Baylor A Cappella Choir To Perform

Waco.—The A Cappella Choir of Baylor University will have a concert in Eldorado on January 22 as part of an 11-day tour that will take the group to Los Angeles, Cal.

The concert will be at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist church.

The choir will have 15 concerts during the tour, most of them in Baptist churches en route to and from Los Angeles. Among them will be performances in the Los Angeles Philharmonic Auditorium on January 27 and at Disneyland the next day.

Music for the concerts will be sacred, with the programs divided into three sections: 16th century music, modern hymns and a mixture of hymns and spirituals.

Dr. Euell Porter, who recently received an honorable charter membership in the Choral Conductors Guild "in recognition of outstanding work in the general field of choral music," is choir director. Guest soloist will be Miklos Bencze, the leading basso of the Hungarian State Opera House from 1945-56 who is now a professor in the Baylor School of Music.

Dr. Porter is a member of American Choral Directors Guild, Texas Music Educators Association, Texas Choral Directors Association, and the Music Educators National Conference. He is now in his 10th year at Baylor.

Soloist with the choir, Miklos Bencze, former leading basso of the Budapest State Opera, is professor of voice and artist-in-residence at Baylor.

Miklos Bencze was born in Budapest, Hungary. He finished his studies at the Municipal Conservatory of Music as a violinist and began his vocal studies in 1932. He studied with Andor Lendvay, leading baritone of the Munich State Opera and the Hungarian Royal Opera. His first vocal engagement was in 1938 with the Municipal Opera Theatre in Budapest, and at that time he sang performances with such guest performers as Giuseppe de Luca, Chaliapin, Tito Schipa, Stracciari, and others. After the war he was engaged by the Hungarian Opera House in Budapest. In 1947 he studied in Italy with Manfredo Polverosi, Mario Rossi and Angelo Questa. In 1950 he became a leading basso with the Hungarian State Opera House (formerly Royal Opera) and between 1951 and 1957 he was engaged by many European opera houses as guest soloist. He also appeared on Austrian, Hungarian, Yugoslavian, and Italian radio and television. While in Europe he sang under the direction of Otto Klemperer, Molinari-Pradelli, Janos Ferencsik, Ferenc Fricsey, and other distinguished conductors. Bencze arrived in the United States with his wife in May, 1957, both being refugees of the Hungarian revolution.

Upon his arrival, he received a Rockefeller Foundation Grant, and appeared at Hunter College, Carnegie Hall, International House, Musicians Club of New York, and on Radio Free Europe, and WYNC Radio. In 1958 he joined the music faculty of Baylor University, Waco, as Professor of Voice and Artist in Residence. Since then he has appeared with the Houston and Austin Symphony Orchestras and the San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, New Orleans, and Louisville opera companies.

Miss Teresa (Terry) Phelps, who graduated from Eldorado High school with the Class of '63, and is now a Sophomore at Baylor, is a member of the A Cappella Choir now on tour. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phelps.

A reception honoring the choir will be held in the Memorial Building following the concert. The public is invited.

Post Script

For about half an hour Monday afternoon we were on the phone calling all the likely people in town who might have a furnished apartment or house for rent. The customer was a young man here with a drilling crew who was seeking living quarters for himself and wife.

Everyone we called reported they were "full up" and we finally advised the man to try a motel as a temporary solution.

That seems to be the situation in Eldorado at the present time.

Beside the drilling crews that have been filtering in with increased oil activity, we are about to have road construction crews here to work on Hwy. 277, as well as pipeline construction crews in the near future.

During the past week I was absorbed in an article entitled "Life Along the Border" by one C. A. Hawley, which appeared in the Sul Ross College Bulletin, a quarterly publication by the West Texas Historical and Scientific Society published and distributed from Alpine.

The Bulletin contains a little over 150 pages and over half of it was devoted to the article by Mr. Hawley. Once I started reading it I couldn't lay it aside and I missed several popular TV programs in the three evenings it took me to read it.

This Mr. Hawley starts out by being a college teacher in northern Iowa in 1905 at the princely salary of $50 per month. (College, mind you!) He resigned to take his wife, who had been stricken with T.B., to a dry climate in southwest Texas.

