

DON'T GO HOG WILD ON THE FLEECY STAPLE

Imperial Texas has been weighed in the balance and found wanting in ability to measure up to the demands of a successful agricultural standard. No state or county ever prospered when agriculture languished.

We must take our latitude and longitude and consult the compass of common sense which points as straight to peace and plenty as the needle to the pole, and take our bearing and steer the ship of agriculture into the port of permanent prosperity.

It is evident that present agricultural practices are impoverishing the producer. A long chain of abuses have crept into our agricultural practices and weakened the basic structure of farming.

Soil Building

The soil is our capital and must be restored to its virgin productivity if agriculture is to be made permanently prosperous. This can be done by terracing the rolling lands, rotating the crops, planting legumes, and fertilizing the lands that respond to fertilization. This is the first step towards a safe system of farming that will insure a reasonable return on the labor and capital invested. Our soils are rapidly deteriorating and production per acre becoming smaller each year, and it is absolutely necessary to begin to save our soils in order to avert the impending agricultural crisis which is the inevitable result of improvident methods of farming.

Make the Farm Self-Supporting

The only way to make farming pay is to raise enough food and feed crops on the farm to supply the farm and make money out of the cotton crop. This will give an opportunity to rotate crops and build the soil, and keep the cotton money at home to buy the comforts of life, instead of spending the money for the necessities of life which should be produced at home. This can be done and is being done by some farmers who are always prosperous. There are some kinds of feed crops that grow well in every part of the state and farmers should plant the feed crops adapted to their own locality. There are some parts of the state adapted to the successful growing of fruits and vegetables for the market, and these should be planted and lessened the cotton crop in those sections.

Make Texas Feed Herself

Texas is spending more than two hundred million dollars a year for feed, dairy products, pork and canned goods. This enormous amount is taken from the cotton money and sent out of the state for things that can be grown as well here as anywhere else and must be grown here in the future if Texas is to prosper.

It is evident to the casual observer that if Texas raised her feed and food supplies on the farm, this would reduce the amount of cotton and raise the price to where it would be profitable to grow it, and this applies with equal force to all the cotton growing states. We hold the key to the situation in our own hands, and can make cotton bring a profitable price if we will use common sense and produce the living at home and reduce the amount of cotton grown to actual consumption of the mills. A great English commander, when starting a decisive battle exclaimed: "England expects every man to do his duty." The charge was made and the battle won. Texas expects every man to do his duty in this crisis to save agriculture from utter ruin. Every man must determine that he will reduce his citron acreage and increase his food and feed crops, regardless of what anybody else does, and this is the spirit that will win and save the situation.

Less and Better Cotton

"Too many cooks spoil the broth" and too much low grade cotton breaks the price. The South planted 46 million acres of cotton last year, and Texas planted 15,500,000 acres of cotton last year, and Texas planted 18 million acres, and the total production was 15,500,000 bales and had there not been the extensive drought in Central and Southwest Texas and the early freeze in the Plains we would have 16,500,000 bales and reduced the price below 15 cents and paralyzed the purchasing power of the South.

We must not act the fool again and depend on nature and the boll weevil to save us from our folly. If we will plant 36,000,000 acres of good staple cotton in the South and 15 million acres in Texas we will produce under normal conditions 12 million bales and get 30 cents per pound or at least a half billion dollars more than we could get for a 16 million bales crop. This is just common horse sense and the farmers should use that kind of sense this year and make their living at home and make their cotton strictly a money crop and make the mills pay a profitable price for it. Indications now point to increased acreage of wheat, oats, and other feed and food crops which will automatically reduce the acreage of cotton and start us on the road to prosperity.

Reduce Cost of Production

Texas stands the lowest in the scale of acreage production of any Southern state—her average being 117 pounds of lint cotton per acre in 1925 and 138 pounds in 1924, or about one-fourth of a bale to the acre. North Carolina averaged 238 pounds per acre in 1925; Mississippi, 264; and Louisiana, 227 pounds per acre or about a half bale per acre. It cost Texas 25 cents per pound to make and gather this cotton, and it was sold for much less than that price. If we will increase the production per acre and reduce the total production, we will receive more money for the total cotton crop and more profit for each bale produced.

The Dallas News "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest has indeed demonstrated the splendid yields of cotton per acre by fertilizing and applying the better cultural methods. The contest would be of much benefit if applied to corn, oats and other feed crops.

