

Memphis Democrat

THE VOICE OF THE UPPER RED RIVER VALLEY

YOUR HOME PAPER

WEEKLY DEMOCRAT EST. 1907
DAILY DEMOCRAT EST. 1934

The Weather

WEST AND EAST TEXAS: Partly cloudy in the north; showers in the south tonight and Tuesday.

AP SERVICE
UP SERVICE

MEMPHIS, HALL COUNTY, TEXAS, MONDAY, SEPT. 23, 1935

MEMPHIS, HALL COUNTY, TEXAS, MONDAY, SEPT. 23, 1935

4 PAGES

PRICE 5 CENTS

SAW FORM NEW FIRM OPEN HERE SOON

Alexander & Ross Is New Furnishings Business

rain on the local track yesterday. The big red light back memories of and Fred Gerlach on the west side. Quite a difference between those to look at the blond young woman on the screen at the theatres.

proceeds in the courtroom for the trial of Gordon. Apparently it is a colorful case.

the younger set telling to Amarillo last Saturday had a "fair" time.

settling walking home through part of town the about 11 o'clock, with in the neighborhood more plead that he to serve on the jury in the neighborhood the south side of the off his shoes. He was suffering from

Ray scattering furniture getting out of the office last night ending his turn in City Hall.

less than usual in this morning.

man having trouble He was about five minutes into gear members of the Roberts wondering where he held his meetings

ent Sees Times Now

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

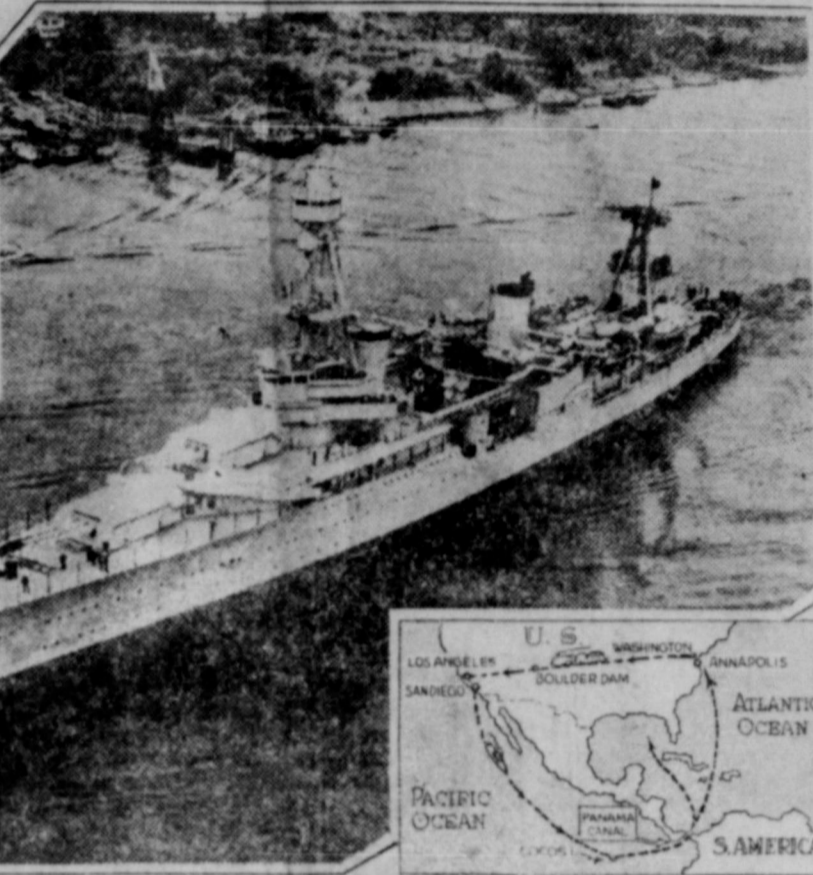

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

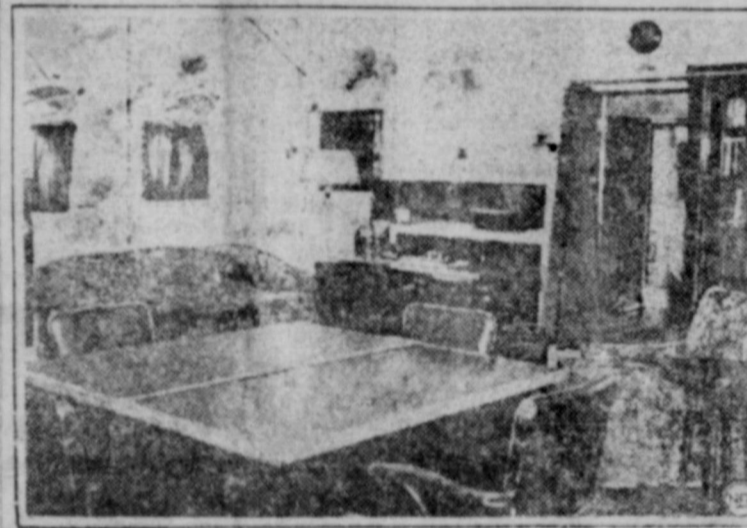

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Bounding Main Again Calls President

Again, the president turns oceanward for his vacation joys. After a nation-wide swink, punctuated by brief, non-political stops at Boulder Dam, Los Angeles and the San Diego exposition, Mr. Roosevelt will board the majestic U. S. S. Houston, above, which last year carried him to Hawaii, and enter its luxurious "presidential suite," shown at right. After some deep-sea fishing a visit to Cocos and other islands—one of which never has been visited by any white man—the chief executive will cruise through the Panama Canal. Then, as revealed on the map at right, above, the Houston may head directly northward and dock at some southern port, or steam up the Atlantic coast to Annapolis, Md.

Fire Damages Home On 6th Last Night

NIGHT CLASSES BEGINNING TONIGHT

Expect Enrollment to Be Large in New Classes

Thirty-five students or more will enroll in the first night classes to be offered at the Memphis High School here tonight. At the meeting held Friday night to organize a class, 35 names were submitted for entrance, and more are expected tonight, Arthur Howard, instructor, stated. The classes will get under way tonight at 7 o'clock and will be held every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights from now until school is out in May, it was said.