He landed a job as bookkeeper in the quicksilver mines about 125 miles south of Marfa, where he was in charge of the company store, postmaster and Justice of the Peace. He received the princely salary of $100 per month, house rent free, and groceries at cost. He remained on the job for about seven years, dealing all the while with a few white men and hundreds of primitive, illiterate Mexicans who came from Mexico to work in the mines.

Years later—many years later—he wrote a fascinating account of his life along the border. He describes the work in the mines, the home life of the primitive Mexicans, and the conditions under which they all lived. Water was delivered in wooden barrels and each Mexican family was restricted to two pailsful a day. The few white families were allowed more.

I'll be glad to lend the bulletin to any of our readers who would be interested.

Java Junction Cafe Changes Hands

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor have moved back to Eldorado after an absence of about five years, and have taken over operation of the Java Junction cafe on the Sonora highway.

Known affectionately to their many friends as Shorty and Mozelle, the Taylors were in cafe work here several years ago and more recently have been at Buchanan Dam and Burnet.

Lux Gasser Rated At Over 6 Million C. F.

The Case (Canyon sand gas-distillate) field of Schleicher county gained its second producer and a 3,150-foot southeast extension with completion of A. J. Vogel and Tucker Drilling No. 1 E. F. Sauer (Lux) 14 miles northwest of Eldorado, last week.

It was finalized for a calculated, absolute flow of 6.4 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ration of 37,100-1, through perforations between 6483-93 feet, which had been fractured with 22,000 pounds and 30,000 gallons. Gravity of the liquid was 70.5 degrees.

Location is 660 feet from the north and 467 feet from the east lines of 8-LL-TCRR.

The discovery, Forward Oil & Gas Co., No. 1 Case, was finalized Feb. 27, 1964 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 11.5 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ration of 26,400-1, through perforations between 6508-50 feet.

As of Wednesday no report had been made on Delta-Pauley's No. 1 West gasser which was also officially tested last week. Workmen connected with the well were of the opinion that was the "biggest well in the field." The biggest gasser heretofore is the Parker well rated at 19 million cubic feet per day.

Johnny Lawrence is at home between semesters from the University of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rittenhouse and Tom and Ravae were in Galveston early this week.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Some 53 local youths will be showing top lambs, calves, breeding sheep, swine and angora goats at the local 4-H and FFA show Saturday.

For these youths it will represent a year of work in preparation to exhibit to you not only an attractive animal but one that conformation-wise will cut out the greatest percentage of lean meat for the customer, the housewife who does most of the buying of the packaged product in the grocery store.

The stock show committee feels that all want to become a part of this affair. Interests and welfare of the county and area is vitally tied to the livestock industry.

The county ASCS office is now taking applications for reapportioned cotton acreage. February 3 is the final date to request additional cotton acreage or to release your cotton allotment. The county committee will have the reapportionment of released cotton acreage completed by February 18.

Producers have until January 31, 1965 to complete their applications for shorn wool and unshorn lamb incentive payments. If you have not signed your application, you should do so soon as the deadline is near.

February 2-March 26 will be the sign-up period for producers who care to participate in either the Domestic Allotment Cotton Program or the Feed Grain Program. Your county ASCS office will be notifying you shortly regarding the details of these two programs.

When it comes to doing for others, some people will stop at nothing.

Rural youths must prepare themselves educationally for stronger job competition in the future regardless of whether they plan a career on the farm or in town.

Both on-farm and off-farm opportunities will be available for youths with the necessary background and training, but for those poorly prepared, the going will be rough, authorities predict.

Rural youth often face a double problem in securing a job, since they frequently must leave the farm and make a social adjustment to city life.

Young Homemakers H.D. Club Met Last Week

The Young Homemakers met at Mrs. Jimmy Doyle's home Jan. 14 for their regular meeting. Mrs. Jimmy Doyle, president, called the meeting to order for a short business meeting. THDA dues are now payable and are 25c per member, also the new year-books are about ready and will be 50c per member.

The Young Homemakers are now meeting twice each month, on the second and fourth Thursday mornings at 9:30. The second meeting for this month will be Jan. 28 at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Doyle. It will be a workshop on pie making.

