

BETTER ROADS ARE DISCUSSED AT MEET LOCAL LIONS CLUB

At the regular weekly luncheon of the Eldorado Lions Club Wednesday a committee was appointed by the president to study the need of roads in this county and the possibility of improving the lateral roads throughout Schleicher.

During wet spells (we do have a few) it is impossible for many of our farmers and ranchmen to get to Eldorado. We have talked to several men this week who reached Eldorado by going around by Sonora. Some go to other towns and do not attempt to reach Eldorado.

Many of the business men, farmers and ranchmen are getting mighty sore about the present condition of the lateral roads in this county and this coming week meetings will be held in the county and better roads and how they can be had will be discussed from every angle.

Members of the committee appointed by the Lions Club have gone this week to learn more about this project and will prepare to tell us what we can do about building better roads.

REVIVAL MEETING AT BAILEY RANCH

Many Eldoradoites are going out to Bailey Ranch Baptist church this week to attend the revival meeting being held there by Rev. W. E. Brown of Mertzon. Good attendance of the Bailey ranch community folks is always noticeable regardless of how busy they are. As one Eldoradian remarked. "Those people stick together and believe in going to church."

In company some others from here, we had the pleasure of being out there Sunday, and it's been a long time since we have been made to feel more at home. We just don't seem able to find the right words to express our thorough enjoyment of the fellowship and spirit, to be found among people of the Bailey Ranch community.

A feature of the "Big Meeting" is the dinner served on the grounds. Plenty of everything, and well prepared. In fact we haven't seen so many good things to eat in a long time. We are going back again.

Jack Hunnicutt Died In Ft. Worth Hospital

Jack M. Hunnicutt, manager of the Ft. Worth office of John Clay Livestock Commission Company, died in a Ft. Worth hospital Saturday, August, 3rd according to a telegram received by J. E. Hill, local wool man and banker.

Hunnicutt had been prominent in livestock and livestock commission circles in Texas for many years.

Some 30 years ago, he was associated with J. W. (Wash) Fields in the operation of the Field-Hunnicutt Commission Co., at the Ft. Worth stockyards. Fields was at one time a resident of Schleicher County and will be remembered by the earliest settlers here.

Following dissolution of the Fields-Hunnicutt firm, Hunnicutt became manager of the Campbell-Rosson Livestock Commission Company at Ft. Worth. In 1925 that firm was purchased by John Clay and Company of Chicago, Ill., and Mr. Hunnicutt remained manager of the Fort Worth office until his death.

He was well known and highly respected through out the entire Southwest and was considered to be a man of rare judgement.

He was well known locally and had many friends among stockmen of Schleicher County. Made frequent visits here in the interest of his firm, and the announcement of his death is received with regret.

COTTON INCOME OF SCHLEICHER CO. HELPS FARMERS

While the cotton income of Schleicher county farmers was much less in 1934 than in 1933, and even less than in the disastrous year of 1932, it was nearly a third more than it would have been had there been no adjustment program, it is announced by C. Snell, county agent. The statement is based on official three-year county cotton figures just received from the Agriculture Adjustment Administration.

Schleicher county farmers last year received a total of $156,708.86 for their cotton of which only $119,219.51 came from market value. Benefit payments, which are designed to help bridge the gap between market price and parity price in normal years, (See No. 3 Last Page)

Subscription $1.50 per year, in advance. Subscription will be discontinued promptly on expiration.

We notice in the SAUCE column of the Brady Standard where the writer of that column has already started the campaign pot boiling and we believe it is time for us to do the same thing.

"This isn't campaign year, but we never wait until campaign year to campaign. In fact, we are always a jump ahead of most campaigners. The idea being to get in training before the campaign gets too hot.

Our campaign is no different from other campaigns in that we want to save Eldorado. We hope to have the support of everybody in this plan to save the country.

If we can get the support of every man, woman, boy and girl who can use a hoe, rake, sythe, or drive a truck, we promise that Eldorado will be free of unsightly lots which have grown up in weeds.

