1938 FEDERAL FARM CHECKS ARRIVE HERE FRIDAY

ONE FOURTH OF TOTAL PAYMENT IS RECEIVED

810 Hall Farmers Get Share of First Cash Allotments

Hall County farmers received their first allotment of federal subsidy checks last Friday morning, an amount totaling $132,233.22, County Agent W. B. Hooser announced Saturday.

Eight hundred and ten checks were received at that time. The amount is approximately one-fourth of the total amount of government money which farmers in this county expect to receive from the 1938 crop, Hooser said.

Approximately $450,000 will be paid in rental and parity payments to Hall County farmers. Officials at the county agent's office have received no information as to when the remainder of the checks will be received here.

Rental payments in this county last year totaled more than $400,000. That amount did not include parity payments. Officials at College Station earlier this year estimated that approximately $56,000,000 would be paid Texas farmers under the 1938 farm program.

The county agent's office was still distributing checks from the first allotment Wednesday, while more are expected at any time.

In the rural school division, however, Lesley earned a tie for first place with Rivercamp of Childress County, each school scoring 20 points.

Dickson Addresses Turkey Farmers

R. E. Dickson of Spur, recently named Texas' Number One Farmer at a banquet given in his honor at Fort Worth, addressed farmers of the Turkey community at a meeting at the Turkey High School auditorium Tuesday night.

Dickson discussed several phases of modern agriculture, and complimented the farm groups of the Turkey area on the terracing program which has been in effect there for the past two years.

Following the address, a number of farmers made plans for making Turkey a one-variety cotton community this year, and appointed committees to select seed for planting. More than 1,000 acres have already been signed up for the one-variety movement, and farmers there expect to secure between two and three thousand more acres for this year.

Turkey growers have agreed either to gin only one-variety cotton or to set aside certain days for ginning the specialized product.

Farmers Organize Planning Board

Organization of the Hall County Farm Planning board has been completed, County Agent W. B. Hooser announced this week, and committees have been appointed to work out farm plans for this county.

The planning board set-up, carried out through national, district, and county organization, is one of the finest developments ever offered to the farming population in this country, Hooser said.

A soil survey prepared especially for this county is available at the office of the county agent, and every type of soil found in Hall County is classified and marked on the map.

Three committees have been appointed by the county board to work out community planning in regard to soil types. The committee for deep, medium, and sandy land includes John Russell of Estelline, Jess Mann of Lakeview, W. H. Youngblood of Brice, John Sharp of Turkey, and Jack Cromartie of Tell.

Chicken House Is Destroyed by Fire

A fire shortly before midnight Monday night destroyed a chicken house on the Cicero Milam farm west of town, burning 100 baby chicks and destroying a brooder and other farm implements stored in the building.

The fire is being rented by Ray Rountree. The Memphis fire department answered the alarm but was unable to save the building. The farm house and other buildings on the place were not endangered.

An address by Harry H. Hines prominent West Texan and member of the Texas Highway Commission, climaxed the 20th annual banquet of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce Monday evening as nearly 300 members and guests, making up one of the largest crowds ever to attend a similar gathering in this city thronged the newly completed high school gymnasium and gave a gala air to an affair which struck a new high in festive entertainment.

John Deaver, district attorney and prominent local barrister, as toastmaster for the evening capably blended flashing wit and sincere oratory in introducing the speakers and performers. The address of welcome was delivered by District Judge A. S. Moss, and the response was made by Arthur Giddens of Alaska. James E. King who last week was re-elected president of the local organization, reviewed the accomplishments and aims of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce in a brief address.

Music by the Southernaires, several numbers by the Memphis High School Choral Club under the direction of Miss Mary Helen Hardin, and two vocal numbers by Miss Hardin herself featured the program.

The speaker of the evening was introduced by President King. Hines paid high tribute to the work of the local organization and presented some interesting views on the highway building program which is now underway in this section.

"Completion of the highway arteries now under construction into Memphis will bring a blood transfusion to business here," he told the assembled merchants and business men, citing the huge amounts spent by tourists in Texas during the past few years. The highway commissioner pointed out with pride that Memphis is now located on the great trans-continental route from Vancouver, Canada, to Miami, Fla., and noted that the program of the highway department in this state has included paving of all gaps in the route and replacement of all

Turkey Farmers Win Fame and Save Money Terracing Co-op Draws Praise

A terracing club organized by Turkey farmers last year on a cooperative basis, is attracting nationwide attention from farm groups who are interested in learning how the Hall County men have conducted a highly successful enterprise.

