On The DIVIDE

WRONG ECONOMY IS LOST ECONOMY

There are possibly many ways by which our County Commissioners Court can bring about economy in the administration of the county's affairs, but economy in the wrong place is economy thrown away. We have in mind now the recent action of the Court in discontinuing the services of a livestock inspector in this county.

We don't profess to know anything about the sheep business—we've seen possibly less than a thousand sheep before coming to this section of Texas—but we do know that the sheep industry is the largest industry in this county. In our opinion, a livestock inspector is needed here to see that Schleicher county sheep get a "clean bill of health" when shipped from the county to other points.

We understand that it is a violation of the law for railroads to accept sheep for shipment without a certificate, issued by an authorized inspector. Many states will not accept livestock from Texas without such certificates.

We all know that sheep scabies infection does not exist in Schleicher county—there hasn't been a case reported in a number of years. To our mind, the duty of an inspector here is to guard against such an infection and to protect Schleicher county's reputation by seeing that no infected sheep are shipped from the county.

If the services of our inspector are discontinued, and even one case of scabbies be traced to this county it would give Schleicher county a "black eye", and it would take years to erase this from the county's records.

We recently got in touch with J. H. Rasco, chief inspector for Texas, and here's what he has to say with regard to an inspector and the possibility of Schleicher county having an inspector paid out of state funds:

"... Schleicher county is in the middle of the most progressive and thickly populated sheep area in Texas, and you know that there is no higher quality of sheep than those raised in your County and adjacent Counties.

"For your definite information, you are advised that sheep scabies infection still exists in some twelve or fourteen other states. We had infection imported to us from Oklahoma last year and I have a letter on my desk now from an authority in Louisiana advising that they still have a considerable amount of infection there.

"You of course know that the Republic of Mexico is infected, and Texas is apt to become re-infected any time through the importation of infected sheep and we have only a small skeleton force of inspectors in the State whose duties are to be on the alert at all times and find any and all infection that is imported.

"The Department maintains a dipping station north of you at San Angelo and south of you at Sonora and our finances will not

Eldorado Postoffice Seeks Larger Quarters

Realizing from a gradual increase in business at the local post office that Eldorado will soon need more space in order to take care of this business, the Post Office Department is seeking a larger building to house Eldorado's post office.

A. S. Page, post office inspector of Fort Worth, has asked for proposals to furnish suitable post office facilities in Eldorado, and is asking for at least 1200 square feet of floor space. These proposals must be in by Saturday, May 15th.

It is requested that these proposals be made at a stated price per annum, including water, toilet facilities, plumbing, heating and lighting fixtures for a term of five or ten years from July 1, 1937 or date thereafter of occupancy.

Mr. Page stated that he would be in Eldorado to see about arrangements as soon as all bids are in.

From the increase in volume during the past several years, it is believed that this volume will continue to increase until larger quarters will be needed before another five-year contract has been terminated. For this reason the Post Office Department is seeking larger quarters, to become available as soon as possible after the present contract expires on July 1st, 1937.

GARLAND WILLIAMS WINS FREE TRIP TO A. & M. SHORT COURSE

Joe M. Christian Employed By Tire Co. In Tennessee

Mr. J. B. Christian reports that his son, Joe Muller, who has been employed by the U. S. Rubber Co. at Shelbyville, Tenn. since his graduation from the engineering division of Texas Tech last August, is getting along fine except for the fact that he hasn't found any place he likes nearly as well as Schleicher county.

Mr. Christian states that the company is doing considerable enlarging, and that Joe was recently sent to the headquarters of the cord division to become acquainted with and assist in drawing up plans and blue prints for an addition to the Shelbyville plant. He is now resident engineer on the job.

Besides his engineering work, Joe is also chairman of the Employee Sales Promotion Committee of Shelbyville mills.

Joe reports that the U. S. Rubber Co. has an increase of 20 percent in tire sales for 1936, as compared with the average of 10 percent for the industry as a whole. He says that the plants are running full speed twenty-four hours daily, and that the company has experienced very little labor trouble.

Mr. Christian is looking forward to a visit from Joe Muller during the latter part of July.

60 Scouts Of This Area Register For National Jamboree

National Jamboree registrations jumped to 26 Boy Scouts and leaders in the Concho Valley Council this week with less than 60 days before the giant camp opens in Washington, D. C. on June 30 with 30,000 Scouts from America and many foreign countries. The goal for the Council is 108 Scouts and leaders.

