HENRY READ IS NAMED TO HEAD COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATION

On the LEVEL

a colyum by
 William Russell Clark

"The poor we have with us always," I know, because I fall within that category. But that is not all we have with us. As long as people throughout West Texas refuse to become road-minded, we are going to have mud with us, and if there is anything as generally unpleasant as mud, it is more mud. I had this brought home to me in a touching way while en route from Lubbock to Memphis recently. The road, in places, was a "quagmire" and a "loblolly," whatever those words may mean. To be more explicit, the roads were barely passable in places, and we considered ourselves fortunate in having to be pulled out of the mud only once.

It is pleasant to live in a county that is becoming more and more good-road-minded. When our system of highways has been completed, rain will only mean wet pavement, and probably, a season in the ground for cotton. While the road program is in the process of development, it is necessary that we face mud even in Hall County.

All sorts and kinds of mud abound. There is the "goey," "gluey," slippery kind, black as tar and as tough to navigate; there is mud mixed with sand and gravel, easier on the car and on the disposition; there is yellow mud, red mud. In fact, having none of the earmarks of a geologist, I would not attempt to describe the various kinds of mud which abound, but there are plenty and to spare.

There are other kinds of mud than that which abounds in roads. For instance, there is the political mud-slinger, and the mud-slinger unaffiliated with anything in particular. This kind of mud consists of rotten verbiage, a heterogeneous complexity of mouth-filling diatribes, destined to splatter the combatant and non-combatant with equal force.

A person may be said to have a muddy complexion. There are things known to men—but mostly to women—as mud baths. Then there is the mud massage. I suppose there is probably a mud shampoo. In fact, mud is becoming increasingly important from whatever angle it is taken.

Surveying the whole realm of mud, it appears to me that muddy minds, muddy hearts, muddy utterances make for muddy dispositions, muddy actions, muddy thoughts. Mud comes from dirt and is essentially dirty. Mud is closely akin to smut, and smut (Continued on page 2)

Hall County Golfers Win Over Donley In Tourney Here Sunday

With seventy-six golfers on the field to compose one of the largest golf tournaments ever held in this city, a dual tourney was held at the Memphis Country Club course Sunday between teams from Clarendon and Hedley, representing Hall County. The final scores showed twenty-one sets won by the Hall County golfers and seventeen sets going to the teams from Donley County.

R. S. Greene, local golfer, was in charge of the Hall County teams, while the Donley County teams were under the management of H. B. Kerbow. Seventy-six golfers were entered.

Clarendon golfers have extended an invitation to the locals for a tournament in that city, and Mr. Greene states that the invitation will in all probability be accepted, although no definite time has been set for the play.

Sees Need For More Good Will

T. M. Potts, vice-president of the D. & P. Chevrolet Company, contributes on this page the thirteenth in a series of articles on the subject of "What Memphis Needs Most." It is Mr. Potts' contention that one of the things needed most in this city is more good will, which he says will do away with a spirit of misunderstanding, when such arises.

CITY BUILDING PERMITS SHOW LARGE GAIN

Utilities Building Accounts For Big Jump In Figures

Building permits for the month of April show a considerable increase over the permits for March, according to W. J. Mangum, city building inspector. Permits amounting to $39,600 were issued last month while the March total only amounted to $2,610. This is accounted for largely because of the construction work which has recently started on the new building. (Continued on page 6)

Efforts Are Made By Fans Here For Forming Ball Club

Efforts toward the organization of a Memphis baseball club are progressing, according to an announcement by local fans who are interesting themselves in promoting a local team that will meet other Panhandle clubs in semi-weekly or thrice-a-week baseball contests this season. (Continued on page 6)

Added Good Will Is Suggested As Cure For Misunderstanding

BY T. M. POTTS
 One of the many things that Memphis, like all other towns and cities, needs most is to build more good will. What we all need, rich and poor, employer and employee, leaders and followers, is to build good will. Let our words and actions towards our fellows come forth from kind hearts, and most of the misunderstanding and ill will can be corrected among the people.

Good will is like a bracing, clean wind, singing across the world. You might enter a close-shut room where the air is stifling, where you feel as if you would smother, but when you run up the blinds, open the windows and doors, the morning, the sea, the dew and the songs of the birds all start for that room on their invisible tides of oxygen.

DISTRICT CLUB MEET CONVENES HERE IN 1931

Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie Extends Invitation At Pampa

BY EDNA BRYAN
 Memphis was successful in securing the convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs of the Seventh District in 1931 at the annual convention of the organization. The official invitation for the meeting to convene here was extended by Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie in a unique manner. Individual invitations were extended by the various service clubs, chamber of commerce, American Legion and others. Several telegrams were read by the secretary of the convention from the clubs, banks, chamber of commerce and individual citizens of Memphis asking that the convention be brought to this city in 1931.

Invite Convention
 Each local club represented at the meeting also invited the convention to this city next year. The representatives were Mrs. S. A. Bryant, Woman's Forum; Mrs. C. R. Webster, Atalantean Club; Mrs. M. McNeely, 1913 Study Club; Mrs. W. L. Wheat, United Daughters of the Confederacy; Mrs. G. W. Sexauer, Woman's Culture Club; Miss Edna Bryan, Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. G. W. Kesterson, Delphin Club; Mrs. Earl Parker, Pathfinders' Council; Mrs. T. T. Harrison, Mystic Weavers.

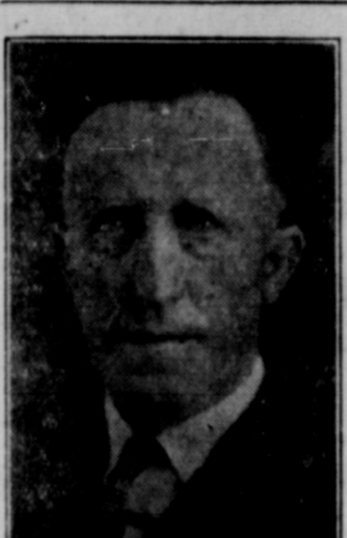

Memphis Representatives

County Judge Gets Notice Of Amount For State Highway

County Judge A. C. Hoffman received official notice on Wednesday of this week from the State Highway Commission that an appropriation of $30,579.99 has been made to pave three and one-half miles of State Highway No. 86 which extends from Turkey to the Briscoe County line.

According to Judge Hoffman, the appropriation was made several days ago, but official notice was not given him until this week. Construction work is expected to begin some time during the summer. With the completion of this road and of the highway from Memphis to Mulberry bridge by way of Lakeview, Hall County will have more pavement, it was stated, than any other county in the Panhandle with the exception of Potter County.

BANK OFFICIAL TO TAKE OVER DUTIES SOON

Incoming Secretary Is Well Known In This Territory

J. Henry Read, long-time resident of Memphis and present vice-president of the Hall County National Bank, will succeed George A. Sager as secretary-manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. Announcement of Mr. Read's election and acceptance was made Tuesday afternoon by Lyman E. Robbins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, following a called meeting of the board of directors. Mr. Sager's resignation becomes effective May 24, and the new secretary will assume his duties on or slightly before that date.

Well Known In Panhandle
 Henry Read is widely known, not only in Memphis, but throughout Hall County and the Panhandle generally. He came to Memphis in 1902 and has been constantly identified with the city's development during his residence here. Mr. Read's acceptance has met with city-wide commendation. Current comments indicate that business interests are united to give the Chamber of Commerce their whole-hearted support and cooperation.

With Bank Since 1912
 Coming to Memphis in August, 1902, Mr. Read was first identified with the Mickle-Burgher Hardware Company in the capacity of bookkeeper. Following this employment, he went with the First National Bank in a similar capacity. He was with this institution for two or three years. His next employment was with the T. R. Garrott Dry Goods Company. He went to work for the Hall County National Bank in July, 1912, as cashier, and has remained with this bank up until the present time. He was later made cashier and active vice-president and became vice-president in 1925.

Active In Civic Work
 Mr. Read has been identified with practically every civic organization in the city since he has been here. He has been especially active in Boy Scout work. He is past potentate of Khiva Temple, Amarillo; past commander of the Memphis Commandery; past president of the Colorado to Gulf Highway Association; past president of the Panhandle Bankers' Association; past president of the Hall County District Fair Association; past president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, and was on the directorate of this organization for many years. At the present time, he is president of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department and a director of the Memphis Country Club. (Continued on page 2)

Hoffman Presides Over County Court In Session Monday

Three minor cases were brought before Judge A. C. Hoffman in County Court in session here Monday, with the remainder being delayed until later sessions of the court. According to Miss Edna Bryan, county clerk, the docket is not unusually heavy for the spring term of court.

Two cases were delayed until the term coming in July—the cases of State of Texas vs. Frank Dotson, and the State of Texas vs. Jim Dotson.

Cases postponed until next week are: The State of Texas vs. E. D. Martin; the State of Texas vs. Tom Lenoir; State of Texas vs. Raymond Tidwell (two cases); State of Texas vs. Dan Dean (two cases); State of Texas vs. J. H. Tidwell, and State of Texas vs. Earl McAbee.

These cases complete the docket thus far, although it is likely that other cases coming up this week will be added.

In speaking of the new position he will assume in the near future, Mr. Read said: "I haven't had anything to do in the past, and I feel very reluctant in leaving my present position and assuming the duties as secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, as that is a man-size job."

blackens all it touches. Mud serves much the same function.

Very few personalities there are, I suppose, who are free from some small element of mud, and it is natural that this should be so. We are of the earth, earthy. We are a procession of comedies and dramas. The elemental part of our being is dust. We are blown about by the vagaries of good fortune and ill luck. Those who have grit mixed in with the other substances usually survive. Those who have nothing more than silt in their backbones usually succumb.

Mud has been known to cool fevered brows. It has been known to give aid to parched and cracked lips. Those who have been immersed in it, who have wallowed through it, have often been bettered by the experience. As much as mud is hated, it has its good points as well as the bad ones. Suppose we think more kindly of it the next time we are stuck.

Gem Picture Aids Volunteer Firemen

A tent city one-fourth as large as the nearest town was erected by Warner Bros. during the filming, on location, of "Song of the West," the all color, singing, talking, dancing Vitaphone picture, coming to the Gem Theatre, Thursday and Friday, May 8 and 9, under the auspices of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department.

A complete movie set, the village of "Red Dog," was erected for the filming of the 1849 sequences of this amazing picture. But it was also necessary to build a real tent city, out of sight of the cameras, to house the four hundred actors and technicians who went on location near Lone Pine, California, a town in Owens Valley at the base of Mount Whitney, the highest peak in America.

There were not sufficient accommodations in the town to house the large movie company which went on location to make these covered wagon and gold rush scenes.