Classes that are to be taught are shorthand, typing and bookkeeping, in the order named. Each class is to be an hour in length, and enrollment can be made in any or all of the three courses offered. The classes are being opened by the local high school because of popular demand.

Small rental and book fees are to be charged. The classes are held especially for adults, and anyone wishing to enroll should get in touch with Mr. Howard.

Memphis Citizen Dies at Dallas

John A. Wood, of this city, died at 10:00 o'clock last night, at Baylor Hospital in Dallas, where he recently underwent an operation.

Mr. Wood had been very low for several days before his death, and a number of blood transfusions had been given to prolong his life, but to no avail.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Sam Weaver, and granddaughter, Rebecca Rae Weaver, of this city.

Herbert Estes left last night with a King ambulance, to bring the body to this city, where interment will be. No funeral arrangements have been announced, other than that the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Introduce Two Pension Bills

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—Two old-age pension bills were introduced in the Senate today, proposing the levying of a three per cent sales tax and a $2 per capita levy.

Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, the author of one bill, estimated that the sales tax would yield about $40,000,000 annually, while the pensions would cost about $36,000,000.

Senator Allen Shivers of Port Arthur estimated the per capita tax would provide pensions costing about $12,000,000 annually.

The Senate state affairs committee approved a bill banning the sale of liquor by the drink.

Senator Will Pace of Tyler, chairman, broke an eight-all tie on the bill defining an open saloon as a place where intoxicating liquor was sold for consumption on the premises or premises accessible to it.

The House received the general sales tax bill for old-age pensions. Representative W. E. Pope, of Corpus Christi proposes to tax all retail transactions three per cent, estimating that the tax will bring $100,000,000 annually, with the aggregate cost of the pensions slightly less.

The House defeated a resolution to appoint a joint committee to study a permanent pension plan.

Furniture Total Loss in Blaze

Fire of undetermined origin last night about 9:00 o'clock badly damaged a home on North Sixth Street, and completely ruined the furnishings in the house.

The house belonged to Earl Gilchrist, and was occupied by Mrs. Tucker and her daughter, who were attending church when the blaze broke out.

Due to there being nobody at home, the blaze had gained big headway when discovered by neighbors, but the fire department did a good job in saving the building from total destruction.

The interior of the building was gutted by the flames and the furnishings were practically a total loss. The building was covered by insurance, but there was none on the furnishings, which belonged to Mrs. Tucker.

Tom Wood, a fireman, sustained a painfully burned hand while on duty at the blaze.

CHARGES FILED AGAINST MAN HERE

Local Man Is Charged In Auto Accident Last Week

Charges of driving an automobile on the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquor were filed in Childress Saturday against F. R. Hamilton of this city, who was the alleged driver of the car in the wreck which occurred last Thursday near Childress.

The accident happened in Childress County, about four miles from the city of Childress, hence the charges there.

Hamilton is in a local hospital, seriously injured, and the charge will remain on the docket until he is able to appear for an examining trial.

Coy Jarvis, his companion in the car, is at a Dallas hospital, in critical condition from a broken back, and according to advices from there it is doubtful if he will live.

Should Jarvis not survive, the Childress charges will, according to officials here, be changed to manslaughter, probably.

Dalhart Man Dies in Crash

DALHART, Sept. 23.—Tommy Pinkerton, 19, is dead, three other persons are seriously injured and four more are bruised and cut as a result of a collision between a coupe and truck in the residential section at 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Guy Gabbert, driving the coupe said he and his wife, Lonnie Smith, and Mattie Lee Moree were in the car while Frank Spann, Charley McKinney, Jess Shepherd and Tommy Pinkerton were riding on the running board or fenders. The body of the coupe struck the head of the truck in a head-on smash-up. Jimmy Reagan and a woman companion in the truck were not hurt. Deputy Sheriff Bill Randolph said.

Pinkerton, taken to Loretto Hospital, died in an hour with a crushed chest and fractured skull, according to doctors. Mrs. Gabbert has lacerations about the right eye. McKinney had to have the third finger on his crushed left hand amputated while Spann has severe body bruises and numbness due to shock, the doctor stated.

RURAL SCHOOL LIBRARY IS READY

Circulating Library Available to All Rural Schools

County School Superintendent Vera Gilbreath and Miss Lois Mason are working today getting the Hall County circulating school library ready to be sent to the rural schools over the county.

S. B. Rousseau of Deep Lake has been hired to the rural school as truck driver to carry the books to and from the various rural schools. Heretofore each school was required to send someone in to the county superintendent's office for the books.

Under the plan of the county circulating library, each school is given a designated number of books for a six-week period. At the end of this period, the books are all collected and exchange is made for the various schools.

400,000 Men in Soft Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The long threatened soft coal strike was on today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. More than 250,000 men joined in the walkout. In Illinois about 25,000 men were on strike, while it is estimated that about 7,000 are affected in the Arkansas-Oklahoma district. Over 400,000 are involved in the strike call.

An afternoon conference is planned here to get miners and operators to compromise the one and one-fifth cent tonnage wage rate difference that has so far blocked negotiations.

Edward McGrady, assistant Secretary of Labor, reported that the prospect for a settlement was good.

J. Ham Lewis Seriously Ill

MOSCOW, Sept. 23.—Physicians this morning said that the condition of Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, who is ill with pneumonia, was "very serious." Although the outlook was not entirely hopeless, his condition is still unfavorable.

Jordon Murder Case On In District Court Today

Special Venire Called for Jury

District Court convened this morning for the third week of the present session, with the case of the State of Texas vs. Henry Jordon, colored, charged with murder, going on trial today.

Jordon is charged with the murder of Luke "Tap" Walters and Dora May Patterson, both colored, on April 15th, at Morningside Heights, the negro addition to the city, and subsequently firing the house to conceal the crime.

The defendant, who is represented by W. J. Bragg, by appointment of the court, pleaded not guilty to the charge.

A special venire of sixty-five men was being examined this morning to secure a jury for the case, and testimony is expected to begin this afternoon.

Due to the illness of Court Stenographer Easterling's son at Lubbock, Mr. Easterling is unable to be here, and Ross Lambdin, of Amarillo, is acting as court stenographer in his place this week.

