SENIOR CLASS COMMENCEMENT COMPLETES YEAR

Twenty-eight Seniors received their diplomas in impressive services Friday night at the school auditorium, a full house being present to assist the Seniors in celebrating this event.

Processional and recessional were played by Mrs. James Page, Rev. Roy Shilling delivered the invocation, Ruthie Dee Harris rendered a piano solo, Margaret Ellen Edmiston sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Page, and Rev. Clifford Nelson delivered the benediction.

Supt. T. E. Holcomb introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. E. C. Grindstaff of Ballinger, district attorney of 119th district, former school man, civic leader and church worker, who commended the class for their accomplishments.

In his address he suggested that in choosing an occupation they choose one in which they can be happy, that they learn to enjoy life as they go by setting and working toward an ideal, and that they set a course which includes the spiritual.

He further pointed out that they need pride as an aid to fulfillment of their dreams (not as a hindrance), that they must live truthful life, that they must have faith in their fellow man, that they have determination which enables them to hang on, that they live each day as it comes, and that they hold on to their dreams.

Each must learn to attain his highest dreams through recognizing the dignity and power of work, he further stated.

Honor students in scholarships for the four-year period made the student addresses: Jimmie Morgan, salutatorian, welcomed the visitors and expressed the appreciation of the class to their parents and friends for their valued help over the years.

Lola Beth Ballew, valedictorian, talked on life's values, stressing the fact that the making of money is not everything, that each person must find time also to live part of their life for others.

Awards were made by Principal J. Fraker, as follows:

Attendance, (neither absent nor tardy this year, small number this year because of much illness): Ruthie Dee Harris, Senior, and Vernon Phillips, Wilson Humphrey, Jerry Perry, Betty Bates, Bernell Doyle, Melba June Wilkerson, Herman Phillips, Eugene Bradshaw, George Dickens Jr., Mignonne Dickens, Eddie Etheredge, Martha Jane Humphrey, Judy DeLozier, Voy J. Seniors received these special awards in the form of honor let-

W. O. Alexander Jr., Gets Nod From High-Ranking Literary Magazine, Wins First Over 190 Other Entries

W. O. Alexander, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Alexander of this city, has received first place in a creative writing contest, held under sponsorship of the Atlantic Monthly. A report of the selection of Ollie's essay on "The Riddle of Time" appeared in a recent issue of the Houston Chronicle, and in the Houston college literary publication, "The Harvest," which also printed the essay. He has received $100, the first place award.

Alexander, who lives at 3834 Linklea Drive, submitted his work in competition with other students throughout the nation—191 entries representing 81 U. S. colleges. He took his course in creative writing under Miss Ruth Pennybacker, English teacher, and has a minor in English.

The fact that the Atlantic Monthly gave this recognition may launch him on a career of writing, though his specialty is math. The Atlantic Monthly is a magazine of highest literary caliber, with influence far beyond what its compartively small and select reader list might indicate. Catering as it does to the "intelligentsia," many a beginning writer has gone on to fame and renown in a literary career, when a tap on the shoulder from its editors provided an "open sesame" to the talented beginner.

The Atlantic Monthly will print critics' comments in its June issue, and Alexander's essay itself will appear in the September issue.

As its title indicates, "The Riddle of Time" concerns man's frustrations in his attempt to define or measure what we know as time. The author develops the thought that we have almost complete dependence on time in our daily lives, but that time is hard to measure accurately, and that our divisions are arbitrary ones at the best.

He states that the movements of the earth are inaccurate, that the stars vary in their "courses," that atomic clocks are fallible and man-made things. In his concluding paragraphs he mentions change as a vital part of time.

First Native Latin American Graduates

Reuben Minor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Minor of Eldorado, is reported this week to be the first Latin American born in Eldorado to graduate from high school. On May 28 he will be graduated from Tex Mex school in Kingsville, a Presbyterian school for boys. Mrs. W. R. Crim of Kilgore was instrumental in his going to this school, it was stated by Mrs. P. K. McIntosh, who said that he hoped to go on to college at Baylor in Waco.

Arturo Espinosa, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Espinosa, was the first Latin American to graduate from Eldorado High school, a year ago. He attended school in San Angelo before coming here.

Plane Off Course From Roswell Makes Safe Night Landing Here

An airplane pilot who got off course on a flight from Roswell, New Mexico, to San Angelo, created much excitement here Monday night when he made an emergency landing on the Eldorado airport as he ran low on gas. Citizens who heard the plane and saw it circling low over the west part of town blinking its lights, realized the pilot was in trouble and rushed in their cars to light the way.

