Events Of Past Week Cast Gloom Today

Today, Thursday, November 28, is Thanksgiving Day, a traditional time for turkey dinners, family gatherings, and the beginning of a holiday mood which extends thru Christmas and New Year's.

The incredible events of the past week will continue to cast at least some gloom over this usual time for giving thanks.

One of President Lyndon Johnson's first acts in his new executive position was the proclaiming of Monday as a day of national mourning for the slain President, John F. Kennedy.

Eldoradoans joined all the nation in remaining glued to their TV and radio sets as the President's body was taken from the rotunda of the Capitol, where it had lain in state, to the White House, to St. Matthew's Cathedral for the requiem mass, and to Arlington national cemetery for interment.

It was a day with few stores open, school out, and nearly everyone pre-occupied.

In the Dallas-Fort Worth area here in Texas, two other related funerals were held. In Dallas, police officer J. D. Tippit was buried. He was killed while arresting suspected assassin Lee Harvey Oswald in a Dallas theater.

Oswald's funeral was held in Fort Worth Monday after he was killed in Dallas while being transferred in the police headquarters building.

By Tuesday, people were back at work and back in their respective places of business and students were back in school but there was still a pervading feeling of grief and gloom which is apt to continue for some time to come.

Governor Connally Is Recovering

JOHN CONNALLY

Riding with President Kennedy in the open car Friday afternoon in Dallas, and receiving one of the three bullets fired by the assassin was Texas Governor John Connally. He was rushed with President Kennedy to Parkland Hospital where the President died about half an hour later.

Governor Connally is continuing recovery in the hospital.

An "Appreciation Western Supper" honored the governor and other top Texas Democrats in San Angelo last August, at San Angelo College. Several from Eldorado attended the event.

Girls Down Wall

The Eldorado girls continued their winning ways by downing the Wall Hawks 44-26 Tuesday night. This makes three in a row for the girls.

Junior, Christy Moore led the scoring with 25 points. Susie Scott followed with 10 while Marsha Mund and Karen Griffin had 4 each. Martha Sue Page had 1.

The Eldorado guards did a good job defensively as Frankie Blaylock had 9 rebounds and Joan Griffin and Enedina Garza had 8.

Others who assisted were Barbara Johnson 2, Paula Mace 2, Beth McCalla 3 and Mickey Phelps 1.

Score by Quarters

Eldorado	8	13	12	11-44
Wall	3	2	10	11-26

The next game will be in Mertzon Tuesday, December 3.

Post Script

The sympathy of their many friends in this county goes out to Judge and Mrs. W. R. Bearce in the tragic death of their son, news of which reached the down-town area Friday morning.

A few hours later all radio and T-V programs were suddenly interrupted to flash the news that President Kennedy had been assassinated on the streets in Dallas. For nearly an hour everyone was glued to his radio until the official word came, "The President is dead."

One bewildered housewife said in a shocked voice, "There's been too many tragedies today," which just about reflected the feelings of everyone else.

From then on for over two days the major networks canceled all programs and devoted all their time to news of the national tragedy. You heard how Lyndon Johnson took the oath of office as president while on board a plane; how he rushed back to Washington and of the many hurried meetings held and how funeral plans were made.

You heard about Dallas police having Lee Oswald under arrest and charged with being the assassin.

Then on Sunday, to compound the tragedy still further, we heard how a night club operator, Jack Ruby, armed with a pistol, made his way in to the basement of the Dallas jail and shot the prime suspect, Lee Oswald, who died shortly afterward in Parkland hospital where President Kennedy had died just two days before.

And we wondered just what kind of police department have they in Dallas anyway? Will we ever know for sure just who pulled the trigger on the gun that sent that bullet crashing into the President's head?

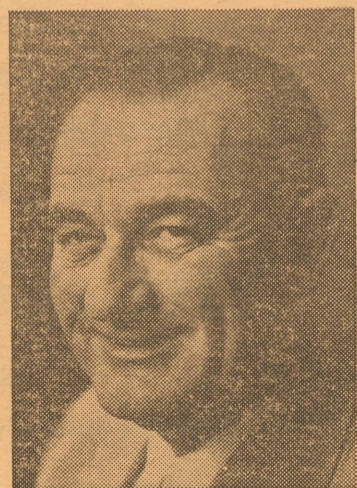

If Oswald did it, was he really the lone operator that the history of his life would indicate in this act, or was he part of an organized group of subversives?

30 Days Of Mourning At Government Buildings

The Flag is still flying at half mast on the post office as has been done since the assassination Friday of President John F. Kennedy.

Postmaster Bernard Carr stated that the Flag will continue at half mast for the official mourning period of 30 days. The mourning period is applied to all Government buildings and military installations.

Such a period is also proclaimed whenever an ex-President dies.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON becomes 36th President of The United States

JOHN F. KENNEDY 1917-1963 35th President of The United States

This and many other questions are on people's minds, and may never be satisfactorily answered.

On Monday, a day of mourning was observed throughout the nation, while news services gave full and complete coverage of the funeral of the slain President.

Here, as elsewhere, school was closed; memorial services were held in the morning at the Baptist and Presbyterian churches, and in the afternoon at the Methodist church.

Now it is all over and the vast government machinery in Washington is trying to get things moving again, under direction of a new President—a man from Texas. Will Lyndon Johnson measure up to the job?

He has had more experience than Harry Truman had when he had to take over suddenly on Roosevelt's death. We believe Johnson will do it and will reunite the Democratic party. The country is moving headlong into election year and it is only nine months until the Democratic national convention next August. That event was expected to be a cut-and-dried affair with automatic re-nomination of Kennedy-Johnson ticket. Politics will be politics and can't be postponed. Now they will have the task of picking a running mate for Johnson.

Politically, everything is now topsy-turvy, and lots of new developments may emerge in the next nine months. Lots of new questions will be answered in that time.

This issue of the Success comes to the readers as usual on Thursday morning. With it goes our best wishes for an enjoyable Thanksgiving.

You will find cafes and service stations open here today as well as the two drive-in groceries—McCormick's and Shipman's.

The next four days will likely see a great deal of deer hunting throughout this and adjoining counties.

S. D. Maxfield's new address is box 144, Henderson, Texas.

Mrs. Tom R. Henderson's new address in Tyler is 526 South Bonner Street.

Mrs. Jerry Oglesby has moved to the house she has bought at 2102 A&M in San Angelo.

"I don't guess I'll hear from 'em," was the answer Gerald Hartgraves gave this week when he was asked if he had heard anything about the seven heifers which have been missing since the first of the month. When the animals were first missed it was assumed they had strayed away, but when no trace of them could be found, it has been taken for granted they were stolen.

So we still have cattle rustlers in Texas. We've had the impression all along that they were a thing of the past, like the open range and all that sort of thing.

At long last the contractors started putting crushed rock on Highway 277 through Eldorado, which we understand is the next-to-last operation before opening the road to traffic.

As explained to us there will be two courses of crushed rock to bring the level of the road up to desired height. Then there is to be a seal coat, which will put it in condition for travel.

The final black topping is to be postponed until Spring.

But over the week end the rock crusher broke down and on Monday it was reported it would take about two days to get back in operation. Work should be resumed some time this week.

