Paving, Sewer Jobs Get Go-Ahead Sign

Meeting Thursday in extra session, Eldorado's city council awarded the contract for street paving to Schwobe Brothers of San Antonio and the contract for sewer extensions to Taylor Construction Co. A total of 9 companies put in bids, some for one project and some for both.

Taylor Construction Co. will move their equipment here from Sonora, and Mr. Couch will be in charge of operations. Work is expected to start any time, though no definite date has been designated. Much of the sewer extension work must be done before paving can start.

As Schwobe Brothers are completing road work at Menard, they also will not have to move their equipment far when they come to Eldorado. It is thought that they will be ready to start on the Eldorado paving in about 45 days.

A foreman from Menard, who will have charge of the paving here, was in town Monday attempting to locate apartments for a number of his men who wish to move their families here.

LOCAL CHURCH OPENS REVIVAL SUNDAY, JUNE 30

The Church of Christ is beginning a series of services next Sunday, June 30 and continuing through Sunday, July 7. Brother Oscar Henderson of Cyril, Okla. will do the preaching with services at 11:00 a. m. both Sundays and each evening during the week at 8:30 p. m.

Twenty-Nine Present at 4-H Encampment

The Schleicher County 4-H Club Boys and Girls were entertained at the J. Forrest Runge ranch with a barbecue Friday June 21, 1946.

A swim was first enjoyed by the 4-H Club boys and later by the girls. A good one and one-half hour of games were played such as washer pitching, duck pins, dominos, bean bags, quoits and smut.

An educational exhibit of grasses common to Schleicher County was displayed by the Soil Conservation Service. Mr. Fenner and Mr. Britton gave the 4-H boys the common names of the grasses and weeds and explained their commercial importance to the stock raiser, and the characteristics by which they may be identified. After pointers were given, thirty-five grasses and weeds were placed before the boys which they were to identify. The grasses and weeds were as follows: Side oats grama, Sand drop seed, White triodia, Feather bluestem, little bluestem, green sprangletop, Spear grass, slender grama, red grama, hays panic, hairy triodia, mesquite, hairy grama, buffalo, purple needle, tall needle, vine mesquite, grassburr, fall witch, tumbel, tobosa, rescue, euax, broom A, Broom P, cone flower, beggerlice, Engleman daisy, tallo weed, guara, silver sage, nigger head, wild sena, bitter weed, broad leaf and milk weed.

Club boys making the highest grades were Howard Mittel and Henry Mittel, who identified thirty-

Wool Appraisal Takes Place Here Tuesday

Appraisal of 400,000 pounds of Schleicher County wool in the warehouses of the Eldorado Wool Co., took place Tuesday, following appraisal of 250,000 pounds on an earlier date. About a third of this year's clip remains to be appraised on a last round of inspection.

The second round of checks is being mailed this week, payment to be made on the basis of the appraisal, and only after the appraisal has been completed.

Davis To Open Reynolds Revival

Marshall Davis, minister of the Church of Christ at Shep, Texas, will open a revival Sunday morning, June 30, at the Reynolds school house, and will continue through Sunday, July 7. Services will be held both Sundays at 11:00 a. m. and each evening at 8:30 p. m., through out the week. A picnic lunch will be served on both Sundays.

Mr. Davis, a native of this county is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Davis, who farm near Kaffir, and a brother of Mrs. E. W. Craig of the Reynolds community. He is well known here. His wife and two children will accompany him.

Capt. and Mrs. Bill Springstun and daughter spent the past week end visiting in the home of Miss Georgia Springstun and family.

MEMORIAL PARK UP TO VOTERS IN SAT. ELECTION

Qualified voters of Schleicher County will go to the polls Saturday, June 29, and vote on the proposed bond issue for a Schleicher County war memorial, honoring veterans of World War 2.

Saturday's election climaxes several years of consideration of the question by Legionnaires, several mass meetings, narrowing of voters' preference to either a recreation center or a hospital, and straw vote choice of the former. The question will be put to vote Saturday — taxpayers of the county voting for or against a bond issue of $50,000.00 for this purpose.

One voting box, Kaffir, serving Station A residents and others, has been consolidated with the Eldorado Schoolhouse box, and Kaffir residents will vote in Eldorado. Others will go to their usual voting place in the county.

SCHOLASTIC TOTAL IN COUNTY IS ANNOUNCED

A gain of 2 scholastics for the city and loss of 17 in the common school districts is indicated by C. L. Meador's 1946 report, now ready for state approval.

The City of Eldorado gained two scholastics, running up a total of 621. As Eldorado had about 30 transfers last year, it is expected that this year's total will be at least 650, as it was last year. This total includes the three schools of the city.

