Free Barbecue, Door Prizes Offered At Agricultural Clinic

Interested farmers and ranchers in the Southwest Texas area are invited to attend an "Irrigation Workshop and Agricultural Clinic" in Eldorado on Tuesday, March 9. At that time they will be given an opportunity to listen to state-wide authorities on such subjects as irrigation, ground water resources and a variety of subjects on soil conservation.

The meeting, which will be held at the Eldorado Memorial Building, is scheduled to start with registration at 9:00 a.m. There will be a break at noon for barbecue lunch furnished with compliments of Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op.

The afternoon session will resume at 1:45 and continue until 4:30 at which time there will be a panel discussion for about 30 minutes, followed by drawing for door prizes.

According to a printed program provided for the occasion, W. G. Godwin will be master of ceremonies during the morning session, while Wm. Rountree will preside during the afternoon.

Following a brief welcome by Don McCormick, manager of the local Co-Op, the program will get down to business at 9:30 with a discussion on ground water resources by Hillary Ingelhart, geologist from Austin.

The next three members on the morning program will be:

Well Construction, by John Shanklin, agricultural engineer, Albuquerque, N.M.

Pump Design, by Wayne Keese, irrigation specialist, College Station.

Irrigation Pipeline, Gifford-Hill-Western, Inc., of Lubbock.

The afternoon session will get under way at 1:45 with the following discussions:

Irrigation Water Management, by Wm. R. Evans of San Angelo.

Sprinkler System Design, by Wayne Keese.

Benefits from Residue and Crop Rotation: J. L. Richmond, San Angelo, S.C.S.

Coastal Bermuda for Livestock Grazing, by W. G. Godwin.

Report On High Plains Irrigation, by John Shanklin.

Mr. Shanklin will also be the moderator for a panel discussion.

Mrs. Van Cleave

Mrs. Roma Rhea Van Cleave, 33, of Odessa, died Sunday at an Odessa hospital after a long illness, and funeral was held in Odessa Tuesday. She is survived by her husband, a son and two daughters.

Friends point out that Mr. and Mrs. Van Cleave were residents of Eldorado a number of years ago when Mr. Van Cleave was an employee of Younger Construction Co.

January-February Rainfall Over 4 Inches

While other parts of the county undoubtedly totaled more, a very satisfactory rainfall was recorded here in the City of Eldorado for the first two months in 1965.

Fred Gillaspay reports that the official gauge on the court house lawn shows .95 in. for January and 3.18 for February, making a total of 4.13.

With this much "season" in the ground before March 1st, farmers consider that planting conditions are excellent as of now.

What the month of March will bring forth remains to be seen. Strong north winds are still bringing dust clouds from the Upper Plains.

Funeral Held Sunday For V. H. Humphrey

V. H. (Vernie) Humphrey, 78, retired ranchman and hardware merchant, and well-known citizen for 60 years, died at his home here Friday morning after a long illness.

Funeral was held at 3:00 p.m., Sunday at the First Methodist church conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. M. Nyquist. Interment was in the Eldorado cemetery under direction of Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Mr. Humphrey was born January 16, 1886 in Burnet, Texas, the son of William and Martha Humphrey. He came to Schleicher county in 1906 and engaged in ranching. He joined the late D. C. Hill in the hardware business for a number of years, and later established his own hardware store which he operated until the fall of 1945. He then ran his stock farm until 1960, when he sold it on account of failing health.

Mr. Humphrey was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Masonic Lodge, and was a Past Worthy Patron of Eastern Star. He was a stockholder and director of the First National Bank of Eldorado for many years.

In 1913 he was married to Minnie Frances Brannon, who survives.

Attending the funeral from out of town were relatives and friends from San Antonio, Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Ennis, San Angelo and Sonora.

LEAVE FOR FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Riley were notified early Monday morning that his sister had died in Missouri. They left immediately to attend the funeral.

No meeting of the Lions club was held this week.

The Rileys are expected back sometime this week end.

Post Script

Once again, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.—almost 3 3/4 million of them—are preparing to celebrate their Week.

Girl Scout Week 1965, March 7-13, has as its theme, "A Promise in Action." Actually, the Promise has been very much in action and in evidence for 53 years. It was March 12, 1912, when a group of very young ladies formed the first Girl Scout troop in the United States and set the pattern for more than 20 million others by making the Girl Scout Promise: "On my honor, I will try: to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout Laws."

This year, Girl Scouts are emphasizing what they call "bridges." They refer to a continuity of program activities which become more complex and challenging as girls grow from 7 through 17. They refer also to a plan whereby girls in one age level introduce girls of a younger age to what lies ahead for them when they progress to the next level in Girl Scouting. There are four age levels—Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors.

In a larger sense, Girl Scouting really is a bridge to the future. For the Girl Scout program is concerned with helping girls grow into happy and resourceful citizens. By inspiring girls to live up to the Girl Scout Promise and the Girl Scout Laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, usefulness, kindness and thrift, Girl Scouting can make the difference in the kind of woman a girl becomes.

And the kind of woman—the kind of human being—a girl becomes can make the difference in the world of the future.

The Honorable Eldon Calk has proclaimed March 7-13 as Girl Scout Week in Eldorado, it was announced today at City Hall.

Mayor Calk stated in his proclamation that the theme of Girl Scout Week, "Girl Scouting—A Promise in Action," should be a reminder to the citizens of their continuing promise to support Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. in furthering its purpose of inspiring girls to be happy and resourceful citizens.

More than 2,370 girls and adults in the El Camino Girl Scout Council are among the remainder over the country who are celebrating their organization's 53rd birthday during Girl Scout week.

Mayor Calk, in his proclamation, also paid tribute to the Girl Scout organization for providing a bridge to the future in its continuous program for girls by "developing good citizenship, teaching important skills, encouraging career exploration and increasing world understanding."

The Girl Scout Week proclamation was signed by the Mayor recently in the presence of Mrs. W. R. Davidson, neighborhood chairman.

Is this necessary? We received a report this week from the U. S. Department of Commerce in Washington, D. C., stating that according to the Census Bureau, Schleicher county had 34 retail establishments in the 1963 census, and that that was an increase of 10 per cent from 1958.

Also a few other figures. Accompanying the report was a statement saying, "This local news item was prepared by a Census Bureau electronic computer and typed at 10 lines per second."

I guess the people up there have to find something to do to earn their money, but as far as I am concerned I'm just about as interested in this report as a cow is in her last year's calf.

Special days are earmarked all through Girl Scout Week to illustrate the various aspects of the Girl Scout program. They are: Girl Scout Sunday; Monday, Homemaking; Tuesday, Citizenship; Wednesday, Health and Safety; Thursday, International Friendship; Friday,

Montgomery, Harris, File For Alderman

City Secretary Lum Burk reported this week that Jack Montgomery and Jimmy Harris had filed for City Alderman, in addition to Granvil Hext who applied a while back.

So it will be at least a three-way race for the two City Aldermen to be elected April 6th.

Deadline for filing is Friday midnight, March 5th.

Mayor Eldon Calk, whose term is expiring and who is a candidate for re-election, remained unopposed this week.

No New Candidates For School Trustee

School trustees Fred Case and W. C. Lester remained unopposed Wednesday morning in their bids for re-election as the filing deadline neared: midnight of that same day.

