Schleicher Likely To Get Permits For Antlerless Deer During Coming Season

Deer population surveys have been in full swing since September 1 in this area. At this time, indications are that antlerless deer permits will be issued to landowners within limited areas of Sutton, Schleicher, Crockett and Val Verde counties, according to Calvin Van Hoozer, Sutton county biologist technician. Final analysis of surveys will govern the number of antlerless deer permits to be issued as well as the areas within each county where antlerless deer shall be harvested.

Antlerless deer hunting permits will be issued only to those landowners who own land within an area where deer populations are found to have reached, or are found to be closely approaching the carrying capacity of the range. Therefore, the issuance of antlerless deer permits to a given landowner will not necessarily indicate that deer populations are extremely high on his ranch, but will indicate that his ranch is located within an area where deer populations are approaching the carrying capacity of the range.

Extortion Case Dropped For Lack of Evidence

A charge of extortion was dismissed against a 54-year-old Eldorado woman Monday during a jury trial in 51st District Court here.

District Attorney Frank C. Dickey Jr. said he asked for a dismissal on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Charged was Maria Barrego. The complaint alleged that on Sept. 1 she threatened to burn down a house owned by Dolores Espinosa in an attempt to extort money.

Miss Barrego was indicted Oct. 7 by a Schleicher County grand jury.

200 Bales Cotton Ginned In Five Days

On Wednesday night of last week the gin total here stood at 1400 bales. On Monday night of this week the total had reached 1604—an increase of 204 bales in five days.

This also averages out at 40 bales a day, and means that the crop movement is already slowing down. A week or ten days ago it reached the top at about 65 bales daily.

If weather stays dry it won't be long before all stripped cotton will be in, the gin owner remarked. There will still remain a good deal of irrigated cotton. Gin men expect to hit the 2,000 mark one of these days but beyond that they are making no predictions.

Post Script

This writer was among the large number of Eldoradoans who attended the game at Rankin last Friday night. Peyton Cain will give a professional report on that event, so all I'm going to say is that we got beat fair and square—in the second half, that is.

A large number of Eldorado fans took advantage of the barbecue supper served by the Rankin Seniors—and it was a real good feed. I was impressed with their large school plant and I'll go on record to say that their football stadium is the finest in this district. The weather was perfect; Rankin put on a fine show and they deserved their victory.

We left the field in the last minute of play; found our car and pointed it westward. Stayed overnight at Jack Shugart's motel in Fort Stockton and continued on to Van Horn Saturday morning to visit the grandchildren. Returned home Sunday afternoon to find everything still dry, and the Eagle fans still wondering how it happened.

Tom Ratliff moved his insurance agency office to new quarters in the Lone Star Theater building during the week end. Mr. Ratliff purchased the building some time ago and recently had it remodeled for his office.

He is now conducting his insurance business from the new quarters and plans tentatively to hold an open house for the public on November 1st. Further plans on this will be given in the Success next week.

Kenneth Rostford, Norman Cash, S. D. Harper, and Irby Metcalf of Post took a fishing trip over the week end to the Pecos river.

They came back with several fish, including a 35-pound yellow catfish.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Spigarelli report that their new address in Shreveport, La., is 6359 Inwood Rd.

A. R. Parker will be in Houston for a stay of several months. His address will be 8406 Detroit, Apt. 20, Houston, Texas.

"If you don't have it in stock you can't sell it," seems to be the policy of the Eldorado Drug, and there is so much merchandise coming in there lately that the store can't hold it. Eldon Calk has rented the old Hoover building as a store room. Noticed him there yesterday coming after another pickup load.

Several residents in the north part of town have had their dogs poisoned in recent days. In some of these cases, the poison has been thrown into a fenced yard where the dog was kept.

It is a worry to parents, naturally, that a small child might pick up the poisoned tidbit and eat it before a dog does, and then there would be tragedy.

The dog poisoner is a slippery miscreant, however. Over the years we have had owners of poisoned dogs to come in and advertise rewards of as much as $200 for information leading to the arrest of the poisoner, and nothing ever comes of it.

With all due respect to ranchers who put poison on their places to protect their livestock from wild dogs and other predators, it's a different matter when poison is put out here in town where it is a hazard to human as well as canine life.

Boy Scout Fund Drive To Close Here Soon

Fred Watson urges all workers with the fund drive for the Boy Scout Council to turn in their pledge cards as soon as possible in order to terminate the drive, which has been going on for about three weeks.

The current drive has as its purpose the addition of more sustaining members who will pay a monthly pledge to Scout work.

Mrs. Truett Stanford and Mrs. W. A. Blaylock visited in the Tom Kent home in Midland last week end. While there they visited Mrs. Geraldine Simmons who is a daughter of Rev. M. J. Davis, who was pastor of the First Baptist church here about 40 years ago. Mrs. Davis and another daughter, Jimma Lee Burnett of Lubbock, met them there.

Home Game Here Tomorrow Night With Iraan Starts 7:30

The Eldorado Eagles host the Iraan Braves tomorrow night on Eagle Field, and the starting time is 7:30 o'clock. It is a crucial game for the Eagles—they all are now, because the Eagles still are very much in the running for District 8A honors should Rankin stumble just once. But another loss would certainly blast Eagle chances.

The Iraan Braves are enjoying a mediocre season to date. A win over the Eagles would be their triumph of the year. But odds are against them. This past Friday night, they lost to the Ozona Lions by a 6-0 score and statistics do not give them much chance against Eldorado. However, the Eagles must come back from a hard blow to their collective egos and the Braves might be able to give the Eagles a rough night.

Coach Earl Barnett said that Iraan used single wing formation as their basic one although occasionally they employed a spread as well as so-called winged-T. He continued that they were not blessed with a great deal of speed and as a result did not show a strong offense to date. He said that they displayed a scrappy spirit and on occasion threw up fairly strong defensive stands.

Coach Barnett said their starting line-up would probably be as follows:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.
42	Rodney Morgan	LE	133
71	Bruce Jackson	LG	179
62	James Coots	LT	151
51	Richard Smith	C	187
52	Edwin Calvert	RG	166
33	John McFaddin	RT	143
84	Scott Stuson	RE	157
15	Ken Black	HB	148
11	John Smithson	HB	135
32	William Mabry	FB	143
40	Val Flores	QB	155

(Ken Black, a junior in the Iraan high school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Black. Mr. Black formerly served as high school principal here, a position he now has at Iraan.)

Coach Barnett concluded that the Eagles' starting lineup and defensive lineup would probably remain unchanged if these same lads were physically capable.

Game time is 7:30 o'clock due to earlier darkness, increasing chill, and the need for teams to be on the road home earlier.

