No Action Taken On Tax Contract

No action was taken by the Hall County Commissioners Court on the surety bond filed by the tax collecting firm of Vance Swaim in Lubbock in the court session last Friday, although Swaim and three attorneys were present.

The commissioners were restrained from approving the bond by an injunction issued last week by District Judge A. S. Moss, which injunction also stops the tax firm from making or attempting to make any collections.

Swaim and his attorneys asked the court to reject the bond, which according to the wording of the injunction, might have been possible. The injunction restrains the court from "approving" the surety bond, but says nothing about the court "rejecting" the bond.

The injunction will remain in force at least until the September term of district court, and the Swaim firm, if the injunction is removed, will have to bring court action against the plaintiffs named in the injunction.

Comes An Election, But Hall Countians Won't Get to Vote

Like a number of other counties in this section of the state, Hall County will miss out on an election.

The balloting in question concerns the nation-wide referendum on peanut marketing quotas, and since Hall County has no farmers who grow peanuts on a commercial basis, no one will be voting here.

Materials—the necessary election supplies—have been received by the county agent, but they will remain stored.

Although you may not realize it, there are approximately 35,000 peanut growers in Texas.

Rainfall and Hail in City Bring Half-Inch Moisture

Little Damage Is Done by Hail

Temperature Drops to 38 Degrees; Moisture Total Higher in Other Sections

Hall Countians were beginning to wonder this week whether they are living in East or West Texas as more rainfall, slow and drizzling part of the time, continued to fall.

The moisture total in Memphis was .51 of an inch, although heavier falls were reported from different parts of the county, particularly south of the city.

The county also got in on the hail last Friday night, although little damage was done in Memphis. Local citizens reported some damage done to flowers, however.

The hail was accompanied by high winds, and several people living outside the city limits reported considerable damage done by the wind.

The night of the hail found .37 of an inch in moisture falling, according to a report from J. J. McKie, local weather observer. Monday night and Tuesday, the rainfall totaled .11 of an inch, and the slow drizzle of Wednesday brought .03 of an inch.

The temperatures of the week, which have been warm, dropped somewhat, but failed to get very close to the freezing point. Weather prophets who said no freezes would come after April 1 were feeling jubilant and expressed the belief that the cold spell was over.

The sun had come out in Memphis this morning, although the temperature dropped to 48 degrees Wednesday night.

Low degree mark of the week came Saturday night, when the thermometer dropped to 38 degrees (Continued on page 6)

Revival Services Now in Progress At Baptist Church

Rev. O'Brien of Stamford In Charge; Joe Trussell of Brownwood Leads Singers

The week of revival services got well underway this week with the arrival Monday afternoon of Rev. Dick O'Brien of Stamford, who is conducting the services, and Joe Trussell of Brownwood, who is in charge of the song services, at the meeting being held at the First Baptist Church.

The revival opened Sunday night, and it was hoped that Rev. O'Brien, who is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Stamford, would be able to be present. Due to the death of a member of his church, however, he did not arrive until Monday afternoon, and the local pastor, Rev. S. F. Martin, conducted the initial services Sunday night.

The morning services begin at 10 o'clock, and the evening services at 8, it has been announced.

He had been employed at the Memphis Compress Company for the past four years, and was making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Perkins.

LITTLE ADOLF HAS BIRTHDAY

Little Adolf Hitler observed his 52nd birthday anniversary Sunday with a "soldierly simple" day—spent mostly in poring over military maps to determine how much more of the world he may be able to wreck in the next five years as he has in the past five.

The "Easter motif" was not exactly carried out, although the railway dining car, located "somewhere on the Balkan front" was decorated with flowers.

Another feature of the decorations was the surrounding group of anti-aircraft units which were visible on mountain tops near the station where the railway car was parked.

Callers during the day included numerous war chiefs (on the German side, of course). They were greeted by little Adolf himself, who, according to "the usual reliable sources," responded to their felicitations with a word of thanks and a handshake.

A pre-birthday anniversary party for little Adolf Hitler was held Saturday night in a dining car "somewhere in the Balkans."

It was a rather hilarious affair, with General Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel (who still has his head—physically speaking) starting the round of felicitations.

"We are chasing the fleeing British from the European continent," said Keitel. So little Adolf raised his glass and "with the gentlemen of his staff toasted victory," it was reported.

Refreshments (yes, they were "lovely") were served to little Adolf, Keitel, Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Deputy Nazi Leader Rudolf Hess, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Heinrich Himmler, Admiral Erich Raeder, and General Walter von Brauchitsch.

Preceding, during, and after the birthday observance of little Adolf, games (of murderous war) were played—and enjoyed by all of those attended the dining car party.

Three More Men Will Be Inducted Into Army May 5

Trainees Not Yet Chosen; Total of 1,000 Quota For May Call in Texas

Three more white men will be inducted into military service for a year under Call No. 12, W. J. Bragg, chief clerk of the local draft board, announced this week.

The three men will leave Memphis May 5 for Fort Bliss. The local board has not yet chosen the three, although two have volunteered since the last call was made. These two, it was pointed out, and one other will probably be the men to fill the quota.