The two filed for re-election last week, for the school trustee election which comes up April 3rd.

Broom Sale Set For Wednesday

The annual Broom and Mop Sale put on by the Lions club, at which articles made by Texas blind are sold, will be held here in Eldorado this coming Wednesday.

The sale will start that morning with Lions club members selling articles here in the business district, and out in the residential areas.

Don McCormick will be general chairman of the event. He reports arrangements complete.

A preliminary report will be presented at the meeting that day of the Lions club. The meeting will be at 12:15 in the Memorial Building.

Elsewhere in this Success issue is an advertisement listing the articles which local residents may purchase Wednesday. Readers are urged to study the list carefully to aid in making selections on Wednesday, the 10th.

Billy R. Pullin, independent producer of blind-made products, located at 2501 Randolph in San Angelo, was here Tuesday, accompanied by his huge seeing-eye dog.

Arts; and Saturday, Out-of-Doors.

There are 2,370 members of the El Camino Girl Scout Council, which includes those of this county.

Local Girl Scout groups are pictured in a special promotional page advertisement on page 6 of this Success issue.

A few weeks ago we mentioned in this column about the 1951 Cadillac hearse that James Williams had for sale on his lot.

The vehicle has been converted into a "Ranchero" type of pick-up. The rear closed-in body was removed and a flat-bed put in.

Title was changed, from a closed vehicle to a truck, and now it has been sold, according to Mr. Williams.

Major Construction Jobs Are Under Way Here

THE ADDITION to Shaw's motel is shown as work was going on last week. Walls are now up and roof work is going on. When completed, the building will provide four more rental units for the motel.

EXCAVATING is shown getting under way for the new telephone building, being erected beside the present dial equipment building.

New Babies

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Runge of Sonora are parents of a son born Saturday, Feb. 27, at 3:00 p.m. in the Shannon hospital. The baby weighed 7 lbs. 7 oz. and has been named Randall James. He is their first child. The mother is the former Mary Ann Nixon.

Grandparents are Mrs. J. F. Runge of this county and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Nixon of Eldorado.

Greats are Mr. Robert Nixon of Eldorado and Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Yearout of Hobbs, N.M. Mrs. Bertha Yearout of Bartlesville, Okla., is a great-great grandmother.

News of the Sick

John Stigler, local jeweler for the past 20 years or so, is reported in critical condition in Shannon hospital where he was entered Wednesday night of last week. He is in an oxygen tent and his family have been with him.

Tom Jones sustained a minor stroke last week. He is reported much improved and has been staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richard Jones part of this week, and he has also visited in San Angelo in the home of Mrs. Victoria Ohlenburg.

Sybil Blair entered Shannon hospital a week ago, where she continues to undergo treatment.

Mrs. Bruce Burton was admitted to the Sonora hospital last Saturday morning.

Frank Franklin recently underwent lung surgery in Tennessee and is reported to have come through it fine. He is in room 562M, Baptist Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee. His wife, the former Pauline Nixon, who has been here in recent weeks, will leave the first of the week to join him.

B. L. Blakeway, local electrician and Justice of the Peace, underwent leg surgery last Friday in Methodist hospital in Houston. He is reported making good recovery this week. He is in room 770A in the hospital.

Mrs. Grace O'Harrow has been in Shannon hospital for a number of days and is reported improved.

Eaglettes Lose In Bi District Thriller

It took two over-time periods for Canutillo to take a Bi-District win over Eldorado 50-48 Tuesday night. The game was nip and tuck from the start with Eldorado enjoying a 23-22 half-time margin.

At the end of the third quarter Eldorado led 36-33. Midway of the fourth quarter Canutillo, behind the tremendous shooting of Margie Alderete, began their comeback and the Eaglettes make several costly errors which turned into Canutillo scores. As the game was drawing to a close Eldorado had the ball with a few seconds left. Christy Moore drove and was fouled. One free throw would probably have won it but she missed and the game ended in a 46-46 tie.

After three minutes of overtime the score stood 48-48. In the last period two points by Alderete made it 50. As the final seconds ticked away Christy drove down court and her last shot fell short thus ending the game. Christy tallied 24 points in her final game followed by 17 from Karen Griffin, and Marsha Mund, 7. Frankie Blaylock along with Paula Mace were playing their final game and had 13 and 4 rebounds respectively. Chris Edmiston had 12 rebounds and Jane Cain had 4. These seven girls played the entire game and played it well. This combination had won 23 this season and lost only 6. They brought home two tournament trophies plus their third straight district championship.

Mrs. S. M. Evans

Mrs. S. M. Evans, a sister of the late Keno Ogden, died at her home in Blackwell Monday night.

Survivors are as sister and a brother, Mrs. Aline Vesey and Evans Ogden, both of San Angelo. Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Evans were residents of Eldorado many years ago.

Mrs. Ogden left Tuesday morning to attend the funeral.

LENTEN SERVICES

There will be a service of Evening Prayer each Wednesday night during Lent at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The first service was Ash Wednesday, March 3rd. Visitors welcome.

Public School Week Is Continuing Through Today And Friday

Public School week, when school parents and other patrons are issued a special invitation to visit their local schools to see them in action, started Monday morning and will continue through tomorrow, Friday.

School Supt. A. M. Whitis, and Curtis Humphries, elementary principal, and Guy Whitaker, high school principal, joined with the board of trustees in reminding everyone that if you have not already done so, to be sure to plan to visit school this week.

This is Public Schools Week. The public schools of our community invite you to visit the classrooms where your children are receiving the benefit of one of the greatest heritages of democracy, a public school education. You parents are urged to visit the public schools this week. Learn at first hand just what is being done to make your sons and daughters good American citizens.

This is the week that the public schools are open to adults. It is Public Schools Week, an annual event in Texas education. It is a chance for you parents to see for yourselves what the schools are doing. These public schools are YOUR schools. You build them. You maintain them with your taxes. They are major factors in the developing the character of your children. Visit them this week. See them in action during Public Schools Week.

Following is the remainder of the schedule of visitation days and lunch periods:

Angelo Group Will Give Lions Program

The Downtown Lions club of San Angelo will present the program this coming Wednesday noon in the Memorial Building here in Eldorado.

Ray Boyer received a letter this week that Russell Willis, president, and Marvin Allen, chairman of visitation, had completed arrangements for 4 to 10 members of the Angelo group to be here.

The Eldorado Lions club did not meet this week because the cooks, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Riley, were in Missouri attending the funeral of his sister.

Lee Jarrett Winner Of Essay Contest

Winners in the History Month Essay Contest for the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades in the Lovington, N.M., schools were announced recently by the contest sponsor, the Lovington Caprock Chapter, DAR. Eighth grade first place winner was Lee Jarrett, a student at Central Junior High in Lovington. He chose for the title of his essay, "The Erie Canal." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jarrett, former Eldorado residents.

FAD DIETS

So-called short cuts to weight control have long been one of America's most popular delusions. Consider, for instance, the "Hay Diet" of the 1930's. Because of its name, many a dieter was convinced that a regular diet of hay was the key to slim, svelte figures.

Not too long ago, cider vinegar, taken in water at every meal, was believed to shed pounds magically. Vinegar was guzzled by the gallon—but overeaters remained just as plump as before.

