Sam Oglesby Funeral Held Here On Monday

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4:00 in the First Presbyterian church here in Eldorado for Sam M. Oglesby, 71, native of Sherwood and a resident of Eldorado for the past 51 years.

Mr. Oglesby died at 4:30 Sunday morning in Shannon hospital in San Angelo following a long period of failing health.

The Rev. Dan Sebesta, pastor, officiated at the funeral services and interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery.

Mr. Oglesby was born at Sherwood May 25, 1893, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Oglesby. The elder Mr. Oglesby was one of the first sheep producers here in Southwest Texas.

On Feb. 3, 1913, Mr. Oglesby was married to the former Bertha Holland at Altus, Oklahoma.

Except for 11 months in Coke county, the Oglesbys have lived in the same house here since their marriage, rearing two sons and a daughter.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Lucille Lovelace of Brownwood; one son, Bob Oglesby of Eldorado; one sister, Mrs. Jewel Mitchell of Chihuahua, Mexico; five brothers, E. O. Oglesby of San Angelo, Preston Oglesby of Dallas, the Rev. J. C. Oglesby of Waco, Robert L. Oglesby of Austin and Blanks Oglesby of Del Rio; and six grandsons.

In February of 1963, a large crowd of relatives and friends of the Oglesbys called on them on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary celebration and open house which was held here.

Mr. Oglesby was preceded in death by a son, Bill Oglesby, who died in April of 1963, and by a brother, Ford Oglesby Sr., who died in July of 1961.

Community Service Set Evening Of August 16th

A Community-Wide Revival Service will be held the night of August 16th at the First Baptist church here in Eldorado.

The service will be conducted by the Downtown Bible Class of San Angelo, who put on a similar service two years ago in the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Dannheim of Austin came in last week end to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dannheim and to meet his brother, Rusty Dannheim, and family.

Post Script

It was around the first week in August, 1945, that the Gunstead family took over the Eldorado Success, so this week completes 19 years for us here in Eldorado.

When we came here we had just completed 19 years in Pilot Point, a town in Denton county in North Texas. That was from 1926 to 1945.

Two times nineteen comes to thirty-eight and that many years is a pretty good hunk out of the average lifetime. Funny thing is that it doesn't seem very long.

No, I don't have anything to moralize about. We're still working for a living like we did when we came here.

They tell this story about the country publisher who had retired after 50 years with a nice nest egg of $100,000, and when he was asked to what he attributed his success he replied that it was unflinching devotion to duty, constant and eternal vigilance to good business practices, fair and honest dealing with his fellow man, and also to the fact that a rich uncle had died and left him $99,000.

"You can plant a crop of cucumbers and in two months you can have a crop failure. That's better than cotton, where it takes eight months to have a failure and costs lots more!"

This was a characteristic bit of philosophy coming from Johnno Mayo who was quoted as saying last year that he had made five cotton crops and had been hailed out six times.

Wilbur, having been to a city, was telling his cronies of the sights he saw.

"An' up there I seed one of them machines that tell if a man's lying."

"Pooh," said Luke from his corner.

"Pooh? Did you ever see one?"

"See one? I married one."

Round-corner, pocket size cards have again been printed at the Success office, carrying the 1964 Eagles' football schedule.

Compiled by Peyton Cain, one side of the card has the 'A' schedule and the other side has schedules for Eldorado 'B' team, also Eldorado Junior High.

Peyton will be carrying around a pocket-full of cards to hand out or you may drop in at the Success office and pick up one of the cards.

Copies of this handy pocket-size schedule are free for the taking.

This week's 35 years ago news has an item about Tom Gattis visiting here back then, after an absence of some 18 years.

Mr. Gattis now lives at Pilot Point, where we used to live.

He lived here in Eldorado back early in this century and no doubt noticed a number of changes when he visited here in 1929; but if he came here now he would see even more changes in the town and county.

Mr. Gattis knew Frank Bradley, Archie Wright, Judge Whitten, and a number of the other early-day residents here. He recalled them when we saw him a few years ago at the homecoming at Pilot Point.

And we see that in that same period, 1929, Chevrolet was coming out with some new models which were being sold by Evans Chevrolet Co.

The new 6-cylinder Imperial Sedan for 1929 had a list price of $695, and the Sport Coupe was advertised with list price of $645. We wonder how close the local Chevrolet dealer can come to those new-car prices—now.

19th Annual CoOp Meeting Scheduled Next Tuesday

A barbecue served to well over 600 members and guests at 6:00 p.m. Tuesday, August 11th, will kick off the 19th annual meeting of the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Operative. It will be held on the court house lawn.

Local 4-H boys and girls will assist Orland Harris in serving the barbecue. The meeting, which will get under way at 8:00 p.m. at the Memorial Building, will include election of directors, reports, showing of films, and drawing for door prizes.

This event is always one of the highlights of the summer here in Eldorado and many Co-Op members report never having missed any of the 18 previous meetings, and some of them travel great distances to attend.

The Annual Meeting

As president of the Co-Op, W. W. Sheen of Menard will call the business meeting to order at 8:00 p.m. on the west porch of the Memorial Building. (In case of inclement weather the meeting will be inside.)

R. A. Harrell of Ozona and Jeff Owens of Sheffield are the two directors whose terms are expiring this year.

Both have been nominated for new three-year terms. Members of this year's nominating committee were John Childress, Bill Seahorn, and Troy Williams.

