Paradise For Local Hunters Due This Fall

Following a report last week about wildlife coming into town, a number of people have been visiting Blakeway's pond to see the ducks.

Game Warden Bill Works went over there one morning recently and estimated that there were 2500 of the birds resting on that small body of water. He also says that ponds all over the county are teeming with ducks, which he says have migrated down here from Canada, and that they will remain in this area as long as water and feed is abundant.

On a trip west of town Works reports seeing about six Sandhill geese as well as a dozen Canadian geese.

Hunting season for ducks opens on November 18. The hunter must have a duck stamp which can be obtained at the post office for $3. The limits are three ducks per day, and no more than six in your possession.

The deer population in the Hill country has also been increasing by leaps and bounds and this year permits will be issued for the taking of antlerless deer in many areas.

Local Game Warden Named Conservationist

The Texas Game and Fish Commission last week selected 40 game wardens from over the state and designated them as conservation officers of wildlife.

Among those named was Bill Works of Schleicher county who is one of 13 in Region One which is an area lying between Wichita Falls and Del Rio.

Bill says that the nicest thing about it is that the appointment carries with it a generous increase in salary.

Boy Scouts Are Meeting Each Monday Night

Boy Scouts of Eldorado's Troop 18 are meeting each Monday night at 6:30 at the Scout hall. Jack Mills is Scoutmaster and Jack Mund is his assistant.

David Nixon, Claude Mills, and Mickey Pennington recently passed their Tenderfoot requirements.

Mr. Mills expressed his appreciation to the counselors who have assisted him.

Theme of meetings in November is First Aid.

Verna Lux Is This Year's D. A. R. Good Citizen

VERNA ANN LUX

Recently elected to receive the D. A. R. Award by the members of the Senior class and the faculty of Eldorado High school was Verna Ann Lux. Miss Lux is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Lux.

Miss Lux entered the Eldorado schools in the first grade and has been an active member of the school life as well as a good student. This year she is serving as president of the Future Homemakers, treasurer of the Senior class, and as a cheer leader. She has been a member of the girls basketball team for four years, FFA four years, served as a class officer two years, FFA sweetheart her Junior year, class favorite her Sophomore year, and has been an active member of 4-H for seven years.

Post Script

The old Hoover building, formerly occupied by the Success, has been receiving a face-lifting this week and will become the location for a distributing office for Cudahy Packing Company.

According to their ad on page 5 of this paper, Sam Oglesby and his son Bob have become the distributors for the complete line of Cudahy's livestock minerals and protein feeds.

The windows were cleaned up on Tuesday and the front has received two coats of white paint. Work has also been going on, sprucing up the interior and a quantity of merchandise has been arriving.

We welcome the new establishment to the Eldorado business district. There are too many empty buildings on Main street and we are glad to see this one again occupied.

—ps—

With our subscribers: Bob Steward's new address is San Angelo is 106 E. 12th.

A. R. Parker has moved back to Eldorado from Midland.

—ps—

Ralph Waldron was in the Success office Monday with a recent record sheet from the barometer at the Rancho station south of town. Shock waves from the firing of the 50 megaton bomb in Russia last week were recorded on it. Mr. Waldron reported that the weather station near San Angelo also recorded the waves on their barometer, which were of about five minutes duration.

—ps—

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whiteley traded their house near the airport last week for one of Gus Love's houses south of the Co-Op building. They moved to their new home last Saturday. Love has already rented the former Whiteley place.

In other real estate news, Clay Porter closed a deal last week for the purchase of Fred Furr's residence in the east part of town. Furr vacated the house Sunday and have taken up residence in the Prugel rent house.

—ps—

New in Eldorado: E. G. Keener in Riley house; H. W. Barker in Taylor house.

—ps—

Building going on: Workmen were casting the cement foundation yesterday for the new house in Sunset Acres being built for Mrs. V. G. Tisdale. The house will have 2100-plus square feet and 2½ baths, and will be brick-veneered. Stein Lumber Co. of Kingsland is contractor.

Work is continuing on the addition to the Dick Preston house. The bricklayer is expected any day to start on the fireplace.

Interior work is continuing on the Rock Courts building on the San Angelo highway, converting the structure into the new Catholic church. Taping of sheet rock and refinishing of pews was going on this week.

The Lum Davis family moved a week ago to their new brick house in the south part of town.

—ps—

The school cafeteria is serving chicken today instead of steamed smoked sausage as reported in last week's Success. Supt. Whitis reported yesterday that the school had received 18 cases of chicken from the government and they were having to use them up.

Lions Club Meets

A band ensemble composed of Glenn Mathews, Robert Jay, Buren Whitten, Marylu Ray, and Judy Hext, rendered several selections at yesterday's meeting of the Eldorado Lions club. They were introduced by A. M. Whitis, program chairman for this month.

Major Adrian Webb discussed the Air Force train which is here now, and which is participating in the simulated bombing missions of Strategic Air Command aircraft.

C of C Meeting Is Set

All members of the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce are urged to be on hand Tuesday night at 7:00 in the county court room to elect a new board of directors and president.

Ed Meador has been president this past year.

