SUPPLEMENT TO THE TEXAS ALMANAC

The Success office received this week a supplement to the 1936 Texas Almanac and State Industrial Guide, which was sent us with the compliments of the Greater Texas & Pan-American Exposition.

This new edition brings last year's edition up to date, giving much information of Texas, her industries, resources and her county officials for the present terms.

Two pages of this new book are devoted to the new 1937 exposition at Dallas, which will open June 12 for a run of 142 days. The new exposition expects to achieve even greater accomplishments than the Texas Centennial Exposition of 1936, which was visited by 6,354,585 people.

SHEEP TO MARKET

Tom Russell sent two of A. J. Burk's trucks to Fort Worth last Monday, taking loads of sheep to market. The sheep were in good market condition.

PLANS NEW HOME

P. F. Case and family of Evanston, Illinois, came in last week for a ten-day visit with friends and relatives in this county. Mr. Case, who is interested in property holdings in this county, plans immediate construction on a new home on the Case ranch land, which joins the Dave DeLong ranch. The water well is being dug now, and construction on the new home is expected to start within a short time.

GOOD LAMB CROP

Schleicher county ranchmen are almost unanimous in reporting a good lamb crop this year. But, according to our opinion Seth Ramsey tops them all.

Driving along the road through his ranch the other day, it appeared to us that there was a lamb with every ewe, and some of the ewes had two lambs following them around. Knowing no more about the sheep business than we do, it seems to us that Mr. Ramsey's crop is 100 percent—maybe 101 per cent!

EVERYBODY SATISFIED

We haven't heard one single, solitary remark against the rain we had. Ranchmen—cattlemen, sheepmen and "goatmen"—farmers, merchants, professional men and everybody in general seem just as pleased as can be.

Even the county's road hands seemed to enjoy the rain, even though they had to be off from work for a day or more. Arch Posey found time to go up to his house and shear the pet goat.

Which reminds us that "the boys" claim the rain was certainly a fine preliminary to the opening of shearing season. "It just makes shearing better," they claim.

So if you're kicking about getting this rain, you're just on the unpopular side this time, for sure!

Cooper Is Selling Schleicher Oil For $1.50 Per Barrel

John M. Cooper is selling a truckload of distillate daily from his No. 1 Bert Page, Schleicher County wildcat, to the Cosden Refining Co. of Big Spring at $1.50 per barrel. The truck being used has a capacity of 1,087 gallons, or almost 26 barrels.

The gas is being retailed in Eldorado by R. C. Morgan and Son, local dealers for the Cosden Company.

Mr. Cooper has secured from the state a tender to sell as much distillate as is yielded by the gas required for fuel in drilling his No. 2 Page, about three-quarters of a mile to the southeast. He believes the well would produce 30 to 35 barrels of distillate daily if the well was opened to capacity. The gas gauged 13,800,000 cubic feet daily in December, 1935. Three storage tanks each of 200 barrels capacity are being erected to augment two 125-barrel tanks now in use.

Until No. 1 Page was shut in last summer the distillate was sold to farmers and ranchmen for tractor fuel at $3 per barrel. The well is bottomed at 5,535 (See No. 1 Last Page)

Many Children To Meet Here In Sing Song Exercises

Several hundred school children of Schleicher county are expected to take part in the singing exercises which will be held at the Eldorado school gymnasium on the evening of Friday, April 30th. Plans are under way to make this one of the largest and most interesting school gatherings ever held in the county.

The idea of having this event was conceived by O. C. Murdock deputy state superintendent, and County Judge C. S. McKinney at the time they were visiting the rural schools of this county. It is expected to play a large part in cementing a spirit of closer relationship between the schools of this county.

The meeting is more than just a school gathering. It is for young and old alike, although only school children will take part in the singing. Mr. Murdock will lead the group singing.

All schools are expected to take part, and the school trustees and patrons are cordially invited and urged to attend.

MAY 10 SET AS LAST DAY FOR SIGNING-1937 WORK SHEETS

Schleicher county agricultural association has decided on May 10th as the last day on which farmers of this county may sign up for the 1937 cotton program.

May 15th has been set as the last date on which the state will accept the work sheets, and the county must necessarily close its sign-up on May 10th so that all papers may get to the state office on time.

County Agent Godwin urges all who anticipate entering the program to sign their work sheets before May 10th.

To Conduct School

Mrs. Bonnie McDaniel, a native West Texan, will be here on Friday, April 30th, to conduct the all-electric cooking school sponsored by the West Texas Utilities Co. The school will be held at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. McDaniel, noted home economist of Chicago, is a representative of Edison General Electric Appliance Co., and will give local women expert instruction in electrical cookery.

Juniors Preparing For Senior Banquet

The Juniors have been working on plans for the annual banquet in honor of the Seniors. They have decided on the general motif for the occasion but are endeavoring to keep the actual type as a surprise for their guests. They hope to make the affair interesting, entertaining, and delightful.

The Seniors and other guests will receive written invitations later in the week—So—Be making your plans now to attend the outstanding social event of the year where there will be dignity and gaiety, seriousness and humor, many beautiful ladies and handsome gents!!!