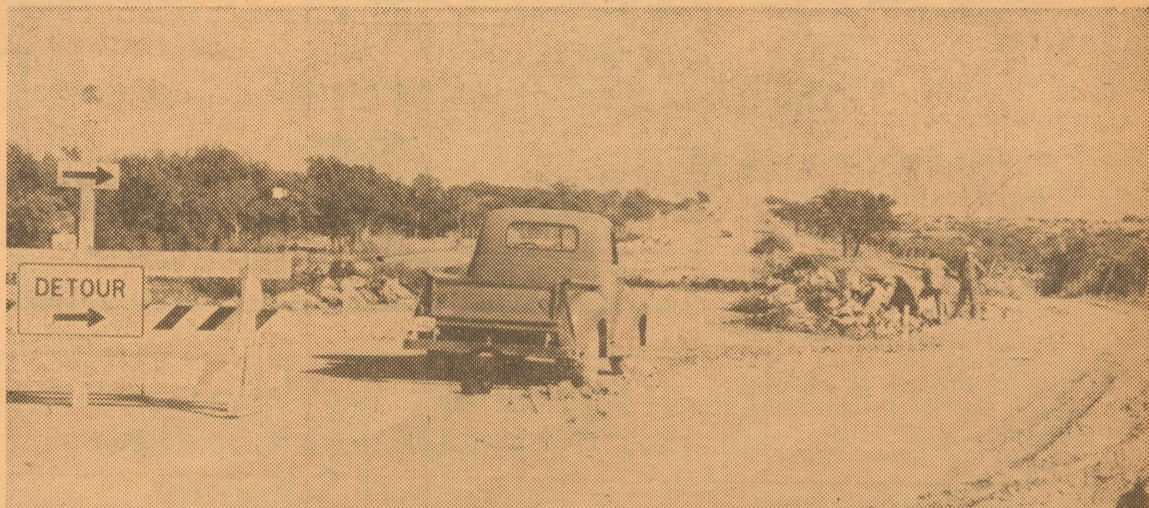

2405 Bales

Cold and rainy weather slowed down cotton picking during the past week and only about 35 bales were processed during that time. The gin total was 2405 bales yesterday and it will probably stay that way until the weather clears.

Highway 29 Re-Building Is Under Way East Of Town

THIS IS how a detour road looked late last week as it was being built in a draw on Highway 29, a few miles east of town. M. E. Ruby and Acme Bridge Co. of San Marcos is contractor on the 9-mile job which will include several Eldorado blocks.

Eagles Open Cage Season With 58-57 Victory Over Wall

Eldorado started off the young basketball season Tuesday night with a close 58-57 win over the Wall Hawks.

The Eagles made numerous mistakes, were out of position many times, and their passing was very ragged. This showed that four workouts cannot prepare a team for its first game.

Richard Preston led the Eagles with 26 points. Ten of these from the free throw line. Richard also took 28 rebounds. L. Meador hit 10 points. The Eagles hit 22 of 58 attempts for a 38 per cent clip. Randy Gray had 21 points.

The Eagles go to Mertzon next Tuesday night for two games. The B team will play at 5:15.

William R. Bearce Funeral Saturday

The First Methodist church in Eldorado was unable to hold the large crowd that assembled for the funeral of William Rye Bearce, 29, which was held at 4:00 p.m. Saturday. Many of the friends from throughout the county who came to pay their respects to the Bearce family were to remain standing outside or in the lobby.

Services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. M. Nyquist, assisted by former pastor, Russell Heaner, of McCamey.

Pall bearers were: Buddy Baker, George Ochsner, Jackie Wade, S. E. Etheredge, Jimmy Doyle, Lynn Griffin, Elton Harris and Raymond Mittel.

Interment was made in Eldorado cemetery under direction of Ratliff Kerbow Funeral Home.

William R. Bearce, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bearce, was born Nov. 1, 1934, in Eldorado, where he was reared. He attended high school here and graduated with the class of 1953. He was secretary of his class; was active in the drama club, played football, basketball and baseball, and was a member of the E club. His name appears in the Success on the Eagle football team starting lineup in the fall of 1952.

After graduating from high school in 1953, he attended Texas A&M University and Texas Technological College, and then entered the armed forces.

Upon his return from the army, he had engaged in ranching in Schleicher county.

He is survived by his parents; one sister, Mrs. Carroll Sproul of Rankin; and one nephew and one niece.

The tragic death of Bill Bearce occurred late last Thursday night at Durant, Oklahoma, where he was shot and killed by a tavern operator, who told Oklahoma officers that Bearce had been making threatening gestures with his hand in his pocket and told him (the operator) to give him "all his money."

The operator said he turned to the cash register, grabbed a pistol and fired five times. All five bullets struck Bearce, and he crumpled to the floor, dead.

Instead of a gun in his pocket, authorities found a bottle of pills.

Edwin Jackson Elected President Of Mohair Institute

In a meeting at Fredericksburg Monday, directors elected Edwin Jackson of Eldorado as president of the Mohair Institute of America.

The institute was organized last August during the annual meeting of the Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association and set as its primary objective the promotion and welfare of the mohair industry in the United States.

Headquarters of the institute has been established in Fredericksburg with an office in the Schroeder Building. Plans are to hire an executive director of the association as soon as possible.

A nationwide education program will be launched to acquaint the public with excellent qualities and unique characteristics of mohair, and extensive scientific and marketing research will continue to improve mohair products and promote new uses for it.

Rain Yesterday

Rain showers, which started falling Tuesday night, continued on through most of yesterday and it is estimated to have totaled about an inch here in town, and possibly more in other parts of the county.

Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce this week announces a series of prizes to stimulate interest among deer hunters during the present season.

In order to be eligible for any one of the three prizes the hunter must register his deer at the deer storage vault here in Eldorado where it will be weighed. Prizes are to be awarded not for the deer weighing the most, but to the ones nearest to a certain secret weight registered at the County Judge's office. Hunters bagging small animals are just as likely to win as those with larger deer.

First prize will be a deer rifle which will be given for a buck deer, dressing out nearest to the secret weight.

Second prize will be a K4 Weaver scope for the antlerless deer which happens to be closest to the judge's secret weight.

Third prize: Insulated hunting clothes for the turkey gobbler having a beard nearest to a certain secret length.

The secret weights registered at the judge's office will not be revealed until Jan. 1st, when the prizes will be awarded.

Colder Weather

Colder weather is working as a stimulation to deer hunting and the long holiday week end is expected to bring swarms of hunters to this and adjoining counties.

Howe Baker Engineers of Tyler who have leased the Henderson ranch for the season are again enjoying a good season. They reported to the C of C office that 34 deer had been killed up to Monday night. Lack of reports from other hunters is one reason that the Chamber is offering prizes. They would like to have a report of all deer killed, whether large or small.

Dean Murr, secretary, says her office has inquiries every day from hunters wanting day leases. Ranchers desiring day hunters are urged to communicate with her. The phone number is 23391. The office is located next to West Texas Cafe.

TS&GRA Meeting Here Next Monday

There will be an important meeting of District 5 members of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Ass'n Monday, December 2 at 11:30 a.m., in the Memorial building in Eldorado.

A business meeting will be held following a noon barbecue at which time members will elect directors to serve on the official board of the Association in 1964. District 5 consists of membership from Kimble, Menard, Sutton and Schleicher counties.

A report will be given on Association work this year by President Jimmie Powell. Also, there will be a discussion of the important problems of estate and inheritance taxes.

An invitation has been extended to all Association members and their wives in this district, and Schleicher county directors are looking forward to a good local attendance from the members.

Science Program To Be Given In Angelo

Outstanding high school students from the San Angelo area will attend a symposium on atomic energy featuring some of the nation's leading scientists to be held December 3 on the San Angelo High School campus.

