Petition Protests Changing Of Name

A petition with 43 names was delivered last week to the City Secretary protesting changing the name Eldorado to El Dorado.

The protest came in answer to a resolution passed by the Aldermen in March asking for the Spanish spelling.

It was pointed out at that time that the City's resolution would reflect the sentiment of the city as a whole, provided there was no formal objection.

The new petition constitutes a formal objection, and as far as the Mayor and Aldermen are concerned "that's it." Mayor Calk said it would be up to civic organizations if they wanted to go into the matter further.

Going into the matter further would be circulating a petition calling for a special city election, and it is not likely that any group would care to go that far.

In the meantime it is pointed out local citizens can use the "El Dorado" spelling if they want to and it won't make any difference.

State-Wide Jump Meet Set For May

Ben Keel reported yesterday that an invitational parachute jump has been scheduled in Eldorado for May 29 and 30. According to Keel, it will be a state-wide meet and is being sponsored by the Eldorado American Legion.

Included in the two-day event will be a display of new aircraft by Beech, Piper, Cessna and Mooney.

Further details will be reported in coming issues of the Success.

Livestock Asked For West Texas Boys Ranch

A drive for livestock is under way over the area again this Spring for West Texas Boys Ranch at Tankersley.

Local wagon boss is Lawrence Dannheim, who is employed at the Hartgraves yard. The drive is to begin this Monday and any rancher with stock to donate should call Mr. Dannheim for further information. His number is 853-2894.

Special Legion Meeting Set For Monday Night

A special meeting of the Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion has been called for Monday night at 7:30 in the meeting room of the Memorial Building.

Sponsoring of a three-day parachute jump to be held here late in May, and the summer Little League program, are on the agenda for discussion and action.

Elton McGinnes is commander.

School News

With less than six weeks remaining in this school year, a number of events are coming up for the Seniors, other high school students and grade school pupils.

This Saturday night, the Juniors will honor the Seniors with the traditional Junior-Senior banquet in the Memorial Building. Eddie Pace and Mike Nelson are faculty sponsors of the Juniors, and Martha Sue Page is class president. They will have a committee at work this week decorating the building for the big event Saturday.

Monday night, the Baptists will give the Seniors a banquet. This is a traditional event given by the church.

Other events coming up Saturday will include the district track meet at Ozona, and the wool and mohair judging contest at Angelo State College.

Mrs. Mort Mertz will be chairman of the pre-school round-up to be held later in this month of April. Pupils who will enter the first grade this coming fall will attend.

Curtis Humphries, elementary principal, announces that a "Peticoat Preakness" track meet for 4th, 5th, and 6th grade girls will be held April 28th. Mrs. Shannon Harber will be in charge.

Mr. Humphries also reported that the end-of-school picnics for the elementary grades will start the first week in May.

Everything here is fine; lots of flowers in bloom and the trees are all busting out all over and the dogwood trees are in bloom. But we are having some cool snaps once in a while. Folks are planting the gardens and women are working in the yards. We hope all our dear friends out that way are fine. Find enclosed check for another year's subscription. — Your good friend, Carl Farrar." —ps—

The Success is pleased to have a report on the Houston trip by one of the members who went along. From all reports they had a whale of a time, and now they are after Jack Jones to work up another trip of the same kind. It will probably be football the next time.

The funny thing is that those who made the trip now consider themselves as "charter members." The order they give to Jack is: "When you work up another trip, remember you gotta give us first chance!" —ps—

In the last four months my house has undergone a complete going-over. Things I didn't know I had were dragged out of clothes closets, unused bedding was examined, mended, aired out on the line, moth-proofed and put away again. Copper-bottom utensils were given the works until they glistened; the kitchen range shined up like a tower of jewels, and everything put away like an efficient housewife wants them to be.

Furniture and floors were waxed and polished, new curtains put up—and every nook and corner got the eagle-eye treatment.

