Farmers, Ranchers Jubilant Over Week-End Inch Rainfall

The worried look was partly erased from the faces of local ranchers when a generous one-inch rain fell generally over the county during the past week end.

It was the first rain to measure over an inch since back in October—four months ago. This together with the snow-fall ten days ago, has gone a long way to add needed moisture for pastures and winter grains.

"It was the wettest little rain I ever saw," remarked one stock-farmer. "They stuck our pickup in the lane going out to our place."

Feeding supplementary rations, breaking ice on water tanks, and burning pear has been the job for stockfarmers for the past six weeks of bitter cold and dry weather. They all feel that the latest rain came as a god-send.

Combined snow and rain totals for western Schleicher county ranged from one inch at Archie Mittel's, 15 miles southwest of Eldorado in the Bailey Ranch community, to 1.95 inches at Vernal Sudduth's place some 8 miles southwest of Eldorado. Some of the bar ditches still contained snow in places as late as Monday.

Cub Scouts Staging Blue & Gold Banquet

Bob Rowe, Cubmaster of Eldorado's Cub Scout Pack No. 18, reports that plans are about complete for the annual Blue and Gold Banquet which will be given tonight, Thursday, at 7:00 o'clock in the Memorial Building.

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. E. H. Nixon Jr., and Mrs. Bill Hubble.

All Cub Scouts and their parents are expected to turn out in force for this event, which is always a highlight of the Cub Scout year.

Den 1 will give the Blue and Gold Story and Den 2 will discuss the Liberty Bell, as part of the program.

Dan Sebesta is chairman of the Pack committee and the Lions club is the sponsoring organization.

Mr. Rowe reports that the Cub Scouts are busy with their projects and that another den will probably be formed about the first of March.

Lions Have Program On Memorials Hospital

Mrs. Elsie Gayer, administrator of Baptist Memorials Geriatric Hospital in San Angelo, brought the program at the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions club. She was introduced by Bill Watson, who is one of the trustees of the hospital.

Mrs. Gayer traced the development of Memorials Hospital from its modest beginning 12 years ago with 12 beds for the aged, to the large 225 bed hospital of today which is expected to grow even larger in the future.

Buildings and other facilities are constantly being added to the hospital plant.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gayer of Nebraska, Al Talbot of Midland, and Ben Hext of Eldorado.

W. R. Bearce presided and presented Joe Gault, who recently joined the club, with his membership pin and Code of Ethics.

Bill Rountree, club secretary, reported that arrangements had been made for the club to conduct their annual Broom and Mop Sale of articles made by Texas blind, on Wednesday, March 20.

Neff's Cafe Now Open

Neff's Cafe made their move this week to the Kempsky building and are open for business today.

The Neffs will have a formal opening Saturday afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00, during which time they will serve free refreshments to acquaint local people with the new cafe. People who call will register for a door prize of two steak dinners.

The cafe moved into the building where the post office was located until three years ago. Foxworth-Galbraith Lbr. Co. here in Eldorado had the general contract for remodeling of the building to provide quarters suitable for a cafe.

"Come and see us Saturday afternoon," the Neffs—C. O., Opal, and Nell—stated this week.

Canvass Sunday Afternoon Set For Heart Fund Drive

February is designated as Heart Month, during which time funds are collected to combat heart diseases, the leading cause of death in the United States.

A house to house canvass of the town will be staged this Sunday afternoon for the Heart Fund, announced the Rev. Kenneth Vaughan chairman of the drive. When the Heart Fund volunteer in your neighborhood calls on you, give and give generously.

Coin receptacles have been placed in local business houses for Heart. This Saturday morning, the Eldorado Drug, the West Texas Cafe and Neff's Cafe will contribute their receipts from sales of coffee to the drive.

Letters have been sent to residents who live out in the county, asking contributions to the Heart Fund drive. Eldorado and county residents may mail their contributions to the First National Bank or to Mrs. Charles Warnock, who is secretary-treasurer.

