Large Number Is Expected To Compete for Prizes; Thomas Hampton Is City Champ

The annual Memphis Country Club city golf tournament will get under way Sunday at the Country Club links with the shooting of qualifying rounds. A field of over 40 entrants is expected to compete in the annual affair this year, and indications are that the tourney will be one of the hardest fought in the history of the club.

Numerous prizes are being arranged this week, and awards will be given in all flights and in consolation play. Matches will be played throughout next week, with the championship to be determined the following Sunday.

Thomas Hampton is the defending city champion, and it is expected that he will be hard pushed to retain his laurels, for the club boasts a corps of crack golfers this year. Chief among the contenders are Frank Foxhall, Reginald Greenhaw, Ed Foxhall, and J. D. Webster.

Soil Conservation Service Practices Photographed Near Here For Film

Gordon Zimmerman and Reed N. Haythorn, SCS press and radio men, were in Memphis and vicinity last week taking motion pictures in Hall, Donley, and Collingsworth counties of lands worked by the Memphis Soil Conservation Service.

The story of the battle against wind erosion in the Southern Great Plains region, including this immediate section, is to be depicted in a motion picture to be released by the Department of Agriculture throughout the country this winter.

The picture will show wind erosion conditions now existing in the Southern Great Plains region, methods of control now in practice, and the results being obtained under the Soil Conservation Service program.

In depicting conditions, scenes are being taken to show how drifting soil is damaging the farm lands. In presenting methods of soil conservation, scenes will show how grass growth on range lands and the maintenance of stubble on fields prevent wind erosion, and also the value of strip cropping, contour furrowing, stock water ponds, and tree windbreaks. Scenes of fields during the harvest seasons and of pasture lands after the grass growth has been

'Evangels of Courtesy' to Visit City

Memphis Motorists Will Get Cars Checked

Paying their second visit to this section of the state in the past twelve months, a flying squadron of "Evangels of Courtesy" in the uniform of Texas Highway Patrolmen will visit this city on May 20 for a periodical inspection. Mrs. C. O. Davenport and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dunbar, for a few weeks before leaving for Salt Lake City.

The program to be put on here will be almost identical with that held in this section last year when approximately fourteen thousand cars were inspected in the Amarillo district within a period of three weeks. In addition several new features have been added to this year's program to make it even more attractive to the motorists. It was stated by those in charge of the work.

As usual the major safety features of the vehicles will be carefully checked for possible defects. This will include the brakes, lights, horn, muffler, steering gear, and windshield visibility. Cars passing the test will be given the state's seal of approval while those failing to pass will receive a pink sticker showing the source of the trouble and the operators will be requested to make the necessary adjustments and return them through the lane to receive the coveted blue sticker.

An unusually interesting educational program is being conducted in connection with the vehicle inspection work. The lane will be set up near the business district and all traffic routed through. No arrests are being made, the examination being designed to assist the motorist in keeping his car in safe operating condition as a part of the program to reduce traffic fatalities in this state.

Officials present at the breakfast conference were Robert Lee Hobbitt, chairman of the highway commission; Harry Hines, member of the state commission; Tom M. Representative Of Social Security To Explain Act Here

Jacob G. James, a member of the staff of the Social Security board at Dallas, will be in Memphis on Thursday, May 20, for the purpose of assisting all persons who may be in need of information or advice regarding the Social Security Act.

Mr. James will deliver an address on the Social Security Act to all interested persons at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the American Legion Hall.

Inquiries and reports received daily at our office indicate that many people are not aware that the Federal Old-Age Benefits program applies to the establishment with one employee the same as to large establishments. Mr. James stated. Many employers apparently do not understand that they must apply for employers' identification numbers, and thousands of employees, it seems, have not yet applied for account numbers.

It is estimated that 4,000 persons in Texas are now eligible to file claims for lump sum and death benefits under this law. The fact that only 25 persons have claimed their benefits must show that potential beneficiaries do not know of their rights.

Many people apparently do not realize how important it is that they should protect and retain their account numbers, that those numbers are for identification and accounting purposes to assure workers that they will receive their retirement pay which they are now earning, it was stated.