Mrs. Vida Kreklow gave a very interesting talk on material, and what's new in materials such as stretch materials. You will find this in cotton, wools, corduroys, and many others, and these are all very ideal for children's wear and sport clothes for the entire family. It was also brought out about the weaving of several fabrics. Mrs. Kreklow showed samples of material to the group both for the home and for clothes.

Fourteen members and Mrs. Vida Kreklow were present. The hostess served doughnuts and coffee.

The Young Homemakers were organized in 1960. Mrs. Don Robinson was elected first president and there were eight members. Of the eight, only three are still members. Mrs. Jimmy Doyle is now president of the Young Homemakers and is in her second term. The group has had 24 new members and there are now a total of 27. The attendance runs from 14 to 18 at each meeting. The club is the only Home Demonstration unit that meets twice each month.

The Young Homemakers owe much gratitude to the very fine and willing help Mrs. Vida Kreklow has given this unit. This is truly a group of Young Homemakers eager to learn new and modern ways of cooking foods or sewing for the home and many other things that H. D. work covers. You will find the Young Homemakers are always eager to find and interest new members, who are always welcome; also anyone interested in attending our meetings as a visitor is truly welcome.—Mrs. Wm. F. Gunstead, club reporter.

Nationally, an estimated 65 to 85 per cent of rural boys and girls must leave the farm. The off-farm movement will be made necessary for two reasons. First, there are many more farm boys than are needed to replace their fathers.

Secondly, output per farm worker, which has been climbing at about six percent annually, is expected to continue increasing. If this occurs, farms will become fewer, larger, more mechanized.

Coupled with this competition on the farm, will be competition for jobs in urban centers. Economists estimate that 26 million people will join the U. S. labor force in the decade ending in 1970.

Acute employment problems already have developed in the creation of new jobs in the face of automation, as well as in providing training necessary for new workers to fill new jobs.

Along with unemployment there is often a shortage of adequately trained workers. Therefore, it is the preparation that rural youths receive now that will determine whether they end up among the unemployed or find satisfactory jobs in the future.

It is time that pet owners check to see the last time the family pet had rabies vaccination. This is an obligation that every man of the household should take care of as soon as the pet becomes 6 months of age or the vaccination expires on older pets.

A dog or cat not vaccinated is not only a menace to the family, but can cost in time and trouble, as all animals may become sick with other diseases and bite a child. If he is not vaccinated—you can't afford the luxury of shrugging the incident off.

Remarkable gains in lambs can be expected in the feed lot, provided a few steps are taken to insure care.

A lamb will make the most satisfactory gain on feed from 2 months of age through 4½ months. The end product being an animal weighing 90-100 pounds.

Lambs should be put on a relative hot ration and kept on this ration until market, stepping up the grain content.

A beginning ration should be 800 pounds of maize, 200 supplement, salt, aueromycin water, supplemented with 350 pounds of hay.

It is better to sit in the back row and be discovered than sit in the front row and be found out.

On The Screen . . . P. Newman, L. Harvey, Star In 'The Outrage'

Coming to the screen of the Bronco Drive-In Theatre in Sonora Saturday night will be "The Outrage" which stars Paul Newman and Laurence Harvey, and runs for an hour and a half.

With a setting in Arizona in 1870, the plot revolves around four versions of a criminal assault.

The concept of "The Outrage" requires sharp acting and the picture has the actors, Newman, Harvey, Claire Bloom, Edward G. Robinson, William Shatner, Howard Da Silva, Albert Salmi, Paul Fix and Thomas Chalmers.

Set in the West during the latter part of the last century, the story centers on a vicious bandit, portrayed by Paul Newman in the most unusual role and remarkable make-up of his career. The bandit, Juan Carrasco, has been convicted and sentenced to hang for the murder of a traveling southern gentleman (Laurence Harvey) and the violation of the latter's wife (Claire Bloom). At the trial he confesses that he tied up the Southerner, violated the wife, then killed the husband in the course of a "duel of honor."

Four versions of the "Outrage" are flashbacks given in court. Newman says he did it all right, but was goaded by the wife and had killed the husband in a fair knife duel.

The wife testifies that she was so berated by her husband and stabbed him herself.

The husband's story, as revealed by an ancient Indian medicine man is that Harvey was forced into a duel with Newman and, vanquished, had killed himself in humiliation.

