CAPITAL AND CREDIT

are always good friends to the hustler. It lies with you to what extent your capital and credit shall grow. The man with a bank account is paving the way to a solid business system, building his capital and establishing his credit. Capital and Credit are "blood relation" to the bank account.

COUNTY COURT CONVENES.

The Wheels Of Justice are Grinding Slowly and not Much Business.

The regular fall term of the honorable county court was called to order on Monday morning, October 18, with all the officers present. Wednesday was set as probate day and that was the only day that any business of importance has been transacted up to the time of going to press.
On Wednesday, October 20, E. L.
McDaniel vs. F. L. Stout was called for trial. The parties having come to an agreement the case was dismissed at the cost of the defendant.

E. D. McDaniel vs. J. F. Williamson, et al, parties agreed to settlement and the same was submitted to the court and dismissed at the cost of the defendant.

Cicero Smith Lumber Co., vs.
W. L. Langford, plaintiff was given judgment for $200.75 together with all cost and interest accruing from date of judgment.

Court then took recess until Monday morning and no other business has been transacted up to the time of going to press.

Randal Drug Co.

This firm needs no introduction to the citizens of this vicinity. Mr. Randal is conceded to be one of the best Pharmacists in the Panhandle and has worked many years in Memphis. From the day of the opening of this splendid palace of drugs and drug sundries, his business has constantly increased, largely owing to the fact that the best of drugs, drug sundries, candies, toilet articles, perfumes, etc., and in fact, everything that is carried in a first class drug store and all who enter their store receive honest and courteous treatment. There is no more popular firm in the city or one that is held in higher esteem by the citizens in general. They apply the Golden Rule to every business transaction and are "there with the goods," when duty demands it.

The City Bakery.

J. N. Mann is the well known and well liked proprietor of the above bakery, where the very best of bread, cakes and confections are kept fresh at all times, and has won the good will of the Memphis housewives by always having "ready made," the many delicacies in pastry required for table use by the sudden call of "company," or mayhap an entertainment when delicate refreshments are served.

Little Louella Moore Dead.

For five weeks little Louella suffered with typhoid fever and finally running into typhoid pneumonia and ending the short life last Monday morning. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Moore, living at corner of 7th and Roberson streets.
The sad news of little Louella's death cast a shadow over those who knew her. About two years of her life was spent among us, and every heart was touched with sympathy for the stricken ones from whose fireside the light had fled. For seven bright sunny years not only had she been the joy and comfort of the home, now left empty and desolate, but her sweet childish presence brought a wealth of sunshine and happiness into the lives of all who knew her.

Interment was at Fairview cemetery this Wednesday morning about eleven o'clock when loving hands tenderly laid the little form to rest and heaven and earth seemed to be in true accord with the solemn scene, and yet the comforting thought that the child was spared earth's cares and sorrows, and that her memory but forms another card to draw her loved ones to the brighter home above.

To the sorrowing relatives the Democrat extends its deepest sympathy in this sad hour.

Dunbar Bros.

What this paper is to the newspaper world, Dunbar Bros. is to the insurance world. For many years they have been looking after the insurance and abstract business of this town and community. They handle about twenty of the largest insurance companies of the United States and have the most perfect and thorough abstract set of books in the Panhandle. The company is regarded as one of the best in existence—best, because the company is paying as high if not higher dividends to policy holders than any other company.
Dunbar Bros. are thorough in their business methods, attend strictly to the duties devolving upon them, and has perhaps written more policies in this county than any other one firm.

Old papers for sale at this office at 15 cents per hundred.

W. P. Dial, Grain and Coal.

A summing up of the business of this community would be incomplete without due mention being made of Mr. Dial, who is one of Memphis' best business men. He has made a success of life, and the liberal and judicious application of printer's ink has been a great factor along this line. He is a wholesale buyer and shipper of grain, and also has the largest coal business of any company or firm in the Panhandle. He handles the best Niggerhead and Maitland coal at as low a figure as can be had anywhere. The people of the community have unlimited confidence in Mr. Dial and his manner of doing business, and confidence, you know is the hinge upon which the business world hangs. Because of this confidence Mr. Dial has been given a business prestige that is indeed enviable.

