Home Demonstration Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

The meeting on Medicare and other areas of Social Security was well attended last Thursday night. The official count there 96 and each person there was vitally interested in what the speakers had to say. Neil Tarvin and Jimmy Keen, both representatives from the San Angelo Social Security office, presented educational material to the group.

Questions and answers from the floor answered a lot of questions which many people had wondered about.

These are examples:

Q. When will we get our application blanks for Medicare?

A. Two or three in the audience got theirs on September 15 and 16. "They will be strung out for weeks to come; naturally they would not all be dumped on the post office at once," said Mr. Tarvin.

Q. How long do we have to make application for Medicare?

A. Until March 31, 1966.

Q. Should we let the insurance which we now carry drop?

A. No. Not until after July 1, 1966 on which date the new program begins, then decide.

Q. Will a man and his wife both need to apply and carry the Medicare policy?

A. Yes. Each individual must carry his own. There will be no joint policies.

Q. If a person has Medicare and other insurance policies, will they all pay?

A. Medicare will always pay regardless of how many other policies are carried.

Q. How will the $3.00 monthly payments be collected in case a person is not drawing Social Security benefits and there is no check for it to be deducted from?

A. There is no immediate answer—but something will have to be worked out. If everybody sent in $3.00 a month it would cost nearly all of it to receive and keep books on it.

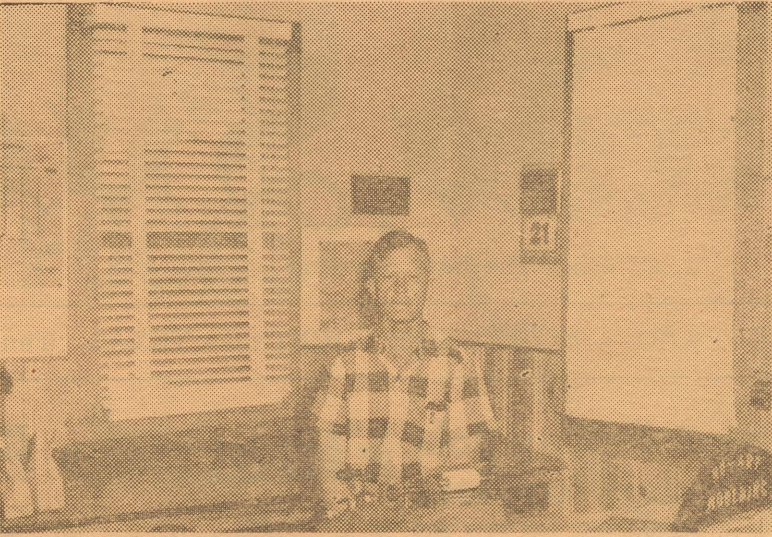

Q. As it stands today how many nursing homes now qualify as eligible to receive Medicare patients?

A. Not many—but updating of requirements is taking place now in many such institutions and it is hoped that many will qualify by July 1, 1966.

Sometimes I think we are getting carried away in this computer age of ours. To prove what I've said just read this paragraph which came from a new magazine.

"A recent newspaper report of a new appliance, a programmed cooker, described the appliance as one that can be programmed to cook the entire week's meals automatic-

Mace Completes 25 Years As Foxworth Manager; Events Of 1940 When He Came Are Recalled

Skeet Mace Shown In Office of local lumber yard

The following article, entitled "J. H. Mace Is New Manager Of Local Lumber Firm," appeared in the September 27, 1940, issue of the Eldorado Success:

"J. H. Mace has accepted a position as manager of the Eldorado yard of Foxworth-Galbraith lumber company and arrived here last Thursday to take over his duties. He succeeds Robert Page who recently resigned.

"Mr. Mace, former assistant manager of the Borger, Texas lumber yard, has moved his family here and located in the Graves house on Depot street. He has one daughter, Iretta Faye, 7 years old, who has enrolled in the first grade of the local school.

"Mr. Mace has been engaged in the lumber business for a number of years. He is a young business man, attended Clarendon college, near Amarillo and has a progressive record with the Foxworth-Galbraith firm.

