CALIFORNIAN ON WAY TO CLAIM FIVE BODIES

Certain Victims Are Members of Brother's Family

ROSEVILLE, Calif., Nov. 30.—R. U. Noakes will leave for Pennsylvania today to claim the bodies of five persons found dead near Carlisle.

He is convinced they are his brother, Elmo J. Noakes, his brother's three daughters and niece, Winifred Pierce.

Policeman William Elem said clothing on the bodies check with family's and that Miss Pierce had a deformed foot similar to the dead woman's.

Elem said that Roseville police are positive the bodies are those of the Noakes family.

The reason for the five deaths remained a mystery.

Young Mother To Make Plea For Her Five-Day-Old Baby

'Though the Cock Crow Early, We Will Never, Never, Frenchmen Be!'

The Saar, rich coal and iron territory between Germany and France, is seething with political activity aimed at winning the people in next January's plebiscite. They will decide then whether to cast their lot with Germany or France, or remain under a League of Nations commission, as at present. Above is a group of German Nazi propagandists with a placard asserting (as translated in the heading over the picture) that despite any efforts of the French government, Saar citizens will never be French.

The tearful pleas of a young mother for her five day old baby boy will be heard this afternoon by Hall county officials in one of the strangest cases ever to come up before local officials.

Between sobs, the young mother has admitted that the "Mystery Baby" discovered early Sunday morning beneath a house in the north part of Memphis is hers, and is now heart-broken at the loss of her baby. This afternoon she will plead with local officials for the child that she deserted for dead a few minutes after its birth.

Closed Hearing Because of the condition of the mother and the nature of the case, the hearing this afternoon will be behind closed doors, with only local officials and immediate relatives of the mother present. No charges had been filed against the young mother this morning, and the possibilities of charges of child desertion, attempt to murder or other complaints will be pending the outcome of this afternoon's hearing.

The tiny five-pound baby boy was discovered beneath the house of R. D. Starkey at 517 North Fifth street at about two o'clock Sunday morning a few minutes after it's birth. The little unclad body was left lying on the almost frozen ground on the north side of the house where it was born, and when carried to a local hospital was suffering from exposure and lack of medical attention.

At noon today attending nurses at the Memphis Hospital where the baby has been since Sunday morning reported that the little tot was "still doing just fine" and is the "cutest little thing you ever did see." From 35 to 50 calls have been received at the hospital almost every day since Sunday inquiring about the baby and how he is getting along, with dozens coming to the hospital hoping to see him. Numerous inquires have been made about adopting him, but no formal applications for adoption have been filed.

And if the young mother succeeds in her tearful plea for her baby this afternoon, there will be no adoption—and the little "mystery baby" will be cared for by his own mother.

Upholds Conviction Of Urschel Kidnap

DENVER, Nov. 30.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the conviction of Harvey Bailey as the kidnaper of Charles F. Urschel. Bailey is now confined in Alcatraz prison. The court's action approving Bailey's life sentence upheld the constitutionality of the Lindbergh kidnap law. It was the law's first test.

'Gorgeous Show' Marks London Royal Wedding

LONDON, Nov. 30.—In the grandest, most gorgeous show London has seen in many years, beautiful Princess Marina of Greece became the bride yesterday of the Duke of Kent, King George's handsome youngest son. A half million persons who packed this staid old city to the chimney-tops roared cheer after cheer at the young couple, parading in glittering processions from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey and back, plighted their troth in two separate ceremonies.

Feverish, happy excitement—not at all blighted by early morning rain, fog and mist—gripped the capital from the moment Marina, waking early, peeped out between the curtains of her Buckingham Palace suite until shouting throngs saw the newly-weds off for their country honeymoon.

The mood of merry-making still held the city last night and the spirit of carnival reigned at all London's places of amusement as the royal honeymooners sought which took the bridal pair, the

Man, Woman Held In Hamilton Hunt

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—A man and a woman were in technical custody today as federal agents, police and sheriff's officers combed the nation for John Hamilton and Mrs. Helen Gillis, diminutive widow of George "Baby Face" Nelson.

Mystery surrounds both the raid in which the pair was seized and the reason for retaining them.

H. H. Clegg, rushed here from Washington to work with Melvin H. Purvis, head of the local office of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, was prompt in denying that the two were really Hamilton, only living lieutenant of the Dillinger gang, and Nelson's widow.

The two were taken into custody by state's attorney's police who gave out their names as Charles Gideon, 21, Loveland, Okla., and Miss Opal Caton, of Chicago. The man was apprehended just after alighting from a St. Louis bus and the woman was in a car outside the union bus station waiting for him.

The police withheld comment about the man, but excited witnesses at the time of the raid declared federal agents were on the scene.