We know of at least seven or eight people who are visiting in Eldorado from other states and some from other parts of Texas. We wonder what they are saying about Eldorado?

We are going home early today and get the hoe and rake and see how long we last in this hot sun. Will you do the same thing?

HELP US TO SERVE BETTER

If any of you Eldorado business men are getting your envelopes, letterheads and other printed stationery from mail order houses when there is a local print shop in your town, you are helping to put the local shop in the "red". You may save a little money by doing so as mail order houses do business on such a large scale that they can afford charge less and still make as much or more profit than the local print shop.

Patronize your home shop with every class of printing that can be done in a small plant and thus help us to add some new job type. Better equipment means better service. Help the local shop to increase its capacity to serve you by giving it better support.

THE WHOLE WORKS

An exchange prints a little story, clipped from an unknown source, which is very good and perhaps very old. Anyway it's worth repeating.

It concerns an Omaha jobbing house and a customer merchant in a small Iowa town. A shipment of goods received by the customer was rejected as unsatisfactory.

The jobber prepared to institute suit for collection and wrote to the railroad agent at the village for information about the arrival of the merchandise; to the president of the bank for information concerning the financial standing of their customer, to the mayor or the city asking him to recommend a good lawyer to handle their case; and to the merchant himself, threatening suit, if he did not make payment at once.

All the desired information came in a single letter, as follows:

"I received your letter telling me I had better pay up.

"I am railroad agent here and received the letter you wrote the agent.

"I am president and sole owner of the local bank and can assure you of my financial standing.

"As mayor of the city, I hesitate to refer you to a lawyer, since I am the only member of the bar in this vicinity.

"If I were not the pastor of the only church here, I would tell you to go to hell!"

FALSE ECONOMY

True economy is entirely praiseworthy, particularly for those who have difficulty in making ends meet, but there is a petty sort of skimping which is not economy, and which is really wasteful in the long run.

Time and effort expended to effect the saving of a penny here and a nickle there often is a source of loss instead of gain. Shopping around for an hour in the hope of saving a few cents on a trivial purchase is one example of this. Another is to buy an inferior article when a good one would cost but a little more.

The same principle applies in business management. To deny oneself the use of a reasonable amount of up-to-date equipment in an effort to curtail expenditures is not economy because such equipment will usually pay for itself many times over in time and labor saving.

Spending money wisely is one of the surest means of making more money. Skimping is not always economy and stinginess is not always thrift. Too many of us are "penny wise and pound foolish."

MORE OLD PEOPLE NOW

Gradually the number of old persons is increasing, while the number of children is decreasing, according to Dr. O. E. Baker, a government statistician, who declares that there are now about 10 percent fewer children in the United States than there were five years ago, and about 17 percent more persons over the age of 65.

It is a well known fact that the nation's birth rate has been declining for more than a century. However, the actual number of births did not start downward until 1921. But this decline has been from nearly 3,000,000 births in 1921 to around 2,300,000 in 1934.

Should the decline in births continue at the pre-depression rate, says Dr. Baker, the population of the nation "will increase slowly for about 10 years when here will be perhaps 5,000,000 more people than now. Soon after this it will decline, providing there is no increase in immigration. Should the decrease in births be less rapid, the increase in population to the peak will be greater and this date farther in the future."

But in the meantime the number of old people will increase by about one-third each decade. This increase says this authority, is inevitable for they are living now, and the number who will die can be estimated closely.

YOU CAN'T GET SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

Marshall News: It's an easy matter to humbug all of us. And the farmer is no exception. Just now he's receiving bonuses raised thru the processing tax. The checks look good, and the farmer in many instances, thinks he is just that much ahead. But when he goes to buy a sack of oats he does not realize that he pays the Government 80 cents on that sack. But he does. When he buys a sack of corn meal that he used to get for 25 cents he finds it's costing him 59 cents if he buys it on bargain days. When he buys feed for his cattle he finds the processing tax or something else has increased the price from 50 percent to 100 percent. Before the processing tax he could buy good flour, 24-pound sack, for sixty cents. Now we notice on bargain days he can get it for $1.09. Formerly when he was short on meat he could get two pounds of pork chops for a quarter. Yesterday we paid 31 cents for one cent for one pound.

