Wichita Writer Is Believer In Young People of Memphis

Many Memphians perhaps don't appreciate the youth of their town. John C. Kay, columnist for The Wichita Daily Times, visited Memphis last week, and the appearance of some of our young people prompted him to write the following in his column, "Southwest Sandwiches."

Young People

I am one who does not believe for a moment that the young people now days are worse than those of other generations. On the contrary, I think that they are much better, taken as a whole.

This week I was up at Memphis, Texas. While sitting around the hotel where I stopped, they were giving a banquet for the group of boys known as Future Farmers of America, or F. F. A. This was a big affair and a great many boys came in to take part. Without exception, they were a fine bunch of clean looking and highly intelligent boys. They all had their hair neatly trimmed, and their shoes shined and were nicely dressed. For their ages they were, on the average, quite tall. The boys and girls of this age are generally speaking taller than their parents, and I think better looking. Of course, their large numbers, and you could see that they were proud of these boys, as well they might be.

How different they looked to the group of fussy, bushy headed boys with whom I grew up. We are none of us hardly conscious of the improvement in the race that has been and is going on. Right here in Wichita Falls we have as fine a set of young people as we could wish for. How proud we should be of them, and how anxious we should be to further their well being. I am all for the young people, since I am fully persuaded that this generation and coming generations with better minds and better bodies will build a new heaven and a new earth in which to live. God Bless them!

TO WOMEN

If you suffer every month you owe it to yourself to take note of Cardui and find out whether it will benefit you.

Functional pains of menstruation have, in many, many cases been eased by Cardui. And where malnutrition (poor nourishment) had taken away woman's strength, Cardui has been found to increase the appetite, improve digestion and in that way help to build up a natural resistance to certain useless suffering. Try to have the two cars slightly "staggered" not exactly in line with each other. This helps if bumpers lock, especially when the car with its bumper below can reach a drain or similar depression. Another way is for the car with its bumper on top to get up on a curb or "hump". All of that is "just in case."

Now ask the poor fellow who wants your car to get into HIGH. Tell him to keep his car pedal down, letting it come back gradually only after you get his car under way.

Do your pushing with your LOW gear. The easiest on your car... for half a block. Then if other fellow's car hasn't started, have him shift into neutral and push him up to a nearby Mileage Merchant for Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze like yours. Plant Exchange

Now that we have sufficient moisture to revive our interest in growing plants it is probably well to make a last call in behalf of roses and shrubs. Be sure the holes are dug amply large so that roots may follow their natural trend and not have to be bent or crowded, work soil in around roots to exclude air, tamp firmly and soak with water. Plants should be set so that they are only an inch or so deeper in the soil than they had grown before dug.

As soon as soil can be worked gladiola bulbs may be planted. A succession of blooms may be had if groups of them are planted every two weeks from now until in April. Some varieties of course come into bloom earlier than others. They should be four to six inches deep in moderately rich soil, about nine inches apart, and where at least a fair amount of sunshine may be had. Better results may be expected if they are planted where soil may be kept worked. They to year and multiply if stems are allowed to mature. They are exceptionally easy to grow and certainly give you much for your money.

If you have a wisteria vine that will cut the roots within one and one-half or two feet of the plant it will bloom more freely.

Miss Beulah Black returned Tuesday from an extended visit with relatives in Rush Springs and Comanche, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Webb of Comanche accompanied her home and spent the night as the guests of Mrs. Webb's aunt, Mrs. S. W. Black, returning home Wednesday.

'MEMBER how crude the old family bus of a decade or so ago seems today? Cost three or four times as much to operate as the present efficient machine. Well, the same is true of electric refrigerators. They blazed the trail, bringing the greatest domestic improvement of all time into every other West Texas home by 1937. So now, in 1938, there is no comparison with those pioneer models. Electric refrigeration of today gives absolute food protection with temperatures around 40 to 45 degrees—the only safe temperature. No other form of mechanical refrigeration can offer this guarantee at any price. But Electric Refrigeration gives that guarantee at a cost which drops to less than 3 cents a day.

