BY ADRIAN ODOM

I am substituting for Russell while he is out in the woods of Arkansas claiming to himself that he is having a wonderful time and getting lots of rest. I will try to fill his place. Bear with me, boys, if anyone ever reads this column, and I promise not to have a temperature breaking any thermometers, or have the shower water boiling over.

The one thousand nine hundred and thirtieth fourth of July is at hand—we have had that many, but we have not celebrated them all. In 1776 a lad by the name of George Washington crossed the Delaware on a log, and we have been shooting fire crackers at him ever since. It is a wonderful time to celebrate even if we don't know what it is we are celebrating.

All fourths of July are the same. They come on the same day of the same month every year, which causes a great monotony. Why can't we have a fourth of July in September sometimes just for a change? That is another good job for some enterprising congressman.

I am a strong believer in the fourth of July, and the fifth and sixth. Where would the world be if there wasn't a fourth of July? How would we ever get to the fifth? It would still be the third all these years if some body had not come along and invented the fourth to get us over to the fifth. You will understand now why George was a great man; he invented the fourth.

This year the fourth comes on Friday. If it was Monday it would not be the fourth, but if it was the fourth then the fourth couldn't come on Friday. If it was Monday and the fourth and the fourth came on Friday, then Monday would be Friday. Say, where is Wednesday? Oh yes, we had that on Sunday.

Be the fourth of July should be the same to all Americans. Even if we should respect it and tell the truth about their scores on that day. As an American, I believe that all stores should be closed in respect for the fourth. I think that even the banks should refrain from opening on such a great occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Arnold Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary Monday

The Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Arnold was celebrated Monday evening. Mrs. T. C. Delaney, Mrs. R. A. Boston, Mrs. E. S. Shelley and Mrs. L. D. Pierce Jr. were guests at an informal Open House, at the home of Mrs. Shelley, honoring their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold are pioneers of Hall County, coming from Iowa to Texas in the early days. Mr. Arnold came in 1888, the family following four years later. They first settled in Newlin and lived in that community two years, going then to Estelline for a little over five years, and coming to Memphis where they have resided ever since.

The reception Monday evening was well attended, the bride and groom, and the daughters, Mrs. T. C. Delaney, Mrs. R. A. Boston, Mrs. E. S. Shelley and Mrs. L. D. Pierce Jr. meeting the guests as they arrived. The guest register was kept by Mrs. Pierce, and each arrival was seated at a table which was given as a wedding gift to the honorees fifty years ago. After registering, the guests were shown to the dining room where delicious iced punch was served by Miss Mary Margaret

OFFFIELD HOME IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Resulting Fire Does $2,000 Damage Tuesday Morning

Lightning which accompanied the brief shower here Tuesday morning struck the L. T. Offfield residence at 601 S. Seventh and started a blaze that damaged the roof and upper story of the structure to the extent of about $2,000, which was covered by insurance.

The peculiar circumstance that the blaze was underway thirty minutes before it was discovered is largely responsible for the extent of the damage. Both Mr. and Mrs. Offfield, who were in the rear of the house, felt the shock of the lightning bolt about 8:30, but they did not discover that the second floor of the house was in flames until 9 o'clock. Mr. Offfield was knocked to his knees and Mrs. Offfield suffered a considerable jar. Electric wires leading to the house were clipped in two and dropped across Davis street.

A large amount of furniture was moved from the house when it was discovered that the flames were spreading rapidly. Both fire trucks were pressed into service and two streams of water were played on the blaze.

No other local damage from lightning was reported Tuesday.

Mrs. Hamilton Succumbs After Short Illness

Mrs. Birdie May Hamilton, wife of W. B. Hamilton, died June 28, at 8 a. m., following a short illness.

Mrs. Hamilton was 24 years of age at the time of her death and is survived by her father, P. F. Kirkland of Haskell, Texas; her husband, W. B. Hamilton of Memphis; four children, Dorothy, age 8, Lois, 6, W. B. Hamilton Jr., 5, and Georgia, age 3 years. Also five sisters, residing in Phoenix, Arizona, survive.

Mrs. Hamilton had been residing in Memphis for the past 5-1-2 years, and lived at the time of her death at 16th and Dover streets. Mr. Hamilton has been employed for the past 5-1-2 years with the Parker Motor Company.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Robinson at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. Burial was at the Fairview Cemetery.

Here's Low Down On Why Bridge Across Red River Was Opened Without Asking Us Common People

The cat's out of the bag, folks, the cat's out of the bag! At last we common folks know why the new quarter-million-dollar concrete bridge across Red River in Hall County was opened preemptorily and without warning to either Memphis or Estelline, in which towns plans were being laid for a celebration.

According to County Judge A. C. Hoffman, who secured his information from state officials, the bridge has only been opened temporarily. Within a short while—the exact date is not known—the bridge will be closed again while the unpaved gaps on each side of the structure are hard surfaced, completing the 17 mile stretch of pavement from Memphis to the Childress County line.

The new bridge cost approximately $228,000, according to County Judge A. C. Hoffman. Its construction required 12 months, or 150 working days.

FIRE CHIEF RAY IS RE-ELECTED MONDAY

Local Firemen Re-Install Present Chief At Election

M. G. Ray was re-installed as chief of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department at the annual election of officers held Monday night. Other officers elected were: J. H. Read, president; Chas. Meacham, vice-president; Vivian (St) Wood, assistant chief; and Jim Martindale, secretary. Edwin Smith was selected as the department's mascot.

After a report on the state firemen's convention by Chief Ray, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the firemen and their families. R. H. Wherry, whose jewelry store was in the path of the threatening Cobb Hotel blaze last week, made a donation of $10 to the department.

A resume of the fire department's activity during the past year, from July to July, reveals an active and successful 12 months period.

In the first place, Chief Ray pointed out, attendance at fires, drills and meetings has been the best in the department's history.

Fire loss has been held down to the smallest figure Memphis has ever known.

Firemen are better drilled and better able to combat local fire hazards.

An expenditure of about $12,000 was made by the council for the city's second fire truck, doubling the equipment and enabling firemen to offer better protection for growing Memphis.

STATE TO START GRADING NEW DONLEY COUNTY ROAD

Authoritative information has been received in Memphis that the State will begin construction at once, at its own expense, on the new grade of Highway 5 in Donley County. The new route, which follows the west side of the railroad and does not cross the tracks at Hedley, will make the distance between Memphis and Hedley 3800 feet shorter by highway than by rail.

A Level-Headed, Progressive Thinker Or a Politician for Governor--Which?

(An Editorial)

As The Democrat sees it, Hall County people can ill afford to go to the polls on July 26th and scratch the name of Senator Clinton C. Small, candidate for governor. Primarily, the people of this county can best serve their own interests by casting their votes for the Wellington senator. Furthermore, Hall County voters can be of definite service to their state if they champion the cause of the man who would "adjourn politics and develop Texas."

Careful perusal of Senator Small's platform will convince the most skeptical that he stands for everything that is vital in the future development of Texas, agriculturally and industrially. His comprehensive discussion of every public question that concerns Texas constitutes the sanest, most commonsense platform adopted by a gubernatorial candidate in this state in scores of years. His viewpoints are sound. They are safe.

Re-elected

M. G. Ray, above, was elected to a second term as chief of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department at the annual election of officers held Monday night. The local fire department has been enlarged and improved considerably during Chief Ray's first term of office. The outstanding event of the past year was the purchase by the City of a new $12,000 fire truck, doubling the fire-fighting equipment.

Big Hog Show In Prospect For Fair

As proof that "coming events cast their shadows before," Charlie Franz, of Turkey, superintendent of the swine department of the Hall County District Fair, predicts that the forthcoming 1930 exposition will provide the biggest hog show in the history of the fair.

