Funds Approved For Completion of East-West Road

$55,000 Appropriated to Cover Grading, Drainage On Seven-Mile Gap

Funds were appropriated last week through joint action of state and federal authorities for the completion of the 7-mile gap remaining in the east-west farm-to-market road connecting Memphis with the Childress-Wellington highway and federal routes to the east.

The appropriation totaled $55,126. Of that amount, $27,563 was supplied by the federal government for the farm-to-market project, and the remainder comes from the state highway fund.

Work is already underway on both ends of the new route. Contracts for grading and drainage on 12 miles of the highway in northwest Childress County were let last December, and work on a little more than two miles leading east from Memphis was authorized by the Highway Commission last month.

The new appropriation was made to cover the cost of grading and drainage structure on the remaining 7-mile gap in the center of the projected road. Contracts for work on that sector will not be let by the State Highway Department until July, however, since that phase of the work has been planned to come under the 1940 program of the Texas Highway Department.

Roberts and Meacham Are Named on School Board

Roy R. Fultz was elected to succeed Tommie M. Potts as new president of the Board of Trustees of the Memphis Independent Schools at a called meeting of the board Monday night.

Mr. Potts retired as a member of the school board Saturday at the expiration of his regular term. C. C. Meacham was named in the board election Saturday to replace him as a member, and E. E. Roberts was re-elected to serve another term as trustee.

Balloting was extremely light in Saturday's election, with only 28 votes polled during the day. Meacham and Roberts were elected without opposition, and there were no write-in candidates appearing on the ballots.

At the called meeting Monday night, E. E. Cuddihy was re-elected as vice president of the board and Harry Delaney was re-elected to serve as secretary. No other business was transacted.

Potts declined to allow his name to appear on the ballot this year after serving two terms as a member of the board.

County Baseball League Plans '39 Schedule Tuesday

Representatives of teams from Memphis, Hedley, Lakeview, Crossroads, Brice, Goldston, and Tell met Tuesday night at the office of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce in the city hall to reorganize the Hall County Baseball League and make plans for the 1939 schedule.

Jack Boone of Memphis was elected president of the league for the fourth year.

An eighth team will be accepted in the league before the 1939 schedule is completed, Boone announced Wednesday. The season will be opened on April 15, however, and a complete schedule of games will be announced next week.

C. E. Bentley, manager of the Memphis nine, is busy completing the organization of his team to defend the title and league championship won by this group last year.

One important change in regulations voted by the league leaders Tuesday night is expected to make 1939 league play faster and better. Restrictions on players have been lifted, and each team is permitted to get players from any other county. Last season all players were required to have residence in Hall, Donley, or Childress counties.

One more team is needed to balance the league, Boone said.

18-Year-Old Prank Becomes Tradition April Fool's No Fooling Matter

April 1 has been, since time immemorial, a traditional but unofficial holiday for the American schoolboy. Since the earliest days of the little red schoolhouse on the hill, harassed schoolmasters have been plagued by unauthorized absentees on All Fools Day, and hokey-playing boys have been firmly tanned for their liberty just as regularly on April 2. It was all a part of the game.

At least one Hall County school has no April Fool's Day problem, though and hasn't had for the past 18 years. April 1 is one day in all the year when every student in the Pleasant Valley school is at his desk and playing hokey is farthest from his thoughts.

Highway Department Plans Roadside Park Near Here

An appropriation of $6,000 has been made by the State Highway Department from state and federal funds for the construction of a large roadside park on highway 370 between Memphis and Newlin.

Highway engineers at the division office in Childress are working on elaborate plans for one of the largest parks to be built in this area. The park site will be beautified with shrubs, trees, walks, and grass, and will include several picnic units with stone tables and campfire arrangements.

The construction of the park has been one of the objectives of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce committee on highways, and spokesmen for that group advanced the opinion that Memphis is very fortunate in securing a roadside park of this magnitude.

Exact location of the project has not been set, since engineers are seeking a spot where adequate water supplies will be available. The park will definitely be located at some point on Highway 370 between this city and Newlin, however.

