Forty-five Cars Move Schleichers '45 Wool

Last year's wool clip is moving out of Eldorado this week in about 45 freight cars, as the Eldorado Wool Co., makes preparation for receiving the current season's clip. Receiving centers for the wool are warehouses operated by the buyers, Commodity Credit Corporation, at Lubbock and other Texas centers. By Monday a total of 32 cars had been shipped, leaving about 10 or 12 to go within the coming few days.

From 9 to 12 extra men have been employed by the Eldorado Wool Co., to assist with moving of the 200-pound sacks from the company's uptown warehouse to the main warehouse near the depot where weighing takes place before the sacks are loaded into freight cars. About 7500 bags are handled in the entire operation. All of this wool is from the April, May and June season, in 1945.

Bids on the two 1945 mohair clips—a total of 65,000 pounds—are under consideration by the Eldorado Wool Co., who have already signed contract for the 1946 spring clip. The Eldorado Wool Co., use their smaller warehouse, known as "salt house" for storage of mohair.

Schleicher Pledges Food Conservation

Schleicher County's part in the voluntary conservation of precious food needed by 500 million people throughout the world facing famine brought on by war, exhaustion and drought, was outlined by Joe Edens, at a recent meeting of the County ACA Committee.

"The people of this county will gladly do their share in the big job of saving food so that the hungry and starving people of the world may eat," Mr. Edens, who has been named manager of the program, declared. To assure 100 per cent cooperation, the following civic leaders, and others, will assist: J. M. Pennington, president Lions Club; Mrs. J. E. Spencer president Home Demonstration Club; Charles Reynolds, Supt. of Eldorado Schools; Mrs. V. G. Tisdale, president D. A. R. Club, and Mrs. L. D. Ochsner, president of the Woman's Club.

Mr. Edens, chairman of USDA County Council, gives the following instructions to the public:

The world faces the gigantic emergency of famine among five hundred million people due to war exhaustion of agriculture and drought.

A great human cry has come to us to save them over a terrible four months until the next harvest. The Western Hemisphere alone has the aid to give, and a heavy part of the burden falls upon the United States.

These people can survive if we provide a minimum of bread and fats to them. Of breadstuffs, wheat can best be transported and used in the famine countries. Therefore we are asking our citizens to make a voluntary sacrifice of 404 percent of their consumption of wheat products and 20 percent of food fats and oils during the next 120 days.

For public eating places, we ask that they use no more than an average of two pounds of flour per customer per week. This means about two pounds of bread and one-half pound of other wheat products. We ask that the service of food fats be reduced by 20 per cent.

For householders, we simply ask that you reduce your purchases of wheat products by 40 per cent and fats by 20 per cent.

We have adequate food beyond what we must ship to meet the needs of the starving. Even if we send them every possible pound of wheat and fats, the quantity of food remaining in our country still will be greater than prewar. We

SCHLEICHER CO. RED CROSS DRIVE OVER THE TOP

Schleicher County's Red Cross Drive went over the top Saturday, exceeding its $2,000 quota by a few dollars.

Last-minute all-out activities of workers spurred the drive on over its goal line, with much needed assistance furnished by Lions Club members and other individuals, many of whom had already contributed. Much credit is due to Mrs. Chester Wheeler and her crew of assistants who found a peacetime drive hard to conduct, but who stayed with the job until the goal was attained.

Reports of lagging drives throughout the country were commonplace, indicating that Schleicher's drive compares favorably with most.

"Wake of the Red Witch" by Garland Roark, a new Guild book has been added to the Eldorado Public library.

The Committee: Mrs. Chester Wheeler and assistants.

Plans are under way for the annual Easter Egg hunt for the children of Eldorado and surrounding country, sponsored by the Lions Club. The hunt will be held on Easter Sunday at 3:30 p. m. on the Courthouse lawn, and all children from the smallest to the age of ten years old are invited to come and take part. A committee has been appointed to work out details of the hunt.

Since candy eggs cannot be purchased, they are asking all who will to donate eggs. Approximately 60 dozen will be needed, and the committee is hoping for a generous response and co-operation on the part of the citizens so that the hunt may be made a great one.

Rev. F. B. Faust, pastor of the Methodist Church, will contact all organizations, clubs, churches and schools and get individuals from these to contribute eggs. The Girl Scouts under the leadership of their directors, will dye the eggs.

