New From Yesteryear

The Sept. 15, 1939 edition of the Success reported:

Carrying out order of the State Department of Public Safety, Texas Rangers R.E. McWilliams and Levi Duncan assisted as W.F. Edmiston, deputy sheriff of this county, destroyed marble boards and slot machines in the city Wednesday.

A number of slot machines and punch boards in addition to 10 marble machines were collected and destroyed, according to Mr. Edmiston.

Texas: Going High Tech

As the demand for information technology workers has outstripped supply in many areas, employers are competing to hire bright, motivated people trained at community colleges, as well as four-year college grads. Consultants, temporary, and self-employed workers are also finding a niche in this industry, which is likely to become more dominant in the next century.

Information released by State Comptroller John Sharp's office indicates the average hourly wage of a systems analyst to be $21.76 while computer operators on average were earning $11.24 per hour.

On This Date

On this date in 1608 John Smith was elected council president of the Jamestown colony, located in present-day Virginia. In 1813 U.S. naval officer Oliver Hazard Perry accomplishes the first defeat of a British naval squadron in history, when he defeats a squadron of British warships in the Battle of Lake Erie during the War of 1812. In 1963 a standoff between Alabama governor George C. Wallace and federal authorities ends with twenty African-American students enter public schools in Tuskegee, Mobile, and Birmingham, Alabama.

Odds and Ends

President James Garfield could write Latin with one hand and Greek with the other... simultaneously!

In 1796, two brothers ran against each other for President of the United States. Charles Pinckney and his younger brother Thomas (both from South Carolina) both received electoral votes, but John Adams won the election. It was the only time in U.S. history that two brothers got electoral votes for President in the same election.

Air Force begins salvage operation at PAVE-PAWS site

Sentinel on the hill — Eldorado Air Force Station, deactivated in 1995 will soon be stripped of its radar equipment, including its two external radar array faces. The equipment will be shipped to Clear, Alaska for use in at a similar site there.

An advance team of engineers and technicians began work here last month to test the Phased Array Warning System, know as Pave PAWS, at Eldorado Air Station, for re-use in a similar facility in Clear, Alaska.

Headed up by Maj. David Woodward, the program to upgrade the Alaskan radar represents the Air Force's largest military construction project for fiscal year 1998. As part of the program, the Air Force is building a new 10-story facility, similar to the one at Eldorado, at Clear Air Station to house a Pave PAWS two-faced phased-array radar. This system will replace the existing Ballistic Missile Early Warning System at Clear that became operational in 1961.

The major difference between the two systems is that the old system is a mechanical radar which must be aimed at an object in space to track or observe it while the Pave PAWS radar controls the timing of the incoming and outgoing signals, thus covering a wide area to track sea-launched and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Re-using Eldorado radar equipment at the installation in Alaska will avoid the acquisition of an entirely new radar system, saving the Government about $140 million, a government spokesman said.

Raytheon Systems Company is the prime contractor to the Clear Radar Upgrade program office, which is part of the Strategic and Nuclear Deterrence Command and Control System program office of Air Force Electronic Systems Center. Raytheon will augment the nine people already working at Eldorado with 10 additional locally-hired individuals to remove the electronic equipment beginning in January 1999. They will modify it for the Arctic environment and prepare the equipment for transportation to the new facility.

The work here will continue through summer 1999 and installation of the equipment in Alaska will

Winter style show scheduled

A winter style show is planned for Saturday, September 19th at 10:30 a.m. in the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. The show, sponsored by the Eldorado Woolen Mill will feature Dolores' Unique Designs.

Dolores Verner, CPA will bring her many styles of mohair coats, bomber jackets, boleros, blazers and stoles all crafted in American mohair. Verner is a fashion designer from Camp Wood. Her work has gained her worldwide recognition. In fact, at least one of her designs is currently on display in a Japanese museum.

Other vendors from the surrounding area will be on hand. Silver jewelry and angels by Beck will also be represented.

Admission fee of $5 for adults and $3 for students will be charged. The Schleicher County 4-H Leadership group will be preparing brunch. Door prizes will be given. Everyone is encouraged to attend and invite a friend.

For more information or details please call 853-2541.

Hospital adopts $2,421,907 budget for fiscal year 1999

The Schleicher County Hospital District board of trustees met Tuesday, September 8th at 12:00 noon, and voted unanimously to adopt a budget totalling $2,421,907.00. They then set the 1999 tax rate at 41.38¢ per $100 valuation. That's a 1.15 percent decrease in the tax rate over last year. It is estimated to raise $736,036.00 in tax revenue to subsidize the district's operations in its hospital and nursing home.

The remainder of the district's revenue comes from hospital and nursing home fees. According to the budget, the hospital is expected to generate $767,336.00 in revenue in 1999 while the nursing home should realize $826,188.00 in fees.

Present for the vote were Ricky Fuessel, Delia Pina, Lanis Mikeska, Tom Enochs, Brian Edmiston and Randy Mankin. Trustee Judy Christian was absent.

Prior to the vote on the budget, the board discussed staffing levels in the district's central office and suggested changes in the way the hospital's financial reports are presented.