Other Heart officers in the county are Eldon Calk, chairman; Dr. John D. Blackburn, medical advisor; Rev. Vaughan, board representative; Mrs. E. L. Carlman, memorial chairman; W. R. Bearce, membership chairman; and Bill Gunstead, publicity chairman.

There were 38,538 deaths in Texas in 1961 from heart and blood vessel diseases, representing 50.4% of all deaths due to causes. Source of these statistics is the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health.

Figures for Schleicher county from the same source indicate that in 1961 there were eight deaths here due to cardiovascular disease; also it is estimated that there are 175 people in this county afflicted, based on our population.

Based on conservative estimates, cardiovascular disease victims in the United States account for one of every 16 living persons. There are an estimated 619,456 Texas with a cardiovascular disease.

Commissioners Met 11th

At their February 11 meeting, the County Commissioners approved sale of two vehicles and purchase of another, and selected election judges to serve through 1963.

The Court approved sale of the '59 Chevrolet to John Stigler for $693, and the '50 White truck to Arthur Faulk for $76.50. The bid of $2617.45 from Eagle Chevrolet Co. for furnishing a new Chevrolet sedan for the sheriff's department, was accepted.

Transfer was voted for a total of $6,780 from various county funds to the Social Security fund.

The First National Bank was designated depository for county funds and for Schleicher County public school funds.

Special commissioners appointed by the Judge of the County Court of Schleicher County, to sit in matters of eminent domain, were ordered to receive for such services $10 each per day.

It was ordered by the Court that the county attorney be authorized to instigate condemnation proceedings for the purpose of securing right-of-way and channel easements on State Highway 277 North, thru lands owned by T. C. Meador.

People from neighboring towns, as well as from San Angelo and from the college, are welcome to attend the reception.

"The college," he adds, "will be delighted to have our near-by West Texas neighbors to accept this unusual opportunity to meet and greet the second highest governmental official in the United States."

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

We are all familiar with the term "dog days." Schleicher county can expect, and some have already experienced, an outbreak of rabies in dogs, especially foxes and coons, skunks and other so-called varmints. There is an over population and a shortage of food, which is bringing these "critters" to compete with the family dog and the trash barrel for food.

Here are the precautions that should be taken:

1. Vaccinate all dogs and cats. Kill the strays or surplus around the place.
2. Wear rubber gloves when examining cattle, sheep, swine or any animal whether it be pet or varmint.
3. Should a rabid fox or varmint bite the family pet and the pet has been vaccinated, kill the rabid animal and forget the incident.
4. Should a rabid fox or varmint bite the family pet and the pet has not been vaccinated, kill the rabid animal, and keep the dog tied or in a pen for six weeks.
5. Should you or any other person be bitten by a rabid animal, or should have come in contact with saliva from any animal you suspect, kill the animal, and do not damage the head.
6. Send the head to this address:
State Health Department
Rabies Control Unit
Austin, Texas

To do this requires the following procedure:

- a. Put head in a small compact container and seal the lid with rubber or solder, making a complete seal.
- b. Put smaller container in a larger container, pack with chip-ice, and seal.
- c. Should you be bitten by an animal that you are reasonably sure has rabies, have the head delivered to the above address, either in person or by other person.
7. Check with your doctor.

Some of the things to remember about rabies:

1. There is no public conveyance, bus, train, or trucking concern that has to accept an animal's head, suspected of rabies, for transportation.

2. Rabies if not caught in time is sure death. There are only rabies shots after the incident occurs, which is 100% effective provided you start in time, and plenty of time is available to send the animal head to Austin for positive identification. (See your doctor.)

3. After the pet is bitten, it is too late to vaccinate. Confine this animal.

4. Cattle, sheep, goats usually have the dumb type of rabies, whereas foxes, dogs, have the "rabid" type or both.

5. To break the "chain of rabies" in animals endangering you and others, kill all suspected varmints at once, because one rabid animal may bite several others, including domesticated animals.

Dr. Joe David Ross is at the Hartgraves Livestock and Feeding yards every Monday.

Responsibilities we can all but ignore, but consequences we cannot escape.

