DEMOCRAT WILL HOLD COOKING SCHOOL

Cooperative Revival Is Brought to Successful Close

PART OF HALL COUNTY GETS GOOD RAIN

FIVE DAY DEMONSTRATION WILL BE GIVEN HERE BY PROMINENT DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

Democrat Sponsors Event That Will Be Welcomed by All Memphis and Hall County Housewives

A service hitherto unattempted by weekly newspapers will be offered to Memphis Democrat readers when this newspaper begins a 5-day cooking school the latter part of May. In order to take care of the increased advertising already contracted, The Democrat will be published as a daily for six days while the school is in progress. Many additional features have been purchased for the daily and it will be a representative newspaper in every sense. More than $500 has been expended in order that Memphis and Hall County women might receive the same public service from their home newspaper as only dailies in the larger cities afford.

DRESS WINNERS ENTER STATE CONTEST

Seven Home Ec Girls Go to Meet at San Antonio

Seven Memphis high school girls, members of the Home Economics class, left Tuesday for San Antonio where five of them will compete in the State clothing contest. They were accompanied by their teacher, Miss Johnnie Christian.

The girls to enter the state contest are Edna Gerlach, Nelma Bishop, Dorrace Powell, Opal Adams, and Mary Lee Simon, having won in the local contest here last Friday. Rachel Tidrow sold over $10 worth of tickets to the play last week and received a trip to San Antonio. Olive Ruth Ewen also accompanied them.

The contest held here last Friday was judged by Miss Ernestine Davis, Home Ec teacher at Estelline, and Miss Beck, Home Ec teacher of Clarendon, and the winners were as follows:

Sheer Dresses—Edna Gerlach, first; Nelma Bishop, second; Opal Adams, third.

Made-over Dresses—Nelma Bishop, first; Opal Adams, second; Mildred Owens, third.

Traveling Dresses—Dorrace Powell, first.

Tailored Dresses—Opal Adams, first; Kathryn Oren, second; Maurine Thompson, third.

Simple Wash School Dresses—Mary Lee Simon, first; Joan Estes, second; Dorothy Elliott, third.

Here's good news for the women of Memphis and surrounding country.

The Memphis Democrat has signed a contract with the National School Enterprises to send Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan, a nationally known domestic science expert to this city for five days beginning Monday, May 21 to conduct a FREE cooking school.

Have you ever been taught to make the art of cooking intriguing as other arts become to those, who master them? A musician reaches the heights of joy or creation when he plays well a beautiful piece of music. Have you ever reached such heights from a well made pie, or the baking of a delicious pie, or the realization that a dinner party you have given was perfect in every particular.

Many women, in entertaining at dinner have the feeling that this dish or that was not just all that it should be. They are apprehensive lest critical guests leave their table dissatisfied with their efforts. Here's the solution to such problems. Attend the Democrat's Cooking school and hear Mrs. Dougan explain the preparation and serving of foods at her lectures and demonstrations each afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. She will doubtlessly amaze the women of this vicinity with the contributions she is able in one short week to that greatest of all institutions—the home. The problems that she will discuss will be those that are daily encountered in the home.

Her solutions are practical and based upon economy and utility. The saving that the housewife will be able to accomplish by attendance at the school and receiving the scientific and modern ideas will more than repay her for the time spent there. How to use left overs to the best advantage and how to purchase will be shown by Mrs. Dougan.

BEST Farmers Gin Co. Elects Officers And Directors

Charles Crow was elected president, S. E. Thomason vice president and Ike Batson secretary at a meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers Cooperative Society No. 1 here last Saturday afternoon. Brice Webster, Bob Roberts, J. A. Whaley, E. P. Thompson, A. S. Moss and Lee Thornton were chosen as directors.

More than $10,000 have been subscribed and the directors want at least $25,000 subscribed, in order to erect a ten-stand gin at a cost of $60,000. The directors are pushing the work and hope to have the subscriptions in hand at an early date, so the work of erecting the building and installing the gin machinery may be done in time for the coming ginning season.

The directors are very anxious to close the subscription work, and want every farmer to have an opportunity to subscribe, so they are asked to see the secretary or one of the directors by Saturday and make the subscription.

GIRL DEBATERS WIN FIRST AT MEET

Memphis Boys Also Win in Field Events

Ruby Harkins and Ernestine Walker won first place in girls debate contest at the District Interscholastic Meet in Childress last week, and will represent the district in the state contest to be held in Austin May 3, 4, and 5. Lee May won first in discus throw, and Herbert May second, Edward Foxhall won first in vaulting and second in low hurdles. Walter Massey won second in high hurdles. All these winners will be allowed to enter the state meet, and compete in any five events. Memphis high school made a splendid showing at Childress, and will doubtless make a winning in some of the events at the State meet.

OUT OF TOWN SHOPPERS Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Munsey of McLean and Mrs. E. T. Watkins of Hedley were shopping in Memphis Tuesday.

GOOD SEASON IS ASSURED BY SHOWERS

Brice Community Is Omitted By Rain Maker

"It isn't raining rain to me, It's raining daffodils."

Unlike the poet who is responsible for the foregoing lines, farmers and business men of Memphis and Hall county are alike rejoicing over the fact that the long awaited rain is now a reality and not a matter of daffodils.

Preceded by a wind and electrical storm, Memphis citizens of one accord pulled the covers more closely about them before dawn this morning and allowed themselves to lapse into a dreamless slumber, lulled to sleep by the insistent patter of rain drops on the roof. People accustomed to rising early contented themselves with lying in bed and letting nature take her course.

Precipitation well in excess of three-fourths inch has already been recorded and at the time of going to press indications are that the rain will continue for some time.

Reports received from over the county show that the rainfall has been general, with the exception of Brice where the moisture was negligible. Other parts of the Panhandle have not been so fortunate, reports from Amarillo being that practically no precipitation was recorded there. However, an exception is recorded at Pampa where a downpour occurred.

This rain, together with that of last week-end, should put the ground in fine condition for planting. Already, much planting has been done in the western part of the county and with moisture sufficient to insure a season, renewed activities in planting are to be expected. Much of the land has been broken and listed and farming have been "chaffing at the bit" waiting for the season which now seems assured, which condition is indicative of a great crop year.

L. G. Perkins has bought the cafe next door to the Crawford grocery, south side of the square. He has lately been living in Shamrock, going there from Memphis a few months ago.

Former High School Student Is Candidate

Alfred Melinger, former Memphis boy, now a student of Texas State University at Austin, is in the race for editor of the Texas Ranger. He bases his candidacy on his ability as an artist and on his experience as a staff member of the Ranger. He is the oldest and most consistent contributor of the present staff, and his drawings and jokes have appeared in every issue since he entered the university three years ago.

He also has had a number of his jokes appearing in College Humor.

Miss Helen Beard Married to Malone Hagan at Claude

Miss Helen Beard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Beard of Memphis, and Mr. Malone Hagan of Birmingham, Ala., were quietly married Monday night at Claude. Mr. Hagan is a travelling salesman for Firestone Tire & Rubber company.

The couple was accompanied to Claude by Mr. and Mrs. Major Wood, Mrs. Don Wright and Miss Cressie Ardery.

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Hagan drove to Amarillo. They will return to Memphis Sunday where they will be at home.

Earl Allen was a business visitor in Pampa Tuesday.

DRAMA

By J. C. W.

God was speaking to His created beings in the voice of the thunder, in the flash of lightning, and in the drops of rain and hail, with His covenant—or contract—standing out before the audience, in which He promised many things, provided only that the individual would become a party to the contract. On God's side of the contract were promises of a full life, happiness beyond imagination, and a passport to an Eternal life in the hereafter. All man had to do was just to accept the offer.

A master word painter might describe it. Scene after scene, and act after act were played in this great drama, with stage settings and stage effects peculiarly fitted for the occasion. Strong men, influential men, Godless men, sinful men—going forward by ones, twos and groups.

Here and there were groups of men who had been at outs for years. Fighting? No, becoming friends again. Old grudges being wiped out. More rejoicing, more thunder, more rain, hail, and wind, lights flashing on and off. A Master director was taking a hand in making an impressive and awe-inspiring scene. God was calling to men and they were heeding the call.

Look! There goes a man with a look that plainly said, "I have written many life insurance contracts and I know that a good Eternal Life Insurance contract is offered me; I will accept it as party of the second part."

Others are going forward who have seldom been seen in any church meeting. Methinks the angels looked down on the scene from the battlements of glory and cheered at the sight of 161 men—business men of Memphis—hitting the trail.

No, it isn't possible! Yes, it is that leader of young men and boys of the community. What did he say? "I want every member of the Gold Medal Band and high school band with me." More rejoicing, more wind, rain, hail, thunder, lightning, momentary darkness and then lights flash on again.

There go scores of men we all know. Men who have made a success of their business; men who are leaders in the community life; yet they are men who have never tasted the joys of salvation; strong men, courageous and true; ah, what a scene!

All over this great audience men are seen with smiles on their faces and tears of happiness coursing unnoticed down their cheeks. Ashamed? No, why should they be? They have never been demonstrative before but seem to be glad of it now.

