O'DANIEL WINNER IN SENATE RACE

Governor's Lead Boosted To 1,311 Ballots Over Representative Johnson

The official canvass of the recent senatorial race gave Governor W. Lee O'Daniel a lead of 1,311 votes over Representative Lyndon B. Johnson, his nearest opponent.

O'Daniel, in the unofficial count by the Texas Election Bureau, an organization sponsored by Texas newspapers, led with 1,057 in the final tabulation.

The governor's total vote was 175,590 to 174,279 for Johnson. In third place was Attorney-General Gerald C. Mann, with Representative Martin Dies, anti-Americanism candidate, in fourth place. The score of other candidates received all together only about 4,000 votes.

The governor's gain in the official count over the unofficial tabulations was 254 votes. His statement was: "I am very happy at the result." He added that he has "no plans to announce at present."

The state election board is composed of the secretary of state, the governor, and the attorney-general. Secretary of State William Lawson opened the official returns from the counties in the presence of O'Daniel and Assistant Attorney-General Grover Sellers, who represented Mann.

Governor O'Daniel may resign the governorship very soon, some observers believe, leaving the office to Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson, and go to Washington to present himself for recognition and qualification.

Other observers believe that he will not resign at all, but merely go to the capital when ready, take the oath, and thereby automatically vacate the governor's chair. Johnson has declared that he will not contest the election, and it is believed that no other candidate or citizen will desire to contest the official count.

Two Memphians Now in Marines

Two Memphis youths, William Paul Weathersbee and Paul J. Frisbie, have recently enlisted for service in the U. S. Marine Corps, and will be transferred to the recruit depot at San Diego, Calif.

Weathersbee, son of Mrs. Allie Mae Weathersbee, enlisted at the Memphis post office last Friday, and will be sent to district headquarters in Oklahoma City. He will go to San Diego from there. Weathersbee has had one year of college work at New Mexico A. and M.

Frisbie, son of Mrs. Maude I. Frisbie of Memphis, applied for enlistment July 7 in Amarillo. He was accepted at the Oklahoma City office the following day and has been sent to San Diego. He is a graduate of Carey High School.

N. B. Writes—

TONIGHT IS ANOTHER LOTTERY

Dear Mom,

You've heard of the U-boats, the T-boats, and the S-curves, but now the government is beginning another similar phrase—this time known as the S-number. The S-number really is the "sequence number" and it's what is being given to the new "N. B. Tweenages" throughout the nation who registered July 1.

Tonight, Mom, is the night for those new draftees-to-be, for tonight there's to be another lottery. Incidentally, this is about the only lottery I ever knew of that a newspaper could fully publicize and not have its mailing privileges taken away.

The N. B. Tweenages have been increased about 800,000 by the July 1 registration. In order to do something with the names, the Selective Service leaders have devised a method of "fairness and impartiality."

Here's the way it will be worked: A set of serial numbers, each preceded by "S," from "S-1" to include the largest number used by any local board in the country in assigning serial numbers to the new registrants, will be drawn

Legislature Asked To Reconvene by County Officials

Judges, Commissioners Offer Compromise for Bond Assumption Issue

Commissioners and judges of 17 West Texas counties urged a special session of the Texas legislature to dispose of the bond assumption issues, when they met in Plainview Monday.

The county officials, meeting jointly with the Texas State Highway Improvement Association, in addition to urging disposal of the bond assumption issues, proposed a compromise to reconcile divergent factions.

The proposal included the following points:

First, that all bonds assumed heretofore including January 2, 1939, be paid as provided by the Bond Assumption Act of the 46th Legislature, which set aside one cent of the state gasoline tax for that purpose.

Second, that $1,500,000 be set aside out of the surplus for the lateral road account for counties as of the 1939 act.

Third, that the state board of county and district road indebtedness assume bonds voted since January 2, 1939, and before January 1, 1941, where proceeds have been or will be expended on state designated routes, under the supervision and direction of the highway department.

County Judge M. O. Goodpasture, who was unable to attend the Monday meeting, said last week that the failure of the legislature to re-enact the bond assumption law will result in the levying of additional taxes in Hall County on property of all kinds.

Minister Moyer Now in Clarendon

Minister J. L. Moyer, evangelist of the Memphis Church of Christ for the past 20 months, has moved to Clarendon, where he has accepted the ministerial office of the church there.

No successor to Minister Moyer has yet been named, it was learned this week. Choosing of the new minister will probably be delayed until after the summer revival meeting, to be held late in August, it was reported.

