Storm Dumps Fine Rain In Eldorado

Two inches! Three inches and even four inches! —these were some of the rain totals reported by residents of Eldorado when they checked their rain gauges Saturday morning.

The rain storm came up during the early morning hours, waking householders from their slumbers and forcing them out of bed to close windows and unplug their TV's to protect picture tubes.

Lightening and wind caused some damage to Co-Op power lines with three lines out for several hours. Telephone crews were also busy Saturday restoring service to a number of phones. A few tree limbs were blown off but no damage of serious nature was reported.

It was an excellent rain for Eldorado but reports from outlying areas in the county were mostly for one inch and often less.

Little League Report

Tigers 9, White Sox 7

The Tigers were determined not remain underdogs forever and last Thursday when they took on the White Sox they trimmed them by a score of 9 to 7.

It was a good, fast-moving game with several fancy double plays. One thing we noticed was that the boys in both teams are learning to use the bat and were hitting grounders and flies all over the place.

Cougars 3, Red Sox 2

We were unable to attend Friday night's game when the Cougars played the Red Sox, so we had to fall back on our loyal associate, Stud Ballew, to fill us in on the highlights of the game. He said it was the best game of the year with the Cougars winning by the close margin of 3 to 2.

Highlight of the game was made by the Cougar second baseman, who made a one-handed catch of a line drive—and the crowd went wild.

So—at the end of this week, the Christoval Cougars still remain undefeated.

Cougars 14, White Sox 0

It was again the Cougars night when they played the White Sox Monday and shut them out to the tune of 14-0.

But really it wasn't that the Cougars were so good, but that the White Sox simply were not with it. They didn't seem to be able to do anything right. Some nights it happens that way.

For instance, the Cougars ran in 7 scores in the second inning; but not because they were good at batting—the White Sox pitcher gave them seven bases on balls. And in their final time at bat the Cougars were retired with the bases loaded. One or two good hits there would have sent their score up in the twenties.

Red Sox 7, Tigers 4

The Red Sox ran in a score in the first inning when they played the Tigers Tuesday night. They maintained the lead throughout the game, which ended with 7 for Red Sox and 4 for the Tigers.

PONY LEAGUE

A Pony League game between a team from Mason and one from Eldorado is being played here at 8:00 p. m., Wednesday, June 22. A report will be given next week since this paper is being printed several hours before game time.

The Eldorado team is made up of star players from the Gas House Gang and the Pickle Pickers—two local teams which were organized recently.

Mrs. F. M. Bradley is great-grandmother again. A call from her daughter, Margaret, of Alexandria, Virginia, informed her that a son, David Stephen, was born June 17th to her daughter, Mrs. James Shewbart, the former Carol Frost.

Eldorado Soldier Loses Life In Viet Nam

STAFF SGT. ELTON HARRIS

Staff Sergeant Elton Harris, 30, operating with the 25th Infantry Division, lost his life from enemy fire in Viet Nam Saturday, June 18 after being on active there a brief five months.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Odis Harris of Eldorado, received the following telegram over the week end from the Secretary of the Army:

The Secretary of the Army has asked me to express his deep regret that your son Sgt. Elton O. Harris died in Viet Nam on 18 June 1966. He was a passenger on an armored personnel carrier on combat operation hit by small arms fire. Please accept my deepest sympathy. Your daughter-in-law will furnish instructions for the return of your late son.—J. Q. Lambert, Ad Gen

Elton's spot in the huge Army set-up was spot-lighted by his last mailing address which was: Staff Sgt. Elton Harris, Co. A, 1st Bn (mechanized) 5th Inf., 2nd Brigade 25th Infantry Division.

Elton Odis Harris was born October 15, 1935 at Eola, Texas, and moved to Eldorado with his parents in 1939. He attended the schools here, graduated from Eldorado High School in 1953 and joined the Army the following year. Adopting the Army as a career he advanced to Staff Sergeant in the following 13 years.

Early this year he was shipped to Hawaii and on the 19th of January landed in Viet Nam where he apparently saw immediate enemy action. He received wounds which sent him to the hospital in April, and later was hospitalized with a bad foot infection. He had recovered but a short time when he went on the final action which proved fatal. The last time he visited in Eldorado was in May '65.

Elton's wife, Genny, lives with her folks in West Virginia, where she is making a home for two children, Elton O. Harris, Jr., age 17 months, and a daughter, Tammy Lee, age 4 months.

In addition to his immediate family he has a sister, Mrs. Carlos Brawley living at Van Horn, and an aunt, Mrs. Ivy R. Dean of 2209 West Avenue L, San Angelo; also his grandfather, Martin Estes of Bertram.

The parents here have been in touch with their daughter-in-law in West Virginia and it has been agreed that funeral services will be held in Eldorado at the First Baptist Church conducted by Rev. Kenneth Vaughan, and interment will be in Eldorado Cemetery with military honors.

According to word from military authorities it would require from 7 to 14 days for the body to arrive here.

The death of Sgt. Harris marks the first Schleicher County casualty in the Vietnam situation.

To Marry Pete Logan Here This Sunday

The marriage of Carol Goff, daughter of Chief and Mrs. G. C. Goff of San Diego, California, and Pete Logan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Logan of Sonora, is announced for the 26th of June at 2:00 p.m. at the Antioch Baptist church. Relatives and friends are all cordially invited to attend.

Pete is home on leave, just returning from Sigonlla, Sicily. He and his bride will go to Gulfport, Mississippi, where he will be stationed with MCB 133, Seabees.