Eagles slay Dragons in season opener

by David Hill

The Eldorado Eagles defeated the Bangs Dragons at Eagle Field Friday night in their season opener 33 - 24. It was an excellent night for football and the Eagles did not let the mosquitoes or the loss of the game clock spoil their opener for the home town fans. Coach Fryar was pleased with the teams performance saying "our younger kids really played well, Joey Bullard and Will Robledo had exceptional performances as did our offensive line." Fryar continued, "it wasn't pretty but it was a win and we'll sure take it."

The Eagles won the coin toss and elected to put the defensive unit on the field first. After a 50 yard kick off the Dragons started at their own 21 yard line. The Eagles defense stopped Bangs on three consecutive plays and forced a punt. Eldorado started its first scoring drive on its own 49 yard line. Lance Mitchel had runs of 10 and 20 yards in the drive including a crucial 8 yard run on 4th down. The 51 yard touchdown drive was capped off with a 1 yard dive by Mitchel with 5:07 left in the 1st quarter. Jess Martin kicked the point after and the Eagles led 7-0. Bangs then answered with several big plays of their own and scored with 52 seconds left in the quarter tying the score 7-7.

In the second quarter, the Eagles shut out the Dragons while putting up 12 points of their own. Sophomore quarterback Joey Bullard completed passes of 21 yards and 5 yards to finish up a 60 yard scoring drive at the 7:03 mark in the second. The point after failed. After a great defensive stand by the Eagles, including a big play on 4th down by Armando Villavicencio, the Eagles took over on their own 40 yard line. Louis Santellano had a run of 16 yards. A run of 25 yards by Mitchel was called back due to an illegal block penalty. However, the Eagles countered as Will

It's my ball — Eagles flanker #21 William Robledo fought off a Bangs defender in the end zone and maintained possession the ball to score the Eagles third touchdown Friday night. Robledo scored two TDs on the night as the Eagles won their season opener 33-24.

Robledo scampered for 13 yards followed by another 4th down conversion by Mitchel. The drive ended with Robledo catching a 18 yard Joey Bullard touchdown pass off the deflection of the Bangs defender in the end zone. The two point conversion failed and the Eagles led 19-7. The Eagles then ran out the clock after another staunch defensive effort.

Bangs started the second half off with a 4 play 90 yard drive. The high light was a 85 yard run by Toby Conner with 10:52 left in the 3rd quarter. The PAT was good and the score was 19-14 Eagles. This is also when the game clock malfunctioned and time had to be kept on the field. After a 2 yard kick off by the Dragons, the Eagles answered with a 42 yard drive to pay dirt. Austin Nixon ran for 19 yards. Mitchel gained 8 for a first down.

Bullard hit Casey Poyron on a slant for a 9 yard gain. Then Joey Bullard punched it in from 1 yard out. The two-point conversion was good and the Eagles led 27-14. Both teams traded possessions and the quarter ended with Dragons in possession on the 50.

