Reason for Rejoicing!

Mr. J. H. Read, Hall County National Bank, Memphis, Texas.

My dear Mr. Read: The Houston National Democratic Band Committee has just completed its organization and held its first meeting. I speak for the committee when I advise that the generous offer of the Gold Medal Band was enthusiastically accepted.

It was further decided to designate the Gold Medal Band as the official band for the Texas delegation.

You are further advised that arrangements for sleeping quarters for the band during its stay in Houston have been arranged. They will be quartered at some one of our fire stations where they will find comfortable beds, lavatories, showers, etc. These quarters will be more comfortable than the sleepers, in which they will no doubt arrive.

The committee would like also to be advised the number of members in the band, also on what day we may expect them.

As you know the convention convenes on June 26th. While it is anticipated that it will last at least five days we all understand that it may be of shorter duration or may continue in session much longer.

If there is any other information desired please call on us. In the meantime we shall be glad if you will send us photographs so that in due season we can give the Gold Medal Band appropriate publicity.

Yours very cordially,
JACOB F. WOLTERS,
Chairman, Band Committee.

"QUAKER NIGHT" WILL BE OBSERVED SUNDAY AT EVENING SERVICE OF RAYBURN REVIVAL

Sexes Will Sit Separately at 7:30 Service While Dr. Rayburn Acts As the "Prosecuting Attorney"

Dr. James Rayburn, evangelist of the co-operative revival of Memphis churches, will assume the role of prosecuting attorney at the 7:30 service Sunday night which will be known as "Quaker Night." This is said to be the most remarkable service of the entire campaign. The sexes will sit separately and listen to "prosecution" by the evangelist. The "verdict" will be rendered during the last five minutes.

FAMOUS SCREEN STAR COMING TO MEMPHIS

Jack Hoxie Will Appear in Person At Gem

Jack Hoxie, idol of millions of movie-goers, is coming to Memphis in the flesh.

Embryo cowboys and would-be tough hoppers will please take notice, don their chaps and spurs and be on hand Tuesday, April 17.

Lovers of the great open spaces will be glad to learn that a popular western star will appear in person at the Gem Theatre, matinee and night, next Tuesday. Mr. Hoxie is making personal appearances at several theatres prior to beginning work on a new picture, "In God's Country." All exterior scenes of the new film will be made on the Texas plains near Amarillo.

"Back Fire," Mr. Hoxie's latest picture will be shown here Tuesday in connection with his personal appearance. This dashing actor is said to be one of few movie stars who does not use a double. "He is quite capable of performing all his stunts himself," Gus Wornack, Hoxie's advance man, told The Democrat. "In fact he holds the world's record for bulldogging a steer."

But here's bad news for Memphis' flappers. Jack's married. Yes, girls, he has a wife and two children.

Wood Service Station and Veta Electric Co. Open in New Building

Wood Service Station and Veta Electric company opened for business this week in their modern new building, corner of Main and Eighth streets. The new location furnishes more spacious quarters for both concerns and will enable them to serve their trade more efficiently. The building, owned by Jim McMurtry, is one of the most attractive and substantial in the city. Mr. Wood and Mr. Turney will announce their formal opening in a few days.

BEG PARDON, ESTELLINE!

Statements last week in the Estelline News and Memphis Democrat concerning the inter-scholastic meet greatly conflicted, and this newspaper stands corrected if it is in error and incidentally begs the sister city's pardon. Opinions among county school officials seem to vary and The Democrat has been unable to get a complete report on the exact number of points scored by each city.

If Estelline is the winner this newspaper rejoices and extends hearty congratulations. It is not Memphis' intention to "hog" any honors and the error is an innocent one regard- less of where the blame may be placed. The Democrat will publish a corrected tabulated list of the number of points at the first opportunity.

COMMITTEE.
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson and son are here from Lubbock.

COUNTY JUDGE WIRES PROSPECT FAVORABLE

Hoffman in Austin Seeking to Finish Road to Southern Boundary of Hall County

Prospects are favorable for the paving of Highway No. 5 from Red River to the Childress county line, according to advices received today by The Democrat. The following wire was received at noon today by Judge A. C. Hoffman who is in Austin conferring with the State Highway Commission:

Memphis Democrat, Memphis, Texas.
Prospects favorable for more paving on Highway Five Hall county.
Hoffman.

This is a project Judge Hoffman has been working on for some time. He has made a number of trips to Austin in behalf of Hall county's main highway in order that it might be paved in its entirety and be free of unpaved gaps.

If Mr. Hoffman's present visit to Austin proves successful, as it promises to do, it is understood in Memphis that the state will construct a new bridge across Red River on the west side of the Denver railroad to connect the new highway. Balance of the paving from Memphis to Red River is nearing completion and will probably be open May 1st.

BURTON FAVORS STANDARD OF PRODUCTION

Figures Show Rapid Growth of Poultry Industry

An appeal for a standard of production in the poultry industry was the keynote of an address delivered by Walter Burton of Dallas to poultry raisers of Hall county at their regular meeting here Saturday afternoon. President C. A. Williams presided.

"We have a standard of quality already," Mr. Burton said, "what we need now is a standard of production. It shouldn't cost one man any more to produce chickens and eggs than another. You can certainly make money out of the poultry business if you go at it in the right way." Mr. Burton gave the poultrymen a number of ideas he has accumulated in his several years as a successful chicken farmer.

George Sager, secretary of the Memphis chamber of commerce, presented to the association figures revealing the growth of the poultry industry in Hall county. Revenue from chickens and eggs has grown from $230,000 in 1924 to more than $300,000 and from 127,960 chickens on hand in 1919 to 248,478 at the present time.