Eagles Defeat Big Lake Last Week 7 to 0; Ozona Here for Final Game Tomorrow Nite

Eldorado High school did bounce back Friday night to defeat the aggressive Reagan County - Big Lake Owls 7-0. It was a cold nervous night for a long time.

When a team has carried the heavy upper dog role as long as the Eagles have, and when they suffer a defeat such as at Sonora, it is hard for its members to snap back. As many another team has done, the Eagles had to call upon their youthful members to turn the trick.

Midway in the second quarter, "Jolting Jim" Cheek, veteran Eagle field commander, received a bruised back so painful that he couldn't continue his grueling duties. Apprentice Field CO Lynn Meador took over Cheek's heavy responsibilities for the remainder of the game.

While the Eagle stalwarts up front stymied repeated Big Lake drives for touchdowns, they were worn and weary and just couldn't blast a way for Big Donnie Holden to run as he has all season.

So Sophomore Gary Whitten, deadily open field tackler, took over offensive chores with some six minutes in the stalemated game. His flaming determination drove him through in a defensive thrust into the Big Lake backfield where he downed a Big Lake back for many yards loss. His offensive fireworks occurred only a few plays later. Another youthful Eagle, Ray Ballew, then set the stage for Whitten's "fuzze lighting" by intercepting Owl Quarterback Bud Farr's pass on Eldorado's 26-yard line. An offside set the Eagles back to the 21.

With less than four minutes to go, Whitten took three Lynn Meador handoffs for 48 yards. Meador himself contributed 20 more. Big Donnie Holden added 9 more and there lay the ball only three yards from the "happy ending."

Eagle stalwart Fullback John McGregor then whammed over his own right side to score standing up. He then calmly demonstrated that his educated toe was still "certified" and booted the extra point neatly between the goal posts.

That made it curtains for the Owls and the game ended moments later with the Eagles out front a big 7-0.

Not only did John McGregor drive over the Owl goal line and kick the extra point, but he personally vetoed at least five times Owl Fullback Gary Miller's rushes from McGregors linebackers' position when Miller was in process of breaking away through the Eagle line. Owl Miller was most capably assisted in these thrusts by Owl Center Jim Parker, Guard Bill Shields, and Tackle Jimmy Munn. But John McGregor said "No" and Miller never got away.

Area sportswriters called the Eagles "sluggish," but apparently overlooked the sterling defensive work of Messrs. Donnie Holden, Mike Jurecek, Dennis Jurecek, Pete Logan, and Ray Ballew which contained the Owls' furious offensive efforts repeatedly. The Eldorado line was determined to save the Big Lake schools the cost of scoreboard electricity; and the Owl end of the clock remained bare.

Before Jim Cheek was forced to leave the game, he completed two of four passes for 20 yards. His replacement, Lynn Meador, threw three, completing one for 15 yards.

Statistics show that the Eagles just stopped the Owls when the chips were down. The Owls ground out 161 yards in 12 first downs to the Eagles' 131 yards on 11 first downs. The Owls completed two of nine passes to add 25 yards for a total of 186 for the night. The Eagles added 35 yards by air to post a night's total of 166. But the Eagles put 79 of their yards together at one time and this was the difference.

Big Lake didn't intercept a single Eagle aerial nor capture an Eldorado fumble; but the Eagles captured three Owl passes and three Owl fumbles as well.

In the penalty department, the Eagles drew two for 20 yards while the Owls had the whistle blown on them three times for 15 yards.

The Eagles punted four times for an average of 39 yards while the Owls booted three for 38.

Unless the Owls can snap back and defeat the Sonora Broncos Friday night, some seven Eagles will end their high school playing careers on the "end-of-the-road-game" tomorrow night at Eagle stadium.

Ozona Here Tomorrow

The Ozona Lions will be here tomorrow night for the Eagles' final scheduled game of the 1961 season. Kick-off time is 7:30 and Norman Cash will be honored at half-time.

When the Eagles take the field tomorrow night against the Ozona Lions, it probably won't be a gay and happy occasion for the Lions. The Eagles and Lions have been at each other a long 35 years; but the Eagles will have absorbed some life-giving victory vitamins and the odds are very good that they will take the Lions to a "cat thrashing" even though the Lions will certainly not take any such humiliating treatment sitting down and passively.

Incidentally Ozona ranks Eldorado with a whole school student body numbering approximately 370 to Eldorado's 600. The Crockett County school also ranks Eldorado dollar-wise with $31,500,000 district evaluation to somewhat better than $18,000,000 for Eldorado. Ozona requires 38c of a $1.69 tax rate for building indebtedness. Ozona is not a member of the elite Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Eldorado is.

Ozona has had an indifferent season and a victory over the Eagles would enable them to end the season with a happy glow.

There is a very good chance that the Lions won't be able to wind up the season so pleasantly as the Eagles greatly admire the green glow that illuminates the stage well of Eldorado High School auditorium from time to time.

Cash To Be Honored During Half - Time

Norman Cash of the Detroit Tigers and his wife, the former Myrta Bob Harper, are to be honored during half-time of the Ozona game by the Eldorado Lions club and the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce.

The Cashes will be introduced and will be presented gifts from the two local organizations.