A better example of farm cooperation could not be found, according to County Agent W. P. Hooser, and R. E. Dickson, a man who has earned the title of Texas' Number One Farmer, after inspecting the work of the terracing organization Tuesday, was high in his praise.

The club bought a 40-horsepower cat, and organized a board of directors. John Sharp of Turkey is secretary.

The "cat" is available to every farmer in the community and since its purchase more than 90 per cent of the fertile farm lands in the Turkey area has been terraced and contoured.

The most amazing feature of the plan is its economy. Where the average cost for terracing has been figured at a minimum of $19 a mile, the Turkey co-operators have reduced the cost to a sensationally low average of $12 and $13 a mile.

The "cat" has been in such demand that the club has considered the possibility of running on a night shift throughout the terracing season in order to accommodate all who desire to use it. Purchase of the tractor was made possible through the cooperation of County Commissioner Roy Russell of Turkey and the members of the Hall County Commissioners Court. The Court agreed at the time of the purchase to assist the club in meeting payments should it ever become necessary, but as the group nears the end of the second year of service no payments have been missed and no call has been made on the commissioners for assistance.

The terraced-minded farmers at Turkey, proud of their achievement, are now having the opportunity to tell the rest of the world how it is done. Having terraced practically everything in sight, they are still looking for worlds to conquer—or contour.

$28,000 School Gymnasium Is Dedicated Last Thursday

Athletic Program Officially Opens New Fieldhouse

All-Stars Defeat State AAU Champs in Feature Cage Event Thursday

The new gymnasium was opened Thursday evening at 7:30 in a dedication program with volleyball, boxing, and basketball as the attracting events.

The volleyball game between Memphis and Lakeview was a thriller which ended in a tie game with Memphis winning the first set and Lakeview winning the second. At one time the ball was tipped seventy-three times before a deciding point was gained.

The boxing was good for all the fighters were evenly matched. The preliminaries were fought by our boys from Junior High, Kenneth Gilchrist vs. Hubert Gilchrist, and L. Grimes vs. Billy Walker. Both fights were judged to be a draw.

In the main division of the fighting, Johnny Barber and Izador Hardin won over Jo Miller, and Gosenell respectively with Orville Jones drawing with Smoky Litchell. The 3 Memphis boys were mentioned were awarded gold medals. From Quail, the following boys won over Memphis boys and were likewise awarded medals: Cleo Robinson, B. Adcock, and Smokie Mitchell. The fights were very even as shown by the distribution of the medals. Memphis won 3 and Quail won 3 of the beautiful golden medals awarded the winners in Thursday night's bouts.

The basketball game between the Quail cagers and the Hal-County All Stars proved too much for the high school boys who are twice AAU Champions of Texas. With no excuses Quail went down before the effective playing of the All Stars to the tune of 47 to 24 Colvin (an All America in 1937) was high point man of the game with ten points to his credit. The game was much better than the score indicates. Much tricky passing and ball handling was demonstrated by both teams.

About five hundred people witnessed the dedication program of the New Memphis High School gymnasium.

The numbers were, "My Lover Is a Fisherman" by Lily Strickland, "The Way You Look Tonight" by Jerome Kern, and "In the Still of the Night" by Cole Porter. The last two numbers were rendered in a distinctive modern manner.

The girls also sang for the chamber of commerce banquet given April 10th in the High School Gym. The numbers were "Three Little Maids from School" from The Mikado by Gilbert and Sullivan, "In the Still of the Night" by Cole Porter, and "Shortin' Bread" by Jacques Wolfe.

Rare Bird Shown To Fourth Graders

An American Bittern, a rare bird to be found in this part of the country was blown in here with the last dust storm, captured by local people, and exhibited in the fourth grade to the students that are now studying birds. The Bittern is of the Heron family, found in British Columbia and Newfoundland in the summer and in winters in California and Cuba.

The bird has a neck of 9 inches, a bill of 5 inches, the wing-spread is 19 inches, and the length from foot to bill is 22 inches.

There is a peculiar acoustic property about its sound. Its distance and its exact location are very hard to gauge. The volume seems no greater when near than when at a considerable distance, but as the distance increases the sound is no longer heard and in the place of each set of syllables there comes to the ear only a single note closely resembling the driving of a stake, which can be heard from afar. Hence the name "Stake Driver," is often applied to this bird.

These notes, although common in spring, particularly at morning and evening, are not noticeable and their resemblance to pumping and stake-driving is a protection to the bird.