Edwin Jackson, who was in town, was the first to notice the plane in trouble. As he rushed toward the airport blinking his headlights, the plane followed. Jackson reached the airport gate and found it locked, but his car lights illuminated the general airport area, and as other cars choked the airport road for a block from the gate, the plane came in low from the east and landed on the field, which was still slightly soft from the weekend rains.

Nearly 800 Entertained at Lions Barbecue Here Tuesday

Schleicher County Oil News

Woodward Company of Dallas spotted location in extreme northeast Sutton county for a 5,200-foot Ellenburger wildcat. It will be drilled as No. 1 Mrs. Stella Lloyd, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 23, block K, GH&SA survey and 20 miles northeast of Sonora and two miles south of the Schleicher County line. Operations are to start at once.

Alaska Steamship Company is supporting the exploration.

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Luke Robinson, wildcat in Northeast Schleicher County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 6,225 feet in dry Ellenburger.

Location was at the center of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 67, block I, GH&SA survey.

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 3-2 Lulabee Wilson, project on the west side of production in the Neva West Strawn field, was bottomed at 6,343 feet in Strawn lime with operator running seven-inch casing. When that is done, operator will drill out plug and complete the well as a new field producer.

Skelly, Monarch and Southland No. 3 W. A. Davis estate, on the southeast side of the Huldale (Strawn) field in Schleicher county, drilled ahead Thursday after showing oil and gas in amount believed sufficient to make a pumper.

Also in the Huldale field, Delta Gulf Drilling Company No. 1 Mrs. Viola McWhorter was drilling below 5,722 feet in shale. American Republics No. 3 W. H. McClatchy at 4,002 feet in shale. No. 2 McClatchy was making hole below 421 feet.

Taylor Refining No. 1 Mittel in the Neva West area was drilling below 5128 feet in lime and shale.

Pan American Production Company No. 1 Tom R. Henderson, wildcat in Northeast Schleicher County, was digging below 2,625 feet in lime and shale.

Members of the committee ask today that the general public bring their articles without waiting for solicitation—as it is impossible to contact every one in the county personally.

The show will be presented free, of course.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stephenson and son Mack visited last weekend in Junction with Mrs. C. C. Stephenson.

Mrs. W. H. McClatchy was hostess to the "42" club at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Nearly 800 were in attendance at the barbecue given Monday night under sponsorship of the Lions of Eldorado, assisted by other businessmen and ranchers, honoring the oil fraternity. The men brought their families for the barbecue on the courthouse lawn, and heard the program from an improvised speaker's platform on the courthouse steps.

Carroll Ratliff, president of the Lions' Club and mayor of the city, was master of ceremonies. He welcomed everyone to this get-acquainted affair, and also extended the thanks of the club for the speaker's system, lent for the evening by Edwin Jackson, and for the huge bouquet of red roses interspersed with white, in a blue bowl, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. P. K. McIntosh.

J. A. Grimes, superintendent of the West Texas Division of the Ohio Oil Company, expressed the appreciation of guests for the hospitality shown at this barbecue, and for the many kindnesses shown oil workers in the past by people of the county. Rev. Roy Shilling pledged the support of the ministers of the town at all times, expressing the sentiment of the Ministerial Alliance. Rev. Clifford Nelson offered the invocation.

Well received by the audience were two football stars from SMU: Paul Page, now living here, introduced his visitor, Doak Walker, of Dallas, who made a short speech in which he expressed his high opinion of the county's hospitality.

Fred Jeffers of San Angelo introduced the speaker of the evening, State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. Moore of this county. Hardeman commended the people of the county for their interest in new families who move here because of the oil, and stressed the fact that the county has led in some phases of agriculture, but that 65 per cent of the taxes in Texas came from oil.

He pointed out that the American way of life, with private development of a huge business such as oil, is the result of free enterprise—and that each citizen has an obligation to keep us free from the throttling effects of government control, with its aids and grants which are in effect bribes offered by "do-gooders."

Most of the Lions helped with the serving of the food, which was prepared by Orland Harris in his portable barbecue pit. Careful planning of the event well in advance helped to make the entire affair run smoothly.

Representatives of most of the operators, contractors, truckers, supply firms, and others were present. Practically all of these listed have been active here at some time during the county's oil development, and many are still on the job.

