EMPLOYEES VOTED FOR NEFF CAMPAIGN FUND

Letter from Ed Hall
Contributions to Neff
Sign Expenses.

Addressing an audience of more than 2,000 men and women at the home of Governor Neff, Fred S. Rogers, major in the army, and the governor's right hand, after a round of golf yesterday in which he set a record for his administration.

The presentation made by the letter written by Ed Hall, secretary of the Banking and Finance department, and all to employees of the state, asking them to contribute to the re-election of Governor Neff that the Governor would make some sort of a record.

Heavily here when he was elected Governor, on the official letter of Commissioner Hall, and not as a personal letter from the State Commissioner of Insurance, telling the friends of the Governor that he will be compensated some more money in the future, but that he has no funds and is relieved himself of obligations from the campaign when he was elected Governor.

Noting that the employee of his month's salary Rogers charged, was the time of the state, by state paid employees, $15 per week, she is in the hospital. She is a mother who had been discharged from her job under Pat Neff she was to borrow money to meet her expenses.

Refute the accusation that Rogers held and invited members to inspect it. He is a staff correspondent of the Department of Banking and Finance. It was signed by Ed Rogers was a postscript which Governor ought not to have but he has. In this letter asserted that opposition to Neff is making a mistake which is very expensive.

He says that he is not a "home coming" picnic, but I understand his obligations from his letter. Hall says in the letter, that Neff knows no other, and that he may it, if he did. He then proposed that each employment kick in the

KU KLUX KLAN PARADE HERE LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

One Hundred and Ten Paraders,
Large Crowd Watch March
Through Public Square.

A parade, presumably by visiting Ku Klux from nearby towns was staged here last Thursday night at about 9:30 o'clock.

Long before this hour the streets leading to the square were blocked with cars and cars were parked in double lines around the square, sidewalks, and a part of the streets, particularly on the north side, were filled with people curious to view the parade.

The paraders, with a U. S. flag in front proceeded in double column, the column being broken by an automobile which carried a cross set with electric lights.

Some applause greeted the marchers, particularly at two points, one near the Stephens hotel and one near the northwest corner of the square, at these points limited applause was given when the marchers bearing the flag approached.

The crowd was orderly, making no demonstration except frequent remarks pretending to name some local man among the marchers and asking various flippant questions. One watcher pretended to recognize marchers from Wellington and asked why they did not march at that place. Another suggested that some of the marchers were women.

No speeches were made nor any statement as to the purpose of the demonstration.

FARM BUREAU SPEAKER TO BE HERE WEDNESDAY

W. W. Cole, Farm Bureau lecturer, speaking in interest of the Cotton Association, will be here Wednesday and will speak at the court house at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. Cole's speech will be in the nature of a report of the work of the association in handling and marketing last year's cotton crop.

Masonic "Home Coming" Picnic

The Memphis Masonic Lodge will hold a "Home Coming" meeting on Friday July 28 at Broome Park, assembling at 3 o'clock p. m.

Good speaking, good eats and a general good time.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN PROPOSED COURT HOUSE DEAL

Memphis Business Men Wake Up When Final
Offer Is Submitted to Commissioners' Court and Considerable Opposition Aroused

MONDAY, JULY 24 SET BY COURT FOR HEARING

Court Wants to Know Wishes of People. If Trade Is Not Made the Proposition for Paving Extra Forty Feet Around the Square Is to Be Considered.

Final, completed plans, including blue-prints and detailed specifications for the court house building, offered in exchange for the present site and the old building, were submitted by Dr. W. Wilson to the commissioners' court Monday afternoon.

Notice that this would probably be done was published in "News Around the Court House" in last week's Democrat and a considerable crowd, including most of the business men and property owners around the square were interested spectators.

Dr. W. Wilson made a brief statement to the effect that the proposed building, with a site to be selected, would cost approximately $100,000, and that in addition to this the county would save about $26,000, the estimated cost of paving.

Numerous questions, indicating strong opposition by some of the business men, were asked.

The court expressed a desire to learn the sentiment of the citizens of the county and set Monday, July 24 as the date for hearing from all sections of the county, through representatives to be sent by each community.

The question of paving the extra forty feet around the court house, in addition to the county's part of the streets, was also raised and will be considered if the court shall decide against making the proposed deal. This additional paving will cost, according to estimates, $15,000, in addition to $11,000 for paving the streets.

Considerable interest in this matter has been shown in other parts of the county since the first publication regarding the offer some three months ago. A mass-meeting was held at Turkey and the court has had many inquires and expressions, which it invited, from all sections. It is thought that a representative body will be present at the hearing.

LEWIS & LETS SELL BIG LOT OF CALVES

Amarillo, July 8.—Landerger Brothers of Amarillo Saturday purchased 4,000 head of steer and heifer calves from Will Lewis, A. R. Letts and Bob Muir of Clarendon at a reported price of $25 a head. This is the largest cattle deal made in West Texas in more than a year and is considered by cattlemen to be indicative of the return of the industry to a normal basis.