John Boles, Vivienne Segal, Marie Wells, Joe E. Brown, Sam Hardy, Rudolph Cameron, Marion Byron, Eddie Gribbon, Ed Martindel and a chorus of one hundred are in the cast. "Song of the West" is Harvey Thew's adaptation of "Rainbow" by Lawrence Stallings and Oscar Hammerstein II. Vincent Youmans did the music. Ray Enright directed.

SMALL TO SPEAK AT AMARILLO TODAY

Wellington Man Will Open Campaign
For Governor

With a full declaration of principles and enunciation of his platform, State Senator Clint Small, of Wellington, begins a vigorous campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor in Amarillo on Friday, May 2. A giant rally of the Small supporters is expected, with delegations from practically every town in the Panhandle-Plains country in attendance. Senator Small's announcement will be broadcast over the radio.

The following questions, according to Senator Small, will be discussed at the Amarillo meeting: Taxation, Penitentiary question, Highway Building, State's policy toward land owners, Court Reform, Law Enforcement, and other matters of public interest.

Numerous Delegations
Among the towns who announced that they would turn out in force for the Amarillo meeting are Pampa, McLean, Shamrock, Groom, Panhandle, Memphis and Wellington. Numerous other towns at cities were expected to send delegations to hear Senator Small open his campaign.

Business Program
In his preliminary statement, Senator Small said, "In my race for Governor I shall present a short business program. The state needs careful business management a great deal more than it needs new legislation. In fact, I think everyone would enjoy a legislative truce. Texas should be ready for a political armistice. My aim will be to bring about a cessation of political hostilities, a period of legislative peace and an era of business administration. The State Government can be made to so function as to aid in the diversification of industry in Texas. The development of natural resources should be encouraged and outside capital invited to Texas to the end that additional wealth be placed on our tax rolls to help bear the ex-

Law Enforcement
"Along with thoughtful business management we must have fearless and intelligent law enforcement agreeable with the State and Federal constitutions."

Following the Amarillo meeting, Senator Small will leave for Vernon where he will make the second speech of his active campaign on Saturday, May 3.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Suppose you make the meat dish today, cured ham that must be fried, then take the left-over gravy and add to it a cup of half water and half vinegar. Those young onions in the garden can easily be thinned—select three and half a dozen bunches of tender mustard. Chop both fine; place in a dish and pour the dressing, which you have heated to boiling, over the mixture. Cover tightly and when you get to the table your appetite will rise ten points when the cover is lifted. Ham and—wilted mustard and young onions! —MRS. IMA G. COOKE.

SUBMERGED IT RUNS UNDER WATER

IN A SPECTACULAR nation-wide exhibition, General Electric is dramatically demonstrating that the "On Top" refrigerating unit cannot be harmed by dirt, air, moisture and rust. Amazed crowds gather in front of General Electric windows—witnessing an astonishing demonstration. Completely submerged in water, a General Electric Refrigerating Unit operates with quiet, smooth, unflinching efficiency.

Only a General Electric—born of years of exhaustive research, built for trouble-free service and sealed in steel—could withstand this test.

Here is the only unit hermetically sealed in steel—oiled once and for all at the factory. Efficiency is sealed in—trouble sealed out. The simple, flawless mechanism is protected forever by a permanent wall of steel. An engineering triumph—built to run through the years without a thought.

General Electric Refrigerators are modern in principle, fast in freezing performance, greatest in food storage capacity and by far lowest in cost per year. They embody every desirable convenience from ready movability and quiet, unflinching operation, to a handy, accessible freezing control. Cabinets are all steel—white porcelain lined. Not one of hundreds of thousands of owners has ever spent a cent for service. Ask us to prove these advantages to your complete satisfaction.

A demonstration tells you why it's wise to choose a six

Everywhere, buyers in the low-price field are agreeing "It's wise to choose a Six." And if you want to know why—get a demonstration of the new Chevrolet Six.

The Chevrolet Six is always smooth. When you idle the motor—drive fast in second—or travel at top speed—the power flows easily and evenly at all times. And everyone in the car enjoys a pleasant ride.

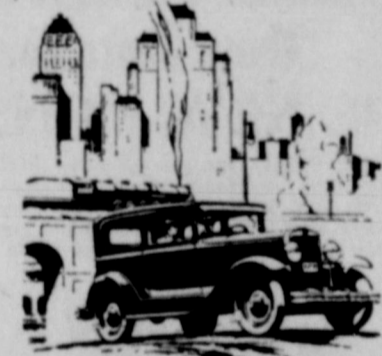

Developing 50 horsepower, the Chevrolet motor is also a marvel of flexibility. Needless gear shifting is avoided. And on the steepest hill, there is a reserve of power more than equal to every need.

And six-cylinder smoothness protects the entire chassis from the destructive effect of vibration. As a result, the whole car lasts longer—and resale value is increased.

Moreover, a demonstration reveals many other reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six.

Chevrolet offers the smartness and luxury of bodies by Fisher—built of hardwood and steel, the finest type of body construction known.

Chevrolet's four semi-elliptic springs and four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers provide comfort and security wherever you drive.

And Chevrolet's completely enclosed, weather-proof, four-wheel brakes give definite assurance of quiet, positive braking control.

It will take only a few minutes to confirm all these reasons why it is wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. So come in today. Get behind the wheel—and drive!

And, as you do, remember this fact: The Chevrolet Six is just as economical as any car you can buy. It costs no more for gas, oil, or service. It is priced as low as $495 at the Flint factory. And it can be purchased for a small down payment with unusually easy terms.

BRANCH OFFICE OF A. C. C. A. IS VOTED DOWN

Farmers Do Not Seem To Favor Office In This Locality

Lawrence Westbrook, prominent Waco Farmer and business man, and recently appointed to serve on a special committee of the Federal Farm Board by Governor Dan Moody, spoke to about thirty Memphis business men Saturday morning and a hundred local farmers Saturday afternoon, introducing them to the new American Cotton Cooperative Association and urging the advisability of establishing a branch office of the concern in this city.

C. O. Moser, vice-president of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, in charge of organization and public relations, was forced to cancel his speaking engagement in this city Saturday due to the fact that he received a message from Washington Friday ordering him to be present Monday morning in Washington. He left Wellington en route to Washington Friday night, April 25.

Richard Wischkaempfer, of Shamrock, state director of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, introduced Mr. Westbrook to the business men and farmers.

"For the last ten years the cotton crops have been a failure in Central Texas," began Mr. Westbrook, "and we have had to resort to other methods to stay in existence. West Texas is in excellent shape compared to Central Texas."

"Of late years, we have been trying diversified farming and other means of making a living. As to the cotton question, we have found it not a local problem, but an international one. British colonies are beginning to produce more cotton; Russia is beginning to raise cotton; both sell their cotton cheaper than we do. These are some of the problems that we have to deal with."

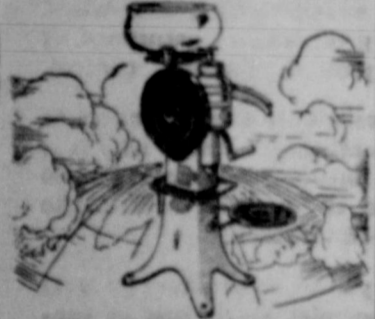

"In dealing with this worldwide problem, the Federal Government has created a Farm Board that has sanctioned the procedure of the American Cotton Cooperative Association."

"The cost for the upkeep of a branch office here that will buy the cotton from the farmers and pay them almost all of the money that their cotton will bring at the time they turn it over to the branch office, the remainder of the money to come later, will be $7,500. The business men of Memphis must guarantee this amount of money in order that the office be placed in this city. The office will charge each farmer fifty cents per bale for handling his cotton. Fifteen thousand bales of cotton would pay for maintenance of the branch office."

"The branch office, with headquarters at Dallas, would keep accounts at local banks, and do as much business as possible in the city where they operate. Mr. Moser wanted the bankers and merchants to cooperate with the farmers in any way that they saw fit to help them."

Following Mr. Westbrook's talk

...morning, the business men decided that they would secure financial backing on the condition that the farmers desired the branch office in this city. Saturday afternoon, following Mr. Westbrook's talk, a vote was taken of the farmers who wanted the branch office to be placed in this city, and only about forty per cent of them voted for the operation of the office here.

S. S. Montgomery, E. M. Ewen, T. M. McMurry, and E. W. Thomas, county agent, gave short discussions, each on the recent organization of the Hall County Agricultural Council, that tends to cooperate with the farmers in a similar manner as the merchants and bankers have cooperated. County farmers voted to carry on the work of this organization and to lend their aid in cooperating with all available agencies for bettering farming conditions.

FROM THE PEOPLE

"Mr. William Russell Clark, Editor, The Memphis Democrat."

"Dear Mr. Clark: I would like to reply to the article in last week's issue of The Democrat, in regard to the negro question. Now some will say—yes, a negro lover—but just wait, I believe in the old adage of 'Give the devil his dues.'"

I do not think the negro should be given work, in preference to the white man, altogether. Let us start back several years ago, before the negro was known to Hall County. We farmers had our fields white with cotton and the town of Memphis was full of idle white people, some who lived here and some from other places. We would try to get them to pick our cotton and all they did was cause trouble. So our only hope was the negro. Now let me tell from another standpoint.

My health was not good at all and my husband needed help on the farm so he let it be known. It was not many days before the men came seeking the place. Strong men with strong wives. My husband told them the main thing needed was the wife to help me. When that was said—the trade was off—No, they would not wash dishes nor iron (we have a washing machine) for no woman. Now, anything honest is

...morning, and I did not ask for a slave. After several unsuccessful attempts, we found a negro man and woman. She does all my kitchen work, washes, irons and in fact, anything I tell her to do. The white people would want all the milk, butter, and eggs for a song and do nothing in return. Now the man who wrote the piece I am replying to may be perfectly innocent as to the cause of which I speak. But really I believe the greed and unconcern of the white man in regard to his brother is the cause of the negro holding the place he does today. A READER.

A Medicine You Have Waited Many Years For THE NEW KONJOLA

Being introduced in our store for the FIRST TIME. This celebrated new remedy is for the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and rheumatic and neuritis troubles. Chicago, Philadelphia, and other large cities have gasped at the wonderful accomplishments of this remarkable medicine.

This remarkable compound is destined to bring new hope, happiness and glorious health to Memphis people. Thousands, seemingly hopeless cases of health troubles have been conquered in large cities, by this advanced compound.

