ROSS STERLING TO SPEAK HERE

On the LEVEL

a column by
William Russell Clark

Perpetrating a column, week in and week out, grows almost as automatic to the writer as to the reader. The natural question comes to mind then, why continue it? For several reasons. It affords a medium for self expression not to be found in any other department of a newspaper. It offers the opportunity for intimate discussion, of first person queries and answers. Finally, it having once been established, it is taken as a matter of course by a small coterie of readers, at least, and it seems to be poor policy to start something and leave it unfinished while there are even a few people interested.

No one realizes better than I do how lifeless and inane "On the Level" becomes frequently. But in passing, I credit the column with being absolutely free of any attempt to steal another's thunder. Some of the columnists of Panhandle pattern their writing directly after that of the Tackman. That is all well and good but it becomes irksome to repetition of the well known tactics in papers outside of Marillo.

The columnists in question follow Tack's style in its entirety. Their originality is confined merely to new subject matter, and even that is not always fresh. They have their mail departments, their way of making reply to those who write them, printing their answers in black face type, exactly as does the Amarillo columnist. They are often guilty of referring to themselves in some nondescript way, just as Tack has his "Erasmus Rookus Eberfeld," his "O. W." and "Lollapalooza."

often heard the statement, in speaking of a col-outpourings: "He is emulating Tack." There is nothing wrong about the practice that I can see, but these lesser lights should ascertain, sooner or later, that there is only one Tack and that to copy his column, his style of expression, is nothing more than plagiarism. They stifle what over original urge they may have, and become obscure Tacks in miniature.

As long as the "On the Level" column is published, readers of it, if any there are, may be assured that it will not be patterned after Arthur Brisbane, the Tactless Texan, O. O. McIntyre, or any of the other well known writers of columns, pert paragraphs, and what not.

Another thing. I have seen an opportunist. I do not see an opportunity. In other words, this column makes no bid for popularity by playing to the prejudices of the people. I had rather this column would be thoroughly unpopular, than to sacrifice convictions, honestly arrived at.

Applause Drowns Out Speaker Who Would Tell Local Rotarians Fish Tale

One of the shortest talks on record was made by D. L. C. Kinard at the regular meeting of the Memphis Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon. He had returned only recently from a fishing expedition in Colorado, and was called upon to tell a few honest fish stories. He got started, deafening the audience with the history of a big fish. Rufus Greene remarked that it was one of the best talks he had ever heard delivered at the Rotary Club by Mr. Kinard. More applause followed.

Daughter Of Local Woman Is Slightly Injured In Wreck

Mrs. R. L. Smith, of Burleson, Texas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Self, of near Memphis, was injured slightly in the wreck of the Fort Worth and Denver passenger train at Oklaunion early Sunday morning. Mrs. Smith was en route to her home after a month's visit with her parents here.

Was In Chair Car

According to word received by Mr. and Mrs. Self, Mrs. Smith was in the first chair car, when it left the tracks and rolled down a steep embankment. She wired her parents as soon as possible that she was not seriously injured, but sustained only some minor bruises.

Helped With Injured

As ambulances carried away the more seriously injured, Mrs. Smith was among those who helped and did not receive medical aid for herself until the others had been cared for. She was unable to wire her parents until eight o'clock Sunday morning, and then from Wichita Falls, where she had been taken in one of the special buses that were rushed to the scene of the wreck to get those who were not seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Self are well known locally. They have lived in Hall County for several years, and now reside three miles north-east of the city.

TRASH, RUBBISH TO BE HAULED FROM CITY

Council Also Votes To Extend Present Sewerage System

Sanitary aspects of the city were bolstered considerably as the result of action taken at the regular monthly meeting of the City Council Tuesday night. At that time a plan for the disposal of trash and rubbish in the city was decided upon, and Henry N. Henderson was employed for full time work in this connection. This important work will be started on August 15. Trash and rubbish in the fire zone will be hauled away daily and the residential section will be visited twice monthly for the same purpose. Citizens are asked to have the rubbish placed in convenient containers to expedite the work of hauling it away.

Desired For Long Time

The fire zone, in which the trash and rubbish will be gathered up daily, is four blocks long and three blocks wide, extending from Bruce to Robertson, north and south, and from the Denver railroad to Eighth street, east and west. The decision of the Council is (Continued on page 5)

Football Field Is Put In Shape For Games This Season

The Memphis Cyclone will have a new football field on which to play this season. It is located on the east side of the East Ward School. While the field is not as large, and probably not as conveniently situated as the one at the Fair Grounds, it is expected to prove entirely adequate.

Members of the Memphis Athletic Council had the grounds cleaned off the early part of this week and will have them dragged within the next few days. Due to putting in the new race track at Fair Park, the football field was torn up, making it necessary that another field be found.

It is understood that in all probability a high board fence will encircle the new field, which will be in place by the time football season opens. The bleachers will be erected on either side of the new field, as was done last year.

Twelve Young People Leave On Monday For Baptist Camp

Twelve young people, representing various societies of the First Baptist church, of Memphis, left for Ceta Canyon, Monday, to attend the Panhandle Baptist Assembly which is in session there this week. Accompanying the party were Rev. E. T. Miller and Mrs. E. W. Patrick, who went as a chaperone for the girls. The young people will spend the entire week at the camp grounds studying church work and enjoying recreational periods. They expect to return to Memphis next Monday.