Not since the feverish last days of Dillinger, when every corner of the nation was under scrutiny, has there been such a masked search as came on the trail of the shooting Tuesday by Nelson, a male companion believed to have been Hamilton and his wife.

Nelson's nude, torn body was found yesterday in a ditch on the northern fringe of Chicago. Reports persisted that when the agents found Nelson's fingerprints yesterday, on the government car in which his two companions carried (Continued on page 5)

That led to the publication of the story. Cathay had to make a gesture of suing for libel. He did not realize what would inevitably happen. The newspaper would start checking into his past.

"When that happened the men were in a panic. And there, gentlemen, is where we must give a tribute to Morden. Perhaps he stumbled upon the information. Perhaps he reasoned it out. I wish that I knew. I never will know. If he reasoned it out, he had the brain of a marvelous detective.

"We know that Morden took a taxicab. That he went to Ninth and Central. That he went to Shillingby's office and asked question. Undoubtedly, Morden was shadowed. That trip cost him his life. The conspirators were in a panic. It was decided that Morden must die.

CARLETON KENDRAKE

CHAPTER XLII Griff completed his statement to Captain Mahoney of the homicide squad. "I admit," he said, "that I cut a little fine, but I thought that when I told Fisher of the arrest of Kenneth Boone and of the girl who was known both as Esther Ordway and Alice Lorton, I would account for his time for at least an hour."

"Then he didn't go to see Mrs. Malone at all?" asked Bleeker. "Of course he didn't," Griff said. "He wanted to try to get some message through to the girl who was arrested and he wanted to arrange to secure counsel who would get her out on habeas corpus before she could make too many damaging statements."

"Then," Bleeker said, "Fisher must have just been leaving Miss Mockley's room instead of going to it when we saw him there in the hotel."

"Of course," Griff said. "Fisher had just drilled her on the story she was to give if she was questioned. Then he saw us coming in. Naturally he wanted to make sure that we were on the trail of the girl and also that he was present when she told her story."

"And Fisher was really the accomplice of Peter Malone?" Captain Mahoney asked.

"Yes," Griff said. "Peter Malone embezzled more than $25,000 from the Second Security Trust of El Paso, Texas. That was more than 20 years before. He ran away and left a wife and daughter. The wife subsequently divorced him. She came to this city. In the meantime Peter Malone had gone to Riverview, taken the name of Frank B. Cathay, posed as a business man who had sold out interests in South Africa and therefore had some cash to invest. His accomplice, whom we knew as Fisher, naturally shared in his resulting prosperity. The two men became prominent in Riverview. They had the secret of their past locked safely in their own breasts. Then Mrs. Malone happened to make the discovery that her husband was a Riverview millionaire. Immediately she commenced to participate in his wealth and so did her daughter who had been going under the name of Alice Lorton. That should have given Fisher a clew, but apparently it did not. Mrs. Malone had married a man by the name of Lorton after she obtained her divorce from Malone. She, therefore, had no legal claim upon Malone's estate. It was a question of blackmail, pure and simple. The daughter, however, was in a different position. She had some legitimate claim."

"Then," Mahoney asked, "the marriage of Cathay was legal?" "Yes," Griff said. "Mrs. Cathay is really his wife, although she did not know it. She knew enough of his past history to realize that he had probably left a wife. She knew his real name and knew that the wife's first name was Blanche. When Cathay died she moved heaven and earth to try to find Mrs. Blanche Malone and some sort of deal with her so that the scandal wouldn't come out, and so that Mrs. Cathay could get at least a substantial part of the estate."

"And Mrs. Malone wouldn't settle?"

"No. She had been carefully coached by Fisher."

"How was that?"

Griff said, "Perhaps I had better explain from the beginning. The two men embezzled money. They became respected citizens in Riverview. Then the bank employed Shillingby to investigate Mrs. Malone.

"I shall continue to refer to the real Malone as Cathay, because that is the name under which we knew him. Mrs. Malone reported to Cathay that Shillingby was making an investigation and naturally Cathay thought Shillingby had uncovered the secret of his past and was going to threaten him with exposure.

"Cathay's appearance had, of course, changed in the 20 odd years since he had been guilty of the embezzlement, a fact upon which he decided to capitalize. He talked it over with Fisher and they agreed that Shillingby must be killed before he could capitalize upon his information.

"In any event, it was agreed that Cathay was to kill Shillingby. In order to do that, however, he wanted first to have an alibi as Cathay. Second, to have it appear that Shillingby had been killed by a gangster. Therefore, Cathay, posing as another gangster, employed Shillingby to shadow the most dangerous gangster he could think of. He picked upon "Cincinnati Red" Lampson.