"Four large herds have already been secured for exhibition at the fair this year," Mr. Franz told The Democrat, "and many more are in prospect. The hog sheds will be well filled, I am sure, and the animals exhibited will be up to a high standard."

Advance work in every department of the fair has been started much earlier than usual this year, according to Secretary Henry Read.

City Council To Consider New Method On Sanitation

1500 PEOPLE ATTEND TURKEY CELEBRATION ON OPENING DAY

LOCAL GROCERY CELEBRATES 5TH YEAR

John Vallance Now Owns Six Stores In This Section

This week end marks the fifth anniversary of the local "M" System grocery, owned by John W. Vallance, the history and development of which contain many points of interest.

Mr. Vallance had his start in the grocery business at Plaska, where he operated a store for 6 years before coming to Memphis. Shortly after buying the grocery where the local "M" System is now located, Mr. Vallance converted the business into a self-serving type of grocery. Satisfactory service rendered his trade enabled his business to grow very rapidly.

Five Other Stores
Out of the Memphis store five other stores, all owned by Mr. Vallance, have had their beginning. Four are located at Clarendon, Hedley, Lakeview and Estelline, and the fifth—the J. W. Vallance Grocery on the west side of the square—is his second store to be opened in Memphis. The five additional stores had their beginning as to time in the order named. Group management and a yearly turnover of about $250,000 has enabled these stores to offer very low prices, Mr. Vallance declared.

John Vallance is somewhat of a Hall County pioneer, having lived here for twenty-six years. His ability as a grocer is magnified in his success.

To Celebrate
"As a suitable celebration of the fifth anniversary of the opening of the "M" System store in Memphis I have decided to have a party for my customers and friends," Mr. Vallance told The Democrat. "Throughout next week I am offering special prices that will apply to the cash trade at all six stores."

"And further, as a fitting celebration of our fifth anniversary, we will serve cake and a good drink of cold punch at our store on the north side of the square, in Memphis, next Saturday."

Mr. Vallance has been a consistent advertiser in The Democrat. He has missed but two issues of the paper in 4 years.

FILTH DEPLORED BY MEMBER OF COUNCIL

Sanitation Chairman Wants Full Time Clean-Up Man

Deplored dirt and filth that is permitted to clutter up downtown alleys and vacant residence lots, Charlie Meacham, alderman from Ward Two and chairman of the city's fire and sanitation committee, recommended to the City Council Tuesday night that a full time trash collector and garbage hauler be employed by the city. B. E. Davenport is the other member of Mr. Meacham's committee.

"It's a shame we can't keep our alleys clean and keep trash and garbage hauled away," Mr. Meacham said. "I do not think the sanitary situation in Memphis can be remedied until the city provides a means of hauling away trash and garbage. Under the present plan, an individual is doing this work and making a monthly charge to each person or firm he serves. He is unable to collect some of his money, and the plan is very unsatisfactory, anyway, because no requirement that all premises be cleaned up can be enforced. If the city takes this matter in hand, a city sanitary ordinance can be enforced."

At the suggestion of Mayor S. T. Harrison, the committee on sanitation agreed to investigate the matter further and find out what yearly expenditure would be necessary to put the plan into operation.

Other Matters
Among other matters that came before the council was a request from A. G. Rasco and Chas. Crow, representing the Memphis Farmers Co-operative Society No. 1, for the city to open Harrison street between Fourth and Fifth before the ginning season begins. This matter was referred to the street committee, of which J. F. Forkner is chairman, who will go into the matter in detail with the gin representatives Saturday afternoon.

Fire Chief M. G. Ray made a brief report to the council on the recent firemen's convention at San Angelo and thanked the city dads for the appropriation they made to send five local representatives to the meeting.

Buy Fire Hose
The council voted to buy 500 feet of new fire hose on recommendation of the fire chief and Fire Commissioner Meacham. Some of the hose now in service is 15 years old, it was pointed out, and is bursting rapidly under pressure. The new hose was purchased as a safeguard against a shortage in the case of an emergency.

Chief Ray implored the council to have the ordinance prohibiting automobiles from following fire (Continued on page 12)

1200 Cars Counted In Single Day On Highway 5 Here

The State Highway Department, with headquarters for the district at Lubbock, made a count of all cars passing over the railroad crossing on Highway No. 5, at the end of the north pavement, from seven o'clock Friday morning until seven o'clock Tuesday morning. The purpose of this action was to ascertain the amount of money to be appropriated by the state for the upkeep of the highway for the coming year. A count of this nature is made every year near the latter part of June.

Although no figures could be obtained at this time, it is known that over twelve hundred cars crossed the railroad Sunday.

(Special to The Democrat)
TURKEY, July 3.—Fifteen hundred visitors thronged Turkey today as the first day's program of a two-day Fourth of July celebration got underway. James O. Cade, candidate for congress spoke at 11 o'clock this morning. Hall County candidates were present in profusion.

Entertainment for the afternoon included a rodeo and a baseball game between the Terrible Turks and the Memphis Owls.

Additional political speeches, another rodeo performance and a second baseball game between Memphis and Turkey will continue the celebration program through Friday. Between four and five thousand people are expected on the Fourth.

MEMPHIS OWLS WILL ENTER TOURNAMENT

Locals To Compete In Annual Globe-News Classic

Announcement was made this week by Edwin Thompson, president of the Memphis Owls, that the local club will be a contender for the crown and first prize money at the annual Globe-News Baseball Tournament in Amarillo which opens July 10. The Owls' trip to Amarillo is being made possible by contributions from local fans.

Unless Memphis is eliminated earlier in the tournament, Owl players will be in the Plains capital for 10 days. Arrangements for sleeping accommodations and meals have been made with a tourist camp near Metro Park. The club will remain intact, on and off the field, during its absence from Memphis, and will observe training rules between games.

All Eyes on Memphis
If current newspaper comment and general baseball gossip in the Panhandle mean anything, Memphis is considered one of the strongest clubs in this section and the one most likely to finish first in the tournament. The Owls' record of 14 victories in 18 starts, many of which were against very strong clubs, has given them a reputation all over the Panhandle.

Another point in the Owls' favor is the fact that the cream of local talent available to clubs in this area constitutes its staff. Burleson, Knight and Squires head the group of hurlers, with follow up tossers like Ables, Kinard and Morgan.

Players Signing Up
Among the regular players, other than pitchers, who have already signed a contract to play with the Owls during the tournament are Clary, Tunnell, Wilson, Garner, Thompson, Morrison and Wessels. A few others may be added to the list before the final date for filing, July 8.

One big advantage the Memphis Owls will have, it is pointed out, is that the club being sent to Amarillo is practically intact—the same that has been showing Memphis fans some real baseball this season. Other clubs that will compete in the tournament are making many changes. They are reaching out for new players and are dismissing some of their old ones. The clubs they will put on the field will be comparatively (Continued on page 7)

Truth Is Stranger Than Fiction

BY DOROTHY B. ROBBINS

On a recent trip to the meeting of the Texas Press Association in Corpus Christi, the sun was not shining in San Antonio, but Breckenridge Park was as beautiful as it could possibly have been in its brightest guise. Seen through a silver mist of rain, it was a real fairyland and sightseers were paying slight attention to the weather. The part set aside for the monkeys is a great natural wonder for their abode is hewn from solid rock. Monkeys, very likely, possess an intelligence the average person fails to comprehend. One fellow sat alone, playing a game of marbles and others were so human that they couldn't agree. A humorous little fellow tried his hardest to unsettle his companions from their perches by shaking the bare branches upon which they were seated. Some sat very close to the edge of the bathing pool, but none performed their ablutions during my visit. A human mother and father dragged a protesting child away and I left with an inward protest though I didn't voice it. Naturally, we couldn't spend much time in sightseeing for we were bound for Corpus Christi.