New Gymnasium Is Scene of Junior-Senior Banquet

Annual Class Dinner Is Held Friday Night With 160 Students Present

The annual Junior-Senior banquet was held Friday evening in the new gymnasium. The Easter motif was used with a color scheme of the rainbow colors.

The gym was made attractive by using tree limbs covered with paper flowers placed at the sides and west end, with a huge rainbow at the east end of the building. On the front of the programs were cut-out Easter lilies.

The following program was given: Invocation, W. C. Davis; toastmaster, James Fultz; welcome, John Clark; response, Leroy Robertson; duet, Mary Ruth Johnson and LaVerne Archer; Rainbow Gleams, Evan Roberts.

Music was furnished by the Edwards brothers from Hedley. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, chicken and dressing, giblet gravy, buttered potatoes, green beans, pear salad, olives, pickles, iced tea, and ice cream and cake.

About 160 attended the banquet.

School Editorial

By W. C. DAVIS

Dear Patrons,

In recent years we have seen the development of Vocational Agriculture, a new course of study, fast becoming a program of interest and great benefit to rural boys. We have about 78 boys studying and developing his own project of livestock raising, poultry raising, or land cultivation. Unlike our academic subjects lasting for nine months, Vocational Agriculture continues for twelve months.

We offer three years of agriculture in high school. Our purpose for teaching the course is to develop competent, aggressive, rural and agricultural leadership among the boys. We want to strengthen the confidence of the farm boy in himself and his work; to create more interest in the intelligent choice of farming occupation by developing a love for rural life and a desire to improve the farm home and its surroundings. We encourage cooperative effort, thrift, and economy among the students, and inspire them to improve their scholarship. By encouraging organized recreational activities a full realization of the benefits of good sportsmanship and leadership is understood and practiced by the boys.

Vocational Agriculture is not a course set apart, but expands itself into the mathematics, history, and English departments. Problems and ratios are figured by terms and the progress of the world are paralleled in growth-rules for written and oral reports are provided by the English department.

Realizing that a keen interest is aroused by actual practice of the material studied and learned in class, fat stock shows, field trips, club work, and friendly competition among the boys are methods of creating and holding the interest of these future farmers.

Outside material used in study are bulletins, newspapers, pamphlets, picture shows, news reels, and the vocational agriculture valued at $250.

Agriculture Boys Work on Campus

The agriculture classes from Memphis High School have spent the past week pruning and whitewashing the trees around the playground.

The whitewash was made by the boys and spread on the trees. The purpose for whitewashing was to keep off insects and protect the tree.

The formula used in making whitewash is to dissolve 3 pounds of hard water soap in 3 gallons of water, add 3 ounces paris green, 3 ounces commercial glue, and 3 ounces paradi chlorobenzene. Then add enough lime to make a paste. This makes an economy, and can be mixed.

These boys will depend on the fundamentals they learned in high school to make them successful farmers.

RIGHT NOW PHILLIPS 66 IS MATCHED TO APRIL WEATHER

Phillips 66

The Dip That Gives Goose Flesh in April is undoubtedly grand fun in July... And the gasoline that is full of zip and zing in August can easily be a dud during these early days of spring.

To protect the performance of your motor, to smooth out the differences which changes in climate may make, Phillips custom-tailors gasoline to the weather. Changes the specifications of Phillips 66 Poly Gas every month to parallel the monthly changes in temperature in your locality. And scientific laboratory and field surveys prove that no other gasoline - not a single one - is so accurately matched, all year round, to the monthly variations in your weather.

It's a real thrill to feel that difference behind the wheel when the tank is filled with this outstanding, custom-tailored, high test gasoline. And it is thrifty, too, because Phillips 66 Poly Gas costs nothing extra... at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Fisherman Window Gets Attention

An unusual seasonal window display is noted this week in Memphis at the Norman's Auto Shop and sporting goods store on the east side of the square. The display, which advertises fishing equipment, is made up of a flowing stream in which live gold fish swim. Small mechanical figure is fishing in the stream and at regular intervals pulls his line out with a fish attached.

The window was made by Bud and Jack Norman, owners of the establishment and has been attracting no little interest since it was installed.

Getting Out on the Limb; Dix Picks Yanks and Reds

BY IRVING DIX

WELL, they're off again to a fast start, but no baseball season is officially opened till the so-called experts cast their unexpert eye over the scene and let you in on the secret of who's going to finish where.