Most all families have a few pecans that are not shelled and in the deep freeze. To keep these pecans from getting old and tasting rancid do this: Pre-heat the oven to 150 F. Put pecans in oven in thin containers for 30 minutes, cool and resack. This procedure seals the hull preventing air entering a porous hull.

4-H club members exhibiting livestock are Sue and William Edmiston. Sue and William will exhibit four beef calves, 3 registered heifers, 4 registered Rambouillet ewes, and 3 fat lambs.

Clifford and Loretta Schooley, 2 fat lambs, 2 baby beef calves.

Jim Martin, 2 registered Hereford bulls.

Ricky Jones, 2 registered Rambouillet lambs.

Tom and Arlene Hartgraves, one Angus heifer, one baby beef.

W. Walworth Harrison of Greenville says he'd like to locate relatives of General Thomas N. Waul whose Texas Legion sealed the Federal breach in the Confederate lines at Vicksburg in a spectacular display of courage that probably prolonged the capture of the city for several additional weeks.

The general lived for a few years after the War at Greenville on a farm he called Cherry Hill. He died there in 1903 and was buried in Fort Worth.

On May 19, the 100th anniversary of the sealing of that breach at Vicksburg, a state marker will be unveiled in appropriate ceremonies at the site of the old home which still stands six miles east of Greenville. Harrison, who is the curator of the Hunt County Historical Society and chairman of the local Historical Survey Committee, sponsors of the marker, says he would like to locate at least one of the general's relatives who could be present for the ceremonies.

According to Harrison, one of the general's nieces came to Greenville when the general died and made arrangements for him to be buried in Fort Worth.

The Waul marker is one of several being erected by the Texas Civil War Centennial Commission and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee of Austin. The marker program, which is receiving special emphasis during the centennial of the War, is an ambitious one aimed at marking important Civil War sites, erecting memorials to important Confederate personalities, and providing grave markers for both Confederate and Union soldiers and sailors buried in Texas.

The Commission also hopes to erect grave markers to show the Confederate service of general officers buried in Texas. Grave markers for Civil War veterans, which the Commission would like to see erected for every Union and Confederate soldier and sailor buried in Texas, are available from the U. S. government.

To make its Civil War marker program even more far-reaching and ambitious, the Commission would like to see some type of marker erected on sites where Texas troops were engaged in battle outside the state. According to Cooper Ragan of Houston, chairman of the Commission, only a few of the places where Texans fought from 1861 to 1865 are adequately marked with the names of units engaged. He lists such places as Chickamauga, Sharpsburg, and Mansfield, La., as among the more important ones having inadequate or nonexistent markers.

Ragan has put together a list of engagements in which Texas troops participated, has arranged them alphabetically by states and advocates the erection of markers on the more important ones. The list includes some 85 engagements, not counting those which took place in Texas and reflects many hours of careful study and research.

Ragan passed the list out to those attending the recent meeting of the Commission in Galveston. We have had mimeographed copies made and will send one to readers who desire them. A stamped and addressed envelope should accompany each request.

We also still have a few of the booklets, "The War as Depicted in Prints by Currier and Ives", offered readers who would send a stamp for postage. The prints are reproduced in color and the text is by Civil War author Richard Harwell.

Recommended Reading For This Week: Tuesday of last week was the birthday of President Abraham Lincoln and, as always, new items about the Civil War leader appeared in newspapers all over the land. For those who admire Lincoln, we recommend one of the better books which have made their appearance in recent months.

A. R. Turner-Tyrnauer's "Lincoln and the Emperors," published by Harcourt, Brace and World, is an intriguing and well-written account of Lincoln's war within the Civil War—the fight to keep Europe's emperors from establishing a protectorate over the United States.

And for admirers of Lincoln's counterpart, Jefferson Davis of the Confederacy, we recommend Eric Langheim's "Jefferson Davis, Patriot," published by Vantage Press.

Favorite Broiler Recipe Might Be A Winner

College Station.—That favorite chicken cooking recipe which brings on the call for seconds, could be your passport to national recognition as a cook. The procedure is a simple one—just enter your favorite recipe in the Texas Broiler Council sponsored state-wide chicken cooking program.

