HANDLE FIREMEN WILL CONVENE IN MEMPHIS MONDAY

TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES ARE EXPECTED HERE

Two-Day Meet To Open Monday At Local Legion Hall

Firemen representing volunteer fire companies from 70 counties in West Texas will convene here Monday for the 10th Annual Convention of the Panhandle Firemen's Association. The program is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock Monday morning, the first two hours of the day being consumed by the registering of delegates at the city hall. At 10 o'clock the first session of the convention will be called to order by President John Huntley of Vernon. Rev. O. W. Carter, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Memphis will lead the invocation and the welcome address will be delivered by J. Claude Wells, mayor of Memphis. A member of the Childers fire department will respond to Mayor Wells' welcome, which will be followed by the roll call and reading of the minutes of the last meeting. The annual report of the secretary and treasurer will be heard at the morning session.

The meeting will be interspersed with musical and specialty entertainment numbers.

Three addresses are scheduled for Monday's afternoon session. After reassembly in the American Legion Hall, where the convention meetings are to be held, (Continued on page 8)

Deep Season Gives Hall County Crops Start Over Heat

Hall County crops are good this year. Reports from farmers living in various portions of the county indicate that good crops in cotton and feed can be expected this fall if prevailing conditions continue. However this week crops have suffered some from the hot, dry weather according to these reports.

Sufficient moisture has been retained by the soil in most parts of the county to insure good harvests, it is stated, and if light showers and cloudy weather will prevail during some of the hot days of August Hall County may expect good returns from agriculture.

Reports from Deep Lake, Salisbury, Newlin and Friendship indicate that the cotton and feed stuff are standing the hot weather well and have a deep enough season to make without a great deal of additional rainfall.

Long Time Hall Resident Dies Saturday At Home of Son at Dalhart

Funeral services for William J. McMurry, 73, were held Sunday afternoon at the Lakeview Baptist Church, the Rev. R. G. Bristler, pastor of the church, in charge. Interment was made in the Lakeview cemetery with the King Funeral Service of Memphis in charge of the arrangements.

Deceased died at the home of his son W. D. McMurry at Dalhart at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning, August 6, after an illness of just a few days. He had been on a visit with his daughter and son in Los Angeles just three weeks prior to his death. He was a native of Deatur County, Tenn., having been born there April 7, 1865, and came to Texas early in life. He came to this section of the Panhandle in 1886 and served as a cowboy on some of the ranches here. He was married to Miss Eula Oliver at Crafton, Texas, in December, 1896, and moved to Hall County more than 25 years ago. His wife died June 25, 1924, and was buried in the Lakeview cemetery. He was a member of the Baptist Church, having identified himself with that organization during his boyhood at Springtown, Texas. Three of his brothers, George, Jim and Ward McMurry, are also buried in the Lakeview cemetery.

At the funeral Sunday afternoon the pallbearers were B. J. Smith, R. M. Holt, J. H. Robertson, Luke Frizzell, Herb Barbee and L. P. Blevins. Honorary pallbearers were John Byers, J. E. Hughes, L. P. Alexander, W. E. Henry, and Freeman Butler. Those in charge of flowers were Mrs. Ross Springer, Mrs. Marion Alexander, Mrs. C. A. Orrell, Mrs. J. N. Byars, Mrs. W. E. Henry and Mrs. Morris Robertson.

The children were all present except Oliver McMurry who could not get here from California.

Parents Call For Boy Abandoned In City 4 Weeks Ago

Story Told By Parents To Sheriff Hill Did Not Tally With Story Told By Boy

The parents of Milford Delt Conklin, 9-year-old boy who stated he was abandoned here four weeks ago, came for him Monday and took him from the custody of Sheriff Lindsey Hill. Since the boy was discovered playing on the Hall County court house lawn early in July he has been under the care of Sheriff Hill at his home here in the county jail. The parents of the boy who gave their residence as Kingsville, stated that he ran away from them at Quanah, supposedly riding to Memphis on a fruit truck. However, the story told by the boy did not tally with that told by his parents inasmuch as he claimed that he was left here.

The boy's father is in itinerant scissors grinder and the family was traveling north, according to the boy's story, when he was abandoned.

Arrangements had already been made by Judge M. O. Goodpasture, county judge of Hall County, to have the boy placed in an orphanage at Waco, since his parents had not returned for him and no one had presented themselves for adoption.