Large Crowd Attends School Open House

A large group of patrons and students attended the school open house held in the grade school building and gymnasium Tuesday evening.

Each of the seven home-rooms in the grade school building had exhibits on display in their rooms, with the high school and seventh grade work being displayed in the corridor of the building. The home economics exhibits were displayed in the department in the old building.

The doors of the building were opened at 7:30, and the program began in the gymnasium promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Each grade and high school teacher had a part in both the exhibits and the program.

The program consisted of a variety of activities on the part of the students of various ages. The order of the program, together with the name of the teachers and their contribution were: Miss Thelma Ellington, Grade 1 A, nature study; Mrs. Arnan Drenon, Grade 1 B, Phonics drill, Mrs. Bennie Watson, Second grade, travel study; Mrs. Corine R. Robinson, third grade, Japanese ways; Miss Annie Herberth fourth grade, baseball game with questions; Miss Ima Gene

1.90 Inches Rain Received In County Last Monday Night

MOISTURE IS WELCOMED BY RANCHMEN AND FARMERS

Old man J. Pluvius smiled a great smile upon Schleicher county people last Monday night, and everyone is proud of the way the weather man is treating us.

The precipitation amounted to 1.90 inches in Eldorado, according to those who keep rain gauges and records of rainfall in this county. Ranchmen are well pleased, as the moisture will be a great aid to their range land and spring grazing. Then, too, they like to see a rain just before shearing time, and this one could not have come at a more opportune time.

Farmers are having lots of fun estimating just what this rain will mean to their 1937 yield. Talk on the streets is concerning so much cotton, corn, oats, etc., to the acre.

The truth of the matter is that everybody's happy! They're of the opinion that there's no better place to live than right here in Schleicher county—and there is no better time to live here than now!

Looks like 1937 is going to be a big year!

Local Contestants Win In District Meet At San Angelo

Friday, April 16, the High school debate team went to San Angelo to enter in the district meet. The debates began at 3 p. m. with the boys team, Jack Hext and Ed Reynolds, debating Menard and the girls team, Maxine Wilton and Johnnie Ferne Isaacs, debating Eden. The girls were defeated, but the boys won. The boys lost their second debate to Bronte.

Saturday the different representatives of Eldorado High School entered in the meet. Eldorado took the following places Ready Writing—Raymond Rogers, fifth; Typing—Alice Mund, second, Genevieve Ramsey, third Shorthand—Mary Cloud, first; Bonnie Mund, second; Johnnie Ferne Isaacs, third.

Junior Declamation, Winnie Jean Steward, third. Johnnie Clement was entered in the field events. He won fifth in broad jump and first in high jump, jumping 6 feet 1 inch.

Those who will attend the regional meet to be held at Abilene April 23 are Alice Mund, Genevieve Ramsey, Mary Cloud, Bonnie Mund, Johnnie Ferne, Isaacs and Johnnie Clement.

MRS. L. B. McClary ATTENDS FUNERAL OF RELATIVE IN TULSA

Mrs. L. B. McClary left last Monday morning for Tulsa, Okla., upon receipt of a message that her brother-in-law, C. S. Kirby, had died. Mr. Kirby had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were held at Tulsa at two-thirty last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. McClary is expected home during the first of next week.

To Speak Here

Stephenville—Stressing the rapid changes of today's world, Dean J. Thomas Davis, above, of John Tarleton College will speak in Eldorado next May 27 on the thing he believes necessary for solving problems of civilization.

Tilted back before his big desk at his Tarleton College office today, Dean Davis indicated in an interview what trend his speech will take. "Everything," he said "depends on the worthy use of human intelligence."

"By the right use of their intelligence, men have rescued and revived vegetable and animal life, and the life of races and civilizations. They should meet the hazards of life, the continuous problems which arise, by the same means."

Students of the land, Dean Davis believes, have an especial responsibility. "The course of civilization must be intelligently directed so that humanity may be bettered. Students must rightly evaluate the social, spiritual, the financial. They must answer intelligently the question: 'Where is thy brother?' and think seriously when asked, 'Am I my brother's keeper?'"

Dean Davis will be the commencement speaker for the Eldorado high school.

300 People Are Present For Annual Station A Picnic

Approximately 300 people attended the annual picnic held at Station A last Monday afternoon. This event has been sponsored annually by employees of the pump station for the past five or six years.

Due to other things which conflicted with the picnic, the crowd was somewhat smaller than Station A boys had expected. They were gratified, however, that so many people attended the picnic in spite of these conflicts.

A bounteous barbecue dinner with beans, pickles, cakes, and what it takes to make the meal complete, was served. Employees of the station said they could have fed many more people, because there was "plenty and some to spare."

More interest is being shown in this picnic each year, and the employees hope that their next one will have no conflicts so that an even larger crowd will be present.

Mrs. Roy Burk of Brady, Texas, visited friends and relatives here for several days last week.

Mrs. Sam Roberts and children and Miss Pauline Walker visited in Llano, Texas, during the past week-end.

Farmers Receive $22,000 In Cotton Checks This Week

104 CHECKS RECEIVED HERE ON FRIDAY; FARMERS GET 1936 PAY

The long-delayed and long waited for cotton checks for Schleicher county farmers were received here by County Agent W. G. Godwin last Friday, and are being distributed to those who participated in the 1936 soil conservation program.

