

NOSIN..... WITH POLLY

We in the Earth-Springlake area ought to be about rich, according to the Song "Everytime It Rains, It Rains Pennies From Heaven." Because we've had lots and lots of rain. However, I'm convinced that if we have pennies (those kind with Lincoln's picture on it) some of us would want the pennies rained down already in sacks so it wouldn't be any trouble picking them up.

Speaking though, of rain bringing Pennies from Heaven, looked like someone must have been making a few pennies Tuesday, because there were more people in town Tuesday morning than I've seen in Earth since in the fall several years back. (Looked like a little New York City.)

With the Democratic National Convention just a few days off, one can hardly wait to see just what will take place. It of course will be interesting to watch, but to us who are not voting delegates to the Convention we cannot guess the real mechanics behind the convention. (Billy Wayne Clayton should be able to give full details on his returning.)

Selecting a Democratic Nominee for President is a serious matter in these days of unrest, threats and demands. Our next President will need all the God given talents available, plus the prayerful desire in his heart to walk with God's arm around his shoulder.

FREEDOM IS A WORD

By WILLIS E. STONE

Since we have just celebrated the 4th of July making our independence and Freedom I couldn't resist reprint of this editorial by Willis E. Stone who is author of the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" and Chairman, National Committee For Economic Freedom, Los Angeles, California.

Historically, Freedom is a word used by the American people to indicate their God-given right to determine their own course of action — their own destiny. It meant, literally, that they were free of political coercion and, as Thomas Jefferson put it, "free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement."

Today it appears that we are free to do as we are told by bureaucrats—and little else.

Mr. A. G. Heinsohn, Jr., president of the Cherokee Textile Mills, Sevierville, Tennessee, is one who believes in the literal meaning of the word "Freedom." He has long opposed the political leeching away of our historic freedom. Drawing upon his unhappy experiences with vanishing freedom, he wrote a letter on May 10, 1960, in which he discussed the changing situation imposed upon us by our bureaucracy. He wrote:

"For my money the natural law of supply and demand was the greatest automatic regulator known to mankind. I would openly espouse the cause of free trade IF we could start all over again with the currency of all countries freely redeemable in gold, with all tariff barriers removed, and without the imposition of internal artificial handicaps.

"Is anything FREE about American industry, labor or agriculture today; if not, then how could we talk of FREE TRADE in the world until we regain FREEDOM in America?"

"How can trade be FREE when I am compelled, as a factory president, to turn over a portion of my employees' wages to a government that gives the money away to build brand new foreign owned factories in the low wage areas of the world; with the assurance that their product could be shipped freely into this country? The tax bite here is so confiscatory that we have not been able to replace older machines with new, but believe me, in these new give-away factories the machinery is the best and the latest that can be had.

"How FREE is it when another portion of the tax foney seized from our employees is used to acquire the American cotton crop for resale abroad at some 25 percent less than we can repurchase our own property from our own government?"

"HOW FREE does this make the cotton farmers, when their natural home market is threatened with extinction and they are made the wards of government, dependent upon handouts of money seized from others?"

Mr. Heinsohn's points apply principally to cotton growers and textile producers in this "free" land. The problem also applies to every producer and consumer. It applies to the States in the Union.

The sovereign State of Ohio is currently being sued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for DARING to plant wheat on the farms of Ohio's penal institutions!

Thus, "FREEDOM" is only a word, meaning little or nothing until we give it definition in the organic law of our land. We must spell out the terms of our economic freedom in the Constitution. It will revitalize every area of human liberty. It becomes increasingly evident that, by restoring economic freedom in America, the costs of government would be so drastically reduced that individual income taxes could be safely repealed.

The instrument for regaining our economic freedom is the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 23. It has been approved by the Resolutions of more than 6000 organizations, and it has been formally adopted by Wyoming, Texas and Nevada. It provides that:

"Sec. 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.

"Sec. 4. . . . The Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, and— or gifts."

FARMER OFFERS REWARD

This week The Earth News-Sun received an urgent request for an advertisement for a farmer in distress. He asked for an advertisement on the front page, with much tact we went about trying to suggest another spot in the paper, the classified advertising page for his advertisement, and explaining we never sold advertisement space on the front page. The farmer, said slowly, "Well just put it under the Lost and found section then." The advertisement was as follows. Reward offered, to anyone finding my 100 acres of cotton lost among the careless weeds, last seen just before the weeds lapped the middles. (The farmer, Buddy Adria from Dodd Community is ready for the rain to stop.)