Hall county's first hatchery was started in 1924 with a capacity of 2,640 eggs, according to Mr. Sager's figures. Now the county has 4 hatcheries with a combined capacity of about 56,000 eggs.

WORK STARTED ON WOOLDRIDGE YARD

Work on the new brick lumber yard for J. C. Woodbridge Co. at Sixth and Brice has been started. Workmen are busy clearing the site of debris left by the disastrous January fire.

Mrs. A. D. McCreey is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. S. Baker.

Baby Daughter Of L. E. Gibbs Dies Tuesday

Ruth, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gibbs, died of pneumonia Tuesday night at 9:30 at the family home on South Seventh street. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bishop on South Sixth street Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, conducted by the Rev. C. E. Jameson, assisted by Revs. E. T. Miller of the First Baptist church and J. Hardin Mallard of the First Presbyterian church. Burial at Fairview cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs have lost three other children besides Ruth, and their many friends sympathize with them in their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Pope and son of Claude were here to attend the funeral. Mrs. Pope is a sister of Mr. Gibbs.

FOUR TRUSTEES ELECTED LAST SATURDAY

New Board Has Organized for Work

M. E. McNally, Elmer S. Shelley, N. A. Hightower and Sam J. Hamilton were elected trustees for the Memphis Independent school district in the election held last Saturday. More than two hundred votes were cast in this election.

The above men were inducted into office last Monday night, and the board organized for the ensuing year's work. Sam J. Hamilton was made president of the board and M. E. McNally was made secretary.

STONE CO. STORE HAS NEW MANAGER

M. B. Rook of Shamrock Takes Place of Harris

M. B. Rook is the new manager of C. E. Etone Co., replacing J. O. Harris, who has been transferred to Lubbock as manager of the new Stone store there. Mr. Rook comes to Memphis directly from Shamrock but formerly lived in Erick, Oklahoma, where he was engaged in the dry goods business. He sold his store February 1 and has been with the Stone chain since.

Mr. Rook assumes his duties here as a thoroughly competent dry goods merchant of 25 years experience. He is recommended by Mr. Stone as a capable business man and thoroughly progressive citizen.

"My idea," Mr. Rook told The Democrat, "is that Stone's enormous buying power should not only result in a saving to the company, but should bring about savings to customers as well and it is to this end I am lending my efforts."

Friends of Mr. Harris regret his removal from Memphis but feel he is deserving of promotion to a larger city and bigger store. Mr. Harris is the youngest of 17 Stone store managers. His record with the Memphis store has been unusually meritorious and the business has shown good growth under his management. Lubbock is the largest city Stone has yet entered and his selection of Mr. Harris to manage the south plains store indicates his satisfaction of the former Memphisite's capability.

PLANS MADE FOR DIST. ROTARY CONVENTION

LUBBOCK, April 10.—Every indication points to the biggest and best district convention ever held in the Southwest when the 41st district of Rotary International meets in Lubbock April 19 and 20, Ellis H. Boyd, Fort Worth district governor stated here today.

Boyd is in Lubbock on business for the 41st district and to help the Lubbock Rotarians work out every detail for the convention next week.

Monday, Boyd was one of the principal speakers at the Rotary luncheon, which had been moved up to give way to the district Parent-Teachers association convention which is meeting here this week. Monday evening he went to Ralls together with a number of Lubbock Rotarians to deliver a charter to the new club there. Tuesday Boyd went to Big Spring to deliver a charter to a new club in that city.

Memphis and Ranger will be out for the 1929 convention.

Three candidates have announced for the office of president of the district. Dr. Rue P. Parellis, Amarillo; Rufus Wright, Sweetwater; and Arthur A. Keys, Quanah.

Fort Worth is expected to have the banner delegation with over 125 Rotarians on a special train. Special pullmans will be tied on this train by Ranger and a number of other cities.

Amarillo will have two special pullman cars to bring their delegation and Pampa, Panhandle and other cities will also charter a special car.

A number of outstanding Rotarians of the international organization will be in Lubbock to appear on the program. Included in this group are the following: Raymond J. Knoepfel, New York City, director of Rotary International; Walter Cline, Wichita Falls, vice-president Rotary International; Ellis H. Boyd, Fort Worth, district governor; J. Robert Stout, New York City, director of the New York Rotary club and others.

A post convention run to the Carlsbad Caverns near Carlsbad, New Mexico is being planned by committees. Homer D. Grant, with the Panhandle Construction company of Lubbock, is chairman of the transportation committee and is in charge of the Carlsbad trip. Much interest is being displayed in this trip, according to grant. The caves outstrip anything of its kind in nature in the entire world and has been termed as the eighth wonder. The underground cave has only been explored a few years and the number of tourists to visit the national monument are multiplying each year. Only one day will be consumed in the jaunt to the caves, the trip being made April 21, just following the close of the convention here April 20.

Jed A. Rix, general chairman of the committees here, is well pleased with the work that is being turned in and states that everything will be ready for the Rotarians and Rotary-Anns when they arrive. Over 500 visitors are expected.

William J. Bragg For County Attorney

The Democrat is authorized to announce the candidacy of William J. Bragg for the office of County Attorney of Hall county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Mr. Bragg needs no introduction to the voters of this county, since he has been a resident of the county for the past 26 years, and held the office of county attorney here from 1919 to 1922 having been elected to same by the voters of the county. He graduated from Memphis high school and then from the North Texas State Teachers college. He has practiced law in Memphis for eleven years, and is qualified to fill the office to which he aspires. Give his candidacy your earnest consideration before casting your vote in the primary.

BOY SCOUTS

The troop met last Thursday evening at the court house. Three new members were initiated: Alvin Thomas, J. C. and Harry Baskerville.