The all-day conference will be sponsored by West Texas Utilities Company and the San Angelo Public Schools.

It is the hope of West Texas Utilities that this program will not only prove to be extremely informative to the high school students, but will also be an inspiration to those students who may be considering science as a career.

About 600 students will attend the symposium representing high schools from a wide area of Texas served by West Texas Utilities.

Thanksgiving Service Was Well Attended

Although the death of President Kennedy cast a pall, a capacity crowd filled the First Baptist church Sunday night for the annual Union Thanksgiving Service which is sponsored each year by the Ministerial Alliance of Eldorado. Nearly all local churches were represented at the service.

Rev. Kenneth Vaughan, pastor of the host church, gave the invocation and welcome. Rev. Johnny Griffith of the Assembly of God church read the scripture and Rev. Dan Sebesta of the Presbyterian church gave the prayer of thanksgiving.

Rev. C. E. Cogswell of the First Christian church gave the sermon and the benediction was given by Rev. C. M. Nyquist of the Methodist church.

The double sextet rendered two selections and congregational singing was directed by Frank O'Banion.

The Ministerial Alliance received the offering for use in the community; the collection for the needy was the most generous received to date, over $120.

C. M. Nyquist, treasurer for the Alliance, gave a report on the relief work done during the past 12 months. After the worship service the ministers and their families were guests of the Vaughans and O'Banions in the parsonage.

Ministerial Alliance Officers
The annual election was held with the following results: Dan Sebesta and C. M. Nyquist were re-elected to their respective offices, president and treasurer. Kenneth Vaughan was elected vice-president.

Community Revival Next Spring
The Alliance also discussed the Community Revival tentatively set for April, and it was with regret that we found that Dr. Robert E. Godrich of Dallas would not be able to be with us because of the meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist church. However, the Alliance is working on this project and hope to make some definite announcement soon.

BROWNIES MEET
The 2nd and 3rd Grade Brownie Troop No. 153 met at the Coral Tuesday. There were 10 girls and two leaders present.

After the business session, the girls divided into two groups. One group worked on Christmas gifts for their mothers and the other group worked on gifts for their fathers.

Mrs. C. N. Clark visited her son and daughter and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark in Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haines, also in Odessa, last week while Mr. Clark attended a Delta Petroleum Co. anniversary dinner in Midland.

The U. S. Customs Bureau has confirmed "a substantial overstatement of the mohair content" of imported Italian sweaters, and is coordinating its action in this area with the Federal Trade Commission to deal with the sweater mislabeling problem effectively and quickly.

This development recently followed tests conducted by Customs in its own test laboratory. FTC has about completed its tests, and is expected to make an announcement of its findings.

I recently cited ten retail stores that were selling imported Italian sweaters where private tests indicated the mohair content of the garments were mislabeled. The tests showed substantially less mohair than the labels stated.

The 1 million sweaters brought in from Italy whose mohair content have been questioned have long since moved into retail channels. But the exposure has caused the importing retailers to re-examine their practices and seek to avoid a repetition of mislabeled garments.

For example, a report from Florence, Italy, states that Macy's Italian office said all labels will be changed for next deliveries.

Determination of exact mohair content is a bit complicated, particularly in Italy where there is no standard method of fixing the fiber content, where yarns from different spinners find their way into the manufacturer's product.

In the meantime, U. S. Customs examiners are being instructed to submit samples to the Customs lab whenever they believe the products have been misrepresented. Because of the complexity of the content test only a limited number of tests can be handled with existing customs lab facilities.

In any event, the result of the mislabeling exposure is having a salutary effect: Importers can be expected to exercise much more care and caution in the future to avoid the penalties that can be supplied to mislabeling practices. Mohair growers and manufacturers in this country are determined to protect the reputation of mohair products against the down-grading of the mohair fiber by having its content misrepresented. Laws to protect against this are adequate. The problem is to get those laws applied and enforced.

Population explosion was the subject of a national conference held in Washington last week. The tone of the meeting was set in an address by the Rev. John O'Brien, research professor of theology at Notre Dame University, whose views on the "prudent regulation of birth" made him a much-quoted figure.

It was disclosed that at the present time population is increasing by 2% a year. In the U. S. A. the net gain amounts to about three million annually. In ten years that is an extra 30 million people.

Labor leaders and politicians worry themselves sick about automation and the mounting increase in jobseekers because of higher population. But they seem indifferent to what is perhaps the only orderly and meaningful means of alleviating this problem. That would be to promote birth control.

The Washington meeting recommended the introduction of family planning information into schools, religious groups, and through mass communications media. Birth control information would be made available to everyone, at very little or no cost.

A broad appeal was lodged last week by Martin Luther King, the Negro race equality pusher, when he shamed the church people who do not come out in favor of intermarriages among the two races. To think otherwise, Martin Luther allowed, would be a display of "prejudice that does not speak for Christ."

The Negro leader has been in demand as a speaker at church affairs which have featured white ministers, and it is believed here that his forthright insistence upon racial intermarriages will sway a substantial number of ministers to join hands with him, as the same preachers have done in respect to other facets of the Civil Rights battle. Indeed, it is believed that with Martin Luther, other ministers and Civil Rights backers, the ultimate objective is to encourage more racial mixing, including repeal of state laws against intermarriages.

We hope that the suggestion of Llewellyn Notley, chairman of the Freestone County Historical Survey Committee, that the daughter of a French general who participated in the Battle of Mansfield be invited to attend commemorative ceremonies at that place next April is carried out.

Notley, who has been the moving spirit in getting the old cannon now mounted on the courthouse square at Fairfield ready to return to the place where it saw action during the Civil War, wants to invite the daughter of Confederate Major General Camille Armand Jules Marie, Prince de Polignac, to come from her home in France to attend the centennial of the Battle of Mansfield.

Prince de Polignac, of course, is one of the most famous Confederates of the battle, having taken over the command of Major General Alfred Mouton's division when the latter was killed at Mansfield. He led the command valorously and was promoted to the rank of major general to date from the day of the battle.

Most of his troops were Texans and, after some indecision on their part, the Texans fought gallantly under his leadership. At first they refused to follow him, but were asked to try him just once. This they did and afterwards swore by him.

General Polignac returned after the War to France, his mother became a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and his son he named Victor Mansfield. His entire family remained devoted to the Confederacy and in 1935, some of them came to Mansfield where the general had fought so gallantly.

The General's daughter has long maintained an interest in Mansfield and several items have been placed in the museum at the Battle Park to commemorate the father's victory there in 1864.

Recommended Reading for This Week: The term "from one extreme to the other" might well describe two of the Civil War books published this month by two well-known publishing houses, Stackpole Publishing Company of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and McGraw Hill Book Company of New York.

The two volumes, both of which we predict will become classics in their field, are Stackpole's CIVIL WAR COLLECTOR'S ENCYCLOPEDIA by Francis A. Lord and McGraw-Hill's WILL SUCCESS SPOIL JEFF DEVIS? by T. Lawrence Connelly.

The former is a $17.50 prize which every person interested in the Civil War will use over and over as he seeks to identify, describe and recognize relics of both the Union and Confederate soldier, sailor and marine. Ranging over the entire field of relics from uniforms, buttons, flags, arms, equipment, food medicine and into more than 800 other items, the book is a complete reference to all things which found use in the great War.