Men left their places of business at ten o'clock and expected to get back at 10:30 and here it is after twelve with no on making a move to leave. All thought of business gone—let business go hang—it isn't worth anything compared to this. Let it rain—nobody out and we need rain anyway. Dinner time? Who wants to eat—what greater feast could one want than this? We have settled our quarrel—we are happy once more—why should we worry about the lateness of the hour? We have established a Father and son friendship and kinship—made a contract with God as part of the first part and ourself as part of the second part. We now join in singing:

"All hail the power of Jesus' name
Let angels prostrate fall;
Bring forth the royal diadem
And crown Him Lord of all."

The rain, hail and wind have ceased, and the clouds are rolling away, while the sun is shining brightly through the rifts in the clouds—all is well with the world. God is in His glory world and we are gloriously happy in His love.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church met in a short business meeting Monday afternoon at the church after the services at the tabernacle. Mrs. Armstrong, president of the Methodist Missionary society at Hedley, was a guest at the meeting, also Mrs. Will Noel of Hedley. Next Monday the society will meet with the Federated Missionary society at the Presbyterian church.

FEDERATED MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET MONDAY

The program committee of the Federated Missionary society has arranged a very attractive program to be rendered Monday, April 30 at the Presbyterian church. The program will consist of a sing-song by all, several special songs by a chorus of ladies, a reading and the installation of the officers for the ensuing year.

DORCAS SOCIETY WILL MEET MAY 3

The Dorcas society will meet next Thursday, May 3 at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Johnson. All members are urged to be present as there is important business and we need your help. Send in quilt blocks by Monday noon, April 30. If you can't come phone your excuse.

MRS. DUNBAR JOHNSON.

MRS. D. A. GRUNDY HOSTESS TO W. M. S.

The Baptist W. M. S. met in a business, missionary and social meeting Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. A. Grundy, with Mesdames V. O. Williams, E. T. Miller, W. J. Hill, John A. Wood and G. H. Hattenbach as hostesses.

The missionary program was led very efficiently by Mrs. T. L. Lewis. Reverend Miller gave the devotional on the subject, "A Spiritual Labor Union", in which he used the Rayburn meeting as an example of real spiritual union. "Standard Bearers" was discussed by Mrs. V. O. Williams, "A Free Gospel and State Church" by Mrs. Jet Fore.

"Aftermath of the Great War" by Mrs. Sam Foxhall, and "A House Beautiful in Rumania," by Mrs. Scott Sigler. Two readings, "Let Me Live in a House by the Side of the Road" and "The Broken Pinion" were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Aris Owen. The W. M. S. was glad to welcome Mrs. Jet Fore back to the society and Memphis.

Very interesting reports from the District W. M. S. meeting, which convened at Panhandle last week, were given by Mesdames J. S. McMurry, Charles Oren, Geo. Thompson and D. A. Grundy.

Mrs. D. A. Grundy was again elected district president and Mrs. Henderson Smith district secretary. The local W. M. S. is proud of these honors conferred on these members.

The ladies also reported a pageant put on at the district meeting which was written by Miss Esta McElrath, a Memphis girl.

A very pleasant social hour followed and lovely refreshments were served to thirty members. The W. M. S. will meet with the Federated Missionary society next Monday at the Presbyterian church.

"Marry Young, Men, and be Firm Boss," Says "Marrying" Parson

When you're a "Marrying Parson"—even if you have more than fifty years experience—you never can tell when you're tying a slip-knot. But you can be reasonably sure if the man is under 25, the girl from 19 to 22, and if the groom has made up his mind to be boss from the start. Not domineering, nor selfish, but just a real firm umpire with nerve enough later on to call the balls and strikes as he sees them.

This, in brief, is the philosophy of the wedded state as seen by the Rev. Eddie Sawyer of Elizabeth City, S. C., who since a few years after the Civil War, has been marrying couples in this Gretna Green for elopers from Norfolk, Portsmouth and that section of Virginia.

Hard to Tell Lasting Ones
More than 2,000 couples have joined their hands and their fortunes under his sympathetic ministrations in that time, so this kindly, Kris Kringle type of man, with the ruddy cheeks and bristling beard, is known far and wide as the "Marrying Parson of Pasquotank."

"You can't tell in advance which marriages will turn out all right and which ones won't," he said somewhat sadly in commenting on his picturesque career.

"But, it's not up to me to say whether elopers ought or ought not to get married. It's up to me to marry them if they've got the proper license and credentials."

The Mother-in-Law Again
A vitally important factor in promoting marital bliss, according to the Rev. Sawyer, is for the young couple to have a separate home.

"The newly married couple should move into a separate nest away from mother-in-laws. That way it is much easier for the man to be boss and there is no doubt in my mind that the man who begins by making his wife look up to him usually has the happiest home and the most faithful and loving wife."

"Most of the troubles of newly weds are caused by the mother of the bride, who lots of times will insist on telling her daughter how to manage a husband."

"That kind of advice isn't worth a cent. To start with, the mother has had a totally different kind of man to deal with in her married life, and the same scheme won't work alike on both. The bride has just got to get used to the man she marries and handle her problems accordingly."

Here, the Rev. Sawyer tore a leaf out of his own volume of experiences. "I settled my own mother-in-law problem the day I got married," he said. "I told my wife's mother that I intended to be boss of my own home and we got along fine until the day she died."

Must Learn "Give and Take"
Modestly disclaiming the ability

1928

The Rev. Eddie Sawyer of Elizabeth City, S. C., is known as the "Marrying Parson of the Pasquotank." Since shortly after the Civil War he has tied more than 2,000 marital knots, mostly for eloping couples.

to lay down hard and fast rules that always work, the "Marrying Parson observed that the couple about to marry should be very much in love and that they should be willing to learn the gospel of give and take, which, he remarked, was not easy for couples of mature years.

"Young people usually get along better than older folks because they have not become set in their ways," he said. "Folks who wait too long to marry generally are selfish and inclined to want their own way. That brings on trouble."

"And there's another thing," he concluded, "you don't want to know too much when you get married. Take the leap with your eyes open, but be prepared to admit later that there are two sides to most every argument."

IN MEMORY OF CHARLIE DENNIS

(Born August 30, 1907—Died April 5, 1928)

Our dear Charlie from us has gone To live with God above; Forever there to dwell In that Sweet home of love.

He is now, sweetly resting On Jesus' loving breast, Free from care and sorrow— His spirit is at rest.

It was God's will to take him; He was so kind and true; And now his work is finished His earthly task is through.

We should not weep, dear parents, For the dear one that is gone, He is not dead, but sleeping, 'Till the resurrection morn.

But oh, we are so troubled, And life seems desolate; But he is only waiting for us Inside the Golden Gate.

How we weep for Dear Charlie— He was so good to every child And we must be prepared to meet him.

It is but just a little while, Although our hearts are breaking With sorrow and with grief, Remember none but Jesus, Can give us sweet relief.

But oh, we greatly miss him. Our hearts are sad and sore; We know that our Dear Charlie Can come to us no more.

For he in peace is dwelling In mansions with the blest; Safe in the arms of Jesus His soul shall forever rest.

Just five of you children Are left here to weep; You have no Charlie now, The night vigils to keep.

Now, kind friends and loved ones, Do not weep and mourn, For we shall meet Dear Charlie On the bright, celestial morn.

And there we'll meet our Savior, The one we so much love, And live with all our loved ones In that sweet home above.

Written by a cousin, MRS. ADA COX, Giles, Texas.

Ability of These Utilitarian Cotton Materials to Follow Style Trends Is Responsible for Their Popularity, Harriet Says

BY HARRIET

Utilitarian materials, such as gingham and calicoes, are coming into their own this summer. The vogue for washable cottons have evinced in style and the versatility they display in following it. New stripes, checks, dots and patterns all are having their gingham interpretations.

It really looks as if Milady would have at least a few gingham outfits in her wardrobe this summer or she just won't be modish. From the bedroom to the beach gingham, linens, printed calicoes and so on are really quite stylish. Ensemble and jumper themes for morning wear now are sensibly washable gingham and linens. Beach ensembles are topped by gaudy gingham coats. And far housework and around the garden, some-snappy new gingham pajama suits are being shown.

Easy on the Budget
Of course the price of these washable cottons is their chief endearing quality to the housewife, who just must watch her budget. If she shops with care, she can pick up enough figured and plain gingham, say, for a dollar, to herself a boudoir ensemble or pajamas and smock to cook hubby's breakfast in. With styles as simple as they still are today, the average woman is handy enough with her needle to fashion some of these outfits with little effort.

In making up the cotton frock, few types obtainable in silk are omitted as possibilities. One can have the figured cotton for a pleated skirt and cardigan, with plain colored material or even white voile for the blouse. Or it is possible to combine a body of plain material with fancily printed cotton for flouncings, jabots and so on. And of course the figured frock, with plain touches and a plain tailored belt, is always neat and attractive.

