WE SAW
 Mr. Middleton, our new boss, had an extempore war about the front office yesterday afternoon that would have R. E. Martin looking to his heels. At first we thought he was practising for the stage, but he revealed that the words were the result of a slip of the tongue when he was running up his pants leg.
 "Pegleg" King must have been for us. If it had not been for his natural agility yesterday morning as we came to work, that darn fellow would have run right over us. And we think he did it on purpose.

Quite a lot of football fans do some Saturday morning quarreling this morning.
 Miss Wayne Sanders doing well at the fireman's banquet the other night. The wonder is how such a little girl can hold so much food.

Everybody smiles this morning as the sun came out again. We hope you me, nothing puts the general public more in the dumps than to do without the sun for a day—even when they need rain. When they do not now, we are sure they will soon.

The usual Saturday crowd was in the city a little earlier than usual this morning. Looks like going to be a big day.
 Whole in Coach "Chesty" Walden's automobile glass that looked as though somebody had been banging at him.
 Splendid demonstration by Memphis Hi pep squad between lives at Shamrock last night.
 Several of the football players training to H. J. Gore this morning because he had no radio in his car.

Raymond Ballew making "Wim-Snentials" as a hamburger this morning.
 Shamrock footballer who confided that "Butter" Bourland is the biggest little man he had ever seen.

THREE INJURED IN CAR CRASH NEAR TURKEY

CYCLONE LOSES TO SHAMROCK 14 TO 0

Both Markers Came From Intercepted Passes

All but blasting the hopes for a conference winner for the Cyclone, a big, bruising Shamrock High School football eleven downed a valiant Memphis team last night on Denver Field in Shamrock by the score of 14-0.

squad by at least 20 pounds or more to the man, the Irishmen experienced much difficulty in winning over the Cyclone, and it might truthfully be said that the game was won on the "breaks."

Twelve hundred football fans shivered in the stands and along the sidelines as the surprising Memphis crew launched a passing attack that could hardly be stopped, the like of which has seldom been seen in Class B grid circles.

Despite the fact that the Shamrock crew had been training intensively the past week to stop the Back and Gold aerial attack, Powers passed time and again to Dvis. Walker and Malone for long gains. All completed passes carried more than twice the length of the field.

To name an individual star of the game would be to name the entire Memphis team—and a part of the Shamrock team. Mills, guard, and Trostle, tackle, starred for the Irish in the line, and Wells and McIntyre were outstanding in the backfield. McIntyre, who has scored over 100 points against conference competition this year, a Shamrock sports scribe said, and almost silenced by the heady Memphis linemen and backers-up. A new star for Memphis developed in Gravis Davis, end who snatched heaves from Powers on several occasions to threaten the Irish goal.

Walker, in the backfield after two weeks on end, made several difficult catches of passes to star for the Cyclone. Malone also looked exceptionally good on the offense. The big stars of the game, however, were Fred Sanders and Capt. Bud McAbee. The two linemen crashed through and threw the heavy Shamrock backs for losses on several occasions. Raymond Powers, quarterback, played probably his best game of the season last night when he shot most of Memphis' 29 forward passes, 11 of which were complete for a gain of approximately 200 yards. Six were intercepted.

Powers was injured late in the fourth quarter when he crashed through to nail an enemy back for an eight yard loss and he did not fully regain his senses until several hours after the game. Adecock played a stellar game, as did the other Memphis guard, Bourland, Grimes and Estes looked good on the defense. Eason, Swift and Scott also turned in good games.

Memphis fans in general were well pleased with the showing made by the Cyclone. The Cyclone fought the Irishmen, who outweighed the locals over 20 pounds per man.

Townsend Visions Triumph

Supremely confident that "we will elect the next Congress and then the chief executive must do our bidding," Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the program to pay $200 monthly to everyone over 60, is shown left as he conferred with C. L. Young, Lewistown, Mont., one of the first delegates to arrive for the organization convention in Chicago. Accommodations were arranged for more than 6000 Townsend Plan disciples, who came from all parts of the country by train, auto, and bus.

DERAILED CAR DELAYS TRAIN

Red Ball Freight Is Held Up 3 Hours In Yards

Red Ball fast freight No. 78 was delayed in this city early this morning for about three hours, when a flat car in the train pulled a drawhead and became derailed.

The car jumped the tracks in the north yards, near the Sixth Street crossing as the south bound freight was pulling into the city.

It took the crew nearly three hours to get the car off the track and rolled onto the right-of-way, out of the way of passing traffic.

PEACE STALEMATE

Authoritative London sources said today that a stalemate had halted the efforts to end the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, and that there was no hope of an early cessation.

The British treasury department ordered financial sanctions against Italy, effective next Tuesday.

The last diplomatic link between Italy and Ethiopia was broken today as the Italian ambassador left Addis Ababa.

PARNELL TEST IS DRILLING

Work Resumed After Big Casing Is Cemented

Drilling has begun again at the Phillips test southwest of Parnell following the cementing-in of 600 feet of 20-inch casing the first of the week, and work will be pushed right along on this test.

Three shifts are being used at the rig, with sixteen men on the job, and the Phillips people apparently want no delay in putting the well down.

The rig, which was not completed when the well was spudded in, has since that time been finished, and everything is in shape for a real test of the oil possibilities of their big block of acreage.