The common schools lost 17 scholastics. The 98 listed are from: Mayer 1, Mayer 2, Adams 3, Loftin 4, (not operating) Cliff 5, transferred to Eldorado, Bailey Consolidated 6, and Kaffir 7.

Teachers for the schools have not yet been selected. It is understood that there will be new teachers in several of the common schools of the county.

Farmers Co-op Gin Overhauls Machinery

The ginning machinery from the Farmers' Co-op Gin has been sent to Ballinger for conditioning in preparation for handling of the 1946 cotton crop.

Officials state that other overhauling will precede opening of the ginning season.

A Baptist Sunday School which will meet each Sunday afternoon at 3:00 has been organized in the Latin American Community. The superintendent is George Barnett, and teachers are Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Mildred Perry and Mrs. Irene Rutland. There were fourteen present at last Sunday's meeting, in addition to the mission pastor, Rev. Flores of Sonora and the teachers.

Workers expect to attend some sessions of the Texas Mexican Baptist convention in San Angelo. Supt. Barnett will attend Friday, possibly accompanied by others.

Wednesday night the mission workers, Louise Alexander and Mary Frances Thompson who went to Sonora from Eldorado to work in the Latin American Baptist Vacation Bible school, joined the Eldorado workers in attendance at the night session at San Angelo.

Mertzon Rodeo Set for June 29-30

Of interest to many ropers in this section, as well as to others, will be the annual Rodeo at the Spring Creek Arena at Mertzon, June 29 and 30. Events including bronc riding, brahma bull riding, calf and goat roping, and the world champion bronco monkey, will start at 2:00 p. m. Saturday afternoon, at 8:30 p. m. Saturday evening, and again at 10:30 a. m. Sunday morning. A barbecue dinner will be served at noon Sunday. Livestock will be furnished by Jimmie Nutt.

A large crowd is expected at the event which usually draws some of the best ropers and riders from this section.

Farmers Combine Their Grain Crop

Jim Tom Roach of the Alexander Community is combining his oats and getting eight bushels per acre. As he is located in one of Schleicher County's driest spots, reporting only two inches of rain this year, he states that he is well satisfied with the yield.

Otto Sauer, of Reynolds, a wetter locality, reports yield of 15 bushels of wheat per acre.

NEW DEPUTY

Jack Shugart, well known resident of Schleicher County, and a recently returned veteran, has been on the job since Tuesday as new deputy in the office of Sheriff Sweatt, succeeding Rance McDonald, who has resigned.

The Snack Bar has a new sign and new awning.

Farmers and ranchers are jubilant, and the sound of mud chains on Eldorado's streets is sweet music to the ears of businessmen, as Schleicher County residents take stock after a week of intermittent rains. That the backbone of the drouth is definitely broken and that Schleicher Co. has been saved in the nick of time is generally conceded! Pastures today are bright green with new growth, and cotton and row crops are making phenomenal growth.

Falling in spotted areas—beginning during the middle of last week and ending early Monday night—the rains covered most of the county, giving several favored sections the soaking which farmers and ranchers had hoped for, and bringing some moisture to practically all farms and ranches in Schleicher County. The official government gauges record these rains thus:

Runge: from June 9 to June 23—4 inches; total for year 8.1.

Eldorado, June rains 4.28; total for year 8.93.

W. R. Bearce, June rain 1.51; total for year 4.42.

Archie Mittel: June rains 3.87 inches; total for year 6.13.

G. C. Crosby, June rains 3.5 in.; total for year 5.5 inches.

J. F. Oglesby, June rains 3.2 in.; total for year 6.93.

Average for year 1946, 6.87 in. Forty-year average for period Jan. 1 to July 1—9.8 inches; average for June: 2.02.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lawhon and daughters, Polly and Worth of Marfa, who attended the wedding of Miss Mary Heffley, came on here following the wedding for a short visit with friends and to attend to business interests relating to the Thompson Bros. ranch with which Mr. Lawhon is connected.

Lions Installation Is Attended By 100

To the Lions Club entertainment committee, headed by E. H. Topliffe, went top honors for an excellent feed served 100 Lions and guests at installation services Friday night. Assisting Topliffe were Buster Gunn, Joe Edens, Lum Burk and L. A. Goss.

Though originally planned as an outdoor affair, to be staged as a chicken barbecue at Fair Park, rains forced the crowd indoors, taxing the capacity of the Eldo Hotel. Guests were ushered through the kitchen where chicken fried instead of barbecue was served informally by white aproned Lions.

The program included a group song, invocation by Rev. J. W. Carriker, piano solos by Katherine Davis, introduction of Ernest Hill by retiring president Jerry Pennington, and his introduction of Eldorado and out-of-town guests, and annual report of the secretary, W. M. Patterson, who listed as past year's accomplishments:

Petition circulated for dial telephone system.

