'clock polls will open in nine voting boxes to give the voters of Schleicher County the final say in seven hotly contested local racesin many of which it is predicted the outcome will be very close.

The offices in which there are opposing candidates are: Sheriff, Treasurer, Judge, Clerk and Commissioner in Precincts One, Two and Four.

The day will be somewhat in the nature of a holiday in Eldorado for those who come to vote and remain for returns that night. Several cue, sandwiches, etc., and returns will be posted at night on boards in front of at least two business houses.

Voting Preparations

Election judges and many of their helpers met Saturday afternoon at the court house and went over their duties and responsibilities in a meeting conducted by Ernest Hill, County Democratic Chairman. There was considerable discussion on the subject of absentee voting, and the chairman warned that the privilege of absentee voting should not be abused. Election judges were instructed to inform themselves on what constituted a qualified voter-residence requirements, etc. It was pointed out further, that on election day, the Election Judge's decision is final. (There is no use arguing with him if he says you can't vote.) In summing up his instructions to his workers, Mr. Hill said, "Our only responsibility is to see that we have a just, honest and fair election.' At the close of the meeting, Edwin Jackson, next county chairman, made a plea for more interest in precinct conventions, and more voters in the November general election.

There are nine voting boxes and one absentee voting box. These, together with the election judge

The Sheriff's Job

Now, this Sheriff's job is a curious one; Like the housewife's work, it's never done. Calls come by night and come by day; They may be near, or miles away. Do hurry up, says the voice of the caller; You're badly needed in Possum Holler. Pa's on a rampage; he's got a gun Been looking for Maw since half-past one. So we jump in our flivver and hit the trail; And drive like a streamliner carrying the mail. Our only hope, and all we can figger, Is to be on hand before Pa pulls the trigger. We finally arrive and amid confusion— We learn the affair was a simple delusion. Pa with his gun was just hunting squirrels; Ma had gone to school with the two oldest girls, Next day we're hunting a mottle-faced cow; That night we referee a nice family row. Now, that's just a sample of what we do; An endless variety of the old and the new. It may be a prowler, a burglar, a drunk; He may steal your billfold, your watch or your trunk. We set out to catch him, and we do our best; We catch our percentage and lose the rest. We can't catch them all, for some leave no clue— They don't leave their cards, like the candidates do. Sometimes they plead guilty, and the judge will scold Then half the country will want them paroled. They blame the depression, the New Deal, the tariff; But most of the people put the blame on the sheriff. So, it's quite a game if you stay right in— You'll get a pat on the back, and a sock on the chin. But, I like it fine, and I'm shedding no tears-And I'd like to be your sheriff for another two years.

This is happening while the total population of the nation climbs about 7,000 persons per day. Thus the demand for food and fiber climbs with the increase in population and at the same time, fewer families are left on the farms and ranches of the nation to produce these needed demands. Bates says more machinery and labor saving practices must be used by operators to offset the declining farm labor force. This condition requires that farm operators more carefully plan their operations in order to get the maximum returns from their own and hired labor.

To make each hour count and become more productive, Bates suggests that machinery and equippersonnel be fully trained in hand-daughter Ruth.

Wave action is very important to maintaining a supply of oxygen in the water, and during periods when this action is at a minimum, trouble may develop. Also, he says, the pond vegetation, including various pond weeds and microscopic algae. such action may save the fish. Callender points out that heavy applications of fertilizer should not be applied to ponds during July and August, especially in ponds that are heavily infested with pond mosses. The fertilizer stimulates the growth of microscopic algae to such an extent that the water is clouded up and sunlight cannot penetrate the water to sustain the life of the vegetation. This decaying vegetation, in decomposing, takes up the free oxygen in the water and thus worsens the oxygen

Fish, he says, sometimes die from poison getting into the water. Toxophene and DDT are deadly to fish and when they have been used on crops or grasshoppers on the pond watershed, heavy rains following their application may wash them into the pond.

