Woman fined in deputy bite

A woman who bit a deputy who tried to give her a speeding ticket has been given a 60-day jail sentence and a $1,000 fine.

Leslie Hebel of Davenport, Iowa, was sentenced for speeding and resisting arrest. She also was ordered to pay a $54 traffic fine, court costs and the deputy's medical bills.

Scott County Sheriff Mike Bladel said the 32-year-old woman was on her way to work when Deputy Elbert Austin pulled her over for speeding.

She refused to sign the ticket and called 911 on her cell phone to complain that Austin was harassing her, Bladel said.

Dispatchers advised her to sign the ticket. When she still refused, Austin tried to arrest her and she bit into his arm.

Trio rewarded for capture

Three strangers who banded together on a commuter train to collar an escaped serial rapist are sharing more than $20,000 in rewards, thanks to an anonymous donor.

The men — Richard Stampflee, Daniel Hicks and Earl Phelps — were riding through Hillsboro, Ore., on a light-rail train when Phelps spotted Richard Cantu.

Cantu had escaped from the Washington County courthouse the day before after pleading guilty to a series of violent sex crimes.

When Phelps, 27, noticed Cantu aboard the train, he enlisted Stampflee, 19, and Hicks, 18, to help snare him. The three ended up chasing Cantu off the train into the Portland suburb and tearing through a field before finally bringing him down on the tracks.

An unnamed donor stepped forward to reward the men's bravery, greatly supplementing the authorities' reward of less than $2,000.

High school golf season begins

By KEVIN WILSON
Writer

High school golf season is under way for both boys and girls, and Muleshoe head coach Kodi Crane wants to make the most of the next two months.

"We have a good shot," Crane said. "We're going to have to play well to get out of our district, though."

The boys' team, which finished runner-up at regional last year, returns several members — including Ryan Hodge, who placed second in district, and A.J. Burhman, who placed fifth.

The team also includes Kole Magby, Jordan Pool, Andy Dominguez and Davis Morris. Kyle Atwood also just came onto the team, having finished basketball season.

The girls' team finished second in the district last year but graduated three seniors. This year's team is mostly composed of sophomores with little experience, Crane said.

Rounding out the girls' team are Rendi Hodge, Candace Hutto, Amanda Bell, Kristen Magby and Nikki Bonds.

The girls played very well in their opener at the Friona Invitational, placing third. The boys also took third in Friona and then placed fourth in the Roosevelt Invitational on Thursday.

For every meet, the teams bring five players to compete and the best four scores make up the team score.

During the season, the boys play three non-district tournaments and three district tournaments. The girls play two non-district tournaments and three in the district.

Before Muleshoe hosts a tournament, the boys will travel to the Seminole Invitational on Wednesday and the girls will go to the Tulia Invitational on Thursday.

Since the season is so short, Crane doesn't focus on changing anybody's swing or making major overhauls. However, great strides can be made in the short game, especially from 100 yards in.

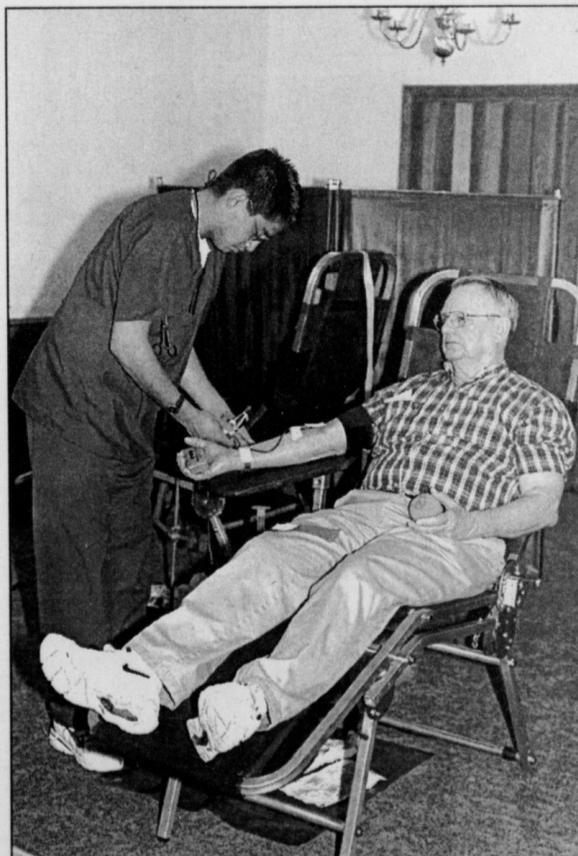

The Mules have until the end of April to have their games on point. Both the boys and girls will hope to do well in the regional tournament April 24-25 in Odessa.