A current fad is artificial sweeteners and low-calorie foods. According to nutritional experts, they have little or no influence on body weight, and they deprive the body of sugar, an indispensable part of the normal diet. Want to lose weight? Eat sensibly. Eat less. Exercise more. It's the most dependable formula yet.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Cotton producers will meet at the auditorium of the Memorial Building Wednesday, March 10, at 2:00 p.m.

Most producers are aware that the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., was recently organized comprising 23 counties. Recently the organization was expanded to include 32 counties in which Schleicher county was included.

The proposed educational program in support of better cotton production management will be discussed of the Rolling Plains Area. The most important project at this time is the study and control of the cotton boll weevil.

Other topics of the program include adapted varieties, cultural methods, insect control, harvesting and marketing information.

The easiest way to figure out the cost of living is to take your income and add 10%.

If you plan to plant trees this spring, Texas' state tree, the pecan, might be a wise choice.

One of the most widely adapted trees in Texas, the pecan serves a dual purpose. Not only is it a stately shade tree, but if properly cared for, it can produce good, edible nuts.

One of the most important decisions to make is the selection of a proper variety. Hundreds of varieties are available but only a few are specifically adapted to given areas and interests.

Mahan and Stuart varieties are most widely used for shade purposes because of their strength and desirable habit of growth.

Mahan is the most widely distributed variety. It can be grown in practically every area of the state. Stuart is best adapted to the Gulf Coast and Eastern and Central Texas.

Choctaw, one of our new USDA varieties, shows promise of being a good all purpose shade tree in the Gulf Coast, Eastern and Central Texas.

Desirable and Success varieties are popular where production of high quality nuts is of primary importance. However, because of their structural growth habits, neither is ideal for shade purposes. They are best adapted to Central and East Texas.

Wichita, Western Schley, and San Saba Improved are good varieties for nut production in West Texas.

If given the correct cultural care, ample moisture and the proper nutrient elements, pecans can add much to our lives. Not only do they add beauty to our homes, they also greatly increase the value of property and may well serve as a heritage to future generations.

No screwworm cases were reported in the Southwest during the month of February. However, 65-75 million sterile flies are being released weekly in the barrier zone between Old Mexico and Texas, along the Rio Grande river.

Program authorities have been informed that a request for $550,000 to carry the screwworm eradication program from April 1 to June 30, 1965, has been sent to Congress. No indication has been given when action can be expected on this request.

Cotton farmers can avoid replanting due to seedling disease and save money by purchasing high quality cottonseed. Seed cost is usually less than 2% of the total production cost of a cotton crop and quality seed pay tremendous dividends. Seed must possess many desirable attributes to produce acceptable stands and maximum yields, thus it may be "expensive" to buy "cheap" planting seed. This is especially true when the seed lot in question is low in price because of low viability which is inter-related with disease susceptibility.

Cottonseed of high quality will give a significantly better stand because of their ability to escape seed rots and seedling disease. Low quality seed will not germinate as rapidly at lower temperature and will be more susceptible to rotting organisms than high quality seeds. Cottonseed deteriorate when exposed to high moisture with high temperatures. This can occur between boll and harvest in trailers in the gin yard, and in storage.

High quality seed will pay!

Since nitrogen availability under conditions common to this area is complex, consider several factors when deciding upon amounts needed for the next crop. These conditions include (1) next year's crop, (2) tonnage and stage of decomposition of residue, (3) previous fertilizer applications, (4) crop to be grown and anticipated yield, (5) amount of organic matter present in the soil and (6) previous response to fertilizer.

Where to start? A soil test will give you the nitrogen status report as well as phosphorus and potassium. Soil chemists will also help each individual weigh the 6 facts; provided you give correct answers to the data asked for.

A "delegate-at-large" to a convention merely means that he didn't take his wife.

NOTICE

This is to give notice of the intention to introduce a bill during the Regular Session of the 59th Legislature of the State of Texas to create a conservation and reclamation district known as "Upper Colorado River Authority," composed of Tom Green, Coke, Runnels, Sterling, Coleman, Concho, Schleicher, McCulloch, Menard, and Irion Counties of the State of Texas, all of the lands contained in said counties being in the watershed of the Colorado River and its tributaries.

The proposed district would be an enlargement of the presently existing Upper Colorado River Authority and would be controlled by a Board of Directors with at least one director from each of said counties and not more than two of said directors from any one of said counties being appointed to said Board by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. Said proposed district would have the power to control, store and preserve, within or across, but contiguous to, the boundaries of the district, the waters of the Colorado River and its tributaries for domestic, municipal, industrial, mining, irrigation, and other useful purposes, and to use, distribute and sell water without or within the boundaries of the district for any such lawful purpose, to prevent flood damage, to construct pipelines and other water facilities, to acquire land and easements, and to issue revenue and/or tax supported bonds.

No tax supported bond can be issued without a special election approving such issuance by a majority of the property holders in each county of said district, or by a majority of the property holders of each county and/or city within the district for which a special project is undertaken, it being the intention that no tax can be levied by said district without the approval of a majority of the property holders to be effected by any such project requiring the levy of taxes. Where more than one county and/or city are included for a special project within the district, the special election for the issuance of tax supported bonds will fall for such special project unless a majority of the property holders of each such county and/or city approves such issue.

A special election will be held in each of the ten counties named above to determine if said counties wish to confirm the establishment of this district by a majority vote of the property holders of said counties. Only those counties which, by a majority of such voters, approve the establishment of this district shall be included within the proposed district, and those counties which, by a majority of the property holders, elect not to establish the district shall not be included within such proposed district. If either Tom Green County or Coke County, by such special election, vote against the establishment of the enlarged district, the bill creating such enlarged district shall become null and void, this requirement being imposed for the reason that the original Upper Colorado River Authority is composed of both Tom Green County and Coke County. Other counties and/or cities not named above may petition for admission to the enlarged district.

The Menard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, consisting of Menard County, the Runnels County Water Authority, consisting of Runnels County, the Central Colorado River Authority, consisting of Coleman County, and the Lower Concho River Water and Soil Conservation Authority, consisting of Concho County, shall not be affected by the enlargement of the Upper Colorado River Authority except, and only to the extent of, that no future project may be undertaken by said authorities, or such authorities the counties of which have elected to establish the enlarged district, involving an appropriation of water permit by the Texas Water Commission of the State of Texas or any succeeding agency thereof.

This notice is given pursuant to notice requirement of Section 59, Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, and inquiry as to further detail of the proposed bill may be directed to any of the directors of the water boards and authorities named above. (Feb11-674 w)

Beans and Ham, Mexico Way

For family fare or party buffet, a casserole of Beans and Ham Mexico Way is a favorite. Made of Idaho-grown colorful Red beans or the dappled "Pintos," slow-simmered with a meaty ham end mingling its flavor with the robust seasonings of Old Mexico, it needs little pot-watching.

A salad of thin-sliced oranges, crisp rings of sweet Spanish onion and of green peppers on a bed of mixed greens provides a cool flavor accent. Warm tortillas with whipped butter give a companionable Mexican touch. Who wants dessert!