Some of the boys tied knots for the benefit of the new Scouts and a program was staged by the Flying Eagle Patrol. Scoutmaster Dave Price emphasized the talk made by the Safety service department man from Chicago. We think this talk helped all concerned. There will be a Court of Honor held immediately after the revival is over. We urge the public to come. All boys wishing to join the Boy Scouts come to the court house Thursday, April 12, at 7:30. Visitors are welcome.

President Elected This Year Will Not Be a Heavyweight, Says Fisk

"Let me have men about me that are fat," "may have been true enough when Shakespeare wrote it, but Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk of the Life Extension Institute arises to take exception.

"The lean and hungry look isn't half so dangerous as the fat look," says the doctor, and just to prove his point dares bet his own dapper waistline that the next president of the United States won't have an extra ounce of fat and might, in fact, have "the lean and hungry look."

Here's the picture of Mr. president-elect in 1928, according to Dr. Fisk. He will be over 50, of at least average height, muscular or slight, but not a big man.

Dr. Fisk isn't painting a pen picture of thin Charlie Dawes as next president. He doesn't pretend to have any inside dope on THE MAN, but it's just his law of averages that tell him what the president won't be.

Neither is Dr. Fisk eliminating such gentlemen who border on the burly as Herbert Hoover, Nick Longworth or William Borah.

"They aren't really fat men," he says—"just big men. Besides, Hoover is not far enough beyond the 50 mark to make it so surprising to find an able man who is also slightly embonpointed.

Dr. Fisk explains his certainty that our next president won't be fat like this:

"The very nature of the job demands that a president be a man of wide experience. He would have to be over 50. Now the proportion of able heavy men over 50 compared with slight men is so small that there's hardly a remote chance that one of these rarities will be president.

"Taft, of course, is the one outstanding rarity. But for every Taft there was a spare Lincoln or

Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, who says that in all probability a heavy man will not have a "fat man's chance" of being elected president in 1928, is pictured above.

Wilson or a dozen presidents without an ounce of superfluous flesh. Fat slows up a man, so that a man who is fat before 50 rarely reaches the pinnacle of the White House. Besides, few of them live to be old enough to be president."

"Social pressure has been eliminating the fat people. Fat has been made something of a disgrace the past few years. Of course this old saying that 'nobody loves a fat man, they're so just because it's untrue. Everybody loves a fat man, they're so jolly and good-tempered because their nerves are well cushioned and protected.

"But we must have more in a president than good temper." Now let's see. Suppose that some of the men considered presidential timber should be president, would Dr. Fisk be right?

He says that Hoover, Longworth and Borah aren't fat—just big. Judge for yourself from the pictures. Hoover is 54, Longworth 59 and Borah 63.

Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio, 57, is another big man, but not fat.

A. Victor Donahey, 55, Democratic governor of Ohio, is just plain big, too.

Al Smith of New York, 55, has a tummy in a bathing suit.

Senator Jim Reed, 67, is another sapling type.

No one can complain of the waistline of Vice President Chas. G. Dawes. He's 63.

Frank O. Lowden, 67, is rather hefty.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie, 52, looks pretty big to some of us, but Dr. Fisk calls him just medium.

Senator Charles Curtis, 68, is no lightning rod.

The average age then is an even 60. The oldest, Senator Charles Curtis, is 68, and the youngest, Governor Ritchie, is 52.

But how about past presidents? Weren't Garfield and McKinley end even Roosevelt at least plumpish?

Were there really more Wilsons and Abraham Lincolns than any other type?

Dr. Fisk says that there must have been. His book of averages says so.

Dr. Mallard and Lakeview People In Auto Crash

Dr. J. Hardin Mallard and wife of Memphis and Mrs. David Davenport and mother-in-law, Mrs. D. H. Davenport of Lakeview figured in a minor auto crash on the Lakeview road Saturday afternoon. No one was injured. The radiator of Dr. Mallard's Ford coupe was damaged beyond repair and a fender on Mrs. Davenport's new Chevrolet was smashed. Dr. Mallard was forced to turn to the left to prevent his machine from sliding into a deep ditch from the slippery road, he said, and the accident was unavoidable when his car skidded directly into the path of the Chevrolet.

LOCAL FEED MAN ATTENDS SALES CLASS

Spends Week at Purina School in Amarillo

Mr. H. G. Hodges of the City Feed Store of this city has just returned from Amarillo where he attended the Purina Mills Sales school held last week at the Herring hotel. "In this class," says Mr. Hodges, "every phase of live stock feeding was studied, with a view of enabling salesmen and local feed dealers to render a higher type of service to feeders of live stock."

"I was very much impressed," says Mr. Hodges, "by the figures presented showing the value of the live stock and dairy products sold annually in our own county. According to the figures compiled by the United States department of Agriculture, Hall county farmers sell every year $398,871 worth of dairy and poultry products. Figures showing the value of hogs and steers are equally impressive."

These figures are, it is estimated, "to increase the value of these products in Hall county by one-fourth by the introduction of better feeding methods among farmers generally. This extension will create extra income which would be used in buying building material to improve, to buy automobiles, more clothing, furniture, and other words better feedings will tend to increase proportionally the business done by the farm in the county."

"An interesting thing," adds Mr. Hodges, "is that it takes only a relatively small increase in ration to double the feeder's profit. According to a survey by Hoard's Dairyman, one leading dairy publication, a case of only 10 per cent increase of milk produced will result in doubled profit."