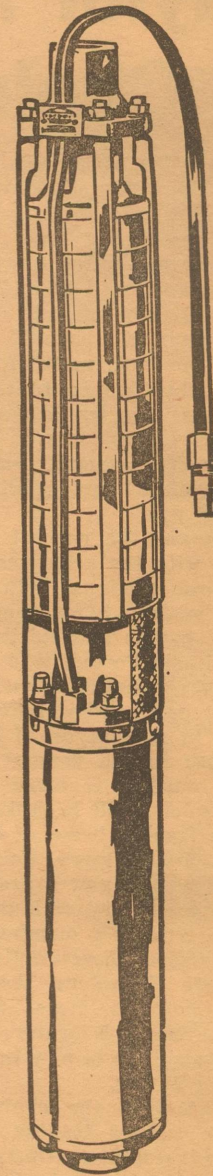

Da Silva as a crooked prospector, Robinson as a frontier companion and William Shatner as a high plains evangelist remember the case in a chatty conclusion. Not even eye-witnesses know the truth but believe what they want to believe.

Which of the four versions of the murder is the true one? The picture depicts each of the disparate happenings, and each member of the audience can come to his own conclusion.

Filed in Panavision, largely outdoors on locations in southern California and Arizona, "The Outrage" holds a spellbinding grip on the spectator. Each version of the crime is tensely stirring, and the performances upon the part of Newman, as the cold-blooded bandit, Harvey (who throughout much of the film is tied to a tree) and Miss Bloom are tremendously effective.

A Martin Ritt production, "The Outrage" was also directed by Ritt, who previously directed Paul Newman in the highly praised "Hud." Michael Kanin wrote the screen play, and A. Ronald Lubin produced. Adding to the merits of this unusual screen entertainment are Alex North's musical score and the brilliant photography of Acad-

Melina Mercouri Is A Jewel Thief In 'Topkapi'

The Bronco drive-in theatre in Sonora has just decided to go along with all those recent front page stories about jewel thieves smashing and grabbing the precious gems at museums in New York City.

Of course, producer-director Jules Dassin already had his "Topkapi" in the can before the Manhattan footpads took the Museum of Natural History and the 7th Regiment Armory for $375,000 in show-cased gems.

"Topkapi" comes to the screen Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday nights and stars Melinda Mercouri as a jewel thief.

There's a suspense gimmick in the "Topkapi" caper. (It's pronounced "Top-jappy," and that's the name of the museum in Istanbul where the sultan's jewel-encrusted dagger reposes behind glass.) This time it's the slightest touch on the "Topkapi" museum floor that will set the alarm bells ringing.

Melina Mercouri and Maximilian Schell, a couple of master thieves, recruit their confederates from the circus world: A strongman to lower an acrobat through the roof, dangling dangerously as he filches the dagger without touching the floor.

Peter Ustinov, the master actor, is the fumbling grifter who inherits the rope job through accident. Need we say that the rope slips and the acrobat dives within a nose length of the wired floor?

The audience finds itself holding its breath—rooting for the villains who are performing heroic efforts. Dassin's direction is deft, his color rich. The scenes, the lines, the performances sparkle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Johnson are moving this week end from Alpine to Lubbock to continue college work. Mrs. Johnson is the former Genelle Edmiston of this place.

Cranes Beat Eagles

The big Golden Cranes downed the Eldorado Eagles Saturday night in Crane 56-44 giving the Eldorado boys a 9-5 record. However, the game was much closer than the final score indicated because Eldorado was never behind more than 6 points going into the final period of play. Gary Derrick fouled out in the fourth quarter leaving the Eagles hurt on rebounding with Richard Preston to carry the load. He scored 17 points and 17 rebounds to lead all scorers. Scott McGregor, who has played only five games this season, showed signs of getting back in the swing as he hit for 8. Pat Childers had 6, Mike McCravey and Gary Derrick 4, Jay Halbert and Monty Montgomery 2, and Chris McCravey 1. The Eagles shot 33% from the floor and making 6 of 10 free throws.

The Eagles still seek outside accuracy.