- Beans And Ham, Mexico Way
- 1 pound (2 and 1/2 cups) Idaho dried Red or Pinto beans
  - meaty ham bone
  - 1 fat clove garlic, slivered and mashed with
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup chopped onion
  - 1 large bay leaf
  - 1 and 1/2 to 2 tablespoons chili powder
  - 1 teaspoon ground cumin
  - 4 ripe tomatoes, skinned and chopped OR
  - 2 cups canned solid pack tomatoes

Rinse beans; place in heavy kettle or Dutch oven with 6 cups cold water. Bring to boiling point; boil 2 minutes only. Add 1/4 teaspoon soda to soften water. Cover and let stand for 1 hour. Or soak overnight in measured amounts of water and soda.

To cook, add ham end, garlic and salt, onion and bay leaf to undrained beans. Bring to boiling point; reduce heat and cover tightly. Simmer for 2 to 2 1/2 hours or until beans are tender.

Mix chili powder and cumin with a little of the bean liquid. Add to beans along with tomatoes. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, for about 45 minutes or longer. Or turn into a casserole with tight-fitting cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 to 60 minutes. Saltiness of the ham determines whether additional salt needs to be added. Strength and family likes decide the amount of chili powder to use.

This makes 2 quarts (8 cups) of cooked beans or 8 to 12 servings depending upon size of each.

* EQUAL PAYMENT PLAN

For WTU residential customers

... is the new approach to a time-tried method of bill paying. Each month you pay one-twelfth of your annual electric service charge. West Texas Utilities Co. makes an estimate of your total electric use for one year, based on your past record, or, with new accounts, records of similar requirements. They divide the total into 12 equal, even-dollar payments. Monthly and yearly review of your account keeps the estimate as close to the actual metered usage as possible. If this review shows a material change in your use of electric service...up or down, due to unusual weather or the addition of some major appliance...you will be notified that a change of estimate is in order. Your 12th payment will be adjusted to balance your account for the Equal Payment Plan Year.

Equalize your monthly payments for electric service now. Visit your WTU office for the complete details.

Austin.—Gov. John Connally served notice on the U. S. Labor Department he doesn't like its directives that unskilled high school students in War on Poverty program jobs must be paid more than some of their parents make.

Connally, needed by an unnamed Labor Department official, indignantly denied he is scuttling the new Neighborhood Youth Corps job project. But he made clear he won't approve applications of some 23 local school districts for participation in the program until he is sure they know what they are getting into.

NYC offers part-time jobs (10-15 hours a week) around schools and public agencies to youngsters 16-21 who are on the verge of becoming high school dropouts because of financial difficulties. Federal government pays 90% of the cost and local participating units 10%. But next year the cost will be shared 50-50.

Connally spoke out against the Labor Department ruling that students must be paid $1.25 per hour, the federal minimum wage.

The 23 districts, before ruling was announced, proposed to pay rates ranging from 60 cents to $1.20 an hour. Originally, Labor Department had notified the districts wages "should be a little below the prevailing entry rates for inexperienced workers in similar occupations."

The $1.25 order came out after applications were filed.

"This action," protested Connally, "would place local school districts in the awkward and unrealistic position of paying inexperienced school age students of underprivileged families a rate of pay for casual chores that in many cases would exceed that of adult employees working in the same facility, the average earnings of their own parents, and the wages he himself might reasonably expect to earn in the days immediately following school."

Furthermore, Connally noted, a directly parallel program for potential dropouts among college students administered by Department of Health, Education and Welfare pays 75 cents an hour upward.

House of Representatives applauded Connally's stand but specified it did not intend to criticize the President or his War on Poverty program.

Coordinating Board Approved

Governor Connally's number one project of the session—creation of a powerful 18-member coordinating board to supervise all aspects of higher education in Texas—swept through both houses of the Legislature with the speed of a blue norther.

Legislators who opposed it—and there were only a few—had as much chance of stopping it as they would of forestalling a gathering storm.

After being guided through the House by Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, the bill was picked up by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan in the Senate, where it went through without an amendment and was passed on to the governor for signing.

Connally has until September 1 to choose the 18 members of the board. They will replace the Texas Commission on Higher Education and will take on the task of directing all higher education institutions from junior colleges through the university systems.

Board will decide what courses are to be offered by each institution. It was given the most far-reaching authority granted by the Legislature since the Railroad Commission was authorized to grant railroad permits. Present college boards of regents will continue to serve. But they will be responsible to the new overall coordinating board.

Another of the governor's education plans, to replace 12 separate boards of regents which govern the 22 state colleges and universities with three boards of university systems, had not yet been introduced when the coordinating board plan was adopted.

Some legislators feel that the system board plan may have served to lessen the opposition to the coordinating board particularly among representatives from the colleges whose board would be abolished.

Pesticide Protested

A cheap poison used against roaches and rats in many homes and in grain storage bins and warehouses can cause loss of hair and mental disturbances, physicians testified in a House committee hearing. In heavy doses, it can kill a person or leave him mentally incompetent, they said.

Doctors appeared at a public health committee hearing on a bill which would outlaw the sale, use or possession of poisons based on thallium compounds.

They said the poison can take effect upon even very brief exposures and that its symptoms are hard to diagnose. Some persons have been interned in mental hospitals before the real reason for their illness was discovered, they said. At present there is no known antidote to the poison except time.

Medical Aid Planned

Strategy designed to quickly pass a medical assistance bill as soon as Congress passes its expected new legislation has been announced by Rep. Charles Wilson of Lufkin. He is sponsor of a House bill to extend Kerr-Mills payments to elderly persons not on old-age pensions.

Wilson asked a House committee to report out his bill quickly so it could be passed on the floor and sent to the Senate. A Senate bill will not be considered until the federal legislation is enacted, he said. In this way, the Senate version can authorize participation in the new federal plans and the details can be worked out to the satisfaction of House members in a conference committee.

Old-age pensioners already are eligible for help on their medical bills through the federal-state program.

Liquor, Racing Bill Hearings Set

Horse racing and "small bottles" liquor bills are expected to turn out some of the biggest crowds at legislative hearings this month.

Bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville to legalize parimutuel betting on horse races will be heard by House State Affairs Committee on March 29.

Edinburg Sen. Jim Bates' bill to permit sale of 2-ounce bottles of liquor by restaurants will get a hearing before Senate jurisprudence committee on March 16.

San Antonio Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry has introduced a proposed constitutional amendment of his own to legalize horse racing on a local option basis in Bexar, Cameron, Dallas, Hidalgo, Harris, Galveston, Midland, Tarrant and Webb counties.

Only teacher pay raises attract more mail to lawmakers than parimutuel wagering and liquor-by-the-drink legislation. This year, there's strong support on, as well as opposition to, both propositions.

"Spending" Rule Row Flares

Tightening of a joint House-Senate rule banning consideration of single-purpose spending measures ahead of the general appropriations bill may mean the difference in the type of pay raise teachers get this year.

Senators adopted 22-9 a "compromise" version making the provisions of a stricter House-passed Joint Rule 9-A effective only during the first 120 days of the session. The House is expected to agree.

Cities Ask Sales Tax

Spokesmen for cities urged a legislative committee to recommend that cities be given authority to levy local sales taxes up to 1% if citizens vote approval in special elections.

They said they have gone as far as they can with raising property taxes and need additional sources of revenue to provide necessary services.

Union representatives argued there still is plenty of mileage left in property tax. Also a local sales tax would hit little people harder and lighten the load on those most able to pay.

In House revenue and tax committee hearing at same time, tobacco industry spokesmen said a bill to raise the cigarette tax a penny a pack would be a serious blow to them.