Tree Planting Ends Within Two Weeks

Shelterbelt planting in Hall County for this year is scheduled to close within the next two weeks, I. Frank Pierce, in charge of the local sub-district office of the Prairie States Forest Service, announced Tuesday.

Pierce stressed the importance of immediate cultivation on new belts, warning farmers that plow will be of great benefit in conserving moisture and eliminating weeds, and asked that all shelterbelt owners take immediate steps in order to get the best possible results from the new growth.

Little Theatre To Sponsor Play for Underprivileged

Members of the Little Theatre realizing the great need among the underprivileged children of Memphis, are donating a part of the proceeds from the play to this cause.

"We are rehearsing diligently on what promises to be an unusual and outstanding play," Mrs. Harrison, the director, said this week. "You are already acquainted with the Hardy family of movie fame, and know how entertaining their lives are. In 'Skidding' we offer you entirely new circumstances concerning the whole family. It has all the elements of a good play, substantial frame work, novel circumstances, ingenuity of situation.

"From the beginning to the final moment it is not without new interest. It has that quality of suspense that constrains one to go on reading a good story with lively curiosity as to what will come next. It furnished hot excitement and diversion, mixed with a delightful sense of humor and philosophy which will appeal to each member of your family.

Memphis Debaters Face Jinx Third Time and Lose Again

Lubbock high school's ace debating squad has placed the old "Indian Sign" on Memphis debaters—and made it stick, and Cullen Chapman and Evan Roberts, with visions of witches cauldrons and midnight spears, are keeping their fingers crossed and wondering just where the jinx will strike next.

The Memphis debaters, reaching the finals in the Borger Invitation Debate tournament Saturday, met Lubbock for the third time this year in crucial argument, and for the third time were defeated, each time by a 2 to 1 decision of judges. At each meeting the local boys have drawn the negative side of the question, and now, entering the district tournament at Childress this week end with high hopes of advancing much farther in state interscholastic League competition, Chapman and Roberts are casting wary glances toward Lubbock and weighing their chances of breaking the jinx at some future meeting.

The Memphis girls' debating squad, Jane Tarver and Bettye Fultz, competing for the first time this year in the invitation meet at Borger, defeated Grosvenor, Miami, and the Pampa A team to reach the finals where they lost a decision to the Amarillo A team, to take second place.

Both boys and girls will enter the district debate tourney at Childress this week-end, having won by default in both divisions at the County Interscholastic League meet here.

They were accompanied to the Borger tournament Saturday by their coach, Clinton Voyles, principal of the Junior High school, and Mrs. Horace Tarver.

RAYMOND BALLEW
"The House of Quality"

School Editorial

By W. C. DAVIS

In this modern age of scientific inventions and development we find an increased demand for the study of science among our high school students. Our local high school offers general science to freshmen and sophomores, biology to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, chemistry and physics to juniors and seniors.

Science aids in giving the student knowledge of caring for his physical body. Health is essential before success in any field may be realized. A student becomes more able to choose his life's work through the study of scientific industry. He acquires a working knowledge of the principles used in modern home appliances and often becomes interested in matters of scientific investigation continuing in the operation of machinery involving modern science after he graduates from school.

Science and mathematics are closely related. Problems in chemistry, and physics are solved by means of mathematics. Correctness in form and contents is demanded in making experiments of discoveries and inventions.

New Yearbooks to Be Here May 15

The last division of the "Sandstorm" was sent to the publishing company at Austin on Tuesday, March 28. The first section was sent in about a month previous to that date.

The faculty, the student body, and the staff members anticipate the biggest and best annual that has ever been published in the Memphis High school.

The finished yearbook will probably be back in Memphis by May 15.

created by making use of all the sensory organs, namely: hearing, seeing, touching, tasting, and smelling.

Great emphasis is placed on laboratory methods and using situations familiar in home surroundings of pupils when possible.

Magazines of scientific research, books, and modern inventions of scientists are used for outside reference.

