Miss Laneous Notes

MARY WEALEY

Animals in some ways are so much smarter than people that it ought to give you an inferiority complex. They neither toil nor spin and yet they eat well, sleep well, pay no income tax and have no housing shortage.

Take the birds for instance. When it is hot they fly north and when it is cold they fly south. A human being if he ever reaches the stage in life is over 80 years old and has dyspepsia.

Then there are the bears. They wear fur coats that don't have to be stored in the summer time and during long cold winter days they wrap up in a cave and stay there until it gets warm again. They don't catch cold from getting wet feet when the weather is bad.

The little old ants aren't worried about rent control. If their home gets destroyed or someone usurps them, they just pack up and move to another spot and build another ant hill.

There are squirrels, too, that believe the Biblical explanation of seven years of feast followed by seven years of famine. When they've got more than they can eat they store the rest. You never saw a squirrel trying to figure out his ration points.

Sometimes it seems to us as if every man hated every other man and therefore for centuries have been figuring out ways to make life more complicated. They've certainly done a good job up to now.

Town's Populace On Hand To See German Prisoners Come Into Camp

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Ernest G. Fischer, a former member of the Associated Press Staff in Berlin, was here in a Nazi internment camp for five months. Now he has visited an American camp for German prisoners of war and here gives his impressions, against the background of his own experience.)

By Ernest G. Fischer
CAMP MEXIA, July 15 (AP)—In accordance with the Geneva convention, German prisoners of war are handled as secretly as possible but still a good percentage of Mexia's 6,500 population sees them come in.

On my recent visit to the camp, unusual preparations were being made: "some distinguished visitors" or "high-ranking officers" was the word that went down the line.

A company of soldiers rode into town. They brought their tommy-guns. Guards were posted at intersections near a railroad siding.

Priscilla, who happened to be downtown buying a watermelon, saw the soldiers and telephoned Aunt Matilde post-haste. Aunt Matilde called her friends. By the time the special train rolled in, there was quite a delegation on hand, wading through chigger-infested weeds to get as close as the guards would permit.

A latter-day contingent filled off the train, and climbed into tarpaulin-covered vans.

I was reminded of the van that picked up Americans in Berlin some hours before Hitler's declaration of War Dec. 11, 1941. The tarpaulin was fastened down on all sides and we could not see where we were going as we rolled over cobblestone streets to the Alexanderplatz police station.

But tarpaulins on the U. S. army trucks remained open in the rear. Blond heads popped from the openings. Curious eyes peered from battle-tired and travel-worn faces. The townspeople stared as the procession started moving toward camp.

At the tail-end of the parade came a truckload of prisoners with no tarpaulin at all. The spectators really got an eyeful of the prisoners and vice versa.

When a light truck came along with two khaki-clad soldiers holding tommy-guns in readiness, the crowd broke up just like they do when the callope winds up the circus parade.

Under a war department directive, no photographs are permitted at this camp. There is a provision, more or less observed internationally, that the face of no prisoner of war may show in a photograph. Photos recently were published of the backs of Italian prisoners of war but not even the backs of German prisoners may be photographed here.

At the prisoners of war camps near Dresden, Germany, news photographers were permitted to snap prisoners at will. One of the camps housed French prisoners, including some colonial troops.

A Frenchman in a beret and an Arab in a turban working side by side, intrigued photographers.

Here again I saw a dusky Arab along with a blond German, but the war department directive said no pictures, and that was that.

Generally, there is a contrast in the demeanor of the German prisoners of war here and the French prisoners who were in German custody after the fall of France. The French prisoners near Dresden went in for smatter theatricals. They picked up bits of cellophane and other odds and ends to devise masks and costumes.

There is no cellophane here to be picked up—the Germans keep the premises meticulously clean—and they get on with the serious business of being prisoners of war without seeking surcease in the world of make-believe.

Some of them fought at Leningrad and the frostbite suffered there dogged them through the African campaign. A few of the victims remain in the camp hospital here.

"They will get well here in Texas," said one of the attendants. "Every few weeks sore and boils come back, where they were frostbitten, and the longer they stay in this climate the longer the interval is between outbreaks." It was 101 degrees that day.

A prisoner told his guard: "It is much better here than at Leningrad. There we could not sleep because there we had to keep in motion so that we would not freeze."

In physical appearance, the camp is not unlike several such camps which I have seen in Germany—tar paper barracks, surrounded by double fences of barbed wire about ten feet high, broken here and there by chicken-legged towers. On the towers are searchlights. In the towers are machine-guns and some helmeted fellows who spend their time just looking and looking.

Speaker Scores 'Bramblebush' Leadership

Root of much trouble, particularly in the moral and civic realms, is that the world is forced to get along on "bramblebush" leadership, according to the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, in a talk to the Lions club Wednesday.

He derived the term from a brief Biblical allegory in which the olive and fig trees and the grape vines made excuses when offered the place of leadership as king of the trees. The bramblebush, however, accepted.

"Our children and our communities are getting along on bramblebush leadership," declared the speaker, "not because they do not deserve better, but because those capable of better leadership refuse responsibility with timely excuses."

The speaker attacked high significance to leadership, asserting that "the world is today what its leadership of yesterday made it."

At the meeting K. E. McFarland, city sanitarian, urged complete support and acceptance of individual responsibility in a city-wide clean-up campaign to combat the infantile paralysis threat.

Alex Selkirk reported that the club sponsored Boy Scout troop No. 7 had returned from a successful weekend camp at Water Valley and that a program including much hiking, swimming, and nature study had been followed.

Good news for air express users was reflected in an announcement by E. E. Reeves, agent, Railway Express Agency, and representatives of the airlines to the effect that air express rates would have a base reduction of 10 to 11 per cent effective July 15th, with an overall reduction averaging 10 to 11 per cent.

The tremendous growth in air express traffic as a result of its value to the war effort has made it possible for this reduction to be passed on to air express users and will affect practically all the cities served by the principal United States commercial airlines. This reduction does not affect the present minimum charge of $1 per shipment.

As an illustration, the saving per pound under the reduced rates on a shipment weighing 25 pounds between Big Spring and New York would be seven cents per pound; between Big Spring and Los Angeles, six cents per pound.

No More Room For New Polio Cases

DALLAS, July 15 (AP)—No more infantile paralysis cases can be accepted at the Children's Hospital of Texas unless immediate additions are made to the nurses staff, a spokesman announced.

Twenty-seven cases were being treated at the hospital while an additional 28 were at Parkland Hospital.

Time To Plan Xmas Gifts Is Nearing

It's a long way to Christmas, but if brother, son or husband is overseas, time for planning his Yuletide gifts is nearing.