The call for Texas will total one thousand from the 351 local boards in the state, General J. Watt Page, state director, said this week. All of the trainees will be white men, and will be inducted on May 5, 6, 7, and 8.

The total number now inducted is 23,585, and, according to war department plans, about 8,600 additional men will be inducted before July 1 to complete the state's quota for the first year of the program.

Local boards throughout the state have now classified 272,005 registrants, and only 527 appeals have been made. Only one appeal from the state has been submitted to President Roosevelt.

Caprock Project Is Not in Report

The army engineer's report on proposed flood control and irrigation projects in the Upper Red River area, submitted to the War Department in Washington Tuesday, does not include the Caprock dam project, it was learned here this week.

No definite information concerning the report has been received in Memphis, it was learned this morning, although it is believed by officials here that the Caprock project is not included in this report.

Directors of the Caprock project previously had requested that the report be tabled until after the national emergency unless it was necessary for defense.

Persons 65 years of age or over who may be entitled to Federal old-age insurance should immediately communicate with the nearest Social Security Board office when they are separated from their jobs, Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office, said this week.

"Otherwise," the statement continued, "they may lose benefits merely because of their delay in filing a claim. This applies to all persons who have been working in employment covered by the Social Security Act for a sufficient period of time to qualify for benefits."

It was explained that old-age insurance payments are not retroactive; payments cannot begin prior to the month in which a claim is filed. For instance, a person aged 65 or older who was separated from work on January 1, 1941, but who files his claim in March, will receive benefits beginning with the month of March. He loses the benefits he would have received in January and February had he filed his claim in January.

Reed explained further that an individual eligible for old-age insurance payments does not have to be retired permanently in order to receive such benefits upon reaching 65, but he may receive them for any month in which he does not earn as much as $15 in covered wages, even though he is receiving unemployment insurance and plans to return to work later.

"It should be noted that the survivors of a deceased wage earner have three months in which to file their claims. In the case of wage earner who dies in March of this year, the survivors who are eligible to receive monthly insurance payments at that time may file their claims as late as June 30, and receive benefits beginning in March.

Thousands turn to this way to get relief when they're lazy intestinally and it has them headachy, bilious, irritable, listless: A quarter of a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic, oil-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight, a drink of water, and there you are! Thus, it usually allows time for a night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning, so relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, bad breath.

Light Hail Falls Here

Spring thunderstorms and April showers seem to be the order of the day here—accompanied by thunder, lightning, wind, and hail stones. The hail which fell Friday night did no damage but the stones were of considerable size. It only fell for a few minutes. Showers the past week amounted to about .75 of an inch.

Student Flier Visits Home

J. S. Solomon, student flier of the Saylor Aircraft Co., Fort Worth, paid his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Solomon, a surprise visit Friday afternoon when he flew home in a large blue Stinson 80 plane—dipping in salute over the Estelline High School which he attended and graduated from.

Flying over his home one mile west of Newlin, he signaled to his parents. They, thinking he planned to land in the wheat field, hurriedly drove the cows out, but he did not land. Then they saw a note flutter from the plane, but a high gale carried the note away. He flew on to Memphis to land. His parents drove to Memphis and brought him home for a short visit. The plane was too large to land and take off from the wheat field. He was accompanied by a companion and student from Fort Worth. They left at 4:30 to return to the airport at Fort Worth.

Allen C. Grundy

ALLEN C. GRUNDY

Farmer, lawyer, businessman, Civic leader, churchman and soldier is an imposing career for a young man who is still on the sunny side of his forties, but nevertheless it is a career that has been easily accomplished by Allen C. Grundy, native Hall Countian and son of West Texas pioneers, who operated the Grundy Rasco Implement company here on West Main Street.

Allen Clack Grundy was born April 2, 1897 one mile north of Newlin in Hall County. He resided on the farm of his birth to Memphis in 1901.

When he reached scholastic age he entered the local public schools and was enrolled, like hundreds of Hall County boys and girls, under Miss Maggie Broyles in the first grade.

The completed the academic courses offered by the local schools and graduated from the Memphis high school in 1915. In the fall of that year he entered Trinity University at Waxahatchee and remained in that school until 1915. In 1917 he entered Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Virginia, and was a student there for a year.

With the country at war, he resigned from school and enlisted in the United States Army in the spring of 1918 and was sent to Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he was placed in an officers training camp. Mr. Grundy spent three months in training and at the end of this time was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Army.

Following his officers' training he was transferred to Luther College at Decorah, Iowa, where he served as military instructor under the S. A. T. C. until he was released from the army.

In January of 1919 he returned to Trinity University where he completed his undergraduate studies and took his degree. In 1920 he went to the University of Texas and entered the law school. Two years later he was given a L.B. degree and admitted to the practice of law before the state bar.

He returned to Memphis and entered the practice of law in this city and continued to follow that profession until 1935. Following the death of his father, he took of the administration of the estate and resigned from his practice.

achievement came while he was serving the people of Memphis as their mayor. His tenure of office fell in the first hard days of the depression and in order to save the city from bankruptcy Mr. Grundy practiced severe economy measures in the administration of his public trust. The result was that while he was mayor, the city of Memphis had the most economical city government since the incorporation of the town.