And that's the way everything was at 5:00 o'clock Monday morning when I left out with my sister for Angelo where she boarded the plane and returned to her home in Minnesota after spending the winter here.

Now it seems like I've got something to live up to and it will probably pose some problems. What about that brand-new canary-colored bath mat—I just can't step on THAT and soil it. But that's easier to solve; there are plenty of old ones so I won't have to use the new one.

I'm afraid to use the broiler on the range for I know it will get the oven all splattered up again. There are other things I'll have to get used to until in time I finally get back to that old comfortable disarray I used to have.

The Success is printing the ballots for the May 7 Primary election later this week, and absentee voting will start Monday in the County Clerk's office.

Sample ballots will be available at the Success office.

One day in 1917, a man took a pair of shoes to a cobbler to be half-soled. The next day, he was inducted into the army, went overseas, won the war, came home, married, raised seven children, survived the great depression, served in World War II, weathered inflation: taxes, and in 1963 decided to retire.

He sold his house and, as he and his wife were cleaning out the attic, he found the suit he was wearing the day he was drafted for World War I. In the pocket was the ticket for the pair of shoes he had forgotten.

The next day, he went to the address on the ticket, and, to his surprise, the shop was still there.

He went inside and handed the ticket to the girl at the counter. She stared at it, then took it to a wizened little man in the rear of the shop.

He looked at the ticket quizzically, then came to the front of the store.

"This your ticket?" he asked. The customer nodded.

"These your shoes?" another nod.

The old man looked at the ticket again.

"Okay," he said, "they'll be ready tomorrow."

WE'VE BEEN TO THE ASTRODOME !!

(By One Of The Crowd)

We're just dying to tell you about our trip to the Astrodome, and we are so glad you asked! We just knew you'd want to know, so here goes:—

First off, I missed an extra night's sleep on account of the plans of a local soda jerk and my husband trying to plan some way that they could get off to the ball game without their respective spouses. I was afraid to go to sleep that last night at home lest I'd be knocked in the head and wake up dead and find that they'd gone on without me and I'd miss the trip. So I stayed awake most of that last night to keep guard.

We met the bus at about 5:45, loaded out and were on our way about 6:00 a.m. One of the tardier passengers was our mascot whose picture appeared in Friday's Standard-Times. She came decked out in her baseball suit, complete with cap, baseball shoes and bat. What did it matter that when dressing in the dark around 4:00 a.m., she got the athletic socks on wrong side out and manged to arrive at this real nice hotel with the frazzled hems of the socks fluttering all over. Then when she got to the coffee shop of this establishment, she got hemmed in behind a big circular table, and when Norm Cash unexpectedly arrived, there was no way to get out to run and greet him except to step up on her chair, over the table and over to greet him. For some reason, he seemed to be somewhat embarrassed by her greeting that informed everyone present that she was one of his fans from his home town. Along about this time she managed to come up with most of the autographs on her cap from the Tigers and also the Minnesota Twins who were in the process of checking into the hotel in preparation for later games. By the way, all children received 5 Little League Bats and managed to get all autographs of Tigers, Twins, and some Astros. Ken Rosford managed to be introduced as a Minn. Twin and our mascot has his autograph also.

A few of the heavy coffee drinkers had been very apprehensive of the idea of being on a bus for so long a time knowing that the bus had no rest-room facilities. Our local banker's wife has a very thoughtful son-in-law who kept that from being much of a problem. As we rode along, a beautifully wrapped gift package was presented to her, and she proceeded to open it with great anticipation. Her son-in-law had given her a lovely white enamel receptacle of another era, complete with bail and lid. It came in quite handy during the next couple of days, and I'm sure the donor never realized to what practical purposes we'd put it. Besides the normal use for which it was intended, it makes a dandy water bucket, and along with a squashed second-hand paper cup, we could water out the entire 41 passengers on the bus in record time. The surplus drinking water was easily disposed of in front of any handy cafe at which we could stop. The accompanying bangs and clanks that we heard as the lid or the receptacle was purposely dropped caused us to notice some surprised looks on the faces of other in-coming or out-going patrons of that particular cafe. Later, we were privileged to utilize the well-chosen gift to carry our left-over food from our hurried meals. These conveniently-kept meals could be eaten in leisure after we again boarded the bus and were on our way once more.

