Greenwood-Hudson.

James W. Greenwood, a prominent physician of Memphis, and Miss Conger Lewis of Itasca were quietly married at the Metropolitan hotel about 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Knickerbocker of the First Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of C. P. Hudson, superintendent of the Itasca public school, and is prominent as a teacher. The bridal couple will leave for Memphis on the 9:15 train for Memphis.

The groom is from the Fort Record and was quite a favorite to this happy couple's friends in Memphis.

W. Greenwood is one of our best practitioners, and is known as a promoter.

Miss Conger Hudson is well and favorably known in Memphis. She is a lady of many graces, and is a help to her husband in his work.

After the ceremony they proceeded to the depot and boarded the train for Memphis where they have gone to housekeeping in their new home in South Memphis.

Death of Andrew Moreman.

The remains of Andrew Moreman were brought in Saturday morning from Lawton, Okla., where on December 31, 1908, he died after a short illness of two weeks.

The funeral was held at the Christian church Sunday morning, January 3, 1909, at 11 o'clock by Rev. R. B. Bonner of the Methodist church after which many friends followed the remains to Fairview cemetery, where they were sympathetically laid to rest.

Andrew Moreman was 28 years, four months and seventeen days old at his death. The cord of life has been broken and the dust has returned to earth as it was; the Spirit has returned to God who gave it. The devoted boy who remembered his Creator in the days of his youth, ere the evil days come, or the years drew nigh when he should say I have no pleasure in them, has finished his course and reached the heavenly goal while yet quite young in the race of life.

Andrew was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Moreman of this city. He leaves a loving father, mother, brothers, sisters and a true and devoted wife to mourn the sad loss. To these sad and heart-broken relatives we extend our deepest sympathy.

Quiet Home Wedding.

On last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Spencer, occurred the marriage of Miss Jessie Eels to Mr. V. R. Jones. Rev. W. L. Head of the Baptist church, in beautiful and impressive words pronounced the ceremony which united the two loving hearts as one.

The bride is one of our choicest young ladies, and from a young girl she has grown up in our midst, honored and loved by all who knew her.

The groom is one of our most worthy young business men and is to be congratulated on winning such a prize for a life partner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones will board for the present with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bryant. The Democrat extends best congratulations.

Bric-a-Brac Shower.

The Womens Culture Club entertained, Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock with a bric-a-brac shower at the home of Mrs. S. A. Bryant in honor of Miss Vera Dial. About fifteen couples were present including the club members and their guests. Punch was served and toasts were indulged in freely. Several nice musical selections were rendered on the piano. Miss Vera made a very pleasant and interesting talk to her married lady friends and school mates.

Business Change.

A deal was consummated last week whereby T. R. Prater and son, became owners of the livery barn of West & Son on North 6th street. The new firm assumed management on the first day of January.

ENTHUSIASTIC MASS MEETING

Large Crowd Gathered at Court House Sunday--Permanent Prohibition Club Organized.

A large number of Memphis and Hall county's representative citizens met at the court house Sunday afternoon in mass meeting. The meeting was called to order by Rev. R. B. Bonner of the Methodist church, and in a few words made the object of the meeting known. Prayer by Rev. W. L. Head, of the Baptist church.

Nominations were called for and Capt. G. J. Adkisson was elected chairman and T. R. Garrett secretary of the meeting.

Capt. Adkisson after making some remarks on prohibition assumed the chair. Rev. Bonner taking floor read the following petition which is self explanatory as to the object of the meeting:

To the Hon. J. W. Veale, State Senator and Hon. G. E. Hamilton, representative.

Your attention is most respectfully called to the following:

Whereas, As the submission of the constitutional amendment, providing for state wide prohibition of the liquor traffic to be submitted to a vote of the people, for their adoption or rejection, has become a platform demand and will be before the coming Legislature: and

Whereas, Our present laws on gambling allows Pool selling, bookmaking and betting on horse racing when a bet is made on the day of the race and within the enclosure where the race is run, which in our judgment, is an exceedingly bad form of gambling, and under existing circumstances is very detrimental to the moral interests of our people; and

Whereas, Our Holy Sabbath is being desecrated by the operations of fairs, shows, entertainments, etc., to the dishonor of our Lord and the moral hurt of our citizenship. Our laws seeming to be defective or inadequate to prevent it.