Cheese Company Okays Contract To Lease Building

The contract for the lease of the Davenport building by the Kraft Cheese Company was approved by officials yesterday, Mrs. B. E. Davenport was informed by wire.

In addition to the approval of the contract, the cheese plant became a step nearer reality this week when the city council passed an ordinance providing certain facilities for the plant, and when the first equipment arrived in the city.

The council ordinance, in fulfilling the requirements of the cheese company, calls for the providing of adequate sewer facilities for the plant, and also assures the plant of future means of egress and ingress.

COTTON ACREAGE MAY BE REDUCED

AAA Committee Head Explains How Reduction Is Possible Under Program

It is permissible for Hall County cotton producers to dispose of cotton to comply with the supplementary cotton program to bring their acreage reduction in line with the reduction indicated on their intention sheets, D. A. Neeley, chairman of the Hall County AAA committee, has announced.

This is made possible, Neeley explained, by the recent amendment to the 1941 agricultural conservation program which provides that acreage will not be considered as planted cotton of the cotton is disposed of before reaching the bolling stage or within 10 days after notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later.

"Under no circumstances, however, may a cotton producer receive cotton stamps for reducing more acreage than he signed on his original intention sheet on the cotton stamp program," Neeley pointed out.

"To make this ruling clearer," Neeley said, "assume, just for illustration to bring out my point, that a cotton producer has a 1941 cotton allotment of 50 acres, and receive cotton stamps, indicated a reduction of 2 acres. This would permit 48 acres to be planted to cotton for this year. However, (Continued on page 7)

Church of Christ Bible School to Be Started Monday

Classes to Be Held Each Morning; Teachers of Various Subjects Named

The regular vacation Bible school of the Memphis Church of Christ will begin Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock, it was announced this week.

Each morning class, one on each day Monday through Friday of the next two weeks, will begin at 8:30 and end at 11 o'clock. The school will close Friday, August 1.

An interesting and educational schedule has been arranged, with competent teachers for the classes, it was pointed out.

The school will be conducted for young people beginning with the age of 5 years, and will be open to anyone who may be interested in any subject taught. Teachers chosen for the classes, and their subjects, are as follows: Mrs. Walter White, music; Miss Velma Sweet, home and marriage; Mrs. E. F. Hairgrove, Bible history; Mrs. Thurman Eller, miscellaneous Bible; Mrs. G. J. Foxhall, kindergarten (age 5 and 6); Miss Willkie Black, assistant in kindergarten class.

Perkins Victor in First-Half Summer Softball; Second-Half of Play Starts

The one-loss softball team sponsored by Perkins Furniture came through to take the first half of the league, and play in the second half was begun Monday night.

The Perkins team, winning six tilts and dropping only one in the first half, were crowded by three teams which tied for second. Winning five games and losing two to put them in second place were teams sponsored by the C. and F. Grocery, Phillips 66, and Cudd service station.

The Memphis Fire Department team copped third place with three victories and four losses, while fourth place was held by the FFA and H. S. team which won one and lost six tilts. In fifth place were the Forty-Niners, and Cudd's who dropped all seven games.

Two of the teams, the Forty-Niners, and Cudd's, are dropping from the league for the second half. C. E. Headstream, supervisor of the games, said this week. A team from Lakeview, however, will enter the affray during the second half.

In case of a tie—as were the

A. W. Yeats to Give Layman's Lecture Sunday Morning

To Talk on 'The Bible as English Literature' at Local Methodist Church

A. W. Yeats, who has completed one year's work at the University of Texas on his doctor's degree with English as a major, will give a layman's lecture Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Methodist Church on the subject, "The Bible as English Literature."

Mr. Yeats, in addition to majoring in English, had for minor work study of the Bible. He has received his bachelor of arts degree from McMurry College, and his masters degree from the University of Texas.

The church will sponsor the construction of a picnic unit at the City Park, Rev. E. L. Yeats, pastor, announced this week. (Continued on page 7)

Lakeview Church Revival Started

A ten-days revival meeting at the Lakeview Methodist Church was started last night, with the pastor, Rev. Frank Story, in charge of the services.

Only evening services are being held this week, the pastor said. After Sunday both morning and evening services will be held. Night services begin at 8:30 o'clock.

The general theme for the services will be "Come, Let Us Reason Together," Rev. Story said.

DRIVE IN COUNTY STARTS MONDAY

Scouts to Aid in Collecting Scrap Metal in Memphis; Officials to Lead in Drive

With the opening date of the drive to collect scrap aluminum throughout the county only a few days away, final preparations were being made this week by County Judge M. O. Goodpasture, Hall County chairman of the drive, and other workers to gather as much of the metal as possible.