Konjola, the medicine made from extracts of 22 plants of Nature, containing over 30 beneficial ingredients, works with the sufferer's own food, bringing more normal healthy action to the important organs of the body—the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

"Konjola's Work Miraculous," Says This Lady

Waco Lady, Lifetime Resident, Enthusiastic About New Medicine That Relieved Stomach Ailment

"Konjola made a new person of me," said Mrs. Lillie Collins, 3617 Homan avenue, Waco. "For the past few years I have had a severe case of stomach trouble. The food I ate failed to digest, gas formed and I was subject to chest pains and heart palpitations. I was always tired in the morning. Pains in the small of my back from affected kidneys often kept me from doing my housework. I often suffered with numbness in my hands and feet and was extremely nervous.

"I began to get relief immediately after I began the Konjola treatment. The gas on my stomach after meals has now been eliminated and I no longer find night risings necessary. I sleep well and I am no longer nervous. I am free from back pains and my kidneys have been regulated until they function perfectly. I have not an ache or a pain in my body. The results I got from Konjola were miraculous and I heartily recommend this medicine to all who suffer as I did."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good in the most stubborn cases when given a fair trial. Six to eight bottles are recommended for usual cases.

Konjola is sold in Memphis at Leverett-Williams Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

SCOUT TROOP NO. 4 TAKES HIKE SATURDAY

Boy Scout Troop No. 4 went on a hike Saturday, April 26, and went eight miles north of the city. Immediately after the lunch, the boys went to the creek, where Wayne Baker and Joe Peddie killed a snake that was five feet long.

Some target practice shooting took place, Bobby won first place by hitting the bull's eye twice, but several others hit the center once each.

On the way home, which was a "bee line" hike, up and down hill, Joe tumbled head first into some mud, but was uninjured.

Let's Chat Awhile

BY DOROTHY B. ROBBINS

The extreme pleasure of grasping the handle of my hatbox and buying a round trip ticket has been mine. I have ridden two hours with people I never saw before, admired the landscape between Hillsboro and Dallas again, chewed gum, haven't allowed my feet to touch the floor of the Interurban after I was seated and yet have known the pangs of a terrible sea sickness I can never seem to lose.

I have recalled my destination to see a dear face smiling at me in the Interurban station; a figure all clad in orchid with sweeping lines, the skirt much longer in the back. Beyond the orchid figure, I discerned two others wreathed in smiles, one the husband of the orchid lady and the other a friend to all. Greetings and powdered noses and dinner at a lovely place; and everybody ordering sea food—everybody but the traveler who took tea and toast, but was persuaded finally to "try" a shrimp cocktail. I did and liked it and felt no deleterious effects.

Then the walk to the Y. W. C. A. The best part of the evening, the crisp April air and the sounds of the city. We had left our male escort after the meeting with his brother and after a little shopping had been accomplished (I think the orchid lady must have thought the green pin and other accessories that her four young hopefuls presented to me the next morning at her home), we were bound for the Munger Room of the Y. W. C. A. where a meeting of the Poetry Society of Texas would be held that evening, we, meaning Mrs. Cacy Robbins Cole, Mrs. Lillian Barker Smith and Mrs. Dorothy B. Robbins. Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Smith are also members of the Poetry Society and before Mrs. Smith moved to Jackson, Mississippi, attended the society, they even collaborated on an effort which was one of the lucky fifteen to be read from the monthly sheet of poems. Mrs. Smith also contributed a highly amusing and well written feature to the Dallas News magazine before she left Dallas and has written other things.

I have attended one other meeting of the Society in the six years I have been a member. Not long after my entrance, on the evening in question, I saw the friendly face of Norman H. Crowell, who accented me with "Had any rain down your way yet?" Then came Mrs. Crowell to welcome me and voice her pleasure. "She is the most approachable person I ever met," said a friend of mine who had been sent by a delegation to Mrs. Crowell's house in Dallas.

Whitney Montgomery and Vaida Stewart Montgomery arrived a little later. They carry a home atmosphere with them. I believe Vaida is one of those women who could find a place to set up her household goods and make things "comfy" on a desert island, and besides, she is a splendid poet and busy as a bee with that wonderful "Kaleidoscope." This night, after Hilton R. Greer, whom I had never met before, talked in a most interesting vein, though concisely and to the point, he introduced Mr. Montgomery who would read from his new book of poems.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Frederick Smith of S. M. U., who discoursed in an interesting manner upon the world-wide Virgilian observances now in progress, programs, and celebrations honoring Virgil. Read the old and thoroughly acquaint yourselves with their style, then bring what has been learned to the present and modernize it is the idea.

Mrs. J. Barney Davis read some of the selected poems, another member of the society read some (those that were fortunate enough to win a place on the monthly sheet) and Mr. Clyde Walton Hill, whose fame for many of us reached a climax when we read "The Little Towns of Texas" in the "Buccaneer," was also a reader. Mrs. Hill, who is a musician and composer of note, and a sweet and attractive woman, recognized me. The cowboy poet was also present. I am told that he acts his productions. The meeting was quite a success from my point of view for I was lucky enough to be one of the elect to have a poem read aloud and though not getting first vote, I got a rose-colored feeling for the rest of the evening when I found that Whitney Montgomery gave my poem first place on his voting sheet.

This was a little celebration preliminary to another of those milestones that must be set up yearly, my birthday anniversary coming on Sunday made it possible to sandwich in the Poetry Society while spending the next day with my daughter. I feel that the short trip has given me new courage and strength and that I learned much in a few short hours.

On Sunday, I had the best dinner, the best entertainment in the afternoon, and the best surprise when four year old Pat played four selections on the piano and a duet with her mother, the composition of her Aunt Ruth. I left Dallas at 5:55 including among the birthday offerings a lovely box of candy which I dared not sample for several days, but of which now I can say, "It was surpassingly excellent."

I found my mother at home with her youngest grandson. Stirred to the depths by my unsettled ride, I hunted the kitchen and fixed an egg toast and tea and found it good. I retired early and next morning went to the garden for spinach—have recovered sufficiently that I can see the Interurban pass without a qualm. Walking is my favorite means of locomotion now and forever.

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Liquid Borosone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borosone Powder, to hasten the healing. Liquid Borosone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borosone Powder, 20 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at Tarver's Pharmacy.

Earl Parker, G. W. Sexauer, J. W. Slover, Esther Sockwell, W. L. Wheat, R. H. Wherry, C. R. Webster, Miss Edna Bryan and Miss Maud Milam.

More than two hundred delegates and visitors of the Seventh District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs registered for the ninth convention which convened at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning of last week in Pampa.

Appointed Luncheon

The home of Mrs. C. P. Buckler was the scene of a lovely appointed luncheon at noon Wednesday, when members of the Board of the Seventh District of T. F. W. C. were honored, among those present being three Memphis women, Mrs. G. W. Sexauer, Mrs. R. H. Wherry and Miss Edna Bryan.

Entertained at Tea

From 5 to 6 o'clock, the visiting delegates were guests at the beautiful home of Mrs. I. B. Hughey, where a lovely Oriental Tea was given. Mrs. I. B. Hughey was officiating hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. T. R. Martin, Mrs. Robert Montgomery and Mrs. Edd Cobb.

Fine Arts Program

At eight o'clock at the high school auditorium on Wednesday evening the Fine Arts Program was given under the direction of Mrs. R. B. Masterson, Jr., of Amarillo, chairman of Fine Arts. The following program was rendered, which showed unusual talent:

Addresses of Welcome

The convention formally opened Thursday morning at nine o'clock with the convention singing, "The Eyes of Texas." Addresses of welcome were given for the City of Pampa by George Briggs, secretary of the chamber of commerce; for the women of Pampa by Mrs. W. Purviance. The response in behalf of the Seventh District was given by Mrs. A. W. Howard of Memphis in a charming and elegant manner, after which the convention went into the regular business session.

Outstanding Feature

The outstanding feature of the program was an address given by Mrs. Geraldine Green, Dean of Women at the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, on "A Dean for Girls in Every High School," stressing the importance of a Dean in the high schools and suggesting that the Dean should be a young woman with grace, dignity, moral character above reproach and one to whom a modern girl would naturally turn, and stating that if funds were not available for a full time Dean to have half time Dean and half time teacher. This was received by the women over the District with much enthusiasm as one of the objects of the District and State Federation of Women's Clubs is to place a Dean in every high school. The noon luncheon on Thursday sponsored by the Department of Education was very interesting and instructive. Mrs. William Dingus of Texas Technological College, gave an address on "The Value of Higher Education," which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Dingus is a wonderful instructor in the college and in her pleasing manner held the interest of those present.

Small Makes Address

Thursday afternoon, reports were continued, and the convention was honored with an address from our State Senator C. C. Small of Wellington. Senator Small's subject was "Law Observance" and he held the audience spellbound with his many proofs of lawlessness in the state of Texas; giving law enforcement, violation of laws by respectful people and hesitancy to demand law enforcement by good people as some of the reasons that we have so much lawlessness, placing emphasis upon the need of "old fashioned living in the homes and enforcement of the prohibition law."

Apple Blossom Dinner

Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, an Apple Blossom Dinner, honoring Mrs. J. T. Whitmore, the president, was given in the basement of the First Methodist church. Quite an interesting program was given, the outstanding number being the address of the president on "The Blooming Men," after which we adjourned to the auditorium of the church for the evening program. The Pampa Choral Club opened this service with a chorus, "Kiss Me Again." Greetings from Pampa were extended by Mrs. Tom Rose; Greetings from the State President, Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, after which an address on "Home and Education" was given by J. W. Hale, brother of the president, Mrs. J. T. Whitmore. Mr. Hale proved to be quite a humorist, even rivaling Will Rogers. This number was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Whitmore's address on "An Awakened Public Sentiment" concluded the program for the evening.

Friday morning the session opened in full swing and reports were continued. The Delphin Club of Memphis made quite a showing with their report. The entire convention commented upon their splendid Scholarship Loan Fund and asked numerous questions about the origin of the fund. It was at this session that the convention took on the air of a circus by Memphis entering with well blown balloons, with invitations attached "Come to Memphis."

Some of Accomplishments

Some of the accomplishments of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce during the time Mr. Sager has held office as secretary include: street paving; highway designations; highway paving; fight for high school; boulevard lighting system; effort to promote a feeling of good will between Memphis and her trade territory; a more equitable backing of Hall County farmers and farming interests generally; fostering of the Hall County District Fair, poultry shows and the Memphis Gold Medal Band, and many other accomplishments.

Served Other Bodies

In addition to his duties as Chamber of Commerce secretary, for over three years, Mr. Sager has served as secretary of the Retail Credit Mens Association, and since 1928, he has been secretary of the Hall County District Fair Association. In 1922 and 1923, he was a director of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce; for the past three years he has been a director of the Amarillo Tri-State Fair; for the past two years a director of the Tri-State Poultry show. At various times within the past five years, he has been director and secretary of the Colorado-To-Gulf Highway Association.