There were 104 checks in this allotment, and others are due to be received here within the near future. Mr. Godwin has notified all farmers whose checks have come in, and they are calling at the county agent's office and signing for them.

The checks were for a total of $22,280.21 and were for the following classes of payments: Class 1, or rented acre payments, $20,407.41; Class 2, or soil building payments, $1,872.80.

MISSIONARY RALLY FOR METHODISTS TO BE HELD SUNDAY

All-day services will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday in commemoration of the sailing of the first missionary of the Southern Methodist Church to the mission fields of China. These services are for each member of the church, and all Methodists are urged to attend.

The regular Sunday school and preaching services will be held on Sunday morning. A basket dinner will be served at noon, and services in the afternoon will consist of a pageant and other activities. Again in the evening the regular preaching service will be observed.

Those in charge of the rally are anxious that as many Methodists as possible attend these services. Bring your basket lunch and enjoy the day.

West Texas Utilities Cooking School Will Open April 30th

NATIVE WEST TEXAN TO BE IN CHARGE OF MODERN COOKING SCHOOL

A home-town girl who made good in the city is Mrs. Bonnie McDaniel, noted home economist of Chicago who is returning to her native land to conduct a modern Electric Cooking School for the West Texas Utilities Company. Mrs. McDaniel, a native West Texan, is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene.

She will open a 1 day cooking school in Eldorado, Friday afternoon, April 30th. The school, featuring the many uses of electric service in the modern kitchen, will be held in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. McDaniel, a representative of Edison General Electric Appliance Company, makers of Hotpoint electric ranges, was secured to give Eldorado women expert instruction in electrical cookery, which has been widely

THINK

If Texas is to become the first ranking industrial state—as its rich and varied resources promise—its leaders must plan and build to that end. The day is past when the industrial city or region will grow and flourish without intelligent direction, because rapid transportation and communication have rendered natural advantages less important to industry than formerly. Thus, instead of going where raw materials are most abundant or the climate most favorable, industry is likely to prefer the best-planned community.

Other conditions being equal, capital will flow and factories move into those States which offer the soundest guarantees against overburdensome, unfair or confiscatory taxation. The wisdom of Florida's constitutional prohibition of a State income tax is obvious.

Any State which has industrial aspirations must carry out a sound, equitable taxation policy. In other words, taxation must be rendered genuinely equal and uniform and kept as light as possible. Texas might establish an Industrial Development Department which could take its cue from the State Planning Board, which is conducting a comprehensive survey of the state's industrial possibilities and markets—present and potential—for factory, mill, quarry and mine products.

Considerable fact-finding has been done in that field by both public and private agencies, and fruits of such inquiry were exhibited, with good effect, at the Centennial Exposition in 1936.

Such a State government service could perform for all of Texas what the Industrial Development Department of San Antonio Public Service Company has been doing for that corporation, and for the city and trade territory general. It assembles concrete scientific and economic information of practical value to specific industries. Such data are transmitted by letter, printed bulletin and personal visits to managements seeking new locations or otherwise interested in the field covered.

Were all Texas resources studied as thoroughly and promoted as intelligently as that department has studied and promoted ceramic clays, for one example, great benefit would result. There is an inviting field for such a State service as that proposed. It might also be influential in bringing about a more sensible public policy, particularly taxation policy, affecting industry.

WHAT IS TRAFFIC CONTROL

A noted traffic authority recently discussed the traffic accident problem in terms of three types of safety. The first is personal safety, the necessity for protecting the limbs and lives of us all.

The second is moral safety, the necessity for building an appreciation of the values of proper regulation. Motor vehicle traffic inevitably involves the law and law observance.

Disregard for the laws of the road, even the minor ones, breeds contempt and disregard for law masquerades as adventure.

The third is the need for protecting the economic benefits accrue from the widespread use of the automobile. Traffic accidents not only cost millions of dollars directly through lost earning power, lost time, hospital expenses and repair bills—they also push down property and rental values, slow up business turnover, reduce the value of investment portfolios, large and small.

Our understanding of the traffic problem might be better served if in thinking about it we substitute for the relatively narrow term "traffic safety" the more accurate term "traffic control." Traffic control means the application of certain logical principles to motor vehicle movement which will at once ease congestion and reduce hazard.

An important step in the direction of effective traffic control is the publication of the handbook, "Creating Safer Communities." Published by state motor vehicle and safety authorities in 24 states in cooperation with the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, the handbook tells how to set up a community traffic safety organization and presents a series of procedures for reducing accidents by removing their causes. It describes how essential accident information is secured. It gives instructions for developing enforcement, engineering and educational programs in line with advanced, tested methods of making traffic safer and less congested.

In just this kind of coordinated community approach to traffic problems can we hope to achieve mastery of a grave menace to the nation's personal, moral and financial safety.

'Sound-Proofing' Is One Of Many Features Of New Oldsmobile

The great attention paid by automotive engineers and designers to the sound-proofing of automobiles is amply demonstrated in the noise-reducing features to be found in the new Oldsmobile Six and Eight.

