BUY A HOME IN HALL COUNTY--THE RECOGNIZED GARDEN

Steel for Railroad Received.
Our Childress friends are anxious to know what has become of the steel for the road. Mr. R. & E. P. R. R., and Mr. ... why we had been so long of late about the road. In conversation with C. R. Hardy, representative and manager at the place, informed us that several cars of steel were received at the place last week and were being used for the road and that the actual laying of steel would be on that end of the road at the station. The work will be pushed to station and train and will be put on from these stations as the rails are laid. Mr. Hardy also informed us that the work for the road would now be as fast as the grades were completed and the bridge timbers are being laid. The grades west of Memphis are progressing nicely and will not be very long before the work between Memphis and Hedley will be ready for the grade. The grade contractors are having trouble getting hands on the grades just at this time on account of so many people being busy in their crops. Fifteen hands will arrive from the south this week to assist in the grade work.

Ice Cream Supper.
The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church gave an ice cream supper and entertainment Tuesday evening on the lawn at the home of C. ... After the crowd had practically waited on the lawn and cake, it was announced that a nice program had been arranged and would be given in the hall. The crowd gathered on the porch and those who were in the program in the hall. The program consisted of songs and some very fine instrumental selections. A large number of ladies realized a nice little amount of money from their supper beside proving themselves royal entertainers.

A painful accident happened to the place of H. R. Blum near Hedley on the 29th of June. A 14 year old boy of Blum was in the field and they stopped to get water, when they began playing and scuffling over the water, the older boy got the best of the scuffle and the boy grabbed up the file and stuck it at the other boy, sticking the sharp end of the file in the neck of the other boy. The boy went up to the handle and did not been for the fact the file went into the young boy's back slanting, it might have proven fatal. A physician was summoned and the wounds dressed and the young man is getting along fine.

Woman's Culture Club.
The Woman's Culture Club with a number of invited guests spent a most enjoyable evening up at the springs Monday evening. There were about thirty in all. About 7:15 a sumptuous dinner was spread to tempt the ravenous appetites of those present. The ladies had prepared this feast especially for this occasion and to say that each one present did full justice to the spread is putting it mildly—that is if they all ate as heartily as did Prof. Taggart. All present expressed themselves as having had a royal good time.

The work on the Citizens State bank building is about completed and it will not be very many days now until the bank can move into same. The nice concrete walks on either side of the building helps beautify the building and the looks of that part of town. There are two other corners over on that side that should have nice buildings put up on them which would add very handsomely to that part of town.

A new bridge across the branch on East Cleveland street where 5th street crosses is needed the worst way. This is a very public street and there would be lots of travel over that street if there was a bridge on it. The branch is kept muddy and sloppy from waste water from the laundry and the weeds are growing very prolific, making it look like a jungle. A bridge is needed badly.

The county commissioners have been very busy this Tuesday listening to the objections of the property owners as to why their property valuations should not be raised. There were a good many kickers and it took the entire day to come to understandings with the property owners. Some of the valuations were reduced from what they had been set by the recent board of equalization. The Shoe Bar lands were reduced to $3.

The fine rains which have been falling for the past few days has made bumper crops an assurance. Reports come from every direction that there never were better prospects than at present. There is quite a good deal of land changing hands at present, but nothing to what it will be in the next few weeks when the people from afar begin to hear of the wonderful prospects we have here in Hall county.

BIG CELEBRATION PULLED OFF AT HEDLEY

Thriving Little City of Hedley Puts the Big Pot in the Little One and Feeds a Large Multitude of People on July 3rd.

Our sister city, Hedley, on Saturday, July 3rd, gave a big celebration which has been the talk of the whole country since. That city is always alive to their interests and they accordingly organized a Commercial Club which proceeded to get busy and send out all kinds of advertising matter announcing that they would have a big celebration on the third of July. This club was backed by the entire citizenship which made about as live a wire as has been stretched over that part of the Panhandle. The trains from both directions were loaded to the brim on the morning of the third with people from all the towns up and down the road bent on celebrating in Hedley.