Beasley Rites Are Held Here Tuesday

Funeral services for J. M. Beasley, 57, were held Friday afternoon at the First Christian Church here with Rev. E. C. Carrell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, conducting the rites. The deceased died at his home near Lakeview Wednesday. He was a native of Evansville, Tenn., having been born there June 3, 1881.

Surviving are his wife of Lakeview, two sons, Charles and Milton Beasley, Memphis; and a daughter, Mrs. Ed Castner, Lubbock. Also surviving are his father, four brothers and one sister.

HALL COUNTY TO PARTICIPATE IN WTCC CONSERVATION MOVEMENT

The organization of the Hall County Soil and Water Utilization Committee was effected Saturday morning in a meeting held in the County Court room. The purpose of the committee is to assist Hall County farmers and landowners to participate in a contest sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in which all countries in the West Texas Chamber area are permitted to enter and in which $1,000 is given in prizes.

The committee is headed by R. E. Pattillo as chairman, John Russell of Estelline, vice chairman; and John Key, vocational agriculture teacher in the Memphis schools, secretary. Committee members include M. O. Goodpasture, county judge; Ed Leary, Banker; Carroll Smyers, secretary of Memphis Chamber of Commerce; Sam T. Harrison, West Texas Chamber of Commerce Director; Roy Dunlap, vocational agriculture teacher at Lakeview; John Sharp, of Turkey; J. T. Reese, superintendent of the Soil Conservation Service at the CCC camp; W. L. Knapp, SCS conservationist; and A. D. Hendricks, farmer, of Estelline.

The committee voted to file application with the West Texas Chamber for Hall County to participate in the contest which will be an annual affair for each calendar year. This contest is the result of an effort of the Chamber to find some means through which West Texas farmers and ranchers can curb the menace of wind and water erosion and thereby insure the proper utilization of soil moisture. In addition to the conservation practices, which are its primary aim, the contest has

Early Resident of Hall County Had Been In Ginning Business For Thirty Years; Died Suddenly Tuesday Afternoon At Gin Here

School Board Has Meeting To Discuss Building and Bonds

Pullis Resignation Accepted And Other Band Directors Are To Be Considered Soon

Funeral services for William Gerlach, 62, prominent Memphis citizen and cotton ginner, were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist Church here, the Rev. O. W. Carter, pastor, conducting the rites. Interment was made in Fairview Cemetery with the Memphis Lodge No. 729, A. F. & A. M., of which the deceased was a past master, in charge of the service at the grave. Burial arrangements were made by the King Funeral Home.

Mr. Gerlach died suddenly some time during the late afternoon Tuesday. He had gone to his gin in the southeast part of town and his body was found several hours later by his son Carl in the engine room of the gin where he had been preparing to take a shower bath when sudden death struck him. Physicians who were called stated that heart-failure was a probable cause of his sudden demise.

He was born January 5, 1876 in Ohio and came to Texas January 1, 1886 with his parents, settling in Dallas County. He was married to Miss Fannie Worley, and to this union nine children were born.

Deceased came to Hall County from Denton in 1904 and first had ginning interests at Plaska. Later he built and operated the first round-bale gin in the county. He had been engaged in the ginning business for 30 years. He was active in civic affairs. Deceased was a member of the Methodist (Continued on page 8)

Surveyors on Dam Looking for Homes

A representative of the United States Army Engineer Corps that will begin the survey of the Upper Red River Flood Control dam near Memphis during this month was here Monday making inquiries at local real estate firms and rental agencies for accommodations for the crew of engineers who will be stationed here during the 90-day work period required for the survey. Ten or fifteen men, some of them with families, will be transferred to this vicinity to carry on the survey of the proposed project and the surrounding area.

It is probable that in the event accommodations cannot be found in Memphis to house the crew, according to authoritative information, an army camp will be established near the proposed dam site and operations be made from that point.

According to information received in Memphis recently from Senator Morris Sheppard by T. J. Dunbar, secretary of the Upper Red River Flood Control Authority Board, the work for making the ground survey will begin during this month and will require approximately 90 days for its completion.