"Honesty and hard work, are two things that young men should always remember in seeking success at anything," Mr. Montgomery said.

"A rule that I have always tried to practice in business, is to be courteous and consider the rights of my fellowman."

As the interview continued, this question was asked, "Do you think that people of today know what real happiness is?"

"I think that a young man should know what his objective in life is, and prepare to meet that objective," he asserted.

Establishing the fact that there is no place like home, Mr. Montgomery said, "I have spent 50 years of my life here, and I would not leave if I had the opportunity. I like Memphis very much for a home."

Fields Celebrates 8th Birthday With 'New' Modern Store

Installed Air-Conditioning Vegetable Rack; Completely Remodeled Entire Store

Fields Grocery and Market celebrates its eighth anniversary of business in Memphis this week-end, according to owner Leo Fields, with the installation of new fixtures and complete reconditioning of the store.

Recently the local store installed what is said to be the most modern equipment on the market in the way of vegetable racks. It is operated on the air-conditioning system and is the only one of its kind in Memphis.

Fixtures and stock have been completely rearranged and even the sign on the window has been changed, the owner points out. New fixtures have been added and many minor improvements made.

Much of the growth of the firm's business in recent months is accounted to the fact that increased use of Democrat advertising has been employed, Fields believes.

Bert Brewer of Childress, district manager of the West Texas Utilities Co., spent Saturday in Memphis on business.

Mrs. Glenn Thompson and Beauty Salon left Sunday for Dallas to attend the annual convention of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists in session there from Monday through Wednesday.

Texas Is Fifth In Population Among States

DALLAS, Feb. 22.—Census figures showing Texas retaining its hold on fifth rank in population among the states against the challenge of California...

Since upward population trends are universally regarded as bases for expanding markets, establishing new or branch industrial plants and concentrating sales and advertising activity...

However, the contrast with Texas' own progress in other decades shown by the gain of only 347,385 for the seven years since 1930 indicates a disquieting downturn that should be reversed if the state is to maintain its reputation for solid growth...

Opportunity for Texas to resume her earlier pace, to forestall the probable loss of fifth place to California in the 1940 reckonings and at the same time get the surge of new industries her natural advantages warrant, largely depends on "official state attitude" and state advertising, the reports say.

Recognizing the spectacular gains in new industries being registered by other southern states which have gone on record with assurances of fair treatment to investment, it notes that experts analyzing potential areas in making decentralization plans are scrutinizing state policies of taxation more thoroughly than ever before.

Statewide sentiment for an advertising program as corollary to the foregoing "reform" also has increased with study of California's gains. San Antonio, which recently voted to inaugurate a national advertising campaign for itself, is strong for the state's doing the same.

actual or normal production of the allotted acres will be subject to the 2-cent penalty. The penalty does not apply to cotton on farms where the total production is less than the 1,000 lint pounds.

Furthermore, if a farmer overplants he will lose his 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program payment to which he might be entitled on his 1937 cotton, and will be eligible for a cotton loan on only that part of his cotton produced in excess of his quota and at a rate 40 per cent lower than the loan rate provided for cooperators.

For cooperators, cotton loans are authorized at a rate to be fixed by the Secretary of Agriculture between 52 and 75 per cent of parity. The parity price of cotton at present is approximately 16 cents.

The provisions of the Act do not apply to long staple cotton, 1-1/2 inches or longer.

The Act extends the maturity date of the 1937 cotton loans from July 1, 1938, to July 1, 1939.

Washington Greater in Character Than in Ability, Historians Say

By MARVIN MONTGOMERY

It seems that the pages of time are being turned so hurriedly, that people have developed a tendency to forget those persons responsible for the freedom and comfort now enjoyed, while living under an established government.

Let me pass entirely from our memory, pause with me for a moment in thinking again of George Washington, the servant of our forefathers, and the first president of the United States.

George Washington was born at Bridges' Creek, Virginia, February 22, 1732, and died at Mt. Vernon in 1799, after having lived a life of service for his country.

