

Fortas To Take Stand On Pauley Nomination Case

Foes May Think Assistant Will Back Ickes' Story

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Senators battling one another over Edwin W. Pauley cleared the ring today for Abe Fortas, who used to be Harold L. Ickes' right hand man.

What Fortas may have to say shaped up as the major question mark in the far-ranging inquiry into Pauley's qualification to be undersecretary of the Navy.

Senator Tobey (R-NH), who has been leading the fight against confirmation of the former Democratic National Committee treasurer, said the one-time undersecretary of the Interior would be called to the stand during the day.

This seemed to indicate that witness would substantiate the testimony of his former boss, Ickes said that Pauley approached him in 1944 with the suggestion that $300,000 in Democratic campaign funds could be raised from oil men if the government would not press its claim to ownership of Tidelands' oil areas.

Some Pauley backers, however, said they had heard that Fortas might not agree with the Ickes version. Fortas himself has kept his own counsel.

Despite a variety of testimony about the activities of Pauley and other California oil men, several senators said the nomination is likely to stand or fall on Ickes' charges and others of similar nature that may be made.

Three Calls End 15-Day Breather For City Firemen

Big Spring fire department was kept busy Tuesday afternoon, when a 15 day period during which no alarms were sounded came to an abrupt end, with a series of three calls in close succession.

About 40 bales of cotton were damaged when a fire broke out at the West Texas Compress and Warehouse company at 6:45 p. m., Chief H. V. Crocker said. Children playing among the bales were believed to have been responsible for the blaze.

Small damage to the roof in a de-linting plant at the Farmers Gin on NW 12th street was reported in an earlier call at 3:15 p. m. The fire there started when an oil container boiled over, Crocker said.

Two hours later firemen were called to the U and S Flying Service, when a plane hit a power line while coming in for a landing, but no fire occurred, Crocker said.

At 9:50 this morning a fire was extinguished in the clothes closet of a cabin at Ranch Inn Courts on the West Highway, and several articles of clothing were reported destroyed.

The call to Farmers Gin was the first received by the local department since the Texas Theater burned on the night of Feb. 4.

A native of Emory, Raines county, he is survived by his wife and one son, Adrian A. Porter and a grandson, Adrian Earl, all of Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Freeman of La Texo, and Mrs. Ruby Wade of Dallas; and two brothers, Jess P. of Dallas and Tack Porter of Emory.

Funeral services are pending arrival of relatives, with arrangements in charge of Eberley-Curry funeral home.

"Guard It Well," Capitol Hill Advises Byrnes After He Says Atomic Bomb Secret Is Safe

Davies Backs Red Espionage Rights

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes' assurance that the know-how of atomic bomb production remains an exclusive United States secret brought a renewed Capitol Hill cry today of "guard it well."

In the wake of Canadian disclosures of arrests to break up a foreign spy ring, the congressional reaction to Brynes' statement was a mixture of relief and admonition to make sure it can't happen here.

Typical of that reaction were these comments to a reporter: Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House Military Committee — "I only hope that he is correct. We should preserve the secrecy of the atom bomb until positively assured of an effective United Nations agreement not to utilize it for war."

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Naval committee — "I am glad we still keep it."

Rep. Mundt (R-SD), member of the House Foreign Affairs committee — "Mr. Brynes' assurances are both surprising and gratifying. I think that the atomic bomb secret should be kept until we are assured of proper control."

In answer to direct questions at his news conference yesterday, the Secretary of State declined to say: Whether the spy ring in Canada is directed by the Russian government.

Whether any scientific secrets leading up to the development of the atomic bomb had leaked out of this country.

What his position is on the opinion expressed by Joseph E. Davies, former US Ambassador to Russia, that the Soviet Union has "every moral right" to seek atomic bomb secrets through military espionage so long as she is barred from such information by her former fighting allies.

But he did say flatly, on top of the statement that the US retains sole knowledge of the atom bomb know-how, that he had no knowledge about:

Any investigation or activity of a spy ring in the United States similar to that reported in Canada.

Any Americans involved in the Canadian spy ring.

A columnist's report that a foreign agent had been permitted to slip out of this country with a suitcase full of atomic bomb secrets.

Any disagreement between the State Department, the FBI and the War Department of the arrest of foreign spies.

Canada To Release Report On Spy Plot

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (AP)—The Canadian government is expected to release its first official report tomorrow on an espionage plot which Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared had resulted in the disclosure of highly secret information to a foreign mission in Ottawa authoritatively identified as the Soviet embassy.

Canadians eagerly awaited new disclosures concerning the case, in which several strategically-placed government officials were reported involved. Sources close to the government, however, said that the foreign mission to which King referred last Friday probably would not be officially identified until a royal commission completes its investigation.

HARLINGEN, Feb. 20 (AP)—John Henry Thompson of Corpus Christi was killed last night when the car he was driving on the highway between Raymondville and Harlingen struck the west end of the bridge across the floodway near Sebastian.