Post Script

City Secretary Lum Burk reported that supplies have arrived for the election for the proposed change in the spelling of our town's name from Eldorado to "El Dorado." The City Council has not yet met and set date for the election.

—ps—

The City of Eldorado has already done some work on the rebuilding of Cottonwood street through the northeastern part of town. North of the Scout hall, the new roadway has been scraped out and some caliche base laid. The north end of the street will terminate at the edge of the Latin-American community.

City workmen are also re-curb-ing some of the small triangular parks in the Glendale area.

—ps—

Earth work is continuing on the new football field near the high school gym. Some caliche has been laid at the west end where the parking area will be. Caliche base has been laid for a new street west of the Lyonelle Ballew house.

Brick work is continuing on the new band hall. Structural steel is in place for the ag. building.

—ps—

Rev. Robert T. Gartman of Midland is to be speaker at a five-night Revival series which starts Sunday and continues through Thursday at the First Christian Church. Services will be held each evening at 8:00.

Further details are in the advertisement on page 7 of this Success issue.

With our subscribers: Leonard Kent is a new subscriber at box 6437, College Station, Texas.

Lou E. Randolph's new address is 4502 Windsor, Garland, Texas.

Mrs. Joe Rider is moving from Ft. Wayne, Indiana, to 5703 Shoalwood, Austin, Texas. She is the former Donna Beth McCormick.

—ns—

People who are making increasing use of the airport continue to be unhappy about the street that dead-ends at the airport gate.

City and county officials have a tentative plan for opening a street around a new block and hope to get this accomplished while county equipment is working in town. It would be too bad if the project is delayed for another year. There will be a lot of traffic there again when hunting season opens this fall.

Tour Arizona Mine

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Meador, son Clay and daughter Kathy of Eldorado were recent visitors in the old famous mining camp Tombstone, Arizona. While there Clay and Kathy went on a tour of the old Goodenough Silver Mine, underground, and became enthusiastic members of the exclusive Underground Mine Tour Club.

The pastor of the First Baptist church, the Rev. Kenneth Vaughan, officiated at the funeral. Duane Branham sang, "In The Garden" accompanied by Mrs. Joe M. Christian at the organ.

Interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery under direction of Robert Massie Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were T. P. Robinson Jr., W. R. Bearce, Leslie Baker, Bill Gunstead, Bob Evans, Bob McWhorter, Jack Etheredge, and Palmer West.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by two daughters, Connie, Mrs. W. B. Terpenning of Eugene, Oregon, and

It Happened Here!

Maybe kids don't know it, but tampering with the United States mails can put a person within the very shadows of a Federal prison!

Some time on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3:00 and 6:00 o'clock the glass windows in seven lock boxes at the local post office were broken out; mail was removed and scattered in trash cans and on lawns and some stuffed into the sidewalk mail box near the post office.

Who did it? Why?

The nearest answer Postmaster Carr has to the first question is that it was "a couple of boys on bicycles." The only answer to the second question could be, "just for the sheer hell of it."

But somebody in Eldorado right now is treading on awfully dangerous ground.

Federal postal inspectors were in Eldorado Monday investigating the vandalism along with Mr. Carr and Sheriff Edmiston.

Names of the seven boxholders were not given to this newspaper, but Carr explained that one or more of the boxes contained bank statements and that he and Edmiston had found large numbers of canceled checks strewn in trash barrels.

One housewife, on finding a pile of papers on her lawn, thought it was all paper trash which had been spilled there, and placed it all in her trash barrel and set it afire. Some of the unburned pieces were retrieved by the investigators and identified.

That, then, was the situation here in Eldorado on Monday night. The investigation is not finished. Postal inspectors don't quit that soon.

We have all read a lot about crime waves and looting and lawlessness throughout the Nation. But we didn't think it could happen here.

Mrs. Johnson Dies At Age Of 91

Mrs. T. W. Johnson, long-time Schleicher county resident who came here in a covered wagon from Gonzales in 1904, died Saturday in Memorial Hospital in San Angelo, and her funeral was held Monday morning at 11:00 in the First Baptist church here. At the time of her death, she was the oldest member of the church.

Mrs. Johnson had been staying in Memorial Hospital since February, when she observed her 91st birthday. Her state of health took a turn for the worse about the middle of last week, and she was transferred to the intensive care section of Memorial, where she died.

The pastor of the First Baptist church, the Rev. Kenneth Vaughan, officiated at the funeral. Duane Branham sang, "In The Garden" accompanied by Mrs. Joe M. Christian at the organ.

Interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery under direction of Robert Massie Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were T. P. Robinson Jr., W. R. Bearce, Leslie Baker, Bill Gunstead, Bob Evans, Bob McWhorter, Jack Etheredge, and Palmer West.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by two daughters, Connie, Mrs. W. B. Terpenning of Eugene, Oregon, and Joyce, Mrs. O. R. Burden of Wichita Falls; a son, Edwin Johnson of Indonesia; seven grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Walter Ramsay of Eldorado, Mrs. George Ewing of Gonzales, and Mrs. H. H. Beverley of Austin; and a brother, R. L. Sample of Glenwood, Arkansas.

Mrs. Johnson was preceded in death by two other daughters, Estelle, who died in 1935, and one who died in infancy.

In 1949, the Johnsons were honored on their Golden Wedding. Mr. Johnson passed away in 1956.

Among those here from out of town for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Beverley of Great Falls, Montana; Sid Griffin and Mansfield Griffin of Gonzales, and Lawrence Sample of Devine, Texas.