Many of you have seen the Alamo and registered just as I did under scores of names from other states and have walked over the building, having the solemnity and prickly feeling that grows under every hair of the head—you know exactly how it is! History, glorious history on every side, documents too priceless for reckoning, battered walls that give every Texan an exultant thrill. I could have lingered in the Alamo for hours, but sightseers must move on and hunger will assail sufficiently to be appeased. There's a cafe with an outlook on the San Antonio River where the service is prompt and good—why not? The walk back to the car led past the Alamo again and the Menger Hotel, resort of celebrities in days long past. Here our good Southern poet, Sidney Lanier, found a home, and gave Texas a right to feel kinship as well as interest in so illustrious a personage. The gentle misting rain at Breckenridge Park had grown into an insistent drip, drip, making San Antonio's narrow Spanish streets very slippery. We were glad to be out and hastening to our destination.

The Plaza Hotel contains a full rigged ship, the S. S. Plaza. The sessions of the distinguished body of men said to be the brains of Texas, were held on the deck. All appointments kept in mind, the thought of a steamship, sailing the colors, she had simulated port-holes at her sides and carried as happy a crew as ever sailed. This long, breezy, airy room looked out upon entrancing views and heard wit, wisdom and humor flow freely during the sessions of the body. The children of the Press added their part of the entertainment, being featured in vocal, instrumental music and readings. Some of the entertainers, now full grown, have attended the meetings for a number of years.

Corpus Christi Wants You! Those big letters hung so all could see accentuated the welcome. Never were such hosts! Hospitality and generosity reached high tide in that beautiful bay city. The town belonged to us for many enjoyable hours.

The fish barbecue at La Quinta crowded so much of the beautiful into so small a space of time that we felt cheated. To stay for a week at so ideal a spot would have been little, but there was something else to happen and we were lured away. La Quinta was a country home and headquarters for the large Taft investments twenty years ago. An army of men made it what it is today, an attractive show place now owned by the Gulf Coast Shrine Club. Fertile land, comprising 350 acres, surrounds this home built for hospitality and comfort and said to be the most unique of any club today in Texas.

The coast line is irregular here, composed of cliffs that are picturesque. At least, five hundred must have partaken of the generous Shriners' hospitality, for the line that formed for refreshments that consisted of a large piece of fish, a large roll, fried potatoes, cream puffs and tea with tomatoes and pickles passed around after we were seated, still was surging past the provision rail when those served earlier were leaving. Don't you remember how a crowd of people gathered by the seaside in Christ's day to eat fish under heaven's dome? Who could help thinking of that incident at such a time? Happiness mounted as upon wings and good natured jollity went the rounds. No prettier place than La Quinta was seen during the entire trip. The houses possessed one good; they didn't look too new. Having been built twenty years ago, they have a mellow look that fits in with shifting soft clouds, changing waves and invigorating winds. Several impressive drives were made over the picture city where from eminences were viewed panoramas that seemed dreams. My eyes ached and yet I was always ready for more sight-seeing.

Seven hundred and fifty barbecued chickens and five hundred people to eat them! Bread, fried potatoes and pickles with coffee and soda pop, was the offering of Robstown, the Biggest Little City, as she calls herself. Tables were set in the school yard, the paper plates tacked to the tables, so strong was the breeze. That barbecued chicken was prepared by an expert, one of the best persons to be found for the work, somebody said. As we left Robstown for Corpus Christi, one of our party asked a man at a filling station if there were any more chickens in Robstown, and he, laughingly replied, "Plenty more." Reynosa and a banquet with trips to curio shops! A friend of

Little Stomach Was Never Right

Mrs. J. J. Gilbert, who lives at 320 Regent street, is perhaps the happiest mother in Shreveport since her little son got over a spell of sickness which she hadn't been able to do anything with for months.

"My little boy was very puny and never had any health until we got rid of his stomach worms," says Mrs. Gilbert. "He suffered pains in his stomach, would not eat and never got out to play with the children. At night he would grit his teeth and mumble and groan. My mother told me he had pin worms and got a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge. We gave it to him and at once he began improving, eating, playing and growing. Now he is well as any child could be. White's Cream Vermifuge has done just that much for him."

mine had seen Reynosa so beautifully that I was prepared for a more showy city, though it was typically Mexican in the approach to it. Not remaining long and being there at night, I know I missed much; the plaza was almost deserted at ten o'clock but was an attractive spot.

I must give my friend's poem that appeared in "The Torchbearer" for December, 1929. It is entitled "A Glimpse of Reynosa," and is written by Lillian Barker Smith. It follows:

"Over there lies Mexico,
Beyond the darkly flowing Rio Grande.
See how the setting sun has touched to gold thedral,
The bells are doomed to silence.

The old adobe walls of the castle
No more do they call with duet tones

To quiet prayer within crumbling walls.
The houses with barred and shuttered windows seem more alive
Then the ancient one who sits at the gate of the cemetery
Guarding the tombs of the dead."

"I was in a general run-down condition," he continued, "had no appetite and in a few months time had gone down in weight from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and thirty-five. I nearly always had a nauseated feeling after eating and my liver was sluggish. I did not rest well at nights and would wake in the mornings with that tired sluggish feeling and would just have to pull myself out of bed. In fact, I just felt all

My food seems to digest and I am gaining in weight and strength right along. My stomach is beginning to feel like a new one, and my nerves are in better shape than they have been in sometime and I can do my work without feeling all tired and worn out like I did. I am feeling like a different person already and I never saw the equal of Orgatone (Argotane), and I am glad to tell others about the medicine that is doing so much good for me."

TALKS TO LIONS

Musical Numbers By Mrs. Sloan Start Program

Mrs. C. L. Sloan Jr. honored the Memphis Lions Club Thursday, June 26, with several vocal numbers, first "Springtime in the Rockies," "Under a Texas Moon," and then at the urgent request of several club members, "The One Who Can't be Bothered with Me."

The program was then completed by a talk given by Mrs. Ruth Phillips Steinhauser, of Fort Worth, representing the Texas-Louisiana Power Co. The talk was a very interesting one, on the subject of "City Planning and Civic Beauty," and touched on the beauty.

Mrs. Steinhauser gave several interesting historical sketches, telling of the struggle the pioneers in this section of the Panhandle had in establishing a water supply. "Many people," said Mrs. Steinhauser, "formerly thought the loose, sandy soil in this locality would not grow shrubs, trees or flowers. But it has been proved that, with proper fertilization and an ample supply of water that a great many varieties of shrubs and trees, as well as flowers, will grow. Civic beauty is something that has a definite commercial value as well as an aesthetic one. Lovely lawns and well kept homes help to 'sell' Memphis to visitors and tourists to this city."

The meeting closed with a hearty song by the club, led by Lion Tamer-elect H. A. Shaw.

Dr. Pat Wiggins left Friday for a short visit with her brother, in Wilson, Oklahoma.

Newlin Woman

Mrs. Lillian Robson, of Newlin, died Sunday, June 29, after a short illness. Mrs. Robson was born in Yell County, Arkansas, in 1895.

The funeral services were held at 2 p. m. June 30, conducted by Rev. H. A. Shaw, pastor of the First Christian church of Memphis. Burial was in the Newlin cemetery Monday afternoon.

The deceased made her home with her only brother, E. E. Slay in Newlin, for the past three years. She is survived by one son, Meredith Walker, age 20, who resides in Chicago. The son arrived in Newlin at 11 o'clock, just before his mother's death.

Dr. J. P. Maynard, and daughter, Esther, of Wylie, Texas, stopped over in Memphis for a visit Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rothfus.