Three events at widely separated points were scheduled this week honoring Mr. Cash. The first one was Monday night at San Angelo college. The second will be at the Ozona game tomorrow night, and the third will be Saturday at Alpine (the last named event is fully described elsewhere in this Success issue).

Eagle Band Will Perform At Final Game Tomorrow Night

New Uniforms Were In Use For The First Time This Season

Final Performance Of P-TA Play Is Tonight

Tonight, Thursday, the second and final performance of "You Can't Take It With You," will be presented in the school auditorium. Curtain time is 8:00 o'clock.

The first performance was given Tuesday, and was well received by a large crowd. Bill Bowen directed the play.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mittel spent the week end in Waco visiting their daughter, Margo. They attended the Baylor-TCU game and other homecoming activities. Margo represented the newly organized Rodeo Club in the homecoming parade. She wore western regalia and rode in a surrey.

Post Office To Help With Livestock Count

Rural mail carriers from the Eldorado post office will leave some livestock survey cards along their routes beginning November 16.

"Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," Postmaster Carr explained.

Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes.

"This means that not every box will get a card," Mr. Carr said. "For this reason, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the state's livestock holdings."

Schleicher Ministers To Meet Tomorrow Morning

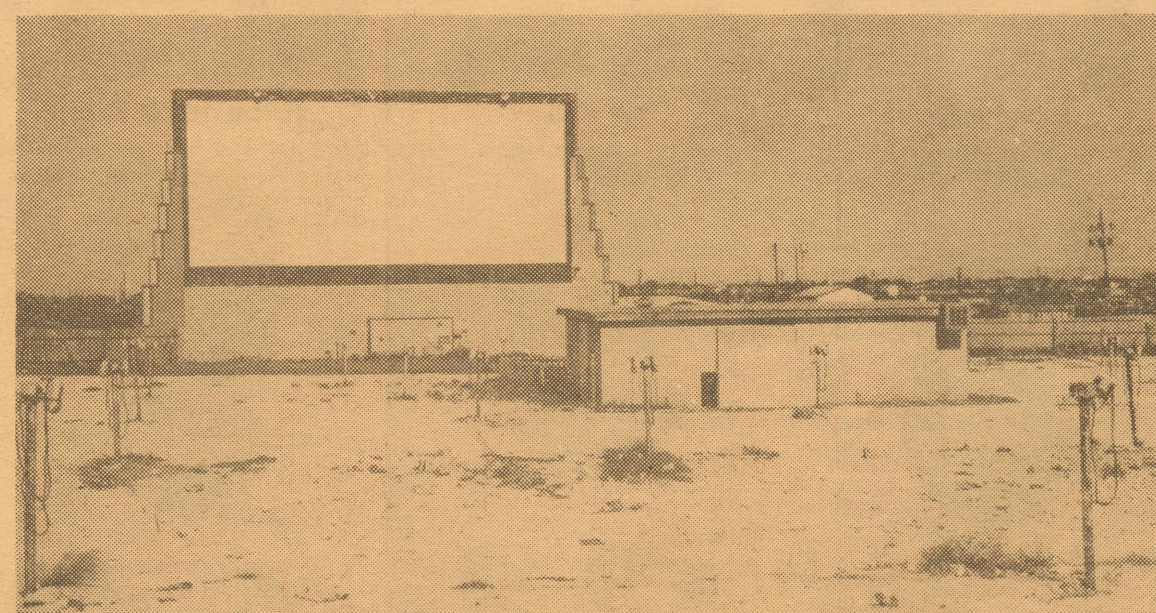

All ministers of our county who are interested in the re-organization of our County Ministerial Alliance and the forth-coming Union Thanksgiving Service are invited to the Methodist Fellowship Hall for coffee on Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Gin Report

The Mikeska Gin reported a total of 2847 bales yesterday afternoon. The crop was coming in slowly the first of this week, but was picking up yesterday with the arrival of sunny weather.

A year ago this week the total was 3302.

Mayor's Proclamation

Whereas the strength of America and the greatness of Texas was founded and has thrived upon individual and mutual contributions by agriculture, labor, business, and industry; and Whereas these groups contribute greatly to the prosperity of this area and to the well-being of consumers throughout the state and nation, and Whereas a greater recognition of the interdependence between agriculture, business, labor and industry will lead to a better appreciation of the contributions of each: Now, therefore, I, Eldon T. Calk, Mayor of the city of Eldorado, do hereby designate the period from Nov. 17 through Nov. 23, Farm-City Week in Eldorado, to be observed as an integral part of National Farm-City Week. I request local groups, civic clubs, and farm organizations to emphasize the interdependence between the family farm and the city in their programs at meetings; in discussions, exhibits, pageants and whatever other means will strengthen the ties and increase the appreciation of the value of these contributions to the welfare of the city of Eldorado and the surrounding area by agriculture, labor, business and industry. Truman Joe Biggs Has Gulf Job At Abilene