Revenues from oil, the payrolls for employees and lease money to ranchers, have helped to keep the county in thriving condition during a major drought. Bank deposits are up, and many local business houses number oil men among their regular customers.

Progressive registered and certified cotton planting seed breeders are changing to the slurry method of Ceresan treating all the seed they sell to farmers.

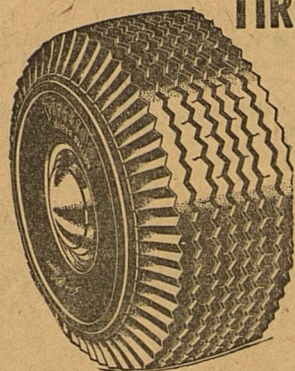

The slurry is the newest method of treating and requires a different machine from the dust method. It is the result of years of technical development and testing.

The machine referred to as the slurry treater synchronizes the flow of the seed and the disinfectant so that every bushel of seed receives the same accurate dosage of chemical.

The slurry method combines most of the long-sought features for a new material, a better method and a more foolproof machine for treating seed. It is rapid, dust-free, accurate and thorough.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Attention Ladies!

Cakes lined up—each with a number. Judges looking, breaking off pieces, tasting. The winner? Number 4—a cake with a wonderful, glossy chocolate frosting.

This was at the Women's Club last night. Then Duke Thomas stepped up—his cake was Number 4! Seems his missus was laid up, so Duke took over—and won!

Here's Duke's prize-winning frosting recipe:

Melt 3 squares unsweetened chocolate in double boiler. Remove from heat, add 1½ cups sifted confectioner's sugar and 2½ tbs. hot water and blend. Add 3 egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add

4 tbs. butter, beating thoroughly after each tbs. Fills and frosts 8-inch, 2-layer cake.

From where I sit, we all have different abilities and tastes . . . and these differences are sometimes surprising. Duke bakes prize-winning cakes. My wife, for example, can beat most any man at checkers. Same when it comes to beverages—you may like coffee or tea while I prefer a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not have any "half-baked" ideas that people are all the same—or should be.

Child Still Missing From Aztec Home

Several Eldorado relatives were among those who visited recently in Snyder, former home of Rev. Anthem Wade, whose Snyder relatives have been visiting him in the search at Aztec, N. Mex., for the Wades' son John, age three, missing from his home about three weeks. Mrs. Jeff Enochs and Mrs. Marion Wade brought back a Snyder paper, in which the following account is reported:

The Rev. and Mrs. Anthem Wade parents of the three-year-old John Wade, gave this story of the disappearance:

The entire family, which also includes another son, Larry, 9, and a daughter Betty, 5, attended services at the First Baptist church in Aztec Sunday night, May 4. Mr. Wade, the pastor, preached. After church, Mrs. Wade and the two younger children returned home a few minutes before Mr. Wade and Larry returned. Mrs. Wade prepared a light snack for the children and left them in the kitchen while she went into a bedroom.

A few moments later, the older boy and the father returned, one entering the home by the back door, and the other entering through the front. "Where's Johnny?" the father asked Mrs. Wade. The mother replied that he was in the kitchen. The father looked again in the kitchen, then asked Betty about the boy.

Betty said she thought he stepped out on the front porch but wasn't certain. Mr. and Mrs. Wade quickly looked through the house, then both porches, the yards, and then began to alarm neighbors, friends and officers.

Response in the small town was quick. The fire alarm was sounded, calling all volunteer firemen to the station to form a searching party. The sheriff's department began searching. The telephone office called every subscriber and requested each resident to search his premises. The boy was first missed about 9 o'clock that night. A few hours later all irrigation ditches in the Aztec area had been drained, but no clue was found.

By morning almost 500 persons were prepared to begin searching. Junior and senior high school students in Aztec and nearby Farmington were dismissed from classes to help in the search. School buses from Farmington took students to Aztec. The state highway patrol department sent officers to assist the sheriff's force in directing the search. Farmington police sent a radio-equipped squad car. The warden of New Mexico's penitentiary granted the sheriff's department's request to send a man with two bloodhounds to join the search. Airplanes and automobiles were liberally offered in the search which covered a radius of at least 30 miles.