The rotating system was set up four years ago for election of the board members. Hold-over directors are W. W. Sheen, Joe M. Christian, J. Forrest Runge, Frank Bond, and Joe D. Strauss.

Members of the Co-Op will register for door prizes and two films will be shown.

Don McCormick will give his manager's report for the year.

A volume of business of over half a million dollars for the calendar year, 1963, will be reported. The 1963 volume was $515,000, up from the 1962 volume of $450,000.

As usual, the sales of electricity have continued to increase this year over last year, as it has every year since the first lines were energized back in 1946.

The Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op continues to serve an area about 174 miles from east to west and 84 miles from north to south. Many of the existing lines are being converted from single-phase to three-phase in order to take care of larger loads for irrigation and other purposes, and for larger ranch house loads.

More and more farmers and ranchers are adding water wells for dependable service.

A new metering point was added in June at the Atlantic station 12 miles west of Sonora. This additional metering point was needed to serve the three irrigation wells of William Allison whose ranch is located along Highway 290. His place adjoins the TA Circle ranch on the west.

Mr. Allison is irrigating alfalfa and domestic grasses; and this is his first year for the operation.

Once again, Co-Op members can be proud of the safety record of the employees since they worked from May 1, 1963, thru April 30, 1964, without a lost-time accident.

The Co-Op is proud to be a part of each community where they have personnel stationed—Eldorado, Ozona, and Big Lake, and elsewhere where they have lines and sub-stations. The Co-Op maintains warehouses and employee rooms at Ozona and Big Lake.

Manager Don McCormick will leave Wednesday for Austin to attend the Texas Electric Co-Operatives annual state meeting which will be held Aug. 12, 13, and 14 in the Texas capital city.

Most of Cucumber Crop In County Regarded As Failure

The cucumber harvest in Schleicher county is not paying the cost of gathering, and appears to be in the process of being written off this week as a crop failure.

Tom Wells of the Brown-Miller Co., of Texarkana was here last Friday accompanied by Dr. Jack Kyle, cucumber specialist of Agricultural Research Center, Lubbock, and together with local growers toured all of the cucumber projects in this county. They came by request when growers here had found their vines were not producing new "fruit."

Dr. Kyle took soil and water samples and came up with a number of possible causes.

One conclusion was that salt was coming to the surface, either from the water or the soil. This together with the fact that the soil here had developed a "hard pan" a few inches below the surface, preventing plant roots from spreading. For this he recommended deep plowing or "chiseling"—not for this year but for next, since it was too late to do anything good this year.

Insect damage here has been negligible, he said, and that was not regarded as one of the local troubles. Extreme hot, dry weather for the past two months was counted as a contributing factor.

As a matter for future information Ben Keel was advised to chisel a number of rows, then side-dress and irrigate, and then observe the results.

Ben Keel stated Tuesday that he was already carrying out the chiseling experiments suggested by Dr. Kyle, and that he had already written off nearly one-half of his 100-acre crop as a failure. He still had hopes—but very slim hopes—that some of the remaining acres would still produce this year.

In the meantime he has not given up his faith in cucumbers as a money crop for this county and expects to go into it again next year.

Here are some of the reports picked up early this week:

Jack Hext who signed up for a modest two acres at beginning of the project, reports that his crop is satisfactory and that he plans to continue with the harvest.

Leonard Lloyd, with 20 acres, has plowed up his crop.

Bill Moore, with 5 acres, has abandoned his crop.

Clifford Schooley contracted to plant 5 acres. His crop was planted later than the others and as of this week they report that the vines look fine. He is waiting to see how the crop turns out, and says he is not about to give up at this point.

Johnno Mayo on Tuesday had decided not to spend any more money on his crop and was waiting for a final report from the specialist before plowing it under.

(Co. Agent W. G. Godwin also discusses the cucumber situation in his column on page 6 of this issue.)

Otis Deal Appointed Director Of Federal Land Band Association

Otis Deal, stockfarmer and rancher in the west part of Schleicher county, has been appointed a director of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora, according to a report this week by A. E. Prugel, manager of the association. Mr. Deal succeeds Eck Moore, deceased.

Deal is a long-time resident of the county and is known as a successful breeder of Angus cattle.

The Federal Land Bank of Sonora serves the counties of Crockett, Sutton and Schleicher and at the present time is servicing over six million dollars in Land Bank loans. Other directors are: Frank Bond, Sonora; Charles E. Davidson, Jr., Ozona; P. L. Childress, Jr., Ozona; and James Williams of Eldorado.

Eagle Band To Start Rehearsals August 17th

Director Eddie Pace announces that rehearsals of the Eldorado Eagle Band will begin on Monday, August 17. The first rehearsal will be held that evening in the high school band hall at 7:00. After this first rehearsal, the band will hold rehearsals in the mornings.

Rehearsal time for the Eagle band will be divided into an hour of marching drill and an hour of music drill. Section rehearsals will be held in the afternoon.

Band students who play on school owned instruments should come by the band hall and pick them up as soon as possible if they have not already done so, Mr. Pace stated.

Registration For Beginners In Band Set

During the week of August 10 through August 14, meetings with parents of students who plan to begin band for the first time will be held in the high school band hall. The purpose of these meetings is to place the beginning band students on an instrument and also to become better acquainted with the parents and students.

Since these meetings will be held with each individual student and his or her parents, it will be necessary to make an appointment with Eddie Pace, the band director. The meetings will be held from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. each day during the week of August 10 to August 14.

Classes for these beginning students will also be held starting August 17.