Mr. Grundy admits no embarrassing moments and states that he is too hard to embarrass. Having spent his whole lifetime in Hall County, Mr. Grundy states that he likes it very much, and finds it very much like the rest of the state with one difference. That difference is the fine people that populate this area and make it the best county in the state.

Since that time Mr. Grundy has been engaged in farming, cattle raising and kindred industries. In January of 1941, in partnership with Earlice Rasco, he opened the Grundy-Rasco Implement Company in Memphis and handles M-M tractors and farming implements. April 9, 1924 Mr. Grundy was married to Miss Buelah "Boodie" Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Montgomery, pioneer Hall Countians. Mr. and Mrs. Grundy have three children: Larry 14; Scotty, 7; and Elizabeth, 5. They make their home at 339 north 13th street.

Mr. Grundy owns his home here in Memphis, farm lands, and his business. He is a member of the Presbyterian church and a deacon in that denomination; he is a member of the Masonic orders; an active worker in the Old Settlers Rodeo and Reunion Celebration here; a former Mayor of the city of Memphis. While he was engaged in the practice of law he was an active member of all of Memphis service and social clubs.

Mr. Grundy's outstanding business achievement has come through his farming activities. Although a successful attorney, he has also become a successful farmer and cattleman and is recognized for his practices in that field of endeavor.

Crop-Raising Oil-Will Be '41 Program

Texans who want to reduce production in cotton, peanuts, soybeans, and other crops are advised to take notice of dates for seeking free classification and market news services for cotton grown in 1941.

Dairy Cows Normally Best Producers In Spring; Rations Must Be Watched

Free Marketing Services Offered

Spring is the season when dairy cows normally are in best production. But to get top production it is necessary to watch the cows' rations.

E. R. Eudaly, extension dairyman, says that green grass is much higher in protein than dry grass. Protein is the element that stimulates milk production, and green grass is high in minerals.

Many good cows do not produce as much in the spring as they could even though they produce as much then as at other periods of the year. The reason, the specialist says, is that protein in the grain mixture is not kept in balance with that in the grass.

As young, tender grass is high in protein and low in carbohydrates the cow should be fed a grain mixture high in the latter and low in the former.

"When we get the protein in the grain mixture in balance with that in the roughage (hay, grass and silage) we find that it we add the percent of crude protein in the grain mixture to that in the roughage it always makes 27," Eudaly says.

Approximately a quarter of a million evergreens have been planted in the shelterbelts of Northwest Texas.

Paper of Cotton To Reduce Surplus

Use of low-quality raw cotton in the manufacture of high-grade writing paper is expected to make another dent in the nation's staggering surplus.

A federal program directed by the marketing division of the Surplus Marketing Administration is designed to result in consumption of up to 10,000 bales during 1941.

Approximately 12,000 evergreens have been planted in shelterbelts of Hall County, reported Forest Officer W. S. (Bill) Greene of the Prairie States Forestry Project.

Every year more of these evergreens have been planted in the belts, but due to extreme drought at the time of planting, very few of them have come through successfully.

A large number of trees are being protected with shingles and large cans with the tops and bottoms cut out. Mr. Greene urged that each individual farmer provide additional cans and shingles to protect as many of the evergreens as possible.

Here's Hints on—

SELECTIVE SERVICE RULES

Texas' Selective Service local boards today were urged by Gen. J. Watt Page, state director, to warn every registrant ordered to report for induction under the Selective Service system to arrange his affairs so as to prevent undue personal hardship in the event he is rejected later at the Army induction station.

General Page said that there are instances when men sent to induction stations by local boards are rejected on physical or other grounds by Army examiners, and that state headquarters is extremely anxious that any injustices suffered by registrants in such cases be reduced to a minimum.

"Probably more often than not," the director said, "when a registrant is ordered to report for induction, he disposes of his automobile at a sacrifice since he has been instructed that he cannot take it with him. He either sells or gives away his civilian clothes and gives up his lodging accommodations."

"But, more serious is the possibility of inequity to rejected registrants centering on the fact that they have severed their employment connections when ordered to report for induction. When a registrant is notified by his local board to report for induction, he should point out to his employer the possibility that he will not be accepted at the Army induction station. The employer can then be prepared to replace the man if he is accepted," General Page said, "or to continue his employment if he is rejected."

Members of the Civilian Conservation Corps who have been placed in Class I for Selective Service Training prior to their enrollment and assignment to a CCC camp, will be permitted to report to the local Selective Service board nearest their camp for physical examination.

Gen. J. Watt Page, state director, pointed out that this rule applies in those cases in which the suspended sentence is still pending, as well as in those cases in which the suspended sentence has been set aside.

Meats are Healthful!

Properly cooked, meats have been shown by tests to contain representative proportions of the essential Vitamin B group—thiamine (Vitamin B1), riboflavin (Vitamin B2), and the anti-pellagra vitamin.

The first requirement for preserving vitamins is proper cooking. Old-fashioned, uncontrollable methods of drying out meats and drained away the cooking substance. Modern CP Cookery is scientifically controlled at low temperatures to prevent shrinkage and save the food values for the benefit of yourself and loved ones.

Meats are healthful—healthfully prepared the old-fashioned way. Give your family the protection of modern scientific CP Cookery.