Therefore, We the undersigned citizens of Hall county, do hereby very respectfully, but most urgently petition you as our representative in the Legislature use all your influence and very best endeavors.

The signatures are here omitted.

First, To have the Submission question taken up and passed upon in the early part of the session.

Second, To amend our laws on gambling so as to prohibit race-track gambling as well as all other kinds.

Third, To so amend or strengthen our Sunday laws by increasing the penalty for violation thereof, so as to make it altogether impractical to operate fairs shows or entertainments where fees are charged or received for same.

Almost every person in the house signed this petition, and copies of this petition is being circulated in the other towns of Hall county and in the country surrounding Memphis. We are sure every citizen of Hall county will sign this petition when it is presented to them. This petition is to be presented to the coming Legislature which convenes about the 12th of January.

Following this a permanent prohibition club was organized to be known as Hall County State-wide Prohibition Club. The following officers were elected. Judge J. F. Bradley, President; A. W. Read, Vice President; Judge R. J. Thorne, Secretary-Treasurer; B. F. Shepherd, Assistant Sec.-Treas.

Rev. Bonner spoke on state-wide prohibition and read a paper giving objects and rules of such club.

The one and all important object of this club is to help in the cause of the defeat of the anti-prohibition element. A nice speech by Eld. L. H. Humphreys of the Christian church, giving statement of facts concerning nefarious work of the saloon element in the cities and urging pros to secure poll tax before the first of February, so they could step up to the polls and cast a vote for prohibition when the question was submitted.

The club adjourned subject to call of the chairman.

Moving to Wellington.

W. D. Morgan left Wednesday morning for Wellington where he goes to help take invoice of the Harrison-Headrick Hardware Co. stock of goods preparatory to accepting the management of same in the future.

We are sorry indeed to lose Mr. Morgan and his estimable family from our business, social and church affairs. This excellent family has been living among us for several years and during that time have made, countless friends in the business social and church world, who will greatly miss them. We commend them to the good people of Wellington.

Enterprising Move.

The ladies of the Cemetery Association are passing a subscription around to our people for the purpose of raising money enough to buy five acres adjoining Fairview cemetery. This addition is to cost $500. When we were called on by the committee they then had two or three hundred dollars subscribed. Every person paying as much as $10.00 will be allowed to choose a lot 20x20 feet in this new addition.

This is a good move in the right direction, as the present cemetery is becoming very much crowded. Everybody should subscribe liberally to this subscription paper.

Sad Death.

The little 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moreman died last Wednesday, after a very short illness of about thirty-six hours with diphtheria. The little one suffered untold pain during its short illness, the Angel of Death coming as a relief to its pain-wrecked body. After a short sermon at the grave by Eld. L. H. Humphreys, pastor of the Christian church the remains were tenderly laid to rest Thursday in Fairview cemetery.

First National Entertainments.

The First National bank on last Friday night gave a reception and banquet to the other bankers of the city and visiting cotton buyers. The reception was held in the parlors of the Cobb hotel, where a regular toast feast was enjoyed by all. Toasts by the bankers were responded to by the cotton buyers, which were very interesting and entertaining. This was followed by a swell banquet in the dining of the Cobb hotel which had been specially prepared for the occasion. All attending will long remember this occasion and look forward to the time for such another entertainment.

SPLENDID SUCCESS

Annual Meeting at Christian Church Well Attended--Several New Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Christian church was a splendid success. The only shadow was that cast by the grim monster death, who had invaded two of our best homes, thus preventing their members from meeting with us. The reports from the various departments, of the church, showed the work to be in a healthy, and growing condition.

All debts paid with the exception of $15.00 for fuel and lights. A summary of the pastor's report showed a total of sermons and addresses 102.

Meetings attended 173. Accessions 76. Calls and visits 324.

Three Elders and six Deacons were elected for varying terms of one, two, and three years. A church Treasurer, Clerk, Organist and Choister, elected for one year.