Next Friday night, November 1, Eldorado makes a bit of history when Eldorado journeys to Sanderson although teams from that school have been in Eldorado before. For instance as far back as 1947, a basketball team from Sanderson competed in Eldorado's annual tourney.

FLAG ETIQUETTE

The night of October 11, members of Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion in Eldorado, went on the PA system in an effort to improve flag etiquette on Eagle field. Those Eldorado fans who attended the Rankin game this past Friday night could not but be impressed with the timeliness of the Legion's efforts in this direction. Gist of the Legion's drive is this: Render proper respect to the colors when they are raised on Eagle Field and elsewhere. Show proper courtesy to the school song but do not equate it with the National Anthem and the national colors.

Roughly, the Legionnaires' thought is that when the flag is raised and the Star Spangled Banner begins, all persons should face the flag, remove hats for men, and all should place their right hands over their hearts and refrain from talking until the music is ended. Placing the hand over the heart for the school song is not indicated. Persons in Rankin last Friday night saw the need for this sort of information since not one person in 50 demonstrated the proper courtesies towards the flag when the appropriate music was played. For persons who are citizens of such a country not to display proper flag courtesy is a matter of concern not only for Legionnaires but for all other citizens as well.

Closing Of Wright's Store Marks End Of An Era In Business Life Of Town And County

This picture was published Nov. 1st, seven years ago on occasion of Wright's Golden Anniversary and 80th birthday. Still active in business at that time, the seven intervening years have brought a steady decline in his strength until his family persuaded him to retire.

When last Saturday, October 12, marked the closing of A. T. Wright's general store here in Eldorado, it also marked the loss of a familiar figure from the business district.

The closing of Mr. Wright's store and his announcement that he will retire, brought a business career to a close that extended back almost 60 years and which included both the newspaper and grocery lines.

It was back in 1906 that Mr. Wright bought the local weekly newspaper from R. L. Carothers. Mr. Carothers had established it in 1901 as the "El Dorado Paper" and after Mr. Wright bought it, he changed the name to "The Success" and operated it for a number of succeeding years. Several times he sold the newspaper and had to repurchase it. The Eldorado Success, now completing its 62nd year of publication, remains the oldest business institution in Schleicher county.

Mr. Wright's newspaper background stretched back to his early years. His father owned and operated the Guadalupe News at Seguin, Texas, and also operated a little farm. It was here, on November 6, 1876, that Archie was born. He was the second of three sons.

His father died when Archie was 2½ and the mother moved with her children and her father to Ben Ficklin in Tom Green county. In 1880, she married George Holland, an old friend of the Wrights. The family eventually included two half-sisters and six half-brothers.

Archie started his education in a little three-months' school for which tuition was $1.50 a month. Later he attended public school. After he quit school he farmed for three years and put in some time as a ranch hand at Half Circle 6 ranch.

He came to what is now Eldorado in 1900 to work for W. B. Silliman, for whom he broke wild horses. This county was attached to Menard county then, and Archie helped agitate for a separate county organization. He voted in the

Rankin Red Devils Beat the Terrible 'Tom-Toms' Before Coming Out Last Friday Night to Scalp the Eagles

Folks have always smiled at the comic aspect of little devils with their malevolent impotence; but the Eldorado Eagles and their fans learned anew last Fri. night that the big devils are not funny. Particularly when they have been wound up to a frenzy by a week of pep rallies with three on Friday before the game at night plus a day of pulsing drum beats, begun by 8:00 o'clock in the morning and discontinued only at the kick-off. A considered thought here is to the effect that to sacrifice the efficiency of a week's educational effort in the classroom to wind up or key up a football team is too high a price to pay for a victory on Friday night—even if it is homecoming.

But the Eldorado Eagles and the folks with them on their side of the stadium spent an unhappy evening as Big Jerry McDonald, Red Devil fullback playing his first full game of the season, traded bruises for yards enough to topple the Eldorado lads from their place as district favorites by a score of 20-13. It was an upset of no mean proportions and should the Red Devils continue the pace, they should capture the district championship handily.

Game statistics reflect that the contest was close and hard fought.

Eldo.	Rank.
10	first downs 16

The Eagles brought a ray of hope to their backers 90 seconds before the end of the first quarter when Captain Lynn Meador on a reverse and behind desperate blocking of his teammates up front broke away for nearly 60 yards to score. Harbinger of the struggle to come is reflected by the fact that a Rankin lineman

Halloween Trick-or-Treat

Last week's issue of The Success carried an informative article on The Trick or Treat program to be sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance for the Youth of Eldorado.

This week we want to remind you that this is the Christian way to observe Halloween. It is not a program of the United Nations nor is it promoted by any "pink" organization. The local churches in each town sponsor the CROP project, and a Texas organization in Austin handles the funds for all churches and communities. They will buy surplus foods at 10 cents on the dollar, and this food is shipped free to the countries of greatest need and there it is distributed by church leaders who know this kind of work and how best to handle the supplies. So, don't hesitate to put your change in the containers that will be carried to your door Halloween night beginning at 6:00 o'clock. The Youth of Eldorado want to make Halloween a constructive evening instead of destructive.

JR. HIGH FOOTBALL BANQUET COMING UP SATURDAY

The Jr. High football team, the Eagles, will have their banquet at 6:30 Saturday evening in the school cafeteria. In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Howard Derrick and Mrs. Jo Ed Hill.

Guy Whitaker coached the Eagles, who recently closed out their season of play.

News of the Sick

Mrs. Grover Lee Johnson underwent surgery in an Odessa hospital last Thursday. She has made satisfactory recovery, and was scheduled to be released and sent home sometime this week.

Johnny Mayo, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mayo, injured his knee recently while playing with the Jr. High football team. He has been receiving medical treatment on the knee.

Friday To Mark 60th Anniversary For County Residents Of 49 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kent

This Friday, October 25th, will mark the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kent, who still live on the quarter-section farm they purchased 49 years ago and that has remained their home since.

Although their family do not plan a large open house and celebration like the one that feted the couple a decade ago on their Golden Wedding, a family gathering and dinner is planned and a few of their close friends may go by to wish them well.

It was on October 25, 1903, that Linnie Clark became the bride of Leonard Kent in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Clark, in Houston county. Rev. Whitescarver officiated at the wedding which was held at 8:00 in the evening.

The Clark family home was filled to capacity with friends and neighbors and supper was served to all. Elaborate plans were made for the wedding. The bride wore a white voile dress with high collar. She wore her hair rolled with rosebuds in front, picked fresh from bushes that she herself had rooted on the farm. The bridegroom wore a gray suit with the tight trousers which were high-style at that time.