Primary voting deadline approaches

Bailey County Clerk Sherri Harrison reminds voters that Tuesday is the last day to apply for early voting and Friday is the last day to vote early for the March 14 primaries.

Harrison said she will provide curb service for voters who cannot climb stairs.

Party chairmen remind their members that precinct meetings will be held after polls close on election day.

LOVE.
 All it was meant to be.

What is love, really? Is it romance...or being with people you like? Is it giving and receiving nice things? Is it about hard work, or sacrifice, or putting the needs of others first? Well, love can be about all those things. But there is one perfect love, God's love...and it can strengthen all others.

We're your neighbors, the people of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

And we want you to know that, with Jesus Christ, love really can be all it was meant to be.

60 attend the Plains Cotton Growers board meeting

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

More than 60 people attended Wednesday's specially called meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers board of directors.

Craig Blindert, producer from South Dakota, presented to the group his outline of a proposed farm policy amendment to the FAIR Act going under the name of Flexible Fallow Program or the Food Security and Land Stewardship Act.

He commented the program is not intended to be a replacement for the FAIR Act but rather an additional feature to the existing legislation.

Blindert, who is also a crop insurance agent, wants to see a farm program amendment that will allow farmers to adjust production in response to the prices offered by the true market.

He suggested that this could be done by arming farmers with a risk management tool that would encourage them to plan their production to meet current demand.

He also wants to see these and other policy improvements provided in a way that would reduce spending and enhance the quality of life for farmers and their neighbors.

The cotton group's leadership was able to draw on broad participation from the entire group present to help focus on developing solutions for agricultural and farm policy.

Plains Cotton Growers is preparing written comments for submission to the House Committee on Agriculture which is conducting farm policy field hearings during March, April and May.

The Lubbock hearing will be held at 9 a.m. March 6 in the Civic Center banquet hall at Sixth Street and Avenue O.

Live audio of the hearings will be carried on the U.S. House Committee on Agriculture's web site at <http://www.house.gov/agriculture>.

Love Is More of an Action Than It Is a Feeling

Contrary to the pseudo-wisdom you'll find besmirching the radio waves in any number of insipidly sentimental songs, love is not as much something you feel as something you do.

I'm convinced that statement is true, although a whole troop of toothpaste advertisers and

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

"romance" novelists and much of our modern society disagree. Folks writing most songs, movies, and TV shows would have us believe that love is something you catch. Like chicken pox or mumps. If you've got it, you've got it; if you don't, you don't, and there is precious little you can do about it either way.

People who hold this warm, fuzzy view of love have a hard time understanding the wise marriage counselor's words to the man who moaned, "I just don't love my wife anymore." The counselor minced no words, "Well, for goodness' sake, go home and love her!"

If love is just a feeling that comes upon you like vertigo or a hot flash, Jesus' plain words, "Love your enemies," are sheer nonsense. Impossible. Illogical.

But they are not nonsense. They are a breath of fresh air and wisdom almost lost today in a smoggy atmosphere where infatuation and body heat pass for love.

Jesus was saying that love is primarily an act of the will, that we can choose to act in a loving way whether we feel like it or not. Someone has said it this way: "You don't feel yourself into a better way of acting; you act yourself into a better way of feeling." (If you don't savvy that, better postpone marriage until you do.) Actions first, feelings follow.

If you want to love your wife, act like it. If you want to love your enemies, act in proper ways toward them. (Notice, he doesn't tell you to try to conjure up warm feelings toward them or even like them very much; just behave in ways that do not violate love.) And, what if you want to learn to love God?

C. S. Lewis gives the key: "I cannot learn to love God except by learning to obey him." Which is exactly what the apostle John is saying when he tells us that for the man who keeps God's word, his commandments, his precepts, "in him truly love for God is perfected" (1 John 2:5).