A large attendance of colored folks are in attendance at the trial, and Judge Fires ordered the three back rows of seats in the courtroom reserved for the negro spectators.

Famous Actor Passes Away

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23.—DeWolf Hopper, 77, noted actor, died of heart disease in a hospital here today. He became ill yesterday during a broadcast at a Kansas City radio station.

Mutt and Jeff

Friends of O. V. Alexander and J. C. Ross are glad to welcome them back into the local business field, but many have suggested to them that, instead of calling their new gent's furnishings business "Alexander & Ross," it should be "Mutt and Jeff."

LOCAL GIRL IS RECOVERING AT HOME

Betty Dale West Is Brought Home and Doing Nicely

Miss Betty Dale West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam West, who was injured in an automobile accident near Amarillo Saturday noon, is resting easily at her home, 510 South Seventh street.

Miss West was brought to Memphis Saturday night by her parents, after she had received medical treatment in the St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Miss West suffering from a badly bruised back and chest, sustained when the car in which she was riding with three Canyon friends enroute to Amarillo turned over three times on the concrete highway. Passing cars crowded Miss West off the highway; as she tried to drive her car back on the pavement, a low tire caused the car to get out of control and turn over. Miss West also has ligaments torn loose from one shoulder and has several minor cuts and bruises. None of the other occupants was injured.

"She rested well last night and is feeling much improved today," Mrs. West said today. The injured Memphis girl is under the close observation of a doctor.

The West car was damaged considerably in the accident. Two wheels and three windows were broken, and the car in general was smashed up. The car is in an Amarillo garage.

LATE WAR NEWS FROM EUROPE

The halls of the League of Nations were today filled with reports that the Italian delegation might quit Geneva over the League's compromise plan for the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Due to Italy's refusal to even consider the compromise plan, the planning committee has decided to submit the entire matter to the League Council.

A hopeless deadlock appeared probable, as opposition to Italy's counter proposals developed.

Italy has asked that Ethiopia be completely disarmed, with the training and armament of future Ethiopian forces to be entrusted to Italy.

Italy also wants a belt of Ethiopian territory passing west of Addis Ababa and connecting the Italian colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland. She would not object to an Ethiopian sea outlet, provided the port is located in Italian territory.

Spokesman for Emperor Selassie characterized the demands as "preposterous," and said the proposal is "unworkable."

Doesn't Want Ethiopian Affairs Called a "War." Judging by Comparative Armaments of the Two Nations, Few Would Call It That.

Memphis Democrat

Published every afternoon (except Saturday) and Sunday morning.

Subscription Rate
By Carrier
In Memphis, Nashville, Easton, Turkey, Lakeview, Pliska, Hodley, Glendon, Leila Lake, Giles, Quitaque and Wellington.
One Week 10c
One Month 40c
By Mail
One Month 30c
Three Months $1.00
Six Months $1.80
One Year $3.00

Entered in the Post Office at Memphis, Texas, as second class mail matter under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Notice to Public
Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation, which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given to the editor personally at the office at 617 Main Street, Memphis, Texas.

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAY

Three serious automobile accidents in which local people figured have occurred within the past three days.

Is that enough to make motorists stop and think? Or will it become necessary, to stop the mad, dangerous rush, to put speed governors on all automobiles.

You may think this is impractical, but several states are right now considering measures of this kind.

Something must be done to cut down the dreadful toll that automobiles and improved highways are imposing on civilization.

Speed, speed and more speed.
Reckless driving.
Driving while intoxicated.

These are the things that are making the highways of our land veritable death traps, not only for the motorists who are guilty of them, but for the innocent man and his family who are enjoying a drive in the family car at a safe and sane pace.

The state should pass a law compelling all automobile drivers to pass a test and secure a driver's license before they are permitted to handle a machine that is sudden and devastating disaster when out of control.

Then strictly enforce all traffic laws, state and city.

In district court only yesterday, the judge prohibited an offender from driving for a period of sixty days.

More of this would help matters a lot.

Every motorist guilty of serious traffic offenses should be forbidden to drive again until he has had time to think the thing over.

In most cities, offending motorists are compelled to visit the morgue and view the dead victims of traffic accidents. A gruesome proceeding perhaps, but wonderfully effective.

What the remedy for this mad motor speed mania is we cannot say, but it is apparent that one must be found and rigidly applied.

It appears that the time for warnings is past, and that drastic action must be taken, before worse disasters occur.

Let's cut the talk and act.

The BLUE DOOR

Rachel Mack © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, a pretty, high-spirited girl of 19, in search of work, is put off a bus in the little town of Worthville when she runs out of money. A storm is breaking and Ruth seeks refuge in an old stone mansion with a blue door. She faints and is carried upstairs by the queer old housekeeper, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as "PENNY," and by JOHN McNEILL, from next door.

Penny believes Ruth to be ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house. Ruth lets the mistake stand. Elaine meanwhile, at Graycastle College, vows in a sorority meeting to win the love of John McNeill, her first sweetheart. She plans to go to Worthville.

Ruth, in love with John, resolves to stay on a while at the old house, pretending to be Elaine.

John McNeill has fallen in love with Ruth and worries about her being alone in the old house with Bertha Gibbs.

Elaine goes to New York and her mother, GWEN DEAL, tells her that her uncle, DUNCAN HUNTER, has escaped from an insane asylum and is thought to be in New York. This news is kept from HIGATE DEAL, Gwen's husband, since he hates Duncan and was the one who caused him to be confined. Elaine is in love with a senior at Annapolis, DENNIS DAVIS, but encourages the attention of TEDDY VAN HARRINGTON.

Mrs. McNeill returns home from a visit. She and John, alarmed about "Elaine" being alone in the Hutner house with old Bertha Gibbs, urge her to stay with them. Ruth declines.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXI
Elaine Chalmers, kissing Teddy Van Harrington goodnight in the car in the small hours of Sunday morning, refused to let him come in.

"Don't hang around, Teddy," she told him petulantly. "I'll be here till Monday. We've still plenty of time to quarrel."

"I thought you were going back today," he said. "Didn't you say you had classes Monday morning?"