The couple could not establish their own home for a month. The groom's father was in the midst of his annual autumn job of making huge quantities of ribbon cane syrup for sale, and the couple moved in with the bride's in-laws until her husband could help his father complete the project of working up the cane into syrup which was run into barrels for commercial purposes.

In December they left for Comanche county where they stayed for two years, then moved to Mitchell county for nine years, returning to Houston county for another two years of farming.

In 1914 they moved to this county to the farm they bought from Vernie Humphrey and have remained Schleicher county residents since that time.

The Kents have two sons and a daughter. Otis, the elder of the two sons, was born in 1905 and now lives at Littlefield. The other two children are Marguerite, Mrs. Fred Gillaspay, and Victor, both of this county. The Kents have six grandchildren and three greats.

Their 60th anniversary will find the Kents still active for a couple their age. He still sells eggs and produce and he was 83 on March 17th. Mrs. Kent was 80 on July 27th.

CHOSEN FOR CHANCELLORS

Austin.—Shannon Harrison Ratliff, University of Texas law student from Eldorado, has been chosen a member of Chancellor's highest honorary society of the Law School.

Ratliff is also editor of the Texas Law Review, and received the Outstanding First-Year Student Award. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ratliff of Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Potter of Corpus Christi came in last Wednesday and remained here through the week end. They are former residents of this county and he served as county commissioner.

Floyd McGinnes Named Crosby County Clerk

The Crosby County Commissioners named Floyd McGinnes to the office of County Clerk during a meeting last week, to take effect on or before Nov. 1, and to serve until after the next general election in November, 1964. The Commissioners appointed Mr. McGinnes clerk after the present clerk submitted his resignation.

Mr. McGinnes is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGinnes of Eldorado and grew up here. He is a graduate of Eldorado High School and attended John Tarleton college at Stephenville.

He married a Crosbyton girl, Betty Higginbotham, and they and their two children make their home there where he has been employed as a bookkeeper and parts salesman for an auto supply company.

He was appointed over 20 other applicants.

The couple have two adopted children, Kyle Wynn, 20 months, and Kristi Jane, six weeks. They visited in Eldorado over the week end to show off the new baby.

The grandfather, Sam McGinnes, was beaming over a new, dark-eyed brunette granddaughter who looks so much like him!

Firemen's Auxiliary Go To The State Fair

The six-woman team of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department put Eldorado on the map at the Fair and the Firemen's Convention in Dallas last Sunday, Oct. 20, which was closing day of the State Fair.

Blanche West, Frances Ledingham, Sybil Blair, Jane Alexander, Kathy Neblett, and Flora Hubble made up the team. There were 15 women's teams entered as follows and the time for each:

Lewisville 27.4 seconds; Mart, 25.7; Sache, 22; DeSoto, 30.5; Eldorado, 20.4; Sugarland, 20; Richardson, 21.4; Lake Worth, 23.1; Sansom Park, 24.8; Weatherford, 21.8; Killeen, 20.1; Garland, 35.7; River Oaks, 24.9; Rendon, 28.5; and Breckenridge with 24 seconds flat.

The Eldorado girls were very happy to place 3rd with such competition.

Palmer West was a judge for all the races entered.

Delwood Blair accompanied the women to the fair. Mr. and Mrs. West went after attending the barbecue and meeting at Sterling City Saturday.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR SAMMYE AND PAM

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Calk entertained with a barbecue chicken supper on the patio of their home last Friday night honoring their daughter, Pamela, and a friend, Sammye Mayo; both girls celebrated birthdays recently.

Those attending besides the honorees were their college friends: Pam's roommate, Lynn Turkotte, and Johnny Lawrence, both from the University of Texas and Sammye's friends, Martha Lou Blain, Sandra Williams, Martha Cheavens, Sondra Pearson, Carol Ann West, Bill McKinney and Phil McCrary, all from Baylor University, Mr. and Mrs. John Mayo, Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen, and Buddy and Mark Calk.

After the supper the group went to Sonora to visit Johnny Mayo, Sammye's brother, in the Sonora hospital, returning later to the Calk home where the party continued.

BAYLOR STUDENTS VISIT

Miss Sammye Mayo came home from Baylor U. last week end bringing a group of friends with her to spend a week end in southwest Texas. The group, Martha Lou Blain, Martha Cheavens, Sandra Williams, Sondra Pearson, Carol Ann West, Bill McKinney, and Phil McCouoy had never been in Southwest Texas before, most of them being from East Texas; some as far as Nashville, Tenn., so they had a delightful time. They went shopping and sight seeing in Del Rio Saturday following a birthday party at the Calk home Friday night, then ended up at the Calk home again Saturday night after the trip to Del Rio to eat birthday cake and wish Pamela a happy birthday.

FIRST BAPTIST CIRCLE

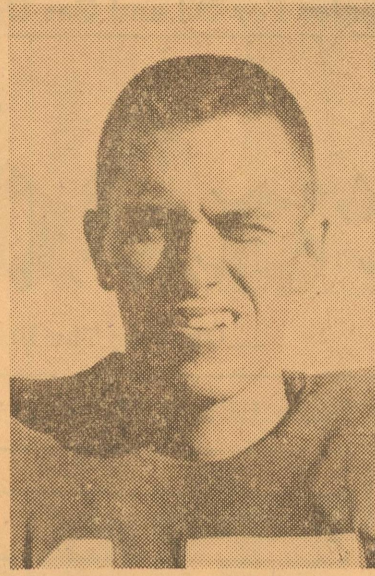

Mrs. Richard Cheatham, circle chairman, led her circle Monday afternoon when they met at the home of Mary Bruton and chose the name Evelyn Smith, a missionary, as their circle name for the year.

Mrs. Granvil Hext read the Calendar of Prayer. Fay Watson led the opening prayer.

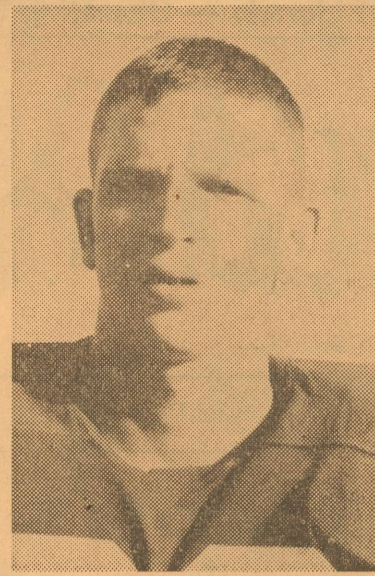

Mrs. J. L. Ratliff taught the mission study lesson from the book Mandalbaum Gate by Leo Eddleman.

Mrs. S. D. Maxfield led the closing prayer. Miss Bruton served coffee and cookies to the 11 members present.