Both bills went to sub-committee.

Redistricting

Legislators got a sampling of public views on congressional and legislative redistricting during a four-hour public hearing before the House Districts Committee.

As expected, they didn't get much help since every plan advanced met opposition from some quarter.

House committee members had lengthy testimony on four congressional reapportionment proposals and two bills to realign the state House of Representatives.

Eight more measures remain to be heard. Chairman Gus Mutscher of Brenham said he hopes to set all of them next week and get the job into the hands of sub-committees as the Senate districts committee already has done.

In the Senate, Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall is interviewing individual senators on how congressional lines should be redrawn. House sub-committees are moving into their second week of similar contacts with the 150 representatives.

'Sodom & Gomorrah' Showing Tonight

A Biblical epic, Fabian in a Hawaiian movie aimed at the younger set, an adventure story with a setting in Africa, and a foreign spectacular comprise the upcoming offerings at the Bronco Drive-In Theatre in Sonora.

'Sodom and Gomorrah' comes to the Bronco screen tonight and Friday night. It is in color, stars Stewart Granger and Pier Angeli and is billed as "The Story of the Cities that Committed the Sin of Sins, and Invoked the Rage of Heaven and the Wrath of God."

It cost more than $6 million to bring to the widescreen the story of "Sodom and Gomorrah," which the Bible tells in only five paragraphs. The Titanus production, which 20th Century-Fox is releasing, faithfully re-creates the fabulous twin cities of sin and evil. Lavish settings were built on location sites in the desert of Morocco and in the studios in Rome, and thousands of natives were used for the mass and battle sequences.

'Ride The Wild Surf' is in color and will be shown in Sonora Saturday night. It was filmed on location along a 10-mile stretch of the palm-fringed north shore of Oahu Island, some 40 miles from famed Waikiki.

It is the story of the surfers who pit their skill and courage against the awesome 40-foot waves which race at express train speed toward the beach. It is glowing entertainment brought to the screen by a superb cast which includes Tab Hunter, Fabian, Shelley Fabares, Barbara Eden, Peter Brown, Anthony Hayes, Susan Hart and James Mitchum.

'A Boy Ten Feet Tall' which will come to the Sonora drive-in screen Sunday and Monday and Tuesday nights, is billed as family fare at its best and won the Parents Magazine Family Medal Award.

In CinemaScope and color, this film stars well-known veterans star Edward G. Robinson and a newcomer, 10-year-old Fergus McClelland in an adventure story about an incredible 5,000-mile journey with a setting in Africa.

This Paramount release was based on the novel, "Sammy Going South" by W. H. Canaway.

The story is about 10-year-old Sammy Hartland (McClelland), a boy who makes an incredible journey from Suez in Egypt to Durban in South Africa—a trip of 5,000 miles. Sammy, alone in Suez after his parents are killed in a surprise air raid, remembers what his mother once told him. "If you are ever left alone, Sammy, go south to your aunt Jane in Durban." Now, with Sammy in this unenviable position, he heeds his mother's advice, heads south, and his journey begins.

In the desert, tired and hungry, Sammy meets a peddler and agrees to trek with him to Luxor. On the way, an accident in the camp blinds the peddler, and in anger, he shackles himself to Sammy. The next day, the peddler is dead. Sammy frees himself and heads on.

Traveling on the back roads to avoid meeting other traveling companions, Sammy meets Cocky Wainwright (Edward G. Robinson). First with astonishment and then with admiration, this battered old diamond smuggler and hunter of big game hears Sammy's story. After traveling in Cocky's camp Sammy listens in awe as the old man recounts his remarkable past. Delighted with Sammy's response, Cocky invites the boy to stay for as long as he wishes. Suddenly, the camp is raided, and Cocky is captured by the police, who have been after him ever since they learned of his diamond smuggling operation. In the havoc created by the raid, Sammy is able to escape. Alone again, he bravely continues his trek to Durban.

'My Son The Hero' will be shown Wednesday night. It's a spectacle all right, and it's in Technicolor with a cast of thousands, hundreds of snorting horses, ravishingly beautiful maidens, armies of brave men and scenes of epic sweep and grandeur.

Pedro Armendariz heads the giant cast which includes the sensational French Jacqueline Sas-sard, and the equally gorgeous Antonella Luaidi of Italy, to say nothing of the famous European acrobat-turned-actor Giuliano Gemma, heralded as one of the screen finds of the year.

Its story is based on the famous legend of Cadmus, King of Ancient Thebes who got so ambitious that he decided to horn in among the Theban gods, an honor the head god failed to appreciate and who got the titans to give him—Cadmus, that is—his lumps.

It was filmed at the giant Vides Studios near Rome, the countryside of Spain, and other locations.

At least one thing is certain, according to the theatre management. If you like to see hundreds of horsemen take the wrong turn in a breath-taking chase, or if you like to see a death-dealing Gorgon slain in cold (or at least lukewarm) blood, or lovely maidens snatched from death in a well-worn nick of time—you'll enjoy "My Son, The Hero" enormously.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carothers and young son of Waco visited here over the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boyer and Danny. All visited in San Angelo with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Boyer and new baby daughter.

By Dayton Kelley Mary Hardin-Baylor College Belton, Texas

An intriguing search, launched by an earlier story in this space, for a copy of a famous painting destroyed when the state capitol burned in 1880, has resulted in the discovery of a copy in the National Archives.

The painting, "Lee at the Wilderness," was probably the greatest work of Harry A. McArdle, the first recognized artist in Texas and the man whose other works include "Dawn at the Alamo" and "The Battle of San Jacinto," both of which hang in the Senate chambers in Austin.

The famous painting was purchased by the state after members of Hood's Texas Brigade Association, many of whom had posed for the work, failed in their attempts to buy it from the artist.

The story of the famous painting was told in a previous item in this space along with a notation that not one reproduction of "Lee at the Wilderness" had been located although a little booklet published over 50 years ago contains a letter dated 1874 which mentions that a "chromo" was to be made "which would enable every Southerner to become the possessor of a correct copy of it."

Following the appearance of the story, Col. Harold B. Simpson of Waco, a retired Air Force officer and author of note who is probably the best authority on Hood's Texas Brigade, began a search for a copy of the painting.

Moving to the South for timely views of that area, Ralph McGill, the Pulitzer Prize-winning editor of the Atlanta Constitution, describes his homeland in a penetrating fashion in "The South and the Southerner," published by Little, Brown and Company.

"Slavery in the South" by Harvey Wish is a collection of accounts of slavery in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries which provide a contemporary look at the system which made the South the agricultural region it was.

And one of the finest, best printed, and carefully edited regimental histories to be published in a while is "Behind the Guns," published by Southern Illinois University Press. This is the history of Battery I, Second Regiment, Illinois Light Artillery and is the kind of book a reader will not only want to read but just want to own for its sheer beauty of appearance.

Georgia Pena, 20, Buried Here Saturday

Georgia Pena, 20, an asthma sufferer, collapsed and died in Dallas on Thursday of last week. A former resident of Eldorado, funeral services for her were held at the Baptist church at 11:00 a. m., Saturday and interment was made in Eldorado cemetery. Pall bearers were Ally Galan, Rudy and Bobby Menchaca, Billy Torres, Phillip Montalbo, George Pena. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mercedes J. Pena of Eldorado and two brothers and four sisters.