THE VALUE OF SOUND DESIGN

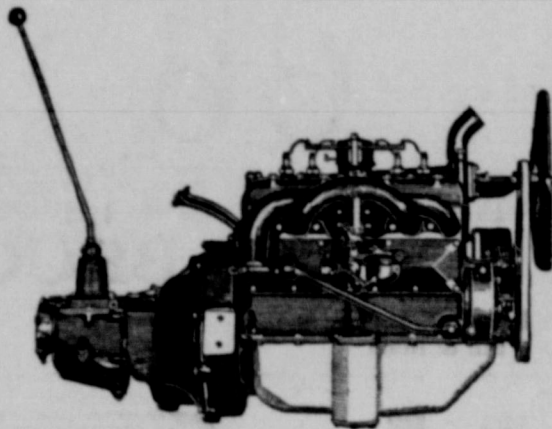

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy

THE good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression. The spark thus flashes quickly through the whole fuel charge, resulting in quieter and more effective engine performance. Other factors are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves of larger diameter, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, the simplicity of the electrical, cooling, lubrication, and fuel systems and accuracy in manufacturing.

"I have been so much better since I found the medicine which helps me keep away my attacks of biliousness and sick headaches," says Mrs. M. E. Wecke of 102 Sampson St., in Houston. "After one of those headaches I would be so nervous and worn out I could not sleep and didn't want a bit of food to eat. It was so hard for me to do my housework and care for my family. Since I have been taking Herbine all of this trouble is behind me and I am so glad."
Herbine is a vegetable liquid which does nothing more than help the stomach and bowels take care of the food you eat. That prevents excess acidity because it moves out all waste matter. Being vegetable you do not have bad after-effects from Herbine like you do from calomel, salts or oil.

Auto Racing Card At Amarillo Will Be Biggest Ever

AMARILLO, July 3. (Special)—Featuring the biggest card of motorcycle racing ever held in Amarillo, and the most elaborate display of fireworks ever brought to the Panhandle for one night's program, the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition is planning to entertain the people within its area on Friday, July 4.

The racing events will start at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, on the oval at the fair park. Nine races have been scheduled, ranging from five to 25 miles in length, and in which the contestants will ride for $600 in cash prizes. Some of the nation's best riders have entered.

Picnic at Hall's Ranch
Jack Hall's ranch, three miles northwest of Amarillo, has been leased for the day. The ranch will be open for visitors all day long. The program of entertainment will start there at 5 o'clock and continue until midnight. Once inside the gate, there will be no charges for fishing, swimming, croquet, picnicking, or whatever the crowds choose to do. Plenty of real shade for visitors. Families may spend the day, if they like, by paying 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children over five years old.

The program at the ranch will include games, contests, airplane stunt flying, the largest display of fireworks ever shot off in Amarillo, also dancing starting at 9 o'clock, played by Joe Norman's Orchestra. There will be a charge of $1 for dancing.

DRUG SALESMAN'S BAG IS STOLEN FROM AUTO

A handbag belonging to Ray Bush, drug salesman from Amarillo, was taken from the back seat of his car, Monday at noon, while it was parked in front of the Harrison Hardware Company. Bush discovered the loss soon after the bag was taken, and notified the sheriff's department. Two small boys reported having seen a man walking down the highway about two miles south of town, and carrying a bag that answered the description of the one taken. Constable Jim May overtook the man, but released him when he learned that the handbag was not the one stolen.

According to Bush the bag was a brown Gladstone of kangaroo leather with the initials, F. R. B., on the side. He stated that the bag contained clothing and papers, and he valued it at about $50.

OWLS NOSE OUT QUAIL BY ONE RUN MARGIN

Locals Barely Win From Cillingsworth County Crowd

The Memphis Owls added Quail to their list of victims, Wednesday at Wellington, by nosing them out 8 to 7. The game was a battle of hitters and not of pitchers. The Owls polled out 10 hits, with Clary leading with three bingos out of five trips to the plate, and Garner counting for two runs with a homer deep into left field. Quail was just behind the Owls with 9 hits.

The game started slowly, and Quail took the lead with one score in the second inning. Memphis brought in a counter in the third stanza to tie the score, and then broke loose in the fourth to obtain five more counters, and followed with two in the fifth. Quail counted twice in the fourth, and, during their sixth time at the bat, they managed for four more markers to get within one run of the Owls. Both teams tightened down in the seventh, and neither was able to score in the last three innings.

Grandmother finds rosin's ears hard to bite from the cob so prefers hers fried. She has the little colored maid silk each cob and make sure no particle of shuck remains; then she cuts down the center of the kernels, slicing a small portion across the grains and scrapes out the pulp. A hot pan with some fresh bacon grease receives the preparation, which is stirred and stirred, having as a final offering salt, pepper, a lump of butter and a few spoons of rich milk. Two dishes of this favorite are usually required for the meal because of its extreme popularity with young and old.

NUMBER ONE

Who are the proprietors of the place of business where anything and everything that is made of sheet metal of all kinds can be made and repaired? This shop is located on Seventh street and is fully equipped to handle a job no matter how large or how small. See if you can "stick" them on something that is made of sheet metal. They are experts when it comes to installing heating and ventilating systems. Tanks of all kinds, drains, cornice work, etc., are readily furnished by them. They repair or rebuild anything in this line and guarantee their workmanship and prices to be satisfactory. They make a special feature of auto radiator repairing. Who are the proprietors of this place of business and what is the phone number?

NUMBER TWO

"The world moves," so does the transit company this sketch refers to. It matters not what you want moved, when or where, they have the equipment and men trained in this line of work to move you with neatness and dispatch. They have a truck for every purpose and their services are always satisfactory. Nothing is too large for them to move and nothing too small to be given careful attention. They make daily trips to Amarillo and Wichita Falls, also daily connections with Fort Worth and Dallas, thus assuring you of quick service to and from these points. They will move you across the street or across the continent. Have a large storage room in the 700 block on Noel where your goods will be safe and well taken care of. What is the name and phone number of this transit company and the name of their "pick-up" company in Fort Worth and Dallas?

NUMBER THREE

Of all the five senses with which the human body is endowed, the sense of sight is the most important and the one most abused. Poor vision is a handicap to both young and old and is so unnecessary if proper attention is given to the eyes. There is a reliable Optometrist with a modern and well equipped office, located upstairs on Fifth street, not far from the post office, that is having wonderful success in his practice of correcting poor vision and other troubles of the eye. This is not a side line with him, it is his profession. He carries a complete stock of optical goods and fits glasses scientifically. Do not delay but call at his office and have your eyes tested, it will save you considerable regrets later on. Who is this reliable Optometrist?

NUMBER FOUR

Among the important business and commercial institutions of this city we wish to call attention to the one this sketch refers to, for they are big trade pullers for this city. They deal in poultry, eggs, butter, cream and hides and the farmers throughout this district know that they can always be sure of a ready cash market for their produce here. The large volume of business they do proves the value of the poultry and dairy interests in this district. They also sell feed and have selected the kinds for the best results for they realize that your best interests are theirs. This place of business is located on the north side of Main in the 300 block where they do a large wholesale and retail trade. What is the name and phone number of this firm and what brand of feed do they feature?

NUMBER FIVE

Health is the greatest fundamental of life. An education is of little value without health. Wealth loses its savor unless there is health to enjoy its advantages. The attainment and retaining of health is a close attention to the nerve lines. When the mental impulses that travel from the brain to the nerve cells in all organs of the body are able to go and come with freedom, there is normal action in all organs and a state of health is realized. To free the spinal nerves of interference so that normal function of all organs is at all possible, go to a chiropractor and have these spinal adjustments made. We do not hesitate to recommend the services of the well known chiropractor who has an office that is modern in detail, located at 815 Main street. Who is this reliable chiropractor?