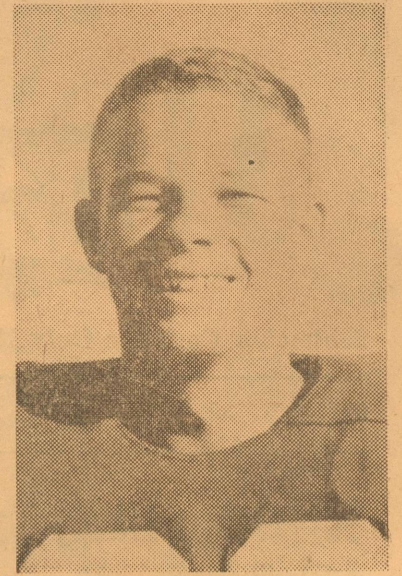

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff visited Mrs. Ratliff's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Gilbreath at Wichita Falls from Thursday until Saturday. Mrs. Gilbreath had been ill at the clinic in Wichita Falls, but was much improved.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION STUDY GENEALOGY AT MEETING

Genealogy was the subject of the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, El Dorado Chapter, Thursday in the Club Room. Mrs. J. E. Hill was leader and Mrs. W. F. Meador discussed Origin of Family Names.

An invitation was read to the D. A. R. Region 7 workshop to be held in San Angelo Oct. 27 and 28. The Regent, Mrs. Ernest S. Goens and other members plan to attend.

A Library report was made; and the Americanism chairman asked that flags be flown at every national holiday; also stated that a local resident, a native man of Mexico had obtained his citizenship papers with the help of members of this chapter who furnished him with the Manuals for Citizenship in English and Spanish, and encouraged him to complete his application.

Fall flowers and pumpkins carried out the Halloween motif. Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. W. F. Meador, Mrs. J. E. Hill and Mrs. W. N. Ramsay to 12 members. Others attending were Mrs. Luke Thompson, Alexander, McIntosh, Montgomery, V. G. Tisdale, Hoover and Miss John Alexander. -Mrs. Lon M. Hoover, reporter.

broke through to block Captain "M" M. McAngus's try for the point; but at the end of the first quarter, the Eagles were out front 6-0.

Disaster struck the Eagles in the second quarter when Rankin's Donald Ivy pounced on an Eldorado fumble on/about Eldorado's 35-yard line. Big Jerry McDonald ground and bruised his way across the Eagle goal and kicked the extra point to put the Devils out front 7-6.

Then, just as the half ended, Captain "M" M. McAngus took a Rankin punt about his own 25-yard line and drove all the long 75 yards across the Rankin goal line, his progress being assisted by partisan support from other Eagles down the field; so the half ended with Eldorado out front 13-7 because this time nobody blocked Captain McAngus's kick.

The last half saw the Red Devils rise to their frenzied heights to defeat the Eagles with two more touchdowns. Again an Eagle fumble was a factor. But the Red Devils got the ball on the Eagle 30 and again McDonald bruised his way to the Eagle goal line where he fumbled but a hopped up Red Devil David Brown covered the ball for the touchdown. The kick was good and the Red Devils then led 14-13. The Eagles hardly got their hands on the ball in the third quarter.

Disaster struck again on the ensuing kickoff when a Red Devil captured an inside kick in the form of the kickoff near Eldorado's 40-yard line. McDonald again bruised his way down the field to the two yard line where the Eagles being intent on stopping him, Red Devil Quarterback Ray Winter with a moment's inattention crossed for the final and deciding touchdown. McDonald kicked the point, and it was then 20-13.

The Eagles came back hard and threatened twice in the remaining nine minutes but evil fortune and frenzied Red Devil resistance thwarted their efforts.

So the Eagles learned again that Devils in any capacity are dangerous. In other District 8A contests, Big Lake blasted Sanderson and Ozona nosed out Iraan. As usual the championship race is wide open but now Rankin wears the bullseye as district favorite.

election which put it over in 1901, the year Mr. Carothers established his El Dorado Paper.

When friends helped Mr. Wright buy the local paper in 1906, the Success had a circulation of 350, was housed in a little 20 x 26 foot building, had an advertising rate of 15c per column inch, and principal "gravy" advertising came from patent medicines.

The year 1906, too, was when he married. On October 28 of that year, he married Mable Foley, a life-long Methodist, formerly of Junction. The couple met at a Church of Christ revival here. They have remained county residents during their 56 years of married life.

A grocery store operated by his brother on the hotel corner lot was taken over by Wright when the brother died, and moved to the present location. The enlargement of the store took place to accommodate the stock—and later dry goods and other commodities were added. He operated the newspaper along with the store, his children assisting him as they grew up. In 1928 he bought a Linotype to eliminate some of the handsetting of type. While he owned the Success, he had opposition weekly newspapers here three times.

Mr. Wright has served the community in many ways. He was on the school board, was secretary 11 years, and donated money to help build every school in the county. He was mayor when the City of Eldorado bought the water system and installed the sewer system. He served many years as steward of the Methodist church, a position now known as member of the Official Board. He was Sunday School superintendent and a long-time teacher. He gave up the teaching of his McCormick class a while back.

He served as church treasurer for many years, back when salaries were small and money was scarce and hard to collect.

Wright's store was an anachronism in this day of cash and carry. Mr. Wright was a firm believer in credit. When he started in business the whole economy of the county was based on credit—people sold their stock once a year and then went around paying off their debts.

Credit cost Mr. Wright some bad accounts, but in the main he found people honest in settling their debts. On numerous occasions he collected past due accounts, some as long as 26 years overdue. He was able to run his store, putting in long hours each day until his recent retirement.

The Wrights have four children: Eula, Mrs. L. T. Barber, San Angelo; Agnes, Mrs. Agnes Crosby, San Angelo; Taylor a Navy captain who retired last summer and is continuing to live in Washington, D.C.; and Beatrice, Mrs. C. F. Fry, of San Angelo. There are also a number of grandchildren and greats.

The Wrights have announced plans to continue to live here and will "just take it easy" for the present time.

MISS HILL ACCEPTS SCOTTISH FLAG AT THE ALAMO

Miss Miltia Hill, president general of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, was in San Antonio last Sunday to participate in a formal ceremony at the Alamo.

Lord Polworth, chairman of the Scottish Council presented a Scottish flag to the Alamo in memory of the four Scotsmen who lost their lives in the siege of the Alamo. Miss Hill graciously received the flag.

Lord Polworth was accompanied by Lady Polworth, also Mr. Wm. Robertson, a distinguished Scottish scientist, and Mr. Ronald Melvin of the Scottish Daily Mail, who covered the ceremonies.

Miss Katherine Hill accompanied her sister to San Antonio for the ceremony and attended the reception which immediately followed.