New Booklet Out Promotes Texas

Austin, Texas.—The immense variety of Texas pleasure travel is portrayed in an entirely new edition of the popular travel brochure, "TEXAS—America's Frontier," released recently by the Texas Highway Department.

The 32-page color brochure incorporates maps, photographs and art work in a glossy, magazine-style format. It provides the traveler with a short, vivid course in Texas geography, spiced with colorful pictorial glimpses of things to see and do in the "Friendship State."

So vast is Texas, the new brochure divides the state into six recreational regions, focusing on attractions which are depicted by caricature maps, drawings and photos. Designed to give equal representation to all parts of the state, the new publication illustrates a cross section of Texas vacation variety. Historical, amusement and recreational features are portrayed in each section, outlining a brand of fun for everyone.

Also included are informational sections on hunting and fishing, highway regulations and tourist services provided by the Texas Highway Department.

Nearly a million free copies of an earlier edition have been distributed since its introduction some three years ago. Demand for the new publication is expected to be even larger.

The new brochure joins other pieces of travel-oriented literature which are now being distributed by the Highway Department. More than three million pieces are annually provided free to Texas travelers.

Supplemental literature includes the Official State Highway Map, Texas Calendar of Events, State Capitol Guide, Texas Facts Sheet, State Parks Guide and an invitation to visit Highway Department Tourist Bureaus.

Those Tourist Bureaus—seven located at major highway entrances to the state, and one in the State Capitol rotunda—served more than 750,000 travelers last year. Visitors were provided free maps, literature, travel tips, and encouragement to stay a while longer in Texas. A ninth Tourist Bureau is under construction in Amarillo.

Additional travel services were rendered in reply to more than 224,000 mail inquiries handled by the Highway Department last year.

Augmenting literature supplied directly to travelers are other Highway Department travel promotion efforts, such as colorful travel posters displayed at convention sites, and a half-hour motion picture released less than a year ago. A Spanish language version of that popular travelogue is now circulating in Mexico, while French and German versions are in production.

Such travel promotion efforts were instrumental in attracting many of the record 12.7 million out-of-state visitors who toured Texas by car during 1965. Those automobile visitors spent more than $813 million while in the Lone Star State.

On The Screen . . .

Hollywood Works On The Railroad Again

The appearance of "Von Ryan's Express" on the Eagle Drive-In screen Sunday and Monday nights can lead one to philosophize on the sequence of the hen and the egg.

The accredited author of "Von Ryan's Express" in book form is David Westheimer, former Houston newspaper television editor who moved to Hollywood to fictionalize movie scripts for the instant paperback trade or vice versa.

Saul David, former book publisher turned movie producer, bought the Westheimer novel for film-making before it had found a publisher—which action, incidentally, led to its going into hardback issue and a Book-of-the-Month selection.

With the veteran motion-picture director, Mark Robson, signed on to create the film version, the movie went before the cameras in Italy, Spain and Beverly Hills for 20th Century-Fox. It is in color.

The story, set in World War II, is war-on-wheels depending on two ingredients which, happily, Robson was able to supply. One is the suspense discovered 63 years ago for the epochal "Great Train Robbery," a kind of theater belonging peculiarly to the movie camera. The other is sharpness of characterization which reaches its best-honed stage, even if it did have to star World War II's most celebrated 4-F, who somehow gets into a uniform more often than the doorman at the Waldorf.

Liberties have been taken with Westheimer's novel, often for the betterment of the movie. In any event, "Von Ryan's Express" roars along at a tremendous clip, if not always on the original track.

Frank Sinatra, always The Leader, is American Col. Joseph Ryan, who becomes The Leader of Allied prisoners in an Italian POW camp the minute he enters its gates, because he outranks British Maj. Trevor Howard.

The antagonism between the two men, the spit-and-polish ruthlessness of Ryan (which earned him the hated nickname of "Von Ryan" from his fellow-POWs), is developed in the movie.

In the camp are a scattering of Americans and 600 haughty Britishers, all subject to a fatuous and unfeeling Col. Bataglia (Adolfo Celi). Sinatra would soften Celi's iron hand by cooperation, but sooner-or-later the prisoners manage to escape and seize a German train.

The movie has wisely dropped Westheimer's implausible plot twist on the moving POW train that provided the book's title.

It never held water that Ryan and the British major could pick off the guards on the boxcar roofs one-by-one in a seemingly endless string, without anyone noticing them. The movie stops at two guards, then lets a mass machine-gunning take over the executions.

There was no busty Italian beauty on the train as the German officer's girl friend, either. But you know how it is in The Leader's war movies. Somebody's got to pull on a pair of stockings in a compartment.

For nearly two Technicolored hours of never-ceasing action, Sinatra jumps on and off his express, dressed in a captured Nazi uniform, throwing switches and reading Italian rail signals like he's been taking night courses from Burt Lancaster.

The filming had to move to Spain for rugged melodrama over narrow bridges across deep gorges. As the boxcars finally chug to safety, many key characters, whom we have come to know affectionately, lie dead by the side of the tracks.

There is a gap in logic. The Italians were mainly sympathetic to the Allies. Sinatra's initial program, to wait out the inevitable victory, was not only reasonable but also humanely strategic.

Sinatra seldom falls histrionically at any task within his basic personality. Trevor Howard does not prove that there will always be an England but does show that there will always be a stiffish Englishman. Edward Mulhare makes a good job of the cleric torn between his calling and the need of embattled action.