"I certainly like the Eldorado country; the people are friendly and congenial," Mr. Mace stated when asked what he thought of his new home. "A person can really sleep well in this climate," he added.

"Alfred Dalinger, who has been employed as bookkeeper with the firm, will continue as assistant at the lumber company."

Thus the account of Mr. Mace's arrival in Eldorado. Other news of interest of that Fall of 1940 included:

Jones Motor Company was showing the new '41 Oldsmobile, with prices beginning at $852 for the Special Six Business Coupe. R. Ray McKinney was editor of the Robert Page opened his Eldorado Lumber Company in the building on South Main formerly occupied by the Ford agency. A sensational trial was about to get under way as Emelio Benavides was charged with the slaying of the four members of the Henry Calcott family.

Sam E. McKnight, 76, former Sutton county sheriff, died in San Antonio. Funeral services were held here for Nell Campbell, 24-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joab Campbell.

M. V. Williams was pastor of the Methodist church and N. P. Wilkinson was Presbyterian pastor.

E. H. Sweatt announced sale of his saddle shop to S. E. Etheredge.

Coach Squib Carruthers was looking forward to a busy football season for his Eagle team.

Returning lettermen were Joe Luckett, Wilson Page, S. E. Jones, Billy Green, and David Williams.

Barber, Robert Martin, Wilbur Clark, Douglas McSwane, W. A. Pointer, and J. W. Davis.

Jack Whitten sold his Ritz cafe lease to Granville Kerr.

Glenn and Edgar Russell opened a radio repair shop next to the Red and White store.

It was a political year, and the Republicans put up Wyndell Wilkie against Franklin D. Roosevelt, who ran for a third term and won.

Closer to home, the Democratic Primary was held in the summer, and Sheriff O. E. Conner sought re-election. He was opposed by Ben Hext, E. H. Sweatt, Bill McSwane, and Ovid Wade. Sweatt won in the run-off over McSwane.

William E. Davenport and O. C. Fisher were candidates for District Attorney and John H. Sutton and T. R. Johnson were running for District Judge. Charles L. South was Congressman.

Coulter's Man's Shop celebrated their first anniversary in business; Moser Chevrolet Company was advertising Good Year tires for $5.15 and $6.85.

Wedding write-ups included those of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shurgart, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turner Hext, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Isaacs, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Suttan.

Those were some of the news highlights of a quarter-century ago, as the late summer and early fall of 1940 came on.

ally. The main unit is a large freezer with various compartments—meat in one, vegetables in another, fruits in one, pastries in another, etc. The home maker would then push appropriate buttons to give the cooker instructions for the desired program of meals. At the proper cooking interval before a meal is required, the meat slides out of its compartment on to a conveyor belt, thence to an electronic oven. Potatoes, vegetables, pastries, etc., each follow the same procedure and by mealtime the dinner is on the table, piping hot and cooked to the homemaker's instructions.

Just imagine that! Can't you hear some poor wife giving a lame excuse a hungry husband as to why dinner isn't ready—"I forgot to punch the buttons."

It isn't actually to the button pushing stage yet but we are gaining all the time in the discovery and use of new utensils and new housekeeping techniques.

Elsie Short's release on the Teflon type cooking ware relates to the question.

Caring For Non-Stick Cooking Utensils
College Station.—The new non-stick cookware utensils are a joy to clean and use, says Mrs. Elsie P. Short, home management specialist, Texas A&M University.

All non-stick utensils should be conditioned the first time they are used by applying thin coat of cooking oil or shortening. If they appear dry from repeated use, an occasional oiling will improve them.

Non-stick utensils may become stained if high heat is used to fry foods. This causes fat spatters to burn on the surface of the pan. These stains can be easily removed by boiling one cup of water, one half cup of liquid laundry bleach, and two tablespoons of baking soda in the pan.

Mrs. Short says to wash the pan and treat it with cooking oil to recondition. This formula removes the stain and eliminates sticking, a common complaint after food has burned in the pan. Avoid extreme high heat, as this may crack the non-stick coating. And, Mrs. Short says, remember to use nylon coated, rubber, wood, all non-stick and plastic coated metal spoons and spatulas with non-stick coated cookware.