"So I did and so I have," she retorted brightly. "but I'm staying over anyway. I can see you for cocktails this afternoon and then till all hours tonight. Run along now and let Elaine sleep."

When a sleepy houseman had let her in she sat in the dimly lit drawing room and thought of Ohio. She had decided not to go back to college at all before the holidays. A three-day absence prior to a holiday would not be investigated. That much at least she had gained by her progress from boarding school chit to college woman. . . . She'd pretend to go to Graycastle Monday, but instead she'd take a train for Worthville. In that way she'd gain three extra days for conquest of John McNeill. She felt very happy and clever.

"I'll not risk applying for a rush train pass," she decided, "or engage a drawing room. Higate's secretary gets wind of everything. No. I'll buy a ticket and travel like any poor girl who doesn't own a share of railroad stock to her name." It did not occur to her that some girls are too poor to buy even a railroad ticket. So far do the worlds of the very rich and the very poor lie apart.

When she finally went upstairs to bed, a tired servant trailed her, putting out the lights. Elaine did not think of thanking him. After all, wasn't he paid regularly?

On the following afternoon, which was Sunday, Ruth Woodson felt moved to explore the flower garden back of the library. It had tempted her from the first. Two long windows in the west wall of the library opened on the garden and stone steps led down from the window ledges.

Ruth was interested. Once the beds had been formally planted, with paths, stone seats and a sundial to enhance the effect. Now everything was a tangle. Paths were overgrown with weeds. Shrubbery ran riot. Climbing roses and vines entwined and matted. Yet, in spite of all, the asters and chrysanthemums struggled through to bloom as individualists.

Ruth found a few rusty tools in a little shed, chose a hoe, and began to use it on the flowerbeds to straighten their borders. She was so engrossed that she failed to hear the hedge being parted and John McNeill stepping through.

"Did I frighten you?" he asked. "Sorry!"

Ruth laughed. "You did startle me a little. I was afraid it was Penny come to call me down for trespassing in her garden."

"Is that the end of the story?" asked John. "It sounds like one of those pointless yarns in the Atlantic Monthly."

"No," answered Ruth, "that's merely the curtain on the second act. The third act's the thriller. I'd been in the library and on my way upstairs I stopped before that big pier glass in the hall to admire myself. I may as well admit it—that's what I was doing. I was carrying a lighted candle and took a book and the light was dim and esthetic, and I'd never seen myself look so nice before."

"You ought to see yourself now," John said.

"Don't interrupt. While I was looking in the glass I noticed something that was going on in the dining room. Penny was cutting away half the cake and wrapping it in a napkin. She was doing it like a burglar in the movies. Her caution was positively exaggerated—now what have you to say?"

"I've already solved number one," he said. "She took the books of course, because there was nobody else to take them. She's using them for a door stop. We used to do it at college."

"Marvelous!" Ruth exclaimed, almost seriously. "And what about the cake episode?"

He said, "If the Secret Service hears of this they'll hire me, whether or not. Penny eats in bed?"

"And then she forgot to thank you?" John guessed.

"Mercy, no! She was terribly grateful and showed it. Came dinner, then and I cut the gorgeous thing."

"Is this story intended to praise your cooking?" asked John, grinning. "or just to make me hungry?"

Ruth wrinkled her nose at him. "I'm not interested in your reaction to the cake—it's Penny's that has me guessing. Well, she began to eat a piece of it with the most heavenly expression on her face. About that time there came a knock on the front door and she went to answer. She fooled around so long that I cleared the table and began to wash the dishes. Finally she came back, but she'd lost her appetite and all interest in the cake. She said she'd had a telegram that upset her."

"Is that the end of the story?" asked John. "It sounds like one of those pointless yarns in the Atlantic Monthly."

"No," answered Ruth, "that's merely the curtain on the second act. The third act's the thriller. I'd been in the library and on my way upstairs I stopped before that big pier glass in the hall to admire myself. I may as well admit it—that's what I was doing. I was carrying a lighted candle and took a book and the light was dim and esthetic, and I'd never seen myself look so nice before."

"You ought to see yourself now," John said.

"Don't interrupt. While I was looking in the glass I noticed something that was going on in the dining room. Penny was cutting away half the cake and wrapping it in a napkin. She was doing it like a burglar in the movies. Her caution was positively exaggerated—now what have you to say?"

"I've already solved number one," he said. "She took the books of course, because there was nobody else to take them. She's using them for a door stop. We used to do it at college."

"Marvelous!" Ruth exclaimed, almost seriously. "And what about the cake episode?"

He said, "If the Secret Service hears of this they'll hire me, whether or not. Penny eats in bed?"

"And then she forgot to thank you?" John guessed.

"Mercy, no! She was terribly grateful and showed it. Came dinner, then and I cut the gorgeous thing."

"Is this story intended to praise your cooking?" asked John, grinning. "or just to make me hungry?"

Ruth wrinkled her nose at him. "I'm not interested in your reaction to the cake—it's Penny's that has me guessing. Well, she began to eat a piece of it with the most heavenly expression on her face. About that time there came a knock on the front door and she went to answer. She fooled around so long that I cleared the table and began to wash the dishes. Finally she came back, but she'd lost her appetite and all interest in the cake. She said she'd had a telegram that upset her."

"Is that the end of the story?" asked John. "It sounds like one of those pointless yarns in the Atlantic Monthly."

"No," answered Ruth, "that's merely the curtain on the second act. The third act's the thriller. I'd been in the library and on my way upstairs I stopped before that big pier glass in the hall to admire myself. I may as well admit it—that's what I was

They both laughed until they were weak.

"Can we go into the library?" John asked. "I'm tired of leaning against this tree. Besides, I always liked that old room."

"Of course we can go in," Ruth answered. "I cleaned it thoroughly a few days ago. Careful as you go in! You'll have to duck the window sash."

She entered by one window and he by another. As they met inside he pretended to be surprised to see her, took both her hands and kissed her boldly and effectively on the lips.

After she had caught her breath Ruth surprised and delighted him by saying, "Wrong cue? We've got to make another entrance, Mr. McNeill!"

So they solemnly went out and came in and did it all over again, this time almost daring to be tender.