A large pavilion had been arranged on the north of the city to accommodate the large crowd and under which the speaking took place. After the crowd had practically all gathered, J. B. Wood of Hedley was introduced and he delivered the welcome address. Then followed a nice program of songs and recitations very appropriately selected for the occasion. This was followed by an address from Judge O. Neal of Clarendon. After this dinner was announced.

There had been several beeves killed for this occasion and had been distributed out among the different homes and had been cooked to such a degree of perfection as to elicit many remarks of praise for the manner in which it had been prepared. In connection with this, the good people of Hedley had every other kind of meat, cakes, pies, pickles, and in fact, there was not anything left off the men that could be thought of by the committee in charge of this arrangement and to say they did their service well is only repeating what everybody said that was in attendance. There was plenty of grub left to feed the great multitude of people for supper and then there was a large amount left. In the afternoon there were several different amusements going on, among which was a ball game between Memphis and Hedley in which Memphis won by a score of 9 to 7. Of course the rubber ball, walking cane, popcorn and peanut man was very much in evidence that day and the old and young were both happy. It is estimated that there were in the neighborhood of 3,000 people in attendance. Hedley never has done things by halves and this is one time that they covered themselves with glory in the manner they entertained the large crowd. Hedley has a fine agricultural country surrounding her and she is steadily forging to the front and it will not be many years until it will rank with the best cities of the west. We give three cheers for Hedley and her enterprising citizenship and invite them to come and see us with us when we call on our big picnic at Hedley. Help us celebrate.

Location of New School Building.
For some time it has been a question in the minds of the people as to where the location of the new school building would be. The school board at a recent meeting has definitely decided to build it on the lots now owned by the district and on which the present frame buildings are located. This is a very wise selection considering the fact that the schools are growing so rapidly that it will not be but a few years until another school building will be an absolute necessity. Again if they had selected any other place in town for the new school building, the two blocks on which the present buildings stand would revert to the original owner, which would lose profit of $4.00 by this deal. It is glad this has been done and the necessary arrangements now be made for the erection of the new building.

Sewerage Bond Election Carried.
The sewerage bond election which was held this Tuesday was carried by a large majority. When the four boxes were counted up, the votes stood 83 for the issuance of the bonds and 39 against. There was not much interest manifested in this election as is shown by the small number of votes cast.

A deal was closed the early part of this week in which A. W. Read becomes a one-half owner in the Joe. J. Mickle Land Co. This is a fine combination of business men and will make a strong firm. One or the other of these gentlemen will be found in the office at all times and any one wishing any business with this popular firm will find them at their office in the Mickle building.

V. V. Davis of Newlin was in the city this Tuesday and while here made the Democrat office a pleasant call, ordering Memphis big mid-week paper sent to his address for one year. Mr. Davis also ordered the Democrat sent to H. C. Stephens at Mercedes, who wants to keep in touch with our fast developing country.

W. H. Speer on Monday bought the grain and feed business of J. B. Pierce and will continue the business in the same old place on the southeast corner of the square. Mr. Pierce will give up the grain business entirely and follow other pursuits.

The Joe J. Mickle place in the west part of Memphis and now owned by a Mrs. Powell at Clarendon, sold this Tuesday at sheriff's sale to satisfy a judgment issued out of the court. This property brought $1085 and was bought in by T. J. Rich. This property is well worth $25.00.

The fishing and hunting party composed of Messrs. Bert Trimble, Bert Thrasher, Max King, John Garrott and Wylie Stuart returned Friday from a week's outing up in the canyons. They said they threw away more fish than they ate, but that sounds "fishy" to us. They report a nice time.

Miss Biffie Adkisson left Monday night for a several months visit to friends at Waco and other points in McLennan county.

It is claimed that Noel can get spades and "big stick." The John H. Wyatt Land Co. have recently sold Charley Webster's property in block 12, to W. M. Welch, for $600. This property consists of three lots with a good 1/2 room house, and is just south of the T. R. Franks wagon yard. Its close proximity to the square will make it valuable property in the near future. Also, 2 lots in block 96, to A. N. Field, belonging to J. L. Hooker, consideration, $150. Mr. Fields will no doubt find this a good purchase, since the new brick school will be only about 4 blocks from his property.

The Only Safe Way.

"No, I can't stay any longer," he said, with determination.