Johnny's Barber Shop Sold To Mr. E. L. Tyler

Johnny Griffith announced the sale this week of his barber shop to his father-in-law, E. L. Tyler, who has moved here from Lockney, Texas, to take over the business.

Mr. Tyler will also replace Mr. Griffith as pastor of the local Assembly of God church on the Menard highway.

Mr. Griffith, who has operated his popular barber shop here for about five years, has announced plans to enroll in the Southwestern Assemblies of God College at Waxahachie. The fall term starts there on Sept. 7th and the Griffiths and their two children were making arrangements this week to move there.

Eagles and Eaglets To Take Physicals Tuesday

Coach Earl Barnett reminds all returning Eagle football players, as well as new ones in the coming Freshman class, and all old and new Eaglet Jr. High team members to be at the local clinic Tuesday evening for their physical exams. A physical examination is required of all team members before they can start training for the Fall grid season.

Bill Rountree went to Tennessee last week end to bring his wife and daughters home.

Will Replace 290

Survey Parties In Ozona To Locate Interstate Hwy. No. 10

Ozona, Texas, July 30.—A crew of men, composing a survey party, has been moved into Ozona to make this headquarters while surveying Interstate 10 highway route through Crockett county is under way.

Interstate 10, one of the trans-continental super highways, will replace U. S. 290 as a through route from Florida to California, and is being developed across Texas as funds become available and in accordance with most demanding traffic needs.

The route for the super highway has been located through Pecos county and location is understood to have already been made for bridges across the Pecos river and Live Oak creek on the west edge of Crockett county.

The route, then, is being surveyed through this county from west to east, picking up the location on the Pecos river from Pecos county.

Where the highway will go through or around Ozona is the question of most interest to local residents and the answer at present appears as far away as ever.

In a telephone conversation with Robert A. McCulloch, Sonora, Resident Engineer, State Highway Department, the Stockman received confirmation of the survey crews here but neither McCulloch nor J. A. Snell of San Angelo, District Engineer, would speculate on the probable location of the highway near Ozona.

One thing seems certain, that the road presently down the big hill at Fort Lancaster will not be the site of the new highway. It is understood that the Pecos river crossing will be north of the present bridge and that the highway has been surveyed to pass north of Sheffield.

At least seven new families have been moved to Ozona to work on the new Interstate 10, Chamber of Commerce officials here revealed. These families, who have estimated their stay here to be at least until 1967, have been located in rent quarters here through efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, business men and others. —Ozona Stockman.

'Captain Newman' Is Wartime Film

Showing Sunday and Monday nights at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre is "Captain Newman" which is in color and stars Gregory Peck and Tony Curtis.

This movie is the result of a singular blend of serious psychiatry and barracks humor, neither giving the other the customary conflict in the department of theatrical taste. The result is a watchable, enjoyable motion picture in which Peck and Curtis form a blithe team.

Captain Newman is the compassionate head medical officer in a wartime Air Force base, presumably in Arizona. Peck takes in relaxed style a majority of his cases, victims of battle fatigue chiefly. Most are "cleaned up" for further battle duty and rather too slowly for the commanding officers, too.

Peck acquires as an orderly one Corp. Laibowitz, (Curtis) a quick-talker from New Jersey, a practical scrounger without whom the Army Medical Corps, as depicted, would not only be dull but also practically inoperative.

Peck also gets a WAC head nurse, Angie Dickinson, who is not only good with the patients but also helpful on the dance floor.

There are a few heart-breaking sequences involving colonels. One is the CO (James Gregory) who might have chewed out the place when five feet were trimmed off his Christmas tree. Another is Robert Duvall, with a paralyzing sense of Freudian guilt. Still another is Eddie Albert, who has been shocked off his rocker by the death of his command.

An outstanding performance comes from Bethel Leslie, former Broadway actress of promise, who plays the well-born wife of a badly worn general.

She delineates clearly a lady of reflexive hauteur and, when humbled by her husband's illness, a sense of purpose that will not back down.

Miss Dickinson neither hurts a role nor adorns it. Her appearance here is so shined and polished that she looks as though she has just come fresh and starched from "makeup".

Former child star Jane Withers leaves that TV sink for a brief nursing role.

At a running time of two hours and five minutes, "Captain Newman" boasts at least seven running plots and seven climaxes that must be resolved before fadeout time. Flitting between tragedy and comedy, it touches all bases with a heavy spike, and the end result is a happy combination. We recommend it.

Bobby Darin could hardly miss an Academy Award nomination, having been awarded a role that calls for both heavy drinking and mental anguish. That's what it takes these days and he's up to the challenge.

A word about the title: It was originally "Captain Newman, M. D.," until U-I decided to drop the "M. D." from marquees, advertising, etc. But they forgot to drop it from the front titles of the film itself, so take your choice.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hays of San Antonio and Dr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Wheeler and children Gregg, Carol and Scott were week end visitors in the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Cogswell July 26. Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Wheeler are daughters of the Cogswells.

Proposed Changes In State Constitution Are Now Being Published

Three proposed changes in the constitution of the State of Texas are now being published in the Success and elsewhere over the state for the information of all voters. The amendments will be presented for approval or disapproval at the November General Election.

Number One on the ballot would remove the authorization to transfer not exceeding one per cent annually of the total value of the permanent school fund to the available school fund. The available school fund benefits of this proposal, if it passes, shall be applied annually to the support of the public free schools. The money would be distributed to the counties of the state according to their scholastic population and applied in such manner as man be provided by law.