Although it is roughly two months until time for overseas Christmas mailing, the wise person may be giving a thought now as to what he will send since the army suggests it is not food or clothing. These items, points out the military, are provided amply and something else should be sent.

Army mailing to men with APO addresses is to be between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 this year. Christmas packages should be marked then so that they will be distributed at the Yuletide as nearly as possible. Packages to navy personnel may be mailed up to Nov. 1.

Mailing instructions are in keeping with those of last year—maximum weight of five pounds, packages of not more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined, reinforced with wood, tin or double solid corrugated cardboard and substantial wrapping.

Hope To Complete Mailing Of Books

DALLAS, July 15 (AP)—Dallas city-county civilian defense council officials hope to complete mailing of war ration book No. 3 today. Only books for Texas consumers remain to be mailed. All Louisiana books have been sent.

Patton Wades Ashore To Take Command

LONDON, July 15 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the U. S. Seventh army invading Sicily, leaped into the surf from a landing barge and waded ashore to take personal command of bitter fighting against German tank units opposing the landing, Noel Monks, Daily Mail correspondent aboard a destroyer, reported.

"General Patton's American bridgehead at Gela," he wrote, "I was told the story of Patton's great personal courage and the magnificent fighting quality of his troops."

"When the Americans landed at Gela they found the town in control of two German tank regiments. During the next 36 hours the fiercest fighting of the whole Allied invasion took place. Twice the Germans were driven from the town and twice the Americans were forced right back to the beaches."

"At this stage General Patton leaped into the surf from a landing barge and waded ashore to take over personal command."

"Step by step the Germans were driven back from the beaches as wave after wave of Americans landed from the troopships. By sunset Sunday the bridgehead was well established and the Americans had pushed the Germans back to a few miles beyond town."

When General Eisenhower visited Patton's headquarters yesterday (Monday) he warmly congratulated his old colleague on his splendid fighting achievement."

Survivors Tell Of Free Ride; Texan Praised

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 15 (AP)—Seventy-five survivors of the crew of a medium-sized merchant vessel torpedoed in the Atlantic related on landing here how one of their shipmates got an unexpected, and unwanted free ride on the deck of the attacking submarine.

Attached at midnight, the vessel, commanded by Capt. A. H. Barnes of East Durham, N. Y., was seen to go down against lightning flashes of a distant storm.

It was Second Mate Alfred M. Evgenth, 54, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who came out of the sinking to ride the deck of a German submarine.

Asleep when the first torpedo hit he piled out in the dark, and got his life boat away with nine men aboard. Wallowing in the heavy seas, he said he could not see the vessel as she settled but heard the explosion of a second torpedo. Then came a sight that bugged his eyes. Bearing straight down upon him was the attacking sub. The sub, going fast, crashed into our lifeboat and because it hit at an angle veered the boat away without breaking it up. But it was catapulted through the air and landed smack on the foredeck of the sub.

"It was oily and slick and there was nothing to hold on to, even if I had wanted to hold on. I slipped off and the swish of the propellers passed right by me. You can't imagine how surprised and glad I was to see that life boat right close beside me when I came up after the sub went by." He swam over and was pulled in by willing hands.

Captain Barnes and Lieutenant (jg) Arthur J. Weber of Lubbock, Tex., were praised by the crew for their coolness. All except three of the crew were saved.

Fonda Denies He Is Father Of Child

LOS ANGELES, July 15 (AP)—Screen actor Henry Fonda has denied categorically, through his wife and naval authorities where he is stationed, that he is the father of a daughter born three weeks ago to Mrs. Barbara Thompson, 25-year-old brunet divorcee.

The denials were in answer to Mrs. Thompson's suit asserting Fonda is the father of the girl she has named Sharon Fonda and demanding that he pay $5,000 medical expenses, $10,000 attorney fees, $2,500 court costs and $2,000 monthly support.

Says Pacific Supply Problem Overcome

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., July 15 (AP)—Problems of supply and reinforcement for America's fighting men in the Pacific have been overcome in large measure, says Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, and with "forces of all our services coordinating their operations most successfully," the initiative is certain to remain in American hands.

"New ships and planes and troops trained and fully equipped for battle now are coming into the Pacific in satisfying numbers to insure our retaining the initiative," Nimitz said yesterday.

Fireworks Over Newsom Trade Still Going Strong

Bobo Loudly Wails Over Dirty Deal

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fireworks still are popping among the Brooklyn Dodgers and that loud noise you heard last night was Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom exploding as he was bounced out of the Brooklyn baseball parlor.

The latest repercussions from the Dodgers' family feud were a statement by Branch Rickey, president of the club, that he would support Manager Leo Durocher to the limit and an announcement that Newsom, the cause celebre of last week's rebellion, had been traded to the St. Louis Browns for a pair of antiquated southpaws, Fritz Ostermueller and Archie McKain.

Newsom, never at loss for words, roared in defiance:

"I don't want to play in St. Louis. I won't play in St. Louis and I'm not going to report."

"I got the dirtiest deal any ball player ever got. I've been the goat all the way through this thing. I guess I'll have to quit and I will quit before reporting to St. Louis. I heard about this only yesterday afternoon and I offered to buy my release from the Brooklyn club, but was refused."

Whether or not the boisterous Bobo goes through with his threat remains to be seen. Changing uniforms is no novelty to him, for even before today he was the most traded pitcher in the big leagues and in 13 seasons in the National and American leagues had played variously with Brooklyn, the Chicago Cubs, Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers, Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns. In fact, during his long career he had been with the Browns, Brooklyn and Washington twice each.

His pitching this year has been the most consistent of any of the Dodger hurlers and his present record of nine victories and four defeats is one of the best in the National League. Although the Dodgers need southpaws, Ostermueller and McKain, both veterans now relegated to relief roles, cannot be expected to match Newsom's work. The confusion among the Dodger fans to concentrate on the pennant races again immediately, but nevertheless the major leagues were to resume their schedule today after a three-day intermission for the all-star show. Three contests were on tap in each circuit, with five of the six games being slated at night.

Annual Texas Tournament Starts July 22

WICHITA, Kas., July 15 (AP) — Starting date of the eighth annual Texas tournament will be July 22 instead of July 17, the national semi-pro baseball congress announced.

The tournament will be held at Waco under the direction of Texas Commissioner A. H. Kirksey of Waco. Teams already certified include Karlan Bros. of Dallas; Houston, Tex. Shrimpers; Waco Army Flyers and Blackland Army Flyers, both of Waco and two teams from Camp Hood.

Raymond Dumont, president of the congress, said a 16-team bracket was planned.

Triple Spinner Play Will Be Highlighted

AMARILLO, July 15 (AP)—The "triple-spinner" with which Chink Coleman won national fame at Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo., last year, will be demonstrated to Texas coaches by its developer.