"Lampson had a gray Cadillac coupe with a dented life rear fender. Cathay secured a duplicate of such a car, kept it stored at a place near Lampson's headquarters. When Shillingby had shadowed Lampson to his neighborhood, Cathay drove up to the curb. Shillingby, recognizing the man who had employed him, naturally was not suspicious. It gave Cathay an opportunity to shoot him and escape. "And Decker," asked Bleeker, "the man who was a witness?" "Was an innocent cog in the murder machine. Of course, Cathay needed a witness who could testify to the gray Cadillac coupe. So he trailed Shillingby, who was trailing Lampson, until a pedestrian was encountered. Then Cathay worked his prearranged plan. He tried to keep his face concealed, but a chance gust of wind blew back the brim of his hat and gave Decker a glimpse of his features.

The Democrat, Nov. 30.—A sharp decline in building permits is reported for October, according to the 38 Chamber Secretaries through the University of Business. Reported with September of $2,050,254 representing an increase of 69 per cent. October last year 99 per cent. The increase over the same period compared were: 1933—Reaumont, Brownwood, Corsi, Del Rio, Fort Worth, Jacksonville, La., Lubbock, Palestine, Snyder, Sweetwater, Waco.

Dalhart Woman Church Member For 80 Years

DALHART, Nov. 30.—Probably the oldest Methodist in Texas is Mrs. Martha Rogers, who has been a member of the church for 80 years.

She was but 12 years old when she joined the church at Jacksonville. She was present when the Vernon district conference was founded in 1889.

In the number of sermons she has heard since then, the 92-year-old woman takes great pride. The number exceeds 6,000, not counting prayer meetings, which she attends regularly.

During the last conference year, she heard 125 sermons. Every summer she goes to three or four revival meetings.

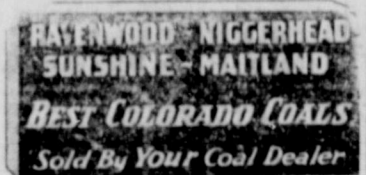

A long letter of felicitations from the Northwest Texas Conference of Methodist churches, just closed at Abilene, was received by Mrs. Rogers.

She is the oldest member of the Northwest Texas conference, having been in it longer than any other member. She has been a reader of the Southwest Advocate for 78 years of the 81 years it has been published.

The Rev. George T. Palmer, pastor of the M. E. church, South, here, has been a friend of hers since he held his first charge at Wheeler 23 years ago. She has known Bishop H. A. Boaz, Fort Worth, presiding officer of the Northwest Texas Conference, for more than a quarter of a century.

Her home is at McLean. Recently she came here to visit her grand-daughter, Mrs. G. A. Swanson.

SEEKS BEAUTY QUEEN TITLE AT WTSTC

Eight Girls Vieing For Panhandle Honors

Special to The Democrat CANYON, Nov. 30.—The cream of the beauties of the West Texas State Teachers college passed in review before a general assembly of the student body in Canyon Tuesday morning. Each contestant for the title of college queen was represented first by a manager who is allotted time pointed out the outstanding qualities of his queen.

The spice of Ben Bernie and Bing Crosby, intermingled with the philosophies of the ancients, was utilized by the managers in their search for words to express the beauty of their wares. Some "said it with song," others with flaring banners and a typical soap-box oration. Each manager was a convincing salesman in his own way, revealing with the parting curtain, the reason for his unique discourse.

The contest is now in full swing with the following candidates with their managers trying to secure the coveted place: Lucyle Blair, Spur, J. C. Baker, Canyon, manager; Elizabeth Jameson, Shamrock, Stanley Williams, Amarillo, manager; Frankie Dodson, Lockney, Ezell Champion, Canyon, Manager; Vera Goodwin, Hagerman, N. Poultry and Egg Shipments Slow

Special to The Democrat AUSTIN, Nov. 30.—Poultry and egg shipments from Texas are normally light during October, and although this year is no exception, interstate shipments totaling 44 cars were considerably larger than the 29 cars shipped during October last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Poultry shipments amounted to 21 cars, against twelve last year, and egg shipments were 23 and

Hungary Charged In Assassination On Three Counts

By Associated Press GENEVA, Nov. 30.—An indictment charging Hungary in connection with King Alexander's assassination was deposited Wednesday with the League of Nations by the Belgrade government.

A memorandum revealed that Yugoslavia deems Hungary's responsibility in three ways—the choice of the criminals was made on Hungarian territory; the criminals were permitted to leave Hungary freely and were provided with Hungarian passports; the assassinations were the result of terrorist action inspired and aided during the year on Hungarian soil.

The memorandum said "the Marseille crime is the natural culmination of conspiracy against Yugoslavia for long time, organized and nurtured abroad."