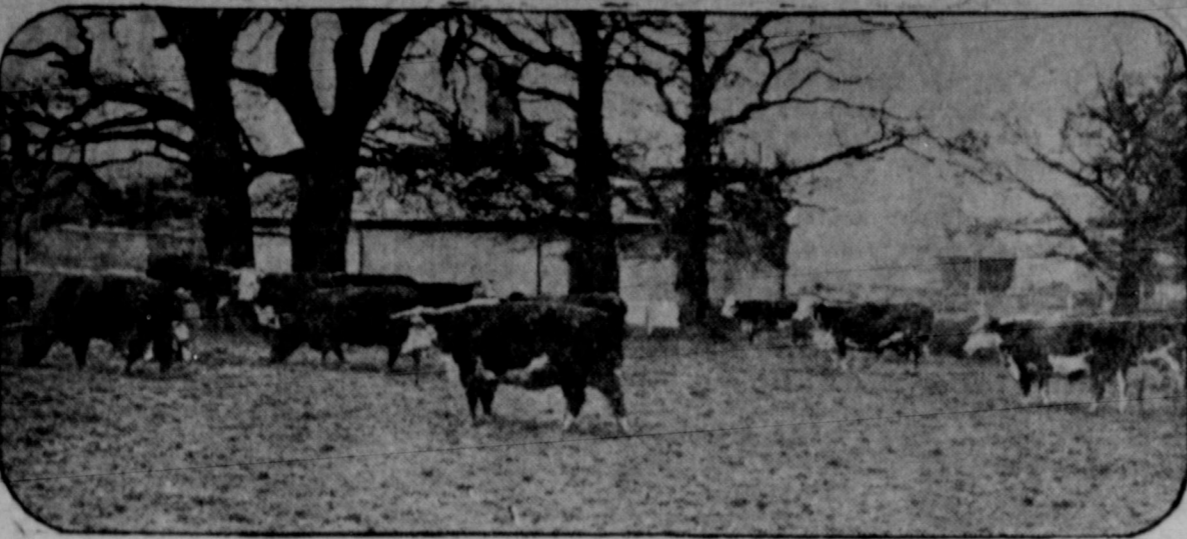

For example the case of a cow producing 20 pounds of milk a day, of which 18 pounds is repaid for the labor, feed and miscellaneous expense, leaves two pounds net profit. If the cow can be made to produce 20 pounds of milk a day, of which 10 per cent is repaid for labor, feed and miscellaneous expense, the net profit is doubled."

"So too in the matter of eggs. The average United States hen lays 72 eggs a year; the average Purina fed hen lays 148 eggs a year. This tremendous increase is brought about because a balanced ration supplies materials for making approximately an equal number of yolks and whites, while a grain ration develops more yolks than whites. As no hen can lay half an egg, the extra yolks are absorbed into the body and egg production is cut down."

"All who attended the school were thoroughly drilled in the most up-to-date methods of culling poultry—of weeding out non-producing 'boarder' hens. The results of culling by the system taught have been carefully checked time and again by experiment stations and on practical poultry farms in all sections. Birds have been culled out as non-producers and shut off to themselves for twenty to thirty days. In spite of generous feeding they did not produce an egg, providing that the system is reliable."

"Proper feeding of brood sows is especially important right now if the hog raiser is to make any money. The feeder's profits depend very largely upon the size of the litter. Today the average farmer loses before weaning time, forty per cent of the pigs farrowed. This represents a tremendous loss to every community. According to the experience of hog feeders everywhere, properly bal-body, replacing worn-out tissues, building bone, supplying heat and energy, and making milk or eggs. Weeding out poor stock, breeding for vigor, and feeding for results is the combination that spells profits for the farmer.

"That production can be increased was shown by a comparison of milk production in the United States—3,627 pounds a year average—with that of the Netherlands—7,585 pounds a year.

This additional production results entirely from right breeding and feeding balanced ration which enables the cow both to maintain her body and make milk. "On lowering the cost of production," says Professor Eckles, the noted authority from the Minnesota college of agriculture, "feeding comes first."

"Another point frequently overlooked by dairymen, is the necessity of feeding a dairy cow a concentrate ration that contains the proper amount and quality of protein. It is true that a cow will produce almost as much milk for the first few weeks, without a high protein concentrate. But she does so at the expense of her body and that means a sure cut in the milk supply later on."

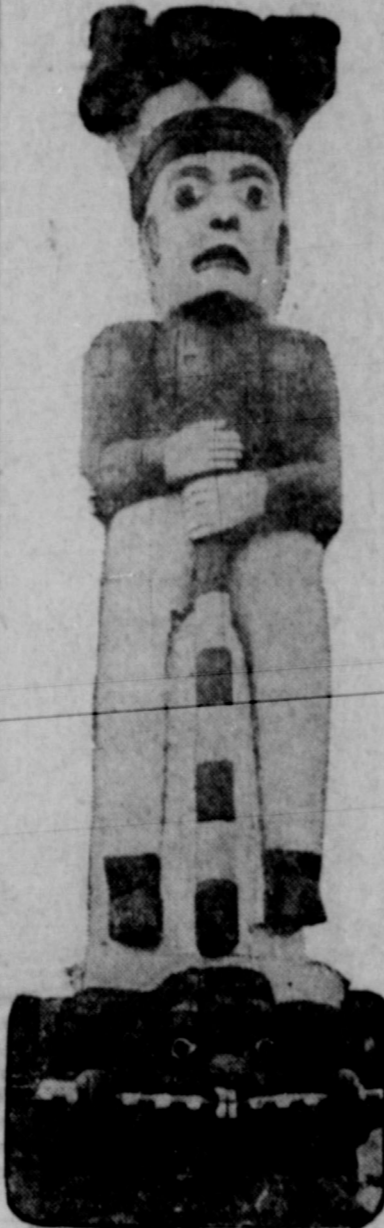

"The cow, with her mother instinct to produce milk to nourish her off-spring, produces a good volume for a few weeks, drawing on her body for the nutrients her improperly balanced feed lacks. But then nature calls a halt. The cow, run down physically, must start to rebuild her body, and the milk flow gradually decreases. Once a cow falls off in her milk, it is almost impossible to bring her back before she freshens again."