Last year 102 Texans participated in the program and this year's entries are expected to top that figure, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Each entry, he adds, must be accompanied by an official entry blank and they are available from the Texas Broiler Council, Box 251, Stephenville, Texas. All entries must be mailed to the Poultry and Egg National Board as outlined in the official rules and postmarked not later than March 9, 1963.

The Texas program is being conducted in cooperation with the Poultry and Egg National Board, Beanblossom explains. It's all a part of the biggest chicken promotion of the year, he adds.

The person who submits the top Texas recipe will represent the state in the national finals to be held at Salisbury, Maryland, June 13-15, as a guest of the Texas Broiler Council. Numerous awards will be presented on the national basis.

Beanblossom says this is a wonderful opportunity for those who enjoy this kind of activity and are willing to share their favorite chicken cooking recipe with others.

Norman Cash Addresses Ozona Rotarians Tuesday

Norman Cash, battling champion of the major leagues in 1961, first baseman for the Detroit Tigers, spoke to the Ozona Rotary club at its regular meeting Tuesday.

Cash, who spends a part of his winters here in Eldorado where his wife is a native, discussed his trip to Japan where the Tigers played a series following the close of the regular season last year.

Also Cash was asked questions on the rule changing the strike zone, the first major change in the strike zone in modern baseball history. The change puts the strike zone to shoulder height, from the traditional "letter high."

Norm plans to leave for spring training camp on February 25.

Mrs. Cash is the former Myrta Bob Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Harper.

gation elected Rep. John Allen of Longview as chairman.

About 30 West Texas legislators chose Rep. Richard C. Slack of Pecos as their leader.

Court Shuffle Proposed

Rep. Henry Stollenwerck, young attorney from Dallas, appears to be the most active of the seven Republican members of the House.

He is an aggressive participant in the five committees he's assigned to, and has co-sponsored several bills by Democrats. Stollenwerck feels he's been able to take an active part without defecting from the Republican political philosophy to which he adheres.

After Governor Connally chided Republican legislators for "obstructionism," Stollenwerck said, "The boys joke with me about what the governor said, and I just joke back and say I would be awfully disappointed if I thought he was talking about me."

He is author of a bill to move 12 district courts from places where filings and caseloads are meager, to more-populated locations with heavy caseloads.

District courts in this state have not been reapportioned since 1907. Several bills have been introduced by big-city legislators who claim their towns need additional courts.

Stollenwerck said some East and Central Texas courts he proposes to move had only 150 filings in 1961, compared to 1,500 filings in many other district courts.

Poison's Dangers Cited

Dr. Irwin L. Sawyer Jr. of San Antonio, director of the State Veterinary Medicine Association, appeared before the House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence in favor of a bill by Rep. Howard Green, Fort Worth, to banish thallium pesticides from the market.

Dr. Sawyer described thallium as a heavy metal, which is colorless, odorless and tasteless in sulfate form.

"When mixed, thallium merely waits for a rat, a man, a child or a pet," he stated.

One reason it's so dangerous is that reaction to its poison may be delayed as long as 48 hours. Then it's too late for an antidote. "It's even hard to detect in post-mortem examination," said Sawyer.

Farmer Liability Law

Rep. W. T. Duncan of McKinney ran into some sharp questioning when he brought his bill before the House Judiciary Committee. Proposed bill would exempt farmers and ranchers from liability damage suits filed by injured sportsmen.

"The hunter pays the farmer to go on his land," Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston remarked. "That puts the farmer in business. Why not exempt the theater owner from damage suits filed by patrons who slip on popcorn sacks?"

After several other similar remarks, Dungan allowed that the wording of the bill might be improved. But he insisted that such a law would encourage more farmers and ranchers to open their lands to sportsmen.

Deficit Down

Deficit in the State General Revenue Fund was reduced in some two weeks from more than $60 million to $35,401,125, according to a report by State Treasurer Jesse James.

Sharp drop was due to quarterly payments on the state's two per cent sales tax.