Pope Speaks On Church Role In World Affairs

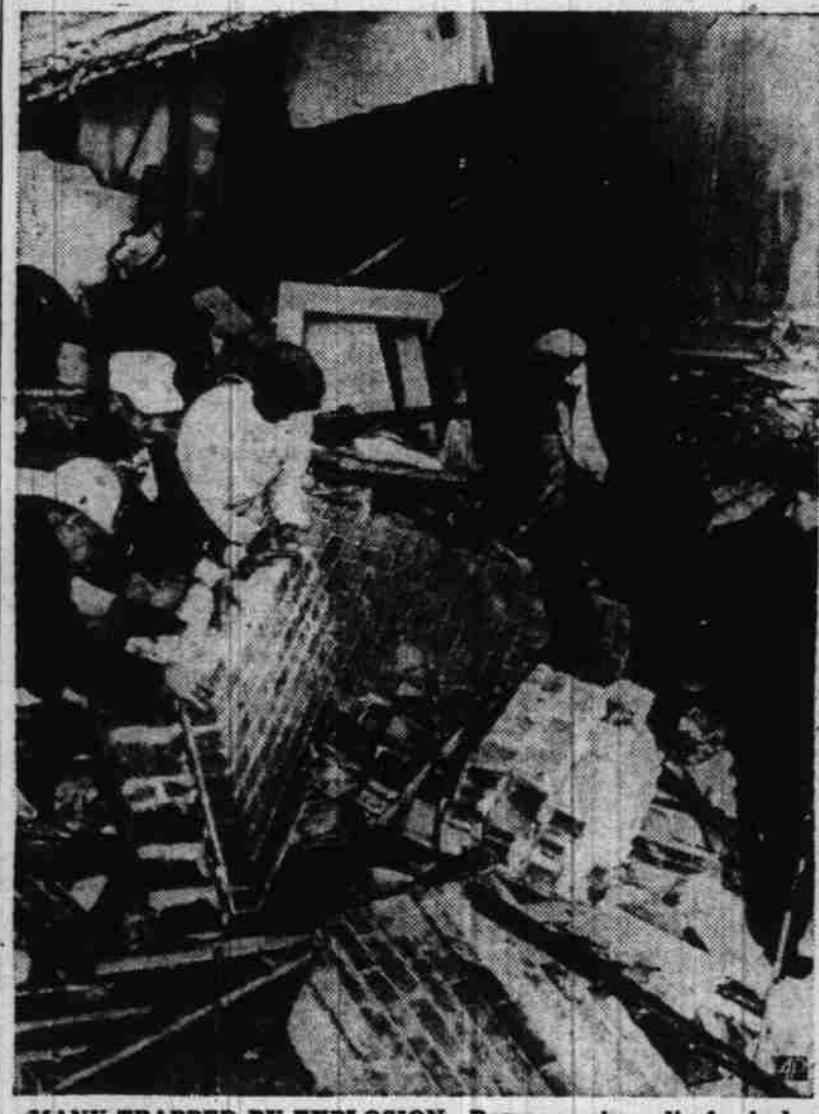

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 20 (AP)—Twenty-nine new princes of the Roman Catholic church received their first broadcast of office from Pope Pius XII today, after which the pontiff broadcast a major pronouncement on church policy in world affairs.

Customarily, after placing the square, three-ribbed scarlet biretta upon the head of each new cardinal, the pope merely would eulogize the virtues of the newly-elected members of the sacred college. However Vatican attaches said he was so concerned with the state of the post-war world that he decided to use the occasion for a broader purpose.

The pontiff spoke from the papal throne in the Hall of Benediction. His address, scheduled for 5:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m., CST), was in response to Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, Patriarch of Cilicia in Armenia and dean of the new cardinals, who expressed gratitude for their elevation to the purple.

The new cardinals' visit to the Vatican for today's ceremonies was their first since they received the new rank, which entitled them to traditional honors from the Papal Noble Guard, Swiss Guard and gendarmes.

Their rank as "Princes of the Church" gives them status equal to royal princes and gives them precedence over prime ministers and heads of governments, but not over heirs of state such as monarchs and heads of republics.

House Unit Turns To Homes For Vets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—The question of putting $1,600,000,000 in federal funds behind President Truman's program for 2,700,000 new houses came up for a vote today in the House Banking committee.

The committee agreed to interrupt its questioning of Chester Bowles on continuation of price controls and turned its attention to the legislation intended to provide an unprecedented number of new homes for war veterans in the next two years.

It must decide whether to write into the bill a provision for a $1,000,000,000 increase in the Federal Housing Administration's authorization to insure housing mortgages, and also whether the government, should provide $600,000,000 for subsidy payments to bring out larger production of scarce building materials.

Meanwhile Chairman Spence (D-Ky) telegraphed Henry Ford 2nd, inviting him to appear personally before the committee to give his side of the Ford Motor Company's argument for OPA on automobile price ceilings.

Young Ford came dramatically into the price control picture yesterday when Bowles, newly appointed stabilizer, told the banking group the Ford Motor Co., had requested a 55 per cent increase in the price of Ford automobiles.

This happened last summer, Bowles said, calling the request "outrageous." Instead Ford got a price increase of about six per cent over the 1942 figures at the manufacturer's level.

Carrying his fight for price control extension to the nation in a radio address last night, Bowles lashed out at the "few small but powerful pressure groups" which he said are trying to break down the defenses against higher living costs.

Ford Denies Price Relief Applied For

DETROIT, Feb. 20 (AP)—Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., in a telegram to Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky) chairman of the house banking and currency committee today asserted that his company had applied for no price relief on any of its cars since OPA price ceilings were established.

Commenting on a statement by Chester Bowles, economic stabilizer, that Ford had sought a 55 per cent increase in the price of Ford automobiles, Young Ford said:

"In making public our estimate of last summer that motor cars would cost 55 per cent more to make during the first postwar year than they cost in 1941, Mr. Bowles failed to make clear that these estimates were submitted to OPA before OPA had announced any price regulations on new cars—more than a month before OPA had given us the basis on which price ceilings were to be calculated."

"What Mr. Bowles had to say on this point and the manner in which he chose to say it left the impression that we had secretly applied for a 55 per cent increase in existing price ceilings. Actually, we have applied for no price relief on any of our cars since OPA ceilings were established."

About 221,990 Steel Workers Still Strike

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 20 (AP)—At least 221,990 CIO-United Steelworkers are still on strike today in 17 states, an Associated Press survey showed.

More than half of those reported still out in the nationwide strike of 750,000 workers which began Jan. 21, were in the three big steel states of Pennsylvania, with about 50,000 idle; Ohio, 46,300; and New York 34,500.

The number remaining on strike in other states included 13,000 in Texas.

Sign Up And Trust OPA, Labor Told

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—The labor department opened a drive today to "push for settlement" of all current strikes and get the reconversion program back into high gear.

Secretary Schwelmbach told industry generally his advice was to "sign up and trust to OPA."

At the same time a high OPA official promised employers that price increase applications to offset wage boosts under the new stabilization policy "are going to be handled fast."

The OPA official, who withheld his name, made this summary of the problem ahead:

"There are no two ways about it, we have just got to move speedily."

He added that OPA is confident it can stay abreast of any flow of petitions for price help. If necessary, personnel will be transferred from other OPA departments "to keep the ball rolling."

OPA already has cost information available for a number of industries, the official said, adding that this would lighten the load in the case of many qualified price applications.

For example, the agency only recently completed pricing of various consumer products which were off the market during the war. These include Automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines and radios.

If and when these industries apply for higher prices to offset new wage increases, OPA expects to be able to give them an answer quickly.

In the case of industries where complete cost information is not readily available, the agency plans to grant interim price increases pending further surveys.

Hitler Stole Fine Goods From Prague On Invasion Day

NUERNBERG, Feb. 20 (AP)—Adolf Hitler drove to Prague by fast automobile on the first day of the invasion of Czechoslovakia, personally stole a half-dozen fine tapestries and left with them in his possession at daybreak the following morning, Soviet Prosecutor L. R. Sheynin told the international military tribunal today.

German troops were barely across the border before convoys of looted equipment were on the way back to the reich, he said, adding that new street cars and trams were lifted bodily off their tracks or taken from the factories and sent into Germany. River vessels, he said, were seized and divided equally between the Germans and the Hungarians.

Within hours after the arrival of Nazi troops more than $5,000,000 in gold was confiscated, Sheynin told the court.

Parking Meter Survey To Terminate Sunday

A parking meter survey being conducted by the chamber of commerce will be terminated Sunday, J. H. Greene said today, as ballots returned to date continued to show a considerable majority favoring installation of meters in the Big Spring business area.

Of the 477 votes received up to noon today, 374 were for parking meters and 99 against.

More than 700 cards were mailed last weekend to residents of the city, and Monday others were sent to the rural areas. Anyone not receiving a card and wishing to vote in the survey may state his opinion on a card or letter and mail to the chamber of commerce.

Greene said, and all received before the deadline will be counted.