The ladies provided a beautiful dinner to which all did ample justice.

It was unanimously decided to make the annual meeting a special feature of the work in the future.

L. H. HUMPHREYS, Pastor.

Beneficial Change.

Thompson Bros. have had the plank petition torn down which formerly separated the hardware store from Lewis & Marshall's dry goods store and now they have just twice the room they have had heretofore. They can now arrange their goods and wares to a much better advantage, and a customer can get around and see the goods on display without moving several other things to get to what is wanted.

Martin-Allen.

Miss Mary Martin and J. R. Allen were quietly married this Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Judge T. R. Phillips. The bride is a young lady from Fort Worth and came here where she met Mr. Allen and were married. The groom is one of our young business men for whom we predict a bright future. Congratulations are extended to this happy couple on the rough sea of matrimony.

A thousand dollars in cash offered to the corn growers in premiums by the Farm & Ranch should prove attractive to the farmers who are looking for more profit from their land and labor. In 99 cases out of every hundred, every watch sign hanging in front of jewelry stores the hands are set at 15 minutes past eight. It was not by accident that they were so placed. In New York on April 14, 1865, W. K. Washburn, a painter, was painting a sign for a jeweler in that city when the news of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln was received. The jeweler ordered the painter to put upon the dial the hands pointing to the exact time when the fatal shot was fired, and so they have continued ever since.

Greenville, Tex., Dec. 30.—Editor R. C. Dial of this city has purchased the Banner-Stockman at Clarendon, and with his family will soon move to that place. Mr. Dial and his family were all reared in this county. They have always been prominent in church and social circles, and Mr. Dial held the office of County Tax Assessor for three terms. He was editor of the Greenville Banner for about fifteen years, and about a year ago he sold the plant, since which time he has been engaged principally in prohibition work in the interest of State-wide prohibition.

It is our pleasure to know Mr. Dial personally. We served our apprenticeship as a compositor in the Greenville Banner office while Mr. Dial was owner and editor. Mr. Dial is a first class newspaper man in every respect and a thorough christian gentleman. We are glad to welcome him to the field of Panhandle journalism and know he will keep the Banner-Stockman up to its high standard, both as a first class newspaper, and as a medium for moral and religious influence. Clarendon is to be congratulated upon getting such an estimable family to live in their midst.

total casualties is as yet quite impossible, but the Rome Tribuna places the number at between 90,000 and 100,000.

The horror and destructiveness of this visitation exceeds that of any earthquake since 1783, when 40,000 persons perished at Messina alone.

Reports of heavy loss of life are coming in every hour from city and town and nearly every village in the stricken zone, and the story in its details only remains to be told. The horror grows as further reports come in.

Messina has been swept by fire. The dead there alone will run into the tens of thousands. Reggio is a sepulcher of the dead. Catania suffered severely.

Mount Aetna, the volcano on the island of Sicily is active. The detonations are reverberating over Catania and add to the terror. Volumes of smoke are pouring from the crater.

The work of rescue is being pushed forward with every possible energy. Troops are being sent into the zone, but the efforts at succor as yet are utterly inadequate. France, Great Britain and Russia are hurrying warships to the scene.

King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena have left Rome for the South. His majesty will superintend in person the work of relief. The queen, refusing to let her husband go alone, insisted on sharing his dangers.

The pope has made an appeal to Roman Catholics the world over for help. He has headed the relief subscription with a donation of $200,000.

There is consternation in Rome. The telegraph and newspaper offices are besieged by weeping crowds demanding news. Every fresh telegram tells the same story of destruction and desolation.

Ambassador Griscom telegraphed to Messina Palermo inquiring as to the of Arthur C. Cheney of the American consulate and H. Pierce, the American consul at Messina. Up to this no answer has been received.

GILES GOSSIP.

With this issue of the Democrat we are launched into another year. Let everybody make this year a better one than the one past by living better and trying to be happy by making others happy.

Mrs. Geo. Harris stopped off Sunday on her way home from Childress to Amarillo and was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ranson Johnson.

