

'Peace' Essay Contest Announced By Lions

The youth of Eldorado and Schleicher county have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club—a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and/or career assistance grant.

The Eldorado Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today—Peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in July, 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," President Charles Wimer of the Eldorado Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967, was announced by The President of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York, this past summer.

"The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes," President Wimer said.

"Our Club's winner will advance to Lions District 2A-1 competition in his or her effort to qualify for the multiple district contest," Mr. Wimer said.

The Contest sponsored by more than 20,000 Lions Clubs in more than 130 countries in the free world, will be the largest Peace Essay Contest in the world today.

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," President Wimer said. "We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal," he said.

In announcing the contest internationally, President Lindsey said that Lions International, the world's largest service club organization is well qualified to sponsor such a contest.

He said the world-wide representation of Lions, the attention given to international relations and the friendship between different nationalities and their participation in international humanitarian programs were their credentials for the patronage of the contest.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words.

"Judging will fall into four categories: 75% of the essay's points will be devoted to content, 10% to organization, 10% to style, and 5% to mechanics," Mr. Wimer said.

The mechanics segment will be used to appraise the grammatical construction of the essay.)

"Three judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Mr. Wimer said.

"If our winner can advance thru the judging stages up to the world finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th Annual Convention for the final judging of his essay in addition to the $1,000 award."

Mr. Wimer said he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date for the club's contest is December 10, 1966.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the Eldorado Lions to get full details of the contest," he said.

The age limit for the contest, includes all youth 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967.

Mr. Wimer announced that each applicant would be limited to one entry, with one winner's essay eligible to compete in the Lions District 2A-1 contest. Winner of district contest will be entered in state or country contest. Each country or multiple district winner will be entered in one of the eight world divisions.

They were supposed to send up color smoke, to tell where they were. But someone made a mistake and sent up white, which was the enemy. When they saw the white smoke, they let the bombs fly. Not as many were wounded and killed as had been stated.

They are up north along the Cambodian border at Quan Loi.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

As you have sung the words to "Auld Lang Syne," have you wondered what the "cup o' kindness" was?

A cup o' kindness is something to give a little thought to: what kind of cup? what kind of kindness? Is it the same cup that runneth over sometimes?

I believe that I'm getting very close to the answer. I have received today, a friendship cup.

Last summer a friend, Ruth Harper, told me that she had a friendship cup for me. My imagination went to clicking. I could see all kinds of cups. Maybe it would be a china cup with a To and a From painted and fired on to the cup. Maybe it would be a tin cup; the kind that some ranchers still hang at the outpost windmills so that a thirsty soul may enjoy a drink of cool water as a man should, standing up.

Then Ruth broke all this thinking up by saying that a friendship cup was not a cup to drink from but a cup to eat. It was a fruit to fill a cup. Not a great deal unlike a well—a fruit cup.

Today Ruth brought my friendship cup. Ruth's sister, Mrs. Ruby Fowler, who lives in El Paso, started the starter for Ruth's now overflowing friendship cup.

Are you a bit confused—still? I am sure you are but I do hope it's on a higher level than when I first started the explanation of the friendship cup.

Let me quote Ruby. She says it ever so much better . . .

Friendship Cup

"This recipe is over 200 years old, and came from Georgia. The only way to start it is for a friend to give you a cup.

Put this accompanying cup in a large container. Add one cup of fruit and one cup of sugar. Let stand 10 minutes. Then stir, cover and let stand 2 weeks, stirring mixture once or twice a week. Repeat process every two weeks. Give a cup to a friend when the container begins to fill up. (Wait at least 7 days after adding last fruit.)

For one cup of fruit use one small can of sliced peaches (drained), two slices pineapple cut into small pieces and add three red or green Maraschino cherries.

Never place a cover on a container very tight and never put in the refrigerator. Good luck, friend. —Ruby D. Fowler, El Paso, Texas.

No, now this won't do what you think it is going to. It does not ferment, but it does develop a grand, fruity aroma. Use as a topping for plain cake, pudding or ice cream. You don't eat this as you might a big bowl of peaches—a bit concentrated for that. But oh, so good.

I think I'll make up some cups for Christmas. Why don't you?

If your doctor says you have astenia don't become alarmed.

Astenia is a dollar word for fatigue and fatigue is a 50c word for just plain tired. Sometimes we all have it.