George's father died when George was only 12 years of age, leaving him to think for himself and study out his own problems. In the problems that faced George as a youth, he learned to use his quick thinking powers which later made him a hero of the Revolutionary War.

As a lad, young Washington was very strong and energetic. He was known as the swiftest runner, the best wrestler, and the surest shot in the whole region where he lived. At 14, George wanted to leave his home and follow the thrilling life of a seaman, but his mother finally dissuaded him, and he remained home two years longer.

When George was 16, he went to live with his half brother, Lawrence, who was very fond of him. At his brother's plantation, George met Thomas Fairfax, who immediately took great liking to his manly, straight-forward ways.

After being a surveyor for two years, Washington emerged from this period of his life a strong, muscular, young man, six feet and two inches in height. His open manly face, and square massive jaw gave him the general expression of restrained energy and power. Lawrence Washington then died leaving his large plantation to be cared for by his youngest half brother, who was then only 20 years of age.

Washington was summoned to aid in the Revolutionary War, after having been chosen by unanimous vote as commander of the Continental Forces.

Washington retired to his home at Mt. Vernon, and while riding over his plantation, took a severe cold, which proved fatal to him. He died December 12, 1799, and was buried at Mt. Vernon.

Historians say that they key to Washington's success, was not so much his ability, but his undisputable character. He was honest in his purpose and faithful in service.

der whose orders I have so long acted, I here offer my commission, and take leave of all employment in public life."

However, in drawing up the new government, all eyes turned to Washington for help, and he could not refuse his services. After his untiring efforts had been of much help in making plans for the new government, Washington was unanimously elected President. He served two terms in this office, and refused the third.

The useless tumbleweed, the Russian Thistles sometimes common name, is being utilized for various necessitous purposes, showing how the mother of invention works out our destinies.

As for instance it has been found that the tumbleweed makes an excellent paper when manufactured under certain conditions; also someone has found out that two or three of these weeds wired together ingeniously, and sprayed with silver and white paint, make a very satisfactory Christmas tree.

There may come a day when the tumble weed's aimless wanderings, its life of leisure, will be over.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

WARS AND RUMORS OF WARS

ADOLPH HITLER, powerful German dictator, delivered a three-hour speech in Berlin Sunday. The result was like that of an earthquake that had rocked the entire world.

Hitler made it perfectly clear that Germany will ignore Great Britain and France, as well as other Western powers, in carrying out the Nazi policy of regaining German colonies lost under the terms of the World War Treaty. Germany is strengthening its army under a new policy to defend the political freedom of 10,000,000 Germans living in Austria, and Czechoslovakia.

Scholars of history and dictatorial reign would have us believe that war is inevitable, and only time can prove or disprove their accuracy. But, until that time American people may find hope in the biblical promise, "there shall be wars and RUMORS of wars."

THE WEATHER AND THE GRASSHOPPER

HOLD YOUR HATS, Mr. and Mrs. Citizens of Hall County, this area is headed for another big crop yield, if present prospects continue.

The biggest February snows of more than five years are serving two-fold purposes. First, the unmeasurable value of moisture; second, the cold wave, preceded by unusually warm weather, is doing much toward cutting down on expected grasshopper plague this spring, if pioneer cotton producers of this area can be taken for authority.

Millions of tiny grasshoppers, hatched out during the warm period early this month and eggs nearing the hatching stage have been killed by the freezing weather which accompanied the snows, is the opinion of many Hall County farmers.

The Chicago weather prophet, who predicted the present precipitation over the dust bowl, says Texas will enjoy additional rains during March, July and September. If present conditions and forecasts for the next few months hold true to their expected form then this area may again enjoy abundant crop yields.

COMMENTS FROM DEMOCRAT EDITORIAL

LAST WEEK The Democrat pointed out in an editorial that Mrs. Roosevelt might pass through Memphis on her way from Wichita Falls to Amarillo, next month, and should be honored in some unusual way. Much comment has resulted from chamber of commerce officials, school men and club women of the city who are interested in The Democrat's suggestion to pay honor to the First Lady.