Rev. J. A. Carriker, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and his committee are to be in charge of hiding the eggs and directing the hunt. Eggs may be left at the Wheeler grocery or with Miss Annie Herbert at the school between April 15 through the 18th.

Plans are also under way for a hunt for the Latin American and colored children of the community. With 60 dozen eggs, the committee feel that there will be plenty to share with both of these groups.

A Real Memorial

The citizens of Schleicher County are practically unanimous in their opinion that we should have a memorial of some kind, honoring those who have risked their all for this country, for their homes and loved ones.

Any memorial should be practical. It should be morally uplifting. It should meet some real need and it should be as nearly permanent or continuous as possible.

There is no question that a hospital would be practical. Texas lawmakers have recognized the fact that such is the case by passing a law making explicit provision for counties to issue bonds for the building, equipment and maintenance of hospitals. There is no question as to the legality of such a bond issue. This law also provides for the managing of such county hospitals by a board of citizens appointed by the commissioner's court, thus taking care of the future in a permanent, definite manner.

There can be no question of the need of such an institution in Eldorado for Schleicher County. At a meeting of the medical fraternity in San Angelo held Tuesday of this week it was stated that hospital facilities in this section were only about 60% of what is seriously needed and it is a well known fact that it is very difficult to get rooms in hospitals anywhere in this section of the state. There is no hospital in Sonora, Ozona or Junction so it is reasonable to presume that a fair amount of patronage would come from those places.

All the people of Schleicher County are proud of our service men and women, of the outstanding records they have made while in service and it is entirely fitting that a memorial should be such that all citizens could be interested in it and take pride in it. A hospital would meet present needs of service men and women and our citizenship in general, and it would continue to benefit the families of such service men and women on down through the years, thus providing what we all want—a living, practical, permanent reminder of the sacrifices of our finest young people.

Committee members appointed to investigate the possibilities of a county hospital as a memorial project for Schleicher County, report that a fully equipped ten-bed modern hospital could be built for $50,000. This would include the cost of X-Ray, laboratory, and operating equipment. Investigators believe that such a hospital would provide a set-up very attractive to an excellent doctor. Local citizens would by law be appointed by the Commissioners' court to supervise the operations of the hospital staff and buildings.

According to figures received from a senior doctor on the staff of a large neighboring hospital, such a ten bed hospital would make expenses when half the beds were occupied—and make a profit on all occupied beds above that.

A recent letter from Winters, Texas, states that to date the hospital there has met expenses and done in addition its share of charity work. Local committee member point to a statement recently made by Dr. R. L. Powers, chairman of the hospital and medical service committee of Tom Green County in which he stated that this vicinity has only 2.9 hospital beds per thousand population and needs two more beds per thousand—Contributed by the committee appointed to investigate Hospitalization for Schleicher County.

"Why I Am In Favor of The Community Center"

It has been said that discussions concerning the proposed memorial for the service men has not been given sufficient publicity. Two different county wide meetings were held to discuss and decide this matter, but at neither was there a sufficient number of interested parties to be called a typical cross section of Schleicher County. However, two projects were proposed as a living memorial to those who served from this county in the armed forces.

One group proposed a community hospital and the other proposal was a memorial park to include a community center, library, service club rooms, kitchen facilities, rest rooms, gymnasium and swimming pool with landscaped grounds. A committee to investigate the possibilities of each project was appointed. The hospital committee was Mr. Ollie Alexander, Mrs. Robt. Milligan and Mrs. Mattie Cozzens. For the memorial park, Mr. E. M. Jackson, Mrs. Joe Edens and Mrs. Luke Robinson were appointed.

Both committees worked diligently and both found that such projects could be legally financed by a bond issue, and the cost would be about the same—namely $50,000—the hospital cost being estimated on a 10-bed basis at $5,000 per bed.

At the second meeting the chairman was instructed to name a new committee to canvass the taxpayers of the county to determine which project is most favored. Soon each one will be asked to choose which project he favors. The committee can then petition the Commissioners Court to order an election to vote on a bond issue to finance whichever project was found to be most popular. The committee is preparing cards which will be mailed to conduct this "straw vote." So please fill in your card to indicate your choice and return. Otherwise it will not be a real poll of opinion. And do give careful consideration to the merits and drawbacks to each project.

For those who think they want to see a community hospital in Eldorado, consider first how many now go elsewhere for medical attention and would they patronize local facilities if available. Consider also that the government now maintains hospital facilities located in various parts of the country which offer free hospitalization (including transportation.) Any service man may receive treatment at government expense. Would the service men and women be apt to pay for local care when it could be obtained free at veteran's hospitals? Would this be a living memorial to any GI?