Double Slaying Takes Place In Shiloh Temple

DURHAM, Me., Feb. 20 (AP)—A double slaying etched another chapter today in the colorful history of Shiloh, the hilltop "temple" here of a religious sect. "The Kingdom, Inc."

Sheriff Louis E. Gendron said a pistol duel between Irene Laprise, about 30, of Brunswick, and Dr. Charles Reeder, 39-year-old Durham osteopath, ended today with both men dead and Carl Webster, 32, and Mrs. Kneeland Godfrey, 71, slightly wounded.

State Police Sgt. John P. Crosby said the shooting occurred more than two hours after Laprise visited the religious community as a would-be purchaser of the property and then presented the caretaker with a letter demanding "a sum of money."

For two hours after he presented the letter, the investigators related, Laprise held Webster, Mrs. Godfrey and two other sect members at gunpoint in a room of the temple until Dr. Reeder, warned of "trouble" at Shiloh, came to their aid.

Reeder ordered Laprise to get out. Then the men started shooting with automatic pistols, Gendron said. Laprise fell with two slugs in the abdomen; Reeder's heart was pierced.

Two shots gave Webster and Mrs. Godfrey minor leg wounds. Caretaker Philip Holland and sect member Bernard Anderson escaped injury.

Holland is a son-in-law of Frank W. Sandford, who built Shiloh—on orders of a "divine voice," he said—at the turn of the century as a communal dwelling for members of his "Holy Ghost and US Society" which later became "The Kingdom, Inc."

Phone Leaders May Decide Date For Strike Soon

Executive Board In Special Session In Memphis Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 20 (AP)—The executive board of the National Federation of Telephone Workers today went into a special session with the heads of 15 affiliates who have complied with the Smith-Connally act by filing strike notices.

John J. Moran, president of the Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers, one of the groups that filed strike notices last month, said it was "very probable" that a definite date would be set for a strike call.

About 150,000 workers in the telephone industry are represented by the unions that have met legal requirements for immediate strike action.

Besides the long lines group, the union heads now huddling with the executive board speak for the Western Electric Employees association, the Association of Communications Equipment Workers and the Michigan Telephone Employees Union.

A general strike strategy report from the executive board was adopted this morning by the NFTW assembly, making it possible for the board to call a work stoppage "at any time at the conclusion of the Memphis meeting."

Meanwhile, in Washington, Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwelmbach said he had been assured by Beirne that federal conciliation would be tried before a strike is ordered.

The NFTW represents local and long-distance operators, maintenance men and manufacturing and research employes of the vast American Telephone and Telegraph system.

Union demands are for a $10 a week wage increase, a 65-cent hourly minimum and a return to the 40-hour week. Beirne inferred, however, that the minimum wage demand might be reconsidered in the light of recent settlements in the automobile and steel industries.

Offers by the A. T. and T. to increase wages of all operators $3 a week and other employes from $3 to $6 have been reported.

A union spokesman said the current wage scale for operators in smaller towns is $18 to $20 weekly as a starting wage with a maximum of $26 to $28. He said operators in larger towns start at $24 to $26 with a maximum of $38.

College Plans Vet Training Program

After conferring with W. R. Marrs of the University of Texas the Howard County Junior college board of trustees have voted to sponsor a GI training on the job program, provided approval is secured from the Veterans Administration, R. T. Piner, chairman of the board, has announced.

Marrs explained the program procedure as provided in the GI Bill of Rights, and the junior college board plans to submit a schedule of courses to the VA as soon as final arrangements can be made.

The GI training program can be run by a head council, working under the board until a president is chosen for the college, and under the president after he is chosen.

Courts Divided On Vet Seniority

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Courts are divided on the extent of a veteran's right to his old job—the so-called "superiority issue"—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service chief, reported today.

Two courts have upheld the right of the veteran "to absolute reinstatement and continuance in the job for one year so long as such jobs are available," Hershey said in a prepared statement given out at an American Legion national employment committee conference.

But in two other decisions, Hershey related, "the courts declared that the veteran was not entitled to continuous work following reinstatement if his seniority placed him in a position where he ordinarily would have been laid off."

A circuit court of appeals ruling, expected soon, will have great weight "on this much discussed issue," Hershey said.

Selective service receives thousands of requests for help in getting jobs back but fewer than 300 have gone as far as the justice department, before adjustment, the general related.

Hershey's office and the justice department construe the selective service law entitling the veteran to return to his former position even though it means displacing a non-veteran. There are exceptions such as physically handicapped, or the employer going out of business.

Court Holds Maryland Racing Rule Invalid

BALTIMORE, Feb. 20 (AP)—Circuit Court Judge Emory H. Niles today declared invalid and unconstitutional that rule of the Maryland racing commission which holds trainers solely responsible when evidence of stimulation is found in horses under their care.

Judge Niles issued a declaratory judgment in ruling on a demurrer by the racing commission to petitions for such a judgment and an injunction sought in suits questioning the validity of the stimulation regulation.

Judge Niles denied the plea of owners and three suspended trainers for an injunction that upheld the American Trainers' association petition for a declaratory judgment.

B And PW Members Have Washington Day Dinner

George Washington's Birthday was carried out in the decorations for the Business and Professional Women's club dinner Tuesday evening in the Settles ballroom.

The tables had centerpieces of logs with hatched and tall white candles placed tied with bows of red ribbon set in crystal candelabra were placed down the center of the tables. Places were marked with miniature red hatched shaped programs.

The group sang club songs and Miss Gay discussed the meaning of the club emblem.

Mary Watson Jones, speaker of the evening, chose for her topic "Historically Speaking," when she traced the history of the national B. and P. W. clubs, beginning with its establishment in 1919 as a means for business women to assist in the post-war world.

Mrs. Jones discussed the various standing committees of the organization and outlined the duties of each committee. She told members that B. and P. W. was one of five women's clubs to be represented at the San Francisco conference and a B. and P. W. was

Peace Increases Need For Health Control, Water Association Told

Return of peace has increased rather than diminished the need for all types of sanitary and public health controls, Vic M. Ehlers, state sanitary engineer, told a record crowd attending the Permian Basin Waterworks and Sewage association meeting here Tuesday evening.

While Ehlers' address, the featured program item, concerned itself chiefly with combating water-borne diseases, he touched broadly on general public health problems.

Seventy-three men, including city managers, mayors and commissioners from several cities, participated in the meeting, held at the city hall. Fire Chief H. V. Crocker and the firemen served a sumptuous meal to those attending.

Ehlers lauded the City of Big Spring on the improvements to its sewage and water systems which won cups for the greatest improvement in successive years.

He pointed out that engineering, science and medicine won the war, recalling that during the Bataan campaign that 75 per cent of hospital cases were due to disease rather than wounds.

Disease is a costly thing, he continued. Typhus has claimed 25,000,000 people during its known history. Sixty-five per cent of mental hospital cases are based on previous venereal disease experiences, he said.

That concerted programs can reap benefits is shown by the war record of public health units, he said.

Mirrors Of Austin - - Baker On Board Of Control

The political indecision of Governor Coke Stevenson has also pushed into the background the candidacy of a man who is potentially the strongest West Texas candidate for governor: Board of Control Chairman Weaver Baker.