Plans are under way to contact political leaders of Texas and ask their influence to have Mrs. Roosevelt honor this city with a short visit. The president's wife will speak at Wichita Falls on the evening of March 7th and likely spend the night in that city. On March 8th she will likely motor to Amarillo where she will be honored on Mother-in-Law Day the following day.

This newspaper believes that such an arrangement can and should be made. And, to make the occasion a memorable one for the esteemed visitor a unique reception with the motif of cotton, which typifies this area, should be held. This should not be an occasion to have Mrs. Roosevelt honor Memphis with a speech . . . but an opportunity to pay honor to the First Lady.

CHAMBER CHATS

By CARROLL SMYERS

Can you imagine a business man who does not establish some kind of objectives to work toward? Can you imagine a business man who does not have some kind of plan on which to operate his business? Can you imagine a farmer who does not plan in advance the number of acres he is going to plant in cotton, in row crop, in wheat, in oats, and the amount of culture he is going to give to each crop, looking forward to the time of harvest? Can you imagine the person who would consider the building of a house without first making definite plans for the structure of that house? Of course you cannot, for such business as this would be foolish and rambling. Yes, I have told you before that the development of this community is in the hands of this chamber of commerce, that is the active, interested people of this community. It is more foolish to run a community without definite objectives for it, than it is to do any of the things that I have already mentioned to you.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce has a definite program of work in the making. This program must be adopted and approved by the entire community.

The value of a chamber of commerce is based upon what it aims to do, and what it in fact accomplishes for community betterment. Having a definite program of what it aims to do and a plan for accomplishing what it aims to do, converts a large part of the chamber's potential value into actual real value. A chamber of commerce is primarily a project organization. You're exactly right, the statement of these projects constitutes a "program of work."

The program of work should embody the hope and purpose of the best thought of the community. It should be short. No, I don't mean short in time, but short in the number of projects that it undertakes. The program should not be too big in proportion to the organization's resources for investigation and effective result-getting action.

A successful chamber of commerce should never generalize and let it go at that. Why? Because the leaders are always in a position to answer the perfectly reasonable question as to just what they propose doing for the community. The members of the organization are entitled to know and the practical businessman whose membership is solicited wants to know, and is entitled to know just what it proposes to accomplish.

The projects which this chamber of commerce undertakes must be reasonable and practical in order to secure united community effort. A community cannot be reformed or remade in a year or even two or three years. In fact a community is never completed. There is always something to do. We should never let the traces slacken, when one job is finished there should be another to take its place. There should always be a definite program of work for definite accomplishments.

Farm Friends

About People and Things . . . Here 'n' There

Although the cold weather and snow proved a very uncomfortable condition among farmers and ranchers of this vicinity, it is also the belief of many that it will be very beneficial in more than one way. Besides the good amount of moisture received, County Agent R. E. L. Pattillo believes that perhaps some of the grasshoppers were killed during the cold weather and snow. Pattillo does not believe, however, that there have been enough of the hoppers destroyed to lower the estimated percentage of crops to be damaged by the insect. According to insect authorities, 16 per cent of the crops in Hall County are likely to be damaged by the hoppers this year. Pattillo warns farmers to be on the continual lookout for the grasshoppers, because there are plenty of them left to do considerable damage if they are not properly handled at the right time, he said.

John L. White, a landowner who has lived three miles north of Plaska since 1924, made 43 bales of cotton on 71 acres, and also made plenty of feed to do him. Although White has not terraced his land, he believes it to be a very profitable procedure where the land needs terracing. He claims that because his land is very sandy, water soaks into the ground before it washes across the land, except during an extraordinary hard rain. Whether the year is wet or dry, White believes it to be profitable to plant every third row of his feed in peas. "I do not intend to list before April," White said, "because my land is more likely to blow if I list it early. I enjoy raising coles, and in watching them develop into strong animals that can later be utilized into farming power. I believe that the outlook for farmers is better this year and that farm hazards will not be as many."

