FORTY-FOURTH YEAR ELDORADO, SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1945. NUMBER 21

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Patton Enochs Promoted To Captain

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Enochs has received notice that their son, Jeff Patton, has been promoted to the rank of Captain.

Captain Enochs is serving with the 88th Division of the Fifth Army in Italy.

Another son, Sgt. Holvey Enochs has landed in New York, having arrived with the 86th Blackhawk Division which sailed into the home port, Sunday, June 17. The Blackhawk Division is the first full combat division to return from Europe enroute to the Pacific.

Early this week the Enochs had not received official notice of their son's arrival, but expected to be notified at any time, as he is a member of that Division.

Lt. Newsom is Home From Prison Camp

Lt. Young B. Newsom, recently liberated from a German prison camp, is visiting in Sonora with his mother, Mrs. Carson West, and his sister, Mrs. Ben L. Wheat.

Lt. Newsom is a step-grandson of Mrs. C. C. West of this place and formerly resided here.

Receives Promotion

John Sidney Williams has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, that he has been promoted to the rank of corporal. He is located in the personnel office of a rest camp somewhere in England.

ried their home-town sweethearts before they left the campus. Many of those ceremonies occur in the historical old dome-topped chapel, where for decades thousands of young naval officers, just commissioned, have taken their marriage vows in traditional naval style.

Last week with my family I attended one of those marriages. The Academy is only 30 miles from Washington. My part in the ceremony was to "give away the bride," which I did in the absence of an older brother of the bride who was away at war and unable to attend.

The bride was Miss Frances Behrend of Sar Angelo and the groom was Lt. Robt. Mott of Denver. The Academy Chaplain performed the ceremony, attended by the bride's mother, Mrs. Louise Behrend, sister and brother, Ann and Weldon, and four generations of the groom's family. Lt. Mott will have a special course for six weeks at the marine school at Quantico, Va., after which he will go away to war, perhaps in the Pacific.

Gen. A. R. Luedecke Here For A Visit

Brigadier General and Mrs. Alvin R. Luedecke and family are visiting here in the home of his mother, Mrs. John Luedecke and other relatives.

Brig. Gen. Luedecke, whose promotion to his present rank, was announced last August 15, recently returned to the States from the India-Burma theatre, where he served as deputy chief of air staff in charge of operations, plans, training and intelligence for both the Eastern Air Command and the U. S. Army Air Forces. This is his first furlough home in two years.

According to recent dispatches published in an earlier issue of this paper, the young General has played an important part in achieving the unquestioned supremacy which Allied Air Forces have held over the Japanese airmen on all the Burma fronts last year.

For outstanding service, Luedecke holds the Legion of Merit and recently was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his work with the First Air Command Group last year, shouldering "the additional staff problems inherent in the training, employment and co-ordination of an entirely new type of air unit."

He also wears the Cruz de Boyaca of the Republic of Columbia.

Brig. Gen Luedecke is a native of Schleicher County and a graduate of the local school.

Nephew of Mrs. W. R. Bearce Killed In Action

Mrs. W. R. Bearce has been notified of the death of her nephew, Corporal Sidney W. Cox whose home is at Mertzon. He was reported killed in action on Okinawa, June 5, and was serving with the 6th Marines. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Cox reside at Mertzon.

Son of W. C. Parks Bitten By Dog

Gary, two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parks, Jr., was severely bitten in the face by a dog Monday at their ranch home in the Bailey Ranch community.

The child received four or five bites about the face, causing severe lacerations. First aid treatment was given by a local physician.

The dog was killed and its head sent to Austin for examination for rabies.

NOTICE!

Effective July 1, next, all newspapers will be required by the Navy Department to furnish postmasters a written request for a subscription or renewal subscription to publications for men in the service overseas with Fleet Post Office or APO addresses.

Each paper mailed must carry a complete address to the service personnel and in order to be able to get this paper through to the men in service the publishers must have full cooperation of handling subscriptions and addresses.

At the present time it is even more difficult than in the past to get papers to service personnel overseas. Some are receiving their papers regularly while others are not receiving any copies.

It is our earnest desire to get all papers to the men but circumstances in some cases are obstructing these efforts, and there is nothing we can do about it.

Relatives or friends may place the subscription, but it must be accompanied by a written request by the address-subscriber.

Old M. E. Parsonage Torn Down; Erection Of New One To Begin

W. E. Noah, building contractor, has completed tearing down of the old Methodist parsonage and is clearing lumber of nails and sorting it in preparation to begin work on the new parsonage next week.