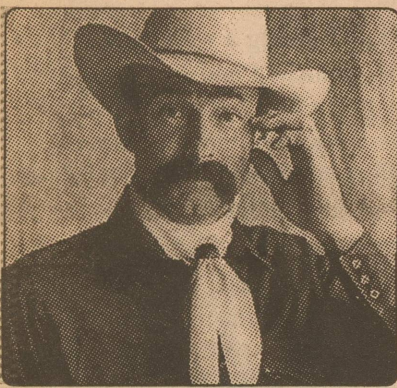

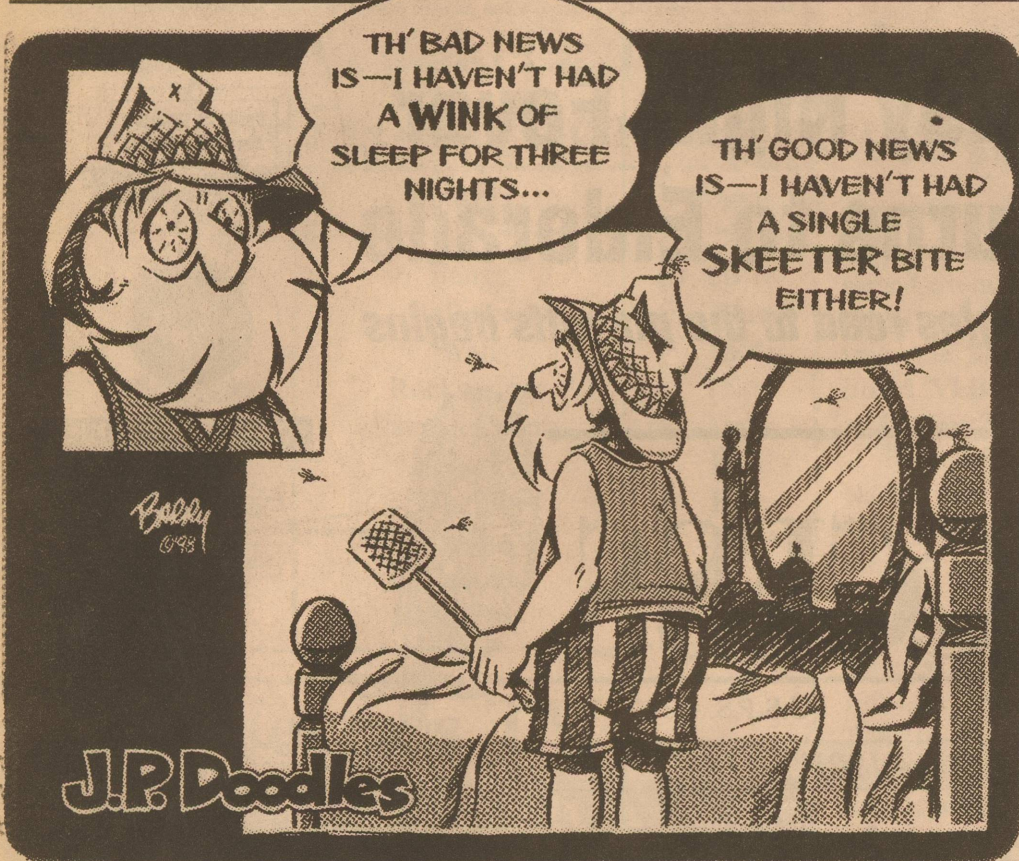

The Eagle defense again stopped Bangs forcing a punt on the opening 4th quarter series. The Eagles were moving the ball when Bangs forced a fumble and gained possession of the ball at the Eagle 29 yard line. One play later, Bangs scored on a 29 yard pass caught by J.R. Pennington. The two-point conversion was good and the Eagles led 27-22. The Eagle offense quickly answered with a 2 play 59 yard scoring drive which included a 55 yard pass from Bullard to Brandon Leggett. Will

ON THE EDGE OF COMMON SENSE

TB in Michigan Deer

A pan of trouble is simmering on the stove in northern Michigan. An army of private and public infantry are engaged in a fierce battle to keep it from boiling over. Tuberculosis is on the rise in whitetail deer and threatening the cow population.

That news sends chills down the spine of any cattle people who had to deal with brucellosis in their herds twenty years ago. It leaves a sinking feeling in the bellies of those ranchers who had to deal with Yellowstone Park buffalo two winters ago.

This part of Michigan is a hunter's paradise with large stands of woods and forest and lakes. It has abundant grass, lots of farming with cleared pasture and cropland plus people who appreciate and enjoy wildlife, cold winters and mosquito summers.

At the heart of the TB problem seems to be supplemental winter feeding of wild deer. This practice has become common particularly by sportsman and hunting clubs. It has allowed deer populations to stay above the natural carrying capacity for many years. Large piles of feed like corn, carrots, sugar beets, or hay are dumped at feeding sites. The deer congregate and the TB bacteria is passed on by coughing and inhalation.

Much is at stake and everybody from the Michigan Dept. of Agriculture to the local Bait and Bullet Shop is getting involved.

At the pinnacle of this mountain of special interest is the public health of human beings. Followed by the threat to the industries of dairy, beef, captive deer and elk. Then hunting and tourism.

They have a plan in motion that began this summer with testing, isolation, and eradication of the cattle and captive deer within the "Hot" five county area. Plus discontinuation of supplemental feeding. And encouragement of hunting wild deer to the point of "overkill".

So, who's to blame? Since the organism is Mycobacterium bovis, the deer probably caught it from cows decades ago. But we eradicated it in cattle. So feeding the wild deer has kept the infection active. Of course, if sportsmen didn't insist on hunting every fall no one would have ever known TB was still out there.

There's plenty of blame to go around, however, it all goes back to the steady encroachment of civilization. We humans are staking claim to the land. We use to fence wild animals out. Now we fence them in.

Two Schleicher County mosquitoes were perched in a tree under which an unsuspecting fellow sought relief from the afternoon sun.

"Hey, there's lunch!" said one of the mosquitoes as he looked the man over.

"Yeah!" answered the second mosquito "Should we eat him here or take him home?"

"Better eat him here," the first one replied. "If we carry him home the big ones will just take him away from us!"

It's an old joke, I know. But those of us who were in Eagle Stadium Friday night can attest to the fact that it's not much of an exaggeration.

"There were skeeters out there the size of small birds," my friend D.W. said after the game. "I swear that one of 'em had a tailhook."

School personnel had sprayed prior to the game but this crop of mosquitoes weren't impressed. D.W. said he saw one circling the field which he took to be the ringleader. "He had two bandoliers and an eyepatch," said D.W. "Sort of an Arnold Schwarzenkeeter."

"I think he was coordinating the attack," he continued.

When the Eagle Band took the field at halftime, their show was delayed for several minutes while the school recognized its faculty and staff. Standing at attention, the kids were helpless against the incoming insects.

"Those kids couldn't even swat the skeeters away," D.W. said. "I felt sorry for 'em."

Somehow the band kids got through it but, like my friend

D.W., I question the need to leave them out there like that.

After the game, one of the Bangs fans stopped to mention how well played the game was. He commented that the officiating crew had done a good job and said, "It was a good, clean game."

Just then one of the night's larger mosquitoes landed on the man's forehead. He swatted at the critter but only wounded him. As the mosquito limped back into the sky and sputtered off into the darkness, some of his comrades circled nearby as if to provide cover.

I'm not sure, but I thought I heard the wounded mosquito crash some distance away.