Quite a bit of interest has been raised by this test, which is by far the best equipped even seen in this section, and leases are trading hands daily. We are informed that as high as 340 an acre has been paid for choice leases near the location.

FIRE STILL RAGES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Two thousand weary fire fighters continued their desperate battle to halt the forest fire raging inland toward the Malibu Lake resort on the crest of Malibu Mountain today.

The outbreak of smoldering conflagrations in spotted areas of Los Angeles County added more worry.

TEACHER IS BADLY HURT

Wolf Flat Principal In Hospital With Head Injuries

G. H. Baten, principal of the Wolf Flat school, is in the Standifer Sanitarium at Turkey, in serious condition from injuries received in an automobile wreck near Turkey yesterday afternoon, and his wife and small son received broken bones and lacerations in the accident.

The crash occurred about three o'clock yesterday afternoon, as the Batens were enroute to this city. Their car was struck by one driven by Ralph McCulloch, of Estelline, and both cars were completely wrecked.

The injured were picked up by passing motorists and rushed to the Turkey hospital for medical attention.

Baten is suffering from head injuries, has been unconscious ever since the accident, and was said by attending physicians this morning to be in an extremely serious condition.

His wife, primary teacher at the Wolf Flat school, received a broken wrist and painful cuts and bruises.

Their three-year-old son received a broken thigh and cuts and bruises.

McCulloch, who was in the other car alone, received only cuts and bruises.

The scene of the accident was about six miles this side of Turkey, and the Turkey-Estelline highway. It is reported that Baten pulled far over into the ditch alongside the highway to avoid the McCulloch car, which is said to have been travelling at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred.

We are informed that a criminal complaint will probably be filed today against McCulloch, as a result of the accident.

N. Y. A. Establish Lubbock Offices

The National Youth Administration of Texas recently opened its West Texas District headquarters in Lubbock. This office will carry the program of the NYA into 88 West Texas counties, including Hall County.

As reported to the Memphis Chamber of Commerce by Calvin Hazlewood, assistant NYA director for West Texas District No. 4, the NYA in this section of the state purposes to do everything possible to aid needy young men and women of West Texas. If the program is successful, all of West Texas will benefit.

BRAVERY

THE head on a war article in yesterday's Dallas News attracted our attention as we glanced over the paper, and brought to mind the absurdities often perpetrated by newspaper headline writers.

The article was headed "Italian Airplanes Fly Daringly Over Terrain of Enemy," and went on to tell about the experience of an Associated Press representative who accompanied the Italian air forces over the lines in Ethiopia. "Here and there," the story said, "a puff of smoke indicated that we were being fired on from the ground."

Now, here is the thing which struck in our crew.

Can any of you conceive of any more daring being required in a flight of that kind than would be necessary to ride a plane from Amarillo to Wichita Falls?

The "daring" Italian aviator is equipped with the latest type of war plane. He has two wicked machine guns in the nose of the craft, and a pair mounted in the observer's cockpit. Under his wings he carries a number of bombs. Except for the planes of his companions, he is alone in the sky, for Ethiopia has no air force worthy of the name, and such as it has is being kept close to Addis Ababa, to guard the capital.

Except for "here and there a puff of smoke," which indicated that some native was taking a shot at him with a rifle, the "daring pilot is absolutely unopposed. He flies where he wills and drops his bombs wherever he thinks necessary, then turns around and flies back to his lines.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when Bobby Wallace, automobile salesman, asks Jean to marry him.

At The Golden Feather night club she meets SANDY HARKINS, whose business connection is vague. Sandy introduces Bobby and Jean to MR. and MRS. LEWIS and Bobby arranges to sell some bonds for Lewis. He sells them to Jean's employer.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, long a friend of Jean's parents, is trying to locate WINGY LEWIS, bank robber. Larry locates some stolen bonds and questions SONNY BOYD, gambler, about them. Boyd confesses he bought the bonds from Donald Montague. Montague tells Larry he bought them from Bobby.

Larry talks to Bobby, learns Lewis bought a car recently and suspects it is armored. He sends four of his men to Lewis' hotel.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

FRANK WATSON and Al Peters were waiting outside the entrance to the West Park hotel when Larry drove up. They stepped forward as he got out of his car.

"Tommy and Tommy are inside," said Watson. "Tommy's up at the entrance to the suite, and Tommy is with the manager. The people'd checked out just about 30 minutes before we got here."

The News says "Italian Airplanes Fly Daringly Over Terrain of Enemy." Can you beat it?

The manager says the yacemed to be in a hurry."

"But they were," said Larry. "You did a good job to locate it as soon as you did. We'll go up and look the place over and see what there is to see."

They entered the lobby and crossed to the desk where Tommy Waters was talking with the manager, a worried-looking individual in a morning coat. He looked up as they drew near, and spoke to Larry with petulant concern.

"I hope you'll be able to conduct your investigation quietly," he said. "It would be a bad thing for us to have any publicity about this."

"Yes, I imagine it would," said Larry. "One good way to avoid things like that is to be a little careful about who you rent rooms to."

He took the key which the manager handed him, glanced at the number, said, "You needn't come with us," and led the other agents to the elevator.

They went up and found Tony LaRocco lounging at the apartment entrance. Larry unlocked the door and they all went inside, closing the door after them.

The suite consisted of a large, ornately-furnished living room, two bedrooms, an elaborately-tiled bathroom, and a small kitchenette and dining alcove. Larry looked about him appreciatively.