The distribution of funds for the use of the schools of the state would be based strictly on scholastic population, and would not take into consideration the fact that many schools of the state, particularly in oil producing counties, have an income now that taxes the spending efforts of the respective boards.

The second proposal on the ballot would establish certain requirements relative to the enactment of laws affecting particular conservation and reclamation districts. This proposal is an effort to protect the resident taxpayers against annexations, boundry changes, bond issuance authority, or the altering of qualifications or terms of office of the members of the governing body.

This proposal, if passed, would offer protection to the property owning residents of certain districts in manners heretofore not stipulated.

The third proposal on the ballot would give the legislature of Texas the power to authorize vendor payments for medical care on behalf of needy individuals 65 years of age and over who are not recipients of Old Age Assistance, and who are unable to pay for needed medical services; providing for the acceptance of funds from the federal government for the purpose of paying such medical assistance; and providing that the amounts paid out of state funds for such purposes shall never exceed the amount that is matchable out of federal funds; provided further, however, that such medical care, services or assistance shall also include the employment of objective or subjective means, without the use of drugs, for the purpose of ascertaining and measuring the powers of vision of human eye, and fitting lenses or prisms to correct or remedy any defect or abnormal condition of vision.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 3, 1964.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 10 proposing an Amendment to Section 51a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new Subsection to be known as 51a-2; giving the Legislature the power to provide, under such limitations and restrictions as may be deemed by the Legislature expedient, for direct or vendor payments for medical care on behalf of individuals sixty-five (65) years of age or over who are not recipients of Old Age Assistance and who are unable to pay for needed medical services; providing for the acceptance of financial aid from the Government of the United States for such medical payments; providing that the amounts paid out of state funds shall never exceed the amount that is matchable out of Federal funds for such purposes; providing that certain means relating to the correction or remedying of abnormalities of vision shall be included within such medical care service or assistance; providing for the necessary election, form of ballot, proclamation, and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 51a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Subsection to be known as Subsection 51a-2, which shall read as follows:

"Subsection 51a-2. The Legislature shall have the power to provide by General Laws and to make payment for same, under such limitations and restrictions as may be deemed by the Legislature expedient, for direct or vendor payments for medical care on behalf of needy individuals sixty-five (65) years of age or over who are not recipients of Old Age Assistance, and who are unable to pay for

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKUCOW

Someone asked recently, "How can I pick a tender steak?"

The answer is to do two things:—Consider the cut.

Porterhouse, T-bone, sirloin and club steaks are the most tender.

—Consider the grade

U. S. choice grade and any of the above cuts will do the trick.

Of course a good steak can be ruined by the cook but that doesn't happen too often today.

Along about this time last year I brought a recipe from Michigan for a Chinese Casserole.

I have had several requests for the recipe from new comers and this is it—

Michigan Chinese Casserole

Mix the following ingredients in the order named:

1 lb. ground meat; brown in a little fat

1 can Chinese mixed vegetables

1 can cream of chicken soup

1 can cream of mushroom soup

1/2 cup raw rice

1 cup diced celery

2 medium onions, diced

1/2 cup water to rinse cans

1/2 teaspoon soy sauce

1 scant teaspoon salt.

Put into greased casserole dish. Bake for 30 minutes with cover on, remove cover and bake for 30 minutes longer. Bake at 300 F.

Children love this dish and so do the grown-ups, as for that. It is a cinch to mix and makes two good sized dishes full. I mix my recipe up and freeze it uncooked and when I'm ready to use it the thawing and cooking go on at the same time. Remember to add a few minutes to the baking time if the dish is frozen.

Are you sure your school child is getting a square deal on the nutrition side of his ledger? You wouldn't think of sending one off to school on a cold, raw morning with no shoes—just socks—would you? And—likely you won't have your children walk to school, even on fine mornings. In other words, you would not knowingly do anything which might harm him, or in some cases, displease him.

We are careful, all right, but maybe not careful enough in the right places. The doctors of the county and national health officials are concerned over the fact that school children and especially teen agers are not eating enough of the right kind of food. They skip breakfast, eat poor snacks, don't drink enough milk and are scared to death that they will get fat.

All this neglect may be taken lightly now but the bad results will show up later on and not much later, either. In fact, some of the results begin to show up about 10:30 in the mornings. Many children fail in their school work not because they are unable to do the work but because they are hungry. See that they eat breakfast!

Try this mixer (or blender) breakfast if time is an element and it usually is when getting a slow starting teen-ager off to school.

Cereal-orange milk shake:

1 cup cooked oats, cooled. (Cook night before)

1 cup cold orange juice

2 tablespoons sugar

1/3 cup dry whole milk

3/4 cup very cold water.

Measure ingredients in bowl or blender container. Mix well in either mixer or blender; you will know when to stop. Makes about 3 cups of a good tasting milk shake.

This is an "instant breakfast," and if combined with a couple of pieces of toast will add up to about one fourth the necessary protein and one fourth the daily calories needed. And it won't make anybody fat either. But it could produce a good student or a healthy adult some day.

The concern of experts over the health of our boys and girls is not based on snap judgment or one shot figures. Of all the things we would never think of is the failure of young marrieds to eat breakfast. I quote from a letter which came today in reference to this subject: "Recent surveys show that teen age boys and girls are highest among the breakfast skippers. The Iowa breakfast studies proved that when breakfast is skipped, work output is less, mental reactions are slower, and muscular fatigue increases. This scientific research also demonstrated that good breakfast habits resulted in higher grades.