Much critical material has already been arranged for and it is thought that no difficulty will be encountered in maintaining other materials needed, the contractor said.

Mr. Noah sates that if skilled workmen and laborers can be secured and work can progress as it should, the new building will be completed within three months.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

Every town has citizens and characteristics that make it different from all other towns in the world.

For example, take Ranger—not during the great oil rush but years after the boom had ended.

Ranger was the home of Rural Murray, holder of the world's record for a mile on a motorcycle over dirt track; and of a mayor renowned for his skill at barbecuing, especially the sauce, made by his own secret formula; and of men who followed the dogs in a wolf-hunt, not on horseback but in an automobile, jolting across the rough and rugged terrain of the ranch country.

Also Ranger was the home town of Buster Mills, one of the all-time gridiron greats of the University of Oklahoma and the hero of an East-West game in San Francisco, his field goal being the only score of the afternoon.

It was while at Oklahoma U. that Mills performed a feat that outdid Frank Merriwell himself. A track meet and a baseball game were in progress simultaneously. Near the end of the meet, the coach saw that the Sooners could win if they could place in the javelin throw—but he had no javelin hurler. He hastened to the nearby diamond and, while Oklahoma was at bat, Mills went over and, in baseball togs, tossed the javelin far enough to win third place, and the meet; then went back to the diamond and tripped with the bases full to win the ball game.

Ranger was the home of a Marine who was wounded in the Nicaraguan jungle by Sandino's men; and the town also boasted of a fireworks expert. This latter prepared all the elaborate pieces of pyrotechnics for the Fourth of July celebrations in the baseball park. But his greatest claim to fame was what he did, almost.

Back a great many years ago, a group of Navy planes was circling the globe. When they had crossed the United States, their history-making flight would be over. It was learned that they would pass over Ranger, so the fireworks expert prepared a salute. When an observer came into his shop and yelled, "They're coming!" he ran out and without, even looking up, touched off the charge. It exploded high in the sky, so close to one of the planes that it rocked in the blast. The pilot had crossed oceans, deserts, swamps, and then was almost wrecked over Ranger.

And I'll bet your town has interesting people and has witnessed interesting events, too.

PALO PINTO MULBERRY BUSHES SEED WORMS SPINNING COCOONS

By Ruth Ridings
In Brady Standard

In Palo Pinto County, about 50 miles from Fort Worth, a barely year-old silk industry is flourishing. Interest in the 120,000-bush mulberry orchard, the silkworms bred and their cocoons and the reeling machines used to unwind silk is growing to the extent that the silk company organized by Mineral Wells business men now average 100 letters of inquiry per day.

Herald for the industry and the men largely responsible for its establishment and hearty growth is Ernest M. Mims, manager of the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce. He has spoken on Texas silk culture before the state Legislature and addressed several Fort Worth service club members the latest being North Fort Worth Kiwanians at their luncheon Friday at First Methodist Church.

New Wealth for Texas

He hails the culture not only because it may possibly bring new wealth to Texas, but also because its success can do away with the necessity of ever trading with Japan for silk and because of its possibilities for the rehabilitation of returning service men and women.

Mims points out that there is no strenuous physical labor attached to "sericulture," technical name for the raising of silk-worms. "A person with an eye, an arm and a leg gone can raise silkworms, as can a normal 9-year-old child or an elderly person," he says.

The described process is simple. Silkworms, after they are hatched from eggs kept in normal room temperature for about 10 days, are given leaves picked from mulberry bushes on which to feed. They are not put on the trees, but are kept in trays in a room.

After feeding for about 36 days, the worm begins to make its cocoons, spinning from 750 to 2,500 yards of silk in four days. At the end of this time, the moth into which the worm turned can be allowed to break the cocoon and lay from 200 to 500 eggs or else the cocoon can be frozen and its silk unwound after the moth dies.

Unwinding Machines

The process of unwinding the silk is also a simple one nowadays because of a machine perfected by the American Silk Corporation, which moved its reeling equipment from New York to Mineral Wells when company heads found that Texas men were turning a hobby into a promising industry.

Mims claims that the automatic reeling machine will be to the American silk industry what the cotton gin is to the cotton industry. One American worker with such a machine can produce as much silk each week as 20 Japanese girls can by hands, thus eliminating America's necessity of having to compete with cheap Japanese labor.