The Baker "trial balloon" was sent up at various times last year. Late in the year friends of the progressive judge polled county officials in every county of Texas. Then the Baker name faded from the picture in the face of the repeated dictum of the political wiseacres: "Even if Stevenson doesn't run, Baker couldn't ever overcome the onus of being labelled the administration's crown prince." Latter-day speculative political stories even omit Baker's name from the list of potentials, while listing everybody else who might run.

As a matter of fact Baker's candidacy has something that possibly no other candidate could claim: More than 3,800 signed pledges, unequivocal pledges of votes. In other words, the trial balloon is still up, and it hasn't collapsed, although Baker would be the first to admit that unless Stevenson gets in the race or out of the race within the next two or three weeks, there's no possibility of his running.

Baker's vote pledges come from all over the state. He has a small nucleus of votes in practically every one of the 254 counties. And this nucleus is composed in many cases of the men who know how to work in political campaigns: county sheriffs, judges, commissioners, school men.

If he decides that he cannot be a candidate for governor in the face of the lack of a "yes" or "no" from Stevenson, it's quite likely that Baker will announce for another elective office, possibly on one of the higher courts.

As the wheelhorse of the double-dutied board of control, which is budgetary and eleemosynary supervisor, Baker has a record perhaps unequalled by any appointee of Stevenson.

When he came into office, the eleemosynary program was bogged down. Insane were in the jails. The building program had been vetoed by the former governor O'Daniel. Within a comparatively short time, and by using numerous expedients and shortcuts, the board under Baker got all patients in institutions.

He originated and carried through successfully the project of acquiring surplus army camps to supplement the eleemosynary facilities. He cooperated with federal officials on a vocational program for Texas delinquents which is being watched by experts over the nation. He initiated and worked for a higher pay scale not only for institutional employees but for all underpaid state workers.

There is no questioning the fact that he has been the most active and successful board of control chairman in the last couple of decades.

Time For Road Action

A resolution by the Howard county commissioners court has cleared considerably the atmosphere surrounding two major road projects within the county.

The court has passed a resolution suggesting a route from Vincent to an intersection with laterals in the R-Bar and Center Point area, thence westward to tie into the Gail road, which already is surfaced several miles north.

Another part of the resolution pledged to secure right-of-way on the Big Spring-Andrews route when it is designated by the state highway commission.

While the northeast road may not meet the exact requirements of all desires, it does represent an acceptance compromise and one upon which all concerned can unite in a plea for early action by the highway department.

For quite a long time the bugaboo of division over routes has been raised by engineers and others as a reason for inaction. If this is all the highway department has been waiting on, there is no longer the slightest reason for delay in establishing a route on the road to the northeast.

Similarly, the way also is open for vigorous prosecution of efforts to secure designation for the Big Spring-Andrews route.

Regret Won't Breathe Back Life

A Herald reader calls in to complain about two practices on the part of some drivers: 1) Excessive speed and 2) deliberately running down pets.

The latter ought to pretty well speak for itself. At the best, it is inevitable that small animals, getting into the street, will be killed occasionally even if drivers exercise utmost care. A deliberate attempt, however, to run over a pet is something we can't quite fathom.

As for excessive speeds, they not only endanger small animals, but they constitute a menace to children and grown-ups as well. There is seldom ample emergency for exceeding city speed limits. Most of this represents thoughtlessness or carelessness.

It makes no difference how skilled a driver may be, if a child suddenly darts from behind another car, that driver cannot avoid striking a tot if speed is excessive. Indeed, it is difficult enough at speeds involving ordinary caution and control.

All the regret in the world won't breathe back life into some little form smashed to the pavement or crushed beneath wheels. The old slogan of "better be safe than sorry" is still a mighty good one.

Gen. Hershey And The Draft Are Expected To Continue For Time

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Although acquaintances are beginning to ask Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, what he's going to do after May 15 when the draft folds, some insiders who know that Gen. Hershey and the draft will go right on for the time being argue:

Here's the way they argue: In order to maintain the barest minimum of men in training for occupation replacements and in policing strategic bases, it will be necessary either to continue the draft or set up universal military training. Although men in the latter would not be in the Army, it is believed that enough of them would enlist for additional service to fill the ranks.

Because of the controversy surrounding universal military service, Congress will dodge the issue as long as possible—at least putting it off until after the Fall elections.

Acceptance of the lesser evil—temporary extension of the draft—will be a necessity, unless our whole postwar military program is to be abandoned.

Gen. Hershey has nothing to say to all this but if he is making any definite plans to leave his job or Washington, he hasn't said anything about that either.

At any rate, you would think the big, red-headed, lumbering Hoosier who has been head of Selective Service since its inception in 1940 would be able to sit back and take things easy in these closing months. Such is far from the case.

Gen. Hershey has been more consistently in hot water than any top flight officer in this war. He's still there.

In spite of the fact that 100,000 boys reach age 18 every month, the inductions are running far short of the Army's required 50,000 a month.

About 30,000 of the youngsters enlist in the Navy or Marine Corps before the draft can get at them; about half of the remainder are deferred for physical disabilities or other reasons. The inductions in December dropped to about 30,000.

Regardless of problems ahead or a possible end to the whole business; the freckle-faced general can look back on one of the greatest tasks of the war well done. In spite of criticisms, in spite of almost inevitable inequities, the fact remains that Gen. Hershey's Selective Service raised the armed forces from virtually nothing to more than 12,000,000 men.

A professional soldier since 1911 when he joined the Indiana National Guard, Hershey was "father of Selective Service" in more than name only. A student of the draft from World War I days, he was transferred from Hawaii to Washington in 1936 to head the Joint Army-Navy Selective Service commission. In the next three years, he laid out the plan for screening the young men of the country into the greatest military machine on record.

When the draft came in 1940, the Hershey plan was ready—perhaps the only division of the armed forces that did have its plans ready for World War II.

How Canadians Detected Red Spies

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The leak which sprang the big spy story in Canada came when the Soviet ordered home one of its agents. He had been in Canada for some time, had come to like Canadians, was not sympathetic with certain Soviet tactics.

He suspected also that his government was aware of his changed viewpoint and that this was the reason for his abrupt order to return. Soviet officials suspected of straying from the narrow path sometimes have been liquidated following their return, and this may have influenced the agent's confession.

This particular agent was fortunate in having his family with him in Canada. If they had been in Russia they would have been subjected to retaliation. Therefore he surrendered himself to Canadian authorities and revealed one of the most amazing networks of foreign intrigue in recent history. British secret intelligence worked for weeks in tracking down every segment of information. Special agents were even sent from Washington and London.

Since then, the Russian has been in constant custody of the Canadian mounted police. His whereabouts are kept a strict secret, and he has been moved frequently from one place to another. The Canadians want no repetition of the case in which Krivitsky, former high official in the Soviet secret service, was found murdered in a hotel near the Union station in Washington, D. C. He had made the unforgivable mistake of writing his memoirs for the Saturday Evening Post.