Do you have a grade failer on your hands? A little good management on your part to see that he eats breakfast may be cheaper than summer school or make-up classes.

They say that a man 60 years old has spent three years of his life at the table, eating. How many years do you suppose his wife has spent in the kitchen, getting that food ready?

What does the United States armed forces man like to eat best? In order named the men ranked their preferences thusly—

Milk, hot rolls, hot biscuits, strawberry short cake, broiled steak, ice cream sundae, fried chicken, French fried potatoes, and roast turkey.

Have you ever thought of what you like best? What are your top nine foods? In this kind of game the price doesn't matter. I heard some one say one time that they wished they were rich enough to not ever have to look at the right hand column on a menu. Would be fine—at that.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene McCalla over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Jamey Duncan, Frankie and Mike of Fort Worth.

Reynolds H. D. Club To Hold Ice Cream Supper

The Reynolds Home Demonstration club met July 22nd in the home of Mrs. Henry Moore with 10 members and four guests present.

As our president, Mrs. J. Tom Williams was ill, Mrs. H. A. Belk called the meeting to order and read from the Readers Digest the dangers of spray cans, hair sprays, insects spray, etc., coming in contact with fires.

Vida introduced three 4-H club girls, Nancy Lux, Sandra Rosford, and Nan Sauer, who modeled dresses they had made this summer. All three were very good.

Verna Lux also was a guest and told us about her work.

Our community get-together will be held August 7th at Mrs. J. T. Williams about 6:30 o'clock. Instead of the usual picnic we are

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

Chances for submission of a constitutional amendment confirming the right of the states to reapportion one branch of their state legislatures on a basis not solely related to population, have improved recently.

The need for this amendment developed when the Supreme Court on last June 15 ruled that both the House and Senate in each state must be apportioned on the basis of population alone. The Texas Plan, introduced on behalf of the entire Texas delegation in Congress, would allow only one branch to be apportioned solely on a population basis. In other words, it would continue the present system in Texas — that is, of having the House of Representatives based on population and the Senate on population and other factors.

Under the Constitution of Texas no one county can have more than one state Senator. But if the Supreme Court has its way that provision would be thrown out of the window. That would mean that 5 counties, the more populous ones, would have 12 of the state's Senators.

The Supreme Court decision was capricious and was not actually authorized by the U. S. Constitution. It marked another and dangerous usurpation of power by that tribunal under Chief Justice Warren. Justice Potter Stewart, who dissented, said the Court's decision gives "support to a current mistaken view of the Constitution and constitutional function" of the Supreme Court. "This view," he said, "... is that every major social ill in this country can find its cure in some constitutional 'principle', and that this Court should 'take the lead' in promoting reform when other branches of Government fail to act."

Justice Stewart was right. He hit the nail on the head. But the only way to correct misinterpretations by the Supreme Court is by amendment, spelling out in unmistakable terms, what the Court cannot possibly misinterpret. That is what we are trying to do with respect to this problem.

But it takes a two-thirds vote of both the House and Senate to submit a Constitutional amendment for ratification by the various state legislatures. And that is often very difficult to get.

The entire Texas delegation in Congress appeared in a body before the House Judiciary Committee last week and urged approval of the Texas Plan. The Committee appeared friendly to our proposal. We can now hope the Committee will act favorably and thereby give the House a chance to approve it by a two-thirds majority. There is still a long way to go, and time is running short; but the outlook has improved.

The CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL

By Dayton Kelley
Mary Hardin-Baylor College
Belton, Texas

Some time ago we recounted in this space the adventures of Major Horace Haldeman, the Pennsylvanian whose Confederate artillery battery was one of the finest in the War and whose members always liked to boast that "Haldeman's Battery never surrendered."

Haldeman, a graduate of West Point, was lieutenant of infantry and was stationed at Fort Gates in the early 1850's. In 1853, he resigned from the Army and set up a 1,500 acre stock farm near what is now Troy in Bell county where he also operated a stage station. When the Civil War broke out, Haldeman was offered a commission as a colonel in the Union Army by Simon Cameron, the U. S. Secretary of War, but turned it down to enlist in the Confederate service.

He and his battery of artillery were in Louisiana when he heard of General Lee's surrender at Appomattox. Haldeman brought his outfit back to Troy and on the way, paused long enough to sink the cannon they still had in the Red River. When they arrived at Troy, Haldeman wrote out a personal discharge for each of his men and for many years, some of the old soldiers who lived in central Texas liked to boast that "Haldeman's Battery never surrendered."

We recently came across an unusual document bearing Haldeman's signature and dated when he was still a lieutenant in the U. S. Army prior to the Civil War. The document is a bill of sale for a slave and was dated "County of Bell" in 1851. It was probably made while Haldeman was stationed at Fort Gates when what is now Coryell county was still a part of Bell county. The slave was sold to O. T. Tyler who lived at Gatesville prior to his moving to Bell county in the 1870's and the bill of sale was not filed for record until 1855 when it was filed in the less-than-a-year-old Coryell county.

