Cotton Harvesting Slowly Getting Under Way In County

Three more bales were ginned at Mikeska Gin here Monday. As the week advances with continued dry weather, the reports are that picking is starting in several places and more ginning is expected. Billy Williams, son of Mrs. J. Tom Williams, brought in the three-bale load which was ginned Monday. It was hand-picked cotton. According to word picked up at the Gin, John Mayo was assembling a crew and was starting to gather the first of his crop. Kenneth Cheek was getting started on his irrigated crop just east of town. He is raising a type of cotton that requires hand-picking. When asked about crop prospects for this year, Mikeska said that some thought it would be better than last year and some predicted it would be about the same. Last year's crop came to just 3,000 bales which was regarded as a "half crop." The cotton gin plant has undergone its usual summer renovation and is entering the season in tip-top shape.

Scouts & Explorers Hold Court of Honor

The Memorial Building was the setting for a Court of Honor last Friday night for Boy Scouts of Troop 18 and Explorer Scouts of Post 318. The evening got under way with a ceremony in which the old United States Flag belonging to the troop was disposed of. A. H. Bradford of San Angelo then presented the troop with a new flag from the Woodmen of the World.

J. B. Morris, assistant executive from the San Angelo office of the Concho Valley Council, had charge of a Tenderfoot investiture ceremony in which David Blakeway was formally inducted into Scouting.

Gail Mittel, Scoutmaster, presented Second Class badges to Denny Phelps and Raymond Rutledge.

W. H. Hale presented First Class badges to Buddy Calk and David Nixon. Buddy Calk is so far the only one from here lined up to attend the National Jamboree in the summer of 1964 at Valley Forge, Pa.

Fred Watson presented merit badges to Jim Runge, painting and farm management; Buddy Calk, rowing; and David Nixon, pioneering, swimming, and soil and water conservation.

Bill Johnston, chairman of the Twin Mountain District Advancement committee, presented Eagle Scout badges to Rex and Phil McCormick, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis McCormick, and David Meador, son of Johnny Meador.

For earning 15 badges beyond Eagle rank, Jim Runge was awarded a silver palm.

RUCKERS MOVE TO CRANE

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rucker and family moved to Crane last Friday. Mr. Rucker is employed by Halliburton Co. and held the position of cementer here but was promoted to tool man and transferred to Crane.

The Ruckers have lived in Eldorado about five years. They have six children, five at home as Carol, a daughter who was in the 1950 graduating class, is married and lives in San Angelo. The oldest at home is Beverly, who is in the 7th grade. A boy, David, is in the second grade.

Jerrold Sanders visited his family in Eldorado last week end. He has been transferred to Levelland by Service Pipe Line Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Sauer and family were in Mason Sunday where they attended the Mogford family reunion.

Eagle Booster Ads To Start Next Week

The usual pictorial series of booster advertisements for the Eldorado Eagles will start in next week's issue of the Success. The crew have already done quite a bit of work on this, having taken the individual pictures of the players this week.

Next week's issue of the Success which will carry the initial ad of the booster series will come out the day before the season's opening game, when the Rocksprings Angoras come here.

The pictorial ad each week will show the upcoming game's probable starting lineup, along with other individual photos of the substitutes. The 10-game season extends through the months of September, October, and part of November.

The Success crew have already done the bulk of their selling for this ad series, and any Eagle booster overlooked should call this office at once. While there may be few direct sales in getting on the series, it creates good will which is vital to any business enterprise.

Team workouts were continuing this week under direction of Earl Barnett, who is in his fourth year as head coach. His assistant is Douglas Jung.

—ps—

With Service Pipe moving a few men out of Eldorado, the local housing situation is reported easing somewhat. The town is not nearly as crowded as it was and some vacant houses are in evidence again.

—ps—

Apparently the bubble has burst in regard to the sugar market. A few weeks ago the price of a 10-lb. bag of sugar shot up to $1.69 in local stores. Now a 5-lb. bag is advertised at 49c (limit one, to be sure).

Grocers reported selling some customers several of the $1.69 bags when that was the price; they thought the price would go on up to the stratosphere and that it was the thing to do to hoard.

Now they are left with enough high-priced sugar to last for a while.

Registration Starts Tuesday In 'Punt, Pass & Kick Contest'

Eldorado area boys eight thru 11 can start signing up Tuesday, September 3, for the third annual National Punt, Pass & Kick Competition, with prizes and trophies for youthful football enthusiasts most skillful in punting, passing and kicking (using a kicking tee) footballs.

Registration headquarters in Eldorado is Joe Gault Ford Sales, where entries will be accepted from September 3 through October 11. Entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian; the competition is free to all grade school boys eight through 11, and no special equipment is needed. There is no body contact involved.