As I read comments on the rising cost of living I note that the person, whether husband or wife, always makes reference to the amount of ground meat that the family is eating.

Since we are not an industrial area (where the average pay is around $3.00-$3.50 an hour) and since we go through dry, hard years as well as some wet, soft ones, we have always eaten a lot of ground meat. It's nothing new to us but even so maybe a new way to cook and serve ground meat might be welcomed. Try soon—

Meat and Potatoes

Grate, on coarse side of grater, about 2 cups potatoes. Add to about 1½ pounds ground meat. To the mixture add 1½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons grated onion, and a light touch of bacon drippings.

Combine the ingredients well and spread on thick slices of bread or hamburger buns. Be sure to make meat come to the edge of the bread; keeps bread edges from getting too brown.

Place on a cookie sheet and broil under the flame for 10 to 15 minutes, until the meat is brown.

Simply great! Makes 8 servings.

To do it up extra fine, top the sandwich with slices of fresh tomatoes just as the meat begins to brown. Sprinkle tomatoes with Parmesan Cheese and broil another 5 minutes.

It's easy—all the way.

When you hear an older person say that things simply do not taste as good as when they were younger—they are scientifically right. As one grows older the taste buds diminish in number.

A baby has 9,000 taste buds, an adult 3,000. No wonder babies didn't cotton to that Pabulum some years back.

The human being tastes four and only four things: the salty, the sweet, the sour, and the bitter. We taste sour and salty foods on the sides of the tongue, sweet on the top of the tongue, and bitter on the back of the tongue.

And as Mary Poppins said—"A little bit of sugar makes the medicine go down—the medicine go down—in a most delightful way."

Mrs. Ruby Richardson of Cloverdale, California, you are next.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

You have been reading many things about the county agent recently in magazines and daily newspapers and hearing by radio and seeing by television. This is due to a great agribusiness complex emerging that unites all producers, processors, distributors, suppliers, Extension agents, farm managers and financiers in one vast enterprise—that feeds and clothes 200 million people at home, plus an overseas military force and with additional capacity for expanding a world market.

The challenge for the agricultural agent is to identify and plan for the county now and ahead. Any light that can be brought to bear on the economic, social and political situation pertaining to the development of a society is useful, and a must for survival. Citizens are becoming aware of the vital role the American farmer plays in providing food and fiber.

Vacations are great levelers. The person who takes one returns home just as broke as the person who stayed home because he couldn't afford to go away.

Average weaning weights are a pretty good measurement of cow productivity. Average or below average weaning weights of calves may be due to one or more of the following:

1. Cows may be too poor when calves are dropped to supply enough milk.

2. Total feed during part or all of the nursing period may be inadequate.

3. Particular nutrients, such as protein, minerals or vitamins, may be available in inadequate amounts.

4. The genetic ability of the calf to grow rapidly may be low.

5. Selection of replacement heifers may have resulted in poor milking mother cows.

6. Poor milking cows in the herd may not have been culled.

7. Internal and external parasites may be a problem.

8. Diseases affecting milk production for a long period of time may exist in the herd.

9. The calving time may be scheduled at a time when pastures are poor for the nursing cow and her calf.

Every man must live with the man he makes of himself.

The ranchman must know the kinds of plants growing on the range, their forage value, when to utilize them properly with the right kind of livestock and at the proper season.

Grass is our basic heritage. It affords protection from floods, guards our cities' water supplies, furnishes our great cereal crops, and supplies forage for livestock and wildlife.

Knowing range grasses, like knowing livestock, is the founda-

EDEN GAME

and McCravey to get in the clear. He then outran all pursuit for 40 yards and the score. The try for point failed and the quarter ended 19-0 Eldorado.

The fourth quarter saw one more Eagle tally. Jay Halbert cleared the Eagle line by virtue of a trap play and by the same protective association bolted 60 yards to score the game's final touchdown. The try for point failed and the game ended with a 25-0 Eldorado advantage.

This is not to undersell Eden. They put up some capable and stubborn resistance and it is almost a certainty that their 1966 season will bear out that they are definitely 22-B contenders again. Their QB Hall demonstrated fine ball handling with excellent deception. He is a senior and he lived too long in Stansberry's big shadow for the past four years. This is Hall's misfortune because potentially he is an outstanding QB.