WOMANS CLUB MEETS

The Eldorado Womens club met Tuesday afternoon in the club room to continue their study of Our American Heritage.

Mrs. Edwin Jackson presided over the brief business session. Mrs. W. T. Whitten presented the Club with a new gavel which she bought in the Near East made from the cedar of Lebanon.

Mrs. Jess Blaylock was leader of the program which was on Home Life in America. Mrs. Josh Ewing talked on pioneer homes and showed pictures of many of the lovely old American homes.

Mrs. J. D. Huckaby introduced Mrs. Joe Kreklow who talked on The Modern Homes.

Mrs. C. N. Clark was hostess and served dainty sandwiches and spiced tea or coffee to the 16 members and guest, Mrs. Kreklow, who were present.

The next meeting of the club will be on November 12 at the home of Mrs. W. O. Alexander, unless plans are changed.

Abilene Cotton Office Reports On Market Conditions

Due to continued favorable weather and increased machine stripping, receipts were up again last week, says B. B. Manly, Jr., of the U.S.D.A.'s Cotton Classing Office in Abilene, Texas. A total of 43,537 samples were classed for the week ending October 18, 1963. This brought the total bales classed during the current harvesting season to 143,519, as compared to 66,742 total bales classed through the corresponding week, one year ago.

Sample receipts from District 7 declined slightly from the previous week. Harvesting operations entered the scrapping stage at a few of the gin points. The portion of District 7 which is served by the Abilene office is composed of Tom Green, Schleicher, and Concho counties.

Grades continued to run about the same as the previous week. Ninety-two percent of the cotton was classed as Light Spotted, 2 per cent was White, 5 per cent was Spotted, and 1 per cent was Light Gray. Middling Light Spotted was the predominant grade with 58 per cent of the total classed in this category.

Thirty-eight per cent of the cotton was 7/8 and shorter; 59 per cent was 29-32 in length, and 3 per cent was 15/16 and longer.

Micronaire readings continued to be very good with less than 1 per cent of the readings below 3.5. Eighty-seven per cent "miked" between 3.5 and 4.9, and 12 per cent was 5.0 and higher.

Market activity was steady with light to moderate demand for Light Spotted and Spotted grades at 10 to 50 points above the loan price, net to the farmer. Loan entries increased as farmers completed harvesting and had more time available to market their cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Doyle visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Claude Doyle last Sunday after participating in the Alvin Atkinson wedding at the Lakeview Methodist church last Saturday night.

Mrs. Jack Etheredge met the Billy Jack Etheredges of Irving in Brownwood last Sunday to take little Jackie Susan home after spending a week in Eldorado, with her grand parents.

Absentee Voting Is On For Nov. 9 Election

The period is now on for absentee voting in the election set for Saturday, Nov. 9, for the five proposed amendments to the state constitution.

J. P. Enochs, county clerk, reported yesterday afternoon that so far only one absentee vote has been cast. Deadline for voting absentee will be 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, November 5th.

Persons who will be out of town on the 9th should plan to vote absentee before the deadline.

College students, service men, and other qualified voters living away must now sign an application for a ballot and mail it to the local county clerk's office far enough ahead of time for a ballot to be mailed back. Parents of these voters should pick up an application form soon in Mr. Enochs' office so that a ballot can be cast.

Lions See C.R.O.P. Film

"Hunger" was title of a film produced by Christian Rural Overseas Program which was shown at the meeting yesterday of the Lions club. The film helped explain some of the purposes of the C.R.O.P. work, for which local church young people will canvass the town next week, on Halloween night.

C. J. Hahn presided at the meeting and Ronnie Williams and Bobby Halbert of the Eagle football team attended as guests of Coach Earl Barnett.

Miss Terry Phelps of Baylor U, Waco, was home for the week end.

State Aid To Schools

School people have inquired whether passage of the constitutional amendment on November 9, removing the poll tax as a requirement for voting, will cut down on state aid to schools. The answer is "no".

Dr. D. Richard Bowler of Austin, former president of the Texas State Teachers Association, says repeal of the poll tax will not harm public schools financing since the levy provides only three-tenths of one per cent of state aid to local schools.

He noted further that the amendment does not call for cancellation of the poll tax. It merely removes it as a requirement for voting. He added that the law is written so that if a school district lacks anything toward its minimum program, "it will be automatically made up from the Minimum Foundation Fund."

"School people who feel that the poll tax should be removed as a qualification for voting should have no hesitation about voting for Amendment No. 1 on November 9," Dr. Bowler said.

Alcoholism Rate High

Educating the public on alcoholism and trying to give aid to alcoholics is a very difficult job. But it is one to which the six-member Texas Commission on Alcoholism and its director, Macon W. Freeman, are devoted.

It is estimated that there are close to 6,000,000 alcoholics in the U. S. with some 300,000 of these in Texas.

Freeman says the alcoholic tries to hide himself. His family and friends try to shield him. Together they succeed so well that most people think he's buried on skid row.

"About three per cent are on skid row. But more than 90 per cent are your neighbors," said Freeman. "They have good jobs. But they are disturbed and their families are disturbed."

He said that for every 100,000 alcoholics who are rehabilitated, another 250,000 get sick. Ministers, doctors, nurses, social workers, Alcoholics Anonymous and just plain interested citizens are working just that much harder to combat the disease. He said an estimated 50 to 75 per cent of "identified" alcoholics can be cured.

Texas Commission on Alcoholism works for education and rehabilitation through cooperation with other state agencies, and with some 30 community councils on alcoholism.

Texas Is Aviation Minded

Texas provides more airports for civilian aircraft than any other state. A recent survey shows that Texas has 621 civilian and joint-use airports. California, which follows second, has 505.

However, California leads in the number of aircraft—12,073—while Texas' civilian aircraft total is 7,325.

Aviation is the subject of a lot of talk among state agencies. Texas Industrial Commission added a licensed pilot to its community coordination staff.

Two flight safety supervisors with the Texas Aeronautics Commission—John G. Uranga and Laddie J. Roark—are conducting flight safety courses this month in Graham and Breckenridge.

State Legislative Council is making a study of the possibility of a state agency aircraft pool.

Parks Pull Visitors

Texas' 46 parks drew 7,200,000 visitors during the 1962-63 fiscal year. That's an all-time high, according to J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Of 2,200,000 autos checked, 112,932 were from out-of-state.

McKenzie Parks near Lubbock attracted the most visitors, with 1,800,000, closely followed by Garner at Uvalde with more than 1,000,000 and Huntsville with 614,335.

Garner Park was first in campers with 172,683. Huntsville had 93,310 and Inks Lake 38,811. Parks with more than 25,000 campers included Lake Brownwood, Palo Duro Canyon, Possum Kingdom and Tyler.