We've taken our look and predict that:

The New York Yankees will win by a comfortable margin in the American League, and the Cincinnati Reds will sneak through in a National League dog-fight.

It's the same old Yankee power in the junior circuit—with a few more volts added.

Joe McCarthy has the pitching in Red Ruffing, Lefty Gomez, Monte Pearson, Bump Hadley, Spud Chandler, and a couple of promising rookies.

There's plenty of punch in Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey, Red Rolfe and the rest of that murderous batting attack—including the prize pea-green, Charley Keller. You've just got to pick the Yanks.

PUSHING them closely, however, will be the Boston Red Sox. Joe Cronin finally has some pitching. Woodrow Rich is the best rookie hurler in the majors.

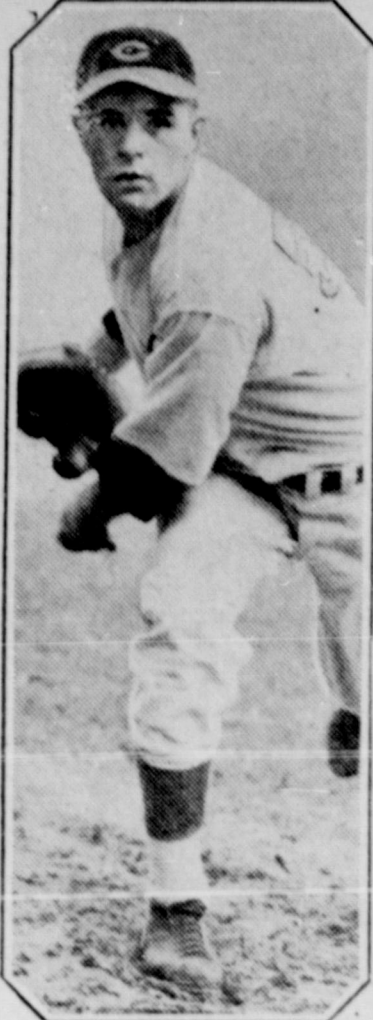

Jim Bagby and Jack Wilson are due for big things in their second year, and Elden Auker, acquired from Detroit, will help a lot. And don't forget the batting attack built around Jimmy Foxx, Cronin, Joe Vosmik and the newcomer, Ted Williams.

Cleveland is likely to need pitchers all too soon to get anywhere. Johnny Allen's arm still is something of a question mark. Bob Feller has shown an inclination to tire. And the Tribe could use a good second baseman.

Detroit must depend too much on comebacks by Schoolboy Rowe and Tommy Bridges. Rudy York and Hank Greenberg can't club homers every day so Del Baker will have to have more mound strength.

Washington will be troublesome, but no flag contender. Jimmy Dykes needs plenty more to make the White Sox dangerous. The St. Louis Browns have Buck Newsom but that's about all. Connie Mack is still building the A's.

Cincinnati's bid in the National League is built on a bang-up pitching staff which includes two-time, no-hit Johnny Vander Meer, whose physical condition hasn't been too good, but good enough; Lee Grissom, due for a big comeback; Paul Derringer, Buck Weaver, and two or three newcomers who appear to have what it takes.

Johnny Vander Meer watch Cincinnati go if he's okay.

ON the power side there are Ernie Lombardi, league batting champ; Buck McCormick, and Ival Goodman. The Reds haven't won since 1919 but this is their year.

The Giants might have been a stronger contender, but there are too many "ifs" on their sore-armed pitching staff. And the outfield lacks punch.

The defending Chicago Cubs will be menacing throughout Gaby Hartnett has a well-balanced club—good pitching, plenty of hitting. But the Bruins will be needing a second sacker if Dick Bartell isn't fit.

The Pirates won't even come close—even after their great bid a year ago. They just don't have the pitching.

Brooklyn and the Cardinals may surprise folks with their youngsters but they won't be flag contenders. The Bees lack punch at the plate and the Phillies lack everything.

But it's a 154-game schedule, you know, and funny things have happened in the past—and will happen again.

First Grade Teacher Remembers "Texas Cutie" as 7-Year-Old

MARY MARTIN (Courtesy Dallas Dispatch-Journal)

Mary Martin, star of the latest Broadway musical comedy, "Leave It to Me," may have been a budding genius twenty years ago but she was just another 7-year-old to her first school teacher, Miss Grace Ezzell, who is now completing her 19th year as first-grade teacher in the Memphis schools.