In keeping with the many refinements to be found on the new Oldsmobiles, the high degree of quietness achieved by these cars is unsurpassed in the industry, engineers point out.

In the all-steel Turret Top body by Fisher on the new Oldsmobiles, the top panel has a soft pad cemented to the under side to prevent drumming. The back side and door panels have a special mat cemented to them on the inside. The dash and cowl are insulated against heat and noise by a thick jute and celotex mat. The floor, which is of steel is ribbed and stamped to prevent vibration. The front floor mat, of moulded rubber, also has a heavy jute backing to cushion it against wear and to further insulate the front compartment while the rear compartment, has a jute pad under the floor carpet.

The body is securely bolted to the rigid frame at 12 points, six on each side, and is cushioned on thick rubber mountings.

Independent mounting of Oldsmobile's radiator and fenders, in combination with Knee-Action Wheels, provides a front-end construction which has remarkable stability at high speeds and lends further quiet to the operation of the car. With this construction, the fenders and radiator are mounted as a single unit on a sturdy brace extending from one front fender to the other across the front of the car. The hood side panels, when bolted in position, securely fasten the radiator harness to the body dash. This wing-like structure is cushioned on a block of live rubber which pivots on the frame at the center of the front crossmember. Any movement of the frame has no effect upon these parts because the frame movement rotates about the center-point rubber mounting. This method of assembly eliminates annoying front end construction in which the fenders and radiator are fastened directly and rigidly to the chassis.

Road noises which might originate from the tires when driving on paved or rough roads are subdued by means of special, moulded rubber pads which insulate the rear axle from the springs and frame at the axle housing spring seats. This is an added precaution which Oldsmobile takes to insure quiet operation.

Further improvement of Oldsmobile's tri-cushion engine suspension has been another important factor in noise elimination. An increased amount of rubber cushion in the single front mounting provides a greater degree of absorption of lateral and vertical engine movement. Forward and backward movement of the engine is controlled by means of the interlocking channel sections which are insulated by means of live rubber moulded in the outer closed channel section. This design permits radical movement of the engine for smooth clutch action.

Two rear mountings, scientifically located to reduce vibration, support the engine at the rear of the clutch housing. Professional teacher-training in Texas began in 1879 when 110 students enrolled at Sam Houston Normal Institute, Huntsville. Today, seven state teachers' colleges, at Huntsville, Denton, San Marcos, Canyon, Commerce, Alpine and Nacogdoches, enroll more than 8,000 during the regular college year.

Mrs. W. G. Godwin is visiting her mother in Wichita Falls this week.

SPRINGTIME IS CLEAN-UP TIME

You can see signs of spring fever almost everywhere. Farmers are plowing and sowing their fields. Suburbanites are planting their gardens. Housewives are cleaning and revamping homes. Communities are starting improvement projects.

Winter is apt to be a time of severe weather and partly because of the press of other matters in that busy season. Vacant lots, yards and even streets become unsightly. Now is the time for a thorough spring cleaning, extending through the community, in the interest of health, safety and civic progress.

Such a clean-up campaign is a splendid activity for civic clubs, chambers of commerce, Boy Scouts and similar groups to sponsor. Every town should emulate those communities which, through a spirit of fine cooperation, have succeeded in gaining the name of "Spotlesstown."

When a movement to paint up, clean-up and beautify sweeps a community it leaves in its wake a healthier, happier town. From the standpoint of fire safety alone, the movement pays big dividends—as the records show many a disastrous fire has been caused by rubbish and litter. Drop a cigarette or a cigar butt into an accumulation of trash and a conflagration may follow—furthermore, piled rubbish is always susceptible to spontaneous ignition.

Carry out the clean-up campaign by carefully burning all trash in incinerators and under close supervision. Every citizen and every business will benefit—socially and economically.

MAYAN EXHIBIT IS OFFERED EXPOSITION

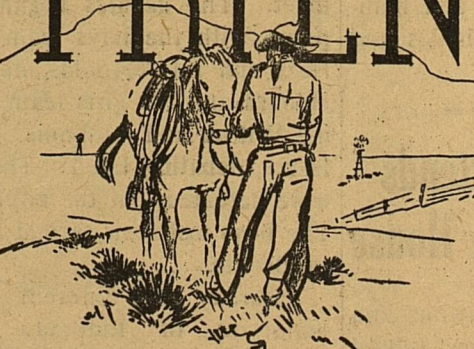

An authentic exhibit of the civilization of the ancient Mayas specimens of architecture and trinkets, and other traces of their living discovered by archaeologists will be brought from Tulane University, New Orleans, and placed on exhibit at the Pan American Exposition at Dallas, under arrangements begun this week. Frans Blom, director of Middle American research for the University, has just returned from a further research trip into Guatemala, adding to the collection already assembled from Mayan cities in Yucatan.