NUMBER SIX

Every day is someone's birthday or an occasion of some kind when suitable gifts are in order. The jewelry store is, was and always will be the logical place to buy suitable "gifts that last," for any occasion. This sketch calls your attention to a jeweler that prides himself on carrying a selected line of gifts that meet all the demands of the public. He is also a graduate optician and carries a complete stock of optical goods. If your watch is not giving you satisfactory service, leave it with him, he will fix it so it will split the seconds and it will stay fixed. This jewelry store is located in the 600 block on Main street. What is the name of this jeweler and optician?

NUMBER SEVEN

Do not imagine that all the cars you see being driven out west on Main street are all going to Amarillo, for if you will notice a good many of them turn to the left when they get to Tenth street and drive into the service station there were Texaco products are featured; but that is not the only thing that attracts them, it is also for the prompt and efficient service they get there. If you are not a customer of theirs, drive out there the next time your car needs service and watch them work, they use both hands and your delay won't be much longer than that "should" be made at a stop sign. They also grease cars and make them run like new again. They do high class tire repair work and carry a large stock of tires. What is the name of this service station and what make of tires do they feature?

NUMBER EIGHT

What is the name of the dairy whose cows are not only "contented" but are "satisfied" as well? Growing children should drink at least a quart of milk a day, especially during the summer months, but be sure it is pure, clean, fresh milk. If you are a patron of this dairy you can rest assured you are getting of the very best to be had. Visitors are always welcome at this dairy and it is a treat just to make a visit there and see the sanitary methods they use in transporting these products from the producers to the consumers. If you are not a patron of this dairy now is the time to phone 34 and have them place your name on their list of regular stops. They make two deliveries daily to all parts of the city and their products are for sale in nearly all stores where milk is sold. Ask for it by name. What is the name of this dairy? "Cleanliness" is their watchword.

THIS AND THAT

Aw, have a heart. Don't stop your subscription this week. Give the publisher, who is substituting for the editor, a chance. Really, people, I hate to send you such a rotten paper this week, but you see we let Russell Clark have a vacation every year, whether he needs it or not, and I just have to do the best my meagre knowledge will permit while he is out of town.

Here's a funny thing. Russell has gone to Arkansas. Now, I don't understand that because Arkansas is where Arthur W. Jones hails from, and you people remember the tilt our editor had with Brother Jones. Maybe Russell wants to find out how Arkansas can pack so much argument into one man.

Then, too, I might advance another reason. Troy Broome is Russell and Troy never has been entirely accustomed to wearing shoes. He just put them on about a year ago. As I understand it, everyone goes barefooted in the Ozark Hills of Arkansas. So Troy can spend two weeks sans shoes without the least embarrassment.

The two Arkansawyers will probably go fishing while they are away. Let me warn you in advance not to believe a word they say when they return. Their ordinary stories are bad enough, but I imagine their fish stories are terrible.

Several people have been complaining to me about their neighbors' chickens. The fowls are eating up their flowers and their gardens, they tell me. Naturally they're mad, and you can't blame them. Neighbors' chickens are a great deal like halitosis: very disagreeable to everyone else and hard for the sufferers to combat.

It has been asked if there is a ordinance requiring people to their chickens on their own premises. Yes, there is. There's a law against selling whiskey, too, but it's still being done.

If I were bothered with neighbors' chickens I'd kill them—the chicken's not the neighbors. I didn't plant my rose bushes to be eaten up by chickens, and I wouldn't stand for it, even if I had to go to jail.

That, of course, is the way I felt on the spur of the moment. I got to thinking about the matter so I called Sam J. Hamilton, city attorney.

"Yes," Mr. Hamilton told me, "there is a city ordinance against chickens running at large, but it's no good."

What do you mean it isn't any good? I asked him. "Sounds like a pretty good ordinance to me." "I mean it won't stand up," he said. "The higher courts have ruled that chickens have the great American privilege of roaming at random and running around to their heart's content."

"This," I pondered, "is indeed interesting. Imagine a chicken having more liberty than the great American public. And suppose, Mr. Hamilton, that an outraged neighbor should kill a neighbor's chickens?"

"Then the outraged neighbor could be prosecuted," the attorney declared.

That's the straight dope on the situation. I guess there just ain't no justice. But regardless of the liberty that our American Government grants to chickens, I still don't like 'em when they roam at large.

Now let's get serious for a minute or two. A Memphis alderman has requested the City Council to employ a full time clean-up man to keep our alleys in order and to keep all trash and garbage hauled away. This is the only sensible way. The Democrat has maintained for years, to get Memphis in the state of sanitation it should enjoy.

If you want to see your city cleaner, here's what I want you to do within the next week or two. See the aldermen in your ward and tell them that you are in favor of the plan for cleaning up Memphis. If you people will get behind it, nothing can stop it. The services of the aldermen belong to you and they want to carry out your wishes. Let them know that you're in favor of a systematic method of keeping Memphis clean.

People who borrow money are not the only ones who are making promises right now. Take candidates, for instance.

I have run across a situation that strikes me as pathetic although nothing that I know of can be done about it. The Hall County jail has as one of its guests a young man who robbed the Vallance Grocery at Estelline and who is being held in jail pending the action of the grand jury in September. This young man recently wrote his mother a letter and he naturally did not want her to know that he was being punished as an offender. In the letter he states that he is working on a road construction gang.

This is true, but he is working as a county prisoner. He refers to Sheriff Christian as his boss and says his job will last until September "and maybe longer."

Here's the letter: Dear Mother:

I received those letters and was sure glad to hear from you and the others. You asked me about my job. Well, I am working for a construction company as checker and timekeeper, that is I am working on the road and it is my job to count the loads of asphalt that go in the road and also keep account of the amount of hours each man works, but Mr. Christian handles the payroll, as he is the big boss.

I wouldn't advise Hubert to come up here now as we have a full house and the construction company is the only one that is doing any work in this hick town. They have two radio shops in Memphis and also repair men, so I don't think Hubert would have a chance at anything here.

I happened to blow in here just as it was starting and was lucky. There are men coming in here every day on every train and most of them are broke and hungry.

This job I have is likely to play out along the last of September, but I'm going to stick as long as possible.

Mr. Christian is a good boss and I am working with a good bunch of men.

I am well fed and getting fat, so don't worry about me. I'm out on the road most of the time. Sometimes (so the boys tell me) we don't come back for a month at a time, so I don't get to meet any of the young folks here, but being a business man that don't worry me any.

How is Jimmy and the rest of the family?

I'd like to send some money, but you see I don't make very much and every nickel counts here.

Take care of yourself and don't worry about me.

Your loving son,
CLIFFORD.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Watson Sherwood of Galveston, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Hamilton Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Sherwood was, until her marriage last Saturday, Miss Laura Dale Pace, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Julian H. Pace, of the First Baptist church, Beaumont, Texas.

Clary Makes Statement
Queried concerning his opinion of Memphis' chance for victory at Amarillo, Bobbie Clary, Owl skipper, made the following statement:

"The Memphis Owls are going to Amarillo determined to win. Our only weapons will be good baseball and clean sportsmanship. If it becomes necessary to resort to any other means to become victorious, then we shall promptly withdraw and return to Owl Park where only clean baseball is tolerated.

"I think our chances are good. Our boys are interested in the tournament and are enthused over the opportunity that has been given them through contributions from local fans. We will enter the play determined to do our best for Memphis."

"Got to Win"
"They've got to win," declared Ben Woodington, business manager for the Owls and a baseball enthusiast from eyebrow to toenail. "I'm counting on our boys. They've got the 'stuff' and I know they're going to show it."

Ben's real job is selling Fords, but he hasn't had time to work at that much lately. He has been assisting Clary in getting his men lined up for the big show at Amarillo.

Local Rotes Attend Lake Pauline Meet

Several Rotarians and their wives from Memphis attended the inter-city Rotary meeting held at Lake Pauline last Thursday evening. The meeting was given by the Quanaah Rotary Club, with Vernon, Crowell, Childress and Memphis as their guests.