Home Damaged By Fire Here Friday

Fire, the first of any consequence here in several weeks, partially destroyed the residence of Marshall Jones on North Twelfth street here last Friday night about 8:30 o'clock. Damage to the residence was estimated at $400 by Oren Jones, the owner. A part of the household furnishings was also destroyed.

Origin of the blaze was undetermined. It was thought to have started in a dresser in the northeast corner of the front room. The Marshall Jones family was in Dallas at the time of the fire.

One room of the three-room frame building was completely destroyed, and another was damaged. Two thousand feet of hose were laid by the local firemen in extinguishing the blaze. (Continued on page 6)

THE HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

IN A COUPLE OF WEEKS several score of students will be graduated from the high schools of Hall County. Thus a phase in the students' lives will be ended, a happy chapter of life closed. Boys and girls will be graduated into young men and young women. Although blissfully unaware of it, the boys and girls have completed one of the happiest, carefree periods of their lives.

For after high school days are over the student must either prepare for college studies or must gird himself for the struggle for a livelihood. After graduation the student will realize that he has been in an embryonic stage and that he is now emerging into the world of reality.

If he goes to college, he will postpone the joust with realism for four brief years. If he does not go off to school, he will be expected by mother and dad to find a job and support himself, which is as it should be. For he has had 11 years of schooling to prepare himself to meet conditions of earning his way. And if he has shirked his schooling, he will realize to his sorrow that he was cutting down on his future earning capacity.

But it is useless to speak of that now. We hope that each student has taken full advantage of the opportunities that have been given him in a sound schooling institution, and we sincerely hope that each is prepared to go on to college to meet the competition of this workaday world. The world of enterprise is open to him. The challenge is his. And he has our best wishes.

THE MEMPHIS CHURCH SOFTBALL LEAGUE

FOUR OF THE LEADING CHURCHES of the city have organized a softball league for Sunday School students and business men, and the teams this week began play in a schedule which will last throughout the summer.

We believe that the softball league under its present setup is a worthy undertaking, for it offers local men an opportunity for wholesome recreation at no cost, besides pointing to the leadership of the churches in the community. Softball a year or so ago drew a great deal of interest here, and it is expected to create even more interest this summer.

To our way of thinking softball is a better game for towns the size of Memphis than baseball. For business men whose muscles have grown soft with inactivity and young boys whose muscles have not developed are able to get in on the fun of softball. A softball field is smaller than a hardball diamond, having a 60-foot base line with a pitching distance of 40 feet. The game can be played on almost any vacant lot or cow pasture.

Perhaps the chief advantage of the game is that it is very inexpensive, as gloves and masks are not necessary. The chief differences between softball and baseball are that 10 players form a softball team, and the game lasts only seven innings.

No admission is charged to any of the games here, so let's either get in and play or else visit the diamond on North 12th street and watch the fun.

MAIL ORDER CIRCULARS

IT WOULD do us a world of good to see Mr. Penney, Mr. Sears, Mr. Ward, or some other of the mail-order boys walk into the post office here on the days the four-page circulars arrive in the mail. We imagine that their faces would be slightly red when they saw hundreds of circulars thrown in the wastebaskets and on the floor without a second glance. We are always highly pleased when we see the circulars clattering up the floor, although we sympathize with the person who must clean up the building.

HEREFORD BRAND HAS SPECIAL EDITION

CONGRATULATIONS are in order to the Hereford Brand, one of the Panhandle's many good weekly newspapers. The Brand last week issued a 38-page historical edition in observance of the pioneer celebration being staged in Deaf Smith County. The edition was replete with historical information and mirrored well the early days of that section. Jimmie Gillentine, formerly of Wellington, edited the edition, which, incidentally, is the largest ever published at Hereford.

PANHANDLE PARAGRAPHS

"The wolf might have been dangerously at the door a few years back, but it was coyotes last week," Henry Youngblood stated. Seven coyote whelps were dug out of a hole within three hundred yards of the Hilburn Gattis home on the Youngblood farm near Brice the past week. Coyotes are said to be especially numerous in that section this spring where the poultry industry is more than a side line with the farmers.—Donley County Leader.