Groups of 30 to 40 persons each were organized for searching in all directions from the Wade home. Streets near the home were blocked while officers examined them minutely against the theory the child might have been struck by a vehicle and carried away on its bumper or fender. No clothing or blood was found. The entire town was divided in sectors of two square blocks each, and five men were assigned each sector and instructed to "comb it inch by inch."

Probably the last friends to see the child were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dial who said they believed they saw a child on the front porch of the home as they drove by about 9 o'clock. They were not sure it was Johnny, but they said their car lights gave them a glimpse of what might have been the boy.

NEW BABIES

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Henderson are grandparents again. Their son Jim and his wife of San Francisco report the birth of a 10½-pound daughter on the 17th, in a San Francisco hospital.

Born, in San Angelo, May 14, a son to Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Robertson, who live on the Cecil Meador place. The couple have a daughter, Cindy, age two. The new baby weighed nine pounds and one ounce at birth and has been named Buford Dale.

Carl T. and Clara Mae Potter Nall report the birth of a son named Potter, recently in Corpus Christi. Grandparents in this county are Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Potter. The Nalls have two other children, Than, age seven and Judy, age five. Mrs. Potter has returned from a visit with the family.

David Lee is the name Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blakeway have given their new adopted son, born May 13, and a member of the family for about a week. He weighs eight pounds and seven ounces and is doing fine, according to reports of local relatives and friends who have called on him. Mr. Blakeway is proprietor of Blake's Electric; Mrs. Nolan McDonald is now full-time help in the office, taking over Mrs. Blakeway's former duties there.

Mrs. Roger Jones and daughter leave Friday for Paris, Texas, to be with Mrs. Jones' mother who will be operated on next Tuesday. They will be gone from home about three weeks.

Program Changes To Help Cotton Growers

Changes in the 1952 crop cotton price support program, compared with previous years, should make the program more useful to growers, B. F. Vance, chairman of the PMA State Committee announced recently.

This year, cotton loans will be made (1) by local banks, production credit associations, and other qualified local agencies, or (2) by PMA county committees, which will be authorized to issue sight drafts drawn on the Commodity Credit Corporation. Producers will be encouraged to obtain loans through local lending agencies. Loan documents will be kept in the local area, which will speed up servicing of the loans.

For the first time, purchase agreements will be available on cotton as an additional means of enabling farmers to obtain at least the support price for their cotton. Purchase agreements have been available to producers of other basic commodities during the last several years.

Under a purchase agreement, the producer has an option to sell a specified quantity of cotton to CCC at the end of the season at the applicable support rate. A small fee is charged for this accommodation. The producer retains ownership of his cotton throughout season and may sell it in the open market or hold it for sale to CCC in the event that market prices are not as favorable as the CCC support rate.

Loans will be available on cotton stored in warehouses approved by CCC or in farm storage structures approved by PMA county committees. Any cotton delivered under purchase agreements must be in a warehouse approved by CCC.

Approved lending agencies may make advance loans to producers prior to the time loan values can be determined. The average loan rate for the 1952 crop will be not less than 30.91 cents per pound, basis Middling 7/8-inch cotton, or 90 per cent of parity at the beginning of the marketing year, August 1, 1952, whichever is higher. The final rate will be announced about August 1. The rate for Middling 15/16-inch will be 1.05 cents per pound above the rate for Middling 7/8-inch cotton.

Rotary Hoe Is Recommended For Cotton Crop

College Station. — Cotton chopping and hoeing rank next to harvesting as top labor consuming operations in the production of cotton. In some sections of Texas, almost one-fourth of all the man hours required to produce a cotton crop are spent on chopping and hoeing. Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the use of rotary hoes will reduce the item and increase the income from cotton.

He says farmers last year reported savings up to 60 per cent on these two items by using the rotary hoe. The number of rotary hoe equipped farm tractors has increased from 7,000 in 1949 to almost 19,500 in 1951. Last year such equipment was used in 111 counties.

Elliott is a strong believer in using the rotary hoe for early weed control. He is quick to point out however that the ground speed of the tractor must be right and the hoe must be properly adjusted. A common mistake often made by the tractor operator is driving the tractor too slow. For best results, he says the tractor should be operated in third gear at speeds up to five or six miles per hour and even faster under favorable conditions and with an experienced operator.

As for the picker wheel adjustments, he says the wheels should be set so they will break the surface crust to a depth of one-half to three-fourths of an inch. This not only breaks up the surface crust but also tears up the soil so that seedling weeds and grass are exposed to the action of the sun and wind before they have a chance to come through the ground or before their root systems become established.