The meeting was held at Lake Pauline on the property of the West Texas Utilities Company, and the Dutch lunch was served in the beautiful community auditorium to some two hundred Rotarians and wives from the different cities. J. G. Gardner, formerly of Memphis, and an excellent chef, presided over the lunch.

After the lunch, a program of about one hour was given with all the clubs present represented. Dr. W. C. Dickey, of Memphis, talked on Rotary as the part of the Memphis club on the program. About twelve or fourteen Rotarians and wives attended from Memphis.

Morning Affair Given For Mrs. Jamison

One of the loveliest parties of the season was given by Mrs. Clyde J. Farmer, at the Memphis Hotel Saturday morning, June 28, honoring Mrs. Orland Jamison, of Knox City, Texas. Mrs. Jamison is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. A. Bryant, this week.

The spacious ball-room of the Memphis Hotel made a charming setting for the beautifully gowned guests, who arrived promptly at 9 a. m. Iced punch was served at a beautifully draped table, presided over by Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, who looked charming in picture hat and gown of pale lavender. Mrs. S. T. Harrison, in pale pink organdy presented bridge and 42 score cards to the guests. Mrs. Jamison, guest of honor, was lovely in pink organdy and picture hat. The hostess was her usual charming self, in yellow shantung sports frock.

At 11 a. m. a three course breakfast was served to the following guests: Mesdames W. W. Clower, Frank Fore, Matheson, R. S. Greene, T. E. Noel, Sam Harrison, Clyde Milam, Miss Maud Milam, Miss Shirley Greene, Miss Elizabeth Bryant, Mesdames S. A. Bryant, Orland Jamison, Allen Grundy, J. R. Carter, D. L. C. Kinard, T. T. Harrison, Jimmie Bass, W. C. Milam, M. McNeely, J. H. Croft, Vernon Williams, Sam West, Don Wright, Margaret Morrison-Andrews, E. C. Throop, Elizabeth Johnston, and Miss Caroline McNeely.

Mrs. Bryant was the lucky holder of high score in bridge and Mrs. Clower second high. Mrs. Noel was high in 42 and Mrs. Harrison second. Pot plants were given as table favors. Lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Jamison as guest of honor, and to Mrs. Matheson, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clower.

COUNTY AGENT RECOMMENDS ALFALFA

Crop Is Adapted to Hall County, He Says

BY E. W. THOMAS

At this time a large number of farmers of Hall county are considering putting in a small acreage of alfalfa. Nearly every farm in the county has some land that would be suitable for growing the crop, either sub-irrigated land or overflowed land with a deep loamy soil.

The ideal location is a tract with the water table seven to 15 feet below the surface, and which catches some overflow water from heavy rains. It will hardly pay to sow land where both conditions are absent. In many cases the out flow from terraces may be turned on a piece of land and the lower side dammed to hold the water on the land. Often low, flat, wide terraces may be constructed to distribute and hold the water back until it can soak in.

August 15 to September 15 has been found to be the most favorable time for sowing in this section. It is necessary, therefore, that any land that is to be sown should be prepared at once.

A firm seed bed is a necessity for securing a stand and double listing at this time, then keeping down the weed growth with knives and harrow is probably the best way to prepare the ground. It will rarely pay to attempt to sow ground on which a row crop is being grown the same season. Twelve to 15 pounds per acre of seed is used, and what is known as Common alfalfa is the best variety for this section.

The county agent will be glad to get in touch with any of the farmers of the county who intend to put in any of the crop this season.

Miss Opal Adams returned to her home in McLean Thursday after spending several days in Memphis visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Morgensen spent the week end in Snyder, Okla.

Davidson Urged To Back Small

The Democrat joined several other Panhandle newspapers last Thursday in urging Lynch Davidson, by wire, to support the candidacy for governor of Senator Clint Small. While it is known definitely that Davidson strongly opposes Sterling, Ferguson, Love and Mayfield, his preference among the remaining candidates has not been made public. Supporters of Senator Small are hopeful that the Houston lumberman will decide within a few days to use his influence in behalf of the Panhandle senator's campaign. Following is the telegram sent to Mr. Davidson by Lyman E. Robbins, publisher of The Democrat: "Urgently request you seriously consider qualifications of Clint Small for governor of Texas. Undoubtedly gaining strength in Panhandle and West Texas and your endorsement of his candidacy will provide needed support in South Texas. The Panhandle will appreciate the good service you can render by endorsing the candidacy of Senator Small." Under date of June 28, Mr.

Davidson replied as follows: Mr. Lyman E. Robbins, Mgr., Memphis Democrat, Memphis, Texas. My Dear Mr. Robbins: Your telegram of the 26th received. Such a flood of telegrams and letters have reached me during the past few days that this is the first opportunity I have had to answer yours. I am much inclined toward Clint Small's candidacy, and largely so because of the fact that West Texas has always been most gracious to me in my political undertakings. I am trying now to reach a conclusion that I hope will satisfy all my friends. This conclusion it is my purpose to announce during an address I shall make on July 31st. With best personal regards, Cordially yours,

LYNCH DAVIDSON

EVERY substantial citizen considers a well-founded home of utmost importance. Few, however, realize that to support home merchants is to protect and make more secure the home. GETTING CLOSE TO HOME

THE robbery of the Donley County State Bank by a trio of thieves on Monday of last week reminds us that this is the first time we have heard of a bank robbery this close to home. In fact, it was a little too close to be pleasant. The account of the robbery will probably be read by others who can use a little "easy" money and there is no telling what it will start. We are not inclined to be an alarmist, but it appears it is time to "prick up our ears" and look around.

We do not know what safety devices, if any, protect our local banks. We feel positive, however, they exist to some extent at least. The Clarendon robbery should sound a note of warning to our local banks so that they will be prepared for any emergency that may arise. Bank robberies are often accompanied by gun play. That such was not the case in Clarendon is the exception to the rule. Life is too precious and funds too dear to have either the one or the other tampered with if we can possibly prevent it.

However others may feel concerning the matter, we feel that the safest place for bank robbers is some six or more feet under the sod. We at least know where they are when they are confined to wooden boxes. We think it is a fine thing to offer a cash reward for dead bank robbers and we hope the various banking organizations over the state will continue the practice.

BABY LINDBERGH ARRIVES ON THE SCENE

THE long expected event has become a reality. The "Lone Eagle" is now lonely no longer. If a wife and a lusty boy are not enough to keep him company, he is a demon for punishment. Do not get us down wrong; we know he is a proud father, but we like to picture the Lindy of "We" fame walking up and down a bedroom in the wee early hours of morning, while a little red bundle cries into the morning for the mere pleasure it gives him of exercising his lungs.

Of course, Lindbergh is well able to hire someone to do his walking for him, but we wonder if he will do so. He is probably not the type who sleeps soundly while the other members of the household do the worrying. Baby Lindbergh came into the world with a silver spoon in his mouth, or the next thing to it. He may make a great aviator like his father, or he may be something far removed. He might decide to take up the ministry or some other profession. It is a little early to predict just what Dwight Morrow's grandson will make of himself, but so far as Anne and Lindy are concerned, we believe they are already looking forward to the day when he can disport his wings.

BEAUTY IS A FICKLE THING

WE remember having read recently that a Fort Worth girl lost the title of "Miss America" at the Miami International Beauty Pageant, which leads us to the inevitable comment that beauty is a fickle thing. It seems that the best known method of picking the beauties of the moment is through the medium of bathing revues. Girls and young women from the several states and many foreign nations are lined up for inspection, and some artist or somebody or other will take their measurements and give them certain placements. Then it's all to be done over the next year.

In other words, beautiful women are here today and gone tomorrow. We know of some women who always remain beautiful, such as mothers, wives and sweethearts—but they remain beautiful only to the few. We are now speaking of beauty in what might be called international terms. It is now the vogue for beauties of the years long gone by to write articles concerning their youth and the times in which they were acclaimed for the delectation of the public.