Upon registration, the future football stars will receive an instruction folder written by the NFL Champion Green Bay Packer's quarterback Bart Starr; the San Francisco 49ers' ace punter Tommy Davis; and by Don Chandler, the pinpoint place-kicking star of the NFL Eastern Division champion New York Giants. Included in the illustrated folder are tips on body-building calisthenics, in furtherance of President Kennedy's goal of improving the physical fitness of American youth.

Entrants also will receive unique "Televue's," detailed reference booklets giving schedules of all televised NFL football games, team line-ups, and other facts to make television viewing of NFL games more interesting.

Eldorado boys will compete only against others of their age groups in tests to determine the skill and accuracy of their football abilities.

Footballs will be punted, passed and kicked (using a kicking tee) by each entrant, with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, and subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the left or right of a center line.

Four winners, one for each age group, will receive NFL-type warm-up jackets with the insignia of the Dallas Cowboys. Second place winners will receive football helmets, and third place winners will be given footballs autographed by the best punters, passers and kickers on each NFL team.

Scores of the Eldorado winners will be compared with other winners in the state to determine the four Texas winners and the four runner-up winners. The scores of the Texas trophy winners will be compared with other state-wide victors in the area in which the televised games of the Dallas Cowboys are seen. Age-group area winners will then compete in person at a home game of the Cowboys. Area winners will receive an all-expense-paid trip to the game with their fathers and mothers, and will use a junior-size Cowboy uniform to wear when they compete at the game. Scores of the area winners will be compared to determine eight National finalists, four from the NFL Eastern Division and four from the NFL Western Division. These finalists will receive an all-expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C., where they will tour the White House, and to Dearborn, Michigan, for the Henry Ford Centennial, and thence to compete in the national finals during half-time at the National Football League Championship game. Expenses of the finalists' mothers and fathers also will be paid.

The Punt, Pass & Kick Program is sponsored nationally by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company and the National Football League. Sponsor here in Eldorado is Joe Gault Ford Sales.

FASHIONS FOR EVENING AT 1963 STATE FAIR

the neckline are news. Pictured in the center is a design which brings into focus the new sportive look for evening wear, the skirt, blouse and pull-over ensemble. Made from McCall's Pattern #7069, the skirt of Kaplan's Mohair Loop in turquoise is topped by an aqua silk blouse with Glade Green overblouse of velveteen. On the right Butterick Pattern #3488 fashions a patio dress with Empire waist and flowing skirt made of Rosewood's Pussy Willow in a flower garden print.

Texas Highway Dept. Most Economical In Bridge Building

Austin.—Texas is building bridges across its Interstate System at the lowest cost per square foot of any state surveyed in a nationwide report, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced recently.

Greer revealed that a recent study of crossroad bridges built on the Interstate Highway System across the country showed Texas' No. 1 ranking in the bridge-building category. The study was conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The study showed that Texas was the most economical state in building pre-stressed concrete, cast-in-place concrete, and structural steel bridges across Interstate highways.

The average cost for these three types of bridges in Texas was $6.13 per square foot. The next closest state, Kansas, spent $6.50 per square foot for the same structures. Other states ranged all the way up to New Jersey which spent $15.50 per square foot for identical types of bridges.

Greer said the Texas Highway Department has been able to hold bridge-building costs to a low level through standardization of many details.

"For example, the Department has standardized the steel shoes which allow bridges to expand and contract with changes in temperatures," the State Highway Engineer said. "Contractors become familiar with these standardized items and are able to submit lower bids on bridge contracts."

"As another example, the Department uses a considerable number of standardized prestressed concrete beams," he said. "These beams are standardized in three sizes. Fabricators for these beams have steel forms which they can use over and over without having to build new forms for each job—thus keeping their costs down and lowering our contract costs."

"The Department also makes good use of the pan girder form in building concrete bridges. This is a system we developed in the late 1940's which allows contractors to use steel pan forms for pouring concrete beams without having to fabricate form work for each new job," he said.

Production Sale Set

The Grote Angus Ranch of Mason, Texas, have announced their first Registered Production Sale for Sept. 21. The sale will be held at the Mason County Fair Grounds at 1:00 p.m.

A total of 100 lots will sell. This will consist of 20 bulls and 80 females. Twenty-five of the females are consigned by Gerald Hartgraves of Eldorado and Don Estes of Desdemona. The 20 bulls are coming two year olds. Most of the females will either have calves at side or heavy in calf. There will be 10 open heifers. One of the features of the sale will be a group of half sisters to the 1962 State Fair Grand Champion Steer.

The Grote herd was originated in 1947 with foundation females and a herd sire from Iowa. Their entire offering will consist of their own breeding with most of the females being under three years old.

Lunch will be available on the grounds at noon. Catalogs are available on request.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore and Christy and Mrs. L. Moore and Becky attended the graduation exercises last Friday at TCU for Mike Moore and David Steen.