Crime Spirals Upward

Texas' increase in major crimes during 1962 outstripped the population increase, according to Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety.

Colonel Garrison said an offense was committed on the average of one every two and one-half minutes last year. Crime jumped 6.6 per cent over the 1961 total.

Largest increase by population groups was 14.7 per cent in cities between 50,000 and 100,000. Largest decrease was 15.5 per cent in counties with less than five people per square rural mile.

Pensions Proposed

A bill to provide retirement pensions ranging from $100 to $300 a month for elected state officials has been introduced in the House.

Reps. George T. Hinson of Mincola and Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs are the authors.

Hinson said their bill would pension the governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, state comptroller, land commissioner, agriculture commissioner, attorney general and members of the Railroad Commission.

Revenue Not Enough

Senate finance committee is finding that the state does not have enough revenue in sight to "meet reasonable requests" of state institutions and agencies.

Sen. George Moffet of Chillicothe who is chairman of the subcommittee hearing budget requests, told the Senate, "We can't add a lot more items without having a new tax bill."

Wrath of Ladies

Sen. Martin Dies of Lufkin says he is misunderstood by the ladies. He voted against the "equal legal rights" amendment passed by the Senate.

"I knew I was going to catch it from women," Dies said. "I wish they could see that I'm not against women's rights."

Dies' quarrel is with the constitutional revision route taken by a Senate majority. He believes statutes operating against women in the management and control of property and other matters should be repealed selectively, without disturbing laws that give women needed protection.

For Preservation

Reps. Stanley Boysen of Yoakum and John E. Blaine of El Paso have introduced a series of bills authorizing the state, cities and counties to select and protect historic, archaeological and paleontological sites.

One bill would permit local taxes to be spent for the purpose.

Two others prescribe fines for destroying or defacing places marked for preservation.

On the state level, the Historical Survey Committee would advise the State Building Commission which structures and sites should be preserved.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

According to a description given the House Appropriations Committee relative to the governor's mansion, it's in bad shape. Howard Rose, executive assistant to Gov. John Connally, says:

"On the north side, the mansion is settling so much, there is a gap of several inches between the floor and the bottom of the front door." He added, "There are cracks in the wall and ceiling; a good deal of furniture needs re-stuffing; and the stove won't work right four days in a row."

"Also," says Rose, "we have only one coffee table in the house. If you don't want to hold your coffee cup, you either put it on the floor or balance it on your knee. In the Green Room, there are no pictures. And we don't have eight complete sets of silver."

This prompted Appropriations Committee Chairman Bill Heatly of Paducah to comment, "I know we have spent between $100,000 and $125,000 on the mansion in the last six years."

Governor Connally has not requested any money for major repairs. He is asking for $32,872 for each of the next two years to operate the mansion, including $5,000 for utilities; $1,500 for telephone expenses; and $2,200 for "other supplies."

Their leaders are Mrs. Gerald Hartgraves, Mrs. Richard Preston, Mrs. Rollin Haynes, and Mrs. Paul Johnson. These girls are desirous of earning a reader's badge, and wanted to learn something of the library and how it operates. The troop donated 17 books to the library; we do appreciate this interest.

Memorials given are: Insects, The Witch of Blackbird Pond, and Grandma Goes to the Arctic, for Margaret H. Whitten, by Ada West Bowder.

Eldorado Girls Are District 8-A Co-Champs

The Eldorado girls bounced the Sanderson Roadrunners Tuesday night by a 49-18 score and thus tied the Rankin Red Devils for the district crown. A play-off between the two schools is now necessary to decide who represents district 8-A against 7-A in a bi-district contest. The team stands 19-5.

Senior Jan Davis had a fine night as she sank 25 points and Sophomore Christy Moore added 16. Susie Scott had 4 while Marsha Mund and Eldra Gibson had two each.

At guard Linda Nixon really worked the opposition over as she stole the ball time after time. Tissy Enochs also played an outstanding game at guard gathering in most of the rebounds. Joan Griffin, Frankie Blaylock, Barbara Johnson and Enequina Garza also turned in a good defensive game.