Agitation for securing army fire truck.

Staging of lamb sale with PTA.

Closing of football grounds.

Closing of business houses during games.

Banquet for teachers.

From widely scattered communities in the county came these reports: T. H. Alexanders, heavy rain early Monday morning; P. F. Case Ranch, rains all over the ranch, and swimming pool practically full; Cliff neighborhood, good rains, over Tisdale ranch and others; Willie Whitten's none; Shell Station, big rain about daylight Sunday morning, but none that day at Hugh McAngus, and other rains in preceding week—also rains at Shell and locality Monday morning from 1:30 to 3:30; Gordie Alexanders, especially good rain Sunday night; H. A. Belk in Alexander community, light showers; Henry Mittel, north of town, about 3½ inches; Woodward's, west of Reynolds, 3½ inches; Dee Love's in Reynold's locality, over 2 inches; Fred Smith northwest part of county, 4 inches in his ranch neighborhood 28 miles from Eldorado; heavy rains near county line on Angelo road, water covering highway several times in several-day period.

The consensus of opinion is that the rains are the most important event of the year, benefitting as they do practically all of the county, and coming at a time when the drouth was no longer a joke.

Off-heard expressions in the business district of Eldorado, and everywhere in Schleicher where friend meets friend are such as these: "This is it!—'It's better than an oil well!'"—"This really puts us over!"

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Atkins spent Wednesday and Thursday visiting in San Angelo in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bird and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Horn, Jr.

T-Sgt. Joseph Ashmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ashmore, wired his parents from Dayton, Ohio, that he will be in Eldorado Friday on furlough.

Trip to San Angelo with football boys.

Christmas cheer baskets to three needy families.

Clothing drive.

Clearing of airport grounds.

Assistance to 4-H boys

Purchase of book for negro school.

Easter egg hunt.

Sponsoring of football game between Exes and High School.

Purchase of new school bus.

Awards to honor grade and High School students.

Spraying of city with DDT.

Purchase of baseball suits.

The toastmaster for the evening was the ever-popular H. T. Finley.

Secretary Patterson reported a total of 74 members.

Incoming District Governor Granstaff of Ballinger installed the new officers: Two-Bit Meador as Lion Tamer, Lum Davis as tail twister, W. G. Godwin and Truett Stanford as directors, W. M. Patterson, secretary-treasurer; Ernest Finnegan, third vice president; C. A. Reynolds, second vice president; W. C. Doyle, first vice president; and Jimmy West, president.

The Eldorado Lions Club, known through the district as a most active organization meets regularly each Wednesday noon.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Just a reminder to all our people that we need you in our services Sunday. What privileges we have who live in America with all of the freedoms. And it seems that we use the freedom of religion the least of all. For every privilege and blessing there is added responsibility. In any realm where privileges and favors are not used worthily they will sooner or later be taken away. To neglect our religious privileges and Christian duties means that in time to come someone will suffer, burdens will be made larger, sorrows will be more numerous, and lives that should be happy and useful will sink in misery and despair.

There are people all about us who call themselves Christian. If they would take as much interest in training their children in Christian ways and Christian duties as they do in worldly and sinful affairs, they will have a different story to tell five, ten, or fifteen years from now. We cannot expect our youth to do and be their best unless we give them the best.

Our Services Sunday: Sunday School and Worship at 9:45 and 11:00 a. m.

Training Union and Worship at 7:30 and 8:30 p. m.

Women's Mission Society each Monday afternoon at 4:00.

Our wid-week service each Wednesday evening at 8:00.

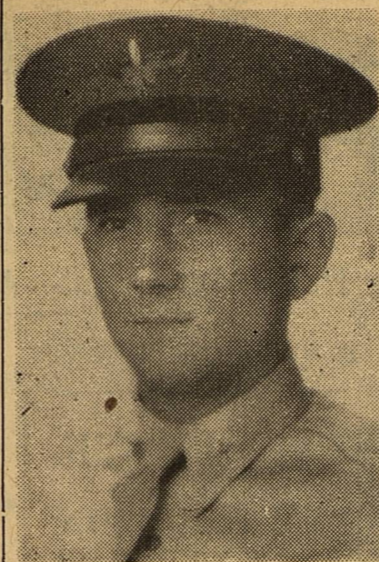

Choir practice each Thursday evening at 8:00.

R. A.'s will meet each Monday afternoon at 4:00 if the parents of our junior boys will have enough interest to encourage them to come. Junior G. A.'s will meet twice each month if they will be present. Something is wrong when parents will give more time and interest to seductive carnivals and things of like nature than religious culture. Someone has said, "There are no bigger pagans anywhere than the people who have forgotten to keep the Lord's Day."