Mary Martin, age 7, was a sweet golden-haired youngster, a better-than-average beginner, and daughter of the president of the board of trustees at Weatherford, Texas, in 1919. Today she is the singing star of a New York hit, a red-headed Texas lassie with a youngster of her own, and the brightest light on Broadway in 1939.

Her father, Judge Preston Martin, a prominent lawyer and for 25 years president of the school board at Weatherford, died recently, and since that time Mary has dedicated each rendition of her song, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," to her own "daddy." Mrs. Martin recently heard her daughter sing in New York.

Miss Ezzell, who has taught countless hundreds of youngsters over more years than she like to remember, recalls today that Mary was one of her best pupils, but insists that even then she was no child prodigy. "She sang of the front row. She had lost touch with the Martins since leaving Weatherford, however, and it's still with no little amazement that she reads the newspaper reports of the Texas girl's swift rise to fame.

"She's my most famous pupil," I suppose," Miss Ezzell says smiling, "though I did teach one one time who was later hung for murder. He wasn't a bad boy in school—there've been lots worse since him." Probably the most amazing thing about Mary, however, is that her stage name is the same one which appeared on her first grade enrollment card—Mary Martin.

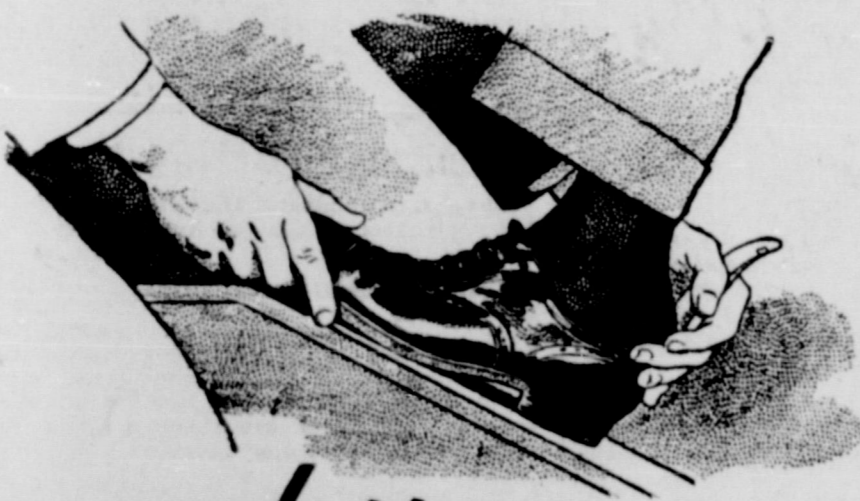

Miss Ezzell, herself, is a rather amazing person. Twenty years in the same position in the same school is some sort of a record—but she's still going strong. "Well," Miss Grace remembers, "but no better than a lot of the rest."

Still, Mary Martin today, singing the latest hit tune "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," is a far cry from the first-grade youngster who crooned "Row, Row, Row Your Boat" and "When I Was a Lassie" some twenty years ago. Miss Ezzell left Weatherford in 1920 to begin her duties as a first grade teacher in the Mem-

Shoe fitters here . . . not salesmen

Long ago we got what seems to be an unusual slant on service in a shoe store. We decided we'd have our people concentrate not on sales talk but on the important job of expert fitting which isn't easy to get. We thought that if men wanted to know more about Fortune Shoes than what they could tell from the maker's name and our reputation, from how the shoes looked and felt on their feet, they would ask. Customers seem to like our particular idea of service. Won't you try it?

Playgrounds Are Popular in Spring

With the coming of spring has come the desire for more active play on the part of the entire student body. The students of the fourth and fifth grades have taken to rope skipping, baseball, marbles, and tops as an outlet for the feeling of the season. In the sixth and seventh grades the boys and girls are enjoying the pastimes of volleyball, baseball, tennis, table tennis, marbles, and that new sport of shuffleboard.

Much interest is brewing over the introduction of new sports and as a result there is a demand for the building of more equipment for some of the more popular games.

To add to the interest of these sports the "ladder system" has been introduced. By this means a student may climb the ladder in his sport as fast as he is able to develop his skill. Any student may challenge any person that is within two rounds of him.

ph schools. She's been here ever since. "We came west on a visit," she says—but twenty years qualifies most people as "old-timers" in this part of the world. It's been several years now since she watched her first class of beginners graduate from Memphis High.

She remembers Mr. and Mrs. Martin as very charming people, and one of the most prominent families in Weatherford—and Mary as the blonde youngster with the big smile in the middle