The sex-interest is briefly young Signorina Carra who delivers, especially when given a pair of rare nylons by Sinatra who needlessly turns his back.

The color photography for countryside and cities, is first rate.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

With overtones of hysteria being hinted on Capitol Hill, civil rights legislation is being boosted by the deplorable shooting of James Meredith down in Mississippi.

Surrounded by a bevy of photographers and reporters, the cameras were firing away even as the bird shot were being peppered at Meredith. The wounds were, fortunately, superficial.

But the bizarre incident served as fuel for the agitators to stir up emotionalism in support of a bill which, of course, has no remote connection to a man's being shot by a screwball while on a publicity seeking hike down south. Worse crimes are being committed every day in every state, by both Negroes and whites, with but scant notice or publicity.

Spearheaded by Martin Luther King, the lunatic fringe and other extremists lost no time in demanding immediate passage of an outlandish bill which, among other things, would deprive a citizen of a basic civil right—that of being able to choose to whom he may want to rent or sell his private property.

This is not the first time civil rights legislation has been borne of such incidents. Last year King went to Selma (where officials were already under a strict federal court order to register all qualified voters), triggered some bloodshed and a march, then rushed back to Washington with his demands.

King got a bill enacted which is considered to be the most discriminatory and ill-conceived measure since Reconstruction days. It applied voter laws to a handful of carefully selected States (including Texas), while leaving untouched any right of Federal intervention in other areas that are notorious for ballot-fixing and corrupt elections. It even made a citizen qualified to vote in Mississippi, for example, disqualified in New York or Chicago.

It remains to be seen what the Congress will do. It would seem that somewhere along the line responsible statesmen would realize that other people also have some rights.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

Austin.—Auto insurance rates in Texas may rise an average of $2.11 a year per motorist. State Insurance Board is weighing testimony given at a public hearing on rates last week. Decision probably will be announced soon, since new rates usually are effective August 1st. Look for these rate changes if the Board follows staff recommendations:

- * Liability (bodily injury and property damage) up 11.9 per cent
 - * Private passenger $50 deductible collision, up 2.4 per cent.
 - * Full comprehensive coverage, up 0.3 per cent.
 - * Private passenger $50 deductible, comprehensive coverage, up 17.7 per cent.
- Rates, of course, will vary widely among 26 rating districts. Among strong recommendations to the Board were:
- * A driving record classification plan to reward the safe driver with lower rates and hit the "bad" driver with higher premiums.
 - * A more flexible rate schedule for drivers under age 25—with highest rates for young males of 17.
 - * A private passenger classification plan to produce a lower rate for drivers with less exposure to accident conditions.
 - * A means by which a driver in the "assigned risk plan" could purchase additional coverage over the normal $10,000—$20,000 limits.

The Board earlier announced it was considering feasibility of requiring companies to write an equitable portion of all lines and classes of insurance in order to provide coverage for drivers over 65 and under 25 who face increasing difficulties keeping policies in force.

Fruit Fly Reported

The first Mediterranean fruit fly has been discovered in Texas—in the Brownsville area.

Agriculture Commissioner John White said the dangerous pest has been positively identified. Medfly can cause economic loss by stinging or implanting eggs inside the fruit, causing widespread spoilage.

Total of 15 inspectors from the Texas Department of Agriculture and U. S. Department have been sent to the Valley to place an additional 1,000 traps and determine extent of infestation.

White assured Valley citrus growers that treatment of any affected and susceptible orchards will follow immediately to insure complete eradication. He noted that the past Medfly outbreaks in Florida have been successfully checked.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court held that Big Spring must stick by 1937 contract in which it agreed to provide as much as 300,000 gallons of water a day to Big Spring State Hospital for 10 cents a thousand gallons.

Supreme Court agreed to review a San Antonio malpractice suit involving a physician's obligation to warn a patient of all dangers of an operation. Patient in the case lost his hearing after an operation, claimed he didn't understand all dangers involved before he agreed to surgery.

Health Rules Adopted

State Health Board has adopted tentative rules governing standards for frozen desserts sold in Texas and regulations to check disposal of wastes from boats.

Dessert rules apply to ice cream and substitutes, sherbets, water ices, ice milk and other products. A public hearing on proposals will be scheduled later.

Proposed watercraft regulation would require holding tanks for all marine toilets on boats. Sewage could be removed only by pumping it into onshore facilities. Rule also would outlaw boatmen throwing garbage, rubbish and litter into waters. Aim is to prevent water pollution.

Appointments Announced

Thomas E. Riggs of Waco and Clifton B. Drinkard of Eden will be director and assistant director of the new Veterans Administration Data Processing center in Austin. Center will have more than $3,000,000 worth of data processing equipment to serve the nation's 165 VA hospitals and 26 million veterans.

Dr. Jim W. Tunnel, director of instruction for McAllen Public School system, has been named project leader for Governor's Committee on Public School Education. He will head an evaluation of educational programs in Texas public schools.

Oil Production Reduced

Because of gloomy testimony and statistics, the Texas Railroad Commission again has reduced Texas oil production after a statewide prorotation hearing.

July order will hold prorated wells to 33.3 per cent of total ability to produce. This is down 1.2 per cent from June's rate and 1.7 per cent below the April high of 35 per cent.

A recalculation of the actual oil production resulting from the July cut-back produced an estimate that it will be 2,734,835 barrels a calendar day from allowables of 3,118,042 barrels a day.