J. A. Lemmons is attending court in Clarendon this week.

Misses Ada and Bessie Christensen and Myrtle Neeley of Memphis were pleasant visitors in Giles a short while Sunday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Crow and children, Mae and Wilson, were the guest of Mrs. Crow's parents, J. S. Young several days last week.

The social given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Parker last Friday night was largely attended and was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Joe Jolly returned to her home near Bowie the 4th, after spending two weeks the guest of her sister Mr. G. A. Coursey.

Miss Louise Thaxton returned to her school work here last Sunday night after spending the holidays with home folks in Texline.

Clyde Willingham came in the 1st from Fort Worth and was the guest of "friends?" here a few days returning home Sunday night.

B. K. Rogers has returned from his trip down south. He was accompanied home by his brother John Rogers, who will remain here for awhile.

Mrs. H. I. Reed is reported on the sick list this week.

On last Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents and amid a large circle of friends and relatives was solemnized the marriage of Mr. J. W. Brooks of Clarendon, Texas, and Miss Clara Morrow of this place. Rev. Wood of Hedley in a very simple and impressive way spoke the words that joined the lives of these two young people together. Both are very popular known here and have a large number of friends who wishes and bids them God speed and every joy and blessing attend them.

"Merry Widow."

Notice.

Well the rush and push of the holiday trade is over and we are able to breathe again, and we wish to thank the citizens of Memphis and vicinity for the unparalleled patronage accorded us, it left us with empty shelves but they are going to be filled as rapidly as possible with bright, new and seasonable goods and we expect to give our old and many new customers the same low prices we have heretofore given them, and hope they will continue to accord to us the same patronage.

Wishing all a happy and prosperous New Year.

We remain yours truly,
MR. AND MRS. E. L. JONES,
at the 5 & 10 Cent Store.

Agreed to Cut Out "Fake" Advertising

One lumber merchant has reported to the Post that lumbermen of the city have agreed to cut out all manner of "fake" advertising, such as programs, menu cards, catalogues, during the coming year and pay their money to newspapers exclusively. This is an excellent resolution with which all business men could profitably begin the New Year. Childress has long been an easy mark for such schemes, almost all of which are entirely worthless and are known to bring no results except to purchase the good will of the solicitor. We venture the assertion that many business men of the city spend as much or more on these hold up devices as they do with both newspapers. Newspapers, the world over, are recognized as the very best advertising mediums and they are certainly the least expensive.—Post.

We heartily indorse every action these people have taken along this line. There was quite a little money carried away from Memphis the past year on different "fakes," whereas had the same amount been expended in legitimate advertising, we venture the results would have been much more satisfactory.

Feeding Milk Cows.

Milk cows require different feed than beef cattle. You should not feed much fat forming foods, as your cows would lay on fat instead of producing milk. Feed more silage or roots in the winter.

Daily feed for a thousand-pound cow: 40 pounds of silage; 7 pounds clover hay; 8 pounds of grain. The cows that are soon to freshen should be fed on succulent feed, such as silage or roots, bran linseed meal with a little oats. Keep the bowels open and do not feed very heavy on grain just before or after calving.

After calving, give bran mash and warm the drinking water for a few days. Allow the calf to suck for about two days and then feed the mother's milk from a pail for about two weeks, about three quarts, twice a day; after that reduce it with skim-milk, or warm water, so that at the end of the fourth week the calf will be getting all skim-milk, or half whole milk and half warm water, with some reliable stock tonic to aid digestion. Keep a supply of good clover or alfalfa within reach and also some ground oats, with a little linseed meal mixed with it.

After the calf eats the ground feed, gradually get him to eating whole oats, as this is the best feed for him up to six months old. The heifers should not be bred until fifteen or eighteen months old.—Wisconsin State Veterinarian.

Help the Editor,

To our friends and well wisher we will drop a few kindly hints. Help the editor in diligent search for news. When your friend comes to see you, tell us about it, when your wife gives a tea party drop in with the news, when a baby arrives, fill your pockets with cigars and call at our sanctum, if you go to a party get some of the good things to eat and bring them and the item to our office, if your wife should happen to get the best of you in a "battle royal", come to us immediately and let us see the scars and tender sympathy through the paper. In fact any news that will make you feel proud, sad or lonesome, let us have it while it is news, and you will see our matted locks part and stand on ends with gratitude which will pour from every pore like moisture from the dew-sprinkled earth.