Cagers Down Sanderson

Coach Guy Whitaker's Eagle cage team took a crushing win over the Sanderson Eagles Tuesday night in Ozona by a 75-14 margin. Eldorado's John McGregor hit 17 points for scoring honors but the Schleicher lads were all in fine shape, Richard Preston and Ray Lewis Ballew hitting 14 and 13 points each. The game ended the year's play for Coach Whitaker's lads and placed them securely in second place in the district competition. They posted a 22 wins 6 loss record for the year. Big Lake took the district honors. Meanwhile, Coach Jack Bell's Eldorado girls also demolished the Sanderson girls by a 49-18 win to establish a firm tie with Rankin High for district honors.

Coach Bell reported that an effort to set a place and time for the playoff will be attempted with Rankin school officials. Tuesday night's game saw Eldorado's Jan Davis earn game scoring honors with 25 points while her teammate, Christy Moore, hit a whopping 16, or only two less than Sanderson's 18. The Eldorado girls posted a 19 win 5 loss season record.

Miss Kinser Winner Of Betty Crocker Award

KATHY N. KINSER

Recently announced as winner from Eldorado High school in the 1963 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow was Kathy Kinser. She thus becomes eligible for one of 102 scholarships for a total value of $110,000.

Having scored first in her school in the knowledge and attitude test on homemaking given senior girls Dec. 4, the winner's paper has been entered in competition with those of other state high school winners for state-wide honors.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named in the spring. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, sponsor of the program. A $500 award will be made to the second highest ranking Homemaker of Tomorrow in the state. The school of each state winner will receive a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Later, State Homemakers of Tomorrow with their advisors will enjoy an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va., which will culminate with the naming of the 1963 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The national winner's scholarship will be raised to $5,000, with second, third and fourth place winners being granted $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

Hygiene Important To Personal Health

People who are deliberately indifferent to their personal health are as scarce as purple cows.

Nature has endowed most of us with an acute sense of pride about such things as daily bathing, brushing teeth, clean fingernails, good grooming. We would go to practically any length to avoid being offensive to anyone—customers, co-workers, or whoever.

And most of us resent even the slightest suggestion that there are times when our PH (personal hygiene) quotient slips a little.

Think about it for a moment: what in this competitive life is as important to the average man or woman as personal cleanliness? What contributes more to their being accepted and welcomed by others?

Fortunately a high PH quotient is easy to come by. Actually it is a habit, a way of life, and a very pleasant one. Here are its main ingredients:

Bathing: Daily bathing is as refreshing as it is healthful. Besides making you more agreeable to be around, you are less vulnerable to disease when you wash off the 24-hour accumulation of perspiration and soil. Most people find it practical to wash their hair at least once a week. One brand of soap isn't necessarily superior to others. The important thing is to use plenty of it.

Dental health: This is absolutely essential to a high level of personal hygiene, so see your dentist regularly. Don't be confused by television commercials about the therapeutic and cosmetic effects of certain tooth pastes or powders. The brushing is what counts.

Fingernails: Nothing is more fatal to attractiveness than dirty fingernails. By all means check yours every morning as part of your getting-ready-for-the-day ritual.

Handwashing: Frequent handwashing, particularly after restroom visits, is another part of the high PH quotient. It is a must habit for cooks, waitresses, barbers, beauty operators, etc.

These ingredients blend together to give you a PH quotient your daily associates will appreciate. Each is a habit in itself, well worth acquiring. We owe it to our friends and co-workers. Perhaps more important, we owe it to ourselves.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

The announcement that $1.5 million is to be spent by the United Nations to promote agriculture in Castro's Cuba is both snocking and unbelievable. I have urged the Secretary of State to take appropriate steps to stop this unwarranted perversion of our taxpayers' money.

The spending was directed by UNESCO, a U. N. Committee, of which Paul Hoffman, our UNESCO representative, is chairman. The U.S.A. contributes 40% of the money that is spent by that group. If this goes through, the Congress should expressly prohibit any American money being contributed to UNESCO in the future. Indeed, this incident, along with some other strange developments that have taken place in the U. N., raises again the question of justification for our membership in that organization. Certainly, some drastic changes are overdue.