Estes Trial Set

Court of Criminal Appeals has set for October 10 a hearing on the appeal of Billie Sol Estes from an eight year prison sentence.

Last November 7, a Tyler jury convicted Estes, formerly of Pecos, on a swindling charge in connection with liquid fertilizer tank deals. Estes later received a 15-year federal sentence for mail fraud in the tank mortgages.

Oil Output Cut

Texas Railroad Commission ordered oil production for November set at the lowest point since January. Figure established was 27.5% of potential. In brief that's 2,808,183 barrels daily as compared with 2,878,206 for October.

Oilmen got into a fuss at the statewide hearing.

Alvin C. Hope of San Antonio questioned "self-appointed emissaries to Washington who want to bundle up our problems and drop them in the lap of the federal bureaucracy."

Stanley Wood of the Texas Landowners and Oil and Gas Producers Association said Hope was talking about him. Retorted Wood: "Washington isn't interested in taking over. They are concerned with deterioration of our domestic reserves. They want us to get our house in order."

Marker Dedication Set Nov. 2 At Angelo

The dedication of a Confederate Memorial Information Marker to Tom Green and a regional meeting of County Historical Survey Committees are scheduled for Saturday, November 2, in San Angelo.

Mr. Millard Cope of San Angelo, member of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, announced the plans recently.

County committees will gather in the Officers Quarters No. 8 at Fort Concho at 10:00 a.m. to hear Mr. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, T.S.H.S.C. president, speak on the "Purpose of Regional Meetings and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee Services to County Committees."

Every county committee will report on what has been done in the fields of recording and marking Civil War graves, purchasing and erecting Official Texas Historical Markers, holding Civil War Centennial Observances, getting the county committee included in the county budget and other planning and programming for historical preservation and marking.

Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, president emeritus of Hardin Simmons University in Abilene and past president of the T.S.H.S.C. will speak on "The Civil War and the Northwest Texas Frontier, 1861-65." This speech is part of the Texas Civil War Centennial Advisory Committee program to arouse interest in the role Texas played during the Civil War.

Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo will dedicate the State Confederate Marker for General Tom Green. The ceremonies will be on the County Courthouse lawn at 2:00 p.m.

This marker is erected by the State of Texas for a prominent Confederate for whom a county is named. Tom Green served in the Texas War for Independence, Indian fighting along the Texas frontier, the Mexican War and achieved his greatest fame as a fighting Texas Confederate General.

The historic Fort Concho Museum, Chapel and other buildings will be open for all visitors to these events, Mr. Cope announced.

Counties included in the San Angelo region are Brown, Callahan, Coke, Coleman, Comanche, Crockett, Eastland, Edwards, Erath, Fisher, Irion, Jones, Mitchell, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Reagan, Runnels, Schleicher, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Sterling, Sutton, Taylor, Tom Green and Val Verde.

Historical Group Meets In Ballinger Recently

Mr. and Mrs. J. Forrest Runge were among the 64 people who attended the Edwards Plateau Historical Association meeting in Ballinger last week end. This regional group composed of county associations from over a wide West Texas area heard Fred Cotten of Weatherford, state president, speak. He urged formation of junior historical associations in the respective counties and recommended several reference books which are helpful. The next meeting of the Edwards Plateau Historical Association will be held in Fredericksburg.

Mrs. Runge reports that the Schleicher County Historical Association now has two medallions to be placed on historic buildings in this county. One was approved last year for the Col. Black ranch house which is near the Menard county line. The other is to be placed on the county jail building.

Neither of the medallions has yet been mounted on their designated structures but the county association has plans under way to do so sometime this fall.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

A group of 18 relatives and friends gathered Saturday at the A. P. Thigpen place to help A. P. and Margie Thigpen celebrate their birthday, which was Friday.

Among those present were Albert Ray and family of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Thigpen of San Angelo and their niece, Ann; Mrs. Hayden Lewis and boys of San Angelo; Mrs. Ora Reynolds of San Angelo, and Mr. and Mrs. Davis Martin of San Angelo.

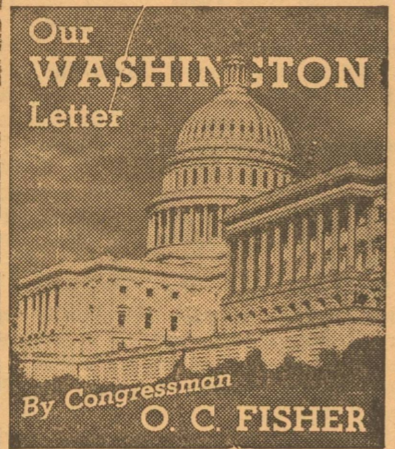

DISTRICT GARDEN CLUB MEET SET NOV. 13-14 AT DEL RIO

The Fall Meeting of District VIII, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., will be held in Del Rio on November 13-14. Registration and coffee will be at the Del Rio Country Club, 8:30-9:30 a.m. Nov. 14.

General assembly, program and lunch, Del Rio Country Club, 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., Nov. 14. Mrs. George Adams of Del Rio will present the program on table settings, "Fun, Flowers Fashions."

Clubs hosting the meeting are: Cactus Thorn Garden Club, Mignonette Garden Club, and Morning Glory Garden Club.

There will be a "Dutch Treat" trip across the border to Ciudad de Acuna, Mexico, for shopping and dinner, Wednesday, Nov. 13.

In a nation-wide power struggle, James Hoffa, head of the 1.4 million member teamsters union, is maneuvering a uniform contract with practically all interstate trucking concerns, which conceivably could give him life-and-death control over this vital facet of the nation's transportation system.

Hoffa's excuse for this power grab is to provide a "stabilizer," with uniformity of working conditions throughout the country, a goal which would supersede the existing series of regional agreements. However, experts in this field warn that the effect could be to force more and more of the smaller, marginal concerns out of business or force them into mergers.

Even transcending this effect is the pyramided power over the nation's transportation system which would result. This could conceivably give the fiery Hoffa the power to effectuate a nation-wide strike.

This development serves to point up the need for additional labor legislation, to protect the public against the dire consequences of one man, or a small group of men, shutting down a substantial portion of the nation's commerce at one fell swoop.

There are two ways of preventing this from happening. One would be to place all unions under the anti-trust laws, and the other would be to prohibit industry-wide bargaining. When the Taft-Hartley Act was originally approved in the House some 15 years ago the bill did both—it put the unions under anti-trust and it restricted industry-wide bargaining. The latter would have applied to both industry and unions. But the Senate deleted both provisions and the compromise version left both of them out.