The drive will officially open Monday, and will continue throughout the week, Judge Goodpasture said. The county judge was named chairman of the drive last week by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

The county commissioners are leading the drive, Judge Goodpasture said. Commissioner Roy Russell and Lee Vardy have been placed in charge in Turkey; Commissioner Tracy Davis and W. V. Swinburn are leading the drive in Lakeview (the headquarters there are at the post office); Dudley Adams is aiding in the Lesley community; Cal Holland, at Brice; and Commissioner Burl Bell, at Estelline.

The drive in Memphis will be carried on at the same time as the drive in the county, the judge said. Members of the local Boy Scout troops are expected to take the lead in the local campaign, Judge Goodpasture said, although no definite arrangements have yet been made. Announcement of the campaign is to be made in the various churches of the city.

Citizens were urged to collect (Continued on page 7)

Mrs. Weatherly Dies at Estelline; Rites Held There

81-Year-Old Resident Had Lived in County Since 1908; Burial There

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the West Side Church of Christ in Estelline for Mrs. Sarah Weatherly, resident of that community since 1908.

Rites were conducted by Rev. Bill Gibson. Interment was in the Estelline Cemetery under the direction of King's Mortuary.

She was survived by six children, her husband having preceded her in death.

Mrs. Weatherly was born November 2, 1859, in Tennessee, and came to this county in 1908. She had lived in Estelline since coming to this section.

Flower bearers were Rachel Sain, Gertrude Leeper, Louise Blessingame, Clorine Morrison, Marguerite Crump, and Millie Mopin.

Fallbearers were J. L. Darby, Grover Ewing, Ralph Leeper, Wea Nivens, Jake Morrison, and Nolan McClendon.

Funeral Rites Held For Hughs Infant

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Church of Christ for Winifred Elaine Hughs, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hughs. Joe Findley, minister of the First Christian Church, conducted the rites. The 6-day-old child died early Monday morning. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of the Womack Funeral Home.

Survivors included the parents; and three grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Strickland, and J. E. Hughs.

Funeral Rites Held For Reed Infant

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for George Daniel Reed, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Reed of Lakeview, who died early Wednesday morning.

Interment was at Lakeview, under the direction of Womack Funeral home.

Insurance Approved

Wheat insurance claims have been approved for wheat growers E. R. Galento and J. L. Young. The crop insurance superintendent announced.

Claims cover a total of 296,955 bushels on wheat and represent only 10 percent of the indemnity to be paid producers. Galento's 1941 crop of 11,040 bushels was damaged by rust, plant diseases and late rains at harvest time. A growth of weeds so late that harvest was impossible. Young's wheat was damaged by rust and late rains.

Galento's claim for 11,040 bushels of wheat was approved for $1,000. Young's claim for 285,915 bushels of wheat was approved for $1,000.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is expected to begin about August 1.

"Executive's" Epic Excuse Halts Battle of the Bums

BY ART BRONSON

ANTONIO GALENTO, that charming little barrel from Joisey City, who blabbed his way from the back parlor of a saloon to the canvas of Madison Square Garden (courtesy J. Louis, prop.), has come to the defense of American business.

Fortunate indeed are the entrepreneurs of the country to have such an articulate champion as Tony. As chairman of the board, president, and vice president-in-charge-of-dispensing at Galento's Riviera, East Orange, N. J., Tony has come forward in support of American business ethics.

The story, briefly, is this. Mr. Galento has been rather remiss of late in his pugilistic obligations. After much ballyhoo a Galento "comeback" was arranged at Abilene, Tex. His opponent was to be another executive of repute, King Levinsky, who was engaged as a sole proprietor selling razor blades in Chicago's Loop not too long ago. Prior to that he was in the fish business as an executive peddler.

Tony Galento... "I'll ruin my business standing."

Executive Galento is neither yellow nor is he lacking in business erudition. His eagerness to tangle with Louis should prove his courage—or his foolhardiness.

As for his commercial savoire-faire, the following is a case in point.

Several years ago, Tony's pub was on the economic rocks. The little man called in a friend of his as business consultant and general statistician.

After looking the place over, the friend decided to get down to business. "Tony," he said, "let me see your books."

"What books?" replied the portly one.

"Do you mean to say you don't keep any books?" asked the friend.

"Listen, pal," retorted Tony, "people come into my place to drink beer, not to read."

WHEN Executive Galento found out that his opponent was to be Executive Levinsky, he balked rather strenuously. In explanation, he gave forth with this epic quotation:

"Some of you may think I'm punchy or wacky, but I'm a business man and property owner. A fight with this—this—Levinsky would lower my standing as both a fighter and a businessman."