One mill and elevator company here in East Texas paid the United States Government more than a half million dollars in processing taxes last year. Probably 80 per cent of this mill's product is sold to farmers. It's easy to see that Jones pays the freight, we will find if we look closely enough. Every time a farmer buys a sack of meal or flour he pays for the processing tax on cotton. And every yard of cotton goods his women folks buy, there is the processing tax.

It takes pretty hard work to get something for nothing.

LEE DIED A "PRISONER"

It may not be generally known that General Robert E. Lee was technically a prisoner of war at the time of his death in 1870, but such is the case, according to a writer in the Pathfinder.

After Lee's surrender to Grant at Appomattox on April 9, 1865, he was released on parole. President Johnson's amnesty proclamation issued the following month did not include Confederate officers above the rank of colonel, or any who had been educated at West Point or who had resigned from the United States army to join the Confederacy, so Lee was ineligible for amnesty on all three counts.

Johnson provided, however, that those in the executed classes would have their applications for pardon considered and Lee made application accordingly, but his request was entirely ignored by the president. The terms of Lee's parole were requested, however, he was never molsted, although he was never restored to citizenship.

As is well known, after the war General Lee accepted the presidency of Washington College at Lexington, Va., and remained in that office until he died, when the name of the institution was changed to Washington and Lee, but at the time of his death he was still a paroled prisoner of the war, deprived of his civil rights.

SEES INFLATION
A SLOW PROCESS

A Real Danger for the Future, Col. Ayres Tells Banking Groups.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Present prospects do not indicate that inflation severe enough to cause further dollar devaluation will come soon in this country, but as an ultimate development it seems to be a very real danger, Leonard P. Ayres, Vice President Cleveland Trust Company, said here tonight in an address before the Graduate School of Banking. He believed this statement to be true "unless the government enters frankly upon a policy of issuing flat money with which to meet its expenses." At present that does not seem to be in sight, he said.

The Graduate School is operated jointly by the American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association and Rutgers University to offer advanced studies for bank officers.

"We have so enormously increased the capacity of our banking system for credit expansion that it is difficult to see how we could have a vigorous business revival without having it develop into a credit inflation," Colonel Ayres declared.

Inflation a Slow Process

If inflation does come it will be a slow process, he said, pointing out that in Germany, France, Belgium and Italy it took about five years to develop from the time when the governments entered upon policies of financing large peace-time deficits by bank credit up to the time when the public generally began to spend money rapidly because of fear that it would still further depreciate in purchasing power.

"If we are to go through such a period here it would seem likely that it might last rather longer than the corresponding periods did abroad," he said. "Its beginning would date from the spring of 1933 when we left the old gold basis for our money and entered upon the policy of financing large governmental deficits by the sale of Federal securities mainly to banks rather than to private investors."

"The method that we are following is the one that proved disastrous in Europe for in all those countries including Germany, the increasing issues of money that caused the inflations were not mere printing press issues of fiat currency, but were secured by government bonds and notes discounted at the banks. Nevertheless, the process is inherently a slow one."

Among the clearest lessons taught by the European experience, Colonel Ayres asserted, is that there are "no good hedges against inflation." He added:

Did Not Lighten Debt Burdens

"One of the strange facts about these inflations is that while they destroyed the values of most existing debts, they did not succeed in lightening the debt burdens of either the people as a whole, or of the corporations."

"Inflation destroys the value of bonds and mortgages and so confiscates the property of these holders of obligations and hands it over to the shareholders and the equity owners. However, it introduces so many new economic difficulties that these share and equity holders are at once forced to incur new indebtedness so that when stabilization comes the problems of debt are about as troublesome as they were before, or even more so."

The five requisites of inflation were listed by Colonel Ayres as first, a period of sustained active business; second, a rising stock market; third, real credit expansion; fourth, greater outflow of gold "than we can tolerate which would force us to cut our currency entirely free from gold"; and fifth, continued large budget deficits in government operation.