Says Germany Is Building Strong Army Air Force

By Associated Press LONDON, Nov. 28.—Winston Churchill, Conservative party leader, declared in the House of Commons that Germany has a military air force rapidly approaching equality with Great Britain. He added that English defense forces were inadequate.

The statement was made as Churchill opened a defenses debate in parliament. He urged the British to put themselves in a position of security.

He said, "Germany is rearming on land and sea, but air rearmament is what concerns us. Germans are mostly friendly and there is no reason to think they will attack us. But under the Nazi regime the decision of only a handful of men is required to launch an attack."

We might thank the doctors for prolonging our lives, on the average, but on the other hand imagine paying taxes so much longer.

Cyclone Reaches Bi-District Grid Champions

Swamps Matador, 33 to 13, Before 3,000 Fans Here

Striking early and suddenly, the Memphis Cyclone continued its touchdown parade yesterday afternoon at Fair Park stadium to sweep aside the Matador Matadors, 33 to 13, in the District 4-B championship battle.

A crowd of between 2,500 and 3,000 spectators shivered or hugged fires built inside the stadium throughout the contest, although interest in the battle did not lag until the closing minutes.

Led by Co-Captains Jack Norman and Charles Champion, the first a shining offensive light and the latter the power of the defense, the Cyclone struck early and after that were never in danger. The club did not let up on the fight, however, and it was through sheer stubbornness and the playing ability of Co-Captain Blackshear, fullback, that the Matadors pushed over two touchdowns.

The Cyclone defense flashed when flash was needed, however, and twice turned back the invaders inside the five.

If one break went against Ross Springer in the game, another certainly favored him. He took the ball from Norman on an end-around play and raced 15 yards to the two as the gun ending the second quarter sounded. As he neared the sideline, he dived over the goal in an attempt to keep from going out of bounds, but officials ruled he had stepped on the line.

Norman Leads Attack
In the last quarter he and R. Pritchett struggled for possession of one of Norman's tosses behind the Matador goal. They went to the ground, both clinging to the ball, and officials ruled it to be a touchdown.

Norman, with his twisting, side-leaping and stiff-arming runs or substantial gains throughout the game was the outstanding offensive player on the field. Although he did not score, he accounted for most of the Cyclone yards. He was followed closely by the big Blackshear, who played brilliant ball behind inferior support.

Champion led the defense by breaking up numerous plays, some of them before they were well underway, but such players as Springer, McAbee, Bourland, Baskerville and Walker figured outstandingly in the Memphis defense. The Matador cause was led by Clements, Campbell, Morris, Washington, Spencer and J. Willis, a substitute, in addition to the work of Blackshear.

Offers Big Thrill
Although Norman was the leading ground-gainer, it took Springer to offer the greatest thrill of the game. In the final period he came off his left end position on an end-around play, took the ball from Norman, skirted his right wing and dashed at full speed along the east sideline 77 yards to a touchdown. He was never touched by an opponent and outdistanced every pursuer.

Memphis received the opening kick-off, with Grimes taking Springer's kick on his 11 and returning to the 24, and the Cyclone marched on to the initial touchdown. Norman and Deason did the advancing, aided greatly by a 20-yard pass from Norman to Grimes, who was stopped by Webb as he received the toss. However, Walker did the scoring when he took a short toss from Norman behind the goal line. Norman passed to Grimes for the extra point.

Strikes Suddenly
The Cyclone struck suddenly a moment later. Washington took the kick-off on his 25 and returned to the 44, where he fumbled, recovered by Walker of Memphis. Norman shot a nine-yard pass to Grimes and Deason made it a first down on the 31. Norman again took to the air on a 21-yard toss to Springer, who ran out on Matador's seven. On two attempts, Deason plunged over, but he failed to repeat on the try for point.

Blackshear took Norman's kick-off on his 21, returning to the 40. But McAbee smeared the play and a pass was incomplete so the wingman booted to the Memphis 31.

Deep in his own territory and with a substantial lead, Norman gleefully took to the air again, but the effort almost proved cost. R. Pritchett intercepted one of the passes on the Memphis 40 and raced to the 25. He added five more yards and Blackshear twisted through center to the Memphis 11. Spencer, on a reverse, went in the six as then Pritchett, going the other way, gained three yards. Chester Grimes plunged in to stop Blackshear as the two, winning a first down by inches, and the ball went over. Norman kicked out to his 32, and Pritchett, Blackshear and Spencer came right back, reaching the three-yard stripe as the quarter ended.

Hold on Three
Walker and Champion stopped successive plays for yard losses opening the second period and Memphis got possession on the five. Taking the ball here, the high-flying Cyclone went 95 yards to score. Norman made 64 of the yards, once running 21 yards and again 25, but the drive was featured by Deason's 32-yard sprint around left end from the old Statue of Liberty play. Deason plunged the final yard and Norman kicked goal.