WHEN THE LOCAL P.T.A. sets out to earn money for some worthy project, there's usually a food sale. A handsome and delicious cake such as this one will bring a fancy price . . . and plenty of praise, too. Make up your favorite two-layer chocolate cake recipe (or use a packaged mix). Fill and frost the layers with this luscious frosting. It is one of the best you've ever tasted.

COCONUT PENCUCHE FROSTING

- 1/3 cup butter
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar.
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1-1/2 cups packaged grated coconut
- 3-1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (about)

Melt butter in saucepan. Add milk and brown sugar. Cook and stir over low heat 3 minutes. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in vanilla and 1/2 cup of the coconut. Add confectioners' sugar, beating well until of proper consistency to spread. Makes about 2-1/2 cups frosting, enough to frost an 8- or 9-inch layer cake. Garnish top of frosted cake with remaining coconut or, if desired, spread remaining coconut on a baking sheet. Place in broiler about 1 minute, until very lightly toasted.

You Can't Drive Too Slow, Either

Austin.—Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today the new speed law effective August 23 specifically makes it a violation to drive a vehicle so slowly as to impede traffic.

He said that before enactment of the new law it was necessary for a police officer to warn a driver impeding traffic to speed up or get off the road before filing a charge.

"Under the new statute, as we interpret it, whenever a driver is driving slower than the normal and reasonable movement of traffic and thereby impeding that traffic, he will be committing a violation for which he may be charged in court," Garrison said.

The DPS Director also pointed out that under the new law official bodies having jurisdiction over various kinds of highways are authorized to zone roads for minimum speeds whenever they determine that slower speeds consistently impede traffic. Failure to comply with such minimum speed limits will be regarded as a violation, he added.

"It will be the policy of the Texas Department of Public Safety to stop and take enforcement action against any driver observed to be committing clear-cut and substantial violations of these two provisions of the law," he said.

"Substantial compliance with these provisions should relieve congestion on highways and reduce considerably the differential between top speeds and lower speeds, thus reducing potential conflicts and increasing traffic safety."

THE RATLIFF STORE

These Student Council Officers to Serve Coming Year

The Bailey Ranch Community Club

The Bailey Ranch Community Club met last Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hext for our regular monthly meeting. We had a large crowd but regret that some were unable to attend. We had a very enjoyable evening and a delicious meal. It was reported by one of the ladies that she overheard the men folks talking and they remarked that the "cooks were getting better all the time." To them we say Thanks.

The former Bailey Ranch people who have moved away but still read the Success might be interested to know that the fine hospitality of the community still continues to live on; since we are living in a busy world, we seldom take the time to visit each neighbor one time a month but with the community club we can all have a monthly visit with each other. It's fun. Try it!

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Keel and Sam who have recently moved into our community attended the supper and said they would like to become members. We were very happy to have them.

We had as guests Mr. Jerald Hudson of Rowena, a visitor in the Victor Kent home, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hext of our city.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 7th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kent. —Club Rep.

Awarded Scholarships

Linda Sauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Sauer and salutatorian of the '63 graduating class of Eldorado High school, was recently awarded two scholarships to the University of Texas.

These were the Hogg Memorial Scholarship and the Texas Alpha Pi Beta Phi Educational Foundation Scholarship.

Miss Sauer spent a few days recently on the campus of the U. at Austin where she attended an orientation program and took advanced placement tests, from which she gained several hours' credit toward her degree.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

In July a series of yeast bread workshops were conducted in the homemaking department of the high school. More than 35 homemakers enjoyed the use of this well equipped and beautifully kept kitchen. Those of us who were able to use it to such an advantage want to thank Miss Owens and Mr. Whittis for their generous cooperation. The whole county found it possible to work under perfect surroundings.

We wanted to say "thank you" to them with a loaf of bread or a coffee cake but our timing was wrong and on two or three afternoons we missed them both.

We did appreciate our privilege.

This morning as I came into the court house I met a friend on the walk who said, "Vida, did I understand you correctly when you said that you had not made the Chinese Casserole which was in last week's paper?" With just a trace of alarm I admitted that I had not.

She was instantly reassuring. It was so good that she was going to send the recipe to friends whom she knew would enjoy it. There was just one question that she would like to ask, however: "Who is Mrs. Fleming? I don't know anyone who is your neighbor by that name."

What I failed to make clear was that Mrs. Ray Fleming is a neighbor of Mother and Dad Kreklow and that they all live in Pontiac, Michigan, and not one of ours of the Reynolds community.

And while we are thinking of Mrs. Fleming, and since we have mentioned the breadmaking workshops, let me give you a bread recipe which she gave me and again—I can tell by the way it reads that it will be good. This is called:

Dilly Bread

Dissolve one package yeast in ¼ cup warm water. (Let stand a few minutes.)
1 cup warm creamed cottage cheese—to the cheese add:
2 teaspoons sugar
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 tablespoon instant onion mix
2 teaspoons dill seed. (You may find in the spice shelf of the grocery or Ruth Baker has grown her own dill and will divide with pleasure).
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
1 egg—unbeaten
Now add yeast-water mixture. Mix in 2½ cups flour thoroughly. Put in warm place and let dough rise until it is double in bulk.