Mr. Levinsky, ever brief, replied quite pithily: "He's yellow."

Memphis Girl Is On Camp Program

Assisting in the 18th birthday celebration of Camp Montreat, located 18 miles east of Asheville, N. C., Cassandra Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris of Memphis, took part in the opening "Stunt Night."

Camp Montreat has enrolled campers from 15 states and two foreign countries, filling the housing facilities to capacity. A new recreational hall, arts and crafts studio, a photographic dark room and counselors' retreat have been added recently to the physical equipment.

Miss Morris, a second year camper, also attended the birthday supper hike to Lookout Mountain and the all day hike to Greybeard Mountain. She had as a visitor recently her uncle, Dr. Hunter Blakely, president of Queens College, Charlotte, N. C.

The fruit variety orchard at the Nacogdoches Experiment Station contains 301 peach varieties. Hundreds of farm people inspected these varieties, 230 of which were then bearing, during a recent fruit day program held at the station.

Parity Check Bulk Cashed by 'Small' Farmer Under AAA

Distribution Report Shows Majority of Payees in Small Farmer Classification

So-called "small" farmers are cashing the bulk of the AAA's conservation and parity payments checks, B. F. Vance, administrative officer in charge of the AAA in Texas, declared here this week.

Studying a report made to Congress by the United States Department of Agriculture on the distribution of payments under the 1939 farm program, Vance said that 92 per cent of the agricultural conservation payments and 98 per cent of the price adjustment, or parity, payments were for less than $200. The report to Congress, listing the names of co-operators who earned payments of $1,000 or more showed approximately eight-tenths of one per cent of the total number of payees under the program were in that classification, he said.

"Increasing attention has been given the small farmer in the development of the AAA program," Vance declared. "As provided in the Act, automatic increases are made in conservation payments to farmers when the amounts earned are less than $200, the smaller payments being increased proportionately more than the larger ones. Also, any cooperator may earn a minimum of $20, with an additional allowance of $15 for forest tree practices, making a total of $35 which may be earned on any farm. This $35 payment would be increased to $46 under the provisions for increasing small payments."

The Act also provides that no individual can earn more than $10,000 in agricultural conservation payments, but this provision does not apply to parity payments, the AAA official said.

CCC Officer Is Rotary Speaker

Meredith Hopkins, commanding officer of the Veterans CCC camp, threw curves galore at the regular meeting of the Memphis Rotary Club Tuesday at noon.

Hopkins, former big league baseball player, told of a number of the famous baseball stars, including Babe Ruth and Dizzy Dean, and gave a word picture of several incidents.

He is a former University of Texas student, and following his graduation there he began playing big league baseball. He has been with several of the major league teams, and has been with the local CCC camp for only a few months.

Records made at cotton-insect laboratories of the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that more boll weevils emerged from hibernation last spring than during any recent year.

Agricultural Club At Turkey Makes Annual Report

Group, Under Supervision Of County Agent, Builds 115 Miles of Terraces

The agricultural club of Pdesinct No. 4, Turkey, directed and supervised by County Agent W. B. Hooser, in a report issued last week showed that a total of 1153-4 miles of terraces had either been constructed or rebuilt during the past year.

Excessive rains prevented some of the terracing work required of the group before crop planting time, John Sharp, secretary-treasurer of the group, said.

New terraces were placed on 14 farms which totaled 1,600 acres. The terraces, 154 in number, stretched for a distance of 47 miles.

Terraces were rebuilt on 18 farms with a total of 2,650 acres. The 172 terraces reach 68 3-4 miles.

School Transfer Deadline August 1

August 1 is the last date for students to transfer from the rural schools to the higher-grade schools for further training, County Superintendent Tops Gilreath said this week.

Students whose grades are not taught in their home districts are those to transfer, the county superintendent explained. This means, of course, that students who have completed their rural school curriculum have to transfer to a district where high school work is taught.

The transfers cannot be accepted through the mail, Miss Gilreath said, but either the students or their parents must appear in person at the county superintendent's office.

Former Resident Has Serious Eye Injury

Tom Landers of Lamesa suffered a serious eye injury last week, when a piece of steel about the size of a pencil eraser was driven into his right eye as he was working with a welding concern. He was holding the piece of steel which was being welded, and the small piece broke and was thrown into his eye. It has not been learned whether he will lose his eye, but it is almost certain that his sight in that eye will be lost. His sister, Mrs. A. A. Elliott, visited there last week after the accident.

