NUMBER 14.

MEDITATIONS

By The Editor

Just about the time Mediator was getting over thinking about eating armadillos suggested by the general City Secretary A. J. Atkins, here comes Clyde Galbreath and brings up the subject of half-cooked horse meat.

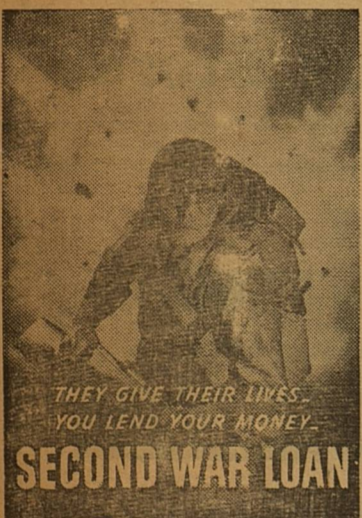

Just to make the subject an ordeal he brought the matter up while we were enjoying a perfectly delicious meal with our family in a local cafe this week.

But he began crayfishing about eating the horse meat upon being questioned by others present. However, he contended that he had never eaten horse meat prior to believing that a certain cafe man in a certain Texas town fed him some recently. Galbreath says he has eaten everything edible but never in his life had he eaten anything that tasted like that, not withstanding the fact that it made him have blind staggers and kick out of these traces.

Think we will take armadillo meat after all.

Then there is the Spring fever epidemic which had us in its grasp to the extent that we did not care whether or not we got out a Success. And heaping coals on the fire was Robert Grady, new inspector of the woolen mill, who brought some scenes down to this office from Old Town, Maine, showing an angler's paradise. Beautiful blue waters, surrounded by majestic trees and crossed by foot-bridges. In fact, you could not dream of a more lovelier place to go fishing and take afternoon naps.

Oh, well, all in all it's been a tough week on the editor, so buy that bond this morning, and let us have a story to print next week about Schleicher going over the top in the Second War Loan Drive.

LIONS ENJOY ADDRESS BY GUEST SPEAKER

Inspired by the Wednesday noon meet of the local Lions Club this week was the address brought by Dr. G. B. Bradshaw, Baptist evangelist, who is now conducting a revival at the Eldorado church.

Dr. Bradshaw used as his subject "The Church and The Community." The fluent speaker pointed out that the church, regardless of denomination, was to him the one most important factor in the building and influencing of any community.

Continuing, the speaker drove home points of keen interest with many examples in every-day life of common people, and we are sure attentive attitude prevailed. The address was one thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of visitors present.

Serving With Seabees

Shown is Robert Page, now serving with the Seabees. He was a former civic worker, and Lions Club member of Eldorado.

Service Man Writes Lions Club

Bob Page, former Eldoradoian, Lions Club member, and active community civic leader and businessman, now serving with the Seabees stationed at Camp Peary, NCTC, Williamsburg, Va., writes fellow Lions of the local club.

The letter follows:

Eldorado Lions Club.

Dear Fellow Lions:

Just a line to let you know I am still in the Seabees of the Navy and also think of home, the old club and all its members. Find myself thinking of those Wednesday meals, the chatter, the racket and spit-balls, and even Dogie Finley's long talks, and wonder if it is the same old grind, and how many are left.

This Navy life I am experiencing is plenty rough, but anyone enduring this training is most certainly apt to be able to take anything short of bullets on the other side.

It will soon be convention time and I am just wondering if you plan to pull one this year. Maybe in a few years from now we can have a real one. Here's hoping this thing won't last forever and that what the Lions Club stands for may someday prevail over the entire world.

Yours sincerely,
BOB PAGE.

County Schools Display Abilities at County Meet

Comparatively large group of spectators and entrants to the Schleicher County Inter-Scholastic League Meet Saturday of last week, together with good performances on the part of the contestants, made the event one of the best held in recent years here. Only rural schools participated in the meet, but much enthusiasm was shown.

At the noon hour a basket lunch was enjoyed in the local high school gym, and a genuine fellowship was also enjoyed by those in attendance.

Bailey Ranch School had the largest number of entries in the contests, having a total of 21 contestants, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Russell are the instructors. Reynolds School had 13, with Mrs. O. Johnston, teacher. Alexander had six with Mrs. D. C. Royster, teacher. Mayer No. Two had four, Mrs. Ira Hale, teacher. Adams had three, Miss Roxie Williamson, teacher.

To say that the children had studied very hard for the literary and other events, is to put the expression mildly as many of the contestants took first place laurels in most of the events. That is, for example, out of the number of words given in spelling there were three who did not miss one word in the first grade contest. The same situation existed throughout other contests in the various brackets making it impossible, due to lack of space to list all the first and second place winners in each contest, as the number of entries was large.