There were 41 passengers on the bus including the 5 children who slept through many of the laughs, tours, and foolishness. Our first bit of refreshment was bubble gum and candy, provided by the mascot. On our return trip, our obliging bus driver managed to stop in mid-street—piling up a 10-car traffic jam while Easter eggs were purchased so that we could have our annual egg-hunt on the bus. Nothing seemed too good for the passengers on this driver's run. He was so very considerate and tried to grant every wish.

We had some 4 or 5 unattached ladies as well as 3 or 4 men without mates. During one peaceful moment, one of our local tailors, whose hair is getting rather sparse on top, managed to be seated beside a temporarily unattached lady, and they were both taking a much-needed siesta. A gossipy passenger quickly wrote up a news flash and passed it along to some more wide awake riders. The note was to the effect that those two were actually to be seen taking a nap together. The ensuing hilarity became so noticeable that the innocent victims were rudely awakened.

Boys Ranch Round-Up Under Way This Month

The 1966 West Texas Boys Ranch Annual Round-Up gets under way this month in all the counties served by the Ranch. With 66 boys presently in residence, approximately 20 boys in PAR (Placement Away from Ranch supervision) and a new dormitory under construction, the Ranch will be serving well over 100 boys before the 1966 Round-Up is over. 1966 Round-Up Chairman, Roddy Peebles, has scheduled a staggered emphasis on livestock this year in order to take advantage of seasonal movement of stock to market.

Livestock Commission Companies in almost every county participate in the West Texas Boys Ranch Round-Up, or you can contact your nearest Wagon Boss. The West Texas Boys Ranch Wagon Boss for Schleicher county is Lawrence Dannheim. Charlie Trigg of Eldorado is a director of West Texas Boys Ranch.

We were very glad to have with us Dr. and Mrs. Tom White from Sonora and also her nephew, Jack Adkins.

We hereby give our deputy sheriff a vote of thanks for handling all the tedious details of the trip. We can't recall a single flaw in his arrangements. Also our thanks to our bus driver for our safe and pleasant journey, which we'll remember for many a day. Even though the Tigers lost both games by a small margin, we still think they're great, and enjoyed every single minute and wish we could go on the very next tour. Honestly, folks, we had a ball and we hope that other tours can be arranged and that all of you can plan to see the Astrodome too. All of us who went on the tour feel we should have priority for tickets on the next tour.

Wool Fabrics Could Reduce Fire Hazard In Automobiles

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Improvement in safety features of automobiles has at last been given some official recognition. The U. S. Senate recently held hearings on the subject, and some good may come out of it. The Senate passed a bill the other day to require certain safety qualities in automobile tires that move in interstate commerce. And other legislation may follow. It is claimed many thousands of lives can be saved each year by use of safer tires.

Another safety factor relates to upholstery fabrics in both automobiles and airplanes. The National Fire Protection Association figures for 1964 show that fire occurred in about 400,000 automobiles in that year with a dollar loss of over $37 million, and, of course, many deaths.

There can be no question but that wool and mohair upholsteries in both autos and airplanes would save many lives. The synthetics are highly flammable, whereas both wool and mohair are flame resistant. Every airplane is equipped with blankets for each passenger.

I have urged the Federal Aviation Agency—which writes the safety requirements for commercial planes—to do something about this fire hazard. A recent letter to me from George S. Moore, director of FAA's Flight Standards Service, states that accelerated research is to include flammability and combustible characteristics of the interior of aircraft. Fabrics using wool fibers are included in these test programs, the letter assured me.