At the other extreme is the light treatment given "Confederatesmanship," "Centennialism," and "that long gray line of genealogists, antique dealers, historians, promoters, and roundtable buffs—marching to the Gray Nirvana" in WILL SUCCESS SPOIL JEFF DEVIS? Billed as "The last book about the Civil War," this little book which is easily read in one sitting, is almost sure to raise the ire of Civil War buffs—especially those of Confederate sympathies.

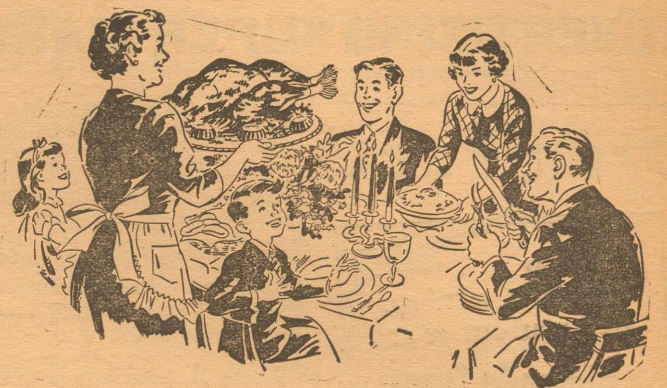

But before Confederates muster for a march on the stronghold of author Connelly, they should know that the spoiler is really one of them—a staunch buff himself who has been president of a local Civil War Roundtable and who is a frequent contributor to historical journals and periodicals. And even the angriest buff admit, however grudgingly, that Mr. Connelly knows the field of "Confederatesmanship," "Centennialism," and "that long gray line."

Two other volumes we highly recommend to readers are Harry Simonhoff's "Jewish Participants in the Civil War," published by the Arco Publishing Company, and "Judah Benjamin" by S. I. Neiman, published by Bobbs-Merrill.

Benjamin, who served as Confederate Attorney General, Secretary of War and Secretary of State, was born of Jewish parents and has never before been the subject of so comprehensive a study as that of his present biographer.

He along with the other soldiers of Jewish ancestry, are long overdue for their share of the credit in the efforts of both North and South—credit which they get in these two volumes.

THANKSGIVING A Time For Grateful Expression

Back in the days of Colonial New England there were always five grains of corn beside each plate at Thanksgiving dinner. This was a reminder of the time when their Pilgrim forefathers were reduced to five grains of corn per day. What a bountiful contrast is offered by the times and conditions in which we are now living! Consider the many, many blessings the good Lord has bestowed upon us. Surely at this time of year we should send up our prayers of Thanksgiving.

Those of us in this firm are mindful of the blessings and good will that have come our way. And we join with others of the community and in fact all Americans in acknowledging our countless benefits. We hope you have a wonderful day with your loved ones.

O. C. Fisher Recalls Early Days With John F. Kennedy

By O. C. Fisher

I first met John Kennedy in January of 1947. Then called Jack, he was assigned to the Labor committee, of which I was then a member. During the three terms he served in the House, he is remembered as affable, friendly, modest and restrained. In keeping with tradition and prudence, he as a new member of the House spoke out infrequently. In the Committee, although I often found myself in sharp disagreement with his views on certain labor and other legislation, he was the type who could disagree without being disagreeable.

Years later, after he was President, when we would meet, he would usually refer back to that committee service. "We served together on the old Labor Committee remember?" I know he reminded me of that fact on at least two or three occasions.

Incidentally, Dick Nixon was on that same committee at the time. Both he and Kennedy were elected to the House at the same time, and were sworn in together on January 3, 1947.

Looking back, I think of the late President as a very sincere young man, courageous and forthright in his official conduct. An intellectual, he was loyal to his New England raising and to the ideals he cherished. In his dealings with both both friend and foe, he always operated on a lofty plane.

Gifted with a boyish smile, a staccato speaking style, a jabbing finger and the Boston accent, these mannerisms have become a part of the Kennedy image.

I rode in a convertible in the motorcade that took the President and his wife, along with Governor Connally and Lyndon Johnson, on the 28-mile tour through the heart of San Antonio last Thursday. In the same open car with me were Larry O'Brien, of the White House staff, Albert Tomas of Houston, Lindley Beckworth of Tyler, and George Mahon of Lubbock. I recall commenting at one point about how vulnerable the President was to snipers, despite the presence of so many secret service and police officers.

After his 15-minute dedication address at the Aerospace Center, the Commanding General whispered something to the President, evidently suggesting that he descend from the platform and shake hands with some of those in front. Kennedy nodded, and the two walked toward the stairs. As they passed me and George Mahon, seated on the front row, the President looked at us and said, "Come along with us," and we followed him down into the crowd.

Twenty hours later the President was dead. History literally exploded in the presence of thousands. Unbelievable tragedy had struck. And deep sorrow fell over the entire world.

Decorating Contest Set

A decorating contest will be held for Eldorado residences again this year during the upcoming holidays, with the Lions club and the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce furnishing the prize money.

The two organizations are each putting up $15 to provide three prizes, as follows:

- Best decorated yard ----- $10
- Door ----- $10
- Window ----- $10

In the contest, the best decorated business house will also be recognized. Last year Hext Foods was so designated and won the plaque to keep for a year. The plaque will be given this Christmas season to the most attractively decorated business, to keep for a year.

C. J. Hahn, president of the Lions club, announced that judging will take place shortly before Christmas by a secret committee who will drive around town on a designated night, and then the prizes will be awarded.

GREAT-NEPHEW OF LOCAL WOMEN DIES IN ACCIDENT

Larry Ray Sample, 16, son of C. B. Sample of Lewisville and Dallas, was killed in a car wreck Nov. 11 near Lewisville. C. Bell Sample, the youth's father, will be remembered as the son of R. L. Sample Sr., a brother of Mrs. Tom Johnson and Mrs. W. N. Ramsay and a former Eldorado resident. C. B. was reared in Eldorado.

S. S. CLASS MEETING

The Bykota Sunday School Class of the First Baptist church met at the West Texas Cafe Nov. 20th for their monthly meeting and luncheon, with 11 members attending.

Vida Mercer brought the devotional. Mrs. Joe Wagley is president of the class; Mrs. Weldon Davis is the teacher.

Football Summary — 1963 Season

By PEYTON CAIN

Although the 1963 version of Eldorado Eagles narrowly missed being a great team, they certainly qualify to be described as a good team; and, as such, its members can feel an honest and well deserved self respect. A team which wins half its games has enjoyed a good season. The Eagles won 7 of a 10-game season's schedule.

It is true that team members will ask themselves over the years just why they did not win the district championship when they came so close. There might be an answer and again there might not be. It might lie with their opponents: for example, Rankin rose to the heights to defeat the Eagles but exhausted themselves in doing so since they fell victims to Big Lake in a game just as important to Red Devil fortunes. It will be remembered that Eldorado was picked as the pre-season favorite; and as such was the target of every opponent's efforts including emotional appeals like "Dad's Nights" on two occasions and the Rankin homecoming.

Season's standings for the district 8A teams add to Eagle self respect:

Team	W	L	T	Pts	Op
Big Lake	8	1	1	236	74
Eldorado	7	3	0	266	65
Rankin	5	4	1	205	205
Ozona	4	6	0	76	173
Sanderson	2	8	0	243	258
Iraan	1	9	0	72	256

Name	No Plays	Yds. Rshg.	Passes	Yards	Total
Meador	89	822	5 of 12	86	908
Finley	31	77	32 of 66	671	748
McAngus	130	701	0	0	701
Williams	52	255	0	0	255
Griffin	40	181	0	0	181
Montgomery	26	159	0	0	159
Nixon	32	117	0	0	117
McGregor	15	48	2 of 6	32	80
Henderson	2	12	0	0	12
Whitten	3	10	0	0	10

So 420 plays propelled the Eagles for 2,382 yards on the ground while 39 successful pass completions earned 789 yards by air for a total season's yardage of 3,171. * Team Statistician.