Then let me quote from an article in "Medical Economics." The editors, aware of the growing interest in small community hospitals asked Dr. Warren P. Morrill director of research for the American Hospital Association to analyze the economical possibilities.

He says, (quote) "A private hospital of less than 40 beds is a poor risk. It can't provide adequate facilities without going in the red. Physicians planning to associate with such a venture would do well to consider.

"For one thing, a privately owned hospital begins as a poor investment because it must offer rates comparable to those of hospitals that are built and supported by tax subsidies or by endowments and that are in most cases, tax exempt. Taxes, etc., represent a continuous charge against operating income of about one dollar per bed per day. That means that the privately owned hospital must collect an average of one dollar more than the subsidized or endowed one. The cost of operating a hospital depends mainly on the number of its beds regardless of whether they are occupied, while the income depends upon the number occupied and the ability of the occupant to pay normal rates. Generally 70% of a hospital's beds must be continuously occupied at the normal rate to enable it to pay expenses. This rate of occupancy in a small community is difficult to maintain.

"Most hospital authorities agree that no hospital of less than 40 beds can expect to give good service and live on its income. This is due to the fact that it can not derive sufficient income from such facilities as laboratories, operating and delivery rooms, to cover the cost of installation, operation, and that of the specially trained personnel required to staff them properly.

"Since all critical points in a hospital must be staffed nights, days and holidays no matter how few patients are in the hospital payroll cost is likely to be excessive.

"Furthermore, a community of less than 10,000—the population that would justify a hospital of 40 beds—is too small to support the number and variety of specialists needed to give adequate care. (Note Schleicher's pop. is about 3000) It is estimated, for example, that a 40,000 population is required to support a radiologist and that a population of 100,000 is necessary to support a pathologist. This would force the 40 bed hospital close to the sub standard level, for in the absence of specialists the general practitioner is compelled to assume functions for which he is not sufficiently trained. Some small hospitals try to get over this barrier by employing "circuit riders" e. g. specialists who try to serve several hospitals in distant places. This is not satisfactory because a specialist 50 or 75 miles away when needed in an emergency is of little use.

"This leads to a serious argument against the small hospital. The general public often cannot distinguish between adequate and inadequate facilities, and public sentiment and community pride tend to compel the use of a local institution by many patients whom it cannot adequately serve. The small hospital, thus, renders a disservice for it tends to react against that institution to the extent of diverting it of its usefulness for even the service it can properly render.

The present widespread lack of proper hospital facilities in small communities has deterred many physicians who want to practice in such communities from doing so. But they must face the fact that a community requiring less than 40 beds to care for its sick, will rarely be able to support the special skills needed for good hospital service. Relatively few communities have become aware of the costs involved to provide for them thru taxes or other community funds. In the absence of such support the hospital with less than 40 beds must choose between faulty care of patients or financial disaster." — Unquote — Warren P. Morrill, M. D.

Thus we must ask ourselves if we want a second rate, non profit or possibly abandoned hospital as a memorial for our service men and women, or shall we build something the whole community, sick, well young, old, grown ups, children families or individuals may enjoy for the betterment of community life? Let's be tolerant of each other's opinions, but let's talk it over and decide on something and get to work and build something we can point to with pride and something that will add to the fullness of life for all Schleicher County. Yes, I am truly FOR the Memorial Park.

I ask you—what recreation centers do we have in Eldorado now? Where can any county wide gathering be held? Where can any large banquet be held? What kind of accommodations does the public library have? Where can the kids get together and just loaf and visit? Are our young folks to be forced to seek recreation in questionable places elsewhere? We are told the "push button" age is upon us. What are we going to do with that leisure time when we have no provision for the little we have now?

The state chairman of High School Activities for Congress of Parents and Teachers tells us that we spend seven times as much for delinquency as for youth centers. It seems to be a prohibitive price.

Some contend that a community center would be used for dancing. Well, why not? Most people have a certain amount of rhythm that must come out in some form. Dancing is the most ancient form of self expression known. Wouldn't it be better for those who want to dance to have a decent place to dance in, under proper supervision than to have to go to some such place as a road house or honky-tonk? Children do go to these places, you know. Those whose consciences or religious affiliations forbid dancing would not be compelled to take part. A gymnasium and game room could take care of the latter, or the library and reading room, or the swimming pool.