"What difference does an hour or so make now?" asked a member of the party. "Your wife will be in bed and asleep, and if she wakes up she won't know what time it is."

"Quite right, quite right," he returned. "I can fool my wife almost any time as long as I get home before breakfast. Why, I've gone home when the sun was up, kept the blinds shut, lit the gas and made her think that it was a little after 12. But, gentlemen, I can't fool the baby. I can make the room as dark as I please, but it won't make the baby sleep a minute later than usual, and when she wakes up hungry it comes pretty close to being morning, and my wife knows it. Gentlemen," he added as he bowed himself out. "I make it a rule to get home before the baby wakes. It's the only safe way."

A Dog Story.

At a farmhouse at which we have been staying a terrier, Rough, shares always his master's first breakfast, the bread and cream accompanying a cup of tea. Three corners he breaks off and gives to Rough, who eats the first two. Off the third he licks the cream, then carries the crust to a hen who each morning comes across the field where the fowls are kept and at the gate awaits her friend's arrival. Should others of the hens appear, Rough "harks them off" while his favorite devours her portion. —London Spectator.

Mohammed and the Mountain

When Mohammed first announced his religion the Arabs demanded some supernatural proof of his commission. The prophet replied that it would be tempting God to ask for such proof, but upon their insisting he commanded Mount Safa to come to him, and when it stirred not at his bidding exclaimed, "God be merciful! Had it obeyed my words it would have fallen on us and destroyed us. I will therefore go to the mountain and thank God that he has had mercy on a stiff-necked generation." —New York American Works Both Ways.

"So you think it is an advantage to a man to go to congress for awhile?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "It gives the people in his own town a chance to think he is a great man in Washington and the people in Washington a chance to think he is a great man in his own town." —Washington Star.

Her Motto.

"I think it is high time," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "for the people of this country to take a firm stand against vivisection."

"So do I," replied her hostess. "No north, no south, is my motto." —Chicago Record-Herald.

escape them? Can we look back, as we walk on in life's journey, and see no shadowy marks about our foot-prints?

His "Consolation."

The following delicious communication was recently addressed by a grief-stricken German husband to the secretary of a life assurance company in Germany:

"Sir—Deeply afflicted, I take up my pen to inform you that my dear wife, Annie Marie, nee L., insured in your company for the sum of $750, has suddenly died, leaving me a victim to the deepest despair. The grievous blow fell on me this morning at 7. Kindly endeavor to let me have my insurance money as promptly as possible. The policy bears the number—, as you will find by reference to your books.

"I may say very seriously and in all sincerity that she was a faithful wife and an admirable mother. In order that all formalities may be settled with promptly, I enclose herewith a certificate officially recording her death.

Her illness was but a short one; nevertheless she suffered intensely, which naturally renders my grief all the more poignant. I have no doubt you will afford me partial consolation, by sending me the insurance money as soon as possible. In return I hereby formally promise you to have my second wife insured in your company for $1,500, double the sum for which my defunct darling was insured. My grief is immense; yet the conviction that you will afford me consolation sustains me during this terrible ordeal. In hope that we shall soon draw our insurance money, my children join me in," etc.—New York Telegraph.

LET US TAKE TIME.

Let us take time for the good-bye kiss. We shall go to the day's work with a sweeter spirit for it.

Let us take time for the evening prayer. Our sleep will be more restful if we have climed the guardianship of God.

Let us take time to speak sweet foolish words to those we love. By-and-by, when they can no longer hear us, our foolishness will seem more wise than our best wisdom.

Let us take time to read our Bible. Its treasures will last when we shall have ceased to care for the war of political parties, and rise and fall of stock, or the pretty happenings of the day.

Let us take time to be pleasant. The small courtesies, which we often omit because they are small, will some day look larger to us than the wealth which we covet, or the fame for which we struggled.

Let us take time to get acquainted with our families. The wealth you are accumulating, burdened father, may be a doubtful blessing to the son who is a stranger to you.

Let us take time to be pleasant. The small courtesies, which we often omit because they are small, will some day look larger to us than the wealth which we covet, or the fame for which we struggled.