Those in the party were Alberta Gerlach, Ernestine Walker, Sara Bradshaw, Lola Mae Grundy, Dorothy Hart, Mary Winston Walters; Cleron McMurtry, V. L. McIver; Alton Odum and A. R. Evans. Some of those attending the encampment from Memphis belong to denominations other than the First Baptist church.

Rogers Is His Own Attorney In Case; Jury Cannot Agree

An interesting development of the third week of county court occurred Tuesday, when "Booger" Red Rogers, charged with carrying a pistol, acted as his own attorney. The jury failed to reach a verdict in the case, they reporting twice and finally stating that they were hopelessly hung. Another case against Rogers was brought to trial the same day. He pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was fined $5 and costs.

Fined $50 and Costs

Monday, the court tried the case of the State of Texas vs. Sessor Fowler. The defendant entered a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying a pair of knuckles and was fined $50 and costs. Other cases tried Monday were that of the State of Texas vs. E. H. Martin, charged with child desertion. The jury rendered an instructed verdict of not guilty; and the case of the State of Texas vs. Frank Dotson, which was dismissed on motion of the County Attorney for lack of evidence.

Defendant Pleads Guilty

Tuesday, in the case of the State of Texas vs. L. L. Floyd, charged with swindling by giving a bogus check under $50, the defendant pleaded guilty and was fined one dollar and costs, and one hour (Continued on page 5)

ENCAMPMENT OF BOY SCOUTS IS CONDUCTED

Camp Tehas Is Scene Of Activity Most Of Last Week

Sixteen Boy Scouts from Troop No. 4, among whom were representatives from all the churches in the city, spent the greater part of last week in Camp Tehas at Browder's Canyon. The boys improved the spring so that a greater convenience in the water supply would be enjoyed and constructed eight small cooking chimneys of rock and cement. They erected a canvas arbor of two large wagon sheets which proved to be good shade. To this was added an umbrella tent in which to store supplies to keep them dry in case of rain.

Special Tests Given

The morning hours were taken up with Scout exercises looking to credits in Scout work and the afternoons were devoted to sports. Special tests in observation and description, drills in Scout law, practice in Scoutcraft were some of the things especially designed (Continued on page 5)

Tree Sitter Is Still Sitting Where He Has Sat Since Deciding To Be A Sitter

And still he sits! As a tree sitter, Archie Bagwell gets the well known cake. He is still up, and although a trifle pale, he says he is feeling fine and is going to break the record of the Amarillo tree sitters or break a suspender. Archie passed the two weeks mark Thursday afternoon at 4:00. He has accounted for 336 hours in the air and is still enduring the endurance feat as though he had been up only ten minutes. Archie admits that he is not contemplating staying up too long.

Champion Of Good Government

Ross Sterling, Houston capitalist, candidate for the Democratic nomination of Governor of Texas, will fire one of the opening guns in the fight he is waging against Fergusonism here next Tuesday. The speaking engagement was arranged by the Hall County Sterling for Governor Club, of which Col. C. T. Matkin is president.

Hubert Dennis Expected To Be Star On Horned Frog Grid Team

Hubert Dennis, one of the best pigskin toters who ever raised dust on a Panhandle gridiron, is expected to star in the regular lineup of T. C. U.'s Horned Frogs this season. Hubert is getting in condition for the training grind ahead and will report to head coach Francis A. Schmidt, at T. C. U. on Monday, September 8. Coach Schmidt is depending strongly upon Hubert this season and may start him either at the left wing half position or at full back.

Break In With Bang

Hubert is in receipt of a letter from Coach Schmidt in which he says: "We are depending on you big this fall. I believe you should be able to break in your sophomore year with a bang." Continuing, the Coach has this to say: "If you look at a calendar, it won't be long before we will be coming back and ready for the first game. I am enclosing you a schedule. As you note, we play Denton, Friday, September 19. Practice starts officially September 10. This will only give you eight days practice for the first game and nine days for the second. Everyone will have to report in top-notch condition or an early season injury will keep you (Continued on page 5)

Among those who returned Wednesday were the following: Albert Pearson, J. P. Boles, Scott Webster, Wilfred Martin, Bill McKelvy, William Belew, Raymond Jarrell, Jack Sitton, Pharon Banta, Herman Griffin, Royce McClure, Paul Curry, Louis Curry and probably several others, whose names were (Continued on page 5)

A large number of representatives of various towns over the Panhandle and South Plains were in attendance. The meeting began at 10 o'clock Monday morning, with Mrs. Adella S. Drew, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association of Plainview, serving as chairman.

W. C. Henly, manager of Carter-Houston Dry Goods Company, of Plainview, made the opening address. He, in turn, introduced J. E. Waterman, of Lubbock, general credit manager of the Sunset Department Stores, who gave an address on what the credit man expects of the secretary. Wainwright Bridges, assistant county attorney of Hale County, discussed the collection of bad checks, and other interesting talks were heard.