The document reads:

"Know all men by these presents that I Horace Haldeman of the United States Army, for and in consideration of the sum of Eight Hundred Dollars (to wit, two notes for that amount signed by O. T. Tyler, bearing even date with this instrument, —one note being for three hundred dollars, and the other note being for five hundred dollars—for the payment of which the within described property is bound) have this day bargained sold and conveyed, and by these presents do bargain sell and convey until O. T. Tyler, his heirs and assigns, a certain Negro boy named Howard, about fifteen years of age, of black complexion, and sound in mind and body. To have and to hold said slave to him the said O. T. Tyler, his heirs and assigns forever, and I the said Horace Haldeman for my executors, administrators and assigns, shall and will warrant and forever defend the title to the afore-said slave, against the claim or claims of all persons whomsoever lawfully claiming the same. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal (using scrawl for seal) this twenty-second day of November, A. D. 1851."

The bill of sale was witnessed by

H. G. Cole of the U. S. Army and Robert Childers.

We wonder how common the ownership of slaves was in the United States Army just prior to the War and how common the practice of slavery was in Haldeman's home state of Pennsylvania.

Recommended Reading for This Week — For Confederates: A recent release from Thomas Yoseloff and Company of New York, "Frock Coats and Epaulets" by Alf J. Mapp, Jr., is highly recommended for Confederate readers who like short, yet definitive character studies. These are about six of the greatest of the Confederate leaders, Lee, Davis, Stuart, Joseph E. Johnston, Judah P. Benjamin and Stonewall Jackson and each is a masterpiece of character interpretation in itself.

For Yankees: A second volume, released recently by the same publisher, is "Inside Lincoln's Army," the diary of Gen. M. R. Patrick, the provost marshal general of the Army of the Potomac, which David S. Sparks has edited.

For our younger readers — No finer publishing project may be found than the Junior Library volumes being published by American Heritage. Among the recent releases is "Ironclads of the Civil War," written by Frank R. Donovan. Here in one volume junior readers will find not only the "Monitor" and the "Merrimac," but other ironclads which were used on both sides in the war that made wooden ships obsolete.

For general readers — Richard N. Current has written for J. B. Lippincott and Company a reappraisal of the charge against Abraham Lincoln that he provoked the South into firing on Fort Sumter in 1861 and has entitled the book "Lincoln and the First Shot." Civil War buffs of all ages will be intrigued by his findings.

W.T. Boys Ranch Work Placement A Success

Claude Collins of San Angelo, Board President of the West Texas Boys Ranch has reported that the Ranch's work placement away from the Ranch program has been one of the most successful aspects of the Ranch's varied training program. In the last five years, over 100 boys have been placed on "special summer jobs". Of this number 42 have become permanently employed as result of their special job training.

Recognizing the need for special work experience which would help the boys to test what they have learned at the Ranch, the Ranch staff initiated a program referred to as "Placement Away from the Ranch." The program was begun in 1959.

The Ranch has had excellent success in helping the "Hard-Luck" boy of West Texas become a real man. "This success is possible because of the support of West Texans who believe in being their brother's keeper," remarked Mr. Collins.

The annual livestock and farm products roundup provides a good portion of the annual budget needed to take care of the 80 boys under the Ranch's care. This project is simply an attempt to help finance the Ranch through donations of stock, farm products that the donor will not miss as individuals, but which in total will amount to an important sum. Funds received from the donation of a cow can sponsor a boy for over a month. August 24th through 29th has been designated as Roundup week; however donations are appreciated at anytime during the year. Charlie Triggs is the 1964 Waqon Boss for this area and will assist in handling Roundup donations.

"As of July 30, we had already received donations of 132 sheep, 23 goats, 10 cattle, one horse and cash totaling about $655," it was stated this week by Stanley Frank, Roundup Publicity Chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meador and family moved back to their newly remodeled and redecorated home in Glendale last week end, from the Claude Meador house where they had been living for the past few months.

Miss Frances Wilson of Odessa and Johnny Lawrence, who is working in Odessa this summer, were in Eldorado for the week end. Miss Wilson visited Jane Sanders while Johnny visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen.

Editorial Comments From Our Neighbors

Troubles With Us Always
"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not in the lifetime of any man who reads this paper has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so dark and incalculable.

"In France the political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty.

"England and the British Empire is being sorely tried and exhausted in a social and economic struggle, with turmoil at home and uprising of her teeming millions in her far-flung empire.

"The United States is beset with racial, industrial and commercial chaos, drifting we know not where. "Russia hangs like a storm cloud on the horizon of Europe—dark, menacing, and foreboding.

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel indifference, which happily, no man pretends to feel in the issue of events.

"Of our own troubles, no man can see the end..."

When do you suppose that editorial was written? Was it 1964?

Actually it appeared before World War II, before the depression of 1929, before World War I, before the panic of 1891, before the Civil War.

That is an editorial in Harper's Magazine Oct. 10, 1847, more than 117 years ago. —Brady Standard.

The Proper Mood And Attitude

Advertising works best if it reaches the consumer when he is in the proper mood and attitude.

This axiom, widely accepted by marketing experts, accounts for major food stores spending from 75 to 100 per cent of their advertising budgets in newspapers.

Grocery advertising fills a need which is valued by the busy American housewife. It saves her time and money which could be translated into billions of dollars annually.

Grocery advertising provides the latest information at a time when it is most wanted. It is complete; it tells where to buy and what to buy. It gives specific details on prices.

Important to the housewife and retailer alike, grocery advertising in the newspaper is accepted without question. It is a convenient basis for a shopping list in which the housewife has full confidence.

Buying is certain to follow advertising accepted under such conditions. Grocery stores have not found a medium which duplicates the local newspaper in creating such conditions at so little cost.