"So too in the matter of eggs. The average United States hen lays 72 eggs a year; the average Purina fed hen lays 148 eggs a year. This tremendous increase is brought about because a balanced ration supplies materials for making approximately an equal number of yolks and whites, while a grain ration develops more yolks than whites. As no hen can lay half an egg, the extra yolks are absorbed into the body and egg production is cut down."

"All who attended the school were thoroughly drilled in the most up-to-date methods of culling poultry—of weeding out non-producing 'boarder' hens. The results of culling by the system taught have been carefully checked time and again by experiment stations and on practical poultry farms in all sections. Birds have been culled out as non-producers and shut off to themselves for twenty to thirty days. In spite of generous feeding they did not produce an egg, providing that the system is reliable."

"Proper feeding of brood sows is especially important right now if the hog raiser is to make any money. The feeder's profits depend very largely upon the size of the litter. Today the average farmer loses before weaning time, forty per cent of the pigs farrowed. This represents a tremendous loss to every community. According to the experience of hog feeders everywhere, properly bal-

Baseball may be a modern game and then again it may not. When a Canadian government engineering party reconstructed totem poles recently at Kitwanga Indian village, on the Skeena river, west of Jasper National Park, they found this age-old memorial to a baseballer? Perhaps this wide-eyed gent was the Babe Ruth of the Skeena River League during the days of totemism. At any rate the club he is grasping looks a great deal like the Babe's favorite "fly-swatter."

Memphis Man Dies Tuesday In Dallas

Mr. J. L. Lewis died in Dallas Tuesday morning, according to advice received here by friends. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have lived in Memphis for some nineteen or twenty years in the northwest part of town, and a few months ago they went to Dallas to stay with a son and to be near the hospital and specialists.

Mr. Lewis was a member of the First Baptist church of Memphis, and was a fine Christian gentleman, highly respected by all who knew him. Their many friends here were indeed sorry to learn of his death.

JAMES NEELEY

The funeral of James Neeley was held from the First Methodist church last Friday afternoon conducted by the Rev. C. E. Jameson, assisted by Dr. J. Hardin Mallard. Burial was made in Fairview cemetery with Masonic Honors.

The pall bearers were C. A. Powell, W. B. Quigley, E. S. Browning, W. A. Thompson, W. C. Milam and C. R. Webster. Flower bearers were Mesdames C. R. Webster, R. H. Wherry, W. M. Owens, John Owens, Louie Goffinett, J. W. Slover, and G. L. Tipton.

The surviving children of Mr. Neeley are D. A. Neeley and L. W. Neeley of Memphis; W. W. Neeley of Wellington, J. E. Neeley of Wheeler; Mrs. Sam Alexander recently moved to Wheeler; Mrs. D. C. Worsham of Memphis, and Mrs. Helen Sullivan of Spur, who were all here.

Deceased was a pioneer of the Panhandle, and up to a few years ago was very active and took a great deal of interest in everything for the good of the community.

NEW DIRECTORIES ARE IMPROVEMENT OVER OLD TELEPHONE GUIDE

The new telephone directories, just distributed by the State Telephone company, are quite an improvement over the old ones. The new books furnish street addresses as well as telephone numbers. The directories were not printed in Memphis.

anced feed produces cheaper pigs at weaning time and cheaper pork after weaning. Such a balanced ration also means quickened growth, and makes it possible for the farmers to get their hogs to market around September or October when prices are usually higher than at any other time."

CHARLES CULBERSON DENNIS

The funeral of Charles C. Dennis was held here last Friday afternoon at the First Baptist church conducted by the Rev. E. T. Miller, assisted by the Revs. C. E. Jameson and J. Hardin Mallard. A large crowd of relatives and friends attended the funeral. Burial was made in Union Hill cemetery at Lakeview.

The pall bearers were Ervin Moreman, Wilbert Evans, Lee May, Herbert May, Joe Forkner and Edwin Hutcherson. The flower girls were Lola Woodington, Gertrude Rascoe, Maidee Thompson, Marie Gilreath, Earlene Neal, Violet Balthorpe, Olive Ruth Ewen and Radie Moreman. All being school mates of Charles.

The following brief sketch of Charles' life was furnished the Democrat by Rev. E. T. Miller:

Charles Culberson Dennis was born August 30, 1907, in Cook county near Gainesville, Texas, and departed this life April 5, 1928, Memphis, Texas. The deceased was four months of age when his parents moved to Hall county.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dennis, and by four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Mammie Moss, of Eli, Mrs. S. D. Posey, Memphis, Zettie Dennis, Memphis; Jeannett Dennis, Memphis; and Morgan Dennis, student at Tech. A grandfather and grandmother survive him, H. L. Dennis Sr. of St. Joe, Texas, and Mrs. R. D. Duren, Lakeview, Texas.

Out of town relatives attending the funeral are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dennis Jr. and son Roy Lindsey, Olton, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams, Wheeler, Texas; A. J. Dennis and son Olen, St. Jo, Texas; A. S. Jackson and D. J. Jackson of Kress.

Four brothers and three sisters preceded Charlie Dennis in death. Five are buried in Cook county and two in Hall county.