What applies to airplanes also applies to all modes of transportation where there is a fire hazard. Now that official notice is being given to means of reducing the extremely heavy losses occasioned by fire, it is believed the manufacturers will give more attention to the safety qualities of wool and mohair in carpets, upholsteries, blankets, and other fabrics.

William Sauer of Van Horn made a business trip to Ballinger early this week, and Monday visited here with relatives. He left Tuesday to return to Van Horn.

Methodist Notes

Rev. D. G. Salter will leave Sunday for Coronado, California, to begin two weeks' active duty with the Navy. Dist. Supt. Kermit Gibbons will preach here that day.

Young people who joined the church recently were Carolyn June Holley, Kenneth Charles Peters, Robert William Parker, and Michael Gene Salter.

Over $3,300 is now in the building fund, to be used for the future extension to the educational building.

Tuesday, the W.S.C.S. district meeting was held at Day Memorial Methodist church in San Angelo. Several from here attended. On Friday, an all-day Vacation Church School workshop will be held at First Methodist church in San Angelo.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship district meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, at Sterling City.

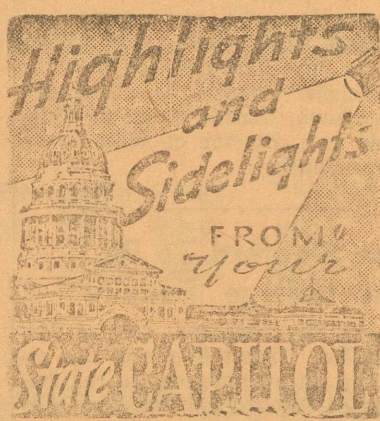

Last Sunday, flowers were placed in the church sanctuary by Mrs. Keno Ogden, in memory of Mrs. McClatchy, and by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Godwin, in memory of their daughter, Martha Anne.

Mrs. Salter and children spent the Easter holidays in Sulphur Springs with her parents, who had undergone medical treatment recently.

New Student Council Officers Were Elected Recently

Austin.—Texas school teachers are planning a big push for another pay raise.

This time it will be for a $500-a-year increase with a built-in adjustment to keep their salary level equal to the national average.

They will try to sell the 1967 Legislature on this plan—on the heels of a $100-million raise voted them in 1965.

Legislative candidates already have been polled by the Texas State Teachers Association. More than half the 415 candidates responded to the TSTA questionnaire on salary increases, retirement benefits and a statewide sick leave program. Of the 212 who responded, three-fourths reportedly favor the salary plan which would move the teachers to the national average next year and set up machinery "to keep them there automatically without a biennial bloodletting legislative fight." Support was said to be almost identical for retirement and sick leave propositions.

TSTA's salary proposal calls for adjusting the base pay at the beginning of each biennium to insure that it remains at the nationwide average. This likely will mean increases in teacher pay every two years since the "average" will automatically rise with each Texas hike in pay.

Minimum salary for beginning teachers today, in Texas, is $4,104. Average is $5,950. Texas now ranks 29th in the nation in teacher pay—or four states below the average.

Gov. John Connally reminds that a blue ribbon study committee is at work on a long-range survey of school needs. He also points to possible need for overhauling of school finance formulas.

Connally is a firm believer in local districts financing a greater share of the cost of education. He remains uncommitted to any specific program, and cautiously observes that he must consider overall state needs in making recommendations that would necessarily require new taxes.

A 3c per pack increase in cigarette taxes took care of last year's teacher pay raise.

That's All For Now

There will be no more free-voter registration periods for Texans this year.

A three-judge federal court in Austin refused a U. S. Justice Department request to reopen registration during April 8-19 and Aug. 22-October 8. Decision was made final, as was the February 9 order declaring the poll tax an unconstitutional voting requirement for future elections.

Acknowledging that the March 3-17 free sign-up period for 1966 elections, as provided by the new state registration law enacted last February, was "extremely short," the court nevertheless found it "afforded reasonable opportunities to register."