Coleman, former assistant coach at Austin High of El Paso when that school became the first Texas team to beat Amarillo High on Butler Field here, currently is visiting in Amarillo.

The "triple-spinner" was designed by the late Knute Rockne. After his death, Mrs. Rockne gave the notes to Jack Chevigny, Coleman played under Chevigny at St. Edward's University at Austin and Chevigny passed the notes on to Coleman.

While Coleman was coaching at various schools in Texas and New Mexico he experimented with the plays but never got them to really clicking until last season at Wentworth. His team not only won its conference championship but ranked with the leading junior colleges of the country. The "triple-spinner" offense was featured in several magazines.

It consists of two tailbacks being placed about five yards behind the guards with the other two backs playing about a yard back of the tackle. When the ball is snapped to one of the tailbacks the back on the left goes both ways. Any of them may wind up with the ball to pass or run.

Coleman will demonstrate the formation at the Texas High School coaching school in Waco next month.

Laredo Youth Comes To Fore In Tournament

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP)—Dori Hart of Miami, Fla., and Ruth Barnes of River Forest, Ill., the top seeded girls doubles team, advanced to the finals of the River Forest Tennis club's open tournament by winning two matches.

Yesterday's results included:
Boys under 15, quarterfinals — Rod De Liano, Laredo, Tex., defeated John Wenrich, Chicago, 6-4, 6-0.
Boys doubles, second round — Don Seiffert, Chicago, and Rod De Liano, Laredo, defeated Mel Wee, Chicago, and Bob Norman, Oak Park, 6-2, 6-2.
Junior doubles, quarterfinals — Rod De Liano, Laredo, and Don Seiffert, Chicago, defeated Bob McCartney and Dick Creed, Hinsdale, N. Y.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—The A.A.U. handbook probably won't list any new broad jumping records established by sports writers in July, 1943, but from here it seems that the boys have made some remarkably long leaps at conclusions about what Branch Rickey would say to Leo Durocher and vice versa. . . . We don't know what "de revolution" in Brooklyn amounted to, nor what Leo actually said about resigning, but anybody who gave the matter a serious second thought realized that Rickey would have to stand back of his manager as long as possible. . . . The general impression when neither Branch nor Leo turned up for the all-star game Tuesday was that they were holding their discussion privately while the scribes were in Philadelphia. . . . And sure enough, the publicized conference didn't take place yesterday but Rickey came out with a statement that Durocher still is "in."

If Gunder Hagg returns to Sweden by plane instead of by tanker, he'll likely make his farewell appearance at Yankee Stadium about Aug. 21 instead of at New Orleans. And he may try for a mile record at Princeton as a build-up for the last show. . . . Louis Angel Firpo plans to send his amateur heavyweight, Abel Cestac, to the United States this fall in hopes of building him into a heavyweight title contender. Rancher Firpo says he's had an invitation from Jack Dempsey, but the fight mob might appreciate it more if he left Cestac at home and shipped a couple of steers instead. . . . New Jersey's Baltusrol Golf club has added 101 more sheep to its manager's and now has 185 animals on the premises.

'Hard-Luck' Edgar May Become 'Last Chance' Smith

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP) — Eddie Smith, known last year to Chicago White Sox fans as "hard-luck Edgar" because of numerous games he lost by one run, may come to be known as "last-chance Smith" to his ribbing teammates. Smith has been restored to good graces by manager Jimmy Dykes after his suspension from lackadaisical training and will join the Sox on their next eastern trip Sunday night.

Dykes, in lifting the ban on the rotund pitcher, said this would be Smith's last chance to fit himself into the Sox's training routine.

Yachtsmen Cheer As Competition Lessens

By FRANK ECK
AP Feature Sports Writer

LARCHMONT, N. Y.—This picturesque port on Long Island Sound, foremost yachting center in the world, is the scene of a happy skipper today—happy because they can race without competition from "stink pots."

The yachtsmen have the Sound to themselves under OPA restrictions against operating motor launches, speedboats and even the little outboards. "Stink Pots," the sailors call them.

Gasoline Tows Missing
Time was—and it was as recent as last Fall—when these gasoline-driven boats cluttered up the water and made good sailing difficult. Many of the operators disregarded the laws of the sea. They would steer close to the sailboats just for the thrill. Their wash would make many a sailor throw up his hands in disgust.

But now, the skippers are having their inning and love it despite the lack of gasoline tows which necessitate maneuvering their trim craft from little coves out to the starting line in races.

The Larchmont Yacht Club, one of the 35 Yacht Racing Association organizations on the Sound, has planned 50 to 60 races this year, compared with 10 in seasons past. Of the 400 odd Long Island Sound yachtsmen in the armed services, 25 from this club hold Navy commissions and many of them are active in the Pacific theatre.

Although in 1939 — considered by veterans as a good yachting year—there were 173 boats in the New Rochelle Y.C. championship regatta, there were only 37 craft in action on Independence Day. Still this is regarded as good.

Women Take Up Slack
The women — they're getting into everything these days—have taken up much of the slack. Those not sailing their own sloops are aboard others, looking and learning.

Alec Gest, Larchmont's racing chairman, was asked about the women. He replied, "I love 'em myself. They help the scenery. But we've got to be careful. Some of the boys almost fell overboard today. They've got to learn to keep their eyes on the rigging."

Fritsch Winds Up With 104

MILWAUKEE, July 15 (AP) — Bud Fritsch sliced his first two shots into the rough on the 18th hole at Whitnall yesterday. His third was a beauty, straight to the green; so he tried another, and it landed on the green, too.

Fritsch then hunted—and found—his two "alloers," but not those that had landed. Then a partner looked in the cup, and there was one ball another partner found the other in the practice cup.

Fritsch wound up with a 104, but his "ace three" was worth 100 strokes to him.

Bombardiers Will Play South Plains

Undeclared in two starts, the Big Spring Bombardier School baseball team makes its first home stand here Saturday against the South Plains Army Air Force flying school at the post field at 2:30 p. m.

A/C J. J. Smith will go to the mound for the Bombardiers, attempting to duplicate the hand-cutting act of 2nd Lieut. A. M. Shelton against a Camp Berkeley artillery outfit last week. Pfc. F. A. Westenberg of the 812th will catch as usual.

On the reserve list of twirlers are Pfc. W. G. Rudolph (812), Cpl. R. J. Szymanski (865), T/Sgt. J. L. Browning (812), Utility man is Sgt. S. O. Durham (865).

Battling order for the locals will be: Sgt. C. B. Carr, rf (812); S/Sgt. J. J. Smeltzer, 3b (78); Pfc. W. E. Ramsey, ss (78); 2nd Lieut. A. M. Shelton, lf (Group II); S/Sgt. D. P. Kirk, cf (2052nd Ordnance); Cpl. J. M. Millard, 1b (865th); S/Sgt. W. L. Kemp, 2b (812); Pfc. F. A. Westenberg, c (812); and A/C J. J. Smith, p (Group II).