Season's punting records saw Charles Nixon kick 19 times for a 40-yard average, while Captain Lynn Meador kicked twice for 30 yards each boot.

Captain "M" M. McAngus set a school record with 3 field goals for the 1963 season. His extra point kicking was outstanding.

Eagle team statistician selected by Coach Earl Barnett listed the number of tackles posted by members of Eldorado's stubborn defensive unit. They go as follows: Richard Jones, 2; Phil McCormick, 2; Joe Phillips, 2; Steve Blaylock, 2; Rex McCormick, 5; Ronnie Griffin, 6; Sam Henderson, 9;

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Dudley this week are a nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Lee and daughter, Berdie

The Eagles scored most and had least points scored against them. No team defeated the Eagles by more than a touchdown margin.

But the thought that haunts the Eagles and will for a long time is that they might have been taking part in the regional playoff since Big Lake beat Canutillo 14-0, if—. There is no solution nor will be to these ifs.

Conclusions are that Eldorado had a good year, avoided "emotional jags," didn't try to humiliate their weaker opponents, suffered no serious injuries, behaved themselves as sportsmen on the field, and reflected credit on their school.

The Eagles posted fine individual records. For example, Captain "M" M. McAngus was the leading district 8A scorer with Captain Lynn Meador only a touchdown behind for third honors. Here is the way it looks (Name of player followed by touchdowns, extra points, field goals, and total):

Name	Total
McAngus	9 28 3 92
Meador	14 0 0 84
Williams	5 0 0 30
Preston	3 0 0 18
Nixon	3 0 0 18
Blair	2 0 0 12
Montgomery	1 0 0 6
Henderson	1 0 0 6
Griffin	0 1 0 2

* Account of ground gaining activities is as follows:

Name	No Plays	Yds. Rshg.	Passes	Yards	Total
Meador	89	822	5 of 12	86	908
Finley	31	77	32 of 66	671	748
McAngus	130	701	0	0	701
Williams	52	255	0	0	255
Griffin	40	181	0	0	181
Montgomery	26	159	0	0	159
Nixon	32	117	0	0	117
McGregor	15	48	2 of 6	32	80
Henderson	2	12	0	0	12
Whitten	3	10	0	0	10

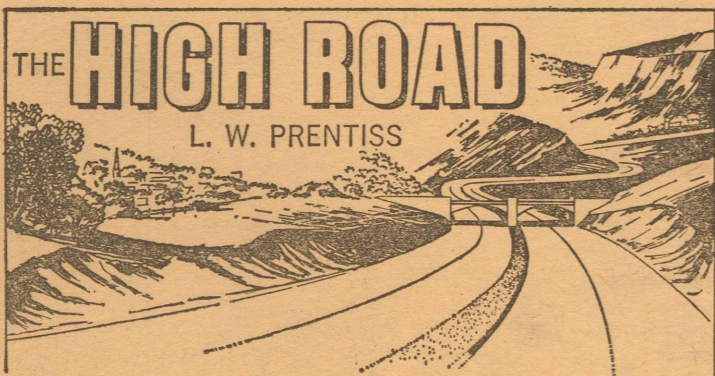

Charles Nixon, 11; David Whitten, 11; Monty Montgomery, 12; Jim Belk, 26; Mike McCravey, 29; Captain Lynn Meador, 36; Scott McGregor, 41; Ronnie Williams, 55; Captain Larry Blair, 57; Richard Preston, 59; Beep Cain, 61; Field CO Tip Finley, 62; Captain "M" M. McAngus, 65; George Draper, 69; Bobby Halbert, 88; Jack Mackey, 102.

Six of these lads will be lost to the Eagles via graduation for this 1964 season. They are all three captains, Larry Blair, Lynn Meador, and Mack McAngus; also the Field CO Tip Finley, George Draper, and Jack Mackey.

A new district made up of Junction, Ozona, Menard, Big Lake, Sonora, Iraan, Rankin, and Sanderson promise the 1964 Eagles a grim prospect of rugged competition.

But the Eagles of 1963 carried themselves well.

Nell of Sour Lake, Texas. Weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Farr of Abilene, who were here for a deer hunt.

A Balanced Highway Program

Seven years have passed since the start of the accelerated national road-building program authorized by Congress in the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956.

The Act provides that the revenue from certain Federal taxes on highway users (principally the 4¢-per-gallon gasoline tax) is set aside in a Highway Trust Fund and used only for the Federal share of the Federal-State highway program. The Act also provides a long-range schedule of authorizations for the completion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways and a "balanced" program of capital improvements on the other Federal-aid systems — primary, secondary and urban.

This long-range plan calls for the substantial completion of the Interstate System by October 1, 1972. Highway planners recognize that this 41,000-mile system of express highways connecting the major centers of population and industry cannot perform its intended function with full efficiency unless it is woven into the total highway system—and this means bringing the feeders, distributors and connectors up to standard.

Within the next year, several thousand miles of Interstate System will be opened to traffic. Since 1964 is the halfway point of the program, State and Federal highway officials have set themselves the goal of opening half of the Interstate mileage by the end of that year. What may be of even more interest to the traveling public is the fact that the highway officials also are concentrating on opening long, connected stretches of Interstate highway so as to provide maximum benefits at the earliest possible date.

As the links of the Interstate System are connected up, the benefits derived by motorists will multiply. Driving time and driving tensions will be reduced, and accident costs will be cut dramatically. (On completion, the Interstate System will save upwards of 5,000 lives annually.)

Traffic congestion on parallel primary and secondary routes will be reduced, but traffic on routes interchanging with the Interstate System generally will increase. As traffic patterns change, highway administrators are making provision for improving the highways which are to bear the heavier traffic loads. Necessarily, the Interstate System construction schedule is coordinated carefully with the schedule of highway improvements on other roads.

The balanced highway program recognizes that each road, heavily traveled or not, has a part to play in the functioning of the highway network and that funds available for construction must be distributed accordingly.

At the end of the first seven years of the accelerated program, about 86 percent of the Interstate System (14,829 miles) was open to traffic. Another 41 percent was "in progress," i.e., engineers were designing the highway, right-of-way was being acquired, or actual construction was underway.

Visit Ollie N. Sudduth

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sudduth and daughter, Rozanna Sauer, spent the week end in San Antonio visiting their son and brother, Ollie Neille, who is in the Army and stationed at Fort Sam Houston. This was his first pass, and he almost didn't make it after the President's death. He is taking medical training and expects to be there at least 16 more weeks. He would be glad to hear from his friends. His address is:

Pvt. Ollie N. Sudduth
US54343540
Co. D—3rd Bn. USAMTC
Class 6B 78234
Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

The Sudduth reported that Ollie Neille was doing well and had gained 10 pounds in the month he has been in the Army. He expects to be home for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Love Schedules Open House Wednesday

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS THANKSGIVING PROGRAM

Rev. Dan Sebesta was speaker at the Woman's club Thanksgiving program last Tuesday afternoon. He presented a film on Why We Have Thanksgiving and challenged the club to be thankful even in troubled times.