"The United States," proclaimed the judge, "has not demonstrated that this court should undertake to substitute its judgment for legislative action."

More than 2,900,000 Texas adults now are registered to vote in the 1966 elections. This includes the 635,600 signed up during the March period. About 2,000,000 adults have not qualified as voters.

As for the registration itself, Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. Stephen Polak said the FBI found no evidence of racial discrimination during the 15-day period for free registration, and county tax collectors, who served as registrars, did a good job in the brief time allowed them.

Texas' Attorney General, Waggoner Carr, maintained that if the request for two additional registration periods had been granted, the next move would have been to require more than one day for elec-

Courts Speak

On May 11 the Court of Criminal Appeals will hear the motion for a new trial for Jack Ruby, who was convicted of murdering presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Ruby's attorneys are seeking to disqualify Dist. Judge Joe Brown of Dallas on grounds he agreed to write a book about the celebrated trial in which Ruby was given the death penalty.

State Supreme Court says the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals must decide if $3,250 in damages against an Amarillo loan company is excessive. In the case in question the firm recovered money from a divorcee after a loan to her and her ex-husband already had been settled. High court found evidence to support the trial-jury finding of malice on the part of the company.

Appointments

Wales Madden, Amarillo attorney, is the new member of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. He succeeds the late Kermit Kyche fo Alvin. Committee is making a three-year study of school needs.

Connally also picked Dr. Sterling H. Pruitt Sr. of Fort Worth for the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He reappointed Dr. Harvey H. Kennedy of Longview and Dr. Walter H. Fischer of Temple to the same board.

Governor chose William H. Gardner, Austin newsman, to serve as the citizen member on the Committee for restoration of the Flag of Santa Anna.

Named to the Texas Surplus Property Agency were Ed Redel, Jess M. Irwin Jr. and C. O. Layne, all of Austin; the Rev. Edward Maher Jr. of Dallas; Bill Bitner of Centerville; C. A. Roberson of Odessa; Carl Parker of Sherman; Garland Ferguson of Union Grove; and Grady Hester of Terrell. This agency administers the transfer of federal surplus property to state agencies. Riedel has served as chairman for several years. Layne, Bitner and Roberson also have previous service.

House Speaker Ben Barnes announced these appointments: Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon and

Attorney General Speaks

Governor Connally's Committee on Aging may contract with religious institutions for performance of certain services under the state law implementing the federal Older Americans Act of 1965, says Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

In other recent opinions, Carr concluded: —Names of Texans who registered to vote free last month can be placed in jury service this year.

—New Code of Criminal Procedure would not prevent prosecution for failure to appear in a traffic violation.

—Responsibility for the operation costs of Harris County Convalescent Ward now rests with Harris County Hospital District.

—A new owner of a barber school or college cannot be required to bring the school up to minimum standards. He need only notify the state of the transfer. But the license or permit of the school may be revoked or suspended if the school violates the requirements of another section of the law.

—A barber school or college changing to a new location must obtain the approval of the State Board of Barber Examiners on the building and the equipment located in that building.

—A defendant who enters a plea of no contest and is declared guilty and fined, but doesn't receive a jail sentence and pays his fine and court costs, still is on probation until the probation is revoked. It is necessary for the court to revoke probation before a final judgment of guilty can be entered.

—Where a search warrant is issued for a stolen object and a different stolen object not specifically named in the warrant is discovered, it may be legally seized, made the basis for a theft charge and introduced as evidence.

Draft Study Expanded

State Board of Education has ordered expansion of its study of why so many young Texans are rejected by the draft boards for medical reasons.

Study will be pushed by 28 workers in nine offices over the state.

Board in recent meeting here also authorized changes in vocational rehabilitation plans, increased available school fund aid from $80.65 per student to $83, and approved federally-financed coordination of migrant school programs in several states.

Special training programs for migrant school teachers will be operated at Texas A&I College in Kingsville and Pan American College in Edinburg.