"According to your faith so be it unto you."

John Rodgers Gets His Army Discharge

Cpl. John Edwin Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers, received his discharge from the Army at San Antonio the latter part of April, after serving since November, 1942.

Rodgers received training in the Technical School Squadron at Truax Field, Madison, Wis., and later saw service in Alaska where he received a badly broken leg in an accident there on Nov. 5, 1945. Since that time, he has received treatment at various hospitals in the States. After a 30-day furlough spent in Los Angeles, Calif., he reported back to an Army hospital in San Antonio in April, receiving his discharge there, following a check-up on his condition. His leg is entirely healed now, and he is able to get around well.

A graduate of the local school, he will enter summer school at the University of Texas, July 1.

Martin Returns

Pfc. Clarence L. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Martin, Sr., received his honorable discharge from the Army on June 23 at the separation center at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio.

C. L. entered the service in July 1944 and was stationed at Lincoln, Neb., and Kingman, Ariz., where he graduated from the gunnery school. He was later sent to the Victoria Air Base, and for the last eight months has been stationed at Randolph Field, San Antonio. He is a graduate of the Eldorado High School.

J. C. COBB DIES
OF HEMORRHAGE
IN SAN ANTONIO

Funeral services for J. C. Cobb, 57, son of the late W. B. Cobb, and step-son of Mrs. W. B. Cobb of this place, were held in San Antonio Tuesday morning, June 25, at 10:30 o'clock. Mr. Cobb, a resident of San Antonio for 30 years, died in a San Antonio hospital Sunday morning after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage 24 hours previously. He had been in ill health since the death of his oldest son, Wayne Cobb, who lost his life in action in Germany, two years ago this month.

Rosary services for Mr. Cobb were held at the Angelus Funeral Home Monday evening, with funeral services at St. Ann's Cathedral Tuesday. The Father Roy Reine, nephew of the widow, officiated.

Mr. Cobb resided at Winters for two years with his father and stepmother a number of years ago. He had operated a garage in San Antonio until ill health forced his retirement and since that time, Mrs. Cobb had managed the business.

Immediate survivors include the widow, three children; one brother, Grover Cobb of Beaumont; a half-sister, Mrs. Paul McLeod and the step-mother, Mrs. W. B. Cobb of Eldorado.

Mrs. McLeod attended the funeral services, returning home Wednesday.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OBSERVES HOME COMING SUNDAY, CELEBRATING 43 YEARS SERVICE IN SCHLEICHER CO.

The First Presbyterian Church, which will observe its first Home coming next Sunday, June 30, is 43 years old, having been organized in 1903 at the Holland Ranch in Schleicher County with the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holland as leaders. In 1912, the second church was organized in the Mayer neighborhood with the Sam Jones and Bert Page families instrumental in its organization. In about 1916, the Page family moved to Eldorado and the two branches of the church came together, organizing the First Presbyterian Church of Eldorado.

For a number of years, the congregation worshipped in the Methodist Church building until in 1925 the present church was built. In 1930, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones donated the money for the Manse which was erected on the lot next to the church.

There have been six pastors serving the church since its organization in town including the Rev. Guy Davis, Dr. Bristow Gray, Rev. Noel P. Wilkinson, Rev. Hadley, Rev. Kelly Neal, and the present pastor, Rev. J. A. Carriker. The church has realized a steady growth through the years.

Invitations have gone out to former ministers, members and friends. In addition to the members and friends in Schleicher County, many people from outside the county are expected. Among these will be Dr. and Mrs. Bristow Gray of the Comanche Presbyterian Church; Rev. and Mrs. Noel P. Wilkinson and children of the First Presbyterian Church of Itasca; Rev. B. B. Hestir of the First Presbyterian Church of Sterling City. Rev. Hestir was formerly superintendent of Home Missions in the Brownwood Presbytery. One former pastor, Rev. Kelly Neal of San Marcos will not be present.

Various committees have been busy making all arrangements for a fine day of Christian fellowship at the church. The services will be open to anyone desiring to attend.

The program for the day will begin at ten o'clock, with Sunday School conducted by Mr. Sam Jones, who has been superintendent since the organization was begun. Following Sunday School, the congregation will observe Communion with the Lord's Supper. Dr. Gray will bring the Communion message, and the Reverends Wilkinson, Hestir and the pastor will take part in the service. A quartet, composed of W. M. Patterson, Jack Ratliff, Misses Katherine Davis and Marselaine Patterson will sing, "The Old Rugged Cross," and Mrs. Joe Reynolds and Miss Davis will sing a duet. Dinner will be served by the ladies of the church at 12:30.