But Eldorado was too much. Eagle Coach Ray Morgan was complimentary of his charges with favorable comment for Childers and McCravey as line backers, for Mayo, Buchner, Rogers, Pennington, D. Halbert, J. Halbert, Bosman, and Davidson in their successful efforts to thwart Eden's offense.

Coach Morgan pointed out that a study of the game movie showed that Childers, McCravey, Rogers, Buchner, Davidson, J. Halbert, D. Halbert, Bosman, Corbell, and Pennington ranked high on a tough rating scale applied against the lads' defensive efforts. Childers with 34 credits against a usual 40 points for a linebacker.

All in all, the Eagles made a tough competitor look fairly easy by exhibiting unusually good team spirit, hustle, and aggressiveness for a season's opening contest.

General Telephone Co. Schedules Dedication

The expanded general offices of General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Southwestern States Telephone Company in San Angelo will be dedicated September 19, according to E. H. Danner, president of both companies.

Leslie H. Warner of New York, president of General Telephone & Electronics Corporation, parent company of General Telephone of the Southwest and Southwestern States, will make the dedication remarks.

L. Gray Beck, executive vice president of both companies, will preside at a luncheon following the dedication and Mr. Warner will be speaker.

Employees will have a preview tour of the building the evening of September 21. An open house will be held on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, September 24, and 25.

The 90,000 square foot addition, plus the original 59,000 square foot building, houses offices for 596 General Telephone of the Southwest employees and 137 Southwestern States employees. It also serves as the "nerve center" for overall operations of both companies.

General Telephone of the Southwest serves 260 exchanges and over 430,000 telephones in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Government wage-fixing for Texas farm workers is being urged by a group spear headed by a union organizing carpet begger from California by the name of Eugene Nelson.

His crusade included a Martin Luther King-type march, with news media and cameras galore. There is no way of estimating how much money Nelson made—or will make—out of his Texas venture. Certainly, being an old pro in the union organizing business, the Californian fireball did not come all the way to Texas for his health.

California's Nelson insists Texas farmers and ranchers must pay at least $1.25 an hour for unskilled work. Since most every Texan—including farmers and ranchers—favor and pay fair and decent wages, the suggestion by the visitor has an emotional appeal. This has flushed out a covey of vote-hungry political opportunists, sniffing votes and elbowing their way in front of the cameras.

Even little Bobby Kennedy of New York and Massachusetts, sent Nelson a telegram pledging support!

Now, aside from the hysteria and emotionalism, what about the merits—a subject never once mentioned by Nelson and Company?

The crux of the issue is contained in the answer to this question: Is little Bobby Kennedy (for example) better able to determine how much Farmer X in Uvalde, Texas must pay a lettuce picker, than is Farmer X?

It is likely that Farmer X has a struggle making even 4% (or less) on his investment. If the farmer cannot afford to pay a worker what the latter thinks he should have, the worker should turn the job down, then try Farmer Y and Farmer Z. By shopping around, the worker can take the best offer. Then if he works hard and produces, he will stand a good chance to get a raise—or a better job. That is, if he doesn't get contaminated by the non-working bleeding hearts and imported trouble makers.

Note! Wouldn't little Bobby Kennedy be better advised to work on the explosive Negro problem in Bobby's Harlem before gratuitously trying to tell Texans what they must pay their farm and ranch hands?

Woullard To Head Lions Essay Contest

At the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions Club, it was announced that Leslie Woullard, English teacher in Eldorado High School, will be local chairman for the "Peace Is Attainable" essay contest which the local club is joining others over the nation in sponsoring among high school and college age young people. Complete details of the contest are given in an article on page 2 of this Success issue.

Charles Wimer presided at the meeting yesterday, and Warren Wallace and Jerry Stigler were guests.

Ray Morgan awarded the "friendly dollar" to A. G. McCormack. In the business session, Granvil Hext reported that the bags of candy for selling for Halloween had been ordered from Del-Tex and would be delivered here the first week in October.

Fred Watson reported that the Shrine Circus will be in San Angelo Friday and Saturday, two performances each day, and that 200 tickets are in the school office.

It was also reported that the Junior and Senior classes are continuing to sell the remaining stadium cushions, and that most of them have been sold.