Merry Makers Meeting

The Merry Makers Club met at the home of Miss John Alexander last Thursday afternoon for their regular session of "42" games. They had three tables of players with Mrs. Lige Christian and Mrs. Jack Griffin as guests. The hostess served a sandwich plate and coffee.

First Baptist Church

Mrs. Jack Griffin, circle chairman, served as program leader also when the Ruth Dickerson circle met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Biggs. The program was from Royal Service Magazine on Assuming Personal Responsibility. Other circle members participated. The circle voted to buy clothing to send to the Children's Home before Easter. The hostess served refreshments to 7 members and two guests, Mrs. Betty Richardson and Mrs. George Williams.

The Maurice Doyle circle of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Vaughan for a program on Assuming Personal Responsibility led by Mrs. C. N. Clark, program chairman.

Others on the program were Mrs. R. C. Cheatham, Mrs. T. P. Robinson Jr., and Mrs. Jess Blaylock. Mrs. Allan Kuykendall gave the Call to Prayer.

During the business led by Mrs. L. M. Hoover, circle chairman, the circle planned to pack two boxes of clothing, one for adults, the other for children, to be given to needy persons before Easter.

The secretary read a thank-you note from Mrs. Maurice Doyle for a blouse the circle had sent her since her visit here with her husband for whom the circle was named.

Mrs. Vaughan served cake and coffee or punch to the 11 members present.

Nylon In The Kitchen

The growing group of greaseless, stickless cooking enthusiasts include creative cooks who detest scouring pans, modernists with a zest for the up-to-date, people who love fried foods but in the past have had to resist for health reasons, and anyone who's ever fried a sunny-side-up egg and tried to live up to the full-color illustrations in women's magazines. All sing the praises of Teflon-coated frying pans.

While Teflon takes the bows for revolutionizing America's frying, cooking and pot-washing habits, gentle nylon works quietly in the wings doing its part to help Teflon keep its no-stick promises.

Nylon spoons and spatulas (usually sold with Teflon cookware) have a soft, soapy-like texture that will not scrape the delicate Teflon finish.

Nylon spatulas are heat resistant and will withstand temperatures up to 430°. The skillets are rarely heated over 400°. (By comparison, water boils at 212°.) The spatulas are lightweight and easy to hold. They are white in color, and look as fresh and clean as milk pouring from a pitcher. Two companies that manufacture nylon spatulas are Flambeau of Baraboo, Wisconsin and Blisscraft of Hollywood, California.

Since the unanimous acceptance of the spoons and spatulas, other nylon items for the kitchen have been introduced.

The nylon egg beater is tough, practically wear resistant and will not break. Going a step further, the new egg beater will not rust; yet it will be sold for less than metal egg beaters.

Other new nylon items now appearing on the counters include a meat baster that is shock resistant and can be sterilized; nylon tumblers that will not crack, break or mar surface finishes; and nylon vegetable brushes.

Methodist Notes

Plans will be on display in the church this Sunday morning for the proposed Memorial wing for the educational building.

On March 2nd, the pastor, and Jo Ed Hill and L. W. Steen met with the San Angelo District Committee on Locations and Building and presented the plans at that time. A church conference will be held to vote on the plans preceding the Quarterly Conference on Sunday evening, March 21st, which has been called by Dr. Brown.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service has already pledged $100 to the building fund.

The Lenten self-denial folders will be given out Sunday morning.

This Sunday, the pastor's sermon top will be "The Man Who Might of Been."

With the WSCS circles: Monday the Pioneer circle continue their study of Genesis, and on Wednesday, March 10th, the Dorcas circle meet with Mrs. Marie McGinnis.

City Will Re-Work South Cottonwood S.

The City of Eldorado announced plans this week to repave South Cottonwood street from from the Co-Op headquarters building, and to make a new by-pass street at the south end to tie into South Main street.

The old paving and base will be removed and replaced for several blocks. The paving has fallen into disrepair in recent years and it is generally agreed that this rebuilding project is much needed.

The City of Eldorado has purchased two lots in the South Heights addition which will become part of the by-pass to South Main. The lots purchased are 1 and 7 of block 1 of South Heights. They are being bought from Mrs. Minnie Nance of Amarillo and P. N. Wiggins Jr. of Dallas.

A few other blocks in south Eldorado are being paved with caliche.

Attend Birthday Celebration At Mertzon

Mrs. Edwin DeLong, Mrs. Lawrence Steen and Mrs. S. D. Harper were among the guests that attended the 86th birthday celebration of Mrs. George DeLong in Mertzon last Saturday.

The party was in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Howe F. Mayse with other daughters and daughter-in-law assisting.

Eaglettes Win District Last Week

Thursday night the Eaglettes made it three in a row—District Championship that is. The girls defeated west zone champion Iraan to the time of 56-26 for the title. This was the third time this year that the Eaglettes had defeated the Bravettes.

Christy Moore led the onslaught with 29 points, Karen Griffin added 12, Marsha Mund 11, and Susan Hill 4. This three-strong attack was too much for Iraan to overcome. Frankie Blaylock and Chris Edmiston led the way on defense with 13 and 14 rebounds each. Paula Mace had 4, Jane Cain, Sherry Yates and Shirley Hubble 1 each. Everyone played and shared in the championship.

The Eaglettes were slow starting but picked up and got stronger as the game progressed.

Alliance Plans Community Revival

The Ministerial Alliance of Eldorado met last Thursday morning with the primary business being that of continuing plans for the 1965 Community Revival to be held April 11-16. C. E. Cogswell was appointed to head a committee providing for motel accommodations, Dan Sebasta was appointed chairman of the publicity committee, and Kenneth Vaughan took responsibility for clearing the place of the meeting.

The Revival will be held during Holy Week, leading up to Easter Sunday, with The Reverend L. L. Morriss of the First Baptist church in Midland doing the preaching, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moore, currently serving on the evangelistic field, leading the music.

School News

Coming up this week end will be the Track Meet at Ozona and the Band Festival at Brady.

The Stock Show is under way in Houston and one will be going on next week in San Angelo.

In connection with Public School Week now going on, a Science Fair has been set up in the old gymnasium with a number of exhibits and posters by high school students on display.

There will be just four days of school next week. Friday, the 12th, will be a holiday for students while teachers attend the district TSTA meeting.

The Junior class are at work on their play, and will present it in April.

The Seniors will take their trip in the middle of May to Ruidosa, New Mexico.

Tommy N. Lochridge, executive secretary of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Assn. with headquarters in San Angelo, was visiting here in Eldorado Wednesday morning.

All 11 Sheriffs Are Pictured In Office

Orval Edmiston, the 11th man to serve as sheriff of Schleicher county in the 65 years that the county has been organized, recently completed a project of about four years' duration when he gathered pictures of his 10 predecessors and had copies made, and now all of them are mounted and on display in his office.

The 11 pictured, and their years are:

- Henry J. Y. Mills.....1901-06
- Erice Dabney.....1906
- Dan Murrah.....1907-08
- W. M. Holland.....1909-10
- J. F. Craig.....1911-12
- F. H. (Pomp) Watson.....1913-14
- A. F. Luedecke.....1915-30
- O. E. Conner.....1931-40
- E. H. Sweatt.....1941-46 1949-56
- Wallace Joiner.....1947-48
- Orval N. Edmiston.....1957-

It is interesting to note that the first sheriff, Henry Mills, is still living in Del Rio and is about 93 years of age.