In the afternoon there will be a Popular Meeting at 2:30 with the Rev. Wilkinson opening the program with a fifteen-minute devotional. The address of welcome will be given by H. T. Finley. There will be a brief history of the church by Mrs. Bert Page. Reminiscences will be featured by a roll call and response from charter members and former pastors. Others will be given opportunity to take part in this service. Rev. Hestir will make a brief talk to Brownwood Presbyterians' part in the church organization. A plaque, with the names of the six pastors who have served the church will be presented to the church. The roll call of men serving in the Armed Forces will be made, and Mrs. S. E. Jones, Jr. will sing a solo on this program. The quartet will also sing in the afternoon, and all hymns throughout the day will be the old familiar Gospel songs. Mrs. James Page will be the pianist.

All members of the choir, and those who will sing for the Home coming are requested to meet at the church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock for rehearsal.

ELECTRICITY IS IN GOOD HANDS!

In spite of heavy tax contributions to help win the war—increases in cost of materials and supplies, together with increases in labor costs, made necessary in turn by increased living costs—

Electric service is still the smallest item in the household budget.

The electric dollar now buys 50 per cent more service than it did even 15 years ago.

Technical developments in production and distribution of electric energy under private management and initiative have made these lowered costs possible.

Yes, electricity is in good hands!

Included in the receiving line were Mrs. O. M. Wroe, the honoree, Mrs. Currie McCutcheon and Miss Ruby Bates of Dallas; Mrs. Howard Smith of Marlin and the hostesses.

Gladioli, gardenias, pansies and daisies were used in decorating the reception rooms and all table appointments were in crystal. Soft victrola music was enjoyed during the appointed hours when 95 guests called including several out of town friends.

Royal Service Lesson At WMU Meeting

Circle No. 3 of the Baptist WMU presented the Royal Service program with the other circles as guests Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Roy Davidson was leader for the program whose subject was "Living Up to Our Moral Standards," and she was assisted by Meses. Henry Mund, J. S. Hudson, J. F. Kinser, Charles Mund, Lock, E. W. Mund, F. B. Calcote, and Miss Mary Bruton.

Mrs. Davidson used as a setting for her program a globe of the world with a balance on top of it, representing the fact that the moral standards set by the South radiated throughout the U. S., and thus through the world. Appropriate programs were used with the same theme outlined on them.

A short business session was presided over by Mrs. Davidson, president. There were about 20 present.

Mrs. Jones Entertains Pres. Auxiliary

"Progress of the Synods, Presbyteries and Home Missions" was the subject of the program when the Auxiliary met Monday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Sam Jones as leader.

John Williams, Bert Page, R. A. King, J. A. Griffin and A. J. Mund, who reported on the work of each synod. A special offering for Home Missions was taken.

Mrs. Jackson presided at the business sessions during which plans for the Homecoming were discussed and it was voted to meet at 3:00 p. m. during the summer months. Mrs. J. A. Butler and Mrs. Georgia Gillespie were hostesses and served a salad plate and punch to 13 members and one guest, Mrs. Earnest Kinnamon of Dallas.

Baugh - Heffley Wedding Solemnized

Miss Mary Heffley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Lewis of Marfa became the bride of Milton Baugh, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Baugh of Eldorado, in a ceremony performed at 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church at San Angelo. The Rev. Philip K. Kemp officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white marquisette wedding dress with a bouffant skirt extending into a train, and a fitted bodice trimmed in seed pearls. Her veil, worn by Mrs. R. J. Tindall in her wedding was the bride's "something borrowed," and she also carried the wedding handkerchief of her aunt, Mrs. Frederick Wear. A white orchid with lilies of the valley streamers topped the prayer book that had been carried by her grandmother, the late Mrs. George Abbott.

Miss Lucille Luckett was maid of honor and Mrs. Tindall, matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. E. K. Morrow of Midland, Mrs. John Abe March III and Miss Viola Thomas of Cameron. Miss Mary Elizabeth Robertson of Dallas was junior bridesmaid.

Best man was Lewis G. Walmsley of Phoenix, Ariz., and ushers were Adair Baugh of Eldorado, Dr. E. M. de Berry of Sonora, L. T. Van Eman of Marfa, and Lt. Col. E. O. Nevills of Big Lake.

Miss Mary Bain Spence was organist and accompanied Arthur Heard and Jon Miller, violinist. The church was decorated with white stock for the candlelight ceremony.

The reception was given immediately after the wedding in the ballroom of the Cactus Hotel. Receiving guests with the newlyweds were their parents. The couple left afterwards for a wedding trip and will be at home in two weeks on the ranch south of Marfa.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Baugh are graduates of San Angelo High School. After her graduation from the University of Texas, the bride was employed in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Baugh attended the University of Minnesota. He received his discharge from the Army in January, after five years of service, including thirty months overseas. He is now engaged in ranching near Marfa.