Chicago Ladies Orchestra.

The second number on the Presbyterian Lyceum course will be furnished by the Chicago Ladies Orchestra Thursday night of this week. The doors of the Presbyterian church will be open at 7 p. m. The program will begin about 8 p. m.

The Orchestra is composed of six young women well equipped in every way to furnish a first class program. Things point to as good if not better entertainment than was furnished by the Illinois Glee Club. Single admission tickets are now on sale for 75c. Course tickets for the remaining numbers can be secured in order to be insured a seat.

Let me figure with you on your printing and papering. T. A. 12-1f

Wheat & Speer have received a car of Higgins Flour and guarantee every sack. Try it. Just across the street from Ciner Smith lumber yard. 10-1f.

The Odd Fellows are this Tuesday night having an installation of officers for the ensuing year in their lodge room, after which they will repair to the Oriental Cafe where oysters will be served to all members and visiting brothers. We express our regrets in a stentorian voice at not being able to attend, especially the banquet.

The titular character of a schoolboy, the woman he has promised to marry, who poses as his mother, and the scrapes into which their imposture lands them, furnish some of the ludicrous scenes witnessed on stage for many a day at the Ardwood, Friday Jan. 8, "Ma's New Husband" will be given one performance.

The attendance at the performances of the Ina Lehr Stock Co., last week were not large on account of several other entertainments at other places. They are holding the boards at Estelline this week, and will no doubt have good sized audiences. They have a repertoire of fine plays and the acting is above the average, and the specialties between acts are excellent.

Senator Joe Bailey won the friendship of all Texas merchants and newspapers when he opposed the parcels post bill. If this bill should pass it would damage every country merchant in the union and give the thieving turst mail order houses just the chance they want to enter houses with less cost of their rotten goods. Go after 'em, Joe. We've always been with you.—Dimmitt Plainsman.

While visiting in Memphis last week we noticed the houses are being numbered so a place can be intelligibly located anywhere in town. Childress is much larger than Memphis and consequently, need house and street numbers much worse. This is a fact admitted by everybody and yet we have done nothing to secure this inexpensive convenience. The Post has the highest respect for city council. They have accomplished much during the past year, but now we ask of them this one more improvement. Let the ordinance be passed, the streets numbered and the people will number the houses.—Childress Post.

The 8-cent cotton of 1908 may make more hog, hominy and independence to many a farmer in 1909. The important subject of diversification does loud talking to willing ears when cotton prices are at bedrock.—Bowie Cross Timbers.

Cheap cotton is a dear price to pay for diversification, but it has been often said that man will learn only in the school of experience. With the Texas papers filled with the record of profitable experiences of those who are practicing diversification he will be a dull farmer indeed who doesn't make an effort next year to live at home and raise even some cash crops besides cotton.—Record.

Young men and boys could learn an important lesson from the want ad columns of the daily papers if they would but stop to think. Many of these calls for help contain the stipulation that "no booze fighter nor cigarette fiend need apply." comparatively few qualified men are now given to drink but the number who have acquired the cigarette habit is so large that it bars hundreds and thousands of men, otherwise capable, from many of the best positions in the business world. This sentiment against the cigarette smoker is rapidly growing and the time is not distant when such men can scarcely hold good jobs.—Childress Post.

Cowpeas Between Wide Corn Rows.

I have experimented to a considerable extent with corn in wide rows with cowpeas between. In East Texas where the wind does not blow so much that is the one way to plant corn; that is, we had our rows double width, put corn about twice as thick in drill, cultivate between rows of field peas beside each row of corn making two rows of peas between corn rows. Have pea rows wide enough apart so one furrow between will clean them with a wide sweep. Peas will grow fine and corn will also be just as good.

This system has not worked so well here where the wind blows the corn down so bad, seem to blow down worse in the wide rows.

The Home Circle Column

PLEASANT EVENING REVERIES

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide

Aloae With Mother.