The next year's players will be decked out in new uniforms, which were only recently received.

Amarilloans Hurt In Wreck at Hedley

Two residents of Amarillo, Maldene Looney and Edward Lee Rogers, were injured when the car in which they were riding overturned on the highway near Hedley Tuesday afternoon. Both were brought to a Memphis hospital following the accident. Miss Looney was taken back to Amarillo Wednesday morning, and Rogers, who went back to the accident scene Tuesday night, was taken to a Clarendon hospital for further treatment when it was found he was suffering from bruises and possible concussion of the brain. Others in the car who were less seriously injured were Geraldine Kent, Horace Price, Keith Pickett, and Wanda Lou Manning, all of Amarillo. The accident happened, according to an investigation by Sheriff Guy Wright of Clarendon, when a tire blew out. The car rolled over, he said, two and a half times, coming to rest on its top. The car was badly wrecked.

Dr. Dines To Be Associated With Local Hospital

Amarillo Consultant Will Be At Odom-Goodall Hospital Each Tuesday and Friday

The Odom-Goodall Hospital this week announces the association of Dr. W. C. Dines of Amarillo with that institution. Dr. Dines will keep office hours at the hospital on Tuesdays and Fridays and an advertisement appearing elsewhere in this paper urges those wishing to see him to make appointments for those days.

ground and place of beauty for the benefit of the general public, and there seem to be some vandals who care not for such things. Mr. Hodges offers a reward of $10 for the apprehension and conviction of the party who wrecked the vase. The City of Memphis also offers a standing reward of $25, not only for this offense, but for any other damage done to property in the park in the future.

Clinton Voyles, our genial junior high school principal, made the best speech last Friday of any delivered during the two-day session of the Panhandle Press Convention. The speech was a decided hit, and Voyles received many compliments from both the Amarillo newspapers and members of the association.

K. A. Harper has made a donation of $1 to Fairview waterworks. Thanks! Who will be next?

This country is beginning to take on the aspects of the swamps of Florida, with the ground soaking wet, trees and other vegetation dripping with water day after day, and weeds growing so fast they make a noise. Surely, Hall County will have good crops this year.

A mass meeting of farmers has been called for Monday, April 28, at 10:30 o'clock in the county court room. Farmers, this meeting is important, for matters relating to the farm income will be presented.

The workers here at The Democrat office are feeling just fine this week, thank you. The nice showing made by the paper at the National Editorial Association in session at Jacksonville, Fla., first of the week is the cause of so much elation. Only two weekly papers in Texas stepped into national prominence in the contest.

Do you know that April is Nutrition Month in Texas? That 50 per cent of men called to Selective Service have been rejected because of physical unfitness, many of which are traceable to mal-nutrition? That 45,000,000 of our 130,000,000 people are undernourished? That the problem of mal-nutrition has been placed on the "must list" of the national defense program? That in this land of plenty we have starving millions? That the proper care and feeding of the family is the business of the home-maker? That the object of the Texas Nutrition Campaign is to make Texans nutrition conscious; to conduct an educational campaign designed to educate the public in proper diet-

tary standards; to strengthen national defense by building stronger bodies, healthier minds? That a safe daily diet consists of 1 quart of milk, 1 egg, half cup of green or yellow vegetables, half cup potatoes, half cup other vegetables, half cup citrus or tomatoes, half cup other fruit, half cup whole grain products, half cup meat bread and butter every meal, some sweets, dried peas and beans 3 times per week, 6 to 8 glasses of water every day. The 1913 Study Club is sponsoring the campaign in Memphis.

THE ROAD BACK

IT'S OFTEN SAID in the boxing game that a world champion fighter, once defeated, never "comes back."

This editorial, however, has little to do with the boxing game, but much to do with the coming back part.

Is the cotton country, which incidentally includes Hall County, "coming back?" Will the farmers, land-owners, and business men ever see the day when money will be even half as easy to make as it was in the "good old days" of the twenties.

There's much in favor of an affirmative side to this question. The way things are shaping up now indicates that the cotton country will "come back." Even now it seems that recovery is on the way.

The government cotton loan program will help—it already is helping. If a farmer can get enough for his cotton to more than pay the expense of raising the cotton, then he is going to have more money than he has had during the past few years.

Why shouldn't the government set the price of the cotton? Most of that produced in the United States now is sold in the United States. Why should farmers here have to sell their products at a price set by the South American, or some other foreign market, if those products are sold here?

Why should the farmer be paid 5, 6, 7, or 8 cents per pound for his cotton, then have to pay a hold-up price for the finished merchandise? It just isn't right.

Some skeptics, of course, believe that the cotton country cannot "come back." But the cattle industry is coming back, for some reason or another.

Perhaps the government program of slaughtering cattle has been one reason for cattle to go up in price—even though it did take several years for the program to show results. Perhaps there are other reasons why the cattle industry is coming back. But at any rate, it's a cinch that it is.

The same thing can be applied to the cotton industry. The government crop reduction program will eventually have some effect on the amount of cotton which is being raised. It may take several more years for us here to realize that. But it's bound to have some effect.