ELDORADO P. T. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

There was a call meeting of the Eldorado P. T. A. on Tuesday, April 13th. The nominating committee presented the following names for the officers of next year: Mrs. Luke Thompson for President, Mrs. J. W. Lawhorn for first Vice-president, Mrs. Leslie Baker for second vice-president, Mrs. Bill McSwane for the third vice-president, Miss Oma Ford for secretary, and Mrs. Mabel Parker for Treasurer. The motion was made and seconded that these officers be elected.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

FRESHMAN CLASS ENTERTAINED

The Freshman class of Eldorado High School were entertained with their first class party at the T. K. Jones' home Friday night with about 50 of the class attending.

Carrying out a spring motif, the entire house was decorated with a profusion of blue bonnets and lighted tapers. Punch and cookies were served at intervals throughout the evening on the terrace, Miss Doll Weatherly serving the punch.

Numerous games in which all participated were played, both in and out of doors and were enjoyed by all. Prizes were awarded for contest winners.

Those attending the party want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Jones for the use of their lovely home, and also the numerous committees which made the party one of the most enjoyable of its kind ever to be held in Eldorado.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB CONTINUES STUDY ON SOUTHERN FICTION

The Woman's Club met with Mrs. N. P. Wilkinson on Tuesday, April 20, at which time the program on "Southern Fiction—Mississippi" was led by Miss Norene Ellington.

An instructive paper on "Economic Progress in the South," was read by Mrs. V. G. Tisdale. A review of Stark Young's "Heaven Trees" was given by Mrs. F.

B. Gunn, and Mrs. D. C. Hill gave a review of Harris Dickson's "An Old Fashioned Senator."

Interesting reports on the 6th District convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, which met at Brady on April 12, 13 and 14, were given by Mrs. D. E. DeLong, Mrs. D. C. Hill and Miss Frances Bowen. The diction drill was led by Mrs. S. D. Harper.

Refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. D. E. DeLong, Mrs. Joe B. Edens, Mrs. V. G. Tisdale, Mrs. E. C. Hill, Mrs. W. E. Eaton, Mrs. W. N. Ramsey, Mrs. F. B. Gunn, Mrs. D. C. Hill, Mrs. S. D. Harper, Mrs. T. K. Jones, Mrs. F. S. Miller, Mrs. W. T. Whitten and Miss Norene Ellington, members; Miss Frances Bowen and Mrs. Jim Dan Hill of Superior, Wis., guests.

PATTERN MAKING

"I need a foundation pattern because I'm rather short and am round-shouldered and the commercial patterns never fit me," said Mrs. Ed Ratliff as Mrs. Palmer West and Mrs. N. G. Hodges helped make a pattern for her.

This is one of the ways that the Home Demonstration club women contact people of the community who are not in clubs. The wardrobe demonstrators get credit for the patterns that they make for the ladies of the community as well as those they make for the club members.

OUTDOOR WORK

Nell Edmiston, who is carrying on individual demonstration as a part of her work in the Senior 4-H Club, is about finished arranging an outdoor living room.

There is a huge oak tree in the northwest corner of the yard and Nell will group several comfortable yard chairs around an old table that she will have to refinish. To keep the wood of the table from decaying, Nell plans to cover the top with tin and then apply some paint.

Honey suckle and ivy growing over the tree and along the walls of the garage will provide a cool, refreshing background for the furniture.

Extension Service Leaders Honored At Luncheon Tuesday

Miss Mildred Horton Makes An Inspiring Talk On Work With Texas Women

Honoring Miss Mildred Horton and Miss Kate Adele Hill, extension workers of Texas A. & M. College, members of the Women's Home Demonstration Clubs of this county gave a luncheon last Tuesday at noon in the basement of the First Baptist Church. Due to the muddy roads many people of the county who expected to attend the luncheon were unable to get to town.

Approximately seventy people enjoyed the splendid food which was prepared by the home demonstration women and served at this luncheon. Mrs. Gordie Alexander was in charge of the program.

Following the luncheon, Miss Horton, who is state agent in charge of women's work, made a very interesting and inspirational talk on how the work has progressed in Texas.

"It was not until about 1920 that club work was started among the women," she said. "Although some of the work was with women of Texas prior to this time, the demonstration clubs were not organized before because the women had not taken enough interest in this work."

Miss Horton went on to explain how the work had grown since that time until now it is available to a large majority of the women in Texas.

"I am glad to say that the work is not confined to only a select few," she added, "but is open to every woman who desires to enter the work. Your home demonstration clubs are not controlled by the home demonstration agent; they are independent of her, but there are a few set rules which the extension service requires before the demonstration agent can work with them. "Each club must have a demonstrator for each of the demonstrations offered in this work; it must have a council representative, and a club reporter. These are required so that ideas of the work may be given to each club through the council delegates, who work in cooperation with the county agent. We ask each club to have a reporter so that those who are not club members may read of the work in their local papers and receive some ideas from these reports that might help them.

"We do not give individual instruction to non club members in communities where clubs are organized because we feel that this is the purpose of the club. In communities where there are not enough ladies to form a club, you'll find the demonstration agent willing to work with some woman of the community as an individual demonstrator so that she, in turn, may demonstrate the work to other ladies of her community."

Miss Horton told of how the work helped club ladies to make better homes, to provide better meals, and to make better citi-

Her talk was very instructive, and everyone who attended the luncheon came away with a better idea of what this work is accomplishing throughout the state and nation.