At press time, we still aren't sure whether to credit the man from Bangs with a kill. D.W. said he'd let me know when the mosquito's cause of death was established. As yet, the bug's flight data recorder hasn't been recovered.

sors and glue and started cutting and pasting little pieces of paper onto the wood.

Amazingly, It took only a few hours to complete. That board has hung on a wall of our house all these years and you can still read all the printing, the colors have held up well and when we look at it we remember that Sunday afternoon of cutting and pasting and spraying and hanging.

In 1992 I decided to do another photo montage. We spent a week at Surfside on the Texas coast. I took hundreds of pictures of the sea, the surf, the sand, the sky, the house where we stayed, the birds, the fishing boats and anything else I thought was representative of our stay at the beach. All of our immediate family members were there and I took several pictures of them.

When the pictures came back, I selected the ones I thought should go into the montage. I had no fixed idea as to what the end product would look like. I just wanted it to show that we really had some fun on the Texas coast.

I had some of the photos blown up to poster size. Some were eleven by 14. Some were five by seven. Some were four by six. We cut some of them to fit into some of the blank spaces. I first glued them onto some strong backing material, then placed them at various distances from the wall.

The overall piece covers approximately six feet by four feet and hangs over my wife's desk in our studio. I never look at it without seeing something new in it. And when I look at it, I am reminded of a wonderful week with the family in a fabulous, fun place. The montage has 18 photos in it.

I've just finished my latest photo montage. I had a friend of mine who is good with a saw cut out the shape of Texas from a piece of good, solid wood. He simply put a map down on the wood, drew an outline of the state, then cut it out.

Texas has some wonderful travel magazines with excellent photos. The Texas State Travel Guide has some of the best. My wife and I took that magazine, cut out pictures from San Antonio, put them where San Antonio is on the map and did the same thing for all the cities in the state. We then mounted the Texas photo montage on a base and display it when we make speeches.

Call me sometime and I'll show you my photo montages.

Record number of students take college entrance exams

AUSTIN - The class of 1998 set a new state record when 100,417 Texas students in public and private schools took the Scholastic Achievement Test.

That is an increase of 6,383 from 1997 and the largest increase in 10 years. A record number of Texans also took Advanced Placement Exams, the College Board reported last week.

Reflecting national trends, Texas scores on the SAT remained stable with students earning 494 on the verbal section of the exam and 501 on the mathematics portion of the college entrance exam.

Nationally, the 1,172,779 students who took the SAT earned an average score of 505 on the verbal section of the exam and 512 on math.

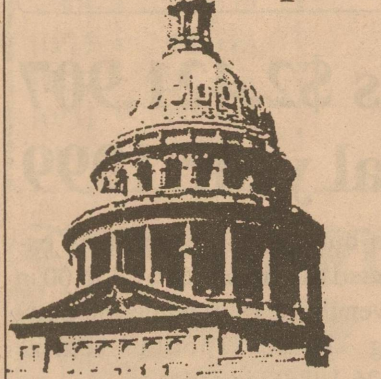

"It is encouraging that our scores remained stable despite the record increase in the number of students taking the exam," Texas Education Commissioner Mike Moses said.

"Testing experts, including those at the College Board, tell us that test scores typically go down when the number of students taking the test goes up."

AG Alerts Flood Victims

Texas Attorney General Dan Morales last week said he will vigorously prosecute price-gougers, dishonest remodelers and others who attempt to take advantage of flood victims along the Rio Grande in South Texas.

"Wherever there is a natural disaster, we usually find a few unscrupulous opportunists who view disaster victims as easy targets. This is a warning to the crooks: The bull's-eye is on you," Morales said.

Prosecution would come under the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act.

During a disaster, it is a violation of the law to unconscionably raise prices of basic goods such as food, water, batteries, tools and building supplies.

Texans who want to report disaster price-gouging or other suspected violations may call the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Hotline at 800-337-3928. Consumers also may call the Federal Emergency Management Agency Fraud Line at 800-323-8603.

Morales recommends that consumers obtain references from remodelers and clean-up crews, hire only those who have roots in the community, check for complaints with the Better Business Bureau and the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Office and pay for work only as it progresses.

Health Clinics Won't Be Cut

Texas Health Commissioner Reyn Archer last week retracted an earlier decision to cut funding for school-based health clinics, amid protests from lawmakers and health-care advocates.

Archer said he only intended to postpone making a decision "to thoroughly assess our efforts to improve the health of Texas children and our commitment to addressing the need for comprehensive health for our kids."

The health department will examine the clinic program to see if it duplicates services of other state or federal programs.

This year, at a cost of $1.4 million, the state is paying for 12 school-based health clinics. Next year, the state will finance 10 clinics at a cost of $1 million.

"I want to assure the people of Texas I have no intention at this time of eliminating Texas Department of Health funding for school-based health clinics," Archer wrote.

Other Capital Highlights

• Results of a recent Texas Department of Transportation poll show that only 10 percent of Texas drivers believe they are speeding when they drive 10 miles an hour or more above the speed limit. Fifty-five percent of the 500 licensed drivers polled admitted speeding most or all of the time.

• Ima Smith, wife of former Gov. Preston Smith, who was governor from 1969 to 1973, died Aug. 29 at age 86, after a long battle with Alzheimer's disease. She was buried in the Texas State Cemetery on Sept. 1.

• Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, died Aug. 30 at his Rockdale home. An 11-year lawmaker, Kubiak was head of a House Appropriations Subcommittee monitoring state agencies' efforts to avoid computer problems associated with the "year 2000 glitch."

• Gov. George W. Bush leads Democratic challenger Garry Mauro, 67 percent to 20 percent, the latest Texas Poll reveals. The telephone poll of 1,004 adults was conducted Aug. 12-27 by the University of Texas Office of Survey Research for Scripps Howard media company.

• Texas handgun permits are now valid in Louisiana, Col. Dudley Thomas, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety said last week. Texas has similar "reciprocity agreements" with Oklahoma and Arkansas and is working to establish more.

OBITUARIES

Maxine Blaylock Howton

Maxine Blaylock Howton, 78, of San Angelo, died Monday, Aug. 31, 1998, at her residence. A memorial service was held Friday, Sept. 4, at Emmanuel Episcopal Church with Father John Loving officiating. Arrangements were by Johnson's Funeral Home.

She was born Nov. 10, 1919, in Sutton County. She worked for Fields, Stewart, Dolliver Insurance Co. for many years before retiring.

She is survived by two daughters, Carolyn A. Deane of Gouldsboro, Maine; and Kay H. Weathers of San Angelo; three grandchildren, Lisa C. Tindol of Midland, Matt Baze of Mill Valley, Calif., and Dane Chowning of San Angelo; two great-grandchildren, Logan Chowning of La Grange, and Will Tindol of Midland; two brothers, Jess Blaylock of Eldorado, and Nathan Blaylock of San Angelo; and several nieces and nephews. Memorials may be made to the West Texas Boys Ranch.

Eldorado Woman's Club holds 1st meeting of the year

by Noweita Briggs

The Eldorado Woman's Club held their first meeting of the new club year on Sept. 8, 1998.

During the summer the Yearbook Committee chaired by Jo Callison and her committee consisting of Jewel Bailey, Ester Bunton, Shine Spigarelli and Bobbie Sanders, set the theme for the next two years. They have brought to the members attention that soon the year 2000 will be here, and they want club members to begin preparing for this exciting time.

Programs will be planned around the theme "Millennium Bound" with the emphasis on how it will affect our home life, public affairs, education, conservation, arts and international affairs.

As our knowledge deepens, members need to spend time doing whatever can be done to improve these aspects of our lives, remembering always of the wonderful country in which we are privileged to live.

Club President Bobbie Sanders opened the meeting with a welcome to the seventeen members and one guest. Prayer was given by Ester Bunton. Pledges to the flags were led by Charlene Edmiston. Roll call was answered with a medical miracle wished for by the year 2000. Reports were given by Secretary Pat Pitts and Treasurer Nelva Martin. Program leader Ester Bunton gave a presentation of plans and progress for the club year and a review of the yearbook. She stressed the fast changes in technology, the moral responsibilities, and the consequences of our actions to all these changes. Helen Blakeway gave a Parliamentary review of the club by-laws.

The meeting was closed with the club collect. Our collect was written by Mary Stewart many years ago. This reporter believes it is one of the greatest guides to living a good life.

The hospitality committee served a diet tempting array of food and drink on a beautifully laid table. Morning coffee was arranged by our very talented hospitality committee chaired by Jerre Holley and her committee of Myrt Williams, Lee Hickman and Nelva Martin.

MILITARY NEWS

Airman Cody Whitten

Navy Airman Cody Whitten, son of Buff and June Whitten of Eldorado, Texas, recently visited France while on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea and Arabian Gulf aboard the aircraft carrier USS Dwight D. Eisenhower, home ported in Norfolk, Virginia.

During the port visit to Cannes, Whitten joined the French in celebrating Bastille Day, their national holiday. While in Cannes, crew members from Whitten's ship refurbished and landscaped a retirement home that housed 70 elderly men and women.

Upon departure from France, Whitten's ship was awarded the 1997 Ships Store Best Sales and Service Award in the Atlantic Fleet. The recognition demonstrates Whitten's ship's commitment to providing quality service and improving Sailors and Marines quality of life.

Carriers, like USS Dwight D. Eisenhower, are forward deployed around the world to maintain a U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times of crisis.

Whitten is a 1996 graduate of Eldorado High School and joined the Navy in June 1996.

Disciple: becoming disciples through Bible study

by Bill Dykstra

"Disciple" is a 34-week course, that will cover the entire Bible, giving equal time to both old and new testaments. The title Disciple includes both identity and purpose. The Disciple is a learner, believer, follower, proclaimer. In the Bible, the word disciple is connected with instruction and training, therefore, the purpose of Disciple is to develop strong Christian leaders through regular in-depth study of Scripture. Disciple making and Christian nurturing are its goals.

Each participant will be expected to attend the weekly group meetings, which will be about 2 1/2 hours long. In addition to a study manual, a video will be presented at each session. The video will feature pastors, teachers, and scholars who are top-flight communicators in the church.