We have always held to the assertion that "beauty is only skin deep," and "pretty is as pretty does." Some of the most beautiful women we have ever known, have ever read about, have ever had a thought concerning, have been terrifically dumb. "Beautiful but dumb" is a stock phrase, but its meaning is unmistakable. Beauty and brains is such a rare combination that we are often inclined to think that the real beauties of the world are bound to "waste their sweetness on the desert air."

THE 4-H CLUB MOVEMENT

THE 4-H Club movement, as exemplified by the boys' and girls' clubs of Hall County, gives an index to the national scope of the organization. Nothing, within recent years, has done so much to broaden the outlook on life for rural boys and girls, than the 4-H clubs. Handled largely through the activities of the county farm agents, these clubs have made an enviable record and have been directly responsible for turning out leaders in farm life throughout the nation.

We often think that Hall County people, in general, do not properly evaluate the work that the clubs accomplish in our county. It is true, we read of their activities, of their trips to A. & M. College, of the completion of their projects, but unless we could actually see the club members at work, unless we really had a clear insight into their plans, ambitions and scope of work, unless we were brought more closely in touch with them, it is impossible to estimate the good that the movement has accomplished. We believe that if city boys and girls had a like organization they would become better men and women and more ably equipped for life's tasks and responsibilities.

Letters From The People

OUTLINES FARM SITUATION

To The Democrat:
Crop prospects are more promising now than they were the first of July last year, but prospects for prices this fall are not good. Farmers have not cut their acreage. I wish some of our lawmakers over at Washington would mark up a good heavy tax on cotton land, say $25 per acre on all land planted to cotton over 55 per cent of cultivated land. I believe this law would do the South more good than the farm aid would ever accomplish.

I believe a law of this kind would do a great and lasting service to the present day farmer as well as anything that can be done. I know it would help to build up our land and conserve the soil for those who will follow after us. I have the proof of this statement at my little home, 13 miles southwest of Memphis. You farmers and business men who doubt this statement might be convinced if you will visit with me and let me explain to you my reasons for making this statement.

Happy Mother Enthusiastic About Konjola

Relates How New and Different Medicine Did Wonders for Her Little Boy of Twelve

Results are what count, and Konjola can be counted on for results. Sufferers want relief, not promises. Konjola has made a matchless record simply because it does the things it is designed to do. Take, as a typical example of Konjola at work, the case of Harmon Glaze, 12, whose mother, Mrs.

HARMON GLAZE

Annie Glaze, Route 4, Lonoke near Little Rock, Ark., says:

"My boy, Harmon, 12, had typhoid about five years ago, and his health since then was not good. He frequently had fever and had attacks of nausea. He had no desire to play and his appetite was poor. Nothing I gave him seemed to do any good. Konjola had helped me so much that I decided to give it to Harmon. Today, he is like a different person. He eats, sleeps, and plays like other children and is no longer subject to fevers. I am still giving him Konjola for it has done so much for both of us."

So it goes: victory after victory wherever Konjola is given the chance to prove its merits. You can put your faith in Konjola, feeling that you will be rewarded

Yo Yo Craze Is Supplanted By "Whip-R-Tops"

A new sport has been introduced in Memphis by the hangers-on down at Tarver's. "Whip-R-Tops" have become the latest craze among drug store cowboys and they may be seen at all hours of the day playing with the toys. The tops appear to be just ordinary common garden variety of tops, but they are kept in motion by blows from a lash type of whip. Disputes already have arisen in local sporting circles as to which is the more fascinating—the conquering of the mysteries of the yo-yo or the spinning of the elusive Whip-R-Top.

CONOCO Celebrates its Conquest in America's Greatest Motor Classic

GERM-PROCESSED is the First Stock Motor Oil to "place" in INDIANAPOLIS Speedway Races! . . . Now PENETRATIVE LUBRICITY Proves it's Worth in the Terrific Punishment of Racing Motors

Dave Evans, driving a one hundred twenty-two cubic inch front drive Miller Special, placed sixth out of thirty-eight starters. Evans added less than one-half the amount of oil usually consumed in the average racing motor, in five hours, twenty-four minutes, fifty-four seconds of driving, at an average speed of 92.57 miles per hour.

More than one hundred and seventy thousand cheering, excited people, Friday, May 30, saw CONOCO do something that no other stock oil has ever done before! . . . saw CONOCO'S claims for the sensational new Germ-Processed oil verified beyond the shadow of a doubt . . . saw the supreme test applied to America's newest oil . . . saw Germ-Processed oil "place" among the leaders of the Indianapolis Race . . . saw CONOCO victorious in the domestic oil market of the Nation!

It was only good strategy for CONOCO to gain for the superiority of Germ-Processed oil to your attention in this sensational way. At a time when motorists in every section of the country have been lending willing ears to the story of the Germ Process . . . learning that this is the first fundamental improvement in oils since 1901 . . . reading the sensational disclosures of motor oil merit following the recent Pike's Peak Tests . . . CONOCO, by this masterful stroke, crystallizes the already widespread conviction, that Germ-Processed Motor Oil is the safest oil for every-day driving in twenty-seven million cars.

For the Germ-Processed oil used in this race was the same stock oil that you can buy at any service station bearing the CONOCO Red Triangle! You never were told that about any other oil, were you? Remember, Germ-Processed is the first stock oil that ever "placed" in this race. Now CONOCO has proven its claims, confirmed its challenge and justified this request of you:

"If you value the life of your motor, if you would reduce your operating costs, if you want better lubrication than any other oil can give you, go to the Sign of the Red Triangle and ask for . . ."

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

Friendly SERVICE

OWLS CONTINUE WINNING STREAK VICTORY FROM PAMPA SUNDAY

Park was the scene of another victory for the Owls, Sunday, when they nosed out the nine, 7 to 6. Both teams their runs early in the out, because of a high wind and, errors gave the Owls runs on 5 hits, which allowed them to win the game. Pampa received 6 runs from 7 hits.

Edwards started on the mound for Pampa, but the Owls knocked him off in two innings with five runs. He was relieved by Coop who held Memphis to 2 runs in the following six innings. Knight started in the center of the diamond for the Owls but was forced to retire to Kennard in the eighth when he became blinded by the sand that swept the park throughout the game.

VERNON IS EASY VICTIM FOR OWL NINE

Burleson Allows Only One Hit In Saturday Game

The Memphis Owls trounced Vernon here, Saturday, in a one hit, one run game, by a score of 10 to 1. The Owls started in the fourth with five runs to break up a no run game, and ended with 10 runs secured from only 7 hits. The lone run came in the eighth when Simmons walked, the man from Vernon to get on and Canafax scored him on a single. The Owls hammered out the victory, which was a single over second base.

Burleson, Owl hurler, was the main attraction of the afternoon, getting three up and three down in eight of the nine innings, and striking out twelve of the weak hitters. He allowed only one man to walk and only two to get on bases.

The game was played in a strong wind and sand and attracted a very small crowd.

Achievement

The poet is a lazy man,
Instead of building bridges,
roads,
He sits back in his easy chair
And fashions Odes.

The poet is a peaceful man,
Who idly dreams from sun to sun;
And what has he accomplished
when
His dreams are spun?

Perhaps a book of slender songs
To sweeten life with lilac rhyme,
That may, when roads and bridges
crash,
Still cling to time!

After the lunch much fun and conversation were enjoyed. The guests departed expressing themselves as having had a wonderful time.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garnett, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hutchinson, Mrs. W. P. Dial and Mrs. Louis Goffinett.

Monday Meet Closes Federated Society's Year

As a pleasing finale to the past year's activities of the Federated Missionary society, and prefacing their adjournment for the summer months, a charmingly planned program was given Monday afternoon at the First Methodist church, with the Methodist ladies as hostesses.