Art Exhibit Shows

One of the most attractive features of the Federation convention was the Art exhibit under the supervision of Mrs. C. E. Palmer of Amarillo. Mrs. Palmer is an artist herself. Harold Bugbee, of Clarendon, was among the artists showing paintings in the exhibit. Others showing paintings and etchings were: Miss Isabel Robinson of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon; Mrs. John V. Andrews, Pampa; Mrs.

E. R. Truman, Pampa; Lloyd Albright, Dalhart; Sandy Mack, Mrs. B. C. D. Bynum; Mrs. Jack Edwards; Mrs. Guy Saunders; Mrs. H. G. Hendricks; Sister Maria Socorro; Mrs. Darrell Jackson; Miss Margaret Seewald; Miss Harriett Kritzer, all of Amarillo; Miss Bess Hubbell of Lubbock; Miss Bess Vicars, Pampa, and Ben Carlton, Mead.

Sager Resigns

In speaking of his resignation, Mr. Sager said: "I appreciate very much the cooperation that the business men and citizens of Memphis have given to me since I have been connected with the Chamber of Commerce, and the only wish that I have for the good citizens of Memphis is that the city will continue to grow and that all will prosper."

Position Unsolicited

The Quannah position came to Mr. Sager unsolicited, and he did not accept the offer until he had discussed it with the board of directors of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. After his resignation here had been accepted, he wired the Quannah Chamber of Commerce informing that organization that he had accepted their offer. In reply to his message, he received a letter from the Quannah chamber which reads, in part: "I am writing you at the request of President Harwell to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of April 25th. Mr. Harwell asked me to say to you that he was delighted to learn of your decision to accept the secretaryship of the Quannah Chamber of Commerce and I can assure you that his delight is shared by each member of the board."

Started Work in 1921

Mr. Sager started work on March 10, 1921 as Chamber of Commerce secretary here, succeeding R. B. Morgan. At that time, he was manager of the Hall County District Fair Association. In 1921, not a foot of paving had been laid in the city. There was not a single designated highway in the county. Now, Memphis boasts of 80 blocks of paving with about 60 miles of designated highways in the county. During the time Mr. Sager has held office, the new courthouse was constructed.

Many New Developments

During his nine years as secretary, Mr. Sager has seen many new developments come to this city as well as a big growth in business. At the time he went with the Chamber of Commerce, there was only the old telephone building and the Citizens State Bank building on Noel street. Since that time, all the improvements west of these structures have been made. Mr. Sager has witnessed the building of the Memphis Hotel, the Pounds Hotel, the Kennedy Hotel, the tearing down of the old ward school on West Main street and the erection of a new high school building; the construction of the junior high building, the building occupied by the Ford Motor Company, the King Furniture Company, the Masonic Temple, and within a period of six years the building of approximately 400 homes in the city.

He will be on hand to open the meeting next Sunday. Dr. Robinson states, and it is expected that large crowds will attend the meeting to hear this forceful speaker.

Services Twice Daily

Services during the meeting will be held twice each day, at 10 o'clock in the morning and each night at 8 p. m. The pastor states that no special song leader has been secured, and the music for the meeting will be furnished by the regular church choir. Special music will be furnished at all services by the singers. The Methodist church building here has recently undergone several repairs and improvements and everything is in readiness for the meeting, according to the pastor. Dr. Robinson has just recently returned from Clarendon where he

Long Legs." Miss Webster dramatized her story and it was presented at the Gaiety Theatre in New York, under Henry Miller's direction, with Ruth Chatterton in the principal role. "Daddy Long Legs" tells the story of Judy, a pretty little drudge in a bleak New England orphanage. One day, a visiting trustee becomes interested in Judy and decides to give her a chance. She does not know the name of her benefactor, but simply calls him "Daddy Long Legs," and writes him letters brimming over with fun and affection. From the Foundling's Home, she goes to a fashionable college for girls and there develops the romance that constitute much of the play's charm.

Efforts Are Made

A total of $345 toward a starting capital has been subscribed in the form of stock, on which the officials expect to pay periodical dividends during the season. Those in charge of the movement expect to raise several hundred dollars more within the week. Manager Is Selected. W. E. Edwards, who has had several years experience in West Texas baseball, will manage the club. Mr. Edwards has already secured several players, some of whom are local stars, and is adding others to the list. Workouts will begin soon.

Local Legion Post Will Sponsor New Troop Boy Scouts

The Charles R. Simmons Post, No. 175, American Legion, of this city, has signified its intentions of sponsoring a troop of Boy Scouts, according to information given I. E. Jolly, regional Scout executive, by members of the local Legion post. The several Scout troops in Memphis at present are formed by boys belonging to the various churches, each church sponsoring a troop, and the new troop that is planned will include boys not now enrolled.

That's a start, all right, but we'll have to have more money than that if we feed many children this summer. Please don't forget this week to send 50c or $1 to the Milk & Ice Fund. You won't miss it, and it will help provide nourishment for growing children of unfortunate Memphis families.

The fund will become active within the next few days. Investigations are being made now to determine families that are needy and deserving. The money will be spent only for milk for growing children who need it, and for ice to keep the milk fresh.

Just to prove that all the Democrat's roses weren't failures, Bailey Gilmore has promised the entire force roses for their buttonholes in a few days. Bailey says his bushes are covered with buds that are momentarily expected to break out. I'm trying to console some of you people who bought dead bushes from us.

Down at the postoffice they call Mr. Owens the p. m. I suppose that makes Mr. Rice, his helper, the a. m. What do you think? Send your guess to the first assistant postmaster general at Washington, D. C. A cancelled 2-cent postage stamp is the prize.

I know a good story on J. B. Wright. Most of you know that Mr. P. Dial's elevator office is about 30 steps from the Denver station. When J. B. came to Memphis 10 years ago to go to work for Mr. Dial, he walked up-town from the depot and took a taxi to Dial's elevator. The taxi driver didn't crack a smile—and he didn't fail to charge J. B. fifty cents, either, to take him right back where he'd been.

I know a young Memphis business man who has thought up a very clever idea all by himself. He has decided to take in a partner so he'll have someone to help him worry.

Good thing we don't have any Scotch farmers in Hall County. Their crops would always be short.

There aren't a great many things I dislike, but one of them is to hear people call Lindbergh "Lindenberg." Where they get the "en" I don't know. And that brings about another question that has set me wondering. Where does Lindbergh get all his money? How can he afford to fly around all over the country and do nothing else. Who's paying the bills. Originally he was financed by the Guggenheim Foundation; I know that, but who has borne the expense for the last two years or so? Won't someone please enlighten me?

And while I'm referring to aviation, Earl Johnson, on his recent visit to Memphis, has reminded us again that we need an airport. All of us have known that for some time. The big old question is "how to get it?" If we can acquire a landing field that will meet Government specifications, Memphis can enjoy air passenger service between Amarillo and Dallas and connecting lines. Is something to think about.

Someone, a young lady, I think, has accused Bill Cooke, one of the Democrat's hired hands, of being conceited. "It isn't true," he said when interviewed by the & That reporter. "Of course it isn't true. I don't think I'm as good as I really am!"

Bill isn't as dumb as he looks. He couldn't be.

People often refer to stale jokes, like the one I just cracked, as being so old they have whiskers on them. I have just drawn my left hand across my chin and discovered I have whiskers. Why is it—because I'm old or because it's a joke? Confine your answers to not more than 500 words. Write only on one side of the paper and then destroy it.

For the benefit of people who can't see me very often, but who would like to swear at me every few minutes for various reasons, I will furnish portraits, suitable for framing and hanging in the attic. There is more than one reason for hanging my portrait in the attic. No thoughtful parent would wilfully frighten little children.

"Happy Days" Boss Uses Diplomacy

A motion picture director usually has enough of a problem if he has one star in a picture and two or three prominent featured players. Artists of established position are not apt to be as pliable as those with reputations yet to be made. Blending such talents into the story pattern requires more diplomacy than anything else.

The problem becomes more complicated as the size of the featured cast increases. It becomes positively formidable when an all star attraction is put into production. What it becomes when most of the principal players under contract to a single big producing company are poured into one cast is something for Benjamin Stoloff to describe.

When he retires from pictures he hopes to become a diplomat. He feels he has had plenty of training.

Mr. Stoloff directed "Happy Days," Fox Movietone all star, all talking musical romance scheduled to open Thursday, May 8, at the Palace Theatre. At first the picture was intended to be the first Movietone minstrel show. As it finally came out it was a massive production with a story and an amazing cast.

Among the big names were Frank Albertson, Warner Baxter, El Brendel, Walter Catlett, William Collier, Sr., James J. Corbett, Charles Farrell, Janet Gaynor, Richard Keene, Dixie Lee, Edmund Lowe, Sharon Lynn, George MacFarlane, Victor McLaglen, J. Harold Murray, George Olsen and his music, Paul Page, Tom Patricia, Ann Pennington, Frank Richardson, Will Rogers, David Rollins, "Whispering" Jack Smith and Marjorie White.

Each of these naturally felt entitled to a particular place in the sun. Some were not backward with suggestions about scenes. Keeping each happy required an unprecedented amount of finesse.

Besides this tremendous cast of 100 entertainers, Stoloff had under his direction a great chorus of mixed voices, and 50 beautiful dancing girls in numbers staged by Earl Lindsay.

Considering the size of the production, "Happy Days" was made with little tumult. The specialty acts were staged with few rehearsals because the players perfected themselves before appearing before the Movietone camera.

One of the reasons why the actors were all so anxious to do their best was due to a clever move on the part of Director Stoloff. To give them an incentive he allowed other members of the cast to form a professional audience out of the camera range. Having an audience to play to naturally inspires actors.

Earl Johnson Is Speaker At Lions Meeting Last Week

The Lions Club had as their guests last Thursday, April 24, five brother Lions from Clarendon, and a former Memphian, Earl Johnson.

Mr. Johnson gave the principal talk for the day, telling some of the history and other interesting facts about the Aero Corporation of California. Mr. Johnson told of the beginnings of the chief airway of the state, as follows: "The founders of the Aero Corporation of California were three former citizens of Memphis and Clarendon, being Jack and Don Fry and another young man from this part of Texas. Jack and his companions left Memphis only a few years ago in an old broken down Chevrolet, intending to find a 'position'—not 'job' in the Golden State. After hunting until all his money was spent, and he was about as hungry as he could bear, Jack took a job as dish-washer in a cafe in Los Angeles. Don was employed in another town, and the others had returned to Memphis. Jack saved his money and bought an old wrecked air plane, an old Army 'Jenny,' and got a Mr. Henderson to teach him how to fly. Then with the Mr. Henderson, who became mechanic for the organization, and one other fellow, the three began to fly three old wrecks of planes, taking passengers and teaching other young men to fly. From this modest beginning grew a five million dollar corporation.