The meetings will be held at the First United Methodist Church and taught by Bill Dykstra, under the supervision of Pastor George Lumpkin. An introductory meeting will be held September 13, at 6:30 p.m. to discuss the course, set weekly meeting times, and to determine child care needs. For further information contact Bill Dykstra (853-2288) or George Lumpkin (853-3241).

Come and join us and allow "the Word" to change your life!

Just passing through — Eagles running back Lance Mitchell rambled through the Dragons' secondary Friday night as the Eagles upset Bangs 33 - 24.

Eagles JV "White" team downs Bangs Dragons 32-0

Luis Enriquez scored two rushing touchdowns while Ismael Sanchez and Bryan Sproul each returned an interception for a touchdown as the Eagles "White" JV team blanked the Bangs Dragons 32-0.

Despite near 100 degree temperatures and high humidity, the White team dominated the game which was played last Thursday in Bangs. Johnny Lee Arispe scored on a 6 yard TD run and quarterback Aaron Fuentes and tight end Michael Ramirez collaborated on a 2-point conversion to round out the Eagles scoring.

"They played exceptionally well," Coach Alan Gillespie said of his team. "The defense did a great job holding Bangs scoreless."

The game almost began with a bang as Jimmy Joe Rodriguez returned the opening kickoff all the way for an apparent TD. That play was called back by a penalty, but the Eagles still had excellent field position to open the contest. Offensive linemen Scott Homer, Chris Martinez, Alfredo Munoz, Jason Holley and Jose Iglesias opened gaping holes for their teammates carrying the ball.

On the defensive side of the ball, Juan Diego Guzman tallied two fumble recoveries while Wesley Jones, Chance Behrens, Gary Hanusch and David Elias all made outstanding defensive plays.

"It was a great first game," coach Gillespie said after the game. "I was pleased that we seemed to be in better shape than they were."

This week the JV "White" team hosts Ballinger Thursday night at 5:30 p.m. Juan Diego Guzman and Luis Enriquez were reported with jammed fingers but otherwise, the team looks healthy.

Robledo then punched it in from the 5 yard line. A bad snap on the PAT almost turned into 2 points for the Eagles as Jess Martin was stopped just short of the goal line. Eagles lead 33-22.

The next possession saw Chad Williams intercept a Bangs pass and return it to the 39 yard line. However, the Eagles stalled and on 4th down, the ball was snapped over the punters head (Mitch Wilkerson) and the Dragons got a safety. That left the score 33 - 24 in favor of the Eagles. On the ensuing kickoff Cory Lloyd hammered the Bangs return man after a 10 yard scamper. Lloyd wasn't finished, however, as he soon ended any hope the Dragons had by intercepting an errant Bangs pass to end the ball game. Final score Eagles 33, Dragons 22.

All in all it was a good performance both offensively and defensively for the Eagles. Eldorado's ground game looked very strong and the air attack will get better as the season progresses. Defensively, the Eagles were very strong, however, the coaching staff was somewhat concerned about giving up some of the big plays. On a good note the War

Birds came out healthy with the only injury to Kary Gibson hurting his thumb.

Eldorado travels to Menard tomorrow to take on the always tough Yellow Jackets. Coach Fryar's comment on Menard, "this is always a tough game and they will be extremely hard to beat at their place. Be sure to be there and WEAR YOUR GREEN!"

EAGLE TOP PERFORMERS: On Defense Cory Lloyd 16 tackles, Chad Williams 11 tackles, Lance Mitchel and Tony Martinez 8 tackles and Armando Villavicencio 7 tackles. On Offense Joey Bullard 113 passing yards for 2 TD's, Lance Mitchel 113 yards rushing, Austin Nixon 62 yards rushing, William Robledo 57 yards receiving, and Brandon Leggett 44 yards receiving.

Is this in my job description? SCISD school board members Steve Sessom and Berta Nicholson carried tubs of potted plants Friday night during halftime festivities at the high school football game. The school district presented the plants to its faculty and staff in recognition of the school district being named an "Exemplary District" by the Texas Education Agency.

Two Eldorado men nominated as "Heroes for Children"

E.C. "Pete" Peters and Albert Robledo Martinez, both of Eldorado, were nominated recently to the Texas Education Agency's "Heroes for Children" program. The men were nominated by the faculty and staff of Schleicher County I.S.D.

The Heroes for Children program was established by the TEA in 1994 to recognize school volunteers whose efforts have made significant contributions to public education in Texas. Nominees from across the state are gathered with the members of the State Board of Education (SBOE) naming one Hero for each SBOE district.

Peters and Martinez were each nominated for their commitment to public education.

Pete Peters is a native of Wisconsin. He attended school there before joining the Army Air Corps in 1941. His military service brought him to Eldorado where he assisted with night bombing mission training. While here he met Frances Thompson. They were soon married.

The couple returned to Eldorado after World War II where Peters was in the insurance business.

Peters was one of the original founders of the Schleicher County Hospital District. He served on the hospital's board of directors for 12 years. He was also instrumental in obtaining the State Park designation for nearby Fort McKavett.

He has served as President of the Eldorado Chamber of Commerce has been active in many, many civic and community organizations. A few of these include the Eldorado Lions Club, the Eagle Athletic Booster Club, Little League, the Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department and the Boy Scouts.

Peters, a member of the First United Methodist Church, has served there on the Board of Stewards and Board of Trustees.