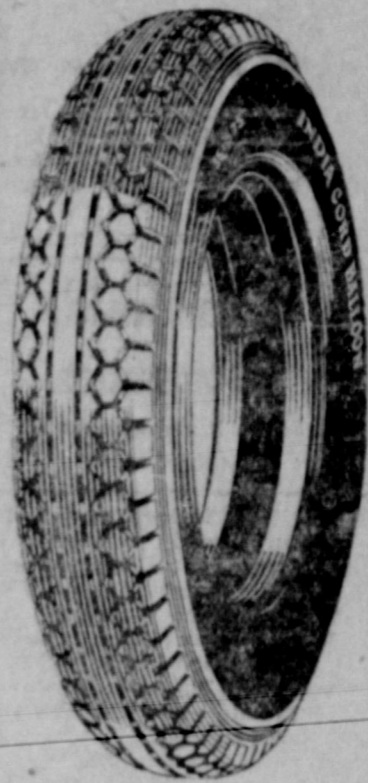

Charlie made a bright profession of faith in Christ when about ten years of age. He never identified himself with any church but frequently attended the Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church of Memphis.

This young man made a valiant fight to live but met death with a calmness and bravery that assures us that he had Christ with him through it all. He made a statement a few days before he died that he was prepared to die and that he was entering the shadows of death with his hand in the hand of Christ.

He Was a Wise Guy

—was Benjamin Franklin. They didn't put anything over on Ben, no sir. And he didn't win national fame for thrift by accident, either. He was a keen business man and a cautious investor.

If thrifty old Ben were living today we'd bet our hat he'd want Indias all around on his auto.

Can you blame him? Cheap tires aren't a good investment and there is no element of thrift involved.

India dealers don't cater to buyers of cheap tires because they sell a product they firmly believe to be the best on the market today. A man who purchases INDIA Tires doesn't "buy," he invests. He invests in a product that is sold on its enviable reputation of dependable service and long mileage—a tire with a 25,000-mile reputation.

Ryan Monoplane Will Bring Cotton Machine Man Here

A Ryan monoplane of the type that carried Lindbergh safely across the Atlantic ocean will bring Joe Hart of the Hart Cotton Machine Company, Chickasha, Oklahoma, to Memphis today to attend a farmers cooperative gin meeting here at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Hart is scheduled to arrive this afternoon, according to P. Van Smith, Hart salesman in this territory, but may not leave Chickasha until Friday morning if weather conditions are unfavorable.

As soon as the weather becomes more settled Hart will attempt to break the world's air endurance record. He will take off at Chickasha alone in his effort to stay in the air longer than any other human.

Mrs. Wheat Selected As Maid of Honor At UCV Convention

Mrs. W. L. Wheat, prominent society matron and tireless U. D. C. worker, has received advice that she has been selected maid of honor of the official staff of J. M. Hartsfield, commander of R. E. Lee Camp, United Confederate Veterans, for the reunion in Little Rock May 8-11. The letter to Mrs. Wheat from Mr. Hartsfield at Fort Worth read in part as follows: "This is to advise that I have selected you as one of my official staff as maid of honor for our reunion in Little Rock May 8-11, 1928 and hope you will accept the position as your name was given me by Mrs. E. W. Bounds of this city who is past State Commander of Texas."

GET RID OF RATS BY COMMUNITY COOPERATION

When rats are known to hide and nest in large numbers in piles of lumber, sacked grain, hay or straw stacks, corn shocks, trash piles, and the like, an excellent means of destroying them is to inclose such places with a portable rat proof fence, throw out the straw, lumber or other material, and kill the rats with clubs or by the aid of dogs. Rat hunts are often organized in rural communities, or rat-killing contests between rival teams, organizations, or communities are arranged, which result in large kills and furnish excellent sport to the participants. Although the control of rats is largely an individual problem, rat infestation has a serious effect on the whole community, and organized effort is highly desirable. A man who allows rats to increase on his property until they menace the entire neighborhood, or a city dump which serves as an incubator for hordes of the pests, become matters of public concern. The elimination of rats from a whole community can best be accomplished only by the organized effort of all the citizens. Organized anti-rat campaigns are increasing in popularity and are becoming the regular program not only in many municipalities and counties, but also in whole states. Such campaigns are of great value from economic, educational, and sanitary standpoints. Assistance in planning, organizing, and prosecuting organized anti-rat campaigns will gladly be given by the Biological Survey, U. S. department of agriculture, in the form of direct aid whenever practicable, by an expert for campaigns of large scope, or by furnishing plans, general instructions, publicity material, and sample posters.

DENVER WILL SERVE PRIZE HEREFORD STEER IN DINERS

Choice cuts from the grand champion Hereford steer of the Fort Worth Fat Stock show will be served in Fort Worth and Denver dining cars soon, according to information received by J. J. McMicken, local Denver agent. The railroad bought the steer at the close of the show for 51 cents a pound.

Mr. McMicken has received the following letter from F. V. Daggett, general passenger agent at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 29, 1928.

Mr. J. J. McMicken, Agent, Memphis, Texas.

Dear Sir: For your information will advise that at the Fat Stock show our company purchased grand champion Hereford steer entered by the Oklahoma A. & M. college at purchase price of 51 cents per pound.

Choice cuts from this grand champion will be served in our dining cars with appropriate notice appearing on our menus to that effect.

Some Inside Information

By U. S. Department of Agriculture

Fly time is here again. The common housefly is perhaps the most hated of all summer pests. It is not only annoying, it is actually dangerous to health. The presence of flies is an indication of uncleanness, insanitary conditions, and improper disposal of manure and other substances in which they breed.

Good seed is one of the determining factors in the production of maximum crops of potatoes. Good seed can not be produced unless the growing plants are well cared for and the strain of seed planted was a good one. Seed may be improved by the removal of all diseased, weak, or off-type plants as soon as they are observable.

Contrary to a common impression that shelter belts and windbreaks sap and shade the land and reduce crop yields, forest investigators have found that lines of trees as a rule pay for themselves in increased productivity of the fields they shelter from drying winds, from extremes of heat and cold, and from the violence of severe winds. These benefits extend into the field to leeward for 10 to 15 times the height of the trees.

