MEMPHIS IS COUNTY SEAT OF THE BEST COUNTY IN TEXAS--HALL COUNTY

Happily Married.

Wednesday night of last week occurred the marriage of D. A. Neeley and Miss Womble. The marriage took place at the residence of the bride's mother at South Tenth

A ceremony was performed by Rev. R. B. Bonner of the Methodist church, only a few friends and relatives being present. After the ceremony congratulations were extended to the happy couple after which refreshments were served. The couple were then escorted to the depot where they departed for Oklahoma City where they will visit relatives for a few days and then return to Memphis where they will go immediately to work.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mrs. Womble of this city and is quite a favorite among friends of whom she has many. The groom is the popular assistant cashier of the Citizens State bank and is regarded as one of our best young men who has a bright future before him. The Democrat joins their friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

Bad Circumstances.

Speculation was being circulated in the streets of Memphis Saturday to raise some money to help a poor family of cotton pickers who are in a very sad state of affairs down near Newlin. They have just recently come from New Mexico and had not made a cent in the community but a few days until the whole family except one little boy who was not sick enough to wait on the sick were taken down with the disease. One of the children died and was buried at Newlin last Saturday. Four others are now recovering. Generous donations were given by all who were given a chance. We have never heard of people of the Panhandle letting people suffer as long as it is in their power to prevent.

House Burned Near Newlin.

A report reached Memphis Saturday that the home of Wilbur Ketchum living on the Pyle place five miles west of Newlin was burned at noon that day, and that all the household goods were also burned. The report stated that Mrs. Ketchum was very badly burned but did not state how bad. Mr. Ketchum was in Memphis at the time of the burning and did not know anything about it. We trust it was not a dangerous burn to the lady and extend our deepest sympathy in their Bought Mercantile Supplies.

On last Thursday J. E. Beasley, a merchant of Turkey, was in Memphis transacting business with the Memphis merchants. He bought three wagon loads of merchandise from our merchants and says he was treated right all the way around. That is what the Memphis merchants are good at "treating people right". He also called at the Democrat office and had us to turn out a nice little job for him while he was getting his other business wound up. He reports the Turkey neighborhood in fine shape this fall.

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIES OF OLD CHURCH

You Old Men Shall Dream Dreams, and Your Young Men Shall See Visions.

By A. W. READ.

I am glad, that I am old enough, to dream of the past; and to take pleasures, in recollecting the successes, the failures, the joys and the sorrows, that have together made up the sum total of my experience in life. And then I am glad that I am young enough to see visions, and look with an eye of faith down through the dim, and mysterious future, and contemplate the possibilities, privileges and opportunities that lie out before us. I am glad that I can feel and enjoy the sentiment of these older members of this Dear Old Church, in the recounting of their struggles of the past; I too have a feeling of reverence, for this dear old place, it is here that less than six years ago, wife and I were baptised, it is here that five of our children have been brought into the fold; it is here that I learned to labor in loving fellowship, with the Brethren; and to add my little mite to the upbuilding of the cause, we all love so well. And while the time I have been identified here has been so short, I assure you that my experience in this old meeting house, shall be a pleasant memory as long as life shall last. Well can I understand why you Brethren and Sisters who have spent so many years, toiling here, should feel a tinge of grief on leaving the old place. Within these four walls, you have had many experiences, both joyous and sad. From these old pews you have listened to the silvery chimes of wedding bells, and your hearts have been made sad by the solemn funeral toll. It is here that you have rejoiced with your little ones, as they gathered each year to receive their gifts from Santa Clause; it is here that you have gone down into the very dust of humility, and prayed with your friends and loved ones in their penitence and despair, as they were brought to see their lost condition. It is here that you have rejoiced as you saw them happy in the Savior's love. It is here you have dwelt in sweet fellowship, and poured out to each other, your joys and sorrows, and here you have born each others burdens. It is not strange to me, that in this the last service in this dear old house your minds should turn back to the experiences of days gone by, and dream of the battles so bravely fought, and victories so nobly won. It is not strange that around this dear old place, there should hang a halo of glory, and cluster sweet memories that cannot fade. I am loath to disturb this sweet reverie, feign would I bask with you in the soft and silvery moonlight as you glide so gently back over the pleasant paths of the past.