LABOR BANKS GROW

ATLANTA, July 15 (AP)—Manpower problems notwithstanding, shipyards in six southeastern states in the first six months of 1943 added more than 35,000 to their total number of workers, says the War Manpower Commission.

JOE PRACTICES GOLF

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP) — Sgt. Joe Louis, once he enrolled in "Tam O'Shanter's" all-American golf tournament, wasted little time getting in a round of practice over the scene of next week's big show. Now on army furlough, the heavyweight boxing champion made his official entry yesterday and asked permission to play 18 holes today.

Pinch-hitting for Uncle Sam

HE signs his mail John Jones, or Sam Smith, but as Chairman of a War Price and Rationing Board he is pinch-hitting for Uncle Sam.

For his neighbors he is making good America's promise of a fair share of food and fuel and the other rationed necessities for everyone. He is protecting them against the chiseler, the hoarder, the black market saboteur.

It isn't always a pleasant job. Making hundreds of decisions every week—difficult decisions, too—doesn't leave a man any younger. More than once he has turned down an old friend's application for an extra mileage ration. His own car has only an "A" sticker.

Texas Football Clinic Popular This Year

WACO, Texas, July 15 (AP) — The war, which made vast inroads in the coaching field, strangely will bring about an increase in enrollment for the eleventh annual Texas football clinic.

Harry Stitteler, president of the Texas high school coaches association, checked up today and found that at least 250—a substantial increase over last year—will be here Aug. 9-13.

"The war has taken many of the young coaches," Stitteler explained. "The result is that the older men have had to return to the profession. They want to come to the school so they can find out about football developments since they were in the game."

Some of them, however, will feel perfectly at home because one of the principal topics of the clinic will be the T formation as demonstrated by a leading advocate, Ralph Jones of Lake Forest University.

The old-timers used the T formation, not, however, with its many variations that have brought it to the forefront in coaching ranks in recent years. Jones who taught Clark Shaughnessy standing authority on this system today, said Stitteler. "It was Jones who taught Clark Shaughnessy and George Halas many details of the formation with which they have won coaching fame."

Jones and Henry Frka, coach of Tulsa University which played in the Sugar Bowl last Jan. 1, will be head instructors for the school and will tutor all-star high school teams that play the night of Aug. 13, as the climaxing feature.

Proceeds from this game, which draws as high as 15,000 fans, will go to war relief.

Women Bowlers To Have City Tournament

A city tournament for women bowlers will be planned Friday at 8 p. m. it was announced today.

All women bowlers—regardless of whether they participated in the women's bowling league—are urged to participate in the meeting, set for room No. 1, Settles hotel.

Those who find it impossible to attend are asked to leave their names at the bowling alley so that they may be included in plans for the tournament.

Two Ft. Worth Lads Arrested For Car Theft

COLORADO CITY, July 15—A two-boy crime wave came to an end in Colorado City Tuesday when the Mitchell county sheriff, Nick Narrell, left for Gatesville with a 14-year-old Fort Worth boy arrested with a 15-year-old companion for car theft in Sweetwater.

The pair left their Fort Worth homes last week for California and hitch-hiked to Big Spring. The older lad became homesick and they "borrowed a car" from a Big Spring resident without permission.

Abandoning the car in Colorado City when it ran out of gas they took a car belonging to Durwood Morgan here.

The mother of the older lad came to Colorado City for him and he was released to her and to juvenile parole officers in Fort Worth since the experience was his first trouble with the law.

The younger boy, who told the county court that one of his patients works in a defense plant and that he didn't know where the rest of his family was, had previously been paroled to juvenile officers in Fort Worth for car theft there. He was sent to Gatesville.

Pre-Cooked Desserts Save Time

By MRS. ALEXANDEE GEORGE
AP Food Editor

Pre-cooked desserts are a life-saver for the busy homemaker when she comes to getting dinner at the end of a sultry day.

Summer desserts, made a day as cool-looking and delicately flavored.

Custards, gelatin treats and or two in advance and left to chill in the refrigerator or cool on the pantry shelf, can be energy-building and appetite-satisfying as well.

TAPIOCA CREAM
1 or 2 egg yolks
4 cups milk
1-3 cup quick-cooking tapioca
4 tablespoons corn syrup
1-4 teaspoon salt
1 or 2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon flavoring

Saucepan Method: Mix egg yolk with 1-2 cup milk in saucepan. Add tapioca, corn syrup, salt and remaining milk. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook. Beat egg white until stiff but not dry; add sugar gradually, beating with rotary egg beater. Stir hot tapioca gradually into egg white. Cool. Mixture thickens as it cools. When slightly cool, stir in flavoring. Chill. Serves 6-8.

members of the pastry clan, fashioned from eggs, milk and summer's bounty of fruits and berries are just right to top off a delicious warm-weather meal.

Duchess Custard
When I have egg yolks left over from angel food cake I make up Duchess Custard and keep it in a covered jar for several days in the refrigerator. It makes a refresh-

CONSTIPATION CAN CAUSE HEADACHES

If that's your trouble, PRU-LAX—the tasty laxative—may be just what you need to help relieve faulty elimination. PRU-LAX is a laxative—not a cathartic. It helps to stimulate "rhythmic activity" by aiding peristalsis of the colon. A compound of Senna and Cascara, combined with syrup and mild carminatives, it is pleasant to take. Constipation may be the cause of headaches, vertigo (dizziness), anemia, acne and other skin affections. Don't let it distress you. Get a bottle of PRU-LAX at your drugstore today. (Caution: Use this or any laxative only as directed.)

ing creamy sauce to serve poured over fresh peaches, pears, or apricots. And sometimes I cover sponge or angel food cake with the custard and then chill it for several hours. When I serve this dessert, I add some fresh or canned cherries for extra zip and color.

Beat 3 yolks until thick and lemon colored, stir in 1-3 cup sugar blended with 2 tablespoon flour. Add 1-3 cups milk and 1-4 teaspoon salt. Cook in double boiler until thick and creamy. Stir frequently. Remove from the heat and beat custard 2 minutes, add 1-2 teaspoons vanilla and 1-4 teaspoon each of almond and lemon extracts. Stir in 1-3 cup shredded blanched almonds. Store in covered jar in refrigerator to keep a coating from forming over the top. Other nuts can replace the almonds but in that case do not add them until you serve sauce.

If you want a mocha custard and have coffee leftover, use coffee and milk in equal portions for the milk called for. Omit the lemon extract.