WOULD FILL AN OCEAN WITH TEARS — These huge "Texas Size" Bermuda Onions, weighing a pound were grown by Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Carter of Earth. Mrs. Carter said they measured eleven and one quarter inches around. (If underground water gets scarce, looks like our folks could probably irrigate by tears.)

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority
Fishing and Weather

Every year, more families find time for fishing on vacation trips. You may be a woman who has never baited a hook, but you can help your family make better plans if you remember this: Weather plays a big role in fishing.

Experts say fish bite best just after a "cold front" has moved through. A cold front is a mass of cold air, usually accompanied by thunder storms. It makes for ideal fishing conditions. Rain has washed down insects and cooled the surface water; there's a dark sky for protection and a rising barometer that seems to pep up the fish.

When this happens, the fish forget their usual caution. They'll come into the shallows and snap up anything that looks good—and this includes your bait or artificial lures. The important thing is timing—being in the right place at the right time. Before going fishing, check the local weather forecast. If a cold front is due, get out your gear and head for your favorite fishing spot.

One precaution: Take along a raincoat. You may find things a bit damp. But, as far as the fishing goes, it'll be worth it.

The St. Clairs have four lovely children, Karen 8, Janis 6, Brenda 4, and Tommy 2 years of age, and it's obvious that a busy mother of 4 children needs help. Thanks to Reddy, Mrs. St. Clair can be a 4-appliance owner, for Reddy supplies the energy, dependably, 24 hours a day, and at low cost. Mrs. St. Clair says about her electric dishwasher, "It is nice to know our dishes are germ-free because they are always thoroughly cleaned electrically." And about electric cooking she says, "I enjoy electric cooking because it is so clean, safe and fast." Her clothes dryer and freezer come in for praise, too. "I just couldn't do without my dryer because we always have clean clothes regardless of the weather. Our clothes stay new looking longer, safe from the fading rays of our strong sun." Mrs. St. Clair, in addition to storing food, uses her freezer in advance by baking cakes when she has time for use when company comes.

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. —(Romans 5:1)

We have faith that the sun will rise tomorrow; that when we turn them on, the electric light, the TV and the radio will work... belief in the operation of powers we cannot see or comprehend. Why, then, does our faith in God often falter? Without it, we can have no peace.

Hi-Plains Hi-Lights
NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

Stubble mulching has advantages in the long time farming programs in the High Plains that outweigh the immediate and temporary gains from burning the wheat stubble. Delbert Langford associate agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation, stated in a recent interview.

The advantage of plowing under the stubble are (1) maintaining the organic matter content of the soil which facilitates water penetration by improving the tilth and structure of the soil; (2) returning plant food to the soil; (3) better eration of the soil; and (4) prevention of diseases.

Temporary advantages of burning are (1) killing weeds, (2) killing insects, (3) immediate effect or released potash, and (4) double cropping.

Research tests have shown that burning stubble for a period of 5 years results in a considerable reduction in wheat yields as well as crops used in rotation. The loss in production from continuous burning of stubble over a period of time is very high.

Mr. Langford emphasized that the return of crop residues to the soil is a sound conservation practice in maintaining soil productivity. It will become more important as underground water level declines, and we are more dependent upon rainfall for crop production. Soil with poor physical structure and low organic matter is much less effective in absorbing and holding rainfall than soil with adequate humus.

Representatives of Agriculture Group Go To Washington on Farm Labor Bill

Four representatives of the West Texas Agriculture Employers Group were in Washington June 29-30 working in behalf of the Farm Labor bill, which was passed by the House last Thursday. This bill called for the extension of Public Law 78 which governs the use of Braceros in agriculture labor in this country.

The House version of this bill called for a two-year extension and Washington representatives indicated the House version would probably be passed by the Senate later this summer, when congress re-convenes.

Representing the WTAEG were A. M. Muldrow, Brownfield; W. G. Boyd, Lamesa; C. E. Jackson, O'Donnell; and Ed Dean, Lubbock, Secretary.

The group worked through Congressman George Mahon and with other congressional representatives and met with the National Users Group to consider including legislation, which called for curtailing Secretary of Labor Mitchell's power over the domestic labor. Representatives from Arizona, California and Wisconsin opposed such action and the National Users Group voted to work for the two year extension although WTAEG representatives voted to stand firm to try and curb Secretary Mitchell's powers over domestic agricultural labor.