The appointment of Truman Joe Biggs as office manager and partner in the Tires, Batteries & Accessories Department of the Abilene Gulf Oil Distributorship was announced by Grady Hughes, Gulf consignee. Mr. Biggs was formerly with the treasury department of the West Texas Utilities Company. A native and graduate of Eldorado High school, he graduated in 1959 from Hardin-Simmons University with a Business Administration degree. While in school he was nominated for Associated Press All-American football honors, All-Border Conference guard for two years, and chosen to play in the North-South annual football classic. He later played professional football with the New York Titans. Biggs and his wife, the former Miss Martha Eason of Phoenix, Arizona, live at 1315 Amarillo in Abilene.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW A good Pumpkin Pie recipe for Thanksgiving — or any other day: Pumpkin Pie 3/4 cup sugar 1 tablespoon flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon ginger 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg 1 1/2 cups pumpkin 1 tablespoon dark molasses 1 tablespoon melted butter 2 eggs, beaten slightly 1 1/4 cups sweet milk. Mix sugar, salt and spices. Add pumpkin, molasses, butter, milk, and eggs. Bake in hot oven (425 F) for 15 minutes; reduce oven temperature to 350 F and bake 30 to 35 minutes longer. Baking too long makes filling watery. *

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

As a part of the getting ready for Thanksgiving and Christmas, make and store your pie crust mix. It's easy. Saves last minute work and costs about half a prepared mix costs. Pie Crust Mix May be made up any time and stored in a tight container in a cool place. 7 cups flour 4 teaspoons salt 2 cups shortening. Sift flour, measure. Add salt and sift again. Cut fat into flour with a pastry blender until crumbs are coarse and granular. Store in a cool place until ready to use. To use: A 2-crust pie requires 2 1/2 cups of the mix; A 1-crust pie requires 1 1/2 cups of the mix. In mixing, measure out the required amount of the mix and proceed as for plain pastry. For a 2-crust pie, mix with 6 to 8 tablespoons cold water. For a 1-crust pie mix with 4 to 5 tablespoons cold water. Other ideas about pies: When making pies with a custard type filling (containing milk and eggs), prepare the crust before making filling. After crust has been fitted into pan, brush crust with unbeaten egg. Refrigerate to let egg dry while filling is being made. The brushed egg coating cooks first and helps prevent a soggy crust. For fruit pies, combine flour, sugar, salt and spices for the filling and sprinkle some of the mixture on the bottom crust. Toss the fruit with rest of mixture so that all fruit is coated. *

To keep crust from shrinking—try baking the pie shell between two pans of equal size. Fit dough in pie pan, press down edge with a fork and prick crust all over. Place second pan on top for eight minutes baking. Remove empty pan and brown the shell. *

For a shiny top brush top crust with milk or cream before baking. This works for biscuits, too. For a sugary top—brush crust with water; sprinkle evenly with granulated sugar before baking. For a glazed top: brush top crust or edge of pastry with beaten egg yolk mixed with a little water, before baking. Chopped apple mixed with mince makes mince pie extra good and fruity. Lemon juice improves the flavor of apple pie. 1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring added to cherry pie filling gives an unusual flavor.

Cash To Be Honored At Sul Ross College Nov. 11

"Norman Cash Day" will be celebrated with all the vigor of the Old West at Sul Ross State College, Alpine, on November 11, with a special student assembly, a barbecue, and football game between the Sul Ross Lobos and the Texas A&I Javelinas.

Cash won the 1961 American League Baseball batting crown with a .361 average for the season which has just closed. With 41 homers and 193 hits to his credit, he eclipsed the all-time record for left-handed hitters for the Detroit Tigers. Acquired from the Cleveland Indians just before the 1960 season started, Cash quickly became one of the most exciting batters in the Tiger lineup. The stocky Texan played football and baseball at Sul Ross from 1953 through his graduation in 1956.

United States Army Reservists who are members of the 1st and 2nd Platoons of Troop "B", 15th Cavalry, with headquarters at Sonora include members from Junction, Eldorado, Sonora, Ozona, and Iraan. New member commuting from Iraan each drill night is a 6-month Reservist just returned from active duty training.

1st Lt. Arlan K. Fenner who commands the Sonora Reservists said at the Tuesday night, November 7, meeting that a full day of training was set for Sunday, Nov. 12. He concluded that November would be a busy month for the Sonora unit with drills set not only for Sunday, November 12, but for Tuesday, November 14, and Tuesday, November 28, as well.

A Bishop Looks At Life

By Everett H. Jones, Bishop of The Episcopal Diocese of West Texas

Do You Listen?

Emil Brunner, one of the foremost theologians of our time, has said that a Christian may be defined as a man who can listen.

In one sense all of us do a lot of listening. We cannot escape it in the world today. We are surrounded by noise of the radio, the television, the passing stream of automobiles, the hustle and bustle of our business and social life, the sometimes raucous sounds of our own home and family.

This is not the kind of listening Brunner had in mind. There are at least two other, and very different, kinds of listening which characterize a Christian. There is, first of all, the ability to listen to people, to sense the real needs and hungers of people around us. To do this requires a special skill and insight. Often people use words to hide what they really mean, and what they are really thinking. The sensitive Christian will always go deeper; he will look into the heart, and read the secrets that are hidden from the superficial observer.

One place where this kind of listening is most important is in dealing with our children. The little boy who shouts and screams, and perhaps hits his playmate over the head with a toy, is not just saying the things we hear. The deeper thing he may be saying is this: "I want to be loved and noticed. I want someone to understand me. I want my share of attention and affection."