The grocers' choice of the local newspaper as a primary information outlet is not a matter of speculation. Sales are the surest and best test. The larger grocers have tried all advertising media. They have kept specific figures on results.

But after experiments they return to the local newspaper as the best medium for reaching the housewife when she is "in the proper mood and attitude." — Junction Eagle.

Convention Becomes History

The Republican national convention has become history, or whatever it is that national conventions become, and Barry Goldwater will be the GOP standardbearer this year. Now it is time for the Democrats to try to generate some excitement at their meeting. The Democrats can expect to be blamed for everything bad that has happened since 1960, such as the Alaskan earthquake, the Beatles, the current dry spell in Texas, and topless bathing suits. But then they can claim credit for all the good things that have occurred during that same period, such as the marriage of Liz and Dickie, the spring rains in Texas, the return of the Beatles to England, and topless bathing suits.

One man we feel sorry for, as an aftermath of the Republican convention, is Henry Cabot Lodge. What with the Viet Cong and the Goldwater steamroller, 1964 just hasn't been his year. —Santa Anna News.

Austin. — State Supreme Court took a recess last week after handing down a heavy volume of new rulings including one which in effect upheld the 1959 open beaches law.

High court declined to hear arguments attacking the law guaranteeing free access to the beaches and oceans. It left standing a Houston Court of Civil Appeals decision stating the public is entitled to use Gulf Coast beaches from the water to the vegetation line.

In other cases, the court:

Permitted Texas Liquor Control Board to continue regulation of liquor exporters along the Mexican border during court attack on a law authorizing such control;

Set down arguments by State Board of Optometry Examiners to force Judge Dallas Blankenship of Dallas to rule on Dr. Ellis Carp's suit challenging its ethical practices order of 1959;

Overturned a contempt judgment against the city manager and mayor of Hurst, Tarrant county, in connection with a condemnation case involving land for drainage easements;

Agreed to review an Austin district court decision denying a state savings and loan charter to Metropolitan Savings Association of Houston;

Refused review of a $1 million lawsuit in Hutchison county brought by union members who claimed they were fired for following orders of their officials in a 1958 strike at Phillips Petroleum Company plants in the Texas Panhandle; Refused a state AFL-CIO request to enjoin alleged "pro-employer lobbying" by Texas Employment Commission, leaving in effect lower court opinions.

Third Court of Civil Appeals overturned a district court ruling blocking Upshur Rural Electric Co-Op from building a $9 million power plant near Ore City. However, it held the co-op cannot sell power to non-members.

Appointments Announced

Giv. John Connally appointed James S. Naismith of Corpus Christi and Donald C. Klein of Odessa to the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers. Col. Thomas C. Green of Austin was reappointed executive secretary.

Connally also reappointed Edwin Bucek, Edmund Hajivsky and Alfred Neumeyer Jr., of Hallettsville to the Board of Directors of Lavaca County Flood Control District No. 3. He selected James Bozka, Hallettsville banker, to fill the unexpired term of Robert Gindler, resigned.

School Transfer Upheld

Hockley County school board's approval of the transfer of 25 students from Mitharral Independent School District to schools in Levelland, Littlefield and Anton was upheld by Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar.

Witharral authorities asked the commission to prohibit the transfer which had been requested by parents of the children.

Redistricting "Worst Yet"

Sen. George Moffett of Chilton believes redrawing of state congressional districts is the hardest job ever to face the Texas Legislature. Moffett is chairman of a special committee studying the problem.

Moffett, who holds the all-time record for continuous service in the Legislature (34 years), spoke out on the eve of his committee's fourth hearing in San Antonio. The committee waded through five new redistricting plans at the Bexar county hearing. Fifth hearing will be held in Lubbock on August 20. Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba meanwhile announced he has called on Texas congressmen to support federal legislation authorizing states to retain full authority over both congressional and legislative apportionment.

Burial Assn. Rates To Rise

The State Board of Insurance has issued a notice to statewide and local aid associations and burial associations that they must adopt, by November 1, rates which will produce enough income to build their mortuary funds to the point where they can back up all benefits promised policy holders.

This action followed a hearing by the State Burial Association rate board at which insurance department actuaries expressed alarm that many small local mutual and burial associations were not collecting large enough premiums to pay all potential claims. Many associations have already voted to increase rates and two have obtained board approval.

Under the order, each of the 528 associations must appear before the Insurance Board between now and July 1, 1965, and prove they have rates in effect which will bring mortuary funds up to the reserves required by law.

Legislative Interns

Seven state government trainees who will participate in the 1964-65 program to interest qualified persons in government careers have been appointed by Speaker of the House Byron Tunnell.

The program is co-sponsored by the State of Texas and the Ford Foundation.

First year "interns" are Charles William Hoehne, Schulenburg; Wm G. Reid, San Marcos; Jo Ann Pankrat Stiles, Comfort; Hubbard Scott Caven and Mrs. Clarice J. Davis, both of Austin; Jonathon S. Hay, Houston; and Edward Lamar Farley, Del. La.

Alamo Highway

The State Highway Commission heard requests from a group of Texans representing cities from Texarkana to Round Rock. They asked that a route through their area be called "the Alamo Highway" and sought recommendations on ways to bring it to top condition by 1968.

Alamo Highway Association is made up of prominent boosters from cities and villages along U. S. 59 from Texarkana to Marshall; S. H. 43 from Marshall to Henderson; U. S. 79 from Henderson to Round Rock, and I. H. 35 from Round Rock to San Antonio.