"They did themselves well, these birds," he said. Tommy Waters nodded.

"Took the place just over three weeks ago, and paid $150 a week for it," he said. "That's according to that fish-eyed manager, anyhow."

They crossed the living room and entered the larger of the bedrooms. It was in disorder. The twin beds were unmade, the drawers of bureau and dressing table stood open, a tray containing highball glasses with the drag still in them stood on a little table between the beds, and a crumpled newspaper lay on the floor nearby. There was a discarded necktie on a dresser, and a crumpled sheet of wrapping paper beside it.

"So much to see here," observed Larry. "Let's look farther."

The bathroom was similarly disordered. The other bedroom seemed not to have been occupied, and was in apple pie order; but the dining alcove table still bore plates and cups with the remains of a meal, and empty bottles stood on the shelves of the little kitchenette.

Larry inspected the alcove table.

"Get for three," he said. "Looks like supper rather than breakfast. Well, we'll soon find out."

LaRocco was inspecting the used glasses and empty bottles in the kitchenette. He looked up to remark, "ome swell print here."

"Good," said Larry. "Get 'em."

LaRocco set out the apparatus from the little bag Larry had brought with him and went to work. Larry continued his inspection of the dining alcove, while the other men explored the living room.

"This stuff came from the kitchen downstairs," he said at last. "They didn't prepare it themselves. Let's get the manager up here."

One of the agents reached for the phone and summoned that individual. He arrived in a few minutes, still wearing his look of apprehensive and injured innocence.

"I want to know when these people last had an order from the kitchen," said Larry. "Find out for me and send up the waiter who served it."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Faced with rising clamor against big federal spending, the Roosevelt administration is planning to pull in its horns and nurse the nickels.

Drastic cuts in personnel budgets, and various projects are expected this winter.

Radiograms from the U. S. S. Houston, bearing general orders from F. D. himself to heads of virtually all departments and emergency agencies, forecast the deflation of the New Deal machine.

Cabinet members and administrators have been asked to prepare studies and data showing how government personnel can be cut to reasonable or normal size with indication that the cutting process will be carried out in December, January and February.

All federal projects (every bureau is building, renovating or refiguring something or other) must be checked as to their status commitments made, and possibilities of curtailment. Budget studies are to be made accordingly.

Some high officials believe the results will be spectacular and have guessed that the reduction of federal personnel may effect savings where from 15,000 to 50,000 federal workers.

First effect is sure to be a general checking of political endorsements of employees. Those whose weak political backing will be chief sufferers.

All week long at matinees in local vaudeville house, a comedy would crack, when a few customers were obliged to leave:

"I hope all the NRA employees won't go home now." It always drew a big laugh.

No one here at this time seems to be privy to Roosevelt's plans but certain previously known facts encourage the deduction from the radioed orders that a cut-in-the-bone drive is in prospect.

The recent shift of Republican attack to expenditures and the heavy administrative machinery will be answered by the economy first, though it cannot be completely averted.

The big test is that Roosevelt is compelled to ask the next session of Congress for much less than the eight billion dollar budget which he demanded last January. Not long ago he was hoping to enter the campaign year with the promise of an actually balanced budget. Perhaps he still does.

Thanks to the relief program, the only way it seems possible to achieve even a technically balanced budget would be to save and store five billion here and there in the present fiscal year.

Budget estimates for the 1936-37 fiscal year could be made on a very low basis with the realization that the Congress convening in January, 1937, could vote further emergency appropriations if necessary.

There's reason to suspect that F. D. may have some such ideas in the back of his head, though the degree of success in taking the government out of relief, the cancer of the WPA program, and business conditions are all pertinent factors.

(Copyright, 1935 NEA Service, Inc.)

The waiter explained that he had served supper for three in the apartment the night before at about 9:30. Two men and one woman were in the party; the woman and one of the men were the people who occupied the suite regularly; the other man was a visitor who frequently came to the apartment but never spent the night there.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

SOMETIMES, in this casual age, it is fun to revere the elegance of the past. So I went to a sumptuous Victorian Tea one day last week, a big party given by a club of women who have been meeting together for the best twenty years. Where they ever found all the high-standing silver cake baskets and glass plates supported by hands and elaborate epergnes is a mystery. But they were all there and filled repeatedly with the best cookies and cakes you ever tasted—hermits, almond cakes, hickorynut macaroons, ginger squares and lady fingers, every one homemade. Nearly every woman there seemed as much interested in the recipes for the cookies as she was in the talk on Victorian Art which was made by the head of a well known art school.

Of course, you don't need the setting to serve the same cakes. Use your simplest but most colorful linen, bright pottery, best silver and nobody will miss the epergnes.

Hickorynut Macaroons
Whites 2 eggs, 1-2 cup pulverized sugar, 1-2 cup chopped nut meats, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat whites of eggs until stiff, beating in sugar and salt. Fold in nuts and vanilla and drop from tip of spoon onto a buttered paper spread over a baking sheet. Bake twenty minutes in a slow oven (300 degrees F.).

Ginger Squares
One cup molasses, 1-2 cup granulated sugar, 1-2 cup shortening, 2 1-2 cups flour, 1 cup boiling water, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add molasses and half the flour.