After Webb took the kick-off on his 32 and returned to the 42, Matador indicated that she was still a threat. Blackshear and Spencer, on spinners and reverses, went to the Memphis 31, where Springer all but stopped the drive when he tossed Spencer for a 10-yard loss. Blackshear made up for this however, when he passed 10 yards to Washington, who raced 20 yards to a touchdown. Springer's try for point was low.

Springer's "cheater" came a few moments later, after Baskerville had returned the kick-off from his 32 to the 42 and Deason and Norman made first downs. With the ball on the 17, Springer, on an end around, raced 15 yards to the two as the half ended.

No Counters in Third
The third period did not produce a touchdown threat. Blackshear took the kickoff on his 10 and returned to the 19. Washington punted only to his own 36, but the Cyclone failed to gain and Norman passed over the goal line, attempting to shoot to Springer, but the toss was long. Taking the ball on his 20, Blackshear broke through for 14 yards before Washington was forced to punt, which traveled only 16 yards to the Memphis 44.

Norman raced through for 25 yards, but on the next play he fumbled and Washington recovered on his own 24. Washington again punted, kicking to the Memphis 39, and Norman returned to mid-field. The Cyclone failed to gain, however, and the Quarterback punted out of bounds on the Matador five. Washington punted to his 42, after Blackshear had made a first down, and Norman and Deason picked up a first as the third period ended.

Opening the final session, Norman placed the ball in scoring position on the first play when he twisted his way 16 yards to the Matador 14. After Deason reached the 10, Norman passed over the goal to Springer, and the struggle with Pritchett followed. Coaches and officials huddled on the field after it was declared a touchdown, but the decision stood after a short discussion. Norman's toss to Deason for the extra point was too long.

Springer's Long Dash
Taking the kick-off on his 40, Blackshear again led the Matador attack, picking up 35 yards on four plays, and aided by Pritchett and Spencer, reached the nine-yard line. Here he passed eight yards to Washington, who stepped over the goal for a touchdown. Campbell came out of the line to kick goal for the extra point.

As though angered by this drive, the Cyclone came right back with Springer's great run. Grimes took the kick-off on the two-yard line and returned to the 23. Clements stopped Norman for no gain, and then Springer came off the end to take the ball and sprint 77 yards to score. Norman kicked goal to end the point-getting for the day.

However, Matador battled deep into Memphis territory before losing possession just before the game ended. Webb took the kick-off on his 33 and returned to the 41. Blackshear made a first down and then passed 29 yards to Clements to place the ball on the Memphis 11. Here Willis fumbled on a lateral pass and Norman recovered for Memphis. He kicked out to his 26. Blackshear came right back with an 11-yard pass to Spencer, but Swift stopped this drive by intercepting a toss on the four-yard

4 CLUBS REMAIN IN REGIONAL TITLE RACE

Cyclone Meets Golden Tornado; Shamrock, Hereford

By Associated Press
Representatives of the Memphis and Lamesa high schools, school boards and athletic councils were in session this afternoon in Plainview to decide upon the bi-district clash between the two district champions next week-end.

Local representatives declined to make any statement before leaving this morning as to where the game might be played, for they had no idea of what kind of proposition Lamesa might present or what agreement might be reached.

Four Clubs Remain
The meeting was to begin after noon today. Local representatives who were attending the meeting were Henry Gore, Coach Chesty Walker, Art Miller and Zeb Moore.

The battle for Region 1 honors narrowed down to four clubs yesterday, with three battles deciding district champions. Lamesa's Golden Tornado, for two years ruler of the region and the Cyclone's bi-district opponent, sounded another warning to title contenders by demolishing the Ralls eleven, 45 to 7.

Shamrock vs Hereford
Shamrock kept pace in District 2 by drubbing the Panhandle Panthers, 20 to 0, only twice letting that club within the Irishmen's 40-yard zone. Hereford defeated Duram, 6-0, last week in the District 1 battle.

The two bi-district games are expected to be played next Friday, with the winners battling for the highest Class B honors in the Panhandle (the following week-end).

Only two major football teams are unbeaten and untied—Minnesota and Alabama.

Nothing would please Alabama more than to meet Minnesota for the right to romp in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day, but inasmuch as one of the least necessary of the myriad Big Ten rules forbids this, as well as the trip to Pasadena, it is reasonable to suppose that the Crimson Tide will be given the assignment by acclamation.

And this would mean a thumping headache for the Pacific Coast Conference representative, as the good folk of the sunny slope came to realize some years ago.

Alabama's record suffers not a bit when compared with that of any team's—from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Dominion to the gulf.