He reports that many farmers reduce the ground speed of the tractor because they are afraid of covering up the small cotton plants or damaging them as a result of the thoroughly torn up soil surface. Tests made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the results of demonstrations conducted by farmers, he says, have proved that such damage will not occur if the rotary hoe is properly adjusted. The cotton seed was planted well below the regulated depth at which the picker wheels should be run and thus very little or no damage will occur.

Cross cultivating or using a mechanical cotton chopper are two other mechanical practices which have been successfully used in some sections of the state for cutting the hoeing and chopping bill. About the latest thing for early grass and weed control in cotton is the use of special oils. These oils are more commonly known as post-emergence non-fertilized oil and di-nitro. Elliott reports that research is continuing on this project but sufficient information is available to indicate that the use of post-emergence oil and pre-emergence di-nitro sprays are practical weed and grass control measures in some sections of the state.

Elliott suggests that cotton producers contact the local county agent for the latest information on labor saving practices that may be used in producing cotton.

Property For Railroad Acquired
All titles have been cleared and deeds recorded on land purchased by the T&NO railway east of town for the proposed sub-terminal, it was shown by records at the courthouse this week. The company has paid cash for the property in excess of $30,000, according to the records.

The work of securing right-of-way through the city dump grounds at the curve east of the stock pens is being carried on. The grade will be straightened to eliminate a slow down curve in coming into the city. —Alpine Avalanche.

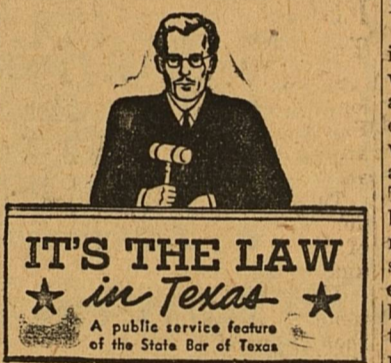

Spraying Now May Save A Pecan Crop

College Station. — The pecan nut casebearer is a bad actor. The insect is a small olive green worm that annually takes a heavy toll of the state's pecan crop especially when control measures are not applied at the right time. According to A. C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, now is the time, in most pecan producing areas, to start the control program.

After the insects hatch, the small worms move down the twigs to a cluster of nuts and begin feeding on the second or third bud below the nuts. This feeding process continues for four or five days and then the casebearer bores a hole in the pecan case and moves inside to destroy the kernel. Gunter points out that control measures must be applied during a 10 to 12 day period if they are to be effective. Once the worm enters the pecan, control is not possible.

For control, Gunter recommends the use of three pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder and six to eight pounds of wettable sulphur in 100 gallons of water. He says a thorough job of wetting each limb from top to bottom with the spray must be done. A power sprayer that will put out 20 to 35 gallons of spray material per minute at a pressure of 200 to 600 pounds should be used.

Timing and complete wetting are the two most important factors in the pecan nut casebearer control program, emphasizes the specialist, and he suggests that pecan producers contact their local county agent for information on making the spray program a success.

Power Of Attorney Explained By Bar

There are only two ways to get a thing done. You do it yourself or get someone to do it for you. When you get someone to act for you he is your agent. This right to represent you may be given orally or in writing.

It is best to have the agency relationship carefully defined and written down. When written, the document often takes the form of a "Power of Attorney."

Any person legally competent to act for himself may give to another power of attorney to act in his place. With the growth and expansion of business it is difficult for one man to handle the variety of complex tasks that some his way. It is more expedient to delegate power and responsibility to others, thus giving such persons authority to make binding contracts in his name.

The person who delegates the power is called the principal, and the person to whom the authority is given is the agent. Third persons can deal with a properly authorized agent with the knowledge that the law will enforce the obligation against the principal.

The law sets up two broad classes of agents—special and general. Most agents are special agents—that is, they have specific authority to do only certain things. When a person is named in a power of attorney as a general agent, he is authorized to act in all proper cases as if the principal were acting in person.

For example: A citizen-soldier leaves home to go to war. He needs someone to represent him while he is away. He names such a person—usually a parent, wife, or trusted friend—in a power of attorney, giving this person specific powers or a general power to act in his behalf. If the soldier wants to sell his home while overseas, he can give such agent the power to sell the home, and may limit the agent's authority to this one matter. When this agent begins negotiations for the sale, the prospective buyer can, by an examination of the power of attorney, know exactly what authority the agent has.