Forrestal Forgot

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal made one error when he issued his statement supporting Ed Pauley and saying that President Roosevelt originally wanted Pauley appointed. The mistake was that he had forgotten several talks he had with congressmen some time ago, in which he expressed himself as 100 per cent opposed to Pauley.

What happened, according to the story Forrestal told congressmen, was that after the last elections Pauley had asked FDR to appoint him Secretary of the Navy. FDR countered that he thought Forrestal was doing a good job, whereupon Pauley hastened to explain that he would be quite willing to become Under Secretary of the Navy, serving under Forrestal.

When Roosevelt discussed the matter with Forrestal, the latter was vigorously opposed. He had favored Charles Thomas of Los Angeles, an executive of a clothing chain, as his under secretary, but because of West Coast congressional opposition, later proposed his old Wall Street friend Struve Hensel.

And despite Forrestal's statement to the press favoring Pauley, close friends say Hensel is still his personal candidate for the job which Truman wants to give Ed Pauley. The admirals, however, are against Hensel, fearing he will institute certain unpopular reforms, including the appointment of a civilian as Judge Advocate.

While Forrestal may have told Truman at Potsdam that he was "agreeable" to Pauley as under secretary, there is no question but that he said the opposite to congressional friends.

In fact, while lunching with Secretary Ickes very recently, Forrestal asked:

"Are you going to fight Pauley?"

"I won't initiate anything," replied Ickes, "but I'll tell the truth, and it won't help him much."

"That's about the way I feel," replied the Secretary of the Navy.

Undemocratic Mr. Adamson

It was two Republicans, Gerald Landis of Indiana and Karl Mundt of South Dakota, who did most to put the skis under left-writing Ernie Adamson, "undemocratic" counsel of the House un-American Activities committee.

At a closed-door session of the committee, Landis demanded that Adamson produce a copy of a letter he had written in this columnist taking exception to the use of the phrase "make democracy live."

"I understand that Mr. Adamson has written a letter to Drew Pearson taking exception to his use of the phrase 'make democracy live.' I wonder if the members of the committee might be privileged to see the letter Mr. Adamson has written in their name."

The letter was produced. Whereupon it developed that no member of the committee had ever seen it.

"If things like this are going to happen," remarked Representative Landis, "we'll have to keep closer watch on our counsel. I, for one, have never been in favor of running this committee like the Dies committee."

Chairman Wood of Georgia emphatically agreed with Landis, adding that he, too, had been disturbed by "Adamson's letter to Pearson."

Landis then moved that all future letters be approved by the chairman or someone else authorized to speak for the committee. This was unanimously agreed.

NOTE—Congressman Mundt of South Dakota, while not present at this meeting, also took occasion to rebuke Adamson vigorously.

Capital Chaff

Henry Kaiser is up in arms over the very strange fact that the RFC is delaying the sale of government aluminum plants to US independent companies so as to give a Dutch and Swiss company, allied with American Smelting, time to bid on them. Assistant Secretary of the Navy John Sullivan, who was passed over when Truman appointed Ed Pauley, will soon resign. A good man lost for the hottest political potato in Washington... Sgt. Al Schmidt, whose heroism on Guadalcanal was the inspiration for last year's fine movie, "Friede of the Marines," will be the Democratic candidate for the state senate from the Eighth Senatorial district of Pennsylvania. Schmidt, blinded while he and two other marines held off and killed over 800 Japs to stall a night attack on Guadalcanal, will be a running-mate of Congressman Bill Green, another ex-GI.

Negro Vote Wavers

The politicians will tell you that political events are cumulative. In other words, one event won't lure an election, but several of them taken together, will.

For instance, both Democratic and Republican politicians agree that Mrs. Truman's "Why not?" crack about the race question and the DAR, in itself would not lose her husband the negro vote.

But when this event is followed by the southern filibuster against FEPC and the exit of Harold Ickes, chief negro champion of the old Roosevelt administration, then the picture changes.

Millions of negroes remember the day when Ickes invited Marian Anderson to sing on the steps of the Lincoln memorial after the DAR had turned her down. They know of Ickes' appointment of a negro governor to the Virgin Islands, which southern senators are now blocking, and his many speeches in negro centers during crucial days of past campaigns.

Result of all these events: Even more optimistic Democrats will admit that the strategic negro vote which once went solid for Roosevelt has now slipped over to the GOP column.

NOTE—Politicians warned the White House that Senator Joe O'Mahoney's record on the race question would hurt his appointment as Secretary of the Interior. O'Mahoney voted against the anti-lynching bill, and against stopping the FEPC filibuster.

With The AEF: Fauna In Hotel Rooms

By HAL BOYLE

NEW DELHI, Feb. 20 (AP)—Sometime when I have more leisure for the serious things, that interest me I want to write an exhaustive thesis on animal life in hotel rooms around the world.

It will probably be called "Fauna in Temporary Lodgings in Both Hemispheres."

In an ordinary American hotel you can bunk down for the night feeling safe from any unusual visitors from the animal menagerie or vegetable kingdoms.

Not so elsewhere on this cozy globe. You have strange encounters with all breeds of mankind's little furred and feathered friends.

In Casablanca it was bedbugs—millions of them, thankfully swarming over me as if the Red Cross had sent me over as their private blood bank.

In Algiers, on one of my visits back from the warfront an incredible thing happened: Every night promptly at 6:30 a single moth would rise out of my clothes and flutter away.

On the sixth straight night this had happened I put my book down at 6:25 and vigorously began beating my pants legs, my shirt, my necktie and my socks and stamped both feet vigorously. As it hit 6:30 a bedraggled moth rose laboriously out of my garments and flew away. He was the last one apparently, as no others appeared in the next two days. I never was able to locate the source of supply.

In Naples it was fleas—big broadjumping, gouging louts that bit for fun as well as food. In France it was mice. In Belgium it was lice. In Hongkong it was rats.

There were yowling cats outside hotel rooms in every country. Hotel room zoos are more varied in tropical and semi-tropical countries. The creatures grow bigger, too. When you meet a cockroach you say, "sir," and step aside to let him pass.

In Manila before I switched the light off at night I lay in bed and watched two gecko lizards catch SANTA FE, N. M., (UP)—When Mrs. Leslie R. Groves, wife of the director of the Manhattan atomic bomb project, was informed that Hollywood was going to produce a motion picture of the project, with Clark Gable playing the part of her famous husband, Mrs. Groves is reported to have said: "Then I want to play Mrs. Groves."

mosquitoes on the opposite wall. One was big and fat. The other was lean and pale—as if he didn't have enough insects for his system. Everytime he would get set for a bomb run on some unwary mosquito the bigger lizard would chase him around the corner and go after the meal himself.

Here in India I have three types of non-paying animal and bird guests. One wall has been taken over by a gecko lizard. Two English sparrows fly into my bedroom every morning and right overhead a wasp also is building a nest in the armature of the electric fan.

At that I am luckier than a group of American officers here. They found a baby cobra in their barracks.