Sheriff Edmiston visited Mr. Mills in Del Rio one day last year.

ATTEND RATLIFF FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Biggs attended the funeral of O. M. Ratliff, 82, of Blackwell, at Johnson Funeral Chapel in San Angelo yesterday.

Mr. Ratliff died Tuesday at St. Johns hospital. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bill Ratliff of San Angelo, is Mr. Biggs' niece.

Recent Bride Honored With Gift Coffee

Mrs. Malcolm Edward Isleib, a recent bride, was honored with a gift coffee Saturday morning at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. T. Parker, at 206 E. Callender Avenue, this city.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Palmer West, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Shannon, the honoree's brother-in-law and sister of Austin, Mr. Isleib and the honoree, Mrs. Isleib.

Mrs. Glenn Parker presided over the bride's book at the registry. The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used throughout the party rooms.

A white linen cut-work cloth over one of blue covered the serving table which was centered with an epergne holding flowers and flanked by silver candle sticks holding blue candles. Mrs. Robert H. Oglesby presided at the coffee service.

Hostesses were Mmes. Eldon Calk, Kenneth Cheek, Lum Davis, R. Q. Harris, N. G. Hodges, J. T. Jackson Jr., Palmer West, George Long, J. H. Mace, Don McCormick, Robert Oglesby, Roy Phelps, D. C. Royster and Richard Shannon.

The couple were married January 23 in Austin where they are making their home.

Methodists To Host World Day Of Prayer

On the first Friday of Lent, March 5, church women around the world will be upholding, thru prayer and offering, an impressive array of projects to neighbors in need. This is an interdenominational effort and contributions are handled through The Department of United Church Women, New York, N.Y. The free-will offering goes for Christian colleges, training classes, various kinds of community service, literature, day care, recreation, and for student aid. The host church among the local churches for 1965 is the First Methodist Church which will be open between 2:00 and 3:00 p.m. for those who care to join this fellowship of prayer which encircles the globe. Quiet music in the sanctuary will lend an atmosphere of awe and reverence as we become a link in the chain that supports World Missions. Those wishing to make free-will offerings will find envelopes in the foyer, and may leave them at the altar.

The Theme for Friday's event is a portion of Micah 6:8 . . . "What More Doth the Lord Require of Thee?"

Area Angus Breeders To Compete For Purse

The Angus firms of Grote Angus Ranch, Mason; Gerald Hartgraves, Eldorado; Dan Lehmborg, Art; and Martin Angus Farm, Hext, are among the 35 top Angus Breeders to compete in the 2nd Annual Texas Angus Futurity Show and Sale at Fort Worth on March 8th.

A purse of $1,990 plus a number of other valuable trophies and awards will make the competition very keen. The show will get under way at 8:30 a.m. next Monday in Cattle Barn #2, at the Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth, Tex. All the prize winning bulls and females will then go on the auction block at 12:30 p.m. that afternoon.

Each of the 70 animals in the Futurity is of excellent quality and has already passed a rigid screening committee.

Lions Club To Host Zone Meeting Monday

Lions club officers from Big Lake, Ozona, and Sonora will be here Monday night for a Zone meeting, which local Lions officers will host.

A supper will be served to about 30 at 7:15 in the Memorial Building, after which a business session will be held.

Ray Boyer, who has been acting as president of the local Lions club, will be general chairman.

Recruiter Coming

S/Sgt. Otis Milligan of the United States Marine Corps will be in Eldorado at the Post Office from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m. on March 10th, this coming Wednesday.

Anyone interested in joining the Marine Corps, between the ages of 17 and 28, should contact Sgt. Milligan at that time.

C. J. Hahn was in Abilene Monday and Tuesday attending a West Texas Utilities managers' meeting.

Recruiter Coming

Visiting with Mrs. Vernie Humphrey this week is her sister, Mrs. O. H. Lumpkin of Ennis.

Norm Cash left San Angelo Monday morning for Florida to begin spring training with the Detroit Tigers. His wife, Myrta Boo, and two children are remaining here for the present.

Mrs. Jerry Van Dusen and boys David and Stevie of Mesquite, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen for a few weeks.

A Taxing Situation

APRIL 15 IS NEARING—This young lady is one of the 25 million women who work, and who must file single or joint income tax returns by April 15. If you are one of these, cope with this taxing situation with the "Female Taxpayer's Survival Kit," which includes a pot of strong coffee, adding machine (unless you're a mathematical whiz), a large bottle of aspirin, a good supply of pencils and paper, a simply worded tax guide—and an appointment at the beauty shop the next day to cheer you up after a horrible night!

A NEWSPAPER DEPENDS ON ADVERTISING . . .

A TOWN DEPENDS ON TRADE . . .

A newspaper can no more survive by simply selling papers than a restaurant can make money by serving only free ice water.

It is through advertising that a newspaper is able to make its way.

Many Eldorado firms advertise regularly in The Eldorado Success. Study their advertisements each week . . . you can trade at home and save at home.

Our merchants who advertise are serving a two-fold purpose. They are helping to support the community's newspaper, which the community needs, and serving the public by listing goods and services at competitive prices.

We cannot survive without our advertisers. They cannot survive without you.

Read your hometown newspaper and support the hometown merchants who use its advertising columns.

Ready for Roundup. Senior Girl Scouts proudly display the symbol of the 1965 Girl Scout Senior Roundup to be held next July at Farragut, Idaho. They were members of a group who participated in a "dry run" camp on Lake Pend Orielle last summer, testing all aspects of the site from weather to water supply. Survival and enjoyment were reported maximum. More than 9,000 teen-age girls from the United States and other nations will meet at the Roundup, the largest encampment for girls in the free world.

Girl Scouts come in all shapes and sizes, from all religious, racial, and economic backgrounds. But they have many things in common — their duty to God and country; their willingness to help other people; their love of the out-of-doors; their hope to grow up to be happy, contributing members of their communities. Almost three and three-quarter million girls and adults are celebrating Girl Scout Week (March 7-13) and the 53rd anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Girl Scouts all. They're at four different age levels, with different needs and interests, but they've all promised to do their duty to God and country and to help other people.

This illustration, part of a film on Girl Scouting, depicts the progression that girls follow in Girl Scouting during the decisive decade of their young lives — from Brownie Girl Scouts, ages 7 and 8, to Juniors, ages 9-11, to Cadettes, ages 12-14, to Seniors, ages 15-17 — all under the guidance of trained adult leaders.

This week (March 7-13) is Girl Scout Week, celebrated by almost three and three-quarter million girls and adults throughout the United States.

"Girl Scouting—A Promise In Action" is the theme of Girl Scout Week, celebrated this week by almost three and three-quarter million members of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Since the first meeting of the first Girl Scout troop, organized by Juliette Gordon Low in Savannah, Georgia, on March 12, 1912, more than 20 million girls and adults have promised to do their duty to God and country, to help other people and to obey the Girl Scout Laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, friendship, cheerfulness, kindness and thrift.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

I have just found out something. I have found that if you will wait for a rainy afternoon to do your telephone calling, you will get about 100% answers. This is being written on Wednesday Feb. (the rainy) afternoon and I've had 18 women to call since lunch. So far I'm half through and everybody so far has answered! Imagine it.