Pinch down. Shape into a loaf; place in loaf pan, let rise until doubled again.
Bake at 350 F. (moderate oven) for 35 or 40 minutes. For a beautifully browned crust and a softer crust, brush with melted butter or oleo two or three times before removing from oven. Take loaf from pan and cool on a rack.

If the new school clothes come in with grass stains, try this system of removal:
Work from the wrong side of the fabric.
On washable fabrics, work a detergent into the stain, then rinse. If the stain is a stubborn one and is still there after the first step, use chlorine or sodium perborate bleach or hydrogen peroxide. Do not use chlorine bleaches on any fabric containing silk, wool or spandex fibers.

The "What's New in Laundering" meetings in June occasioned the use of some new words. The new words have to do with washing supplies which are found on all market shelves today. These are some terms which may confuse you—stick this list in your purse and some day take a little time to study the words and the material which are called these names.

These aids make the job of keeping the clothes of the family ready to go a little easier.

Anti-static agent. This is a laundry aid which you can add to the final rinse to prevent build-up of static electricity which causes crackling and clinging in some fabrics.

Fabric softeners. When you add this product to your rinse water, it gives softness or fluffiness to all washable fabrics. It will reduce wrinkling and make ironing easier. Often used on infants' garments.

Brightener. A product which clings to fabrics like a dye to produce greater whiteness or brightness. Brighteners are included in most washing products, but are also available separately.

Rinse conditioner. To be used in your first rinse to prevent minerals in hard water from forming a curd. It will also redissolve detergent residue from previous washes.

Water softener. There are two types: One "locks up" minerals in hard water to prevent them from forming curd or film. The other combines with the minerals in hard water and form insoluble particles that settle in the bottom.

Be sure to read labels before you buy and follow directions carefully when you use any of these products.

Disney Cuts In Fun When Going's Rough

Walt Disney, a great reader, found Jules Verne's "Captain Grant's Children," an obscure novel which he now brings to the screen as "In Search of the Castaways." It is in big-screen color and will be shown at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre tonight and Friday night, where, according to preliminary reports, it does things no other pictureized Verne has done.

Disney, an artist as well as the screen's greatest process technician, has preserved, for once, the childlike gusto of Verne. This does not mean that his children, Hayley Mills, Keith Hamshere and Michael Anderson, Jr., are namby-pamby. They get scared and scared to death. But they laugh and have fun in the dangers, keeping you pleasantly aware that the Maoris are not going to drop them in a cannibal's stewpot.

When a giant condor soars over the Andes with young Robert Grant in his claws, you feel he isn't going to be dropped to his death. Robert rejoins the party not even gasping for breath and declaring it was "a wonderful ride."

The party is caught in an avalanche but the rock on which they stand breaks off into a perfect toboggan slide which dashes exhilaratingly over an icy track, skirting precipices with a saucy swerve and speeding through caves of icy needles—besides getting the travelers where they were going, only faster.

The vernal spirit is ignited by a cheerful kid of 73 years, Maurice Chevalier, playing a geographer, who sings, "relax and enjoy it" when the going gets critical.

It looks serious when the quintet is marooned in a majestic ombu tree, suddenly isolated by a torrential water spout. M. Chevalier smilingly produces a feast out of bird's eggs, leaves and berries. This is the life!

They are not to be perturbed when a jaguar comes calling. Wilfred Hyde White, the perfect English gentleman, always sneezes in the presence of cats. His snort frightens away both the land creature and besieging crocodiles.

Mr. White, as Lord Glenarvon, a seagoing toff grouses amusingly and faces disaster with the classic understatement of the season, "This is highly irregular."

The party is in search of the missing father of Miss Mills and Mr. Hamshere. He is Captain Grant who disappeared in a ship-wreck but suspected of having survived because of a note in a bottle cut from the belly of a shark.

Chevalier has reckoned that Captain Grant can be found on the West Coast of South America. It was a slight miscalculation. He was on the South Coast of Australia where the villainous George Sanders has impressed him into running guns to the savage Maoris.

Disney has given a twist to an old screen device. Every movie spectator has been lacerated emotionally by a picture's "cutting" to gory or unpleasant scenes, that spare him nothing.

Dramatic logic requires that the tribulations of our five seekers for Captain Grant be photographed in cruel detail. Disney blandly "cuts" or edits away all the real unpleasantness. In a way, it gives "In Search of the Castaways" the blithe optimism of a tale told by a healthy 10-year-old.

What if the motion picture had been developed before the time of Jules Verne (1828-1905)?