39 Plaska Pupils Get Certificates

Thirty-nine students of the Plaska schools participated in the recent National Penmanship contest, according to C. T. Howell, principal. Students from grades 1 to 8 were included.

Thirty-four students passed the National Board of Examiners and received standard penmanship certificates, Howell announced. Five others received improvement certificates.

This was a voluntary matter on the part of the pupils, the principal said, expressing the opinion that many more in the school could have received awards if they had cared to participate in the contest.

News from Lakeview Schools

Lakeview School Has Work and Play Day Last Friday

Students Work During Morning on Buildings And Campus—Then Play

Lakeview public school's sponsored a work-and-play day Friday, March 30. Each pupil was given a definite task to do during the morning under the supervision of a teacher or pupils. Everyone worked at their particular job with willingness and joy that turned the work into play. There were always enough pupils wanting to work to keep all the tools in use.

Some of the things that were accomplished were: Walks built, grass set out, yard leveled, foot-ball field cleaned off and measured, tennis courts improved, grass watered, flower beds made and flowers planted, school yards cleaned of cans, paper, etc., fence made and post cleaned of bark, walks graveled and excess rocks removed from the school yard and walks.

Southern Women Eager to Tell!

"One is bound to be gratified by the enthusiasm of Southern women for CARDUI!" says one of the Touring Reporters now conducting a Query in Southern cities. "Of the 1297 CARDUI users we have seen so far," she said, "1206—or 93 out of every 100—said it definitely benefited them!"

CARDUI's remarkable success in helping weak, rundown women who suffer from headache, depression, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, is explained by the way it promotes appetite and digestion, and so builds physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

State Inspector Visits Schools

Miss Vera Tops Gilreath and J. L. Beard, state supervisor and the school board were guests at the high school building Monday, March 28.

Lunch was served by the Home-making III class at 12 o'clock to the following guests: Miss Gilreath, J. L. Beard, W. V. Swinburn, F. B. Duren, L. T. Hoggatt, D. H. Davenport, Mr. Durrett, Mr. Wallace, Mr. Bevers and Mr. Gosdin.

The guests visited classes throughout the day. We are very glad to have any patrons to visit with us during school hours.

Lunch was spread in the study hall at the noon hour and water-served cafeteria style. All the students "went after" the lunch with even greater zest and enthusiasm than they did the work during the morning.

As a reward for their hard work in the morning a play period was given in the afternoon. Games of tennis, playground ball, table tennis, running and jumping and just plain "loafing" were enjoyed.

Some of the things that were accomplished were: Walks built, grass set out, yard leveled, foot-ball field cleaned off and measured, tennis courts improved, grass watered, flower beds made and flowers planted, school yards cleaned of cans, paper, etc., fence made and post cleaned of bark, walks graveled and excess rocks removed from the school yard and walks.

Five of the girls stayed at Quail to play Saturday, the others returning to help the girls track team win first place at the Hall County Interscholastic League meet at Memphis.

Taking part in the tournament were Thelma Brewer, Gwynn Brewer, Freda Ray, Dorisene Ray, Euna Byars, Audean Rusean, Tyne Lee Ford, Katrina Rice, and Pearl Shearer.

The volleyball girls who lettered this season are to receive sweaters if possible, according to their coach, C. F. Maudlin. Members of the squad graduating this year are Euna Byars, Thelma Brewer, Katrina Rice, and Freda Ray.

Lakeview PTA Has Thrift Program

The Lakeview Parent-Teacher Association met in regular session Tuesday night, March 28. A good crowd was present, and a program on "Thrift," arranged by Mrs. Don Wright, was presented with W. V. Swinburn in charge.

Rev. Hawkins led the devotional and spoke on Moral and Spiritual Thrift. Don Wright Jr. gave a reading, and Otho Fitzjarrald of Memphis made a talk. "S. O. S." a thrift play, was presented by vocational homemaking and agriculture classes.

Following the program, a business session was conducted and a nominating committee for the selection of next year's officers was named. Mr. Swinburn, Mr. Durrett, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Montgomery, and Mrs. Gosdin were named on the committee.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon, April 11, at the school auditorium. The meeting will begin at 4 o'clock.