Translated into actual barrels of oil in the pipelines, the new production figure is just below the 2,749,135 the wells produced in January.

Short Snorts

Atty. General Waggoner Carr has ruled that a salvage dealer must, upon demand, surrender license plates and certificates of titles to motor vehicles obtained for scrap disposal, resale or any sort of salvage.

The Texas Supreme Court ruled that the Texas Highway Commission may dispose of unused right-of-way and that land does not revert back to original owner.

A "visitor center" will be built by the Highway Department at the Judge Roy Bean museum at Langtry in Val Verde County.

Mrs. Tom Johnson's Lifetime Spanned County's Development

With the passing of Mrs. Tom Johnson this past week, Eldorado and Schleicher county lost yet another link with the Southwest Texas of yesteryear when there were few amenities of living, ranch life was rugged, and community life revolved round the community and the church.

Mrs. Johnson was born Elizabeth Sample on Feb. 3, 1875, in Gonzales county. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. James Sample of that place and her father was a Civil War veteran in the Confederate Army.

In 1899, she was married to T. W. (Tom) Johnson at Pilgrim, where they ranched for three years. In 1904, three years after Schleicher county was organized, they decided to come "west" with their two daughters to Eldorado, then an infant settlement.

Recalling the early days, on her 90th birthday a year and a half ago, Mrs. Johnson said, "People told us we'd starve to death out here."

But Tom Johnson had already searched the new West Texas country over before choosing Eldorado for their home. He convinced his wife Eldorado would be as prosperous for them as Gonzales had been.

The Johnsons traveled from Gonzales county through Menard by covered wagon with two teams of horses. After a three-week journey through rugged countryside, they arrived in Eldorado at their new ranch home—with no furniture.

Mrs. Johnson remembered the trip here "as though it were yesterday." It was cold and rainy, and they had traveled several days without finding a ranch where they could rest. Mrs. Johnson recalled the people at one ranch had rejected them for fear they had brought disease with them in the westward migration.

In Menard that rainy day, at what Mrs. Johnson remembered to be a ranch owned by a family named Henderson, the little family stopped, and found food, rest, two days lodging and a warm fire.

"I will never forget their fireplace," said Mrs. Johnson. "I remember we were cold and hungry and it was so good to get in by the fire."

Eldorado became a permanent home for Mrs. Johnson and her husband. They settled on the ranch four miles northeast of Eldorado, buying it from the state and becoming the only people to live on and own the land. The ranch was leased in recent years, although Mrs. Johnson continued to maintain ownership.

And Mrs. Johnson commented on how friendly the people of Eldorado were to them. "In the first five or six days we were here, everybody in town came to meet us. They were so good and so friendly to us." Like the sympathetic pioneer ranchwoman who gave them food and shelter in Menard, the town gave them another and more fragile gift—friendship.

To solve the problem of having no furniture—they used wooden boxes for chairs. Mr. Johnson traveled with a wagon and two teams to San Angelo to buy furniture.

"When Mr. Johnson was away in San Angelo, it would take him three days and nights to go there and back. I'd climb up on the windmill and watch for him to come back," Mrs. Johnson recalled. "I'd see a little white speck 'way over there, he had one gray horse, and then it would get closer and I knew that was him."

Then, Mrs. Johnson said, she'd tell the children and they'd run to the gate and wait to open it for him.

In 1948 the ranch couple retired to the house here on Warner street but before they left the ranch, Mrs. Johnson painted a picture of the ranchhouse and windmill. "It was the prettiest little house," she said. Tom Johnson died in 1956. The painting of the ranch house occupied a place of honor in her home.

Mrs. Johnson, whose 91st birthday came last Feb. 3rd, was one of the oldest residents here at the time of her death. She saw the county pass from an era of covered wagons to one of jet airplanes—and had ridden in both.

She began oil and china painting when she was 65. With a background of only six art lessons, she produced more than 50 oil paintings. She painted flowers and birds and many West Texas scenes with rugged mountains and hills, trees, streams, and fishermen. Oil was always her favorite medium.

"It's a good pastime," she said. "I enjoy it—while I'm doing it and after I'm through."

Even when she was 65 and 70, she never got sleepy. The remarkable thing about her was her energy in later years, her family recalled.

Although Mrs. Johnson stopped regular painting four years ago, she maintained an interest in art until her health began a fall a few months ago.

Mrs. Johnson's energy remained strong, whether she was working on the ranch or at the easel.

"I'd sit by the fire at night and paint on that china, or making a picture away into the night at the ranch."

"I don't regret any time I spent making my paintings and I've never regretted coming west." The words were Mrs. Johnson's. She was known affectionately as "Liddie" to her grandchildren.

She came here from Gonzales when the trip in a wagon took three weeks. Now, a trip to Gonzales, which is east of Austin, is an easy half-day by automobile over a good highway.

Miss Sanders' Engagement Announced

JANE SANDERS

Mr. and Mrs. Jerroll Sanders announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jane, to Mr. Charles Allcorn of Talpa, Texas. The wedding is scheduled for August 26th at First Baptist church in Eldorado. Miss Sanders is a graduate of Eldorado High school and has been a student at Texas Tech. The groom-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Allcorn of Talpa, and is a graduate of Talpa Centennial High School, and also a student at Texas Tech.

Boy Scouts Leaving Sunday For Camp

Scoutmaster Bob Joyce and about a dozen local Boy Scouts are scheduled to leave this Sunday morning to spend a week at beautiful Camp Fawcett, located on the Nueces river near Barksdale.