Shades of the old New Deal, reminiscent of depression days, turned up last week when the President asked Congress to revive the old Civilian Conservation Corps—a product of the depression. The cost, which would probably be fairly modest at first, can be expected to run into the hundreds of millions in the years ahead. But right now it appears likely this new welfare measure will sail through Congress.

The President is also plugging for another similar and overlapping project—a domestic Peace Corps. And still another overlapping agency he has come up with would channel more people onto the federal payroll, to work in so-called community service establishments—such as hospitals, playgrounds, welfare agencies, and migrant farm labor camps. It is proposed to limit enrollees to 50,000 the first year.

These are but a few of a number of pending proposals to expand governmental activities, and other involve the federal government in welfare projects which have always been treated as local responsibilities.

This reminds us that the deficit for this fiscal year is estimated to be $8.8 billion, and next year it will be $11.9 billion—plus any loss of revenue by reduction in taxes that may be voted this year.

WHY give it house room if you longer use it? Come by the Success office and place an economical SALE want ad—and sell it, quickly and efficiently.

Mrs. J. Tom Williams has worked for a long time to get plate favors for the guests and has been promised a very nice assortment of gifts from local businesses.

Judge W. R. Bearce will welcome the guests and the Rev. Kenneth Vaughan, pastor of the First Baptist church, will give the devotional. According to the reactions of the guests who have been heard from, the trip through the blanket factory has been placed high on the list of events for the day.

Graves Of Civil War Veterans To Be Marked

"Every unmarked grave of a County will be officially marked Civil War Veteran in Schleicher and recorded," Mrs. J. E. Hill, president of the Schleicher County Historical Survey Committee announced this week.

The Committee will determine the location of the graves, mark them with an official government marker and report the erection of all such markers to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee to be included in a master file.

Other members of the Schleicher County Historical Survey Committee are: Mrs. Ida Neill and Don McCormick of Eldorado; Mrs. J. Forrest Runge, Christoval; Miss Ruth Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Alexander, Mrs. L. M. Hoover, Judge W. R. Bearce, Joel Tom Meador, Peyton Cain and A. G. McCormack of Eldorado.

"The marking of every Confederate grave in Texas is a main objective of the Confederate Memorial and Civil War Centennial Programs," stated John Ben Shepperd, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, sponsor of the project.

"This recognition by the state is long past due, and we feel that the information will be invaluable to the historian, scholar, and genealogist and will be of real interest to the tourist," Mr. Shepperd said. "We urge anyone knowing of the graves of Civil War Veterans in the area to notify this Committee."

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee is sponsoring as part of the Civil War Centennial Observance the erection of Travel Information Markers on highways near important sites of action and events. Texas Historical Building Medallions have also been placed on buildings and homes associated with the Confederate period in Texas history.

Editorial Comments From Our Neighbors

The Only Answer
It is interesting to note the kind of thinking which lies back of the federal proposals to aid local communities with this problem today and that tomorrow.

Whether it be in the field of hospital construction, flood control, slum clearance, or whatever, there is a constant effort on the part of those entrusted with the spending to "sell" local communities on the desirability as well as the availability of federal funds for such projects.

And now the field of education is being subjected to the same sort of pressure—which is hard indeed to withstand. There is the assumption that because the nation's schools are not all they might be, and that they still have unfulfilled needs, that there can be only one solution—federal aid.

We beg to differ with those who hold that only the federal government has the answers to problems—whether they be in the realm of financing, fact-finding, or economic planning.

The main objective of most federal spending would appear to be the perpetuation of jobs for the bureau doing the spending, and the continuation of the snow-balling trend toward centralizing all authority in Washington.

We submit that the biggest single obstacle to solvency in government today is the widespread attitude that federal money is "free" because "if our community does not take it some other will, and we'll all have to pay taxes to meet the cost anyway."

Couple this with an irresponsible fiscal policy which seems to feel that there is nothing alarming in creating a $12 billion dollar deficit through a combination of tax reductions and increased spending and it makes one wonder what will be the philosophy of government in another couple of generations.