The P. T. A. presented the high school with an unabridged dictionary.

Bad Breath May Show You Need This Help!

Bad breath is sometimes due to bad teeth and often due to sluggish bowels.

It offends. And to neglect it may invite a host of constipation's other discomforts: headaches, biliousness, loss of appetite and energy. Don't let constipation slow you down. Take a little spicy, all-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT tonight. In the morning there's an evacuation that's generally thorough. You feel fine again!

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S principal ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative." It helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. Millions of packages used yearly!

FFA Chapter Adds Registered Stock

One of the objectives of the Lakeview FFA chapter this year is the improvement of livestock, particularly hogs.

Last year there were two boys in vocational agriculture that had purebred hogs. The following boys now have purebred registered hogs: Keith Wells, seven Duroc Jerseys; Leon Sanders, five Hampshires; R. S. Wansley, two Hampshire; Pat Davis and Melvin Srygley have one Hampshire sow each.

There will be about thirty purebred pigs from these gilts by April. It has been demonstrated by leading farmers and experimental results that good livestock is the cheapest in the long run. Poor livestock like a poor farm is high at any price.

One Act Play At Methodist Church

On the night of April 2, 1939 "The Little Miracle," a one act play by Zoe Aiken will be presented at the Methodist Church of Lakeview, together with a short program.

Homemakers Busy With New Clothes, Fashion Problems

Girls Re-Model Clothes Of Other Years In Most Modern of Spring Styles

Fashion is the by-word of the homemaking department at present. New curtains have appeared in the clothing laboratory, a day bed refurnished for the hall way and picture frames refinished and hung. In addition to all this some of the girls have been experimenting in tie-dyeing.

Home improvement has been forgotten now that all classes are sewing and new clothes are just around the corner. The first year class is working on school dresses while the third year group is constructing afternoon or evening dresses. Homemaking II has not as yet experienced the satisfaction of selecting new dresses but are busily remodeling clothing that has been laid aside or begged from some other member of the family.

Much interest is being shown in Billie Clyde Robertson's make-over pattern as it is a dress that dates back to the time of the World War and will soon make its appearance in the form of a very modern one.

Mrs. C. E. Jameson of Carlsbad, N. M., and her mother, Mrs. Dave Goodwin of Paducah, visited Mrs. Jameson's daughter, Mrs. Noel Woodley, here the past weekend.

Open House at CCC Camp Held Sunday

The Memphis Veteran's CCC Camp held open house Sunday with between 800 and 1,000 visitors touring the camp and grounds. The Memphis High School Band played during the afternoon.

Visitors were invited to inspect all new improvements at the camp and to get an idea of the work that is being done there, Captain F. W. Maxwell, commanding officer, said.

Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served to the guests.

343 Enrollees Pass Through CCC Camp

Fifty-eight men were enrolled Wednesday by the local CCC camp, and 58 more will be enrolled today (Thursday) according to Captain F. W. Maxwell, commanding officer. All were from Panhandle counties, and are scheduled for transfer immediately to other camps.

A total of 227 enrollees will be received here Friday from Wichita Falls, Maxwell stated, bringing the total enrollees handled through the local camp to 343 men.

Thirty-eight men were sent to a CCC camp at Carlsbad, N. M. Wednesday, and of the remaining 325, fifteen will be transferred to the Perryton Camp Monday. Captain Maxwell will accompany a special train leaving here Saturday at noon to transfer 310 men to camps in Colorado and Wyoming.

of Tell to a new record at 6 feet in the high jump while winning second in that event. He was largely responsible for the new meet record of 3:48.9 set by the Claude team in the Mile Relay, running a fast quarter in the anchor lap, and gave the Claude team a respectable lead in the third lap of the Medley relay.

Powell, Memphis ace 880 man, settled the Medley argument, however, by running his fastest half mile in the final lap of the relay to regain the lead in a thrilling finish and pace the cyclone team to a new Medley record of 4 minutes, 0.3 seconds. The Medley consisted of a 440-yard dash, two 220 yard laps, and the 880 yard run.