Sadler Clears Park Stand

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler denied allegations by U. S. Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall that he opposes creation of Guadalupe Mountain National Park.

Sadler said he favors the park but insists Texas must be able to retain mineral interest owned in some 45,000 acres. Added the commissioner: "I see no reason why the Department of Interior is unable to accept the fact that we could have a park and still permit Texas to retain her mineral rights for the benefit of the people of Texas."

Screwworms Again Threat

Recent discovery of several cases of screwworms in Tamaulipas and an area 30 miles south of Eagle Pass pose a threat to the Texas border regions from El Paso to Laredo.

"There were hot spots at Carrizo Springs and Uvalde last year," Dr. Ben Vale told members of the state Animal Health Commission, "and we are concerned with two more cases reported in Texas."

Dr. Vale said 23 Texas cases were reported in January, one in February and two in March. The last two were in the Hidalgo area.

Sterile flies now are being flown "40 to 50 miles beyond Tamaulipas," Dr. Vale said. But he added that the program had difficulty recently in producing enough sterile flies to use up the single mating period of native female flies. Nineteen planes are used in the program.

"Until we develop a Mexican strain—a larger fly—we won't get the job done," he said.

Short Snorts . . .

An application has been filed for Mont Belvieu State Bank in Chambers county, with a capital of $60,000, a surplus of $60,000 and reserves of $30,000 . . . Governor Connally has announced the approval of four projects under the Economic Opportunity Act for: Hidalgo county, $79,502 (including $44,339 for additional day care centers to be operated by Edinburg), Balmorhea, $10,386; Jefferson county, $91,762; and San Angelo, $13,800 . . . Connally designated April as Bluebonnet Month in Texas, since the flower blooms annually in the latter part of March and all during April . . . Col. Homer Garrison Jr. announced promotion of Highway Patrolman Walter A. (Bob) Werner of Fredericksburg to Texas Ranger and assigned him to Navasota . . . Downtown business districts are losing customers in 10 out of 11 leading retailing cities despite a shopping "boom" according to UT's Bureau of Business Research.

George and Lola Humphrey Are Named Conservation Champions For Region II

George and Lola Humphrey, stock farmers 3 miles east of Eldorado, were selected as outstanding conservation farmers of the year in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District. They were also nominated in the Fort Worth Press Save the Soil and Save Texas awards program.

Last week, M. G. Shurley, chairman, board of supervisors of the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District, was notified that George and Lola were winners as outstanding conservation farmers in Region II. This is an area which covers 51 counties in West and far West Texas.

George and Lola have been co-operators with the local District since January 5, 1962. On April 30, 1962, they entered into a three-year Great Plains Conservation Program Contract to assist them in carrying out their soil and water conservation plan on their 640-acre stock farm (which is the former John Williams place).

December 31, 1965, the Humphreys completed their three-year Great Plains Contract and had applied all of their planned permanent and recurring type conservation practices to the land. These practices included Conservation Cropping System 157 ac; Contour Farming 157 ac; Cover and Green Manure Crops 157 ac; Crop Residue Use 157 ac; Irrigation Field Litch 1050 ft; Irrigation Land Leveling 36 ac; Irrigation Reservoir 1; Irrigation System Sprinkler 1; Irrigation System Surface 1; Irrigation Water Management 47 ac; Pasture and Hayland Management 24 ac; Range Deferred Grazing 460 ac; Range Proper Use 460 ac; Level Terraces 10,895 ft; Water Trough 3; Stock Water Tanks 1; Well for Stock Water 1; Land Adequately Treated 640 ac; Cropland to Grassland 24 ac; Fence Construction 62 rods; Pasture and Hayland Planting on 24 acres and Brush Control on 416 acres.

Operating a small place, George and Lola are of the opinion that each acre must be treated in such a way that it will produce its maximum. It is not necessarily the numbers of stock one can run on a place that counts, but it is the pounds per acre of lamb, wool, and beef produced the cheapest that counts.