HALL COUNTY LEAGUE BASEBALL

Sunday's playing ended the cur- rent season for the Hall County Baseball League as Memphis met defeat at the hands of the Parnell team at Parnell by a score of 8 to 14 and Hedley fell before the Cross Roads aggregation by a top- heavy score of 16 to 1. At Chil- dress Salisbury won by a forfeit since Childress could not get enough eligible men to play the Sunday game. At the same time Childress gave up the game to Salisbury, they tendered their resignation from the league for the same reason of the forfeit.

Parnell and Memphis ended the season last Sunday with the same amount of games won and lost. Salisbury and Cross Roads ended in a tie.

The four managers met Tues- day morning and decided to draw for places rather than run the season on another Sunday. Mem- phis drew first place and Parnell second; Cross Roads drew third and Salisbury fourth. Next Sun- day the play-off will start with Salisbury at Memphis and Cross Roads at Parnell. Memphis and Salisbury will play a three game series as will Cross Roads and Parnell and the winners of these contests will play a three game series to determine the winner of the Hall County Baseball League.

In the Sunday game between Parnell and Memphis, the Marcus brothers of Parnell were stars of the game bagging three home- runs between them. L. Marcus accounted for two of these four base bingles while J. Marcus brought in the other one. For Memphis, Staggs, pitcher for the Memphis team, clocked up the local's single home-run.

The Sunday game was well sprinkled with errors, Memphis having 14 in their box score.

Batteries for Parnell were Hoover to Coppedge, and for Memphis, Staggs to Crowe.

WELCOME FIREMEN MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Monday and Tuesday of next week delegates from volunteer fire departments representing cities in seventy West Texas counties will assemble in Memphis to be the guests of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department and the City of Memphis at the 10th Annual Panhandle Firemen's Association convention.

Volunteer firemen hold a place of honor in every small city and town. A place that receives the heartfelt appreciation of every resident and citizen of the community they serve. Volunteer firemen stand as a safe-guard between the people of a community and one of their greatest and oldest enemies—destruction and loss by fire. They leave their homes and places of business at any time of day or night, regardless of freezing cold or insufferable heat, to answer the siren call of duty, risk life and limb for the protection of the life and property of their neighbors and ask for no compensation in return for their services.

Such unselfish service deserves all the honor and all the consideration that the people who are served by volunteer firemen can extend. The Democrat is happy to add its voice of welcome to that of the host city and host fire company to the visiting firemen and to extend them the publishers' best wishes for a pleasant and instructive session in Memphis.

THE BALANCE OF POWER

FOR MANY YEARS Texas has suffered from a bad case of "gubernatoritis." At election time stress is always placed on the selection of a man to fill the highest office in the power of the people of Texas and after this office is filled, usually with heated contests in both primary elections, excepting the 1938 election, the state legislature continues to run the affairs of the state.

No discredit is meant to be placed on the office of governor. It is an important post and should be filled carefully with a man who is qualified and a man who has the best interests of the state at heart. However, not enough stress is placed on filling the legislature where the power of the state government actually lies with qualified men and men who are wholeheartedly interested in the affairs of the people.

With the balance of power in the legislature, it is only common sense to exercise the same diligence and care in choosing the legislators as exercised in making the choice to fill the governor's chair. They hold the power that operates the government. Be wise in placing this power in proper hands.

SILENT STEALING

EROSION IS THE greatest foe of the farmer in Hall County. This silent thief each year is stealing an estimate of two acres of each one hundred in West Texas and for little has been done to stop this wanton pillage of the fertility of one of the richest farming sections of Texas.

The most practical solution for the problems that erosion presents is terracing, strip cropping and border planting. Experiments carried on in Dickens County by the State Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service have proven conclusively that these solutions are feasible and practices that must be universally adopted before relief from the inroads of erosion can be found.

Erosion is a greater problem than one farm or one field can cope with and prevention must be carried on by districts or watersheds in order to be practical and to give the farmers who suffer the loss and bear the expense the maximum benefits. One farm on a watershed carefully terraced, strip-cropped and border planted stands little or no erosion while the adjoining farms are unimproved. However, where the entire ridge or topography of a watershed is terraced and planted to prevent erosion, damage is minimized.

This week Hall County is entering into a West Texas Chamber of Commerce movement to check the ravages of erosion of fertile Hall County lands through the various tried and tested methods of prevention. Co-operation with this movement will pay big dividends to Hall County farmers, but it is definitely more than a one-man or a one-community job and must be entered into by everyone to produce a lasting benefit.