Caramel Fluff
Caramel fluff is a grand dessert and will keep 3 days. Cook slowly 5 minutes in a heavy frying pan, 1-2 cup dark brown sugar and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add 1-2 cups milk. Cook slowly, stirring frequently, until blended. Beat 2 eggs or 4 yolks in upper part double boiler, add 1-4 cup flour and 1-8 teaspoon salt. Blend thoroughly. Add 1-3 cup cream, 1-2 cup milk and the sugar blend. Cook in double boiler until thick and creamy. Stir frequently. Beat well, add 1-2 teaspoon vanilla and fold in 1 egg white, beaten. Pour into glass dish. Chill. For extra nutrition when time to serve, sprinkle with 1-3 cup nuts, or cookie crumbs or raisins. This is a very good dessert to use for filling individual tart cases or scooped out cup cakes.

Honey Cream Dessert is wholesome, economical and low in point-rationed foods. Mix together 1-3 cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons honey and 1-3 cup water. Blend thoroughly and add 1-3 cup peanut butter and 3 cups milk. Cook in double boiler until creamy. Stir frequently. Add 1 egg and cook 2 minutes. Stir in 1-4 teaspoon vanilla. Cool and chill and serve plain or with cream.

Deep Dish Pie
One-Crust Pies, sometimes called deep dish pies, are good keepers. Better in fact than the two crust kind as they sometimes get soggy in the lower crust. I find that this Deep Dish Apple Pie will keep a couple of days when tucked away in the refrigerator. Make up a rich crust, sort of cross between a biscuit and pie dough, using 2 cups of flour. Pat the soft dough out quite thin and place it on top of the following apple mixture: Mix together 3 cups sliced apples, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons flour and 1-8 teaspoon salt. Blend thoroughly and pour into a shallow baking pan. Add 2 tablespoons corn syrup, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1-4 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted, and 1-3 cup water. Add the crust and make 4 steam holes in the top. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Fresh peaches or berries can also be used.

Brawl Was Just Painful Error

DALLAS, July 15 (AP)—While Mrs. Georgia Nix was eating lunch at a cafe, a man and a woman walked up to her and knocked her to the floor.

Then the man held her and the woman began pulling out her hair in handfuls.

Suddenly, Mrs. Nix told police, the woman stopped and said: "This is all a bad mistake—you're not the woman."

The man fled before police arrived but the woman was arrested and held in jail.

Opposed To U. S. Resuming Oil Operations

MEXICO CITY, July 15 (AP)—Commenting on press reports that North American oil companies, expropriated in 1938, will resume operation in Mexico soon on a modified basis, Under-Minister of Finance Ramon Beteta said that he opposed such an arrangement.

Beteta's press statement last night however contained neither confirmation nor denial of the unofficial reports.

These stated that Efraim Buenrostro, head of the government oil industry, is completing arrangements in the United States for permitting the companies to operate under the direction of the Mexican government setup, and without violating Mexico's claim to subsoil rights.

The companies, according to the reports, would take charge of exploration and exportation activities.

Beteta said he has not participated in any discussions regarding such operations, "and I have always held the firm conviction that to permit the return to Mexico of the expropriated oil companies, under whatever formula that might be found, would be a very grave error."

Buenrostro has been in the United States since March. He announced he would seek priorities there for a large improvement program for the Mexican oil industry.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers believe nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day.

Any disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood. It may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Editorial - Many Needs Can Be Deferred In Setting Up Local Budgets

Budget-making time is here again for counties and cities and school districts in Texas. Within the next month or two schedules will be made for collection and spending of tax money during the coming year. We already have some idea of what Federal taxes will be—the greatest in our history, because of the war and its demands on the Treasury—and this should move our local budget makers to get to work.

There are many things that we want, and that under ordinary conditions we could and should have, but some of these things should be deferred until we have finished the war and are in position to spend more locally. Roads are needed, yet we can do essential travel on the roads we have for a while. Schools are necessary, but they can work on what we are able to spare now until better times come. Many city services that we do not have are needed, but this is no time to install them and levy taxes to pay the cost.

Naturally the men in charge of governments, county, city and school, want to make the best showing possible, want to render the most service that they can, but this ought not to be done with an increase in taxes at this time. The really able administrator is one who renders the best service he can on what he has to do the work, and who studies times as well as dollars in doing that work. Reductions in tax rates in some Texas counties during the past year were made, that would have seemed impossible before we got into the war and had to make them. Maybe more cannot be made at this time, but certainly there can be such planning that no increases need be levied.

The thoughtful citizen will confer with the tax levying authority, not in a spirit of criticism but with a desire to be helpful with suggestions, and the officials will, if they are the right sort, welcome such conferences.

Washington Daybook—Congressmen Have Cause To Celebrate

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — If ever Congressmen had a right to toast their hats in the air and shout "Hooryay, school's out," they have it now.

With the exception of three weeks last Christmas leading up to the convening of the present 75th Congress, the two chambers have been in continuous session since Jan. 3, 1940.

Congress has changed since then, for there has been a national election. Six Senators and nearly a score of Representatives have died. What was then only a question mark and a "third White House silence—the great term"—has become a reality and now in nearly all political circles a try for a "fourth" is considered a certainty.

When this 1,230-odd day non-stop started, Rep. Jerry Voorhis, (D-Calif.) was saying: "The task of this Congress is to end unemployment in America."

The four primary fields in which this new Congress must work, he went on to say, should be (1) Taxation; (2) Pension, social security and public works; (3) Agricultural income, and (4) Correction of our "archaic, debt-based monetary system."

Representative Voorhis was looking as far ahead as any one in those days, and farther than some. He is quoted only to demonstrate how rapidly Congress and the United States was whirled out of its work-a-day orbit into the typhoon of a global war.

If you remember that far back, it was called a "phony war" then. The Maginot Line was still "impregnable." Berlin was complaining that Italy was giving "aid to the Allies" in shipments of strategic materials.

Dunkirk was a pinpoint on the map of the coast of France. Vichy was a kind of water. Londoners were gripping at air raid drills. And the United States was shedding dollars for relief and tears of sympathy for little Finland, which was putting up a better show against the Russians than the Nazi juggernaut ever has since.

The less-than-a-year old Neutrality Act was being stoutly defended everywhere. Selective Service was nearly nine months over the horizon. Lend-lease was unheard of. The United States Army didn't have a paratrooper. A man named Wendell Willkie, best known as a lawyer for the private utilities, got a few paragraphs in the New York papers when he was elected a director of the First National Bank there.

If Congress had voted a $71,000,000 appropriation (like the present one for the War Department alone) it probably would have more than doubled the national debt.

This could go on forever, but all I want to say is when your Congressman and Senators got home this month, give them a big hug. After three-and-a-half years of what they've been through they have it coming.