Do not we all remember with pleasure the days when "the others" were out, or we, perhaps, not perfectly well, and mother had us in her "drawing room; or work room, or took us out for a little walk alone? Not that we did not love to romp and play. Not that we not appreciate to the full the picnics and other family expeditions which took place from time to time; but there was enjoyment of a very different, deeper sort in those quiet times with mother, the remembrance of which has lasted half a lifetime. There is very real danger that the mother of a large family may never fully come to know her children, and gain that influence over them for good individually which is so desirable that every mother should have. We do not hesitate to say that it is absolutely impossible for a woman to become the confident and friend of her children unless she weekly, nay, daily—spend some short time alone with each. Only in this way can each child feel the security of his or her ownership of that precious mother. The stern realities of life permit only short seasons of recreation, and it is only by planning judiciously the arrangements of time and divisions of labor that a busy mother can insure a child his rightful portion of her company.

Making Home Happy.

Let every parent instill into the minds of the children the principles of self-sacrifice, cheerfulness, generosity and making others happy—make home so attractive that the boys and girls will find more pleasure there than elsewhere. Give the boys a pretty room; pictures and ornaments have a tendency to refine them. Give your children good and wholesome books, for the character of a child is greatly influenced by the books he reads. After reading the book of a noble and useful man, the children will try to emulate it. Music and flowers brighten the home. An interesting game will add much to the pleasure of an evening. Reading aloud is both pleasant and instructive. Let the conversation at the table always be bright and cheerful. And just here, let us say, cultivate an excellent deportment at the table always, for however polished you may be, if your table manners are neglected, they will surely betray you. Let each member of the household do all in his power to make home the brightest and happiest place on earth.

A girl who is brought up to earn her own living never will "just settle down to nothing." She will understand the value of money, having earned it, and can give her husband wise counsel and sympathy in his business difficulties. She can take entire charge of the money expended for the household do it in such a business-like way that it will give her husband infinite satisfaction. She can earn a little something for herself perhaps, and at least she will have the comfort of knowing that what ever happens, she will fall on her feet. If her husband dies, she will be able to do something toward the support of herself and children. And we think a woman who has sense and intelligence enough to be self-supporting is always more respected by her husband and everyone.

There is a vast difference between a house and a home. The house is but a building and furniture, the outward shelter and the gathering place of the household. The home indicates the kindly family affection, the thoughtful care, ready sympathy, mutual confidence, and trust of the members. A true home breathes the atmosphere of love. A child should be made to feel that his home is indeed a home, the happiest place in the world, not merely an outward shelter and a resting place, but a center of enjoyment, sanctified and purified by love, the thought and remembrance of which should be the safeguard of his life as he goes forth to the world, giving strength and proportion to his character.

The great event in every young man's life is his awakening. There comes a time when he's aroused from the dreamy carelessness of boyhood by the opening possibilities of life. If he then drops into indifference and begins life in an easy, shiftless way, he fritters away his chances. If he comes to a deep, earnest purpose to be his best and do his best, he arrives early at the highest rank among equals in business, profession or trade. Enthusiasm leads him to attempt the seemingly impossible. Energy will seize transcendent leadership in the chosen sphere. These forces in youth look forward, while age looks backward. They make youth radically venturesome, while age becomes conservatively cautious. Youth may make mistakes, but is doing something. Ageless active, may be less mistaken. It is well for enthusiasm and energy to be guarded by experience but not to be paralyzed by fear.

Could He who promised our burdens should be light if we trusted in Him, and in the matchless sermon on the mount, warned his disciples to take no thought of what they should eat, and rebuked Martha because she was fretful and cross and all out of sorts in trying to get up a feast for him, have any approval of the "much serving," the relays of china and silver, and the ceremonious attendance of the present day, or a word of commendation for the cheerless, worrying Marthas, who bake and brew, fry and stew, and wear themselves out with self-imposed eating for morbid appetites.

When economy becomes the chief end and aim of existence, a sort of domestic god, before which all must bow down, the happiness of the home is likely to be sacrificed. Every expenditure that would give pleasure is held in abeyance until such a time as the family feel that they "can afford it," and as a rule, this time never comes, and the pleasure is relinquished.