THE SHADOWS WE CAST

In this great world of sunshine and shadows, we are constantly casting shadows on those around us, and receiving shadows from them in return. There is no pathway of life which is not sometimes in the shade, and there is no one who walks over these paths, it matters not which way they tend, who does not, now and then, cast his shadow with the rest. How often do we, by a mere thoughtless word or careless act, cast a shadow on some heart which is longing for sunshine? How often does the husband, by a cold greeting, cast a gloom over the happy, trusting face of his wife, who, it may be, has waited anxiously for the sound of his foot steps to give him a joyous welcome to his home. How often has the parent, by a harsh reproof, chilled the overflowing spring of confidence and love which is bubbling up from the heart of the innocent prattler at his knee? How often are the bright rays of hope torn from the clinging grasp of the souls of those worn out by poverty and the never-ending conflict of life, by the stinging ridicule or the sordid advice of those whom the world honors—aye, love to honor? How often does the child—even after it has grown to the full bloom of manhood, and is clad in the garments of strength and beauty—bring sorrow to the parent already tottering on the brink of eternity? Then beware, lest you cast a deeper shadow over those already ready darkening in happiness! The shadows we cast can we

We came out into the mountains of East Tennessee by day light and I looked out to see unnumbered and untamed hills and mountains. No valleys to count—just one hill tied to another hill with a shoe-string sort of valley.

This day the (19th) is one of sight-seeing to me. All the way we are compassed about with hills and timber. These hill sides and narrow valleys are dotted with small cabins and houses—hundreds of them. Most, but every little house or hill means the home of some little family. Here is a little old log house, it stands on the hill-side—has stood here for 25 years—may be 75; the chimney is of the old stick-and-mud style. The lower part is 4 feet from the ground, but the back part is on the ground, because the hill is so slanting. There are children playing around, and an old looking man with a jaded step is coming in from the field walking slowly, leading a mule. This is his home, and these are his children. I guess his wife has dinner ready, for it is time and smoke is boiling out of a place where I supposed a stove pipe stops. Well, a wife and children make home for a wearied, worn-out man.

—or rather in—a good meal. The bill for one supper was 65 cents. It would have been more but there are four of us and we take different dishes to economize and divide around. We notice that most traveling groups do this. Good scheme. Then to bed and another upper berth and good night's sleep. But early I am reminded that sometimes people get sick. It was a reel, a toss and stop and start all night and this may make a fellow sick. Little sick—headache—little lonely, but I will brace up! I am not seasick. I will wait for the sea to bring that on. Not home sick, either—I will wait for a few days to get home sick. Well, I would give $5.00 to kiss my wife through a window pane and wave a good by to the children, but not homesick yet—may be later.

As so many have written of this trip over the Chesapeake county, the Cumberlands, etc., I will not do so. The principal marvel so far is the evergrowing appetite of Hubert Knickerbocker. No wonder he has such a wide expanse of cheek, spread of mouth and cavernous opening in his face. He has to have to feed that appetite.

We will soon get to Washington and see some things to tell you. Good-bye for a week.

J. W. Bailey Sells Texas Farm.

Gainesville, Tex., June 30.—One of the most important real estate deals made in Cooke County for some time was closed today, when Senator Bailey sold to H. E. Allen of Richmond, Ky., the last of his Cooke County land, consisting of 370 acres, for $25,000.

The land touches the city limits on the north and has been used by Mr. Bailey as a stock farm, for which purpose Mr. Allen expects to use it, stocking it with Kentucky thoroughbreds. This makes the third farm Senator Bailey has disposed of near the city in the past two years, and the sale of his last farm was made, it is said, because he could not give it enough attention.

The sale was made through the real estate firm of J. F. Morris of this city.

Killed by Lightning.

Decatur, Tex., June 30.—John Maness, 19 years of age, a resident of the Flatwoods community, about eight miles south of Decatur, was struck and instantly killed by lightning yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock while a shower was prevailing in that region. At the time of the accident he was crawling through a barbed wire fence and it is said the bolt struck the fence and traveled on the wires through his body. He was accompanied by a friend named Brewer, who was uninjured.

John Maness was the son of William Maness, well known in the community.

Engineer Needham Scalded.