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Baked pears, cereal, cream, fried green tomatoes, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Celery and rice in egg sauce, toasted muffins, sliced bananas in raspberry gelatin, cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Braised pork chops, scalloped sweet potatoes and apples, creamed cauliflower, stuffed pepper ring salad, grape pie, milk, coffee.

Mix and sift remaining flour with spices and salt. Add 1-2 cup boiling water to first mixture. Add remaining dry ingredients and stir until smooth. Dissolve soda in remaining boiling water and stir rapidly into batter. Add eggs well beaten and turn into a greased and floured dripping pan. Bake thirty-five minutes in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Sprinkle with granulated sugar and cut in small squares or bars before removing from the pan.

This is a good recipe to divide if you only want half as much. Half of it will make a square of about eight inches.

Almond Cakes
Whites 7 eggs, 1 pound powdered sugar, 1 pound shelled almonds, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 table-spoons cocoa, teaspoon vanilla.

Beat whites of eggs until stiff. Put nuts through fine knife of food chopper. Almonds are not blanched. Mix ground nuts and sugar and cocoa and fold into beaten egg whites. Add salt and vanilla and drop from tip of spoon onto a buttered baking sheet. Bake thirty minutes in a slow oven (300 degrees F.). Before baking a whole blanched almond may be pressed in the center of each cake.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

WOODPECKER MAN

TO young stamp collectors, Thoth, Ibis-headed scribe of the gods, measurer of time and inventor of numbers, is best known as the "woodpecker man." He was god of wisdom and magic, mouthpiece of the other gods and arbiter of their disputes. In the judgment hall of Osiris he is presented as weighing the heart out.

And so it is fitting that Thoth should be shown on this stamp, which was issued at the time of the world geographic congress at Cairo, in 1925, as he carves the name of King Fuad of Egypt, who put Egypt's educational work on a modern basis.

ON THE GRIDIRON WITH THE 1925 CYCLONE WONDER SQUAD

Looking through the pages of the 1925 edition of the Sandstorm brings to mind one of the scrappiest, gamest, hardest-hitting squads which ever donned the moleskins for Memphis High, and which blazoned a way across the football skies of the Panhandle a trail which is still talked about when pigskin fans congregate and reminisce.

With but fourteen men on the entire squad, the 1925 Cyclone played seven games during the season, including two games with Class A teams, and won six of the seven contests. In the eight games, the Cyclone rolled up a total of 397 points to their opponents' 59.

Open in Oklahoma

Crossing the state line for the opening game of the season, the Cyclone took on the Hellis squad, touted to be one of the best in western Oklahoma. When the dust settled, the local lads were on the long end of a 13 to 7 score.

Siverton, admittedly a weak team, came here for the Cyclone's second tilt. In the first half the Memphis squad piled up a score of around 50 to 0. Beginning the second half with no particular thought to make the score higher, the boys played around and only tried to keep the visitors from scoring, which was easy. In the last of the third quarter, at the insistence of the crowd, they began scoring again, and then the game was over, the score was 109 to 0. For the third game, the Wellington Skyrockets came over, and when the Cyclone started going places, the Skyrocket looked more like a pin wheel. Suffice it to say that when the battle was over the score was 96 to 0.

A game scheduled with Hedley was forfeited when the boys from the north got a squint at the scores being rolled up by the Memphis squad.

Taming the Bobcats

Invading Childress for the next game, the Cyclone refused to allow themselves to be awed by the advance dope, which was all for the Bobcats, and trounced the kitties, 28 to 7.

Playing their traditional rivals, Clarendon on neutral ground at Hedley, the two squads battled all over the place to a 20 to 20 tie, which was settled in the Cyclone's favor by the toss of a coin.

Getting ambitious, the locals next invaded Pampa for a game with the Class A Harvesters, and bit off the only mouthfull of the season that they couldn't suffer a 13 to 6 defeat at the hands of a much heavier team.

Take Quanah's Measure

Riled by their defeat at Pampa the Cyclone, for the final game of the season, invaded the fair another Class A aggregation. They revenged themselves for their loss of the week before by taking the measure of the opponents 34 to 12.

We ask you, was that a successful season? Or wasn't it?

And this Cyclone squad which made this record was not a bunch of big boys, as some teams. True they outweighed most of the local teams of the past few years but they averaged only 150 pounds.

Who They Were

The 1925 Cyclone which made this great record was composed of the following first-string men: Center—Ollie Lee, Captain, weight 152.

Guards—Leon Fisher, weight 158; Herbert Sisk, weight 154.

Tackles—Siegle Walker, weight 154; Soy Dunn, 18, weight 175.

Ends—John Hammond, weight 164; George Thompson, weight 148; Alma Pace, 20, weight 147; Jim Stanford, 17, weight 128.

Quarterback—Bob Henderson, 19, weight 148.

Halfbacks—Ike Bryan, weight 182; Bonny Covert, weight 165.

Fullback—Hubert Dennis, weight 163.

Coach—Blake Bolton.

BOUNDS BACK

Paulino Uzcudun, the Bounding Basque woodchopper from San Sebastian, Spain, has bounded back into the heavyweight fight picture again. The 35-year-old ring veteran, above, is going to be the next opponent of Joe Louis, Detroit's Brown Bomber, according to Mike Jacobs, New York promoter who estimates a fight between the two would draw $150,000.