POLITICAL RALLY AT LAKEVIEW SATURDAY

We are asked to announce that a political rally will be held at Lakeview next Saturday afternoon.

The meeting will be called to order at 2 o'clock p. m. all candidates will be given an opportunity to speak. District and county candidates are especially invited to be present.

FARM LABOR UNION WILL HOLD COUNTY MEET HERE SATURDAY

Representatives From Local Unions
Throughout County Will Hold Conference Here.

A meeting of the Hall County Farm Labor Union will be held here next Saturday.

Representatives from all local unions of the county will attend the meeting which will probably be held in the district court room of the court house.

Delegates from Childress county Farm Labor Union will also be present.

This is the first time this organization has held a county meeting here the county meetings in the past having been held with the local unions of the county.

This organization is affiliated with the Texas Federation of Labor and with the Railroad Brotherhoods and its members are backing the shop-crafts in their present strike against the railroads. This is the first time the farmers have ever offered assistance to the union labor in a strike and their action may influence the result. The union has a membership of approximately 200,000 in Texas.

BARBECUE AT NEWLIN ON FRIDAY, JULY 21

Newlin is arranging to give a big barbecue and picnic on Friday, July 21, the day before the primary election.

Arrangements will be made to hear the political candidates speak in the afternoon and evening, after the ball game.

Everybody expected to come.

CHILDRESS "F. L. U." MEETING AND PICNIC AT CAREY TUESDAY

A county meeting of the Childress Farm Labor Union was held at Carey last Tuesday.

The meeting was addressed by District Chairman, M. E. Motes and other speakers in the forenoon. A splendid and bountiful dinner was served and enjoyed by a large crowd.

In the afternoon a business meeting of the County Union was held.

"EGG CIRCLE" ORGANIZED AT POULTRY MEETING

Circle Will Market Infertile
Eggs. Market at Advanced Prices Secured.

At a meeting of the Hall County District Poultry Association held here Saturday afternoon, an "Egg Circle" for marketing guaranteed infertile eggs was organized with six charter members.

Members of this organization will deliver infertile eggs, which are stamped and guaranteed, to the buyers, with whom arrangements have been made, securing from seven and one-half to ten cents above the market for ordinary eggs.

At least six other members of the association have expensed their intention of immediately joining the circle and it is thought that a membership of twenty or more will be secured by the next meeting of the association on the second Saturday in August.

To produce these guaranteed eggs it is necessary for the roosters to be either killed or penned; but the increased revenue from the egg sales pays well for the trouble.

First Presbyterian Church.

"The whole world applauds the door of great deeds, but God himself weaves the wreath of the humble hero of every day."

The boy who chops cotton these hot days, denning himself the pleasure of the swimming hole is one of those every day heroes.

Children's Day Service will be held in this church, Sunday morning, July 23, 11:00 o'clock. This service will be under the direction of Dr. M. McNeely, and his assistant, the Sunday school superintendent.

Services Next Sunday

8:30 p. m. Sermon by the pastor. Theme: "A Christian: What? How? Who?"

Prayer meeting each Wednesday, 8:30 p. m.

The Sunday school picnic last Tuesday was a great success. A large crowd enjoyed every moment of the time spent at the park.

EUGENE B. KUNTZ, Pastor.

GEORGETOWN CHURCH WILL ACCEPT NO KU KLUX DONATIONS

Georgetown, July 8.—The stewards of the First Methodist Church have adopted a resolution to the effect that no donations from secret societies, or societies wearing masks or other disguises, will be accepted by the church.

First Baptist Church

Last Sunday was one of the best days yet with us. We had one of the best Sunday schools that we have had since I came on the field. I am delighted with the continued growth of the school, and the entire church.

The great auditorium of the church was packed both hours Sunday. A splendid program was given by the Sunday school at the eleven o'clock hour. The pastor, with Bro. Grafton went out to make Gammage in the evening and held services. There were two who made profession. If you live in Memphis and help make this one of the best church towns in Texas, if you have no church home, we welcome you to come with us.

Our services begin promptly at 9:45. We will positively let you go at 12, now, come and see.

Special music will feature every service, come and help, and be helped. Baptizing again after the preaching hour.

News Around the County Court House

Court Doing, Official Acts and the Happenings in General About the County Capitol.

Commissioners' Court
Commissioners' court assembled in regular quarterly session Monday and have been at work on the tax assessment rolls, equalizing assessments.

Court House Trade
The complete plans and specifications of the proposed new court house building which is offered for the old building and site, are on file at the office of the County Judge and are open to inspection by any one who wishes to examine same.

Monday, July 24, has been set as a date for hearing from the citizens of Hall county regarding the proposed trade and it is suggested that each community in the county send delegates to express their wishes to the court. The court hopes in this way to ascertain the will of the majority.