Prater & Son, Livery.

In the livery realm, these people are and have been for the past year or two, cutting a pretty wide swath in Memphis. If you want to take your Duxy Ann for a drive some cool evening, they have horses that "go some," and their rates are cheaper than shoe leather. No old crow baits in their barn; no plugs that cannot keep out of their own way, and no buggies that reel and totter like a man full of booze, no horses that are tricky like untamed "Maud." But they do have some of the best rigs that are going and are always ready to hitch up for you.

Bradford Grocery Co.

The above up-to-the-present grocery store, located on north side of square. Keep a fresh clean stock of the very best staple and family groceries, are prompt and pleasant in waiting on their customers, and enjoy the friendship and esteem of those favoring the store with trade.
Delivery to any part of city promptly made. The house is well established, and enjoys a fine trade among those who appreciate the best that can be bought in the grocery line.

W. K. Hollifield and wife returned from the Dallas Fair today.

HALL COUNTY FIVE TIMES WINNER

Fine Individual Exhibit as Compared With Others.

We have just returned from the State Fair at Dallas and while there we paid the agricultural hall a pleasant visit. Of course we could not help but find the Hall county exhibit, as it was not uncommon to hear the expression "Hall County Has a Fine Exhibit," and all we had to do was to follow the trail made by such remarks and the exhibit could be easily found. Hall county was awarded first prize on sweet potatoe and water melons and second prize on cotton stalk, maize and tomatoes.
Hall county had an individual exhibit, and while the space in which it was displayed, was very small, yet a very creditable showing was made. Had the floor space been larger so that each specimen could have been properly displayed, there is no question but that Hall county would have brought home more blue ribbons. We saw several exhibits where several counties had banded together and made the exhibits more extensive, but there were not any individual county exhibits that showed off near as well as did Hall county.

It is to be hoped that the display will be gotten together in plenty of time that sufficient floor space may be procured for the display of our products.

Jot Montgomery Drug Co.

It is a pleasure at any and all times to enter as conveniently arranged store as that of Jot Montgomery, dealer in drug and drug sundries. If there is any profession in which it is necessary for a man to thoroughly understand his business it is that of the druggist and this store is where competency in compounding prescription is acknowledged.
In addition to carrying a complete line of medicine, the store is stocked with fine cigars, perfumes, toilet articles, candies, paints, oils, etc., in fact, everything that is usually carried in a first class store of this character.

Price's Barber Shop.

For hair cut, shave or shampoo by the best of barbers, call at the above place and receive the services of experienced tonsorial artists, who make their work the best recommendation for patronage. Shop located on north side of E. Main Street, and the gentlemen of the shop are pleased to attend to the wants and needs of the unshaved public.

Read the Democrat and live happy.

Hall County National Bank.

The position a nation holds among other powers is largely determined by its finances. What is true of a nation is true, in a corresponding degree, of a community. The greatest transfer of commodities will take place where the best banks and financial institutions are to be found.
There has not been a more important factor in the upbuilding of the town than the Hall County National Bank. It has been ever ready to assist any legiti-mate enterprise for the good of the individual as well as for the growth of the city, the proprietors being quick to understand that in proportions to a city's population is its business to be determined.

This bank since its launching January 2, 1906, has ever been looked upon as an indispensable factor in this community. This bank now has a capital of $50,000 with a surplus of a little over $9,000. The splendid surplus showing is attributed to the rapid growth of the business, a growth that has been constant. This is a fine record and especially so for the short length of time they have been running. Their office-ers and directors are men who not only stand high in the community but in the financial world, and it is largely because of these stalwart characters that so enviable reputation has been established.

Accidentally Poisoned.

Miss Elizabeth Forest who has only been here for a short while with her sister, Miss Kathryn, accidentally took an over dose of headache medicine last Sunday afternoon and when she was discovered she was in an unconscious condition. A physician was called and the case was so serious that he called in another doctor in consultation. They worked faithfully with her for several hours before they thought there might be any chance for her life, but with proper attention it is believed that she is now practically out of danger. We trust she will be up and at herself again in a few days.