Good Guess

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Well, it might have been that midnight snack, said William Conville, 56, taken to a hospital suffering from an acute gastric disturbance.

He remembered downing a glass of milk, he said; then some cucumber, a slice of ice cream, a space of watermelon, a glass of tea, some spinach and a piece of cold fish.

When travelling at high speed, spotted lizards run on their hind legs for short distances.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—Gail Russell Takes Rides For Jitters

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Every Sunday, if you're lucky, you can see a pretty youngster, who looks like Hedy Lamarr, riding horseback in Beverly Hills. Riding, or swimming, or dancing—all like mad.

That is Gail Russell's way of beating the movie jitters. She has them bad, probably the worst case in years.

"I knock myself out," she says. "Then I can't think about pictures. I'm too tired. I come to work Mondays all black and blue from horseback riding, and it's brought me through another holiday, and those are the worst days."

This, for Gail, is an excursion into garrulity. She's as quiet and timorous with strangers, ordinarily, as a mouse nibbling at your last hunk of rationed cheese. But she's gradually becoming more talkative. The first time I met her—she was playing her first role—she gave the impression that she wished she'd never heard of Hollywood.

Here is a prime Cinderella yarn. William Melkielejoh, Paramount's talent director, gave a lift to a couple of hitch-hiking Santa Monica boys. They learned his business, and told him he ought to look up "this Gail Russell—the Hedy Lamarr of Santa Monica." Dutifully, Melkielejoh sent a scout through Santa Monica's schools. Falling there, the scout tried Beverly Hills high school—and brought a thrilled but frightened child—Gail is only 17 now—to the studio.

When E. G. Desjyve saw her silent test, he sat up. "What an investment!" he yodeled. Then Gail's talking test came on the screen. Desjyve sat back. "Well," he decided, "she's a good long-term investment."

Gail couldn't act. She had never tried it before. The studio turned her over to Bill Russell (no relation) of the talent department.

Bill worked with her every day, made her read parts, rehearse. She gained a little confidence, not much. But Russell never let up. He lectured her on confidence, he made her read, read, and read some more.

They were making the ghost story, "The Uninvited." They needed a sensitive young girl, preferably beautiful, for the role of Stella, the heroine haunted by memories of her mother. They tested Gail—and she won.

Now—maybe it's because the studio is hoarding her work—she isn't so shy as she used to be. Bill Russell can't understand it, but says it's true, that the girl who looks like Hedy Lamarr thinks she is "funny-looking," and that accounts for much of her movie jitters.

Which makes her really like Hedy Lamarr. Hedy told me once she couldn't give herself a thing on looks!

Capital Comment—Variety Of Subjects Discussed By Mahon

By GEORGE STIMPSON

Herald Washington Correspondent

Congressman George Mahon, of Colorado City, discussing the seventy-two billion dollar Army appropriation bill, the biggest appropriation bill ever proposed by the Congress, and I realize that some of the money proposed in this bill will be wasted; it is inevitable—waste makes waste, and war makes waste. I also realize that while officers and enlisted men of the Army have frequently been decorated for valor and bravery they have very rarely, if ever, been decorated for the saving of public money."

George, who is one of the hardest working and most useful members of the House appropriations committee, also said:

"In this war of transportation we use dogs. Some of you may have read in the paper that the food bill for the dogs amount to about 25 cents a day per dog. Some have ridiculed the idea that the Army should use dogs, but the dog has always been man's friend, and if General Eisenhower or General MacArthur can send a dog or a pigeon to carry the message, I say let us send them whenever we can save a man. Let us save the man."

I had not heard for a long time about Thomas L. Blanton, who for many years represented the Abilene district in practicing law at Albany, until Congress and who has been the other day when Congressman Sam Russell, of Stephenville, inserted in the Congressional Record a letter the former Congressman wrote to President Roosevelt on the labor situation. In the letter, Tom says: "I am completely out of politics. I aspire to no public office. What I say comes from my heart, hoping to suggest something constructive." But Tom Blanton as a private citizen has lost none of his ability to express himself in strong language. He tells the President: "During this great emergency every loyal American will support and stand behind you 100 percent in efforts to win this war. Any man who throws a monkey wrench into the machinery is a dirty, infamous traitor more despicable than a carter."

"The people are impatiently tired of having John L. Lewis and other selfish, avicious labor leaders shut down vital factories, stop mining needed coal, stagnate production of necessary war munitions, defy our institutions, flaunt to the winds the orders of our commander-in-chief, and twist strange-hold tourniquet around the throat of our government to force compliance with every kind of unreasonable demand." The Journal Texan said he recently returned from the west coast, where he talked with people from all walks of life and from all parts of the country and they "vehemently state that they are sick and tired of it."

Congressman O. C. Fischer, of San Angelo, gets the eye of Speaker Rayburn and says: "On roll call No. 108 I am shown as not voting. I was here and voted aye. I ask unanimous consent that the Journal and Record may be corrected." There was no objection and the records were corrected accordingly. The clerks frequently make such mistakes in votes and such corrections are common in the house, but rare in the Senate.

The United Federal Workers of America, CIO, sent out a circular asking government workers to write their Congressman protesting against the labor bill. Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls, got hold of a copy of the circular and it made him mad. Such publications with such appeals, declared Ed, waving the document, "come under the head of pernicious political activity." It seemed to him a very distasteful practice. "If this sort of thing continues we may one day have federal employees themselves striking against the government that employs them. Federal employees of all classes, both elective and appointive, should remember that they are the servants of the people."

"The senate and the House of Representatives," says Sen. Tom Connally, "are not spokesmen for any minority; they are not spokesmen for any selfish or interested group, but they are spokesmen for all the people of the United States."

Congressman Wright Patman believes we should treat the Japanese prisoners and internees in this country according to the humanitarian.

ed of having John L. Lewis and other selfish, avicious labor leaders shut down vital factories, stop mining needed coal, stagnate production of necessary war munitions, defy our institutions, flaunt to the winds the orders of our commander-in-chief, and twist strange-hold tourniquet around the throat of our government to force compliance with every kind of unreasonable demand." Congressman O. C. Fischer, of San Angelo, gets the eye of Speaker Rayburn and says: "On roll call No. 108 I am shown as not voting. I was here and voted aye. I ask unanimous consent that the Journal and Record may be corrected." There was no objection and the records were corrected accordingly. The clerks frequently make such mistakes in votes and such corrections are common in the house, but rare in the Senate.