Alexander School took first place in the one-act play with Bailey Ranch second. In choral singing Bailey Ranch, first; Alexander, second and Reynolds, third.

Track Events Good

The track events were well prepared for in both boys' and girls' division. Included on the program was the 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash and relays. There were some 34 contestants winning places in these events.

Live Coyote Brought In By Trapper R. H. Blaylock

R. H. Blaylock, employed as a Government trapper in trapping predatory animals, was in town displaying a large coyote chained in the back of a pick-up Monday. The pest was caught in a trap Sunday night on the Lawhon-Thompson ranch south of Eldorado.

Blaylock had been after the animal since about the first of the month after J. W. Lawhon had requested that he attempt to catch him. No doubt is held in that the animal had done a large amount of damage, since he was reasonably fat and his hair in good condition. The coyote was of the male species and many guesses were made as to his age, which varied from three to seven years, and had evidently been caught in a trap some previous time as his right forefoot was scarred and one toe was missing.

By this time the coyote has gone where all lamb-eating coyotes should go, and many thanks go to Mr. Blaylock in exterminating the ranchman's nuisance.

The new manager states that she will continue to give prompt, efficient service to the public and solicits the continued support of old customers and invites new ones to try her service.

The Doty's have not made definite announcement of future plans.

NEW GOVERNMENT INSPECTOR AT WEST TEXAS WOOLEN MILLS FROM MAINE

Robert Grady, inspector for the West Texas Woolen Mills has arrived in Eldorado and is now performing his duties at the local mill which is turning out blankets on United States Army contract.

Mr. Grady, textile inspector, comes here from Old Town, Maine, and is greatly impressed with the country and predicts a substantial growth for the Eldorado enterprise.

The inspector expects his family to join him here at a later date to remain with him for his stay in Eldorado, which will in all probability be about six months duration.

Colorful Mexican Pioneer Passes

Locardio Barrera, Mexican pioneer of this country, who had a colorful life in early days died here Monday. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon.

Barrera, who in his young days, according to reports, fought with early settlers in ridding the country of savage Indians, helped to build many of the early structures including the Christoval Canal on the Concho and worked as a horse wrangler.

D. E. DeLong, Schleicher ranchman, stated this week that the man worked for his father when he, DeLong, was a boy, and that he must be over 90 years of age. So far as is known, no definite date of his birth was determined.

Barrera is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jose Naranjo and a son, Pete Barrera of Eldorado, and a grandson serving in the Armed Forces.

(Special to The Success)

SAN ANGELO, April 14.—Columbus R. Davis, former service station operator in Eldorado, has been promoted from private first class to corporal at San Angelo Army Air Field bombardier school, it was announced today by Colonel George M. Palmer, commanding officer.

At the time he entered the service during the call for specialists last August, Davis was a member of the Eldorado Lions Club, the fire department and the city council. He has been stationed since last September at the bombardier school, where he is a member of the 861st Bombardier Training Squadron.

Insurance Firm Boosts Loan Drive With $10,000 Through Local Agent

Committeemen Urging Prompt Purchasing

One hundred thirty-four thousand dollars! Sounds high, but not half as high as the price some are paying. This amount is what has been assessed Schleicher County and the bank in the Second War Loan Drive now under way.

Dollars and cents are not to be counted at this time. Victory, and unconditional victory is what our men are training, fighting and dying for. We, on the home-front, are going to back them up in this by purchasing a good, safe, dividend-paying investment.

INSURANCE COMPANY MAKES LARGE PURCHASE

Local citizens were given quite a lift yesterday in their efforts to reach their War Bond quota when W. O. Alexander received from Southwestern Life Insurance company of Dallas, a check for ten thousand dollars with instructions to purchase bonds for them in that amount through the Schleicher County Bond Committee.

Mr. Alexander is local representative of Southwestern Life, having been their agent here for the past 25 years, and naturally he is elated that this strong company has shown their appreciation of the business given them by the people of Schleicher County in this concerted manner.

The agent states that the insurance company is purchasing a total of $9,000,000 of United States Bonds in this Second War Loan campaign and that since Pearl Harbor has purchased more than $24,000,000 of Government Securities, indicating in a very practical manner their whole-hearted support of the Government in this world crisis.

Authentic reports Wednesday were that some $41,000 had been purchased and applied on the combined $134,000 quota. This is a great start, but everyone is going to have to keep purchasing more and more, to get this quota over on time.

Readers are again urged to read an ad appearing in this issue sponsored by citizens and organizations of the community in regard to the second week of the drive which ends in a few days.

