GAS CASE TO HAVE HEARING ON WEDNESDAY

Temporary Restraint From Enforcing Rate Cut Filed in Court

Memphis, Wellington and Quanah this week were temporarily restrained, by Federal Judge Wilson, from enforcing ordinances reducing rates for natural gas. However, Judge Wilson has set hearings for all the cases at 10 a. m. Wednesday of next week in Fort Worth.

The restraints were issued after the United Gas Corporation, which serves the three cities, filed separate petitions and posted $2,000 bond in each case.

Judge Wilson's orders said the temporary injunctions had been granted because "immediate, substantial, irreparable injury, loss and damage will result to the plaintiff before notice can be served and hearing had upon the application for interlocutory injunction."

In each bill of complaint, the corporation set out it had sought relief from the Texas Railroad Commission. It charged the commission had refused relief except on the condition that the corporation waive its rights to challenge the commission's order that would decide the appeal.

In the suit against Memphis, the city, Mayor J. Claude Wells, the council, the city attorney and the city secretary were named defendants.

Farm Quotas Of Cotton Acreage Being Assigned

State AAA Office Releasing Eight to Ten Counties Each Day; Includes Each Farm

Complete farm cotton acreage allotments have been released for 69 counties by the state AAA office at Texas A. & M. College, according to George Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The state office is releasing the allotments at the rate of 8 to 10 counties a day, Slaughter said.

The allotments include the cotton acreage quotas for each farm as provided under the new farm act plus the additional 4 per cent provided by the recent amendment which added approximately 580,000 acres to Texas' cotton quota.

General allotments, which include feed crops, are complete for 13 counties, and the state office is equipped to figure and release these at the same rate as the cotton allotments, according to Slaughter.

Meanwhile state AAA workers announced that they had certified 146,963 applications for grant under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program for payments totaling $24,850,327.85. The total number of applications is expected to reach 200,000, and total payments will be approximately $37 million dollars.

Ladies of Lakeview Support La Follette Bulwinkle Move

Letters Seek Influence of Legislators in Passage of New Proposed Health Bill

Hall County citizens this week joined the nation-wide fight to control gonorrhea and syphilis when women representatives of Lakeview churches met Monday to vote their support to the proposed La Follette-Bulwinkle bill. Letters were written to Congressmen asking their support and influence in the passage of the bill, No. 9947.

In their meeting Monday, the Lakeview ladies, representing the Baptist, Church of Christ and Methodist Missionary societies, presented a program for the purpose of acquainting themselves with some of the horrible facts regarding these diseases and to give precautions against them, news reports from the Hall County city reveal.

The fight on these diseases, which is being waged throughout America by churches, clubs, newspapers and other organizations, has never been brought to public attention in this county before. However, the action of the Lakeview body is expected to result in the formation of other Hall County groups interested in the issues.

The La Follette-Bulwinkle bill proposes to help treat and eradicate much of the human suffering resulting from the two diseases.

To Have Highway Planning Survey Made By Pupils

High School Students of Hall County to Co-operate With State Highway Department

As one of their regular homework assignments, high school students in Hall County are being asked to take a part in a statewide highway planning survey now being made by the Texas State Highway Department, according to N. K. Woerner, a district supervisor for the Highway Planning Survey, who was in Memphis last week.

Mr. Woerner states that each student will be instructed how to interview his parents about the driving of the family car in order that reliable information can be obtained concerning the types of trips made and kinds of roads used during the previous year. Driving on each type of road will be considered. This will include state highways, county roads, city streets, and private roads.

The information assembled in Hall County through the schools and through other sources is to be used in the preparation of a statewide rational and factual road plan for future use. With active co-operation indicated from state and local school officials, and particularly the teachers, parents will be requested to assist their children in preparing these assignments so as to increase the amount and reliability of data from Hall County.

J. E. Williams and S. M. Callaway, field instructors for the Highway Planning Survey, are expected to begin their work in Memphis High School next Wednesday, May 4. This work is purposefully being done through the schools for two reasons, according to Mr. Woerner. The students learn civic duty through helping their government and information hitherto unobtainable may be collected and put into practical application at a very low cost.

Suddenly Jack Frost and his Elves come in to plan a party in the fields scattering the Pussy Willows and deciding to freeze them as part of the fun. This is interrupted by Bluebird, but they will not believe her when she announces the coming of Spring, declaring they will not permit Spring to come.