Tyler of Claude thrilled a capacity stadium crowd by clearing the bar at 11 feet, 5 inches, for a new meet record in the pole vault, breaking the old mark held by Lubbock by more than six inches. Tyler cleared the bar easily at the 11-5 mark in his first attempt after all competition had faltered at 10-10, then stroll nonchalantly off the field without making another attempt, saving his apparently inexhaustible energy for later events.

The Claude team won the junior relays for the second successive time, scoring 41 points, to gain permanent possession of the junior gold relay trophy. Memphis placed second in the junior division with 29 points, and Hedley was third with 12.

Claude was awarded one year's title to the gold team trophy in the senior division, won at the last meeting by Lubbock, and the gold Mile Relay trophy. Memphis took the gold trophy for the Medley Relay.

Gold, silver, and bronze medals were awarded first, second, and third place individual winners in each event in the senior division. Juniors received ribbons for first and second place.

Tell captured second place in the senior division with 26 1-3 points, Pampa was third with 24, and Memphis fourth with 22 1-2. Other teams entered finished in the following order: Matador and Berger (tied at 17), Hedley 13, Phillips 11 1-3, Dalhart 5, and Lakeview 1.

Sieckles of Berger set the fastest time of the meet in the 100 yard dash in a qualifying heat Saturday morning, running the distance in 10.1 seconds, but the record was unofficial. The Berger speedster lost to Tyler of Claude in the final Saturday afternoon in slightly slower time of 10.2, the new official track record.

The summary: Senior Track and Field 100 yard dash: Tyler of Claude, Sieckles of Berger, Ailsup of Matador, Wooten of Dumas, 10.2 sec. (new record)

High hurdles: Edwards of Hedley, Kirk of Claude, Bagwell of Claude, and Reid of Dumas, 16.8 sec. (new record)

220 low hurdles: Edwards of Hedley, Rice of Memphis, Kirk of Claude, Doshier of Claude, 28.7 sec. (new record)

1 mile run: Ortega of Dalhart, Moore of Memphis, Hamilton of Pampa, Wilson of Claude, 5 minutes, 0.83 seconds. (new record)

New Texas Almanac Greatly Improved

From "AAA" to "Zinc" the new Texas Almanac, just published by The Dallas News, covers practically every question that might be asked about the economic, political, government or cultural progress of Texas. The new book has 512 pages, is illustrated with a number of charts and half-tone reproductions of photographs, and contains a large folded sheet showing the highways of Texas on one side and railway and county map of the state on the other side.

If you want to know the things in which Texas is first among the states, or the names and areas of the Texas state parks, or the amount of retail business done in each county and town, or the name of the Sheriff of Brown County, or the winner of the Dixie Series in 1936, or the size of Buchanan Lake, or the kind of soils found in every county, turn to the Texas Almanac.

Rare varieties of the tropical orchid are found native in one or two places in Texas. More than 30,000 deer were killed in Texas legally in 1938. There is more than $3,350,000,000 (billions) of life insurance in force in Texas. Cost of Texas State Government increased from $33,498,784.83 to $157,747,877.57 in 1938. Texas paid last year $145,551,279 in federal taxes. A Texas man, Thomas V. Munson of Denison originated and introduced more hybrid grape varieties than any other person or agency in the United States. More than 300 new manufacturing plants were established in Texas during 1938. The University of Texas has the largest library in the South. These and other facts may be obtained from the Texas Almanac, which very appropriately bears the subtitle, "Encyclopedia of Texas."

The new edition brings up to date all of the material carried in the Centennial Edition of 1936 and, in addition, has a number of new features. It is the best proportioned, most varied edition to date, and it is more attractively bound and printed than ever before.

In connection with the issuance of the Texas Almanac this year, The Dallas News is offering prizes in a "Know Your Texas" contest in public schools. The contest has been prepared and is being directed by Dr. Carter Alexander, Library Professor of Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, who also offers a course each summer at the University of Texas. The contest has the approval of the State Department of Education.