Work upon the Bitter Creek bridge is expected to begin this week, much of the material having been put on the ground. This bridge has been out over a year and its replacement will be a great convenience to the people of that section.

The new bridge just below the railroad on the Newlin and Memphis road, is now complete and much of the travel is going this route.

Marriage licenses were issued this week to Mr. Archie Clower, of Memphis and Miss de Leon Benge, of Wellington.

QUEEN O' THE MAY

By SADIE M. STULL

"Oh, Mister you stepped right on the biggest pink rose and spoiled my May wreath!"

At this startling accusation Grant Morely halted abruptly. A half jocose apology sprang to his lips, but with the next breath he blessed the kind breeze which had blown the flimsy object across his path.

Huddled on the curb was a "study" in child life, such as the noted artist had sought in vain on many quests at home and abroad.

"Don't move!" he commanded, whipping out the ever-ready sketching pad. "Good!" as the child remained passive—only her eyes growing big with wonder. "A second more, little lady—and presto! We have a masterpiece in the rough. Now, then," exultantly returning the pad to his pocket. "We'll see about that—er—big red rose."

Grant could scarcely repress a smile as the child held up a sadly crushed replica of the natural flower in cerise tissue paper.

"Mother made it"—with a pride that went straight to Grant's heart.

Grant's smile gained the mastery, but his tone was duly apologetic: "Well then, Miss Kittie, what do you say to becoming my model? Oh, I don't mean to begin work this very minute—"

The little maid had shaken out the vari-colored streamers attached to her faded gingham dress. "I'll go with you now, I want to earn some money right away. The dispensary doctor told Mother she oughtn't to go back to work this week and now she needs it."

An hour later Sister Clarice received the news.

To Kittie that ornately furnished room proved a veritable Wonderland. Now, she gazed in awe at a noble Mohawk chief—then, smiled back at a dainty little Hub miss, with a huge blue bow atop her golden curls. But it was when she faced the portrait beneath the rich Oriental canopy that Kittie uttered an ecstatic little—"Oh!"

She caught a warning glance from Sister Clarice. The instant Grant left alone Kittie broached the subject.

The girl of the picture had been Grant's sweetheart once. Kittie did not like the sound of that name. She was sure Sister Clarice would like it, either—there was something sorrowful about it in her gentle voice.

Just then Grant returned to announce the car waiting to take Miss Kittie home.

Sister Clarice kissed her warmly and whispered: "I have planned a little party out to my place tomorrow, and your young playmates, you may bring your mother or some very dear friend."

Kittie's little heart leaped joyously at seven that evening the proud mistress of a palatial uptown mansion was surprised, to say the least, on entering her daughter's boudoir, to confront a grotesque little figure in faded gingham and fluttering paper streamers.

"Who won't you entertain next, Elizabeth?" she expostulated weakly.

"Why, mother, I am not 'doing the honors' on this occasion," serenely replied her daughter. "Kitty has come to invite me to her Mat-Party."

It was Kittie who proposed that they crown Miss Elizabeth Queen of the May. Amid the cheers of the young merry-makers the ceremony was enacted.

Watching from afar Grant noted the incomparable grace with which Elizabeth received the homage of her diminutive subjects. He waited until the youngsters started a second trail on the greenhouses, then, with quickening heartbeats, crossed the lawn.

"May I claim the day's privilege and offer my poor homage, oh, most beautiful Queen?"

The limpid gray eyes did not waver before his reproachful gaze.

"Ah, your majesty, do you remember—as I do—that other May day—when a group of village lads and lassies crowned you their Queen? It was I who placed the wreath upon your head that day." A note of bitterness hardened the manly voice—"Before another May day your father had become a factor in the industrial life of a great city—while I remained the small town tinner and dreamer, dreaming of a future whose brightness you were to share.

"Then, one dark day your father demoralized the poor dreamer's every aspiration, treating his salt as utter presumption in the light of your social elevation. Not long afterwards I saw you on the avenue—a gorgeous butterfly of fashion—silks and laces. My heart seemed to die within me. I realized your father was right, I had been presumptuous—aye, mad—"

A soft hand stilled further utterance.

"Ah, boy, dear, in your wounded pride you were unjust to the heart beneath those flims and laces—the same heart that beat beneath the simple pinface that other May day—"

"Beth!"

A few minutes later Kittie marched past them at the head of her flower-decked company. The little maid's step took on an official dignity, for she had adorned her hair's down, in Miss Elizabeth's eyes she beheld the light that radiates the picture in Mr. Grant's words—a beautiful—the light of perfect happiness.

Excuses. Excuses for excuses are practical confessions.—Franklin.

FARM POULTRY

SUCCESS IN RAISING SQUABS

Healthy, Vigorous, Properly Mated Birds Are Essential—Keep Rats and Mice Away.

Begin with healthy, vigorous, properly mated breeders. Good quality foundation stock is very essential to success.