"My land is terraced, and I would not do without terracing again," said J. B. Smith, who has lived in Hall County 32 years. Smith made 20 bales of cotton last year, and plenty of feed to supply his needs this year. "I believe that the snow might have killed some of the grasshoppers, and at least, it has been very beneficial to farmers of this vicinity," he said. "I fully endorse strip cropping, and, aside from farming, raise some stock each year. I like farming because it offers a free life, and a person can be his own boss. As farm hazards have diminished farming will likely prove more profitable this year," he concluded.

Listed under the ranchers of Hall County by the Hereford edition of the Amarillo News, are the following: F. E. Leary, Wade Davis, W. J. Lewis, W. P. Dial, D. H. Davenport, G. W. Sexauer, B. F. Cope, and Arthur Howard.

Oblivion Expensive

What is the greatest power in the world? Public opinion.

What creates public opinion? Advertising.

Is it not time that business men woke up and realized that advertising is not an expense, but the cheapest and quickest way to success?

It is not advertising that is costly. It is oblivion.—Forbes Magazine via The Clarendon News.

Culled From The Democrat Exchanges

Thanks and again thanks for the splendid response to my suggestion that Wellington have a genuine clean-up campaign this spring. Not a single soul mentioned it.—Deskins Wells in The Wellington Leader.

Monument

Not only Texas, but the entire Southwest, feel a great pride that "the little brown wren" who for so long worked for better homes and better conditions is being honored by a great college soon.

Phoebe K. Warner, whose life was one of loving service, lived quietly at Claude but her influence and inspirations have been felt all over the Southwest. What a fitting monument is the beautiful "Home Management" house on the campus of the West Texas State College at Canyon. It is to house the senior girls majoring in Home Management. The dedication of the new building with fitting ceremonies will be on March 4 at 3 p. m. It is a monument which Mrs. Warner would approve, for it is useful. It is to be of real and lasting service and it keeps her work marching forward.—The Tipton (Okla.) Tribune.

Oral Speedometer

M. E. Lawrence, who, like a lot of the rest of us, is interested in traffic safety, brought in the following:

A recent invention is the oral speedometer which operates with a phonographic attachment.

A 25 miles per hour it remarks: "The city speed limit has been passed."

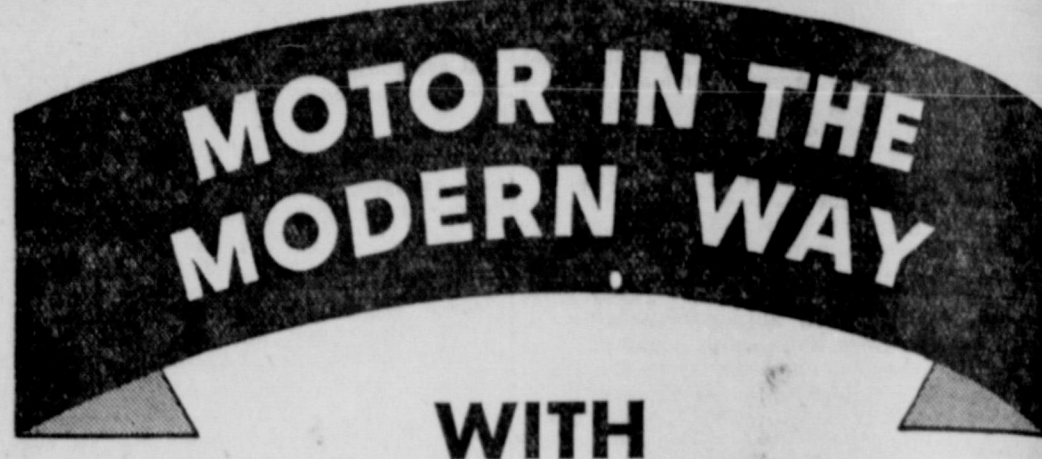

At 35 miles: "Too fast for city driving; we hope you are now in the country."

At 45 miles: "Your car is still under control, but watch the car behind and you."