Parasol Supplants Hat

new, tricky little novelty this summer. Pale green is checkered by a deep green for the material and bandings, stripes on the jabot and a tailored belt are of the dark green. The skirt is pleated with a plain panel both front and back and much fullness results from the side pleats. The jumper is stitched to the skirt and is the wrap-around type which allows the entire frock to open up for ironing—a convenience the housewife appreciates.

Here we have the gingham parasol appearing as the proper accompaniment for a morning frock instead of a hat. This follows the fresh-air-for-the-hair fad. Many women this summer will carry parasols instead of wearing hats, just because of this new idea that sunshine and air promote the growth of hair. The picture on the right shows the newest washable ensemble—house pajamas and coolie coat smock. The name of this one is "Iris" because of the applied pattern of yellow irises upon the hyacinth blue of the smock. The bandings and border are of a new pattern, a broken check quite modern in its severe design.

Children's frocks this summer will turn more and more to washable materials, too. So, all in all, the woman who is handy with her needle might do well to keep her eyes open for bargains in gingham, linens, printed calicoes and so on. For she is right in style if she uses washable, inexpensive materials for all kinds of clothes.

CARD OF THANKS

We hereby express our deep gratitude to the Presbyterian church which was the fold of our loved one, and to all of our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and kind and whose ministrations in the sickness and trials through which we have passed in the death of our loved one were so gracious and tender. Such cordiality was as beautiful as and the floral tokens furnished and bedecked her grave but beautified the lonely void of our hearts which her absence leaves. We love every body for their kindness.

WILL REMODEL WELLINGTON THEATRE

New Owner to Make Show House Modern

Leader-Democrat News Alliance

WELLINGTON, April 26.—Wellington will have one of the most modern theatres between Wichita Falls and Amarillo when the final plans of A. M. Avery, manager of the Wellington theatres, executes the final plans for the remodeling of the Rialto.

The entrance of the theatre will be made 50 feet wide with a plate glass front and with a double entrance. A ladies' rest room will be included among the modern addition which will be made together with a drinking fountain.

A new organ will be installed, as well as an orchestra pit.

The floor of the building will be relaid throughout, and up-to-date lighting fixtures added. New, comfortably upholstered chairs will replace the old ones, and the seating capacity will be increased to 800.

An attractive marquee will replace the old awning over the front with new lobby frames erected, and the theatre will present a more modern appearance from the outside as well as on the interior.

An adequate dressing room will be installed and the stage enlarged. The new organ, which has already been purchased and which is in storage at the present time in Fort Worth, will be placed in the building just as soon as the necessary alterations can be made. Draperies, scenery, floor coverings, etc., will be in keeping with the many other improvements.

Considerable money is being expended in making the Rialto, attractive and comfortable, according to Mr. Avery who says this will be a theatre of which Wellington people will be proud and one which will be far above the average found in cities of this size.

Building Activity In Wellington Is Normal at Present

WELLINGTON, April 26.—Building activity in Wellington this spring is greater than it has been in many months, with 24 buildings under construction at the present time, or just recently completed, according to information secured from the four lumber concerns of this city. The building campaign includes the following:

J. L. Burt, residence; W. H. Goforth, residence; L. C. Carpenter, residence; O. N. Hightower, residence; O. N. Hightower, filling station; M. M. Music, brick building; R. H. Templeton, brick building; Caldwell, duplex; J. B. Stevenson; Caldwell; J. W. Jayne, brick building; Christian church; L. C. Jones, brick building; O. Q. Holley, residence; Baptist church annex; Dr. John W. Harper, residence; J. G. Finley, residence; R. L. Davidson, residence; Jess G. Doyle, residence; Jim Pettilo, filling station; J. D. White, residence; J. E. Mattox, modern duplex.

Many other homes and business houses are being improved by repainting and various other alterations. Several business houses are remodeling front entrances and display windows.

Extensive building is taking place in rural sections, lumbermen say. Many farmers are improving their homes and other buildings. A new Baptist church has been built at Quail as well as an addition to the Baptist church at Fresno.

Although the building activity in and around Wellington is not as extensive as in some other sections, Wellington's growth is normal and one which will be permanent.

BAPTIST CHURCH

1st Cor. 15:57: "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Victory, victory, is the one word in the hearts of all our people. And this great victory came through our Lord Jesus Christ. We join all of our Christian friends in thanking God for this victory.

Greater victories are just ahead if we faint not. We want to follow up this great revival by putting our best into our church work. There is work for all to do.

We believe that our people are willing and anxious to "Give of their best to the Master."

The members of the Baptist church join their pastor in extending a cordial invitation to all of the "Trail Hitters" who prefer to make the Baptist church their church home. Privileges of the church for membership will be offered in both morning and evening services Sunday. The pastor will be prepared to baptize all who wish to be baptized Sunday evening.

We are happy that the Lord sent Dr. James Rayburn and his helpers our way. Their efforts were blessed in a great way. God is using these good people in a marvelous way. Our prayer is that they may have a great victory at Shamrock.

DESKINS WELLS Wooten Grocer NEW HEAD OF PRESS ASSN. Co., Occupying New Building

Wellington Leader Editor Succeeds Pres. Kelly

CHILDRESS, Texas.—Bringing to a close what was generally conceded to be among the best conventions in its history, the Panhandle Press association Saturday elected Deskins Wells, of the Wellington Leader, as president for the coming year. Clyde W. Warwick of the Canyon News was re-elected secretary.

Pampa was selected as the '29 convention city.

The election, selection of meeting place and adoption of resolutions took place at a banquet given for the visitors by the Rotary and Lions clubs at noon Saturday.

Other officers elected were Homer Steen, Floydada, vice president; J. D. Merriman, Jr., Wheeler, poet; T. A. Landers, McLean, and Fred A. Story, Childress, with the officers, compose the executive committee for the following year.

Miss Mary Helen Hardin, with Mrs. M. A. Mahaffey at the piano, sang three songs at the close of the banquet and before the business of the session was resumed.

The members of the press were greatly pleased with this, one suggesting that Miss Hardin be designated as the Nightingale of the Panhandle. C. H. Walker of Dalhart, made a motion to that effect with the addition that Miss Hardin be adopted by the Panhandle Press association. The motion was carried by a unanimous vote.

Newlin Girls Win Honors In District Meet

In the annual district Interscholastic League meet which was held last week at Childress, Newlin high school won second place in ward school and class B high school essay writing, respectively.

The pupils winning these places were Irene Hamilton in the high school division and Margaret Bandy in the ward school division.

Irene Hamilton is in her first year of high school and has done excellent work in all subjects this year, especially in English, making a straight A average for the entire year. Under the direction of M. C. Davis, she has improved rapidly in the art of theme writing, and with another year of coaching she will have an excellent chance of winning even higher honors next year. Irene also won second place in the county meet in her respective division, which was held in Estelline in March. The title of her theme was "Needed Improvements in Our High School." She receives, as a merit of her excellent work, a silver medal, from both county and district officials.

Margaret Bandy was the winner of the Ward school essay contest, winning first place in the county meet and second place in the district. She is a seventh grade pupil and was also coached by Mr. Davis. The topic of her theme was "Some Pets I have Had." Margaret, like Irene, has made some excellent grades in her school work this year. She receives as an award for her work, a gold medal for first place in the county and a silver medal for second place in the district.

Newlin is justly proud of these two pupils who have won honor, not only for themselves, but for the town and school as well, and taking into consideration the competition they had in the two contests, they have made a wonderful showing.

Pleasant Valley 4-H Club Raises $32 at Box Supper

Thirty-two dollars at a pie supper at Pleasant Valley last Thursday night, sponsored by the 4-H club. The money will be used to send one of the club members to College Station to attend the A. & M. college short course in July.

A well arranged program was presented by boys and girls ten to sixteen who have learned thru their club to take a lead in community affairs. Dr. W. C. Dickey, president of the Hall County National bank, attended the meeting. The organization has a long list of accomplishments already to its credit and a strong program of work has been planned.

Loise Malloy is president of the club and Inez Cruse is secretary.

Revival

first week, prayer meetings were organized and the Christian people of Memphis got behind the evangelist and his efforts with their prayers. In every section of the city, men and women met together for the purpose of seeking divine guidance and inspiration that would bear fruit in the meeting. In the afternoons, Dr. Rayburn interpreted the Bible in a series of lectures.

The second week of the revival came and with it new enthusiasm. Just at this time, Mrs. D. K. Stover of the evangelistic party received news of the serious illness of her invalid husband in Long Beach, California. She left immediately for his bedside, but arrived thirty minutes after he had passed away. The Christian people of Memphis remembered Mrs. Stover in her dark hour of affliction and many were the floral tributes sent to be placed on the bier of her departed loved one. Not only that, but she was paid her full salary as though she had remained in Memphis until the close of the campaign.

It was in the second week of the revival that Dr. Rayburn started his morning talks to business men in the downtown district culminating in the wonderful service of last Friday morning. Rev. G. W. Otteson, his musical director, rendered a solo at each of these services and also delivered talks to the business women of the city.

Three interesting services were held each Sunday, taxing the strength of the evangelist but working wonders for the Kingdom of God.