Girls Host Coleman And Lake View

The Eldorado Eaglettes have their work cut out for them in the next few days as they will host teams from Class AAA Coleman and Lake View. January 21 (tonight) Coleman will come to Eldorado and Monday, January 25, Lake View will again invade the home of the Eaglettes. Coleman showed much strength in coming through with third place in the recent Lake View Tournament. They have a group of three tall forwards and three excellent guards. On the other hand Lake View has suffered two defeats to the Eldorado fems this season and will be out to at least win one before the year is up. These two games should sufficiently prepare the Eaglettes for their four game district schedule.

Our WASHINGTON Letter
By Congressman O. C. FISHER

This Congress promises to be a busy one and probably a productive one in terms of more Federal money for welfare, education, housing, transportation, hospitals, and other local projects. The Congress is expected to spend about $6 billion more than is taken in during the next year. This deficit will, of course, be added to the mounting debt which now has a ceiling of $324 billion.

I have introduced several bills, including one to allow farm and ranch estates to be appraised (for estate tax purposes) on a basis of productive capacity of the land rather than speculative and unrealistic values as is now the case.

Another bill would place labor unions under anti-trust laws as is now applied to similar organizations in the field of business. The public is entitled to protection against monopolistic abuses by both business and labor.

In addition, I have filed resolutions to amend the Constitution in three respects: One, to allow one branch of state legislatures to be apportioned on factors other than population; two, to put a ceiling of 10% on social security taxes; and, three, to repeal the present outmoded electoral college method of electing Presidents, and have electoral votes in each state divided among candidates in proportion to the number of popular votes each candidate receives in each state at general elections.

Seniority in Congress has always been an important factor in legislative processes. All committee chairmen are automatically chosen on the basis of seniority. And many other prerogatives are accorded members who have served longer than others. By and large, the system has worked fairly well, although in recent times it has been under fire from the radical-liberal element, both in and out of Congress. This criticism is due mainly to the fact that southerners build up more seniority than members from other areas, and hence are chairmen of more committees. Many of these chairmen are conservative-minded, and the liberals don't like that.

Carl Vinson of Georgia retired at the beginning of this year. He had served in Congress for 50 years—a new record. At present Emanuel Celler of New York is the senior member, with 42 years behind him. Of the 435 members of the House at present, only 27 have been here longer than I. Only 4 Texans of the 24 were here when I came. Time takes its toll. There is quite a turn-over in this business.

At Last! Eldorado 61 To 42 For Rocksprings

The Eldorado Eaglettes showed the homefolks that they could bounce back from defeat to the heights of victory as they beat old rival Angoras 19 points.

For the last six years the Eldorado girls have been struggling to beat the Red and White and finally it happened leaving no doubt as to which was the better team. For instance Eldorado took 31 free shots and made 29 for a phenomenal 93%. Christy Moore made 23 of 24, Karen Griffin 4 of 4 and Susan Hill 2 of 2.

Christy poured in 37 points and looked like she was ready to play anyone who challenged. Karen Griffin hit her best of the season with 20. Most of these were lofted around the free throw circle and landed on target. Susan Hill's two free throws came in the first quarter when things were tight and every point a beautiful sight. Marsha Mund had a difficult night in netting only 2 points but her ball handling and 8 rebounds were equally as necessary.

Too much can't be said for the excellent game turned in by four Eldorado guards. Chris Edmiston was everywhere giving anything in red and white a bad time. She got 12 rebounds to lead defensively. Paula Mace and Jane Cain took turns on Rocksprings' star forward and both did an excellent job of blocking shots, tying the ball, and rebounding. Frankie Blaylock pulled in 8 rebounds and did her usual good of handling the basketball. Defensive mistakes were at a minimum.

The Eaglettes are 16-3 as they move toward district play. They seek win 17 tonight (Thursday) against Coleman. Eldorado — 15 16 11 19—61 Rocksprings— 14 6 12 10—42

Henry Moore of this county and Herman Allen of Christoval left Saturday for Denver, Colorado, to attend the Western National Livestock Show early this week. They returned home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Granvil Hext were called to Brady Monday because of the illness of Mrs. Hext's father, M. M. Schaffer. Mr. Schaffer was admitted to a Brady hospital where he is improving. Mr. Hext came home Monday night but Mrs. Hext is still at her father's bedside.