For the program, Norm Sachnir of San Angelo, with the Range Engineering & Development Corp., gave a discussion on mesquite eradication. He showed a film and told how his firm had been concerned with brush eradication between Vernon and Fort Stockton.

The Lions club will not meet this coming week, Sept. 21st, because the Rileys will be away.

Humphreys Guests At Louisiana Plantation

St. Francisville, La.—Mr. and Mrs. George Humphrey, of Rt. 1, Eldorado, Texas, were recent guests at Rosedown Plantation and Gardens in St. Francisville, Louisiana. Summer annual flowers were at their peak, along with old fashioned roses, crepe myrtle and thousands of caladiums bordering paths of the 17th century French landscape style garden.

Rosedown, known as "Louisiana's most majestic showplace," is an authentic restoration of a plantation home and garden built in 1835 by a wealthy young planter for his bride. While Daniel Turnbull poured all his innate love of beauty and his talents and skills into creating a home of impeccable beauty, his wife, Martha, who had an eye for design and beauty, developed the grounds, creating gardens in the 17th century French landscape style, complete with formal boxwood hedges, imported statuary, plantations of camellias, azaleas and every interesting plant she could find.

Rosedown is located in St. Francisville, Louisiana, an area distinguished by rich plantation soil, moss-hung oaks, and abundant bird-life. This tranquil region was the inspiration for much of John James Audubon's art on birdlife when he lived at Oakley House, which is near Rosedown Plantation.

Both Rosedown House and the beautiful Rosedown Gardens have been restored to their original state of lavish beauty. For information on the colorful documentary film with depicts the ten-year restoration program, write Rosedown Plantation and Gardens, St. Francisville, Louisiana.

A. G. Opinions

Atty. General Waggoner Carr has held that when the county attorney in a county of 20,000 or more population wins a suit and collects delinquent personal property taxes, he may deduct a commission from the taxes. County attorney, however, must pay that commission into the county treasury for the officers' salary fund, Carr held in the opinion requested by Harris County Attorney Joe Resweber.

In another official opinion, Carr held that names of contributors and amounts of their donations to buy land for Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Gillespie County do not have to be made public. Opinion affirmed the position of State Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman Will E. Odom who has declined to disclose sources of the park fund. Odom is fund trustee and receives donations for purchase of park land.

The Attorney General concluded that park fund administration is not an operation of the PWC, and that it's up to private administrators to decide whether to announce names of various donors.

Head Start Slowed

Approximately 60 Head Start programs are being held up in five Southwestern states because of Congressional delay in approving appropriations for the Office of Economic Opportunity, Regional OEO Director Bill Crook reports.

Delay, said Crook, is proving costly in both time and money to the agencies which had expected to correlate the pre-school readiness programs with the regular school term. In some cases, he said administrators are serving without pay, rather than hurt the continuity of the program. First priority on funds allocated to Southwest regional office is being given to those projects which are already in operation in the five states.

Crook's office is writing letters to local community actions agencies and school districts, explaining that final action cannot be taken on their applications until Congress comes through.

Budget Makers Inspecting

Before the State Legislature convenes, members of the House of Representatives' side of the Legislative budget board are personally inspecting state institutions, acquainting themselves with operations and needs through the satellite.

Group began surveys in the Dallas and Denton areas last week. Next they plan to go to Huntsville, A & M University and Waco.

Dean's Opinion

Page Keeton, dean of the University of Texas School of Law, strongly urges a complete recodification of Texas' 100-year old penal code.

Keeton said the penal code had undergone "intermittent patching" through the years without reference to the problem of maintaining a consistent system. "The plain fact," he continued, "is that we have been 'getting along' with our present law. But I believe our administrators are doing a good job, not because of, but in spite of, our present system of substantive criminal law."

Keeton recommends complete revision of the laws, rather than piecemeal revision.

After their Labor Day rally in Austin, most of the Rio Grande Valley "huelga" marchers and their backers—supporters of the state minimum wage legislation—returned to their homes leaving two sentinels stationed on the Capitol steps.

Austin will play host Sept. 16 to approximately 2,000 Texans for a one-day symposium on the correction of language disabilities among the state's school children—officially named the Speaker's Symposium on Language Disabilities.

Texas share of U. S. defense contract work increased during last fiscal year by $844,685—only California and New York had a bigger share.

Cigarette taxes went up again in Austin, to $12,800,000 as compared to $11,500,000 in July.