Local Market Report.

The following is a corrected market report for week ending Tuesday, October 26.

Butter, per pound	25c
Eggs, per dozen	25c
Chickens, per dozen	$3.00
Cotton, per hundred	$14.00
Cotton, Seed per ton	$20.00

The jury in the Greene case gave him a judgment for $1050 which is $200 less than he received before. The attorneys for Mr.
Greene have made motion for new trial.

PLEASANT EVENING REVERIES

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide

Crude Thoughts From The Editorial Pen

Old times are sweetest and old friends surest.

How easy it is to admire people who agree with us.

Drop the reins of government occasionally and be a child with your children. These movements of sympathy with their delights will deepen your influence more than severe disciplining and be remembered longer.

Happiness and completeness in life cannot be bought. It is a supreme gift, the free reward of character and loving unselfish service. The constant and ceaseless response to the needs and claims of those about us is simply living in the completeness of life. It is expression, it is joy, it is privilege. It is participation in the higher purposes of the universe. It is spiritual development. Loving, outgoing sympathy is simply that diviner atmosphere into which it is our higher privilege to enter.

TEN THINGS A BABY CAN DO.

It can beat any alarm clock ever invented waking a family up in the morning.

Give it a fair show and it can smash more dishes than the most industrious servant girl in the country.

It can fall down oftener and with less provocation than the most expert tumbler in the circus ring.

It can make more genuine fuss over a simple brass pin than the mother would over a broken back.

It can choke itself black in the face with greater ease than the most accomplished wretch that ever was executed.

It can keep a family in a constant turmoil from morn till night, and from night till morning, without once varying its tune.

It can be relied upon to sleep peacefully all day when its father is down town and cry persistently at night when he is particularly sleepy.

It may be the naughtiest, dirtiest, ugliest, most fretful baby in all the world, but you can never make its mother believe it, and you had better not try it.

It can be a charming and a model infant when no one is around, but when visitors are present it can exhibit more bad temper than both of its parents together.

It can brighten up a house better than all the furniture ever made; make sweeter music than the finest orchestra organized; fill a larger place in its parents' breast than they knew they had, and when it goes away it can cause a greater vacancy and leave a greater blank than all the rest of the world put together.

THE WISE MOTHER.

Your wise mother is not given to worrying over trifles. She does not expect perfection in a day. And she has put from her, as far as the east is from the west the gastly possibility of setting vanity up in the room of love.

So she does not begin with exhaustive attention to the minutia of etiquette, knowing that way lies the danger of making her boys prigs and her girls self-conscious society misses before they are in their teens. She lays down as the laws of her household the broad principles of respect for elders, reverence for women, kindness for all; and she permeates the home atmosphere with her finest conceptions of the deference and the sympathy due from soul to soul. Her children very early delight to place a chair for grandmother and to save father steps. They learn to be proud of that restraint, which enables them to keep self in the back ground, and to defer to brother and sister. It never enters their heads that servants are less worthy of respect than other people. They are unashamed in the presence of wealth and power as they are tender toward suffering and poverty. When she teaches them from time to time her code of manners—and she is careful to perfect it according to her best judgment—she teaches it for home use, and it becomes fixed by becoming natural.

ABOUT THE BLUES.

There are times when the average man has the blues, and then he wants to talk of epitaphs and dead men's bones and to ride in a hearse instead of a street-car. With some men the affliction known as the blues is constitutional, holding sway at regular intervals, while others are merely depressed by existing circumstances. Some are born with the blues, some achieve the blues and others have the blues thrust upon them. The man who is naturally despondent is more to be pitied than the man who has inflammatory rheumatism. Though the sun may be shining and the breeze murmuring, and the whole earth rejoicing, he is still bowed by the weight of the blues. He doesn't know why it is so, and he doesn't care much. His highest ambition is to contemplate suicide, and sometimes to practice it. People tell him that it is foolish to be so morbidly sorrowful, and they are doubtless right, but he can't help it, and so he goes along, blue because he has to live and after a while blue because he has to die.