Should I Enter The 1937 Program?

Should I enter the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program? This question is possibly being asked by numerous farmers of Schleicher county this week.

C. A. Cobb, director, Southern division, sets forth some of the advantages of entering the new program in a letter to all committeemen which was received here recently. Mr. Cobb, in speaking of the program as crop insurance, says in part:

"Under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, every farmer who participates in the program is protected to the full extent of his participation. His payments are not affected by weather, boll weevils, or fluctuations in prices. The larger the number of acres devoted to soil building crops and practices, the greater the protection against flood, drought, and low prices.

"There are numerous areas in the South where, during the past three years, droughts, floods, insects, or diseases have completely destroyed crops. In these areas the payments made in connection with the programs provided practically the only cash income farmers received. No doubt many similar situations will occur in 1937. In addition to natural hazards, overproduction and low prices are an annual threat."

The Agricultural Conservation Program, Mr. Cobb points out, provides protection to farmers in the following ways:

1. All producers who participate will receive some cash income, regardless of what may happen to their planted crops. For these producers who cooperate to the fullest extent and whose crops are severely injured by drought, or other disaster, this cash income may be the means of preventing extreme distress.

2. Cooperating producers assume less risk if they divert a part of their soil-depleting crop acreage to soil-conserving crops. The soil-conserving crops in the main serve to provide needed feeds and foods. In this way cash outlay may be reduced.

3. The program, by tending to adjust the supply to demand, insures a better price for that which is produced for sale.

4. The soil-conserving crops grown on land that would otherwise be planted to soil-depleting crops, protect the cooperating producer against loss of plant food and loss of soil caused by leaching and erosion. In the long run, such a change in crops grown will mean higher and more economical yields than could otherwise be expected.

5. Improved soils mean better stands, fewer crop failures, and lower production costs.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB HAS PICNIC

Last Friday afternoon after school the Home Economics club girls with their sponsor and a few visitors motored out to the Whitten ranch located five miles north of town and had a picnic.

The picnic lunch consisted of Pimento cheese and baked ham sandwiches, potato chips, marshmallows, pickles, cookies, and coco cola. When the group had finished eating several outdoor games were played until six o'clock and then the gang returned to town.

The club girls present were: Louise Bruton, Marjorie Roach, Maurine Parks, Fern Parks, Floyce Serrod, Rosalyn Jones, Leola Sauer, Thella Luedecke, Ernestine Finnigan, Erma Lee Bodine, Billie B. Steward, Charlene Mund, Crystelle McAngus, Wilma Burrus, Floyce Luncan, Hazel Doyle, Billie Louise Spurgers, Beatrice Wright, Doll Weatherly, Betty Jo Whitten, Eloise Watson and Miss Johnson.

Visitors present were: Miss Strickland, Fae Belle Enochs, Mrs. Burrus and Mrs. Barber.

Everyone reported a very enjoyable outing.

BIG BEND HISTORICAL MEMORIAL TO BE DEDICATED MAY 1

May first has been set aside for the formal dedication of the $75,000 Big Bend Historical Memorial, at Alpine honoring the pioneers of West Texas. Ex-Governor Pat M. Neff, President of Baylor University, will give the dedicatory address at 10:00 A. M. Saturday morning. This will be followed with speeches of acceptance by Honorable Walter Woodul, Lieutenant Governor of Texas, for the Centennial Commission; by Honorable Claude D. Teer, President of the State Board of Control, for the Board of Control; and by Honorable R. A. Stuart, President of the Board of Regents of the State Teachers Colleges, for Sul Ross. Music will be furnished by the Sul Ross Band.

Sul Ross Home Coming
At high noon hundreds of Sul Ross Exes from West Texas will gather in the College Cafeteria to banquet and reminisce of other days. Superintendent H. G. Secret of Rankin, President of the Sul Ross Ex-Student Association, is especially anxious that all degree graduates of this section and all Sul Ross Lobos answer the roll call.

WORDS OF HAPPINESS

Paul Davis
Poets always write on the coming of Spring,
But I should like to write on a better thing
That would effect every human race,
And cause them to possess a happier face.

I would say kind things, not absurd,
I would touch their hearts with a magic word
That would cause them to see
How much happier their own lives could be.

I would have their lives be like a song
That carries a meaning as it goes along.
I would have the whole world think and believe
That I was trying to improve it before I leave.

TREES

These great wide havens for birds forlorn,
The cool refuge for the traveler wayworn;
The peace of all peaces it seems to me
Can be found in the summer
Neath the shade of a tree.

Oakes, walnuts, pecans, and birch
Seem against heat a battle to burch
For in these places these shades

es cool and sweet
All birds and beasts seek refuge from heat.

A young man walking the deserts way
Caught in the heat waves and smothering one day,

Was saved by a palm tree whose shade cool and wide
Saved the young man, who else would have died.

REMODELING HOME

Mrs. Jess Thompson, a member of the Eldorado Home Demonstration Club, is remodeling her furniture as well as her home. She is making slip covers for the chairs in the living room and for a chair in the bedroom.

Mrs. Thompson made her patterns by stretching the slightly dampened materials over the chairs and pinned them in place. Seams were allowed and then were joined and finished.