BABSON'S INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

LOOK FOURTH QUARTER GOOD

ON PARK, Massachusetts, October 25, 1935. General business today—as measured by the Babson chart—is forty-one per cent above the level of the day. Everybody knows that 1933 marked the beginning of the depression, but we have taken to prosperity since then. During the past two years, general business recovery has been rapid and we have taken to prosperity since then. During the past two years, general business recovery has been rapid and we have taken to prosperity since then.

Very Broadening Out
 At this time business is twenty per cent higher than in the depression pit. Last October, however, you could find very few people who believed there was any improvement. Today the situation is vastly different. Every banker, manufacturer, merchant, investor, and with whom I come in contact is optimistic and believes that real progress has been made. This is not surprising for the up-swing in business activity, normal recovery, it is not concentrated in one industry or any one of the industries as in 1933, but its back-wash is in every line. Confidence is finally re-ignited, and at sporting events, houses, motoring, shopping, the like. Luxury lines, years of paralysis, are being and this can only bring the American people confidence. When business begins to operate on a normal basis, it is better, will have bridged the gap between depression and prosperity. However, public confidence is not the only barometer of better business—nearly every statistical indicator which is being vigorously used at the present time.

Gains are Starting
 is a tabulation listing the gains registered by the leading barometers of our economy:

Industrial Production	55%
Employment	45
Payrolls	92
Power Cons.	39

Carloadings	30
Coal Output	270
Production	186
Building	322
Auto Sales	112
Department Store Sales	49
Wholesale	64
Retail Profits	85
City Prices	61
Stocks	194
Corporate Issues	900
Farm Income	62
Personal Income	25

above list is by no means complete, but it gives readers an idea of the huge gains we have had in the past two and a half years. Some of these gains are being checked and double-checked before releasing. A good sign of this improvement has been the increase in the heavy industries such as home building. This is a most encouraging sign for it is in these industries that the largest portion of our unemployment is normally found.

Output Breaks Boom Day Records for the early weeks of the fourth quarter make very interesting reading. Electric power production has hit a new all-time high. Commodity prices have reached the highest level since 1929; lumber production is at the highest level in four years; and many other industries are running about the same. The mark: textile activity is up; steel activity is up.

hovering close to its high for the year; and retail trade is ten to fifteen per cent above 1934. I see no reason why this improvement should not continue at least through the early months of 1936. It looks as though by Christmas business might be the best since 1929. Some say this optimism is due to Congress being adjourned and the President taking a sojourn. In fact, as I am writing, neither President Roosevelt nor Vice President Garner is in this country!

At this point, readers may think that I am looking at the business situation through rose-colored glasses. This is not so. Even though business is far better than it was three years ago, nevertheless, I recognize that there are still tremendous problems facing the country. Among them I should mention first, the lag in foreign trade; and second, the unbalanced budget. I am not forgetting that we still have about 10,000,000 jobless. However, if the government would take definite steps toward balancing its budget and if there were hope of a real revival in world trade, I firmly believe that within a few months the unemployment problem would have passed the crisis.

Edison's Surprising Remark
 The low level of foreign trade and the unbalanced budget are, however, only part of a more basic problem. People must finally learn that we cannot reach prosperity by spending other people's money and that one nation cannot prosper while the world in general suffers. So in the final analysis our problem is one of a spiritual rather than a material nature. As industry, integrity, unselfishness, and the desire to be of service return, then—and then only—can we have another period of extended prosperity. Thomas Edison summed up the situation in a few words just before he died when he said to me: "Babson, this country has already gone too far technologically. Our next job is to catch up spiritually."
 Business, as estimated by the Babson chart, is now 17 per cent

GLORIOUS FAILURE

FOR turning back, after starting on his projected 6000-mile flight from Moscow to San Francisco by way of the North Pole, Pilot Segmund Levanevsky has received not only the commendation of the Soviet authorities, but the honor of having a special stamp issued for him. Failure of the flight, due to a defective oil line, became the more glorious when the intrepid pilot flashed back the request for permission to return, "as a good obedient Soviet citizen should do."

Levanevsky is one of the pilots who participated in the daring rescue of the ice-breaker Tcheluskin, in 1934, when the ship was trapped with 101 Russians in an ice-floe in the Bering strait. For that heroic deed, also, he has been honored on one of a series of stamps issued later in commemoration of the rescue. That stamp is shown here.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

JUDAH TAKEN CAPTIVE

Text: II Kings 25:1-12

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 3.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance

THE Babylonian captivity is a tragic chapter in Jewish annals that occupies an important place in history. Here we are concerned chiefly with the religious and social lessons to be derived from it.

Like all great catastrophes, it is to be studied not in its immediate causes, but in the events and circumstances that led to it and that made it almost inevitable when the final crash came.

The beginning of the downfall of Judah was in the divided nation. Palestine is not large. It would have required all the strength of that small territory incorporated under one strong rule to have established any measure of effective resistance to the warring empires of the ancient world.

The little land lay between these empires, occupying something of the same position that Belgium occupied in the World War. The strong kingdom that David established, and that Solomon brought to heights of greater glory, weakened in the dissensions and rebellions that followed Solomon's death.

WHEN Solomon died and Rehoboam came to the throne, there was a strong demand that the burdens of the people should be lightened. Rehoboam took counsel from two classes of people, the young men who advised him to rule with a strong hand and the older men who advised him to correct the injustices of which the people complained.