"This corporation, The Aero Corporation of California, recently consolidated with the Western Air Express, and Standard Air Lines, making the largest corporation of its kind in America, and the largest privately owned and controlled air line flying regular passenger lines, in the entire world."

Mr. Johnson then answered a number of questions as to air lines between California and Amarillo, El Paso, Kansas City and other points. Also concerning landing fields, air time from various points, and the plausibility of a landing field for Memphis. He stated that as Memphis is on the regular air line from Amarillo to Fort Worth and Dallas that a landing field here would be very desirable, and would cost only a moderate amount.

Lion H. Mulkey, of Clarendon gave a short talk of greeting from the Clarendon club, and introduced the four other Clarendon Lions.

CONDITION OF VANCE JOHNSON IS IMPROVED

Vance Johnson, reporter for Democrat, who has been ill for the past two weeks with a throat affection and abscesses, is reported to be much improved. He took treatment from a specialist in Amarillo during the entire of last week, returning to Memphis Sunday night. Vance has been able to be up most of the time since he has been home, but his throat has not healed to any appreciable extent, although the swelling has gone down somewhat and the pain is not as intense.

It is expected that he will have to undergo an operation as soon as his throat gets in suitable condition. His services will not be available to The Democrat for some time yet, although he stated he was anxious to be at work again. During his absence, his place on the paper has been filled by Jerry Sitton, a former reporter.

May Day—Child Health Day

The child's bill of rights as outlined by President Hoover:

"The ideal to which we should strive is that there should be no child in America—

That has not been born under proper conditions;

That does not live in hygienic surroundings;

That ever suffers from undernourishment;

That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection;

That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health;

That has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body;

That has not encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being."

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts were elated over the picture "The Girl Scout Trail" shown at the Palace Theatre, Wednesday, April 23. The Girl Scouts sponsored the show and acted as ushers for both matinee and evening productions.

The musical score adapted by Joseph Littau, internationally famous conductor of Roxy's (New York) concert orchestra was an exceptional arrangement, presenting several Girl Scout songs which added to the presentation of the picture.

The leading character in "The Girl Scout Trail" was played by Gladys Lee, a member of Troop 64 of Brooklyn, and the setting of the picture was at Camp Edith Macy, the Girl Scout National Training Camp near New York City.

Many bursts of applause from the girls verified their appreciation of what the ideals and work of Girl Scouting brings to the girls. "The Girl Scout Trail" is an impressive and inspiring subject, a great message delivered from the screen and sincere and appreciative comments have been expressed by parents and friends since witnessing the extensive program portrayed in the picture.

The local director and four Girl Scouts took the film to Estelline Saturday, showing it at both matinee and night. A troop of Girl Scouts is being organized at Estelline this week.

A tribute from Mrs. Herbert Hoover, first lady of the United States and also first lady of the Girl Scouts (their honorary president), is worth the consideration of our citizenship, as it conveys the thought of what Girl Scouting means to girls.

In talking to Girl Scout leaders Mrs. Hoover stated their aims in these words: "Girl Scouts are girls who have gathered together in a group of their own volition, that they may find a means of expressing their constantly changing stream of high spirits and good will; that they may serve their community in a manner that is practicable; that they may explore trails which lead out of the pleasant fields of childhood to the broad and teeming highways of adult life."

"Girl Scouts seem to have a better time working than playing; and a better time working for others than for themselves. Those I have known (Mrs. Hoover has been a Captain of a Girl Scout troop for several years) get a tremendous exaltation from serving others; and a frequent result of the voluntary cooperation and comradeship in Girl Scout activities is the thought and helpfulness for other people. This makes our girls better homemakers, better citizens, better friends. Individually, it tends toward a keener mind, a finer character, and a happier self."

Epworth League Institute Held Here Last Week

A very interesting Epworth League Institute was conducted at the Methodist church Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, concluding Sunday afternoon, April 27.

Vance Swinburn, district secretary of Clarendon district, was in charge and was assisted in teaching by Mesdames C. W. Boone, S. L. Seago, T. C. Delaney, N. A. Hightower, Misses Verna Crump and Ruby Hoffman. Rev. Logan of Plaska, Rev. J. H. Terry of Estelline, and Rev. J. D. Landreth of Hedley.

Several young people attended from Estelline and Newlin. The texts studied included the Epworth League Handbook, the Church at Play, Adventures in Service, the Marks of a World Christian, Young Peoples Work for Young People, Parliamentary Procedure and Acquainting Youth With Christ.

At the conclusion of the course of Study Dr. Robinson gave a very practical and helpful talk on the three C's. Consecration, Conservation and Concentration, applying it to the class that just completed the course of study.

The district secretary then presented certificates to those attaining credits.

Guild Has Meeting With Mrs. Drake Monday Evening

The Westminster Guild met at the home of Mrs. Frances Drake in regular meeting Monday evening, April 28, with Mrs. Ray Bass as leader.

Mrs. Pearl Ward gave the devotional lesson, dealing with the subject of the evening, "God's Care." The lesson was taken from Gal. 4-5-6 chapters.

Seventeen members responded to roll call with items of interest concerning the American Indian.

After the program a delicious salad course was served.

Presbyterian Meet Held Monday In Church Parlors

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church met Monday at 3 p. m. in the church parlor. The meeting was opened with the song "Jesus Calls Us." Prayer by Mrs. Grundy followed.

Minutes were read and approved, opening the business session. The offering for the afternoon was $8. Mrs. Mallard, chairman of the program committee, presented the Year Books. A rising vote of thanks was given her for her labor of love.

Mrs. Van Pelt conducted the devotional, using Faith, Fellowship and Future, as the theme, stressing the accomplishment of new goals for the year.

Mrs. Arnold, the leader for the afternoon's program then took charge, the topic being Africa. Roll call was answered with different facts on Africa. A negro spiritual "In'a My Heart" was sung, and the story of Cornelius was read from the Bible. Topics by Mrs. Kittinger, who told of "The Glowing Embers of Prayer;" and Mrs. Guill who gave account of the School at Coulter. Mrs. Arnold requested that all read the prayer from Africa in the Year Books, and then closed the program with a very touching prayer and the mishpah benediction. Twelve ladies were present for the afternoon.

Lakeview Society Has Social Meet Monday Afternoon

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Lakeview Baptist Church met on Monday afternoon, April 28, at the home of Mrs. R. A. Bowerman, for the regular business and social meeting. Mrs. R. A. Bowerman, the president, presided over the meeting.

Nine members of the society, and the pastor, Will N. Nelson, were present. Three new members united with the society at this meeting.

After the regular order of business, a very pleasant and profitable social hour was spent, during which time both hands and minds were busy, in working on a quilt for Buckner's Orphans Home, and discussing plans for the upbuilding of the church and society.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Arch Mitchell, served delicious refreshments, consisting of fruit punch, devil's food cake and vanilla wafers.

All departed pronouncing Mrs. Bowerman a very delightful hostess.

All the ladies of Lakeview and surrounding territory are cordially invited to come and join the Baptist ladies and unite in making Lakeview a better place in which to live. The meetings take place each Monday afternoon at the church.

SOCIETY ANNOUNCEMENT
The Monthly Luncheon and Board meeting of the Federated Missionary Society meets at the home of Mrs. S. T. Harrison, Monday, May 5, at 12:30 o'clock.

Dr. Pat Wiggins' Class Has Outing On Last Sunday

Dr. Pat Wiggins' Sunday School class of young ladies of the Methodist church enjoyed an outing last Sunday.

The girls gathered at her home on Main street at 7:30 in the morning. Mrs. J. G. Brown assisted as chaperone, and a journey was made to Browder Springs, where an outdoor lesson was participated in by all.

After the lesson, songs and prayers, a walk over hills and valleys, seemed sacred. An outdoor noon meal, giving an intimate, personal touch to the meeting, drew the number closer together. Pictures were made, and the group returned home at 3 p. m.

These girls, while few in number, are active in doing good deeds, helping in quiet acts of service, and are an inspiration, greatly appreciated by their teacher.

Members present Sunday morning were Misses Mildred Brown, Leta Mae Brown, Jewel Alexander, Maude Worsham, Clovis Cox, Bernice Webster, Edna Earle Hillier. Two of the members were much missed, being Thelma Bagwell and Maggie Maddox. Visitors were Miss Ruth Reynolds, of Erick, Oklahoma, Helen Ruth and Naomi Wiggins, and Mrs. J. G. Brown, assistant chaperone.

Mothers Day In Delphian Club Is Observed Tuesday

Mesdames John A. Wood, Luelia Wiggins and R. H. Wherry were hostesses to the Delphian Club and their mothers or best friends on Tuesday afternoon, April 29, at the home of Mrs. Wherry.

Roll call was answered by twenty members who gave lovely tributes to Mother. The guests were then divided into two equal divisions and a sing-song contest began. Mrs. Roy Guthrie read the questions and Mrs. J. H. Mallard played the airs at the piano. Eighteen familiar songs were played and until the very last the contest was close.

The poem, "Nobody Knows But Mother" was most beautifully read by Mrs. C. A. Powell. In her interpretation she gave all the honor and love and glory that can be paid to motherhood. The mothers were next asked if they still remembered how to dress children, and each was given a tiny china doll with material to dress it. Mrs. W. H. Goodnight finished the contest first, and a committee was appointed to decide which doll was most artistically arrayed, but the judges reported that they were all so pretty that no decision could be reached.

Each club member introduced her guest, who in turn was asked to give a sketch about her wedding day, dress or party. Mesdames W. C. Milam, T. T. Harrison and Mrs. W. A. McMurry vied for honors in these reports. Heartly laughs greeted many of the remarks of the several visitors.

A dainty ice course was served by the hostess, and beautiful home grown roses were given as favors.

Billy Huckaby Is Honored On Sixth Birthday

Mrs. Curtis Huckaby, assisted by her mother, Mrs. T. T. Butler, entertained Thursday afternoon from two-thirty to five, honoring her little son, Billy Fred, on the occasion of his sixth birthday.

A color scheme of pink, blue and yellow, was carried out in the decorations, favors, and in the birthday cake.

Readings were given, stories told and games were played throughout the afternoon. Ice cream and cake were served to Billie Dalton Guest, Charles Everett Crawford, Jean and Bettie Joe McMurry, George Carter Jr., James Byron Baldwin, Gwendolyn and Raymond Ballew Jr., Bobbie Jack McMurry, Billie Joe Prater, Charline Scott, Nell Sitton, Jess Ballew Jr., Leon Stephens, Mary Sue Huckaby, and the honoree, Billie Fred Huckaby.

Mrs. Nolan Walter left Wednesday for a visit in Clovis, New Mexico. Miss Mozelle Brasher returned to Clovis after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Walter.