Directions Are Given On Poultry Culling

The present culling prices on corn, wheat and other grains and protein concentrates means that heavy culling must be done in farm and commercial flocks if poultrymen hope to stay "in the black" on egg production, according to W. G. Godwin, County Agent, Schleicher County.

"It takes around 11 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs from a hen that is laying at the rate of 80 eggs per year. A 200-egg hen will lay a dozen eggs on 5 pounds of feed," said Mr. Godwin.

While culling "boarders" from the flock is always good business, it is especially necessary now because of the feed situation. Many low-producing hens in poultry flocks are eating feed at the rate of four to five pounds per month, so two birds culled out now will save a sack of feed in the next year.

The feed so saved can go to relieve the food and feed shortage elsewhere, or two young birds can be raised up to production on what one would eat in the meanwhile.

Accident Victims Buried at Brady

Double funeral services were held from the Brady Church of Christ last Friday for Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Brock who were killed instantly Wednesday when their pick-up overturned near the Dodge schoolhouse. W. L. Gentry, minister, officiated with burial in Brady Cemetery.

Mrs. Brock is a daughter of Mrs. B. C. Thornton of San Angelo, a former resident of this place, and a sister of Mrs. J. W. Hamm of Eldorado.

Brock was a well driller and was engaged in putting down a water well in the Dodge section. Two of their five children were riding with them at the time of the accident and are being treated in Brady hospital for injuries.

Cause of the accident was not determined, but Justice of the Peace, J. W. Cole, called to the scene of the mishap said it appeared that a piece of galvanized pipe, which was being carried atop the pick-up, had fallen off and perhaps stuck into the ground, causing the accident. The wreck occurred as the truck was going down a hill and the vehicle rolled over several times.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock died instantly and Shirley Jean, 12, and Glenn, 7, suffering injuries, were brought to the hospital by Standler Swening, one of the first to reach the scene.

Brock, 40, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brock of Brady, two brothers, Clarence and Byron of Brady; two sisters, Mrs. Marie Garey of West Virginia and Mrs. Merle Granville of Brady.

Other survivors of Mrs. Brock, 39, include a brother, Joe Thornton of San Angelo, and another sister, Mrs. E. J. Flemming, Melvin.

The victims are also survived by three other children, Mrs. Mary Louise Baxter, Jonell, and James Franklin.

Tom Smith of this place is an uncle of Mrs. Brock.

You have heard of DDT, the "miracle killer." Purina research has developed a plan for using DDT that is both effective and low cost.

1. PURINA FLY SPRAY FOR FARM BUILDINGS. Two applications a year keep down flies in the barn.

2. PURINA FLY SPRAY FOR DAIRY CATTLE. Should flies come into the barn on the cows, this quickly kills and repels them.

FEED DEPARTMENT

Use of DDT on Farm Buildings and Stock Explained by Agent

Although DDT may be classed as a general purpose insecticide, the average farmer is interested most in its use for the control of flies. Measured in terms of discomfort to animals, economic losses due to irritation, spreaders of disease and contamination of food products, flies constitute a major problem.

There are three species of flies found commonly in farm buildings. They are the house fly, the stable fly, and the horn fly. The habits of each species vary and, therefore, require somewhat different control procedures if optimum success is to be obtained.

The house fly breeds in any rotting material and feeds upon filth and animal excretions. It is, therefore, a carrier of disease. Having a life cycle of 12 to 15 days, that is, from egg to adult, it multiplies rapidly. It is not a parasite to animals. It is frequently found outside the confines of any building and may migrate several miles.

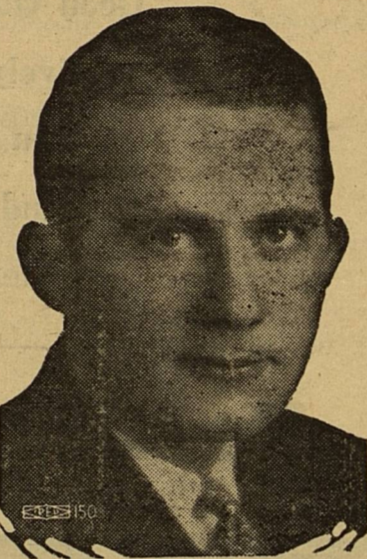

The stable fly, often called the dog fly or biting house fly, feeds upon the blood of animals. In appearance it is very much like the house fly. It breeds in decaying vegetable matter and has a life cycle of about 12 to 14 days. It draws about two meals a day within a period of 2 to 3 minutes and then lights on some comfortable surface to digest it. It is generally found about the barn or stable which houses animals. It is a vigorous fly, surviving 2 or 3 days without food, and can migrate as far as 50 miles. One must, therefore, constantly expect a reinfestation of this type.