Last Friday morning about 6:30 an Engineer Needham was turning on the steam preparatory to making a big run at the ice plant, the exhaust box bursted throwing hot steam on Mr. Needham and scalding him very badly. His arms and legs were very badly scalded which will put Mr. Needham out of work for several days. At this writing he is resting as well as could be expected and we trust will be up and about in a few days. Mr. Pressley, the night engineer, was standing close by at the time of the accident and turned the steam off and rendered Mr. Needham his assistance in getting out of the steam.

The necessary repairs were made at once and the ice machine was running again by six o'clock Friday evening.

While regulating an electric fan at Randal Drug Store last week Rufus Randle had the misfortune of getting the end of his thumb pretty badly mashed. This caused Rufus to drop the fan on the jewelry show case of V. R. Jones completely smashing it. This was a pretty expensive break, but it will be repaired at once.

ALL THE WAY ROUND.

An Odd Sort of Dinner and the Reason of It.

Lord Polkemeel, a Scottish lord of session, usually retired to his country residence during the part of the year when the court does no business. John Hagart, the Scottish advocate, equally idle from a similar cause, went to shoot, and, happening to pass Lord P.'s property, he met his lordship, who politely invited John to take, or, as he said, to tak', a family dinner with himself, his wife and daughter.

John accepted the invitation, and they all assembled at the hour of dinner. There was a joint of roasted veal at the head of the table and stewed veal at the bottom, veal soup in the middle, calf's head on one side of the soup and veal cutlets on the other, calf's foot jelly between the soup and roast veal and calf's brains between the stewed veal and the soup. "Noo," said his lordship in his own blunt way, "Mr. Hagart, you may very likely think this an odd sort of dinner, but ye'll no wonder when you hear the cause of it. We keep nae company, Mr. Hagart, and my daughter here caters for our table. The way we do is just this: We kill a beast, as it were, today, and we just begin to cook it at one side of the head, travel down that side, turn the tail and just gang back again by the other side to where we began."

The Year Without a Summer.

The year '816 has a remarkable cold weather record and is known as "the year without a summer." In that year there was a sharp frost in every month, and the people all over the world began to believe that some great and definite change in the earth was taking place. The farmers used to refer to it as "eighteen hundred and starve to death." Frost, ice and snow were common in June. Almost evergreen thing was killed, and the fruit was nearly all destroyed. During the month snow fell to the depth of three inches in New York and Massachusetts and ten inches in Maine. There were frost and ice in July in New York, New England and Pennsylvania, and corn was nearly all destroyed in certain sections. Ice half an inch thick formed in August. A cold north wind prevailed all summer.

The Fare.

This is how a driver of the prison van, known as Black Maria, distinguished himself. A would be wit on the causeway hailed him:

"Got any room inside, Robert?"
"There's room for one," replied the driver. "We kep' it for you."
Not entirely disconcerted the wit made another shot.

"What's your fare?" he asked.
The answer entirely extinguished him.

"Bread and water—same as you had before"—Pearson's Weekly.

The Great Circus.

The famous Coliseum in old Rome, massive as it was, was a mere toy in comparison with the great circus, which filled the valley between the Palatine and the Aventine hills. The Coliseum is said to have been able to seat 80,000 people, while the seating capacity of the great circus was, at different periods, 150,000, 250,000 and, lastly, 380,000 spectators. The great circus was probably the most stupendous building ever erected for public spectacles.—New York American.

Married Wednesday Evening.

Wednesday evening a wedding that came as a suprise to their many friends was solemnized at the residence of Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson, when Miss Lillie Shepherd was married to Mr. Saunders. After the ceremony the bride and groom returned to the Shepherd boarding house where they will be at home to their many friends.

Miss Lillie Shepherd has lived in Clarendon for several years, coming here from Greenville. We were schoolmates in Greenville and have known her since her childhood. She is indeed a splendid young lady, charming and will be a splendid homemaker for the man who has chosen her for a life companion. We congratulate him on his good fortune.

Mr. Saunders is a member of the Caraway-Saunders Restaurant firm, and although he has been in that business a comparatively short time he is proving his ability both as a business man and a desirable citizen.—Clarendon Banner Stockman.

Instructive Entertainment.