F. B. Elliott of Jacksonville, president of the association, said "1968 will be a banner year in which to attract people from all over the east and the north to follow the Alamo route to the Hemis Fair in San Antonio and to the Olympics in Mexico City."

The Highway Commission did not grant the request immediately. But its members, Herb Pety of Carrizo Springs, Hal Woodward of Coleman and Jack Kultgen of Waco expressed interest in the tourist attraction idea.

Water Aid

Texas Water Commission has been busy trying to help communities suffering from the extreme drought. In little more than a week's time, the Commission sent one of its members, H. A. Beckwith, to Brackettville to help that city drill a water well when Las Moras Spring went dry; granted Thorndale a permit to pump 20 acre feet of water from the San Gabriel as an emergency measure; and secured a Kerr County court order restraining irrigators in the county from using water from the Guadalupe River and its tributaries for anything except domestic, municipal and livestock purposes.

Animal Health Director Named

Texas Animal Health Commission has picked Dr. S. B. Walker to replace Dr. R. G. Garrett as executive director of the commission when the latter retires to his Taylor farm in October.

Dr. Walker now is a supervising veterinarian for the Animal Health Commission. He received a bachelor's degree from Texas A & M in 1955, and his doctor of veterinary medicine degree in 1959. He is a native of Hillsboro.

Among the speakers will be State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, Supreme Court Justice James R. Norvell, George Thompson of Sweetwater and Carr.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin will recommend to Gov. Connally whether the governor should grant extradition of Melvin Lane

Powers to Florida to face murder charges. Martin conducted an extensive hearing on the request of Florida Gov. Farris Bryant to extradite Powers, 27, who is charged with the stab slaying of his wealthy uncle-by-marriage Jacques Mossler, 69. Defense Counsel Percy Foreman fought the request.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN by Tiny Godwin Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

For the second consecutive week one screwworm case was reported in the state of Texas. The case this week was in Nueces county.

Sterile screwworm fly release rose above the 100 million mark the past week with 118 millions being released in strategic areas. There were no cases sent from Schleicher county during the week.

Dr. Jack H. Kyle of Vegetable Crops Research of the South Plains Research Extension Service Center, assisted by Tom Wells, representative of the Brown-Miller Packing Company and the County Agent were called by cucumber operators as to why cucumbers were not responding to water and fertilizer.

Soil tests were studied in the county agent's office and all the cucumber producers visited. It was suspected that the alkalinity in the soil was high, and tying up food nutrients, namely, protein, phosphorus and potassium in the soil. This making maturity of cucumbers slow or no growth at all. The more water added the higher the alkalinity.

Result demonstrations are being set up on the Ben Keel farm. Deep chiseling and application of a 10-20-10 fertilizer to see if the salts can be leached into the lower strata of soil. This being done on a small scale. Soil samples were made by Dr. Kyle to verify the situation. Soil conditions are being tried to bring the PH of the soil to a tolerance for more production of all crops. Those co-operating with Mr. Keel are Brown-Miller Company, Ortho Chemical Company, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Extension Service.

Deep plowing has been stressed as verified by result demonstration in the county agent's office.

It is hoped that information as verified by research can increase all crop production for the irrigator.

The best rose bush, after all, is not that which has the fewest thorns, but that which bears the finest roses.

Hilton E. Bridgewater, district agent, Rodent Control Service, and B. R. Smith, rodent specialist, were in Schleicher county Tuesday offering their services on prairie dog control.

The Rodent Control Service will assist all producers in eradication of the prairie dog in the county without cost to the individual. This requires the cooperation of the producers to this degree, that sheep and goats will be moved from pasture while experimentation is going on. Producers will show Mr. Smith where dog towns are.

Sheriff Orval Edmiston, accompanied Bridgewater and Smith to the five ranches where "dogs" are and arrangements made for eradication to begin, Tuesday, September 1st.

Other ranchers who have "dogs" are requested to contact Sheriff Edmiston before September 1st.

County officials are in agreement with the program. 1048 and strychnine oats will be used for poison under supervision of Mr. Smith.

Wool producers can well be proud of the marketing of Schleicher county wools since the beginning of the wool incentive program. The county is well at the top in wool marketing when prices received by all counties of the state are compared to the prices of raw wool for Schleicher county. Years 1955-1962 are used as all raw wools in the nation must be sold before tabulation.

Table with 4 columns: Year, Production (Pounds), Price, Price Includ. Incentive. Includes sub-table for Value Including Incentive Minus Marketing Costs.

Incentive is defined as that which incites, or tends to incite, motive, incitement.

Sheep selection programs, proper shearing and bagging, keeping raw wool out of dirt, uniformity of a staple clip has increased dollars and cents to many producers. The higher the marketing value, the more incentive.

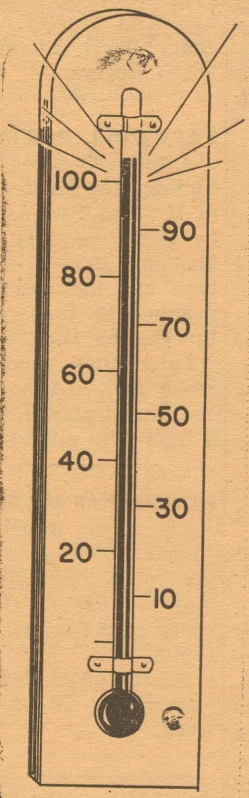

Consider the postage stamp. Its usefulness consists in the ability to stick to one thing till it gets there.