But there arises up before me a vision, that bids me say to you awake! arise! and behold what lies out before us, you have wrought nobly in the past, but the conquest you have made brings new, and greater responsibilities, you have been faithful in small things, and now greater things are to be committed into your care. In this old church you have labored long and well and now there lies out before you opportunities and privileges that dreams of the past cannot reveal. When this meeting house was built I dare say no one dreamed that it would stand until such a magnificent structure as now stands over there should take its place; and it is too this my Brethren, I now desire to direct your vision; you who have so nobly wrought in the past have made that grand building possible. And if with so small a beginning you have made in so short a time, this possible, what may we not expect from you now, with our increased membership, and that splendid equipment? So let us wipe away the tear of regret at the parting with our dear old home and go into the new with a light heart, and thankfulness to God, that He has so bountifully blessed us here, let us withdraw our minds from the sweet communion with the past and turn to our new home, and behold the new responsibilities for us. It does not require a prophet to see what mighty works we may do in the future; there has been made wonderful progress here in the last decade, but what is to come in the next, will be more wonderful still. We as a church have played well our part in the past, but the future now calls to greater tasks and responsibilities so let us go forward to the work with renewed energy and devotion. Our new church building has brought to us new burdens and grave responsibilities, let us bear our burdens and meet our responsibilities like true soldiers, and from this good night, let us always be found looking forward. Old home! Dear old home! you have served us long and well, but now we bid you a loving adieu, to go out to fields of greater usefulness. Visions of the future bid us launch out into the deep. Old home, we love you dearly, but we love our Master more, and He beckons us on to a greater work, than your battered old walls can endure. So old home, good bye! New home, we turn to you and humbly pray that you will serve us as well in the future that lies out before us, as the old has served us in the past. Old home, good bye, new home, we turn to you.

Farewell Sermon At The Baptist Church.

The farewell sermon at the Baptist church last Sunday morning was largely attended. The final farewell exercises at the Sunday night hour filled the old church to overflowing and the program announced was carried out. This was a very touching meeting as many in the congregation had enjoyed many hours of pleasure and experienced sad hours of sorrow between the old walls that were then being bidden good bye forever. In another column will be found a paper read by A. W. Read which was very touching and highly enjoyed by all. The formal opening of the new church will take place next Sunday at which time all the churches of the city have kindly consented to suspend all meetings for that day and go in mass and worship with the Baptist on that day.

To The Farmers.

I wish to inform you that I have two $350.00 cotton cleaning machines installed at my blue gins, these cleaners are the latest patent cotton cleaning device. They are made especially for taking leaves and trash out of cotton, if you have never tried these cleaners come and make a test and see for your self, you will get the benefit by getting more for your lint. Remember I am the only gin man in the country having these cleaners.

Very respectfully yours,
B. W. MOREMAN.

Four members of the Memphis band went up to Amarillo Sunday night to help the Amarillo band for three days this week. The Amarillo people had heard the Memphis band play and knew that they could get the goods. Those who went were, P. A. James, J. E. Exleton, E. E. Davis, and Bob Reed.

GOVERNOR IS ILL

Malarial Attack Forces Campbell to Abandon Palestine Visit.

Austin, Oct. 8.—Due to an attack of malarial fever Governor Campbell returned to Austin sooner than at first anticipated and was forced to abandon his proposed trip to Palestine. He is now ill at the executive mansion and will likely be confined to his room for several days. When the governor left Austin he intended to visit Palestine after leaving Nacogdoches, but he came direct to Austin from that point. The governor's condition is not considered serious, though he still has fever.

Saturday was one of the best business days in the history of Memphis. There were over two hundred bales of cotton sold on the streets and the high price of 14.65 was paid all during the day for the fleecy staple. We have been noticing all our exchanges and we have not heard of as high prices any where. Memphis is setting the pace for all the towns in price of cotton and our merchants are making prices in merchandise that it will be to everybody's interest to investigate. Come to Memphis and market your cotton and buy your fall bill.

Our Advertisements.