An illustrated lecture was the evenings entertainment at the Baptist church Sunday night. Rev. Clark, a young graduate from the seminary at Louisville, Ky., gave a lecture on the Missionary Judson on his work while in India. The lecture was illustrated by moving pictures which was interesting and instructive. Rev. Clark has been appointed as mission to Old Mexico and he is going around giving these illustrated lectures while waiting to see what part of Old Mexico he will be assigned.

BLACK SPECTER WORRIES SOUTH

President Will Be Urged to Stop Appointment of Negro Census Enumerators.

Washington, July 4. — Concerned about what they suppose to be a possibility that negroes may be sent into the homes of the white residents of the South as enumerators to gather information for the thirteenth decennial census, Democratic members of congress will urge President Taft to give instructions that only white enumerators shall be employed in districts south of the Mason and Dixon line. Representatives of the southern states in congress say they have little hope of preventing the employment of negroes unless the President interferes.

Representatives point to the experience of the Virginia delegation in seeking a portion of the census patronage and this has disturbed the southerners. Senator Martin and Representative Hay of Virginia, it is said, were informed by Director Durand that the recommendations of the referees in the southern states would govern wherever possible in the appointments. The supervisors will select enumerators and it is desired by southern congressmen that they shall be instructed not to employ negroes except for sections where none but negroes reside.

As passed by the house, the census bill provides that the enumerators should be appointed by the President. The usual requirements that the appointments should be contingent upon the advice and consent of the senate was absent. An amendment was adopted supplying the deficiency. When the bill was considered in conference the President is reported to have told some members if the senate provision was eliminated he would see to it himself that a satisfactory class of enumerators would be employed. Senator Tallaferro then called at the White House, and he says he understood the President as giving him the same assurances. The Florida senator then voted in conference to strike out the provisions requiring that the appointment be confirmed by the senate. Democrats assert it was their understanding that the census enumerators in the southern states should be appointed among the Republican and Democratic parties. They said it is not the loss of this patronage that disturbs them, but the fear that the Republican referees will pay political debts through the appointment of negroes. Thus far in the Republican patronage in the southern states has been white. It is asserted also that some of these appointees are largely under obligations to the negro leaders for the prominent positions they hold in Republican councils.

All of these conditions tend to produce concern in the South. The fact that admission to the home cannot be denied to enumerators, white or black, who hold government commissions to gather statistics serves to aggravate the situation. It is for this reason that the minority has decided to appeal to the President.

FATAL BLOW WITH BILLIARD CUE

George Short Expected to Die As Result of Tragedy in a Pool Hall.

George Short is in St. Vincent's sanitarium suffering from wounds that the attendant surgeons state will doubtless prove fatal, and Luther Hughes, nephew of Sheriff J. E. Hughes, has been placed under bond, charged with having committed an assault.

The injuries are alleged to have been inflicted upon Short late yesterday afternoon in an up-town pool hall, from which point he was taken to the offices of nearby surgeons and received temporary treatment. The back and right side of the skull was crushed, necessitating removal of a portion of the bone measuring almost four inches square. From the wound the brain oozed, but despite this fact the injured man retained consciousness, and is said to have been entirely rational until about noon today, when he began to show signs of weakness mentally.

Attendant surgeons state that Mr. Short stands but the remotest chance of recovery, and that he is liable to die within a brief time, or may linger for several days.

Short made a statement to the officers this forenoon, which is said to have been reduced to writing.

Short has a brother living about eight miles northeast of Hereford, who has been wired concerning the trouble here. Messages have also been sent to the father of the wounded man, E. H. Short, at Elkton, Ky. Short has been in Amarillo but a brief time, and is known to but few men. It is alleged that he stated to the officers that he had engaged in no conversation with the man who struck him, and did not even know the man by name.

Another Arrest.

Charles Martin was arrested this noon and placed in the jail charged with complicity in the assault upon Short. Lucien Hughes, twin brother of Luther Hughes, will be held as a witness in the case.

It develops that Short was one of the chief witnesses in the charges of bootlegging lodge against seven men whose preliminary trial was to have been held this afternoon, under the "felony" statute in connection with local option violations. The preliminary hearings were deferred until some day next week. —Panhandle.