Mrs. Jack Griffin was called from a circle meeting Monday afternoon by a sister-in-law on hearing that her brother, Brooks Blair, 33, of Lovington, N.M., had suffered the second stroke since last Friday. He was admitted to a Lubbock hospital and suffered a third stroke Monday night. His condition remains uncertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Derl Griffin and family of Del Rio visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin last week end.

Eagles Bounce Angoras

The Eagles ran their season record to 10-5 Tuesday night by besting Rocksprings 83-41.

It was evident by a 27-6 first quarter score that the goats were outclassed and the starting unit played only a portion of the time. Everyone scored. Richard Preston, Pat Childers, Mike McCreavey, and Jesse Bosman all hit double figures with 17, 14, 11 and 10. Gary Derrick and Jay Halbert had 8, Scott McGregor and Chris McCreavey hit 5, Monty Montgomery 3, and Bob Halbert 1. Richard hit 12 of 13 free shots for an excellent 92%. The team shot 69% from the foul line.

The boys open the Ozona Tournament at 10:00 a.m. Thursday against Big Lake "B". Eldorado — 27 21 15 20—83 Rocksprings— 6 8 7 20—41

His statement came when it was learned that a Houston based theft ring specialized in "lifting" serial plates from cars of innocent citizens, then substituting those serial plates for the originals on stolen cars.

This is one of the professional auto thief's favorite tricks," ML Benson said, "and it proves embarrassing to the owner whose identification plates mysteriously disappear. Think of the spot you'd be in if you wanted to sell or trade your car and your couldn't immediately prove ownership."

He suggested that car owners periodically check their cars' serial plates to be sure they remain intact. On most models, the plate is attached to the left front door pillar post. If the serial plate is missing, or has been tampered with, the owner should tell the local police and the Motor Vehicle Department at Austin.

Editorial Comments From Our Neighbors

Compacency . . .

While New Year resolutions are still fresh in our minds perhaps this is a good time to take stock of our situation once again. What did we do in and for our community last year? What do we plan to do for it this year? All of us realize that we can't continue to take our everything and never put back anything in our community. We all take advantage of certain benefits our community affords—the schools, churches, hospital and medical care. We have several merchants here who strive daily to improve their stores. Generally what is wrong? . . . some say nothing . . . others say that if our present trend continues our population will bottom out around 1,000 or less. Based on our first grade enrollment figures this past year we are inclined to agree with the latter. We all know of course what is wrong in most rural counties such as ours and that is people. Until we find a way and are willing to pay the price and make the sacrifices that it takes to bring young people back into Mason county our population may well continue to drift out not to return except for a brief visit.

We believe complacency is the biggest enemy the rural community has. This could be followed closely by jealousy. Often we are prone to drift along and say, "Oh, everything is all right; we like everything the way it is." The trouble with this philosophy is that everything is not going to stay like it is . . . we are either going to progress however little it may be, — or we are going to continue on a downward spiral. We then are often thrown into a complacent mood or a don't care mood because someone we don't like has been elected to some office, or named to work on some committee that is trying to function for the good of the town.

Perhaps we don't have these moods in Mason. Perhaps we do. We as residents here should all examine ourselves. It makes no difference whether we are a business man, rancher or farmer. We all benefit from our town. We need to ask ourselves this question "Am I doing all I can to make it a better place to live now, and, for those to come?" We believe that every man or woman should rededicate themselves to this cause . . . that is of course if we care. —Mason County News.

Advertising in Your Newspaper Moves Shoppers To Your Store "Shopper-mobility" is a term of critical meaning to the modern retailer.

Ability of the consumer to move quickly and easily to distant shopping centers affects the survival of nearly every retail firm. It should be a major factor to consider in the planning and preparation of retail advertising.

Good advertising is the best insurance a local retailer has that increased shopper-mobility will be a blessing rather than a portent of disaster.

The American retailer in every trade center has more prospective customers, with more money to spend, than at any time in history. However, the prospect can travel ten miles almost as easily as he can travel ten blocks.

Advertising can, and does, move the shopper ten of fifty miles from his home. It may more easily keep him at home.

"Shop at home" pleads by the local newspaper cannot have much effect unless the advertising of local merchants provide proof that local goods are competitive in price and quality.

The shopper, like the merchant, is primarily interested in his personal welfare. He passes up the local retailer only when he supposes that he will gain by moving to other areas.