I have always admired Saint Francis of Assisi, gentle patron saint of birds and beasts. Sometimes I wonder, though, if he ever spent much time with them in hotel rooms.

The Nation Today—

Form W-2 Can Be Used If Income Is From One Source Under $5,000

(Editor's Note: This is the third of 12 stories explaining who does what about his income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP) — Who can use Form W-2, the withholding receipt, in filing his 1945 income tax return?

If you can't, you must use Form 1040, as a short-form or long-form return, depending upon your individual case.

Form W-2—the receipt given a worker by his boss—shows how much tax regularly was withheld from his wages or salary in 1945. You can use it:

1. If your income was less than $5,000 and practically all of it was in wages or salary from which the tax regularly was withheld.

2. If—besides your wages or salary—you had income not over $100 from interest or dividends or other wages not subject to withholding, provided that extra income did not bring the total income to $5,000.

You can't use Form W-2 for reporting income from rents, professional fees, business, partnerships, estates, trusts, or annuities. Can husbands and wives make a combined return on Form W-2? Yes, if that combined income was less than $5,000 and fits the requirements listed above.

Examples: 1. Your salary was $3,000. Your wife's salary was $1,800. Total: $4,800. Tax regularly was withheld from both salaries. You—or your wife—additionally had $100 income from interest or dividends. You could use Form W-2 singly or jointly.

2. Your salary was $3,000. Your wife did not work but had $101 income from interest or dividends. You could not make a combined return on Form W-2 because her income from Dividends or Interest was more than $100.

In this case you could use Form W-2. Your wife could use the 1040 short-form. Or the pair of you could make a joint return on the 1040 short-form since your total income was under $5,000.

Suppose the combined salaries of yourself and wife—each subject to regular withholding in 1945—was $5,000 or over but individually less than $5,000.

You could file separately on Form W-2. Or you could file jointly on the 1040 long form. You could not file jointly on the 1040 short-form which is for total income less than $5,000.

(In the nine community property states—Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington—husbands and wives cannot file separately on Form W-2.)

There's a place on Form W-2 for listing your exemptions but not for listing allowable deductions. That's because everyone using Form W-2 automatically is given a 10 per cent deduction for such things.

Racial Disturbances Show Heavy Increase In One Year's Time

AUSTIN, Feb. 20. (AP) — Nearly 1,000 racial disturbances in Texas "every one loaded with dynamite and bearing the potentialities of a major riot" have been reported by Homer Garrison, director of the state department of public safety.

In a tabulation yesterday, Garrison said 46 police departments, representing 1,873,000 inhabitants, reported 147 racial disturbances in 1944. By 1945, this had jumped to 924, an increase of 500 per cent.

"It is only because of quick, decisive and impartial action by local officers that gang fights and minor riots have not developed into something much worse," said Garrison.

He characterized as "a significant and dangerous trend" the fact that those cities reporting an increase in arrests also reported an increase in the carrying of concealed weapons.

Crozier said he would provide his own counsel in the pleading, adding he was unable to say whether the attorney general would step in later.

President Signs Employment Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP) — President Truman today signed an employment and production bill which congress passed as a compromise for so-called "full employment" legislation.

Aimed at establishing a government policy of promoting employment, production and purchasing power, the president's original measure was toned down sharply on Capitol Hill.

In its final form, it provides a council of three economic advisers at salaries of $15,000 who will assist and advise the president in the preparation of a periodic "economic report" to the congress.

This report, together with supplements issued as the council may see fit, will be studied by a "joint committee on the economic report."

This group, consisting of seven members from each house of congress, will seek methods of implementing the recommendations.

FORSAN, Feb. 20. — Dan McRae's Forsan Exes will invade Water Valley this weekend to take part in an independent basketball tournament, meeting the Goren Jewellers in a first round game at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Sterling City and Goodfellow Field of San Angelo begin play at 7 p. m., while Ellis Parts of San Angelo and Water Valley tangle at 9 o'clock Friday evening.

Championship playoffs get underway at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Prizes are in the offering for championship, runner-up and consolation winners as well as for outstanding players.

McCrae, who has added strength for the Valley meet, will probably enter his quintet in an independent tournament at San Angelo Feb. 28.

Wacoans Move To Fore Late In Skirmish

WACO, Feb. 20. (AP) — Baylor's Golden Bears, who couldn't win a game last year, today held their second Southwest conference basketball championship. They won their only other conference title in 1932.

Baylor clinched the title last night by defeating Texas A&M in a closely fought game 44 to 41 to end the season with eleven victories and one defeat — that at the hands of Arkansas.

The Razorbacks, in second place with eight wins and two losses, still have to meet the Aggies in two games.

Behind at the half 20 to 17 in last night's game, the Bears came back in the second half with a fine passing and floor game to take a six point lead. The Aggies tied the score, but with 50 seconds to go Baylor forged ahead 42 to 41. Two free throws boosted their score to 44.

Baylor goes to Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday to play Canisius in the first game of an eastern tour.

Longhorns Drill For Lamesa Go

Friday evening's district 3AA tournament test between Big Spring's Steers and the Lamesa Tornados, scheduled to go on the boards at 8:15 o'clock in Abilene, is rated a toss-up.

In two starts this year, the quintets have broken even, the Longhorns coming back to win the second set with an 11th hour rally after dropping the first.

John Malaise has had his Boz vines out since Monday working on new plays and seeking to improve the Big Springers' pitching from the foul line. The locals have been notoriously weak in that department all year.

AGGIE MERMEN TO BE BUSY

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 20. (AP) — Coach Art Adamson, head man of Texas A&M swimmers, has mapped a schedule including two dual meets with University of Texas and Dallas Athletic Club, each series on a home and home basis.

The Aggies also will compete in the Southwestern AAU meet at Dallas and in the Southwest conference meet at College Station.

The Aggies opened the season last week by losing to Texas in the first of the dual meets.

Among the top talent back from the 1945 team are Allen Self, 440-yard freestyle champion, and Manuel Escobar, 220-yard freestyle tittist.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With ANGUS LEUFSTER

Big Spring needs take no back seat when it comes to putting on an amateur fight show, not even when compared with the grand-daddy of them all—the state Golden Gloves finals.

The championship matches, which ended Monday night in Fort Worth, were unreel on a more elaborate scale, played to far bigger houses, but were of no higher caliber than the ones local fans were privileged to view.

The writer, along with J. Gordon Bristow, Mileaway Baker, Wiley Curry, Dewey Collum and other Big Springers, kibitzed the Monday proceedings.

Our delegation came away convinced that the state's best simon-pure didn't get to make the tournament. That would be Joe Neratka, who sacked up the 135-pound title here.

There wasn't a scrapper in any weight division that could compare with him for class and hitting power.

Neratka could probably have kayoed either of the finalists—Bill Wilson, the ultimate champion from Corpus Christi, or Ray Ramon, the San Antonio lad beaten in a photo finish.

One of the great stories to come out of the tournament was that of Big Spring's Bob Apperson, loser to Bobby Woods, Fort Worth, in last weekend's welterweight semifinals.