The 350 acres along the Potomac are being diverted into a "tent" city which will require the installation of 10 miles of water lines. Ten miles of telephone lines are being installed. The water consumption will be 1,000,000 gallons daily. 700 latrines will be built.

It will require more than one dietician to figure out how to use the food required for the Jamboree:

15,000 pounds of meat for 1 meal, 900 bushels of potatoes for one meal; 15,000 pounds of bread for one day; 30,000 quarts of milk for one day; 4,000 pounds of sugar for one day; 1,200 gallons of any canned vegetable per meal, such as tomatoes, corn succotash, or string beans; 70,000 eggs for one breakfast.

Boy Scouts planning to attend are urged to register with Scout Headquarters immediately. (See No. 1 Last Page)

ONLY TWO MARRIAGE LICENSES ARE ISSUED HERE DURING APRIL

400,000 Acres Of Range Land Entered In 1947 Program

RANCHMEN URGED TO HAVE APPLICATIONS IN BY NEXT MONDAY

The records in the county agent's office show that 400,872 acres of range land in Schleicher have been definitely entered in the 1937 Range Conservation Program. Of this amount, 240,453 acres had been inspected by the range inspectors up to Saturday May 1st, leaving 160,419 acres which have been definitely entered in the program yet to be inspected.

Frank Bradley and R. C. Edmiston are range inspectors for this county. They urge every rancher to have his application for grazing capacity in by May 10th, as it would greatly help the inspectors in making out their itinerary for future work.

There are about 55,000 acres which ranchmen have signified might be entered in the program, which makes a possible total of 455,220 acres for this county. Still others are coming in and signing up and it is possible that this county will have better than 500,000 acres entered in the program.

"The Cruise Of The Merry Gang" A Great Success

On Saturday evening, May 1st, the Home Economics department at the high school building was the setting for one of the gala affairs of the school year when the Juniors honored the Seniors of '37 with the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

The guests were received in the living room where each presented a passport giving an humorous description and carrying the name of a famous celebrity. The seniors, high school faculty members, and the wives of the high school faculty, were ushered to the clothing lab where tables were laid for sixty-one people. The lab was beautifully decorated in blue and gold, the senior colors, and a profusion of spring flowers. Blue and gold balloons hung from the ceiling making a beautiful overhead in the glow of the candles which were used for the lighting.

TEACH THEM HOW

The most dangerous group of drivers, according to statistics, is the group which ought to be the safest: The so-called "teen-age" class. When a person of eighteen or younger has an accident it is almost always a serious one. It is 42 per cent more likely to be fatal than if an older driver were involved.

In the opinion of authorities, the chief difficulty is that young people who drive cars lack both training and judgement. They have had no formal instruction behind the wheel. Usually they learn to drive by watching older persons or a young companion. In this way they learn bad practices along with good ones, and, being young, they are apt to exaggerate the bad and minimize the good. As one bad apple contaminates a barrel, one poor driver can create dozens of worse ones of he attempts the role of teacher.

Fortunately, the high schools of the nation are recognizing a responsibility for these facts. According to the safety education division of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, some five thousand high schools in more than half the states are now giving instructions in the principles of traffic safety. Some schools are actually teaching their students how to drive by giving real road training in real cars. Three states, California, Indiana and North Carolina, have made such instruction compulsory, while state departments of education in 28 states have issued model courses of study in traffic safety. The subject of good driving has become the fastest growing movement in the history of American education.

Already there are significant results. In Rhode Island, more than a thousand high school boys and girls were taught to drive in a course sponsored by the Motor Vehicle Department of that state. Their driving records were kept in a special file for a period of three years. In all that time not one of the youngsters was involved in a reportable accident and not one was convicted of a traffic violation. Outstanding educators say there is no greater sanction for education than teaching children how to do better, the things they may expect to do in life. Certainly, teaching them how to drive motor cars so as not to kill themselves or others, fits neatly into that definition.

permit an enlargement of our force at this time. Due to the above conditions, this Department would appreciate the County Commissioners Court of Schleicher county cooperating with it by employing a regularly paid inspector to be commissioned by this Department to safeguard against the invasion of scabies infection among your sheep."

ican, and Miss Ima Gene Mangum, Eldorado Grammar and Eldorado High.

Each school first sang two songs under the direction of its own music director, after which Miss Ima Gene Mangum of the Eldorado Schools lead the entire group in a few songs. All the songs were those included in the State Department of Education music list selected by Mr. Murdock.