As the Spring maidens appear they are captured by Jack Frost and hidden in his ice cave. Various groups of Spring's people come to demand the maiden's release and warn Jack Frost of punishment. Later the Sunshine Fairies appear to check him. Then Immediately after arriving the guests found their places at four-some tables marked with an unusual hand-made floral design to represent an arrangement of old-fashioned lace and flowers. The tables were centered with crystal vases filled with snapdragons. Other spring flowers placed about the rooms completed the spring motif.

Following the serving of a delectable two-course dinner, the remainder of the evening was spent in the ever popular game of "42."

WEST TEXAS COLUMNIST WRITES AN "AD" ABOUT THE DISCOMFORTS POINTS and PERSONALITIES

by Doris Pope
It is through the courtesy of the Hamlin Herald that we are permitted to reprint the following article, written by that paper's able columnist, Doris Pope, which appeared in a recent issue of the Herald. We are deeply indebted to her for so accurately describing the after-effects of this spring's unusual storms.
... everything at our finger tips with a flick of a switch, we are inclined to take for granted. However, there are times when we are forced to stop and think and it would be without such comfort as you know, we kinda' get a taste of "good old days" that we hear dad and mom talk about. That's what happened in the folks Saturday afternoon when the current was dead from 2:10 until 5:40. Gray rain clouds made lights almost a luxury in order to carry on business, so the current went off, the sale of candies at a thousand per cent. We stayed in the goods stores while observing the effects of the lights, and it struck us as rather funny when people grabbed a bolt of material from the front door, holding the article up to the light to see what color it was—just like in the "good old days." That will account for some of the terrible people are wearing.)
... the poor kids, how they did miss the afternoon picture show! It's really true that they didn't have some stereoscopic pictures to look at like ma and pa did in the "good old days."
... handed over to two of our beauty shops and found dozens of women and girls draped on the floor, chairs and stools, literally sticking their heads in the fire to dry that new wave set. That reminded us that back in the "good old days" grandma didn't shampoo her hair in the winter or in rainy weather; she just rolled it up on curlers.
... We noticed the barber shops also felt the lack of electricity. You know back in the "good old days" they weren't bothered with all those little electric gadgets 'cause grandpa just turned a bowl down on pa's head and started cuttin'. The finishing touches were accomplished with the old blue and white shaving mug and razor.
... We stopped in to see how the drug stores were making out with their Frigidaire motors stopped and their candle light. Somehow or other they didn't seem too happy about it. Now we could rave on and on about this, but what's the use? Printing presses were stopped, bank machines halted, in fact, there wasn't a business house in Hamlin that did not feel great lack of electricity. And when the current finally did come on after three and a half hours, people gave whoops and hollers that made the Indians back in the "good old days" look like sissies. (No charge to the West Texas Utilities Co. for this spiel.)

good for the health too, thank goodness.

The life of newspaper people is no bed of roses. When a good reader's name is accidentally omitted in the news columns the responsible members of the paper's staff hear about it in short time. Right now we and the society editor are having to explain to our wife about a certain omission in last week's issue of The Democrat. It is bad enough when the name is that of a paid up subscriber, but it's what Sherman said war was when it's a family name that's left out.

The old maids' sewing circle never gained as much publicity as the Roosevelt-Ford tete-a-tete but that doesn't mean they never accomplish anything.

We were in a local hatchery the other day when a woman was buying few-day-old chicks. She didn't want any roosters, but neither she nor the hatchery manager could pick the pullets from such small chicks. Here is something to help solve such problems. In about 75 per cent of the cases, female chicks of the Rhode Island Red breed can be identified by one or more black spots or stripes on head or back; most of the male chicks do not have the black markings. (Ain't we smart... to look this up for you?)

Wouldn't it have been a better publicity gag if Simone Simon had announced her recent robbery loss as being $25,000-$25,000 rather than just plain and simple $50,000?