Select and keep only prolific breeders which are also good feeders.

Feed a variety of good-quality hard grains, including peas or peanuts. Use small whole corn rather than cracked corn.

Provide for the pigeons a pen which is dry, well ventilated, and can be kept free from rats and mice. Two nests should be allowed for each pair of breeders.

Keep clean, fresh, protected drinking water before the pigeons and provide a separate unprotected pan of water for bathing.

Market the squabs just as soon as they are feathered under the wings and about the time they are able to get out of their nests, say poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture.

GEESE UTILIZE WASTE GRAIN

Grazing Stock Take Up Most of Their Feed From Ordinary Grasses of the Pastures

Geese touch flanks with chickens in utilizing waste grain about the stables and feeding pens. In a larger measure than chickens or any other kind of poultry, they are grazing stock, taking their living in large part from the ordinary grasses of the pastures. When the facts are taken into consideration that the demand for geese is strong, steady, and extended over practically the whole year, not confined to certain holiday seasons, as the demand for turkeys largely is, and that their value as egg producers is considerable, the importance of a few geese on a general farm becomes apparent.

Geese, in common with ducks, are utilizers of forms of food confined to ponds and streams, but they are in that particular excelled by ducks. On farms where ponds or streams are available ducks will convert into meat and eggs great quantities of water insects and various aquatic forms that would not be utilized by any other kind of poultry. Ducks, while they consume much grass and other green stuff, are more partial to animal feeds and are very energetic in patrolling the branches, creeks and ponds as sources of food supply, say poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture. Where conditions are favorable they will provide for their own food needs in a measure that will make them highly profitable.

THE SANBURN DEER

"I am the Sanburn Deer from Asia, and my keeper has said that children and grown-ups would like to hear about me."

"Fine Tricks."

"They needn't be afraid of touching me. I am very, very gentle and wouldn't hurt anyone for the world."

"I have big eyes and a soft black nose. I am gray in color. My bristles all stand up when I am chilly. My keeper calls me his girl."

"Sometimes he calls me 'girlie.' I love to be called that. It is so affectionate. How I love petting! I am devoted to petting!"

"I am never cross, my keeper says, and I would rather be loved than anything else. I am eight years old and I have been in the circus almost all of that time. I didn't tell you before that I belonged to a circus, did I?"

"Well, I do. And I love it. Oh, I have the nicest keeper. We're the greatest friends in the world."

"How he loves my soft eyes and my pointed ears. I haven't any horns."

"He just loves everything about me. If anyone wants to hear about me, they should ask my keeper. Such a fine account as he gives of me."

"A lot of people come to see us after the end of the evening performance. Many of the animals are asleep then, and some of them think it is strange that the people don't come when we are all awake. But my keeper tells me that everyone can't come to the circus in the daytime. They are busy, he says."

"Still the animals think it is strange. And they say they can't keep awake for company when they feel sleepy. They say that is quite impossible to do."

"Many of the animals do tricks as you probably know. There are white horses and white dogs and ladies dressed in white."

"They all get into the most wonderful positions and the lights are all dimmed and the music plays and they all stay quite, quite still."

"They are supposed to be statues and statues are supposed to be still, you see."

"They really do most wonderful work to keep so still and to do so exactly as they are told. Because sometimes while a creature might want to do as he or she was told, it might be very hard."

"The sealions do fine tricks, and their masters pet them. I've heard some of the animals say that they thought it was rather silly the way the masters make bows and the people clap when the animals have been doing the work."

"There are little dogs who roll in rugs and do tricks like that, and some of these dogs like to do their tricks so much that they try to roll in the rugs when they aren't supposed to at all."

"There are the elephants who dress up with red cross caps and who look like doctors and nurses, and they pretend to fan each other and look after each other as though they were ill. Of course, doctors and nurses may not think the elephants look like them, but they're supposed to, at any rate."

"Then the elephants know how to step over their keepers without hurting them, and they stand up, shoulder to shoulder, and dance and play a hand of their own."

"They kick their hind feet and wave their trunks and even stand on their heads. Their keepers sit upon their shoulders at times. They're a fine, clever lot, are the elephants."

"But my keeper says he wouldn't exchange any of them for all of them for me. He says he loves the Sanburn Deer best of all."

"And when you hear him call me 'Girl' and 'Girle' and 'Girlie,' you may know that there isn't a happier creature in the circus or in the world than the Sanburn Deer."

When legs are constantly rubbing for feathering out the baby clothes and properly used, it will give Southern States Soap anything else. It is advisable to keep it in the dry form before the child's all the time.

A weevil has been discovered in Stone County, Mississippi, which is injurious to the tomato, potato, and turnip. It is one-third of an inch long, dull gray in color and bears on the wing-covers a pale V-shaped mark. The larvae feed at night, hiding underground during the day.