Scoutmaster Joyce reported this week that arrangements are about complete. The group will meet at the Scout hall Sunday morning at 8:30 to load the bus. At about 8:45 the Ministerial Alliance of Eldorado will conduct an interdenominational service, and at 9:00 the bus will pull out for camp, reaching there at about noon. Each boy will take a sack lunch which will serve as the noon meal, and the first meal served in camp will be supper.

There will be the traditional camping activities during the week including swimming, boating, handicrafts, Scouting skills for advancement in rank, and group campfires each night.

The camp session will close with the noon meal the following Saturday.

Thursday evening in camp is parents' visiting night when groups of parents are invited to visit. They can take a picnic lunch or have supper that day in the camp dining hall. Then they will be guests at the evening camp fire and program.

The Eldorado troop will be allowed to nominate one boy for election to the Order of the Arrow, the honorary camping organization of the Boy Scouts.

Reynolds H. D. Met

Those that were not at the Reynolds Home Demonstration meeting Tuesday with Edith Hartgraves really missed a treat.

The program was a rehearsal dinner. We were told, it should be something easy to fix, attractive, and good to eat.

The table was laid with a white linen cut-work cloth. The centerpiece was a bridal arrangement. We were shown how to lay the silver, china, and napkins for a buffet style supper.

The main dish was: turkey and broccoli in a heavy cheese sauce, with new, buttered potatoes, green beans, squash, sweet pickles, and green salad, and some of Mrs. Otto Sauer's good home made bread. The dessert was individual pastry shells with cherry filling, topped with whipped cream.

It was all very attractive and just as good.

There were eight members and the agent, Vida Kreklow, and Mrs. Kreklow (Joe's mother) present.

The president, Mrs. H. A. Belk, presided at the business meeting. A motion was made and carried that we have a grab bag at our next meeting. Each club member is to bring a bag worth not less than 50c. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Jack Wade's July 12.

Everyone enjoyed listening to the "Four dreams of Mon", a fine recording by Dr. John Furbag. It was a dramatic story of the shape of things to come. Miss Shelton has Dr. Furbag records in the school library, and we feel like everyone would enjoy having them. —Mrs. J. Tom Williams, Rep.

Al Girl Scout Camp

Three Eldorado girls are attending the El Camino Council established camp at Jo-Jan-Van, eight miles from Vance in Real county and near Barksdale.

Those from here are Gene Newport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Newport; Peggy Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jo Ed Hill; and Claudia Meador, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meador. The two-week session will close this Saturday.

The established camp is on a permanent site with staff facilities provided by the council. Girls from several troops live in units with other girls of their own age and camping experience.

Units are composed of six tents, pitched on wooden platforms, that accommodate four girls each. Primitive campers live with girls of their own age in a group of 16 girls in a pioneer setting.

By using the patrol system in camp units, girls practice representative self government, for citizenship training.

Established camp director is Miss Mary Deanne Lynn. Program committee for El Camino Council camping includes Mrs. Jack Cooper, chairman; Mrs. Vernon Cook, Mrs. Lloyd Deaton, Mrs. Marvin Hall Jr., Mrs. Lawrence Janes and Mrs. Marion Rivers.

Council president is Mrs. Agnes Holland. Executive director is Mrs. W. E. Evans Jr. Both are of San Angelo.

Cullen Luttrell brought a Texas Highway Dept. film, "Texas, The Land of Contrast" for the program at the regular meeting Wednesday of the Eldorado Lions Club. L. D. Mund was projectionist, and the program was introduced by A. G. McCormack, program chairman for this month.

Ray Boyer, who is retiring as president, thanked the club members for their support during the past year. There will be no meeting next week, and Charles Wimer will be new president starting July 6th.

Other guests yesterday were Mark Calk and W. B. Shipman.

In the business session, Bill Rountree reported that the advertisements had been sold for the stadium pillows, and that the cushions were now on order.

Mrs. Jack Etheredge, accompanied by Mrs. R. L. Ballew, visited in Menard and Brady Sunday afternoon. In Menard they saw Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Freund in the Menard hospital and then called on Mrs. Ed Herron and her family. In Brady they visited Mrs. Lela Blaisdell, Mrs. J. A. Harkrider, and Mrs. Grover Kirk, aunts of Mrs. Etheredge, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moseley and family, cousins of Mrs. Etheredge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCutcheon came to Eldorado from their home in Austin for a week end visit with Mrs. McCutcheon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will L. Isaacs. Another recent much anticipated visitor in the Isaacs home was their grandson, Kenneth Isaacs, who had just returned from a year's duty in Vietnam. He is now stationed in California.

Earl Barnett was here this week arranging to move his household goods to East Texas. His new address will be Box 8, Price, Texas. The family expect to make their move this week end.

The J. D. Redwine family returned late last week from a vacation trip to Lake Brownwood where they did some fishing.

Mrs. Stigler's Sister Buried Near Cisco

Mr. and Mrs. John Stigler and Eva and Jerry from here, and Johnny Stigler of Odessa were in Cisco Monday where they attended funeral services for Mrs. Jack (Winnie) Leech, 66, sister of Mrs. Stigler.

Mrs. Leech was buried in Oakwood cemetery following 2 p.m. services in the First Baptist church of Cisco.

Mrs. Leech, a retired public school teacher, died at 10:30 a.m. Saturday (her birthday) in Graham hospital. She had been ill for about a year.