Every opponent has suffered its worst walloping at the hands of the Tuscaloosa troupe. Against Howard, Sewanee, Mississippi State, Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky, Clemson and Georgia Tech, the relentless Alabamians amassed 253 points, which stands along with above the nation's highest total.

Heads Up, Vanderbilt
Tennessee held the Tide to its closest margin of victory, 13-6, and Fordham, the only other array to repel the Volunteers, was extremely fortunate to eke out a one-point margin.

Tennessee also is the only club against which Alabama failed to score in the initial period. The Neylanders managing to stave off the first Crimson and White touchdown until the opening minutes of the second quarter.

Alabama has it all—material, power, speed, confidence, teamwork, an extensive repertoire of plays, a clicking offense with superlative runners, blockers, and kickers, and a next to impenetrable defense.

Howell to Hutson
Millard (Dixie) Howell, who bids fair to be named as an All-America halfback, usually leads the offense.

Howell runs, passes, and kicks, and is equipped defensively to match. His change of pace baffles the surest tacklers. His punting average exceeds 40 yards. He has completed more than 50 passes, most of them to Don Hutson, who is called the fifth man in the 'Bama backfield, so frequently does he lug the leather.

"Bear" Bryant is a fine junior wing mate of Hutson. Bill Lee, a standout, and Big Jim Whalley, who last year earned three letters as a sophomore, are the tackles. Charley Marr and Bob Ed Morrow are the guards—jobs that had Coach Tomas worried when Hupke and Kirkland graduated. "Kay" Francis is a remarkable center, who should be listed among the greats in 1935.

No Stopping Alabama
Besides Howell, Alabama has Quarterback Riley Smith, Jimmy Angeli and Joe Demyonovich (sounds like Notre Dame, does it not?) to complete what probably is the most versatile set of backs in Dixie. And fleet reservists in Riley and Booser.

Nothing need be said about Alabama's widely publicized Rose Bowl record of two victories and a tie in as many starts.

And prospects for 1935 are already as rosy as the Tide's chance of drawing the Pasadena invitation. Football players seem to grow in Alabama.

REVIEWS OF CURRENT MOTION PICTURES

RITZ

Ronald Coleman made a triumphant return to the screen of the Ritz Theatre last night, after a year's absence from pictures, in "Bulldog Drummond Strikes Back."—and 20th Century could not have chosen a happier vehicle for their new star than this thrill-packed sequel to the delightful "Bulldog Drummond," which brings him back in the characterization most beloved of his fans.

Colman is his old self and the script, which Nunnally Johnson prepared from the latest novel by H. C. McNeile, creator of the dashing adventure, is rich in that suave humor which the star is so excellent at putting across, and the film found an eager, excited and delighted audience at the Ritz.

A blackbird bathes at least a dozen times daily.

PALACE

When the one and only Joe E. Brown takes the part of a duel role in a screen picture, that picture is bound to be almost twice as funny as usual. Such is the case with "Circus Clown" featuring the big-mouthed comedian at the Palace for the last times today.

Joe E. plays the part first as the old-retired circus clown who tries to keep his son from following in his footsteps, and later as the son joins the circus in spite of his father's pleadings.

Once the son gets in the circus, it's impossible to get him out and he has some very amusing situations to face. Of course, he falls in love with a circus girl, Patricia Ellis, after playing the hero in a trapeze act. The circus performances in the picture are good and the comedy the usual good Joe E. Brown type.

Save 70 Children From Home Blaze

GREENVILLE, Nov. 30.—Seventy children in the Boles Orphan home dormitory 15 miles south of here today escaped unharmed when fire started in the basement and spread to the lower floor of the two-story building. A part of the attendants fought the fire while others led the children out. The Greenville department extinguished the fire. Thirteen persons in the home were slightly ill from food poisoning.

Equitable Spread of Relief Work Sought

AUSTIN, Nov. 30.—A more equitable spread of state relief jobs among needy families is the goal of the state Board of Control relief administrators. A five-point program was outlined by the board to accomplish the goal. January 1 was set as the effective date for the campaign, but the new rules may be invoked prior to that if pay roll reductions are necessary.

I hope I'll act until I'm old, but at any rate I'll be working at something.

ried him away after the battle, they also found fingerprints identifying his aides.

Clegg would not admit this today.

"We still do not know who was with Nelson," said the federal agent, sent here to replace the slain Cowley. He said, however:

"Hamilton is the man we're most anxious to find."

Much of the cynicism in the writing and comment of today is a pose, an attempt to be up-to-date.

Pledges Majority Rule for Unions

Declaring that the National Labor Relations Board, of which he is the new chairman, will enforce the majority representation ruling on unions in industrial plants, Francis Biddle, son of a famous Philadelphia family, is shown here as he began his duties in Washington.