Do we really wish to love God? Then we must act like it.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

"HE WAS A MIGHTY HUNTER BEFORE THE LORD!"

NIMROD WAS A SON OF KUSH AND A GRANDSON OF HAM, ONE OF THE THREE SONS OF NOAH. THE EVENTS OF HIS LIFE ARE RECORDED IN A SINGLE PASSAGE (GEN. 10:8-FF) WHICH, FROM THE CONCISENESS OF ITS LANGUAGE, LEAVES CONSIDERABLE UNCERTAINTY ABOUT HIS REIGN. ALL THAT WE KNOW OF NIMROD IS THAT HE WAS "A MIGHTY HUNTER BEFORE THE LORD" AND A POTENT MONARCH, THE BEGINNINGS OF WHOSE ORIGINAL KINGDOM EMBRACED BABEL, ERECH, ACCAD AND CALNEH, CITIES IN THE LAND OF SHINAR. HE WAS SOMEWHAT OF A CONQUEROR BECAUSE HIS KINGDOM KEPT ADVANCING IN TERRITORY UNTIL IT HAD PROGRESSED INTO ASSYRIA, WHERE HE IS SAID TO HAVE FOUNDED THE GREAT CITY OF NINEVEH! ANY OF HIS FURTHER ACHIEVEMENTS ARE LOST IN THE ANNALS OF TIME, BUT WE STILL SPEAK OF A SKILLFUL HUNTER AS BEING A "NIMROD" -- SMALL GLORY FOR ONE WHO WAS A "MIGHTY EMPEROR!"

Texas Attorney General files lawsuit against investment scheme

AUSTIN — Texas Attorney General John Cornyn recently filed a lawsuit to shut down an alleged "Ponzi" scheme in which 80 investors lost about $9 million.

The lawsuit alleges that Bradley J. Farley, owner of San Antonio-based Abba Funding, committed felonies in not registering as a securities dealer with the Texas State Securities Board and selling unregistered securities promising a high rate of return.

"When you prey upon innocent consumers, you are going to pay the price," Cornyn said.

A typical investor paid Farley $100,000 and believed they were buying a federally insured $100,000 certificate of deposit. Many investors signed a contract naming Farley as the trustee of their investment, Cornyn said.

Ponzi schemes rely on a steady stream of new money to pay previous investors. Usually, early investors tell their friends about payments they receive and believe these payments are investment returns. Payments often come straight from new investors. When the stream of money dries up, later investors do not get paid and the scheme collapses.

On Feb. 15, Bexar County District Court issued a temporary restraining order and ordered all banks known to have accounts with Farley to freeze those accounts and turn over records of Farley's transactions.

The attorney general's lawsuit seeks restitution for consumers and civil penalties of $10,000 to $100,000 per violation if the court finds that Farley's operation targeted consumers of more than 65 years old.

Survivors await compensation

Holocaust survivors who reside in Texas have not received offers of compensation to date.

"With a formal process now in place, hopefully our survivors will hear some good news soon,"

Texas Insurance Commissioner José Montemayor said.

An international team of experts has begun verifying insurance claims by survivors of the Holocaust.

At a hearing in Houston in August 1998, more than a dozen survivors testified that the Nazis had stripped them of possessions, including life insurance policies. Since the hearing, the Texas Department of Insurance has assisted 136 individuals with their inquires and claims.

Roadside mowing allowed

The Texas Department of Transportation has notified the Texas Department of Agriculture that farmers and ranchers who obtain written approval from TxDOT district offices can mow and bale vegetation on highway rights-of-way in Texas.

"With the miles of highway rights-of-way in Texas, this will be of help to livestock producers whose hay supplies are dwindling due to drought and supplemental feeding starting earlier than usual," Texas Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs said.

Other highlights

• Austin-based E-Court Inc.

has contracted with several Texas municipal courts to install computer software that will allow citizens to pay traffic fines online. Laredo city officials expect the software to cut down on staffing needs and allow them to collect health fees and delinquent property taxes.

• The Texas Racing Commission voted last week to allow a group of Retama Park officials to build Austin Jockey Club Ltd., a $14 million race track near Austin-Bergstrom International Airport. An older parimutuel track, Manor Downs is only a few miles from the site.