At 50 miles: "Bility is on the eyes on the road."
At 60 miles: "ance pressure."
At 70 miles: "attachment."
At 80 miles: "one will have."
If so, we shall place this on monuments, in well along Plaines."

TIRES WITH GUM-DIPPED CORDS

Higher quality raw materials... More efficient manufacturing... Lower distributing cost... all these are combined to give you extra value in Firestone tires, at no extra cost. Hundreds of thousands of car owners buy Firestones for this extra value.

High quality raw materials from Firestone's own rubber plantation in Liberia and Firestone's patented Gum-Dipping process give tire purchasers more for their money.

Firestone's exclusive manufacturing process affords added protection against blowouts, because every fibre of every cord in every ply is saturated and coated with pure, liquid rubber which counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life. Scientifically designed treads give greater non-skid protection and longer wear.

Only Firestone can offer you this safety feature at any cost.

Loses 9th Mate, She'll Quit Now

Three days after wedding bells pealed for her ninth marriage, Mrs. Virginia Cogswell, 30-year-old former Georgia beauty queen pictured above, discovered that Husband No. 9 had married her under an assumed name, that he was already married and the father of three children. The "marrying death" said she was through with husbands forever, and would settle down to writing a book on "life and love."

Cooling Systems of Today Far Ahead of Ancient Egyptians

Modern electric refrigeration is a far cry from the first recorded cooling system, tried out by the ancient Greeks and Egyptians before the birth of Christ.

According to Mack Wilson, local manager for the West Texas Utilities Company, the first refrigeration was accomplished by filling shallow earthen dishes with water and covering them with sugar cane. This crude apparatus was then placed on a roof, where, exposed to the air currents or fanned by slaves, some of the water was evaporated during the night and with it went some of the heat. Loss of the heat left the remaining water considerably cooler. The chilled water was then placed around bottles of wine to cool them. Clever, eh?

In the 16th century, a Venetian, Sanct Sanctorius, concocted a mixture of one-third salt and two-thirds snow by which he produced a temperature cold enough to freeze water.

"The old-fashioned ice box went a long way toward making people more conscious of the need for food preservation," Wilson opines. "It performed a real service in the past."

In 1880 a Chicago packing plant installed the first mechanical refrigeration equipment used by that industry, revolutionizing the whole system of feeding the people of this nation.

Electric refrigeration for the household followed. "Do you remember how crude the old family bus of a decade or so ago looks today?" Wilson asks. "It cost three or four times as much to operate the old models as it does the streamlined machine nowadays. Well, the same is true of the old model refrigerators. But the new electric ones! Shucks, man! They give the womenfolk year-round temperatures of 40 or 50 degrees for what it costs to smoke 10 cigarettes a day!"

Mrs. E. W. Gillenwater was called to Stratford Saturday on account of the serious illness of her father, Mr. Gillenwater took her to Stratford returning Tuesday.

LOOK!

Subscribers are asked to look at the expiration date opposite the address at the left hand corner of the front page. If the date ends with '37, this is probably the last paper that will be sent until a renewal is received, or until it is indicated the reader wants it continued and will pay at some near time. The publishers do not wish to discontinue any subscription, but are forced to do so because of the increased cost of paper, materials and work. You are cordially invited to renew.

Cuts Third Set of Teeth at 84

When most people get their third set of teeth, the teeth are false. But 84-year-old Fred G. Bachman, above, retired stone mason of Pueblo, Colo., admires in a mirror the first arrivals of his third set of natural teeth.

Another provision, to be used in connection with marketing quotas, requires the release of storage supplies of corn to meet any shortage that arises either on the farm or in the county, or in any time of National need. All quota provisions are subject to termination in time of National emergency, and must be adjusted or suspended to meet increases in exports or shortage in domestic supplies.

A third provision calls for crop insurance for wheat, another general protective measure for both producer and consumer. Beginning with the crop harvested in 1939, such insurance is to be made available to wheat growers. Losses of yields, not of prices, are to be insured against. The insurance will cover either 50 or 75 per cent of average yields, and the premiums will vary with the coverage and with the wheat loss-experience of the farm and county. Premium reserves must be held by the insurance corporation in the form of wheat, which will serve both as insurance protection to the grower and as a reserve wheat supply for the consumer.

CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH
A card from Rev. Orion W. Carter who is holding a revival at Friona states that he will preach at the Methodist Church here Sunday morning, and Rev. W. R. Hicks of Wellington will preach at the Sunday night service.

BAPTIST CHURCH
Sunday morning the pastor will bring a message on the subject, "Consecrations of the Bible," using the 24th Psalm as the scriptural background. For the message Sunday evening, "Part-Time Saints" will be used with Luke 9:57-62 as the scripture. Both of the messages for the day will be with the idea of getting ready for our coming meeting. We are hoping that all will be much in prayer for a great campaign for the enlistment of God's people and the salvation of the lost.

If you are not a member of a Sunday School or B. T. U. organization anywhere, we give you a most cordial invitation to become one of us. Everyone should study the Bible more and train for better service in God's kingdom. We shall look for you Sunday. Please find your place with us.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
W. M. Davis, Minister

We are anxious for all of the members of our congregation to keep in mind that our protracted meeting will begin the first Sunday in March. The only way for a revival to succeed is for the membership to cooperate heartily. C. L. Taylor of Lakeview will do the preaching in this meeting.

It is important for all our members to be present for the service next Sunday morning. The officers of the church will present a matter that concerns every member. At both the morning and the evening service the minister will bring messages along the line of the Christian's responsibility to God and the church.

The Bible school will assemble at 9:45 a. m. The young people's meeting at 7 p. m. will be devoted to song practice. The women's Bible class meets every Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. The prayer meeting will be Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

T. W. Luttrell For Commissioner Precinct No. 2

T. W. Luttrell authorizes The Democrat to announce his candidacy for the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Mr. Luttrell needs no introduction to the voters of precinct 2, since he has lived and farmed near Lakeview since 1918. In making his announcement Mr. Luttrell stated that he is asking for the office on his merits, believing he can attend to the duties of commissioner in a businesslike manner, if elected, and that he desires the voters to investigate him and his qualifications before casting their ballots next July. "If elected, I promise to give the office my best efforts and attention," he said.

Voters are asked to give Mr. Luttrell's candidacy due consideration.

ATTEND FUNERAL OF SISTER AT TULSA ON TUESDAY

Mr and Mrs. Frank Bayouth went to Tulsa, Okla. Sunday to attend the funeral of their sister, Marie Bayouth, who died in Jacksonville, Fla., Wednesday, February 16.

The body was shipped to Tulsa for burial and where funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon of this week.

BRICE

The fine snow and rain this week left a good season in the ground.

Patsy Ruth Holland is back in school after three weeks of illness and convalescence.

Walter Gibson left Tuesday for Amarillo, where he has a job.

Miss Virginia Lemons, student in the Lakeview High School, has been sick for several days, but is better.

Brice has a gifted artist in E. H. Murff. His latest portrait is one of Mrs. Myrtle Stanley of Dalhart. He painted the portrait from a small photograph, and it is said to be very beautiful and a very good likeness of Mrs. Stanley.

Mrs. Stanley was a nominee for Texas Sweetheart from Amarillo, and rated high at Fort Worth, where the final decision was made.

How the bale allotment is to be divided among the growers. In general, it is to be apportioned among the counties according to past acreage; and the county allotments are to be given to farmers on the basis of tilled acreage not used for tobacco, wheat, or rice.

A marketing quota is to apply, subject to positive veto in a referendum of producers of the previous crop, during the next marketing year whenever the total supply of cotton is found to be more than 107 per cent of the normal supply (a total of about 191.2 million bales). The marketing quota for any farm will allow the marketing of all the cotton produced on the farm's acreage allotment, plus some stored cotton under certain circumstances.

A penalty of 2 or 3 cents a pound, depending on the year of production and the year of marketing, will apply to cotton marketed in excess of the quota, except that if the total production of any farm with an acreage allotment is less than 1,000 pounds of lint cotton, no penalty is to apply.