Millions Made in War Fail to Buy Peace for Zaharoff

The millions he has amassed by serving the war god can not bring peace to Sir Basil Zaharoff, king of munitions salesmen, in his later years. Back of the high walls of his chateau north of Paris the 82-year-old Levantine armament king lives closely guarded, his finger still on the pulse of his vast business empire. His chateau of Balincourt adjoins the village of the same name, shown in the top picture, all of which he has purchased. At left below is a sign, "Domaine de Balincourt, private road, forbidden to public," which warns visitors from the mammoth estate. Suggestive of Zaharoff's shadowy role in European intrigue is the center photo showing indistinctly the face of Europe's "man of mystery" as he peers through the window of his specially built automobile. At right is a re-creation with one of the vicious dogs that guard the master's privacy.

Alive? Or Dead in Island Mystery?

First reports that the victims of hunger and thirst found dead on a barren Galapagos island were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wittmer, self-exiled Germans, were discounted by Americans who had visited them only a few days before the ghastly discovery, adding to the mystery of the identity of the luckless couple who perished. Above are shown Mr. and Mrs. Wittmer and their two children, as they appeared at their home on Charles Island, February 19.

Harry Joe II Already a Star

Two film notables get only "bit" parts in this act, but how they like it! The star is Harry Joe Brown II, whom his fond papa, the famed film director, is proudly holding, as Mother Sally Eilers stands by. Baby Harry Joe now is 9 weeks old.

Rumored as Mellon Bride-to-Be

Miss Conover, daughter of a physician, divorced Karl Stanley Brown of New York after a brief married life. She is a Vassar graduate.