Bailey Ranch School Display In Hoover Drug Window

Attracting much attention is the display of handwork in the Hoover Drug window this week. The items were made by students of the Bailey Ranch School, under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Russell. The workmanship denotes there is much skill and talent in the youngsters and that someday they will be able to carry on with the ever-increasing demand for skilled technicians.

Mr. Russell stated to The Success that the oldest student in school was about 13 years of age, which means that the articles were made, no doubt, by very young students.

Will Americans Be More Tender With Their Money Than Lives of Their Sons

Washington, D. C.—A blunt challenge—whether Americans will be more tender with their money than with the lives of their sons—confronts U. S. citizens as they prepare to meet the appeal of the government to put an additional 13 billion dollars into the fight in the next three weeks.

American dollars which run off to some cozy shelter to hide while American boys are dying to defend our cities and towns from destruction and invasion will face a rising demand from all classes of patriotic citizens to come out and fight.

Millions of workers who now are buying War Bonds regularly out of current income must lend extra money to their government during the Second War Loan campaign (which started April 12).

In recognition of the spirit of sacrifice which is sweeping over the land as our troops swing into offensive action in Africa and await the signal for a landing in Europe, the Treasury Department is offering a series of government bonds to fit every pocketbook.

No matter whether Americans buy the familiar Series E Bonds or 2½ per cent bonds or 2 per cent bonds or tax certificates, they will be doing their part to make the Second War Loan drive a success.

Consumer Spending Too High.
 Consumer spending in 1942 was much too high to meet the war situation of 1943. Last year more than 82 billion dollars of our soaring national income went to feed the desires of Americans for clothes, recreation, foods and luxuries. As these items grow scarcer, more of our income must be diverted from such expenses into government bonds.

During 1942 millions of our fathers, sons, relatives and friends were in training here and abroad. Some were already in action. Casualties were beginning to bite into every community. War Bonds became a vital link between the home and fighting fronts.

Today sacrifice has become a way of life for America's fighting men. Civilian spending on the 1942 scale must go out the window if the home folks are to attempt to match the heroism of our boys at the front.

Not every American can take his place in a bomber or in a foxhole or on a fighting ship but he can fire away at the enemy by lending money to the government.

They make a lotta speeches down in Austin about "bringing the government" closer to the people—and then a lawmaker introduces a proposal to abolish the office of justice of the peace!

That's the court that's closest to the people. Somebody has described it as "the poor man's court."

Folks out in the country or in the smaller towns can't be running into the county seat every time some little—but, to them, important—matter comes up.

Justices of the peace are usually of mellow temperament, deliberate of speech and action, wise and wide in experience, tolerant and kindly toward their fellow men; maybe not always learned in the technicalities of the law but rich in the knowledge of human nature and in common sense.

Many a neighbors' quarrel has been straightened out before it grew into something serious, because of fair dealings possessed by some justice of the peace.

Do away with the office? Why we need more officials like them!

The Low-Down From Hickory Grove

Some of the contests I have been sponsoring have been running so long, you might think they would fold up. This one about "what this country needs less of versus more of" keeps going. Answers keep coming in, but nobody has said lately that we need less meat—not even a dietician trying to slenderize mama, has said so.

But up toward the top in the contest, answers keep drifting in on "indispensable men" and how we need fewer of same. One duck writes that no one ever approached George Washington as being indispensable, but when Washington stepped down, along came Mr. Adams, and he was okay, too. And also the same gent says that one time when he was kinda young and chesty, he quit his job himself, thinking he was indispensable, but the boss didn't close down the factory—he later enlarged it.

Yours, with the low down, out also the GBRA retained the option to buy the plant at the end of 30 years at 2 percent depreciation per year. As the ICRA will be operating the plant, it will have to be kept in working condition, so it should be in about as good a shape then as it is now. So the GBRA can acquire a plant, now valued at $6,000,000, for only 40 per cent—another profit of millions for the GBRA, which has put up nothing and does nothing. A lot of people are having difficulty understanding all this.

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS
 By JAMES PRESTON

The government is deploying its forces and clearing its decks for the long, hard pull. Chairman Nelson of WPB has simplified his organization structure and clearly defined lines of authority among Vice-Chairmen. The President has "drafted" Chester Davis as "food czar." WMC has created a new nine-man Labor - Management Policy Committee for greater efficiency and better representation among the three major economic groups—Industry, Labor, and Agriculture.

The WPB realignment will give Mr. Nelson more time to look after broad policy matters and work out major plans. The magnitude of the new program was made known when Mr. Nelson told the Senate Military Affairs Committee that the United States will carry 80 per cent of the United Nations production burden.