Work on Cameron Home Progressing

With construction work progressing according to schedule, the second official FHA inspection of the Cameron-Built "Texan" home at 720 South 7th street was completed this week. This home is typical of 36 "Texan" homes Wm. Cameron and Co. is building in 35 Texas cities and towns to be completed in time for public exhibition during "Texas Home Building Week," set aside by proclamation of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

The inspection was conducted by Chas. A. Wolfelin, FHA architectural inspector. The frame work, size of rooms, workmanship, quality of materials, and plumbing and wiring installations were carefully checked by the inspector in order to make certain that plans and specifications, previously approved by FHA, are being closely followed.

"The public is cordially invited to inspect this unusual home as the construction progresses," said D. J. Morgensen, manager of the local Wm. Cameron and Co. building material store. "Already we have had a number of visitors. Their various comments indicate that considerable interest in new home construction is being stimulated here by this project. Various authorities upon economics and finance throughout the country are urging that now is a good time to build and that by owning a home, you can pay to yourself. The remarkably low monthly payments required to buy a modern, well-built home such as this, are lower than many persons pay for rent."

NOT ALL PIONEERS RODE IN COVERED WAGONS...

Establishing and maintaining a Dependable Natural Gas Service requires years of pioneering—in exploring for Gas fields, drilling and producing Gas, and bringing it to market—often under the most difficult working conditions.

The covered wagon pioneers were famed for their resourcefulness, their pluck and determination to succeed. The story of the development of Natural Gas Service is likewise one of courage, persistence, and accomplishment in the face of odds.

And the pioneering is not ended. The employes of this Company and associated Companies are constantly at it... exploring new fields, far from home and comfort... "roughnecking" on drilling location... building pipe lines through forest and swamp... all to help perfect and preserve the reliability of our service and make it available to still wider markets.

Not all pioneers rode in covered wagons. Our drilling crews and pipe liners can testify to that!

DEPENDABLE NATURAL GAS SERVICE DOESN'T JUST HAPPEN!

Carlsbad Caverns Display Brilliant Works of Nature

New Mexico's greatest tourist attraction, the Carlsbad Caverns, are visited annually by 250,000 tourists. Here nature has spent millions of years in carving its brilliant masterpieces.

BY WINFRED CLARK

WEIRD and wondrous Carlsbad Caverns National Park nestled in the rugged foothills of the Guadalupe Mountains, in New Mexico, have thrilled as many as 250,000 visitors each year.

Ethereal in their beauty, the caves are believed to be the largest in the world. Carlsbad Caverns is a series of connected caves. Three main levels have been discovered and several haven't yet been penetrated.

First level of the caverns is 750 feet below the surface. Below, at 900 feet, is the second level. The third dips 1320 feet into the earth. Of the 32 miles of caves that have been explored, only seven are open to travelers.

Each tour is guided by National Park Service rangers over well-lighted, well-laid trails and stairs. Natural scientists estimate it required 200,000,000 years to carve out the huge underground cathedral.

Stalactite and stalagmite formations which range in height from a few inches to 100 feet—some of them 200 feet across the base—glitter and glisten like diamonds. It's an immense, dazzling, beautiful display.

Watermelon Provides Pleasant Way To Fulfill Needs For Fruit in Diet

Eating watermelon once daily several times a week is a pleasant fulfillment of fruit diet needs.

According to J. E. Rosborough, horticulturist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, watermelon is classified as a fruit in the diet, and it will serve admirably as a fruit serving for at least one meal a day during July and August.

About 1,000 carloads of watermelons are shipped to other states from Texas yearly. At present the outlook is good for large yields of high quality melons, although maturity will be later than usual.

Many growers prepare for large domestic consumption on June Tenth and the Fourth of July. Last year Nacogdoches County shipped 27 carloads in addition to many truck loads which went to various cities in the state. Henderson and Leon counties are rivals of the Nacogdoches area in carlot shipment. Waller and Austin counties formerly were large shippers by rail, but have changed to trucks as a means of transporting their crop to market.

In recent years the quality of watermelons has improved markedly. Breeders have attempted to reduce the number and size of seed, and to make the flesh tender and crisp. Dixie Queen and Cuban Queen are varieties resulting from the efforts of plant breeders. Melons of this type have been developed with the idea of eliminating end cuts, which usually are smaller than those taken from the center. The Blue Rind Watson is a Texas-developed variety which is popular for commercial use.

To obtain large melons, growers remove all on the vine except two of the best when the fruit has reached three to six inches in length. After heavy rainfall, Rosborough says, it is well to add 100 to 200 pounds of commercial fertilizer per acre to offset loss of fertility through soil leaching. This will insure ample food material for a strong growth and make the melons large.