The Odessa News-Times, one of the better West Texas newspapers reaching the exchange desk of The Democrat, has gone daily. What we miss most about the daily issues is Ralph Shuffler's Brain Storm column in which the publisher usually expresses himself in an open and above board style. Ralph and son, Henderson, are among the few editors of today who can call a spade a spade and get away with it. In fact the readers enjoy their breezy style. They remind us very much of frontier journalism days, when one editor wrote such as this about another editor: "The gasconading reptile who is responsible for the slimy life of that prurient sheet, the Coyote, paid us a sneaking visit Saturday. If he had given us a notice of his intentions, we would have prepared ourselves and torn his leprous hide from his debauched and whisky-poisoned frame, and polluted our fence with it." That style of journalism is about gone... but not out at Odessa where Shuffler often writes about Paul Barron, Midland's publisher.

Remember Mother on Mother's Day, May 8, with flowers or a blooming plant. Hightower Greenhouse, Member, F. T. D. 1c Arthur Power of Childress was a business visitor in Memphis Wednesday.

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Next Sunday morning and evening we will be very happy to present to our congregation Mr. W. A. Zischang, of Amarillo, our guest speaker at both services for the day.

Mr. Zischang is a very excellent man and his messages will be interesting to church goers.

If for any reason I am needed during my visit to Houston the next few days, my address will be 2213 West Main street, Houston. Call the residence of Joyce Cargill, Houston.

With love and prayers for you shall hope to see you Sunday, May 1.

E. C. Cargill, Pastor.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

May 1 will be pulpit exchange Sunday for Christian Churches throughout the Panhandle. The visiting minister at our church here will be G. H. Farmer of the First Christian Church in Childress. The local minister, will preach in Childress.

Last Sunday night Miss Lowena Moore was guest violin soloist at our evening service. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cicero Milan. The music was deeply appreciated by all present.

Thursday night a Layman's League supper and program has been arranged by Orville Goodpasture, president, and J. G. Gardner, vice president. The men of the First Presbyterian Church have been invited as our guests.

Wednesday evening we will have our regular mid-week prayer service.

JOE FINDLEY, Minister.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Our district superintendent, J. Walter Hall of Wichita Falls, will be with us next Sunday. He will preach at the 11 o'clock hour, after which he will dedicate the church.

We are planning on a great service; we extend a hearty welcome to everyone to come and worship with us. If you are not attending church elsewhere, come and be with us next Sunday.

B. W. TAYLOR, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor's message Sunday morning will be on the subject, "Voices and Visions" with the 6th Chapter of Isaiah as the background. The Sunday evening message will be on "The Simplicity of the Gospel" with Acts 8:30 at the text. We are hoping that everybody will be on hand for these two messages. Our preaching services are largely attended, yet we can always make room for more. Visitors are always most heartily welcomed.

The Sunday School and B. T. U. are both growing. We appreciate the larger attendance. If you have not found your place in these organizations you should find it for we need you. We believe you will find the prayer services helpful every week. Come and have an interesting time with us.

Since the Methodist and Presbyterian pastors are out of the city and no evening services are announced at those churches we extend to all a hearty welcome.

County agricultural agents, county grasshopper control committees, and farmers are ready to combat the insects. Experience has shown that control is simplified when poison mash is scattered around the places where hoppers hatch out before they multiply and spread to fields. Potvieve Survey, on the west bank of the Bitter Creek, in Hall County, Texas, and is distant in a West-southwest direction from Memphis, Texas, about seventeen miles.

You are hereby further notified that the said O. H. Crews proposes to install a pumping plant consisting of a No. 6 Centrifugal (1060 G.P.M.) pump, operated by a Fordson Tractor, having a height of lift of ten feet, and by means of said pump to divert water from the reservoir into the distribution canal, said reservoir having a storage capacity of forty-two (42) acre-feet for the irrigation of not to exceed one hundred eighty-eight and six tenths (188.6) acres of land in Hall County, Texas, fully described in the application.

Finish Hatching Paying Chicks Now

Now is the time to finish hatching profitable chicks, according to Mrs. Juanita G. Butler, home Farm Security Administration. Chicks hatched later than April in this part of Texas are usually expensive, Mrs. Butler stated.

Late hatched chicks miss good broiler prices for surplus cockerels and generally have greater disease loss. The pullets do not develop as rapidly nor as completely. A low priced chick is usually of low quality, yet takes as much time and money to raise as a good one. Quality not only means strong, husky chicks that live, but also includes the egg producing ability bred into them for generations.