A Chicago advertising executive, Paul S. Hirt, sums up the problem of dealing with shopper mobility: "Attracting traffic is the first business of an ad. No matter how many potential prospects may be in his area, a merchant can't sell 'em if he doesn't see 'em." — Junction Eagle.

Austin.—The 59th Legislature, faced with the heaviest work load in state lawmaking history, eased into its second week with some top Senators and Representatives on the absent list. A good many legislators took off for Washington to attend the inauguration of President Johnson.

These events highlighted the Legislature's opening week: Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon was elected Speaker of the House by acclamation. He is the youngest speaker named since reconstruction days.

Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells was named president pro tempore of the Senate, to preside when Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is not present. In choosing Creighton, the Senators went against tradition when they passed over Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, who was next on the seniority list. Schwartz has opposed closed door sessions. A record $3,500,000 budget bill, calling for an increase of $97,300,000 in general revenue spending, was introduced in the Senate. Proposal calls for $567,300,000 general revenue spending, compared to $599,500,000 recommended by Gov. John Connally.

Lieutenant Governor Smith named full membership on 24 Senate standing committees. The Senate was thus organized and ready for business on the second day of the session.

In the House, Barnes, whose speakership campaign had to be conducted in a few days due to unexpected appointment of ex-Speaker Byron Tunnell to the Railroad Commission, conferred with members day and night in an effort to speed committee appointments there.

Representatives drew priority numbers for bills.

Both houses completed appointment of employees, other necessary routine and marked time before the big battles ahead.

Despite controversial decisions to be made on congressional and legislative redistricting, big finance and other matters, Smith and Barnes expressed confidence the Legislature can complete its work within 140 days. But some lawmakers weren't so sure.

Betting Bill Shown

The battle over whether Texans are going to bet on horse racing has begun again. This time Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville is introducing the race track betting bill. Last session Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio couldn't get it through the Legislature.

Pipkin's bill would allow both thoroughbred and quarter horse racing on licensed tracks. Also, the city, county and state could collect taxes from the track operators. Before a track could be licensed in a county, voters in that county would have to call and approve a referendum.

The bill is backed by Texas Racing Association, which has raised more than $150,000 from some of the most prominent men in Texas ranching and business. Opposing the association will be a group of businessmen being organized by the Texas Council of Churches and the Texas Baptist General Convention.

Pipkin said the state would get $20,000,000 a year from a sliding tax of from four to six per cent on all bets and that the state would get millions more from increased tourism. One of the first men to speak in opposition, Rep. J. C. Whitfield of Houston, said, "The plain facts are that legalized racing and gambling not only damage the moral fabric of our people, but that the revenues they bring in are more than offset by losses in other, more legitimate fields of commerce."

Liquor Bill Introduced

A Texas Restaurant Association bill which would make legal the selling of two-ounce bottles of liquor in licensed restaurants has been introduced.

Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg is handling it in the Senate and Rep. Willis J. Watley is in charge of it in the House.

The bill would permit customers to fix their drinks from the small bottles of liquor. This would go part of the way for those people who like to buy their liquor by the drink. Church groups and others will oppose it.

Redistricting Plans Seen

A committee of the Texas Legislative Council, which is made up of representatives from both houses of the Legislature, has prepared two plans for congressional redistricting.

According to a Houston federal court order, the Legislature must redraw the present 23 districts so that their populations will vary no more than five per cent from the mathematical average of 416,508 and they must do the job by August 1st.

Both plans would give South Texas a new congressman. They would have a district from Laredo to South San Antonio and from Del Rio to Zapata.

Also, both plans would put parts of Dallas, Tarrant and Bexar counties with other counties to equalize district populations. This reshuffling would require some current congressmen to run against each other if they want to be re-elected in 1966.

Some legislators said they liked the plans, but many said they did not like them and that they expect plans by individual members to be proposed as soon as introduction of bills begins.

Tax Revisions

The Texas Commission of State and Local Tax Policy has suggested methods of obtaining $15,300,000 in new state revenue (per biennium) through a variety of tax revisions.

The Commission said making sales tax applicable to telephone and telegraph service and other utility tax changes would pick up $11,200,000; modernizing the inheritance tax, $6,000,000; and removal of the sales tax exemption on farm machinery, $9,000,000.