Rehoboam's weakness and his heady course in following the advice of the young men led to a rebellion in which the kingdom of David and Solomon was rent in twain, and two kingdoms, the southern Kingdom of Judah and the northern Kingdom of Israel, took their place with parallel columns of rulers.

In the history of the Kingdom of Judah we have the story of the good King Josiah. But the history of kings and kingdoms is the record of how weak, perverse, and incompetent monarchs have come from strong and righteous predecessors. The northern Kingdom of Israel had already fallen before Assyria and now Judah, in a time of difficulty and danger, was under the rule of the weak King Zedekiah. The power of Babylon was dominant.

THERE might have been reasonable hope for a measure of autonomy on the part of Judah, in much the same way that Palestine later had a measure of autonomy under Roman rule, but that hope disappeared when Zedekiah rebelled.

The rebellion immediately brought serious consequences. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came with a great army and besieged Jerusalem.

Jerusalem suffered the fate that great capitals have always suffered in the hands of invading foes. The temple and palace were destroyed, and every great house in the city was laid low with fire. The people who were left were carried off to Babylon, with only the poorest left to be vine-dressers and husbandmen.

The highest teachings and the spiritual recovery of Israel are associated with this captivity. It is these teachings that future lessons will emphasize.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. John Angus MacMillan, Minister

Admittedly, a person's surroundings can have much to do with the matter of this behavior. But is it necessary always to "do as the Romans do?" Or can a man be a man wherever he is, regardless of what others may do? Sunday's morning sermon, "Even In Sardis," will face this problem. It ought to make interesting "thinking" for us. The choir will render special music. Worship begins at 11 A. M.

"Would Jesus Be Entertained Were He to Come to Memphis?" is to be the sermon theme for the evening service—at 7:30. Just what do you think about it? What sort of a welcome would Jesus get, where he to unexpectedly arrive in Memphis accompanied by his disciples? It's worth thinking about—and well worth preaching about. We'll be glad for you to hear the sermon.

Our Sunday school is to observe Rally Day Sunday. There will be a special program, beginning at 9:45 A. M. Let's all "rally" and be there.

SWIFT CHANGE Southwest at Head of Prosperity Parade As Farm Income Doubles, Business Soars

With the biggest crop since 1930 and improved livestock markets, the Southwest is at the head of America's 1935 prosperity parade. Cities and rural areas alike are benefiting according to retail buyers from the Southwest who are flocking to wholesale markets in record numbers. Above, the Merchandise Mart, America's greatest wholesale center which reports an increase of 47 per cent in retail buyer registration for September. Below, fat, sleek cattle, and right, prize yield of Kansas corn, important factors in the Southwest's recovery.

OWNERS WARNED AGAINST BREACH OF CONTRACT

Owners warned against breach of contract. The proposed 1936 Reduction Contract, it has the attention of the Council of the Cotton Producers Association of Hall County that a number of landowners in the county are contemplating their tenants and the land themselves with labor, or replacing the one-fourth tenant by share-croppers. This procedure will probably be a violation of the 1936 contract, and the landowners who violate this procedure will probably be allowed to sign a new cotton contract. The committee here hopes the owners will understand the situation which has prompted this in the contract and will be to cooperate with the government to the extent of keeping the same status and on their farms for 1936. If landowners fail to do so it is felt that the cotton section can not have a 1936 cotton reduction on their land.

Pillars, member of the Advisory Committee, has the committee that the cotton will strengthen this if any change is made in the 1936 contracts.

Lee Beakley, 4-H Club of Northwest in San Saba, reports a yield of 38 bushels of corn per acre. "This," says his father, E. C. Beakley, "is above the community normal production where 25 bushels is considered good." He attributes Lee's good crop to good use of fertilizer, and proper soil.

Al Echols, president of the Delta 4-H Club, in a speech to the San Benito Rotary Club had 20 acres, of which I have 11 to cotton in 1934. On 11 acres of cotton I made $483, and from the rental $483.

year. I also had a flock of hens which averaged in 11 months 129 eggs per hen. Spring I culled the flock and in 10 months since then they averaged 196 eggs per hen. This difference is not responding to this difference but better feeding methods and flock management have helped."

Mertz, first year, 4-H Club of San Gabriel, planted 28 varieties of vegetable

CHICAGO.—Bumper crops and better livestock markets are the Southwest's 1935 answer to America's five years of lean times.

Farmers in the Southwest have been bringing to market the biggest harvest since 1930. Last year's drought is forgotten. Smiling business men in farm centers report sales rocketing skyward and a building boom is already under way in sections of the area.

News from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Arkansas, Arizona and New Mexico is uniformly optimistic. Estimates from Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas indicate that crop incomes there will be double those of 1934. Throughout the area fewer farm families are on relief and former dust-stricken regions in several states are on the upswing.

To date, Colorado's livestock income is up 25 per cent over the same period of 1931. Eastern Oklahoma reports the best crops since 1931. The state's Tax Commission adds to the chorus of good tidings with word of a 39 per cent increase in collections for July and August, a jump of more than $2,000,000 over the same period last year.

Crop income in Texas for the year will reach an estimated peak of $500,000,000 or more. Cattle are selling at $2 a hundred-weight more than last year, hogs are up $5, lambs $2.

Already filling the farmers' financial skies with sunshine, the Southwest's agricultural prosperity is also bringing a renewed optimism to city areas as the ruralists, with real money to spend, share their bounty with the rest of the country.