I have a bill pending which would put unions under the anti-trust laws. With Hoffa advancing his empire dreams the need for legislation of this nature becomes more apparent than ever. The trouble is that the labor committees of both the House and Senate are today dominated by members who rarely ever vote contrary to the wishes of labor union leaders. But it appears that even the union leaders are becoming uneasy over Hoffa's build-up, lest it result in an aroused public opinion forcing the issue in Congress.

Hope and Garland Fill Bills For Movies This Week-End

A return showing of the third motion picture shown at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre right after it opened back in the fall of 1951, and a drama starring Judy Garland comprise the offerings this week end at the Eagle. Both are in color.

It was mid-November, 1951, that the Delbert Edmestons opened their drive-in theater on the Menard highway. The first movie shown was "Sword of Monte Cristo" starring George Montgomery and Paula Corday. This was followed by "Crisis" with Cary Grant and Paula Corday.

Bob Hope and Lucille Ball starred in "Fancy Pants," the third movie, and it makes a return showing on the drive-in screen this Saturday night.

It is a western comedy and although both principal actors are now 12 years older than when "Fancy Pants" was filmed, it should attract a good crowd, being a western in color with two popular stars. When it was shown here before, news highlights included: Edda Lou Meador had just married Russell Beach, Mrs. Mae Tisdale had charge of a drive for C.A.R.E. packages, 4-H awards were presented David Powell, Jack Stanford, Ronnie Mittel, and Truett K. Stanford, and Coach Pny Waldrum's Eagles were meeting Eden for district championship (we lost to Eden, 7-13).

Judy Garland in "Singing" Role
There has been little doubt that Judy Garland has a singing talent much larger than the small 5-foot 3-inch body that houses it.

In "I Could Go On Singing" there should be little doubt that her acting talent is just as great. Without her dramatic ability the picture might otherwise have been found lacking.

As it is, Miss Garland's emoting—and singing—make the film worth seeing. For devoted Garland fans the movie is a love feast and it comes to the Eagle Drive-In Theatre screen Sunday and Monday nights.

She plays a celebrated American singer in London for an engagement at the Palladium. While there she goes to see her ex-lover, Dirk Bogarde, and the child he fathered by her.

She wants to see the child, and Bogarde refuses. She insists and finally succeeds in seeing the boy. She wins the affection of the boy, who has no idea she is his mother.

A tug-of-war ensues between the two adults for the youngster's love.

With such a situation, there is built-in drama, and pretty heavy drama at that. The performers, Miss Garland in particular, give more than they get from the script.

It's really her picture. She is on screen most of the time, and commandingly so. She has not lost that unique ability of seeming like a little child lost. Viewers want to help her through her emotional struggles. When she fights, the viewer fights, too.

Miss Garland manages to overcome all faults with considerable power. One scene alone—toward the last of the picture in a hospital treatment room—has enough power to overshadow any preceding flaws. Her performance is etched only as soulfully and individually as Garland can etch.

Dirk Bogarde, the ex-lover and successful British surgeon, is convincing. Gregory Phillips, the young boy, is commendably natural.

The photography, sometimes too tight on Miss Garland during her songs, is otherwise skillfully executed.

In a word: Miss Garland, if she ever tires of going on and on singing could very easily just go on acting.

Gerald B. Hartgraves of Eldorado recently purchased five registered Angus cows from Otis Deal of Mertzon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Granberry and young daughter, Cindy, of San Antonio have been visiting here this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Carroll.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET

Troop No. 67 met Oct. 21 with 11 present. Minutes were read by Arlene Hartgraves. The treasurer, Peggy McGrew, collected the dues. Treats were served by the leaders. To help other people this week we are going to get all our homework. For fun we practiced for the camporee. For a project we learned rope knots. A song was led by Vicki Preston.

Our Sunshine reporter for the week was Dale Montgomery. Plans for the future are to go on a camporee Saturday afternoon at 4:00. Motion for adjournment was made by Linsy Edmiston.—Rep.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The farm and ranch population of Texas has declined from 2,400,000 in 1934 to about 800,000 today. This does not mean that agriculture is less important to the state's economy.

The migration from rural areas is possible because of increased efficiency in farm and ranch production. For example in 1930 one farmer supplied enough farm commodities for 10 people. Today, one farm worker produces food and fiber for about 28 people. Such improvement has released many people for work in other vocations.

Agricultural output is $2.447 billion; add to this $3.9 billion value added by processors and distributors and the grand total of the agri-industry is a contribution to the economy of Texas $6.3 billion.

Actually 40% of all people in Texas are engaged in either farming or ranching, or supplying land operators or in processing and distributing agricultural products.

The average year Schleicher county livestock and crops output is $5,609,000 while industry in the county will contribute $961,000 in payrolls and $9 million with oil and gas evaluations for tax purposes, which represents 2.8 million barrels of oil and 1.6 billion cu. feet of gas annually.

Somebody is always ready to lend a helping hand if you have any trouble opening your pocket-book.

Your county program is based upon "expansion through management." Background information shows that the largest source of income slipping through citizens' fingers is the proper harvest of wildlife. This should be about a $900,000 harvest annually to merchants and land owners. Only $144,690 was spent in and around the county in 1962 with only 1/7 of game taken that should have been taken. Hopes are high for a take of $250,000 this year.

Maximums will only be reached on this resource $900,000 with

1. Inventory of all facilities available—both human and material.
2. County advertising as to facilities.
3. A thorough understanding of the interdependence of business and agriculture.
4. Agri-business.
5. "Expansion Through Management."
6. Organized recreational activities.

The Natural Resource committee of the county program is actively engaged in trying to bring these "musts" into active program for all, increasing income. It's your program too!

Some confusion has resulted from label information regarding the cut-off date for cattle grub control with co-ral. Co-ral should not be used after October 1 as a 0.375% spray as recommended for grub control. However, the 0.25% spray of co-ral or 0.5% koran, as recommended for screw-worm control, can be used any time.

As with most insecticides, caution should be exercised when using co-ral for the control of screwworms. When using co-ral or koran, follow explicitly all directions, precautions on the manufacturer's label.

Success is the science of leaving as little as possible to chance.

BROWNIES MEET

After the business meeting, the girls prepared and cooked their own refreshments. —Rep.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

There is something about Fall that calls for Chow-Chow, or if you like it better, Green Tomato Relish.

This recipe is an especially favored one which came to me from Mrs. Will Kessler of Christoval. Mrs. Kessler says it came from the recipe collection of the late Mrs. Abe Mayer, Sr.