Reduced water rates for the summer months of May, June, July, and August went into effect May 1, it was learned early this week from Gordon Davis, city clerk. This was passed on at a recent meeting of city council members and is for the sole purpose of beautifying lawns and flowers.—Paducah Post.

This sit-down strike business is nothing but a "racket" of the rank kind. Every man that belongs to the CIO has to pay tribute to the "racket" collector. He is the big boss, and are they feathering their nests. They make Al Capone look like a piker.—Lockney Beacon.

Mrs. Wallis Simpson received her final divorce Monday and is now at liberty to marry an ex-king who gave up his throne for her. Women over 40 all over the world feel encouraged by this example that a woman of experience still has by far the edge over a young sweet thing. They recall that Cleopatra and Helen of Troy were no flappers at the time they set the world a-fire.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Deck Wells, our live-wire newspaper pal over at Wellington, held open house in his modern, new plant Saturday and four of us from The Texas office went over and paid Deck's staff a neighborly call. And boy, has he got a beautiful layout! The whole interior is done in ivory, mechanical department and all, and his plant is modernistic to the smallest detail. There were flowers banked around that newspaper office so much that when we started in we thought we had made a mistake and were walking into a floral shop.—Shamrock Texas.

Did you notice the House of Representatives refused to pass the Uni-Cameral Bill, which would reduce the number of state legislators to 42 and do away with the House of Representatives, but at the same time voted favorably the bill to increase the salaries of Representatives to $5,000 per year, paid annually? But then isn't that human nature?—Dalhart Texan.

Whenever I summon enough courage to try on a new straw hat and dare a hasty glance in the mirror, I am amazed at the length a salesman will go to keep his record of never allowing a prospect to escape. Lying with such a cultivated finish deserves greater reward than the adoration of fellow salesmen and a necktie at Christmas.—Matafor Tribune.

Any man may be able to read his wife like a book, but can he shut her up?—Foard County News.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE

NOTES

By BURTON SHANNON

You don't buy memberships in the Chamber of Commerce—you buy co-operation of the most able business men of the town.

A delegation composed of County Judge Puett of Wheeler County, Bedford Harrison, manager of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, and Albert Cooper, publisher of the Shamrock Texan, were in Memphis last week and held a conference with county, city, and Chamber of Commerce officials regarding efforts to secure an increase in working hours and wages for WPA workers throughout Hall County.

The Senate agriculture committee has approved the Bankhead bill appropriating $1,800,000 to purchase outstanding participation trust certificates in the 1933 cotton producers' pool. This bill would authorize the secretary of agriculture to purchase until January 31, 1938, certificates at $1 per 500-pound bale, or one-fifth of a cent a pound, from holders of record May 1, this year.

On April 29, the House passed a Senate bill to aid soil conservation in the Panhandle. The proposal would create the Panhandle Water Conservation districts in 32 counties. Sponsors say this water conservation program together with work under the wind erosion bill passed two years ago would do much to curtail dust storms. Hall County is one of the 32 counties in this district.

The Chamber of Commerce has received samples of cottonseed from Frederick, Okla., showing the Acala No. 8 cottonseed in the lint, the waste from it, and the finished product, after the seed has been delinted, disinfected, selected, and graded by U. S. patented process. The Memphis Chamber of Commerce is earnestly and intensely interested in encouraging in every way possible and giving every cooperation possible to the farmers and cotton growers of Hall County in their efforts to grow a more drought-proof, more productive, and a more profitable grade of cotton. These samples are on display in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Shannon will be very glad to show them to every farmer interested in growing a better staple of cotton.

The activities of the Chamber of Commerce cover so great a field, and its functions are so many and varied, that it would be impossible to enumerate them all. Yet, no matter how insignificant an inquiry may appear, no matter how distant from the Chamber's normal work a subject may be, this Chamber at all times endeavors to render assistance that will reflect credit and honor upon the city and the trade territory it so ably represents.

Let's go forward—be a member of the largest business organization in this city—the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

Vacancies Exist In U. S. Army Service

Vacancies now exist for engineers at Fort Logan, Colorado; in the medical department at the Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver; in the infantry and field artillery, Fort Warren, Wyo. There are also a few quartermaster vacancies at all of these posts. Applicants for these army positions accepted now will be given their choice of these assignments.