Mrs. Roy Phelps and Mrs. B. F. Blaylock presented special music with Frank O'Banion at the piano. The club enjoyed the Thanksgiving meal at the West Texas Cafe dining room and went from there to the club room at the Memorial Building for the business meeting and program.

Twelve members attended and five guests. Besides the above mentioned, Mrs. T. R. Spence was present. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Arch Mittel on Dec. 17 for the Christmas program, instead of Dec. 12 as outlined in the year-book.

MERRY MAKERS CLUB

Mrs. Ruth Williams entertained the Merry Makers 42 Club with a covered dish Thanksgiving luncheon at her home last Thursday. The house was beautifully decorated in the Thanksgiving motif, with small turkeys and a cornucopia centering the serving table. The members and guests seated themselves at quartet tables.

During a short business session the club decided to have a Christmas party and exchange of gifts on December 12 at the home of Mrs. Ernest Finnigan.

Eleven members were present for the luncheon and seven guests. Mrs. Alice Rohde of San Angelo was a guest of Mrs. McClatchy. Others were Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. Jack Griffin, Mrs. Granvill Hext, Mrs. W. T. Whitten, Mrs. L. M. Hoover and Mrs. L. T. Wilson.

W.M.U. ROYAL SERVICE PROGRAM

The W.M.U. of the First Baptist church met at the church Tuesday night at 7:30 for the regular monthly business meeting and Royal Service program.

Mrs. Ruth Davis, president, presided over the business meeting during which it was decided not to have the Bible study on Dec. 9 due to the annual Lottie Moon Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions, to be held that week beginning Sunday night, Dec. 8, at 7:30 and meeting Monday through Friday at the church at 2:00 p.m. The goal of the offering for this church for this year is $1485.54, a 15% increase over last year's offering.

Mrs. Wm. Rountree was in charge of the program Partners for Progress in Japan assisted by Jewel Hodges, Mrs. Nan Montgomery, Lois Wilson and Ruth Davis. The Evelyn Smith circle prepared a box for a needy family and served refreshments to the 22 members present.

On Thursday (today) the Nyquist family will go to their home on Lake for Thanksgiving. Their children and grandchildren will meet them there and the table will be set for 15 guests. The family group will stay over night and the Eldorado Nyquists will be back home Friday afternoon.

Out-of-town guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mittel for Thanksgiving include their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison Jr. of Fort Bliss, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison Sr. of Columbus, and Mrs. Mittel's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Perry of San Angelo.

Mrs. J. S. Pelt and daughter, Mrs. C. L. Fortson and her daughter, Mrs. Pauline Hav and her son Jimmy, all from Edinburg, will visit Mrs. W. T. Whitten and Mrs. W. L. McWhorter Friday and Saturday.

McClain - Jackson Wedding Here Saturday

During a ceremony in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mayor and Mrs. Eldon Calk, Miss Gladys McClain became the bride of Truel D. Jackson of Dallas last Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mayor Calk. Miss Pamela Calk acted as maid of honor while Dan Stevens of Dallas served as best man. Rev. Dan Sebesta officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white wool lace dress and a single strand of pearls that were a gift of her aunt, Mrs. Calk. Her veil was of white tulle fastened to a white satin tiara. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations on a white Bible.

Miss Mickey Phelps sang "O Promise Me" accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Roy Phelps at the piano.

The maid of honor wore a blue velvet dress and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McClain of Blanket. She attended John Tarleton College and East Texas Teachers College. She teaches girls' physical education at Central High School in San Angelo.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fate Jackson of Haworth, Oklahoma, and attended Oklahoma State. He is employed by the Fire Department in Dallas.

Out of town guests attending the wedding and reception were: H. C. Dewberry of Brownwood, the bride's grandfather; an aunt, Mrs. Bill Pace and a sister, Mrs. Don Perry, both of Brownwood; her brothers, Johnny McClain and Jerry McClain, both of Blanket; Polly Kuykendall, Alice Sheffield, Helen Blackburn and Dan Stevens all of Dallas; Suzanne Cortese, Rebecca Durham, Judy Neligh, Anita Anthony, Frances Tumlinson and Karla Mercer, all cheer leaders at Central High School in San Angelo.

The reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Newport following the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom was cut. The centerpiece was of white carnations flanked by a bride and groom. Genie Newport and Claudia Meador distributed rice bags.

Mrs. Jackson will be honored with a gift tea in the home of Mrs. James Williams Dec. 5th from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Take Time Out For Tea

AFTER A SERIES OF PARTIES with late hours and rich foods, set aside a few hours for a quiet get-together around your tea table. There's no happier way to spell hospitality and your friends will appreciate a leisurely afternoon lull with steaming cups of tea and a few simple refreshments. Tiny finger sandwiches, spread with softened cream cheese, mixed with a little grated lemon rind or orange juice, are just right. So are thin slices of fruit or pound cake. Or make a two-layer white cake, cover with a fluffy white frosting and decorate with colorful chopped candied fruits.

Do be sure the tea you serve is freshly made and piping hot. The easiest way to make sure of this is to prepare a tea concentrate beforehand. Then at teatime you pour a little concentrate into the teacup and fill up with piping hot water. The usual proportions are one part of concentrate to 5 parts of water, though by varying the amount of the concentrate, you can vary the strength of the tea to suit all tastes.