Green Tomato Relish

- 3 quarts sliced green tomatoes
- 5 large sweet peppers, chopped
- 2 large onions, chopped
- 2 large heads cauliflower, chopped, or one small head cabbage.
- 12 small red hot peppers, chopped;
- 1 tablespoon powdered tumeric
- ½ cup flour
- 2 teaspoons white mustard seed
- 1 heaping teaspoon cloves
- 1 heaping teaspoon allspice
- 1 quart vinegar
- ½ cup dry mustard
- 2 teaspoons celery salt
- 1½ cups sugar.

Soak chopped vegetables in two quarts water and one cup salt overnight. Boil 10 minutes, drain thoroughly. Let vinegar, sugar, and spices come to a boil, pour on tomato mixture, and cook 10 minutes longer. Make a paste of flour and tumeric and add to the mixture. (Put small amount of water in jar; add flour and tumeric and add more water and shake well.)

Stir until mixture thickens. Pour into sterile jars and seal while hot.

In the same note Mrs. Kessler sent a blue ribbon prize winner at the Dallas Fair, several years ago, and originated with Mrs. John Scott of Mertzton. It is called simply—

Jam Cake

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in a tablespoon milk
- 3 cups flour
- 6 whole eggs
- 2 cups strawberry preserves (or any preferred kind)
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons cloves
- 3 teaspoons cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups broken pecan meats
- 2 cups raisins or dates.

Mix according to conventional cake mixing method. Bake at 250 to 275 F. in oven for 3½ to 4 hours. This is a very moist cake and keeps well for a long time.

Sue Edmiston and Mike Sudduth will represent the Schleicher County 4-H Council at a district meeting in San Angelo Saturday.

Mr. Godwin, parents of Sue and Mike, and I, will meet with other 4-H members, their parents and Extension agents from 20 surrounding counties.

A joint 4-H boys and girls camp will be planned to be held at Lake Brownwood at the end of next May. Other joint district activities will likely come out of this very important meeting. * * * The Schleicher County 4-H program has no better friend than Mr. Don McCormick, representing the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Operative, Inc.

Seven 4-H girls were able to attend Lake Brownwood camp and the District Dress Revue in Abilene on the contribution made by the Co-Operative in 1963.

And, to the pleasure of the 4-H girls of Schleicher county, again Mr. McCormick has made the annual contribution of $25, only this year it was doubled.

We thank you—Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op., Inc.—and Mr. Don McCormick.

We were recently invited, along with the family, to attend a picnic sponsored by the Major George Temple Camp of the Sons of Confederate Veterans and to "make a few remarks about the Civil War." The Camp is located in Temple and our good friend, Dr. Compton Broders of Scott and White Hospital, is the commander.

We didn't know a great amount of information about the Sons of Confederate Veterans, popularly and widely known as S.C.V., but Commander Broders supplied us with a pamphlet which made us ashamed we hadn't learned earlier about the group.

From the pamphlet, it appears that the Sons haven't been getting the press they deserve for they are a nationwide organization that has done much to perpetuate the history of the South and her cause. Organized in 1896, the S.C.V. is divided into three "Armies"—the Army of Northern Virginia, the Army of Tennessee, and the Army of the Trans-Mississippi—and its members are male descendants of those who served the Confederate States of America in a military, naval or civil capacity.

The headquarters is in Hattiesburg, Miss., with local units, or camps, throughout the nation.

There are five camps in Texas—Dallas, Tyler, Athens, Temple, and Houston-Galveston. The Temple camp, named for Major George Temple, a veteran of the Army of Northern Virginia, has 14 members, including one each from Austin, Lake Jackson and Hillsboro.

The state meeting was held earlier this year at Salado under the sponsorship of the Temple Camp.

Among projects of the S.C.V. is the maintenance of the Jefferson Davis Shrine at Biloxi, Mississippi known as Beauvoir, the home of the Confederate President; maintaining the Confederate Memorial Hall in Washington, D.C. which houses the library and picture gallery; and the purchase of property encompassing Manassas Battlefield; and, at their annual general conventions, sponsoring memorial services and tributes, presenting historical papers, and carrying out other worthwhile projects.

The sons are a voluntary organization, and its members may be either direct or collateral descendants of those who served in the Confederacy. It is not affiliated with any other organization, is not political nor sectional, and, in the words of the pamphlet mentioned earlier, "strives to give to the world, and its own fellow Southerners, an understanding and appreciation of the Southern people and their brave history, of the sacrifice their ancestors made in defense of their conscientious convictions, of the high regard in which those ancestors held the rights of the individual, and the privacy of state's rights as opposed to an over-riding central government."

We say this sounds like a worthy objective and wish them the best in reaching their goal.

Recommended reading this week—Hundreds of paperback editions of books relating to the Civil War have been published since the Centennial began, but only two publishers to our knowledge have brought out a series of such publications—Crowell-Collier and Fawcett.

Fawcett's Premier Civil War Classics are well-known to readers of this column for we've recommended several of the titles in this space during past months. Titles such as "Pickett's Charge" by George R. Stewart, "I Rode With Stonewall" by Henry Kyd Douglas, and "Soldier Life in the Union and Confederate Armies" by Philip Van Doren Stern are all excellent reproductions of earlier publications and are published under the general editorship of Mr. Stern who is one of the foremost historians of the period.

Crowell-Collier, with its Collier Civil War Classics, under the editorship of Earl Schenck Miers, another outstanding historian of the Civil War years, is providing reprints and edited versions of such earlier publications as "The Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant," entitled "Grant's Civil War," "The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government" by Jefferson Davis, and "Sherman's Civil War."

Most of these, from both Fawcett and Crowell-Collier, have long been unavailable to the general reader because of their scarcity. Now these two publishers have put them in the reach of everyone in the less-expensive paperback form.

Now five kinds of Chevrolets for all kinds of people!

JET-SMOOTH LUXURY CHEVROLET—For luxury-loving people. Rich new styling, finer appointments in all four series and 15 models. Engines up to 425 hp*, manual or Powerglide* transmissions.

NEW CHEVELLE—For pacesetter people. A totally new kind of car with small-car handling, big-car comfort! Styling that makes expensive cars jealous. Three series and 11 models, and a full choice of engine and transmission teams!

CHEVY II—For practical people. Chevy II with new V8 power* for fun-on-a-shoestring. Stretches the shoestring further with 4- and 6-cylinder engines. Chevy II's six models in two series all act like they're bigger, more expensive cars!

CORVAIR—For fun-loving people. More fun than ever from Corvair's new bigger engine! Same Corvair handling and riding ease in 9 models—including the 150-hp Turbocharged Spydors!

CORVETTE—For sports-minded people. Corvette now rides softer, smoother—but loses none of its gusto because its big V8 offers versions from 250 to 375 hp*!

Want to get together with other car-loving people? Go see your Chevrolet dealer... he likes all kinds! *optional at extra cost