RALLY WILL BE HELD IN CITY TUESDAY

Sterling Supporters Are Expected In Large Numbers

Announcement was made by Col. C. T. Matkin this week that Hon. Ross Sterling, of Houston, who is in the run-off primary with Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, of Austin, for the Democratic nomination of Governor of Texas, will invade the Panhandle next week in the interests of his candidacy and will speak in Memphis Tuesday night at eight o'clock. The speaking will take place at the courthouse and Mr. Sterling will be introduced by Col. Matkin.

Matkin Makes Statement

A statement has been issued by Col. Matkin in connection with the speaking next week, as follows: "The people of Hall and neighboring counties who believe in good government and not a government by proxy, who are interested in an honest administration of our state government; who do not want to see thousands of convicts turned loose on the people; who want to see Fergusonism buried under a landslide of votes on August 23, are invited to hear Mr. Sterling, our next governor, when he speaks here next Tuesday night."

Made State Laughing Stock

"Every informed voter knows that should Mrs. Ferguson be elected, Jim would run the affairs of the Governor's office. They have been hoisted upon us three different times and have left a trail of dishonesty and dishonesty in their wake that has never been fully obliterated. Fergusonism has carried the fair name of Texas into the despicable mire of disreputations and hates and has made of our state a veritable laughing stock among her sister states of the union."

Business Administration

"As opposed to Fergusonism, we have Ross Sterling, a big man with a big brain and a big heart for administering the affairs of state. He will offer us a business administration, honesty in public affairs and a genuine service to the people. Texas can ill afford to have the Fergusonism return to power. We must bury their name forever in the coming elections and the one way to accomplish this end is to vote for Sterling—a man who has proved equal to his every responsibility in public and private life, and who will prove true to the trust imposed in him by the electorate on August 23."

Large Crowd Expected

It is hoped to have several thousand people at the Sterling rally. Information concerning the speaking engagement is being broadcast over the county and those who read this article are asked to pass the news around. Political leaders in this part of the state are confident that Sterling will carry the entire Panhandle, and organizations are being perfected in every county looking to this end.

Joint Christian Endeavor Meet Is Held Last Sunday

The Christian Endeavor Societies of the First Christian churches of Memphis and Amarillo met at the First Christian church here last Sunday evening in a joint rally. About seventy-five young people were present at the meeting, and of this number, some thirty-five were from the First Christian church of Amarillo and four were from the Presbyterian church of that city.

The rally opened with a sandwich spread on the lawn of the church at 6:30 Sunday evening. At the beginning of the luncheon, Henry Webb extended the welcome to the visitors, and then sandwiches and ice cream were served to sixty-six young people and visitors.

At 7:30 the Endeavorers assembled in the auditorium of the church for a devotional program. The subject of the evening was "Chances to Serve Christ in Summer." Miss Margaret Wells, Director of Religious Education in the First Christian Church of Amarillo, had charge of the program, which consisted of discussions of brief topics and special musical numbers. C. A. James of Amarillo and H. A. Shaw made short talks. The meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction and the song "Into My Heart."

THIS AND THAT

EXTRA! EXTRA!

This column has become famous at last! L. P. Lane, manager of the Gate City Creamery, has concocted a new flavor of ice cream and has named it "This and That." Tarver's Pharmacy has the good fortune to sell the distinguished dainty. I had a complimentary dish of This and That yesterday and it certainly is fine. It would be, of course, with such a charming name.

There's a big discussion on up here in this Panhandle country about which is the most desirable type of nightwear, pajamas or the old fashioned night shirt. John L. McCarty, publisher of the Dalhart Texan, started the controversy and he declared himself in favor of the nightshirt. Col. Erasmus Tack, of the Amarillo News-Globe, immediately stated that John L. was quite right, and he gave fashionable pajamas quite a rap.

Here's a letter I got from John McCarty last week:
Dalhart, Texas,
July 31, 1930.

Dear Lyman:
How do you stand on the pajama-night shirt controversy? The situation has become acute, and, although Old Tack has already publicly announced in my favor, I would like to have your opinion in the matter.

PERSONALLY, I think John and Tack are both wrong. With the thermometer at 108 to 110 during the day, and with the situation changed but very little at night, I think the most sensible thing to do is to sleep absolutely "raw."

Discussing night wear reminds me that I had quite an odd experience as I was preparing to retire last night. I heard a very queer noise in my room, and I was convinced that some prowler was in the house. Old-maidish-like, I looked under my bed, and what do you think I found? It was only an Austin automobile!

Memphis undoubtedly has a big heart. The story about the destitute family, that appeared on the front page of last week's paper, has brought a number of cash contributions to the office for the unfortunate family. No matter how bad off we may think we are, there's someone much more needy, and the real Christian spirit comes to the surface when our worldly possessions are divided with those less fortunate.

The Democrat's milk and ice fund is going down. Two deserving families with a total of seven little tots needing the nourishment that milk provides are be-

The mother of one family being served by The Democrat's free milk and ice fund is suffering from an illness that has confined her to bed. The husband, after searching locally for work several weeks without success, left town last week with the remark, "If there's a job in Texas I'm going to find it and provide for my family."

It has been a long time since the children have had any milk to drink, and the two quarts a day being sent by the milk and ice fund won't go very far. Times aren't rosy, that is true, but there is surely some way to keep innocent children who need nourishment from becoming victims of circumstances.