John complained, "We haven't gotten the thing right yet, Miss Chalmers. There's still levity on your part. Let the finale."

Ruth shook her head away from him. "That's Theater movement for get worn out with me. Actually her heart was to her frivolous words you ever noticed this John?"

"Have it!" he exclaimed rapidly. "I use over it. It's several than ours. Wait! What The two sections of had become loosened and showed signs of slipping at the equator. He the top section and "Well, I've half the least—"

"What's this?" Ruth asked. "In the smooth corner lower hemisphere there of gaudy ribbon surmount a bronze bar. She p

(Continued on page 3)

OUT OUR WAY

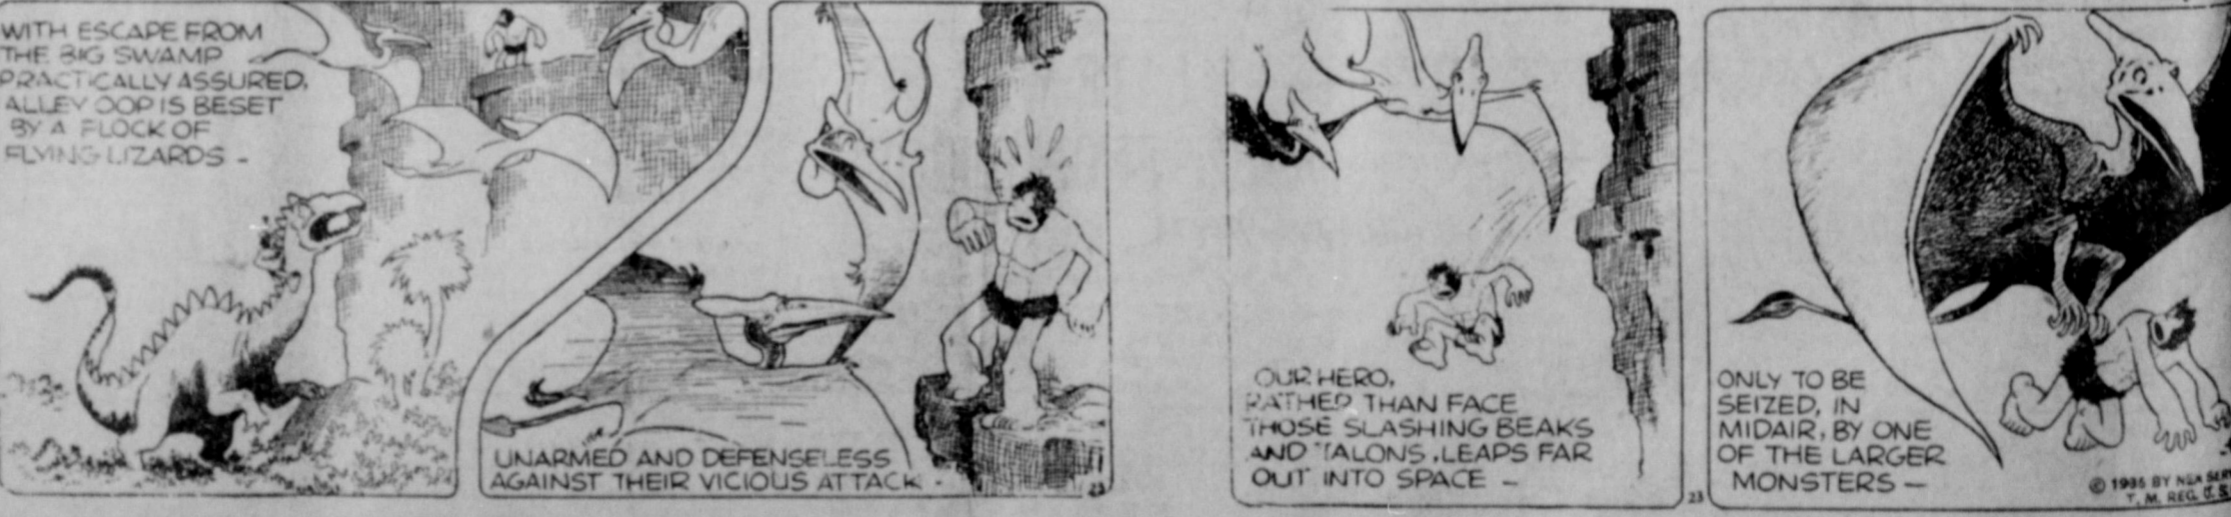

By "Cowboy" Williams

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

ALLEY OPP

THE NEWFANGS, (Mom 'n POP)

Oriental Ruler

HORIZONTAL Answer to Previous Puzzle

1 Wife of an oriental ruler.
 12 Melody.
 13 One that wipes.
 14 Slope.
 15 Very small.
 17 To rub out.
 18 Portico.
 19 Finis.
 20 Before.
 21 Label.
 22 To stn.
 23 Railroad.
 25 Preposition.
 27 She is a ruler in —

30 Animal.
 34 To prepare for publication.
 35 Container weight.
 36 Sum.
 38 Coupled.
 39 Musical note.
 40 Dye.
 41 To drink dog-fashion.
 44 Lament.
 47 To doze.

49 Chum.
 52 Frosted.
 54 Small twig.
 56 Military assistant.
 57 Greater in amount.
 58 To rent.
 59 To swirl.
 60 Her son is Crown —
 Akihiro.
 61 Her husband

is Emperor —
 VERTICAL
 1 Ireland.
 2 To obey.
 3 Wages.
 4 Pitcher.
 5 Male ancestor.
 6 Mineral spring.
 7 Bird's home.
 8 Region.
 9 Onager.
 10 Flying toy.
 11 Aromas.
 12 Devoiced.

Mrs. Leona Moore of Vernon is visiting in the home of her brother, G. C. Baskerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mulkey of Clarendon were Memphis visitors yesterday.