It's a minor but ponderable theatrical question. Mr. Verne probably would have found the greatest outlet for his talents indulging his fancies for Grade B "horror" movies.

Since Verne had only the printed word to deal with, he won a significant place in French literature. His adventurous characters are people with dimensional personalities. They are to their stories what Captain Ahab was to Melville's "Moby Dick." Children can read about them and enjoy their stories; adults can understand them and perceive their everlasting truths.

The movies showed up in Paris about the time they reached the nickelodeon screens in America. Quite early they found material in Verne. The first camera was capable of annihilating time and place as early as the printed word.

Recently Verne-ism accounted for two big pictures, "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" and Mike Todd's super-duper "Around the World in Eighty Days." Less remarkable have been pictures from "A Journey to the Center of the Earth," "Mysterious Island" and "Five Weeks in a Balloon."

Nyquists Back From Trip Through The East

The Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Nyquist and family returned last week from a 12-day trip that took them through 13 states and the District of Columbia.

They visited Jackson, Mississippi, the Junaluska Methodist encampment in North Carolina, and Philadelphia where they saw the oldest Methodist church in the world, and visited Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell.

In Delaware they visited their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nyquist who is stationed in Delaware with the Air Force.

Family Reunion At Lake Buchanan

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan of Calf Creek met at Lake Buchanan last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan are the parents of Mrs. O. B. Bradshaw of Eldorado, who was present with her husband and daughter, Mrs. Monetta Wilson and son, Mike, of Iraan.

The meeting was held at the courts of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Furr, former Eldorado citizens. Mrs. Furr is a sister of Mr. Duncan.

Other members of the family attending were Mrs. Floyd Turner and Deborah, Mrs. Valerie Gandy, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gandy and Kyle, all of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Shirl Gandy and Lisa of Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowdon of Brady; Mr. and Mrs. Savola Bolt of Grit; Mr. and Mrs. Oran Lee Furr and family of Houston and Mrs. Jimmy Danford and sons of Eldorado were present also, being the children of the Fred Furrs.

The group enjoyed a week end of fishing, boating, water skiing, etc., along with the get-together.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ray Stanford of Waco were here this week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truett Stanford and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson, and other relatives and friends.

Editorial Comments From Our Neighbors

School Bells Again

Everyone's view of summer is different depending on his responsibilities, opportunities and role in life. Many mothers very probably feel it has been long, noisy, busy and hot. But a good many million children and dogs probably find it hard to believe that three months could have sped so quickly and that the school doors are about to open once again.

The sounds and smells and experiences of summer vacation are still an important part of growing up. But there have been changes—the old swimming hole may have become a concrete-lined chlorinated pool. The automobile and airplane have vastly extended the scope of things that can be seen on a vacation trip. School has changed too, as the frontiers of man's knowledge have been pushed back so rapidly in recent years. The amount of knowledge that must be packed into the heads of children in grade school and high school has vastly increased.

As school bells ring again, let's salute our young people and those who guide them through ever more complicated fields of learning. In the great affairs of nations, in science, and the complicated business of learning a good and worthwhile life, our need has never been greater for concerned, intelligent, educated men and women. —Van Horn Advocate.

The Debt—Nationwide

The national debt, it is estimated, will reach $315,600,000,000 in 1964. That's quite a jump in 30 years from the $27 billion which we owed in 1934.

In case you are worried about paying off your part of this charge account why don't you quit fretting and just worry about your interest. That little item will amount to $13 for every family in this country during 1964. Our total interest for '64 will be $10 billion.

Probably the best thing to do to cut down on the debt would be to cut out all federal aid programs unless they directly benefit folks right around here. We might also leave alone those programs which benefit any of our kinfolks. Cut out the rest of 'em. —Bronte Enterpriser.

Let's Climb The Mountain

Last week we discussed the latent assets of Menard which might be developed into tourist attractions, and thus turned into more business and increased prosperity for the community.

But all this will take work. It will take effort and planning—and money. So why bother? We have a pretty good town as it is. Only

Elvis Sings 14 Songs In 'Girls! Girls! Girls!'

Elvis Presley returns to the Eagle Drive-In Theatre screen on Sunday and Monday nights as star in "Girls! Girls! Girls!" This motion picture is in color.

Elvis portrays a tuna-boat skipper who "moonlights" as a nightclub entertainer and a life filled with boats, blondes and brunettes—not necessarily in that order. He has 14 songs to warble in such varied settings as a smoky club, the open sea and assorted stops in between.

As the title implies, "Girls! Girls! Girls!" affords Presley time for more than tunes and tuna. Stella Stevens is the primary romantic interest in the Hal Wallis Production for Paramount release. The film features pretty Laurel Goodwin, a young discovery making her Hollywood debut.

This time around Elvis is the skipper of a charter fishing boat owned by a genial Greek couple who have raised him almost since boyhood.