If we do not reduce the cost of production and the price remains above 20 cents per pound, the production in foreign countries will be greatly increased, which will reduce the price below where we can grow cotton at a profit. It has been stated many times that we have a monopoly on cotton growing and that the world could not compete with us in growing cotton. This has been true in the past and the many efforts of England to grow her own supply of cotton in Egypt and India failed, because we were growing cotton in this country at that time than England could produce it, but conditions have changed as England has as large an area of lands now in the Soudan of Africa adapted to cotton growing as we have in the United States, and she is growing cotton successfully and profitably at the present price and that country is being rapidly developed in cotton growing and if the price remains at 20 cents, she will continue to develop that country, and in the course of ten years will be able to grow her own cotton supply and greatly reduce the demands for American cotton as she is now our greater consumer. These are facts we must face in future and the sooner we prepare to meet them by improving our soils and methods of production to meet this competition, the sooner we will stop England from increasing her supply of cotton and enable us to hold our supremacy in cotton production.

Our efficient methods of farming have caused some agricultural writers to advocate corporation farming on a large scale with hired labor with business managers, as large industrial enterprises are now conducted. This might secure more efficient and cheaper methods of production and show a profit to the corporation but it will be a sad hour for Texas and the nation when individual ownership and direction of farms are supplanted by a system of serfs with no financial interest in the farms and little interest in our government and its institutions.

This individual home-making farming people are the pillars of this country. They produce its wealth, pay the taxes, build the homes, schools and churches and stand as a bulwark against Socialistic and Bolshevistic tendencies.

Home ownership should be encouraged for the safety of our country as against the present tendencies of absentee land lordism.—George B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture.

The P. T. A. held their regular meeting last Thursday night. Several women were appointed to raise the funds for building the tabernacle. These ladies are working this week in order to report progress at a called meeting Friday night. In addition to this work the P. T. A. is to give a play at which a well-filled hope chest will be awarded a special prize. The proceeds will be used for the expense of the tabernacle.

Memphis Citizen: "I subscribed for the Democrat today to be mailed to Madge, I think she will be better pleased with that present than any I could send her for her birthday. It's so much better than any of the letters I promise to write and never find time for in weeks. She knows a lot of people in Memphis, after visiting here as many times as she has, I think so many people forget all about the nicest present one can make an absent loved one. And it costs so little for a whole year's pleasure."

TEXAS TALKS

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF COWARDICE

WESLEY PEACOCK PH.B.

When I scolded the fox terrier for attacking the cat he ran under the house. I have never punished this dog. Then why does he manifest such fear and cowardice upon the slightest show of resistance? For the same reason that some boys at school lag behind in the classroom, on the play ground, or in public exhibitions; and for the same reason that some men are unable to speak in public. When this dog was a puppy a little boy used to whip it, whereupon it hid under the house. In the same litter were five other puppies that were whipped by the same little tyrant, and they too will run under the house when it thunders. They always will.

Fear is an instinct, natural and benign, making for self-preservation; but when associated with the emotion of terror, it becomes baneful and destructive, making for cowardice. The hen's fear of the hawk would lead to flight but for the natural emotion of mother love excited by the presence of her brood. Thus in the new situation attack takes place of flight, and the hawk is routed.

Punishment may be necessary, but it is always serious to punish a child. The purpose of punishment is correction. There can be no character without correction. The puppy doesn't know why it is punished, and it hides. If the child doesn't know why it is punished, it hides. If the hiding impulse becomes habitual in childhood, cowardice may develop as a rule of conduct, physical, moral, mental and spiritual. Thus the whole personality may be warped. By the same law bird dogs may become gun shy. They stand only till the gun fires. I have never known a bird shy or gun shy dog to be reclaimed, because a fright in early life can never be explained to him.

I know a "gun shy" lawyer who trembles and falls if he tries to speak before the jury, but can argue a case while sitting. The cause was an emotional shock in childhood of which he is no longer conscious. He may get relief by analysis. Peter may have labored under a complex when he denied his Master. He got relief.

A small-spouted oil can filled with kerosene is a handy outfit for cleaning out oil holes and getting at small bearings to clean them. Get a can with plenty of snap to the bottom, so that it squirts the oil well.