A friend of mine sent her last one in line off to college not long ago. I asked her how she felt to get up, have an unhurried breakfast, read the paper and have another cup of coffee in complete serenity.

"Guilty," was her short, descriptive answer.

A brother-in-law, Dr. Carson, was a guest at Mama's over this last week end. After a family Sunday dinner he lined us all up and gave everybody a flu shot. In an exaggerated attempt at politeness Mike Moore almost put Becky ahead of him. Somebody caught him and made Mike take his shot the very first of all. Mike said it didn't hurt any more at the head of the line than at the foot.

It seems that medical and health predictions are for cases of Type A and Type B flu to be epidemic for this winter. Arch says that unfortunately this is the 1918 type of flu.

Maybe you had better ask your doctor what he thinks about some protection for you.

Delegates To Austin Meeting
Miss Constance Spence, County Home Demonstration Council chairman, Mrs. Wayne Mikeska, Mrs. Sherrill Dannheim, and Mrs. Billy Jack Reynolds, delegates, are in Austin this week attending a state meeting of Home Demonstration Club women.

More than 1,000 women from all over the state will be in convention at the Stephen F. Austin hotel for a three-day session. Outstanding speakers and educators in the field of Homemaking education will be presented to the group on a variety of programs.

Key speakers will include Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, Chester Lauck, executive assistant with the Continental Oil Company; and Mrs. Maurine Amis of the Speech Department at the University of Texas.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Industrial development . . . successful achievement

Not long ago WTU published an ad about the $1,300,000 improvement program in the West Texas community of Stamford. As we stated then, it was done for the purpose of "improving the chances of continued economic growth and attraction of new industry." And . . . industry responded! Today a well-known maker of women's and girls' apparel and sportswear is thriving in Stamford, with an annual payroll approaching $300,000. Selling its products all over the Nation, Stamford's new industry has almost tripled its employment in 18 months. In actual fact, here is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS . . . a picture of successful achievement. Growth-conscious towns are invited to contact their local WTU manager for assistance from our area development representatives.

B's Whip Menard

The Eagle "B" team gave their morale a tremendous boost last Thursday night when they gave Menard a 28-0 shellacking. Everything had improved since last week's game as the Eagles had 314 total yards as compared to only 105 last week.
 Pat Childers scored three touchdowns, gained 178 yards rushing on 7 carries, caught one pass for 15 yards, kicked 2 extra points and returned a kick-off 15 yards. Pat now has a two game total of 25 points.
 Another touchdown was scored by halfback Pinky Dempsey in the second half. Another highlight was a blocked punt by Kirk Jones who also trapped a Menard boy behind his own goal for a safety and 2 points.
 The defensive unit did an excellent job as Jimmy McGinnes and Mickey Pennington were credited with 7 tackles. Mickey also recovered a fumble. Jim Mann, Allan Corbell and David Nixon had 5 each while Dempsey, Gibson, Jones and Torres each had 3. David Lloyd had 2. Lonnie Gibson was outstanding on defense as he intercepted 3 passes. Ball carriers in addition to Pat were Pinky Dempsey with 51 yards rushing on 14 carries, one touchdown, and one pass caught for 24 yards. Lonnie Gibson gained 21 yards on 5 carries, Steve Whitten 6 yards on 1 attempt, and Jim Mann 4 yards on one carry. Buff Whitten, the quarterback, had 15 yards on 7 carries, completed 2 of 5 passes for 39 yards.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN
 by Tiny Godwin
Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Incorporation of crop residue into the soil by deep plowing is an effective means of preventing a carry-over of disease causing organisms.
 Plowing under large amounts of organic matter has substantially reduced losses from cotton root rot. Many cotton producers have found this practice works well where a three-year crop rotation is used. A cotton-grain sorghum-small grain rotation gives a grower the opportunity to deep plow after the sorghum or small grain crops are harvested, or both.