The couple also owns a sleek sailboat built by Presley and his father just before the latter's death. It has been his home ever since. When he learns that the boats must be sold to raise money for his foster parents, Presley does everything possible to purchase the schooner. He falls short by several thousands of dollars.

But a lovely—and wealthy—female acquaintance, portrayed by Laurel Goodwin, comes up with the money. When she tries to make Elvis a present of the sleek craft, she only succeeds in hurting his feelings. Elvis, true to the code of all red-blooded American boys, "can't be bought."

Woven into this loose story are some dazzling background shots of the Hawaiian coastline. It provides a beautiful setting for the 14 tunes which punctuate the story line. As you may have guessed by now, Elvis winds up with his boat—and the pert Miss Goodwin's hand in marriage.

The cast: Ross Carpenter—Elvis Presley; Robin Gantner—Stella Stevens; Laurel Dodge—Laurel Goodwin; Wesley Johnson—Jeremy Slate; Sam—Robert Strauss; Alexander Stavros—Frank Puglia

a few would benefit. Those who are in business would line their pockets with tourist dollars, while the rest of the community is helped hardly at all.

So go the arguments which we expect to arise against the plan. But let us look at both sides of the coin.

The more the business of a community prospers, the more the community as a whole will prosper; the greater the opportunity for all. The greater the opportunity for employment for those who live here, and the greater the possibilities for young people who grow up here and wish to live here to find it economically feasible to do so.

In short, increased business—tourist business or any other kind—means more people.

But why more people? We have a nice size town as it is. (The negative side again).

More people, of course, would create new problems. But they also would share the tax burden. They would add pupils to the schools, enabling Menard to have more teachers, and get state school aid which otherwise would go to some other community.

The time is coming when Menard will need a new Grammar School plant. Where will the tax dollars come from to build it? A more prosperous, more populous community, with more people sharing the tax burden, would help.

In a way, operating a small community can be compared to feeding a small number of chickens. With the time and effort it takes to feed a hundred, one could almost as easily feed five hundred, and his profit per chicken would be much greater.

In the same manner, our community could operate more efficiently with more people. Enough more people would make it possible for us to have stronger schools, stronger churches, better parks and recreation facilities of all kinds, a bigger and better library—all kinds of things which we now must do without because we do not have enough people and income to share the costs.

Before we improve, we must want to improve. If we do not want to go forward, it is almost certain that we shall go backwards.

A recent survey indicated that at the rate of growth Menard has had since 1960, 56 years will be required to regain the population lost during the 1950's. But even that is no sure thing.

Without effort and planning, even such a small rate of gain cannot be ours. We must climb the mountain—or plunge to the bottom. —Menard News.

WHAT BIRD IS THIS?

By Ruth Parker

Flying through the silent night, they whistle one of nature's loveliest sounds in passing. The calls of the Upland Plover are many and varied; they are happy and sad; they are lonely yet gregarious; their victory shines through the mirror of defeat. In fall and spring they pass by ones, by twos, by tens, by thousands; but unlike the old proverbial good child, they are heard more often than they are seen.

On the plains of the west the Upland Plover was once found in great abundance. As farms grew out of forests, the summering and breeding ranges of the plover expanded to the east. Then came the marketing of wildfowl in the 1830's and 1890's. It was then that the Passenger Pigeon and the Eskimo Curlew were exterminated and the Band-tailed Pigeon brought dangerously near extinction. When millions of Passenger Pigeons were marketed and the species grew scarce, a new delicacy was sought for the table of the epicurean. The Upland Plover fell to the hunter's gun. But even while doom seemed to consume the species, the brink of the wildlife conservation movement was reached; and the Upland Plover come under protection of the law.

It is ironic that any misfortune was allowed to befall the Upland Plover, for it can be judged among all birds to be the best benefactor of man. Its diet is 95% insectivorous with an interesting array of insect species included. A few among the many insects that fall prey to the Upland Plover are cottonboll weevil, clover-leaf weevil, leaf beetles, wireworms, click beetles, cutworms, army worms, cotton cutworms; horseflies and cattle ticks. The 5% vegetable constituent of its diet consists largely of buttonweed, foxtail grass, and sandspur seeds as well as some grain chaff.

The plover-like behavior of the Upland Plover belies the fact that it is actually a sandpiper—a member of the family Scolopocidae. Like the plovers, it prefers the open fields, runs about with quick stops and starts, and avoids the water. It is buff-brown, somewhat larger than a Killdeer, and small-headed. It has a dark rump and a long tailed appearance.

Two habits help distinguish the Upland Plover in the field. Unlike other members of its family, it perches frequently on fence posts and stumps. But more in keeping with other members of its family, the Upland Plover has also the habit of holding its wings above its back for a few seconds after landing.

The Upland Plover breeds from Alaska south to Oklahoma. In migration its powerful flight carries it from its breeding grounds to the southern part of South America. It flies both by day and by night in migration, and passes its great numbers over Schleicher County.