Let me remind you, people, that the milk and ice fund is getting low. Let me remind you also that there are dozens of Memphis children that need good, wholesome sweet milk to drink. I dislike to beg you for money nearly every week, but you know the cause is worth while and deserving of your support. Can't you mail me a check today for this children's fund?

that your money is providing. If you know of any case that needs attention, please advise us at once.

How many of you Democrat readers like serial stories? Personally, I abhor them because of the delay between installments, but there may be scores of you who would like to follow one in this paper. If you would like for The Democrat to publish a serial this fall, phone 15 and voice your wishes. It's been years and years since a serial story has appeared in our columns, but we'll be glad to run another if our readers want it. And if we decide to run one, we promise you it will be creditable fiction.

I've been asked what I think about the bare-legged fad among women. Criticizing women or any of their habits is my idea of good, easy way to get into trouble quickly. I don't see anything "wicked" or indecent in women going bare-legged, but I do think it looks slouchy. As a fad, it doesn't appeal to me in public. I think it should be confined to the homes. I'm not trying to insult anyone—I'm just giving an honest opinion.

Well, well, well!!! When I said last week that my farmer friends wouldn't appreciate my remarks about Mrs. Ferguson I evidently hadn't figured out the political situation in Hall County very well. One farmer, who lives a few miles south of Memphis, walked into the office Saturday and very indignantly informed me that he didn't appreciate my inference that most of Mrs. Ferguson's support was coming from farmers in this county.

"As a rule," he said, "the farmers get the blame when things go wrong, but please don't blame us for Mrs. Ferguson's large vote."

"Folks who want the whole world and are not willing to work for their meat and bread are the people who are voting for Mrs. Ferguson."

"The same type of man who preached 'cut the cotton acreage' and then went home and planted more cotton himself, is the type of man who is voting for two governors for the price of one."

"Honest farmers who are living at home and who are trying to raise God-fearing, law-abiding families are not voting for Ma."

I haven't used this farmer's name because he has made some rather strong accusations. But what I've told you is absolutely on the up and up, and I can prove that I quoted him correctly.

Doesn't it seem strange to you that people will vote for a gubernatorial candidate who has already announced that one of his first official acts will be to release about 2,000 convicts? Isn't it odd that people will support a man who has caused the state more anguish than any other one person? As a rule, I don't have any trouble seeing two sides to almost any question, but I can't see but one side to this run-off election to save my soul.

I can't understand why progressive West Texans would hesitate in turning down the candidacy of Mrs. Ferguson. The East, Central and South Texas nesters are a different type; you can expect them to do almost anything that modern West Texans would not do.

Sterling isn't my choice for governor by a long shot. I think his platform contains numberless disadvantages and bad policies. His bad points, however, are overshadowed and laid to rest in comparison with the possibility of another Ferguson regime at Austin. We can't afford it, people, we can't afford it. Farmer Jim must not attain the governor's chair again. Elect Sterling as a means of defeating the Fergusons, if for no other reason.

And don't worry about me and this column. This is just a mild beginning. As the campaign progresses I'm going to wax hot and earnest. I promise!

L. E. R.'s Mail

(NOTE—Just for meanness I sent Arthur W. Jones a telegram last week as follows: UNDERSTAND YOU ARE SUPPORTING MRS. FERGUSON IN THE RUNOFF. PLEASE VERIFY. Naturally, I got his dander up, and he replied thusly by mail.—L. E. R.)

Llano, Texas
August 1, 1930.

Lyman E. Robbins,
The Democrat.

Dear Sir and Friend:
Your telegram saying it is understood that I will support Mrs. Ferguson in the runoff primary was received, and I am asked to confirm the report. I do not, will not nor cannot confirm such a slanderous report. I deny the allegation and defy the allegator. I challenge the originator of this malicious defamation to mortal (verbal) combat, on the field of honor at break of day, he to use his usual weapon—the jaw bone of an ass. Not exposing my full arsenal, but only that it may be clearly understood that I am both a dangerous and desperate man, I spread below some of the seething gorges that boils within my outraged soul. Stranger, read and ponder!

IF AND WHEN

When the sky has lost its azure and the sun is one black spot, When the milky way has clattered and all shooting stars have shot; When the Colorado River flows from Gulf back to its source, And the polywogs eat battleships along its turbid course;

When Young's a party bolter and Earle learns where the Ku Klux went,

When Love a brazen collar wears and Sterling is with bridle paths content, When Small his oil friends shall forget, and for East Texans bleed,

When "Soapy" lathers Dan again, and Barry rides no more his whiskey steed;

When the Fergusons turn from grafting and have an honest penny earned, When Texans shall at last remember where they got their fingers burned,

When Jim shall to the state return the "cotton seed wagons and corn,"

When honor, conscience and consistency his brazen brow adorn;

When Lawyer Jim shall cease to pick the chips Ma's pardon axe lets fly, When "Ma" no more from public plums makes Jim his favorite "pie."

When black bags full of currency cease to come mysteriously to Jim.

When a public trust no longer is a private snap for him;

When Jim's snivelling for his "farmer friends" no longer has a kick,

When brains no longer shall be needed as a governor we pick, When cats fly like canaries, and canaries kick like mules

And the politicians shall no longer think the people all are fools;

When inside the walls at Terrell I stare wildly through the bars, Hurl curses at prohibition and reach madly for the stars, When raven black to white shall turn and bootleggers mind the law,

When flame shall freeze and snow shall burn, then PERHAPS I'll vote for "MA."