But there is still another and deeper kind of listening that marks a Christian. It is the ability to hear the voice of God. The late great William Temple once said: "Religious experience is the special way in which the whole of life is experienced by the religious man." We sometimes think that a religious man has some special faculty, or is vouchsafed some special kind of supernatural encounter with God. It is much nearer the truth to say that he is a man who finds God in the midst of the most ordinary, difficult and even discouraging experiences. He has learned to see the invisible, and to hear the inaudible. He is aware of the eternal in the midst of time. He is in tune with the infinite.

The climax of "Norman Cash Day" in Alpine will be reached when he is awarded the Baseball Hall of Fame plaque by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, which will be presented by Al O. Duer, of Kansas City, secretary of the national intercollegiate association. Word of this signal honor has been received by President Bryan Wildenthal and baseball coach Ray Van Cleef, and arrangements have been made to have the award given during the half-time period at the football game. Alpine citizens plan to present Cash with a horse "so he can ride his Texas fences during the off-season as he rests from his successful season of poling hits over fences."

The Alpine Chamber of Commerce is assisting Sul Ross in sponsoring this event.

Eaglets Jr. Hi Team End '61 Season Undefeated

Blast Sonora 26-12

The Eldorado Eaglets won their eighth game without a loss last Thursday by beating Sonora 26-12.

The Eaglets found themselves behind for the first time this season as Sonora pushed across a touchdown early in the first period. After the kick-off Tony Clark moved off left tackle for a 55 yard touchdown run. A few plays later Sam Henderson scored on a 79-yd. dash around left end. Sonora controlled the ball most of the first half. The Eaglets had the ball for only seven plays, but left the field at half-time with a 12-6 advantage.

The second half was a different story as the Eaglets gained control and would have held Sonora scoreless, but Sonora got a big break and cashed in a gift certificate for six points. Eldorado scored on a 25-yard dash by Ronnie Griffin. Griffin also scored the other T. D. on a 55-yard dash off left tackle.

The Eaglets beat Sonora, Big Lake, Junction, and Menard all twice for their 8-0 record. They scored 228 points to the opponents' 46.

The lettermen are: Sam Henderson, Ronnie Griffin, Tony Clark, Charles Nixon, Dickie La Baron, Jimmy Belk, Steve Blaylock, Stanley Calcote, Bob Lester, Joe Phillips, Scott McGregor, Bert Loden, Pat Childers, Danny Halbert, Phillip Montgomery, Gary Don Donelson, Wayne McGinnes, Lee Gauna, Duwayne Pike, Joe Edmiston, Jon Calcote, and Jody Wagley.

All of the interest stirred up by the Civil War Centennial has focused attention for the first time on a group of unreconstructed Confederates who've been amusing themselves for years by flying under the sobriquet of the "Confederate Air Force."

The tongue-in-cheek, happy-go-lucky organization with headquarters in Mercedes in the Rio Grande Valley got its start a few years ago when a few veterans of flying during World War II discovered their old planes were being melted down and destroyed.

The fly-boys also discovered that the destruction was being carried out under "Yankee" orders from North of the Mason-Dixon line and that the order also provided "Union forces to the job."

Something had to be done to preserve some of the planes for posterity and the veterans began to buy up a few old retired heroes of the air like the F-51 Mustang, the P-38 Lightning, the P-40 Warhawk, and even a B-25 Mitchell bomber.

The men who buy, recondition, maintain and fly these obsolete craft are mostly former Navy, Air Force, and Marine pilots, some of whom have several "kills" to their credit during World War II.

There are more than 65 members of the CAF, each of them carrying the rank of colonel so "nobody can pull his rank." Their commander is Col. Jethro E. Culpapper who answers all the mail, signs orders, and performs other administrative functions, but does not exist otherwise. He's a fictitious character with a good old Southern-sounding name thought up by the other colonels.

In the process of organizing the CAF, the members discovered the extent to which "Yankees had infiltrated the Deep South." The customs & traditions of the South were being forgotten in many areas due to "the influence of carpetbaggers." So one of the main objectives of the CAF became the preservation of the good Southern cooking, "cat fishin', pocket knife whittlin', rockin' chair rockin', and plain old shade tree settin'."

It was also noted that during World War II, many a good Rebel was shipped above the Mason-Dixon line and "with all good Rebels having a sizable liking for female companionship they started fraternizing with the local women."

"These ladies, realizing their inherited misfortune and being eager to escape to the comforts and wonders of the Deep South, married up with these good men. They brought with them to the South such subversive items as Boston baked beans, New England boiled dinners, Philadelphia creamed cheese, etc. These tactics were countered by exposing these ladies to such delicacies as blackeyed peas, turnip greens, corn pone, grits, sugar cured ham and hush-puppies."

In addition to having fun with such objectives as preserving customs and traditions and rescuing World War II planes from the smelting furnace, the CAF also participates in air shows, but only in the South. They ask no fees for their performances, only their expenses.

They also seek to have the Capitol building in Washington turned around so it will face the South, and hope to obtain a complete line of World War II fighters in flying condition and ready to go.