A PROPHECY

Significant economic developments to be expected in the next decade are listed by a prominent business writer as follows: (1) Higher standard of living. (2) Continued advances in technical processes of production. (3) Factory built houses, better and cheaper than hand made houses. (4) Somewhat cheaper money. (5) Faster travel. (6) News printed by radio. (7) Mechanical cotton picker, revolutionizing the South. (8) Cheaper electric power. (9) Better distribution of goods; more chain stores. (10) Another depression five or six years hence, preceded by an inflationary boom.

TWO QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Why is it that one farmer raises 100 bushels of corn to the acre, and the other one, on the other side of the fence, raises 25 bushels to the acre? Why is it that one farmer produces 100 pounds of pork on five bushels of corn, and another uses 25 bushels? Not until power machinery, scientific principles of soil fertilization and restoration, rotation of crops, diversification of crops and economical feeding are applied to the farm, will the farmers' problem be solved, says a farm authority.

BANKING READY

NEW YORK. — There is abundant evidence that banks are in an unusually favorable position to finance a period of industrial growth, says the June issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.

An official survey on June 10 indicated that the Government of the United States, through its loans, was the potential owner of more than half of the existing world stocks of American cotton.

FACTS

And now the disagreeable fact creeps out that no "tax-the-rich" program, no matter how confiscatory, will ever produce enough money to make a dent in the federal debts that are piling up.

The deadly fact is beginning to sink into the minds of our lawmakers, as well as into the minds of our taxpayers, that the only way to collect the billions of dollars a year needed to meet present public expenditures, is by a tax that reaches down into the toe of the sock of every individual who has an income above the bare subsistence level.

It has been predicted that within the next five years we may claim the distinction of being one of the most heavily taxed nations of the world.

When the sun is blazing hot, your motor heat goes up, too!

To protect your motor, use Germ Processed Oil, which has 2 to 4 times greater film strength and is less affected by extreme motor heat!

YOUR MOTOR runs lots hotter in Summer. That's why you must have oil that maintains high film strength under extreme temperatures to get safe lubrication. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear.

Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing methods have even less. As motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

You'll get better motor protection with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Timken machine tests prove that it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil and that heat above 225° does not lessen this advantage.

More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil.

You'll be certain your motor is safely lubricated even at high temperatures if you say "O. K.—Drain" and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

TELLS HOW BANKS AIDED PROGRESS

Economist Describes the Ways Banking Institutions Have Contributed to Development of United States

OMAHA, Nebr.—Privately owned banking, despite its faults, has served America well, William A. Irwin, Professor of Economics, Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas, declared in a recent address here on "Banking in a Changing World."

"Under the leadership of individuals banking has helped to bring this country to a foremost place in economic development among the nations of the world," he said. "The small community has been developed by the individual bank. The frontiers of America have been pushed forward by the help and counsel of the individual banker. The shocks of wars and depressions in a century and a half have been withstood with the assistance of the individual banker."

Change May Be Necessary

"It may be that we have reached a tide in the affairs of America when new methods are needed. It may be that we have come to a point where the individual should be submerged for the greatest good of the greatest number."

"It may even be that complete centralization of the banking system has become an economic necessity in our complicated social life. But the banker ought to be satisfied that these things are so before he should give up his life for the system we have known. We came to greatness under that kind of banking; we should not give it up without unmistakable proof of the absolute necessity of such a change."

The American Pattern

Professor Irwin said that the proposal which has been advanced for coordinating banking operations in the national interest under "a Supreme Court" for banking is typically American and ought to have the most serious consideration of those elements which are clamoring for political control, which is typically un-American. It is not wise, he said, to oppose changes as such, but that bankers should "as to it that change, if and when it does come, shall preserve all that is good in the past and stick as closely as possible to the American pattern of things."

Banking is properly a conservative profession, he pointed out, and should cling to practices and principles of banking that are, and always have been, fundamentally sound.