Cotton is being used for many more purposes. The government mattress-making program is gradually using up some of the surplus cotton in the United States. Thousands of bales are being made into mattresses and comforts each month from the surplus of 12 million bales. This, too, is bound to have some effect.

Other new uses are being found for cotton. Roads are being built with cotton foundations. And it takes a lot of cotton to build a road.

Cotton is being used in some phases of the national defense preparation program, partly in roads, but mostly for other uses. It's even being used in making gunpowder, and plenty of gunpowder is being made.

There's no reason why this cotton country can't come back. Other businesses and industries have gone down, then come back up again. The cotton country can do it, too.

Maybe boxers can't come back, maybe they can. But raising cotton is a lot different from getting in a ring with a man and fighting it out.

If the government continues to aid the farmers as they should, then the "come back" of the cotton country should be a "knockout" of the depression blues which have been prevalent for so many years.

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Daid

Roy Hahn in the Briscoe County News: The only time there was ever an odor in here was one time last month when a mouse chose the cash drawer on my desk and made a maternity home of it. She was not the mother type, and kept running around, giving the little ones no care, until they died of malnutrition. Naturally, by the time I had reason to look into the drawer they had expired—just like several of my subscriptions, only in a more noticeable manner.

Cream

The Stanton Reporter: We are prone to skim the cream without giving a thought to the quality of its foundation—the milk. The richness of the cream depends upon the quality of its foundation, which I claim the foundation of this great state rests upon the pioneers. The newspapers, the civic clubs, chambers of commerce, and other organizations, skim the cream and place all the laurel wreaths upon the head of the present-day individual, losing sight of the foundation from which that individual had his beginning, and which made it possible for him to receive the high recognition.

Arsenal

The Monahan News: When we think of our great manufacturing industries, we should think, too, of the industries which convert into usable form our tremendous natural resources. These industries have been brought to a high peak of productive efficiency under the private enterprise system. And it is these industries which will provide the life blood in arming both our own country and the embattled democracies across the seas. It is the abundance of our natural resources which makes it possible for us, in the President's vivid phrase, to become the arsenal of democracy.

Cost

The Plainsman in the Lubbock Morning-Avalanche: That Girl on Broadway says it costs a lot of money to make history—and it's never worth what it costs.

Romancing

Jimmie Gilentine in the Hereford Brand: The beauty shops this week announced new shades in nail polish and lipsticks, which is not at all surprising until you learn the names of the new spring styles. They are "Hot Dog," "Cherry Coke," and "Rosy Future."

What did your grandmother always say? She said, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Furthermore, she carried out her theory by getting up a big meal and asking her beau over for dinner. Her mother, who probably did most of the cooking, kept exclaiming over the daughter's culinary ability—and first thing you know all the neighbors were invited over for a wedding.

Today the style may be a shade faster, but the method is the same. The gal picks out a likely looking suspect, then ascertains his particular weakness in the food line. Just for instance we'll say he is a regular "Wimpy" when it comes to hot dogs. They are riding around one night in his dad's sedan and the dope says, "How about a kiss, Toots?"

"Oke," she says, already having applied the alluring "hot dog" flavor in a lavish manner.

She melts into his arms. He gets just one taste of the tantalizing frankfurter flavor and, Bingo, their friends start sending out a round of wedding gifts.

Finance

E. E. Hayley in the St. Jo Tribune: The announcement that Uncle Sam is going to finance a new Polish army reminds us of a man who is always buying gas for the other fellow's automobile when he doesn't even own a car himself. Of course, like the man we know, Uncle Sam is willing to pay the price as long as he can be reasonably sure it will help him reach his destination.

Money Cheaper?

The Floyd County Hesperian: On every side it is declared that money will get cheaper and cheaper. But do you see in recent years any banker fellows getting out of the banking business? Are they backing the wrong horse? Wheat and cotton are relatively cheaper than forage feeds but do you see anybody voluntarily cutting their acreage in products to produce either fabric material or the makings of flour? All a sort of mixed-up business, and probably the man who does what the most of the folks are not doing will be the long-run winner. Hasn't it all ways been that way?

Just Looking

Carl Roewe in the Turkey Enterprise: It seems even the waitresses read political news these days. Not long ago a traveling man in a restaurant remarked that he couldn't find the turtle in his soup. Without batting an eye the informed waitress piped up, "Well, we have cabinet pudding but you wouldn't expect to find Harold Ickes in it, would you?"

Grasshoppers Less Threatening

Fewer in number and less widespread in area, grasshoppers not constitute as great a threat to crops as they did in three years, Dr. Lee A. Strong, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, reports. A grasshopper epidemic shows North and South Dakota, western Minnesota, and Kansas have largest grasshopper populations. Poison baiting applied voluntarily by farmers are expected to stop the invasion of valuable grain crops. Black areas on map show areas of infestation.

YOU CAN

There are two words that should be cut in lasting letters across the entrance to your brain, hung in golden prominence all around your heart, and burnt into the very desire of your hope for place in the world—YOU CAN.

You can! You can make of yourself a stupendous figure in the work of the world; you can command; you can build; you can multiply your own modest efforts until they become works of power; you can dream and make your dreams real; you can strive and trot on with smiles in your heart, and the world will want you to stay a long time—you can—YOU CAN.