Men enlisting now will find army life much different from the army they fathers and older friends knew during the World War, it is said. They will enjoy better food, better quarters, more-to-measure uniforms, opportunities and privileges the "old timer" never imagined.

After passing the required examinations at Amarillo, applicants are forwarded to Denver at once, all expenses paid by the government.

Everyone interested is requested to call or write Sergeant R. A. Jackson, Army Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas.

More Mileage to you— BREAD & BUTTER TO ME

My station is all on its own. My living's got to come mostly from just you people right here. I want your steady trade, so's to build a real growing business. And there's where it helps me a lot, I can tell you, to be selling Conoco Germ Processed oil. You see it makes customers and keeps them for me. It's patented—the only oil that can Oil-Plate your engine. Meaning that a definite part of this oil always fastens direct to every working part... forms a real Plating of oil, which can't run down. Other oils will "dry off" every time you park, but Oil-Plating can't, so you'll never make any hard, grinding starts. And that ends the worst wear of all. Or when you're hitting it up all day, you won't find this real Oil-Plating rubbing right off, like just some plain little drops of oil. Oil-Plating's not thinning out either, nor burning right up. Which gives you mighty solid reasons why Oil-Plating means more mileage from your engine and your Conoco Germ Processed oil. Besides making customers, I get a kick out of changing you to an oil I can believe in myself, right to the limit.

ing for an unpleasant time if they persist in breaking window panes with their sling-shots or "nigger shooters." Citizens of the town are watching these youngsters and will report to the officers the first time they start such practices. The parents might also help to put a stop to the pernicious practices.

There is one newspaper man in the Panhandle who is stepping out like "nobody's business." He is none other than that young cousin of mine—Deskins Wells. After making the Wellington Leader one of America's prize winning weekly newspapers, then making it Texas' best weekly, and many other honors that make the rest of us newspaper editors green with envy, he goes one step further or farther (take your choice) by fixing up his office building from front to back until it looks like a stock broker's place of business instead of an ordinary country newspaper office. And to rub it in on his fellow sufferers still more, Deek had open house all one Saturday when "all seven" of his subscribers and hundreds of other people visited his new office, walked around on the painted concrete floor, gazed at the highly polished office furniture, and wondered about the machinery in the back which had been painted in bright and loud colors.

Deskins is to be complimented and commended for such forward-looking activities; it took not only money, but a lot of confidence in the future of his town to make the improvements.

Mrs. Rose L. Haynes, 71, passed away in Miami at the home of her son, R. B. Haynes, editor of the Miami Chief, Saturday, May 1. For the past eight years she was associate editor of the Chief. Prior to that time she taught primary grades in Claude, Memphis, and Lubbock schools, extending over a period of 40 years.

The Haynes family and the writer's family have been life-long friends. One of the first schools I attended when a lad was the old Union Hill school between the towns of Crafton and Sunset, in Wise County. While attending the school taught by Rev. Haynes, his son Ed R. Haynes and Miss Rose Hedgecock married and the bride taught for her father-in-law a few days and tried to impress some of the words in the old Blue Back Speller on my mind.

Mrs. Haynes leaves a host of pupils who will remember her as a teacher who took an interest in her pupils and whose friendship they prized very highly. One more life is gone that through the years touched my life very definitely. During the past few years many life-long friends have been called from this life, and each one's passing leaves another vacant chair to gather the dust of the future years.

way 4, thence westward to intersect Highway 5 at Memphis.

The definite route will be selected by the highway commission, upon recommendation of Mr. Nabers, the division engineer, after the surveys have been completed.

It has been pointed out that tourists have long needed the proposed highway, as it would provide a much shorter route for traffic from Oklahoma and points north and east to Highway 5, leading to the central and southeastern sections of Texas, or to the northwestern part of the state. It would also shorten the distance by many miles from points in Oklahoma to the Southern Plains and Southwest Texas.

The commission members favored a proposed route from Memphis west through the Palo Duro Canyons, but stated that officials here should work at present on the Memphis-Hollis route.