Mrs. Leech, the wife of a retired businessman, moved to Cisco 40 years ago from Carlton. She was a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and taught 30 years in public schools. She was born June 18, 1900, at Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mund, former Eldorado residents and now of San Angelo, visited Mr. and Mrs. George Long Tuesday.

Recent visitors in the Lum Burk home have been their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McWhirter of Augusta, Georgia, and Mr. and Mrs. Reb Wilkins of Grand Prairie.

Senator Tower's

REPORT TO WEEKLY PAPERS

It is unfortunate, in fact it is almost unbelievable, that the Department of Agriculture has once again taken an action that will lower farm prices. The farmer, caught in an increasing cost-price squeeze aggravated by our economy's inflationary pressures, deserves a better fate.

Yet, farmer returns for wheat will be reduced next year by about six cents per bushel because the wheat program announced last week by Agriculture Secretary Freeman will provide domestic marketing certificates on only 40 per cent of the crop, compared to 45 per cent this year.

Previous price-depressing actions in what is becoming a virtual "war on agriculture" by the Secretary himself have included increased dairy imports, government grain dumping, hide export quotas, harvest-labor limiting policies and a sharp reduction of military pork and dairy purchases. Now Secretary Freeman announces a wheat program which will reduce even further the prices farmers can receive for their wheat.

I believe the Secretary's program of engineered low farm prices is indefensible. It cannot be defended as an inflation-fighting measure because the prices paid the farmers have been going down all the time, not inflating.

The parity ratio—a comparison of the prices farmers receive with those they pay—for the past five Freeman years has reflected an average of 78 per cent of parity. This is the lowest for any five-year period since the depression. Farm production costs have gone up $4 billion since 1960, and a larger than usual increase is expected again this year. Total farm debt is 60 per cent higher than five years ago.

The Senate is about to approve a "Food for Freedom" bill similar to proposals I discussed before last year's Texas Farm Bureau convention. American farmers will be asked to help feed free world nations so famine will not leave them weak in the face of Communist pressures. It makes no sense for the government to ask more of farmers while at the same time forcing them to take less and less for their labor and talent.

News Of The Sick

Mrs. Earl Yates was brought home Tuesday after spending several days in Shannon hospital where she had surgery.

Judy Sallee returned recently from a stay in a Houston hospital. Jerome Mitchell is still confined to his home most of the time.

E. T. Davis has been ill recently at his home.

Mrs. Rutha Boyer is still in the Clinic Hospital.

Mrs. Sam McGinnes is undergoing treatments in the State Hospital at Big Spring.

Karl Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Porter, was in the Clinic Hospital this week after he fell out of the back of a pickup Monday night. He sustained slight concussion and possible cracked bones but is reported responding satisfactorily to treatment.

Mrs. R. A. Evans Sr. is now staying at the Rawls establishment in Christoval.

Why Is The Printed Word So Important In Advertising?

It's CLEAR — It's PERMANENT — It's BELIEVABLE

The newspaper is the GREATEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM for many reasons. One of them is that it carries the power of the printed word. People believe in a message that is permanent — on that is written. They understand it better. Also, the newspaper, because of its permanence, lets the reader choose his own time for absorbing the message. And once put down it can always be picked up again. The message that lives is the one that is printed in the newspaper.

The Eldorado Success

Garment Line Latest Expansion Phase at El Dorado Woolens

Back about 30 years ago, the Ratliffs erected a building on South Main here in Eldorado to house their undertaking establishment, with an apartment in it for the proprietor. Now the structure is housing the latest new operation of El Dorado Woolens which is continuing to expand into garment manufacturing.