Sericulture Suitable To Texas
"Sericulture" is an industry that adapts itself to Texas soil and climate. Mulberry trees thrive here. Those the size of a pencil when they were planted in Mineral Wells in March 1944, are now four feet high bushes. They bear leaves seven to nine months out of the year.

"But will there be a market for silk in the post war era and won't the industry be put out of business by various synthetic materials?" is a question often put to Mims.

His answer, along with his opinion that there will always be a big market for various synthetics, is that he thinks the market for raw silk will be far greater than America will be able to fill for several years to come.

Why? Because many large American manufacturers already have been asked to be included on the list of those who get some of the first silk produced in Texas in 1945, according to Mims. In the past three months, representatives of 14 hosiery mills have visited Mineral Wells and asked for some of the excellent quality American silk. One company even offered to purchase the first five year production.

Mims answer to that proposition: "Move your hosiery mill to Texas, and we'll talk business with you."

GIRL SCOUTS AND LEADERS ENJOY TWO DAY OUTING ON RUNGE RANCH

Killing a huge rattler and taking refuge under a sheep shed during the electrical storm and rain Monday night provided only a few of the thrills for Girl Scouts during their annual 3-day outing at Camp Runge, located 18 miles from town on the J. F. Runge ranch.

Don't Worry About Us!

We'll do it!

THEY tell us that the fat salvage problem has got to be licked in the small cities, the towns and on the farms.

Our country has to have one hundred million more pounds of used fats this year over last. And we're the people who must save it.

We've rolled up our sleeves! We'll save every drop and bit it is possible to scrape—and keep on doing it till the last Jap is licked.

HOW TO DO IT: Save all used fats in a tin can. Keep it handy to the stove. Scrape your broilers and roasting pans, skim soups and gravies, for every drop counts. Keep solid pieces of fat, such as meat trimmings and table scraps, in a bowl. Melt down when your oven's going, add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Take the can to your butcher as soon as it's full. He will give you four cents and two red points for every pound. Your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent can give you full particulars.

100,000,000 More Pounds of Used Fats Are Needed This Year!

Approved by WFA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

Now that the War in Europe is over

What about travel?

Now, you may naturally ask, "Won't it be a little easier to get accommodations?" . . . "Won't it be a little more comfortable to travel?"

We of the Santa Fe would like to hold out some hope to our friends who have good reasons for taking a trip, but who find it difficult to do so.

We would like to give those who do travel all the little niceties of service that are part of the Santa Fe tradition.

Bigger Traffic Loads

The stubborn facts are that the traffic to our Pacific ports of war is stepping up instead of letting down!

This means, in the war days to come, there will be more passenger and freight traffic—new loads and greater loads and less space for civilian travelers than ever on Santa Fe rails.

In The Meantime

Santa Fe facilities have been enormously increased—bigger yards; more freight Diesels; centralized traffic control at key points; and improved shop tools and practices which keep our locomotives rolling.

In peacetime these increased facilities will enable us to provide better service than ever. But in the meantime, the stuff needed to lick Japan is top priority.

So—again we ask, "Unless your trip is essential, can't you put it off until we have a little better opportunity to serve you in the traditional Santa Fe manner?"

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know, being civilized or vice versa, it is sometimes a question which is best. The more civilized we get, the bloodier the wars—the more world confusion—more unrest—more dissatisfaction. You don't stop to chat down at the corner but what you drift around to what is wrong—and how to fix it.

The Indians were not civilized, so we shoved 'em out. But the Indians ate buffalo meat—and plenty—and no red stamps. But now, civilized as we are, we seldom even sniff meat, let alone nibble same. And also we now have more nervous prostrations—and race questions—and less gold money—and more news flashes than we can digest. At 12 dollars a day we are more disgruntled than when we made 5 bucks. So, money don't bring happiness. Also, we ate better when we got only 5 bucks.

What you driving at, says Henry, if anything? A good question, I says. It is to persuade folks to get the feel of the earth under their feet again—and their head out of the clouds. I have nothing against inventions, and science, and politics, and running water in the bathroom, etc., but we been in an era long enough, where we been expectin' miracles—and everlasting security—without too much effort.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

STATE HEALTH OFFICER WARNS PARENTS ABOUT "SUMMER COMPLAINTS"

Austin, Texas—This is the season when dysentery, diarrhoea and "summer complaint" are most prevalent throughout the State, and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning to parents of young children regarding the prevention of these diseases.