When the third week of the evangelistic campaign arrived, people were beginning to realize that a change was taking place in Memphis. Regardless of weather conditions, crowds thronged to the tabernacle for the evening services, and to many, it was with real regret that they watched the days passing by so quickly.

After the regular services last Saturday night, Dr. Rayburn held a service for men in the First Baptist church. There he laid bare the injuries of the tobacco habit, and many in his large and responsive audience gave up smoking for good.

Three great services were held Sunday and Sunday night a collection was taken for the evangelist. When the offering was computed Monday, it was found that the people of Memphis, in appreciation of Dr. Rayburns untiring efforts had given him a sum in excess of $2,000. Dr. Rayburn left Memphis early Tuesday morning for Amarillo, on his way home where he will rest a few days before starting his campaign in Shamrock.

Any mention of the revival would be incomplete without calling attention to the splendid work done by Rev. G. W. Otteson and Mrs. D. K. Stover. Mr. Otteson, by his sincerity and earnestness has won a warm place in the affections of Memphis as has Mrs. Stover. Both are admirably suited to their respective endeavors.

The pastors and people of Memphis are both highly pleased at the outcome of the revival. Words of praise are heard on every hand and the knockers, always in the minority, have not been heard since the revival gained momentum after the first week.

Work of tearing down the additions to the tabernacle was finished Tuesday. To those who pass it by, it remains a place deserted, but so long as the memory of men shall endure, it will remain a place to be pointed out, a place to be revered for what transpired within its confines. Surely a great and loving God worked therein assisted and abetted by a responsive people in Memphis.

HIGH SCHOOL

Wednesday—Announcements were made at the chapel period and the students returned to their classes.

Thursday—The boys attended the talk given at Harrison's Hardware store, by Dr. Rayburn. According to the speaker's estimation there were approximately 800 people at this meeting.

Friday—The boys went down to the tabernacle to hear the "Blackboard Talk." There were many high school students who hit the sawdust trail after this lecture.

Monday—Dr. Rayburn talked on the Bible and Science during the chapel period. This was a splendid talk and the students appreciated it very much.

Tuesday—A very interesting and entertaining chapel program was given by the Sophomore class which delighted the entire student body.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
C. E. Jameson, Pastor

Bless the Lord, O My Soul, And All That Is Within Me, Bless His Holy Name, Let all Memphis praise Him forever for what He has done for us.

And now, let us sow forth His praise by loving service. Sunday will be a great day with us. We are expecting a large increase in attendance in all of the services of the day.

At the 11 o'clock hour we will receive members and will administer the Sacrament. Let us fill the house of God and let the world know you have come over on the Lord's side, which is the winning side.

A TRIBUTE TO DR. JAMES RAYBURN

Not within the past decade if perhaps within its history has the town of Memphis been so stirred or has so much constructive work been done for its moral, religious and civic life in so short a period of time, as has been accomplished by the devout and scholarly James Rayburn whose union campaign for all the churches has just closed.

The work so happily accomplished by the Rayburn party will live and grow and bear fruit with the years.

Pershing has said that the nation can be no greater than its small subdivisions. The work done by Dr. Rayburn in this recent campaign was not only religious but was also civic, character building, if you please, for the town of Memphis.

He says, "I will renew within thee a right spirit." A right spirit has been renewed within our town. She has been given a new vision, religious, moral, civic. The church life of the town has been quicken and materially strengthened. The stirring messages of this masterly, but genial, and kindly evangelist will long be remembered; and a grateful people join in the wish that many years of usefulness lie-out before him.

A CITIZEN.

PRIMARIES SHOW HOOVER IS STRONG

Massachusetts Votes Support for Gov. Al Smith

(By United Press)
Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York apparently on the majority of delegates in the various primaries and state conventions held yesterday.

The bitter Ohio Republican race, between followers of the late Frank B. Willis, ended with Hoover mightily in control, although the delegation will be divided.

Surprisingly enough Governor Smith won the Ohio endorsement although he had made no efforts in Ohio. He won by about 5 to 1 over former Senator Atlee Pomerene and Governor Vic Donahey.

Results of the various primaries and conventions today showed:
Ohio—Republicans Hoover, won majority control; Democrats,

Best Chance to Dodge Collectors

BEAUMONT, April 26. (UP)—Momentary relief from bill collectors may be had by those Texans thus afflicted this week end when the Texas Association of Credit Men holds its annual convention here.
More than 300 credit men from all sections of the state are expected to attend the convention Friday and Saturday, according to Morris D. Meyer, secretary.

Oklahoma—Republicans in convention voted to support either Senator Charles Curtis or former Governor Frank O. Lowden in such order as delegates determine.

Pennsylvania—Primary election resulted in split Republican delegation and 66 of Democrats delegates for Smith.
Massachusetts—Voters at primary overwhelmingly in favor of Herbert Hoover for Republicans and Governor Smith for Democrats.

S. P. Nelson, wife and daughter of Mt. Pleasant are here this week visiting their son and brother, H. L. Nelson and family. They are delighted with our splendid little city.

WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

C. W. Kinslow, Local Texas Co., Agent Distributes Many Texaco Products Over Large Trade Territory

Nineteen filling stations in Memphis and adjoining towns use Texas Company petroleum products supplied through C. W. Kinslow, local agent. The filling stations, however, represent only a small portion of Mr. Kinslow's clientele for he serves a number of retail dealers in kerosene, supplies roofing to 8 lumber yards, etc.

All Texaco products are made in Texas, as the name implies. Besides gasoline and oil the company wholesales kerosene, greases, roofing, asphalt and numerous small items, all available at the Memphis branch. Two trucks are maintained to serve customers quickly. The drivers are Charlie McBee and L. H. Lane. Mr. Kinslow has been local agent for three years, having purchased the business from M. J. Draper, now engaged in the grocery business here.

The magnitude of the Texas Company as a corporation is emphasized in the following statement taken from a recent issue of the Texaco 'Star' showing number and classification of stockholders:

	Number	Shares	Percentage of Stock
Brokers	414	1,172,799	16.24%
Men Stockholders	22,979	3,432,672	47.55%

NEW FILLING STATION AND ELECTRIC SHOP BUILDING IS OPEN

BEST BENCH IS PART OF VETA EQUIPMENT

The new bench is part of the equipment Veta Electric company has installed in its new filling station and electric shop building, according to W. J. Turnupseed, manager.

The new type generators are centrally located in the building, and are large and strong and will handle the largest units, including all types of generators.

The generators are held in the same position as they are in the car, for making any adjustment.

The new bench can be tested, without removing the coil, cutout, or distributor, so that a check can be made on the complete unit at the same time.

The bench also has an adjustment for supporting all types of magnets and square or round shaped generators and also has an adjustment for supporting all types of distributors.

The distributor is driven at the same speed as the engine, and is tested by the rotating arm which is calibrated in degrees.

A check on the firing order of the distributor and the location of the breaker points, and is of course in synchronization with the distributor.

The distributor is of the automatic governor type, and is controlled by the distributor, which can be adjusted by degrees with accuracy with the rotary arm and tachometer.

The distributor can be tested by mounting the distributor on the bench and chucked in the same position as it is in the car.

The arm is connected to the distributor by a flexible coupling to the scale.

The torque arm is also used to test the gear drive, and when the gear is connected to the pull in pounds shown on the torque scale draw and voltage indicated on the scale.

Veta Electric's Business Growth Has Been Rapid

The past seven years have seen W. J. Turnupseed's Veta Electric company grow from a mere work shop with a few wrenches to a modern, thoroughly equipped electric shop capable of handling the most difficult job.

"I started in business here with a screw driver and a pair of pliers," Mr. Turnupseed said, "and the growth of my business has been made possible by the kind consideration of Memphis people. I have them to thank for my new location and well-equipped shop."

Mr. Turnupseed's first assistant and right hand man is Cecil Swinney, an experienced electrician and battery man, who has been with Veta Electric company for two years.

Three pumps of large capacity accommodate patrons of Wood Service Station. One of the side doors visible at the extreme right affords an Eighth Street entrance for battery service, the other leads into the washing and greasing department of the service station. The building will be formally opened at 7 o'clock Saturday night, April 28.

Wear Football Headgears In Driving Tests

Mike Gannon, test car driver of the General Tire and Rubber company and former nationally known athlete, believes the law of averages makes chances for accident in his work, occur more frequently than in the case of the average motorist.

He accordingly has equipped himself and men with football headgear to be worn at all times while on driving duty in anticipation of the ultimate dive thru the windshield.

Gannon and his men wear out many new automobiles in their work of testing new type tires for the General factory engineers. A new Ford coupe purchased March 1, this year will be worn out and junked or sold as an old car May 31, after running about 52,000 miles in the 90 day period.

Recent similar runs with new type Fords and Chevrolets demonstrated for General engineers that a 30x4.75 tire will go several thousand miles farther on these cars than a 29x or 30x4.50 tire, usually put on at the auto factories; also that tires will go farther carrying even numbers of passengers than they will carrying odd numbers and that tires will give the best mileage on 32 to 35 pounds of air, depending upon the average passenger load.

Service Station Proprietors Are Experienced Men

Major Wood and Hugh Crawford, proprietors of Wood Service Station are experienced automobile service men. Mr. Wood came to Memphis two years ago after extensive experience in the filling station business at Vernon.