Many disease-causing organisms live on, or in association with crop residue. The organism may be relatively inactive during the winter months, but when favorable growing conditions occur in the spring and summer, reproduction and development occur rapidly.
 Other disease organisms which affect cotton can also be carried over from year to year in the soil. These include the bacterium which causes angular leaf spot or bacterial blight and fungi which cause seedling diseases. Diseases from both of these organism types will be lessened by burying the organic matter as deep in the ground as practical.

The hardest part of putting something away for a rainy day is finding a clear day to do it.
 September and October are good months to collect and have tests made of soil samples for fall crops. A soil test is a good source of information on which to start planning a crop production program, and important to farmers who plan to apply fertilizer prior to or when crops are planted.
 Collecting a representative sample, providing a complete history of past practices and indicating yield goals for crops to be planted next, are essential requirements for obtaining reliable soil testing information.
 For small grains, it is especially important to indicate on the information sheet whether or not the crop will be grazed, harvested for grain or a combination of both.
 The instructions for sampling should be studied and followed as closely as possible. Since both the

'B' and Jr. Teams to Sonora Tonight

Tonight (Thurs.) the Eagle "B" team and the Jr. High team travel to Sonora. The Jr. game starts at 5:00 p.m., to be followed at 6:00 by the "B" game.
 The Eagle "B" team will be going to Sonora in hopes of avenging a 14-6 loss two weeks ago. The Eagles will be in better shape to come up with a win as a group of relatively inexperienced boys have had two games to mellow. They won convincingly over Menard last week and always like to whip Sonora.
 A transfer from Ft. Stockton, Weldon Green, 5' 11", 190 lbs. will add some weight to the forward wall.
 Probable starters will be:
 LE—Chris Faulk
 LT—Mickey Pennington
 LG—Albert Torres
 C—Jimmy Robledo
 RG—David Lloyd
 RT—Allan Corbell
 RE—David Nixon
 QB—Buff Whitten
 LH—Pinky Dempsey
 RH—Lonnie Gibson
 FB—Pat Childers
 Defensive specialists will be Jimmy Mann and Kirk Jones and Jimmy McGinnes.
 Also seeing action will be Ray Lewis Lozano, Steve Whitten, and Ross Whitten.

Fred and Flora Riley returned this week from the Texas Coast where they spent several days visiting and fishing. Fred was showing a baseball he caught while watching the game between the San Francisco Giants and the Houston Astros. The game was played in the Astrodome.

The cost of keeping a beef cow on the range in Edwards Plateau for 12 months will average about $89.60. The cost broken down in the following items will average as follows, per item:
 Miscellaneous costs, taxes, dues, fees$4.00
 Vet and medicine2.25
 Salt and mineral75
 Protein5.40
 Land charge32.50
 Hay8.00

 Depreciation5.95
 Interest, operation exp.1.95
 Interest on breeding10.90
 Replacement cost5.40

This does not include labor and management, as these charges will vary greatly depending greatly from county to county. Any returns above cost would be returned to labor and management. A drop of 10% in calf crop will reduce by two-thirds the returns to management and labor. Cost and return figures emphasize the importance of a high calf crop per cent and high poundage of saleable product.

Double-row planted grain sorghums, centering two, 12-inch rows on a 40-inch base have out produced single row plantings for the last 7 years at the Livestock and Forage Center, McGregor, Texas, by 25%.
 The same amount of seed are planted as in the single row.
 The advantages of double-row are: (1) A narrow-row type planting can still be planted & cultivated with conventional equipment, (2) Increased yield over single row planting, (3) Planting in double rows conserves moisture since the ground between rows is shaded more, and (4) The same amount of seed is spread in two rows instead of one.

Miss Linda Gayle Woodward Bride Of Mr. Gerlach In Church Of Christ Ceremony

MRS. JOHN DANIEL GERLACH

In a ceremony Saturday evening in the Church of Christ here in Eldorado, Miss Linda Gayle Woodward became the bride of Airman I.C. John Daniel Gerlach of Good-fellow Air Force Base and Wadena, Minnesota. Reuben Stanley of San Angelo, Church of Christ minister, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack H. Woodward of Eldorado. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Daniel C. Gerlach of Wadena and the late Mr. Gerlach.