Charles Cullin is visiting relatives in Wichita Falls this week. Edwin Lewis of Denver arrived this week to work on the SCS here.

Cotton Acreage—

When the cotton acreage was measured, he showed 49 acres planted. He would be allowed to dispose of 1 acre to come within his intended 48 acres but he would not receive cotton stamps on more than 2 acres since this was the amount on his original intention sheet.

Under the original definition of cotton, the acreage of cotton disposed of below the acreage allotment would still be classified as acreage planted to cotton.

The amendment also provides that if cotton is seeded but does not reach maturity, the smaller of (1) the acreage seeded to cotton, (2) 3 acres, or (3) 3 per cent of the 1941 cotton allotment will be considered as having been planted to cotton. This provision was made, the AAA official pointed out, so that farms will not show zero acres of cotton when cotton was actually seeded.

The new amendment also permits producers to dispose of cotton acreage to come within total-soil-depleting acreages. By this method, deductions for over-planting total soil-depleting allotments will be avoided.

Final Preparations—

Among the items suggested for donation are pots, pans, radio parts, toys, shakers, screening, old washing machine parts, picture frames, book ends, ice trays, measuring cups, camera equipment, kettles and double boilers, bottle and jar caps, refrigerator plates, and electrical appliances.

The metal collected will be sold to smelters at a special uniform price fixed by the government. Entire net proceeds will be available to the Office of Civilian Defense for expenditures required in the proper defense of the population.

Bees' wax, used by the insects in constructing their cells, is a secretion elaborated within the body of the insect from the saccharine matter of honey, and extruded in plates from beneath the rings of the abdomen.

Convoy Milk Trucks to New York

Violence flared in the recent milk strike in New York, when Dairy Farmers Union members dumped milk on a road near Smithboro. Strikers asked a $3 uniform price per hundredweight for their product. State police escorted tank trucks on their way to the city, but drivers promised not to attempt a return through picket lines until a settlement had been reached.

Lakeview Has New Aggie Instructor

C. N. Merrell, who has been teaching vocational agriculture at Westover for the past seven years, has accepted the position of agriculture teacher in the Lakeview Public Schools, it was learned this week. He succeeds E. A. Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrell and son Carl Gene have already moved to Lakeview to make their home.

He is a graduate of Texas A. and M., and apparently made a good record while at Westover, according to the following excerpt from a story in the Baylor County Banner:

"The Merrells have made mighty good citizens of the county, and it is with regret that we give them up. Best wishes are extended for their success in their new location."

ideal location has been selected for the unit, he said, and it is expected that the cost will be low.

Rev. Frank Story is conducting services at the Methodist revival in Lakeview this week, Rev. Yeats said. The revival began last night, and the Memphis pastor urged all local Methodists to attend all or a part of the services there.

Evening services at the local Methodist church will begin at 8 o'clock, it was announced, at which time the pastor will deliver the sermon.

That Reminds Me

BY RALPH HERBERT

THEY used to sing about the difficulty in keeping the boys down on the farm and now the United States Department of Agriculture comes to bat with hard, prosaic figures showing that the boys are still leaving the agricultural regions—to be soldiers or to work mainly in factories engaged in national defense contracts.

On June 1, 1941, 11,649,000 persons were working on American farms. This was an increase of 890,000 over May 1, 1941, but a decrease of 247,000 from the figures of June 1, 1940. What this shows is that while great numbers have left the farms to take up their duties as drafted men or to work in factories, their places have been taken in part at least by unpaid family workers and farm operators.

Comparing June 1, 1941, with June 1, 1940, the Department of Agriculture presents other kinds of figures showing farm employment by geographic divisions. The only ones showing an increase were the West North Central states with a gain of 2000 and the Pacific states with a gain of 16,000.

The districts showing losses were: New England, 7000; Middle Atlantic, 14,000; East North Central, 44,000; South Atlantic, 37,000; East South Central, 103,000; West South Central, 47,000, and Mountain States, 3000.

The employment figures, which varied widely in different sections, were in part affected by weather conditions. The west had wet spells and the east had dry spells, so that various crops were thus advanced or retarded.

In general, the reduction in available hired hands for farm work has not greatly hampered production. Farmers in the main have responded fully to the task of maintaining average crops, despite labor scarcity and the great necessity of paying higher wages to keep hired hands from going to the cities and towns where factories tempt them by offers of increased pay.

Whale of a Fish

Weighing more than 1000 pounds, this whale shark was trapped off Point Lookout, L. I., N. Y. Whale sharks are considered harmless to man.