The United Federal Workers of America, CIO, sent out a circular asking government workers to write their Congressman protesting against the labor bill. Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls, got hold of a copy of the circular and it made him mad. Such publications with such appeals, declared Ed, waving the document, "come under the head of pernicious political activity." It seemed to him a very distasteful practice. "If this sort of thing continues we may one day have federal employees themselves striking against the government that employs them. Federal employees of all classes, both elective and appointive, should remember that they are the servants of the people."

"The senate and the House of Representatives," says Sen. Tom Connally, "are not spokesmen for any minority; they are not spokesmen for any selfish or interested group, but they are spokesmen for all the people of the United States."

Congressman Wright Patman believes we should treat the Japanese prisoners and internees in this country according to the humanitarian.

ONE WORLD By Wendell L. Willkie

Chapter ten

In Chungking, on Oct. 7, 1942, I made a statement to the Chinese and foreign press in which I tried to state some of the conclusions I had reached on my trip around the world. In part, this is what I said:

I have traveled through 18 countries. I have seen kingdoms, soviet, republics, mandated areas, colonies, and dependencies. I have seen an almost bewildering variety of ways of living and ways of ruling and of being ruled.

But I have found certain things common to all the countries I have visited and to all the ordinary people in those countries with whom I have talked:

They all want the United Nations to win the war. They all want a chance at the end of the war to live in liberty and independence.

They all doubt, in varying degrees, the readiness of the leading democracies of the world to stand up and be counted for freedom for others after the war is over. This doubt kills their enthusiastic participation on our side.

Now, without the real support of these common people, the winning of the war will be enormously difficult. The winning of the peace will be nearly impossible. This war is not a simple technical problem for task forces.

They need enthusiasm for the future and a conviction that the flags they fight under are in bright clean colors.

The truth is that we as a nation have not made up our minds what kind of world we want to speak for when victory comes.

Many men and women I have talked with from Africa to Alaska asked me the question which has become almost a symbol all through Asia: What about India? Now I did not go to India. I do not propose to discuss that tangled question. But it has one aspect, in the east, I should report.

It is also a war for men's minds. We must organize on our side not simply the sympathies but the active, aggressive, offensive spirit of nearly three fourths of the people of the world who live in South America, Africa, eastern Europe, and Asia. We have not done this and at present are not doing this. We have got to do it. . . .

Men need more than arms with which to fight and win this kind of war.

From Cairo on, it confronted me at every turn. The wisest man in China said to me:

"When the aspiration of India for freedom was put aside to some future date, it was not Great Britain that suffered in public esteem in the Far East. It was the United States."

We are learning in this war that the test of a people is their aim and not their color.

In the east, we have a plain example. Japan is our enemy because of her wanton and barbaric aggression upon weaker nations and because of the imperialistic doctrine by which she seeks to rule and enslave the world. Japan treacherous and unprovoked attacks by which she has launched each of her assaults in carrying forward her scheme of conquest.

China is our friend because like us she nourishes no dream of conquest and because she values liberty. She is our ally because, first among the nations, she resisted aggression and enslavement.

Here are two oriental peoples. One is our enemy; one is our friend. Race and color have nothing to do with what we are fighting for today.

Race and color do not determine at whose side we shall fight. These are things the white race is learning through this war. These are things we needed to learn.

Race Imperialism

It has been a long while since the United States had any imperialistic designs toward the outside world. But we have practiced within our own boundaries somemanes rules of warfare in the hope it will save our men who are prisoners of Japan from any undue suffering and mistreatment. "Every day almost," he asserts, "we see in the newspapers and hear attacks upon the Japanese that are intended in this country. It occurs to me that such attacks may possibly cause harm to our prisoners of war who are now confined by the Japanese on the islands in the Pacific and on the mainland of Japan. Under the Geneva Conference a nation at war is obligated to treat prisoners humanely, to pay them for work according to certain rules and conditions, and to provide them with living quarters and food. Our country expects to carry out the terms of the Geneva Conference.

New Truck Tire Regulations Are Explained Here

New regulations on truck tires for Interstate Commerce Commission operators were explained Thursday morning to the tire panel by Tom Hendricks, Lubbock, chief tire examiner.

Another session was set for 3 p. m. this afternoon when Hendricks was to talk to tire dealers.

The new regulation requires that local inspectors must inspect tires when applications for new ones are made and then hold the tires for inspection by district men.

According to information given the local office, 95 per cent of truck tires in the country show abuse and under OPA regulations, such truck owners are not eligible for new tires.

Lawyer Guest Speaker Before Rotary Members

LAWYER GUEST... 24 Tempo
Jeff Williams, Chickasha, Okla., lawyer and guest speaker at the Rotary dinner Wednesday evening at the Settles, pointed to the necessity for maintaining unity, unceasing effort and vigilance on the home front.

Cautioning against over-confidence at gains and looming victories for the Allies on the war front, Williams repeatedly emphasized that the war also must be won on the home front through sacrifice, even deprivation provoked by loyal determination.

A self-styled country lawyer who ranks high as an orator, he declared "I was born in Texas, raised as an Arkansas pioneer, and am now an Okie and proud of it."

He was accompanied to Big Spring, where he was to address a class of graduating bombardiers, by Bert Siddens, Chickasha, Okla., Rotarians, their wives and other guests heard Capt. Joel W. Sailors, navigator and bombardier student at the Big Spring Bomber School, who saw action in North Africa.

Among guests were Capt. Turner, BSBS public relations officer, and Mrs. Turner; Maj. Paul S. Dewell, executive officer; Maj. W. M. Hendrix, air inspector; Maj. Victor H. Walker, operations officer; Capt. H. W. Wheeler, special services officer; Capt. Sailors; 1st Lieut. Herbert L. Hoover, Jr. medical officer; and 2nd Lieut. Nettie J. King and Eileen J. Spang, nurses.

Clyburns Learn News Of Son's Death In Crash

Almost exactly one month from the day he left to return to his station, Ensign Charles Edgar Clyburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Clyburn of Knott, has been killed in the performance of his duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyburn were informed by telegram Wednesday from the chief of naval personnel, that their son was "killed as the result of a plane crash July 13 in the performance of his duty and in the service of his country."

Ensign Clyburn had been trained as a carrier-based fighter pilot.

A graduate of the Garner (Knott) high school and John Tarleton college, he had enlisted in the naval reserve on May 16, 1942 and had training at Hensley Field (Dallas), Kingsville and Miami, Fla., before receiving his commission March 20, 1943, at Corpus Christi. Subsequently, he was stationed for a time at Norfolk, Va.

After visiting with his parents while on furlough, he left here June 14 to return to his station.

The planes fell into the Atlantic ocean after the collision. Neither the airman's bodies nor the planes were recovered.

Yanks

in what part of southern Sicily we were. Then we started a general movement to the northwest toward our original objective.

Many men jumped into the fight right away, landing on machine-gun nests or pillboxes. Others soon found their hands full as they ran into Italian strong points along the coast or further inland along strange highways.