Everybody has their own peculiar way of doing things, and we have been advertising for the past two weeks some certain letters turned around in our advertiser's ads for the purpose, we thought, more profitable to our advertisers. There is nothing nor nobody, and especially something a little out of the ordinary comes up but what a certain class of people have some slight remarks to make about it. The same has happened to our letter advertisement. Everybody read our ads and be benefited.

THE WELD THAT HELD

Science has developed something infinitely better than the old-style wrap or clamp.

"PITTSBURGH PERFECT" FENCES ARE WELDED BY ELECTRICITY.

This is the modern method of construction. Years of life are added through the elimination of serious fence defects.

A WRAP holds moisture, cracks the galvanizing and allows the water to attack the bare wire. A small amount of displaced galvanizing on "PITTSBURGH PERFECT" REINFORCES THE PROTECTION AGAINST RUST AT THE ELECTRICALLY WELDED JOINT; examine the joint.

STAYS CANNOT SLIP. They are always just where they were put. Stay and strand wires become one piece when the union is made. The fence is like a solid sheet of perforated steel.

Every Rod is Guaranteed Perfect.

Don't allow your prejudice in favor of the rapidly-declining and now antiquated methods you have heretofore known, to warp your good judgment.

"PITTSBURGH PERFECT" FENCES REPRESENT PROGRESS, because hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of standard material is daily welded by electricity.

The hoop on the average sugar barrel in the isolated country grocery store is an electrically welded product.

If your wagon was made in a large factory, its ties were welded by electricity.

You will find electrically welded hoops on ice cream freezers and washing machines, on many tubs and buckets. Examine them.

"PITTSBURGH PERFECT" fences are made by this modern, simple and marvelous process, producing "THE WELD THAT HELD."

MR. FARMER: LISTEN, NOW. Every agent handling "PITTSBURGH PERFECT" fences is authorized to guarantee this:

That the wires are not injured at the joints.
That the fence is perfectly adjustable to uneven ground.
That the stays will not separate from the strands.
That the fence is all right in every particular.

Could you ask any more definite protection? Your complete satisfaction is absolutely assured.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5.

A Thirsty Woodpecker.

A farmer who lives northwest of town told the champion dry weather story yesterday. He said that as he was entering the city on Graham street and was passing a house just below the residence of Conductor M. N. Benson of the Texas Midland he observed a woodpecker perched on a hydrant out in the yard, holding on to it with its claws, while it had its bill turned up waiting for the drops of water to form so that it could drink them. The farmer said two or three other men were with him when he saw the woodpecker's maneuvers and he referred the News reporter to them to prove that what he said was true.—Paris News.

Blaming Hubby.
An Elk City, Ok., lady, suspecting her hubby of the habit of kissing an unusually comely seryant girl in the house, devised a scheme to surprise the erring one while in the act and bring him so time. Hearing someone enter the kitchen very quietly just at dusk one evening she, bent on administering a terrible rebuke, also entered the darksome kitchen very hurriedly. An instant later she was seized and embraced in the most ardent manner. Recovering herself, she, in a rage, struck a match and saw before her, blushing furiously—the servant girl's beau. And now she is blaming her husband for it all.—Oklahoma Times.

Railroad Work is Progressing Rapidly.

In conversation with the contractors and engineers on the grade work on the Oklahoma City & Southwestern railroad now building into Silverton we learn that work is progressing rapidly, a first class grade is being made and the grade from the cap-rock east of Silverton to Lockley will be ready for the steel by Nov. 1st. We are reliably informed that the laying of steel will begin within thirty days and will be rushed at the rate of a mile a day. That will put the track into Silverton by December 1st at the longest. Let'er come, Barcus is willin'—Briscoe County Herald.

Accidentally Shot.

Tuesday morning Sheriff McMurtry was accidentally shot through his left foot with a .45 caliber sixshooter. He started to let the hammer down on what he thought was an empty chamber, but proved to be a cartridge, sending the ball through the center of the foot. His wounds were dressed by Drs. Bell and Crawford. At this time he is resting well, but it will be several months, with the best of luck before he will be entirely well.—Briscoe County Herald.

Sorghum Poison.

Don't put your cows to pasture on second crop sorghum or Kaffir corn, if you don't want them poisoned. Under certain circumstances Johnson grass also poisons cattle. The trouble seems to come in a dry year when a lack of moisture generates prussic acid.