A delegation of 14 from this county, sponsored by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, went to Amarillo Thursday of last week to attend a banquet held in honor of Judge Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the commission; Col. Harry Hines, past chairman; Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission; and Judge C. V. Terrell, member of the Texas Railroad Commission.

The Hall County delegation was composed of O. V. Alexander, president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce; County Judge M. O. Goodpasture, Commissioner Butler Morrison, Commissioner A. R. McMaster, F. N. Foxhall, chairman of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce highway committee; J. E. King, Mayor J. Claude Wells, C. C. Meacham, Frank Foxhall, George R. Cullin, and Burton Shannon, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

After the banquet representatives of the Hall County delegation held a conference with the highway commission and arranged a further conference to be held in Clarendon on Friday night. A delegation from Memphis met with the commissioners in Clarendon and invited them to Memphis the following morning for breakfast, in order to go over a more detailed presentation of the Hollis-to-Memphis highway project.

Texas to Become Americas' Playground When Pan American Exposition Opens In Dallas on June 12th for 20-Week Run

DALLAS, May 12.—With the opening of the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition here on June 12 for a run of twenty weeks, the Southwest becomes the playground of the Americas. Revolving around the Pan American Casino, a huge air-conditioned theater where the stars of stage, screen and radio will be presented with an international revue eclipsing any other venture in the history of the American theatre, the entertainment plan of the Exposition, under the direction of George Marshall, Washington empresaria, provides amusement of every type to suit the individual whims and fancies of each visitor.

the show will be created by Joe Mielziner, New York scene designer. In the Symphony Shell, an open air theater seating more than 4,000 persons, light and comic operas, concerts and a symphony season will be presented from time to time. The Villa Panamericana, or Pan American Village, by day will afford the visitor a chance to go abroad at home where he can see the colorful events that go into daily life below the Rio Grande. By night in the bull ring gay fiestas, featuring celebrated entertainers from the capitals of the nations to the south, will vie strongly for entertainment seekers. On the largest stage in the world a panorama drama presenting more than five centuries of conquest and advancement in the New World, "The Cavalcade of the Americas" will pass in review. Employing more than 300 actors, this spectacle will be one of the outstanding events of the Exposition. An idea of the scale of the production can be gained by visualizing a stage large enough to accommodate a volcano and an entire Aztec city.

In addition to these outstanding amusement centers, the innumerable shows and attractions on the half-mile long midway make the Pan American Exposition one of the greatest centers of entertainment this summer not only in the Southwest but in the entire country.

Memorial Planned For New London's Gas Blast Victims

LONDON, Rusk County, Texas, May 12.—Bereaved parents, still stunned by the terrible tragedy which took the lives of some 456 students and teachers in the London school, met recently to plan a fitting memorial to their loved ones. From this meeting of the leaders of the community grew a plan to create a student loan and scholarship fund as a living memorial to those who lost their lives in the disaster. Citizens, the world over, are asked to contribute to this worthy cause.

The Memorial is to be an educational foundation—nation-wide in benefit and under the supervision of a National Advisory Council. Funds of the foundation will be used to educate needy and ambitious students who would otherwise be deprived of a college education.

Surviving students of a typing class in the school, which was destroyed, were this week typing letters to go out to school superintendents of Texas asking that they sponsor contributions in every school in the state.

Governor James V. Allred and Congressman Morgan G. Sanders were the first to wire their acceptances of places on the National Advisory Council. The Texas Governor wired other governors in the United States asking them to declare the month of May a memorial month for New London and to make and send their contributions to Mr. Sam Warren, treasurer of the New London Memorial Association, Overton, Tex.

Headquarters for the Memorial have been established in Henderson, Texas, Rusk County seat, in the high school building.

Few File Claims of Payments for Old Age Benefits

DALLAS, May 12.—Although it is estimated that approximately 4,000 persons in Texas are now eligible to file claims for lump-sum payments due them under the Federal Old-Age Benefits provisions of the Social Security Act, only 21 claims from Texas had been received in the Washington offices of the Social Security Board for adjudication at the most recent tabulation, it was announced today by E. L. Tutt, manager of the Dallas field office of the Board.