C. L. Sloan Jr. drove to Denver Saturday, to accompany his mother, Mrs. C. L. Sloan Sr., who was returning home after several months visit in Memphis and Estelline.

A New Month Why Not Start It Off RIGHT By Patronizing Home Owned Stores?

MEMPHIS Merchants, operating home owned enterprises, invite your patronage . . . and as operators of businesses aiding in the building and growth of the city, they are deserving of the patronage and support of the people of Memphis and trade territory. At the beginning of a new month, why not make it a point to make your purchases through the medium of home owned institutions; as you aid in their growth you are aiding in the growth and the prosperity of your town and community.

In direct contrast to Chain Stores and Chain Store Systems, Home Owned Stores serve as well as operate in their town . . . they pay taxes locally, support all civic improvements and worthwhile projects, and contribute to all forms of local charity and building. Start the month of May off right by giving your support to the merchant who is interested in you and in your community as well as in his own personal welfare.

The Merchants Minute Men of America is a voluntary national organization designed to be the working body against the domination and greed of the outside Chain Stores, and for the welfare of all home owned enterprises. Members of this organization in Memphis display membership cards in their windows and may easily be found by Memphis shoppers.

Changes In Memphis Beautiful And Modern Churches Need For More Paving Progressiveness Of Theatres Hard Times Contrasted Need Of Aviation Field

Editor's Note: At the request of The Democrat, Earl C. Johnson, who has been in Memphis on a vacation, has revived an old column, "Si Says," which appeared in the Hall County Herald during his editorship, and discusses local matters frankly in the column below.

Having deserted the pen for the "joy stick" some months ago, we are, at the request of the editor, again taking our trusty typewriter in hand, to give Democrat readers our impressions of the old home town after twenty months in California—the land of movie stars and subdivisions.

Changes in Memphis not particularly apparent to those of you who have seen them come gradually are plainly evident to one who has been absent for some months, and, we are glad to say, all changes we note are for the better.

A number of the old landmarks, whose only value were strictly as landmarks, have disappeared and in their place we find modern structures which are a credit to the city. True, one or two of the old hang-overs are still standing, but on our next visit back we expect to see them replaced also.

Always noted for its beautiful and modern churches, Memphis has, we note, added two more imposing edifices to this category, and we know of no city of anywhere near the size of this which can surpass it in this respect.

One thing we were disappointed in somewhat was that Memphis has not added to its paved area, but we feel sure this will come in time.

Speaking of paving, we feel that one of the most progressive steps taken by Memphis and Hall County, is the paving of an east-west highway, now in progress. California learned long ago that paved roads were much more important than railroads, and this will prove true in Hall County also.

Having resided for the past several months in the land of movies, we were interested in the

The Coming Generation

And here we have two fine looking Hedley misses. Billie Ruth Key, on the left, is 10 months old, and Barbara Ellen Key, right, is 2 1-2 years old. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Key of Hedley.

The little Eskimo holding the polar bear (or is it a cat?) is Betty Sue Wilson, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson, formerly of Memphis but now residing in Mangum, Okla. Betty Sue was "all fixed up" for that cold wave we had last winter when her picture was made.

equipment in use at the local theatres, and were pleased to find that it is as good as any we have seen and heard in Los Angeles. Memphis theatre goers are to be congratulated on the progressiveness of the local theatres.

We have heard a few hard times stories while in the city, but if our folks could all come out to Southern California for a time just now, they would return to Hall County well pleased with conditions here. Frankly, Hall County looks like a million dollars to us, and conditions here are much better than on the much advertised Pacific Coast.

We have noted with much interest the series of articles in the Democrat by various citizens, on "What Memphis Needs Most," and we would like to add to the series the opinion of an ex-citizen. One of the things most needed in Memphis just now, from our point of view, is an adequate aviation field.

Memphis is now on the direct line of the Amarillo-Dallas division of the Western Air Express, America's greatest air transport system. East and west bound tri-motor planes of the company pass over the city daily. With an adequate landing field, Memphis would be made a flag-stop on the line, but at present there is no place one of the big ships can be landed safely.

Some may say that the purchase of land for a field would cost too much, but it would cost less now than five years from now, and within that time a field will be an absolute necessity.

To provide for all future needs, a field of not less than 160 acres square should be provided. At present no permanent improvements would be necessary, save, perhaps a temporary shelter for passengers, a wind sock, and telephone connections to the field.

With a flag stop established here, the planes would stop to take on or let off passengers whenever desired, and our citizens would not have to motor to Amarillo to take a plane to Dallas or Fort Worth.

This suggestion may get a laugh from some of our folks who are not so air-minded, and may be taken merely as a hair-brained suggestion from "that guy who has been nutty about airplanes for years," but just mark it down in your little book that if Memphis does not provide an adequate landing field now, it will find it an absolute necessity in less than five years, and will cost them more then than now.

Within less than a year plane fare will be not more, and perhaps less than train fare, and even the most pessimistic of our citizens will be finding it to their advantage to travel by plane and save hours enroute.

Open Letter From Arthur W. Jones Defines Position

The Democrat is in receipt of "an open letter" from Rev. Arthur W. Jones, replying to a letter published in the paper recently. The letter reads as follows:

"Mr. Russell Clark, Editor, 'The Democrat':

"While one would have never suspected it from your 'Little Eva-Big Eva' columnial expression, I am delighted to learn from your reply to my criticism that you are a Prohibitionist. That bit of information is worth the spanking you gave me with your editorial paddle. Now that you have confessed your faith, I trust you may show it by your works. Remember, that the Good Book says 'Faith without works is dead,' and John the Baptist demanded that certain ones should 'Bring forth fruits meet for repentance.' I am of the opinion that after such a disservice to the cause as the 'Little Eva-Big Eva' LAPSUS QUILLI, quite a bit of the said fruit should be expected on The Democrat's tree.

"While I doubt the significance of the figures taken from Collier's Magazine (in part because it came from Collier's), if they are correct and Prohibition is not in as secure position as some of us conceived, then there is the greater reason for all the friends of the cause, such as yourself, to give full strength to its aid. When a campaign is in a bad way and a battle likely to be lost is no time to give aid and comfort to the enemy by such unnecessary ridicule of one's own cause and comrades. And I still believe that three-fourths of the readers of The Democrat are Prohibitionists. 'Mr. Clark, as to the quotation from my 'farewell address,' it was true then, and still expresses my opinion. I never knew better publicity given by any newspaper to the churches of its community than was given by The Democrat during my residence there. I trust I was as deserving of the compliments given me by yourself at that time, as was The Democrat of the tribute I rendered it.

"Now, if this little flurry is over, let's both roll up our sleeves and put in some good licks together against this desperate 'come-back' attempt of John Barleycorn. If you will just lay off ridicule of the noble men and women with whom I fought for 20 years in a cause for which I have given the flower of my manhood years, and for which I have shed much sweat and some blood, and use your brilliant pen for that cause, then you may refer to me as a 'political preacher' as often as you please.

"Fraternally,
"Arthur W. Jones."

(Editor's Note: Brother Jones makes his position clear in the above letter. I tried to make my position clear in the letter I published on April 18th. The matter is at an end so far as I am concerned, and I believe Brother Jones feels the same way about it.)

RECEIVES REGISTERED RAMBOUILLET RAM

T. R. Franks of Memphis has just received a registered Rambouillet ram from the Texas Experiment Station at Sonora to be used with his flock of Registered ewes. The ewes will be bred for October and November lambs. Mr. Franks has recently weaned his last fall's crop of lambs and has them on pasture at the Fair grounds.

Sheep have been pastured on the grounds for the past two years by Mr. Franks and it is interesting to note that the sheep have practically killed out the "goat head" burs which formerly infested the grounds. It is believed that there is a big opportunity in Hall county for the establishing of small farm flocks of sheep.

Mrs. Tom Kennedy of Clarendon spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wood.

Misses Yetta Mae Hackworth and Pauline Morrow, of Childress, spent the week end in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee Rushing returned Thursday from a visit in Dallas and Corsicana.

Nine Tablets Made Me a New Man, Says Smelter Worker

"I've Suffered for Ten Years, but Orgatone (Argotane) Has Relieved Me," says Amarillo Man

"One day, my sister-in-law, left me nine Orgatone (Argotane) tablets, and insisted that I take them, because I had been feeling so badly, but I thought that all patent medicines were alike and refused to take them. Finally I decided to give them a trial, and they have given me wonderful results," said Richard Ray Gotts, of 2400 N. W. 5th, Amarillo, Texas, a well known, smelter worker.

"I had my wife stop at the City Drug Store, and get me a full bottle of Orgatone (Argotane) and I'm going to get more," he continued. "I was always bothered with stomach trouble, and when I ate, would be in misery for several hours afterward, gas always formed on my stomach. I had heartburn, and was nervous and worn-out all the time. I was in a very general run-down condition. I was constipated, and took strong laxatives most all the time.

"Since taking those few tablets, they have given me more direct relief than all the medicines put together, I have taken in my ten years of suffering. Orgatone (Argotane) has helped me so much, I feel like shouting it from the house tops. I am a new man entirely. Food does not sour on my stomach anymore. I sleep and rest fine every night. In fact, I am just in fine condition, in spite of all my troubles. Orgatone (Argotane) has certainly my endorsement. Yes, Sir, when nine tablets can make a man feel as good as I do, after so many years suffering, I could not say enough for what it has done for me. It is indeed a very meritorious preparation."

Genuine Orgatone (Argotane) may be bought in Memphis at the Tarver Drug Company.—Adv.

Back Quit Hurting

"I was in a very weak condition from a serious sickness," writes Mrs. I. Leonard, of 571 Joseph St., New Orleans, La. "I was so weak, I wanted to sleep all the time. I did not have strength to do anything. My back ached nearly all the time. I was just in misery.

"My mother told me I must arouse myself from the sleepiness, and take something to help get my strength back. She had taken Cardui and had been helped, so I decided to take Cardui, too. After my first bottle, I could see that it was helping me. I took four bottles at this time. My strength came back and I gained weight. Pretty soon, I was my old self again. My back quit hurting, and I haven't had any more trouble since I took Cardui."

THE DEMOCRAT'S PROGRAM FOR 1930

- 1. Less selfishness and more selflessness in the business, professional and social life of Memphis and Hall County. 2. The placing of agriculture on a higher plane, with emphasis being put on diversification, live at home movement, and the cow, sow and hen route to contentment and general well being. 3. A better understanding between Memphis and the towns and communities in Hall County. 4. More respect for city ordinances in connection with parking of cars in the downtown district, observance of fire rules and regulations, and keeping the streets of the city in a clean condition. 5. More general cooperation in all movements seeking the betterment of Memphis and Hall County. 6. A municipal auditorium. 7. More paved streets.