The Texas Almanac sells for 50c paper bound and $1 a copy cloth bound on local newsstands, or may be obtained directly from The Dallas News, Dallas, by adding 15c to the price to cover postage.

The Memphis Democrat one year and a copy of the Texas Almanac may be bought for $1.85.

Redistribution of Surplus Cotton Acreage Allotment Is Allowed

A recent amendment to the national farm act enables county committees to redistribute some of the unused cotton acreage allotments for 1939 within the county.

Last year unused allotments went into a state reserve to correct errors in original allocations. The new set-up provides for a similar reserve, George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas State Agricultural Conservation Committee, said, adding that last year's reserve "did not amount to much, but did enable the state officer to make many needed corrections."

New regulations provide that where a county's unused acreage accumulations adds up to 100 acres or less, all of it may be re-allocated. Slaughter warned that the release of 1939 cotton acreage allotments may or may not be advantageous, depending upon the type and history of the farm concerned, and urged operators to look fully into the possible effects before releasing "frozen" acres.

distributed within the county to farms designated by the county committee. Where the total released is more than 100 acres, a portion must go to the state office to be used in correcting mistakes.

Rains and Snow Cover Panhandle

A cold blast shook the Panhandle this week as snow, sleet, and heavy rains fell in many portions and a repetition of last April's "White Easter" was feared.

Heavy rains fell in the northwestern parts of the Panhandle, with near-flood conditions reported in the Amarillo area Tuesday and Wednesday, and train and mail service was delayed here Thursday due to wash-outs in that sector.

J. J. McMickin, local weather observer and agent for the F. W. & D. Railroad Company, reported Thursday morning that rains during the week have totaled slightly more than a quarter of an inch. A light snow was falling throughout the morning Thursday, but temperatures remained fairly high.

KEEP DEMOCRACY SAFE

WHILE THE NATIONS of Europe hover precariously on the brink of world conflict, the average American reads newspaper reports and hears radio news flashes and comments on the situation across the sea with little more than passive interest. The national congress may be aroused to brief excitement over national defense, the diplomatic officials may be harried by difficult international problems, but Mr. and Mrs. America are considerably more interested in the economic situation at home than in the possibility of a war involving this nation abroad.

The broad Atlantic and the broader Pacific have in the past effectively separated this nation from any real danger of attack from abroad. The position of the United States for national defense is unique and powerful in the world of nations.

But there is more than two oceans, more than a powerful national defense, separating the American people from the turmoil abroad. That factor is a state of mind which may prove the most powerful influence of all in keeping this nation out of any world conflict which may develop.

The American people are free from the racial prejudice, and from the economic necessity, which is forcing the impending conflict in Europe. There is no incentive for war here . . . no burning necessity to battle for existence. America stands only to lose by becoming involved, with a great opportunity to gain by staying out of any such foreign entanglement.

Cold-blooded as such a proposal may sound, the United States would be offered an incomparable opportunity to develop the tremendous potential market in South America should the nations of Europe become involved in a war among themselves. The fear of economic loss need not draw this nation into a foreign war.

And certainly no ideal or principle can be involved which might force a democratic nation into a European war.

Recent nation-wide polls of public opinion have revealed that the citizens of the United States are preponderantly opposed to taking part in any war except a war of national defense . . . and that is one battle which the United States will not soon be called on to fight. The general opinion in this country seems to be that the best way of "making the world safe for Democracy" is to keep this democracy safe for the world.

—BY THE PEOPLE—

IN THE RECENT heated and sometimes violent discussions which have centered around the proposed constitutional amendment providing a tax plan to care for old age pensions in Texas, an amendment which has apparently been rejected by the legislature, it appears that one important factor has been overlooked by the governor, the legislators, and the various and sundry commentators who have made a political football of the measure.

The question of whether the amendment should be placed on the statutes and in the constitution of the state of Texas was not one for either the legislature or the governor to decide. The constitution, based as it is on the democratic principles of majority rule, can only be amended by a vote of the people of the state.