DEATH OF PLANT WIZARD GIVES UP FAMILY LEGEND

Santa Rosa, Calif., April 12.—Luther Burbank will be buried under the old Lebanon Cedar Tree that stands in a corner of the old Burbank garden, across the highway from his home. Arrangements were completed late today with state and city authorities, and it was announced the wishes of the famed horticulturist.

The tree marked a favorite resting place and it will be a shrine in accordance with the desires expressed by Burbank a semi-public mausoleum will be reared there. Burbank will rest while his work goes on about him. The tree has stood for many years protecting Burbank with its deep shade from many hot suns and with its thick foliage from many an incipient shower.

IDEAL RATION FOR MILK PRODUCTION

What is the ideal ration for milk production in Texas? Professor George P. Grout, head of the Dairy Husbandry department of the A. & M. College of Texas answers that "Cotton seed meal is the cheapest source of protein in the South. It is palatable, and when fed with other suitable concentrates it is one of the most valuable feeds for dairy cattle."

Here is the ration Professor Grout recommends as the proper diet for a milch cow: One-fourth cotton seed meal, 1-4 wheat bran or ground oats, 1-2 ground corn, hominy feed, or ground grain, sorghum, ground barley or rice bran. To the mixture add 1 per cent ground bone meal and 1 per cent salt. This ration is to be fed with all the roughage a cow will consume. This ration, according to Professor Grout, will insure a maximum production of milk and constitutes the most economical ration, well balanced, that a milch cow can be given.

BACKING HIS CONVICTIONS

A lawyer in New York City wrote his brother who is head of a New York state county bank, in regard to the use of government printed envelopes by the bank. He said: "I know their convenience and doubtless they are cheaper but in these days the various classes of industry and business realize the necessity of fighting against the further encroachment of the government and state into business, to encourage government competition with its own citizens. So far as the envelopes are concerned, the government is in the business tax free; and if it can manufacture, sell and distribute envelopes in competition with private enterprise, which must pay the taxes to maintain the government, there is no reason why it should not invade other fields of business. Each industrial function taken over in the government adds an increased tax burden on the private citizen and property owner. I think that when our present supply is exhausted we should purchase our envelopes from a private printer who pays taxes to maintain our government, even if it makes us lick our own stamps and causes us to pay a little more for printing. Think it over."

Mrs. Jennie Harrell of Amarillo, arrived in the city this week for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Browder. Mrs. Harrell expects to make her future home in Memphis.

"BEVERLY OF GRAUSTARK" TO SHOW HERE

A "hand picked" cast, in which every player was chosen after minute consideration as the ideal for the particular role, both as to "type" and acting ability, surrounds Marion Davies in her latest Cosmopolitan production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "Beverly of Graustark."

This extreme care in choosing the cast was adopted in order to present the picture in as nearly an accord with the spirit of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's famous novel as possible. Does he fit the author's idea of the role? was the question asked by Sidney Franklin, director of the picture, as each character was considered.

The new picture to be shown at the Gem Theatre Thursday of next week shows Miss Davies in one of the most remarkable roles ever attempted, as besides playing the heroine she masquerades so perfectly as a prince that she is said to be the counterpart of the Prince of Wales. Antonio Moreno plays the leading male role as "Danton," the royal detective, and Creighton Hale, well known leading man of the screen, plays Prince Oscar. Roy D'Arcy, famous Crown Prince of the "Merry Widow," plays Marlanx, pretender to a throne, and Paulette Goddard, Max Barwyn, Albert Gran, Charles Clary, and other notables appear.

The story is a romantic tale of European court intrigue laid in modern times and has been directed by Sidney Franklin.

CLEAN UP WEEK

Next week is clean up week for Memphis and every citizen should co-operate in making Memphis the cleanest town of the Panhandle. It is something that should be done regardless of looks, for it is a very important form of sanitation standpoint. Combine sanitation with appearance and the need for a clean up is very apparent.

The City is furnishing wagons to haul off the rubbish and these will be run the last three days of next week. Have the rubbish cans placed where they can be reached handily, is the request of sanitation department.

Let's make Memphis shine like a new dollar, and then all will be proud of their home town.

SEVEN COLUMNS

The Democrat is issued this week as a seven column paper instead of six. This change is made in order to give the readers eight more columns of reading matter each week. Under the six column plan it has been necessary to leave out important and interesting news items each week.