For their hard work and conservation accomplishments the Humphreys will receive a plaque at a regional awards program in Eagle Pass, Texas, on May 13. On May 25th they are to receive a local Lions Club plaque for being the outstanding conservation farmers in the local Soil Conservation District.

After having carried out their Great Plains Conservation Program Contract, George and Lola are now District cooperators cooperating with the local soil conservation district and receiving technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service.

George states that their plans for the future is to continue to carry out their soil, water, and plant conservation plan just as they have been doing.

Governor Of Texas Proclaims Library Week

Texas libraries today face their greatest challenge in history. The demand for books, facilities and services in this dynamic age of change is growing faster than it can be met.

"Library Excellence: Today's Necessity," the theme for the First Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries, epitomizes the goal and the immediate need.

The plans for 150 Post-Conference meetings to discuss local library problems demonstrate the determination of Texans to study and meet the needs of their libraries.

It is hoped that each Texan will visit his library and see for himself the partnership it has with the public—a partnership which provides cultural and economic growth for the community and intellectual and spiritual growth for the individual.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of April 17-23, 1966, as LIBRARY WEEK in Texas, and urge all Texans to become better acquainted with the services and the needs of their libraries.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Teele spent Easter visting relatives in Austin.

Chamber of Commerce Notes

Mrs. Bill Works, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has had many letters and calls from all parts of the State and many from out of State, seeking information on the deer hunting for this coming year.

If the landowners would like to take advantage of this opportunity and of the service offered by the C of C made up of the business people and land owners of Schleicher county, now is the time to act.

There are three types of plans being used in this county:

First: Is a full season lease.

Second: Is lease by the day.

Third: A combination of both.

For example one land owner may lease the same pasture to three groups of hunters, each group having two weeks to hunt per season.

Another example the land owner leases his place to one group of hunters for the week ends only, and is free to day-lease throughout the week.

If you are interested in leasing your land or part of it to hunters for this coming season, call Mrs. Works at 853-2987.

While the Chamber of Commerce office was open only two months, November 1 through January 1st this past season, $8,000 was leased in season leases and $9,000 in day leasing from the office.

The overall figure after checking with landowners who leased this past year, reveals that county leases amounted to over $50,000!

While in the county the average hunter spends approximately $45 per day.

A Reminder:

Please Turn Your News and Advertising in Early

There's a good reason for doing so, because then it's certain to get in the paper. If you were to wait until press day or the day before to turn in your news, it might not get printed. Regardless of how much we might like to include your news, the load of work may prevent doing so, if it doesn't arrive in plenty of time.

Here's the Problem

We start the week Monday morning with very little news, or advertising, and therefore a light load of work. Tuesday the work load grows heavier as most news and advertising copy comes in. Wednesday is still busier, much busier—and all routine news and advertising should be in by mid-morning.

More and More Work, Less and Less Time

You see how the load of work keeps growing through the week—and the time for getting the work done grows less and less. Through all of this, remember that we have only the same number of people to get the paper out, regardless of how heavy the load. Everyone works harder and harder and faster and faster as presstime approaches—to make sure the paper reaches you on time. We will appreciate your co-operation in turning in your news early.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tim Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Better farm records are a must in today's farming business. They can point the way to increased farm income.

Increased capital investments and the price-cost squeeze make it imperative that the farm manager have improved information for making management decisions. The better the records, the better the farm planning and utilization of available resources. They all add up to improved management.

Accurate and improved farm records aid the farm manager in locating the strong and weak points in the operation.

Good practices and profitable enterprises, verified by records, can be expanded while those on the minus side can be eliminated if corrective measures cannot be found.

For example, if the farm record reveals that low returns per cow were due mainly to below average calf crop percentages, then a change in management of the beef enterprise is indicated. The record does not reveal what change is needed—this is the job of the manager. He must determine if the problem is due to the breeding, feeding or forage programs or animal health. By identifying and correcting the weak point or points, returns from the beef enterprise can be increased.