The slip covers may be finished with lapped seams, bias binding, or cording where the pieces are fitted together. Plain, solid material shows binding and cording to advantage.

Austin.—Behind the log-jam of a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a sales tax, the Texas senate devoted one of the last four weeks left of its session to leisurely debate, and failed to reach a final settlement of the matter. It did mow down substitutes and amendments by Aiken and Joe Hill, respectively, one of which would have substituted taxes on natural resources for the sales tax, to finance the entire social security program, and the other submitted both the sales tax and the natural resources tax for the voters to choose from. At the weekend, Small's original amendment resolution, submitting only the sales tax to finance the security program remained for senate action, with prospects that it get final senate action before another week is out. Meanwhile the entire house taxation program remained frozen in senate committees and many members were openly predicting that the regular biennial appropriation bills to finance the government departments for the next two fiscal years will not be passed before adjournment. After May 12, legislators would receive only $5 per day, instead of $10, if they remain in session. Nobody believes they will remain.

Special Session Talk

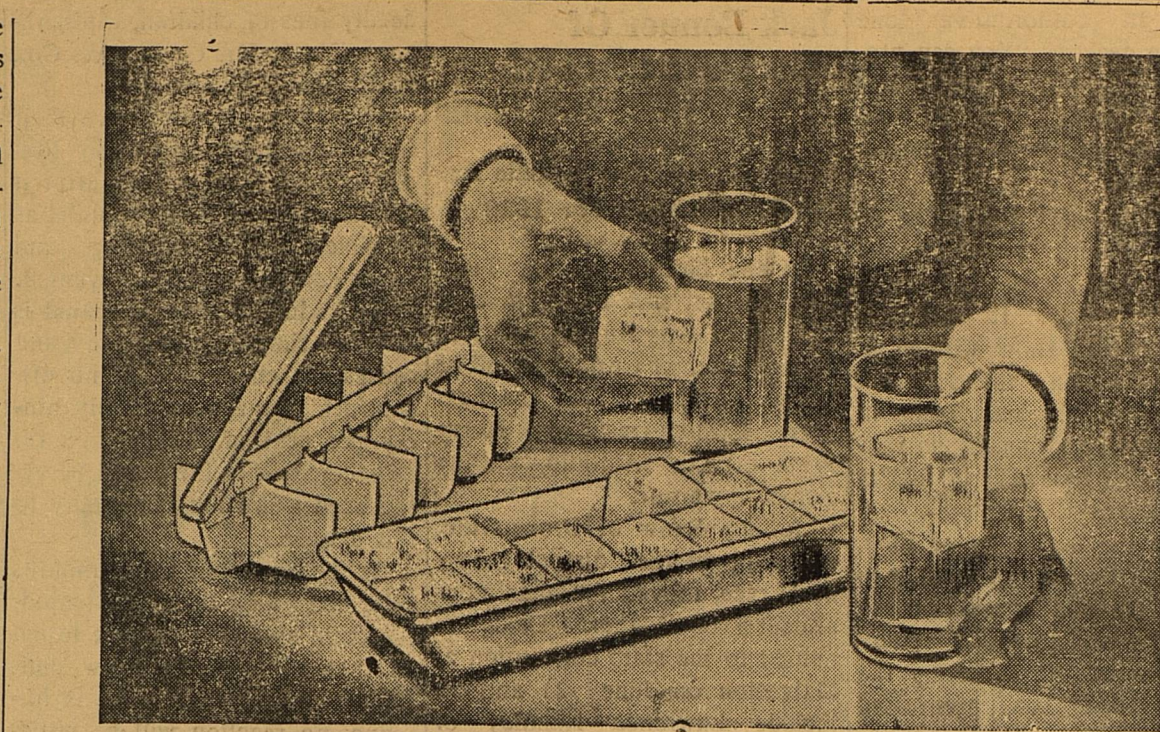

Close friends of the governor, in the house, were confidentially predicting this weekend that a special session will follow immediately upon the heels of the regular session. This, under the constitution, could last but 30 days, and legislators would get $10 a day. Friends of the governor declare he will submit first the horse race repeal measure—which now seems hopelessly buried on the senate calendar—and then appropriation and taxation matters, probably simultaneously.

Highway Raid Bill Delayed

To a house highway subcommittee went the bill proposing to change the present regulation requiring motor vehicles to be registered in the county where actually owned, as Chairman R. L. Bobbitt of the highway commission voiced a warning that passage of the bill, would seriously impair the highway department's present financing setup, diverting probably a million dollars a year which now goes for road-building to the general funds of counties. The bill is expected to be killed.