"The chief cause of these intestinal diseases are impure milk, water and food; allowing a child to become overheated; using too much sugar and cream in the diet; and under or over feeding," Dr. Cox said. "For the young infant, mother's milk is usually the safest food; however, if other milk must be used, the supply should be clean and pure. Water should be free of impurities, and is safest when boiled and cooled before drinking. All foods should be fresh and clean, and leftovers should be properly refrigerated to prevent spoilage."

Dr. Cox said definitely that when a feeding formula for infants is used, it should be prescribed by a physician and then prepared with extreme care, especially in regard to cleanliness and refrigeration.

Babies should be fed at regular intervals and on a definite schedule. Their stomach and bowels can become easily upset if they are fed haphazardly whenever they happen to be fretful or restless.

"If diarrhoea develops, consult a physician at once," Dr. Cox advised. "This so-called 'summer complaint' can become a very serious menace to your baby's health, if not an actual threat to his life."

The State Health Officer declared that with dysentery, as with many other diseases, the fly is an agent of transmission, and every home should be well screened and free of flies.

TRAINING HORSES BOOK OF INTEREST

Training Riding Horses, advertised in our columns, is a book every cattleman should have. It tells by pictures and simple words how to make good riding horses.

John C. Burns, manager of the 6666 Ranch and president of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, whose long experience on ranches makes him competent to speak, says:

"Horses on commercial cattle ranches are a means to an end. The business requires that cattle be handled at times by men on horses. The better the horses are, the fewer will be required, and the more efficient the work. The gentle, well-trained horse that responds promptly and accurately to the rider will accomplish far more than the 'Brone' or the 'Outlaw' and is both safer and more dependable. A gentle, well-trained horse will result if proper training begins with foalhood, provided he has been well endowed with possibilities through good breeding."

Guy H. Gourley, a nephew of the late Rev. F. G. Clark, arrived in Eldorado June 3, from Florida. He is visiting in the home of Mrs. F. G. Clark.

Silver Star Awarded Posthumously For Kin Of Eldoradoans

Mrs. Albert Holland of Christoval, widow of Pfc. Raymond G. (Happy) Holland, was presented with the Silver Star awarded posthumously to Pfc. Holland for gallantry in action, at the Rotary Club luncheon in San Angelo, June 1.

Mrs. Holland is a daughter of Pete Whitley of this place and a sister of Mrs. Selma Meador. She formerly resided here.

Maj. Fred Young of Camp Bowie pinned the medal on Mrs. Holland after reading the citation to members of the club. Rotarians accorded her a rising ovation.

Pfc. Holland was a scout in a rifle platoon spearheading the third attempt to hold and he was cited for giving his life in an attempt to cover the evacuation of wounded comrades under fierce enemy crossfire.

The citation reads in part, "After the wounded were all removed and the advance was resumed, it was discovered that Pvt. Holland had sacrificed his life. His personal bravery and supreme self-sacrifice exemplify the indomitable spirit of the cavalry and has perpetuated his memory to all who knew him."

Pfc. Holland was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holland of Mertzon. His mother is a sister of Mrs. Frank Van Horn and his father is a half-brother of A. T. Wright of this place.

Three rivers, the Mystic, Charles and Neponset, flow into Boston Harbor.

Mrs. W. E. Means and little daughter returned Saturday from Monahans where they spent two weeks visiting with Mrs. Means' brother, Buck Kent, and family.

Mrs. Mable Parker and Wayne Davis spent the weekend in Kerrville with their son and cousin, Howard Parker, who is attending school there.

"HOW'D THE UMP GET IN THE GAME?"

WHETHER it's baseball or business, Americans expect fair play all the way.

In baseball, the umpire sees to it that the game is played according to the rules. But he is not a player.

In business, government should be the umpire who enforces fair rules.

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The umpire then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players.

For example, government and municipal power-plants are not required to pay federal taxes; often get money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

Maybe you run a store or service station or beauty shop. Would you like to have a next-door competitor who has little or no rent, or taxes, or interest to pay, and who is kept in business partly by your tax money?

Fortunately for America today, over 80% of the tremendous electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric light and power companies, owned and operated by several million folks like you.

These business-managed companies are a big reason why there is enough electricity to meet even the gigantic demands of war—and why, when most things cost more, electricity is still delivered at low pre-war prices.