The gypsies of Hungary, who have furnished Hungary its music and ballads for centuries, have organized to drive out the Negro jazz band artists of Budapest and other cities. They have issued a manifesto condemning jazz music and the municipal councils of seven Hungarian towns have decreed that jazz must go.

Firestone GUM-DIPPED CORDS -and Their High Mileage Records

The high mileage records of Firestone Cords continue to emphasize the fact that Firestone methods are different and better. These records, steadily increasing in number and in mileage totals, justify the Firestone contention that there is one best way to build tires.

Among the primary sources of Firestone extra mileage is double gum-dipping—the saturation of the cord plies in a vat of liquid gum—thus coating each cord and virtually eliminating internal heat and friction.

Another is Firestone air bag curing, with its 200 pound pressure, which places every cord accurately and equalizes the tension.

By blending the rubbers of different plantations and types, and by tempering it before mixing, Firestone men add still more mileage.

Many cord tires are good—a few are better—Firestone users say one is best.

Those who have already experienced Firestone mileage, have stopped shopping and experimenting—they have made these cords standard equipment. Investigate your friends' success with Firestone Cords—and buy your next tire accordingly. Come in and get your share of extra mileage.

Constable A. E. Thomas spent several days at Texline last week as railroad guard because of the strike. Mr. Thomas said that everything was quiet and that the strikers were staying away from the railroad property and showing every intention of conducting a peaceable strike.

We understand that attempts have been made to recruit labor in this county for the Childress shops; but without success. We believe that there are very few men in Hall County who would accept jobs as strike-breakers under the circumstances. Those who are informed, almost without exception, are in sympathy with the union men who have gone out and it will be hard to find working men who are willing to scab on them.

News matter this week crowds out a number of letters in the advertising contest. These, and others, will be published later, though all, of course, can not be published. We are pleased with the interest shown in this contest, it proves that the advertising in the Democrat is read. Contestants should not forget that a subscription with their letter entitles them to double the amount of the prize, if they win.

Benge-Clower

High noon Wednesday marked the culmination of a very happy romance when Miss Lola de Leon Benge and Mr. Pete Clower were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Benge in Wellington, Texas, with Rev. Whaley, of the First Baptist Church of Memphis, Texas officiating.

Promptly at 12 o'clock in the beautifully decorated and softly lighted double parlors, the soft clear notes of the pre-nuptial song, "All For You" sung by Miss Good floated through the air.

Just as the last note of the song faded away the golden strains of Mendelsolin's "Wedding March," played by Miss Harrington, of Dallas, were heard, after the first notes of the march, little Miss Anna Jane Baily entered bearing the wedding ring in an Easter lily.

Immediately following a fairy-like ring bearer, came the bride's maid, Miss Irene Moore, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Douglas Gibbs, of Seminole, Texas, college-mate of the groom, as best man. Only a few steps back the bride and bridegroom entered.

With slow marked steps, the bridal party advanced to the impromptu altar constructed of ferns and other greenery in the back parlor. At the alter the bridal party was met by Rev. Whaley, who performed the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony, which united in marriage these two popular young people. The beautiful "Melody of Love" played by Miss Harrington during the ceremony, tended to add beauty and sincerity to the occasion.

As the last solemn words were spoken the bridal party turned and slowly retraced their steps to the stairway from which they started, while the last notes of Mendelsolin's "Wedding March" were being played. Just before going up the steps the bride threw her bouquet which was caught by Miss Good.

The bride was never more beautiful, being attired in a handsome after noon dress of orchid pussywillow taffeta and brocaded silver slippers, the finishing touch of her costume was added by the beautiful bride's bouquet of Killarney roses and sweet peas.

The bride's maid and Misses Harrington and Good each wore white costumes of taffeta and gorgette with white slippers and corsages of roses and sweet peas adding to the beauty of their costumes. The ring bearer wore white meline over orchid taffeta.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Benge, of Wellington and is one of the most accomplished and popular young ladies of that city. She taught in the Memphis Public Schools last year and won a place of high esteem among the people of this city.

The groom is the son of Mrs. W. W. Clower, of this city, where he has lived for a number of years, during which he has grown into manhood and is now one of our progressive and promising young business men. He finished public school several years ago and then went to State University and Southern Methodist University.

The bride and groom will be at home in Memphis after bridal trip to Colorado.

Inquiring Friends Answered.

TO THE PEOPLE OF HALL COUNTY:

Numerous times during this campaign people have asked why I was not spending more time electioneering or canvassing from house to house, and I feel that the people in general are due a full and frank answer.

I assure you that no discourtesy is intended and that I am not at all indifferent to the people's desire to meet all persons who offer to serve them.

I am your present County Clerk, under oath and bond to serve you personally in that capacity. You are paying me for that service and you most naturally expect me to do my full duty by you.

Being so obligated, I do not believe it would be right under all the circumstances for me to neglect your interests in order for me to serve my own.