Right now they're looking for a lead on a P-47 Thunderbolt, a P-63 Kingcobra, and a British Spitfire. Anyone who knows where one of these ships may be located may write to Colonel Culpepper, CAF, Mercedes, Texas.

Recommended Reading This Week: A new study of General D. H. Hill has just been released by McGraw-Hill Book Company entitled Lee's Maverick General. The book is by Hal Bridges, of whom Texan F. Vandiver said: "Here is one of the most brilliant of the younger men in the field and a man who writes with great clarity and charm." Vandiver, the Rice University professor whose Mighty Stonewall won the Texas Institute of Letters award a few years ago, is an outstanding writer of Civil War material.

Bridge's new book sheds much new light on questions that have puzzled Civil War scholars for a long time in their study of General Hill.

Motion Pictures Are Still Relaxing Entertainment

At a time when the motion picture industry is being subjected to more carping criticism than usual, it is refreshing to come across a column of friendly comment, such as Jack H. Lowe had on the editorial page of a recent issue of the Sidney (Nebraska) Telegraph. It might be called a column of sound and "friendly persuasion," for it convincingly puts the medium of the motion picture in the favorable light it merits and points up a value it has in everyday living that many people have overlooked. The following pithy paragraphs are culled from that column:

My daughter is a great movie fan. She's been going to the movies since she was old enough to sit up and she's never seen a poor one. I think this is interesting because so many people are bored stiff nowadays and can't seem to find anything they enjoy. My daughter would suggest a good movie as a sure cure for what ails them.

The trouble with most people is that they go to the show to be a critic instead of to be entertained. They consider themselves experts on every subject and they refuse to be entertained because they are too busy finding fault. This has been accentuated, since the advent of TV and it's a pity, because the world is full of entertaining and wonderful things if we'll only let ourselves go.

It used to be that movies were reviewed by people who found real fun in their jobs, but this is long gone. The professional movie reviewer today is no longer a movie lover—he has become a self-ordained intellectual—an expert on every facet of the entertainment business. The movie critic for Time Magazine is a good example. He doesn't like anything made in America except money, and he uses his cute phraseology to ridicule the best efforts of our creative talent.

Inasmuch as Americans are a race of sheep who like to be led, the opinions of so-called experts have great influence in our thinking. If Time Magazine doesn't like a movie, we take it for granted that the picture is lousy so we don't go see it. Meanwhile dozens of wonderfully entertaining features are flicking across the screen and we sit at home and watch 1959 pictures on TV which don't compare with quality we are offered at the theatre today.

This is a form of brain washing which we deplore in other countries, but surrender ourselves without protest. It is propaganda generating from one man's mind and one man's opinion. We are led down this path of static thinking because we are mentally lazy and refuse to think for ourselves. If America has a fault it lies in the fact that things have been made so easy for us that our brains are gradually shrinking away from lack of use.

There is infinite talent in our land, creating entertainment the likes of which the world has never seen. There is beauty and comedy and drama and stark realism in every man's life, yet so few of us recognize it. We exist from day to day, accepting the joys and sorrows as they come and dismiss them with little more than a shrug. Yet, here in everyone's existence there is excitement and glamour which, in the hands of a talented and imaginative writer, can be transformed into fiction more challenging than truth.

We live in a world of infinite wonder and beauty and fascination. The cultural riches available to most Americans, even to those of small means, exceed the imaginings of past generations. A man could spend all his waking hours listening to music, reading books that entertain and instruct and stimulate, looking at works of art, and much to be seen and heard and thought about.

A friend of mine who has been eminently successful in the business world tells me he goes to a movie when the pressures of economics become too great. He finds relaxation and entertainment that he needs to balance the drive he has developed into becoming a millionaire. He doesn't go to the movie to pick it to pieces or find fault with its talent quickly. He is a successful man in his own field and he prefers to believe that the people who make movies are successful in their profession because they know what they are doing.

An all-new Ford . . .
Galaxie and Falcon

Some cars have new names...
this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).

Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

New unitized body a foot shorter outside . . . full-size inside

Ford engineers have changed the proportions of the automobile: a completely new unitized body gives you more room inside with less bulk outside. A foot shorter than previous Fairlanes, the new Fairlane 500 is pleasantly parkable, delightfully driveable, easily garageable. At the same time it packs into its neat and nifty 197 inches as much passenger room as you had in some of the biggest Fords ever built.

Twice-a-year maintenance

Service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here, the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like . . . thrifter than you'd expect a V-8 to be . . . it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it car.

For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now

As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUST ABOUT EVERYBODY!

'Two Rode Together' Highlight Of Eagle 10th Anniversary Week

Highlight of the 10th anniversary line-up of motion pictures at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre, is "Two Rode Together," a western in color which will be shown Sunday and Monday nights, and which stars James Stewart and Richard Widmark.

The hour and 49-minute epic was directed by John Ford, who has also given us "Stage Coach," "Drums Along the Mohawk," and 80 other action-filled movies both on and off the plains.

The locale is Tascosa, old cowboy capital of the Texas Panhandle. The ruler of the place is Marshal McCabe, a genial tyrant who takes 10 per cent of everything and buys everybody, including a troop of U.S. cavalry, a nickle beer.