When Mr. Brown Retires

He's Going to Stay on the Farm

In a few more years, Mr. Brown will be 65, and he's going to quit farming then. But he isn't going to quit the farm. He's going to stay right there, and let Jim take over. It will be Jim's farm from there on, and Mr. Brown is just going to sit back and take it easy. And he won't have to ask Jim for money, either, because the check he'll get each month from Southwestern Life Insurance Company will be ample to take care of his needs—as long as he lives.

You can do exactly what Mr. Brown did, and when you think about it, you'll realize, just as Mr. Brown, that it's the reasonable thing to do. Mr. Brown had everything on his farm insured — the house, barns, livestock, implements — everything, except the most important asset on that farm — himself! And when he realized that, he started investigating, and he found out he could do a dual job with Southwestern Life Insurance: protect his family in event of his death, or quit and let Jim take over, with an independent income for himself at a retirement age of his choice.

The cost of such a plan is so reasonable it will please you. It pleases Mr. Brown. Get the figures today and see for yourself.

Canning Information

By Mrs. Fannie L. Pittman
County Home Demonstration Agt.
When you can fruits and vegetables at home, do you make sure that they're fresh. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reminds you that it's important to can freshness because he fresher the food the better-looking, better tasting canned product it makes and the better its chances to keep. When you can freshness, you can more food value for your family, because you capture more of the valuable vitamins.

Choose firm, ripe fruits from your garden. Or, if you buy fruit to can, see that it's in tip-top condition. And pick young, tender vegetables and can them quickly. You've heard the joke about the man who was determined he'd can 'em fresh. He wouldn't pick his Victory garden vegetables until his wife called from the kitchen that the water was boiling. That man went a bit far, but he had the idea. The canning specialists say this: "Two hours from garden to can is a good rule to follow to make sure you're canning freshness."

Tomatoes are the easiest vegetable to can at home because tomatoes, as you know are canned safely in a boiling water bath. You don't need a steam pressure canner for them. Remember that tomatoes either fresh or canned are rich in vitamin C. The tomatoes you can now, in summer, bring variety and flavor and color to meals you'll serve next winter. Think how those tomatoes you put up at home ease the strain on blue stamps in your ration book.

Home canners, don't let any good fruit go to waste. The fruit you conserve helps to make the nation's food supplies go round. Your canning puts nourishing food on your shelf and it's yours without spending a blue ration point. Lots of fruit home canned this summer will make first-rate timber for delicious pie next winter. Fruit canned now will hit the spot when other desserts besides pie are wanted as shortcake, pudding, and handiest of all, fruit served in its own juice. Fruits are canned at home safely in a simple boiling water bath. You don't need a steam pressure canner for them. Be sure to can only fruit at its best—fresh, ripe, and perfect.

Keep on canning this summer. As the war goes forward, it's more important than ever to conserve all good food. If you canned fruits and garden vegetables last summer, you were one of nearly 25 million home canners. That food you saved did a lot toward providing nourishing meals and a lot to lighten the load on the nation's food supply. If you have canning equipment, and fresh fruits or garden vegetables to save, keep on canning.

Mrs. D. E. Kinnamon and three children, Kenneth, Ronald and Marsha of Dallas are here for several weeks visit with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Page.

Call No. 77. We know how!

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS
By James Preston

Battles now raging in Congress over OPA ceiling price policies have a major interest for farmers, livestock dealers and manufacturers.

Sen. Taft of Ohio and the farm-born lawyer and businessman, Sen. Thomas of Oklahoma, were among the leaders in the Senate fight to insure agriculture and industry of a chance to make a profit, although substitutes for their amendment finally were adopted before the measure was sent to the House.

In the Senate since 1938, Taft knows his Washington, having played in the White House when Theodore Roosevelt was president, and lived there when his father was Chief Executive, 1909-1913. He served as counsel for the U. S. Food Administration in the First World War, building up background that reinforces his OPA criticism.

Taft has charged OPA with failing to allow the intent of Congress in fixing maximum prices on specific articles. He told the Senate that OPA has sacrificed everything else in order to adopt the policy of a retail freeze, adding:

"The OPA has adopted the peculiar rule that if a manufacturer is making four separate articles, and two of them have been profitable, the OPA can make him sell the remaining two at a loss."

THREE MEN TO LEAVE FOR INDUCTION JUNE 27

Three local men will leave June 27 for induction into the armed service at San Antonio. They are Hensel Matthews, Jr., Walter Roy (Bud) Davidson and Gerald Nicks. The local board has announced that six men will leave for their physical and eight for induction sometime in July, but these have not been selected as yet.

In the final analysis everyone is ignorant. Only the subjects differ.