Indicative of the trend in the Southwest are the orders retailers from the area are placing at the Merchandise Mart here, wholesale buying center of the nation. Statistics compiled by

T. J. Reed, general manager of the Mart, show registrations from the Southwest for one mid-summer market alone totalled more than 850, with all buyers making purchases far in excess of their 1934 schedules. Total buyer registration at the Mart for September, a record month, was 47 per cent ahead of the same time last year. Manufacturers exhibiting in the building report increases in business of as much as 95 per cent over last year, and they predict that better times will carry over into the new year, finding their biggest inspiration in Texas. Dallas is expected to lead the way with its 1936 Texas Centennial Central Exposition.

Texas say that their state is also benefitting from a building boom which by early fall brought construction permits for Texas cities to a total of nearly $2,500,000 as contrasted with only $546,000 for the same period a year ago.

tables which produced 2,992 pounds. "My pantry contains 1,128 containers and 582 I canned with the help of mother. I brined 15 gallons of cucumbers. I did this with my school work, but many times I stayed up until 11:30 at night waiting to take the cooker off," Marie states. From her garden, she sold $14.07 worth of vegetables and canned 256 containers for non-club members.

CLEBURNE — Chicken feed sacks, a slab of thin pine for buttons, thread, and old belt, and red lacquer were used by Miss Lovada Bishop of Johnson county in making a dress at the cost of 10 cents for thread and enamel, according to Miss Agnes Roberts, home demonstration agent.

The sacks were bleached and resemble a rough crash weave. The buttons were carved in two inch discs, large eyes bored in them, and the buttons lacquered in red. The belt was also given a coat of the red lacquer.

MOUNT VERNON—After supplying his friends and neighbors with fruit free of charge and canning enough for home use, Jim Mote, Franklin county farmer, sold $165 worth of peaches from a five acre orchard.

Mote says that he did not spend much time on his fruit trees this year, but since the income has come in, he is going to cultivate them next year. He also plans to prepare three acres more land for a young orchard.

WEATHERFORD—"Good soil preparation is responsible for the remarkable growth of the shrubs in my yard this year," Mrs. A. J. Davis of Parker county told Miss Janie Parks, home demonstration agent.

Early last fall the beds were dug all around the house. They are three feet deep and about four and one-half feet wide. The clay was removed and the bed filled with good soil and barnyard manure.

GOLIAD—N. Borth of Melrose community in Goliad county has made a net profit of $117.81 from his flock during the past three months. Borth has about 266 white leghorn hens.

This poultry demonstrator adheres strictly to all the best methods of poultry production, including proper feeding methods of balanced laying mash, correct amounts of home grain, periodic worming with vire white gasoline, and shipping his eggs through the Goliad cooperative egg shipping associations.

JEFFERSON—R. K. Brown of the Mims Chapel community of Marion county reports that he has had good results from a few acres of pop corn which he tried this season. He sold $117 worth of pop corn off of five acres even though rains cut down the yields.

"For the amount of labor and other expenses," Brown said, "I consider pop corn a better money crop than cotton, and I expect to increase my acreage."

MORE VITAMINS IN EGGS WITH DARK YOLK

Deep Yellow Yolk in Eggs Denotes Quality

By Associated Press
COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 26.—Two averaged size eggs laid by hens then have plenty of green feed contain almost enough vitamin A for the bodily needs of an adult person for the day. This fact is gleaned from a statement by A. D. Jackson, chief of the division of publications of the Texas Experiment station here, on "Vitamin A needed for good eggs."

Although it may not always follow that an egg with a pale yellow yolk is poor in vitamin A, it is found that the egg with the deep yellow yolk is almost invariably richer in the vitamin, he discloses.

"I have heard that some of the trade in the east is demanding pale yolks and I am wondering why, of course, it is perfectly permissible to obtain the day's supply of vitamin A from any of numerous sources, yet if such a rich source as the egg is neglected here is danger of a deficiency particularly in the east of gestating mothers who need more liberal supplies of vitamin A."

The deep yellow yolk, he explains, comes on the scene when the hens are turned out to grass. "This is because of a coloring substance known as xanthophyll in the tender growing vegetation which the hens will consume greedily when they have a chance."

Xanthophyll is associated with carotene which is the precursor of vitamin A, a substance of comparatively recent discovery, which performs various necessary functions in the animal's body. Sources of vitamin A are widely dispersed and ordinary rations for both man and the lower animals will contain sufficient vitamin A under normal conditions.

Because of their almost universal use in our menus, he explains, butter and eggs, both good sources of vitamin A, assume a position of extraordinary importance. Both, however, may be deficient in the vitamin if dairy cows and hens are improperly fed, but it has been found that if they are allowed green grazing and other feeds rich in vitamin A, they yield products of high vitamin A potency.

In addition to its contribution to the quality of the eggs as food, Jackson continues, vitamin A has a vital influence upon the health of hens. In experimental work at the Texas station, hens on rations low in vitamin A suffered twice as great mortality as the hens with a ration not deficient in the vitamin.

Furthermore, the eggs from hens with ample vitamin A hatch much better and the chicks are stronger and generally more valuable.

MORTON—Corn put in a trench silo by R. W. O'Neal of Cochran county would have netted him about $3 per acre for the dry corn if sold at market prices, while in the trench silo he is getting two and one-half tons of green feed which he values at $4 per ton, according to his report to G. R. Schumann, county agricultural agent. Neal estimated that the corn that was put in the silo would have made about five bushels of ear corn to the acre when harvested dry. The corn was cut up by an ensilage cutter.