But not all the Commission's recommendations would mean more revenue. Losses would come from repeal of the theatre admissions tax, $1,200,000; repeal of the chain store tax, $7,200,000; and exemption from the production tax of gas used in field operations in the same field where it is produced, $2,500,000.

Main purpose of recommended changes is "to achieve greater equity in taxation and greater ease in administration and compliance," said the commissioner.

Governor's Appointments

William E. Berger of Hondo was appointed by Governor Connally to a six-year term on the Texas Water Commission. Berger replaces veteran H. A. Beckwith of Eagle Pass, whose term had expired in 1963. Beckwith was named chief topographic engineer of the Commission.

Connally appointed Rep. Joe N. Chapman of Sulphur Springs as judge of the Eighth District Court of Hopkins, Rains, Delta and Hunt counties, to replace the late Judge L. L. Bowman Jr.

Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop and Brig. Gen. James D. Scott, both of Austin, were named to new terms as adjutant general and assistant adjutant general.

Connally reappointed W. A. Bond of Vernon, John R. (Dick) Fowler of Memphis and Col. John Anderson of Denison to the Red River Authority Board and named Wm. E. Rechmuth of Wichita Falls a new member of the Board.

Mayor Ted C. Connell of Killeen, a former national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was named to a four-year term on the Veterans Land Board.

R. C. Morgan of El Paso and Mrs. Bessie Heard of Houston were reappointed to the Credit Union Advisory Commission.

The Governor named Wayland Rivers, Jr., of Austin and Miss Lois Gray of Fort Worth to the Board of Trustees, Teacher Retirement System; Dave Smith of Austin to the Board of Trustees, Employees Retirement System; and P. C. Naylor Jr., of San Antonio and Harold Chapman of Lubbock to Texas Real Estate Commission.

Gen. Aubrey L. Moore of Hillsboro was appointed director at large of the Tri-County Municipal Water District, composed of cities in Hill, Bosque and Johnson counties, succeeding Jack Altrars of Cleburne.

Special Elections Set

Governor Connally has called special elections in representative districts 15f and 11 to fill unexpired terms of Byron Tunnell and Joe Chapman.

Sixteen persons have filed for the special election to be held on February 13 for District 15f, composed of Smith and Gregg counties. Those who have filed include 11 from Tyler, two from Kilgore and one each from Flint, Gladewater and Longview.

Nine candidates have filed for representative from District 11—three from Mt. Pleasant, two from Sulphur Springs, and one each from Cumby, Mt. Vernon, Talco and Winnsboro.

Budget Proposals

The Legislative Budget Board, a group of top legislators which drafts the Legislature's spending proposals, has said funds for the Soil Conservation Board should be increased by $73,928 for the next two years, including $25,000 each year for watershed planning.

The increase for the board, which coordinates the programs of the various soil conservation districts, also would include $11,924 for the Sherman Soil Conservation District, one of the last to organize.

The Legislators' budget proposal recommends that state mental hospital administrators' salaries be raised from $15,500 to $20,000.

Proposal also recommends that employees in state mental hospitals get raises.

An alternative to Governor Connally's plan unifying higher education has been drawn by the Board.

The report calls for placing all 22 state supported four-year colleges or universities under four master boards of regents and chancellors. The Texas Commission on Higher Education would be reduced from 15 to nine members but given increased powers to approve individual course offerings in all institutions.

Connally's plan calls for a central co-ordinating board for all universities and colleges supported by the state.

SHORT SNORTS

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that Texas Employment Commission can contract with U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity and Secretary of Labor to test, screen, counsel and refer applicants for Job Corps centers.

Governor Connally urges youngsters to inquire about possibilities of getting vocational and academic training through Job Corps.

Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo obtained quick approval of a resolution naming the building that houses the Texas Railroad Commission the Ernest O. Thompson State Building in honor of the retiring commission member.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler announced appointment of W. W. Glass, Jacksonville, who served 14 years in the Texas Legislature, as executive secretary of the State Veterans Board.

Ed T. Wendler, former assistant general counsel of Texas Municipal League, has resigned to become president of Texas Warrant Clearing House, Inc., and to enter law practice.

Sen. John Tower will move his offices here to eighth floor of the new Federal Building on Feb. 1.