Hottest Days Of Year Experienced

Memphis saw the hottest days of the year when the mercury climbed to 108 degrees for four straight days starting last Thursday, according to the local weather observer. Sunday the minimum temperature was 71, registered early in the morning, and there was a steady rise until the thermometer showed 108 degrees soon after noon, remaining thus until early evening.

This temperature was the highest of the year being two degrees higher than that registered in July. The highest temperature ever registered in Memphis was about 110 or 112 degrees which was reported several years ago.

Miss Viola Jones, and Miss Margaret Jones of Clarendon are visiting this week in the home of their aunt, Mrs. T. T. Butler.

for the sake of expediency and the plaudits of the crowd.

The easiest thing in the world for a newspaper man is to find the direction in which public sentiment seems to be moving and to get a front seat on the band wagon. There is one thing I especially admire about Deck Wells, editor of The Wellington Leader. In his column, "Deck's Didactics," he champions the causes he believes to be right and lambasts those he believes to be wrong, and he doesn't mince words about doing either the one or the other. His style is refreshing and original. He employs no "copy-cat" tactics.

Thomas Riley Marshall, while Vice President of the United States, remarked that what this country really needed was a good five cent cigar. In my humble opinion, what the newspapers of the Panhandle need are fewer and more genuine columnists who do not get cold feet every time a cloud of public opinion befalls their own particular little horizon.

to develop the boys. Swimming, ball playing and hiking were also enjoyed.

Parents Extend Favors
Special attention was shown the Scouts by the parents of the boys who compose the troop, and many good things were sent to the camp to eat. The boys asked the Scoutmaster to acknowledge the troop's gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Foxhall, Mr. and Mrs. Woodberry, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kinslow, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. E. Noel, Mr. and Mrs. Wattenbarger, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tucker for special attentions in furnishing cars to the boys to the camp and for food furnished, such as ice cream, veal loaf, watermelons, potatoes, and other things too numerous to mention.

Camp Great Success
According to Dr. J. Hardin Mallard, acting Scout Executive, the camp was a great success, and the boys were disappointed because it came to an end all too soon. The camp was held locally because no provision had been made for a Scout Camp for the Southeast Panhandle Area. Mrs. Mallard used her car to make two trips daily to and from the Scout camp to bring needed articles and to care for the wants of the Scouts. The sentiment of the Scouts was unanimous in favor of another camp next year.

citizens to make arrangements for the disposition of the trash and rubbish has been desired for a long time, and is considered to be a big step forward in the matter of making for a more healthy city and at the same time doing away with fire hazards. All businesses within the fire zone are asked not to burn any waste materials in any of the alleys as has been done heretofore. The practice is a dangerous one, and if followed, may result in fire losses.

Elect Night Watchman
R. J. Cooley was selected from five applicants to fill the position of night watchman, which place had been made vacant by the resignation of Forrest Hall on August 1. Cooley was named for the job by a vote of 6 to 2 and will begin his work immediately. The Council also decided to add an extension of 180 feet to the present sewer system, in Block 3 of the Dodson Addition. This work will get started at once under the direction and supervision of City Inspector Wesley J. Mangum.

We will count on you having good wind, your feet being tough, being in general physical trim and starting off with two full practices a day beginning September 10. We will have to do this or lose out this year. Everyone will report Monday, September 8, and have the soreness worked off by the tenth.

Chance to Break Record
"Some of the new equipment is here already and the rest will be here this month. Let's set our goal high. We have a chance to break a record by winning two conference championships in a row. We have the team that will be full of fight, plenty of speed and the old drive. Let us make this T. C. U.'s biggest year."

First Class Treatment
The boys report that Uncle Sam treated them all right. They were furnished transportation to and from Fort Sill, were given their uniforms while in training, their laundry, good food and first class living quarters. They were quartered in large army tents, each having a wood floor.

Local Boys Non-Coms
Albert Pearson was a line sergeant this year; Scott Webster was a corporal as was Paul Curry, and Herman Griffin was a corporal of the battery. The local boys were in good health during the time they were in training. They drilled four and one-half hours each morning except Sunday. The afternoons were taken up with sports and at night the soldiers attended the C. M. T. C. boxing and wrestling matches or the post theatre. Albert Pearson played second base on the championship C. M. T. C. baseball team and came home wearing a gold baseball to show for his prowess.

Service Is Theme At Meet Of Lions

The first of a series of programs on "Service" was featured last Thursday at the Lions Club meeting by a talk on the subject given by A. S. Moss.

A delightful vocal solo, following up the theme of service, was rendered by Miss Sara Bradshaw, "Pass It On," accompanied by Miss Ova Lee Wood on the piano.

The talk "Service" by Lion Moss emphasized the part fellowship and co-operation in the club has in forwarding the helpfulness of the club as a whole in the community. "The Lions Club should lend its influence and set an example in sponsoring any forward-looking movement in the community. The sentiment of the club on any subject can only be felt if the members of the club work together, and are united in fellowship."

Other meetings along this line will be held in the immediate future, according to J. A. Odom, who is in charge of the programs.