At The Theatres

PALACE
It was another time, another era, that the film writers dealt when they wrote the script for "The Farmer Takes a Wife." ment at the Palace with EgMK which opens for a two days engagement at the Palace with a prevue tonight. A period when a gangling American was growing up into an empire of steam and steel, when the narrow artery of the Erie Canal bore the golden wealth of the West to the seagorts of the East, when 20-mile-hour steam trains had just entered into a duel with 4-mile-an-hour canal barges.

Against this vital, pulsing background of a nation growing into maturity, the picture tells the story of two lovers, Janet Gaynor and Henry Fonda, whose lives and fates were with the momentous happenings in the world about them.

Prominent in the supporting cast for these two great players will be found Slim Summerville, Andy Devine, Roger Imhoff, Jane Withers and Kitty Kelley.

This great production will be seen at the Palace Sunday and Monday.

Will Rogers Picture

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Palace, the screen attraction will be the late Will Rogers in "Steamboat Round the Bend."

Laughter and tears, comedy and near-tragedy follow each in quick succession and bring drama and suspense to this great production.

Associated with Rogers in this picture is Irvin S. Cobb, the other great American humorist, and the combination of these two is simply unbeatable.

Supporting Rogers and Cobb will be found Anne Shirley, Eugene Palette, John McGuire and Stepin Fetchit.

RITZ

Sunday and Monday the screen attraction at the Ritz is "Clive of " which opens with a prevue at the theatre.

Telling a moving love story against a stirring background this production is appealing, thrilling and spectacular.

Starring Ronald Coleman and Loretta Young, the supporting cast includes Colin Clive, Francis Lister and Cesar Romano.

On Monday night, the screen attraction will be augmented by the American Legion stage production, "Sky High," a home talent play sponsored by the Charles R. Simmers post and a slight increased admission will be charged for this big double attraction.

TEXAS

The attraction at the Texas for Sunday and Monday is a British-made Gaumont comedy which will bring tears of laughter to even the biggest crouch.

"Jack Ahoj," starring Jack Hulbert, is, as the name would imply, a sea-faring comedy, and you will enjoy every minute of it from start to finish.

Jack Hulbert, one of the leading British comedians, is about the nearest approach to Popeye the Sailor that you have ever seen.

This production will be given a prevue at the theatre tonight after the regular Saturday night production.

Deer Hunter Saves His Prey

ALBANY, Ore. Oct. 25.—R. I. Dundon went out to kill a deer, but instead saved the life of at least one. He sighted a "white top" doe high-tailing it long a ridge. Close behind was a big cougar. Dundon aimed at the cougar, killing it instantly. The deer ran away.

Mrs. Dan Taichert left Thursday for her home at Santa Fe, Mexico, after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Francis Anthony. She was enroute from Dallas, where she had visited her aunt, Mrs. D. J. Thorne. Mrs. Taichert will be remembered in Memphis as Ruth Parker.

CROCKETT—In addition to supplying her own pantry with 1091 containers of food, Mrs. Bill Milwee, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Center Hill Home Demonstration Club in Houston county, has helped 16 non-club member families and two club families to can 2500 cans of fruits and vegetables. She charged a small fee for her services and helped to fill her own pantry.

FRANKLIN—Spare time spent in cleaning out underbrush and leading trees on his native pasture has proved quite profitable to L. L. Nevland of Robertson county, according to V. L. Sand, county agricultural agent. Nevland owned considerable land that was considered waste land, being so thin and badly eroded that it took around 20 acres to carry one cow. Four years ago, he started working on the land in his spare time. The results were so noticeable that he employed cheap labor to finish the job at a cost of $1.59 per acre, which included scattering bermuda grass in particularly barren spots.

Invites Singers To Meet in City

A. M. Wills of the Harell Chapel community near here, president of the Texas and Oklahoma District Singers Association, conferred with officials of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday with reference to have Memphis secure, if possible, the annual convention of the singers' organization next year. The convention will meet on Saturday and Sunday some time about the middle of October.

The annual convention of this organization was held in Mangum, Okla., this month, and thousands of singers each year throughout the southern states. A massed choir of 900 voices was featured at the Mangum meeting. Several from Memphis and Hall County attended.

An invitation will be placed before the Texas and Oklahoma District Singers Association urging that the next annual meeting be held in Memphis. Selection of a meeting place will be arranged by a group composed of three members from Oklahoma, three from Northwest Texas and officials of the organization, who will meet for this purpose at some central point soon.

Present contestants for next year's convention are Vernon, Wellington and Memphis. It is felt that Memphis has a good opportunity to secure the convention inasmuch as the president is a local resident.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

STAMPS AS COINS

WAR, which brought on a shortage of metal and the hoarding of coins, also caused the use of stamps as legal tender. It was so in the United States during the Civil War, and it was more so in Europe, particularly France, Germany and Austria, during the World War.

Since the stamps would last a very short time if handled too often, they were put into small metal containers and covered with mica, the backs of the containers carrying advertisements which repaid the cost. Above are the front and back of such a stamp coin, current in Denmark shortly after the war. In that country, this was done more as a commercial enterprise, by which the government could profit from such advertising than from lack of coinage.