Look out over the fields, along the roadsides, into the air above, and into September's blue haze. Listen to the air; it sings in autumn, and always, by day and by night, the solo voice is that of the Upland Plover.

The Eldorado Success

Back From Colorado

Clarence and Doretha Fish have returned from Colorado where Mr. Fish spent most of the summer operating harvesting crews.

On June 24th, Mrs. Fish was driving a pick-up and was forced off a mountain road to avoid a head-on collision with a truck. The 37-foot drop demolished the pick-up, and Mrs. Fish spent a week in the hospital, but is now about recovered from her injuries. Mr. Fish bought a new pickup about two weeks ago to replace the one that was wrecked.

Mr. Fish left his harvest equipment at Floydada and will go back there soon to spend four or five more weeks with the maize harvest while Mrs. Fish operates their Western Motel here.

MRS. WHITTEN ENTERTAINS

Mrs. W. T. Whitten entertained several of her friends for dinner on two separate occasions since she returned from a trip abroad.

On Aug. 22, she had Mrs. P. S. Dudley, Mrs. Bill Blaylock, Mrs. L. D. Ochsner, Mrs. Mabel Parker and Mrs. Ruth Williams.

On Sunday she entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Hartgraves, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Mittel, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thompson, Mrs. Ed Jackson, Mrs. W. L. McWhorter and her grandsons, Steve, Ross and Bob Whitten.

Visiting Mrs. L. D. Ochsner last week end were her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Ochsner of Midland. They and Mrs. Ochsner visited the Harold Scherz family in Sonora Saturday night. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ochsner of Snyder came and spent the day.

Methodist Notes

The Rev. C. M. Nyquist is back on the job as pastor after returning from a 12-day trip through the East. He preached at morning and night services this past Sunday.

This coming Sunday, Sept. 1st, all Sunday evening activities will start a half-hour earlier. The Sunday night worship service will have a new starting time of 7:30. A Laymen's Retreat will be held at Mt. Wesley, Kerrville, the week of Sept. 6-8.

Health Insurance To Be Available To Persons Over 65

One of the several laws passed by the 53th Texas Legislature that took effect Friday, August 23, was one establishing an association of insurance companies in Texas through which Texans 65 years of age and over may purchase health insurance with no questions asked.

Enabling legislation establishing the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association was passed by the legislature without a dissenting vote. The bill was signed by Governor John Connally on May 14.

At the time he signed the bill authorizing Texas 65 Governor Connally stated he felt the plan was a sound step forward in Texas' continuing effort to care for its own people.

The unique health insurance program will offer the state's senior citizens two plans.

The basic plan will pay a maximum of $12 a day for a hospital room up to 31 days, part of the costs of doctor's hospital visits, surgical fees up to $200 and miscellaneous hospital charges up to $125.

Premiums for this basic plan will be $9 per month.

The major medical plan will pay hospital expenses up to $5,000 during any calendar year, or about 80% of all hospital, surgical and nursing home expenses after the first $75.

Monthly premiums for this latter plan will be $10.

The first enrollment period for the new health insurance plan will be October 1-31.

During the first enrollment period all Texans who are 65 years of age or over, as of October 31, will be eligible to purchase the health insurance without physical examination and regardless of physical condition.

The plan will be available through all insurance agents in the state.

It is expected that additional enrollment periods will follow about every eight months.

MASONS START BUILDING FOR LITTLE CHILDREN

The cornerstone of a building for pre-school age children of Masonic Home and School in Fort Worth was leveled recently by George R. M. Montgomery of Fort Worth, right, Past Grand Master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas and president of the Masonic Home board of governors. The building is scheduled for completion about January 1, 1964.

A substantial part of the building cost came from the Mary E. Bryant Estate. The building is the fourth addition to the Masonic Home campus in its current modernization program. A new high school building will be occupied this fall.

Shown putting mementos in the cornerstone box are several three-to-six-year-old children who will benefit from home-like facilities of the new building. On the left is Hugh M. Craig of Fort Worth, Masonic Past Grand Master and member of the Masonic Home Independent School District board. He is a graduate of the school.

Children and grandchildren of Masons are eligible for admission to Masonic Home and School

Austin.—Gov. John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has its eye on tuition-free colleges and "super universities."

Also being looked upon with favor are Texas junior colleges and vocational schools. Committee is searching for a way to meet educational needs in the next decade.

Task is made difficult by the need for 900,000 new junior and senior college graduates by 1974.

The prediction, called "conservative" by committeeman Gifford Johnson, Dallas industrial leader, includes 456,000 four-year college graduates, and 440,000 graduates of two-year schools.

Right now the total enrollment in 19 of the state's four-year colleges and 34 private senior colleges totals 175,100. Junior college enrollment in 35 state junior colleges and 10 private schools is 37,200.