Not only will seven columns enable us to print more news but it will keep the advertising space from being too crowded, and the advertiser thus will get better service. The Democrat will strive at all times to render service to readers and advertisers, and any time a change or enlargement is necessary or will enhance the publication it will be made.

RAISE TRUCK

It has been suggested that the farmers in this section of the country might make some good money by growing vegetables, and with poultry and eggs, take a load occasionally to the oil fields and find a ready market. This seems to be a good suggestion, there are hundreds of families in the oil fields and they would welcome fresh vegetables and good country products of all kinds, and willing to pay a good price for same.

The Democrat passes the suggestion to you for what it may be worth. It would surely be worth trying.

MEMPHIS GROWING

Last year Memphis made a remarkable growth, but this year promises to surpass that record. Three brick business houses under construction and more being contracted, besides a forty-block paving program, makes the outlook good for a large growth the coming year.

While building new houses let's not forget the old ones. They may be made attractive with paint and repair and the proper attention of the premises, streets and alleys.

PANHANDLE PRESS

The Panhandle Press Association had its annual meeting in Amarillo last Friday and Saturday. It was one of the best meetings ever held, although more than half the members could not attend due to the inclement weather.

Ray Nichols of Vernon was elected president, Oran Kelly of Spearman, vice-president and Clyde Warrick of Canyon, re-elected secretary for the ensuing year.

Planting time is near at hand and the farmers surely have the moisture sufficient to bring the plants up and keep them growing, some six or eight inches of rain and snow have fallen during the past few weeks, which has all soaked well into the ground.

EASTERN STAR CALL MEET

Call meeting of the Eastern Star Friday night, April 23, for the purpose of conferring degrees only. All members urged to attend.

Mrs. G. W. Tipton
Mrs. D. A. Neeley.

B. L. Bates has resigned his position with the Neel Grocery Co. and has gone to Knox City to assist his father in putting in an ice plant in that city.

STRAW VOTE ANALYZED

Washington correspondents and others interested in sounding out public opinion rather than trying to shape it are beginning to analyze the recent prohibition poll, conducted by several hundred newspapers. They are also doing a little investigating, and in some instances have taken a straw vote themselves.

It seems that the investigations indicate that people favorable to prohibition failed to participate in the vote. It has also been discovered that persons interested in making a good showing against prohibition have sent in votes by the hundreds, signing fictitious names, while others, similarly interested in have canvassed among wet friends insisting that votes be sent in.

The poll was open to foreigners and minors. Anybody could vote. One might suggest of course that this point is immaterial since those who could not vote in regular election and who were favorable to prohibition could cast ballots in the straw vote on the dry side of the prohibition question.

This is quite true, but the motive for prohibitionists to vote was lacking in the recent poll. Prohibition is an accomplished fact and a newspaper vote on something that has already place just simply will not attract votes on that side of the question. Opponents of prohibition saw in recent newspaper polls the opportunity to develop sentiment against prohibition. Organized efforts by wets were made to get out a large vote in the poll, while forces favorable to prohibition almost without exception advised prohibitionists not to participate in the poll.

But the chief point of interest is that when voters come to cast their ballots in a regular election they sent dries to Washington to make their laws. Only in a few instances have the wets ever been able to win an election where prohibition was an issue. Straw votes are well named. They seldom square with the votes in legal elections, and the recent poll on prohibition no doubt is as far from revealing actual sentiment as the average straw vote.—Vernon Record.

THINGS SEEN HERE & THERE

Three salesladies talking about here and there.

A car belonging to a neighbor stuck in the mud in front of his home.

An automobile with one cylinder—the others were knocked out.

A car load of coal being unloaded by ten or twelve men.

A passenger train covered with snow one day the past week.

A man wearing an overcoat on Wednesday morning. He said it was to keep people from planting cotton too early.

A young lady at church using the deaf and dumb alphabet to talk to some one across the aisle.

A man drop a bucket containing several dozen eggs. Had it been a hot day scrambled eggs would have been the result on the sidewalk.

A young man of our city trying to light his cigar on the stamp machine at a local drug store.

A lady trying to follow in the footsteps of a man. She was crossing a muddy street and was taking advantage of the large tracks made by her predecessor.

A number of straw hats out in the rain Sunday.

