trial is not a contest of learning, skill, or tact between lawyers, but a proceeding to find out the truth according to the evidence received and the law as explained by the judge."

That's about the size of it, and that's the way each of us wants it to be if ever we are placed on trial or taken to court for even so much as a speeding ticket.

Openings for College Trained Young Women Announced by R. C.

College trained young women who object to the run of the mill desk jobs are making applications now for overseas employment with the American Red Cross.

Immediate openings for recreation workers in clubmobile service and military hospitals in the Far East were announced today by the director of the Red Cross Midwestern Area Office.

Miss Bruce stressed advantages of overseas employment with the Red Cross, which offers a vacation plan, group insurance, retirement, and social security benefits.

In addition, qualified young women who complete successful tours overseas are considered for assignment in the United States in other Red Cross services, Miss Bruce said.

To be eligible for clubmobile assignments, which call for ingenuity and adaptability in planning program entertainment, recreation workers should have college training or special aptitudes in recreation, education, music, drama, ice, speech, or art. They must be between 23 and 40 years of age.

In clubmobile visits, recreation workers encourage active soldier participation in group singing, amateur dramatics, social games, and handicrafts.

Another important program utilizing recreation workers is carried on in military hospitals, where women between the ages of 21 and 40 are responsible for helping to conduct a medically approved recreation program for the patients. These women must have college diplomas with emphasis on recreation, physical education, the arts, or other related fields.

Women interested in receiving further information on overseas employment should write to the Director of Personnel Service, Midwestern Area Office, American National Red Cross, 4050 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis 8, Mo., or should contact their local Red Cross Chapters.

Throughout the years there has been but one focus of Red activity — service to humanity. The organization is celebrating its 75th Anniversary this year with pride in a long record of outstanding achievements.

Gerald Allison Is Named Outstanding Conservation Farmer of Lamb County

Gerald Allison of the Pleasant Valley community was named the Outstanding Conservation Farmer of 1955 by the Lamb County Soil Conservation Board.

Allison's name was entered in the Fort Worth Press' annual contest and program for recognition for individuals who are outstanding farmers in the soil conservation practices.

Allison had been living in New Mexico in 1946 and chose the 240 acre farm in the Pleasant Valley community as a more prosperous place to farm according to the Lamb County supervisors.

A firm believer in conservation practices, Allison began work on soil that had been eroding for months from disuse. He turned the farm into a county tourist attraction.

He planted his first 80 acres of alfalfa in 1947, giving it an abundance of water. He at one time or another in the past four years, has covered every acre of his land with alfalfa. At the present time, 80 acres provide hay for his Angus cattle and also furnishes alfalfa for the dehydrating plant.

He has used a rotation of one third cotton followed by vetch, clover or small grain, one-third alfalfa, and one third sorghums or corn interplanted with peas for grain and silage production, and a part of the land in blue grass for grazing.

All residue are left on the land to protect it from wind and water erosion. Fertilizers are used on the legumes and grasses.

Soil Conservation service technicians assisted Allison to do his 40 acres of land leveling in the fall of 1948.

To improve his irrigation system, he has installed 2,872 feet of underground concrete pipe to eliminate ditch loss, and evaporation. He later built a reservoir to provide a larger head of water and cut labor costs. He also has installed 59 acres of permanent borders that can be watered either flood or row.

The quantity of water used for irrigation is determined by the need of the crop and the water holding capacity of the soil. The water is applied at a rate that crops can use it most efficiently, and no erosion occurs from either irrigation or rainfall.

The Allison's derive their living from the land, and produce their own beef and can vegetables from their own garden.

At present Allison is president of the Pleasant Valley Farm Bureau, and a director of the Pleasant Valley 4-H and PFA Stock Show. He has also helped the Soil Conservation Service set up a soil judging contest for farmers and youth in the community. He is an original member of the High Plains Water District for Lamb County. During the years he has lived on the South Plains Allison has been host on two different occasions for foreign youths studying agricultural methods here.

Plains Cotton Growers Elect Board Members

A group of cotton farmers, business men, and other people interested in the future of cotton on the plains, assembled in the Spring Lake School Auditorium. Bill Braden, temporary chairman of the group, introduced Rip Elm and Paul Lewis who are Lamb County representatives for the organization.

Kenneth Parish made a motion that the group go on record as being in favor of such an organization in these communities. Bob Boone seconded the motion. The motion carried unanimously.

After discussion a motion was made that one farmer and one business man be selected from Earth, Springlake and Pleasant Valley be chosen, the motion carried, and the following were selected: Earth: Dick Kimbell, business man; and Bob Armstrong, farmer.

Springlake: Bill Bruden, business man; and Les Watson, farmer.

Pleasant Valley: O. C. McBride, business man; and Gerald Allison, farmer.

The group voted unanimously to get behind the Plains Cotton Growers and authorized the committees to contact their growers and collect 10 cents per bale for cotton ginned during the 1955 season, and also contact business men and collect from them to help the Plains Cotton Growers to send representatives to Washington to work for the High Plains Cotton Industry in the matter of acreage allotments and other things vital to us.

1. To prevent if possible the change of price supports on cotton from a basis of middling seven eighths to middling one inch.
 2. To regain and prevent the further loss of cotton acreage to East Texas.
 3. To promote the use of, and expand the markets for, the grade and staple length of cotton grown on the Plains.
 4. To represent the Plains cotton farmers in the Federal and State Legislative bodies, to protect their interests as far as possible in these bodies.
- At the close of the meeting $748.30 was collected and the committees instructed to contact others in their areas, the success of this organization is dependent upon the financial support given it by all who are directly or indirectly interested in cotton.

Farmers and business men are urged to contact one of these committees if they wish to become members.

GEN. CHARLES BRANDON BOOTH, commander-in-chief of the Volunteers of America, takes time out for a lesson in black building at a Volunteer children's care center, one of the 452 free service units operated by the organization throughout the United States.

General Booth is now touring the country to plan the nationwide observance of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the Volunteers of America, a religious social welfare organization operated without regard to race, creed or color.

THIS PERT YOUNG HOME DECORATOR hangs washable wall fabric easily because the pre-trimmed edges save cutting two selvages. Each strip is cut about four inches longer than wall height to allow neat trimming at ceiling and baseboard. Silhouette Wall-Tax is a traditional design of formalized early American characters scattered on horizontal and vertical white backgrounds framed by tiny marigolds.

BAKING A POUND CAKE inspired by Martha Jefferson Randolph's favorite recipe is so enacted here in the great kitchen of Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson in Charlottesville, Virginia. Dromedary Pound Cake Mix gives the same delicious golden cake, with only 2 minutes to mix it.