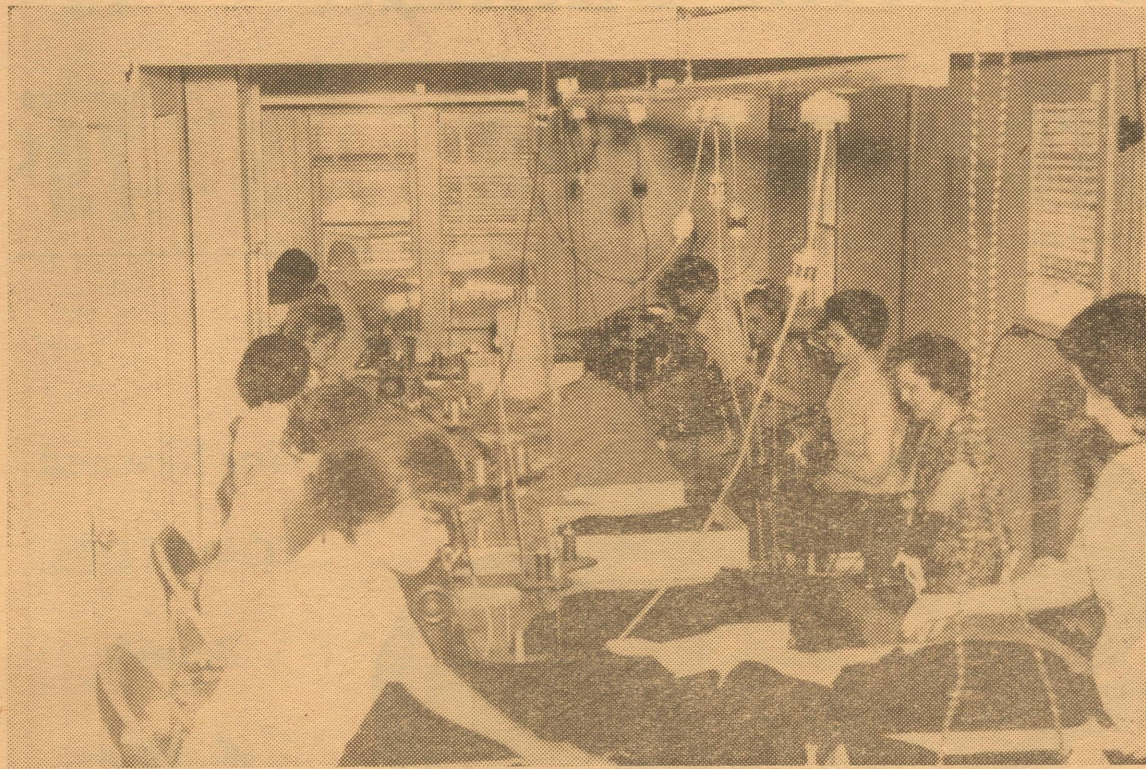

Joe Ed Spencer reported this week that between 50 and 60 woolen garments a day are being turned out by the seamstresses and other workers to meet production demands. Tom Wallace left Monday for New Mexico to line up a salesman to sell the El Dorado Woolens line in five more western states.

Mr. Spencer reported Monday that there were 43 people on the El Dorado Woolens payroll, including some part-time.

It is hoped that by the end of this week, the mill might be turning out 60 to 70 garments a day. Billy Frank Blaylock is general superintendent of the garment production and his assistant is Mrs. Rosford. El Dorado Woolens is still considering the possibility of setting up an evening work shift. This would be a group of workers who would work from about 5:00 to 10:00 p.m.

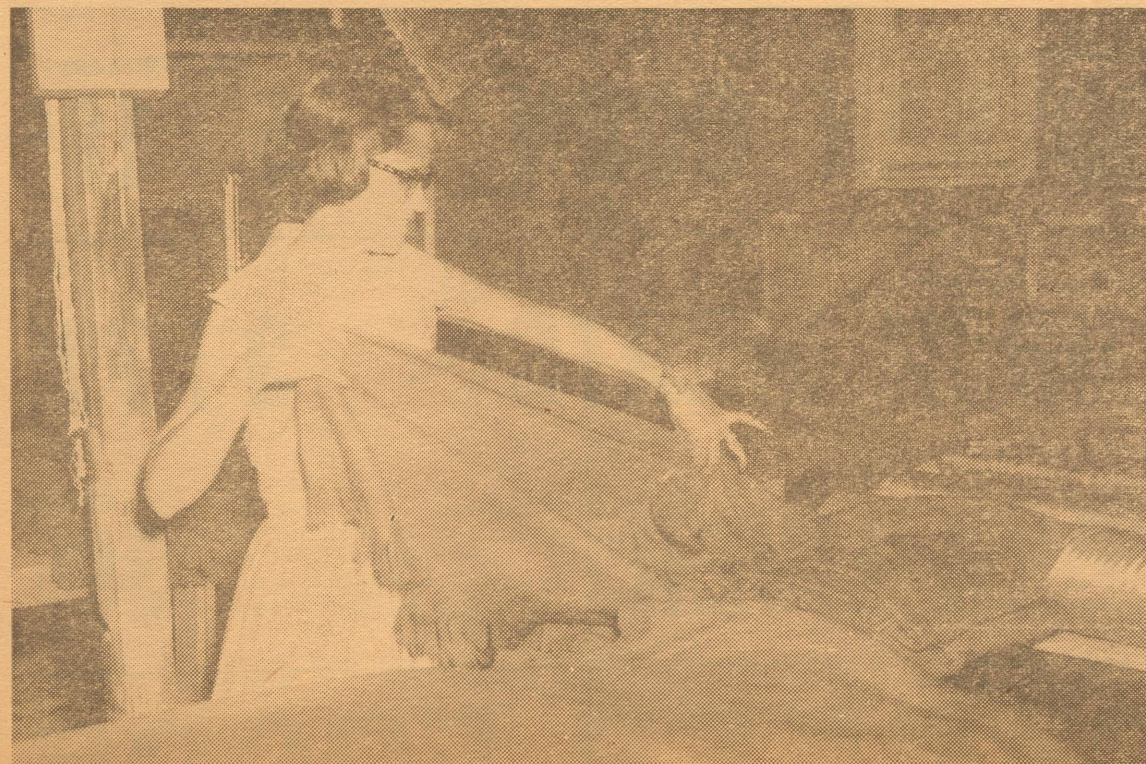

HAND-FINISHING is shown being done by Mrs. Farris Nixon, Mrs. Jack Griffin, and Mrs. Danny Becknell.

AT WORK in pressing department are Rac el Martinez, Guadalupe Robledo, and Enedina Garza.

MRS. BETTY ROSFORD is shown with some material on the cutting table.

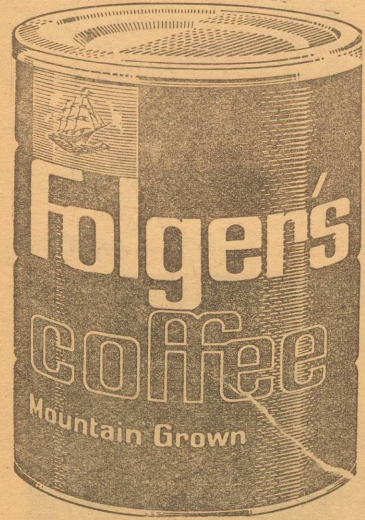

MRS. DEAN MURR inspects newly-completed garments on the shipping racks.