So, if you possibly can, just wait until it rains to do your calling. You will get more answers.

The envelopes coming into my office are primarily of two colors, white and brown. Then the white ones are further classified. They come sealed and unsealed. I always open the sealed envelopes immediately. For one can never tell what might be in a sealed envelope. At least its message is of enough importance to take precautions to keep others from reading and knowing.

When I get time I remove the material from the unsealed white and then from the browns regardless of the state of sealedness. Just now I was about to pitch the envelope containing this most wonderful advice into the waste basket when some prompter seemed to say, "Don't throw anything away without first looking at it." I'm glad I looked; this quotation was on the front page:

Take Time

- Take time to think
- It is the source of power
- Take time to play
- It is secret of perpetual youth.
- Take time to read
- It is the fountain of wisdom.
- Take time to pray
- It is the greatest power on earth.
- Take time to love and be loved
- It is a God-given privilege.
- Take time to be friendly
- It is the road to happiness.
- Take time to laugh
- It is the music of the soul.
- Take time to give
- It is too short a day to be selfish
- Take time to work
- It is the price of success.
- Take time to save
- It is the foundation of your future.

—Quoted

After a club meeting at Mrs. H. A. Belk's the other afternoon, I stopped by home with Mrs. Cecil Williams to see a piece of furniture which she was in the process of restoring. We are not sure of the wood from which the old dresser is made; likely gum or that variety since it is not one of the easily recognized hard woods used about 100 years ago when the beautifully proportioned dresser was made.

Mrs. Williams said that the dresser belonged to her grandfather and when he died someone put it in a wagon and brought it to her mother. When they unloaded it the mirror was broken and her mother cried about it. Everyone felt so badly about the broken mirror that it was replaced immediately. Some people would say it needed to be replaced now but I don't think so. It is shaded and aged—goes just right with its beautifully but simply carved frame.

The marble top is in good shape and won't need much cleaning but if it did need restoring, this is what could be done:

Marble Cleaner

Make a poultice of hydrogen peroxide (it's the kind you have always known about) mixed with whiting, then sprinkled with a little ammonia. This will bubble up—remember how peroxide used to foam and bubble when it was poured into a cut or wound? and when the bubbling stops remove the poultice and wash thoroughly. Detergents are good for marble washing too.

About the whiting, it is a powder commonly used as an agent to carry other cleaners and if you can't find whiting at drug or paint stores, you can bypass the whiting and use white blotting paper. Apply the peroxide and ammonia with the blotting paper. Wash as directed above.

School Menus

Monday, March 8: Baked ham, candied sweet potatoes, buttered broccoli, pineapple & lettuce salad, buttered rolls, milk, canned fruit.

Tues., March 9: Fried chicken and gravy, creamed potatoes, green beans, spiced apples, buttered rolls, milk, white cake with chocolate icing.

Wed., March 10: Enchiladas, pinto beans, potato salad, cole slaw, buttered rolls, milk, fruit cobbler.

Thursday, March 11: Swiss steak buttered rice, mixed greens, peach halves, buttered rolls, milk, gingerbread.

Friday, March 12: Teachers' meeting; no school.

NOTICE BOOKKEEPERS: You may order B&P Standard columnar sheets for your loose-leaf ledger binders at the Success office.

First Christian Church To Observe Special Day Of Prayer Tomorrow

Tomorrow, March 5, is the date for the annual observance of the World Day of Prayer, a practice followed by a large portion of the Protestant sector of Christianity and the First Christian Church in Eldorado has planned to join with Protestant Christians about the world in a period set apart for prayer in the church sanctuary. The hour designated is 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. and the youth of the church will sponsor the service.

In a worshipful setting, the church illumined by candle-light, the public of the entire community is cordially invited to come by at any time within the period and spend some time in silent personal prayer. All are asked to indulge in no talk or visiting as such freedom would disturb others.

Members of the CYF will alternate so that at all times there will be two of them present engaged in silent Bible reading and prayer. It is not necessary to dress as if to attend public worship but all are urged to come as they are, dressed for work or street appearance. It is hoped that all participants may truly feel strong bonds of fellowship with earnestly praying people around the world seeking God's blessing for mankind.

It is the faith of these young people that having part in such universal petition to God for His favors on needy men will prove a blessing to all who come.

Bailey Rogers and family have moved from the funeral home to the E. W. Brooks house, which they have rented.

Ronnie Franzel has moved here to a Phillips rent house. He is new mechanic at the Ford house.

The Nance Laundromat, which has been in operation for the past eight years or so on the Sonora highway, closed this week, and the equipment was removed. It was operated by the Nances of Sonora.

Washington, D.C., America's leading Negro city, may soon have home rule. For 90 years the district government has been under the control of Congress. This has been on the theory that since the Capitol City belongs to all the American people, and since a major portion of land (54%) and buildings are federally owned, political control here should be in the hands of the Congress.

But the politicians with an eye on the Negro bloc, are pushing hard to turn the city's government over to the local populace. That goes for both Democrats and Republicans. President Johnson has just plugged hard for this.

Population shift in the city has been steady in recent years, with more Negroes moving in and whites moving out. Twenty-five years ago 28.4% of the people here were colored, 71.6% white. Today 58.2% are Negro. Among youngsters under 20, more than 70% are colored. There are 183,000 fewer whites in the district today than were here 15 years ago.

This upsurge of Negro residents has created many vexing problems. Crime in the district has jumped upward by 83% in the last 7 years, with 87% of all major crimes committed by the colored.

Ten thousand of them are on relief. Of the 4,529 illegitimate babies born in the district in 1963, 4,145 were Negro—one-fourth of all births in the district.

And the Nation's Capitol city has the highest venereal disease rate in the country.

Except for the vote angle, there would seem to be little reason to turn the city over to the local residents to operate. They already have the right to vote in Presidential elections. But the liberals, AD-A, and many politicians seem determined. The big push for home rule is now in full swing.

G. B. Hartgraves of Eldorado recently purchased 11 Aberdeen Angus bulls from Flying Anchor Ranch, also of Eldorado.

'65 CHEVROLET

These great performers are the lowest priced models at our One-Stop Shopping Center

Top to bottom: Chevy II 100, Corvair 500, Chevelle 300, Chevrolet Biscayne. All 2-door models.

Each of these beauties is the lowest priced in its line. But the ride doesn't show it. Or the interior. Or the performance.

That luxurious Biscayne is as roomy as many expensive cars, has color-keyed interiors, plush vinyls, fine fabrics, full deep-twist carpeting.

Chevelle, America's favorite intermediate-size car, has clean new styling, wide doors, roomy, tasteful interiors and Chevrolet easy-care features.

Chevy II got a lot smarter for '65—but stayed sensible! Still family-size, easy to handle, economical, and the lowest priced Chevrolet you can buy.

Or get a sporty rear-engine hardtop in a Corvair Sport Coupe or Sport Sedan for fun in the months ahead.

Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II are available with the Turbo-Thrift Six for fuel economy, quick warmups, quiet idling. It's light, efficient, smooth and spirited.

Corvair's air-cooled rear-mounted Turbo-Air Six delivers the best balance and traction for this size car.

So be practical. Only you will know. Because it sure won't show!