We began to lose men, but not many, as the tough wily troopers rushed the pillboxes. These placements were well designed with three-foot cement walls, slits commanding all approaches, 47-millimeter guns and machine-guns and a great deal of wire.

But the troopers had come to kill and they did. Their anti-tank weapons and grenades drove the gunners from the slits of the pillboxes to be rushed. Well-aimed Garand rifle fire often accomplished the same purpose and within a short while each pillbox surrendered its load of Italians or a few Germans.

That was along the beaches. Inland the fighting continued throughout the day.

Our own group by daylight had increased, including this correspondent and two medical officers, also unarmed, who had been "sweated out" in the dark hours, together, to 25 assorted troopers.

And here it might be pointed out that every man who jumps, with the above exceptions, jumps ready to fight, whether he's a cook, company clerk, a rigger or one of the service command, and they fought hard and viciously.

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Scattered favorites struggled successfully against profit taking in today's stock market and new highs were well distributed but many leaders slipped into the losing ranks without being subjected to much pressure.

Chrysler, American company derived from the fact that dealings dwindled on the stemming of the advance. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 1,500,000 shares compared with 1,678,000 yesterday which were the largest in two months.

U.S. Steel went into the "new high" class by a nose and was accompanied by Chrysler, American Telephone, Western Union, Ohio Oil and Allied Chemical. In front most of the day were Santa Fe, Curtis Publishing, Pure Oil, Pepsi-Cola, Westinghouse and American Can. Losers included General Motors, N.Y. Central, Southern Railway, Du Pont, Dow Chemical, Douglas Aircraft, J. I. Case, Montgomery Ward, U.S. Rubber, Nehi Corp., Coca-Cola and Phelps Dodge.

The United Kingdom has agreed to provide American troops in Europe with 80,100,000 pounds of potatoes in 1943.

Here and There

Sgt. Raymond L. Williams, who has been visiting here with his grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Nail, has returned to New York where he is stationed with a military police battalion.

Mrs. Floy Glenn Sides, FSA home supervisor for Howard, will assist Fern Hodge, Martin Glascock and Martin counties, county home demonstration agent, in the conduct of three food preservation meetings in Martin county next week. One is slated at Courtney on July 20, another at Pleasant Valley July 22 and still another at Tarzan on July 23. Canning, water bath, pressure cooking, drying, brining and kraut-ing methods of preservation will be presented.

O. R. Rodden, manager of the Big Spring district office for US Employment Service, left Thursday morning for a two and one-half day conference on War Manpower Commission matters at Abilene. All sub-district managers have been called in by E. C. Logsdon, district manager, for the party.

J. D. Prewitt, district no. 6 extension service agent, was here Thursday for a conference with O. P. Griffin, county agent. They discussed labor problems principally. Prewitt has had personal troubles of his own in the past year and a half, having lost 15 men to the army. So far, however, he has been able to make replacements.

Mrs. Braden Wasson of Taylor is visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. Clifton Hollis.

This flyer's memory might prove embarrassing sometimes. He forgot his parachute and left it at the Crawford hotel. Police, returning it to the military police, were hopeful that he didn't have occasion to use it that particular day.

Traveler Loses Billfold, Money, Gas Coupons

Mrs. Edwin P. Hart, Stanton, Tenn., found herself in a jam Wednesday when, just passing through town, she left her billfold in the postoffice.

The billfold contained, among other things, $450 in travelers checks, $40 in cash, insurance receipts, employment release and A and C gas coupons to take her to Tennessee from California to join her husband, who is in the Navy.

Needless to say, the gas coupons rated first in importance and she was contacting the ration board for help.

thing that amounts to race imperialism.

The attitude of the white citizens of this country toward the Negroes has undeniably had some of the unlovely characteristics of an alien imperialism—a smug racial superiority, a willingness to exploit an unprotected people.

We are, in addition, already witnessing a crawling, insidious anti-Semitism in our own country.

It will be well to bear in mind continuously that we are fighting today against intolerance and oppression, and that we shall get them in abundance if we lose.

It was only a short time ago—less than a quarter of a century—that the allied nations gained an outstanding victory over the forces of conquest and aggression then led by imperial Germany.

But after that victory, we shut ourselves away from world trade by excessive tariff barriers. We washed our hands of the continent of Europe and displayed no interest in its fate while Germany rearmad.

Economic Conference

We torpedoed the London economic conference when the European democracies, with France lagging in the rear, were just beginning to recover from the economic depression that had sapped their vitality, and when the instability of foreign exchange remained the principal obstacle to full revival.

And in so doing, we sacrificed a magnificent opportunity for leadership in strengthening and rehabilitating the democratic nations, in fortifying them against assault by the forces of aggression which at that very moment were beginning to gather.

The responsibility for this rose not attach solely to any political party. For neither major party stood consistently and conclusively before the American public as either the party of world outlook or the party of isolation.

If we were to say that Republican leadership destroyed the League of Nations in 1920, we must add that it was the Democratic leadership that broke up the London economic conference in 1933.

When I say that in order to have peace this world must be free, I am only reporting that a great process has started which no man—certainly not Hitler—can stop.

Men and women all over the world are on the march, physically, intellectually, and spiritually.

And people all over the world are waiting for us to accept the most challenging opportunity of all history—the chance to help create a new society in which man and woman the world around can live and grow invigorated by independence and freedom.

Orders Call For Increase In Oil Allowable

The Associated Press

Federal orders for a sizeable increase in Texas August oil allowance likely will be presented to all men assembled for the statewide production hearing in Austin Friday.

All signs point to higher production schedules next month to keep pace with accelerated war consumption.

Chairman Beauford H. Jester of the Railroad commission this week asked the petroleum administration in Texas for a "substantial increase" in Texas' oil allowance.

The Stettin invasion, release of tank cars by completion of the last leg of the big inch line, the flow of new tankers from shipyards and apparent mastery of the submarine menace will place immediate and stringent demands upon Texas productive facilities above present requirements.

These new demands probably will be reflected in the PAW certification for August.

For July, FAW directed that Texas flow be increased 135,000 barrels a day for total daily production of 1,757,000 barrels of all oils. This was the largest increase for any one month this year.

That the PAW directive for August will follow the July order in allocating most of the production increase to sweet crude producing fields—probably southwest Texas and Gulf Coast districts—was considered certain.

Leader Speaks

CLEVELAND, July 15 (AP) — A leader of the Catholic Daughters of America praised the group today for taking a stand against the employment of mothers in war jobs.

"We are glad to know you are opposing particularly mothers who leave a family at home," asserted Miss Mary E. McKeogh, national chairman of the organization's social welfare department, in a prepared address.