Society

West Ward P. T. A. Officers Selected

Officers and committees of the West Ward Parent-Teachers Association, recently selected, are as follows:

President, Mrs. Clyde F. Millam.
 First Vice President, Mrs. Roy Guthrie, also Chairman of Program Committee, with Mrs. Bob Parks, Mrs. H. B. Estes and Miss Carrie Bell Lee, as members.
 Second Vice President Mrs. Dean Morgensen, also Chairman of Finance Committee, with Mrs. Ike Bryan, Mrs. E. T. Parter, Mrs. E. E. Roberts and Miss Mary Foreman, as members.
 Third Vice President, Mrs. Tom Ballew, also Chairman of Membership Committee, with Mrs. L. M. Hicks, Mrs. H. J. Gore, Mrs. W. V. Coursey and Mrs. C. G. Bumgarner, as members.
 Recording Secretary, Mrs. L. M. Hicks; Treasurer, Mrs. L. Randolph; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Jim Fullingim; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. W. C. Anderson; Press Reporter, Mrs. Bill Kimberlin; Music Director, Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Jr.; Educational Chairman, Mrs. W. J. Bragg; Year Book Chairman, Miss Mildred Bishop, Room Mothers Chairman, Miss Thelma Shankle, Mrs. Hunt; P-T-A. Register, Miss Jewel Keenan.

Regular meetings of the West Ward P-T. A. are held each second Thursday at 3:00 p. m., at the West Ward Building.

SERIOUSLY ILL
 T. R. Easterling, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Easterling, of Lubbock, is seriously ill in that city, following an operation last week for appendicitis. His many friends here hope for a speedy recovery for the young man.

Social Calendar

WEDNESDAY
 The Ace High Bridge Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Hugh Crawford, at 3 p. m., in regular meeting.
 Mrs. S. T. Harrison will be hostess for the Mystic Weavers, at her home at 603 South Eighth Street.

THURSDAY
 The Senior High P. T. A. will meet at the High School Auditorium, at 3:15 p. m. An interesting program has been planned and those interested in the schools are urged to attend.

FRIDAY
 Mrs. W. C. Dickey and Mrs. W. P. Dial will be hosts for the Priscilla Club, at the home of Mrs. Dickey, at 7:00 p. m.

Former Local Girl wed at Phoenix

Miss Ora Lee Bray and C. Igal Jackson of Phoenix were united in marriage today at the First Baptist Church in Phoenix, according to information received prior to the wedding from there.
 Miss Bray returned to Phoenix last week after visiting friends and relatives in Memphis and in Amarillo. Miss Bray formerly taught in the Memphis school system and for the past several years has been teaching in Phoenix.

Blue Door—

(Continued from page 2)
 and examined it curiously.
 John carefully put the globe together again. Then he said, "May I see it, Elaine?"
 She gave it to him and he looked at it for a long time. "It's my Scout badge," he stated, quite as if he had been looking for it the day before. "Imagine finding it in here!"
 She saw that he was back again in his boyhood and she was very still while he thought about the little incident. She suspected that it had been important to him—like the time she lost her little gold ring and could never get another.
 He said then, "I haven't told you what I came over to ask. Mother wants you to come to supper at 6. Only she calls it tea on Sunday. Afterward she's going out for a while. You'll be expected to entertain me. Mind?"
 Ruth told him, "I couldn't have stood it if you hadn't asked me. Sunday nights are lonesome."
 "I hate to think what they'll be when you're gone," he said.
 "Hush!" replied Ruth. She spoke sharply.
 (To Be Continued)

Future Farmers Organize Here

The agriculture class of Memphis High School met Friday night and organized a unit of the Future Farmers of America. Officials were elected and an outline of the year's work was given by R. W. Carlton, instructor of the class.

T. A. Paulsel, a vocational agriculture student of several years ago, visited the class and made an interesting speech. He was voted into the class as the first honorary member of the Future Farmers of America in Memphis. Officials elected Friday night were W. C. Crump, president; Doyle Dunn, vice-president; J. D. Roden, secretary; Rufus Jones, treasurer; Ed Bourland, watch dog; Delbert McGuire, parliamentarian; Howard Yarbrough, chairman; John Gilreath, sergeant-at-arms, and Bruce Sitton, reporter.

Will Continue On His Flight

By Associated Press
BALLINROSE, Ireland, Sept. 23.—Felix Waitkus, who flew three thousand miles solo from New York, decided today to continue on to Kaunas, Lithuania, his original destination.
 Irish Free State officers have arrived to dismantle the plane, which was damaged yesterday when he was forced down here. The plane will be taken to Dublin and repaired for the continuation of the flight.

Miss Thursa Mae Turner of Clarendon spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Turner.
 Mr. and Mrs. Zeb A. Moore spent Saturday and yesterday in Pampa with his mother, Mrs. D. C. Moore.

Former Estelline Girl Marries

The marriage of Miss Clo Fern Bounds, daughter of Reverend and Mrs. C. Bounds of Abilene, and J. P. Gard, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gard of Strawn, took place September 11 in Merkel.

Rev. P. H. Gates read the service in his home. The Rev. Mr. Bounds is pastor of the Oak Street Methodist Church in Abilene. Mrs. Gard formerly lived at Estelline, and her father was pastor of the Methodist church there.
 Mrs. Gard, who was graduated from Wesley Academy, Greenville, moved to Abilene last year and was a student in McMurry college.
 Mr. and Mrs. Gard are at home day, Sept. 23, 1935.

There's still your part, Leaning and leaning.

hook her head in him. "That's movement for a cut with her heart was frivolous words noticed this."

"I" he exclaimed rapidly. "I use It's several s. Wait! What no sections of me loosened as showed signs he equator. He section and he've half the made a "grand State Fair yesterday Day." be-bispheres there ribbon sum continued on page

"JOY" Will

R CALLS E NAILS, AN GUY WHO ENLL D THING.

LAST THOU NGING

WHAIE

of school pupils teachers. Three nds of vocational ents and one bus economic pupils High School. mphis and Hall ds and ribbons, owed their splen- parade up Polk Avenue at 10 morning. The t blocks long. following the and was taken to KGNC in the ing at the fair ey gave a broad- lock. on the band Amarillo High ertaining turf State race park.

By BL

YEAH WASTING TO THE OF A TR

grams

WEAF: Charles NBC, WJZ: Fib- Molly, CBS, ardo's Orch.
 AF: Monday Ev- NBC, WJZ: Paris CBS, WABC: omedy, the Har-

BC: Edith Karen.