A young soda water salesman who seemed quite interested in the 'high-yaller' Charlestoners on Wednesday night.

W. L. Wheat says some boys kicked a plank off the fence between his and Sid Christian's place and a chicken came strolling in. He immediately recognized it as Mr. Thomas' chicken and scared it until it flew over into Mr. Thomas' yard. What he would like to know is how Mr. Wheat became so familiar with the particular strain of chickens to know that it belonged to Mr. Thomas.

MEMPHIS MAY BE ONE OF THE 165 TOWNS

Memphis is one of the 165 towns in which the need of government buildings was recognized by the government ten years or more ago, when it bought sites for buildings in those cities. Then the World War came on, and all the revenues of the government, and billions more, were put into resecution of the war. Since then these 165 small cities have been told to wait patiently; that the government must recoup before any public buildings could be erected. And they have waited with patriotic patience.

An appropriation bill of $165,000,000 for public buildings is pending in congress. It has passed the lower house and is now awaiting action by the senate. If it becomes a law, fifty millions of the sum will be spent in Washington; fifty millions for a government building in Chicago; and all of it will go into beautiful temples and architectural piles in big cities. Probably not one cent of it will be spent in any city of less than 100,000 people.

One of the projects for the city of Washington is a memorial bridge across the Potomac, to cost 18 million dollars, and to be built within a quarter-mile of another bridge built a few years ago at a cost of several millions to the government. This project is supported purely by sentiment, coupled with a desire to beautify an already beautiful city.

When congress turns down a bill intended to reward that patient waiting, and is about to enact a law that gives a vastly larger sum to further enhance the grandeur of great cities, it puts a strain upon both patience and patriotism.

In some of the smaller cities, citizens contributed liberally to make up what was lacking in government appropriations to purchase the best sites possible. And for ten years or more those sites have either grown up in weeds or have been cared for by local civic organizations. We hear of one town in Ohio that, growing tired of the government's long delay, raised fifty thousand dollars and built its own postoffice. There are a few towns that would feel like emulating that example in view of the present situation.

It is an unchallenged fact that the great cities constantly draw upon the small towns and rural communities for the fresh energy, the active brains and the sturdy character that save those great cities from their own congestion and stagnation. Most captains of industry, most great leaders in religion and reform, most men and women who achieve distinction in any line, are country-bred—born and reared in country towns or rural communities.

Probably most of the senators and representatives in congress grew up on "Main Street" or somewhere along the "Old State Road." A considerable number of them live there still—when they're at home. But down in Washington, surrounded by the luxury and beauty of the national capital, they sometimes forget the Old Home Town and its struggle, against great odds, to provide its quota in the draft which the big cities are constantly levying.

It is well to erect memorials to heroism in war—even such memorials as that proposed bridge across the Potomac that is not specially needed; but there is a heroism of peace that should not be forgotten; a heroism of service, the service which the rural community renders to the nation in rearing and training men and women who guide it safely through many perils.—The Carrollton Patriot.

NOW PROPER TIME TO INSPECT YOUR CAR

Now is the proper time to give the car a complete inspection, cleaning, oiling and tightening of body bolts and all other bolts, for that matter. If the car is carefully inspected now and put in good condition it is safe to assure that there will be little trouble ahead during the summer months. At least every three months the average automobile should be inspected and given a light overhauling. It saves money to the owner in the long run.

A GOOD CITIZEN

Whenever we need money to promote a fair, or a community event of any kind we go to him and ask for a contribution. And he usually comes across.

Whenever we need a few loyal workers who are willing to do something for the town without immediate profit in sight, we call on him and he rolls up his sleeves and gets busy.

Whenever we find ourselves in hard straits financially we go to him, tell our story, and get a reasonable line of credit.

And then at times we forget what he means to our community and complain about the way he runs his business and the kind of service he gives.

"Who is the fellow?" you ask. Why, He is your local merchant.

ANYTHING BUT EXEMPT

BOY SCOUTS

"What does the Boy Scouts Organization Mean to Memphis?"

1. It provides an organization in which boys can express themselves at work, play, study and citizenship.

2. It offers an opportunity where the boy can learn to cooperate. This is especially true where there is but one child in the family and craves companionship.

3. It takes care of the boy when school is out by offering him a field of study in earning merit badges and also gives him a chance to utilize in a fine way his leisure time.