If the person is given a general power of attorney, he can transact all the serviceman's business as though the soldier were home to act for himself. Suppose the soldier owns a store and wants someone to run it while he is away. He may authorize this person through a power of attorney to buy, sell, extend credit, collect bills, deposit and withdraw money from the bank, and, in short, do business on the same basis as the serviceman could if he were present to run the store himself.

Excitement at the Odean

A movie writer could not have improved on some of the sequences when fire broke out Tuesday night at the Odean Theatre. The flame originated in the projection booth when a break occurred in the film, and ignited. The picture? "Smoky." There is no telephone at the theatre but a buzzer in the box-office connects with Clayton's photograph studio next door. But Otto, in the excitement, forgot to push the buzzer, and tell Clayton to summon the fire boys. So Arch Carter, a patron, rushed to the fire house and from there phoned the switchboard to sound the alarm. Damage amounted chiefly to the sound apparatus and projection machine. Otto hopes to have things running smoothly by Saturday. —Mason County News.

Screw Worm Warning Issued To Producers

COLLEGE STATION. — Surveys made in Texas by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, in cooperation with other state agencies, show that the mild winter has permitted the screwworm to overwinter as far north as Crockett, Schleicher, Menard and Lampasas counties. However, the number of reported cases is not numerous, says A. C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He points out that there is danger ahead for the livestock producers unless they treat infected animals at once and avoid using practices that may leave wounds on the animals. Recent rains over much of the state have produced favorable weather conditions for the pest and stockmen are warned to be on the alert. The destruction of the worms before they mature will not only stop further injury to the animals but will help reduce future infestations.

To prevent and cure infection caused by the screwworm, Gunter recommends the use of EQ-335, a medicine which was developed through BEPQ research. EQ-335 is applied to the wound as a smear. It contains lindane, a chemical insecticide, which has a lasting effect as a screwworm killer. One application per week, except in severe cases, is sufficient. This is a time saver because other medicines must be applied twice per week. Another big advantage for EQ-335, says Gunter, and it stems from lindane's residual killing power—is its ability to kill female screwworm flies that attempt to feed or lay eggs in the wound.

Livestock producers are urged to carefully examine all animals before shipment and again when they are unloaded. This is very important since many cattle are now being shipped from Texas to pastures in other states. All scratches, sores or wounds of any type that might possibly be infected by the worms should be treated for screwworm eggs might be present and thus would be shipped with the livestock to the new areas.

Screwworms can increase very rapidly in number if allowed to do so, says Gunter. As weather conditions become favorable, the pest will move northward at the rate of 25 to 35 miles a week. Stopping the worms before they get started will head off lots of trouble later, says the entomologist and at the same time, the use of prompt control and preventive measures will increase the market value of animals and add tons of meat to the nation's meat supply.

How to spot an expert

An expert makes hard work easier. When it comes to hauling, a GMC truck is your expert — for this very sound reason: GMC — as the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles — concerns itself 100% with the development of new and better ways to transport goods. Each model is the careful answer to specific, tough hauling problems. The new GMC "302" engine is a case in point. In addition to being America's highest-compression standard gasoline truck engine — it packs more horsepower for its weight than any other on the road! The result is savings in useless "dead weight" by as much as 500 pounds over other engines of equal horsepower. It's this kind of expert engineering that makes us sure of one thing: whatever model you select at our showroom — panel or pickup, stake rack or platform — you'll have an expert on your next job!

First Baptist News

We suffered in attendance Sunday but we will trade attendance for a wonderful rain like that any time. We had 143 in Sunday school and 67 in training union. The orphans went to the beginner department with a grade of 70, and the children to the young people's department with a grade of 39. Our average attendance for the first three Sundays in May has been 184 in Sunday school and 61 in training union. If we are to reach our goals for May we will have to have 216 in Sunday school and 89 in training union this Sunday. Can the Lord depend on you?

There was a wonderful response to the Boys' Ranch choir program last Sunday evening in the regular worship service. The numbers were well rendered and were certainly well received by the fine audience. At the request of the councilor of the boys, Mr. Jim Tom House, no public offering was taken for the Ranch, but anyone wishing to make an offering may do so. It may be given through the church and the offering will be sent to the ranch. Our church voted at last church conference to include the ranch in the church budget and will vote next conference night which is June 4, how much will be included in the budget. This is a worthy work and those who saw and heard the choir know it is a good investment.