"Come Let Us Reason Together," saith the Lord, will be the general theme for the services.

Services for the evening hour will begin at 8:30 in the church at Lakeview. Every one is urged to be in their place and all are cordially invited to attend. "Come and Go With Us and We Will Do These Good."

Advice on Health—

FROM ONE WHO KNOWS

If your work is such that it causes excessive perspiration, add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take to help prevent heat cramps. This is advised by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, to prevent a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas thermometer hits 95 degrees and above.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat fag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as 40 to 50 grams of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways.

Where prepared tablets are not available, table salt may be added to each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramp is characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate; body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

Modern architecture is hardly modern, an encyclopedia states, for it is doubtful whether a new style is possible. Practically all building is based on former styles of architecture.

Australia once was called New Holland, and is the largest island in the world.

OUR 'YOO-HOO' ARMY

THERE HAS been much said regarding the "yoo-hoo" soldiers in Memphis, Tenn., and their resulting punishment for "yoo-hooing" at girls clad in shorts on a golf course.

There has been much clamor in Congress for a deep investigation of the incident and a deeper investigation of General Ben Lear, who made the 350 soldiers march 15 miles in 97-degree temperature for yelling at the girls.

The soldiers themselves did not seem to mind the walk. They even publicly shamed the public for shaming the general for the punishment. The soldiers did not think the punishment unjust, and the morale of the company is reported to be at a higher mark than at any previous time.

General Lear says that he did not think the "yoo-hooing" showed respect for the uniform, and that he thought a man in uniform should live up to the ideals for which the uniform stands. But when the incident first occurred, a lot of people, including several Congressmen, believed that something should be done about the mass punishment which was inflicted on the men.

It's true that all 350 men probably did not yell at the girls, although all 350 men received the same punishment. But if they did not mind the punishment, then certainly Congress should not mind.

In the first place, as other editorials in other papers have pointed out, if the men in uniform cannot march 15 miles through Arkansas in 97-degree temperature, then they wouldn't be much help in time of war. For more than likely, they will have to march much further in much worse conditions if this nation does go into actual fighting.

The army of the United States cannot be efficient if the leaders in the army are not allowed to run the army as it should be managed. Congressmen make the laws to govern the army, but they are, constitutionally speaking, not administrative authorities. If they don't want soldiers punished, then let them pass laws to prevent it—not jump on army leaders for inflicting the punishment.

The general has probably undergone more razing however, about his golf playing than the punishment. Not only was he on the golf course when the men marched by, but when reporters found him the following day, they found him—yes—on the golf course.

NOW LISTEN, JOE, THAT AIN'T FAIR!

WAR IN ANY and all forms is pretty bad, but even war has its amusing side. And in the present German-Russian conflict, the Germans are the ones to furnish the funny part.

Many stories come from the front lines of fighting, and some of them are amusing, even though somewhat ghastly.

One of these is that the Nazis claim the Reds do not fight fair. The Russians lie down as if dead, awaiting the approach of a group of Germans. Then when the Nazis do arrive, the Russians suddenly come to life and shoot the invading Germans. This, says the Nazis, is "unfair fighting," although they go into Russia with the idea of scalping the Reds and taking over their lands, industries, and people.

Then, too, the Russians hide out in tall grass and weeds. They camouflage their tanks to prevent the Germans from seeing them as they push forward with their lightning attacks. After the Germans have passed, the Russians open fire from the rear, giving them a greater advantage. This, too, is unfair, the Nazis say.

Still another amusing thing in the new conflict is the stories put out by the Germans to the effect that Russian women are being used to manipulate the tanks in the fields of war. Another is that Russian women are seen daily by the Nazis doing the plowing and cultivating of land for the Reds. Both of these seem rather ridiculous, especially when there are twice as many Russians as Germans. The last story, of course, may be true. Women may be working in the fields while their men are fighting, but it's doubtful if the women are being used to run the tanks.

The "unfair" charge made by the Germans is probably the most amusing part of the whole situation. After all, there really is no such thing as international law. It isn't written, certainly, and even if it were there would be no method of enforcing the law. In other words, international law is not only a thing of the past—if there ever was any such thing—but it is also something which will never be realized unless it can be enforced.

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Odorous Politics

Deskin Wells in the Wellington Leader: If, as Drew Pearson and Walter Winchell have intimated, the new deal element in Washington is going to instigate an investigation of the senatorial election then that element is foolish. The average Texan detects more odor coming out of Washington pressure that he can smell in either the O'Daniel or the Mann camps.