Hugh Crawford worked for Ed Kelly at his filling station on Fifth street across from the postoffice for a year and a half, and operated it under his ownership as Crawford's Service Station for a similar period. Prior to his connection with Major Wood he was manager of the United Tire company on Fifth street, for about two months.

EXPLAINS HOW BATTERIES FUNCTION

Generator Must Have Correct Adjustment

Few motorists, even those who have been driving for years, know just what goes on in the electrical circuit of a car according to Y. J. Turnupseed, of Veta Electric company, local Willard battery dealer.

"When you step on the starter button it completes a circuit from your battery to the motor of your starter. This current turns the electric motor which is connected with the flywheel of your motor by a series of cogs. This, of course, turns the engine over, and again the battery steps into prominence by furnishing current for exploding the gasoline in the cylinders. As soon as the engine starts the starter is shut off, but the battery must still function in furnishing current for ignition.

"While the motor is running a reverse current is passed into the battery from the charging generator and this keeps the battery in a charged condition. Unless the adjustment of this generator is right the battery may reach a run-down condition, because the demand on it from starting motor is great.

Air Cleaners are Most Important Auto Additions

"The most important additions to an automobile in recent years are the three cleaners," says P. A. Williams, service manager for the D & M Chevrolet company, local dealers in Chevrolet cars and trucks.

"These," continues Mr. Williams, "are the air cleaner, the oil filter, and the crank case ventilator; these three sealing the working parts of the automobile motor against that greatest enemy of machinery—dirt.

"To understand the full value of these cleaners let us first study what happens in an automobile engine. Each time a piston goes down on the suction stroke it sucks through the carburetor about a pint of air. As you are always on the roads where there is some dust, and sometimes in a sandstorm this air is filled with fine particles of dirt and sand.

The walls of the cylinder into which this air is drawn are coated with a film of oil and whatever part of this dirt strikes this oil is held in it and this mixture of dirt and oil becomes a fast cutting or grinding compound which quickly wears out the rings, pistons, and cylinder walls.

"The function of the air cleaner is to remove this dirt from the air before it is sucked through the carburetor. The A. C. air cleaner does this by throwing the dirt out of the air just as an ordinary cream separator separates the cream from milk. As the air rushes into the air cleaner it passes through a series of fan shaped blades which give it a violent whirling motion and this throws the heavy particles of dirt to the outside where a small slit allows it to fall to the ground and leaves pure clean air to be drawn into the motor.

"Actual tests in the General Motors laboratories and at the General Motors proving grounds, where all new ideas are thoroughly tested before being added to Chevrolets, show that the air cleaner adds many miles to the life of the wearing parts of an automobile, and when used with an oil filter and a crankcase ventilator assure the owner of thousands upon thousands of miles of service before major repairs are necessary."

Next week Mr. Williams will tell about the oil filter and the crank case ventilator.

12,000 Acres Land in Hemphill County Have Changed Hands

CANADIAN, April 26.—(UP)—More than 12,000 acres of ranch land in Hemphill county have changed hands at an approximate consideration of $133,000. The Dave Hargrave ranch, containing 8,527 acres, has been purchased by Jesse and Otto Yokley for a named consideration of $100,000. W. W. Lewis has sold five sections of grass land to C. E. Evans for $33,000.

Marshall Battery Charger Part of Veta Equipment

"Our plant is adequately equipped for the proper charging of batteries," W. J. Turnupseed of Veta Electric company, declares. "Among other equipment we have a Marshall constant potential battery charger, one of the best machines available today.

"As a result of years of scientific research in this special field the Marshall Electric company of Elkhart, Ind., has produced a charging machine that has the endorsement of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company and is approved by the world's foremost electrical engineers. We have installed this machine at considerable expense in order to render the best service to Veta customers.

W. J. Turnupseed

Turnupseed, guiding genius of Veta Electric company, declares his business has increased 100 per cent in his new location. No wonder he's smiling.

Firestone Electric Vulcanizer First in This Territory

Wood Service Station has installed the first new type Firestone vulcanizing machine in this territory. The sturdy and compact machine vulcanizes tubes electrically and is built to generate an even heat that insures a perfect cement.

This machine, which has just been placed on the market, is a time saver for motorists. Little more than half the time consumed by other means of vulcanizing is required by the Firestone.

TODAY'S YOUTH NO WORSE THAN THOSE OF LONG AGO

HASTINGS, Neb., April 26. (UP)—Present day youth are no worse than "when you and I were young Maggie," Dr. Ira Landrith, of Chicago, international citizenship superintendent of Christian Endeavor, declared here in an address before a large number of young people and their elders.

"Young people are just as ready to be saved as they were 50 years ago," he declared. "Indeed, I think they are more so. The reason we think they are bad is because the newspapers print 98 per cent of the bad in youth and only 2 per cent of the good. It isn't any harder to reach young people when they are challenged to become Christians than it ever was."

TWO PROMINENT FIRMS OCCUPY BUILDING

Wood Service Station and Veta Electric Co., Open

Saturday night at 7 o'clock is the time set for the formal opening of Wood Service and Veta Electric company in their new $8,000 brick building at Eighth and Main. The new structure, owned by Jim McMurry, houses a combination that offers complete service to motorists and one rarely found on the Colorado to Gulf highway. The building was erected by Mr. McMurry according to specifications furnished by Major Wood and W. J. Turnupseed, the lessees, and is a model of convenience and modernity. W. E. Johnsey was contractor.

Nothing will be for sale Saturday from 7 p. m. until closing time, the proprietors have announced. The entire time will be devoted to showing visitors thru the building, demonstrating the various new machines, etc. Refreshments will be served and there will be special favors for the ladies.

Both the filling station and electric shop front on Main street. There is a drive in entrance on Eighth for battery service and another for washing and greasing. The filling station, with entrances on Eighth and Main has three 10-gallon pumps and will accommodate two to three cars at a time. Wood's portion of the building has ample display room for tires and accessories, and a ladies' rest room with street entrance is located conveniently.

Mr. Turnupseed has display room, his office and work shop in the front section of his quarters. The battery charging and rebuilding department occupies a spacious room in the rear. Both the Veta Electric company and Wood Service Station have installed considerable new machinery.

Polish People Will Settle in South Texas

SAN ANTONIO, April 26. (UP)—Plans are underway for a Polish settlement in the vicinity of Laredo and Cotulla, according to Congressman John E. Sosnowski, Detroit, Mich., who has inspected the country in the Rio Grande valley and expects to obtain approximately 250,000 acres for the settlement.

Sosnowski said that the colonization of the settlement would probably start in the near future. He said that represented automobile manufacturers, who were interested in developing the settlement for the purpose of promoting highway construction.

The parties sending him to Texas represented a net worth of $20,000,000, the Michigan congressman said.

bring about world peace and clean up the nation.

"The thing that must be realized first is that young people can do it—and they will," he reiterated.

Speaking on modern dress, he declared that it is not immodest. The immodesty, he said, is the eye of the beholder. Young people think nothing of short dresses because the last long one they wore they kicked off when they were three months old, he added.

"I would like to make you women mad enough to vote," he continued. "I have no fear that there will be a wet politician in the presidential chair after the next election—I doubt if one will be even nominated, but if he is, he'll be hung out to dry. I'm not a prohibitionist. I'm a constitutionalist. Everyone who is not a supporter of the constitution is a Bolshevik."

Prize Play Will Be Produced In Gainesville Friday

GAINESVILLE, April 26. (UP)—The Little Theatre of Gainesville is entertaining guest players from six other amateur play producing groups of Texas this week in rehearsal for the fourth inter-city production of the local theater, "Hell Bent For Heaven," the Pulitzer prize by Hatcher Hughes.

The guest players include Francis W. Emerson, Little Theatre, Sherman; Mrs. Lindsay Morrow, Pied Piper Players, Bonham; Miss Paula McCain, Little Theatre, McKinney; Victor Gerstenkors, Little Theatre Players, Cleburne; Ewing Ellis, Little Theatre, Denison; Frank Bunting, the Players, Henrietta. A Morton Smith is the local member of the cast.

The play will be presented in the afternoon and evening performances, Friday, under the direction of Miss Nettie B. Arterberry, director of the Little Theatre of Gainesville, who will close her career in amateur dramatic work here with this production. She will leave soon for Louisville,

Escape Assassination Plots

This picture of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and Premier Benito Mussolini was taken after both had narrow escapes at the hands of would-be assassins recently. Fourteen persons were killed in Milan, when a bomb, hidden in the base of a lamp post, exploded just before the king passed on his way to open the Milan Fair. At about the same time, authorities found an infernal machine evidently intended for Mussolini.

Ky., to reside. Little Theatre enthusiasts from all parts of north Texas are expected to be here for the production, which has become one of the high lights of the amateur dramatic season in North Texas each year. Last year, the inter-city play was "Mr. Pim Passes By," and in previous years, "Kempy," and "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" have been given.