If the Senate passes the House version calling for an extension of Public Law 78 it will insure Bracero labor for agriculture for two more years, from June 1961 until June 1963.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lightfoot of Lubbock visited Monday and Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. George Kasinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Martin, Muleshoe visited Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. George Kasinger.

Tech High School Journalism Workshop Slated For August

Lubbock, Texas — Summer workshops for high school journalists slated at Texas Tech in August are attracting more than 165 students from Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Prof. W. E. Garets, Tech journalism department head and workshop director, said that the number of students pre-registered for the August 14-18 course is up 100 per cent over last year's attendance, and more are expected to register.

A journalism workshop is designed to help young writers produce better news copy and improve the editing of their school papers. The special workshop on news photography will introduce "shutterbugs" to photo journalism and will cover special photo techniques and processing.

Fee for either of the workshops is $15. Room and board in the Tech dorms will be $14.35 and is optional, Garets said.

"Lectures from specialists in their field and more practical work included in this year's workshops will add to their effectiveness. We're really looking forward to the program for this summer," says Garets.

Speakers for the four-day Newspaper Workshop are well-known from their work on Texas newspapers.

Jerry Hall, regional editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and president of the West Texas branch of the newspaper professional fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, will speak on "Reporting the News."

Problems and procedures of editing will be discussed by Joe Pickle, managing editor of the Big Spring Herald. He is a past president of the West Texas Press Assn.

"Featuring Writing" is the subject of Miss Louise Evans, editorial page editor of the Amarillo Globe News.

Miss Margaret Turner, editor of women's news for the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, will speak on the subject of satisfying women readers.

That ever important topic of writing sports news is the subject of Joe Kelley, Avalanche-Journal sports editor.

Douglas Meador, editor of the Matador Tribune and columnist for several Texas papers, will speak on "Column Writing."

Ralph Sellmeyer, member of the Tech journalism department faculty, will head the photography workshop. Camera techniques will be slanted for the beginner, and processes in developing and printing will also be included.

In the days of the old west, you were a big man if you were quick on the draw with your Colt single-six. Men died with their boots on and were buried the same way at the famous Boothill Cemetery in Tascosa, Texas.

To relive the old west, visit Tascosa, some 25 miles northwest of Amarillo and present site of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.

An old railroad touring car belonging to Jay Gould, the railroad magnate, now stands as a museum in Jefferson, Texas in the northeast corner of the state.

When the town council refused him a right-of-way for his railroad through the city, in the mid-1900's, Gould noted in the hotel register, "This is the end of Jefferson."

But Jefferson still stands, and so does the railroad car!

Holland Coffee's Trading Post was established in 1837 to barter with the Indians. One of the frequent items the Indians brought in to trade was a white man captive. The site of this early-day trading post is just 12 miles northwest of Denison, Texas, near the Red River and the Texas-Oklahoma border.

Rabies Reported In Parts of State

College Station, — Many reports of rabid animals chiefly foxes and skunks — are coming from over the State, says Edwin Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Since complete eradication of animals subject to carrying rabies is almost impossible, everyone should be aware of methods which lessen the possibility of contracting the disease, Cooper continues.

Contrary to popular belief, rabid animals do not have "running fits" nor "froth at the mouth." A rabid animal is usually characterized by symptoms of paralysis and loss of their usual fear of humans or natural enemies. Therefore, Cooper says children should be cautioned to avoid any animal which appears to be acting strangely.

Foxes, strange dogs and skunks especially should be avoided. Rabies also can be carried by domestic livestock, bats, squirrels and several other mammals. Rabies may occur during any season of the year, Cooper emphasizes. A "deodorized" pet skunk, for example, may be a dangerous creature to have around, in spite of the novelty and interest it may afford.

If a person is bitten by any type of wild or domestic animal, the person should immediately report to the family doctor after making every effort to capture and pen the attacking animal for observation purposes if this can be done safely. If it is a wild animal, it should be killed unless capture can be accomplished without risk of another attack. Instructions for having the animal checked for rabies can be obtained from your doctor or veterinarian.

The Earl Walker family and Mrs. Maggie James were Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gatlin of Denver City.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Parish, Springlake visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parish.