THE TEST OF HEROISM.

"Here am I, send me." These words mark the turning point in a great career. They were uttered at what is wont to be termed—"the parting of the way." They refer to the hour when an ancient Hebrew tired of the life which he had been living, and receiving one glimpse of "the heavenly vision" resolved that henceforth existence should be something more than a barren waste. He heard a voice calling him to a new career. He was not told that the new pathway would be always flower-strewn. He was not promised a perennial greeting of smiling skies. He was simply informed that his hour had come. Was he ready to enlist for the service? Was he ready to take the consequences? Was he ready to pledge unswerving loyalty to a new commander? In his own words we find the answer—

"Here am I, send me." The old Hebrew never regretted the fact that he answered the call. What visions were he saved him in the after life. Upon his head was placed the circlet of divine prophecy. It was he who told of the coming of the king—"the man of sorrows and acquainted with grief,"—whose career, beginning with Bethlehem and ending with Calvary, should eventually redeem the world.

There is not a man or woman now living who may not enjoy similar privilege to that which came to Isaiah of old if like him they will consent to respond when the call for service comes. Their vision may not be like his, but it will lift the soul above the things of earth, and show that heroism placed to its sublimest test cannot be tested in vain.

FRIENDSHIP PICK-UPS.

We had a good rain last Sunday night.

Rev. Corey of Memphis, Texas, preached at Friendship last Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Messrs. George and Joe Grooms and Walter Blair returned from parts down east October 9th, where they had spent about three months.

Mark Sanders returned from parts down East October 15th where he had spent about three months. He was a week longer getting here than the others. We know why too, "he had to bid his sweetheart adieu."

Miss Lottie Capp spent the latter part of last week here visiting her cousins.

Walton Moore went "dear" hunting last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Birdie Miller is very ill at this writing. We hope she will soon recover.

BRIGHT EYES.

GILES GOSSIP.

The Weather for several days last week was very disagreeable and farmers could not do much towards gathering their crops.

Mr. E. H. Watt. has been attending court in Clarendon the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Curtis and little sons have been visiting friends in Giles for a few days.

J. H. Moore returned Friday night from Kansas City where he had been with a shipment of cattle.

Mr. E. H. and J. H. Moore J. S. Young and daughter C. A. Craw left for Dallas fair Saturday morning.

The telephone camp left Giles Tuesday and is now stationed at Rowe.

J. S. Dyer and wife are among the fair visitors from Giles.

Mrs. M. J. Thornton went to Memphis Thursday.

Hugh Crain was up from Memphis looking after his mothers farm several days the past week.

MERRY WIDOW.

Cut His Corn; Death Follows.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 24.—The funeral of Stephen Casey, who died at an early hour this morning, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, with interment in Mount Calvary Cemetery. Death resulted from blood poisoning, caused by the removal of a corn from one of his toes with a razor two weeks ago, the member being cut deep enough to cause it to bleed. The foot began swelling several days ago and efforts to counteract the poisoning were futile.

Deceased was a brother of Martin Casey of this city.

coloring to our holy city in the movement and the end will be well; I know when the nations will be arbitrated by arbitration and any one nation should persecute any class of individuals in their own land and demand that the fraternal nations will interpose their justice be practiced. Members—the neighbors—interfere. Why not let Turkey to allow Christians as was in 1896, and other nations hands off? I tell you it is at hand when the nations stand for it. I say it is at hand and it will be tolerated. Sentiment and the sentiment is now, and the conduct must not be repeated as our boys would call a not approve of my nation of Palestine or the country as "The Land of the Sun," but I have just as I have called it "The West." I hope to do so, and I hope these letters will get. My book of fourteen of our Western experiences called "Parson Hanks—Years in the West," some thought the "West" California, but with me it is Northwest Texas. Globes call China "The Land of the Sun," but I call this country by that name.