The legislature, then, in refusing to submit the question to the citizens of Texas for a decision, is violating that democratic principle. It is true that the issue has been clouded by cries that the lawmakers were attempting to "pass the buck" by submitting a constitutional amendment, but after all the responsibility for any sweeping change such as now appears to be necessary lies with the group to whom the "buck" would have been passed.

The people of the state who will be forced to pay whatever bill may be levied should have some voice in its disposal and in the form which it will take. A constitutional amendment, depending as it does on a vote of the people as a whole, is the only direct and democratic method of determining such a measure.

The old age pension question is of primary importance at the present time. Since the citizens of this state must assume the burden if the pension is to be paid, it is right and proper that they should make the decision. Disregarding all arguments for or against the proposed measure, it appears that members of the legislature owe their constituents the opportunity to express their opinion of whatever solution is proposed.

Who Looks Ahead Doesn't Get Behind

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

There is still plenty of time to plant silage crops and summer pastures, and if for any reason they are not planted at the earliest practicable date, a place for them should be reserved anyway. There are, however, several points in favor of early planting for silage crop which do not apply to late-planted silage.

First the planting can be done just before or just after cotton planting, when the time can best be spared. If the sorghums are planted for silage it is usually better to follow cotton planting, as they grow off better after the soil is farmed up. The same holds true during the early cultivating season, and silage crops can usually be laid by in time to devote all the attention to cotton in the latter part of the cultivating season.

Second, early silage will be ready to harvest before the "summer drouth" that so often burns later crops in some sections of the Southwest.

Third, early silage is off the ground in time to plant a crop of cowpeas to be grazed or turned under in the fall. If there is not enough moisture to plant peas the silage is out of the way for summer plowing to get the land ready for fall grain, alfalfa or sweet clover. This cannot usually be done if the corn or sorghum is left to mature in the field for the grain crop.

Fourth, the sorghums will stool out and make a second growth crop in the warmer parts of the Southwest, if summer moisture is available. If the second growth is not needed for feed, or is too short to be worth harvesting, it is well worth turning under "for the land's sake" and the next year's crop.

Fifth, early silage can be disposed of before cotton picking time and before dry corn and sorghum grains are ready for harvest, and which conflict to some extent with the cotton picking season. Either extra help must be employed to gather the grain crop at its best or it must take the weather damage until cotton ginning is over.

A French proverb says "he who looks not before, finds himself behind," and I don't know any farm operation in which "looking before" counts in more ways than in getting the silage crop under way at the earliest favorable season. It distributes the labor to better advantage, it makes a way for a fall-sown crop of clover or grain, and it avoids the danger of early frosts to which late crops may fall a victim.

If there are those who still question the value or practicability of the trench silo, I only have to quote the slogan of a well-known automobile—"Ask the man who owns one. Almost invariably one year's experience means two silos or more the next year. A great many farmers and ranchmen now store extra feed in the good years and keep a reserve for the poor crop years. Properly ensiled—and that is simple—the feed will keep in perfect condition for an indefinite period. I have seen perfect silage uncovered after 2 years in the ground.

Texas now has 262 miles of trench silos and other Southwest-ern states are rapidly extending their use. Like the "fifty million Frenchmen," that many farmers "can't be wrong." The size can fit the farm—that is the number of animals to be fed. A cow can use a six-inch cut of four square feet daily, and a trench two feet deep and two feet wide will feed her two days for every foot of length. A six by four foot trench will feed six head, and so on. An acre of silage or a hundred acres, the trench silo saves the feed

It actually happens every once in a while, and we just have to stand by our guns. One of us is fitting a customer in a pair of Fortune Shoes. While we're lacing one on, he examines the other . . . feels the leather . . . tries to find a flaw in workmanship. The second shoe goes on. He stands up . . . is sold on their good looks and how comfortable they are. He wonders if he correctly heard the price, guesses higher. All we can do is say, "No, sir . . . they're Fortunes. Only four dollars."