Kings may rule nations, yet woman's deft hand may prepare the dish that rules the king.

College Students Entertained.

The college students attending the various universities and colleges in the state, and some invited friends were royally entertained Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gist. The conversations of the couples were not very lengthy from the fact, each couple were allowed only a very few minutes of expression until they would be changed. Refreshments were served. In departing for their homes each one expressed wishes that they might all meet again on many similar occasions without their happy circle being broken.

The Woman's Culture Club Entertained.

One of the most successful occasions in the social world of our little city was the reception of the Woman's Culture Club to their friends at the home of Mrs. Ruth Ellison. The officers of the Club stood in the receiving line and extended a cordial greeting to all who entered. This beautiful home had been tastefully decorated with the Club colors by the designing hands of those in charge. The whole interior was permeated with an atmosphere of wholesome welcome that made one feel especially at ease. There was no regular program. The affair being informal a place where friend could greet friend in a comfortable manner. Refreshments of coffee and fruit-cake were served. As the guests departed they expressed their hearty appreciation of the most enjoyable occasion.

Union Watch Service.

A goodly number, mostly young, people attended the watch meeting at the Christian church Thursday night. The program as announced last week was successfully carried out and in a solemn and impressive manner, we had due to the old year and amid the pealing of bells and screaming of whistles with songs of rejoicing welcomed the New Year. It was a delightful and helpful service.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

The ladies of the Cemetery Association are requested to meet Tuesday afternoon January 12, at the residence of Mrs. W. A. Johnson. Each one is requested to bring their regular dues of $1.00, as we wish to start the new year with a clean page.

Meeting Postponed.

On account of the uneasiness felt from the fact that that dread disease diphtheria has made its appearance in our midst. The meetings at the Christian church have been indefinitely postponed.

New York.—Fresh from a triumphant tour of the Peruvian Andes, during which she scaled the summit of Mount Huascarán, one of the highest peaks in the world, Miss Annie S. Peck of Providence R. I., arrived here yesterday from Cristobal.

In speaking of her perilous trip up the slope of Mount Huascarán, Miss Peck ascribed most of her success to the two Swiss guides who accompanied her.

"It was, thanks to the presence of these two men," said Miss Peck, "that I succeeded in reaching this altitude, which marks the summit of Huascarán. This height, I believe, surpasses that reached by any one before me. Heretofore the record had been held by W. W. Graham, whose ascent of one of the Himalayan peaks is set down as a climb of 23,800 feet. One of my guides, Rudolph Taugwalder, lost his gloves on the way up and had both hands frozen. He has since had to have one hand amputated. I reached the summit on the 22d, and the following

WELCOME TO 1909

It is going to be a good year for all of us, we know that, and in recognition thereof have resolved to give a square deal to all, to give better value possible, to have the same low prices as before, and, everything considered, to make this the banner year in our history.

We are taking this opportunity to inform the public that after the first of January we will occupy our entire building and will be in much better shape to display our goods and we are also going to enlarge our building to fit the building.

Our trade has been growing for the past two years until we are obliged to have more so that we can keep more goods on hand and please our good customers better.

Hoping that you will join us and work hard to make this the best year we have ever had, we are, yours for business.

Bill by Club Women.

Austin, Tex., Dec. 30.—It was learned today that the Women's Federation of Clubs will attempt to have the next Legislature pass a bill providing for the relief of clerks in stores. The proposed bill will require the managers of stores to equip such places with stools behind the counters so that the clerks may have an opportunity to rest and not have to stand the entire day.

FIGURING

Within the walls of Jerusalem the Pool of Siloam was supplied with water by means of a rock tunnel 1708 feet long through Mount Ophel, near Mount Mariah from a spring in the mountains outside the city. Directly under the cone of Mount Ophel, there is an inscription on the rocky side of the tunnel, stating that workmen began from opposite sides of the mountain and dug toward the central meeting place until the sound of pick-axes could be heard by both parties as the ends met together. They figured to make both ends meet.

If difficulties stand in your way, try to make "both ends meet" by buying your supplies of us. We will meet you half way with the right prices.

Foreigners Killed.