The Board has estimated that 12,037 persons or their estates in Texas will become eligible for lump-sum payments during 1937 and that about $225,000 may be paid in these benefits. The number of claims filed during the year may not equal the estimated number eligible, however, because, where small amounts of money have been involved, some eligible persons have elected not to file a claim.

The Board also has estimated that, during the year, for each person in covered employment who attains age 65, two others will die before reaching that age. Thus, about two "death" claims are expected to be filed for each "alive" claim.

Lump-sum payments are made to those persons in covered employments since December 31, 1936, who at age 65 fail to qualify for monthly benefits either because they have not received total included wages of at least $2,000 or because wages have not been paid them for employment in each of five calendar years after December 31, 1936, and before they have reached age 65.

Claims forms and assistance in executing them are available at the Dallas field office, Tutt said.

Jerusalem Man Visits Section To Study Soil Conservation Methods Used Here

Soil conservation methods for the control of wind erosion must have one hundred per cent cooperation from all persons concerned in order to be a complete success is the opinion expressed to SCS officials of this area by A. J. Grasovsky, British government representative of Jerusalem, Palestine, who is on an inspection tour through the United States.

Grasovsky recently visited this area, studying the wind and soil erosion conditions prevailing here. He is connected with the department of forests in Palestine, but has been assigned to the Imperial Institute of Oxford University for 14 months. He is spending two months in the United States, dividing his time between the U. S. Forest Service and the Soil Conservation Service. He is seeking ideas that may be applied to soil conservation in Palestine and other British possessions.

The visitor warns that pasture contour furrowing and other methods of conserving moisture must not be looked upon as a means of making possible the raising of more cattle, but rather to make it possible to provide for the present herds. He foresees a danger of a return to the same conditions now prevailing if herds are increased after range lands have been stabilized.

"Terracing is pretty much the same world over," Grasovsky points out. "Terracing has been practiced in Palestine for 1,500 years. Methods differ a little in other countries, but all seek the same results—the conservation of moisture and prevention of erosion."

Sand dune control is another world-wide problem, Grasovsky says. He points out that in other parts of the world efforts are being made to stabilize sand dunes by establishing a vegetative covering, rather than to eliminate them entirely.

Grasovsky will sail from San Francisco on May 15, and will visit Japan, China, India, and Arabia before returning to Palestine. In Arabia, the British government official says he will seek the "missing link" in vegetation between Asia and Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Anthony of Burkburnett spent Mother's Day here with his mother, Mrs. C. E. Anthony.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anisman and son Sheldon and Gershon Marcus were visitors in Amarillo Sunday.

Local Youth Gets Promotion in CCC

Edd Smith of Memphis, who left here about a month ago for service in the Civilian Conservation Corps at Clifton, Ariz., believes in the possibilities of advancement in the CCC.

He was with the company at Clifton hardly more than two weeks until he was made a leader and was given command of a group of men. It was the first time in the history of the camp that a new enrollee had been made a leader. He plans and directs the work for his crew of men.

"We get the Democrat," young Smith wrote. "It sure is fine to get the Democrat. After we pass it around to the boys we know want to read it, we leave it in the library for other boys to read."

Young Smith, son of Mrs. Ada Smith and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hackney, of Memphis, is one of a large number of youths sent from here recently for CCC work in Arizona.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Ballew left Sunday for Fort Worth to attend the State Medical Association in session there the first part of the week. They will go from there on a trip to Galveston.

Memphis Golfers Win Match From Mangum Players

The crack Memphis golf team defeated the Mangum golfers in an inter-city match last Sunday afternoon at Mangum to keep its record of all wins and no defeats intact. Mangum, however, furnished the locals the stiffest competition of any of the opposing teams to date.

It was the first visit to Mangum by the local linksmen, Mangum being a new member of the Greenbelt Golf Association. The Memphis golfers reported that Mangum has one of the most beautiful golf courses in the country, with a beautiful lake on the links and with winding streams running through the course. It is surrounded by mountains.