WPB changes came at a time when the agency faces a tremendous task of rescheduling of war orders to meet shifting strategic needs. This means some disruption for war material manufacturers, quick negotiation of new contracts, conversion to new types of production, and, in many instances, resumption of some civilian production on a limited scale. It also means a vast increase in smaller prime contracts and in subcontracting as well as changing emphasis on such vital issues as manpower. Stressing this point, Secretary of the Navy Knox asked this question: "Isn't it true that the speed of production of all implements of war has exceeded expectations because manufacturers, when they got into production, found that they could produce far more rapidly than the original estimates?"

Mr. Davis, President of the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank, was given complete charge of food production and distribution activities of the Agricultural Department and, at his own request, control of farm labor. He also would be given control over farm prices and enough steel to meet farm machinery needs.

These moves would place Mr. Davis on a par with WPB Chairman Nelson and Economic Stabilizer Byrnes. While Agriculture Secretary Wickard's role is not clear, he will remain a member of WPB, the Economic Stabilization Board, and the Combined Food Board.

WMC has reminded employers and workers of the approaching (April 1) deadline for extension of the 48-hour week and the WMC order on 65 non-deferrable industries and occupations.

Congressional attitude toward business was reflected in the overwhelming vote which the Senate and House cast in favor of legislation to remove the President's

Congressman Fisher Issues News Report

Following is a brief news report received this week from Congressman O. C. Fisher from Washington. The Success hopes to bring to its readers many of the happenings of Washington through this source that otherwise would not be learned.

Anti-Racketeering Act

Last week the House passed the Hobbs Bill, which makes labor unions and union members subject to the Anti-Racketeering Act of 1934, just as any other organization or person is subject to it.

Need For This Act

It is interesting to note some things which made this legislation necessary. For several years truck drivers of Local Union No. 807 of New York City, had, through its members, held up trucks coming into the city from New Jersey and elsewhere, and, if the drivers were not union members, forced them to pay $8.41 or $9.42 to enter the city and dispose of their produce. They rendered little, if any, service for this. In many cases violence and assaults were committed on the drivers.

This same racket spread to many other cities.

Prosecution Followed

This labor union and 37 members were indicted and convicted in Federal Court in New York City for violating the federal Anti-Racket Act. But on appeal the conviction was reversed by the U. S. Supreme Court, which held that Act did not apply to labor unions. Hence, the need for the new bill.

Unions Opposed Bill

Some organized labor leaders vigorously opposed the Hobbs Bill contending it would interfere with their legitimate activities. One of the CIO lobbyists contended before the Judiciary Committee that such a law would "crucify" labor.

House members were not impressed, however, and the bill went through by a vote of 270 to 107.

I feel this was a triumph for the independence of Congress against such pressure groups. This was not class legislation. By this Act, the anti-racketeering law will apply to labor unions and union members just as it does to any other organization.

I believe the rank and file of labor, today doing a record job in the war effort, is not opposed to such legislation as this, but that the opposition comes from certain leaders who do not reflect the views of the masses.

Three and a half tons of steel are required for a fighter plane, 14 tons for an anti-aircraft gun, 15 tons for a four-engine bomber, and 38 tons for a medium-size tank.

Eight Conservation Plans Approved By Supervisors

Eight conservation plans, comprising 929 acres of Schleicher County farm and ranch land, were approved by the Supervisors of the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District at their regular meeting recently.

Applications from other farmers and ranchers desiring district help in planning were approved on 12 farms, totaling 8940 acres.

Each approved plan represents a complete soil and moisture conservation program for the farm or ranch, as worked out by the operator with the aid of Soil Conservation Service representatives who are assisting the District.

Each plan contains an aerial photograph map of the farm, showing the kinds of soils, slopes, and amount of erosion; and another aerial map which shows fences, roads, acres in each field, and the terraces planned on cultivated land. Ranch plans also contain a vegetative map, showing the amount of range in excellent, good, fair, and poor condition, together with recommendations for improving grass production.

Farm and ranch plans approved by the Supervisors at the last meeting include those owned and/or operated by O. L. Woodward, J. C. Crosby, H. E. Crooks, Mrs. Dena White, Paul Phillips, Wesley Garrett, T. R. Jones, and C. W. Galbreath.

Supervisors present at the meeting were J. Forrest Runge, chairman, J. E. Spencer, and B. E. Moore, representing Schleicher County, and E. E. Foster, Jr., supervisor representing the Tom Green portion of the District.

Approximately 60 per cent of the land made in the U. S. is going into direct war service in the Armed Forces or in their supporting agencies.