AF: Gypsies' con- WJZ: Weekly CBS, WABC: Radio.
 WEAF: Grace m. NBC, WJZ: Drama.
 AF: Eastman Con- Ray Knight and WABC: Wayno

WEAF: Meredith tra CBS, WABC:

ABC: Louis Prima

WEAF: Amos 'n' WJZ: Dorothy Lam- S. WABC: Carl

WEAF: Manny La- NBC, WJZ: Tony

WEAF: Leonard Kel- WABC: Jerry NBC, WJZ: Ray

AF: Sketch.
 WEAF: Luigi Rom- NBC, WJZ: Shan- CBS, WABC: Leon tra.
 WJZ: Grift William's

WEAF: Oliver Nay- WJZ: Al Lyon's WABC: Seymour tra.

LY PICNIC

Ross Wilkerson, Wilkerson, Mr. and Whitley and Wylie ington, and Mr. Kirk of Lelia Lake Mrs. Maude Prite-

to the Highway and enjoyed a picnic

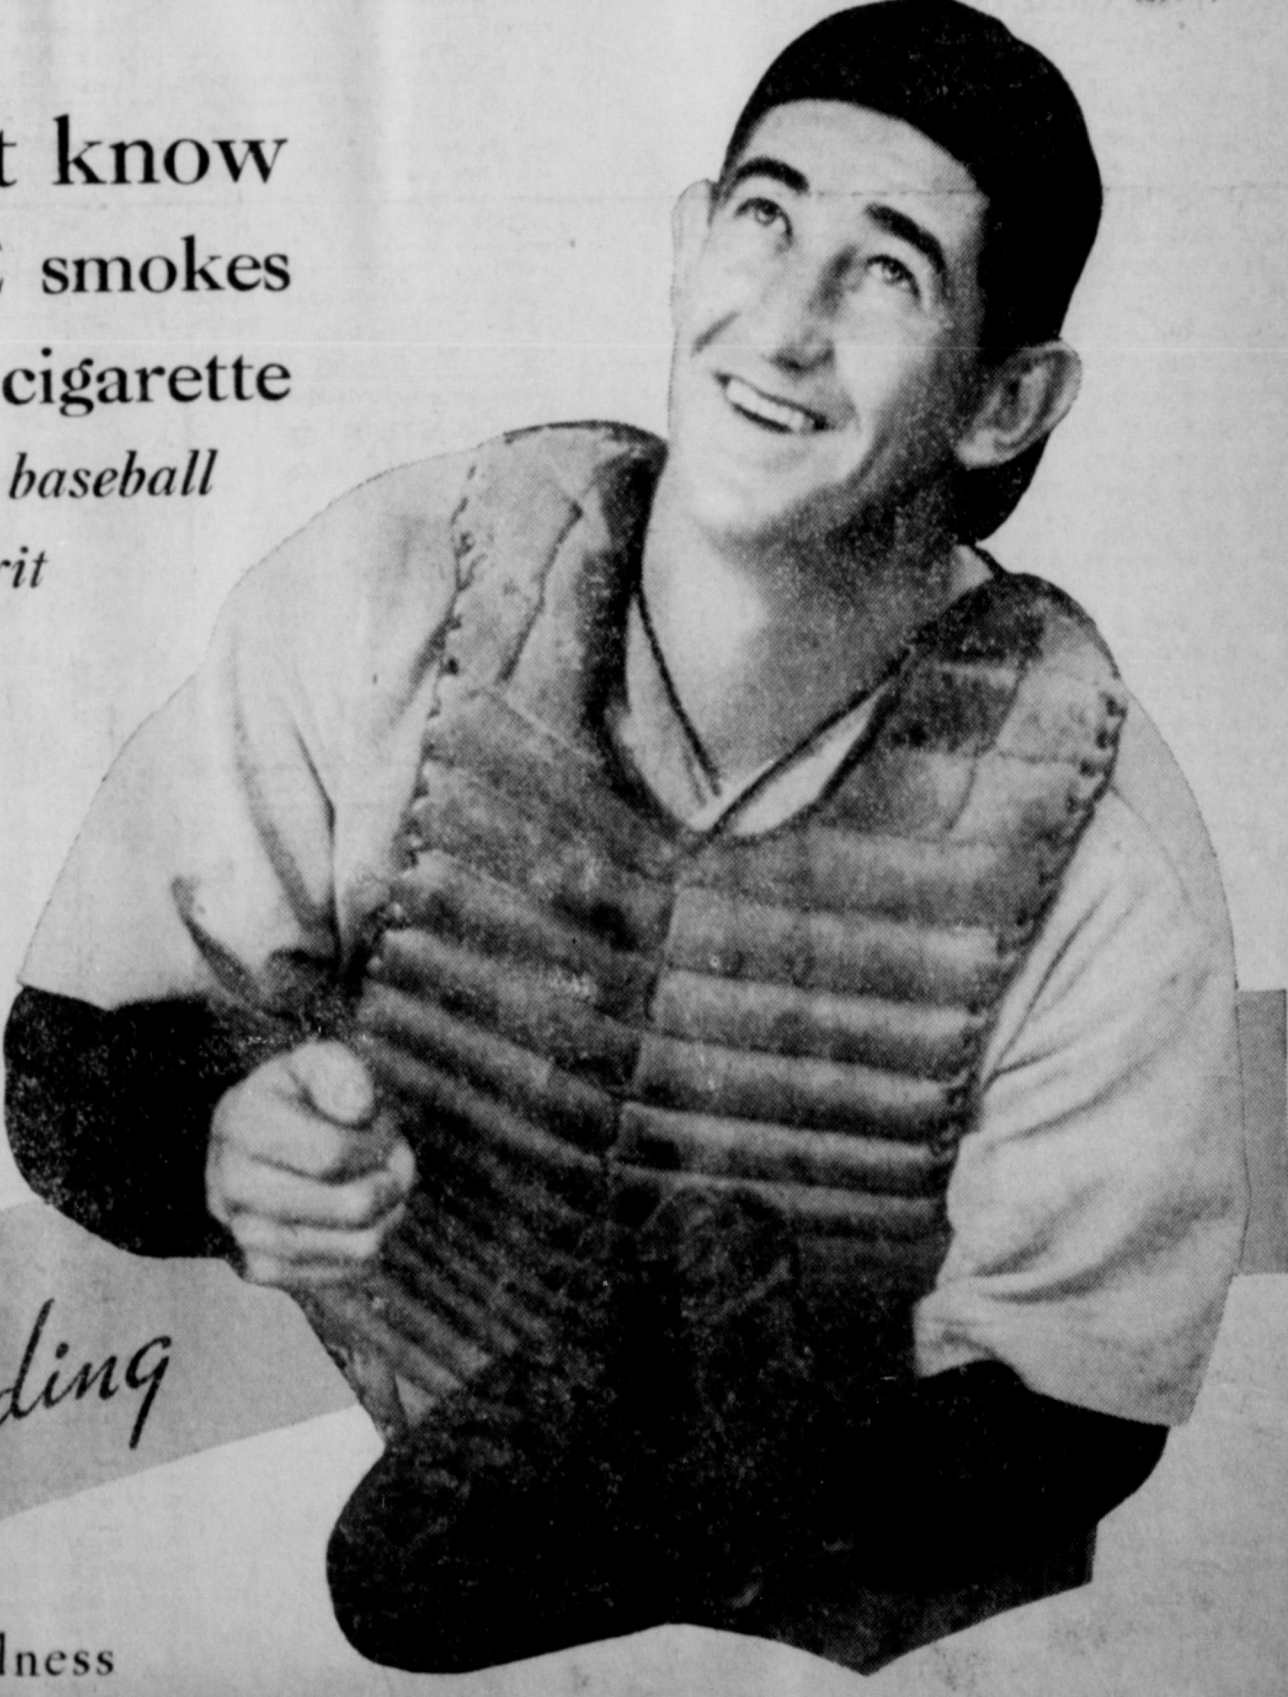

We don't know what MR. COCHRANE smokes and he is not endorsing our cigarette but he is an outstanding man in the baseball world and has won his place on merit

In the cigarette world, Chesterfields are thought of as outstanding...

—they have won their place strictly on merit

Outstanding .. for mildness .. for better taste

MICKEY COCHRANE—of the Detroit Tigers, American League Champions; player-manager, one of baseball's greatest catchers.

Salisbury Marines Win from Crossroads

Takes Last Game of Season 2 to 1

Suggests Cyclone Team of All Time

The Salisbury Marines closed their baseball season yesterday afternoon with a hard earned 2-1 victory over the Crossroads base-

Editors' Note: Following is a letter received from a local sports enthusiast with a submission for an all-time Memphis football team. Such letters are welcomed but the request is made that all be signed, a point that this fan neglected.

Box score for Salisbury vs Crossroads baseball game. Columns include player names and statistics.

THE STANDINGS

Table of National League standings with columns for Club, W., L., and Pct.

Equinox Change Is Looked For

Old settlers of the county and some not so old are watching the sky these days for a disturbance of the elements that usually comes each year with the equinox.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

IRRIGATED LANDS—If interested in land in the Medina Irrigation Project, I am conducting weekly trips. Free transportation and room and board while on property in those who qualify. W. Lee Williams, Office over Republic's.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

C. R. Webster, T. J. Thompson, A. G. Powell, O. V. Alexander and M. O. Goodpasture went to Amarillo this morning, to attend a Masonic school of instruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Bain and son, Robert Olin, of Clarendon, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Baskerville, here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thompson and children, Jo Ann, Neal and Ernest, and Mrs. J. E. Neal spent yesterday in Memphis visiting Mr. Thompson's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carter and son, George Clark, visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Clark here yesterday.