A Capella musical selections were presented by Miss Margaret Early, soloist, of San Angelo, accompanied by Miss Jane Redfield and Miss Linda Bickly of San Angelo, Larry Calihan of Columbus, Ohio, and Robert Neil of Fayetteville, West Virginia.

Selections presented were, "Whither Thou Goest", "One Hand, One Heart", from West Side Story, and "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee" from the third movement, Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

The bride wore a formal gown of white velvet, with fitted bodice in modified empire length, seemingly fitted skirt with back fullness falling into short chapel train, and long fitted sleeves. Her head-dress was a velvet bow with attached elbow length veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and roses.

The white carpet was rolled out by J. W. Hawkins of Eldorado and Kenneth Grant of San Angelo.

Mrs. William H. Webb Jr. of San Angelo, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Carl W. Mau Jr. and Mrs. James Salvato, both of San Angelo and Miss Judy Gerlach of Wadena, sister of the bridegroom. Kathy Grant of San Angelo and Suzanna Woodward, sister of the bride, were junior bridesmaid and flower girl.

Airman I.C. Coy L. Williamson of Seagrave, N.C., was best man. Groomsmen included Airman I.C. William H. Webb Jr., and Airman

I.C. Carl W. Mau Jr., both of San Angelo, and Airman I.C. Richard Schilare of Sayreville, N. J. Roy Mack Hawkins of Eldorado was junior groomsman. Stephen Grant of San Angelo and James Gerlach of Wadena, brother of the bridegroom, lighted candles. Jerome Gerlach of Wadena, brother of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

The matron of honor wore a formal gown of garnet velvet with modified bell skirt falling from a long empire waist, elbow length sleeves, and her matching head-piece was of velvet and illusion. She also wore white gloves, matching shoes, and carried a bouquet of white fall flowers.

Bridesmaids were dressed in garnet velvet of similar design to the matron of honor.

The reception was held in the Memorial Building where the music was provided by Miss Becky Hallmark of San Angelo.

The couple will live at 1821 S. Pierce in San Angelo after a trip to East Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Eldorado High school and attended Abilene Christian College. She is employed in San Angelo. The bridegroom, a graduate of Wadena, Minnesota, High School, attended North Dakota State University.

Out of town guests who were here for the wedding included: Mrs. Gerlach, Judy, James, and Jerome of Wadena, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parrent, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Parrent, Dallas; Mrs. Jim Parrent, Altus, Okla.; Mrs. James Clubb and Mrs. Floyd Hart, Electra; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Billy W. Taylor, Sonora; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Deal, Mertzon;

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Grossahans, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Pat McAlpine and Mike, and Miss Carol Wilkinson, all of San Angelo; Mrs. Gerald Nolen, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Crain, and Jim, of San Angelo.

Still Battling For Bracero Program

By O. C. Fisher

The Bracero Program, of importance to Texas and other border farmers and ranchmen, almost revived last week when the Senate came within ONE vote of transferring it from the Labor Department to the Department of Agriculture. In fact, the Senate voted 45 to 45, and Vice President Humphrey then broke the tie by voting to keep it in Labor.

For years Texas farmers and ranchmen were forced to contract Mexican workers because of the scarcity of local labor. The program worked very well for about 10 years. The law which permitted this contracting prohibited any contracting in any county until the Secretary of Labor found that local domestic labor was not available. The law further provided that no bracero could be paid less than the prevailing wages in the community where he would work.

But AFL-CIO, which for all intents and purposes operates the Labor Department, decided the contracting interfered with their plans for organizing farm and ranch workers and also prevented them from jacking up such wages. And they declared war on the bracero program, and finally forced the repeal of the law.

But under the Immigration law it was still possible to contract agricultural workers. AFL-CIO, however, has fought it, and the Labor Department followed suit.

Then last week, the Senate Agriculture Committee wrote a provision into the farm bill, transferring jurisdiction over imported farm labor to the Department of Agriculture. Texas farmers and ranchmen have been trying to get this done for years. But the provision was stricken out by a one-vote margin—with one Texas Senator voting to transfer the program to USDA, and the other cast the decisive vote to keep it in Labor.