Clint Small Still Favors New Blood In State Politics

Senator Clint Small, of Wellington, was in Memphis Thursday, having a case in county court, and was interviewed by a representative of The Democrat. Senator Small answered all questions asked him frankly and to the point. As to his plans for the future, he stated that he expected to continue to reside in Wellington until after the next session of the Legislature and then he is considering making his residence in Amarillo. However, this is not at all definite, the Senator declared.

He was asked what he thought of the vote West Texas gave him in the Governor's race. "I think it was a wonderful vote," the Senator replied, "all that I expected. I polled over 100,000 votes west of Fort Worth. I feel that that is a splendid tribute and I am very grateful for it."

"Have you anything to say concerning the two candidates in the run-off primary for Governor, that is, as to which has your support?" he was asked. "I have very little to add to the statement I made in Fort Worth after the first primary," Small stated. "In every speech I made during my campaign, I advocated that Texas should get some new blood in the picture. I feel proud of my platform and have nothing to apologize for or take back."

3. A better understanding between Memphis and the towns and communities in Hall County.
4. More respect for city ordinances in connection with parking of cars in the downtown district, observance of fire rules and regulations, and keeping the streets of the city in a clean condition.
5. More general cooperation in all movements seeking the betterment of Memphis and Hall County.
6. A municipal auditorium.
7. More paved streets.

A PLEA FOR TOLERANCE

With one of the hottest political fights to ever surcharge the already heated air of the state ruled over by Old Man Texas in the offing, the electorate must make a decision as to how it will conduct itself—whether as spectators removed from the field of conflict or as active participants in a gubernatorial campaign whose thunder will be wont to echo down political corridors long after the last vote has been counted. Texas has been torn asunder so often—old wounds have healed so slowly—that we hope the bulk of our citizenship will refrain from indulging over-much in a campaign where the lines are so closely drawn between opposing factions. We have seen the time in Texas when brother has been aligned against brother; friend against friend, house against house. A repetition of such a situation would be unfortunate and all but disastrous.

We believe that every sovereign voter within the confines of this state has the right of making his own choice, of voting his own conviction, without any outside domination of influence. If this is to be a free country, in practice as well as in theory, the obligations of good citizenship demand that a voter express his preference at the polls, regardless of what Mr. Brown or Mr. Smith thinks. If every man will vote for whom he pleases, without respect to factions who may seek to control his vote, freedom of thought and action will be realized. If, on the other hand, prejudices get the upper hand and spread abroad their insidious influences, freedom will become little more than a by-word for mockery.

Intolerance in this country has enjoyed its heyday since the close of the World War. Texas has been one of the chief battlefronts. How long must this condition last? We boast of the fact that we live in the land of the free and the home of the brave. Sometimes, we think this should be amended to read: the land where we can't agree and the home of the knave. Especially, in this case where politics are concerned. He may be wrong; he may be right. It is not for us to say. We have enough to do to attend to our own voting, without concerning ourselves with the way other people vote. For any person, or group of persons, to say that he or they are right and everybody else is wrong is the very epitome of illogical reasoning. Two adages come in handily here: "Convince a man against his will; he's of the same opinion still," and "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." A good policy to follow would be that outlined by Clint Small of adjourning politics and developing Texas, and we'll never accomplish either if we strut around with a chip on our shoulder, ready to take immediate issue with anyone who has the courage of his convictions, and is not afraid to say as much.

THE GENTLE ART OF DOING THE UNUSUAL

The gentle art of doing the unusual thing seems to reach its highest proportions during the summer months. Whether it is due to the heat or other natural causes or whether inspired by the supernatural or something of which we have no information, is not known. Suffice it to state that this is the day for endurance feats of all kinds, and if those who participate are willing; to undergo the inconveniences incident to their performances, far be it from us to register any objection. Unlike some editorial writers, we find no harm in tree sitting. We are glad to see young people think of the unusual and to put their thoughts into action. We admire any youngster's stamina in sitting in a tree, day in and day out, for no reason other than an attempt to establish a record. We do not think it is half as bad for a boy to become a tree sitter as it is for some half-baked pilot to attempt an air voyage over the Atlantic. Endurance records do not generally stand for long, but the "big kick" comes in being able to endure and to set even a temporary record.

We have known some people who have continually done the unusual thing—not in the nature of endurance feats, but in many other ways. These folk may not always prove to be outstanding, but they are, at least, arresting and interesting. If we all did the proper thing, at the proper time, in the proper place, in the proper way, this old world would become so intensely proper, that it would prove a hard place in which to live. To all marathon contenders, we wish much joy and luck in realizing their ambition of the moment.

DO NOT FORGET THE FAIR

In the busy times in which we are living and the unusual conditions with which we are faced, there is some reason for thinking that some of us may overlook the fact that the Hall County District Fair opens next month. In spite of everything, the exposition this year is going to succeed, if we will all pull together. It deserves to succeed. Without question, it is the greatest event of the year locally and throughout the district it embraces.

It is an impossibility for the Fair Directorate alone to make of the exposition what it is entitled to become. Concerted effort on the part of our citizenship as a whole will do the work. Boost the Fair whenever the opportunity presents itself. Spread the news that it is going to be the very finest of all the Fairs held in this city. Arouse interest; do some publicity work; make it your Fair and reap the rewards that will accrue to those who make possible its success.