Since his retirement, Peters has busied himself with lots of activities, including volunteering to help at Eldorado Elementary School.

Albert Robledo Martinez was born in Littlefield, Texas but was raised in Schleicher County. He attended public school here until the 12th grade, at which time he left school to work and help support his family.

In 1969 Martinez entered the U.S. Marine Corps and served 3 1/2 years in Viet Nam in the RECON division. He rose to the rank of Gunnery Sergeant. His unit was responsible for mapping out and clearing the way for other U.S. troops. Martinez lost many close friends in the war.

Upon returning home from Viet Nam, Martinez returned to Eldorado where he went to work for Pool Company. He soon married and is the father of two sons, David, 21, is a graduate of Eldorado High School and currently works as a new car salesman. Luis, 17, is a senior at EHS. He plans to continue his education, working towards a career in radiology.

After suffering a disabling oil field injury, Martinez sought to maintain a presence in his son's lives at school. He began volunteering at Eldorado Middle School where he helped monitor students during their lunch break. He also volunteers at the Elementary School and does crosswalk duty at the KIDS Kampus in the mornings.

Martinez says he enjoys working with the children and the teachers and believes the key to a successful future is a great education for all students.

Peters' and Martinez's nominations will be reviewed during the fall semesters. The State Board of Education scheduled to name the Heroes for Children for the various SBOE districts sometime in January. Regardless of the SBOE's decision, it should be plain to all that Peters and Martinez are already Heroes for Schleicher County Children.

Eldorado C-Country boys win big in Odessa

The Eldorado boys Cross Country team started off the new season much like the finished the 1997 season with an impressive victory at the Odessa invitational meet. Despite a 5:30 a.m. departure from Eldorado, the boy's 42 points easily won the nine-team race with Stanton finishing second. The boys could have won against an all star team from the other class 2A teams that were there, which included Iranan, Stanton, Forsan, and Coahoma.

Leading the Eagles was all state runner, Sammy Carbera with a first place time of 17:28. The Eagles showed their strength by finishing three other runners in the top ten. Joseph Wink finished fourth in 18:01, Daniel Mata was sixth in 18:22, and Anthony Pina came in a strong seventh with a time of 18:33. Rounding out the scoring for the Eagles was Frank Martinez, placing 30th in a time of 20:51.

Other runners were Kenny Covarrubiaz, 35th; Jimmy Aguilar, 49th; Josh Taylor, 50th; and Aaron Fuentes, 60.

Next week the boys will travel to Rocksprings to defend the title they won last year. The eighth grade boys will also try to defend the title they won last year as seventh graders. Coach Harvey Wink encourages all Eagles fans to travel to Rocksprings to encourage the runners to do their best. The seventh grade girls run at 9:00 a.m. and there will be a race every 30 minutes.

J.V. Green team skewers Dragons 24-0

The Eagles JV "Green" team capitalized on four Dragon turnovers and found the end zone three times to defeat the Bangs JV 24-0 last Thursday. The game, played in Bangs, opened slowly as the Eagles were only able to score once in the first half.

The Eagles "Green" team came roaring back in the second half, however, to add two more TDs. Kenny Covarrubiaz ran for two of the Eagles scores and Leonel Medrano added another. Quarterback Johnny Herrera ran in a 2-point conversion and connected with tight end Benji Gonzalez for a second to round out the scoring.

Sammy Cabrera and John Ray Espinosa caught passes in key situations and help the Eagles keep their offense on track. Opening big holes for the Eagles ground game were offensive linemen: Matt Curtis, Jeff Stafford, Cole Pina and Ben Edmiston.

Defensively, Alberto Fuentes and Rocky Robles each tallied a fumble recovery while Andrew Anderson and Benji Gonzalez each hauled in an interception to stop Bangs scoring threats. Other defensive standouts included: Isaac Saldivar and Jason Brock.

Straight Talk about Respite Care

from Schleicher County Medical Center

When you are charged with the long term care of an ill or elderly family member, your own health may suffer if you're not aware of the early warning signs of care giver "stress and strain." Recognizing these signs and symptoms is the first step in keeping you healthy, and allowing you to best manage your important, but challenging role as a care giver.

Sleep is often disturbed due to irregular schedules and demands of the person you're caring for. Other symptoms, including lack of energy or motivation, tearfulness, difficulty in concentration or change in weight, may develop. Becoming irritable or argumentative can be signs of increasing stress, as well as feelings of hopelessness, or of being completely overwhelmed. Physical strain due to bathing or lifting can aggravate or unmask musculoskeletal or cardiac problems.

Increasing difficulty with personal or family relationships, problems at work, or with financial matters can aggravate the care giver's ability to cope. Of serious concern is the potential for care givers to deny their own health needs, thus putting themselves and their family member in jeopardy.

Successful interventions to prevent care giver stress often relies on the ability to "get a break," or what is termed respite care. This may require temporary help from other family members, or from respite programs like those offered at Schleicher County Medical Center. Persistent or severe physical or emotional symptoms may require evaluation and treatment by your physician or mental health professional.

Watching ones own health, even under difficult or challenging circumstances is essential for preserving and fostering your invaluable role as a care giver. At Schleicher County Medical Center, we offer a Respite Care program specifically designed to meet this need.