The horn fly is about one-half the size of the stable fly or house fly. It breeds in fresh cow manure and draws several meals of blood a day from cattle. When feeding on animals its head is generally pointed downward. Rarely does it leave the animal unless driven off by a repellent spray. It has a life cycle of from 9 to 12 days and multiplies very rapidly in summer weather. It soon becomes a very serious problem to range cattle.

The efficiency of DDT as an insecticide in farm buildings is enhanced by two characteristics, namely, its stability and non-volatility. Other insecticides have faster and more deadly action, but do not possess comparable stability. Other insecticides are volatile, thus setting up a repellent action which tends to limit their insecticidal activity, inasmuch as the insect is the toxicant can be obtained. The low volatility of DDT does not warn insects that they are being affected. Therefore, DDT is particularly adapted for application to walls and ceilings of farm buildings, where under favorable conditions, it remains an active toxicant for long periods of time to insects which contact it.

In considering the proper use of DDT for farm buildings, several very practical questions had to be answered. They were:

1. In what form should DDT be applied as a spray to the walls and ceilings of farm buildings to obtain optimum and long-continued fly-killing action?

Studies proved a water base spray containing a proper suspension of finely ground DDT powder to be the most satisfactory for this purpose. A great deal of research effort was directed toward obtaining a formulation which would assure a uniform distribution of DDT in proper concentration and particle size per unit of treated area. These are points of major significance as they affect the efficiency of the product under practical conditions of usage.

2. What concentration of DDT should be contained in the water suspension to be used as a residual spray applies to the walls of farm buildings?

Research work with DDT as a residual spray on walls began with a concentration of 2 1/2%. At that level the killing power of the chemical was slow and the action short-lived. From that level the research progressed through gradual increases of the concentration to a point well above 5%. This is what we found. Below 5%, the rate of kill was not fast enough to keep ahead of the fly population which can, under favorable conditions, multiply itself in fantastic proportions. Above 5% the additional cost of the increased concentration was not justified by a corresponding increase in killing power or residual effect.

3. How much of the interior surface of barns or farm buildings should be sprayed in order to obtain satisfactory fly control?

Best over-all results were obtained by treating the entire ceiling and the walls and supports down within 4 or 5 feet of the floor surface. It was noted that flies seldom landed in this untreated zone. Partial spraying of the ceiling or confining the spray to the ceiling alone without including the walls does not afford sufficient area for satisfactory results.

4. Will the spraying of walls and ceilings with DDT control all of the flies which may be found on animals?

Spraying the walls and ceilings with a water base spray containing a proper suspension of DDT powder will do a satisfactory job of controlling stable and house flies, but not the horn fly. In cooperative experimental work it was found that DDT's reputed value for horn fly control was justified only when applied to the animal. One treatment appeared to wipe out the current population of horn flies. It was necessary, however, to repeat the treatment at one or two-week intervals to rid the animals of additional generations of these flies. DDT powder or emulsions were equally effective. Solutions of DDT in oil could not be used because of their toxicity.

5. Will spraying the walls and ceilings of farm buildings with DDT so reduce the fly populations as to entirely relieve animals of fly irritation when brought into such treated quarters?

Remember that DDT kills by contact and is slow acting. House flies and stable flies which alight on the DDT-treated ceilings and walls during the night will be dead in the morning. However, as the day progresses, one may note a gradual build-up in the fly population due to new hatches and reinfestation. This is noted particularly under conditions of poor sanitation. Therefore, the removal of breeding material such as manure and similar types of filth is exceedingly helpful in assuring satisfactory control of the fly problem. Those flies which may or may not yet have been exposed to the treated walls, and those which are brought in on the animals themselves, can be a source of irritation. This may be noted in the evening at milking time and, when present, requires an animal spray possessing repellent properties.

Engineer Seeks Facts On Floods Of 1932

Engineer R. W. Tighe, representing the International Boundary and Water Commission, was in Eldorado and Schleicher County Thursday morning collecting information on the disastrous Devil's River flood of Aug. 28 to Sept. 2, 1932.

Mr. Tighe is seeking definite information as to the amount of rain here—hence must know the amount of rain and type of gauge used. He has been interviewing businessmen and ranchers with the purpose of tabulating this information, and eventually determining where the storm center was located.

It is understood that the Devil's River flood of 1932 was the greatest in history, for it uprooted pecans 150 years old, and covered a wide area. Until 1940 there were no rain gauges closer than Ft. McKavett, which means that information which Mr. Tighe collects will be unofficial but should be reasonably accurate.