The people of Hall-County have been very good to me and am grateful enough to say that, if any one's interests must suffer, I would rather my own interest would suffer than theirs.

Yours very truly,

M. O. OSODORPSE.

Studebaker Bodies Don't Rattle or Squeak

Studebaker bodies rest squarely on the chassis frame - not on the body sills. The body and the frame form a rigid unit that successfully resists the rack of the road.

Studebaker bodies are built in Studebaker shops by men, many of whom have been building vehicle bodies for Studebaker for upwards of 30 years - and their fathers before them. Studebaker has been building fine bodies for seventy years.

Studebaker Special-Six bodies, because of their quality and soundness, weigh more than those of other cars around the Special-Six price. You cannot skimp in material and build a body that will not rattle.

Freedom from rattle or squeak is just another of the fine-car refinements that emphasize the extra value of the Studebaker Special-Six.

The Special-Six chassis frame is 7" deep. It tapers from a width of 29" in the front to 41" in the rear, so that the sides of the body fit perfectly without overhang. Five cross-members prevent the distortion that eventually causes bodies to squeak.

While the district attorney was making an impassioned appeal to the jury in The Dalles, Oregon, recently "Indian Spencer," in from the Warm Springs reservation, stepped to the judge's rostrum, and, in tones audible in all parts of the crowded courtroom, asked the judge, an old friend for the loan of 50 cents. The district attorney paused, stammered, and joined in the laughter. The Indian got his 50 cents and departed, the judge's gavel pounded and the trial was resumed.

The latest method of sinking concrete piles was recently demonstrated in Omaha, when four piles were sunk, the first, 40 feet long, in 90 seconds. One pile, weighing more than six tons and 45 feet in length, was sunk to bedrock at a depth of 84 feet. Each pile carried a water pipe set in the reinforced concrete. Water is forced at a high pressure through this pipe, digging a hole as the pipe sinks its own weight.

Big Cash Prizes Are Offered
—BY—
The Memphis Democrat
LET US SEND YOU SOME OF THIS MONEY
You can win in just a few minutes by simply writing a postal or short letter

HERE IS THE IDEA

Select any store whose ad. appears in The Memphis Democrat. Write a brief letter or postal card to the Contest Editor of The Democrat telling why YOU believe the store should CONTINUE to advertise in this paper. Send or bring your letter to our office.

WHAT TO WRITE

Plain straight talk is what counts. Not style; not penmanship; not neatness; not perfect grammar. In writing your letter just give A REASON why you think the advertiser should keep his ad. in The Democrat all the time. For example, you can write something about the paper itself—the large class of people it reaches.

MORE SUGGESTIONS

Or you may write about the store you have selected. The goods; the prices; the service. Picture in your mind the effect of their ad. appearing in EVERY issue of The Democrat. Consider also the chances of the ad. being SEEN or READ in The Memphis Democrat, as compared with the pages of other papers. You might write concerning what you think will probably be the result in bringing customers to the store if they keep their ad. in The Democrat.

SIMPLICITY COUNTS

Do not try too hard. Just write easily and briefly. It is not a difficult thing to do—in fact, some very simple statements may win the largest prize. Remember, too, that your first impressions are best. Any little point that flashes into your mind on ANY ONE of the above subjects is likely to make you a prize-winner. It costs nothing to try, so send along your ideas. You may be delighted with the extra money they can earn for you.

NO LIMIT

Do not try to put ALL your ideas into one letter because you can write as many different ones, about different stores, as you wish. Every letter or postal you send in will count as a chance for you in this big cash contest. Of course, the more letters you write, the more chances you have to win. You are allowed to send in several all at one time, and you can keep sending them in until the contest closes.

HOW TO DOUBLE YOUR PRIZE

To win these cash prizes you are NOT required to be a subscriber to The Democrat. This contest is free and open to everybody—men, women, and children. However, in every case where the writer of a winning letter or postal does subscribe for The Democrat, we will DOUBLE the prize money as follows:—

	Non-Sub.	Subscriber
First Prize, for best letter	$5.00	$10.00
Second Prize for next best	2.50	5.00
Third Prize	1.50	3.00
Fourth Prize,	1.00	2.00

After becoming a subscriber, ALL the letters you submit in this contest will stand a chance to win DOUBLE Money. (You are not required to send a subscription with each letter.)

WATCH THE PAPER

We will begin immediately to print some of the best letters received in this contest. You will enjoy reading these—your own may be among them.

A REAL BARGAIN

The best way is to subscribe at once. Then, if you do win a prize, you will receive the double money. The Democrat is the best paper you can buy. Its pages are crammed full of life and interest. Most news, local items, and departments of reliable information—in fact, you will always be glad you DID subscribe for The Democrat.

FACTS FOR FANS ABOUT "SATURDAY NIGHT"

SCREEN—Cecil B. De Mille's new Paramount picture production is "Saturday Night." It is the story of a young man who finds love and happiness after many exciting happenings. The production is said to be one of the best thus far made by Mr. De Mille.