Sometimes, in less than five minutes after the cows are turned on, you will see one stagger and drop dead before she can be driven from the field. Out of a herd of thirty cows turned onto Kaffir corn, as many as nineteen have been known to die within thirty minutes. It pays to be careful.—Ex.

Gone But Not Forgotten.

On Friday, October 7, 1910, the gentle spirit of Mrs. Mary Watson took its flight from its earthly home to a bright and heavenly home above where no sorrow or pain ever comes.

Mrs. Watson was a devoted wife and a loving mother. She was a sweet Christian woman and was prepared for death, which should be a sweet consolation to the bereaved husband and four motherless children, while some of them will never realize what a good mother they have lost. She leaves a husband, four children, two brothers, one sister and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn for her death.

"Sleep soft beloved!" we some times say,

But have no time to charm away,
Sad dreams that through the eye lids creep,

But never doleful dream again,
Shall break the happy slumber when,
He giveth His beloved sleep.

And, friends, dear friends when it shall be,
That this low breath has gone from me,

And round my bier ye come to weep,
Let one most loving of you all,
Say, not a tear 'o'er her fall
He giveth His beloved sleep.

Paper Shell Pecans in Three Years.

Editor Home and Farm:

Any farmer in the cotton-growing belt of this country, if he has a pecan or hickory stump with growing sprouts around it, has a foundation for a paper shell tree near at hand. Any time during the coming winter two of these sprouts around one stump can be grafted—whip or cleft graft—and if they fail to grow then two more sprouts around the stump can be chip budded in March, April or May, and if these fail then two more sprouts of next year's growth can be set with ring buds from June 1 to October 1.

So for about eight months of the year, with anything like good growing season for farm crops, this budding and grafting can be going on. With the long season we have for the work, and millions of pecan and hickory stumps and millions more of young pecan and hickory trees standing on branches, creeks rivers of the South (millions of acres of waste producing no revenue), what a great opportunity there is for our Southland to add to our annual income.

Five years after a budded or grafted tree begins to bear, its annual yield should be from $5 to $10 and increase on up, so that in twenty to twenty-five years our Southland pecan crop would yield a great revenue.

Let our farmers and land owners once get awake to the possibilities of the great revenue producer on our waste lands, and our school children, boys and girls, taught to graft and bud, and millions of trees will be worked each year, until all the acres of waste land will equal in revenue our best farm lands. One hundred thousand boys and girls of our Southland ought to be encouraged to plant pecan nuts for shade trees and then teach them how to bud and graft. Agitate—educate—is the plan to be adopted and results will be sure to follow.

Editor Apologizes.

This neat apology is from the Hillsboro News: "Several of the leading society ladies of Hillsboro insist that we apologize for an article appearing in the News two weeks ago, in which we said too much valuable time was wasted by the ladies at their functions on 'cards and flinch.' We humbly apologize for the item and wish to state that we lied. There is not a lady in Hillsboro that knows the jack of clubs from a Jerusalem artichoke and as for flinch, they never saw the game in their lives, and some of them think it's a new kind of corset. When they meet at social functions they occupy their time in reading the Bible and conversing about the efficiency of the atonement and the whichness of the when."—Ex.

Burn The Smoke

If you don't burn the smoke you WASTE half your fuel money. Few people realize how much money is wasted using soft coal in the old fashioned stove. One in which there is no provision for burning heavy smoke and gases.

Not only is it true that one-quarter to one-third of the soft coal by weight escapes as unburned gases from the ordinary stove, but it has been scientifically proved that the combustion of these gases give a temperature twice as high as the combustion of the solid parts of the coal.

There is, however, a vast difference between various so-called hot-blast or smoke-burning stoves. Many of them consume but a small portion of gas. Then again, there are several other things necessary to make a strictly satisfactory soft coal stove. Doors, dampers and joints must be tight in order to hold fire. Materials must be heavy and of the finest quality to avoid cracking and burning out.

We now have on display the largest line of highest grade, handsomest, tightest, strongest and most economical heaters ever shown in Memphis. Our prices are lower than you will expect to find them. Come in today and make your selection before they are picked over.