Why not a Memorial Park for Eldorado and Schleicher County as our tribute to the service men and women? Something they and all of us, and later generations can work for, and work in and play in? Today's youth are the citizens of tomorrow and it is our duty to enable these young people to assume the responsibilities of Democracy in a sensible and efficient way. Let's get to work on this Memorial Park. Let's have a large auditorium, a library and reading room, a service club, a gym and so on all in one. Let's really build something worthy, keeping in mind the ideals of physical fitness, mental alertness, moral cleanliness, social adeptness and spiritual soundness.

Take time to look at the architect's drawing for this plan. They may be seen at Mr. Frank Meador's office. Think over the proposed plan for administration—a board of directors composed of the Co. Judge, the Mayor—elected by the people—and the president of the P. T. A., representing the parents and educators. These officers change with elections, notice. Think what a project this will be for all citizens of Schleicher. We have a real opportunity to achieve something worth while in tribute to those who went forth—for those who returned as well as those who returned only in memory. — Mrs. Arthur Mund.

Announces For Texas State Senate

Dorsey B. Hardeman, attorney and former Mayor of San Angelo and former State Representative of the 91st District, today announced his candidacy for Senator from the 25th District.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardeman—she is the former Geneva Moore of Brownwood—have resumed their residence in San Angelo following his discharge from the Army after more than three years service. Mr. Hardeman has re-entered the practice of law in San Angelo and has formed a partnership with Judge Carl Runge, formerly of Mason, under the firm name of Runge and Hardeman. The firm maintains its offices in the McBurnett Bldg., San Angelo.

Mr. Hardeman is the son of Dr. N. B. Hardeman, co-founder and President of Freed-Hardeman College at Henderson, Tennessee. Mr. Hardeman received his law degree from Vanderbilt University and came to San Angelo in 1932.

Elected Mayor of San Angelo in April 1936, he served one term and was then elected State Representative in 1938, and re-elected in 1940 and again in 1942, but resigned when he volunteered for military service in November of that year, thus permitting the election of a successor between legislative sessions.

At San Angelo Army Air Field, where he enlisted as a private, Hardeman was assigned to the legal affairs office. He was sent to officer candidate school and upon completing the course, was commissioned a second lieutenant in The Judge Advocate General's Department in August 1943. Mr. Hardeman was then stationed at the Second Air Force Headquarters, Colorado Springs, Colo., then at Kelly Field, San Antonio, at Persimmon Dist. Command, Miami Beach, Fla., and then returned to Second Air Force Headquarters. He was assigned next to Lowry Field, Denver. He was discharged with the rank of Captain.

Mr. Hardeman said that the pressing need today is free competitive enterprise and that this required the election of officials courageous enough to rise above the selfish interests of individuals and groups. As well as possessing the ability to recognize the evils which seek to engulf us. He also said that he expected to personally see as many of the citizens of the 16 counties in the District as he could and to discuss the various issues with them in the forthcoming campaign.

The 25th Senatorial District includes the following counties: Comanche, Mills, Brown, Coleman, McCullough, Mason, Menard, Concho, Runnels, Coke, Tom Green, Schleicher, Iron, Sterling, Gillespie and Kimble.

Emily Ann Harper spent the week end in San Angelo visiting with Mackie Brown.

History Presented of Members of Eldorado H. S. Class of 1941

(The Eldorado Success is glad to present in installments, a history of the class of 1941 of Eldorado High School, as it has been compiled by Mrs. L. M. Hoover.)

1941. This is to be a brief history of the individual members of the Class of 1941 of Eldorado High School. It was the largest class to graduate from the local high school and the last one to complete their school work while there was peace over our land and country. After graduation, they went their various ways according to the plans they had made for their life's work—some entered college in the fall; some married; some settled down to ranch life; some secured other types of employment. In a short time came Pearl Harbor and everything was changed; plans were necessarily changed and readjustments had to be made. In a few months' time the members of this Class of thirty-six graduates were scattered all over the world; many enlisted in various branches of service. These reports are based on information secured from the individuals themselves, their relatives or from newspaper reports which have appeared from time to time in the Eldorado Success or San Angelo Standard-Times. The reports were written in the order in which they were received with the exception of the class sponsor whose report comes last. In some cases the pupils and their families have moved away and there was very little information available concerning these graduates.