It is feared that many foreigners have been killed, as a number of hotels at Messina and doubtless other places were crowded with tourists. But little is known of the fate of diplomatic representatives of foreign countries stationed at these posts, although the Italian government is using every effort to solve the anxiety felt on their account. Latest reports received here state that 4,000 soldiers in the various barracks at Messina were buried under the ruins. The rock of Charbydis now blocks the entrance to the Strait of Messina. The tidal wave wrecked the lighthouse in the strait, including the Faro beacon, and then crashed into the sea.

There is the gravest danger that a pestilence will follow the destruction of the towns where on account of the havoc wrought bodies will lie until buried for days and weeks.

Those who escaped death, many of whom are badly injured, are making their way by thousands to the nearest place of refuge. Their suffering even now must be intense, as they are without food and clothing.—Ex.

A Marriage Proposal.

One of our giddy youngsters of the male persuasion recently decided to make a formal offer of his heart and hand to one of our representative ladies to whom he had been paying some attention for a time. He cautiously prefaced his declarations with a few questions: "Did she love him well enough to live in a cottage with him? Was she a good cook? Did she think it a wife's duty to make home happy? Would she consult his tastes and wishes concerning her associates and pursuits of life. Could she make her own clothes?" The young lady said that before she answered his questions she would tell him of some negative virtues she possessed. She never drank, smoked or chewed; never staid out all night playing billiards; never lounged on street corners and ogled giddy girls; never "stood in" with the boys for cigars and wine suppers. "Now," said she, rising indignantly, "I am assured you do all these things, and yet you expect all the virtues in me, while you do not possess any yourself. I can never be your wife," and she bowed him out and left him on the door steps to silently meditate over his venture, a wiser man.

Tommy's Tribute to Education.

Out at the Francis W. Parker school of the University of Chicago, means and methods of education are used which, to the enlightened mind, appear little less than startling.

For instance: The children sing a song. Then each of them makes a drawing, which is supposed to illustrate the song which has just been sung. In this way the power of the pupils to "visualize their conceptions" is fostered.

The other day the music of "The Old Oaken Bucket" was started and everybody joined in the singing. They all sat down to make a picture of what the song meant to them.

"Tommy," one of the youngest of the class, turned in a truly original sketch. He had drawn what might have been meant for a circle, and within it outlined what appeared to be three waste baskets, "all in a row." Underneath this diagram was a sprinkling of fly specks—or was it a representation of microbes as they appear under a magnifying glass?

The teacher looked at the drawing a moment and then admitted that she was puzzled.

She put her finger on the left-hand figure in the row of three inside the circle and said: "Tommy, what is that?"

"Why, teacher, that's the old oaken bucket."

The teacher pointed out the righthand figure of the three.

"And that one, Tommy?" she asked.

"Pshaw! that's the iron-bound bucket."

Teacher pointed to the circle which inclosed the three buckets.

"What's that?"

"That's the well they hung in."

"And what are these?" she asked finally, pointing to the ragged group of exaggerated fly specks below the rest of the picture.

"Those," answered Tommy, with never the ghost of a smile in his big blue eyes, "those are all the loved spots which my infancy knew."—Successful Farming.

To Protect Fruit Trees.

This is the season when rabbits begin to do injury to growing fruit trees and many people do not know how best to guard against this danger. The Stephenville Tribune contains the following statement which may be worth many dollars to Democrat readers if they will only clip it and keep it until they have an occasion to use it: H. H. Hathaway is now planting the fruit trees in his orchard to prevent rabbits from injuring them. The paste he uses keeps the trunks of his trees in a fine, smooth, healthy condition and keeps out borers. Here is his formula: Lime 20 pounds, yellow ochre 10 pounds, sulphate copper 2 ounces, sulphate of iron 2 ounces, pulverized tobacco 2 pounds, one gallon thick flour paste. Dissolve the copper and iron in half gallon of very hot water, slack the lime. Then mix together all the ingredients, adding water enough to make a paste about the consistency of a good white-wash. Paint the trees with the paste. Mr. Hathaway is a progressive horticulturist, and has been using this wash about three years, and regards it as the best application for trees that can be obtained.