Achievement is an impression on the brain—worked out. The great thing is never to allow a worthy impression to fade away. The inspiring thing is to be a creator of impressions—and bring them all to pass in enduring works. But always remember that—

You can. You are the only person who is able to interfere permanently with your own success. But since you can, there is no power in existence able to swerve you, able to slow you up, able to take from you your fine faith and fortitude. My friend, whom I may not know, yet wish to help—morning, noon, night, and always—YOU CAN!

A Britisher Says— WE'LL BE IN WAR IN FEW WEEKS

Editor's note: Several weeks ago, The Democrat published a letter from Livesey Brothers, cotton brokers in Liverpool, England, which was received here by J. H. Morris, cotton dealer. Mr. Morris last Thursday received another letter from the Liverpool firm, which was written March 25. Excerpts of it are published here because it is believed it will be of interest to a number of readers.

Dear Sir—

We believe that you will be interested in a further resume of general conditions over here . . . (Editor's note—In this next section, a review of the war's effects on the cotton market is given, and is not printed here.)

You will gather that Liverpool, and cotton men in particular, are going through a very worrying time, which has not been lightened at all by the last severe Blitz against Merseyside. We are sorry that considerations of "information to the enemy" will not permit us to give you graphic details of what is happening to this city in which you are so interested, but we can at least deny one untrue report which stated that the Liverpool Cotton Exchange had been destroyed in the last "Visitation."

The building is untouched—the only bomb which has hit us is the official decision to take over our importing business and close our futures market! No high explosive could have had such a devastating effect.

The bombing of our residential districts is probably the worst in the country, more words could not adequately convey to you all that human nature stands up to it is truly amazing.

The Nazis will never demoralize us by these methods, and we are all longing for the day when our air strength is at least equal in numbers to theirs, so that we can see how much of the same treatment they will stand.

In the meantime, of course, our air attacks must be concentrated on their military formations and preparations for the threatened invasion. The submarine warfare on our shipping is certainly intense and, since our navy is so fully occupied in policing the oceans of the world, as well as assisting the land campaigns in the Middle East, it is bound to be very damaging.

Spiritually and physically we shall stand up to the very limit that flesh and blood can endure, but the material means of defense are essential. With every new country that she absorbs, Germany acquires added resources and the long awaited decision of America to come to our assistance in this all-important respect is something for which we shall always be grateful—we can only hope and pray that our combination has been effected in time to stem the onrush of that cursed creed which threatens to convert our civilization into a despotic barbarism. Your one urgent aim must be to strengthen the British Empire as your last line of defense. Our ability to win in the strictly military sense is not in itself sufficient—behind the planes and guns and bayonets are the economic and social factors. Your economic system is the same as ours and, if the German "New Order" is established throughout Europe and Asia, the invasion of your country as well as ours may come, not physically, but through commercial and social disintegration, as the economic result of the loss of world market.

This is indeed a world war and it MUST be brought to the earliest possible conclusion. We must beat them thoroughly in the air, on the sea, and on land with the utmost speed, so that we can remove their poisonous influence before it has sunk in too deeply and, perhaps, ruined the economic and social structure of two countries. Apart from these engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war, what have American business men (especially those concerned with overseas markets) to say about present?

Are we to let the Nazis continue this struggle so long that their totalitarian methods, which entail the complete subjugation of the people to the purpose of the state, compel us to adopt the same system in order to contend with them? Do we no longer value the freedom of the individual, freedom of thought, private enterprise, and the right to progress in life according to the effort each of us is prepared to make?

There are the ultimate issues, the effort to protect them must not be made too late—whilst we are facing the enemy, concentrated on the military victory which even now is assured, those subversive influences can be developed behind our backs.

It is pathetic to read today, at the height of your great effort, of the strike at the Bethlehem Steel Works. Does labor in America not know that under Nazism trade union rights and privileges

Fund to Maintain Lee Home Sought

A committee of prominent Texans headed by Federal Judge J. C. Hutcherson of Houston, has been named in the nation-wide campaign to raise a permanent endowment fund to maintain Stratford Hall, ancestral home of the Lee family and birthplace of Robert E. Lee.

"Stratford Hall," said Judge Hutcherson in announcing the campaign, "has recaptured its glorious and romantic past. It belongs to all time because the Lees who lived there accomplished things that are of timeless significance. It is a symbol for present and future generations, of the priceless traditions, the eternal values so magnificently espoused and lived by the Lees."

Sam R. Lawler, vice president of the First National Bank in Houston, is treasurer of the Texas committee. Contributions for the Stratford Hall endowment fund are being sent to him.

"Build-Up" Relief Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUL, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

Many who take CARDUL a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease period discomfort. Women have used CARDUL for more than 50 years!

Sidney Mayfield, Now in Alaska With Army, Tells of Trip to Elmendorf Field

Izzard to Speak in Wellington Monday

A clearcut picture of the international situation, and its implications involving this nation, will be set before residents of the eastern Panhandle when Wes Izzard, radio news commentator for station KGNC, Amarillo, and recognized as one of Texas' best posted men on current events, speaks in Wellington Monday night, April 28, at 8 o'clock.