Card of Thanks

We, the teachers of Schleicher County, desire to thank Mr. McMillan and Supt. C. A. Reynolds, together with pupils of Eldorado School, for their use of building and grounds, and assistance, for the County Meet.

Jones sold to Jim Bledsoe of Lubbock, bringing $11.00 per pair, to be delivered about May 15th. To Jim Bledsoe from Paul Nixon, 140 ewes at $7 per pair, to be delivered around June 1st.

THE 2nd WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

America...you've got to get tougher!

A MERICA — Let's be frank about it... so far, many of us back home have been fighting this war from an easy chair. Many of us have bought War Bonds out of extra cash, out of money we didn't miss too much. We haven't been really tough with ourselves.

But this war is a hard, down-to-reality war. And many of our boys are dying in it.

We've got to buy MORE

So your government asks you to buy Bonds and more Bonds—to get really tough with yourself. We're asking you to give up the frills and "extras."

We know how human it is not to make sacrifices until the crisis drives us to it. In England they felt the same way until the bombs started falling.

Bombs are such persuasive things. But just as persuasive ought to be the spirit of our brothers, sons, husbands.

If you could see

Look at it this way—suppose you had a magic carpet that could take you to Africa and New Guinea. Suppose you could hear the groan of American boys wounded, and American boys dying. . . . Say now, how many Bonds would you buy?

That kind of war

THEY . . . are dying. And they will keep on dying until we drown the enemy in an overwhelming torrent of bombs, bullets, guns, tanks, planes, ships, and shells.

That's why we're asking you, in this one month of April alone, to lend Uncle Sam 13 billions of dollars—by buying War Bonds. 13 billions of extra dollars—over and above any buying that you'd be doing anyway!

A lot of money

Of course, 13 billion dollars is a lot of money. It'll take sweat and tears to raise it. It'll mean going without now. But also—it will mean savings now—to buy later. It'll mean giving up everything you can't square with your conscience, so that we, us, our children, can have a better, more decent place to live in when this war is won.

The drive is on

So during this month of April, if someone calls on you to ask you to buy War Bonds in this 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE, will you buy to the limit—and then buy more?

Better yet, will you go to your Bank, Post-office, or wherever you're used to buying your Bonds—and buy NOW? Will you lend extra money this month? Money that can hasten the day of Victory? Money that can help to save American lives.

Money buys money

Remember, what you're really buying with your money is still more money. For after all, these Bonds are money! Money plus!

Every dollar you put into War Bonds will bring you a dollar plus interest.

So the more Bonds you buy the better for you. Americans — Get Tough — with yourselves — for your country.

Fencing Material Is Removed From Farm Rationing Program

All types of fencing materials have been removed from the farm machinery rationing program, according to a notice received by the Schleicher County Farm Transportation Committee. Fencing materials can now be sold without restrictions and applications to secure delivery are no longer required by purchasers.

Although removed from rationing restrictions, supplies of fencing materials still are limited and dealers are being requested to restrict sales to producers' immediate needs in order that maximum use might be obtained from the supplies now on hand.

They are also asked to limit sales, insofar as possible, to farmers and ranchmen for increasing production of agricultural commodities this year.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who wilfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy. . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?'" — Secretary Morgenthau.

Mrs. W. R. Farrar of Eden is visiting her son, Carl M. Farrar and family for a few days.

Mrs. Will Davis is critically ill in a San Angelo hospital. Her condition remains unimproved as The Success goes to press.

DO YOU KNOW—

That during the war of 1812, all meats inspected by the United States Government was stamped with the letters U.S. Then serving as an inspector, was one Samuel Wilson whom everybody called Uncle Sam. Upon inquiry being made as to the meaning of the two letters, a fellow-worker jokingly remarked Uncle Sam and ever since this has been used to personify the United States.

Mrs. W. O. Tinsman and sister, Mrs. LaVerne Tree, left Monday of this week for Santa Anna to be at the bedside of their uncle, Will Taylor, who is critically ill at that place.

Walkon
the VARNISH that can take it!

PROOF... that WALKON FLOOR VARNISH suffers no ill effect from hot water. The mesh of an ordinary kitchen strainer is coated with WALKON. When dry, the strainer is filled with water, placed over a flame and the water allowed to come to a boil. Under this terrific test, WALKON does not crack.

PROOF... that WALKON FLOOR VARNISH will not crack. A severe blow with a hammer on a floor finished with WALKON may dent the wood, but it will not crack the varnish.

PROOF... that WALKON FLOOR VARNISH is scuff-proof. Hard, sharp heels do not scratch or mar it, even through years of wear and tear.