PLAYWRIGHT—Leatrice Joy, a popular Paramount player, has the leading feminine role in Cecil B. De Mille's new production, "Saturday Night." Miss Joy has the role of a wealthy society girl who marries her chauffeur and lives to regret the step.

PEGGY—There is no star in Cecil B. De Mille's Paramount production, "Saturday Night." It might be well to add that all in the cast are stars. They include Leatrice Joy, Conrad Nagel, Edith Roberts, Jack Mower, Julia Faye, Theodore Roberts, Edythe Chapman, Sylvia Ashton, John Davidson, James Neill and Winter Hall.

CURIOUS—We have no idea why Cecil B. De Mille calls his latest Paramount picture, "Saturday Night." It is possible however, that because two of his principal characters spend their Saturday nights seeing Coney Island in the gay summer season, this circumstance may have been the cause.

INDIANA—One of the most popular women on the screen is Sylvia Ashton. She has been seen in many Cecil B. De Mille productions. She is a capable actress.

CAMERA—Leatrice Joy and Edith Roberts, two popular and beautiful screen players, appear for the first time in Cecil B. De Mille Paramount picture production "Saturday Night"

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her. "I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life." For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments. If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 55

Governor Neff can not dodge responsibility for the condition of the rural schools; nor can he expect to inspire confidence by promises for the future. He had the opportunity to serve the people and failed; he preferred to serve special interests and must take the consequences!

We may as well forgive an injury at once; because in time we must! Time will eradicate our sense of hurt; and we can no longer take an interest in the thought of retaliation. If we shall have done injury in return; time will bring shame and regret for the act. Why do we poison our minds and bring misery upon ourselves, and upon others, by returning evil for evil when we well-know we shall repent and regret.

The regional banking law was denounced and opposed by this writer when it was first offered, by the republicans, as the Aldrich-Vreel and bill; we opposed it when it was offered and passed by the democrats; because we saw it, as it is, a law made by the great banking interests for themselves, that would put all business at their mercy through the control of credits. Time has proven our view correct. Jim Ferguson of all candidates for the U. S. senate who condemn the workings of the law, is correct when he proposes to repeal rather than change the law. It is the most pernicious law that was ever put over upon a civilized people!

The candidate's race is almost run, He has covered many miles; He's tanned and blistered by the sun But he smiles and smiles and smiles

The Non-partisan League of Texas has endorsed Fred S. Rogers of Bonham, for governor. It is said organized labor will not support Rogers. His past record is not up to the standard.—Childress Index.

Fred S. Rogers, has the endorsement of the Non-partisan Conference, which includes organized labor as represented by the Texas Federation of Labor, the four railroad Brotherhoods and the Farm Labor Union! Who are the organized laborers who will not support Rogers, and who said it? It is absurd to suppose that these organizations should have solicited Rogers to run, as they did, and given him their endorsement, without investigating his record. This obvious attempt by the Index to create a false impression will probably help rather than hurt Rogers, with the Childress county voters, who know the Index and its methods.

Republican County Convention

To the republicans of Hall County: By the authority vested in me as chairman of the Hall County Republican Executive Committee and in conformity with the laws of Texas, I hereby call a convention to be held in Memphis, Texas, on Saturday, July 29, 1922 at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates and alternates to attend the Congressional convention, to be held at Amarillo, on August 26, 1922. Also, to select delegates and alternates to go to the State Convention to be held at Fort Worth on August 8, 1922; and to transact such other business as may come before the convention. All persons who are friendly to the present Administration and who believe that the best interests of the county demand that the Republicans be retained in power long enough to settle the vexatious questions arising from the World War, are cordially invited to join us. Such will be welcome and their advice and co-operation appreciated.

J. L. McCOLLUM, Chairman, Hall County Republican Executive Committee.

First Methodist Church

We certainly should praise the name of God for his blessings upon us last Sunday. A most delightful hour in the study of the Bible in the Sunday school. But we can make it better next Sunday by increasing the attendance. Let every one absent last Sunday be present when we meet next time. A deeper personal knowledge of God's real teaching will prove your best help in overcoming your difficulties, and in bearing the burdens of life.

I will preach Sunday morning on "The Arcle of Christian Character." This will be the first of the three or four sermons that you should hear. Leagues in the afternoon. Preaching at 8:30. Subject: "If Jesus Should Come Today."

You are welcome to enjoy these services. A. L. MOORE, Pastor.

STATE EMPLOYEES ASSESSED FOR NEFF CAMPAIGN FUND

altes, or the stadards of the central powers, and the failure of Pat Neff to register about the "time that he found for the first time in his life that he was one year older than he had ever before said he was," brought a salvo of cheers from the big audience. Every denunciatory reference to Neff met with applause, and Rogers was greatly encouraged by the meeting.