Edward Aldwell To Give Carnegie Hall Recital

Edward Aldwell, concert pianist, will be presented by Norman J. Seaman at the Carnegie Recital Hall, New York City, September 28. Aldwell will give his rendition of Bach's "The Well-Tempered Clavier, Book I."

Born in Portland, Oregon, the son of the Rev. Lea Roy Aldwell, Aldwell received his early training in Texas and at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. Since 1957 he has studied with Adele Marcus on scholarship at the Juillard School of Music.

Upon graduating from Juillard with a Master of Science degree he was awarded the Marie Dring Prize which has enabled him to concentrate his studies on the keyboard works of J. S. Bach for the past two years. The recipient of many prizes, including the Eric Sorantin award, Aldwell has concertized throughout Texas, Oregon, Ohio, and New York area in addition to making many radio and television appearances. —Devil's River News, Sonora.

After Trailing Entire Game . . .

Eagles Beat Junction In Final Seconds

The Eldorado Eagles won their conference football play last Friday night in a nerve-wracking 12-8 win over Junction.

Feature of the fracas was the fact that the Eldorado lads trailed 42 of the 48 minutes of the game—from midway in the first quarter until about 18 seconds before the final horn. In fact, many of their strongly partisan fans had left the stands in despair without seeing the dramatic finale. A sprinkle of rain had something to do with their leaving also.

It is worth the term "feature" when a group of kids from 15 to 18 years old never gives up and comes from behind to win in spite of the usual torpor of impending defeat and after suffering disaster after disaster to their developing offensive drives in the third and fourth quarter in search of the vital touchdowns. The last minute of determined play is worthy of commendation. The team that "never gives up" is worthy of praise and this should not be forgotten.

The slow-moving fireworks took place in the first quarter. Junction won the toss and elected to receive. They ran the kickoff to the 28-yard line and then launched a relentless 72-yard march that took six consecutive first downs before they drove over for six points. Then they added a greater threat by running the try for extra point for two points. This took place with five minutes and 45 seconds showing on the clock.

Eldorado's shocked lads faltered and sputtered back into the contest, losing the ball after receiving Junction's kickoff and after taking a first down. Charles Nixon kicked out of trouble and Junction took over on their own 20. The Eldorado defense stiffened and forced Junction into a punting situation but better than that prevented the Junction lad from getting his kick away. Eldorado stalwart Donald Rogers captured the ball on the Junction 11-yard line.

Then the Eldorado lads rose up with Fullback Charles Nixon ramming for five yards, Jay Halbert adding two more on the second play, and then Captain Sam Henderson sped the remaining four yards for the touchdown.

This score took place 59 seconds before the end of the first quarter.

Eldorado tried to duplicate Junction's two extra points and tie up the game but the Junction line vetoed the idea and the first quarter ended 8-6 for Junction.

The half ended with Junction still in their 8-6 position and Eldorado fans sat back uneasily to watch Junction band and marching squad in their beautiful uniforms, and then to enjoy Bandmaster Eddie Pace's superb Eagle band go through its precise movements.

The third quarter saw Junction tenaciously hold their 8-6 advantage and Eldorado fans began to squirm. It is true that the big Eldorado line and the defensive effort began to sputter into life. But disasters and penalties dogged the offensive efforts.

The fourth quarter wore terribly thin with the scoreboard shining wickedly 8-6. A minute or two before the final horn, a light sprinkle sent many sorrowful fans to the exits.

Junction's lads had the ball and were taking their time to run out the clock. They drew a penalty for delay of the game and a sullen Eldorado defense forced Junction to attempt a kick out from their own 12-yard line.

At this point Captain Jim Belk broke through a desperate Junction line and blocked the kick. Captain Scott McGregor grabbing desperately for it dribbled it towards the Junction goal but could not get possession; so Fullback Charles Nixon fell on the precious ball within Junction's one-yard line. Seconds later, Captain Scott McGregor crossed the Junction goal line; and the lead changed 12-8 for Eldorado. Again, the Eldorado try for a double extra point failed. The game ended before Eldorado could kickoff again.