enjoyed my stay, and I see how an infidel can here and go away not being in the Son of Righteousness who arose "with healing in his wings"—the Galilean who stays to me and I have to the departing period—I go. And as I go, I pray, "Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven!" We take a carriage at great side-door of our hotel, at the Joppa gate, then on the west side and far from the city wall, then westward, crossing over to the land to the depot. It is cool and pleasant. We are soon on our way to Joppa, to take ship for Said at 4 p. m. We are on our way to Joppa, and it is very good grade for the end of 12 miles.

our way, we are shown a tomb claimed to be the tomb of the servant Simeon, who saw the light at Bethlehem, and was then to depart to worlds above. We were shown an immense cave flowing from a mountain claimed to be the place where Philip baptized the blind man. Then again, not far from the ruins of the old city, far out on the towering mountain, we are shown a monument claimed to be the tomb of Samson. And high upon a prominent, picturesque mountain we are shown the cave where Samson was captured.

was certainly elaborate and sufficiently secluded have been the hiding place of a strong man. The monument prominent, and as Samson deserves a monument, I move this and is, his unless it be proven otherwise, or another one be erected. To me this is his monument.

We pass many villages, both modern and ancient, but the modern are of ancient appearance and style. The terraced fields are beautiful, and vineyards are to be seen along the side of the mountains. After a black wall is built up two or four feet and the leveled, terraced strip of land along the mountain side will be from 10 to 40 feet wide. Then along the inside the rock wall is a row of beautiful green vines, loaded with green grapes, rendering the hillside and vale a picturesque scene—and profitable. There are large olive orchards, with trees full of young fruit, to be gathered in the winter-time, but there is little winter here. There are many trees here which, if they could talk, would be able to tell tales of woe for the walled cities were laid flat, but the trees stood to feed the victors, while captives lay dead or in wretchedness fled. Some of these must be a thousand years old. The tree pointed out in the Garden of Gethsemane, as being the tree under which Christ went and prayed, must be of sufficient age to have withstood the sorrows of that hour.

But we glide down canyon, and along narrow valleys until we run out into the Plain of Sharon. I would judge the plain to be from one to six miles wide and 10 miles long. The wheat fields are subdivided into small patches by plow furrows and turn-rows, so as to be planted, harvested and then grazed by different parties. There are, I see, three boys guarding a flock of goats on a small stubble field—no fences. These scenes were shown us as we went up, and yet they are of interest as we return to Joppa.

This is not a special express train, nor is it a mail train, for no mail is carried by the train. The mail is carried on camelback from Jerusalem to Joppa. When we get to Joppa we will not go to the hotel where we stopped on our way up—the Jerusalem Hotel of Joppa—for it was the worst table we have had on our way, and as we get coffee, bread and butter for breakfast, we want a good lunch for dinner.

Later: We had a good dinner, and I was anxious to see the house of Simon, the tanner by the seaside, where Peter got his revelation that God is no respecter of persons, and learned the important gospel that "whoever feareth God and worketh righteousness is accepted of Him." He went to see old Cornelius and preached to him and his friends, and they had a great meeting. Well, we went north to a street leading west, then wound around and came down to some old buildings in the heart-coast of the city and were conducted into the house, then out, and up the old stairway to the stone room overlooking the waters of the Mediterranean Sea. While Peter waited for his dinner and was tired and while he slept on this housetop the angel of the Lord appeared unto him, Peter was a great man and his foot-print deserve to be remembered and preserved. His great movement is in Rome and we will not fail to see "St. Peter" in Rome.

Mrs. Hayes' Ashes.
Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 25.—The ashes of Mrs. J. Addison Hays, the late "Daughter of the Confederacy," are today en route to Richmond for interment beside the body of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States, and his wife, father and mother of Mrs. Hays.

The urn containing the ashes was accompanied by Mr. Hayes, Jefferson Hays Davis, their son, whose surname was changed by authority of the legislature to perpetuate the Davis name, and the other children.

Mrs. Hayes died July 18 and body was cremated in Denver, temporary interment being made here with the intention of later removing the ashes to the old Confederate capital.