4. It offers wholesome outdoor recreation—not only camping out week ends, but a special ten day period at a well equipped camp.

5. It offers a field of training where they can develop leadership.

6. It holds up to the boy the ideals of citizenship, business and religion.

7. It gives the boy a chance to size up the men of Memphis as to who is willing to help them along in their work.

8. It gives the boys a chance to practice civic activities.

BUILDING A COMMUNITY IS JOB FOR EVERYBODY

Our part of the job in building Memphis is to have this service on tap all the time. To do this we must look ahead and get new capital to keep the facilities ahead of the demand for service. We can do this with the cooperation of the people of this community, and the community will continue to grow, because this essential public service, coupled with the other things that make for growth will be on the job.

Every good community has resulted from active joint efforts of its people.

In building a modern community the service of Electricity is necessary. This service must be ample and it must be assured in machinery and equipment ahead of the need for it so that it will be ready when wanted.

SHERMAN LONG BE REMEMBERED

DEBE K. WARNER

She has never been so loved as she is now. Her mind and her spirit has never stood still a day in her life even when her body sometimes grew too weary to always perform her duties. She is a living example of what it means to never allow your inner life to dwindle.

How did she do it? By using every opportunity that presented itself to help others. That's how she grew. She accepted every obligation that her time and physical strength would permit. You can not grow socially, mentally, or spiritually just sitting around any more than physically. If you would grow into a well balanced character you must pay the price by exercising all your powers.

Mrs. Sherman paid the price. What is the result? She is today the chosen leader of the largest and most democratic organization of women in the world. And next to the president of our nation she is considered by both man and woman as one of the wisest and fairest councilmen in this nation.

But it is what Mrs. Sherman IS that will give her a lasting place in the hearts of the people. It is what she has inspired other women to be. That's why Mrs. Sherman is great. She is a living inspiration for every woman to live her very best and fullest life in her own particular place, and under her own circumstances, rather than a woman to be mimicked or copied after by other women.

The first thing that Mrs. Sherman did when she became president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs was to create the new Department of the American Home and add it to the list of other departments of the Club. Her next step was to get in touch with our government officials and ask their aid in raising the standard of the business of being a woman, a wife, a mother and home maker to a dignified and respected occupation, with a NAME. Never has the home maker had an occupation.

Her next call was for two million farm women to be enrolled in the General Federation of Women's Clubs that it might become a broader and more balanced organization. And not an organization of urban women only. This call was followed by a plea for our MILLION girls who reach the age of majority every year and become our new women citizens. What are we doing for them? At first these were her dreams for administration. Now, how do dreams come true?

To initiate the work Mrs. Sherman next inaugurated a campaign to make a survey of the homes of this nation to learn if possible their greatest needs. So earnest and sincere were her pleadings for this work that two great national magazines heard her call and offered to cooperate with her in the work. Those magazines were Country Gentleman and Woman's Home Companion. Through their columns Mrs. Sherman's messages are being carried to the homes of this nation. Read them and you will understand the spirit of this great, good woman. Then fall in line and answer those messages and help her dreams for YOU come true.

CLARENRON WANTS GAS FROM AMARILLO FIELD

The latest proposal that has been made public is that which came to the attention of the News that mentioned in one of our neighboring papers the latter part of last week. The proposal was that Clarendon should receive gas, but that the line would not come direct to Clarendon. The line proposed will be one that will come to Memphis direct from the oil fields near Shamrock and the line to Clarendon would be a possible four inch tap line from that city to Clarendon.

The proposal has not met with the entire approval of the folk of this city especially since there is a possibility of a trunk line coming through this city to Fort Worth and other cities of the state along the route of the F. W. & D. road. The tap line would not serve to supply the demands of the city during a cold snap such as we had here the early part of last week and when the demand should arise as in some cases there would not be enough gas to supply one town not to mention those others who might be needing the same amount of gas at the same time.

DISTRESSING SYMPTOMS

Jimmy had learned to his sorrow that eating certain things gave him 'hurts' in his tummy. One day he came in wearing a worried frown. "Mother, I've got the worstest hurt in my leg; I wonder what I have been eating."

The manufacturer of the conventional motor pliers stopped just short of producing a screwdriver on one handle. But dress it down yourself and see what a handy tool you have.