The meeting opened at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Pete Clower directing the program. Preceding the program an informal reception was held, with punch served. Mesdames Draper, DeBerry and Pheasant presided at the punch bowl.

"Work for the Night is Coming," was the first number on the program, with Miss Mollie Harris at the piano. Mrs. Fitzgerald led the devotional, taking for her theme "Am I My Brother's Keeper," making a splendid and comprehensive talk on the subject. This was followed by a talk, "Inter-racial Conditions in our city," by Mrs. Seago, who stressed the need of bettering the conditions of the schools, churches and sanitary conditions in the negro addition.

Mesdames D. L. C. Kinard and Roy Leverett gave a delightful duet, with Miss Harris playing their accompaniment. Mrs. Wheat gave the closing prayer.

During the social hour lovely refreshments were served. The next open meeting will be held at the First Baptist church September 29, 1930.

Newlin Ladies Give Ice Cream Supper

An Ice Cream Supper was served at Newlin by the ladies of the Home Demonstration Club Wednesday night, July 2. The occasion had a double purpose, as it afforded the candidates in the coming election opportunity to meet the voters of the vicinity, and the women of the Demonstration Club opportunity to raise funds to send a delegate to A. & M. for the Short Course.

The term "ice cream supper" is entirely insufficient to cover the bountiful feast spread by the good cooks of Newlin community. Plates of fried chicken, fresh tomatoes, lettuce, pickles, many loaves of delicious home-baked bread, punch, a series of lovely cakes and many freezers of home-made ice cream tempted the nickels and dimes from the large crowd present.

The master of ceremonies for the informal program was A. H. Glasco, who introduced the youthful members of the community who gave readings, being Sidney Landers and Dorothy B. Watson. Following the readings a number of candidates availed themselves of the opportunity to place their claims for office before the voters of Newlin.

Ready Class Enjoys Picnic Tuesday Evening

The Ready Class of the First Baptist church, together with the teacher, Mrs. Byron Baldwin, enjoyed a picnic Tuesday evening. The members of the losing side of a recent contest were hostesses for the occasion.

Meeting at the church at 6:00 o'clock, the picnickers drove to a delightful spot north of town, where the girls enjoyed themselves in various ways before supper, and after the meal. They stood before a huge camp fire and sang popular songs.

A picnic lunch consisting of fried chicken, sandwiches, potato chips, olives, pickles, carrot salad, cakes and iced tea, was served to Una Loard, Johnie Carlton, Lucille Bourland, Annie Laurie Carter, Marie Barber, Inez Crow, Rachel Crow, Jackie Rogers, Mary Lee Mabry, Clara Boatner, Lorraine Mason, Shirley Hill, Lucille Ford, Hazel Stephens, Ella Vee Taylor, Elizabeth Bryant, Mable Godfrey, Abby O'Neil, Rebecca Sitton, Nell Hampton, Mrs. Bertha Carter, Mrs. Byron Baldwin, Jack and James Baldwin, and George Carter.

D. H. Arnold came to Texas and Hall County on Sept. 14, 1888, and made his home one and one-half miles west of Newlin. At the time he came here, he said, there were only two houses at Salisbury, a store that was in a tent, and a depot. The depot served as freight office, post office, hotel and the first Sunday school, which was held in the fall of '88. The first school house to be built near his home was built in Newlin in 1891, and was a one-room frame building.

Mrs. Arnold taught school in Iowa from 1888 until she came to Texas, in 1892. Mrs. Arnold taught in Newlin in the first school building ever built at that place. She was the first music teacher in Memphis after coming to this city. Her public activities also were along the line of the Eastern Star, in the Presbyterian church, and in the Missionary Society.

In 1892 Mr. Arnold brought Mrs. Arnold and their children to his new home, and one year later their home burned and everything in it was lost. They then moved to Estelline where Mr. Arnold started to work. He states that this was the third family to live in that town.

In 1889 J. C. Montgomery and J. C. Noel bought land and established the city of Memphis, and he, Mr. Arnold, moved here to become a butcher. In 1900 he became deputy sheriff and tax collector, and for two years lived in the jail. Since he came to this county he has been interested in the buying and shipping of hogs and cattle.

Mr. Arnold recalled some of his early work as a mason and as a church member. He has been a Mason for 54 years, and is now a member of the Khiva Temple at Amarillo and the Scottish Rite at Dallas. He recalled that the Memphis chapter of the Masonic Lodge was organized in 1892 and chartered in 1899. The Commandery Knights' Templar, was organized in 1906. Mr. Arnold has been active in the work of the Masonic Lodge, and has held almost every office in each of its organizations.

He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, but for several years held membership in the Methodist church until one of his own denomination was formed in Memphis. He has served as district clerk for four years, being elected to that office in 1926, which office he holds today. Mr. Arnold is today an active worker in church and civic affairs.

The following is a report of the wedding of Uncle Henry and his bride, fifty years ago:

Copied from the Malcom Leader, Malcom, Iowa, June 1880.

"D. H. Arnold and his young bride arrived on the night express last Thursday morning from Davenport, and took up their quarters at the farm on the state road. There was to be a band meeting that evening and Dui being one of the boys agreed to be down, but his maternal ancestor had made different arrangements whereby a number of friends and neighbors began to gather just as he was getting ready to come to town, and consequently he was under the necessity of staying at home to entertain his visitors. The band boys, after waiting a few minutes, decided to go out and see what was the matter, and arrangements were at once made for conveyances. Arriving at the appointed place, the band struck up a lively air, which soon attracted the attention of those within, and the boys were invited to go inside, where they partook of the good things which were spread on the bountiful table of Mrs. Arnold. After doing justice to the inner man, and a few more strains of music the band dispersed, feeling happy and wishing Dui and his better half many happy days together. This office acknowledges a large supply of the different kinds of cake, and again wish the happy couple a long and prosperous union."

From the Gazette, Davenport, Iowa, 1880:

"ARNOLD-HILLIKER. At the residence of the bride's parents, in Davenport, June 30th, Mr. D. H. Arnold, of Malcom, to Miss Mary G. Hilliker, of Davenport. H. V. Hilliker and wife; and Miss Ella Johnson, were in attendance at the ceremony. They have the best wishes of the Gazette, for a prosperous and happy future."

On The Level

For the benefit of those who do not know what the fourth is all about, I will give a definition of it that I have just found. The fourth of July is a day, so named because it comes exactly half way between the third and fifth of the same month, that is celebrated by all Americans, because a fire works company that had to sell its fire crackers advertised the Declaration of Independence as coming on that day.

Russell And Troy On Trip To Arkansas

The Democrat's editor, William Russell Clark, has succumbed to the call of the wild. And when we say wild we mean wild because the ed has gone to Arkansas. Troy Broome is accompanying Mr. Clark as chap-erone.

The itinerary of the pair of Arkansawyers will include Dallas, Hillboro, Tyler, Hot Springs, Pine Bluff, and who knows? They declared upon their departure that they intended to fish, swim and rest. Which goes to show how little they know about vacations. The rest doesn't begin until the vacation is over.

Large General Electric Truck Visits Memphis

Raymond Ballew, local dealer, had on display last week several of the new General Electric commercial refrigerator models. The display was carried on a three-ton truck with special body, owned and operated by the E. O. Cone Company, G.-E. distributors, of El Paso.

Mr. Ballew was enthusiastic about the new models and believes they will solve many refrigeration problems for the perishable food dealer.

The General Electric commercial line consists of many different models, including cabinets with capacities of from 4 to 130 cubic feet, milk coolers, water coolers, ice cream cabinets, ice makers and biological cabinets.

According to Mr. Ballew, many local homes are being equipped with the General Electric domestic models.