Dallas Judges Greedy

Eight Dallas district judges, who less than a month ago, received a salary increase of $1000 a year in the general increase for judges, assembled a powerful lobby and jammed thru the house to engrossment, an amendment on a bill to raise the pay of appeals and supreme court judges. Dallas judges receive $1500 more pay than district judges in smaller towns and cities, the extra money coming out of the county's juvenile fund, for which they render virtually no service, except to attend a monthly meeting of the juvenile board. A

Gone are the days when tugging, chopping, twisting gymnastics are necessary to obtain ice cubes from an automatic refrigerator, says N. R. Kennedy local manager for the West Texas Utilities company—Frigidaire dealers. Shown above is the new and efficient instant cube release featured in the 1937 Frigidaire. Developed in the research laboratories of the Frigidaire division of General Motors, the new type ice tray makes available instantly and with no effort on the part of the user from two to a dozen or more cubes doing away with the necessity of holding trays under the water faucet and losing up to 20 per cent of the ice content in meltage. One grasps the tray firmly with one hand lifts the lever with a finger of the other and there are the cubes ready for use without fuss or muss.

separate bill, which would have given them $1000 more from the juvenile fund was beaten in the house by ex-Speaker Coke Stevenson, of Junction. Tacking the same subject matter onto the general raise bill for appeals judges precipitated a bitter fight, with the opposition led by Sam Hanna of Dallas, and it won by a single vote. The amendment may jeopardize final passage of the bill, as it would give each Dallas district judge $7500 a year, while, with the proposed increase, supreme court justices would receive only $8000, and judges of the courts of appeals only $6500.

Roosevelt Issue Good One

Politically minded Austin observers are still busy studying the election returns which sent Lyndon Johnson, youthful ex-NYA director to congress as successor to the late Congressman Buchanan. Their conclusion is that Franklin D. Roosevelt is still popular with an overwhelming majority of Texas voters, and that his advocacy of a change in the supreme court set-up has done little to damage his prestige with Texans. Johnson ran as the outstanding advocate of the Roosevelt program. The total vote of all candidates for Roosevelt literally swamped the two who campaigned against the court change, Polk Shelton and Houghton Brownlee, and observers here mostly agreed with Mayor Tom Miller of Austin who told a senate committee in Washington Johnson's election was a direct reflection of the sentiment of the voters of Texas on the court issue. Some interest attached also to the rather poor showing made by Merton Harris who quit Attorney General Bill McCraw's staff to make the race, and who was generally regarded as the McCraw candidate, as having a bearing on next year's gubernatorial contest. Harris made a much better race against Buchanan once previously, despite that fact that he pledged full support to Roosevelt in this latest campaign.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food. Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

Daniel an authoritative tone when she declares "You can produce culinary miracles with electricity", according to N. R. Kennedy, who announced her arrival in Eldorado.

Devout in her description of electric cookery, Mrs. McDaniel is enthusiastic about her return to West Texas. It does my heart good to show women in this great region the advancements that have been made in electric service, primarily so that they may be relieved of household burdens.

"Since the beginning of time, it has been the duty of women to prepare the food—peek into the kettles, ovens—stirring, watching. The job of mothering the family's food has progressed through many stages—always before with fire that blackened cooking utensils, burned her hands, blistered her face and besmirched the walls and ceiling of her kitchen.

"Electricity has removed his cloak of drudgery," Mrs. McDaniel adds emphatically. "The modern electric range is provided with a 'chef's brain' in that it works automatically. It watches over the oven, turning it on and off without attention from the homemaker. It keeps temperatures accurate and enables even inexperienced cooks to get good results. While electric cookery is relatively new, it is already widely used in many thousands of homes and promises to be outstanding influence on home economic instruction in 1937 inasmuch as housewives regard it as the answer to their long-felt needs."

Mrs. McDaniel said that girls, as well as their mothers, will find the school interesting and informative. The school and new recipes are free.

Lions Select San Antonio As Meeting Place For 1938

In the business session Tuesday, District 2-A Lions, in convention at San Angelo, selected Jack Bonner of Corpus Christi as district governor for the next year. Bonner succeeds Murry Winn of San Antonio, retiring district governor.

Johnny Snow of Brownsville, runner-up in the district governor's race, moved the unanimous selection of Bonner. Delegates named to the state convention at Galveston on June 21 and 22 include Lawrence Handley of San Antonio, Bert Hildinger of Laredo, Johnny Snow, Bill Collins of Llano, Chester Kenley of San Angelo, Rex Cusenbary of Sonora, Charles Allison of San Benito, Bill Noury of Uvalde, Dr. R. R. Lovelady of Santa Anna and J. W. McAdams of Winters.

Judge J. A. Whitten, president was Eldorado's delegate to the convention. He gave a brief outline of the convention highlights at the luncheon Wednesday. Several other local members attended different phases of the convention.

CHILD HEALTH TO BE STRESSED ON MAY DAY

Austin, Texas, April 20.—A health slogan applicable to May Day-Child Health Day, "Immunize Now-Stamp Out Diphtheria," is designed to intensify the campaign against one of the most deadly foes of children, diphtheria according to Dr. George W. Cox State Health Officer.

If parents would have their family physician administer toxoid to their child as soon after it reaches the age of six months as possible, much suffering and many deaths could be prevented.

The administering of toxoid is a very simple procedure and causes the child little or no discomfort. In approximately ninety per cent of the children receiving toxoid, there will be established a life long immunity to this disease.

To be sure, four to six months after the final dose of toxoid, the child should be Schick tested so that parents will know definitely whether their child is immune, no reaction will be noticed. If not, there will appear redness at the sight of the test that reaches its height the third or fourth day.