MEMPHIS BOY TO BE TECH COL. DEBATER

Harry Montgomery, formerly of Memphis and Eugene Jordan, students of Lubbock Tech will represent that institution in a debate with the Wheaton College Team of Wheaton, Ill., in Lubbock on April 15, in the first intercollegiate debate participated in by the Tech.

The question for debate is, "Resolved that the Constitution of the United States should be amended to give Congress power to regulate child labor." The Tech team will debate the negative side of the question. This is the first of a series of four debates in which Tech college debaters will participate within the next month.

Keep the tires out of grease and oil. They are solvents of rubber. Never allow a careless garage attendant to empty your crank case where the oil will run down under the wheels. Allowing a car to stand on a greasy garage floor will reduce your tire mileage 50 per cent.

COTTON GRADING SCHOOL

We will open a first-class Cotton Grading school on Monday May 3, 1926 and continue every day for six successive weeks.

This school will be in charge of M. C. Cope, a man who has been grading cotton for the large firms for the past seven years. Every man who grows cotton should be able to grade his own crop. If you are interested you should make reservation now as our room is limited.

We are also giving a discount of 40 per cent off of our regular price to those who enroll on or before Tuesday June 1, 1926 for Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typewriting and all courses for the summer months.

The BULL'S EYE

Another "Bull" Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Ziegfeld Follies and seven stars, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

Congress No. 1

I went to Washington the other day. I visited "The House of Representatives." They were in session. What I mean by being in session the tax bill was up for debate and they were arguing on "Better Golf courses for the medium salaried man." I suppose if the World Court bill had been up, they would have been talking on "Shall America park oblong or parallel."

Well, then I went over to the Senate. They had adjourned, so I felt that America was not having such a bad day at that. We were only 50 percent inefficient THAT DAY.

You know we all joke and kid about Congress, but we can't improve on them. No matter who we elect, he is just as bad as the one he replaced. So with all their fault we love 'em. They are as good a the people who vote to put them there, and they are 10 times better than the ones who don't vote at all. They are like "Bull" Durham they are not perfect, but they are the best in their line.

Will Rogers

P.S. There will be another piece in this paper soon. Look for it.

A Carnation for Mother's Day Sentiment

Southland Life Protection for Real Love and Gratitude

Is it enough? ... you fellows who can wear a carnation of pink to honor a Mother still living—is it enough to pay the slight tribute of "wearing a flower" on Mother's Day?

No need to tell you the debt you owe to her... nor to tug at your heartstrings with sentiments she so well deserves.

You'd fight like a demon to protect and comfort her... to care for her as long as you live... yes "as long as you live."

But suppose—and it DOES happen—that you were called away while she still lives. Your love and devotion would live on... beautiful as the sentiment of the Mother's Day Flower you wear so joyfully.

But sentiment alone is a poor substitute for material support of those dependent upon your strength and efforts in life.

God Bless Mother's Day. It makes us appreciate her more... and do the things we ought to do... for her.

Isn't adequate Life Insurance protection for that "certain little old lady" about the least a son can do... at least a son who is worthy of a love like hers?

Wear your carnation as usual, to be sure, but THIS Mother's Day, give her some additional insurance besides. Express your sentiment in a practical way. Talk to a Southland Agent about it. He will help you plan the right kind of protection for her.

Have you enough insurance

DON'T DO IT!

Please Don't Do It! I Feel So Comfortable!

For these many days I have grown fat and lazy. Dear folks of Memphis, you were so good to anoint my store with the priceless favor of your dollars. For me these dollars made big profits. I charge you high and higher. You were so patient and seemed willing to pay the price that I surely thought forever it would be the same.

My bank account swelled with the addition of the daily toll that I exacted from you. You knew no difference because there was no other store to show the difference in price.

All would have been well and many more dollars of extra profits I would have collected had not that crazy "Sole Owner" Saunders 'buted' into by plans. You know, folks, that fellow wants to do business for fun.

I love you—but only for your money. That "Sole Owner" fellow doesn't care about money. All he thinks about is to sell 'em cheaper and cheaper.

I have cut some of my prices so that I won't appear too "hoggish" in comparison, but I tell you with an earful of my mouthful that I am not going to be crazy just to sell cheaper and cheaper on every thing like "Sole Owner" Stores.