Memphis golfers won the match 6-4, as follows, with Memphis players listed first: Thomas Hampton downed Barnett, 3-2; Reginald Greenhaw defeated Overton, 5-4; Ed Foxhall won from Duffey, 4-3; Carl Harrison bested Lovett, 3-4; R. Toy Balloons To Be Released Over State

More than 4,000 yellow balloons about nine inches in diameter, each carrying a numbered tag to be detached and dropped in the mail by the finder, are to be released in an interesting experiment to determine the effect of winds upon the spread of the cotton flea hopper, and other injurious insects.

This experiment is being conducted cooperatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Releases are to be made from South and Central Texas.

It is known that these insects are carried considerable distances on the winds, and it is hoped that additional information may be obtained regarding the direction of the air currents and the distances that the insects might drift.

Persons finding the balloons are requested to fill out the tags with location where found, their own names and addresses, so that acknowledgement may be made with information regarding the experiment.

Will Star at Fort Worth Fiesta

Angelic is the word for Miss Harriet Hector, world's greatest dancer, who will thrill the throngs with her grace and beauty at the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta as one of the stars of Billy Rose's Casa Manana Revue of 1937—all new and different, on the world's biggest revolving stage. Miss Hector was featured in the super-film "The Great Ziegfeld" and formerly was a star in the Ziegfeld Follies. Recently, she completed a motion picture with Fred Astaire.

Continental Begins Another Campaign In This Newspaper

Convinced that newspaper space represents the most advantageous medium for merchandising its products as evidenced by substantial increases in sales the Continental Oil Company is again launching a large-scale advertising campaign in some 1,400 carefully selected papers in all sections of the nation.

The campaign, which starts this week in The Democrat, will continue into September and is distinguished by the fact it features the local dealer as well as the company's oil.

The Continental Oil Company and their advertising agents have ascertained that their best sales results have always followed the use of newspaper advertising.

The company is well represented here by wholesale and retail stations.

Bob Burns Is Hog Caller In Comedy At Local Theatre

Bob Burns, drawing Ozark philosopher, who plays in "Waikiki Wedding" with Big Crosby, Martha Raye, and Shirley Ross, a comedy which comes to the Palace Theatre on Wednesday of next week, gets a chance to do some hog calling, in the film, an accomplishment in which he excelled but which he hasn't used in years.

During his boyhood years in Van Buren, Burns explained, he not only called the barnyard porkers to mess but employed his unique talents in "calling" wild razorbacks in the White River Bottoms while on hunting expeditions.

Miss Raye, who appears to have just the mouth for it, assists him in the film.

SIDELIGHTS

By MARVIN JONES
Congressman from Panhandle

The special five million dollar provision for the Dust Bowl has been approved by the House of Representatives, and has gone to the Senate for action there. Of course, if the Senate declines to approve the appropriation, the money will not be available. However, I see no reason why the Senate should not take favorable action.

I hope it will be possible for this step to be taken and for final approval to be obtained in the near future in order that work can get under way to combat the dust storms and their effects.

This is a special program which will be supplemental to the regular soil conservation set-up. It is intended to help farmers curtail the blowing of dust this season and next by means of allowances for various types of special erosion control practices.

Several of us have been working on this matter for some time, and we are very glad to get it this far on the way.

In a recent message to Congress, the President placed emphasis on the necessity of following a very careful course in government expenditures.

Now that the depression is behind us, the great burden of immediate emergency relief is lessened. The problem now is to taper off expenditures and bring them within the government's income.

I am in full accord with the move to economize on public expenditures. No government can last which persists indefinitely in spending more than it makes.

Many of the temporary activities can be curtailed. Some of the regular department activities will be able to get along on less.

However, I feel that the urgent need in the Great Plains area justifies an allotment of funds which will—taking a broad, long-time view of the situation—be in the interest of national economy.

Soil conservation in our section is an important part of the general agricultural program, and that program must go forward.

So long as we have a tariff system, we must have an effective program for the farmer and ranchman to bring industry and agriculture more into balance.

In the past several years we have been engaged in obtaining this balance, and we must not lose our hold on the things we have already gained as a result of the improvements with which we are all familiar.

The knife that does the economy paring can cut away much excess, but we cannot allow it to slip and injure such a vital feature of this administration's work.