Sponsoring the address here is the Wellington High School Band as one of the activities of the local Music Week.

Immediately following his address, Mr. Izzard will conduct a question and answer period, similar to that conducted over the radio station each Tuesday night, and which is already attracting much attention over the Panhandle, New Mexico, and West Oklahoma area. So popular has this program become, that three persons are required to handle the questions that come in by telephone during the period.

Men and women of Memphis anxious to get a clearer picture of the present war and its far-reaching implications, have been extended a cordial invitation by Wellington residents to attend Mr. Izzard's talk. Tickets are now on sale at 50 cents each, and may be secured in Memphis from The Memphis Democrat.

Mr. Izzard will speak at the high school auditorium. The world's only operating helium plant is run by the Bureau of Mines at Amarillo.

Editor's Note—Below is printed excerpts from a letter written by Sidney Mayfield, who is with the 36th Bomb Sq., Elmendorf Field, Anchorage, Alaska. Mayfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Mayfield of Denver, left Lowry Field in Denver several weeks ago for Alaska.

You have already heard something of our trip up here, but I will tell you again a few of the highlights and things I found interesting.

We left Denver on the train, and went through Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, and Washington. I didn't get to see much of the country because we went through most of it at night. Too, you can't see very much from a train window.

We got on the United States army transport, "St. Mihel," and rode it to Seward, Alaska. We made two stops to take on and leave soldiers. One stop was at Annette Island, and the other was at Yukatka. We didn't get to go ashore, but we could see quite a bit from the boat.

We saw lots of seals on the way up. They played along beside the boat but they were under the water as much as they were on top. They certainly would have made some pretty coats.

There were about nine sea gulls which followed us from Seattle. They were so tame we could nearly catch them when they hovered over the boat. Every once in a while, one would dive down and come up from the water with a fish.

Elmendorf Field was only started last July, so you can see why the field isn't improved much. Right now, mud is all over the place, and cars have a hard time getting through some of the streets. They will have them paved before long.

I haven't been in Anchorage but once since I've been here, but I was surprised at the modern conveniences and stores. Most of them are old, but they have several new ones. There are around 2,000 people and nearly that many dogs. The prices are high, but some of the things are as cheap as in the states. Food is the highest thing we want to eat here at the post. I think I might get fat if I keep eating as much as I have been the past few days.

Jake Webster is trying to eat everything on the place. I know he will get fat, or kill himself one.

I haven't found out anything about the place yet, but I guess I will before very long.

Sidney Mayfield.

THE RECORD Facts That Concern You No. 27 of a Series

ONE SOUR NOTE...

but it's a great orchestra nevertheless

Even a great orchestra will make a musical mistake once in a while. And once in a while... out of the thousands of decent, law-abiding beer retailers in Texas... you'll come across one or two who operate disreputable establishments.

These "black sheep" retailers constitute a tiny minority. Yet they tend to drag down the good name of beer.

By arousing public indignation, such undesirable retailers endanger your right to enjoy good beer. They also endanger the benefits to the public that beer has made possible.

For example, in Texas beer has created 31,165 new jobs with an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in taxes last year.

The brewing industry wants "black sheep" retailers eliminated entirely. You can help us by patronizing only the reputable, legal places where beer is sold. And by reporting irregularities to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

BEER...a beverage of moderation

A Spring Tonic YOU'LL ENJOY

Get away for a while. Leave cares behind you. A rest even for the week-end will help tremendously. Let the Worth be your host... initiate you to perfect comfort and relaxation. And a treat that will send you home once more refreshed and ready to "take hold" with new perspective... renewed energy.

A change is always good and the WORTH is a change for the BETTER.

Pathfinders Hear Book Review by Mrs. Lloyd Phillips

Mrs. Lloyd Phillips reviewed Willa Cather's "Sapphira and the Slave Girl" at the meeting of the Pathfinders Council Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. F. Srygley.

The setting of the novel is in the Virginia countryside, and the characters are the keynote of the whole story, the reviewer said. In the story, strong feeling and bitter wrongs are hidden under the warm atmosphere of good manners and domestic comfort.

The chief theme of the novel is the subtle persecution of a beautiful Malatto girl by her jealous mistress. The period covered by the book is the time just before the outbreak of the war between the states.

Culture Club Has Bible Pageant at Madden Home

The Woman's Culture Club met in the home of Mrs. R. L. Madden with the club members, directed by Mrs. R. E. Clark, portraying the books of the Bible in pageant form to seventy assembled guests and club members from both Memphis and Estelline.

Those participating in the pageant were Mrs. A. W. Howard as "Naomi," Mrs. Gene Chamberlain as "Orpha," Mrs. V. L. Taylor as "Ruth," Mrs. G. W. Sexauer gave the law of Moses; Miss Esta McElrath represented History; Miss Edna Bryan represented the "Shepherd" in the Twenty-third Psalm; Mrs. D. A. Grundy gave "Hope" from the fourteenth chapter of John; Mrs. Donald W. May gave the challenge from Timothy II in the words of Paul. Mrs. R. E. Clark introduced the program and was the Reader connecting the books. Mrs. L. B. Madden accompanied the club chorus as they sang "My Mother's Bible."