A House committee on juvenile crime (headed by Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls to make recommendations next January) will hold its next-to-last hearing in San Antonio Sept. 21 and has invited professional youth workers or any citizen to express their views on needed legislation.

Registration of securities for public sale in Texas topped a half-billion dollars for an all-time high during the fiscal year ending August 31, State Securities Board announced (permits were for sale of $539,941,650).

State draft boards will be called upon to furnish 2,339 men for the armed forces in November. October quota—largest monthly call since 1953 near the end of the Korean conflict—has been increased from 2,671 to 2,845.

Peachie Desserts by Betty Crocker. While peaches are in, let's make the most of them. Fresh peaches and cream for breakfast . . . peaches and curried cottage cheese for salads . . . peaches and berries for ice-cream topping. To prevent peeled peaches from turning brown, squeeze lemon juice over them. To serve these golden beauties extra fancy, look below at two incredibly easy but elegant desserts. One is for rich, cake-like waffles, crowned with peaches and sour cream-brown sugar topping. The other is a peachie shortcut to shortcake, made on a baking sheet. (No need to knead the dough.) Both are irresistible! Take them to a party — serve them in the family room. Everybody's in love with peaches. ALMOND DESSERT WAFFLES with Peaches and Sour Cream 3 eggs, separated 1 1/2 cups light cream 1 teaspoon almond extract 2 cups Bisquick 1 tablespoon sugar 1/2 cup chopped toasted almonds Fresh peaches Sour Cream Topping (below) SHEET SHORTCAKE SHORTCUT 2 cups Bisquick 2 tablespoons sugar, if desired 3/4 cup light cream (or 1/2 cup milk plus 1/4 cup melted butter) 2 tablespoons soft butter 2 tablespoons sugar 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg Fresh peaches Heat oven to 450°. Mix Bisquick, 2 tablespoons sugar and the cream with fork. Beat 20 strokes. Pat or roll dough on greased baking sheet into a rectangle, 12x8 inches. Spread with butter. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar and the nutmeg. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Cut in half crosswise. Stack the two pieces with sweetened fresh peaches (or frozen strawberries) in between. Top with more fruit and sweetened whipped cream. Serve warm. 6 servings. Say farewell to summer in the most delicious way. With peaches!

Grid Accident Fatal To Christoval Boy

Manuel Duke, 17, of Knickerbocker, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene Friday night. He was injured during the football game between Christoval and Highland high schools.

The accident occurred minutes after the second half started when Joe Bond, a Highland wingback, carried the ball and was tackled by Duke behind the line of scrimmage.

Bond reportedly suffered severe bruises across both knees from the tackle.

Duke was rushed to Simmons Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater where he was examined and it was learned he had a fractured neck. He was then taken to Abilene's Hendricks Memorial Hospital and he was pronounced dead on arrival.

He was born June 17, 1949, in Knickerbocker and lived there all his life. A junior in Christoval High, he was an all-star basketball player in addition to playing football.

Survivors include his father; two brothers, Oscar Duke of Knickerbocker and Frank Duke of San Angelo; and four sisters, Mrs. Albert Tijerina of Big Spring, Mrs. Raymond Garcia and Miss Flora Duke of Knickerbocker, and Miss Rose Duke of San Angelo.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in San Angelo. Burial was in Knickerbocker cemetery. Members of the Christoval football team served as honorary pall bearers.

VEHICLE INSPECTION IS ON

Austin, Tex.—Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced recently that the 1967 vehicle inspection period has begun.

Garrison said that the new inspection period began on September 1 and will end on April 15, 1967, as prescribed by the Public Safety Commission. The inspection period is the same as in previous years.

"This means that between now and April 15, 1967, each of the 2 1/2 million Texas registered vehicles will have to secure the new green and white 1957 inspection sticker from one of the 5500 official inspection stations," he said. Garrison pointed out that Texas inspection stations can be identified by the official vehicle inspection sign displayed at each station.

Garrison suggested that if motorists have their vehicles inspected during the routine visits to garages for ordinary maintenance, the necessity of having to wait in line at a later date for an inspection will be eliminated.

In announcing the new inspection period, the Public Safety Director pointed out that vehicle defects contributing to traffic accidents in Texas during 1965 were the fewest yet experienced since the inspection program began in 1951.