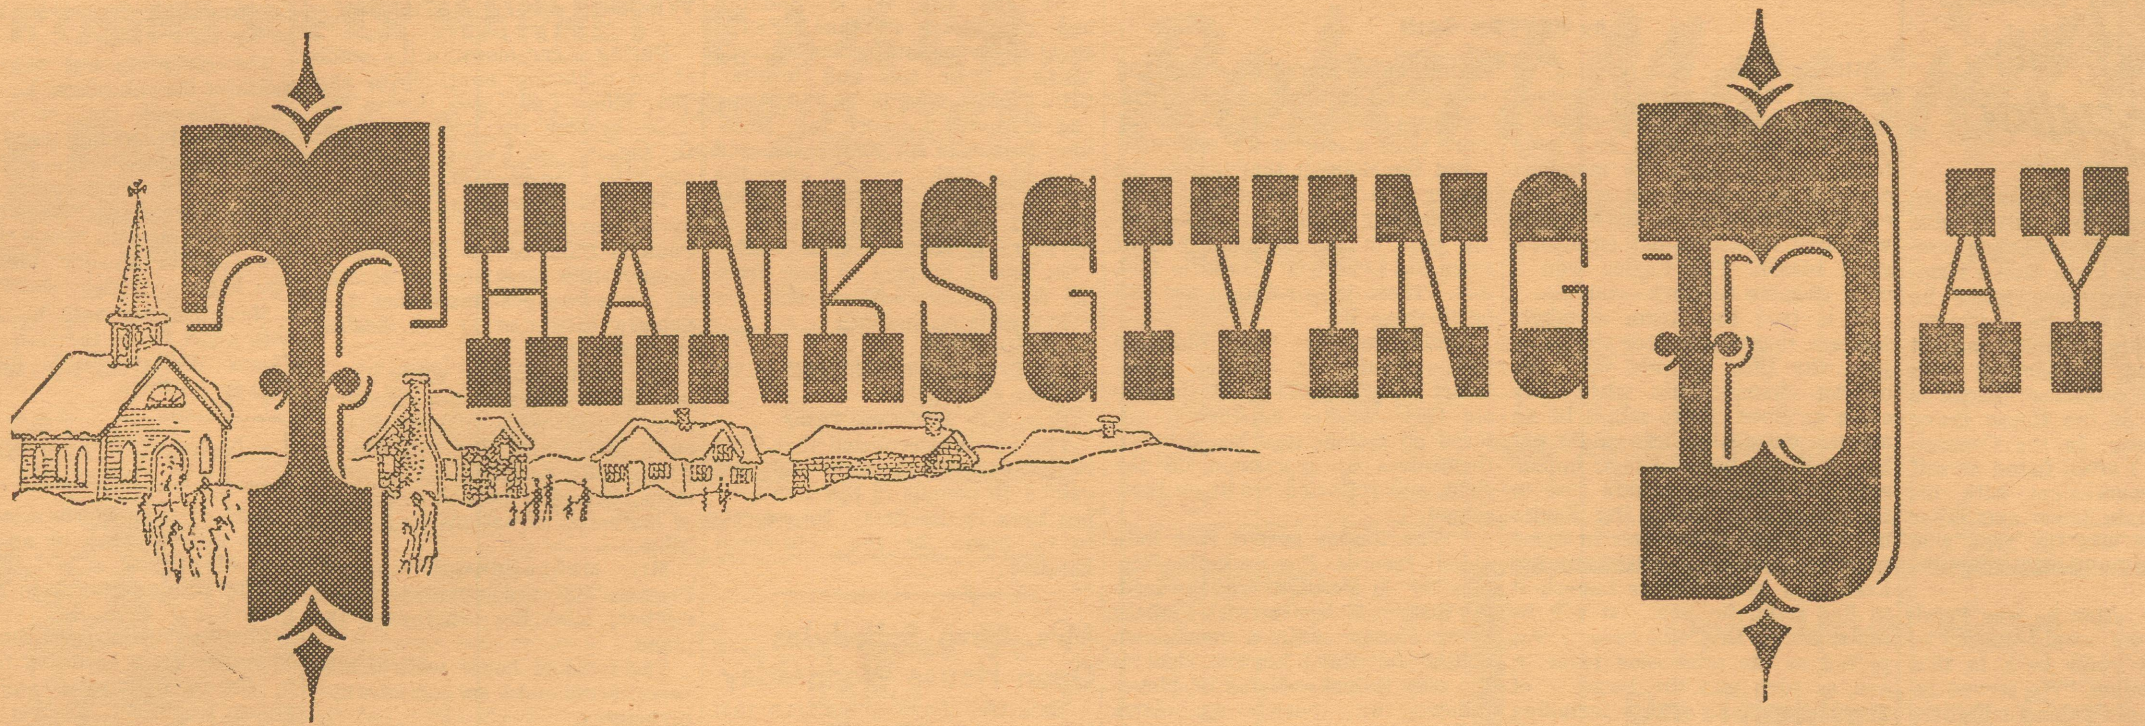

HOT TEA CONCENTRATE

Bring 1½ quarts cold freshly drawn water to a full rolling boil. Remove from the heat and immediately add ¼ pound loose tea. Stir to immerse leaves. Cover. Let stand 5 minutes. Strain into a teapot until ready to serve. This makes enough concentrate for 40 to 45 cups of tea.

Thanksgiving

BECAUSE I CAN SEE . . .

the gray earth turning to green—trees bursting into blossom — the sun going down in a blaze of glory — I give thanks.

BECAUSE I CAN HEAR . . .

the sound of childish laughter—words of whispered love — inspired sounds that give buoyancy to the spirit — I give thanks.

BECAUSE I CAN TALK . . .

to state my opinions and views without fear — to understand as well as be understood, I give thanks.

BECAUSE I CAN WALK . . .

to go anywhere and when I please without shackles or limitations,
I give thanks.

BECAUSE I CAN FEEL . . .

compassion and joy—anger and sorrow and every emotion in between — from the waters of the well of life,
I give thanks.

BECAUSE I AM ALIVE . . .

aware that life is a divine gift, an opportunity to serve and be helpful—
a challenge to leave things a little better than I found them,
I give thanks.

Who am I? I am you, and you, multiplied a million fold who in the Fatherhood of God and the increasing Brotherhood of man find that this is indeed an occasion for a joyous Thanksgiving.

As we give thanks to Almighty God, this is also a good time to appreciate others — Neighbors — Friends — Our Families — Our Homes — Our Community — Our Nation — And the times we have enjoyed being together.

Austin.—Our guests of honor did not arrive.

A "Texas Welcome Dinner" in Austin, honoring President and Mrs. Kennedy and Vice President and Mrs. Johnson was cancelled.

President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas during the noon hour Friday, just a few hours before he was to be the guest of 3,000 Democrats of Texas at one of the largest honor banquets ever held in the Lone Star State.

He died of bullet wounds received while in a motorcade en route to a speaking engagement at the Dallas Trade Mart.

Also shot by the sniper and seriously injured was Texas' Governor, John Connally, who was riding with the President.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, in keeping with customary security measures, was in another car. He was unharmed.

It was a bright, sunshiny day, suddenly turned into darkness and gloom . . . not just in Dallas and Austin, but throughout the world. Unquestionably it was the blackest day in Texas history.

Thousands of persons, including Texas legislators, heard the news en route to Austin. Many continued their journeys to the capital . . . a city paralyzed by the shocking events. Hundreds joined the legislators in memorial services in the House of Representatives.

It was a sad ending to an even sadder day.

Connally Recovering

First encouraging news to reach the capital following the murderous attack on the president and governor was word that the operation on Connally was successful. However, he is expected to be hospitalized for at least 10 days.

Johnson Assumes Presidency

Within a few hours after President Kennedy's assassination, Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as President.

Swearing-in ceremonies were performed by Federal District Judge Sarah T. Hughes aboard the presidential plane just before the jet airliner bearing the deceased president's body left Love Field for Washington.

Water Proposal

Governor Connally, addressing the Texas Water Conservation Association's annual meeting here, recommended a six-point program for meeting future water needs.

To harness the state's water resources the Governor recommended full development of water supplies in the central and western basins; development in eastern river basins and diversion from areas of excess to those of deficiency; proper use of underground water resources; safeguards to maintain quality of surface and ground water; planning for re-use of water; and a coordinated, systematic program "with an immediate accelerated effort."

Floyd E. Dominy, Federal Reclamation Commission, called for grass roots leadership to push the Texas Basins Project. Proposed is

$3 billion in expenditures for 83 dams and an elaborate conduit system to include a 419-mile canal along the coast. "Industry is not attracted by water plans," stated Dominy. "Industry wants water supplies. Lacking them here, it will go where water is available."

Expenditures Approved

Legislative Budget Board approved plans for a $1 million conference center at The University of Texas. Governor Connally had vetoed the appropriations item because they placed "bricks over brains."

Board also authorized expenditures of $253,000 by the Parks and Wildlife Commission. Of this, $49,500 will go for conversion of Port Lavaca causeway into a fishing pier.

House Speaker Byron Tunnell, a member of the board, criticized Sul Ross College President Bryant Wildenthal for buying a $65,000 electronic computer after the legislature turned down the purchase. Tunnell asked the comptroller not to pay the bill and said he thought a legislative investigation is in order.

Seeks Import Curb

A law to back up the State Highway Commission Order (voided by the courts) to curb use of steel imports on state projects has been proposed by a legislative committee.

Supreme Court has held that the 1960 "Buy America" order infringes on state law requiring competitive bidding.

Ogallala Hearings

Major oil and gas industry spokesmen told the Texas Water Pollution Control Board they are going all out to protect fresh water supplies of the Ogallala formation. The formation covers 48 West Texas and Panhandle counties and extends 31,500 square miles.