Mrs. Robert Sexauer sang a solo, "The Holy City," portraying the life of Christ from the Nativity through the Crucifixion. She was accompanied by Mrs. Madden. After the program the guests were served tea from a lace covered table with gold poppies and purple lilacs, flanked by silver candelabra and yellow tables forming the centerpiece. Mrs. G. W. Sexauer poured from a silver coffee service at one end of the table and Mrs. D. A. Grundy poured tea at the other.

Mrs. C. T. Hamrick had charge of the social arrangements. The next meeting of the Culture Club will be May 17.

TO ATTEND MEETING. Miss Esta McElrath of Memphis, president of the Gamma Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, teachers sorority, will represent the chapter at a state meeting in Wichita Falls Friday and Saturday. Miss McElrath will be the official delegate, although several from Wellington and Childress are also expected to attend.

Local Store To Observe Event

The latest and best in spring 1941 models of house wares, sporting goods, hardware and home appliances will go on display Thursday when the Harrison Hardware Company of Memphis opens its doors to celebrate National Hardware Spring Open House May 1 to 10.

This gala display of "What's New" is made possible by the close cooperation of many of the nation's leading manufacturers and more than 10,000 hardware stores. Working through the National Hardware Retail Association, they are planning for the Spring Open House to be the biggest nationwide merchandising event the hardware industry has ever known.

"If you have the idea that 'hardware' means only nuts and bolts and metalware, a visit to the Spring Open House will change your mind," stated T. M. Harrison, manager of the store. "There's something here for every member of the family—gadgets that peel potatoes to major household appliances, sporting goods and garden tools and gifts and novelties and toys. Many have been prepared by national manufacturers especially for this event."

Mr. Harrison, who also handles the Norge refrigerator line at his store, was recently honored by the manufacturers of this product by having received the highest grade in a dealer-salesman examination held throughout the West Texas area. Dealers all over the nation participated in this examination.

Three Physicians Make Addresses On Cancer Control

Two Wellington Doctors Speak in City to Aid in Cancer Control Movement

Three physicians, two from Wellington, and one from Memphis, made addresses during the past week in cooperation with the cancer control movement sponsored by the Women's Field Army of Cancer Control.

"Cancer control work is a challenge to men and women," Dr. E. W. Jones of Wellington told members of the Memphis Rotary Club Tuesday, "for more money will be spent in one day this year around Thanksgiving on football games than will be spent the entire year on cancer control." Dr. Jones was introduced by Dr. W. Wilson of Memphis. The film "Choose to Live" was shown.

Dr. Charles Jones of Wellington, before a group of women in the Junior High School auditorium Tuesday afternoon, pointed out that cancer begins when one tiny cell in the body begins to grow in a lawless, disorderly fashion.

In addition to Dr. Jones speech there, the film was shown, and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, county chairman of the Women's Field Army, explained the work and objectives of the organization. The group, she said, is carried on by memberships, memorial funds, and donations. Quota for Hall County is $170, it was explained. Mrs. W. Wilson was in charge of the meeting.

Lakeview citizens heard an address on cancer last Wednesday night by Dr. Wilson.

"Early cancer is curable, and the only sure ways are X-ray, radium, and surgery," Dr. Wilson said. "Pastels, salves, and ointments are to be avoided for they are not resisters of good cells surrounding the cells destroyed by cancer."

In an address at Estelline Tuesday night, Dr. Wilson stressed that the only way to cure cancer is to destroy it, just as an infected limb on a fruit tree would be destroyed by removing it entirely from the orchard. Mrs. Lester Phillips of Estelline was in charge of the meeting there.

Religious Revival

begin at 8 o'clock, and will have as one of the main features of the program an address by Rev. W. M. Pearce of Pampa.

Rev. Pearce, who is pastor of the First Methodist Church in Pampa, will also be in charge of the preaching services, which will begin Sunday morning, May 4. He will probably be assisted by J. E. Shevbert of Lorraine, who will conduct the song services.

During the week of preaching services, four morning services on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, will be held. Each will begin at 10 o'clock. Evening services will begin at 8 o'clock, and will be held each night during the week.

The revival will close the following Sunday, May 11.

Cemetery Groups To Have Working

The cemeteries at Lakeview will get their annual cleaning and polishing Thursday, April 1, according to officers of the Union Hill Cemetery Association.

The organization urges that all people interested attend. A joint meeting of the Odd Fellows and Union Hill cemetery associations will be held on that date, and members are asked to take lunch and plenty of tools, and spend the day in an all-day working.

HERSHEL WHITEFIELD

Former Countian Inducted Into Army

Another former Hall County youth, Hershel Whitefield, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Whitefield of Lakeview, has been inducted into the U. S. Army, it was learned here this week.

Whitefield was drafted April 7 from Santa Maria, Calif., where he has been living most of the time during the past five years.

As a former Hall Countian, he graduated from Memphis High School with the class of 1936, and the following summer he moved to California. He worked for three fall seasons in California and returned home to aid in farm work during the spring and summer.

In 1940, he took a civil service correspondence course, finishing it with a grade of 90. At the time he was drafted, he was employed at San Luis Obispo as a carpenter. He was a member of Company H, 18 Engineers, at Vancouver, Wash., when drafted.