The region for which information is lacking includes Langtry, McCamey, Garden City, San Angelo, Rock Springs and Ft. Clark—a large area covering Pecos and Devil's River watersheds. Mr. Tighe is located for the time in Sonora and will welcome any information which can be given him by Eldorado and Schleicher County residents concerning the 1932 flood. He left Eldorado at noon today, en route for Ozona.

Oil Rig is Moved to Cooper-Koy Well No. 2

Cooper Gas Company Jess Koy Well No. 2 will spud in during the weekend, and Parker Drilling Co. crews are digging the "rathole" and "mousehole" in preparation for actual spudding in. The rotary was moved to the new location from the producer, Koy No. 1, on which it is no longer needed.

Cooper Gas Company are making plans for disposal of gas and oil from Koy No. 1, the gas to supplement production from the Page gas field, and the oil to fill the 500-barrel tanks pending completion of other arrangements.

If Cooper Gas Co. brings in another big well, and the prospects for a second producer seem bright, it is generally thought that heavy development with many companies participating will follow.

Electricity Eases Farmstead Chores

EXTENSION of electricity to farms has made a new production tool available to agriculture, according to nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer. Electricity offers ways to mechanize many farmstead chores, reduce human labor, lower operating costs and promote better income, which adds up to more satisfactory living.

Since most of the appliances required for modern conveniences are operated by electricity, its employment in production makes it a dual-purpose tool, in which one use facilitates another, points out the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families.

Typical of electricity at work is the task performed by a small circular saw in cutting material for the poultry house on George Middleton's farm in Kane County, Illinois.

One of the recent developments in labor-saving appliances is the churning attachment which Mrs. Henry Sidentop, of Livingston County, Ill., uses on her washing machine. Ice cubes made in her refrigerator go into the clothes tub to cool summertime cream, which reduces churning time by one-fourth.

An important function of rural electricity is to supply life-protecting heat for young pigs. Carl Barton exhibits one of the 7 brooders he built as a vocational agriculture project in Livingston County, Ill.

Koys Celebrate Oil With Goat Barbecue

Every man who had any part in bringing in of the new oil well on Jess Koy's ranch, from top ranking white-collared dignitary to the lowliest ditch digger, was included on the invitation list when Koy was host to his friends with a goat barbecue in the shadow of the rig Tuesday evening.

Originally planned for Sunday, the affair was put off until Tuesday when the frequent rains of the weekend left the county wetting in mud.

Tables were laid at the site of the well—chosen as a fitting spot for the celebration, and a convenient place for the crew, who continued with their job of moving the oil rig to the new location at the close of the affair.

The Koys were assisted in entertaining by Georgia Springstun, Ruth Nicks, Mr and Mrs. John Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds.

A complete list of the oil people and friends of the Koys who attended, a total of more than 100, is not available, but the following were among those present in addition to those mentioned above: E. L. Dorris, L. A. Ballew, A. J. Mund, H. W. Wiedenmann, V. G. Tisdale, J.

Burk and family, Buster Gunn and family, Bud Wade, Howard Belcher, W. J. Humphrey and family, Lyndon Isaacs, Elton Farris, R. L. Bridgeman, Mrs. Luke Thompson, Mrs. Margaret Tinning, Tom Bradley, J. New Agriculture Set-Up Established As Veteran Training

With setting up of an advisory committee and assurance of Lions' Club support for the project, a vocational program is assured for Schleicher County.

Conducted under the Veteran's Administration as a part of the G. I. educational set-up, the program will provide on-the-job schooling for veterans. The boys will receive the same G. I. subsistence checks as veterans in college receive, and will learn farming and ranching while doing so.

C. L. Meador, Jr., John Williams and Jack Ratliff are to serve as the Schleicher County Advisory Committee to assist veterans with Vocational training. The purpose and duties of the committee will be as follows:

1. To make surveys of farms and ranches on which veterans purpose to operate while receiving their vocational training.
2. To advise with veterans regarding practical and profitable farm and ranch operations. In addition, the committeeman and his family might need to help the veteran and his family make some social adjustment involved in settling in the community.

This is regarded as a personal service to veterans and the activities of the committee probably will be combined within the county.

The County Agent's office will have the available forms ready for the veteran to fill out. The veteran, if interested in having a Veterans' Vocational school in Schleicher County can call at the County Agent's office where Mrs. John S. Williams will assist him between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 12:00 a. m. These veteran application forms will be submitted to the committee immediately for their approval.

Veterans who are interested are urged to take advantage of this opportunity immediately.

The program aims to train farm and ranch boys for agriculture. The County has some veterans who receive subsistence checks while they learn trades and businesses, and others who attend college with government aid. The new program, now introduced for the first time in Schleicher County, will, by including agriculture also, put thousands of dollars in the county if it proves popular with local vets.