James L. Sewell, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association said: "It is our desire to form an alliance with groups in the industry or outside . . . who wish to protect the waters of this state." He predicted a flexible program can solve the problems without jeopardizing extensive oil and gas operations.

Last September the board's geologist recommended elimination of unlined surface pits used for disposal of oil field brines in the Ogallala area. Seepage of brine was contaminating underground water.

Texas Taxes High

People who think they are paying high state property and sales taxes will be interested to know they are! A study of state financing by the Legislative Budget Board reveals that the state tax burden in Texas is heavier than the national average.

A 10-year view of tax burdens—the term statisticians use to describe state taxes as a percentage of total personal income—shows Texans' "tax burden" has risen above the average for the first time.

Texans contributed only 3.7% of their total income to help run the state in 1952, when the average U. S. citizen chipped in 3.9% to his state.

Last year, the average Texan paid 4.9% of his income for state taxes, while the average in other states doled out only 4.7%.

State taxes are climbing upward all over the country, but in Texas the climb has been quicker than in other states. This is due partly, because the average Texan's income has not risen as fast as his

Rx For Leftovers

Problem: "leftover letdown," after turkey dinner.
Solution: instead of hash, surprise the family with leftover turkey delight.

- TURKEY ROLL-UPS
- 2 tbs. chopped onion
 - ¼ lb. butter or margarine
 - 2½ cups cooked diced potatoes
 - 1½ cups cooked, drained spinach
 - 1 tsp. salt, dash of pepper
 - 12 large thin turkey slices
 - ½ cup slivered toasted almonds
 - 1 tbs. A.I. Steak Sauce

Saute onion in 2 tbs. butter until tender but not brown. Remove from heat, add potatoes, spinach, salt and pepper. Toss together gently. Spoon mixture into center of each turkey slice, fold over ends and secure with wooden cocktail picks. Place in casserole. Melt remaining butter, stir in almonds, A.I. Sauce, pour over roll-ups. Bake at 350 deg. about 25 minutes until lightly brown. Serves 4-6.

taxes, or as fast as the average income.

In 1949, average per-person income of Texans was 92.8% of the national average. It was only 85.2% of the national average in 1962.

Free Food Grants Decline

Distribution of free federal surplus foods by the State Department of Public Welfare decreased by more than 2,000 recipients between September, 1962 and September, 1963.

In September of last year 149,694 recipients in 877 counties and five cities were receiving free farm surplus. This year, the September number had dwindled to 147,583 persons in 88 counties and three cities. Navarro County was dropped from the list during the 12-month period, but Bee and Cameron counties were added.

Car-Tax Solution Suggested

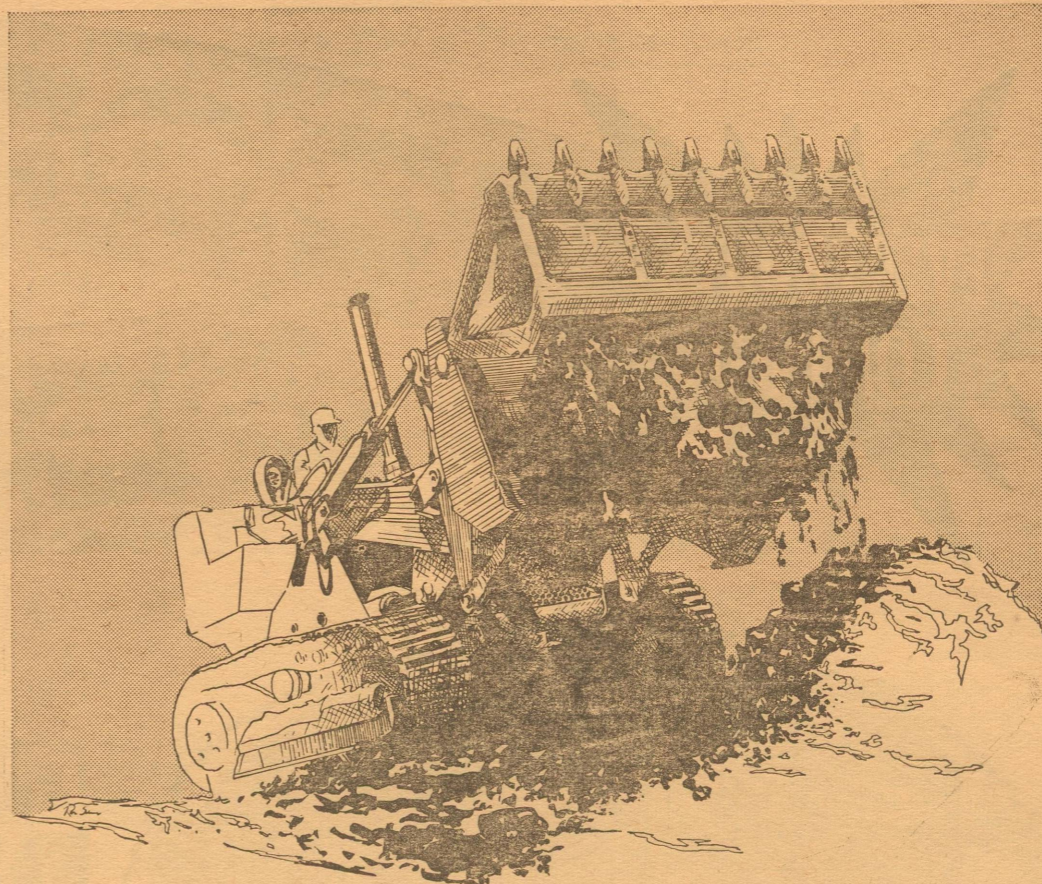

Although county tax collectors have authority to levy and collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, a study by the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy reveals that only about a fourth of the state's taxing units make any effort to collect them.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas county—one that does collect—suggests that county tax collectors have their pay cut when they fail to collect all the taxes which they levy. As a member of the tax-study group, Parkhouse will have an opportunity to present his suggestion to the Legislature in 1965.

CONSTRUCTION . . .
Evidence of growth in WTU communities

Where is all the construction coming from in our service area? Well, a survey shows that $89 million worth has been completed recently in new and expanded factories, stores, motels, shopping centers, schools, churches, public buildings, street paving, and other such improvements. Add to this figure the amount invested in new residences and apartment houses, as well as State and Federal expenditures, and you have truly great evidence of growth in the 166 communities we serve. Such facts as these again explain why we say our service area faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Loan Licensing Extension Set

After a conference with Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell granted a 30-day extension of time in which some 250 finance company operators may be licensed to operate under the 1963 Tegas Regulatory Loan Act. The 1963 act affords liberal interest rates for the lenders.

Licensing deadline was November 21. So many license applications were held up, due to bona-fide technical omissions, that Miskell asked Carr if he could give those "of good faith" a little leeway. Copies of his extension order will serve in lieu of licenses until their applications are granted, or rejected.

On the deadline date, the Office of Regulatory Loan Commissioner had granted 1,300 licenses to loan companies. Any who now operate in violation of the law are subject to a fine of $500 to $1,000 and/or up to six months in jail.

Securities Permits Up

Granting of permits by the State Securities Board took a sharp upward turn in dollar value during October, after a September lag.

Last month permits totaled a dollar worth of $21,814,814; a high jump over September's value of $12,701,593. Forty companies—including 11 Texas firms—were given permission to sell stocks in the state.