The marshal is summoned to the nearby fort where the commandant John McIntyre, has the notion of rescuing all the white prisoners of Quannah Parker's Comanches, some of whom have lived Indian for 15 to 20 years.

Stewart is sheer pleasure to watch in the un-Stewart-like role of the kept man, a wise-cracking, hard-drinking mercenary who agrees to ride into the Comanche camp and barter for white captives—if the heartsick pioneer relatives pony up enough cash for their loved ones.

The man who rides with him is cavalry Lt. Richard Widmark, sickened by Stewart's commercial attitude and smitten with Shirley Jones, who wants her young brother returned before he turns complete savage.

It's a lost race. The boy is pure Comanche by now, but this doesn't hold true for converted-squaw Linda Cristal, who still looks Anglo enough for Stewart when he rescues her.

The film holds the interest all the way, takes a fresh leap at the standard western plot, and gets fine performances out of its cast.

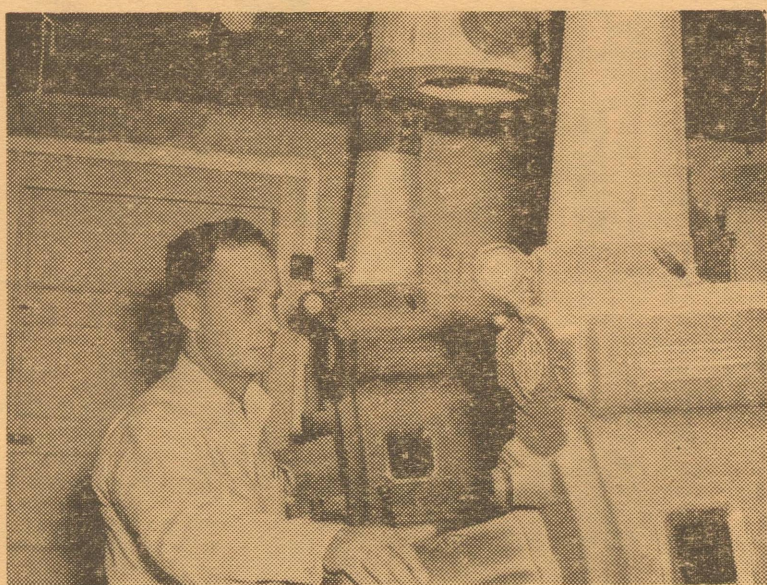

Mr. Ford's cast includes many oldtimers, stars in their day, like Andy Devine, Mae Marsh (in a superb bit), Ruth Clifford, Harry Carey Jr., John Qualen, Woody Strode and Harry Brandon.

In an important role, that of an avaricious, knife-pulling owner of a Tascosa saloon, is Annelie Hayes.

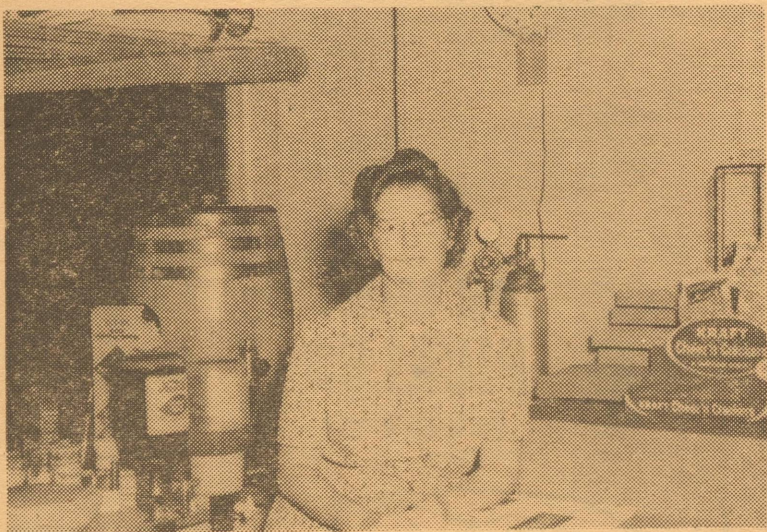

The movie was shot on location near Brackettville, where "The Alamo" was done previously.

The Cast

Guthrie McCabe	James Stewart
Lt. Jim Gary	Richard Widmark
Marty Purcell	Shirley Jones
Elena	Linda Cristal
Sgt. Darius P. Posey	Andy Devine
Belle Aragon	Annelie Hayes
Major Frazer	John McIntyre
Quannah	Harry Brandon

Abby Frazer	Olive Carey
Running Wolf	David Kent
Ole Knudsen	John Qualen
Stone Calf	Woody Strode
William McCandless	Cliff Lyons
Woman	Ruth Clifford

DELBERT EDMISTON is shown in the projection room of the Eagle Drive-In. Mr. Edmiston usually works as projectionist, although Lloyd Johnson sometimes fills in. Up-to-date equipment for the showing of wide-screen CinemaScope movies is included.

MRS. EDMISTON is shown in the concession stand of the Eagle Drive-In Theatre. She sells a complete line of cold and hot drinks, pop corn, candy, and other refreshments for the convenience of movie-goers.