Mr. Hurdock stressed the importance of music as a part of the education of every student, citing the slogan of the State Department of Education: "Music for every child and every child for music." He urged that the schools of Schleicher County cooperate with the program of the State Department for increased attention to music in the regular school schedule.

County School Superintendent C. S. McKinney and Supt. Smith made short talks in which they expressed the hope that the sing-song may be made an annual affair, and that it may grow steadily in value and popularity.

NO LONGER A LABOR QUESTION

The labor situation has reached a point where it affects every citizen.

The unlawful occupation of property by workers to enforce their demands, and the breakdown of our law enforcement agencies in protecting the property owner, is a new experience in the United States. It is but one step removed from revolution.

If one class of citizens can dispossess another class of the use of their property, it is only a step further to take over such property permanently. We have witnessed that in Russia and Spain.

If workmen stop and think, they will see that they are destroying their own safety and liberty when they foment revolutionary practices.

Thoughtful persons who have the best interests of workers at heart, can only warn them against such tactics which in the long run will lose unless government stability is destroyed then what?

Pauline Jones, Billie Louise Spurgers, Ernestine Finnigan, Betty Jo Whitten, Beulah Williams, Elizabeth Stanford, and Helen Williams.

A group of the girls of the lower grades, costumed as flowers, gave a dance to music, which was followed by a Norwegian Folk Dance by a group of the girls in the upper grades, attractively costumed in lavender and pink dresses.

The Moonlight Fairies, composed of girls in the first grade made their appearance, dressed in bright blue costumes with gold trimmings. They did a dance to the accompaniment of music.

A group of the girls in the upper grades next presented the "Highland Fling," a rhythm dance. They were costumed as ballet dancers.

Maxine Wilton was accompanist for the program, with Howard Mittel acting as crown bearer. The affair was one of the most artistic and interesting school programs of the year, and was enjoyed by both students and patrons.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

Austin—What the senate does about continuing its three-week filibuster against tax bills and the race horse repeal during the final two weeks of the regular session took second place this week among the political observers here to the question of what effect Gov. Allred and the solons may have upon Texas politics next year.

Most interesting was the speculation that the battle over race horse repeal may result in Allred seeking a third term on a "vindication" platform. Close friends of the governor have declared he is toying with the idea, altho no official comment was available from him.

"If they will let a governor alone, he dies a more or less natural political death in two terms," Allred is quoted by one friend as saying. "But if they keep on, it is quite possible they could force a third term upon him." "They" refers to his senate opponents who have held up all important legislation for 23 days filibustering with futile debate on proposed constitutional amendments for a sales tax.

Other Candidates Active

This report, together with another that Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt of the highway commission is being urged in some quarters to get into the governor's race, presumably as an Allred standard-bearer was causing some concern to backers of Col Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, and Atty. Gen. William McCraw, both openly, but unannounced, candidates in 1938. McCraw continued his campaigning program of speeches, landing an "ace" with a place on the program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention May 10 at Brownwood. Col. Thompson, whose strategy has been to hold his political fire, nevertheless registered strongly in Washington, when he made the unprecedented recommendation to a congressional committee, that the power of the Texas railroad commission to determine limitation of oil production should be cut down, and the conservation program of the state outlined more specifically by statute. He drew two significant comments from members of the congressional committee. Rep. Pettengill of Indiana suggested Thompson's statute in the Texas hall of fame as "the first member of a regulatory body who ever advocated a reduction of his own authority."

Rep. Wolverson of New Jersey added: "Or, I should say Texas should elect you governor. Which suggestion met with the hearty favor of Thompson's Texas friends. They had, it seemed, already thought of it—long before the New Jersey congressman.

Another Race Warning

Meanwhile, with the session end nearing, interest in the attorney general's race, ranked next to that of governor in Texas elections, was picking up. Friends of Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, who is pacing the field by reason of two years of active campaigning, pointed to certain friendly expressions recently voiced by Gov. Allred toward Woodul's extreme fairness in presiding over er the state, which Allred is warring with over the race repeal measure, as significant. They hope it indicates a substantial part of the so-called "Allred machine" will swing in behind Woodul, despite the fact that the field of potential opponents of the lieutenant governor includes Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, Rauph Yarborough, Austin judge and Allred appointee, and Gerald C. Mann, ex-secretary of state and Allred campaigner, and other Allred friends.