Victor in his first round match, Robin borrowed Bristow's car immediately after that scrap to drive all the way to San Angelo to get his favorite second, George Clutchee, to work in his corner for his most important bout, a test with National champion Gilbert Garcia.

In so doing, he sacrificed a night's sleep, cat-napped only about four hours before he stepped through the ropes to get at Garcia.

The manner in which he handled the Latin-American, however, justified his decision to get Clutchee to do his "between-rounds" thinking for him.

When Apperson set out for the tournament, he carried with him a fierce desire to win that was probably unmatched by any boy in the tournament. He was nosed out by Woods Saturday night but the bout could have gone either way. The decision was split, and the judges who favored Woods voted the point aggregate at 60-59. It was that close.

Monday night, Apperson won himself third place in the welter class without laying on a glove. His opponent-to-be, Manuel Dizon, couldn't go on. Bob's prize for winning was a miniature golden glove studded by a small ruby.

There didn't appear to be a lad in the tournament capable of going far in the national tournament, at least not in the eyes of this writer.

By classes, we saw them thusly:

FLYWEIGHT — Henry Kagawa, Houston. His was a gift decision over the defending champion, Gilbert Areche. Judges were no doubt influenced by the Jap's potential punching ability, but Areche outscored him from here to second base.

BANTAMWEIGHT — Joe Garcia, Houston. From about ten rows out, Garcia looked like the proverbial million dollars. But here the judges again seemed sadly in error. Garcia's opposition, Ray Lara, didn't throw near the leather. Joe did but most of Garcia's blows were landing on the shoulders and arms. Lara was hooking expertly and doing much damage in-fighting.

WEATHERWEIGHT — Alex Gonzales, Dallas. One of the state's better bets, Gonzales never got a true test Monday. His foe, Lloyd Depsman of Waco, was a cutie who never had his heart in the game. He never, Alex throws some mean mlens.

LIGHTWEIGHT — Bill Wilson, Corpus Christi. This sailor is fair, but we still like Neratka.

WELTERWEIGHT — Cotton Gunter, Dallas. A very alert, two fist puncher, this boy. He tries to operate in the style of Henry Armstrong, boring in to throw both hands all the time but he runs out of gas in the back stretch.

MIDDLEWEIGHT — Herbert May, Mouston. Pitiful. May will probably get knocked into the fifth pew at the Chicago tournament. He was no better than his opponent, Raymond Joines of Beaumont, but the judges had to call it one way or another.

FIGHTHEAVY — Presley Darnell, Fort Worth. We're of the Barney Ross school of thought in believing that judges should be competent men who have been associated with the fight game in some capacity in other years. The team of critics that worked at the ringside Monday night obviously were not. Darnell had Shumway out on his feet in the third heat and probably would have won by kayo had the bout gone another round. However, Shumway was much the better of the two in the first two heats. It's an old story that the crowd — and oftentimes the judges — see only the finish.

HEAVYWEIGHT — Charles Simmons, Dallas. Here was a youth almost paralyzed with fear who came through despite that handicap. He won because his opponent, Tommy Proctor of Abilene, was out of shape and should never have gone into the ring in the first place. Simmons kept on his bicycle and scored by moving in and out. Proctor's corner never awakened to the fact that their boy had to charge and corner the Dallas boy in order to win. It was a bad exhibition.

Three Clubs To Drill In Houston Stadium

HOUSTON, Feb. 20. (AP) — Three clubs will train at the same time in Buff stadium when baseball gets under way March 11.

On hand will be candidates for the Houston club of the Texas league, Lynchburg of the Class C Virginia league, and Allentown, Pa., of the Class B Interstate league.

All of these clubs are owned by the St. Louis Cardinals. The Buffs will have an option to buy any players they want from the other two clubs.

Cedar Creek Choice In Hialeah Classic

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 20. (AP) — Florida's colorful three-year-old classic, the $30,000 Flamingo Stakes, will be run at Hialeah Saturday with Walter P. Chrysler's Cedar Creek as a 5 to 2 favorite with We Admiral at 3 to 1 and Pellicle at 4 to 1.

Cedar Creek will be ridden by Doug Dodson, Nick Wall will have a leg up on We Admiral, and Eddie Arcaro will ride Pellicle.

Each of the three has won stake events. Pellicle took the $10,000 added Hibiscus Handicap, and Cedar Creek and We Admiral took down the two divisions of the $10,000 Bahamas Handicap.

Return Of Hill Aces Brighten Aggie Hopes

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 20. (AP) — Return of four lettermen from past Aggie teams, among whom are three pitchers—Henry Lindsey, Johnny Shufford and Hub Moon—have brightened prospects in baseball at Texas A. and M.

The Aggies, who won only one game last season, will have nine lettermen of the 1945 squad to go with Lindsey, Shufford, Moon and W. B. Bradley, a third baseman here but first-sacker while in the service. Moon also is a first baseman.

Practice starts March 1 and Coach Lil Dimmitt will be assisted by Botchy Koch. The latter, however, won't be able to give time to baseball until March 13 when winter football training is over.

Some 75 candidates are expected to turn out March 1.

Among those Dimmitt listed as possible candidates are: Lindsey, Shufford, Moon, Elmer Purdie, Charles Smith and Jim Love, all lettermen pitchers, with Purdie also able to double as catcher. Earl Beesley, squadman pitcher from 1944, also is back and a good prospect.

Catching prospects include: R. E. Prince, letterman center fielder last year; Ed Arnold, Bugley Hartley and Bob Tullis, who did some squad duty in 1941 and 1942. Bradley is booked for first base with Moon on hand if needed. At second Dimmitt probably will make his selection from among Tex Thornton, Maurice Van Winkle and Albert Rettig, who had some squad experience.

Shortstop candidates include: Cliff Lindloff and Ray Newson, a squadman. Rettig also can play this position. Both Rettig and Newson went to the service before the season had advanced far enough for them to letter but both undoubtedly would have lettered.

Third base candidates include Julian Presley and Burton French, freshmen. Presley has played with the El Toro Marines the past three seasons. Both Floyd Delafosse and Mason Matthews, lettermen who played third last year, have been moved to the outfield in Dimmitt's plans.

There is a sizable crop of outfield prospects in addition to lettermen Matthews, Delafosse, Hub Ellis, Jim Winkler and Billy Strange. Prince, Love and Smith also played considerable outfield last year. Newcomers include: Peck Voss and Mac McDonald, both of whom have good-sandlot reputations.

He returned to Commerce in 1940 to serve as assistant coach. In 1942 he entered the Navy and was the leading scorer of the Georgia pre-flight team, generally rated top service outfit of the nation that year. Bolanos Pounds Wright For Win

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20. (AP) — The difference between 21 and 34 years in age seemed just about the margin that gave young Enrique Bolanos a 10-round decision over veteran Chaiky Wright at the Olympic auditorium last night.

The decision was unanimous, and a well deserved victory for Bolanos, the former Mexico City bellboy.