Parasites sometimes cause fish to die, but generally, says the specialist, parasites don't cause heavy osses. Heavy infestations of parasites do lower the vitality of fish and may contribute to their death. The yellow grub is the most common of the parasites infesting fish. Others include the threadworm or nematodes, spiny-headed worms, tapeworms and flukes. None of these parasites found in this country are harmful to man, says Cal-

College Station. - A homemaker can help herself be a good manager. In actual practice, good management means doing a job easier, according to Minnie Bell, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It simply means work simpli

Miss Bell points out that a good home manager is a planner, a decision maker, a director, a teacher, an evaluator, coordinator and consumer buyer all at the same time. Home management furnishes the "how" and is the over-all direction of the activities in the home which lead toward achieving in dividual and family satisfaction.

One of the most important, yet often said to be the most trouble some, parts of home management is planning long-time goals. The family may know what they want today, tomorrow or next year, but often fail to recognize needs ten or more years away. Since planning is so important, Miss Bell says the whole home management program is effected when it is omitted.

Families need to recognize they live in cycles and should plan accordingly. The specialist states that demands on family incomes are light during early marriage. They become increasingly heavier through grade and high school and perhaps even heavier during the college cycyle.

Then the recovery or "rediscovery period," after the children have left home, the financial demands become lighter again. Miss Bel explains that the retirement years are usually the lightest of all.

Johnny Hill of Ingram was in Eldorado Monday visiting friends in behalf of his campaign for state representative from this district.

Hill is the son of Dr. P. B. Hill of Hunt, Texas, who is heard each Sunday morning at 9:30 over Station WOAI by many who live in this area. He is an elder in the Presbyterian church, a veteran of World War II, a member of the Masonic Lodge, and has made an outstanding success in his own bus-

Hill is bitterly opposed to mathine politics and believes that each individual should be able to vote directly for their choice of president. He proposes a mandatory death sentence for sale of narcotics to minors and promises to work towards stopping strikes in defense ndustries while we are at war. Hil has spoken at length against the socialistic trend and pledges to continue the fight if elected.

He was a guest at the joint Brotherhood meeting Monday night at the Presbyterian church.

For A Second Term GOVERNOR

The Truth About Old Age Assistance

Governor Allan Shivers wrote and helped pass the first Old-Age Assistance Law in Texas.

He stands for equitable distribution of funds for the needy.

Two years ago he was one of the leaders who tried to get more money for the aged, a cause that failed because the voters disapproved a constitutional amendment.

Governor Shivers has, in the past and will in the future, advocate making available to our deserving aged citizens not merely enough for a meager existence, but sufficient funds to carry them through the evening years of life as proud; dignified citizens.

An increase of $5 in each pension check is due next October.

The Truth About County Road Funds

Farm-to-market road building has been the greatest in history during the Shivers administration.

During Governor Shivers' administration, Schleicher county has received $434,772 rural road benefits from state highway user taxes as follows:

License fees $71,480, road bond surplus $40,091, construction of farm-to-market roads $187,200, authorized but not under construction

In this county, 22 miles of farmto-market roads have been built, and an additional 14 miles have been authorized for construction, for a total of 36 miles.

Governor Shivers' administration has consistently supported the Schleicher county road building program and will continue to do so in the future.

County Treasurer

Again I am seeking re-election to the office of County Treasurer.

I am humbly grateful to you for the privilege of serving Schleicher County in this important office.

The ten years experience I had in the office of County and District Clerk in Robert Lee, Texas, and the years I have served as County Treasurer of this county enables me to better understand county government.

So on the basis of my training and experience I ask you to give me due consideration before you cast your vote. Since it is necessary that I continue to do some type of work, I certainly would be happy to keep the office I now hold and am familiar with. And if re-elected will, as has always been my custom, conduct the affairs of County Treasurer in an efficient, conscientious and businesslike manner.