A fairly good group attended the Brotherhood supper and the program that followed in the church auditorium, but many more should have availed themselves of this wonderful opportunity. Brother A. C. Wimpee is probably the outstanding worker with youth in the South. His program was well received by those who took the time to attend the services. We heartily recommend A. C. Wimpee to any organization as a top flight entertainer and speaker. If you are missing these brotherhood services you are missing some rich blessings. Each Monday following the third Sunday in the month our Men's Brotherhood meets. All from the ages of 16 to 116 are eligible for this organization.

It was our happy privilege to have a fine group of workers from the Immanuel Baptist church of San Angelo to help us with our first faculty meeting for our Vacation Bible school workers for this year. Mrs. J. B. Burrell led the nursery workers, Mrs. Truett Ray led the Beginner workers, Miss Margaret Owen the Primary, and Mrs. Taylor Henley the Junior and Intermediate, and Bro. Henley the general conference. Bro. Nelson led the Secretary conference. Lunch was served at the church at noon and the inspirational message was brought at 11:30 by Bro. Henley. The workers who failed to make this meeting missed a great blessing; we were thankful for the response from our workers. This was one of our most valuable meetings in preparation for our school. The school will be from June 2 through 13. Ages 2 through 16. Workers are still needed.

Don't forget these two very important dates and events in May. May 30 through June 1, weekend mission revival. Brother Ivey Miller returned missionary from Chile will be our speaker. And on Saturday evening May 31 we will have as our guest the young people of Concho Valley Association. This is a wonderful treat for us and we must all mark on our calendar these dates and events as a must.

Then Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m. we will have our monthly workers' conference for our Sunday school. Everyone who is interested in our Sunday school is urged to be present. This is a vital service if we are to build a Sunday school that will count for the Lord.

We welcome those who visited with us Sunday and if you are a Baptist we invite you to make our church your church home. The following visitors were in our services Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brittain, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Smith, William Penley, Mrs. John Westbrook, Mrs. Lydia Thorp, Mrs. T. L. Westbrook, Patsy Rosson, Wanda Whitman. We consider it an honor to have visitors in our services and offer a genuine and warm welcome for each and all to be in any and all of our services. We strive to live up to our church motto, "The Friendly Church With the Spiritual Program."

The pastor will preach at both regular services Sunday. His message at the morning worship hour will be, "Life's Greatest Tragedy," and at the evening worship hour he will speak on the subject, "The Christian Look." A very warm welcome is extended to all to hear the warm and moving messages by our pastor. Remember that visitors are welcome and members are expected at all of our services.

GRADUATES HONORED

Honoring Suzy Linthicum and Lola Beth Ballew, who received their diplomas Friday, Mrs. H. T. Finley entertained with a coke party on the lighted lawn at the Finley home Tuesday evening of last week from 6:00 to 8:00.

Present were the Senior girls, also Carolyn Ratliff, Barbara West, Martha Dell Williams, Mrs. Horace Linthicum, Mrs. Carroll Ratliff, and Mrs. Lewis Ballew.

The group spent the evening visiting and were served congealed salad, coconut cake squares, sandwiches and cokes.

GIVE THANKS

"In everything give thanks." I Thes. 5:18.

Here is a good commandment to keep now for everyone who needed rain from Heaven for so long and have now received it. Have you, on your knees, bowed in secret and told your heavenly Father that you thank Him for His blessings from Heaven?

Let me ask you a question first. Is He your father or is Satan still your father?

Many people are still trying to evade the main issue of their lives, and that question is "have you been reborn?"

Your own children didn't talk to you until they were born, neither do you talk to God the Father until you have been reborn.

I have heard some cursing God because of the drought and using His name in vain. Now, blasphemers, are you still using His name in adoration.

I saw some that prayed for rain and when it did rain the first thing they did was to plant on the Lord's Day, Sunday. The day He arose from the grave and guaranteed you a free pass into heaven. Friend, why didn't you go to the church for your choice on Sunday and thank Him for His mercy and grace. Remember you will have to face Him someday. Will you face Him as judge or father? We are in the midst of a revival so come and give God a chance to save you by His grace. God is blessing. If you can't come pray for us.

Dr. Moser is doing a good job of reaping the bread of life to us. Come and see. —F. H. Pryor, Fundamental Baptist church.

ELKINS TO SPEAK AT S.A.C.

The subject of Dr. Elkins' address will be "A Time for Decision."