Before one's chicks are ready to be taken off or brought home, everything should be carefully prepared in advance, in whatever kind of house or equipment, for the first few days is the critical time. Indeed, half the success in raising chicks depends on having a good clean brooder house and all its equipment in perfect working order at the start. Thoroughly clean with a scraper and disinfect. Boiling hot lye water, 1 can to 12 or 15 gallons is an efficient disinfectant. Dry out the house and run the brooder for at least a day to be sure it is properly regulated. Check up on feeders, waterers, fuel supply and all other tools.

FSA Helps Develop Boys and Girls

The Farm Security Administration is not only helping set up the family to farming, but is also helping to develop the girls and boys of these families, according to Mrs. Juanita G. Butler, Home Management Supervisor of the Security Administration. There are about 26 boys and girls from Childress, Cottle, Hall and Motley counties that will be aided by the NYA, Mrs. Butler states.

There were 5 boys sent for a 4 months course to Texas Tech at Lubbock. The other boys and the girls are given work on different projects in the respective counties.

The Farm Security Administration is giving the farm people a chance that they have never had in the past. It has given them a feeling of security, as well as giving them the vital things that one must have in order to live.

These boys and girls will learn to support themselves, to meet the public, to share the responsibility of the family and to have a happier outlook on life.

The Farm Security Administration, says Mrs. Butler, is helping

THE DEAD SEA IS DEAD BECAUSE . . . !

IN A MOST attractively printed folder the Memphis Chamber of Commerce has announced a new "Streamlined Program for Greater Community Development" during 1938. Last Friday morning a sleepy Memphis opened its eyes to find its civic leaders gathered to breakfast and discuss the membership drive that would make this planned program its due success. Today the organization counts its membership far in excess of any of recent years . . . and new members are still being accepted.

This is going to be a bumper year for the local C of C . . . which really means a bumper year for the Memphis territory since the organization's program is purely for the entire community. If you haven't done your part toward furthering this program do it now! Subscribe to the Chamber of Commerce fund . . . it is an investment in your own business.

More than thirty-five major projects are included in this new program and each one of them means first-aid to you either directly or indirectly. Don't be like the Dead Sea, it is dead because it receives much and gives out nothing! Join others who are making this a much better city and community in which to live.

Isn't this the real problem of Beer

—and almost its only problem?

THERE ARE people, of course, who steadfastly and sincerely believe beer to be intoxicating, or its use sinful, harmful, or a first step toward use of "hard liquor."

Just as sincerely we hold that the weight of the evidence is overwhelmingly against them...that beer is a mild, wholesome food beverage...and that "there is nothing more promising to combat the evil of too much alcohol than the opportunity of drinking good beer."

No...it is not in beer itself, we believe, that its gravest problem lies, but in those conditions, undesirable to us all, which sometimes surround its sale.

How should that problem be handled... by brewers, by retailers, by consumers, and by the public authorities? On its handling, we believe, depends the ultimate success or failure of the art and science of brewing, with all its manifold contributions to human pleasure and happiness and to the farm and industrial welfare of this country.

In that belief, a short time ago the Brewers Foundation was organized... to align the brewing industry with forces working for the public good in this country.

Our underlying motive... to perpetuate and promote our industry... is of course obvious. But equally obvious, we hope, is the fact that our interests coincide with the public interest.

Important progress has been made. Brewer-members of the Foundation already represent nearly half the production of beer and ale in the United States; and these members are pledged, individually and collectively, to the Brewers Code, one significant clause of which is as follows:

"We pledge our support to the duly constituted authorities for the elimination of anti-social conditions wherever they may surround the sale of beer to the consumer."

Being practical men, we promise no miracles. We cannot immediately or effectively "police" the quarter-million points where beer is sold (nor, to be fair, have we legal authority in many cases to do so). Nor can we, immediately, bring about full compliance with the law among all retailers, nor honest enforcement by all authorities.

But a beginning has been made...and we do promise that you will see results from it.

How far we can go, and how soon, depends very much on ourselves...but partly also on you.

Public opinion, once aroused, can operate to bring about honest enforcement of existing laws. Restriction of your patronage only to legal, respectable retail outlets can and will operate to raise retailing standards. Public preference for the products of Foundation members* will bear witness of your approval both to members and to cooperating retailers, and will encourage them to renewed efforts.

This is, therefore, at once a statement of our objectives and an appeal for your support, without which we must fall short of our high hopes. We urgently invite your full and sympathetic cooperation.