Thousand of poultry farmers lose large sums of money simply because they do not hatch their pullets early enough to begin laying in time for the high prices during the fall and early winter months. Eggs are highest in price from August to January. In order to take advantage of these high prices, pullets should be hatched about six months prior to the middle of October in the case of Leghorns, and about seven months prior in the case of the heavier breeds.

Dairy cows when freshening sometimes suffer from the trouble known as congested udder. If the cow is at all feverish or the udder hard and congested, give her a pound dose of Epsom salt. If Campaigning against tuberculosis in farm animals has been an important activity of the state and Federal livestock sanitarians for about ten years. In another ten years, of similar progress, veterinarians in the U. S. department of agriculture believe, a decisive victory will have been recorded, practically every herd of cattle in the country where tuberculosis exists will have been tested, reactors eliminated, tuberculous animals will be rare, and the final stages of TB eradication will consist largely in retesting doubtful herds and locating infected premises. Meantime increasing attention must be paid to the presence of tuberculosis in flocks of poultry and herds of swine.

As an instance of the great damage that can be done by animal as small and apparently insignificant as mice, figures may be cited from a report to the Biological Survey of the U. S. department of agriculture from the leader of its rodent-control work in California, showing the startling losses due to mice in grain warehouses in the work in California, showing the startling losses due to mice in grain warehouses in the Sacramento Valley. The aggregate losses during the past year, according to the report, were not less than $100,000. In one warehouse 10,000 gunny sacks, worth 14 cents a piece, had to be used to resack grain at the time of shipment in spring. The loss of grain, labor, etc., in addition to the bags, amounted in this one warehouse to more than $5,000. The mice cut through the bags and carried off the burlap for nests, besides eating or wasting the grain. In moving 1,500 bags each day the men considered it lucky to find 100 bags that required no mending.

Aid Success

Candles have lighted the path of Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall of New York (above) to success. She uses $10,000 worth of them a year to light the tables in her coffee houses and attributes much of her success as an outstanding American business to their mellow light. She started 20 years ago when 40 years old and now controls two corporations doing a gross business of more than $3,000,000 annually. Mrs. MacDougall doesn't believe in business for women unless they are forced into it, as she was, to support her three small children.

Give the new born calf attention as soon as it arrives. Sometimes a silny membrane covers its nose. If this is the case, remove it so that the calf can breathe more easily. Usually the cow will dry the calf, by licking it. If she does not do this, dry it with straw or some other material. The calf should have the first milk, or colostrum, which is very beneficial to the calf for cleaning out its system and in aiding the organs to start functioning properly. To guard against navel infection, apply tincture of iodine to the calf's navel soon after birth.

One hundred and eighty-five hens on the Padgett farm laid 2,724 eggs last month, an average of 87 a day. These he sold at 20 cents for $45.40. His total production cost was $3.75, leaving a profit of $41.65.

Rayburn's Remarks

When the ego goes up Christ goes down in proportion.

The worst old reprobate in your county wants religion occasionally. If his wife dies he wants her to have a Christian funeral. He calls in the preacher and wants a hymn or two sung and a prayer said. He thinks religion is useful only in emergencies.

Give all your strength and energy to this world if you want to, but some day the world is going out from under you as sure as you're a foot high. The worldly fellow isn't as good business man as he thinks he is. His idea of values is distorted.

Lots of fellows don't care for religion because of pure laziness. "I don't believe," is the creed of the lazy man. He couldn't tell you two things about the Bible if he had to. He's just too lazy to care anything about religion. Why, if some folks would think for 15 minutes they'd have a headache all day.

Men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil. Show me a man who doesn't want to have anything to do with the Bible and I'll show you a man with an evil secret hidden in his heart. Show me a man who wants to steer away from the Good Book and I'll show you a reason for it.

Christ's gospel has a right to be preached and every man's soul has a right to be saved.

PROMINENT DEMOCRATS REVOLT AGAINST OLD DRY LEADERSHIP

BY GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Tex., April 12 (UP)—"Revolt in the Desert" describes the Democratic situation in Texas. The phrase was suggested in Governor Moody's harmony speech at Dallas. He said that even the Sahara looks as wet as the Gulf of Mexico to some prohibitionists.

The revolt against old dry leaders is certainly under way. The banner of a new leadership has been hoisted and the revolters are taking the offensive.

Whether Tom Love, old leader, will fight it out or, like many others, swing onto the band wagon, remains to be seen. Past history indicates that Love will not pass under the yoke. Once at a state Democratic convention held in San Antonio he was seemingly as badly beaten as at present. It was so acute that newspapers cartooned him stripped of political power and emerging barelegged in a barrel from the shadow of the Alamo. This time if the new leaders remain in their present frame of mind, Love will find no convenient barrel.

First came a broadside from State Chairman D. W. Wiley, challenging Love to a court test of the precinct pledge, which Attorney General Pollard had told Murrell Buckner of Dallas was beyond the power of the state committee.

Another broadside is about to be delivered. The cannon this time will be loaded with the report that Love has been maneuvering to coalesce the ultra-drys and the remnant of the Ku Klux Klan.

At first the harmony meeting had much the effect of an oil painting viewed too close. In the better viewpoint of distance its outstanding points are:

1—Dan Moody became the active as well as titular head of the Texas Democrats.

2—Bolting which has become almost popular pastime in the party since the Butte-Ferguson campaign is to be barred in the future.

3—The harmonizers in their resolutions differ from the Constitutional Democrats principally in dropping "only" from the declaration that they will support those who in turn support prohibition. The harmonizers are also less insistent upon declaration for state enforcement of dry laws.