Accurate farm records also provide information needed in preparing tax returns. Frequently, the farmer's income tax liability can be reduced by using good records when working with tax management problems.

Entries should be recorded in the record book weekly or better each day. By keeping a close check on activities and expenses and not trusting them to memory, the records will more nearly reflect the day to day operations of the various enterprises on the farm, and problems related to them.

The county agent said many good record books are available and that he would be happy to discuss record keeping systems with interested farmers or ranchers.

Early April is the time to apply insecticides to the lawn for the control of grubworms.

White grubs are the larvae (worm stage) of the hard-shelled May or June beetles. They live in the soil and feed on grass roots. Damage shows up in late April and May as brown, dead spots in the lawn.

Four insecticides, aldrin, heptachlor, dieldrin and Chlordane, used either as sprays or as granules will give good control. If an emulsified concentrate form of the insecticide is used, it should be mixed with water to give the recommended strength for the material. If the granular form is used, it can be applied to the lawn as it comes from the package.

Because of the different formulations available, persons interested in treating their lawns for grub control should come by the County Agent's office for a free copy of L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants." Detailed information on mixing and applying the insecticides for grub control are outlined as well as the control measures for many other insect pests.

If the insecticides are used during periods of short rainfall, it will be necessary to water them in. Where insecticides are watered-in, children or pets should be kept off the lawn until it is dry.

Other information available at the agent's office on many subjects of interest to home gardeners and flower growers.

Time may be a great healer, but it certainly is no beauty operator.

Fencing costs can be reduced by using preservative treated wooden fence posts. In addition to decay resistance, properly treated wooden posts are more resistant to grass fires.

Commercial pressure-treated pine posts, which have been treated with good preservatives like pentachloro or creosote are usually the best buy. They provide superior service at the lowest cost per year of effective life.

Good untreated posts come from such naturally durable woods as cedar, mulberry, bois d'arc, and locust. However, caution must be used in selecting posts of these types because only the heartwood or darker-colored center portion is resistant to decay. Because the sapwood of these trees is not durable, posts of these woods should have at least two-thirds heartwood.

Properly home-treated pine posts will last 25 years or longer when treated by the method developed by researchers of the Texas Forest Service.

S. S. Office To Be Open On Saturdays

The San Angelo District Social Security Office will be open to the public from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays beginning next Saturday, April 16th, until further notice, according to Floyd B. Ellington, district manager. "This is in addition to the regular office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday," said Ellington.

He explained that some older folks work Monday through Friday and cannot visit the social security office during regular hours without losing time from their jobs. The Saturday office hours will also give young people a chance to visit in their own behalf or to take older persons to the social security office without losing time from work.

The San Angelo District Social Security Office is located at 3000 West Harris in San Angelo. The telephone number is 949-4608.

More Time Given To Sign Up For 'Medicare'

Older people in the Eldorado area who did not sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare before the close of the first enrollment period on March 31 have been given a little more time, Floyd B. Ellington, Social Security district manager in San Angelo, announced today.

In legislation signed by President Johnson last week, Congress has extended until May 31 the deadline for enrollment by persons 65 or over.

Nearly 90% of the nation's elderly were enrolled for the doctor bill insurance when social security offices closed at midnight on March 31, Ellington said. Only 5% had turned down the protection which supplements the basic hospital insurance provided persons 65 and over. Another 5% had not made up their minds either way, or else were not aware of the deadline and the need to sign up for the supplementary protection.

Older people who have not yet applied for their medicare benefits should get in touch with the nearest social security office now, Ellington said. Residents of the Eldorado area can contact Frank Upp, Field Representative from the San Angelo District Office as follows: April 15, May 13, and June 10, County Courthouse, in Eldorado, Texas.

Hubert L. Kaylor is new in Eldorado, and is in the Mercer house.