Politics Breaks Out Early

The whole field of state politics is nearing a boil, with only the question of whether a special session will be held keeping it in check. The senate's action in rushing thru action of three major appropriation bills, and a growing sentiment among the lobbyists to aid in getting a vote on the race track repeal bill before the end, so as to avoid a special session immediately, may be productive of results. The race horse bloc, angered at Allred's two messages this week—one declaring flatly he will call a session the day after adjournment unless a vote is laid on race horse repeal and the other vetoing a joint rule that would have permitted a minority to block votes on this and other questions, at both this and the special sessions—are seeking desperately to switch enough votes to defeat repeal, using the plea that "Allred is trying to tell the senate how to run its business." But they have found the going tough, because there are many country district senators, who while they don't like the governor, and don't want to repeal race betting, know that the voters in their districts are "agin" race track gambling, and they dare not get on record against killing it. The lobbyists have had very good luck staying off new and increased taxes so far this session, and they are desperately afraid of what might happen to them in a special session. So the senate long jant, under all this pressure may be breaking up enough to get a vote on race repeal, pass the appropriations bills, and possibly pass some tax legislation. If the first of these two things happen, it is very likely the governor will not call the special session for raising new revenue by taxation until September or October.

Notes

The Dallas district judges, after a hard battle, succeeded in getting their pay raise of $1000 a year thru as an amendment to the bill hiking appeals court judges' pay. They will receive, under it $7500 a year each—the highest paid district judges in all of Texas, and $1000 more than the judges of the fifth court of civil appeals at Dallas receive, even with the increase the latter got. Something will doubtless be done some time about the condition of inmates of the state reformatory at Gatesville, in the light of the report of a house committee which visited the place, condemned it as a "crime incubator instead of a reform institution," and pointed out confining of dependent boys of 8 and 9 years, who have committed no crime, with hardened youthful criminals. A similar investigation of the girls' training school at Gainsville will be made by the committee, headed by E. H. Harrell of Paris.

High School Grades Show Improvement

The length of the honor roll for the past six weeks prompted a comparative study of the grades made by the students in high school for the 3rd, 4th, and 5th six weeks periods. The results of this study are as follows: during the 3rd six weeks there were 400 grades given to all students in high school. Of these grades 18.75% were A's, 44.75% were B's, 32.75% were C's, and 3.75% were failing grades. For the fourth six weeks period there were a total of 390 grades given with 21.8% A's, 46.66% B's, 23.9% C's and 5.36% failing grades. For the 5th six weeks period which was the last six weeks there were 380 grades given. 26.5% were A's, 50.23% B's, 20% C's, and failing grades.

A glance at these figures shows some outstanding facts. There is a decided increase in the number of A's during the 5th six weeks over that of the 3rd. The increase in B's, though not so decided, is noticeable. The decrease in C's shows that a large number of C's have moved into the B class while evidently some of the B's have moved up to the A group. The interesting figures of this study, however, and the fact for which we are most proud is the decrease of failing grades. During the fourth 6 weeks the percent of failures is the highest for the three. This increase in failures for that period might be explained by the fact that high school attendance reached the lowest for any six weeks period during the last two years due to the epidemic of mumps.

The thing concerning failures that is interesting is that during the third six weeks with 3.75% failing grades, we had more students staying on detention than for a considerable longer time during the second semester. Detention during the fifth six weeks according to our records, shows fewer students for that period than for any similar period during the year. Our failures are lessened in proportion. These facts should be of interest to everyone who is interested in an efficient school system.

Joycelyn Pruitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pruitt, won the elementary Lions award. Joycelyn is in the seventh grade, and had an average for the year of 95.6, the highest average of any student in any grade in the entire Eldorado system.
The winner in the high school division is Johnnie Ferne Isaacs, a member of the senior class and its valedictorian. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Isaacs, and had an average of 94.9.
Honor students for each grade in school, together with their averages follows: Donna Mae Mullett, first, 93.7; Danell Baker, second, 93.4; Paul Page, third, 92.6; Edna Luedecke, fourth, 92.8; Elizabeth Graves, fifth, 87.0; Sarah Hill, sixth, 94.5; Joycelyn Pruitt, seventh, 95.6; Joe Ed Hill, eighth, 93.5; Genevieve Ramsey, ninth, 92.0; Alice Mund, tenth, 93.9; and Johnnie Ferne Isaacs, eleventh, 94.9.
Nationwide surveys show that scholarship is the qualification most frequently required by employers in selecting their personal. The reason perhaps is that scholarship demonstrates that the student is a success in his present job—that of going to school and getting an education. The possession of qualities which make for good scholarship carry over into the field of work which the student later enters and makes him a success there, just as he was a success in school.