Harper Kirby, who again signs himself as chairman of the Constitutionalists, after considerable doubt as to his status with the Love-Johnson organization, points out that both these differences favor Al Smith—that the New York governor can qualify under the harmony resolutions.

Why he considers that a discovery is not apparent. Governor Moody, who prepared the harmony resolutions, had previously announced that he did not propose to bar a man by inuendo any more than he proposed to do so by name.

On the other hand, some of the Constitutionalists claim to see in the governor's action his "conversion" to their way of thinking. George Armistead, postmaster at San Antonio under the Wilson administration, hails Moody as joining their ranks. In this connection it is pointed out that Moody's call for an anticraft crusade fits Senator Walsh of Montana. It also fits Moody. The Dallas meeting served, as Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, Austin editorial writer, delights to say, in bringing National Democratic Committeeman Jed Adams "into the picture." Adams heretofore has been in the background. His Dallas speech showed that he, too, has the old politicians' belief that any movement ought to have some candidates. He suggested Jesse H. Jones. Outside of the apparent lack of any desire on Jones' part to be a candidate there is the more forceful objection that the Democrats are well satisfied to have Jones remain as treasurer for the organization and take care of whatever difficulties arise.

Adams passed over Governor Moody with the statement that Moody had said he would not accept a place on the national ticket. If Moody ever said that, his friends here aver, Adams has keener ears than most people. When asked for a definite statement this week the governor declined to comment one way or the other on what Adams had said on this point. So far, it is apparent that the governor is just as adverse to instructing against himself as instructing against any visitor to the Democratic national convention.

Whether the declarations of the harmony meeting were so strong that they damage Smith's chances of getting the 40 votes from Texas is another political problem. Many Smith adherents apparently think so. Calls for Smith rallies at once began to appear after the Dallas harmony meeting.

Others are apparently willing to sit steady in the boat and let things rest as they are. It is significant that Former Postmaster General A. S. Burleson did not accept an invitation to address a Smith rally in Dallas. Burleson was one of the group of prominent Texas Democrats who first declared for Smith. Burleson said he is "still as strong for Smith as ever," and believes Smith is the only one who can be elected. He said he declined the Dallas invitation because he is "out of politics."

Pat Neff apparently is "out of politics" too. Former Governor Sayers sent a message of cooperation to the Dallas harmony meeting; Former Governor Hobby helped call it, attended and accepted a vice chairmanship. Former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson with a woman's intuition was the first former governor to announce for Smith and now Former Governor Jim Ferguson has followed her lead. Neff is the only former governor of Texas, alive, who has not taken a stand. Rumors are current that he will join the harmony faction if the campaign gets warm.

Those seeking to allay fears of Al Smith's nomination took occasion at Dallas to point out that Governor Hobby's administration put over prohibition in Texas.

Aside from its bearing on the presidential candidacies, the new rule the Democrats are going to enforce against bolters from the party will have a significant effect on some other races. For instance, it has been the practice of many Democrats in the fourteenth congressional district to vote for the Republican congressman, Harry Wurzbach.

Ordinarily it would seem presumptions for a candidate to announce against a congressman whose district had just been given the biggest federal gift by congress—the army's biggest flying field. But with the party pledge and the possibility that there may be a Democratic swing in national affairs, County Judge Augustus McCloskey of San Antonio will try to beat Wurzbach.

Whom Do You Know with More?

Andrew Koger, Council Bluffs, Iowa, carpenter, claims the record for twins. He is the father of the four sturdy sets shown above, five of whom are boys and three girls. In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Koger are the parents of three other children born singly. The children in the picture are, left to right: Jeanette and Jean, Floyd and Lloy, Addie and Abbie, and Clyde and Claude.

As for Mr. Tunney's belief, he can aid in upholding Mr. Rickard's reputation if he will just prove he is an attraction. At least, one-half the headliner he believes himself to be.

Of course, Gene realizes this next fight will not be any dazzling affair and that it may prove a flop insofar as the millionaire owners of the Garden are concerned. But he says he packed 'em in before —and it is up to him to pack 'em in again.

For the sake of Mr. Rickard, we have half a hope that he is correct.

The boys are about to start their annual baseball campaign, and among several American League clubs there exists a feeling that the New York Yankees will not be the all-powerful club of last year.

This belief comes from the fact that the Yanks took it on the well known chin nearly every day in spring training competition. Winning spring training games does not help out in the October standings, but such a practice is not one that should be indulged in too often. It might prove contagious.

The Yanks, despite these innumerable spring defeats, remain the class of the league. It is difficult to see how any team can head them off once the season opens. They should get going about April 12, and keep going.
And if they don't—just about every expert in the business will have to admit that this business of experting is almost trying occupation.

WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

Womack's Grocery Climbs to Prominent Place Among Retail Stores in Less Than Four Years

A. Womack's Grocery, corner of Fifth and Noel streets, is classed among the younger business institutions of Memphis, but it is "healthy beyond its years." In less than four years it has taken its place among the leading grocery stores in the city and its trade continues on an upward trend.

Mr. Womack founded the store August 23, 1924 at the present location. The store has always stocked a complete line of staple and fancy groceries amounting to a total of upwards of $3,000. A delicatessen service is offered customers in Womack's stock of fresh cold meats and lunch meats, which is kept always fresh in a commercial size Frigidaire.

Fast delivery is offered city customers. Four regular deliveries are made daily and two trucks stand ready throughout the day for rush calls.

"We have undertaken from the start," Mr. Womack said, "to operate a clean store and one that would be renowned for its service to customers. We feel that the splendid response to our efforts indicates that we have succeeded in a measure."

Womack's Grocery enjoys considerable country trade. It is one of the largest purchasers among local retail stores, of country produce in the city.