Lou Ella Parrent

Lou Ella Parrent worked at Long's Variety Store, The Woolen Mill and Hoover's Drug Store. She entered Western Union Training School, Springfield, Mo., in Nov. 1943. Graduated from both Clerk-Operator and Managerial classes. After graduation, she was employed at Lordsburg and Artesia, New Mexico by Western Union Telegraph Co. Then she was transferred to Eastland, Texas as Manager and later to the Sweetwater office as bookkeeper. June 23, 1945 she married George M. Skornicki of Bronx, New York City. They made their home in Sweetwater until July 19th when her husband received his shipping orders. She visited with her husband's people in New York City and with her husband a short while in Salt Lake City just before he sailed for overseas. She returned to Eldorado to make her home with her parents until her husband receives his discharge after which they expect to reside in New York City.

Joe Luckett

Joe Luckett began working toward his ambition to be a petroleum engineer soon after his graduation when he joined up with an Oil Exploration Co. and worked during the summers of 1941 and 1942. In Sept. 1941, he entered Sul Ross College and completed his Freshman year there. He entered Texas Tech. at Lubbock in the fall of 1942. In Feb. 1943, he received an appointment as Meteorology Cadet in the U. S. Air Force. He received training at Keesler Field, Miss., and Chicago University where the basic course was completed. He was removed from the class as physically unfit because of bad vision. He was reclassified and sent to Jefferson Barracks, Mo. Another reclassification and he was sent to Grinnell College, Iowa. Completing examinations there, he entered Rutgers University, N. J., to study Civil Engineering. March 1944, he completed his basic training and was shipped with several thousand other students to fill depleted Infantry Divisions. He was placed with the 104th Timberwolf Combat Infantry Division in Camp Carson, Colorado. They maneuvered in Calif., Ariz., and Colo., until July 1944. They were sent to New York and shipped overseas, landing in France. They immediately went into action in Holland with the 1st Canadian Army. Joe was Sgt. and Squad Leader of a machine gun crew. The Division campaigned in Holland, Belgium and France. In November they fought across the Siegfried Line and into Germany proper. They continued their advance across Germany being within forty miles of Berlin and in contact with the Red Army when the War ended. He was wounded and hospitalized twice, received three battle decorations and trip home with a thirty day furlough. During this furlough in the States, the war with Japan ended, and as he had enough points, he received his discharge Oct. 13th, 1945. In Nov. he and Miss Jackie Cross were married and are making their home in Lubbock. He is employed as an engineer in the Lubbock Steel Works and expects to enter Tech. again to complete his work toward his degree.

Maxine Dunn

Maxine Dunn entered Nixon-Clay Business School after her graduation and remained until January when she became typist and clerk with a construction company which was building the Army Camp at Bastrop, Texas. EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS!

Gossip over a back fence is everybody's business! . . . And, in quite another way, your electric company, too, is everybody's business!

It belongs to you—to the man next door and the woman across the street—to the people who rub shoulders with you in shops and trains and buses.

All types and kinds of folks are on our stockholder list—housewives, farmers, merchants, teachers, doctors, nurses. They're the direct owners.

And there are countless indirect owners. Even if you don't own a share of our stock yourself, you probably have a stake in this company through your life insurance policy or savings account.

Why? Because banks and insurance companies—who handle your savings—must invest those funds wisely. Next to War Bonds, one of their largest investments is public utility securities. They know that sound business management has made cheap, dependable electric power a basic part of the American way of life.

So, whether you realize it or not—your electric light and power company is not just our business—it's your business.

Co., Camp Gruber, Okla. From there was sent to 2nd Infantry Div at Camp Swift. There he was made Staff Sergeant and placed in the AG classification section as chief clerk. He was discharged in Feb. 1946 and is now attending S.M.U.

James A. Griffin

He went first to San Diego, Calif., in the U. S. Navy Training School then to various places in California and at two different times to Norman, Oklahoma. He is an Aviation Metalsmith, third class. Most of his time has been spent in Aviation schools in Norman and working in assembly and repair shops in Livermore and Alameda, Calif. His work was repairing Naval aircraft. He expects to be discharged about May first.