• More than 20,800 applications have come in for slightly more than 7,000 spots in the new freshman class at the University of Texas, the Austin American-Statesman reported last week.

That's an all-time high. Last year, UT-Austin received about 18,200 freshman applications.

• The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation of Seattle awarded a $184,000 grant to the Austin Public Library. The funds will buy 70 or more computers, to be used for public Internet access, and 17 printers.

ENGAGEMENT

Page — Kerby

Norman and Belinda Page of Aspermont, Texas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nikki Jo, to Jason Kerby, son of Al and Susan Kerby of Bovina. The bride-elect graduated from Aspermont High School in 1998 and attends Western Texas College in Snyder. The prospective bridegroom graduated from Bovina High School in 1997 and will graduate from Western Texas College in May with a degree in golf course operations. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Clara Walker of Aspermont. The prospective groom is the grandson of Al and Jeanne Kerby of Bovina, Charlene Treider of Muleshoe and the late Roy Lee Farley. The wedding is scheduled for 3 p.m. June 3 in the Central Baptist Church of Aspermont.

Cattlemen starting to cut production

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL COLLEGE STATION—Limited forage and water supplies are forcing livestock producers across the state to reduce their stocking rates, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reports.

District Extension director Scott Durham of San Angelo said the reductions come at a time when Texas producers were hoping to rebuild herds that were already reduced during the 1996 drought. "Producers had to reduce their stocking rates considerably, and they haven't been able to rebuild those herds," he said. "Now with the drastic reductions of this year, we are not going to see any rebuilding."

According to the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, Texas beef cow numbers dropped by 100,000, and Texas sheep and lamb numbers dropped by 150,000 in 1999.

Durham said producers are reducing their herds to cope with the continuing costs associated with the drought.

"The forage supply is limited, and stock tanks are dry," he said. "Livestock are requiring other means, and hauling water and supplemental feeding become costly."

Durham said even supplemental feeding supplies are limited, as hay is in short supply.

"We didn't produce very much hay to begin with," he said. "So naturally we're experiencing low inventories accompanied by high prices."

Durham said producers are also reducing their herds to protect their forage resources.

"Leaving more soil and forage undisturbed will certainly allow for a quicker recovery following the drought," he said.

District Extension director Galen Chandler of Vernon said cattle producers struggling to maintain forage and water supplies are also opting to sell older cows to capitalize on relatively high cattle prices.

"There are higher than normal cattle runs at area livestock auction barns due to high prices and drought conditions," he said. "Light weight stocker cattle are being pulled off wheat pastures and shipped to feed lots."

District Extension director Dr. Bob Robinson of Amarillo said warm and dry weather continues in the Panhandle.

"As a result, range conditions are very poor to fair," he said. "Until substantial moisture is received, growth will be slow."

Robinson said wheat is also rated very poor to fair.

"Dryland wheat is very moisture stressed, and some stands have been lost," he said. "Greenbug infestations continue to increase."

District Extension director Randy Upshaw of Dallas said drought conditions persist in North Texas.

"We are 10 inches behind in rainfall," he said. "Soil moisture is becoming critically low."

Upshaw said the livestock are in fair condition. "Hay is increasing in price, however, and ponds are either low or dry."

South Plains soil moisture is very short; dry conditions and above normal temperatures continue to affect wheat pastures and rangeland.

Dryland wheat on the South Plains is dead; irrigated wheat is suffering.

Religious poetry contest offers $1,000 prize

A $1,000 grand prize is being offered in a special religious poetry contest sponsored by the New Jersey Rainbow Poets, free to anyone who has ever written a poem. There are 28 prizes in all, totaling more than $2,000, and the deadline for entering is March 17.

To enter, send only one poem of 21 lines or less to Free Poetry Contest, 103 N. Wood Ave., PMB 70, Linden, N.J. 07036. Or enter on-line at www.freecontest.com.

"We think great religious poems can inspire achievement," says Frederick Young, the organization's contest director. "We're especially keen on inspiring amateur poets and we think this competition will accomplish that. Texas has produced many wonderful poets over the years, and we'd like to discover new ones from among the Muleshoe-area grass-roots poets."

More information is available by contacting Mr. Young at (908) 486-1834.