Dallas to Have Grand Opera Co., Next Season

DALLAS, April 26. (UP)—Two performances of the Chicago Civic Opera company will be given here next season, Herbert Marcus, chairman of the Dallas grand opera committee has announced.

The company, which visited Wichita Falls and San Antonio in Texas this year, has appeared in Dallas seven times since 1912. The repertoire from which the two Dallas operas will be selected have not yet been decided.

Preventing Trouble Is Willard Battery Man's First Duty

The slogan among the better battery dealers these days is "Preventive Service," according to W. J. Turnupseed, local Willard battery man.

"For some time now," says Mr. Turnupseed, "we have been trying to educate car owners to look upon regular battery inspection as a preventive of future battery trouble rather than coming to us only when trouble pops up."

"Too often the motorist looks upon the battery man as one having but a single thought in mind—to sell him a new battery whenever he comes in. This impression is gained because most motorists never call on the battery man until it is actually the case that either drastic repairs or a new battery is necessary."

"Realizing the mistaken feeling in the minds of car owners in general, the Willard battery men of the country drafted a preventive service code which they call 'Five-Point Inspection Service.' It includes the five important features in inspection, which is offered the motorist by every Willard battery station; one testing each cell, two, replacing evaporation of water; three, cleaning terminals; four, cleaning top of battery; five, tightening hold-downs and grounds when needed."

WOOD HAS NEW CAR WASHING MACHINE

Installs First Lippman Spray Mist Machine In This City

The first spray mist washing machine to be installed in Memphis is now in operation at Wood Service Station, Eighth and Main. This type of machine is said to be thoroughly capable of cleaning not only the body of a car but every part of it including the motor.

The Lippman spray mist car washing and cleaning unit is completely equipped with every modern time, labor, and trouble-saving device possible. It will completely and thoroughly clean and wax a car inside and out—in a few minutes. Furthermore, the only unit guaranteed absolutely not to hurt the finish of a car is more complete than any unit on the market, and a better and more durable in less time," declared Major Wood, manager of Wood Service Station.

Inside of the car is first cleaned by a special air which will clean upholstery thoroughly than any vacuum and without the slightest tear. Every crack and crevice is reached—not a hiding place of dirt remains untouched. Motor and all grease emulsions can be cleaned with a kerosene gun, which completely removes every particle of dirt. Motor, crankings, chassis, differential, etc., how inaccessible, no matter how dirty, the kerosene spray them like new.

A fine spray—not water—soft as fog, fully penetrating, loosens dirt on chassis and body. A spray completely rinses off dirt and grit without the least damage to the finish. Finally, a kerosene gun removes all water making it necessary to do a small amount of rubbing with a cloth.

Water are controlled by the operator at all times. The water is washed by means of a constructed valve in the which thoroughly atomizes the water at the nozzle. This adjustment of the operator at the nozzle that he can instantly change water to a fine spray, a straight stream, or a slight turn of the nozzle which will injure the finish, as high water pressure is not used.

STATE RECEIVES BIDS ON ROAD MAINTENANCE

Upkeep Construction Costs Counties Nothing

AUSTIN, April 26. (UP)—Bids were received Monday by the state highway commission on both road construction work and on asphalt surfacing classed as maintenance.

On the work classed as "maintenance" the counties do not have to contribute to the payment. Counties receiving construction work pay a part and the balance is paid by the U. S. Bureau of Roads.

The construction work includes:

Baylor county—Thirteen miles of bituminous surface paving on gravel or limestone base from Seymour to the Throckmorton county line on Highway 23.

Cameron county—Grading and bridges from Combes to the Wilcox county line on Highway 96, a distance of 8 miles.

Dimmit county—Eighteen and a half miles of grading and drainage structures on Highway 55 beginning a mile south of Carrizo Springs and extending through Asherton to Catarina.

Hardeman county—Eight miles of grading and drainage structures from Quanah to Goodlet on Highway 49.

Tarrant county—Nine miles of grading and drainage structures beginning near Smithfield and running to Grapevine on Highway 21.

The maintenance contracts to be let today include:

Coleman county—Eighteen miles of one course asphalt treatment on Highway 7 from the Brown-Coleman county line northwest through Santa Anna to two miles northeast of Coleman, and also on 43 miles of Highway 23 from the Runnels-Coleman line northeast through Santa Anna to two miles northeast of Coleman, and also on 43 miles of Highway 23 from the Runnels-Coleman line northeast through Coleman to the Callahan-Coleman county line.

Rimble and Kerr counties—Thirty nine miles of one course asphalt surfacing on Highway 27 from Junction to Mountain Home.

Kendall county—Rock asphalt paving in the middle of main street of Comfort.

Taylor county—Eleven miles of one course asphalt treatment from Tuscola southeast to the Coleman-Taylor county line.

GENERAL TIRES

LED ALL OTHERS IN 1927 GAINS!

Increases in the use of General tires exceeded that of any other tire in the world last year. Annual statements of General and the country's other great rubber factories showed this.

Aside from the top quality reputation, a big factor in General's achievement in leading the field last year was the low price of rubber which made it ridiculously foolish to look for cheap tires the way prices for good tires were—and are today.

Thousands of motorists who have always wanted Generals but believed they could not afford the slightly higher cost, are taking advantage of present low rubber prices and are buying Dual Tread Generals.

See the complete line of Generals on display in our new home.

Point Isabel Wants U. S. Aid on Deep Water Harbor

EDINBURG, April 26. (UP)—The Lower Rio Grandy Valley will receive an appropriation of $2,000,000 from the rivers and harbors committee of the house for the construction of a deep-sea harbor at Point Isabel, near here, E. H. Downs of San Benito and Mayor Finley Ewing of Harlingen, said upon their return from Washington with the Valley port delegation.

The men from the Valley made the trip to urge the United States board of engineers to give their approval of the projected harbor.

Members of the rivers and harbors committee gave the delegation assurance that if the engineers approved the measure, it would be included in the current rivers and harbors bill.

Far Distant Clubs Trade Courtesies at Raymondville Today

EDINBURG, April 26. (UP)—Two Kiwanis clubs, 1,500 miles apart, will exchange courtesies today.

It all came about when Secretary Coulter of the Raymondville club received a letter from the secretary of the Fresno, Cal., Kiwanis club, asking the former organization if it would serve a banquet on April 26, National Raisin Day, with raisins as the honor dish.

Coulter immediately replied that he would be glad to do so if the Fresno club would reciprocate by serving a banquet with Raymondville onions as the honor dish. He stated that these onions are the earliest and sweetest put on the market.

"The great men are all dead," she said with evident regret.

"But the beautiful women are not," he replied, looking earnestly at her.

"Of course," she added, after a moment's reflection, "I always except present company."

"So do I," he said.

Then she asked him if he would be good enough to conduct her to her husband.

Blows Scorpions and Tarantulas Out of Clarinet

EDINBURG, April 26. (UP)—Francis Roby, a young dance musician living near here, was having a hard time trying to get any music from his clarinet. The dancers stood waiting for the orchestra to start, but the boy could not get "hot." A series of squeaks and wheezes were the best he could do.

Suddenly, as he put all his strength behind one hard puff into his instrument, three baby scorpions, a small sized tarantula and a handful of big red ants came tumbling out of the bell of the clarinet.

The instrument had been lying unused for several months without being placed in its case and the insects got into it.

Certificates Are Distributed by State Superintendent

AUSTIN, April 26. (UP)—S. M. N. MATTS, state superintendent of schools, has received from the highway education board, Washington, D. C., and distributed safety essay certificates of merit earned by the following Texas schools:

Highland Park (Dallas), Sunset (Dallas); Central, Rose Hill and Whitaker schools, of Texarkana; Troup public schools; Goodson rural school, Hughes Springs; and the Georgetown public school.

The certificates were awarded for participation in the national safety contest for pupils, and the national teachers lesson contest for signature of pupils to the pledge of carefulness, for absence of any traffic accidents among pupils and teachers during the safety season and for the organization of an active safety patrol.

Automobiles and Prohibition

BY PHEBE K. WARNER

It is easy to talk. So long as we have no intention of doing what we think others ought to do, it is easy to criticize. There is no other line of thought that requires so little backbone and brains as criticism. It is easy to stand around and tell the world what ought to be done. But it takes more moral courage than the great majority of us have to get busy and do it. Most of us know better than we do. And a lot of us think we are really better than we are.

Just now our whole country is in a political turmoil. We have had some political epidemic every four years without fail. And I suppose it will continue to occur at the same intervals of time as long as our government lasts.

Several years ago the prohibition became one of our problems. Year after year the dries fought for political supremacy. And prohibition won the fight. The great distilleries were closed and hundreds of thousands of doors were closed.

Some said: "The saloon would all starve to death if the government eliminated saloons." So far have any of you any headline in the daily announcing the fact that the saloon keeper and his family starved to death because of his job? Instead of the saloon keeper's death they found better living since they had not only that but thousands of patrons are now livers of their own and their families and children to school in the year.

A few of the men and women who believe in the saloon have gone into the woods and down along the banks and are "still" there. But they are not happy. There is not a bootlegger in this country who is happy when he is something that he is not and that he has to live by the laws of his country.

