One and seventy-six one dredths inches of rain fell in Memphis last Friday and Saturday, it is shown in the report of weath-er observer J. J. McMickin. On Friday night 1.60 inches fell and Saturday .16 of an inch of moisture was added.

Reports indicate that the rain was general over a large portion of the county, doing good in some sectors and necessitating more replanting in others. The heaviest rains fell in the northwest part of the county, it is believed.

 $G_{eve}^{\mbox{\scriptsize eTTYSBURG},\ \mbox{Pa}\ -\ \mbox{On}\ \mbox{the}}$  the eve of independence Day in 1863, the fields of Gettysburg ran crimson with the blood of Union and Confederate soldiers who had met, neighbor against neighbor, in America's war of the states.

July 4, 1938, will tell a far more pleasant story. And Gettysburg will have become a symbol of everlasting peace within the country's boundaries.

. . . To the site of President Lincoln's memorable address comes President Rooseveit, under circumstances more encouraging than that which faced the 'great emancipator" 75 years

On July 3, the President will dedicate the Eternal Light peace emorial to be unveiled on Oak Ridge. He will kindle the flame to burn forever on the crest in dedication to inter-state peace and in memory of the blue and gray clad boys who died in the battle of Gettysburg.

The memorial, built at a cost of $60,000, is raised on a rectangular base with two sets of stairs, leading up to the flamecapped towir, at each side of the platform. Surrounding the monument is a park lined with trees and shrubbery.

Veterans of the Civil War are returning to Gettysburg for the celebration as guests of the state of Pennsylvania and the nation. They occupy a tent city, reminiscent of their wartime camps. Only 8000 of them are now alive and many will be unable to attend. But those at home will hear portions of the program by radio.

The average age of these veterans is 92 years. But increasing age has brought increasing satisfaction, and the reunion of Confederate and Union forces presents a picture of tolerance born of experience. Supplementing the dedication is a colorful program. On July 4 the U. S. Army will stage a show of modern warfare on the very meadows where the boys in gray surged to the attack in Pickett's charge against the

Notice Candidates!

The Democrat wishes to announce that the regular issue of July 15th will include a "Political Section" wherein candidates' display advertising will be prominently featured. Candidates for county, district and state offices will find the advertising columns of this issue very effective as a climax to their race, in the July Primary.

The Pioneer Edition, to be issued the afternoon of July 21st, also offers candidates a splendid opportunity to add a "last minute punch" to their campaign.

Come in, or write, today for quotations on our advertising rates. . ... don't pass up a chance to reach a maximum number of voters at so little cost.

Panhandle will enter into a new phase on July 1, when all demonstration projects change from an operations to a maintenance basis, H. H. Finnell, director of the Soil Conservation Service in this region, said today. This change is in conformity with the original plan adopted when erosion control demonstration projects were set up throughcut the United States, Mr. Finnell explains. When projects were set u pthroughout the United States, Mr. Finnell explains. When projects were established, farmers entered into five-year agreements with the Soil Conservation Service to cooperate in setting up complete conservation program on their farms.