Wright lost nothing in prestige. In fact he lost nothing but the fight, and from the way he went last night served notice he can still make most of the little men step a bit.

ARMY-NAVY AIR NETWORK AS BUSY AS ANY HEADQUARTERS IN WORLD

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 20 (UP)—An unpretentious office here is the headquarters of one of the hardest working radio networks in the world today—AFRS.

Armed Forces Radio Service, with 43 officers and 120 enlisted men on duty, is still pounding out radio shows, transcriptions and recording kits for men in the services as a combined Army-Navy operation.

Under the command of Maj. Martin H. Work and Capt. Richard D. Zern, USN, AFRS is manning and operating 239 broadcast outlets in daily service, 19 powerful shortwave transmitters to overseas areas, and countless small base stations.

Each month 100,000 plastic transcriptions and manufactured records pour out of AFRS here, in San Francisco and New York to join the 1,500,000 other transcriptions already shipped to stations, overseas troops and ships.

Maj. Work outlined a typical 1946 month's work at AFRS here as follows: 800 separate radio shows resulting in 350 hours of transcribed radio produced; 434 hours of studio facilities used to accomplish each transcribed hour; special programs written and produced by AFRS itself; 30 new tunes recorded and shipped to basic music libraries in stations (there are now more than 4,000 selections in the AFRS library); 140 hours of scripts mailed weekly in script kits to overseas production studios; 10 shortwave transmitters on the West Coast kept continuously busy on 4,400 hours of programs monthly.

"And that's only part of the story," Work said. "You don't know how much labor and effort go into each show and broadcast we make."

East Coast transmissions utilizing shortwave relay stations run to 30 hours weekly, and much of this material must come from the Hollywood office.

"From December, 1942, to December, 1945, we beamed 89,987 hours of shortwave programs to armed forces throughout the world," Work said. "This included 23,183 hours of news, 13,478 hours of sports, 6,985 hours of educational subjects and 44,211 hours of entertainment."

Many Special Programs
Among the special programs written and produced by AFRS through the free performances of theater stars are, the famed Command Performance, Mail Call, Jubilee and GI Jill.

Others virtually unknown to civilians, but which will be produced throughout the year, are: At Ease, Concert Hall, Downbeat, GI Jive, Hymns From Home, Intermezzo, Jill's Juke Box, Melody Roundup, Music for Sunday, Remember, Serenade, Showtime, Words With Music, Yank Band.

CONSTIPATION
Is the cause of MUCH SUFFERING
Constipation may cause no symptoms for a long time, but unless corrected will finally impair the health. Symptoms associated with advancing constipation are loss of appetite, heavily coated tongue, tired feeling and mental depression. Headache, dizziness, anemia, and skin disturbances such as acne, are commonly experienced. In severe cases, neuralgia and joint pains occur. Indigestion, with gas formation and colic, and piles and fissures frequently add to the discomforts of severe chronic cases.
No matter how many other medicines you may have tried for constipation, we urge you to try B-L PREPARATION, with the understanding that B-L PREPARATION must bring you satisfactory results or your money back. Caution: Use only as directed.

Cost Absorption Said Essential To Keep Prices Under Control
Cost absorption is essential in maintaining price controls, K. H. McGibbon, chairman of the local price board, said today.
"Cost absorption is nothing new," McGibbon added. "All during the war it has been possible for most industries and trades to absorb most of their cost increases, because, while some costs are going up, other costs were going down. Big volume production and big volume sales decreased a lot of costs. By balancing these lower costs against the costs that went up, cost-absorption enabled OPA to stabilize the prices of most items."
McGibbon further explained that only when added costs were absorbed by the manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, in proportion to their profits, would it be possible to keep retail prices steady and avoid inflation. Since there is a big backlog of demand for most goods right now, production volume and sales volume will both be high during the months ahead. The same big volume savings that made cost absorption possible during the war will keep it possible during these months, he said.

Greene has been in charge of the store here for the past three years and during that time it has been consistently one of the most active of the company stores in Texas. Spence Awarded Legion Of Merit By Wainwright

AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (Sp)—Eugene V. Spence, who served Big Spring for 10 years as city manager, was awarded the Legion of Merit by the famous and beloved Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Bataan, here yesterday on the occasion of the Texas centennial statehood celebration.

The presentation took place early Tuesday afternoon in Gov. Coke Stevenson's chambers in the capitol before a host of notables gathered officially to welcome Gen. Wainwright to the city of Austin.

According to the citation, Col. Spence earned the award for his "outstanding service as post engineer, Camp Swift, Texas from March 1942 to May 1945."

The citation stated: "He demonstrated technical knowledge of a high degree, marked leadership and keen judgment in solving difficult engineering problems in furnishing engineering services. Lt. Col. Spence was in a large measure responsible for maintaining Camp Swift as a model military installation."

Mrs. Spence was present for the ceremony.

Since July 6, 1945, Spence has been a member of the state board of water engineers, being appointed to the post by the governor.

Keys were presented to Otis Grafa, Bub Satterwhite, Marvin Miller, Joe Blum, Henry Clark and a master key to Jake Douglass for having secured 10 members.

E. M. Watson, head of the Lakeview colored school, introduced the Southern Jubilee Singers, who are here in interest of a fund raising campaign for the Mt. Bethel Baptist church. The male quartet, singing spirituals, drew extraordinary applause.

Harold Steck announced the American Legion barbecue, to which all ex-servicemen are invited, at the county warehouse today at 7:30 p. m.

TES Plans New Construction For West Texas

Texas Electric Service company is scheduled to spend $8,000,000 for power plant and power line construction within two years, it was announced by J. B. Thomas, president and general manager, today.

While no breakdown on allocations for specific projects was shown, one of the units is the construction of a 400,000 kilowatt turbine and generator at the company plant at Handley. It will be one of the largest public utility units in Texas and is particularly designed for strengthening power distribution to West Texas. A 60,000 volt power line will make an industrial loop around Fort Worth.

There will be a 66,000 volt line to the Andrews and Fullerton oil fields, connecting with the transmission system at Odessa. The North Cowden oil field also will be served. Currently power in that area is served by diesel engines.

Another 66,000 volt line will go north from Wink to the Keystone oil field. Some 80 miles of 12-500 volt power lines will serve other West Texas oil fields.

Another item will be rural power lines, perhaps more than equalling the 350 miles of such lines built in 1945.

Last year some $100,000 was expended in the Big Spring district on improving and strengthening the system, and it is probable that twice that amount will be required to keep pace this year.

Wherever suitable contractual arrangements can be made, TES will connect with government financed dams, etc. Thomas pointed out that the program is designed to stay ahead of progress in the area served by the system.

Student Pilot Cracks Up In Power Lines

A student pilot who came in too low for a landing knocked down several yards of high voltage power lines and tore up the landing gear on a Piper Cub belonging to the U. and S. Flying Service a few feet west of the airport Tuesday afternoon about 4:30.

The pilot, Jerry Bucher, walked away unhurt after the crash but the plane will have to be towed away until the washed out landing props can be repaired.