Services will be held in St. Paul's cathedral, Richmond, Friday, and public homage paid to the departed. Interment will be in Hollywood cemetery, made famous by many historical associations.

Cotton Raisers.
Why go to any extra trouble to pick the trash out of your cotton, the new steel gin will do the work. Have a large cleaner to clean it before it gets to gins. Will guarantee as good turnout and much better sample than the old style gins. Come and see for yourselves. Respectfully, BURNETT & MOREMAN.

Founding On Doorstep.
Tyler, Texas, Oct. 25.—Yesterday morning Mrs. Vant Grant, on returning home from spending the night with friends, found wrapped in a basket on the front steps, a 3-day-old baby girl. In the basket by the side of the baby was a nursing bottle and some extra apparel. There was no note or anything else that would indicate the name or disposition of the child, and no clew as to the identity of the mother. Mr. and Mrs. Grant being childless, will adopt the infant.

MODEL HUSBAND THIS.
Allows Wife to Carry Pocketbook and Is Always Cheerful.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Samuel W. Van Nostran, who was adjudged the "model husband" at the second annual Hubby show, held at the home of Mrs. James Sidney McCollough, received from his wife yesterday credit for being the possessor of all the virtues necessary to make an ideal mate.

"Other than possessing the most superhusbandly quality of being good natured before breakfast," said Mrs. Van Nostran, "my husband allows me to carry a family pocketbook and declare just as if he meant it, that my cooking is so far above 'mother's' efforts in the culinary line that these could be no comparison. If that is not glory enough for one woman, I would like to know what is."

The complete list of desirable qualities attributed to her husband by Mrs. Van Nostran are: "Prompt at meal; good entertainer. An adept with the chafing dish.

Good judge of feminine beauty. Generous and kind-hearted. Enjoys home more than the club.
"Happiest when among friends."
Mr. Van Nostran, who also received the prize for his almost womanly ability to sew on a button in 35 years of age and has been married nine years.

There seemed to be quite a lot of disturbance at Estel-line last Saturday caused by some fellow from down the road coming into town and trying to take things in. He fooled around and got took in by one of the Estel-line boys and we understand the fellow was pretty badly used up. But that is generally the way a bully winds up.

$25.00 Cash Given Away.
To the lady furnishing the most desirable name for a mixed feed which we are going to manufacture, by a mixture of meal and hulls, put up in 100 pound sacks, which is mixed in correct proportion for feeding.

We have just completed a fine mixing plant, and now desire to select some appropriate name for our mixed feed.
Send in your selection of a name and write your name and address on same, so we will know each party furnishing names, which must be in a sealed envelope.

We will select some disinterested parties to make the selection of a suitable name, and award the one furnishing same, the above mentioned $25.00 in cash.
In selecting your name, you are not allowed to use the following names, as they are already copyrighted by other mills: "Mehulls, Trico, Jersey and Nutrio."

There are several other names that are copyrighted, which we can not call to mind, and of course if we select a name furnished by any one and we can not get it copyrighted; we will then be compelled to select some other and award the prize to the one giving a name we can use.
No one related to the management will be permitted to enter this contest.

Please send in your selection of a name by November 1st, as we will have a name selected on that date. Address all communication to THE MEMPHIS COTTON OIL COMPANY, Memphis, Texas.

Chicken House Burned.
There was a little blaze last Friday about one o'clock at the home of C. F. Scott. The fire boys made as fast a run as is possible under the circumstances and got there in time to save part of the house. The boys are laboring under disadvantages and no blame should be laid at their door when they fail to save a building. The building was a small chicken house.

Child Eats Matches And Dies.
Caldwell, Texas, Oct. 24.—Late yesterday the two-year-old child of Mrs. Jim Maddox of this place accidentally got hold of some matches and ate them. She was soon very sick, and died this morning from the effects of the poison. A negro woman saw the little one eating them, but did not know they were poison until it was too late for anything to be done that could save the child's life.

Mrs. A. W. Neal returned this Tuesday morning from a short visit at Weatherford.