Saved After Lake Ships Collided

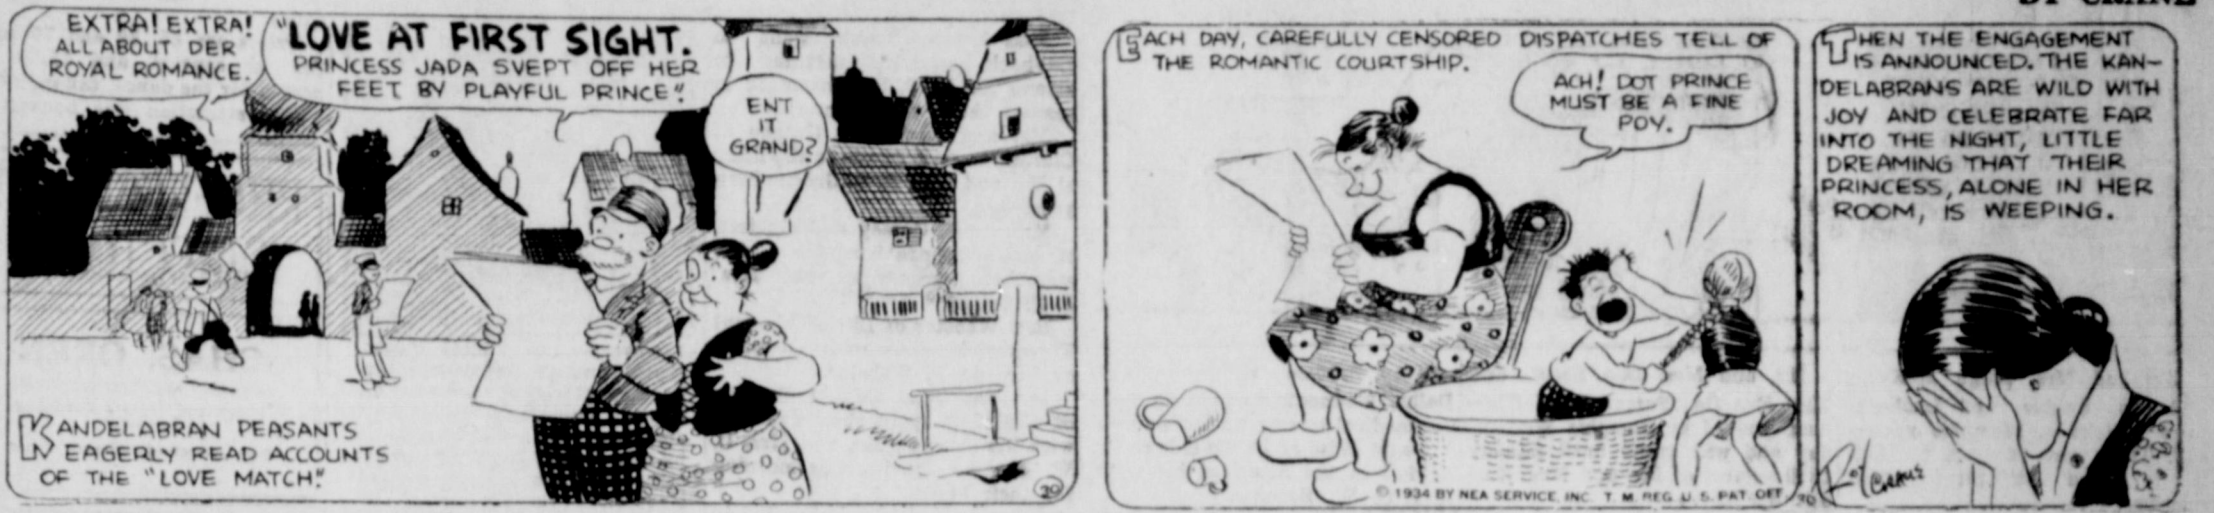

Seven happy survivors of the crew of the W. C. Frans, sunk in Lake Huron after a crash with another freighter, the Edward E. Loomis, are shown here lining the Loomis' rail after she limped into Port Huron, Mich., harbor, badly damaged. The Loomis rescued 16 of the Frans' crew, four perishing after the collision near Thunder Bay, off Alpena, Mich.

The NUT Bros.
CHES & WAL
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
By Gene Ahern

RARE STAMP, PRINTED IN INVISIBLE INK, ISSUED BY NAZOOILIAN GOVT.

I'VE JUST DISCOVERED THAT IT WAS SOME AFRICAN NATIVES WHO BEAT TOM-TOM, THE PIPERS SON.

YEAH, AN' I JUST GOT WORD THAT MRS. VAN WINKLE WAS MAD ENOUGH TO RIP VAN WINKLE UP THE BACK.

COME ON, ONE OF YOU BIDDIES, LAY ME A SCRAMBLED EGG.

THE BAZOZO WHO OWNS THIS VEHICLE OWES ME SOME DOUGH — AN', BOY, AM I PUTTING THE PRESSURE ON HIM!

ONE IN A MILLION

I THINK I'LL SHOVEL THE SNOW OFF IN FRONT OF THIS VACANT LOT, TOO!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By Ahern

HEH — NOW TO GO TO MY ROOM AND CHOOSE WHICH OF THESE COSTUMES I WILL WEAR!

UM-BY JOVE — CAESAR HIMSELF! HAW —

AYE, PETRONIOUS — DURING THE INTERIM, I WILL HAVE BUILT A FLEET, TO CARRY TWENTY LEGIONS AND CONQUER THE BRITONS — AND I, CAESAR, WILL LEAD THE CAMPAIGN!

EGAD — WHAT A NOBLE ROMAN MAKE!

LOOK AT THOSE MUD TRACKS! I SHOULD BED THIS STABLE DOWN WITH STRAW INSTEAD OF CARPETS, FOR THE HOOFS THAT COME IN HERE!

HM-M — AND WHAT'S THIS?

CITIZENS OF ROME! — MIGHTY CAESAR SPEAKS!

WITH MY ARMIES, I WILL MARCH AND CONQUER ALL BARBARIANS! THEY TO BOW TO THE EAGLES OF ROME!

OLD NUTTY UP IN A TREE AGAIN!

AND NOW TO TRY ON THE NAPOLEON COSTUME! — UM-M — BONAPARTE WAS JUST ABOUT MY SIZE — A BIT STOUTISH, BUT WEIGHT OF DIGNITY AND COMMANDING RESPECT!

BY JOVE — WHAT A STRIKING RESEMBLANCE, EXCEPT FOR THE MOUSTACHE! — EGAD, I'LL SHAVE IT OFF!

HAR-R-RUMF-F — THEY SHALL SOON LEARN THAT I AM STILL THE MAN OF AUSTERLITZ, WAGRAM AND MARENGO! — HM-M — GIVE THEM A WHIFF OF GRAPESHOT, MARSHALL NEY!

WHAT! MORE? I'M GOING IN ANOTHER SEE WHAT ALL ABOUT!

FORWARD, HEROIC SOLDIERS, FORWARD — WITH YOUR EMPEROR! THE CANNON BALL THAT WILL HIT ME HAS NOT BEEN CAST!

BEFORE I PHONE FOR THE STRAIGHT-JACKET SQUAD, WHAT'S IT ALL ABOUT, BATTY?

UM-OH-AH — JUST TRYING ON SOME COSTUMES FOR A CHRISTMAS CHARITY PAGEANT I AM GOING TO ATTEND!

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU HOW TO GO! — GET YOURSELF A LONG, WHITE BEARD AND A PILLOW, AND GO AS RIP VAN WINKLE! YOU'LL BE TRUE TO LIFE!

BAH! UMF — EGAD — ST. HELEN COULD BE WORSE THAN HERE!