Certainly none of us wants to live in the past, but another 30 years of fiscal policy such as we have "enjoyed" for the last 30 and those who are struggling to pay the interest on our national debt and cope with ravages of inflation may well wish to live in the past.

Let the local communities and the individual states cope with their own problems, and pay their own way. Most of them are in much sounder financial position than our deficit-operating federal government, even though they operate on a minute scale by comparison.—Ft. Stockton Pioneer

Trend May Be Reversing

At a time when it may have appeared the towns and communities of Coke County were on their way out, and when many dolefully predicted they were, there has been a slow, but substantial and steady growth.

We believe it is time to reverse the so-called "trend" to the big centers. There are signs a plenty to indicate the trend is turning the other way.

Those who feed cattle, sheep or hogs, and make it pay, those who work early and late to keep their business, small or large, in operation and to employ others in doing so, those who own land and those who work on it, contractor, or workman, employer or employed—in the oil business or any other business—these are the people who steadily, day by day, bring progress to the community and a better future to those who grew up here and would like to live here and make a living.

We wouldn't forget, either, those who teach them, and those who work with the eternal verities of the churches, or wherever there is a man or a woman with faith and zeal in exercising that faith.

Those who work to heal the body, mind, or spirit, those who lead in sound, constructive government, and those who choose such leaders are all builders.

What we have may not be the finest there is in the world, but it is good and it's all we have and that's what we will build upon if we ever build anything better and finer.

An old farm place with poor fences and lots out of repair is a challenge to this generation just as open spaces to be settled challenged those who came before us.

Progress isn't measured in terms of whether we have the kind of industry they have in California. We may not need that kind of industry.

Progress is going to be measured here by what we make of what we have.—Robert Lee Observer.

It's Your Money

Too often the citizen, preoccupied with making a living, does not take time to inform himself about his government. Yet history teaches that democracy survives only as long as the people take an active part in the making of government decisions.

One-third of the average citizen's income goes to pay the various kinds of taxes. That makes government his biggest cost.

Businessmen who spend many sleepless nights trying to figure how to cut unit production costs by a fraction of a cent, or reduce overhead by a few dollars, are prone to ignore one of their greatest single cost factors—taxation.

Husbands and wives perspire and argue over family budgets but are unwilling to pay any attention to one item—government—which is now costing them more than food, clothing and medical care, according to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey of New York.

Once started on the path of growth, many government agencies are like Topsy—they just grow whether there is any reason or not. Citizen interest in government is sorely needed now. Without a sound economy, and that means government on a solid financial base, we will pay a dear price.—Van Horn Advocate.

Whistling In The Dark

Time magazine reports on one phase of the tangled tax situation: "Among students of the economy these days, the most popular topic is How to Stimulate Business by Cutting Taxes. In the general enthusiasm, all but a few flint-eyed accountants seem to have overlooked the fact that 1963 began with taxes actually going up. Under a 1958 law, Social Security taxes will rise by $1.8 billion this year—50% of it to be paid by employers and 50% by wage earners. This means that any income tax reduction that Congress may ultimately vote will be $1.8 billion smaller than it looks. And if Congress rejects to cut in income taxes, U. S. corporations will add $900 million to their costs in 1963 and U. S. wage earners will have $900 million less to spend." That is not all. The Social Security taxes, under existing law, rise at regular intervals over a period of years. Should such a proposal as Medicare be adopted the increase will be well beyond those presently scheduled.

Still the story does not end. State and local governments, for the most part, are rapacious in their search for new or increased taxes. It is of small moment to the business or the family whether its income is reduced by the federal income tax, by the corporation tax, by the state income tax, by a sales tax, by an excise tax, by a property tax, by an unemployment fund tax, by a business license tax, or any other pocket-picking levy. What does matter is the amount of money left that can be spent as the earner wishes to spend it—and what that money will buy.

It looks as if those optimists who anticipate a great surge of consumer spending and business expansion, resulting from a federal income tax cut, are whistling in the dark.—Ozona Stockman.