Joycelyn Pruitt

Joycelyn Pruitt entered Sul Ross in the fall of 1941, majoring in Business Administration. She lived in the Girls' Coop Home and did part time work with the two heads of Business Administration to help pay her way through school. In October, she married Almus Word of Menard, Texas, in Alpine, Texas. He went almost immediately into the Army. Four and one-half months later they were divorced. At mid-term of that year, she withdrew from college and became the secretary in an abstract company at Ft. Stockton, Texas, where she worked for several months. In April she married Lawrence Webb of Wichita, Kansas. Her husband had spent five years in the Army. He met with an accident and received his medical discharge shortly after Pearl Harbor. He did construction and mining engineering work and since leaving Ft. Stockton they have lived in various places in the following states: Texas, Kansas, Okla., Calif., Colo., Arizona and New Mexico. They have two children Melinda and James. She has been employed since her marriage in office work and at one time was assistant manager of an ice cream store in Tulsa, Okla. She has had a few short stories printed and hopes to give serious attention to writing after her children are older. They now live at Roswell, New Mexico, where her husband and her father, J. H. Pruitt are in partnership in taxi-cab business.

Neva Jo Stewart

After graduation, Neva Jo Stewart attended the summer session of TSCW at Denton. Due to War conditions she decided to attend Draughon's Business College and thus make more rapid preparation to aid in the war effort. For a year she was clerk-typist at Big Spring Bombardier School. It was here that she met Lt. Frederick W. Haver, Jr., of Pueblo, Colo., and on March 13, 1943 they were married at the Post Chapel. Like most war brides she followed her husband wherever he was stationed. At present she is in Salt Lake City, Utah. Lt. Haver leaves for Guam soon and if living conditions are favorable on the island, she will join him there later. During these months she has also continued with her study of music and has been guest entertainer on a number of programs presented for the men in service.

Delbert Edmiston

Delbert Edmiston went to the ranch after graduation and remained there until he enlisted in the Army on Sept. 9th, 1942. He enlisted at Ft. Sam Houston and was sent from there to Salt Lake City Utah, for basic training. After that he went to Sheppard Field to school as airplane mechanic. In Feb. 1943, he left for Willow Run

Michigan where he had a special course on B-24 or Liberator Bombers. From Willow Run he was sent to Harlingen, Texas, for gunnery training and after five weeks was sent back to Salt Lake City, Utah. He was assigned to Heavy Bombardment and was sent to Clovis, New Mex., for final overseas training. He trained six weeks there and then was transferred to Casper Wyoming for second phase training; then to Scott's Bluff, Neb., for third phase training. After a brief stay at Topeka, Kansas he was shipped to the port of embarkation, at Ft. Hamilton, New York City. He shipped out October 1st 1943 and landed in Glasgow, Scotland October 10th. After a few days' training in England, he was assigned to the 93rd Heavy Bomb Group, Nov. 12th, 1943. On Dec. 4th he made his first combat raid over enemy territory. Dec. 16 his second raid was made over Bremen, Germany. Dec. 20th he made his third and last raid over Bremen. They were shot down and had to jump out. He was taken prisoner as soon as he hit the ground. Thus Delbert became the first man from Schleicher County to be made a prisoner of the German Army. It was more than sixteen months before he was liberated by General Patton's Third Army. He returned to the States June 11, 1945 and received his discharge October 20 1945. He was married to Miss Imogene Miller, of Mertzon, Texas, in Wichita Falls on Nov. 7, 1942. Their little girl was born April 26, 1944 and was ten months of age before Delbert received the news announcing her birth. They are now living in Mertzon.

David Williams

David Williams was a stock raiser on his father's ranch in the Reynolds community after his graduation. He was an expert on handling sheep and won high honors on several of his entries in Stock Shows. He entered the Navy in July, 1943, and was stationed in Rhode Island for some months. He was married to Miss Geraldine Sparks of Coleman, Texas. He was sent overseas to the Pacific and spent more than two years. He was a machinist's mate USNR and much of the time was spent at Midway. He and his brother Harold were together during their years of service in the Navy. He received his discharge recently and he and his wife and are making their home on the stockfarm in the Reynolds community.

Bob Reynolds

Another 1941 graduate who lived in the Reynolds community was Bob Reynolds. He returned to his father's ranch when school was out and began to take over the management of the whole place. Due to his father's ill health, Bob soon had the responsibility of the ranch and farm. His brothers both entered service and the older one lost his life in France. Due to their absence and to the difficulty of securing labor for farm or ranch, Bob was kept busy running the place. When he was called for induction, he failed to pass the physical examinations and returned to the ranch. There he has done a good job as a raiser of cattle and sheep and he could not have been replaced by anyone else had he entered the service as he desired to do.

Sam E. Jones