The close of the speech brought a scene of disorder which ended in a demonstration for Rogers. During the speech Rogers had said that, without his solicitation, the farm labor union, the organized labor forces in his state, and other people had endorsed his candidacy. He recalled the speech of Governor Neff before the Waco convention of the State Bankers Association during which according to the Waco News-Tribune from which he read, Governor Neff told the bankers to "name a legislative committee and bring your program down to Austin and I will back it through the legislature," and said that "history records no such binding promise, pledge and obligation as that of any Governor in the history of the state." Rogers said that all he had ever said to the F. L. U. and the organized labor forces of the state was that he would "give them all a square deal."

These remarks were applauded. When Rogers finished a man standing in the audience arose and held up a circular containing allegations that Rogers had made open shop speeches during the Baily-Neff campaign in 1920.

"Will you answer a question?" the man asked.

"What is your question?" Rogers asked him.

"Did you make speeches for the open shop in 1920?" the man asked. "No, sir, I did not," Rogers countered with enthusiasm, and then pointing at the man, he said: "You are an employe of the State, are you not? You are traveling over this State working for the re-election of Neff, and heckling me at the expense of the tax burdened people of Texas, are you not?"

"The man arose and started to make reply. The crowd began to cheer Rogers, and shouted to him that "he is" and "you are right" and "we know him." The band struck up Dixie and a demonstration for Rogers was staged.

As the crowds surged about the heckler, who is E. A. Harrel of Waco, and who is an employe of the State of Texas in the fire and insurance bureau under George Tilley, came up to Rogers, and Rogers told him that he was in the employe of the state.

BREWER FAMILY HOLD REUNION AND PICNIC

Visit of Jess R. Brewer, of Arlington on the Occasion of Family Get-Together and Picnic.

A family re-union and picnic planned by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brewer, of Lesley, in honor of their uncle, Jess R. Brewer of Arlington, who is here for a ten day's visit with his daughter, Mrs. T. D. Weatherby, was held on July 4.

The place selected was a grove of big trees on the Courtney Denny place.

The following members of the family, and their guests assembled at about 10:30 a. m. Jess R. Brewer, the guest of honor; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Brewer, of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ford, and Ford children, Bernice and Evoline; Mr. and W. F. Ford and children, Polly and Audrey; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Brewer, and children, Dolly, Dee, and Floy-Chirmans; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brewer, and children, Harold, J. P., Ema Ruth; Mrs. T. D. Weatherby; Mrs. O. W. Baker and daughter, Frances; Mrs. Stella Badget and son, John; Marrion Freel; Robert Freel; Mrs. W. L. Patton and children, Roy, Jesse, Eunice, Inez, John, W. L. Jr., Ruth, Margie, Ozell and Catherine; Paul Weldon Brewer, of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brewer and son, John and James Lawrence.

After a good time, talking over old times and recalling old friends, an old-fashioned dinner of fried chicken and other good things, was spread under the shade of a huge cottonwood. The day was thoroughly enjoyed and about 6 o'clock in the afternoon all went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brewer, about two miles, where an excellent supper was served.

The Court House Propodition

In general the terms of the proposition are these:

We propose to build a new Court House on a site near the present square and in exchange we get the present site and the old building. The County owns a whole block (300 feet each way) which is the same size as the other blocks in Memphis. The new court house and site to cost approximately $100,000.

According to the plans and specifications now in the hands of your Commissioners' Court, we are agreeing to furnish a new building which will meet the needs of Hall County for many years to come. It is a three story and basement, modern, fireproof steam-heated building, with approximately three and one-half times the floor space of the present building. The building will provide a ladies' rest room and comfort station, which is very much needed in Memphis.

The site of the present court house and the old building belongs to all the people of Hall County, and not to Memphis or the business men of Memphis, or the property owners around the public square. As your Commissioners' Court represents the whole county it is finally up to them to decide the matter.

I am not alone when I say that to move the court house off the present square and open up that ground for business development would be the very best thing that could happen to Memphis. Let business grow and expand in the middle of business, rather than scatter out up the side streets. Many of the property owners around the present square are in favor of the change, while many are opposed. I give them all credit for being honest and sincere in their beliefs; simply an honest difference of opinion. The final solution of the problem should be "the greatest good to the greatest number."

Everyone recognizes the need of a new Court House as the old one is almost dangerous.

Our proposition would simply save the taxpayers of Hall County $126,000, approximately.

I have just got the final figures which enable me to make this statement. I feel sure that we can build the New Court House according to the plans and specifications now in the hands of your Commissioners' Court on a different site not to exceed in cost $8,500 and relieve the County of any paving cost around the present square. In exchange we are to get the present site of the court house and the old building, including the entire block of land (300 feet each way). The County to use the old building, rent free, until the new building is ready for occupancy.

Monday, the 24th of July, has been designated as the day for hearing this matter. All interested in the welfare of Hall County should be present.