If these students all were to graduate, they would produce about half the number of graduates needed in the next 4 years. But Johnson said the problem is many won't graduate. There is a big drop-out problem in colleges and an even bigger drop-out problem in the grades below college level.

Johnson stated that only 54% of the students enrolled in the third grade in 1953 graduated from high school in 1963.

What to do about the drop-out problem, which Governor Connally has called "one of the most critical problems of the decade"? Both Johnson and committeeman Tom Sealy of Midland, as well as other members of the committee which is composed of some of the state's most powerful citizens, recommended more and better counseling through all the high school years and college.

"If students aren't encouraged to stay in high school and perform well there, they don't have a chance," Johnson said.

His concept of free colleges and state universities which would admit only the top 15% of high school graduates brought a lot of favorable comment from the committee. But Chairman H. B. Zachry of San Antonio warned all that this was just the preliminary to a preliminary report. Final report to Governor Connally is not due until August, 1964.

Poll Tax Campaign On

Governor Connally will kick off the League of Women Voters' campaign for repeal of the poll tax with a speech on September 9—the day the women launch a two-month drive for repeal of the tax.

November 9 is the date voters will decide whether to strike the poll tax requirement for voting from the State Constitution.

Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Sen. John Tower, congressmen and state legislators are being invited to the September 9 meeting in Austin.

New Regime

Commissioners of two brand-new state agencies were sworn in to office, as well as the man who will take Attorney General Waggoner Carr's place on the State School Land Board, Judge Wilson Fox of Taylor.

New commissioners are Loan Regulatory Commissioner Frank Miskell, and Parks and Wildlife Commissioners, Will Odom of Austin, chairman, J. M. Dellinger of Corpus Christi, and A. W. Mournd of Johnson City. All four have been trying to keep up with new roles and heavy commission agendas at the same time.

Parks Board Bows Out

State Parks Board held its last meeting just a few days before being replaced by the Parks and Wildlife Commission. But it could not transact any business since it couldn't get a quorum.

Chairman Maurice E. Turner of Huntsville was there, as well as Ed Kilman of Houston and Max Starcke of Austin. But Reese Martin of Beaumont was out of the state; Uvalde member Harry Hornby was ill, and J. Carter King of Albany was not available.

Parks planner Elo J. Urvanovsky of Texas Tech was on hand to present an estimated $400 million plan for a model parks system—developed with a $70,000 legislative appropriation. But the board asked him to make his recommendations to the Parks and Wildlife Commission at some later date.

Rehabilitation Record Set

J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education, claimed a new record for the Texas Vocational Rehabilitation program. He announced that a total of 3,566 disabled men and women were rehabilitated to productive jobs during the year ended on June 30.

Edgar said 365 of these persons had been receiving public assistance payments totaling some $346,000 a year. He figured their new ability to be self-supporting now would save many thousands of dollars in federal and state assistance funds.

Slow Driving Prohibited

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, issued a reminder that the new speed law specifically makes it a violation to drive a vehicle so slowly as to impede traffic.

Minimum limits, as well as maximum limits, are being posted on the highways throughout the state.

Youth Conference Held

Austin was stacked full of high school leaders as Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held a conference on youth.

The 1,140 young people who attended were told how to prevent juvenile crime and school drop-outs. It is up to them to put the ideas into effect through high school organizations.

Basically, the solution is in finding things for junior high and high school students to do. Recreation for those who only need to keep occupied and jobs for those who need to help their families at 14 or 15 were the major prescriptions.

Carr hoped the conference had set some brushfires in the civic consciousness of high school leaders to burn out the pockets of trouble for many thousands of Texas young people.

Padre Island

In a colorful ceremony, the state of Texas handed over some 90,000 acres of submerged land in Laguna Madre to become a part of the Padre Island National Seashore.

Hailed as a tourist attraction, the Padre project was created by Congress and the Texas Legislature agreed to contribute the state's land.

Reserved to the Permanent School Fund are the oil and gas which may lie under the shallow waters of Laguna Madre.

The National Park Service, with a $1,500,000 appropriation to start, will buy the uplands of Padre Island from private owners. Governor Connally, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler and Attorney General Carr, members of the School Land Board which signed the deed, all predicted bright things for this major addition to the Texas recreation scene.

Pollution

Some areas of the state have developed major water pollution problems and the new Texas Water Pollution Control Board has set out to cure them.

Board will have a hearing on September 25-26 designed to protect the vast Ogallala formation, which supplies irrigation and municipal water in most of the Panhandle and South Plains. Expected to come from the hearing is an order prohibiting the use of open, unlined surface pits for the disposal of salt water produced with

Already the Board has started placing strict chlorination requirements on municipal sewage treatment plants in the Houston area to stop pollution of Clear Lake where a huge population growth is being created by the Moonshot

Water pollution problems are popping up all over the state. New Board, which operates only with money given it by other state agencies, is going after them as fast as it can.