I sometimes wonder of us who talk so loud about bootleggers know the real business. Most of us are trying to make some money out of every other business loaded. That's one of the reasons.

There are others. Many of us have a relation between the automobile business effect has prohibited the automobile business. Tell us that the population of the United States spend $8,000,000,000 annually on automobiles. How much of that billion dollars is suppose used to be open saloons? And the benefit of that money spent on the wives and children get any of the money spent on bootlegging? Do you believe the industry in all its furnishing as many as the saloon twenty-five years ago?

But there are other sides to the question. Which of these two national industries means the most joy and happiness and pleasure to the American homes? Now those three words, "joy, happiness and pleasure" may sound just alike. But they are not. It is a real JOY to even look at a big pretty car. But it is a lot more pleasure to ride in it and real happiness lies in owning it, if you own it honestly.

And now the question that every sane voter should ask himself or herself is this. Has prohibition helped the automobile business? Has it made the automobile a safer means of transportation? Or do you think we would all be just as safe in our cars out on the public highways if we allow the open saloon to come back into our country and turn everybody loose in both the saloon and the automobile if they choose to indulge in both. Would the women be safe out on the road? And no other thing invented has brought so much freedom and pleasure within the reach of the busy women of our land as the automobile. Would the children be safe on the road to school? Oh, we'd fine the drunk drivers! When? After the children were crippled or dead. And our policemen wouldn't have time to do a thing but keep the people out of the way of the drunk drivers if the open saloon were to return to the U. S. A.

If there were not another reason for keeping our country DRY, the automobile is reason enough. Or shall we all give up our cars and wipe out the automobile business in order to make our country safe for the saloon and its advocates.

There are a thousand reasons WHY we should not allow our country to fall back into the "wet" column. And now is the time for every American citizen to do some sound, sensible, sane thinking. Now is the time to lay down every form of sentiment and prejudice in favor of a few people having their own way for their own special gratification, and stand and vote together as one united, patriotic nation for the greatest good and the greatest safety and the most happiness for all the people.

ago? If it is then how many people were thrown out of employment by the elimination of the saloon? This is not saying that all the saloon keepers and managers of distilleries went into the automobile business. It is not saying that any of them did. But it takes about so many people to do the world's work and if the automobile business which has been developed almost entirely since the open saloon was forced out of business is furnishing employment to an equal or greater number of home providers, then how can we argue that the nation has lost anything in an industrial way or a commercial way by getting rid of the saloon?

But there are other sides to the question. Which of these two national industries means the most joy and happiness and pleasure to the American homes? Now those three words, "joy, happiness and pleasure" may sound just alike. But they are not. It is a real JOY to even look at a big pretty car. But it is a lot more pleasure to ride in it and real happiness lies in owning it, if you own it honestly.

WICHITA FALLS PLAYING UP TO FORM

Houston to be Strong Pennant Contender This Year

DALLAS, April 26. (UP)—Enough of the Texas league season has gone to judge fairly well what the teams really look like finds the preseason favorites huddles in first division.

Wichita Falls has played the same sort of baseball that put them at the lead of last year's race. Good pitching and opportune hitting has kept the Spudgers in the front. The club has the same hustle and never die spirit which won them ball games last season.

Houston has added strength with the injection in the line up of the flashy Schuble at short and Worthington in the outfield. Both of the men have been going at top speed.

A playoff between Houston and Wichita for the Texas league pennant would be an excellent drawing card. Wichita won the Class B attendance cup while Houston won the Class A attendance trophy. Houston would like to play championship ball in its new park.

Dallas is trying to strengthen its club with new players. Loris Baker, a shortstop from the Pacific Coast league, and Rube Ellis, veteran outfielder from Louisville, have been the latest additions to the team. The steer officials have announced there will be several more changes unless the Dallas club starts winning regularly.

San Antonio started off with a lead rush but was halted after the first dash. The Bears, though, have a club to be reckoned with. Down at Waco, Derrill Pratt's youngsters have demonstrated much yet, but the club has good prospects.

Shreveport and Beaumont have done little. It took Shreveport a long time to win a game even on its home grounds.

Recreation Workers Will Discuss Handling Facilities in Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, April 26. (UP)—Handling facilities for the increased interest in public recreation in the large cities of the southwest will feature discussions at the round table conference to be held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday by the Southwestern District Recreation Workers.

Cities in Texas, Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma will be represented at the conference. Most of the discussions will be around technical problems of mutual interest. The first conference was held four years ago at Houston.

Among the towns expected to be represented will be: Arkansas: Bentonville, Blytheville, El Dorado, Fort Smith and Little Rock.

Oklahoma: Oklahoma City, Guthrie, Ponca City and Tulsa. Louisiana: Abbeville, Alexandria, Baton Rouge, Lafayette, Monroe, Morgan City, New Orleans and Shreveport.

Texas: Austin, Amarillo, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Harlingen, Houston, Lubbock, Park Arthur, San Antonio, Texarkana, Waco, Weslaco and Wichita Falls.

Wellington Leads Entire World In Ginning Machines

Leader-Democrat News Alliance

WELLINGTON, April 26.—Wellington was selected for an interesting demonstration of new and improved gin machinery last week due to the fact that rough cotton from the end of the season was available, giving the machinery a rigid test, and because of the fact that Wellington has more gin machinery than any other town, regardless of size, in the entire world. One town in Texas has one more gin than Wellington, but there is no town in the world that has as much ginning machinery as is to be found in this city, according to F. B. Williams of Fort Worth, president of the Williams Roller Rib gin company, who was here conducting the demonstration, and who states more cotton could be ginned here, if it were grown than in any other town on the globe.

The machinery demonstrations which were held last week at the House gin were personally conducted by Mr. Williams. Every gin owner of Wellington witnessed the demonstration, as well as a number of gin owners from Oklahoma, some of whom were from Altus and Elk City, who were interested in seeing the new machinery in action. The new Williams breast accomplishes fifty per cent more work than the ordinary gin is capable of producing.

All who saw the demonstrations were favorably impressed with the Williams machinery and are enthusiastic about its possibilities.

Delegates from Foreign Countries Meet in Houston

HOUSTON, April 26. (UP)—Delegates from 20 foreign countries will add impressive international character to the national Foreign Trade Council convention which meets here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Delegates at the meeting will represent China, Japan, New Zealand, South Africa, Greece, Spain, Great Britain, France, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Ireland, Indo-China, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Colombia, Argentina, Panama and other Latin-American countries.

Dr. Carlos G. Davila, ambassador to the United States from Chile, will fly to the meeting from Washington. He is scheduled to address the meeting Friday.

The more important firms in the Latin-American countries will have several representatives at the meeting, including prominent people from all sections of the world, interested in international trade.

James A. Farrell, chairman of the councils, will preside at the meeting. Among the speakers are E. P. Thomas, vice president of the United States Steel Products

Remember Your Battery in Spring Overhauling Plans

Spring means housecleaning time, also auto overhaul time. Spring breezes, the song of birds, and the lure of the open road might not be ingredients found in a chemical laboratory, but they certainly bring about chemical or some other kind of reactions in the human mind and body. These reactions vary with different persons, but there is one symptom common to all auto owners—that is an irrefragable desire to overhaul the "old car."

"But while giving the rest of the car the once-over, do not forget that there is a storage battery hidden away under the floor-board," warns Mr. Turnpuseed, Willard dealer. "Speed wagons sometimes fail to speed if their batteries are neglected," he says.

"The battery is the most neglected thing in the average motorist's car," Mr. Turnpuseed claims. "Out of sight, out of mind" is also true about a battery. The motorist who is wise will have his battery examined and serviced before starting on that long-dreamed-of fishing trip or vacation tour."

An Investment for the Future —a Six of Long Life and Advanced Design

Judged by even the most critical standards, the New Series Pontiac Six is months—even years—ahead of its field. Its style is the height of fashion —achieved with low, graceful, modish lines—emphasized by magnificent new bodies by Fisher.

Its big, economical motor has the
G-M-R cylinder head, for smoothness, power, snap and speed. It introduces the cross-flow radiator into the low-price field for elimination of engine cooling cares. It has every other really worthwhile feature that progressive engineering has devised! And in addition, it has that great fundamental which has been the basis of Pontiac's ever-growing success—the great fundamental of long life!

As a result the Pontiac Six will continue to assure owners a resale value which is the marvel of the industry. When you buy a Pontiac Six you know you are getting—not only a car that is new today—but a six so advanced in style and engineering, so famous for long life that its inherent value will always be consistently high!

RESULTS OF THE REVIVAL

IT WILL be impossible to measure the results of the cooperative revival which has just been brought to a close. The number of conversions and reclamations is possibly known to the various churches who participated. Also, it is not unlikely that the ministers of our city know pretty well who, among their church members, have signified their intentions of quitting cards, dancing and other pleasures condemned by the evangelist.

If a survey were taken of the good done in the evangelistic campaign, such a survey would be far from authentic. It can not be measured or approximated. Surface indications are all that we have to go by. They are, however, more superficial than actual. By the good done, is meant those things that will last.