Graphic Headlines

Headline in the Briscoe Co. News:
 "Harvest Was Here;
 The Weeds is Riz,
 We Wonder Where
 The Wheaties Is."

Chapter to Live

Virginia Anderson in the Shamrock Texan: Dr. J. G. Hamer contributed this one. "It's Cheaper to Live! The next time you feel the urge to throw caution to the winds and take chances at railroad crossings, remember this injunction: A live man pays 25 cents for a shave; a dead one pays $5. A woolen overcoat costs $40; a wooden one costs $400. A taxi to the theatre 10 cents; to the cemetery it's $10. Moral: Take it easy and save money."

Hess Miscued

Menard News: Rudolph Hess is said to have made his flight to Scotland in the belief that his Scottish friends would provide him with maps and gasoline for his return trip to Germany. Hess ought to have known the Scotch better than that.

USO Campaign News

Ochiltree County Herald: And while we're on the USO wheat campaign, Ochiltree County folks are urged to make their pledges at once. One business firm in the city pledged one bushel of wheat for each employee. To reach our goal of a bushel of wheat for every man, woman, and child in Ochiltree County, many will have to give much more than one for there are many that are financially unable to give on this basis. So those that "have" will have to make up the difference.

Hitler Earmarked Excuses

Matador Tribune: Two entirely new excuses for fighting were made this week by local Negroes who "beat up" their wives. According to Gilbert Brembrly, he fought a little battle with his wife because "she wouldn't keep the goat off their beans in the garden."

"When charges were brought against Frank Francis on Saturday, he explained that his wife's biscuits started all the trouble—they had too much baking powder in them."

Peach Seed Expert

Virginia Anderson in the Shamrock Texan: We're still hoping the defense commission can figure out a way to use peach seeds. We gathered them for the last war and feel our experiences would be of some value in the present crisis. All the kids in our neighborhood gathered sacks of peach seeds and there is definitely an art to it. You just can't go out and pick up the seeds and simply put them in a sack. It sounds simple but it isn't. You've got to use your head and cover the ground thoroughly; no haphazard methods will win a war. No sir, when you hunt peach seeds it takes stamina, intelligence and determination. When our country sends a call for peach seeds, Uncle Sam, we're ready.

Bank Loans

Spearman reporter: Twenty-five percent of the banks in Texas made more than 557,000 loans totaling $609,000,000 to business firms and individuals throughout the state during the second half of 1940, according to the semi-annual survey of bank lending activity made by the Research Council of the American Bankers Association.

Hereford Brand: Continued rains this week brought wheat reports from all Hereford Elevators which would be summed up as "very little and very wet." Tests were running from 46 to 60 with an average of perhaps 58 pounds on most wheat harvested.

Propaganda

From Gertie Haskett in the Childress County News: Americans must not be confused by this cunning propaganda offensive. They must not permit the ideological implications of this new growth of the war to hide its one vital practical consideration. It is this: Nazism, which is a vastly greater threat to Democracy today than Communism, will become an even more perilous menace if Hitler succeeds in bringing under his control the extensive resources of European Russia.

Tolerant Attitude Serves Best

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 20. Text: I Corinthians 5:9-13; Titus 2:1-8.

THIS lesson is in two parts, one of which might be called negative and disciplinary, and the other idealistic and constructive. The first part from Paul's first letter to the Corinthians deals with the matter of discipline within the Church. Paul had written the Corinthians that they should have nothing to do with those whose practices were contrary to Christian morality and teaching. Some evidently had interpreted this to mean that Christians should virtually retire from the world or assume a harsh and censorious attitude toward all with whom they came in contact. Paul points out that this was not what he meant, that to assume such a course it would be necessary for Christians to go out of the world. What he did mean was that within the Church there must be no compromise with immoral and evil practice.

If one reads the earlier history of many churches, the impression spreads that there were individuals whose religion consisted chiefly in the delight that they took in disciplining others. In general it may be said that the Church has been far readier to adopt Paul's suggestions about discipline than it has been to put into practice Paul's much more important teaching concerning love as the greatest thing in the world. A good cause is never well served by intolerant attitudes. There is such a thing as being intemperate, even in our advocacy of temperance. The temperance cause has been served most ably by those who have first of all practiced temperance, and who in their total life and conduct have manifested the beauties and graces of Christian living. From this standpoint, it is a pleasure to turn to Paul's constructive words in his letter to Titus. Here he sets forth the things which, as he puts it, "befit the sound doctrine." It is a plea for temperance, sober-mindedness, love, and patience, for well-disciplined, noble living, the sort of thing that will never bring shame upon ourselves or disgrace upon the Church.