A LIVING WAGE

TO the unobservant, the uninitiated, or those who pay little attention or care less concerning the welfare of the city as a whole, it may not have occurred to these folk that Memphis is faced with an unemployment situation that demands that some kind of constructive action be taken to alleviate the condition, insofar as is possible. It is not uncommon for us to read of unemployment conditions as they exist in the larger towns and cities, but it is not often that we are brought face to face with such a situation locally. Nevertheless, such a state of affairs exists in Memphis.

We have been told that a certain contractor recently put local men to work at the exceedingly small wage scale of twenty cents per hour. We have not had this report confirmed, but if such should be the case, it is not a living wage and pressure should be brought to bear to get the scale raised. It is ridiculous to suppose that married men can feed their families and themselves on $1.60 a day. Times are never so "hard" and "tight" but that an adequate scale should not only be paid, but if it becomes necessary, it should be demanded by the workmen.

Take a survey of the public square any day in the week and a person will see dozens of men idle. We know that work is not as plentiful as it once was, that steady jobs are practically out of the question, but there are jobs that can be given the idle to help them over this period. There are men in this town, and any number of them, who would gladly work at odd jobs of any nature whatsoever. There are lawns to be mowed; trash to be hauled off and burned; premises to be straightened up. The kind of job is not the thing. The unemployed are looking for work of any nature—something to keep their families in food and clothing.

Whenever local citizens have work they want done, it will be greatly appreciated if they will communicate with The Democrat office or Charlie Webster, secretary-treasurer of the United Charities of Memphis, who may be found at the Grundy Bros. Abstract Office. We can furnish the men and plenty of them for every kind of job. We are not alarmists or extremists in any sense of the word, but we are face to face with cold facts and we want to see the unemployed situation bettered.

There are families in this town who have had to have the assistance of the United Charities this year for the first time. These families are largely the victims of circumstances. The family heads are willing to work; they have sought work; they have begged work, but in a majority of cases, it has not been forthcoming. We believe in helping those who help themselves. Men and women here want to help themselves, but they are going to need some outside assistance. Whenever there is a job of work to be done, let us know; pay the workmen a living wage for what they do, and help them to help themselves instead of remaining a burden on the community at large.

THE RESULTS OF THE CENSUS

BY the time this editorial appears in print, it may be that Memphis will know what our census is for the year 1930. Other towns in this section are receiving their reports, and it is entirely likely that we will know our own figures soon. Although we have not had any access to the local census, and do not have the least idea what the population of this town will show, we are convinced of the fact that it will not be nearly so large as some people would have us believe. We understand that the Chamber of Commerce has claimed that Memphis has a population of some 6,000 people, or somewhere near that number. It is our conviction that if the city shows a population of 4,500 people, the figure may be a little high.

We want Memphis to make a good showing as the result of the most recent census enumeration, and if the figures are not as high as we think they should be, we should still be content with the result. Of a certainty, the enumerators have exercised particular care in trying to list every person who resides in this city. We believe that the margin of error, if any, is not more than one percent. We must, at the same time, take into consideration, that our population at this season of the year is not what it is during the fall. During the cotton season, a number of transients reside here. Many of these move on at the conclusion of the season.

Regardless of what the results are to be, they will unquestionably show that the town has had a steady growth since 1920 when the former census was taken. Memphis has never been a boom town. We have no spouting oil wells to attract people, and those who come to stay have generally made substantial citizens. We believe that such a growth is better than that fostered and engendered because of a sudden boom that a town takes.

It is always the habit of local people to place the population of their town much more than it really is. This is due to the fact that ten years elapse from one census taking to another. We notice that many new people have come into our town; that new businesses have been opened and new endeavors started. Someone will make the assertion that the town is growing rapidly, and before long, figures will begin to be circulated concerning that growth. It is only natural that this should be the case and it is highly commendable for citizens to want to see their town as large as possible, but when authentic figures are available, such as the census returns this year will unquestionably prove to be, no dissatisfaction should be registered. We should be thankful that we have enjoyed the growth that has been occasioned, as shown by the figures, rather than to find fault by saying that the census is not correct and that our town really has many more people than the census accounts for. Whether we are shown to have a population of 4,000 or 5,000 is beside the question. The thing to be glad about is that we have as many people as we do and to make the town so attractive as to bring in many more.

AMATEUR THEATRICALS

NOTHING does so much to advance the cultural interests of a town—and particularly of a small town—than the showing of amateur theatricals. Often we hear the stale remark that too many home talent plays are produced locally. We would answer this assertion by stating that it is impossible to have too many home talent plays of the right kind. Of course, if plays were scheduled every week during the year, they would become boring and monotonous, but where they are presented at stated intervals, not too near together, they offer a fine and really broadening influence.

The work that is being done and that will be accomplished in the future by the Memphis Little Theatre is now and will be worthy of attention. Wherever the Little Theatre has made its appearance, it has been successful. This is due in part to the seriousness of those who direct and take part in the productions staged by this organization. While the plays are presented entirely by amateurs, practically every one of them we have been privileged to see has been a finished performance from start to finish.

The contention has been brought up, in times past, that the Little Theatre hampers legitimate entertainment in a city. We do not concur in this belief. We believe in patronizing picture shows and every place of amusement that any city offers that are of the right nature; still there are times when such places do not "fill the bill" or "hit the spot." It may be that such times are very infrequent, but they do occur, and one of the best antidotes for such a feeling is to see a Little Theatre production.

The presentation of "Kempy" by the Memphis Little Theatre last week gave local people an insight as to what may be expected in the future from this group of actors and actresses in the making. The production would have done credit to a much larger city. There was no guess-work or hit-or-miss direction about it. The characters enacted their parts like professionals. The dramatic intensity of their actions has been commented on frequently since the play was presented.

And another thing; we do not believe that the productions staged by high school students are given the place in the life of the city they should have. How many times has the statement been made: "Oh, they're just a bunch of kids." That may be true enough, but young people here and elsewhere have demonstrated their ability in dramatics just as frequently as older folk have. We believe in backing to the limit every home talent production. Memphis will have the opportunity of doing this very thing on Friday night of this week when the Senior Class of 1930 present "Daddy Long Legs." Work has been progressing on this play for weeks and it will be well worth the time and attention it takes to see the comedy to witness its presentation. Nearly every home talent play or amateur theatrical is for a good cause and every one of them should be backed to the limit by the citizenship as a whole.

Scouts Will Hold Area Finals Meet In Memphis May 30

The Area Finals Meet of the Southeast Panhandle Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held in the Fair Park at Memphis, beginning at 2:30 o'clock Friday May 30 according to I. E. Jolly, regional Scout executive. Inter-troop contests will be conducted by the troops in the various towns and cities of the district shortly before the Area Finals Meeting in order to select representatives for the meet on May 30.

In connection with the Area Meet, according to Jolly, there will be Scouting contests in games and trials between the events. These will consist of Horse and Rider, Firearms Carry, Crab Races, Wheel Barrow Races, Equipment Race, Antelope Race, Scouts Race, Skin the Snake and other Scouting games.

May 29 has been set for the date of the Inter-troop Contests for troops from Memphis, Hedley and Estelline, at which time each troop will be divided into pa-trois, and each patrol used as a unit in selecting representatives for the Area Finals Meet. Jolly stated that it is his desire to have as many Scouts as possible entered in the events. "All patrols will be eligible," he explained, "or a patrol may be selected from the troop of the most proficient Scouts in all events, and sent as representatives."

The inter-troop contests for Memphis, Estelline and Hedley will be held from 1 to 3 p. m. on May 29, and in the evening from 3:15 to 6 o'clock a benefit picture will be shown at the Gem Theatre, with Fred Thompson and his Wonder Horse and "Knights of a Square Table." Out of door cooking will take place between 6:15 and 7:15 p. m.

"All Scouts registering for Camp before July 15," Jolly states, "can save one dollar on their camp fee by sending in $6.50 in cash, and for all Scouts registering and paying the one dollar fee before July 15, we will allow a ten per cent credit on the camp store. Registrations after July 15 will be $7.50." Jolly stated further that the Service Shorts will be the uniform for all public functions and Scout demonstrations and the official dress-uniform for Camp.

ON and OFF THE CAMPUS

BY THE EDITOR

There is nothing that flies by us as fast as time. When we think that another school year has passed by, we can scarcely realize it. There has not been another year to pass as quickly as this school year, especially for members of the Senior Class.

Four years ago, the present Senior Class enrolled in September as Freshmen in the high school. Time passed, but slowly. They could hardly wait till the time that they would be Seniors and graduate with a high school education. Now that the time for graduation is near, there is not a member of the class that would not like to go to Memphis High School another year.

We might have been cross with members of the faculty, but we now fully realize that it will be hard to forget them and the things that they have done for us. They have been our friends, while at times we thought they were our worst enemies.

Four long years we have done our best, to make ourselves and our school stand out. We have represented the school in athletic events; we have represented the school in literary events; we have always done our best for the honor of old Memphis High School. How hard it will be to leave the old school that seemed to be a prison at times. Not one of us will deny that we love the "old prison," as it has been called.

Especially will it be hard for the star athletes to leave the old school, whose colors they have always defended. No athlete who has represented his school will be glad that his days are over. Every athlete who has won a letter from old Memphis High will always keep the 'M' as a prize possession. He is proud of it, and his only regret is that he did not make many others.

Walter Massey, one of the best athletes that has ever graced Memphis High with his presence, stated, "There is only one thing I regret, and that is that I shall not be able to attend Memphis High another year. I have hated the school, the faculty, everything, but yet, I love them all. It is hard for me to think of leaving. I shall always remember the days when I fought on the gridiron, the basketball court, the track, and the baseball field to win for myself and my school."

We shall let this issue of the "Whirlwind" be dedicated to the graduating class. The class that will soon walk out with their education in their hands—to face whatever Fate brings before them. According to an article in the "Reviews of Reviews," fifty percent of the high school graduates will not seek a higher education; twenty percent will not finish one year of college work; ten percent will not finish more than two years of college; seven percent will go to college more than two years; ten percent will receive A. B. degrees; and three percent will get M. A. degrees. I wonder how this percentage basis will apply to members of the local graduating class.

Little do we realize that after the last meeting of the class this year, when the diplomas are presented them, it will be a mere accident if all the members of the class will be together again. They will be scattered out, here, there, everywhere, never to assemble together again.

Even the hardest and strongest boys must hold themselves hard to keep from showing emotion when the last ceremony is over.

JUNIOR - SENIOR BANQUET IS TENDERED

Interesting Program Is Rendered On Tuesday Night

Presenting members of the Senior Class, with the annual Junior-Senior Banquet, members of the Junior Class were hosts at a banquet at the Memphis Hotel last Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. The ballroom was elaborately decorated in the school colors, with the programs and place cards in like colors. Colored lights also added to the color scheme.