This sudden and astounding change in the fortunes of the game occurred in the final 28 seconds of the contest and left the Junction Eagles and their fans in a state of incredulous shock.

The contest saw many lads developing attitudes which are necessary to win in the current season. Captain Belk racked up 12 unassisted tackles; John Mayo, 9; Captain McGregor, 7; Chris McCravy, 5; and Captain Henderson, 3.

Donald Rogers captured a vital fumble. Jay Halbert captured one also as did Charles Nixon with his invaluable grab which led to the win.

Captain Sam Henderson received a cut on his right cheek when he scored in the waning seconds of the first quarter—about 25 small stitches worth.

Gary Derrick and Donald Rogers distinguished themselves by offensive blocking somewhat irregularly but effectively at times also.

Game statistics show that the game was a very close one.

Constitution Week Observed By D. A. R.

The El Dorado Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the Memorial Building September 16th, where Mrs. Elizabeth Rae Powell led the chapter in honoring the writing of the Constitution of the United States.

Constitution Week, September 17-25, was announced by Mrs. Ernest C. Hill, calling attention to the proclamation issued by Mayor Eldon T. Calk and published in the Eldorado Success. Mrs. V. G. Tisdale was the leader of the program and led the chapter in giving the D.A.R. Creed.

Mrs. Luke Thompson presided at the meeting which elected two new members into the N.S.D.A.R. through the El Dorado Chapter, their being Mrs. Fred Chandler of Ozona and Mrs. Mary Alma Johnson of Sonora.

The regent invited Mrs. Powell to introduce a guest from Fort Worth, Mrs. H. W. Stallcup.

As at every D.A.R. chapter meeting the regent read the monthly letter from the President General N.S.D.A.R. and the Defense Report was given by Mrs. Ernest C. Hill.

The hostesses, Mrs. Frank Meador, Mrs. J. E. Hill, Mrs. W. N. Ramsay, and Mrs. V. G. Tisdale, invited the members to a beautifully appointed tea table to be served with home made cookies, mints, and punch. Mrs. Luke Thompson presided at the punch bowl.

The regent's table and the tea table were both beautifully decorated with artistic arrangements of forgeous fall mums.

On invitation, the El Dorado Chapter, D.A.R., will meet in the home of Mrs. Ernest C. Hill.

LOGANS' FAMILY VISITS

James Logan of Andrews was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Logan one day last week and brought his mother home from the Clinic Hospital in San Angelo. The Logans' daughter, Mrs. Rony Kerr and children of San Antonio also visited several days. Rony came after them during the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Sudduth and children, Lori and Amy, of San Angelo, visited last Saturday.

Others visiting them and Mrs. E. E. Newlin and other relatives were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cooper of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. E. Newlin from San Angelo.

W.M.S. OFFICERS INSTALLED

W. M. S. members met Monday, Sept. 20 at 2:30 p.m. for Bible study and installation of officers. President Dorothy Ratliff presided over a short business meeting.

In the absence of Mary Robinson, Bible study chairman, Rev. Kenneth Vaughan taught the book of Deuteronomy.

Gladys Mittel installed the new officers for the coming year using "The Chain" as her theme.

Guest Editorial

The unusual project of recharging the Edwards limestone aquifer which was recommended by the Board of Engineers to the Rivers and Harbors Committee of Congress last Saturday should be regarded with utmost caution by the landowners of Schleicher county, and particularly by the irrigation farmers of the area.

If the state of Texas and the Federal Government plan to spend 84 millions of dollars in the building of dams and the drilling of injection wells to increase the flow of underground water to such cities as San Antonio, San Marcos, New Braunfels and Uvalde, they are most certainly going to try to have control of all underground water rights in the aquifer.

Inasmuch as the pending Schleicher county water district cannot come into existence until the positive boundaries of this aquifer have been defined and all overlying areas had a right to participate and belong to our proposed district regardless of what county they might be in, it is imperative that the Commissioners Court and as many of our landowners as possible be represented at the pending hearings in Austin to insure that control of our under-water remains in the hands of the landowners of the overlying area.