Eagle Drive-In Opened In The Fall Of 1951

A page ad in the Eldorado Success of Thursday, November 8, 1951, proclaimed November 10 as opening date of the Eagle Drive-In Theatre, with "The Sword of Monte Cristo" as the first feature. Subsequent movies shown that first week were:

"Crisis" with Cary Grant and Paula Raymond;

"Fancy Pants" with Bob Hope and Lucille Ball;

"Cause For Alarm" with Loretta Young and Barry Sullivan.

The ad also proclaimed "New Modern Concession Stand" as a feature of the new business. Congratulations ads were run from the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op, welcoming the Theatre as a new member; and from B. L. Blakeway, who did the wiring.

The Edmiston had previously made arrangements with Alex McKenzie, manager of the Southwestern Theatre Equipment Co. of Houston, for the installation of the theatre equipment and overseeing of the construction.

Movies which were shown during the first several months that the Eagle Drive-In was in operation included:

"The Miniver Story" with Walter Pidgeon and Greer Garson;

"My Gal Sal" with Rita Hayworth and Victor Mature;

"Smoky" with Fred MacMurray and Anne Baxter;

"Sunset Boulevard" with Gloria Swanson and Wm. Holden;

"Jesse James" with Tyrone Power and Nancy Kelly;

"I Was a Shoplifter" with Scott Brady and Mona Freeman;

"Wake Island" with Brian Donlevy and Robert Preston;

"Lives of Bengal Lancer" with Gary Cooper and David Niven;

"China Sky" with Randolph Scott and Ruth Warrick;

"The Next Voice You Hear" with James Whitmore and Nancy Davis;

"Sahara" with Humphrey Bogart and J. Carrol Nash;

"Texas" with Wm. Holden and Glenn Ford;

"No Sad Songs For Me" with Margaret Sullivan and Wendell Corey;

"Joan of Ozarks" with Judy Canova and Joe E. Brown;

"Francis Goes To The Races" with Donald O'Connor and Piper Laurie;

"Shadow of a Doubt" with Joseph Cotten and Teresa Wright;

"The African Queen" with Humphrey Bogart and Katherine Hepburn.

The big news development that Fall of '51 was the coming in of the Huldale Field, with discovery of gas and oil in wells drilled on Henry Mittel's property.

Other news of the period included:

Dr. M. G. Holcomb moved to El Paso and Dr. Maginot moved his offices to the Wiedenmann building which Dr. Holcomb vacated.

T. E. Holcomb succeeded C. A. Reynolds as school superintendent, and as the Fall term of school got under way Wyndell Hall was grade school principal and W. J. Fraker was high school principal.

Lorraine Dildine died of a brain tumor. Funeral services were also held for A. D. Richey, long-time grocer here; and for Mrs. Henry Mittel and Mrs. Josie Word.

Joab Campbell resigned as county attorney and was succeeded by T. P. Robinson, Jr.

C. N. Shaw and Marvin McAngus announced for sheriff.

In business transactions, Ervin Mund bought Shaw's Gulf Station and Eldon Calk bought the drug store from O. E. Deal.

The new paved road was opened to Big Lake.

The Eldorado Eagles met the Eden Bulldogs for district championship but lost 13 to 7. Eagle coaches were "Puny" Waldrum and Miers Johnson.

The Ministerial Alliance of Eldorado put on the first Community Thanksgiving service. The ministers participating were Roy Shilling, Charles Bruce, Marshall Davis, and Clifford Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kinsler were honored on their Golden Wedding anniversary.

John Thomas Alexander and Myrta Bob Harper attended the convocation of Methodist young people at Purdue University in Indiana.

Weddings reported in the Success during this period included: Gayle Childers and Kenneth Willy, Joyce Burk and Joe Chan Whitten, Fern Cheatham and Roy Glasscock, Patsy Keffer and Jack Moore, Edda Lou Meador and Russell Beach, and Laura Clarke and Howard Mittel.

The year 1951 closed with the penny post card going the way of the nickle cigar. On January 1, post cards went to 2 cents.

WE THANK YOU

PEOPLE OF SCHLEICHER COUNTY . . .

FOR THE FINE SUPPORT YOU HAVE GIVEN US DURING THE 10 YEARS WE HAVE BEEN IN BUSINESS.

It was on Saturday, November 10, 1951, that we opened the Eagle Drive-In Theatre with the showing of The Sword of Monte Cristo, with George Montgomery and Paula Corday. During the intervening 10 years, we have endeavored to bring to you the finest motion pictures available.

American families have more fun together than families anywhere else in the world — and the one place they go to most often is the movie theatre. Here they find action, adventure, comedy and romance . . . entertainment to please every mood and every age.

Throughout the Fall and Winter, we will bend every effort to show wholesome, joyous entertainment that will make "going out to the movies" the favorite recreation of all ages. Among the outstanding movies we will be showing soon are: By Love Possessed, Parrish, Misty, Splendor In The Grass, Come September, Back Street, The Hustler, Breakfast At Tiffany's, and The Devil At Four O'Clock.

My family joins me in saying "Thanks" to all of the families of the community for their loyal support of theatre entertainment. —Delbert Edmiston.