Pearson Is Toastmaster Albert Pearson, president of the Junior Class, served as toastmaster, keeping the students in an uproar with his lively jokes at every vacant moment.

Members of the faculty were honor guests, along with members of the Senior Class.

Menu Is Modern After dinner consisting of Fruit Cocktail au Repobates; Olives, Freshman Green; Celery Tu Chu; Vegetable Salade de Hi-Y; Baked Young Hen a la Cyclone; Dressing Cyclonnettes; Cranberry Sauce (That's the berries); Buttered Peas (for knives); New Potatoes in Creme (not iced); Parkerhouse Rolls (your own); Coffee (hot stuff); Sherbet (you bet); Cake (cut yourself a slice of); and Mints (Down with Halitosis!); the program began.

The program, which was very interesting, consisted of a song by Mazie Perkins and Iris Hollis; piano music by Carl Reese; Toast to the Seniors by Bill McKelvy; Toast to the Juniors by Homer Shankle, president of the Senior Class; reading of the senior will by Ernestine Walker; piano music by Carl Reese; and the main address of the evening by William Russell Clark.

Clark Speaks Mr. Clark has contributed much to the success of making the school year a successful one, and he proved a fitting speaker for the occasion. He is well liked by both boys and girls. He will be long remembered for the part he took in directing the "Football Follies," and the part he took in other school affairs. He is chairman of the athletic council. He is also the author of the school song, "The Spirit of Memphis High."

After the program, the students stood and sang the school song, "The Spirit of Memphis High," to end the Junior-Senior Banquet of 1930.

Statement Is Wrong; Miss Myers Students Did Make Good Rate

A story to the effect that the typing students of Miss Mabel Myers, who entered the District Interscholastic League Meet held at Childress several weeks ago, did not make such a good showing was erroneous. The story in the Whirlwind, stated that the best they did was to win fourth place.

Correction is to be made and an apology to both the girls and Miss Myers. The girls made an excellent showing, and although they did not have a team present, they were able to rate with the winner. Had the third member of the team been present, the girls would very likely have won at least a second place.

As for the statement that the best they could do was to win a fourth place, a fourth place, when as many teams entered as entered the district meet, is an excellent place. Not only did they do exceedingly well, but if the third member of the team had been present, an average of their work would very likely have put them in a much better rating position.

The girls went to Estelline, and there defeated the Estelline team with ease. They also consistently defeated the girls who attend the local business college. There's nothing wrong with them, and it might be further added that they are very good students, likewise they show by their work the ability of Miss Myers to train students of their type.

The girls will be permitted to weep openly.

With our hard rough hands, we wipe away stray tears, when we think our high school days are over.

Naomi Wiggins Wins Ribbon

Naomi Wiggins, daughter of Dr. Pat Wiggins, was not given enough credit for the work she did at the Music Festival held at Amarillo last week. The paper only mentioned the fact that she won one blue ribbon. That's all wrong; she won four ribbons, red and blue. She is only ten years old, and entered in three classes of girls older than she. That is indeed a good record for a girl so young. Naomi will play for the high school students in chapel soon. They are looking forward to hearing her play.

B. U. D. Girls Have All Night Party At Home Ethel Jones

BY MARY WINSTON WALTERS

Last Friday night at nine o'clock, members of the B. U. D. Club met at the high school building to have a pajama party. From the school the members with their sponsor, Miss Lucille Pope, and guests, Miss Kathleen Wood and Jewel Keenan, went to the Palace Theatre. Following the show, refreshments were served at Tarter's Pharmacy.

At eleven o'clock, the girls marched up Main street to 14th street and turned north, marching to the tune of songs until they came to the home of Mrs. A. B. Jones, mother of Ethel and Ola Mae, members of the club, where they spent the night.

Donned Pajamas

Upon their arrival at the home of Mrs. Jones, the girls donned their pajamas, and while Pauline Ross played the piano, each girl marched to the front of the room and displayed her pajamas. The taking part in the style show were Mary Batson, Sarah Bradshaw, Catherine Easterling, Velma Fisher, Marietta Gibson, Margaret Gowan, Mary Louise Huff, Sara Hart, Cordia Lee James, Ethel Jones, Ida Jones, Ola Mae Jones, Annie Rene Montgomery, Mazie Perkins, Jean Pugh, Thetis Rasco, Tressa Simmons, Mildred Stephens, Ernestine Walker, Mary Winston Walters, and Lucille West.

Had Big Time

After hours of fun, candy making, telephoning, and other interesting things, the girls retired to the kitchen where they ate candy, pop corn, sandwiches, and fruit. Between three and five o'clock the lights were turned out, and the girls sat on the floor and listened to "true" ghost stories. Suddenly a sheet-covered form could be seen in the firelight—coming—stopping—everyone was panic stricken—a real live ghost! A closer observation, however, proved that the ghost was none other than the hostess, Mrs. Jones.

Parade to Town

A parade to town about five o'clock was another feature of the entertainment during the night. The girls paraded to town and around the square and back to Mrs. Jones home in their pajamas. It is the opinion of this writer that the feminine "dignity" of the school had a good time, but at what cost: Sleepy the next day!

WALTER MASSEY MAKES TRIP TO AUSTIN MEET

Walter Massey, crack track man of Memphis high school, left Wednesday for Austin where he will participate in the State Interscholastic League Meet. Walter stands an excellent chance of winning both hurdle races.

Last week he entered an invitation track meet at Canyon, where he won individual honors, winning first place in the 220 low hurdles and third place in the shot put. The high hurdles were not run.

Jack Taylor, "the fast lad of Childress," stepped the century in 10 flat, barely nosing out Babe Russell of Hereford. These boys are expected to meet again at the State Meet.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Walter spent the week end in Clavis, visiting Mrs. Walter's parents.

Ronnie Shepherd came from Lubbock where he is in school, to spend the week end with his mother, Mrs. B. F. Shepherd.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite, loss of weight, grinding of the teeth and restlessness, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Chamois Vermifuge, which you can get at Tarver's Pharmacy.

Baptist W. M. S. Meets In Ladies' Parlor In Annex

The Ladies Parlor of the Educational building of the First Baptist church presented a lovely scene Monday afternoon when the following ladies were hostesses to the Baptist W. M. S. in its monthly program and social meeting: Mesdames G. C. Baskerville, Vernon Williams, H. A. Jackson, T. M. McMurry, R. C. Walker, W. Combest, and L. C. Linn.

Lovely roses were artistically arranged throughout the suite, forming the predominating decoration. "Around the World in 85 Years" was the topic discussed. Mrs. Byron Baldwin directed the program, and Mrs. E. T. Miller led the devotional. The program was based on "Mother, a tribute to the past, a service to the present, and an inspiration to the future." "Memories of Mother" was sung by Mrs. Hensal Whaley, with Mrs. Roy Leverett at the piano. Others taking part on the program were Mesdames Henderson Smith, D. L. C. Kinard, Parks, L. M. Lane, Williamson and Keeney.

At the close of the program two winsome little maidens, Lois Miller and Owen Gilmore, presented roses to all grandmothers present, making the scene very effective.

In the contest for the W. M. U. pin, circle number 3 carried off the pin. The hostesses served a lovely refreshment plate to forty seven guests.

Girl Reserves Ceremonial To Install Officers

A very impressive ceremonial was observed by the Girl Reserves on Wednesday April 23, at 6:30 when the officers elect for 1930 were duly installed. The girls assembled in the ladies parlor of the Methodist church where the retiring officers entertained with a luncheon honoring the officers elect. After the luncheon the lights were extinguished and each girl was given a candle. During the singing of "Let the Lower Lights be Burning" the retiring officers lighted their candles beginning with the president who in turn lighted each of the others in the order of their office.

Mary Winston Walters conducted a very impressive devotional lesson on "The Use of the Talents." Each officer in turn lighted the candle of her successor and with appropriate remarks passed on to her respective collaborator the duties and privileges of the office.

The officers installed were: Jessie Wood, president; Ethel Pearson, vice-president; Elizabeth McMurry, treasurer; Lorraine McCowan, social chairman; Dorothy Hart, publicity chairman; Willie C. Wilson, secretary; Lola Mae Grundy, service chairman; Mildred Kesterson, program chairman; Pauline Turlington, music chairman.

Atalantean Club Has Gypsy Party At Hicks Home

The Atalantean Club enjoyed following a Gypsy Trail that led to the home of Mrs. L. M. Hicks, on Wednesday, April 30 at 12:30. All members were in gypsy costume and as they greeted the hostess each was given a card with directions to continue the trail which was the program of the day.

Black hearts were matched to find partners for the luncheon which was served in the "Inn of the Black Heart and Hand." The luncheon consisted of grapefruit, fried chicken, gravy, potatoes, string beans, sliced tomatoes, frozen salad, strawberry shortcake and iced tea.

Real enthusiasm reigned as the members cast lots for the vase of flowers that adorned the table. The next stop on the Gypsy Trail was at the Gambling Den and as the Gypsies ascended Fortune Hill, Mrs. Hicks told each guest her most characteristic trait by reading the face of the cards they carried, and finding their greatest hearts desire listed on the back.

The trading post gave each guest a chance to use her wits and vie with each other in winning the largest list of numbers.

At the end of the trail the Gypsies posed for photographs and as each guest said "goodbye" they were given a napkin, typical of Gypsy town as a souvenir.

Members present were, Mesdames C. W. Broome, S. A. Bryant, W. H. Craven, W. P. Dial, W. C. Dickey, W. B. DeBerry, E. S. Foote, W. A. Hightower, T. T. Harrison, C. W. Kinslow, John Lofland, D. A. Neeley, James Norman, Frank Phelan, C. R. Webster, S. J. Bailey; Herbert Estes and R. S. Stuart.

Those taking part in the play were, Mary Winston Walters, Chloe Johnson, Marjorie Guill, Mary Louise Thomas and Frances Joy Tomlinson. Music was furnished by Pauline Ross at the piano while refreshments were served.

The Senior C. E. will be guests at Mrs. Conly Ward's Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

ILLNESS KNOWS NO HOLIDAYS

That is why your druggist is open Sundays to serve you.

Like others he would like to do his week's business in six days of eight hours each. But pharmacy is a profession and carries with it the professional man's obligation. Open Sundays, holidays, and evenings, primarily to meet the health needs of the community, the drug store is often the oasis in the desert of locked doors when the household suddenly discovers some needed article is missing.

Whether a prescription is to be filled quickly, accurately; or high quality merchandise at reasonable prices, you insure satisfaction and personal service by coming to the drug store.