Misses Georgia Lee and Marjorie Drake of Turkey spent the week end in Memphis with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Drake. They are teaching in the Turkey school.

RITZ

LAST TIMES TODAY John Boles—Jean Muir in "ORCHIDS TO YOU"

PALACE

LAST TIMES TODAY JAMES CAGNEY in "G MEN" with Ann Dvorak

WICHITA FALLS BUS COMPANY

Offers you safe, economical and comfortable transportation. Convenient schedules. EAST BOUND WEST BOUND

Mrs. W. W. Williamson and daughter Billie Lee, spent the week-end in Childers with her sister, Mrs. W. M. McDonald. They also visited in Quannah.

Mrs. O. B. Quarles and daughter Elizabeth, of Alvord, and Mrs. and Mrs. Marvin Barnes of Chico, left Friday after a visit with their sister and aunt Mrs. C. F. Stout.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Howell and Mrs. G. C. Clark of Oklahoma City spent the week end visiting in the home of Mrs. Howell's sister Mrs. C. F. Stout.

Miss Omega McDonald, of Amarillo, spent the week end here with her father, H. A. McDonald. Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Proffitt and sons, George and Ralph, of Giles, visited Mrs. R. H. Sims in this city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Howard and

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Breeland went to Wichita Falls Sunday to visit Bob Roberts, who is in the Wichita Clinic, after undergoing an operation. They report him as getting along nicely.

John Sharp of Turkey was a business visitor to this city today. Evel Grundy of Estelline was here today on business.

-War News-

(Continued from page 1) posed land grant would cut through the most fertile of the Ethiopian provinces. Baron Alois, head of the Italian verbally. delegation, made the proposals 200,000 soldiers reported for

Business Director

OF PROFESSIONAL AND BUSINESS MEN OF MEMPHIS THE BEST IN EVERY BUSINESS THE FINEST EVERY PROFESSION

Grid of advertisements including: BUY AND SELL USED CARS, FRESH FLOWERS, SHORTY HUGHS, HUCKABY'S Plumbing & Heating Co., CITY DAIRY, RITZ, PALACE, WICHITA FALLS BUS COMPANY, HYDER HOSPITAL, NORMAN'S, JOHN SLOVER'S GARAGE, W. C. GILLIAM PLUMBING CO., COMPTON BROS., C. D. MARTIN, RUBE'S COFFEE SHOP, CUDD BROS., CITY FEED STORE.

PAPER THE NEWS SAW Kunkler del... The original "grass roots convention." Dr. Jacob A. Swisher