"It is to its credit that so large a group of its members never faltered even in boom times, in their allegiance to those sound principles," he declared. "We probably owe our salvation from chaos to that fact."

BANKS AND COLLEGE LAUNCH NEW SCHOOL

Aims to Offer Studies in Advanced Banking Subjects to Bank Executives—Public Duties of Banks Stressed

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — The Graduate School of Banking, an unprecedented educational project, operated under the joint auspices of the American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association and Rutgers University, with 220 enrolled students from 35 states and the District of Columbia, inaugurated here in June its first resident session.

The states represented and the number of registrants from each were as follows: Alabama, 2; Arkansas, 2; California, 2; Connecticut, 9; Delaware, 3; District of Columbia, 6; Florida, 2; Georgia, 3; Idaho, 1; Illinois, 8; Indiana, 2; Iowa, 1; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 2; Louisiana, 3; Maryland, 1; Massachusetts, 9; Michigan, 5; Minnesota, 1; Missouri, 5; Nebraska, 1; New Jersey, 31; New York, 50; North Carolina, 8; North Dakota, 1; Ohio, 7; Oklahoma, 1; Oregon, 2; Pennsylvania, 32; Rhode Island, 1; Texas, 5; Virginia, 6; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 4; Wyoming, 1.

The annual resident sessions of the graduate school will be supplemented between periods by continued extension work for the students at their homes. The purpose of the school is described as being to offer in a three year course a comprehensive approach to an advanced study of the various administrative problems in banking and trust institutions. The teaching procedure is a combination of the case system and the lecture discussion method.

The Curriculum

The curriculum embraces banking administrative problems and policies, bank investment problems, legal and managerial aspects of trust business, legal phases of bank administration and economic problems in the field of money and credit. The public relations and responsibilities of banks and methods for meeting these obligations are emphasized in the courses.

It is planned to set up similar schools in cooperation with other universities in various parts of the country. The school will add 200 registrants each year for two years until 600 are enrolled.

The trustees of the Educational Foundation of the American Bankers Association have set aside funds from the foundation to grant 100 loan scholarships of $150 each to qualified applicants for attendance at the school.

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

CARDUI

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Adams W. H. D. Club

In removing varnish from furniture it is safer to use a commercial remover instead of lye solution, said Mrs. Sid Stapp, member of the Adams Home Demonstration Club, at the home of Mrs. B. W. Montgomery, August 1, 1931.

When using a commercial remover there is no danger of the wood being eaten into, while if you use lye there is a great danger of injuring furniture unless it is washed several times very carefully.

Spread varnish remover over the piece of furniture, then wipe off immediately. Rub a cloth dipped in gasoline over the furniture, furniture will look like new after being varnished.

Refreshments were served to five members; Mesdames Will Isaacs, Leonard Isaacs, Sid Stapp, Silas Burk, and Will Montgomery.

THE LACK OF MONEY

Possibly most people do not know so very much about money. But at one time or another we all know something about the lack of it.

Of course money isn't everything, but it certainly does its share toward making life easier and happier. It is a lot easier to spend money than to save it, when it is in your purse. It is better to keep it in our bank where it will be protected until you need it. That is the best way to avoid a lack of money.

served as crop insurance to Schleicher county farmers in 1934. They received in this way a total of $37,489.35 through April 30th last.

These cotton income figures do not include the value of unsold Bankhead certificates of which about nine million dollars' worth are held by Texas farmers.

Schleicher county cotton was valued on the farm at $210,290.94 in 1932. It increased in 1933, the plow-up year, to $213,960.49, including benefit payments. These values are based upon yields and prices as furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture. The benefit payments included all those to April 30, 1935.

Commenting on Schleicher county cotton income for the last three years as revealed in these official figures, Mr. C. Snell points out that crop insurance benefit payments for 1934-35 enables farmers to survive a bad crop year. Almost forty thousand dollars more was put into circulation than would have been possible without a program. It is difficult to see how farmers could have maintained their farms and homes and remained customers of merchants last year without the program, he concludes.

Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lafa, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."