Father of Former Local Woman Dies At Vernon July 31

Word has been received in the city of the death of J. S. Reed, which occurred at his home in Vernon Thursday morning of last week at 11 o'clock. Mr. Reed was the father of Mrs. Paul James, recently of Memphis, but who now resides in Dallas. Mr. Reed had visited here often and was well known in the city.

J. S. Reed was 80 years old at the time of his death. He was born in Mississippi and came to Texas when a young man. He first settled at Quanah in 1891 and for the past eleven years has been making his home in Vernon with his son, and with his daughter in children.

Mr. Reed is survived by four children: Mrs. Paul James of Dallas; Mrs. E. S. Butcher of Childress; J. N. Reed of Fort Worth and F. L. Reed of Vernon.

C. R. Hyder, of Logan, New Mexico, spent several days last week visiting with his son, Dr. D. C. Hyder, in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Webster and daughter, Ione, and Miss Imogene King, left Monday, July 28, for a vacation trip through Grand Canyon to California.

Mother Knows

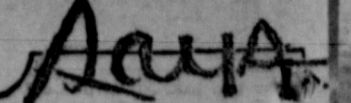

Her Secret Now
 "For a long time I couldn't find out what was making my little girl so drowsy and cross," says Mrs. J. N. Mathis, who lives at 1141 Busby street, here in Shreveport.

"She suffered, too, with pains in her stomach, she was restless, and would whine and grit her teeth in her sleep. I tried laxatives and other medicines, but to no good. I had a friend in Texas who recommended White's Cream Vermifuge, and—Normadelle started feeling better right away. Her checks are now plump and rosy. She is so full of fun, play and pep I can hardly keep up with her."

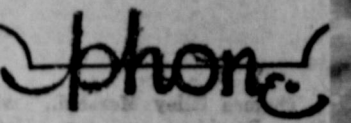

When children stay sickly looking and can't sleep at night, even after you have given them laxatives to clear the bowels, that's usually the sign of round or pin worms. White's Cream Vermifuge is perhaps the best medicine you can give them.

Prominent Citizen Of Brice Succumbs

G. W. Sims, 59 years of age, well known resident of Brice, was claimed by death at the family residence there on Monday morning of this week at five o'clock. He was born April 11, 1871, at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, and moved to Paris, Texas, in 1887. He was married to Mattie Elizabeth Dudley on November 22, 1891. To this union, thirteen children were born, eleven boys and two girls. Eleven children are living and attended the funeral services which were held Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the family home, being conducted by H. A. Whitefield, of Memphis. Interment took place in the cemetery at Hedley.

Mr. Sims was a devoted husband and father and a good neighbor. He was a member of the Church of Christ. A large concourse of friends and relatives attended the last rites for Mr. Sims.

Showers Result In Low Temperature

The heat wave in Memphis and sections of Hall County was broken, apparently temporarily, by light showers which fell throughout the morning Tuesday, and until about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Prior to this rainfall, the heat had been almost unbearable, the thermometer soaring throughout the day and falling very little during the night.

J. J. McMicken, local weather observer, reports that the rain Tuesday amounted to .15 of an inch. The cotton was not helped by the small amount of moisture that fell, and about the only good accomplished was to cool the air and make the heat more endurable.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation for the words of sympathy and the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. We wish also to thank those who sent floral offerings.

MATKIN WILL BE IN CHARGE OF CAMPAIGN

County Headquarters Are Opened Here In Thompson Bldg.

Thirty-two enthusiastic supporters of R. S. Sterling, candidate for the Democratic nomination of Governor of Texas, met in the district court room Friday night of last week, and organized the Hall County Sterling for Governor Club. Judge A. S. Moss was elected temporary chairman and presided at the meeting.

When nominations were declared to be in order for president of the club, John Deaver nominated Col. C. T. Matkin. Max King seconded the nomination and Col. Matkin was elected by acclamation. Jeff Watson was nominated and elected secretary of the organization.

A steering or central committee was appointed to consist of Col. Matkin, Jeff Watson, W. C. Dickey, M. J. Draper, King Stephens, Edwin Thompson and J. H. Brumley. Committees were named to visit the various towns and communities of the county in the interest of Mr. Sterling's candidacy. Women of the county are also expected to take an interest in the forthcoming election.

Headquarters were opened in the Thompson building where all work in connection with the campaign in Hall County will be conducted with Col. Matkin and Jeff Watson in charge of operations.

Local Women Will Work For Sterling

Col. C. T. Matkin, president of the Hall County Sterling for Governor Club, has announced that an active woman's organization is functioning in behalf of Mr. Sterling's candidacy. A woman's central committee has been formed, consisting of Mrs. M. J. Draper, chairman, Mrs. J. A. Whaley and Mrs. S. A. Bryant. It is planned to have these women, with their helpers, canvass the residential section of Memphis for Mr. Sterling.

Col. Matkin stated that Ross Sterling would be in the Panhandle next week, and an effort would be made to have him make a speech here. The county organization is expected to be perfected within the near future, and speakers will be sent to all sections of the county to make the voters better acquainted with the issue of the campaign, which is said to be "Fergusonism vs. Good Government and an Honest Administration."

SOCIETY Shower Is Given In Honor Of Miss Mae Nell Elliott

This was one of the most unique showers given this season. The guests were received by Mrs. Whaley and ushered to the register, the bride's book, where Mrs. George Carter presided.