Forlano speaks to prostrate cancer survivors

Dr. Albert Forlano of Eldorado presented a lecture to the members of the Prostate Cancer Survivors Support group on Tuesday, September 1, 1998 at the San Angelo Health Club.

The talk dealt with the various causes of cancer production in the human body. It also addressed the role of free-radicals and antioxidants and the overlapping similarities that occur between cancer and other major debilitating diseases such as heart disease, high blood pressure, cataracts, diabetes, stroke, Parkinsons and Alzheimers disease. I appears that there may be a common cause to these diseases. The talk also dealt with the methods that people can implement to reduce the risk or incidence of these disease.

Dr. Forlano noted that medical and scientific research in this area, particularly that which deals with dietary modifications date back to 1974. In 1984 the National Cancer Institute was recommending dietary modifications for the reduction of cancer risk.

It is somewhat interesting that words like "antioxidant" have become household words as a result of television exposure.

The fact of the matter is that medical scientists have been working with antioxidants in disease prevention for 25-30 years. One of the major problems in using this form of disease prevention is that it requires some modification in eating habits and life-style which are met with resistance by many people. However most people who have suffered from the problems caused by major diseases will tell you, in retrospect, that they wish they had.

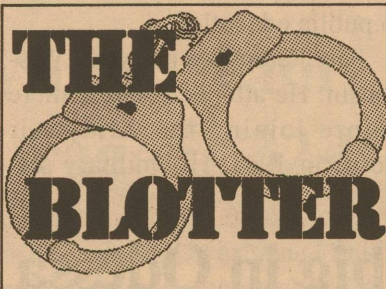

Many of us can remember some old timer who lived to a ripe old age saying "If I knew I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of myself".

Bidding closes Oct. 27 on forfeited State land

AUSTIN - A catalogue listing 220 tracts of forfeited state land reserved exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is now available from the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB). Bids will be opened on October 27, 1998 at 1 p.m.

The catalogue, which contains bidding instructions and a detailed description of each tract, can be ordered by calling 1-800-252-VETS.

Located in 97 Texas counties, the tracts range in size from five to 199 acres. The tracts, known as Type I tracts, can be purchased with no down payment. Bids are restricted to eligible Texas veterans.

The VLB will finance the entire loan amount of all winning bids. There is no limit on the amount loaned or on the number of tracts that an individual can bid on. However, eligible Texas veterans are limited to one purchase in the sale.

Tracts not sold in the October sale will be offered to both veterans and non-veterans through local real estate agents.

Texas veterans will receive a 7.64 percent interest rate with a 30-year assumable fixed-rate loan. A $25 non-refundable fee for each bid is required.

The sale will be by sealed bid only, with a minimum bid set by the board.

Breaking it in right — The Eagles posted the first points on their new scoreboard Friday night when Lance Mitchel pounded into the end zone with 5:07 remaining in the opening quarter. Jess Martin booted through the extra-point and the Eagles took a 7-0 lead. Eldorado defeated the Bangs Dragons by a final score of 33-24.

New Medicare benefits outlined

Several new Medicare benefits became available as of July 1, 1998, according to Fredi Franki, Manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office. Medicare will now provide diabetes glucose monitoring and diabetes education to beneficiaries. Bone mass measurement is also available as of July 1, 1998.

The new benefits are part of a package of services that became available this year, aimed at the early detection and education about certain life-threatening diseases common among older beneficiaries. Since January 1, 1998, women are able to get yearly mammogram, pap smears, and pelvic and breast examinations, with paying the Part

B deductible. Also since January 1, colorectal cancer screening became available. In addition, Medicare will now pay the full charge of flu and pneumococcal shots.

Interested Medicare beneficiaries should call their doctor or health care provider for more information on the availability of the new benefits. Also, a Medicare hotline is available: 1-800-0638-6833.

Medicare covers Social Security beneficiaries age 65 or older or who have been receiving Social Security disability benefits for two years or more.

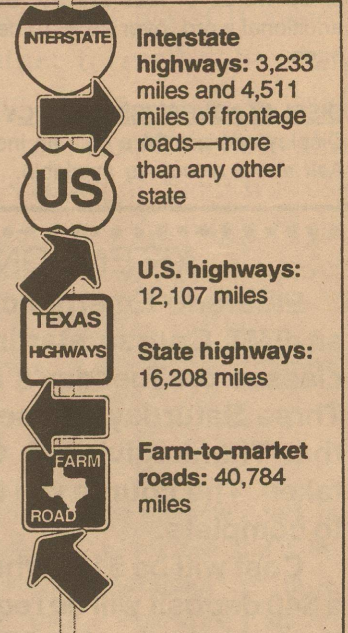

Keeping an eye on Texas

Roads and highways a Texas investment

A 77,000 mile network of roads and freeways crisscross Texas to connect rural farms, hideaway towns, and metropolitan areas. As the Texas highway system continues to expand due to a growing population and economic development, it costs more than $2 billion a year in roadbuilding and construction and another $700 million for maintenance. In addition, 4,300 bridges in the state are structurally deficient and need repair.

Data does not include the cost to build and maintain county roads or city streets.