Some of the most outstanding results of the revival may never become generally known. The evangelist and his helpers fade into dim unreality; the tabernacle becomes a place deserted. Families who took part in the services move away from Memphis. Marriages come along; births are heralded and eventually death stalks upon homes where before reigned happiness and contentment. The life of the community marches on its way hand in hand with progress.

If, in future years, life is made easier to bear when shrouded with suffering, if men and women do their duty as Christians with disregard for the hounds of criticism; if boys and girls tread surely on the foundations of religious experience and understanding, if reclaimed lives hold true to the course they have elected to follow; if converts grow into useful and substantial church members, then the effects of the revival will outlast the boundaries of time and will remain a bright memorial to the prayers and labors expended to give Memphis the proper spiritual attitude.

Dr. James Rayburn has done good work here. He has given of himself unstintedly in a worthy cause. He has made the gospel attractive; he has implanted hope for despair, a love of God for worldly idols, and his interpretation of the Bible will live long after the man, as an evangelist, has been forgotten.

STATE PRESS

NO NAME is better known among journalists in the Southwest than that of the venerable "State Press" of the Dallas News, Dr. J. J. Taylor. At the meeting last week in Childress of the Panhandle Press Association, Dr. Taylor was one of the principal speakers having had assigned him as a subject, "The Pig is Mightier Than the Pen."

Needless to say, "State Press" was at home when speaking on this subject. In fact, he is at home when he speaks on any theme. Jokes flow from his lips like juice from a grapefruit, nor is this the only similarity between the two. Dr. Taylor, however, has the faculty of waxing seriously eloquent upon occasion, and in his address last Friday, he took his listeners for a trip with him into classical mythology. We followed him, with much trepidation, over huge words and lofty mountains until at the end of his peroration, he delivered himself of his conception of womanhood, the only part of his address we understood fully and completely.

At the conclusion of his address, an editor was heard to remark: "I'd like to listen to Joe for an hour. Man, he was just getting started good when he stopped. That man is an orator." Another editor interposed at this juncture, "I've been reading after him a long time. Joe is all right."

The expressed opinions of these editors just about cover the situation. Joe is all right. Any man who can conduct a column year in and year out from the writings of Texas' editors has a right to be suspended in the hall of fame, or something worse happen to him. But that is exactly what Joe Taylor does. He says what he thinks and makes his editor friends like it.

Of late, Dr. Taylor has started to put on a little style. He is not satisfied with taking up the better part of the editorial page of the Dallas News but has to come out with an article, signed and boxed, on the front page of his paper. How come, doctor? If some of our friends knew that J. J. Taylor was "State Press," there would be more than that warm word to pay. But anyway, Joe, it is gratifying you realize you're not a poet. Thank God for that, and how!

THE GREENBELT TOURNAMENT

THE MEMPHIS Country Club will be host to the Greenbelt Golf Association in the third annual tournament of that organization the latter part of May. Ten clubs have registered to take part in this year's play and prospects are that still others will enter.

Memphis' folk in general should welcome this opportunity to become better acquainted with their neighbors. The number of entries indicate that enthusiasm for the game itself is paralleled by the desire of the various clubs to try out the local course. Individual members from practically every golf club in the Panhandle have, from time to time, played our course, but they have never been associated with the rank and file of our golfers as will be the case when the tournament gets under way.

In a well-ordered life, there is time for both work and play. Many, if not a majority, of our capitalists and men of affairs find time for recreation and sport. Play is as essential to the mature man as to the growing child. We all appreciate the truth carried in the assertion that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

"Hans" Across the Sea

We are prone to speak of business contacts and what they lead to. At the same time, we should not minimize play contacts. Business deals, involving millions of dollars, have been consummated indirectly through play. A man is at his best, not when he is frowning over figures at his office desk, but rather, when he has relaxed, when his mind is free of details, of petty intricacies and routine.

When our guests arrive here to enter the golf tournament, let's make them enjoy themselves thoroughly. We have a club of which any city, regardless of size or caste, has a reason to be proud. We can create a new and finer spirit of fellowship, a broader conception of community interests and a more complete understanding if we do our utmost to make this golf tournament not a matter entirely of putting, approaching and driving, but equally, a matter of friendliness, conviviality and good sportsmanship.

Patron—My watch which I bought from you has stopped. What is the matter with it?
Jeweler—It is a victim of what the doctor calls "cachexia."
Patron—What in the world does "cachexia" mean?
Jeweler—It means it's run down.
Farmer Brown who can't afford a radio, affixes a loud speaker to the party-line telephone.—Collier's.
She—where in the world did you get that horrible necktie?
He—The laugh's on you. You gave it to me last Christmas.
Hostess—Yes, I've got one of the best cooks going.
Friend (eagerly)—When?

"Mandy, you say yo' done married a real black man. Why, he ain't real black nohow whosom-eh. My husband am real black. I's done slept with him fo' five yearhs an' nevah seen him a-tail."
"Mebby so—mebby so. But my man's so doggone black dat de lightnin' bugs follow him around in de daytime."
"Well, she didn't wear mourning very long!"
"What would you expect? She wasn't married to him very long."
"Yes, it was a case of love at first sight."
"Why didn't you marry him, then?"
"I saw him several times afterwards."

Auto Prospect—But I don't want to buy a car that runs 70 or 80 miles an hour.
Salesman—Don't let that worry you. This car doesn't really go that fast. But people like to brag about going fast and to please them we fix the speedometers so they show twice as much as the car is going.

Judge—I hope you'll never be guilty of snatching ladies' purses again.
Prisoner—I won't, your honor. When I get out of jail I can make an honest living the rest of me life sellin' power puffs.

Minister—And how is your son getting on with his wireless, Mrs. Miggs?
Mrs. Miggs—Oh, 'e understands the wireless par all right, sir—it's all them 'wires an' suchlike that get 'im puzzled!

Magistrate—You have already acknowledged that you assaulted the policeman in the manner stated.
Accused—Yes.
Magistrate—Then what do you want to do now?
Accused—Deny it.

Timidly yet hopefully an aspiring author laid his contribution on the editor's desk. With a jaundiced eye the editor skimmed through the pages. "Are you quite sure this is an original story?" he asked suspiciously.
"Yes, indeed!" responded the author. "All except the punctuation—I changed that in places."

The Texas Gold Medal band is receiving much attention these days since its designation as the official band for the National Democratic convention. Every few days Memphis is visited by some railroad official wanting to be the railroad to carry the band to Houston. The railroad people feel that their road will get some favorable advertising by being the official carrier.

So far, none of them have offered to carry the band free of charge in return for the valuable publicity they will receive. There seems to be a lack of appreciation on their part, or rather they have not yet learned what the word "Reciprocity" means.

Be that as it may, the whole Panhandle country will receive creditable recognition through the band going to Houston, as will the railroad that acts as carrier. The band committee is waiting to hear them make a noise like helping Memphis finance the proposition.

The three Rotarians, Figh Read and Phelan, who attended the District Rotary Conference at Lubbock last week brought back some good reports. When asked what they did, Figh said he attended the President's meeting, Read said he attended the Boy's Work meetings, and Phelan said he attended the luncheons.

Upon closer investigation it was found that all three were kept busy for two whole days and part of one night, right in Rotary Work. Read also made a name for himself by delivering an address that came in for compliments and official recognition.

That is one thing that Memphis citizens always do when away from home—reflect credit upon themselves and their home town.

It is a characteristic of Memphis people to do the right thing both at home and abroad. The generous response to financing the cooperative revival is proof of the statement.

The great Western spirit of hospitality and up-and-at-'em is possessed by most Panhandle towns. Take Childress, for instance. She was host to the Panhandle Press association last Friday and Saturday. She left nothing undone for the comfort and entertainment of the one hundred press people present.

Three splendid banquets were given in the two days, and musical teas, golf games, shows, etc., were also provided for the visitors. Even the hotels went out of their way to see that the pen pushers were properly treated. Then the Childress papers went still further—ran the pictures of the "extinguished" editors in their columns. MyK ollum is thankful for that free publicity.

Pampa will have to strut her stuff next year, if she expects to vie with Childress in entertainment. In former years Amarillo was considered the meeting place permanently; but she grew indifferent when in the throes of the oil boom, and now, if she expects to get the meeting back home, she will have to make some offers.

I don't blame her much, for it is a burden to take care of a convention of any size. The Rotarians who went to Lubbock, went with instructions to invite the Rotary District Conference to Memphis next year, decided they would not place such a hardship on Memphis people as at least five hundred people attend the conferences.

They kept mum, and came back without the convention. They are wise guys, thinks I. Even Lubbock, the hub of the South Plains, had all she could handle.

Spring is here at last. At least it seems to be here. A different "seem like" may change our minds before the week is out. One day is warm, another is cold, another windy, and citizens do not know just which part of which season is trying to prevail. Whether it is spring or winter, a good clean-up campaign is the kind needed and should be launched.

And by the way, a movement should be launched to stop the speed fiend.

Motorist (giving friend a lift) Going too fast? You said you wanted to get to the hospital in a hurry.
Nervous Friend—Yes, but I d-don't want to a-stay there.