The house was beautifully decorated. The bride's chair was artistically draped, surrounded by baskets of flowers, ferns and birds. As the bride arrived, beautifully gowned in a morning costume of black and white chiffon, Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley played strains from Mendelssohn's Wedding March. She was escorted to her place by Misses Eloise Norman and Ruby McCanne, after which a delightful program was rendered, as follows: piano solo, "Betty's Music Box," Miss Doris Shaw; vocal duet, "With You," Misses Doris and Margot Shaw, accompanied by Miss Mota Mae Shaw; violin solo, "I Love You Truly," Mrs. Conly Ward, accompanied by Mrs. Shelley.

At the conclusion of the program, the silence was broken by the arrival of four small carpenters, Bobbie Clark, Jacqueline McMurry and Jean Draper, who were met in the center of the room by Jack Walker. They wore overalls and advertising aprons and caps from Cameron Lumber Company. Upon Jack's inquiry as to what they had been doing, Bobbie replied that they had been working in Clarendon, building a house for Ed Toer. Then she whispered audibly, "He's going to get married." They then departed, but soon returning with a table bearing a miniature white and green stucco house, but quite complete to the smallest detail, shades, curtains blowing from the windows, a West Texas locust tree growing in the back yard, which was separated from the front by a white picket fence. Even tiny pot plants grew around the front door. Jean Draper presented this to the bride, with best wishes for her happiness, stating that the love cottage had been furnished by her friends in Memphis. But to Miss Elliott's chagrin, she found the door locked. However, Mrs. Whaley stated that her small daughter, Shirley Mae, held the key. When Shirley Mae arrived, dressed as a Cupid, and looking much like one, the enjoyment reached its height, though she was loathe to give up the key. Miss Elliott succeeded in finding the right key and discovered that the house was overflowing with useful and lovely gifts, which she received in her usual charming manner.

She was assisted in opening the packages by her sister, Dorothy. After each gift had been displayed and admired, Mrs. B. M. Roberts, Mrs. Chas. Oren, Mrs. George Carter and Miss Ruth Harrison assisted the hostess in serving refreshments which were in green and white. Green ices and white cakes further emphasized the bride's colors.

Those present included: Mesdames R. S. Greene, John Deaver, Fred Clark, E. N. Hudgins, J. M. Elliott, B. M. Roberts, H. K. Whaley, J. H. Norman, S. O. Greene, M. E. McNally, C. S. Compton, J. S. McMurry, Chas. Oren, E. T. Harrison, Oren Jones, Frank Fore, Frank Foxhall, R. C. Walker, T. T. Harrison, Malone Hagan, M. J. Draper, M. McNeely, Elmer S. Shelley, R. H. Wherry, J. R. Jones, T. M. The Y. W. A. of the First Baptist church met Monday night at the home of Miss Jackie Rogers with Misses Clara Boatner, Una Lord and Shirley Hill as associate hostesses.

Upon their arrival, the guests were refreshed with delicious punch served to them by Miss Rogers. The meeting was held on the lawn where gaily colored Japanese lanterns shaded the lights.

After an interesting program, a social hour was enjoyed and sandwiches, iced tea, pop, and corn balls served to Misses Ethel and Ola Mae Jones, Jewel Smith, Rebecca Sitton, Marie Barber, Una Lord, Clara Boatner, Shirley Hill, Jackie Rogers and Mesdames Bertha Carter, E. H. Whittington, J. Wirt Rogers and George Carter.

Mrs. Morgensen Is Hostess At Meet Christian Society

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Christian Church met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. J. Morgensen with Mrs. Clyde F. Milam as assistant hostess. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. J. H. Norman, president. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. J. B. Wright, secretary. Mrs. Seth Palmeyer, leader for the afternoon, gave a unique program, it being opened with the Lord's Prayer. Each member answered to roll call with a current event.

A Bible was then passed around the room and the following verses given, which were taken from a clipping given to Mrs. Palmeyer by her grandmother: When men fail you, read Psalm 28:7; when you worry, read Matthew 6:19-34; when you have the blues, read Psalm 34; when God seems far away, read Psalm 139; when lonely and fearful, read Psalm 23; for Jesus' idea of a Christian, read Matthew 5; when you forget your blessings, read Psalm 103; when you feel down and out, read Romans 8:34-39; when you want courage for your task, read Joshua 1; when you want rest and peace, read Matthew 11:25-30; when you want Christian assurance, read Romans 8:1-30; for Paul's idea of Christianity, read Second Corinthians 5:10-15; when you think of investments and returns, read Mark 10:17-31; for Jesus' idea of prayer, read Luke 11:1-13 and Matthew 6:5-15; for a prophet's idea of religion, read Isaiah 1:10-18.

After the program, the hostess, served brick ice cream, individual white cakes and mints.

Baptist Class Has Meeting Monday With Mrs. McCrary

The Young Married Ladies Class of the First Baptist church met for their weekly officers' meeting at the home of Mrs. Forrest McCrary at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Roy Draper read the devotional from First Samuel, first to twelfth verse. Mrs. H. N. Henderson led in prayer, after which Mrs. M. T. Jones, first vice-president, called on the two group captains for reports on various duties.
